

LOSE ALL HOPE FOR 'TRADEWIND'

Texas Legislature Goes Into Session At Austin Today, Many Bills

Special trains are carrying Mexican laborers, no longer needed in the United States, back to Old Mexico. Most of the returning Mexicans are penniless and hungry, but no more so than many jobless citizens of this country.

Each country, each state, and each community should care for its own unfortunate. In prosperous times, it is desirable to have cheap labor in certain American industries, including cotton picking. But in hard times even common labor should be reserved for American citizens. Citizens in this country have never hesitated to accept labor of the pick and shovel type when there were mouths to be fed.

The immigration question is, and always has been, an important one. A nationwide depression campaign to rid this country of undesirable aliens would help to relieve both the unemployment and the crime problems. France has been a year late in feeling the world economic depression, but now that she is feeling it she is barring the door to incoming foreigners. Instructions have been issued for a general census of all foreigners living in that country. Those who entered fraudulently will be deported. Such a step in this country would eliminate at least a portion of the unemployment problem in industrial states.

A. F. Claxton yesterday brought to the Pampa a copy of the "Ullster County Gazette," published in Kingston, Pa. The paper is that of January 4, 1930. The front page has no headlines, its contents being chiefly minutes of Congress. A speech by John Adams is given the best position. On the inside the columns runs are turned to make heavy black lines.

An interesting advertisement is this: "FOR SALE—Negro wench, stout, healthy, active." Characteristic of papers of that day, the Gazette had few ads, and all it did have were of one common type. Journalism has taken many a long step forward since that day.

If the present legislature does not come up to expectations, it will at least not be any worse than that of the Moody administrations. Nobody ever started with more promise than the young governor's legislature, and none ever fell shorter of the expected goal. Texans are rightly expecting real accomplishments during the Sterling regime.

It is not necessary to wait until spring to clean up Pampa. Our weather is largely pleasant in winter and Pampa should be a pretty city the year round. Jobless men would appreciate even a few hours of work.

Relief from tax relief arguments will probably not be forthcoming while the legislature is in session. As usual, in this growing state, the legislature will have to trim and trim to keep expenditures within near the anticipated income in the next biennium.

With wheat too plentiful, there should be no lack of white bread. There should, moreover, be no hungry people while fine horses, dogs and cats are kept in luxurious surroundings. It is a pitiful mangled justment which makes conditions depressed while there is too much wheat, too much corn, and while the banks are full of money to lend at low rates for construction.

This is an age of newness. There are even new styles in chickens. Upholstered chickens are sold appropriate for winter. We did not see, however, the fowls alleged to have been marked "with holes in the web of their feet." There may be web-footed chickens, however—there are most other kinds.

There ain't no justice—we're too busy to attend the Sterling inaugural ball—and the one for Alkafa Bill closer to home here.

BUFFS WIN GAME
CANYON, Texas, Jan. 12. (AP)—The West Texas Teachers college Buffs downed the Texas miners of El Paso here tonight 41 to 26 on the basketball court. At the half the rampant herd led 25 to 8, the visitors scoring but one field goal in that period. A flock of Buffalo subs entered the last half and the game was about evened up. Fortenberry, Buff center, was high point man with 14. Meadows, Buff center, was second with 12.

BARRY MILLER OPENS SENATE PARLEY TODAY

COMMITTEE IS FORMED TO CONSIDER DRAFT PLAN OFFERED

TO HOLD SENATE CAUCUS

OPPOSITION EXPECTED ON STATE HIGHWAY BOND ISSUES

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 12. (AP)—The wheels of the forty-second legislature will start in motion tomorrow with a multitude of bills all ready to shove into the legislative hopper. Sessions in both houses officially will get under way at noon with Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller presiding in the senate and Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum secretary of the state, wielding the gavel in the house.

That Fred Minor of Denton would be speaker of the house appeared certain as he will be unopposed unless a dark horse is entered at the last minute. Election of Carl Hardin of Stephenville as president pro tempore of the senate also was foregone conclusion, no one having announced in opposition.

Consider Details
A voluntary committee, organized to form rules for operation of the house and senate under the 120 day session plan still was considering the details of the draft that will be offered. Considerable opposition developed over the week-end to the announced plan of the committee to recommend the period allotted for submission of bills be extended from 30 to 60 days.

Numerous members were of the opinion that this was not strictly in accord with the original intention when the amendment was before the electorate. One of the arguing points in favor of the amendment it was pointed out, was that it would end the submission of last minute legislation and would permit the legislature to know exactly the legislation projected.

One West Texas member went so far as to say it would be tantamount to betrayal of the public interest.

Sixty Day Limit
Under the rules it was proposed to permit introduction of bills during the first 60 days. A committee on introductions, to be composed of the heads of the important committees of both houses, would have power to authorize introduction of bills after expiration of this period. The legislature will be charged with canvassing the returns of the election on governor and lieutenant governor as one of its first duties.

One of the major pieces of legislation announced today was introduction of a bill to permit introduction of bills to establish a city manager form of government. The bill was drawn by Representative Walter Beck of Fort Worth and originally was intended to apply only to counties of 200,000 population. At the request of several counties, however, the population provision was left open and, if passed, the bill would apply to any county. It also contained a provision authorizing counties and cities to combine under the local self-government plan.

The senate caucus will be held tomorrow morning when the time the personnel of senate staff will be determined. Important committee chairmanship selections already have been tentatively announced by Lieut. Governor-elect Edgar E. Witt. Minor said he would not announce his committee selections until after his election.

Several members arrived in Austin with instructions to vote against submission of a state highway bond issue to the electorate. This was commonly predicted as one of the main sources of controversy and doubt that it would pass was freely expressed in view of the fact that it would require 100 votes in the house before it could be submitted. The bond issue is regarded as an administration measure.

Governor-elect will deliver his farewell message to the legislature Wednesday.

