SCHOOL OF HEALTH AND CHARM IS TO BE CONDUCTED

CHARM TAKEN TO THE NEXT LEVEL OF NOTE IS TO BE BROUGHT HERE FOR TALKS

LECTURURERS ARE TO BE SPONSORED BY NEWS-POST

Nancy Earle, noted authority and writer on health, charm, and beauty is to be brought to Pampa. She has been secured by the Pampa Daily News and Morning Post and will lecture Feb. 24, 25, 26, and 27 in the city hall auditorium. The school is to be conducted free of charge to women readers of the News and Post.

Opportunity to attend this school is the first ever offered in this city. It is, like the News-Post, "First in Pampa."

The school is not, however, out of line with many of the topics now being considered by local study clubs. The Twentieth Century Club this afternoon will hear a program on personal beauty as an element in personality, and Mrs. W. A. Brantley, who will direct the program, makes the following statement in regard to the subject:

"We find in the study of personal beauty and racial betterment an important contribution to the study of sociology and eugenics. In studying personal characteristics, we find them to indicate the most valuable human stock, and we should give careful consideration to points of beauty as judged practically and artistically."

Articles Begin Today A series of articles, "Charm Chats" by Nancy Earle is beginning this morning and will be published daily in the Pampa Morning Post. The author deals not only with surface beauty, but delves into the causes of woman's personality and feminine attractiveness.

CHILD STUDY GROUP HEARS PROGRAM HERE

Mrs. H. W. Johns was director of an interesting program based on Horace Mann when the Child Study Club met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. E. Murfee. The president, Mrs. Joe Smith, presided during the business session.

Mrs. I. V. Duncan addressed the group on "Place and Service of Private Schools," and Mrs. B. E. Finley and Mrs. Robert Gilchrist discussed the life of Horace Mann.

Mrs. Lee Harrah then discussed the questions, "How should a community support a high school and contribute to a university?" and "Should defects be cared for at public or private expenses?"

During the musical period, Mrs. A. H. Doucette spoke on the life of Madame Schumann-Heink.

The following women attended: Mrs. H. W. Johns, Mrs. Lee Harrah, Mrs. William Crawford, Mrs. W. E. Coffee, Mrs. Roy Tinsley, Mrs. G. C. Malone, Mrs. I. E. Kullman, Mrs. Robert Gilchrist, Mrs. A. H. Doucette, Mrs. I. V. Duncan, Mrs. J. E. Murfee, Mrs. Joe Smith, and Mrs. B. E. Finley.

Agnes M. Fox, member of the high school faculty and assistant coach, left Sunday for Stillwater, Okla., where he will do work on his master's degree and teach. He intends to return to Pampa next September.

CHARM CHATS

by Nancy Earle
Noted Authority and Writer on Health, Charm and Beauty.

Who remembers "way back when" was considered clever to pipe up during a conversation about shoes with something like, "Well I admit I have a good understanding?"

This rally was usually greeted with shrill adolescent giggles of appreciation for the wit it embodied, and murmurs of adult approval.

The atrocious pun is all too frequently widely at variance with fact. A good understanding—a pair of healthy, well formed, strong feet, unmarred with some defect of corn or bunion or weak arches or distress of some kind—is a rarity. A rarely too is the individual who has the "understanding" of foot health and foot comfort which would relieve her of these foot ills.

One of the greatest mistakes—the greatest mis-understandings—of which woman-kind are guilty is that of wearing shoes that are too small.

And here goes up a hue and a cry. Mild persuasive protests of innocence, vociferous denials, argumentative frowns. It seems that the damsel does not live who judges even the tiniest bit on the size of her shoes. Oh dear no.

But ask any shoeman. He will tell you that from here to world's end there are number six feet wearing five shoes, and number seven wearing size six. Or at least a half size too small.

It all comes from the erroneous belief that a small foot is pretty. That is far from the truth. The beauty of the foot is its size in proportion to the size of the body. A size five foot on a woman five feet and six inches tall and weighing a hundred and thirty pounds is a monstrosity. It is out of proportion. It amounts almost to disfigurement, as if her ears were the size of a twenty-five cent piece, or her mouth an inch in diameter.

A foot that is crowded into a shoe that is too small is immediately ugly. It spills out over the top of the shoe. A precipice appears on top where the vamp ends. The design of the shoe is lost in a knobby bulge. It loses its shape.

