BOBBITT CITES SERIOUS ELECTION POLLUTION IN BEXAR COUNTY

"Thar's gold in these here prairies."

Pampa fact: The annual Gray county payroll necessary in oil production last year aggregated $4,860,000.

There has been one death from typhoid fever here lately. There is no significance in the fact unless the local citizenship becomes careless and permits the disease to spread.

It seems inevitable for departments of this kind to keep off the subjects of dogs. R. R. Mitchell, who lives 2 miles east of Pampa on the Mobeetie highway, is the unwilling host to a nice looking grey-hound.

Now that there is positive proof that Pampa is in with and above cities of the 10,000 class, it should be possible to impress the federal postal department that we need a federal building costing at least $100,000.

Many cities make use of small mill taxes in supporting such institutions as public libraries, municipal bands, and Boards of City Development.

WE TWINKLES We will get further in agriculture when we have fewer bull fests and more bull circles.

"There ought to be a law" should be an unpopular clause. It seems that every time we pass a good measure it requires half a dozen amendments and as many lawsuits to clarify it.

Not that it matters, but we have noted that clothing drives are seldom necessary for the older members of the fair sex.

A fight party can hardly be better than the fight itself. The News had an interested audience the other night, but the remarks here after the outcome must have repeated those at the ringside.

WILL START ACTION WHEN HE IS READY

PROBE IS MADE UPON REQUEST

Voting of Aliens is One Charge of Importance

AUSTIN, June 16. (AP)—Declaring that unmistakable evidence of pollution of elections in Bexar county had been found, Attorney General Robert Lee Bobbitt stated today that he was making an effort to fix responsibility.

Owing to the great mass of evidence presented him, Mr. Bobbitt said it probably would require considerable time to determine what action would be taken by the state. Bobbitt stated that an impartial investigation of the conduct of elections in Bexar county by one of his investigators had revealed a very serious condition.

He asserted that it showed the ballot undoubtedly had been polluted and that he would give every phase of the matter his personal consideration.

The investigation was started by the attorney general at the instance of several Bexar county citizens. They charged the illegal issuance of poll tax receipts and the voting of aliens.

Houston Man Is Strangely Missing

HOUSTON, June 16. (AP)—Deputy sheriffs today were trying to find B. A. Fortinberry, 38, owner of the Fortinberry Concrete Tile company, missing unaccountably since yesterday afternoon.

The Houston man's car was found this morning near here overturned. The interior contained blood stains. E. R. Spencer, with whom Fortinberry lived, told officers that Fortinberry expected to return from Goose Creek. He advanced the theory that Fortinberry may have been attacked by robbers.

Agree on Prohibition TULSA, Okla., June 16. (AP)—Operators of the East Earlboro pool, Greater Seminole district, meeting here today with the state wide prohibition committee of the Mid Continent Oil and Gas association, approved the committee's recommendation that production of the area be curtailed to 33 1-2 per cent of the potential flow during the third quarter of the year.

Robbers Identified DALLAS, June 16. (AP)—Two men under arrest here have been identified as the pair who slugged and robbed Frank Evans, store keeper at Lewisville, Denton county. Evans was tied and left for dead. A woman arrested with the men was being held for questioning. It was said she burned some bloody clothing worn by the men.

Former Legislator Dies BRYAN, June 16. (AP)—W. E. Nealey, 52, county attorney, died after a year's illness. He was serving his second term and before coming to Brazos county served Grimes and DeWitt counties in the same office. He had served in the legislature as a member of the house. He is survived by his widow and three daughters.

LEGION'S UNIFORMED BAND IS EFFECTIVE UNIT IN BOOSTING DONE AT SLATON CONVENTION

Local Post Takes Only Musical Organization to Meeting—Banquet Will Be Held Here Tuesday Evening

Pampa's delegation had the distinction of having taken the only band to the 18th district American Legion convention at Slaton, it was reported when the delegates returned last night.

The snappily uniformed Pampa band attracted wide and favorable attention throughout the trip, and greatly enhanced the boosting of the delegation of forty persons carried out. Novelties and literature furnished by the local B. C. D. were distributed.

The convention was said to have been an excellent one. There were 178 representatives present from 25 Legion posts, in addition to 68 delegates from Auxiliary units. The next meeting will be held in Wellington.

The local Kevley-Crossman post will have a banquet on its regular meeting night, June 17. R. O. (Bob) Whiteacre, department adjutant, and Mrs. Whiteacre will be here. Mrs. F. H. Carpenter, department president, and Mrs. Hal Pegues, division president of the auxiliary, also will be here.

H. V. DeArmand, manager of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, is planning the trip.

E. and L. survey, north of Newcastle in Young county became the pools record producer.

TWO HUNDRED SHARES DOWN TO LOW EBB

Hoover Statement Is of No Effect Today

WHEAT DROPS UNDER DOLLAR

Fear of Retaliation by Other Nations Is Felt

NEW YORK, June 16. (AP)—Strong banking support cushioned but failed to check a headlong decline in share prices in today's stock market, in which some 200 issues plunged to new low levels for the year or longer. The decline was one of the most precipitous since the November selling panic.