Plans for the inauguration of Governor-elect Ross S. Sterling proceeded apace. Sterling had reserved an entire floor in one of the hotels for the occasion. The inauguration will be held January 20 and will be followed by an elaborate inaugural ball. Senator Archie Parr from Benavides will preside over the senate caucus. Senator Clint C. Bessell, candidate for governor in the first primary, said the remainder of the land title validation bills would be offered. This was the center of a hot controversy in the forty-first legislature, the validation law, as it affected stream beds, being passed over the governor's veto.

SKELLY WELL BIG PRODUCER 3 MILES SOUTH

FLOWS 340 AN HOUR ON TEST RUN IN ONE HEAD

MUCH GAS IS IN WELL

BLOWS SELF IN; SHUT DOWN LAST WEEK BY DRILLERS

Another riddle for operators in the Sullivan area, three miles southwest of Pampa, was presented Monday afternoon when Skelly Oil company's No. 1 Heittholt was opened up for one hour and flowed 340 barrels of oil. The initial flow was in one head.

Operators have been fooled so many times in this area that no one, not even Skelly officials would venture a guess as to the potential production of the well. However, all wanted to agree that the well might rival the discovery well, Tacolan No. 1, on the Sullivan land, which produced 10,000 barrels daily at its best.

May Be Gusher
Skelly officials said that the well might prove to be a gusher and it might turn into a small producer. Some operators predicted that the well would flow 6,000 barrels daily if allowed to flow. At the rate of 340 barrels an hour, the well would flow 8,760 barrels per day.

The well is in section 153, block 3. Drilling stopped a week ago when 37 million feet of gas was struck. The well was shut down while drillers waited for it to blow itself in. This it did yesterday.

Strikes Water
The paradoxical nature of the area asserted itself yesterday when Mid-Gray's No. 1 McCullough, nearby, struck water, while the Heittholt well was developing gusher production.

A dozen wells have been drilled in the pool since last fall but only two have produced gusher quantities of oil, the Tacolan well, and Magnolia's No. 1 Latham, which had an initial production of 1,800 barrels of oil.

AGENCY IS MOVED TO CITY HALL BASEMENT

Offices of the Welfare board and of the Employment bureau will be moved today from their present location, the front of the office of J. M. McDonald, oil and gas supervisor, on the second floor of the new city hall building, adjoining the offices of the Board of City Development, to the south half of the basement. George W. Briggs, announced yesterday afternoon.

On account of the amount of business being done by these two organizations, the change was necessary, and by it they will be enabled to more efficiently do their work.

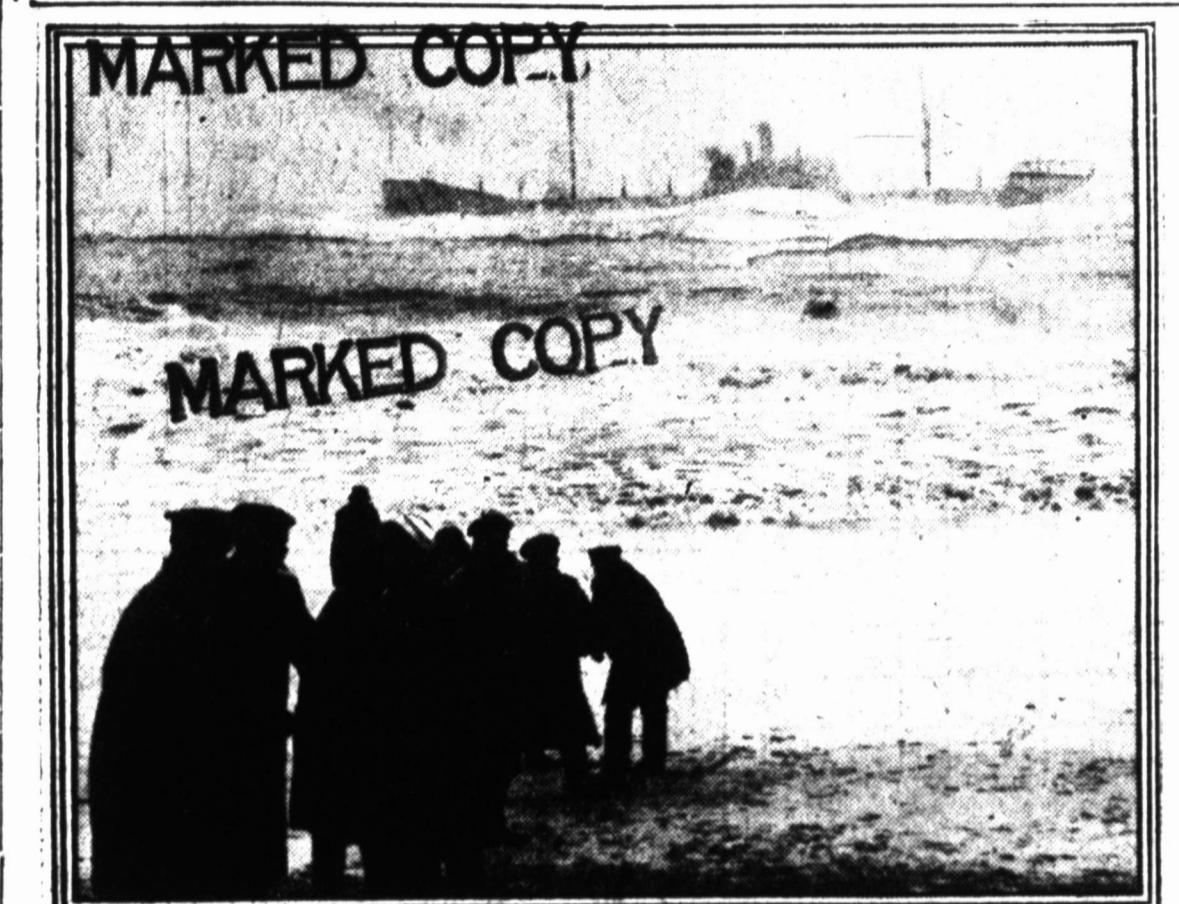

In place telephone calls either to the Welfare board or to the Employment bureau, Mr. Briggs suggests that the number 1189 be called, and the individual wanted in either the Welfare board or the Employment bureau be asked for by name. He emphatically asked that persons do not call the office of the chamber of commerce when they desire to talk to the Welfare board or the Employment bureau.

