Shamrock revs up for St. Pat's festival

SHAMROCK — A beard-growing contest, street carnival and parades, registration of old-timers, an old fiddlers' contest, and the competition of "colleens" for the coronation of Miss Irish Rose of 1980 are among a few of the activities in Shamrock, Texas, this weekend in the 34th Annual St. Patrick's Festival.

With a theme of "Green and Growing," the festival will kick-off tonight at 7 p.m. at the National Guard Armory with a banquet and keynote speech by Gil A. Stricklin.

The annual parade will begin at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, and 3 p.m. Saturday Miss Irish Rose will be crowned.

Twenty-seven area colleens will be competing for the treasured honor. Among them are Carol Lourie of Pampa; Kimbra Anderson of Clarendon, Texas; Rhonda Carol Coxwell of Perryton; Sheryl Estes of Mobeetie; Lynette Gaines, Candace Lewallen, and Jeanna Stephens, all of Wheeler; Karri Sue Scott of Miami; and Sandra Stroud of Lefors.

At 1 p.m. at the high school auditorium, the old fiddlers contest will begin.

Festivities will conclude Saturday evening with a dance for the adults in the National Guard Armory, and one for the teens at the Jaycee gymnasium.

Texas oilmen say consumers will pay tax

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — Texas oilmen say they are not surprised the windfall profits tax passed by the U.S. House Thursday, but they predict the tax would hike gasoline prices that might have decreased without it.

Midland independent oilman Jack Elam said he fully expects the tax to pass the Senate.

"Where else would they (Congress) get that kind of money without anyone having to pay it?" he said. "Oil companies don't count."

"Without the tax, prices would have gone down," Elam said. "There is a temporary oversupply of oil, and many companies have lowered the price of crude oil from $39.50 per barrel to $38."

"They (Congress) think they'll be getting it out of the hide of the oil companies. Within a year, it will be coming out of consumers' pockets."

"If an oilman needs $40 a barrel to produce, he will charge that $40 plus the oil tax to make a $40 profit," he added.

"The real tragedy is people have not been told the truth," he said. "The windfall profits tax is an excise tax and people are going to have to pay it."

William F. Judd, president of Texas American Oil Corp., agreed gasoline prices will go up because of the tax.

"Obviously, the consumer is going to have to pay the tax," he said. "Of the $227.7 billion windfall profits tax, 25 percent would help low-income Americans pay rising fuel costs. Sixty percent is earmarked for income tax reductions. The final 15 percent would be used for federal energy programs."

Tony Martin, a Midland bank president and oil investor, said the oil glut is the result of the public's refusal to pay the price.

The government has raised the price of fuel with price controls, and the customer will pay in the long run, he said.

"I don't think we've got anybody up there with sense enough to come in out of the rain," he said. "Congress keeps raising taxes. Inflation continues to rise, and within four years there will be no free enterprise left in this country if someone doesn't turn it around."

Some of the oilmen predicted the price of gasoline could rise to

"People can only tolerate so much increase before they can't afford to go to work," said Elam.

Ed Thompson, executive vice president of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association, said his group intends to lobby senators to send the bill back to committee.

"We'll just keep fighting" to get that bunch of idiots on the Potomac moved out," Thompson said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Bill Archer, R-Texas, quickly found a positive side to the defeat of his motion supporting an independent producers exemption from the "windfall" profits tax.

"I think it gives some encouragement to the Senate to try to do something," the Houston congressman said at a news conference following the 227-185 defeat Thursday.

Archer said he considered the "no" vote a good turnout considering stiff opposition from the White House and congressional leadership.

The House immediately followed the defeat of Archer's motion by approving the conference committee's $227.7 billion compromise tax. The vote was 302-107.

A Senate vote, expected next week, is the last step remaining in the "windfall" profit tax's progress through Congress.

Archer's motion would have returned the measure to a House-Senate conference committee with instructions to include an exemption for the first 1,000 barrels a day produced by an independent operator.

Opponents feared that returning the bill to conference would kill it completely.

The 24-member Texas delegation lined up almost solidly behind Archer's motion. The only three, all Democrats, who voted against it were Reps. Bob Eckhardt of Houston, Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio and Mickey Leland of Houston.

Texas then voted 20-4 against approving the conference committee's report, with Eckhardt and Leland joined by Democratic

Boxing team dies in jetliner crash

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — A Polish airliner carrying members of the U.S. amateur boxing team on a flight from New York crashed into a military fort near Warsaw's International Airport today, killing all 77 passengers and crew, authorities said.

It was one of history's worst crashes involving sports personalities.

The Polish Federation of Boxing said the U.S. team, numbering about 24, was aboard the LOT airlines flight, en route to international matches in Warsaw. Most of the remaining passengers were said to be Polish, but one or two other Americans were reported aboard.

The Ilyushin 62 aircraft with 77 passengers and a crew of 10 aboard crashed into the old Czarist-era fort about three miles from the runway, on its second approach in clear, sunny weather, witnesses said.

Among the team members reportedly aboard was Tom "Sarge" Johnson of Indianapolis, coach of the AAU's national team and former trainer of the 1976 American Olympic team, which won five gold medals.

A spokesman for the U.S. Embassy said there were unconfirmed reports that as many as 25 Americans were on the flight. The official Polish news agency, however, said a list of 24 U.S. citizens aboard would be announced this afternoon.

A spokesman at LOT offices in New York said the plane carried 22 members of the team, but a spokesman had said earlier that 23 members were aboard, as well as "one or two other Americans." At least 13 of those on the U.S. team were boxers, he said, and the others were team managers, doctors and other personnel. He said a completely verified passenger manifest was not immediately available but that "the very initial report showed there were one or two other Americans aboard. The rest of the 77 passengers were Polish," he said.

The crash recalled a Feb. 16, 1961 air disaster that wiped out the United States figure skating team. In that crash near Brussels, Belgium, 73 persons were killed, 15 of them team members on the way to Prague, Czechoslovakia for the world championships.

Among the dead were 16-year-old Laurence Owen, who had won the U.S. championship the previous week, her sister, Maribel, a national senior pairs champion, and their mother, Maribel Vinson Owen, a former champion.

A witness to today's crash, Stanislaw Wilczur, 32, told The Associated Press he heard what seemed to be an explosion in one of the engines seconds before the crash.

The crash occurred in a densely populated area south of the Polish capital, but there were no casualties on the ground, officials said.

According to witnesses, the plane started to dive from the height of about 100 feet and slammed into the earthen wall of a fort built by Russians in 19th century.

The plane came to rest behind the earthen walls of the old fort, some 160 feet from a cluster of houses. The fort and rifle range area are normally off limits to civilians and are believed to contain ammunition and fuel storage areas.

Wreckage was scattered over a wide area, including the frozen former moat.

A Western resident said there were unconfirmed reports that the plane may have exploded a few hundred feet above ground as it made the landing approach. The LOT spokesman in New York said there was no explosion.

Police and troops sealed off the crash site, which is used as a military firing range.

"It is a terrible mess and nobody survived," a policeman told AP correspondent Sylwek Krupa as he tried to enter the area.

Carter's anti-inflation strategy includes balanced budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is what Americans can expect from the new anti-inflation program President Carter is unveiling today:

- The first balanced budget in 12 years.
- A 10-cent-a-gallon increase in gasoline prices.
- An increased wage standard.
- Pared spending plans, and
- Higher interest rates, credit controls, and no more Saturday mail deliveries.

Those are the anticipated highlights of the president's newest strategy to contain inflation. He is announcing the program today in a White House speech at 4:30 p.m. EST. He will hold a nationally broadcast news conference at 9 p.m. to answer questions about the program and other topics.

White House press secretary Jody Powell said final decisions still were being made after the last round of consultations with congressional leaders Thursday evening, culminating a two-week process in which Carter's aides met with hundreds of people.

Asked whether the president had made up his mind, Powell said: "If he has, he didn't give any indication of it" in the Thursday meeting with Democratic congressional leaders.

Carter conferred briefly with Treasury Secretary G. William Miller after the Democratic meeting broke up at 9 p.m., Powell said.

According to Republican congressional leaders, who met with Carter several hours before the Democrats, and according to other sources, the president wants to reduce planned spending in fiscal 1981 by $12 billion to $13 billion.

To bring income and expenses into balance in the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, he will impose fees on imported oil that will raise approximately $10 billion, and increase the cost of a gallon of gasoline by 10 cents, the sources said. But Powell refused to state whether the fees were in Carter's plans.

Keeping one clearly inflationary factor away from the president's announcement, the administration formally increased on Thursday its 1980 voluntary wage guideline to a rate of 7.5 percent to 9.5 percent.

Carter's original $616 billion 1981 budget, submitted six weeks ago, showed a deficit of $15.8 billion. With the proposed spending cuts and the increase in revenues, there would be a slight budget surplus. The last balanced budget was in 1969.

Although $888,000,000 interest rates and gasoline prices could worsen inflation in the short-run, the administration believes they will help in the long run by cutting demand.

While a balanced budget is not expected to have a large impact on inflation, it is seen as offering a psychological boost, showing an inflation-worried nation that the government is trying to put its own economic house in order.

The announcement of the new program was timed to take place after the financial markets close for the weekend.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration is loosening its voluntary wage guidelines to allow pay increases up to 9.5 percent this year, but union leaders expect to win much larger settlements for their members under exceptions in the new program.

President Carter's top inflation adviser, Alfred E. Kahn, announced Thursday that the president had approved a labor-endorsed proposal to raise last year's 7 percent anti-inflation wage guideline to a range of 7.5 percent to 9.5 percent for pay and fringe benefit increases.

At the same time, the head of the Communications Workers of America told reporters the union could win pay increases large enough for the 525,000 telephone workers to keep pace with inflation without violating the new guidelines.

"We believe...that we'll be able to get what our members need and still come well within the guidelines themselves," CWA President Glenn Watts said in announcing his union's bargaining goals in upcoming contract talks with the Bell System.

Other CWA officials estimated that if Bell is willing to pay, the union could obtain a 1980 wage increase surpassing last year's 13 percent inflation rate and still remain within the guidelines.

NATIONAL

Snow and freezing rain posed a problem for motoring commuters in the cities of the Northeast early today as high winds ripped Maryland's Eastern Shore and rain-swollen creeks surged against their banks in Florida.

At least two persons were reported dead as the storm spread from the Ohio Valley to New England.

More snow was forecast today from Montana to Oregon and from the Great Lakes to New York, while rain was expected from western Washington across central California.

Three to 8 inches of snow were reported in parts of New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Maryland as a late winter storm spread over the area Thursday and headed toward the Atlantic.

While schools in parts of western Maryland closed early, police reported a truck driver was killed when his rig plunged down a 10-foot embankment near Hagerstown.