NEW YORK, June 16. (AP)—Stock prices were crushed down to new low levels for the movement today, as the stock market entered the third week of almost steady decline. The unloading of stocks today was one of the most drastic of the year, and the decline in prices was precipitous, scores of issues losing from 4 to about 20 points.

The selling showed signs of slackening during the early afternoon, when the ticker, which had been nearly half an hour in arrears, began to catch up with floor prices. This was regarded as a good sign, for traders felt the selling movement of the past several days would not end without reaching a crisis of heavy selling.

The decline in stocks was accompanied by fresh breaks in commodities, wheat, and cotton selling off rapidly. Copper prices were again reduced. Copper Exporters, Inc., cut its price to 12.30 cents from 12.55 which brought the domestic price down to 12 cents generally.

The local delegation will leave about 7 p. m. The session will be held in the First Methodist church at Panhandle.

Particularly discouraging was weakness in gasoline prices, coming at a time when the petroleum industry seemed to be making rapid strides in its program to put production on a sound basis.

The influence of the tariff measure upon the market was difficult of determination, in view of the generally unsatisfactory character of business reports. In any case, President Hoover's emphasis upon the more favorable aspects of it gave

COMMISSIONERS DELAY ACTION UPON PETITION FOR HUGE BOND ISSUE—ERRORS POINTED OUT

Complying with the request of citizens who signed the petition for the $3,500,000 bond issue election that their attorneys be allowed to draw up the order for the election, the county commissioners postponed action until next Thursday.

An analysis of the petition led the commissioners to believe that there are defects in the description of the roads for which the bond issue would provide paving. W. M. Lewright, attorney for the signers of the petition, was out of town this morning, but it was stated that he wished to submit the order for the election in order to make it comply with the provisions of the petition which he also framed.

Should he bond issue carry, a road not the existing highway between Pampa and LeFors would be paved, and the concrete strip which has already been laid would not become a part of the road connecting the two towns, according to the petition.

There are also discrepancies between the present route of Highway No. 75 and the description of the same road in the petition. The commissioners did not wish to call the election until they learned whether these defects were planned in the petition intentionally or by mistake. They said Mr. Lewright would probably correct or explain what are apparently errors.

WILL RESUME JOBS IN CIVIL SERVICE RANK

Russell Defends His Record—Cites Progress

LACK OF MONEY MAIN HANDICAP

Prohibition Claimed to Be Obstacle to Law

CHICAGO, June 16. (AP)—William Russell announced his resignation today as commissioner of police.

Faced by severe public criticism of his conduct of the department and apparent failure of the police to cope with the gang rule of Chicago, the commissioner prepared a statement offering his resignation to the mayor.

Commissioner Russell's retirement carried with it the demotion of John Stege, chief of the detective bureau, whom he assigned today to captaincy of the Irving park police district.

John H. Alcock first deputy commissioner, was expected to take charge of the department pending appointment of a new commissioner.

In submitting his resignation Commissioner Russell, a close friend of Lingie, gave out the following statement: "I am resigning because I can't function here any longer and because I do not want to hamper the investigation. I thought I did a good job and I am ready to let someone else try it."

Weeks Night and Day "Deputy Stege (chief of detectives) is going to Irving park station so he will not hamper any investigation either. I have been working day and night since I took this job, and lately have been working till four or five in the morning. I will not step out of the department, but will go back to my civil service rank as captain and I'll stay in the department as long as they want me. They will find I am still the same Bill Russell I always was. I am only getting myself and Stege out of the picture."

"You can check up my orders, my work, my fight to get additional police. I saved money out of salaries. I saved money cars and to establish the police radio station which will be opened today."

"Swanson (state's attorney) gave us the best he could and had. He tried hard and is trying, but he is hampered, too. They won't give him money to hire the best attorneys. It all resolves down to a question of finances. I am an illustration of man's inhumanity to man. Someone had to come here in the first place and I am glad to get out. I sincerely hope my successor will have a happier time than I had."

"Conditions in Chicago are better than in any big city in the country except for a few rackets and I defy any city to show a cleaner record than Chicago. With unemployment prevalent we have had fewer

Goes to Jail on Installment Plan

OMAHA, Neb., June 16. (AP)—T. J. Rehak is serving a five-day jail sentence on the installment plan.

Rehak told Judge Holmes that if he had to go to jail for five days he would lose his job, with the result that his wife and four children would suffer.

Inasmuch as Rehak's job provides for Sundays off, Judge Holmes is permitting him to serve the five days sentence by going to jail on Sunday's only.

Rehak's misdemeanor was driving while drunk.

Plane Strikes CAR—3 KILLED

CHICAGO, June 16. (AP)—Falling to gain altitude in its takeoff, a National Guard pursuit plane yesterday ploughed into a small sedan on a crowded suburban highway, killing three occupants and critically injuring a fourth—all members of one family.

The plane, piloted by Lieut. Wilton N. Newhall of the Illinois National Guard, who saw service as a war pilot in France, had flown from Chicago to the Roby speedway near Hammond, Ind. A heavy rain left the field in a soggy condition, slowing the plane in its takeoff.