The difference between a size six shoe and a size six and one-half is not perceptible to the observer. The shoeman himself has to look at the numbering of the shoe to know the difference. Yet that much difference in size will make the difference between hurting feet, threatened with corns, bunions, ingrown nails, blisters, a bad disposition—and happy smiling feet that go willingly on their way in comfort and beauty.

Bad disposition? Yes, indeed. Have you ever watched a poor deluded lady with size seven feet and size six shoes? The tortured nerves of the feet, pressed upon, constructed, bruised, told all the rest of the nerves about how they were being abused, and the last one of them rebelled! That's how it happened!

And pretty soon the poor dear just HAS to burst out somewhere, and so she jumps on the butcher and the baker and scolds Johnny when Johnny hadn't been so bad after all, and won't let Pa smoke his pipe or read his paper in peace. Or maybe she takes it out in a good cry.

And her digestion gets bad—it surely will if you do such things to the nervous system. And then Dinah gets her share of temper.

And she has headaches, and everybody has to be quiet, and special broth has to be made—or special strawberry tart! One of the chief nerve centers lies at the base of the brain, and when those nerves are in had humor they HOWL!

And all because she would not—would NOT—have that number seven she instead of the six and a half or that B width instead of the A.

Incidentally, sizes six and a half and seven are quite average sizes these days. They sound huge, don't they? But really, the best people, my dear!

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Rainourd, Mrs. Henry Perry, and Mrs. Lena Schneider were in Amarillo on business Monday.

FOR GINGER'S SAKE

BEGIN HERE TODAY Life in the little town of Red Thrush, Iowa, was less uneventful to suit GINGER ELA TOLLIVER, so she conceived the idea of organizing a Junior Country Club and thus saving the younger set from complete boredom.

The club was to be exclusive. No parents allowed—and no children. The motion was heartily seconded by GINGER's intimates, all of them leading spirits in Red Thrush—EDDY JACKSON, WESLEY MEERER and PATTY SEARS.

It was agreed that the purpose was to have a good time. And one day, while the rehabilitation of the old house was going on, Ginger was in the kitchen of her home cooking assisted by GOOBY, the cook, when a stranger called. He was bearded and prepossessing looking, and he offered to do a sketch for a meal.

"Lock, Gooby!" she cried. "Why— it looks like me—almost!" "Could you maybe then," she began diffidently, "make a picture look like that and not look like me?"

"You would be willing to forego your joie de vivre for a day or two, wouldn't you?" "Oh, no, I wouldn't. I'd keep it with me." He looked full into her innocent eyes.

"If you could do one or two portraits in town—for money—" "I'd adore it," he said eagerly. "That's really the objection—" His voice trailed away into silence.

"You see, Phil has more money than the First National Bank—the Uddikes are the First National Bank. And they want her to let them take full charge of her money matters and handle her estate when she dies and all that sort of thing.

she wouldn't. I don't mean here. I was thinking of our Junior Country Club. I think it would be simply corking and the regular Country Club would go green-eyed with jealousy.

"Do you suppose," she said, "that you could paint—oh, a lot of light and rollicking things, tra, la—rather bold and startling—on walls and ceilings—splashes of color—like they have at some of those studio restaurants in Greenwich Village and Paris? Girls with very long legs and wearing one black stocking—all funny flowers and queer birds like nobody ever saw and long-legged girls."

"He looked up at the ceiling with an air of doubt. "Do you think Gooby would enjoy it?" "Ginger smiled faintly. "I'm sure."

"Bard Holloway," Ginger smiled with pleasure as she repeated it into the transmitter. "Oh, it doesn't take long—an hour or so. You can sit for them out here, you know. We'd love to have you. Oh, good, Mrs. Uddike, that's just great. Phil."

BOWLING TEAM FROM HERE TO ENTER EVENT

PAMPA BOWLERS WILL BE SENT TO VIE AT WICHITA

Pampa's interest in sports will receive added impetus when a bowling team composed of Lee McConnell, R. H. Baxter, Ted Oliver, Bill Holms, J. M. Powell and Sam Fenberg, and managed by John Peake, enters the Southwest Bowling tournament at Wichita, Kan., on February 8, as representatives of the Schneider hotel bowling team.