STATE RESTS CASE AGAINST CAMPBELL

The state rested late yesterday afternoon in the case in the 114th district court, wherein P. A. Campbell is charged with attempting to burglarize the Rex theatre.

The state put three witnesses on the stand, C. B. (Brownie) Akers, manager of the Rex, Frank Long, negro porter at the theatre, and H. C. Cotrell, night sergeant of the Pampa police department.

CREW IMPERILED AS FREIGHTER GOES AGROUND

Because the grounded freighter William N. Page lay just 100 yards out of range of a line from a breeches buoy cannon at West Hampton Beach, Long Island, initial efforts to rescue the 51 officers and men were unsuccessful. This picture shows coast guardmen hauling back the line after failing to reach the stranded ship, which struck sand bars during a fog. Another attempt to drop the line from an airplane also failed.

LESTER PROUD OF CLUB WORK

BOYS WIN NINE PRIZES AT POULTRY SHOW LAST WEEK

J. L. Lester, teacher of vocational agriculture in the local high school, is proud of the record made by the members of the F. F. A. club in the poultry show that closed here Saturday.

A check of the records indicates that the club had 56 birds on exhibition. The local boys won nine first places, eight second places, four third places, and three fourth places with their exhibits. The hen that was the champion hen of the show was owned by one of the students of the department of vocational agriculture in the local high school.

A total of $28 was the winnings netted by the members of the club. This will be used in having a bigger exhibit at the White Deer show the latter part of this month.

PAINTERS UNION WILL REDUCE INITIAL FEE

On account of the unemployment, and in order to induce non-union men to become members of their organization, the Pampa Painters local union No. 434, has decided to reduce their initiation fee from $50 to $5, according to M. W. Andrews, business agent and financial secretary of the union here.

Decision to lower the initiation dues was made at the meeting, January 7, and will continue in effect until February 1, Andrews said. Headquarters permitted the local to decide the question itself, Andrews said, and while he had heard of other locals reducing their initiation fees, could not recall any other local unions in the Panhandle that had done so.

The local painters union has a membership of 30, and the total membership of the national organization, known as the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America, is 130,000. The headquarters of the national organization is at Lafayette, Ind.

Pendleton May Not Go to Trial As Scheduled

In view of impressive reasons, the chances were last night that Ace Pendleton would not go to trial in 114th district court Wednesday on a charge of robbing the First National bank. Although Judge Clifford Braly said yesterday that Jan. 14 would probably be the trial date.

The biggest and in reality the insurmountable obstacle that will keep the Ace in his cell on Wednesday instead of at the bar of justice is his illness. Yesterday, the Ace developed a painful and critical hemorrhage. He has been suffering from tuberculosis for over a year. Pendleton is broken in body. That both he and the doctors admit.

However, the patient-prisoner is being given the best of care in the county jail. Dr. V. E. von Brunow visits him almost daily. His case is being observed. For several weeks the Ace has been on a diet. County officers admit that sheer humanity and human sympathy forces them to treat the Ace "as if he were a baby."

The genteel-mannered prisoner did not rise from his bunk all day yesterday. Most of the day he was suffering from a lung hemorrhage. Sheriff Blanscet ventured the opinion that the Ace might live three months and he might not. It was unthinkable that he would live a year, if the hemorrhages continue.

Judge Ben Baldwin who was appointed by the court to represent Pendleton declared yesterday that the Ace could not possibly stand trial Wednesday. "Why, at times he is a dying man," the attorney stated.

Mr. Baldwin further declared that it was absurd to connect the Ace with the robbing of the First National bank here March 31, 1927, here. I doubt if he ever saw this town before he was placed in jail. It should be highly significant to observers that those who say they identified Ace as being one of the robbers gave a different description of him at the time of the robbery. I will have plenty of surprises for the state when the trial opens."

THE WEATHER

OKLAHOMA: fair Tuesday, Wednesday partly cloudy, little change in temperature.

EAST TEXAS: fair Tuesday; Wednesday increasing cloudiness becoming unsettled on West coast; little change in temperature. Light to gentle northerly winds on the coast.

COUNTY BODY MEETS TODAY

COMMISSIONERS P A Y BILLS YESTERDAY IN SESSION

The county commissioners will resume their session this morning, following the meetings of yesterday morning and afternoon. The commissioners adjourned at noon yesterday, and convened again at 1:30 o'clock. Work of the morning session was devoted mainly to the approval of bills from the general fund of the courthouse and jail fund, the general road and bridge fund, and bills for road and bridge work in precincts 1, 2 and 3.

A bill of Cook, Smith and Teed for $409.02 was approved and ordered paid out of the road district 4 bond issue.

Bond of Sherman White, county attorney for $2,500, signed by the Fidelity Union Casualty company, was accepted and approved.

It was ordered that the C. O. Busby bill be paid to B. W. Rose.

Other business disposed of by the county commissioners during the day included the approval, acceptance, and order to file, of the official bond of M. M. Newman, county commissioner for the sum of $3,000, on the Fidelity Union Casualty company; salary of Ralph E. Thomas, county agent for the month of December, ordered paid.

HISTORICAL MUSEUM TO BE CONSTRUCTED

Beginning of work on the proposed museum for the Panhandle-Plains Historical society will likely be some time next spring, it was stated here yesterday after a meeting of the organization's officials with President T. D. Hobart.

Visiting officials were President J. A. Hill of Canyon Teachers college, Prof. L. F. Sheffy, field secretary, Horace Russell of Amarillo, and Judge H. E. Hoover of Canadian.