THE PERILS OF PEACE

Pampa Daily News: Apparently we Americans are not nearly as intelligent and efficient as we like to suppose. Although we have had safety work on a national scale for a good many years, and, although every newspaper and magazine has dinned into our ears the fact that automobile traffic is growing increasingly dangerous each year, our automobile traffic fatality list continues to go up. Figures just received show that automobiles in the United States last year killed 31,000 people and injured 1,000,000 more—an increase of 10 per cent over the figures for 1928.

It was Napoleon who mouthed the sapient apothegm to the effect that one can not make an omelet without breaking some eggs. Likewise one can not expect everybody to dash around in an automobile without somebody's getting killed. The death toll from highway traffic is terrifying, but, unfortunately, undertaking establishments—funeral homes they are now called—increase in the ratio of increasing fatalities. No man has to go very far looking for an undertaker to bury him. Indeed, most of the undertakers will send an ambulance for him if he is in any hurry for inhumation. The tragedies of peace are less romantic than those of war, but equally effective. The warrior driving peacefully his own chariot may lose a leg in a highway accident and never collect a cent of damages from any source. But if one loses a leg in war he gets a pension. Leek what Congress has just done for those who fought in the so-called Spanish-American War. It has recognized their heroism and hardship by making broad the way and easy the grade up to the Federal Treasury. This indicates how much better it is to volunteer into a war than to be taken for a ride—State Press in Dallas News.

THE IZAAK WALTON LEAGUE—AN APPRECIATION

From the Galveston News: "The Izaak Walton League has become the greatest force in the country for the protection and development of opportunities for outdoor life. As our people increase in numbers and in leisure we must have stimulation of health and above all the moral value that comes from association with nature. Every member of the league is a further soldier in our ranks fighting an organized battle for this vital thing in the nation."

These are words of high praise from one who does not lightly bestow his encomiums on men or organizations—one whose exalted official position compels him to weigh his words carefully. Many Waltonians will recognize them as the words of President Hoover who, through his deep interest in the work it is doing, accepted the honorably presidency of the Izaak Walton League of America.

President Hoover's tribute comes to mind at this time because the Texas division of the Izaak Walton League held its annual convention in Galveston yesterday. Nationally, the league has been in operation for eight years; in Texas, its span of life is brief, but already it has performed valuable service in helping to restore the richness of outdoor life thoughtlessly and to a large extent needlessly ravished in the transformation of our state from a wilderness to a populous commonwealth.

The league has supported state laws intelligently directed toward the conservation of wild game and fish life; it has been a sturdy ally of the state game, fish and oyster commission; it has worked for the establishment of game preserves and fish hatcheries when the results promised to justify the expenditure. There is need for an organization to correlate the efforts of nature lovers in their relations with the state government. We must have laws in order to arrest the reckless despoliation of nature and to restore in so far as may be consonant with the requirements of modern life the outdoor America of our ancestors. But the league is not maintained primarily to obtain the passage of laws or the strict enforcement of those laws. Members of the league are wise enough to realize that laws which do not represent the will of an informed, co-operative majority will be ineffective in the end. Hence the chief mission of the league is educational. It is trying, and with gratifying success, to show the people that failure to protect the supplies of game and fish will result in the inevitable depletion of those supplies and the disappearance of a field of recreation to which American citizens, as their opportunities for leisure increase, are turning in ever greater numbers.

The growing popularity of outdoor life emphasizes the need for an organization like the Izaak Walton League, and at the same time enlarges its opportunity. No longer, if it ever was, is the league conducted for the benefit of a few men whose hobby is hunting and fishing. It is engaged in a work which rebounds to the benefit of every citizen in whose breast glows the spark of nature love which is lacking in very few of us. There is a place in its ranks for every citizen who realizes that a country whose woods and plains are uninhabited by bird and beast; a country whose waters are stirred by no ripple of playing fish would be a dreary place for the human creatures who had perpetrated that crime against nature.

Then he sealed the doors and windows of the garage, started the motor and succumbed to the deadly monoxide gas fumes.

A'S ARE BACK IN LEAD WITH YANKS' HELP

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Thanks to the good left arm of Robert Moses Grove and the powerful bats of Lou Gehrig and Babe Ruth, the Philadelphia Athletics are leading the American league again today.

Grove's invincible pitching yesterday enabled the Athletics to whip Detroit, 10 to 1, while Gehrig and Ruth were batting the Yankees to a 17-10 victory over Cleveland, erstwhile pace-setters in the circuit. These two results combined to send the Athletics back into first place by a margin of one full game.

Grove gave the Tigers only four hits while the A's pounded Sorrell, Herring, and Sullivan for 14 solid blows, one being Jimmy Foxx's 14th homer of the year. Grove pitched hitless ball for the first six innings but eased up sufficiently in the seventh to permit the Tigers to score their one run on McManus' double and Alexander's triple.

Gehrig hit his 16th and 17th and Ruth his 21st home run in the Yankee massacre of Cleveland. "Hungry Lou" drove in seven runs for one of his best batting days this season. The Yanks pounded Hudlin and Shoffner for ten runs in the first three innings and the game was won and lost beyond much doubt. Herb Penneck went the route for the Yankees and pitched no harder than he had to.