Tornadoes were reported in the area around Ocean City, Md., and one motel owner said winds ripped the roof off his facility, damaging 12 to 20 rooms at a cost of some $200,000.

Coast Guard officials reported a fishing vessel with nine persons aboard was grounded on Assateague Island, about three miles south of Ocean City inlet. Officials said those on board were in no immediate danger but rescue efforts were hampered by rough seas.

In Pennsylvania, police blamed slippery roads for the death of a woman whose car plunged down an embankment in Lycoming county.

Nineteen school children were treated for minor cuts when their school bus collided with a car in Chester County, Pa. Meanwhile, hundreds of motorists were caught in a traffic jam when a crane

Prime lending rate hits new high

NEW YORK (AP) — Several major banks have boosted their prime lending rate by a half-point to a record 18 1/2 percent as business borrowing costs continue their sharp upward spiral.

The new rate on loans to top-ranked business borrowers was posted by New York's Chase Manhattan Bank, the nation's third-largest, and by others including seventh-ranked Continental Illinois National Bank in Chicago and Security Pacific National Bank in Los Angeles, ranked tenth.

Home Savings & Loan Association of Los Angeles, the nation's largest savings institution, raised its base home mortgage rate, meanwhile, by a point to 17 percent. Chase said its move "brings the prime to a level more reflective of the general increase in market rates which has continued over recent months" as the Federal Reserve has tried to restrain 18 percent a year inflation by making loans harder to obtain.

Commissioner backs rail salvage effort

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — Local efforts to keep rail freight service running in the Texas Panhandle should be given more time to succeed, Railroad Commission Chairman John Poerner said today.

"I believe it is of critical importance to preserve essential rail freight service in the Texas Panhandle," Poerner said in remarks prepared for the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association.

He said Rock Island Railways is scheduled to end current service March 23.

Poerner said the commission sent a staff member to a meeting last week of representatives from states served by Rock Island to form "a unified position to influence"

Area businessmen expressed support for a $30 million alcohol plant on the South Plains when they met with organizers of a 12-county grain cooperative Thursday.

Organizers said they expect the South Plains Grain Products Cooperative to be in business in about six months. The alcohol plant would cover 20 to 30 acres, employ up to 60 persons and manufacture 20 to 50 million gallons of alcohol a year from grain sorghum.

Rusty Andrews, a Brownfield area farmer, told the group the cooperative could add $40 million to $50 million to the local economy at first, and up to $200 million eventually.

"We're figuring conservatively that we could get $6.60 a hundred (pounds) for grain sorghum as compared with the $4 a hundred we're looking at now," Andrews said.

Reserve has tried to restrain 18 percent a year inflation by making loans harder to obtain.

Banks were paying customers about 18 1/4 percent on large three-month certificates of deposit Thursday, up sharply from 17 1/2 percent a day before.

Economist Robert Sinche of Bear, Stearns & Co. said that rate could prompt a 20 percent prime before long.

College officials threatened in San Antonio labor dispute

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A death threat has forced two top San Antonio Community College District officials to start wearing bulletproof vests. The college officials and police feel the threat stemmed from a recent labor dispute.

The district, one of the state's largest, fired virtually its entire maintenance staff March 7 after the workers had staged a one-day work stoppage a week earlier.

But the head of union in which the maintenance workers are members denied Thursday that anyone associated with the union was connected to the threats.

"Our people are not a part of it," said Linda Ramirez, who heads a local chapter of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

SACCD President Jerome Weynand said he got a threatening letter in Wednesday's office mail. The letter, released to reporters Thursday, threatened Weynand's life and that of W.W. McAllister Jr., the chairman of the college district board.

The letter has been turned over to the FBI, since the letter writers claimed involvement in the 1979 assassination here of a federal judge and the 1978 attempted assassination of a federal prosecutor. A similar letter was sent to Weynand a year ago.

Weynand and McAllister told reporters they are now wearing bulletproof vests. McAllister hiked up his business suit, shirt and tie to display his protective vest.

Security around the two men has been increased in the wake of the threats, authorities said.

McAllister said he might hire bodyguards, adding, "And if I have to go around armed in self defense, I will."

Henry Munoz Jr., a former head of AFSCME and now a labor consultant with the district, said he also received a threatening phone call Wednesday at his home.

The district's entire 33-man maintenance staff staged a one-day work stoppage Feb. 29. The workers were protesting the firing of their supervisor and what they said were poor working conditions and harassment.

The threatening letter referred to both Weynand and McAllister as "racists" and claimed the two were "doing wrong to the poor."

Ms. Ramirez said she also feels the letter stemmed from the labor problems, but repeated that the union had nothing to do with it.

"When you get in a labor problem like we are having, there are always sympathizers we have no control over who come up with ideas in their own sick minds and take things into their own hands," she said. "I'm sorry it happened. It makes us look bad. The union is not a part of it. I'm disturbed there is that implication."

Clements press aide Jon Ford said it would be up to the Mexican president to lead the discussion but it was expected the two would talk again about illegal aliens, energy and the border narcotics traffic. These were the major issues discussed when Clements visited Lopez Portillo in Mexico City in January 1979.

The two chief executives also are expected to try to set a date and location for a meeting announced earlier between the governors of the four American states on the Rio Grande and their counterparts in Mexico.

Clements has said he would like to hold the "summit" meeting in El Paso but New Mexico Gov. Bruce King, chairman of the Southwest Regional Commission, wants it in his state. The states involved are Texas, New Mexico, California and Arizona.

The schedule called for Gov. and Mrs. Clements, with their official

Boat owners clouding issue official declares

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Boating enthusiasts' fears of financial hardship are premature and cloud the important issues of a program to curtail fuel consumption during an energy crisis, a Department of Energy official says.

Boat owners, manufacturers and dealers expressed concern Thursday about a proposal included in the nine-point package to restrict use of water craft on weekends during an energy crisis.

"Texas has always risen to the occasion when there's been an energy crunch, so the probability of such a measure being put into effect here is very remote," said Cleve Laird, chairman of the two-day DOE hearing on the proposed emergency energy conservation plan.

However, opponents countered, industry-related businesses also would feel the pinch.

"About 65 percent of all pleasure boating use occurs on weekends. In the event of a weekend restriction ... more than 50 percent of boating use would be eliminated," said Bob Speer, marketing representative for a fishing tackle company in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, Alabama and Mississippi.

"The exposure already given to this proposed plan and the exposure yet to come has and will damage the pleasure boating, sportfishing and related industries. Consumers contemplating new purchases will postpone their purchases because of their concern about restrictions," Speer said.

Among the measures are further reduced speed limits, minimum gasoline purchase requirements, odd-even gasoline rationing, a commuter plan, restriction on automobile use, a compressed work week and temperature restrictions on non-residential buildings.

Laird noted the preoccupation over boating restrictions has "clouded" the issues on which DOE officials want feedback.

"Will the public be totally satisfied with a compressed work week, with restricted driving days, with lower speed limits? We think not," he said.

Governor to Mexico for high level talks

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Gov. Bill Clements will fly to Monterrey, Mexico, today for a second visit in Mexico with Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo.

It will be the sixth official goodwill visit to Mexico in the 14 months that the Republican governor has held office.

Clements announced the trip March 4, saying he had been invited by Lopez Portillo to Monterrey for a private talk plus a round of ceremonies and festivities tonight and Saturday.

Older Worker Week participation urged

In support of President Jimmy Carter's proclamation of March 9-15 as Older Worker Week, Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb Inc. is encouraging employers to recognize the qualities of older workers.

Contrary to popular belief, employers can count on more years from most older jobholders than from the average younger worker. Studies from the U.S. Department of Labor for private employers show that workers 45 and over quit their jobs less than half as often as younger workers, and they are as likely to change jobs as are workers under 45 years old.

Workers hired after age 40 generally attain a higher performance rating in a shorter time than those hired before the age of 30.

Older workers tend to have a more positive attitude toward work than do younger workers.

They have a greater job stability and a better record of continued acceptance by employers once they are hired.

The number of days lost per 100 workdays for all reasons goes down as age increases.

Workers in every age group above 50 lose fewer scheduled workdays than those in any age group below 50.

"However, many older workers have difficulty finding jobs," says David Hartwig, state director of Texas Green Thumb. "Many employers stress hiring younger workers without considering or realizing the value of older workers. We not only have our own experience to share, but studies from the National Institute of Aging show that older workers are more consistent in job performance than their younger counterparts. They demonstrate qualities of dependability and responsibility and are involved in fewer job-related accidents."

Green Thumb is a rural older worker employment program funded through the Department of Labor and is working to eliminate the unfounded prejudice against older workers.

Green Thumb directly hires nearly 1,000 workers, age 55 and older, on a part-time basis.

These workers are placed in community jobs throughout 104 counties in Texas.

OCAW talks go on

HOUSTON (AP) — The president of the striking Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union met with Gulf Oil Corp. officials here for the second day, but there were reports of progress in talks aimed at halting the 8-week-old strike.

"They are still negotiating," said Kirk Vogeley Thursday, adding there was no indication how long the talks might continue.

OCAW president Robert Goss flew to Houston Wednesday in an effort to break the deadlock between striking workers and oil companies.

Jerry Archuleta, a union spokesman, said earlier there would be no announcements about the talks until Goss had made a report with the union's National Oil Policy Bargaining Committee.

"About 55,000 union workers have been on strike since Jan.

General Telephone seeks hike

AUSTIN (AP) — General Telephone Co.'s request for a $58.3 million rate increase will be heard by the Public Utility Commission on May 12.

The date was set Thursday in a preliminary hearing before the commission.

Intervenors in the hearing will be named later.

General Telephone, largest independent telephone company in the state, serves more than 1.2 million telephones in 291 exchanges across the state.

Major cities served include Garland, Irving and Plano in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, Baytown and Dickinson in the Houston area, Texarkana, San Angelo and Bryan-College Station.

Under the request local monthly basis service rates would be grouped, by cities, in bands based on the number of primary telephones that can be called without a long distance charge.

Long distance charges would not be affected by the rates.

STAMPS DESTROYED

LONDON (AP) — Some 20 million postage stamps have had to be destroyed by the post office because they were printed with the wrong postal rates.