The first unit of the museum building is to cost about $25,000. The funds will be contributed by residents of the Panhandle.

VESSELS SCAN ROUGH WATERS FOR AVIATORS

NO WORD IS RECEIVED FROM AIRPLANE ON WAY TO PARIS

BELIEVE DOWN AT SEA

PLANE COULD FLOAT ON OCEAN ONLY SHORT TIME

NEW YORK, Jan. 12. (AP)—Messages to The Associated Press from half a dozen ships at sea today told of the sharp but futile watch being kept for the missing monoplane Tradewind.

Along the French and Portuguese coasts and at the Canary Islands and Madeira, as similar watch appeared fruitless.

Nowhere was any report received to indicate that the plane, piloted by Mrs. Beryl Hart and Lieutenant William S. MacLaren, was still in the air.

Heavy Seas
Mountaneous seas, prevalent over nearly all the Atlantic, made it improbable that if the Tradewind had been forced down it could live for more than a short time.

The steamer Excelsior, heading westward from the Azores, reported a rough sea, with falling barometer and sporadic rain, despite a sharp lookout there was no sign of the Tradewind.

The Excelsior, just west of the islands, searched fruitlessly. She also reported squally weather and high seas.

The master of the Exton wireless from southeast of Horta that he was keeping a special lookout but apparently to no avail. The Exton was meeting a moderate easterly gale and a rough easterly sea.

The liners Resolute and Conte Grande queried other shipping but heard no report of the Tradewind. Like other vessels they reported rough water.

Mrs. Cora Almsfield, mother of Mrs. Hart, declared tonight she did not intend to "begin to worry" for another 48 hours at least. She said she was confident the fliers were safe, perhaps on some remote island in the Azores, or on a fishing vessel not equipped with radio.

ABANDON HOPE FOR AIRPLANE
HORTA, Island of Fayal, Azores, Jan. 12. (AP)—Hope that the trans-Atlantic "payload" aviators, Mrs. Beryl Hart and Lieutenant William S. MacLaren were still alive was virtually abandoned tonight.

Not a word or a sign of them had been received since they took off from Hamilton, Bermuda, at 10:15 a.m. (CST) Saturday for Horta on the second lap of their flight in the monoplane Tradewind from New York to Paris.

Strong winds and high seas have prevailed since that time and it was feared that had they been forced down their frail machine would have withstood the seas only a few minutes. They had expected to take 21 hours for the flight and were due here at 7:15 a.m. (CST.) Sunday.

In view of the possibility the aviators might have missed the Azores altogether and continued eastward, wireless stations in Madeira, the Canary Islands and along the French and Portuguese coasts were asked to be on the alert for any reports.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Jan. 12. (AP)—The seaplane Tradewind carried 400 gallons of gasoline and 30 gallons of oil when it left here Saturday noon with Lieutenant William S. MacLaren and Mrs. Beryl Hart for an over-water flight to the Azores.

Aviation experts here said this was more than enough for them to reach the Azores, but felt that since the fliers had not been reported after leaving here their only chance for safety lay in the fact that they might have been picked up by a vessel carrying no radio.

When Lieutenant MacLaren and Mrs. Hart boarded their monoplane in the harbor and continued eastward, were fully confident of success and said they would be in sight of vessels during the entire flight, since they hoped to pass over eight trade routes.

TWELVE ARE INJURED
POTEAU, Okla., Jan. 12. (AP)—Twelve coal miners were slightly injured and six were under arrest today on a rioting charge following a fight early yesterday at the mine of the Poteau Coal corporation near here.

The trouble, officers said, was the outgrowth of a wage scale cut made two weeks ago.

ASSAULT MADE ON ARIZONA'S EFFORTS TO DISMISSAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. (AP)—A combined legal assault by the government and six states on Arizona's attempt to prevent construction of the Hoover dam was made today in an appeal to the supreme court urging it to dismiss the latter's suit.

On motion of Solicitor General Thatcher, chief justice Hughes fixed March 9 for hearing oral arguments on the motions.

Arizona objected to the appointment of water and power under the act, which authorized the dam, arguing it would deprive her of constitutional rights.

The state brought its suit against Secretary Wilbur. The government in its motion to dismiss, filed in Wilbur's name, argued the action was in reality against the United States and that the government could not be made a defendant without its consent.

The states, California, Nevada, Utah, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming, said in substance they did not create the act authorizing the dam and that consequently Arizona had no cause for action against them.

Colorado, New Mexico and Nevada in a supporting brief said the rights Arizona contended were violated were purely political and that the state's complaint failed to present a controversy of which the court could take judicial cognizance.

The brief for Utah and Wyoming said "the states are not necessary parties for the determination of the question as to whether congress had exceeded its authority in the Boulder Canyon project act."

The six states were signatories of the Colorado river compact which apportioned the waters of the Colorado river, on which the dam will be erected.

Arizona participated in negotiations leading to the compact but refused to sign. The compact, in part, was incorporated in the act passed by congress.

FOUR GENERATIONS OF BABY LINDBERGH'S FAMILY

This striking photograph shows four generations in the family of youthful Mr. Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., the infant son of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh. Taken in New York, the picture shows Mrs. Dwight Morrow, the youngest's grandmother, at the left. Seated in the center, holding the Lindbergh baby, is his great-grandmother, Mrs. Charles Long Cutter of Cleveland. At the right is his mother, Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh.

About New York

By RICHARD MASSOCK
NEW YORK—College boys long have been looked upon as loud and obnoxious intruders in Broadway's night club life.

"We don't want 'em," one scowling headwaiter told your stony-eyed reporter early on a Saturday morning some three years ago.

His inhospitable statement was aroused by the arrival of a party of Yale men, emerging out of a great cloud of racoon skins.

It was in the days of free-spending prosperity on Broadway and I remember his words, so forceful were his tones. He said:

"They bring a $5 bottle of gin, order a round of ginger ale and never have more than $5 to spend." He was utterly contemptuous.