The St. Louis Browns nicked their old roommate, Al Crowder, for two runs in the ninth to nose out Washington, 3 to 2. Crowder, traded on Saturday with Heinie Manush for Goose Goslin, blanked the Browns for six innings but weakened in the closing stages of the struggle.

In the National league, the New York Giants advanced to within a game and a half of second place by whipping the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 4. Pete Donohue settled down after a shaky start and held the Cubs safe while the Giants pounded Blake and Teahout freely. "Shanty" Hogan's homer with two on in the seventh settled the game. Donohue's chief difficulties came from Gabby Hartnett, Cub catcher, who pounded out his 13th homer, a double and two single.

Brooklyn lost ground to the Giants by dropping a 9-4 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Diegel Leads Golfers in First British Round

HOYLAKE, England, June 16. (AP)—Leo Diegel, professional golf association champion of the United States and open champion of Canada, equalled the course record of the Royal Liverpool club today with a brilliant 70 in the first qualifying round of the British open championship. Diegel, out in 37, came home with a sensational 33, scoring an eagle and birdie on two of the last three holes.

Bobby Jones returned a score of 73, one over par, for his round, playing over the Royal Liverpool course.

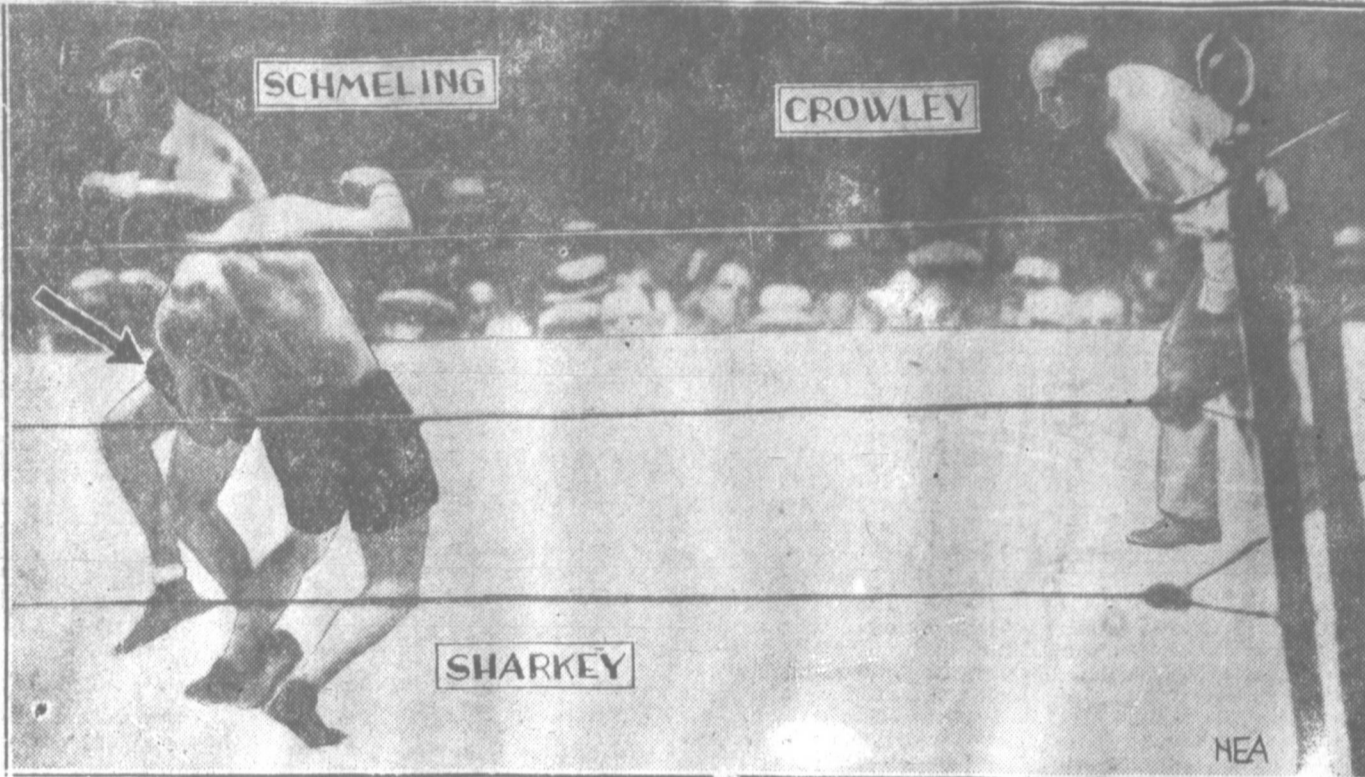

The Americans claimed a prominent place in the qualifying play. George Von Elm, played over the Wallace course, after a slow upward journey in 39, came home in 32 strokes for a score of 71, leaving him a stroke behind Diegel.

Don Moe, youthful Oregonian, had 75, and Jim Barnes, and MacDonald Smith were tied at 77.

The best British core when Diegel finished his round was that of Mark Seymour of St. Leonard's with 71, over the Wallace course. Shortly after Seymour finished his round he was informed that his father had died.