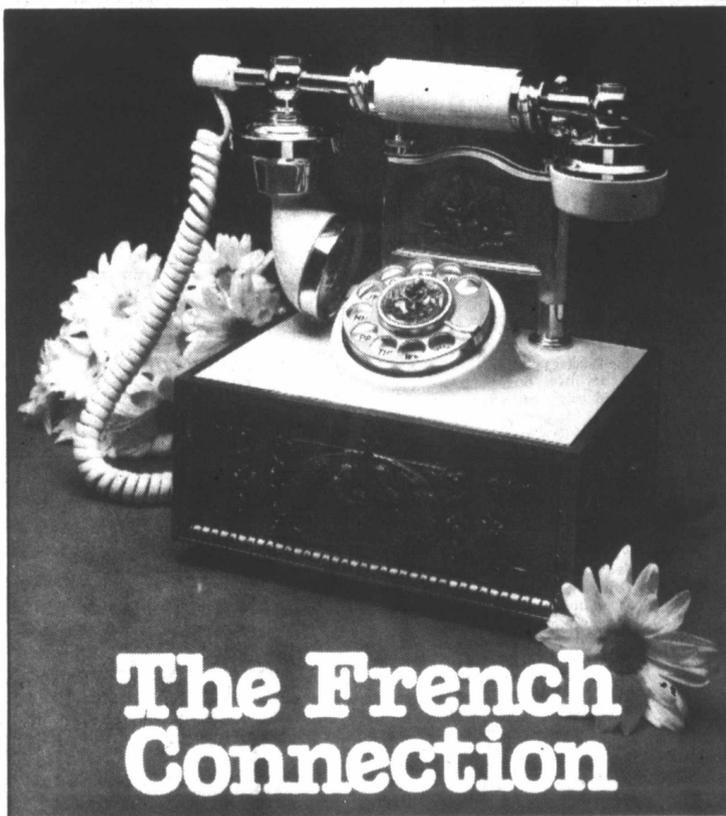

A spokesman says the stamps had been ordered before new postal rates came into effect.

SERVICE CONTRACTS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The cost of auto...otive repairs has resulted in an increase in the sales of vehicle service contracts, reports a company in the industry.

Jerry Farrar, president of American Warranty Corp., says that during the first six months of 1979, 16 percent of all new car purchasers took out vehicle service contracts, as opposed to 8 percent in 1978.

Farrar says industry sales of these service contracts were an estimated 1.93 million contracts in 1978 for a dollar value of $392 million. In 1973, he says, there were 200,000 of the contracts in effect for a dollar value of about $40 million.

The French Connection

The glamorous French cradlephone has been reborn in America, where it's known as Antique Gold. Its carved gold-colored figures and rich ivory trim make it the last word in period-style decor.

And, because it's genuine Bell, you know you're getting top quality. You never have to worry about repairs, either, because the Bell System retains ownership of your phone's working components and repairs them without additional charge anytime there's a problem.

Make your French Connection at your nearest PhoneCenter Store, where you can also choose from a variety of other colorful and attractive styles. Or call your local Southwestern Bell business office. Choose a phone that's genuinely you and genuine Bell.

The Antique Gold, $24 a month for five months or a one-time charge of $120. Prices do not include taxes or, if applicable, installation and recurring charges. If necessary, hearing aid adapters are available from your telephone company.

Organized trucking smokescreen

The trucking industry, nationally and in California, has been vigorously fighting efforts to deregulate its business endeavors. It is one of the most regulated of all private businesses — a status it is fighting to maintain. There is little doubt that personal profit is the motive behind the truckers' aversion to deregulation, although they argue that it would be injurious to others. A report that will soon be issued by the Senate Judiciary Committee deflates their argument.

In a well-orchestrated publicity campaign, the trucking industry has been trying to convince the public that chaos will reign if its business activity is left to operate in a free market. One side effect of the chaos, the truckers claim, will be a disruption of service to small communities. The truckers say it will be unprofitable to service small towns in a competitive market.

The Senate Judiciary Committee researched the truckers' claim and found it self-serving and invalid. The trucking industry's argument is based on the assumption that regulation insures everyone — especially those in small communities — adequate trucking services. The Judiciary Committee's investigation found that many large trucking companies simply ignore unprofitable stops, which they are assigned to serve by federal regulation, and concentrate on the highly profitable parts of assigned routes. The report states that employees of one of the nation's largest trucking companies were told to ignore pick-up calls or tell customers the company didn't have the equipment to handle the freight in the unprofitable areas.

In an open market a decision by a company to concentrate on highly profitable areas is totally justified. But the reason the truckers find some routes immensely profitable is that federal regulators limit entry into the market, thus limiting their competition. This is specifically done so the truckers will be able to make enough profit to service the less profitable areas. Ironically with the big truckers not meeting their obligation to the less profitable areas, it is regulation — not deregulation — that is preventing service to these small communities. In an open market someone with a truck would simply offer his services to an area needing better service and start hauling for a price agreed upon by his customers. Unfortunately today's entry restrictions prevent this natural service from emerging.

But practicality is not the only argument against the truckers' claim. Even if they were providing excellent service to small communities at unprofitable rates, regulation would still be unjustified. Why should the rest of the country subsidize the shipping cost of people in rural areas? If the cost of shipping is too high for them to survive, then they should move. It is absurd for the rest of the nation to pay 10 to 20 percent higher shipping costs, which is what most economists believe is the price of regulation, so that a few people can continue to receive artificially low shipping rates.

Make no mistake about it. It is the extra profit earned as a result of regulation that is the real motive behind the industry's fight. This is yet another example of business interests using the common good as a cover for their own greed.

Dealing Peking in

By Don Graft
Whatever became of detente would appear to be an easily answered question, post Afghanistan.

It went that way. But surprisingly, a few pockets of East-West disengagement appear to be surviving.

One is in Vienna, where representatives of NATO and the Soviet-bloc Warsaw Pact recently met as scheduled for another go-around on mutual reduction of forces in Central Europe.

Nothing came of it, of course. But the mere fact that it took place at all could be considered an accomplishment in the present chilly atmosphere.

For the record, the Soviets and their satellites continue to balk at NATO's proposal for initial withdrawal 30,000 Russians and 13,000 Americans. The discrepancy is justified, NATO argues, because the American forces have to withdraw a much greater distance. Besides, it is suspected that the Soviets actually have more troops in the area than they acknowledge.

So much for Vienna. Next meeting, same place, later this year — maybe.

Meanwhile, in neutral Switzerland there has been an even more interesting development. After boycotting the Geneva Disarmament Conference for 18 years, the Chinese suddenly showed up.

They did not, however, merely slip into the seats long reserved for them. Deputy Foreign Minister Zhang Wenjin took the opportunity to deliver a rhetorical haymaker to the Soviet Union, accusing it of "fraudulent" exploitation of detente to further an aggressive, expansionist policy.

None of this is new, of course. The Chinese have been publicly accusing the Soviets of this and much worse for years. But tough talk is not the way of the Geneva negotiations, which have taken on somewhat the character of an old-boys club. Direct political attacks, as the affronted Soviet delegate responded, are not according to the rules — presumably along with such other behavior as whispering during speeches and passing notes.

If it was any consolation, the Soviets were not the only target. The Chinese critique also implied U.S. collusion in blocking real progress in arms reduction and put Peking on record as rejecting any agreement that might be worked out between Washington and Moscow rather than negotiated by the entire conference.

Well! The Geneva conferees have been trying to coax the Chinese into their discussions for almost two decades. Now that they have them, there may be reason to question exactly what it is they've got.

Among other things, it could be a new approach to all the American and Soviet dithering of late over the playing of Chinese cards. That may all turn out to be beside the point since the Chinese seem to prefer bringing their own deck when they join a game.

And now a note on culinary detente

Are you ready for this?

Or to make the question more to the point, are Russians ready for it?

It is pizza. A Soviet newspaper has disclosed that two establishments devoted to the delicacy that swept out of Italy to conquer the West are about to open in Moscow.

Breaking the news was easy enough. But informing Russians exactly what pizza is proved the really tough part — at least until Soviet customers bite into their first crust.

Translated into readily understood local terms, a pizza emerges as a cake covered with tomato sauce, greens, cheese similar to sharp varieties from the Caucasus and pieces of ham or fish, all baked for a few minutes in a super-hot oven — of Yugoslav manufacture in the case of those being installed in Moscow's new people's pizza parlors.

Well, given a decent warm-up period and the Soviet public's insatiable interest in things Western, detente or not, it may catch on.

But meanwhile, please change that order to one borsh, please.

Try not to worry

In the wake of Watergate, so many of those involved — however innocently — went to hospitals with very real physical ills that I began to assemble a file of circumstantial evidence linking emotional stress with physical distress.

That file expands every day.

The stress of the situation in Iran, already reflected in the face of President Carter, might next manifest itself in some physical ills.

This is not to wish him anything but good health — yet the evidence is now irrefutable. We can worry ourselves sick.

The Shah of Iran was entirely healthy, vigorously active — until the fright, flight and anguish of this last year sent him to the hospital with cancer.

Gen. George Brown, Joint Chiefs Chairman, survived 37 years of military service but controversy and criticism his last year doubtless contributed to the cancer that killed him at 60.

For Cleveland's ex-Mayor Dennis Kucinich the red ink and hot water of that office gave him ulcers at 32.

Princess Margaret's divorce and resultant criticism in Parliament sent her to the hospital.

Sen. Joseph Montoya never had a sick day in his 62 years until he was accused of cheating on his taxes and was voted out of office; he died within months.

The list of recent victims of their own emotions include former Congressman Otto Passman, former United Mine Workers presidents Boyle and Miller and former NAACP Director Roy Wilkins.

Dr. Eugene Braunwald, chief of medicine at Harvard's Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, says, "It may be emotional — not blood clots — which cause the heart attacks that kill 400,000 Americans each year."

He says, "The circumstantial evidence is very convincing that psychological experiences can trigger a spasm."

Cardiologist Robert Elliott of the University of Nebraska Medical Center seconds the notion: "Stress is a more significant cause of heart disease than is cholesterol."

Dr. Martin Stein, Mt. Sinai School of Medicine in New York, says, "There is considerable evidence that grief and stress retard the body's ability to fight disease."

A recent conference on the "Dynamics of Stress" at Columbia University, New York, heard no dissent from the premise that men — and now women also — climbing the ladder of professional success are likely to develop health problems stemming from stress.

From that conference there evolved a very complicated definition of "stress" — "A dynamic interaction between an individual and his or her response pattern to the usual or unusual demands of living."

What it means is, we should try to learn to "roll with the punches."

Church helps.

A promise never kept

By Robert Walters
COLUMBIA, S.C. (NEA) — Every presidential election produces two varieties of promises virtually guaranteed to go unfulfilled — one from the politicians and the other from executives of the nation's television networks.

The candidates claim that their installation in the White House certainly will produce peace, prosperity and general good feeling around the world. The reliability of those campaigns pledges already has been widely discussed.

Considerably less attention has been paid to the rhetoric offered by the news divisions of the commercial networks. "We've learned from the errors and omissions of the last campaign and we're committed to covering this year's race in a comprehensive, honest and intelligent manner."

But just as surely as the politicians never seem to be able to produce abundant energy or lower inflation, the broadcasters never manage to report on the campaign in a manner befitting the importance of electing the country's chief executive officer.