COLLEGIANS FRIEND

That contempt, it now seems, was as ill-founded as it was churlish. This winter college men with their five dollars are as welcome as a millionaire at the automobile show. But that is all beside the following story:

It was at the recent testimonial dinner for Daniel Frohman, founder and head of the Actors' fund. At Mr. Frohman's elbow sat the celebrated Texas comedian, Errol Stewart, styled "queen of the night clubs."

A few chairs away at the same table was Prof. William Lyon Phelps, Yale's illustrious friend of literature and youth.

As the dinner was breaking up, Professor Phelps, sometimes called Billy Phelps, asked a mutual acquaintance to introduce him to Miss Guinan.

"I suppose," said Texas, when his wish was conveyed to her, "you want to meet me because you've seen my picture so often in the papers."

"No, you're wrong, Miss Guinan," said Dr. Phelps. "For some years my boys have brought stories back to New Haven of how you have helped Yale men by getting them out of difficulties, lending them money when they found themselves broke and performing other kindnesses. That was why I wanted to meet you. I consider it a great honor," and he bowed low, in his gracious way.

Nor is Miss Guinan the only host who counts college men among her friends. The late Daniel Moriarthy, restaurant proprietor and a familiar figure many years on the upper east side, befriended them by the hundreds.

His restaurant, known simply as "Dan's," was a notable resort for after-theater crowds who sought a hot meeting place before going home, and its proprietor was far famed for his liberality with loans and credit to students stranded in the city after a week-end.

WHERE BUT IN NEW YORK—A ventriloquist had a lot of fun on a cross-town bus early on a recent morning. The bus was full of laborers on their way to work. Suddenly they heard a voice call the White House in Washington, as though by telephone, and talk for a dozen minutes.

At first the passengers looked pained at what they believed to be the rant of a drunk, then they snickered. Finally they caught on and merrily began the day with a hearty laugh.

PREMIER STEEG WILL IMPROVE RELATIONS WITH UNITED STATES

PARIS, Jan. 12. (AP)—Premier Theodor Steeg, who faces the French parliament once more tomorrow, told the Associated Press today that whatever else may happen, so long as he remains at the head of the government he will do all he can to promote and improve economic relations with the United States.

Although his ministry may be overthrown, he intends, he said, to introduce in the chamber of deputies several measures calculated to ease the economic situation in France and to provide work for the unemployed.

The Steeg ministry, sworn in by President Doumergue December 13, obtained a vote of confidence five days later by the slim majority of seven ballots. It was predicted at the time that the opposition would unseat the government when the chamber reconvened.

Since the Christmas adjournment the premier, a politician of more than average skill, has used his time to cement the support of the moderate groups. Solidly behind him now are the 135 votes of the radical Socialist party and the Socialist group of more than 100 may be counted on to support the cabinet on questions of international policy. But Steeg must get at least 60 more votes from the "center" to give him a good working majority. His most difficult moment may come with a vote on the budget. When the war ministry budget comes up he is almost certain to have trouble keeping his 100 Socialist votes in line.

Some observers believe that while the chamber remains evenly divided as true at present no really stable government can be formed. If this is true France may have to worry along with changes in government every few months until the 1932 general elections. The only alternative would be presidential dissolution, but Doumergue's term expires next year and it is believed he would resort to such a measure only when all other remedies had failed.

LARGER TYPE TREND

DALLAS, Jan. 12. (AP)—Addressing the annual convention of the Southern conference of building owners and managers, Lewis B. Ermann, executive secretary, said here today surveys showed irrefutably a trend toward larger types of buildings. The average building in 1924, he said, had 61,470 square feet of rental area, while in 1930 the average had 85,200 square feet.

Will Rogers Will Help Unemployed

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12. (AP)—Will Rogers left the movie lots of Hollywood today and began a trip back home to help the folks in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas in their tussle with hard times.

Boarding an airmail plane bound for Fort Worth, Rogers said he would spend two or three weeks on a tour of the three states, appearing before audiences and giving all funds collected to the unemployed.

SEEK TWO BANDITS

OKEMAH, Okla., Jan. 12. (AP)—Two robbers were sought tonight for the $500 holdup of the Central States Light and Power company offices here today and the shooting of Jack Buckley, manager.

Buckley was shot in the left side by one robber and clubbed by the other as the pair departed. The robbers entered when Buckley was alone in the office. They locked the door and scooped up available currency, leaving checks for several thousand dollars behind. They made their escape in a light car.

ASKS MOODY'S AID

HOUSTON, Jan. 12. (AP)—Governor-elect C. Sterling today asked Governor Dan Moody's assistance in the submission to the legislature of an emergency measure amending the tax laws to permit payment of state and county taxes in semi-annual installments.

If the proposal is consistent with Governor Moody's views, the governor-elect pointed out, the proposed legislation might be enacted in time to become effective this year.

PATTERSON IS HEAD OF CONFEDERATE HOME

AUSTIN, Jan. 12. (AP)—R. R. Patterson of Rchy, 47, veteran county judge of Fisher county and son of a confederate veteran, was named superintendent of the state confederate home here by the state board of control today.

Claude Teer, chairman of the board of control, said the choice was unanimous. The West Texan will occupy his new role as soon as convenient within the next ten or fifteen days.

The announcement of Patterson's appointment said he had had considerable experience in dealing with confederate soldiers and was "thoroughly interested in their welfare."

Patterson will pass on the applications for storekeeper and accountant, Teer said. Teer requested that no more applications for those places be filed. He succeeds A. W. Taber, resigned.

OIL FIELD WORKER DIES FROM BURNS

HOUSTON, Jan. 12. (AP)—Jack Lanier, 43, oil field worker, died here today from burns received in an oil tank fire at Humble yesterday.

Lanier told hospital attendants he was a worker for the Hammell Drilling company at Humble and that the oil tank became ignited. He said he was engulfed in flames before he could escape.