THE ONLY PHOTO OF FOUL THAT BEAT SHARKEY!

NEA Cameraman at Ringside Snaps Blow That Won Championship for Schmeling

Tacks Win as Magnolia Plays Minus Two Stars

Profiting by the absence of two of Magnolia's star players, Emmer Guber's Tackless Texans ran fast in the mud and shut out the Pampa team 3 to 0 at Metro park, Amarillo, yesterday afternoon. It was decided early yesterday morning that the game would not be played and two of the Magnolias left town for the day. At noon Guber insisted on playing the game as scheduled.

The Magnolias were without the services of Wight, shortstop, and McKnight, during most of the game. The Tack victory was due mostly to errors, and to the fact that every one of the Magnolia hits went to the outfield. There was not a single put-out on first base. The Magnolias did much slipping in the mud. The contest meant very little except that the Tacks seemed more familiar with the ponds and mud holes on the diamond.

SPUDDERS ON EASY STREET; 8 WINS AHEAD

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Eight games abreast of the field and nine games to go on the first half—always providing that the season is split Thursday, as the best minds seem to think it will be—the Wichita Falls Spudders had the opportunity today to clinch at least a tie for the initial spasm on the 1930 Texas league marathon.

If Carl Williams' warriors win from the San Antonio Indians today, or from any other club within the next three days, they will be "in" for the first half, no matter how the second-place Houston Buffs fare in the meantime. In that event, President Huff will be in excellent position to talk turkey when the magnates gather Thursday. If the season is severed, the second half will start Wednesday, June 25.

The Buffs gained a full game on the leaders yesterday and kept the race alive by trimming the Dallas Steers in both games of a doubleheader, 4 to 3 and 6 to 0, while rain erased the scheduled Spudder-Indian game at San Antonio.

The first bout went 10 innings before the Buffs showed across the winning run. Trailing, 3 to 1, going into the ninth frame, the Buffs rallied to put across two runs on Adkins and then victimized Murray, his successor, in the extra period. Selph's single with the bases loaded was the deciding blow. George Washington Payne limited the Steers to one hit in the nightcap, a double by Gene Moore, while his mates hit Holmes and Williamson hard and timely. Mishken led the assault with a homer and single.

Ralph "Lefty" Stein turned in a beauty for Waco as the Cubs made it two straight over Shreveport, 5 to 0. It was the first shut out registered by a Cub pitcher this season. In addition to his fine hurling, the fork-hander helped his own cause along with a homer and single. Moiworth and Bischoff also hit for the circuit.

Airtight chunking by the veteran Denny Burns gave the Beaumont Exporters their second straight over Fort Worth, 4 to 1. Burns divided five hits among as many Cats and was head man all the way. Dick McCabe did very well for the Panthers, limiting the Shippers to seven blows, but made the mistake of giving them out in bunches. Holley's single with two aboard in the fourth proved the winning blow.

Ruth Ann Mitchell underwent an operation for appendicitis Sunday morning at the Pampa hospital.

Leading Chicks Defeated Sunday by the Crackers

ATLANTA, Ga., June 15. (AP)—The hustling Atlanta Crackers trampled the leading Memphis Chicks of the Southern Association, 10 to 6 Sunday. Griffin and Campbell were pounded for 14 safe blows and their team mates bungled three plays afield, while Kiefer granted only eight blows and blanked the Chicks until the seventh.

New Orleans beat the Birmingham Barons 8 to 2 rising within a game and a half of the leading Chicksaws. A lead of three runs in the first two innings was added to in the fifth with five more as the champion Barons used two hurlers in an effort to stop the Pels.

Mobile took the only game of the five game series with Nashville when they copped the nightcap of the doubleheader Sunday, 5 to 4. A rally in the seventh netted four runs. The first game was a slugging bee for the Volunteers. They brought six men across the plate in the initial frame and were victorious, 9 to 5. Krueger got a circuit blow for the Vols and Grimes tallied one for the Bears.

The Little Rock Travelers remained in fifth place by a lone percentage as Chattanooga won yesterday's game, 10 to 7.

Gaines D. Whitsett of Amarillo was a visitor here Saturday. He spoke at the regular meeting of the Pampa Hoo-Hoo club.

Heavy Battlers on Boxing Bills of This Week

NEW YORK, June 16. (AP)—Four of the somewhat limited list of front-rank heavyweight contenders will swing into action this week at Chicago and Detroit.

At Chicago, Otto Von Forst, lantern-jawed Norwegian who lives in Chicago, will meet W. L. (Young) Stribling of Macon, Ga., in the feature bout of a stadium show on Wednesday. At Detroit on Thursday, Johnny Risko of Cleveland and Paulino Uzcudun of Spain, two trial horses who never seem to wear out, will swap punches for ten rounds.

Jack Thompson, negro holder of the welterweight championship, takes on Joe Cordova of Los Angeles in a ten-round non-title bout at Los Angeles tomorrow and on Friday at San Francisco, Armand Emanuel, Los Angeles heavyweight, meets a rugged foe in Leo Lomski of Aberdeen, Wash.