This is the seventh annual tournament of the southwest. While bowling is new in Pampa, considerable interest has been aroused here since the formation of the two six-team leagues, known as the Commercial and the City leagues, and several matches with Amarillo and Berger teams have demonstrated the ability of our local bowlers.

The team expects to leave for Wichita on February 7.

Commercial league matches at the Pampa Bowling alleys tonight are: Cal Farley versus Foxworth-Cairbraith on alleys 3 and 4 at 7:30 o'clock; Diamond shop versus Gordon's stores, alleys 5 and 6, 7:30; Cabot company versus Schneider hotel on alleys 3 and 4 at 9:30.

HARVESTERS ARE BACK FROM JAUNT; PREPARE FOR PERRYTON BATTLE

Following an unsuccessful invasion into New Mexico and Colorado, that gained the Harvesters much experience and the high school athletic fund a neat profit, the Harvesters are preparing for the return game with Perryton at Perryton on Jan. 29. The girls team will also go to Perryton to play the girls basketball team there.

Coach Mitchell will probably make changes in his lineup to get the winning combination. As to just what changes he will make, Coach Mitchell is customarily silent.

After the Perryton game, the basketball interest of the high school will turn to the boys annual invitation tournament to be held here February 5, 6, and 7. Teams that have definitely announced that they would have part in the tournament are the Berger Bulldogs, the Price Memorial high Cardinals, the Miami Warriors, Amarillo Yannigans, the Memphis Cyclone, and teams from LeFors, Groen, Pampa, will enter two teams in the event.

The Memphis boys team will play the Harvesters here February 11 and 12. The Harvesters games here will always be preceded by a preliminary game, Coach Mitchell said yesterday.

MITCHELL LOOKS FOR GOOD FOOTBALL TEAM WITH 3 NEW PLAYERS

Coach Mitchell is looking forward to a great grid season next fall. Three promising prospects for the 1931 football team have enrolled in Pampa high school this semester.

One of them is John Fisher of Tulsa, Oklahoma, who captained a Tulsa high school team last season. Fisher is a backfield man. His weight is 170 pounds.

Lem McWright is another captain hailing from Alabama. He is enrolled as a junior in Pampa high school. He captained an Alabama high school eleven for two years, and is a brother of one of the members of the famous Crimson Tide that defeated Washington State in the last Tournament of Roses. The team from Dixie will prove to be almost a sure shot for one of the backfield positions, with his experience. McWright tips the scales at 182.

Wayne Kelly of Shamrock, who played tackle on the Irish team last season, is enrolled in the freshman class of the local school. Kelly weighs 165 pounds.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD THIS WEEK

QUITAQUE, Jan. 26. (Special) Announcement made at school this week sets the date for the third annual boys basketball tournament at Friday and Saturday, Jan. 30-31. Forty teams from this section of the state have been invited to participate in the tournament. Many teams have accepted, but not sufficient number to complete a tentative schedule.

DO YOU CLINK OR CLASH? NEW YORK, Jan. 26. — Lorna Faunt, the numerologist who conducts the Old Gold character readings broadcasts will, commencing January 27, be heard over the Columbia network of 66 stations each Tuesday, 9:15 to 9:30, and Thursday, 9:15 to 9:30 Eastern Standard time. The later period on Thursday is designed to bring the program to the coast stations during the dinner hour.

Miss Faunt, a leading practitioner of numerology, "the science as old as the numbers themselves," has fascinated her public with her analyses of the name and birth numbers of stage and screen stars, and with discussions of such topics as "Do you click or clash with your business associates?" and "Does your married life click or clash?" The same type of program will be carried over the larger network in her new series of broadcasts.

WHITE DEER, Jan. 26. (Special) R. B. Galloway, poultry specialist and official poultry judge, will meet with the poultry evening class on Tuesday evening, Jan. 27. He will take up the selection of breeds, selection of individuals, and how to build up a good paying poultry flock. This meeting completes the course of the poultry evening school. Mr. Galloway is considered one of the outstanding poultry specialists of this section.

HIGGINS LIONS CLUB ENTERTAINS LADIES

HIGGINS, Jan. 26. (Special) The Lions club entertained the ladies on Thursday night with a banquet fit for the gods of Olympus. The feast was prepared by the ladies of the Methodist church.