A case in point. On four occasions during the past two months, contenders for the Republican presidential nomination have agreed to face-to-face meetings to discuss and debate campaign issues.

And for the fourth time in two months, the networks have rebuffed the debate sponsors' offers to make the event available, at no cost, for live broadcast to a nationwide television audience.

The most recent forum was held here, under the joint sponsorship of the University of South Carolina and Columbia Newspapers Inc. Earlier debates occurred in Manchester and Nashua, N.H. and Des Moines, Iowa.

To its credit, the Public Broadcasting Service has offered to its affiliates live coverage of three of the four events. But the commercial networks have provided little more than sporadic, delayed middle-of-the-night broadcasts.

Nobody who witnessed those debates would claim that they are uniformly engrossing or provocative. In fact, each event has ranged from stimulating and spellbinding to soporific and stupefying.

They have been, however, the most enlightening, educational and instructive events of the presidential campaign, offering an exceptional opportunity to assess the candidates.

The networks briefly were interested in the prospect of televising the debates when President Carter was scheduled to meet Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in the Iowa forum.

But after Carter withdrew and the debates were stripped of their Teddy-confronts-Jimmy show-business appeal, the networks abandoned all plans for live coverage.

Instead, a typical campaign segment packaged for the networks' early evening news programs lasts about one minute and 50 seconds, with the candidates actually speaking for 30 seconds or less.

In place of ideas, positions or philosophies, the viewers are offered indistinguishable photographs of interchangeable candidates boarding airplanes, emerging from cars, shaking voters' hands and waving at crowds.

One network report from New Hampshire featured photographs of two horses grazing in a field while the correspondent talked about "front-runners" and "dark horses."

Another network illustrated a primary-night story with photos of a bird.

That insipid coverage isn't cheap. The three networks' news divisions have annual budgets of about $100 million each, with an additional $35 million to $50 million allocated for reporting on the presidential campaign.

To cover the New Hampshire primary alone, each network spent $250,000 to $300,000, hauled millions of dollars worth of sophisticated electronic equipment into the state, converted hotel ballrooms into full-scale television studios and deployed approximately 150 producers, correspondents and technicians.

Similar costs will be incurred in other states holding primaries in the coming months — but neither the networks nor the viewers are getting their money's worth under the current system.

Beauty approach to cold weather

Since Jack Frost came knocking at your door a few months ago, it's time to make sure you're taking the right approach to staying beautiful.

Every inch of your body deserves extra attention during the winter weather. This special beauty routine should include a winter makeup scheme to keep you looking terrific, come winds or high drifts.

Caution: winter can be hazardous to your skin.

Cold air outside and dry, overheated air inside, both work to rush the natural moisture out of your skin. The moisture must be replaced, or else you fall victim to the winter skin monsters — dryness, itchiness and flaking.

So moisturize from head to toe, giving special attention to hands, neck, and face.

Snap, crackle and pop can be the sound of your electrified hair during the cold weather. Those chilly winds can rob hair of moisture just like your skin, leaving it dry, brittle and flyaway. Use a rich conditioner each time you shampoo to tame your hair and keep it looking healthy and shiny.

Kiss off chapped lips this season. Use a lip protector or lip balm each night. Avoid licking or biting your lips, especially when you're outside — this is the number one cause of chapping.

If you have some little pieces of dry skin on your lips, snip them off with a small pair of manicure scissors. Always wear gloss in cold weather to keep lips soft, smooth and moist.

Save your skin from the cold winter sun. If you're a skier, you'll need a sunscreen during those hours on the slopes — in high altitudes burning ultra-violet rays are present even in the wintertime. You might want to wear a special lip and nose protector too.

Winter can be a real eyeful. Chilly winds, rain and snow can irritate eyes and make your eye makeup run and smear. To weather it all, you need waterproof, smudgeproof eye makeup.

Hands need a helping hand during the cold weather too. Treat them to lotion as often as you can. Cold winter air makes nails brittle and more prone to splits and breaks. So keep them at a shorter length, and wear polish for extra protection.

Always wear gloves outside to guard hands from the freezing weather.

Feet are winter's stepchildren and they deserve extra pampering. Buy well-fitting low-heeled, comfortable boots and dust the insides with talcum powder to absorb perspiration.

Give yourself pedicures, even if no one will see your feet again until the spring thaw. A rough skin remover before you bathe and a body lotion after your bath will keep feet soft and smooth.

Keep in shape all winter long. Just because the winter weather keeps you indoors more, don't stop exercising. Join the local health club, invest in an exercise bicycle, jump rope in the basement, do your sit-ups and toe touches faithfully.

Try to satisfy your "munchies" with healthy, low-calorie snacks and maybe you can escape the extra pounds that creep on during the cold weather.

Bailey in show

Eye-catching eyes achieved with makeup

The right makeup, applied artfully and used wisely, can be eye-catching. To ensure that your eyes open eyes, you should:

— Never rub the area around the eyes. The skin around your eyes is very thin and delicate, so rough motions may actually deepen existing wrinkles and, worse, create new ones. When applying creams or other forms of makeup or when drying your face, you should always use gentle patting movements. Always move your finger under the eye from the outer corner to the nose. Above the eye, move your finger from the nose out toward the brow. Always go against the direction of a wrinkle.

— Apply eye makeup with tender loving care. Cleanse and moisturize your face beforehand. Make sure all traces of moisturizer are absorbed or removed with a tissue before applying makeup. This will help prevent eyeliner from streaking or eye shadow from creasing. Be gentle. Eye crayons, liners and pencils can pull and stretch tissue around the eye. Keep in mind that darker shades of makeup recede areas while lighter shades heighten.

— Remove eye makeup before retiring. The chemicals contained in makeup can dry skin or clog your pores if they're not properly removed. To remove eye makeup, place a skin cleanser on a wet cotton pad and pat around the eye area. Avoid stretching or scratching skin.

— Be savvy. When stored for long periods of time, left uncovered or exposed to constant changes in temperature and humidity, cosmetics are more susceptible to contamination and are not safe to use.

To combat possible eye infections or irritation, you should wash your hands before applying makeup. The bacteria on your hands may cause problems if they get into your eyes. Make sure any applicators you use are clean, and don't let your cosmetics get dusty or dirty. Don't spit into your makeup. If you must add some water, boil it first.

Don't share cosmetics, since germs can be easily transmitted from one person to the next. Try using hypoallergenic brands if you have allergies. Stop using products immediately if an infection of inflammation occurs.

DR. LAMB

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband says he read in your column some years ago that the prostate gland should never be cut into because if it is cancerous cutting will spread the cancer. He quotes you as saying, "It gets the mother but spreads the kids." He's having a prostate operation soon and is very fearful. I am an LPN and have helped take care of quite a few postoperative prostatectomies and have read some about cancer but when I try to tell him anything about it, he gets mad. I think he must have misunderstood something that he read. Would you please send us something on the subject?

DEAR READER — Your husband certainly never read that in my column. There are a number of people who seem to have the misconception that if you operate on cancer it will cause it to spread. That's not necessarily true.

The proper treatment for many cancers is surgical removal and the proper way of diagnosing the presence of cancer involves a biopsy, which means cutting into the suspicious area to remove a piece of tissue. If cancer of the prostate is found early enough, complete surgical removal of the cancerous area is one of the most effective forms of treatment.

To help you I'm sending you The Health Letter number 1-6, Prostate Gland. Also to give you more information about cancer and how it spreads, I am sending you The Health Letter number 14-8, Cancer: A Fact Of Life. Other readers who want either one of these issues can send 75 cents for EACH issue with a long-stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

One of the major ways that cancer is spread is by little cells from the original cancer getting into the bloodstream and being carried to new locations in the body. It can also be carried by the lymphatic circulation and lodge in the lymph nodes.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Recently I had a severe nosebleed and was advised (not by a physician) to take four tablets daily of vitamin C. Each tablet contains 500 milligrams of vitamin C with rosehips, 100 milligrams of citrus bioflavonoids and 50 milligrams of rutin. Will that help stop the nosebleed or is that too much vitamin C? I'm 62 years old.

DEAR READER — Go see your doctor. No, that amount of vitamin C is not likely to hurt you but I'm not convinced that it will solve the problem of your nosebleed. Many nosebleeds are associated with high blood pressure. Others are associated with local irritations inside the nose and, occasionally, there's a small artery that may have developed a crack because the artery has undergone fatty-cholesterol changes in the course of time.

Unexplained nosebleeds are not something to just be ignored, particularly in people of your age group. A severe one is sometimes very hard to control. It would be a good idea to have an examination now and find out from a qualified person if you have any anatomical problem that might need correction. If you just happen to have a local irritation that's caused by dryness, a satisfactory lubricant may help solve the problem.

Gama Beta meets

The Gamma Beta Conclave of Kappa Kappa Iota recently met for a program by Mildred Prince, who demonstrated microwave cooking.

She also demonstrated the use of a food processor. Members then got to sample the recipes Mrs. Prince had prepared.

Bobbie Thomas, president, then conducted a business meeting.

A joint meeting of the Kappa Kappa Iota conclaves is planned March 24.

Hostesses for the meeting were Debbie Robertson and Sue Thornton.

Pratts host Upsilon nobo party, supper

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Pratt, 2338 Fir, recently hosted a couples nobo party for Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The spaghetti supper-party was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Vanderpool, Mr. and Mrs. J.J. Lyznan, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Edgar, Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Baldwin, and the hosts.

Guests attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Martinak, and Mr. and Mrs. Russ Parsons.

The next meeting will be March 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Mike Edgar, 1522 N. Faulkner. Officers will be elected.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A Texas widow complained because her friends never got around to introducing her to any eligible men.

May I say a word from the man's point of view? I was 53 when my wife died. Soon, well-meaning friends started to fix me up with eligible women.

Good ole Bill and his cute wife, Jeanette, had me to dinner. The only other guest was Jeanette's widowed mother—a pleasant, quiet little lady (about 60) whose only claim to fame was her ability to make pumpkin pie. Frankly, she was not my cup of tea, but I felt obligated to ask her for a date anyway.

Then good ole Charlie and his kind-hearted wife, Lucille, fixed me up with a "terrific" woman who had loads of money and was a whiz at bridge. Well, I hate bridge and wasn't looking for a meal ticket, so that didn't work out. I had many such experiences. All flops.

I am no great catch myself, but I know what I want in a woman and none of my friends came up with anything that filled the bill.

Abby, if people really want to help singles meet someone, they should invite them to a casual cocktail party with lots of people. An eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation is not fertile soil in which the fragile seedling of romance can flower.

Fortunately, I found a lovely lady all by myself with no help from anyone.