The Husband Hunter

© 1930 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Natalie Converse, jealous of her husband, Alan, quarrels over Bernadine Lamont, a night club hostess, Alan seeks sympathy from his secretary, Phillipa West, who successfully schemes to arouse Natalie's suspicions, and she leaves Alan. Wounded pride prevents either from seeking a reconciliation, and Alan turns to Phillipa for consolation.

Fearing that Alan does not mean to propose marriage, Phillipa tells Alan her parents object to her going with a married man. Alan confesses to more than a friendship for her, and they become engaged.

Alan's meeting with Natalie, who brings her young sister, Florence, with her, leaves Alan hopeful, but baffles Phillipa later, and in apologetic explanation of his lateness, explains that he met Natalie and took her home. The next day, feeling ashamed of his neglect of Phillipa, he goes to her apartment with her, and without directly asking it of him, she agrees to pay for the furnishings. Natalie asks to talk to him, and he invites himself to dinner. He goes home to dress and is about to leave when Phillipa telephones.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXX

Phillipa was calling Alan from her father's apartment. She had hurried there from the office as soon as she learned Alan had left for the day.

She needed no particularly keen intuition to tell her he was going to see Natalie. In his office she had stood for a moment with her hand on his private telephone. But he couldn't have reached it, she reasoned. She would leave a message. It would serve as a reminder. No, better to talk with him. But she couldn't wait around the office; there was too much to do if she were to get into her new home that night.

She left in haste. He would want to dress; she was almost certain of that, thinking, certain of that he would consider his reunion with his wife an occasion for a celebration. She could get home before he left the hotel, if she hurried.

On the way she consulted her watch with frequency. Not much time to spare. Well, if he had gone she wouldn't sit and twiddle her fingers.

She breathed a sigh of satisfaction when Alan answered her call. "Hello," she said sweetly. "You know, I forgot whether we had a date or not tonight, Alan."

"We didn't," he promptly replied.

Phillipa laughed, as though it were silly for them to need a date for seeing each other.

"I had some of the furniture sent up to the new apartment today," she told him. "It was a special delivery, so I can stay there tonight. I'm here at... at father's," she added, her voice changing perceptibly; "getting a few things together in a suitcase. I'll take them out in a taxi. Shall I wait for you here, or meet you at the restaurant?"

Alan hesitated, then he said, a bit coldly: "I won't be able to have dinner with you tonight, Phillipa."

He could hear her low: "Alan!" uttered as a protesting cry. It made him feel as if he had done her some serious injury. And he didn't know whether it would be more, or less, to tell her the truth.

"But, Alan, I need you," she wailed, using the only appeal she had. "I'm sorry," he said shortly. He was always short and cross when he felt even slightly in the wrong, for there was nothing of suave cruelty in his nature.

"Look here, Phillipa, be sensible," he answered with a sob.

Alan heard the click that told him the wire connection was broken. But he did not feel greatly relieved. Phillipa had dulled his spirits.

When he approached his own front door, and Natalie opened it for him, before he had a chance to use his key, he was quiet and depressed. She saw at once that he did not look as happy as he had seemed when he telephoned. Perhaps, she told herself with a swift foreboding, he had changed his mind about wanting to come.

"Come in," she said, as lightly as she could, an Alan did not smile at the joke implied. He entered as anyone might have, putting his hat and coat down on a chair.

Natalie stood, as slim and graceful as a white birch, waiting, wondering. She was wearing a gown of point lace, bride-like in its fashioning, that she had chosen for that particular reason.

Alan came and took her hands, and she saw the light of admiration leap into his eyes, but gloom still sat on his brow.

"Is he afraid that we cannot be happy?" she asked herself miserably. "Afraid to trust me again?" Suddenly her pride reflected a new facet. She told herself she was to blame for the state of affairs, and sternly ordered herself to take her medicine.

Her head held high, she smiled enchantingly at him. At least she would not fall in her part. If he did not want her after she had convinced him she was not to proud to be forgiven, then...

"Chicken and waffles," she said gaily.

"Waffles?" Alan repeated it blankly. And again a tiny knife turned in Natalie's heart. She turned toward the living room, expecting Alan to follow. He came along slowly.

"Florence won't be with us," she explained, pouring a cocktail for him. "And you know I have only one girl in the kitchen. So if you'll just make yourself at home," she laughed deliciously; "I'll run and do the last minutes things."

She was going. Alan half whirled to stop her. "Don't go," he was about to say. Instead, "How is the new girl?" she asked. "Fine, but I wouldn't let her cook for you," Natalie sang back and disappeared into the hall. Out of Alan's sight, she put a hand to lips that were madly denigratingly tremble.

"Stop it, stop it," she admonished herself, but she had to wait there a moment before she was ready to hurry on to the kitchen and work under her maid's eyes.

The dinner was delicious, but it tasted like Dead Sea fruit to Natalie. She barely tasted it. Alan did not want what he ate, but he pretended an appetite to please Natalie. At least he thought he was pleasing her. She wondered how he could bear to eat with anyone as miserable as she.