Sam M. Braswell, editor of the Clarendon News, and governor of District T, which embraces all of West Texas, and extends from the North Panhandle to El Paso, was present as a special guest of the club, and he entertained the Ladies and their ladies with an outline of the ideas of Lionism that was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. And he told a good story.

T. H. Black, president of the club, acted as toastmaster; and during the evening those present were entertained by Louis Davis, saxophone solo, with Miss Hazel Gragg at the piano; a trio consisting of Messdames Holmes Schooley, and Wainwright, with Mrs. Schooley at the piano.

Short addresses were made by H. L. Adkins of Amarillo, L. A. McAdams of Canadian; Mr. Rutherford, who has recently returned from Venezuela, and John Richards.

A county survey is being made for the purpose of determining the amount of relief necessary. Louis Montgomery, chapter chairman, announced yesterday. A fund has been received from National Red Cross headquarters with which the relief work in Taylor county will be started, he said.

A representative has been appointed in each of 41 school districts of the county. These secretaries have full information regarding relief and how to obtain it. Mr. Montgomery said. Reports from 22 of the 41 school districts and from Mertz show that 684 individuals representing 157 families are in need of immediate food relief and that 83 persons representing 25 families will soon need relief, according to Mr. Montgomery.

In addition to food supplies that are being furnished by the Red Cross, there is need for clothing, especially shoes and children's garments," he said. "Many children in Taylor county are unable to attend school on account of lack of clothing."

TERRACING IN WEST TEXAS

County Agricultural Agent Prewitt of McCulloch County reports terracing of 3,300 acres of land in that county last year with 50 farms on the waiting list for use of the limited equipment available. This is recorded a sizeable forward step for McCulloch County from which it will not be possible to lose ground. Terracing conserves soil and increases production of whatever the ground may be called upon to yield.

The McCulloch County record of improvement in cotton production on terraced lands is particularly interesting. It was found that terracing land yielded a staple 15-16 inches for an average of between one-fourth and one-third bale an acre as against an average staple length of 7-8 inch and less and an average yield of one-tenth bale an acre for the rest of the county's farm land. Sixty acres of terraced land on one farm produced 15 bales, while the rest of the farm, 90 acres, produced only 12 bales.

Soil conservation is of great moment to West Texas agriculture, since soil conservation by the prevention of erosion means also conservation of moisture. By making the most of the dispensations of Nature, West Texas farmers have thrived where a few years ago it was imagined no agriculture was possible. This experience has made West Texas farmers more widely awake to the possibilities of improved methods and wider use of them.—Ft. Worth Star Telegram.

NEW MEXICO WHEAT FARMERS TO DECIDE ON ACREAGE SLICE

CLOVIS, N. M., Jan. 26. (Special)—Wheat growers throughout eastern New Mexico will soon gather in Clovis for a gigantic meeting, discussing wheat acreage reduction for 1931 under a movement being formulated.

Authorities on grain markets, wheat exporters, business men, and farmers will be listed as speakers on the program. The meeting will be similar to one recently held in Amarillo where growers were asked to cut the acreage 40 per cent, by entering into a voluntary agreement.

Farmers will voluntarily sign pledges through their local bankers. At least 90 per cent of the farmers of the United States must sign pledges before they will be held bound to the agreement. The pledge is without cost for organization fees or membership dues to the wheat growers, and the movement is planned thoroughly uncommercial, with but one view in mind—help the farmer, the business man and business generally.

Originators of the plan say that the farmer should receive at least 75 cents a bushel for his wheat harvested during 1931, instead of an indicated price of 36 cents a bushel. They pointed out that at present wheat is being sold in Liverpool markets at 62 cents a bushel. Exporters pay 22 cents per bushel for shipment of the grain from this section to Liverpool, and pay 17 cents to ship it from there to Liverpool, leaving them 23 cents per bushel market price.

Liverpool markets are lowest since 1864, they say, and U. S. prices are lowest in 34 years. The best and surest way back to good wheat prices and prosperity is the reduction of acreage, in an effort to allow flooded markets to clear in time for the harvesting of another crop, they declare. They claim that if farmers reduce acreage in 1931, confidence will be instilled in the wheat market and will extend to all grains, and investment buying will be encouraged. The plan will not place a hardship on the wheat farmer. It will allow summer fallowing of land not to be put in wheat, or possible planting of diversified crops. The date of the meeting will be announced soon.