FOREIGN DIVORCES BEING CONSIDERED BY FEDERAL GROUP

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. (AP)—Clouds left from bygone marital storms by the question of the legality of some Paris divorces are considered by state department officials to have lifted.

It is another matter, with regard to freedom obtained in some Mexican states.

The French divorces in question included those of some of the most prominent people in America's social registers.

The French government, it was learned today, has investigated charges of sharp practice among American attorneys practicing before its divorce courts, but so far as is known at the state department, the investigations have failed to bring proof of the charges.

An inquiry was watched closely by the American embassy in Paris, since proof of the charges might have resulted in invalidation of cases in which the alleged illegality occurred.

Some of the Mexican states, including Yucatan, with divorces even more easily obtainable than those in the French courts, have offered a more complex problem to the state department. Contrasted with the French divorces for Americans, Mexican divorces have brought a stream of questions of their actual validity in the United States. While few persons involved in foreign divorces have appealed to the state department for a decision on the validity of the decree with which they were connected, the state department almost daily receives letters from persons whose former mates have secured Mexican divorces.

To each of these letters the state department merely replies that the question of validity is one for the courts of the separate states, at least one of which has declared Mexican divorces obtained under certain conditions to be invalid.

The American embassy at Mexico City has reported a still further complication in the situation in the action of the courts of the state of Morelos, Mexico, in declaring divorces obtained in Yucatan under certain conditions to be void. A gradual lessening of the interest of American nations on the question of divorces abroad was found by the Nevada state legislature of less stringency laws for the establishment of residence in that state.

WILL ROGERS TO AID STRIKEN FARMERS

FORT WORTH, Jan. 12. (AP)—Will Rogers, cowboy comedian, flew out of the west tonight, bringing new hope to the drought-stricken farmers and the working man out of work.

Tomorrow Rogers will confer here with Jesse Jones, Houston capitalist; Houston Harte, San Angelo publisher, and Amos G. Carter of Fort Worth in arranging a speaking tour through Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Proceeds from his appearances will be used for the relief of families made destitute by crop failure and economic crisis.

From here Rogers will continue to Washington and New York by plane, returning the latter part of the month to begin his speaking engagements.

Definite dates for his appearances in Texas will be announced after his conferences tomorrow.

The San Angelo publisher will arrive by plane tomorrow morning.

ABANDONS FIGHT TO REFUSE DALE SEAT

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 12. (AP)—Representative A. P. C. Petch of Fredericksburg sat today he had abandoned his fight to deny a seat in the house to Representative F. A. Dale of Bonham.

Petch said he was convinced from court decisions that the house was powerless to prevent Representative Dale from taking the seat to which he was elected. Dale was removed from membership in the house three years ago by vote of his fellow representatives.

Mrs. John B. Hessey returned on Sunday afternoon from Leila Lake, where she has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Knowles.

BILL INGRAM IS APPOINTED HEAD COACH AT CALIFORNIA

WILL REPORT IN TIME FOR SPRING DRILL

FORMER NAVY GRIDDER TO GUIDE PLAYERS AT UNIVERSITY

BERKELEY, Calif., Jan. 12. (AP)—William "Navy Bill" Ingram, former coach at the U. S. Naval academy, today was appointed head football coach at the University of California for a three-year term. Ingram took the place of C. M. "Nose" Price, who resigned after last season. No salary terms were announced but it was understood the new mentor will receive between $12,000 and $15,000 yearly.

W. W. Monahan, graduate manager who signed Ingram during an excessive "hunting trip" throughout the midwest and east, had instructions not to offer more than $15,000 a year for a coach.

Ingram notified the California authorities he would report here March 1, in time for spring training. He also stated he would recommend one, and possibly two, assistants.

Ingram was a star halfback and quarterback with the Midshipmen in 1916, 1917 and 1918. He was named All-American quarterback in 1918.

In 1919 "Navy Bill" returned to Annapolis as first assistant to Gil Dobie. He organized the Pacific fleet team in 1920 and 1921, while stationed in that section, and acted as coach and player on those evenings.

Retiring from the navy in 1922 to enter business, Ingram accepted a "hurry up" call from William and Mary college of Williamsburg, Va., and took over the head coaching duties there in September of that year.

From 1923 to 1925, he coached at the University of Indiana and in 1926 came back to Annapolis as head coach. As leader of the navy squads, his teams won 32 games; lost 13 and tied 4 in the last five years.

1926—Won 9; lost 0; tied 1.
1927—Won 10; lost 3; tied 1.
1928—Won 5; lost 2; tied 2.
1929—Won 6; lost 2; tied 1.
1930—Won 6; lost 5; tied 0.

FROG BASKET TEAM TO PLAY STEERS FRIDAY

CHRISTIANS WIN FIRST GAME OF SEASON WITH RICE

FORT WORTH, Jan. 12. (Special)—The Texas Christian cagers came through their initial conference game with flying colors when they took the Rice Owls to a 38-28 clinching. The Frogs now turn their attention to the game with the University of Texas Longhorns to be played here next Friday night. Then the following week the University of Arkansas Razorbacks, 1930 champions, come to the Frog stronghold for a two-game series.

The Longhorns and the Razorbacks split a two game series. The Hogs took the Steers to a cleaning the first game, winning by the score of 29 to 21. The Steers came back during the second game and eked out a victory over the Razorbacks by the small margin of two points, they won 27 to 25.

Texas Christian's hopes for the 1931 basketball championship hinges largely on the outcome of the game with the Longhorns and the two games with the Razorbacks the following week-end.

Adolph Dietzel, lengthy Frog center, scored 21 points in his first conference game, and is around him that Coach Francis A. Schmidt has built his offense. Dietzel comes through other games as he did in his first, he will push some one for high scoring honors in the conference.