TERRY IN COLUMBUS

DEAR TERRY: Congratulations. But don't knock the one-to-one date. My mail tells me that there's a lot of loneliness in the world, and although you may prefer the large cocktail party, it is not the happiest hunting ground for all singles.

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago I read in your column, CONFIDENTIAL TO "THIRTEEN AND SCARED TO DEATH OF MY STEPDAD." It weighed heavily on my mind because at 13, I, too, was scared to death of my stepfather who had been sexually molesting me since I was barely 11. He was even violent at times. My scars speak for themselves.

When I told my mother, she gave the excuse that he was drunk. (End of subject for her.)

When I got married at 18, my stepfather was still after me. One day he came to my home and tried to overpower me; I pumped seven bullets into his body and killed him on the spot.

I stood trial for second-degree murder. The jury deliberated 10 minutes and ruled it self-defense.

After two years with a psychologist I am finally beginning to feel human. Understanding yourself and your motivations is a wealth beyond measure.

I pray with all my heart that the 13-year-old girl takes your advice and tells the police, the welfare office, a teacher or someone who can help her. The day-to-day fear of being molested is terrible to live with. I know.

Thanks for printing letters like this. You do more good than you realize. Keep up the goodwork.

BEEN THROUGH IT

DEAR ABBY: ANONYMOUSLY YOURS told of not visiting her 87-year-old father because her stepmother is a non-stop talker.

Please tell her more strongly to visit them! Our dear father, now dead, was denied frequent visits from his children due to our over-aggressive, talkative stepmother, whom Dad married for companionship after a long and loving marriage with our mother.

My children never got to know my father as they should have. And my stepmother has mellowed with the years so that we can all enjoy her now.

ANOTHER ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANOTHER: Thanks for offering my readers some valuable advice. It's free to them, but you have already paid for it. And dearly.

Tips for staying in shape

For staying slim and trim, actress Meredith Baxter Birney says, "Running is my salvation. Before I started running, it was hard for me to keep my weight down.

Now I find it easier to diet because, contrary to what many believe, strenuous exercise kills the appetite instead of stimulating it."

And opera star Roberta Peters says, "Before I take my bath at night, I go through 50 sit-ups, push-ups and bending and stretching exercises. All that takes about 35 minutes. I finish with a 'scissors': I lie on one side and swing my legs outwards, back and forth, keeping legs straight. Then I turn to the other side and repeat."

Civic Culture Club makes convention plans

Kez Bulls recently hosted members of the Civic Culture Club for a regular meeting.

Plans were made for members to attend the Top of Texas District Convention, scheduled March 21 in Amarillo at the Hilton Inn. Ophelia Cross, president, and Alvena Williams, incoming president, and other members will attend.

Elma Harden, program chairman, introduced Helen Hogan, who gave a program on fans; she passed around several fans and explained the uses for them.

Sixteen members attended. The next meeting will be March 25 at the home of Lettie Smith, 2216 N. Wells.

LOST OR STRAYED (I hope not stolen)

A large number of the Lord's sheep, not seen for several weeks. Please return Sunday—to the green pastures of the Church where a table will be prepared and the cup will be running over. No questions asked.

Perinatal seminar keynote topic is teenage pregnancy

Teenage pregnancy will be the keynote topic during the third annual High Plains Perinatal Seminar in Amarillo.

The seminar is scheduled Saturday, March 22, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Texas Tech Regional Health Center, 1400 Wallace Blvd., in Amarillo.

Dr. Marion Howard, Ph.D., will deliver the 9:15 a.m. address on teenage pregnancy and its consequences. Dr. Howard is assistant professor in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Emory University School of Medicine, Atlanta, Ga. She directs the Teen Services Program, a comprehensive family planning program for young teenagers, at Grady Memorial Hospital in Atlanta.

She has held appointments in the Department of Epidemiology and Public Health at Yale University and the Departments of Sociology and Health Care Administration at George Washington University.

She is author of the book, "Only Human, Teenage Pregnancy and Parenthood."

The day's events also will feature a 10:30 a.m. presentation by Clara McPherson on the subject of prenatal nutrition. She is associate professor and associate chairman of the Department of Food and Nutrition at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Dr. Nathan Goldstein, a private practice pediatrician from Amarillo, will talk on infant nutrition, and Dr. Rolf Habersang, also of Amarillo, will discuss breast milk banks.

After a lunch break, a panel discussion on perinatal services will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. Participating on the panel will be Dr. Roger Perry, Helene Botsonis, R.N. and B.S.N., and Bob Simpson, legislator from the 65th District.

The afternoon session will conclude with three workshops. One will feature a clinical demonstration of ultrasound; the others are on "Adolescent Sexuality and Decision Making" and "Management of the Pregnant Diabetic."

The workshops will be repeated at 3:45 to allow participants to attend two sessions.

The seminar, sponsored by the High Plains Perinatal Association and the Texas Tech School of Medicine, is open to the public. The seminar is accredited for five hours of credit by the American Medical Association, the American Academy of Family Physicians, and the Texas Nurses Association.

For more information about registration fees, contact the High Plains Perinatal Association, P.O. Box 7984, South Amarillo Branch, Amarillo, Texas 79109.

Worthwhile club

The Worthwhile Extension Club met recently with Lottie Reynolds as hostess. Janice Carter, president, conducted the business meeting.

Cards of thanks from Janice Carter and Pauline Beard were read.

A reminder from the Friends of the Library, concerning renewal of memberships, also was read to the group.

Gladys Stone read the council report and announcements. Ellen Boyd showed the members how to do soft sculpture.

Twelve members and three visitors attended. The next meeting will be March 21 in the Gray County Courthouse Annex. Ellen Boyd will be hostess.

Keep your garments trim and fashionable!

Church news

Baptist Regional Workshop

The Palo Duro Baptist Association composed of churches in the Pampa and surrounding area will have their annual music festivals this week and next week, beginning tonight at Central Baptist Church at 7 p.m.

Appearing on Friday night's program will be choirs, instrumental and vocal ensembles and soloists from Central and First Baptist Church in Pampa, and First Baptist Church of Borger and Phillips.

Children's choirs from the area will compete on Saturday morning at 9:30 a.m. Each choir will perform two selections and will be judged by ministers of music from the Amarillo area.

Area handbell groups will compete on Friday night in the First Baptist Church of Borger at 7 p.m.

The program is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

Bethel Assembly of God

Rev. Chuck Redger, director of the Permian Basin Branch of TEEN CHALLENGE OF WEST TEXAS, will be conducting a special service at Bethel Assembly of God, Hamilton at Worrell, Sunday evening at 6:30 p.m.

"The Jesus Factor", a film detailing the success story of the most successful drug treatment program in the United States, will be shown.

The 45-minute film is introduced by Charles Colson, convicted former advisor to former President Richard Nixon, and tells the story of a government sponsored research project into the effectiveness of the Teen Challenge program for drug addicts and alcoholics. Dr. Catherine Hess, who relates the results of the research, tells her own skepticism of Teen Challenge up until the time the study showed what she called "startling" results.

Pastor Paul DeWolfe invites the public to attend this special service.

Temple B'nai Israel Sisterhood

The Temple B'nai Israel Sisterhood cordially invites the citizens of Pampa and the surrounding area to attend the international Art Expo and Auction, Saturday, March 22, at the Amarillo Garden Center at 1400 Street Street.

The auction will be conducted by Marlin Art Inc. of Plainview, New York, and will include signed, original works of art by Dali, Delacroix, Picasso, Chagall, Lebadang, and Purcell, to name but a few of the featured artists.

An admission charge of $3.50 per person and features a sampling of fine hors d'oeuvres and champagne and a chance to win an exciting door prize.

In order to secure your reservations, please call Temple B'nai Israel at 352-7191 or send a card to Art Expo & Auction, Temple B'nai Israel 4316 Albert, Amarillo TX 79106.

The Collegians, of Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Okla., will appear at the First Church of the Nazarene, 550 N. West Street, Saturday, March 15, at 6 p.m.

The collegians travel extensively over the four state region of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, and Louisiana. They appear in revival services in local churches, summer youth camps, civic clubs, and make several appearances in on-campus activities. All five are members of the Church of the Nazarene.

The Collegians are George Vera, Jeff Sexton, Kevin Edwards, John Courtney, and Bruce Phillips. The public is invited to attend.

Religion in the news

TABOAO DA SERRA, Brazil (AP) — A major meeting of Third World Catholic and Protestant theologians and Latin American political activists has ended here, with a forceful position in favor of "liberation theology" to fight social injustice.

The ecumenical conference was held on a peaceful wooded estate belonging to the Catholic church outside Sao Paulo, South America's largest city. Pope John Paul II, who is scheduled to visit Brazil later this year, has urged Christians to pursue justice under Christ's mandate, not that of any secular ideology, capitalist or communist.

First Baptist Church

Dr. Dan Russ will be in Pampa March 21-23 to conduct a weekend seminar for single adults of the Panhandle area. Conference events will be held in the Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church, and will begin 7 p.m. Friday, March 21.

Dr. Russ is associated with the Grove Christian Conference Center in Tyler and currently directs the carpenter's workshop, a special ministry for single adults. He earned a M.A. degree from Dallas Theological Seminary and a Ph.D. in both literature and psychology from the University of Dallas.

$3 registration fee will cover four general sessions, two special sessions, a banquet and continental breakfast. Events begin at 7 p.m. Friday, March 21 with registration and introduction of the series "What Am I Afraid Of?" Child care will be available for all scheduled events and housing for out of town guests will be available on a limited basis. For more details, contact George Warren at (806) 669-3348.

REST

A day of play has tired this little one, but now sleep will bring about the needed rest. This is the time for restoring energies, and breaks the day's pace. The Lord set aside a day for rest and worship. This day allows us to be in the Lord's house and renews our energies for the week to come.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Credit insurance investigation target

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A state board of insurance actuaries, testifying at a hearing that insurance companies tried to block, said proposed changes in credit insurance rules would save Texans up to $50 million a year.

Part of the savings would result from decreased commissions to agents.

Attorneys for insurance companies tried to get a state district judge to block the hearing. Thursday's session before the state board began with lawyers asking the board to declare the hearing a contested case for the right to cross-examine witnesses. The request was denied.

Attorney Will Davis complained, "I really don't understand the games that are being played."

Board member Durwood Manford replied, "We don't understand the games that are being played either."

Board actuary Nick Williams said the proposed rule changes would cut the usual credit life premium by 14 percent. Credit accident and health insurance rates would drop 10 percent under the proposed rules.

Credit life coverage guarantees payment of a debt if the borrower dies. Credit accident and health policies insure payment if the borrower is disabled by injury or illness.

Board Chairman Bill Daves said credit insurance poses a unique problem for consumers. He called it the "only form of personal line coverage for which, from a practical standpoint, the consumer does not shop and compare."