They were at cross purposes, and as the evening wore on, Natalie sensed it more and more. Still she would not allow her courage to lapse. One thought sustained her. When she wrote Alan was coming home, he had made no objection. Neither had he failed to meet her at the station. True, his welcome hadn't been enthusiastic, but then he had a lot to forgive. Maybe he was only making it hard for her to teach her a lesson.

They went to the living room when they left the table, and Natalie served the coffee there. She sat on an ottoman beside a low tray table, and poured the clear black liquid with infinite grace.

Her hand shook as she passed up a cup to Alan. Quickly she averted his eyes.

"Natalie, Natalie, Natalie." His heart yearned for her. He could not escape the knowledge that this was a welcome feast. From the open door to the clasp of her hand—it was all there—heaven itself. And he dared not enter.

Good God, how could he have been such a fool as to get himself entangled with another woman.

He drank the coffee in one gulp, and then handed back the cup to Natalie. She took it and refilled it, half blinded by tears. Then she forgot to give it to him, and it stayed on the tray.

They sat in silence a moment. She reached out her hand. "Alan," she breathed imploringly, "Alan, let's not be like this! Oh, you love me, don't you?"

"Love you? My God, Natalie."

She was surprised that he buried his face in his hands instead of taking her in his arms. A cold chill crept around her heart. Was there something between them... that...

Intuitively she cried out: "Alan, darling, I don't care what you've done, if only you love me enough to forgive me."

Alan sat still as stone, unanswering. Natalie clung to him a moment, then drew away. Her eyes were wells of torture.

He did not love her. He did not love her.

Alan knew what she was thinking. But he saw no good in trying to tell her the truth. It was unthinkable that he could have imagined himself in love with another woman. But he had imagined it, and if he told Natalie about it, he knew she would not believe that it had been only imagination unless it ended.

And it was not ended. He had asked Phillipa to marry him. He dared not trust himself to let go with Natalie while Phillipa was on his conscience. Perhaps she would release him. There, at least, was a ray of hope.

He got to his feet. Natalie made no motion to stop him. He turned to her.

"May I come back tomorrow night?" he asked.

Natalie stared at him in astonishment.

Dairy Expert to Speak in Canyon

CANYON, June 16.—Dr. J. H. McClain, dairy specialist of the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., will speak to the dairy farmers of Randall county in Canyon June 19, at 8:30 p. m. He will speak in the district court room at the courthouse. The meeting is being sponsored by the Randall County Dairyman's association.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE — taking nothing for granted... leaving nothing undone—that's the mandate of the sea. Exactng laboratory research, rigid production standards... endless care—that's Chesterfield's watchword.

MILD, AROMATIC TOBACCOS, patiently aged, are the basis of Chesterfield's wholesome goodness. Chesterfield's blend and cross-blend retains and rounds out their appetizing spice and flavor.

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price. LEGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Flood Damage in Oklahoma Will Run Very High

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 16. (AP)—Rivers and creeks receding, Oklahoma today took stock of flood damage running into hundreds of thousands of dollars following torrential rains and cloudbursts late Saturday and early Sunday in the central, eastern and northern sections.

Only light rains fell in the Southwest while skies were clear Saturday and Sunday in Northwestern Oklahoma.

Wheat ripened and ready for harvest was struck the most damaging blow by the elements which unleashed a torrent of rain to send streams out of banks, covering lowlands and forcing families to abandon homes at Oklahoma City and Pawhuska.

Damage at Oklahoma City was estimated at $155,000. Basement offices and store rooms in the business district were filled with water. Rainfall Saturday and Sunday totaled 6.94 inches, the second heaviest record in the weather bureau here.

Automobiles were wrecked and motors flooded as the rain fell. Asphalt was washed from pavement by force of the water. The oil fields activities halted in the lawlands, especially in the river bed district where water flowed into the derricks.

Son of White Deer Physician and Lubbock Girl Married Sunday
A wedding of interest in Pampa, as elsewhere throughout the Panhandle, was that of Miss Willette Waters of Lubbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Waters of that city, and Jerome Merrill of Amarillo, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Merrell of White Deer, which took place Saturday morning at the First Baptist church of Lubbock.

The church auditorium was filled with friends for the ceremony which took place in a setting made lovely by baskets of flowers and a fern banked altar. The bride wore a frock of emerald green chiffon. A powder blue bow gave accent to her picture hat of pink lace. Her slipper and hose gave an added note of smartness. She carried a colonial bouquet of Ophelia roses.

Miss Mildred King of Fort Worth, maid of honor, wore a frock of powder blue chiffon and beige lace with beige slippers and hat. Her Colonial bouquet was fashioned of Perpetua roses. Gaylor Hankins acted as best man. W. D. Benson, Jr., Dr. Edd Smith, Dick Green, and D. Cook of Amarillo were ushers.

Shortly after the ceremony the young couple left on a trip to California, planning to return by way of Grand Canyon and Colorado. They will make their home in Amarillo, where Mr. Merrell is engaged in the insurance business.

The bride has attended Lubbock high school, Simmons university at Abilene, and Texas Tech, Lubbock. She studied pipe organ at a Baptist seminary in Fort Worth, and is an accomplished pianist. Mr. Merrell also attended Texas Tech before entering business in Amarillo.