There has been some speculation as to the starting line-up of the Frogs. Dietzel, Atkins and Sumner have been pretty sure starters, while one forward and one guard position have not been definitely determined. Robertson and McCulloch have been fighting it out for the forward position, with Robertson having the edge, due to more experience. At the guard position, experience again seems to have the edge on youth, for Green, a reserve from last year's team, seems to have the edge on Brannan, a sophomore.

Campbell Will Attempt Speed Mark At Daytona Beach Track

NEW YORK, Jan. 12. (AP)—Throwing gas into a 1400 horse power super-charged Campbell-Napier engine at the rate of 80 gallons an hour, Capt. Malcolm Campbell in his "Bluebird II" hopes to shatter the present world's speed mark on land of 231.36 miles an hour.

Captain Campbell, the only living man who has driven an automobile faster than 200 miles an hour will arrive in America in January, preparatory to the speed trials early in February on the sands at Daytona Beach, Fla.

The present record was set by the late Sir H. O. D. Segrave in his Golden Arrow on the Daytona race course in 1929. Segrave was killed extending his speed mastery over water.

The "Bluebird II" is built to buck and overcome a frontal air pressure of four tons, approximately 288 pounds to the square foot. This pressure, it is estimated, is five times as great as the wildest known hurricane.

Captain Campbell drove "Bluebird I," a similar car, to a world's record of 206.955 in 1928, which shortly afterwards was raised by the late Ray Keech to 207.552 miles an hour, and then was left far behind in the thundering triumph of Segrave's Golden Arrow.

Campbell at present is the holder of the world's record for five miles, which he set in South Africa in 1929. His goal for the coming tests is 250 miles an hour.

Capt. Malcolm Campbell in his "Bluebird II" will attempt to shatter the automobile speed mark some time during February at Daytona Beach, Florida. The new car, the features of which are shown in sketch, resembles "Bluebird I" with which Campbell once held the record.

DISPUTE FOR WORLD TITLE IS UP AGAIN

PROPOSE SECOND VIEW WITH CARNERA; IS REFUSED

NEW YORK, Jan. 12. (AP)—The big heavyweight run-around came out into the open today in a set of puzzling proposals again designed to lineup one world title bout between Max Schmeling and Young Bill Strickling somewhere in Illinois in June and another in September between the winner and the champion, the man mountain of Venice.

The Hearst Milk Fund officials—and Bill Carey, president of Madison Square Garden unofficially—joined in extending contracts for this program to "Pa" Strickling, father and manager of the Georgia "Kid," Barney, the man mountain of Venice.

While neither representative of the antagonists hailed the proffered documents with glee, it seemed that some basis for agreement finally had arisen from the muddled state of affairs, provided other complications could be smoothed away.

Although Carey could not be present at the conference under penalty of suspension by the New York State Athletic Commission for dealing with a suspended fighter, the Illinois branch of the New York Garden despatched the name of the Illinois Madison Square Garden Corporation under which the late Tex Eckard promoted the long count in Chicago in 1927. This charter is considered "alive" and Chicago, still in possession of the title, although it has not been used by the New York parent organization since the biggest fight spectacle of modern times.

Sport Slant's
by ALAN GOULD - ASSOCIATED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

It should not be necessary to qualify Big Bill Tilden as a witness in the Davis Cup case. Over a period of 10 years, he played in and won more challenge round matches than any other tennis player in the history of this international competition.

We were discussing this year's prospects and the suggestion of the retiring president of the U. S. L. T. A., Louis B. Daley, that the 1931 American cup squad consist of Frank Shields, Sidney Wood, Gregory Mangin and Cliff Sutter.

"That's all right if the intention is just to toss overhead all the experience, time and money devoted to the Davis cup work of the past three or four years," remarked Tilden.

"What's the matter with Lou, Doc, Van Ryn and Allison? Are they to be ruled out just because they are married men and have some business responsibilities now?" These four should compose the 1931 team. They have just begun to capitalize the experience and training they have had in foreign competition. They will be better this year than ever.

Shields, Wood, Mangin and Sutter still are two or three years away from international caliber. Just because they enjoyed one good year chiefly on home courts does not signify they will be whirlwinds this year. In fact I think it would be ridiculous to send them abroad as a team, unless it was merely the plan to sacrifice any chance of regaining the cup for several years and give them experience.

"Experience is more than half the battle in playing abroad. Look at the records. Or the example of the French themselves. They picked their men, Borotra, Lacoste and Cochet. Then they sent them over here every year until they finally crashed through. They kept at it for six years before they won at Germantown in 1927.

"The only way in which the United States ever will win back the Davis cup is by selecting three or four men to concentrate on the job. If one or more of the players selected fail to measure up after sufficient trial, substitutions should of course be made, but it is competitive suicide now to discard such players as Lou, Van Ryn, Allison and Doc in favor of the greenest of eastern society.

"We should stick to the assets we have already developed, meanwhile giving the most promising of the youngsters, such as Wood and Shields, every chance to come along."

Tilden's decision to play professional tennis under the promotion banner of M. Jacques Curley, who has been without a large wrestling stable for some time, has caused some lifting of the eyebrows in the more exclusive circles of a game developed in the most fashionable of eastern society.

M. Curley, however, feels this is doing his record some injustice. He points with considerable pride to his list of ventures in the promotion field such as the celebrated Annette Kellerman, the tour of the Vatican choir by special permission of the pope, the lecture appearances of Emmeline Pankhurst, pioneer English suffragist; the fistic enterprises of Georges Carpentier in this country.

"I have always liked variety," M. Curley volunteers.

THREE MATCHES WILL BE PLAYED TONIGHT AT BOWLING ALLEYS

Commercial league matches at the Pampa Bowling alleys tonight are: Foxworth-Galbraith versus Cabot, 7:30; Cal Farley versus Gordon, 7:30; Schneider hotel versus Diamond shop, 8:30.

If present standings mean anything, only a miracle can save the lumbermen tonight, since the carbon black crew rates second in the Commercial league with a percentage of 88.5, while the lumbermen occupy the cellar at 33.