More than 200 representatives of the insurance industry packed the hearing room.

Williams' report included figures on the effect of the proposed rules. Credit life coverage on a one-year loan of $2,400 would cost $12, rather than the $13.92 under the existing rules, he said. The difference would be $48 on a five-year, $12,000 loan.

"Our estimate of the total premiums paid by Texas residents will be between $40 million and $50 million less on an annual basis than what will be paid if the current presumptive rates are maintained," Williams' report said.

Part of the proposed rate cuts would come out of agents' commissions, which would drop from 35 percent to 25 percent on credit life and 20 percent on credit accident and health.

Board staff members say commissions actually range up to 55 percent.

Daves warned industry representatives it is to their advantage to police their own industry.

Texas oilman seeks salvage of Titanic

ABILENE (AP) — An expedition led by a Texas oilman will set off this summer to uncover the secrets of the "unsinkable" ocean liner Titanic, which has rested 12,000 feet beneath the North Atlantic for 68 years.

The Titanic sank nearly 380 miles off the coast of Newfoundland in 1912, taking 1,519 people and numerous riches to the bottom.

Independent Abilene oilman Jack Grimm and his associates announced Thursday they expect to find the ship's exact location and salvage some items in July.

Grimm, who first announced plans to probe the Titanic in December, is the major investor in the salvage effort. Mike Harris, 44, president of International Expeditions, will film the ship. Art Markel, 54, will guide the Aluminaut, the world's "largest deep-diving submersible" that will probe the Titanic.

Oceanographers from Columbia University and Scripps Institute also will aid the search.

Grimm said he expected the search to take 10 days. Then, items around the Titanic may be recovered with a "drag-bucket."

The oilman said he ultimately hopes to recover the ship's bells, mailbags and possibly the log. The ship also contains an estimated $200 million in diamonds, gold, and a jewel-encrusted copy of the "Rubaiyat" by Omar Khayyam, he said.

After determining the ship's structural condition, the crew will quit until the summer of 1981, when the Aluminaut and two "free-swimming robots" will probe the interior, Grimm said.

He said the project will take two summers because of the icy, windy conditions in the North Atlantic. However, Grimm said he is not afraid someone else would try to find the ship between sessions.

The unfavorable weather coupled with the advanced equipment necessary would discourage treasure-hunters, he said.

Grimm dismissed claims by Douglas Woolley, of Liverpool, England, that he holds the claim and title to the Titanic and intends to raise it himself.

"I don't see how he can claim ownership to it, when he doesn't even know where it is," Grimm said.

He would not reveal the substantial cost of the project, but he said a great deal of the venture would be marketable and "may finance itself."

Grimm said few submersibles are as durable as the Aluminaut, which was used in 1968 to raise a hydrogen bomb accidentally dropped off the coast of Spain.

Markel said the Aluminaut, which can accommodate six to eight men for up to 12 hours, is capable of diving to 15,000 feet.

"I've no doubts that we'll be able to reach it," Markel said. "We wouldn't be involved in it if we didn't think it was real feasible."

He said the chief problem in filming the wreckage will be getting enough light to the ship.

Harris, who has filmed other documentaries, said he expects the ship to be in good condition.

Duke knocks off Kentucky in NCAA tournament

Kentucky's season has come to an abrupt end the same way it began, with a loss to Duke, but the final chapter remains to be written by UCLA's remarkable young Bruins.

Gene Banks' free throw with 22 seconds to play was the difference as 14th-ranked Duke knocked No. 4 Kentucky out of the NCAA basketball championships 55-54 Thursday night in the Midwest Regional at Lexington, Ky. In the other game of the doubleheader, No. 20 Purdue surprised No. 7 Indiana 76-67.

"It wasn't picture-perfect, but I'll take it," said Duke Coach Bill Foster, whose club blew a 14-point lead before pulling it out. "We have played a lot better, but I'm sure they've played a lot better, too."

In the West Regional at Tucson, Ariz., unranked UCLA continued its stunning success story by beating No. 10 Ohio State 72-68 behind 19 points apiece by freshman Rod Foster and sophomore Mike Sanders. In the first game, Clemson defeated Lamar 74-66.

"These kids keep surprising me — this has been a year to remember," said Larry Brown, who stepped into the prestigious, but pressure-laden, UCLA coaching job last summer and rebuilt the squad in midseason around talented youngsters like Foster and Sanders.

"We played as well tonight as we have anytime this year," added Brown.

Duke will play Purdue and UCLA will meet Clemson on Saturday for berths in the Final Four at Indianapolis March 22 and 24.

The East and Midwest Regionals resume tonight in Philadelphia and Houston.

In the East, unranked Iowa, 21-8, takes on No. 6 Syracuse, 26-3, and No. 8 Maryland, 24-6, faces No. 11 Georgetown 25-5. In the Midwest,

No. 2 Louisville goes against unranked Texas A&M, 26-7, and No. 16 Missouri, 25-5, opposes No. 3 Louisiana State, 25-5.

Mike Gminski scored 17 points for Duke, which reeled off the first seven points on Kentucky's home floor and led by as many as 14 before the Wildcats came back behind Fred Cowan, who scored Kentucky's last 15 points and had 26 overall. Cowan's hook shot over Duke's Mike Gminski knotted the game 54-54 with 37 seconds to go, but Banks hit one of two free throws 17 seconds later.

Kentucky then had two chances to go in front but failed to convert. All-American guard Kyle Macy, who was hampered by the flu and scored just six points, missed a 17-foot jumper under heavy pressure with five seconds to play. The rebound was batted out deep by Duke's Mike Gminski and Kentucky guard Dirk Minnifield heaved a long shot that fell short at the buzzer.

"Thank the Lord," said Duke Coach Bill Foster, heaving a huge sigh of relief. "We were just hanging on. We were playing for a Cowan shot inside or a Macy shot outside, and our guys did a good job of disturbing people."

Kentucky Coach Joe Hall, whose team's 29-6 season began with a loss to Duke, 20-8, in the Hall of Fame Game in Springfield, Mass., said the Wildcats "got off to a very bad start. Their press bothered us badly. We had a chance with a last-second shot, but we just waited too long."

The same was true for Indiana, 21-8, which fell behind by 19 points and came back too late against its intra-state Big Ten rival Purdue, 21-9. The Boilermakers' All-American center, Joe Barry Carroll, got in early foul trouble and scored just 11 points. Freshman Isiah Thomas had 30 for the Hoosiers.

"They took the game away from us in the first half," said Indiana

Coach Bobby Knight. "They had better intensity than we had." Purdue Coach Lee Rose agreed, saying, his team "played with a lot of commitment and a lot of heart."

Clemson trailed Lamar 47-37 with 16:11 left before rallying and dominating play the rest of the way. A basket by Chris Dodds with eight minutes to play put the Tigers in front 59-57 and they pulled away.

Larry Nance had 16 points and John Campbell 15 for Clemson, 23-8, while Mike Olliver topped Lamar, 22-11, with 20 points.

Despite the victory, Clemson Coach Bill Foster was not happy. "I don't think either team played as well as they are capable," he said. "I hope before we leave the west, we'll play a good game."

UCLA, 20-9, led 35-31 at halftime and expanded its lead to 42-33 early in the second half before guard Kelvin Ransey scored 13 of Ohio State's next 15 points as the Buckeyes, 21-8, drew even with 13:41 to play. The game stayed close until UCLA pulled away with five free throws in the final 37 seconds — three by Foster and two by senior James Wilkes.

UCLA outscored Ohio State 28-6 from the foul line overall. Wilkes, the Bruins' 6-7 senior, limited 6-10 Herb Williams of Ohio State to 10 points, eight below his average.

"They played a tremendous game," Ohio State Coach Eldon Miller said of UCLA. "They hurt us on the boards, they played better defensively and they rebounded the ball better than we did. Defensively we never challenged them."

Wilkes was a hero earlier in the day as well. While relaxing near the pool at the UCLA team's hotel, he noticed a young boy in the water who was choking. Wilkes jumped into the pool fully clothed — he was even wearing his game shoes — and pulled the boy out to safety.

Richardson named to all-star team

Sharpshooting senior Kellye Richardson has been selected to participate in the annual Golden Spread East-West High School All-Star basketball game held in conjunction with the National Women's Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Richardson, a 5-9 forward-guard, will play for the East squad. Miss Richardson averaged 22.7 points per game for the Lady Harvesters this season. She averaged 10 rebounds and six steals an outing.

Miss Richardson has been named to all-tournament teams five times and was named Pampa's most valuable player the past two seasons.

She scored in double figures in all but one of 26 games this season and surpassed the 30-point marker five times. Her highest scoring performance was 36 points against Tascosa.

Miss Richardson was coached by Mary Thomas.

The 12th annual NWIT starts Thursday. The All-Star game precedes the tournament championship game on the evening of March 22 at the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum.

Rangers whip Yankees in exhibition

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Reggie Jackson and Bobby Murcer each had two hits Thursday to pace the New York Yankees to a 3-1 exhibition baseball win over the Texas Rangers. The loss was the fourth straight for Texas. New York is 2-1.

Jackson opened the two-run Yankee fourth inning with a bad-hop triple against rookie righthander Don Kainer. Jim Spencer followed with a ground ball to Buddy Bell at third. Bell threw home too late to catch Jackson and Spencer was safe at first on the fielder's choice. After Craig Nettles walked, Murcer singled to score Spencer.

The Yankees added an unearned run in the top of the seventh on two bad fielding plays by the Rangers.

Bobby Brown led off with a fly ball that Texas outfielder LaRue Washington lost in the sun and the ball fell in for a three-base error. Oscar Gamble, the next batter, popped up to the infield but the ball fell in front of shortstop Pepe Frias for a single as Brown scored.

The Rangers scored their only run with two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning. John Grubb walked, went to second when Frias singled and scored on Bell's base hit to left. Al Oliver and Richie Zisk each had a single and a double for Texas. Oliver now has four doubles this spring.

Both starters — Tom Underwood for New York and Steve Comer for Texas — pitched three shutout innings.

Church softball league meeting set March 23

An organizational meeting for the Pampa Church Softball League will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, March 23 in the First Christian Church Fellowship Hall.

Any church interested in forming a men's or women's team should attend. For more information, call 669-3506.

Wilson free on bond

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers cornerback J.C. Wilson is free on bond after being charged with unlawfully carrying a weapon and drunkenness in an automobile.

Police said he was also wanted on two outstanding traffic warrants.

Police said Wilson posted a $400 personal bond on the weapons charge, and bonds totalling $360.50 on the other three charges.

All of the offenses are misdemeanors.

Officers reportedly found Wilson sitting in a wrecked sports car about 4 a.m. Tuesday in the exclusive River Oaks section of Houston.