Oil Production in May Has Increase

AUSTIN, June 16.—Crude petroleum production in Texas made a material gain during May, according to Edward Nichols, editor of the Texas Business Review, issued monthly by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas. This increase offsets all the progress made in the past six months. Mr. Nichols pointed out. Output in May totaled 26,877,000 barrels, against 25,350,000 barrels in April and 25,034,000 barrels in May, 1929. Daily average flow was 867,000 barrels, an increase of 22,000 barrels from April. This compares with 868,000 barrels in May last year. During the month, 562 wells were completed, of which 299 were productive, compared with 726 completions and 373 successful wells in May, 1929. Crude prices were unchanged, but motor gasoline prices were reduced 1-4 to 1-2 cent in the Texas Panhandle.

United Work by Churches Is Aim

At a meeting Saturday afternoon where the majority of the churches of the city were represented, plans were made by chairmen and members of the several social welfare committees for united effort in handling the necessary charity work of Pampa and the vicinity, through zoning and dividing the area among the organizations.

A meeting of the chairmen from the different churches was called for next Friday afternoon, when it is expected the zoning will be done. Concensus of opinion at the first meeting, it was said, was that no one church could care for all the needy cases, and that greater efficiency would result from systematic, pre-arranged effort.

Mrs. DeLea Vicens, head of the social service league of the First Christian church, presided at the meeting Saturday, which was held in the women's parlor of the First Methodist church, with between 30 and 35 women present.

No Open Gambling

I have stood 300,000,000 tons of pressure and I've stood it manfully and this is what I get. I am not making any alibis. I'll put my record against that of any other chief of police. You can ask Yarrow, Miner, Gilday, Farwell, or any of those reformers to comment on the situation. They say gambling, vice, and saloons are running openly. You can't show me an open gambling house in Chicago. Of course, they may be betting over cigar counters, but there are no open gambling spots.

I engaged the best men in the profession, professors of the University of Chicago, for example, the ablest and most incorruptible men. I organized the traffic safety and the educational commission which effected a saving of more than 100 lives in a year. I have fought for more police, more cars, and done everything to make Chicago a great city.

But I have met an insurmountable obstacle. By that, I mean prohibition, and I don't give a damn who knows it.

The reason I am resigning is to give them all a free hand and let them stick their noses into it and find out what they can. All this has made it impossible for me to function.

The precipitation at Uvalde amounted to 6 1-2 inches in less than three hours. Homes and business houses were flooded.

E. G. Keller, Phil G. Gordon, Jr., and W. E. Arridon, all of San Antonio, narrowly escaped drowning Sunday when their car was swept off the concrete causeway across the Nueces river on the Uvalde-Del Rio road. The men leaped through the car windows and swam to the bank. The car was swept downstream. Livestock losses were reported by ranchmen.

Track washouts occurred on the Orient, Wichita Valley and Wichita Falls Southern railroads. Train service between San Angelo and Sterling was expected to be resumed today.

CHICAGO, June 16. (P)—All grain prices were driven to fresh bottom levels today, both July and September deliveries of wheat sinking under the dollar line.

Wheat futures dropped from 2 3/8 to 3 1/4 cents a bushel under the weak closing prices of Saturday, July touching bottom at 95 1/2 cents and finishing only a fraction better.

September wheat crossed below the dollar line to 98 cents. Persistently good weather in the spring wheat belt has been a weakening factor in the market for several days, and to this was added today the growing fear that foreign countries would retaliate against the new American tariff by raising a barrier against grain from the United States.

Closing wheat prices were: July 96 1/4-1/2; Sept. 98 3/4-99, and December 1.02 3/4-1.03 1/4.

Hoover Accused Statement Read

WASHINGTON, June 16. (P)—The Smoot-Hawley tariff bill passed from White House today while the senate rang with Democratic accusations that President Hoover took a deceptive stand in his statement of intent to sign the measure. Indications were that the pen-and-ink formality of enacting the new rates into law would occur shortly before noon tomorrow.

Vice President Curtis affixed his name this morning. Then the bulky document traveled from the capitol to the executive offices. Senator Harrison, the Mississippian, denounced the president's statement of last night—saying he did not "suppose there ever was a document sent out from the White House that had more misleading statements and alleged facts in it than that one issued yesterday on the Sabbath."

"None of us believed the president had the courage to veto it," he added, "for we felt he was tied to the reactionary interests in this body and the country. The Mississippi said Mr. Hoover, in estimating that 93 per cent of the increases went to agricultural products, had included everything except metals and minerals.

Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, inquired where the president had obtained his information.

"Maybe he got his facts from the senator from Utah," Harrison replied, pointing to Mr. Smoot.

"The president did not get facts from me," Smoot asserted, "but I haven't the slightest doubt that they are correct."

"The senator is a blind follower of the president, that's all," Harrison shot back.

Smoot and Harrison engaged in an argument over what the Utahian was going to tell his constituents about the duty on leather.

It was ended when Smoot pounded his desk and shouted:

The well was showing but a small amount of oil. First reports said that the gasser had damaged both master gates as well as flow line connections.

The well is located in SE NW SE 31-11-2 W.