Free Night School For Farmers Begins

MOBETT, Jan. 26. (Special)—A farmers free night school will begin tonight, in the Wheeler high school building, and will be sponsored by the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America. The school will likely deal with the problems involved in the "Restoring and Maintaining of Soil Fertility." Terracing and the use of farm level in surveying lines will probably be the first lesson. The problems discussed will be determined by the adult farm operators present.

The school will be free and open to anyone desiring to attend, and in all probability there will be 10 meetings, two being held each week. A number of farmers have expressed a desire to attend a school of this kind, and feel that it will be of real value to the community.

MARKETS

CORN MARKETS DOWN BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN Associated Press Market Editor CHICAGO, Jan. 26. (P)—Prevailing abnormal weather conditions did much today to pull corn values down and tended to hoist wheat. With untimely high temperatures diminishing demand from feeders, all deliveries of corn broke the season's low-price record, whereas persistent lack of rain or snow through domestic winter wheat sections aroused anxiety as to crop damage. Gossip regarding a war scare in Europe had little apparent market influence.

Corn closed nervous, 1/2 to 3/4 lower, wheat 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents up, oats unchanged to 1/2 cents down, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents decline. Price rallies in corn failed to last, and the market closed not far above the day's bottom level, which was 5 1/2 cents beneath last week's top. Increases of visible supplies of both corn and wheat counteracted upturns in grains. Some observers said bear traders were disturbed by war predictions, but as the war talk was widely known an hour before rallies started, the transient recoveries were generally ascribed more to profit-taking by bears than to war clouds. Rye and oats followed corn, and rye registered the lowest quotation in many years.

Provisions held about steady, duplicating the action of hog values. Closing indemics: wheat, May (offers) 81 1/2; July 64 1/2, 66 1/2; Corn, March (offers) 64 1/2; May 64 1/2 to 66 1/2; 3; July 65 1/2, 67 1/2.

CATTLE STEADY TO HIGHER KANSAS CITY, Jan. 26. (P)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Curtailed receipts of cattle resulted in a slight reaction on killing classes. Packers, however, were very bearish toward any material advance and trade was slow at values unevenly steady to 2 1/2 higher. Light heifer yearlings and fat cows failed to show any appreciable upturn over late last week. Chicago had a top of 12.00 on long yearlings. The bulk of short steers at the river markets, cashed from 7.00-9.50 with plain doers downward to 6.00. Replacement steers cleared from 6.50-8.50 with choice light yearling stockers up to 9.25. Receipts were estimated at 51,000.

Fat lambs continued to meet a fairly broad demand at steady to strong prices while matured killing classes of sheep were strong to 2 1/2 higher. Chicago had a top of 9.50 on choice lambs. The supply numbered around 68,300. Lighter weights of hogs were on a steady to slightly higher basis but medium weights were lower. Butchers ruled steady to 1 1/2 lower. The top of 8.40 was realized at St. Louis. Offerings were around 153,900.

ASKING RECEIVERS FOR OIL VIOLATORS OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 26. (P)—Charging violation of oil production rules in the Oklahoma City field, J. Berry King, attorney general, today filed district court suits asking receivers for the Don Leon Oil company, and the Morgan Petroleum corporation. King also sought a permanent injunction against further alleged violations. Temporary restraining orders were granted by Wyley Jones, district judge, who set Friday for hearing on the injunction and receivership charges.

COTTON TRADE QUIET NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 26. (P)—The week started rather quietly in the cotton market today, trading being rather moderate and price fluctuations narrow. It was the last notice day for January deliveries and a few additional notices were issued, the January option expiring at noon at 10.13. The total January tenders were slightly under 35,000 bales in the local market and it is understood practically all were absorbed by spot interests. In sympathy with better Liverpool cables than due the market opened 2 to 3 points up but prices soon started to ease off owing to lack of support and some selling by ring scalpers dropping off in the early afternoon 4 to 6 points under the opening figures and 2 to 3 points under Saturday's close. The market continued to rule quiet in the late trading but prices improved several points from the lowest owing to favorable reports from the cotton goods markets and finally closed 2 to 3 points under the best. The general market being steady and not unchanged for the day. Liverpool came in 2 to 3 points