Police said Wilson appeared "extremely intoxicated" and did not seem to know where he was. They said he was also not aware his car had been wrecked.

Officers saw a bullet hole in the seat of the car and found a pistol underneath the seat.

BEST C.A.F.E.

Ford has the best Corporate Average Fuel Economy of any major U.S. car maker. C.A.F.E. is the government's measure of auto companies' progress in gas mileage each year. It is an average using the EPA rating system and projected 1980 total model year car sales mix as submitted to the U.S. government in December, 1979.

Only Ford among the major U.S. companies ranks first on this basis.

Remember, C.A.F.E. is an average, so consult EPA ratings for individual car's mileage.

*1980 EPA ratings for comparison. Your mileage may differ depending on speed, distance and weather. Actual highway mileage will probably be lower.

Pampa falls to Dumas

"We don't have any excuses. They beat us fair and square," were the comments of coach Steve Scott after his Pampa Harvesters fell to Dumas, 8-0, Thursday in the first round of the Hereford Tournament. Dumas opened with five runs in the first inning and added three more in the third to send the Harvesters into the consolation bracket at 1 p.m. today against Borger.

"We just weren't mentally ready to play," Scott said. "They had the momentum after that first inning and we just couldn't recover. Seven Harvesters errors also contributed to the loss.

Mark Jennings, Andy Richardson, and Greg Quarles had one hit apiece for Pampa.

"We had a lot of opportunities to score, but we just couldn't get the hits when we needed them," Scott added.

Kenoe hit a homerun for Dumas.

Hereford exploded for five runs in the fourth inning to dispose of Borger, 8-6, in the other first-round game.

Perfect game bowled

Darrell Danner of Pampa rolled a perfect game Thursday night at Harvester Bowl.

The 175-average bowler sandwiched his 300 between 223 and 227 games for a 750 series on lanes 13 and 14. He bowls for Weaver Construction in the Caprock League.

It was the third 300 in the past six months at Harvester Bowl. Van Vandebrook, Pampa, bowled a perfect game while competing in the St. Jude's Benefit Tournament last October and Amarillo bowler Les Giles turned the trick in the Top O' Texas Tournament last month.

NAIA semifinals tonight

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Tiny Huron College of South Dakota, an unknown whose chances for winning the NAIA National Basketball Tournament three days ago seemed about as unimpressive as its enrollment of 280 students, meets top-seeded, steam-rolling Alabama State tonight in the semifinals.

In the other semifinal match, scheduled to tip off at 7 p.m., Cameron, Okla., goes against second-seeded Wisconsin-Eau Claire.

Huron, led by guard Terry Dupris and hot-shooting Clyde Harrington, erased an 11-point first-half deficit and turned aside Clairon State of Pennsylvania in the quarterfinals Thursday night, 61-52.

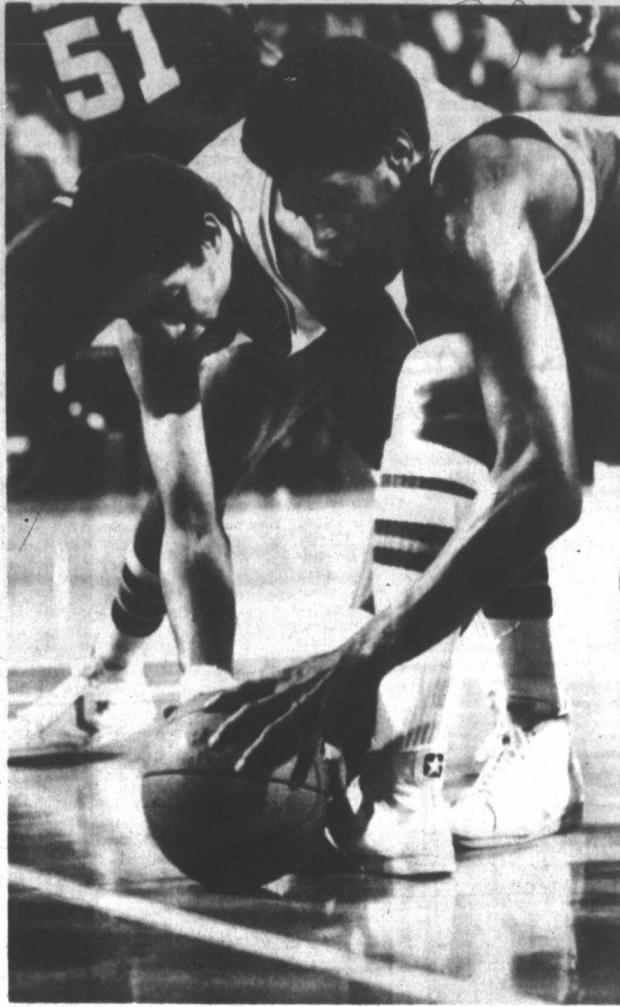

Alabama State, after scoring 103 points in each of its first two victories, beat Central Arkansas, 67-53.

Jim Behnke and Gib Hinz each scored four points in overtime as Eau Claire, after falling behind 18-2, downed Central Washington, 68-61, and Cameron rallied to down LeMoyn-Owen of Memphis, Tenn., 76-65.

"The most gratifying thing about reaching the quarterfinals is that we're a school with an enrollment of 280," said Huron Coach Bruce Carrier. "We have a recruiting budget of about $500. I suppose that proves that you don't have to spend a lot of money to get things done."

Carrier described the top-seeded Alabama State Hornets as "awesome."

"There's no doubt about it — they are awesome in every way. I think they're playing in the wrong tournament. They should be in the other one (NCAA)."

No phone call for Johnny Mize

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The "Big Cat" waited by the telephone. He waited...and waited...and waited....

When I didn't get a call by 1 o'clock, I knew I had missed again. Johnny Mize acknowledged from his home in Demarest, Ga.

"I didn't expect it much. I've been waiting 27 years. You can get a little hardened in that time. But I was sorry for my mother. She's 85 and in a nursing home. And for my grandson, 12, down in Florida.

"They see it on television. They read it in the papers. And they get their hopes up. My hopes — well, they've just about been killed."

All week the sports pages and the TV tubes had been blaring the story that of Johnny Mize, the "Big Cat" of the Cardinals, Giants and Yankees, was a certainty to get into baseball's Hall of Fame.

The 18-man Veterans Committee was meeting in Tampa Wednesday to redress oversights that may have been committed by the Baseball Writers of America in their responsibility to vote deserving players into the game's museum in Cooperstown, N.Y.

At 12:15, the doors opened and out stepped the committee with sheaths of statistics. Did the "Big Cat" finally make it? Well, no, sorry not this time. Honored posthumously were the pre-World War II slugging outfielder of the Phillies, Chuck Klein, and the longtime owner of the Boston Red Sox, the late Tom Yawkey.

"A year ago, they said it would be Hack Wilson, Klein or myself," Mize said over the phone from his rural Georgia home. "When Hack got it my wife said, 'Next year for you honey.' I said, 'Don't count on it. Klein will get it.' It was like it was written between the lines."

"I get the feeling that it'll never happen to me."

The continuing disappointment has turned Johnny's pain into burlesque irony. He can laugh only when it hurts.

"In 1953, when I retired, the writers suddenly decided to put in a five-year waiting period for the Hall of Fame," he said. "Just when my 20-year eligibility expired and I was transferred to the Old Timers list, that committee decided on a five-year wait.

"The next thing they do probably will decide there has to be another 10-year wait. I get the feeling everything is stacked against me."

The "Big Cat's" credentials are imposing.

Six-two and 215 pounds, he compiled a .312 batting average and hit 359 home runs in his 15-year major league career. Four times he led the National League in slugging average. He hit 51 home runs in 1951.

"I was voted the Most Valuable Player in the World Series in 1952," he said. "The next year they started giving out automobiles. My luck."

The "Big Cat" said there has been a tendency to recognize players after they are dead.

"I remember Rabbit Maranville did a great job with kids in New York," he said. "After he died, they voted him in the Hall of Fame."

Allen's son leaving also

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist University sophomore guard Billy Allen, whose father resigned as Mustangs basketball coach two weeks ago, says he also will leave the Southwest Conference school at the end of the year.

Allen, a key playmaker with the Mustang roundballers, told KDFW-TV he has been contacted by "a number of schools" and is considering "two or three" of them.

Allen's father, Sonny Allen, resigned two weeks ago as Mustang coach after a disappointing and pressure-filled season. One year after SMU Athletic Director Russ Potts told Allen he wanted a winning season, the Mustangs finished sixth in the SWC with a 7-9 season.

The station said the elder Allen is being seriously considered for the coaching job at Nevada-Reno and that his son might follow him there.

"I've been contacted by a number of schools and right now a lot of them still are participating in the playoffs, so I'm going to have to wait until their season ends to visit those schools," the younger Allen said.

"I've got it down to about two or three (schools)."

Sonny Allen is divorced and Billy is the only one of his children who lives with him.

"I've thought about it a lot for the last two to three weeks, and I think I need to do something that was best for me right now," the younger Allen said. "There's a couple of opportunities that have come up and I'm going to take some time now that I've decided to leave SMU and think about these."

Softball umpires needed in Pampa

An umpires' association is being formed in Pampa and interested persons may contact Jay Trosper of the Pampa Softball Association at 665-3733 for further details.

Membership fee is ten dollars per person to join the club. The fee goes directly to the Amateur Softball Association to help pay for an umpire clinic in Pampa. The fee also provides for rule books, umpiring manuals and insurance coverage while officiating.

First game

Students at the International YMCA Training School in Springfield, Mass. played the first official basketball game on Jan. 10, 1892. It was invented by Dr. James Naismith to provide indoor exercise between the football and baseball seasons. Naismith used a peach basket in the gym and players had to use ladders to retrieve the ball after successful shots.

Alternate sites to be studied

LONDON (AP) — The United States, Britain and Australia are organizing a meeting for "friendly governments" next Monday to discuss holding alternative games to the Moscow Olympics.

The Foreign Office said today that arrangements are still being made, but the conference will be held on Monday.

Sources said possible sites for the meeting are London or Geneva.

The ministerial-level talks will include Lloyd Cutler, President Carter's envoy who has been visiting foreign capitals urging a boycott of the Moscow Olympics.

Douglas Hurd, minister of state at the Foreign Office, will represent Britain while Home Affairs Minister Robert Elliot will represent Australia.

Softball meeting scheduled Monday

There will be an organizational meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Sims Electric for persons interested in playing in the Industrial Softball League this summer.

Persons who can't attend the meeting may contact Jay Trosper at 665-3733 for details.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the many, many people, churches, organizations, and the Pampa News, who have helped us during our time of need in the destruction of our home due to fire.

Astro-Graph

by bernice bede osol

March 15, 1980

From time to time this coming year you may be exposed to some unusual types of opportunities that have hidden advantages. It behooves you to examine in detail all propositions that come your way.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Thoughts you have about the way things should be handled may not be in line with the thinking of others, but that doesn't make you wrong. Your ideas could be the best. Getting along with other signs is one of the sections you'll enjoy in your Astro-Graph Letter, which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your gut feelings regarding important matters should prove very helpful to you today. If you get a strong hunch, play it!

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be a good listener today when friends talk to you about investments or business deals. Someone with inside information may provide you with a profitable tip.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Major achievements are well within your reach if you set your mind to them. Go in knowing that what you hope to accomplish can be done, and you'll do it.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your warm sense of humor will not be the only reason you are popular today. You also have an air of sincerity that friends appreciate.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're much better equipped to negotiate commercial situations than you were yesterday. If you've left anything dangling, wrap it up now.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You are very sharp at spotting alternatives regarding problems for which others see no solutions. Use your talents constructively.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) There are profitable possibilities in your picture today, especially in areas calling for your particular expertise. Check the want ads if you're job-hunting.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Spur-of-the-moment activities could turn out to be a lot of fun today. Should you be invited to a last-minute get-together, by all means take advantage of it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Let your compassionate impulses rule in dealing with those you love. Kind gestures will go a long way in creating lasting good will.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're in a good cycle to launch new projects. Take advantage of this period to put your positive ideas into action.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) That break you feel will enhance your security could suddenly pop for you today. If it doesn't, don't despair — it's on its way.

Names in the news

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What about inflation? they asked at the replica-Oval Office news conference. "I think we're going to continue our present policy of vacillating," the president said.

Any comment on the drop in gasoline consumption? "Our tire slashing program has been helpful."

That's President Link speaking. Manfred Link, alias Bob Newhart, star of the Warner Bros. film, "First Family."

Elected after the unexpected death in a traffic accident of the candidate of opposition party three days before the election, Link moved into the White House with first lady Madeline Kahn and teen-age daughter Gilda Radner.

Warner Bros. staged a news conference Wednesday as a publicity stunt to promote the film.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Soon after her sixth marriage, she said she wouldn't go back to filmmaking, but "The Mirror Crack'd" was so tempting that Liz Taylor signed on for her 51st movie.

Miss Taylor, 48, will play an actress who becomes embroiled in a murder mystery while filming in England. Based on the novel by Agatha Christie, the movie will be filmed this spring at "a Kentish village" in England, its producers said Wednesday.

The cast includes Rock Hudson, Kim Novak and Angela Lansbury as the legendary Christie sleuth Miss Marple. Producers John Brabourne and Richard Goodwin have made two previous all-star Christie films, "Murder on the Orient Express" and "Death on the Nile."

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sir Alfred Hitchcock, 80-year-old master of suspense movies, has

The director of such classics as "Spellbound," "Lifeboat" and "Shadow of a Doubt" and "Psycho" was admitted to the hospital Friday, said hospital spokeswoman Tess Griffin.

"He comes in and out frequently," she said. "He just didn't feel good. It was not serious. He was listed in fair condition the whole time he was here."

Hitchcock, a native of England, was knighted by Queen Elizabeth on Dec. 31, 1979.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Jackie Gleason is in the hospital for a physical checkup and treatment of a sore foot.

The 64-year-old entertainer was admitted to Mount Sinai Medical Center on Monday, said Hank Meyer, his public relations adviser.

"Jackie's in excellent shape, but he's had tremendous pains in his right foot, and he felt it was time to get a physical checkup, too," Meyer said.

Dr. Jack Greenberg said preliminary evaluation didn't indicate a need for surgery.

NINETEEN VOCATIONAL OFFICE EDUCATION STUDENTS the OEA Area IV Contest and Conference held in Plainview recently. These students competed in various skill and non-skill contests. The following students received Area Merit Awards, placing 3rd, 4th, 5th, or 6th: Tammie Madonia, chapter scrapbook; Neshia Pope, typing and related level II; Theresa Casey, general clerical II; Toni Kindle, prepared verbal communications I; Karen Motley, prepared verbal communications II; Kathy Kite, extemporaneous verbal II; and Lisa

Grider, job interview I. Five students were finalists (1st or 2nd place) and will advance to state competition in Dallas later this month. They are: Terri Eads, general clerical I; Karen Price, informative communications I; Labrenda Driver, records management; Melanie Chamberlain, typing and related level I; Brenda Veach, informative communications II. The area finalists will be accompanied to Dallas by VOE sponsors Jane McBride and Jeri Gerald. (Photo by William McCauley)

Officials await border traffic decision

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Immigration officials in El Paso say they are waiting for a decision on a proposal to ease border crossing problems created by new federal rules that businessmen call a "ridiculous mandate of bureaucratic gobbledygook and red tape."

The problem is unannounced changes in Immigration and Naturalization Service procedures that slashed the number of border inspectors by a third on Sundays and holidays and made it more difficult for Mexican citizens to get border crossing permits.

About 55 businessmen and city officials from El Paso and Juarez, Mexico, voiced their dissatisfaction with the new rules Thursday during a meeting with INS and Customs officials and staffers from the offices of Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, and Gov. Bill Clements.

"I think the measures are going to effect social, economic and cultural interchanges," said Juarez Mayor Manuel Quevedo Reyes.

Acting El Paso INS Director Alfred H. Giugni said his office received orders from Washington on Feb. 27 to implement the new procedures by March 1.

"Why do they hit this border region where we are trying to make a rapport, build up friendship and good understanding?" asked Juarez businessman Rene Mascareñas. "Somebody is going to be very sorry for what they have done in Washington."

Businessmen on both sides of the Rio Grande complain they will be hurt financially by the new rules that hinder border crossings.

Two weeks ago, Mexican residents could apply for a crossing permit and enter the United States the same day on a 72-hour temporary pass.

But under the new rules, there are no temporary passes. Instead Mexican visitors must wait for their applications to be approved in Washington and sent to Arlington, Texas, where "counterfeit-proof" cards are printed for forwarding to the ports of entry.

"It (the whole process) will take about 60 to 90 days," said assistant El Paso INS Director Pedro Reyes.

Reyes says he is waiting on a decision from INS headquarters in Washington on a proposal to lift the rule against temporary permits.

Several persons noted the additional cost and time involved in the permit procedure might cost the government more than the amount saved by cutting back on Sunday and holiday overtime work.

Intellectuals left brained?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — I just read an excerpt from an old magazine article endeavoring to explain a perceived intellectual void in television. Its thesis:

Intellectuals are left-brained people — the brain's left hemisphere being the side that controls analytical thinking. Television, though, appeals to the right side of the brain, which controls non-analytical thought.

Which is to say: Belly-buttons sell. Shakespeare doesn't.

The networks have known that all along. Not that there is no effort at meaningful programming on prime time commercial television. There is lots of it.

But networks seem to have a sense of going against their better judgment when airing "quality" programs, almost as if they air the deep stuff just to provide an excuse to go back to the easy fluff. It's the "See? We aired 'King John' but nobody watched" syndrome.

A recent example, ABC, the network most sensitive to criticism about superficiality because of a well-earned reputation in that line, went full-bore in its promotion of the TV movie, "Attica."

It was a splendid film, expertly acted and produced. Yet for some reason, the thing didn't go. It finished way down in the Nielsen — 32, or so — and the next day, the cry erupted from ABC: "See? We aired 'Attica' but nobody watched."

Better to go with something safer. Better to go with some good, dependable right-hemisphere stuff. Better get some belly-buttons, quick.

And so we have such as "Where The Ladies Go," an ABC Friday night offering that is less an individual TV movie than a symbolic offering to the god Right Hemisphere. This movie incorporates every symptom — cheap thrills, shallow characterization and paper-thin plot, and, oh yes, belly buttons — that has come to prompt the diagnosis. "Junk TV."

TEXAS BRIEFS

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Former Astronaut Scott Carpenter says he is speaking out for nuclear energy because he has the "credibility and reliability of the rocket rider image."

Carpenter, who is endorsing nuclear energy in power company commercials, appeared here Thursday and said he backed plans by the local utility to use electricity from a nuclear power plant in the future.

Carpenter, who says his occupation is "building garbage trucks," said nuclear energy is an absolute necessity.

"It is that image of a spaceman that will help get this (nuclear) message across," he said at a news conference.

DALLAS (AP) — The late February arrests of seven teen-agers has led to the recovery of about 60 vehicles stolen recently from patrons of Spanish-language theaters, police auto theft investigators say.

The teen-agers gave statements about at least 100 additional incidents in which they stripped automobiles and about 50 instances in which they broke into homes, officials added.

If the teen-agers needed money, "they often stripped a car and left it. Everything they stole, including large amounts of car parts, went to Mexico with the aid of illegal aliens," said auto theft Sgt. Marshall Furr.

DALLAS (AP) — Despite the appearance of a hit-and-run, police say the death Tuesday of a 24-year-old man appears to be an unusually bizarre murder.

Maurice Gray Jr. of Dallas apparently was killed elsewhere and brought to the parking lot of a Dallas middle school to make it appear he was the victim of an automobile accident, said traffic investigator Jerry Slaughter.

Scattered teeth were in the asphalt parking lot, and two bloody towels and two stocking caps were found several feet from the body. The body bore several unusual puncture marks about the head, and the man's otherwise well-manicured hands were covered with grease.

An autopsy was ordered.

IRVING, Texas (AP) — A 2-year-old boy drowned in an apartment swimming pool Wednesday. A maintenance man found the body of Michael Gaston face down in the pool about 4:20 p.m.

The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Gaston, said they were discussing a family problem in their apartment when they noticed the child was missing.

They said the boy had been missing from the apartment about 10 minutes when his body was found.

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A federal jury has ruled a pilot did not make "major alterations" in equipping his plane with devices that would allow it to be flown by a paraplegic.

An insurance company claims it is not liable under a $100,000 policy on the plane because pilot Jim Bellamy, a graduate from the U.S. Naval Academy, made changes prohibited by the policy.

Bellamy was killed two years ago when the plane crashed in Kentucky while he was demonstrating it. He installed equipment in the cockpit so a crippled pilot could fly the plane without using his legs.

Owners of the plane will ask U.S. District Judge David O. Belew Jr. to enter a judgment against the insurance company as a result of the verdict. Belew had asked the jury to decide whether it considered the changes significant.

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — A 22-year-old University of Texas-Arlington student, found dead in his jail cell early Wednesday, apparently died of respiratory failure, a medical examiner said after an autopsy.

Steve La Vasseur and a companion were jailed Tuesday night after they were reported running around erratically and screaming outside the apartment complex where he lived.

Police said the two kicked out the window of a patrol car after they were arrested. A few hours later, he inexplicably lost consciousness and fell to the floor of his cell.