Cal Farley's Flying Dutchmen, on the same basis, will have to make plenty of pins fly to defeat the Gordon's stores company bowlers, as the latter occupy the top notch in the league at present, while the tiremen are tied with the Schneider hotel bowlers at 47 just a step up from the lumbermen.

The Schneider hotel-Diamond shop match will be the most evenly matched affair, judged on the team standing, since the Diamond shop rates a 50 to the Schneider hotel team's 47.

City league matches slated for Friday night at the Pampa bowling alleys are: Lions versus American Legion, 7:30; Kiwanis versus Rotarians, 7:30; Worley versus Elks, 9:30.

CANYON BEATS PAMPA CAGERS

HARVESTERS LOSE TILT BY THREE POINTS YESTERDAY

Pampa Harvesters lost to the Canyon Eagles, 27-24, at the Randall county seat yesterday afternoon.

Coach Odus Mitchell started Moore and Lard at forward, Sausbury at center, and Ayres and James at guard. This combination proved ineffective, and at the half Canyon was leading by a score of 17 to 8.

At the half, Mitchell started Chastain and Poe, Kennedy, Ayres and James, and this outfit showed marked improvement over the initial lineup. The new combination ran up more points than Canyon and nearly tied the Eagles.

After the game, Mitchell sent the Harvesters home to cram for exams, which start today. The mentor remained in Canyon to witness a contest between the Buffaloes and the El Paso Miners.

ED DUDLEY IS WINNER OF LOS ANGELES OPEN GOLF TOURNEY PRIZE

By BRIAN BELL
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12. (AP)—Smiling, soft-voiced Ed Dudley, who has threatened to win many important golf competitions since he left his native Georgia ten years ago, finally crashed his way into the money today by capturing the $3,500 first money in the Los Angeles $10,000 open.

The big southerner, who now is professional at the Concord country club, Concordville, Pa., but calls Wilmington, Del., his home, finished two strokes ahead of Eddie Loo and Al Espinosa, Chicago pros, with a brilliant 72-hole total of 285.

Dudley came home with a sensational 68 for his final round, winding up his play with perhaps the most courageous finish witnessed in the history of golf since Tommy Armour dropped his long put on the 18th green at Oakmont in the 1927 open to tie Harry Cooper for the lead.

The former Ryder cup player came to the home green, needing a par four to record a score of 285 and everybody had said from the opening of the competition that 285 would be the figure needed to win.

He got a great drive and a long second but his iron was slightly pushed and his four seemed far from when he came up to his ball off the green with a tall tree cutting off the cup.

With a championship in sight, the ball came to rest 16 feet from the pin. He had two putts to win but at that stage he did not know it and probably would have scored to play safe if he had. He boldly pushed the par four and the ball rolled squarely into the cup.

Espinosa and Frank Walsh, another of the deadly Chicago golfing brigade, finished just ahead of Dudley and Armour and Diegel were on his heels. Espinosa had scored a great five at the home hole after taking a shot in a trap and Walsh had encountered all sorts of trouble and taken a six there. Walsh's 288 left him in a tie with Armour at 288 for third place and the best Diegel could do after a brave challenge was 289 and a tie with Drag Wood for sixth.

Harry Cooper made it four Chicago pros in the first octet by grabbing eighth place with 290 and Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen, two ancient rivals, tied for ninth with scores of 291.

James Rimmer, Jasper Park, Canada, was 11th with 292 and the country, excepting Diegel, who is leading contender from out of the only a synthetic foreigner.

Ralph Guldhoff of Dallas, had a score of 229-74-303.

RAZORBACKS DEFEAT RICE OWL CAGERS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Jan. 12. (AP)—The Arkansas University Razorbacks defeated the Rice Institute Owls, 36-32, in a Southwest Conference basketball game here tonight.

The Razorbacks took the lead early and had a commanding 12-point margin when the game was five minutes old and before the Owls broke into the scoring column.

With Hart, a forward, leading their attack, the owls came back and ran the score to 13, only two field goals behind the Porkers, as the half ended. Murphy, Arkansas guard, was high for the Porkers with ten points.

The brilliant floor work of Capt. Jim Pickren and Kenny Holt's goal shooting saved the game for Arkansas in the last three minutes of play.

Rice tied the score with only three minutes to play and Banner a substitute center, sang a free toss to put the Owls in front. Holt knotted the count with only two minutes left, and then Capt. Pickren clinched the contest by making a short shot and collecting an additional two points on Norman's foul.

SIMMONS DEFEATS DANIEL BAKER FIVE

ABILENE, Texas, Jan. 12. (AP)—Simmons university played a deplorable offensive that the Daniel Baker Hill Billies could not solve tonight, and the basketball team, 32 to 22, in its single stand here. Daniel Baker stayed close behind the cowboys until the game was nearly over when Jim Neely, Simmons forward, broke away from the guards to score three field goals in a row.

Only six field goals were allowed Daniel Baker, but the Billies collected 10 points on free tosses.

HELD FOR MURDER

LUBOCK, Jan. 12. (AP)—Preliminary hearing for Alvin Graves, young Lubock carpenter, held in the county jail here on charges of murder and assault to murder, will be asked this week, his attorneys announced tonight.

Graves was arrested early Sunday at Post after a shooting affray here in which Horace L. Smith, 38, was killed, Robert Averett critically injured and three others less seriously wounded. Smith died early Monday. Averett was given little chance tonight for recovery.

CAMPBELL TO SAIL

NEW YORK, Jan. 12. (AP)—Regardless of the financial controversy between the American Automobile association and officials of Daytona Beach, Capt. Malcolm Campbell, British speed king, will sail from England Wednesday in the hope of challenging time again for the world's automobile speed record on the Florida sands.

FULL SPORTS PROGRAM WILL BE CARRIED ON

NO CURB IS PLANNED BY DIXIE SCHOOLS FOR NEXT YEAR

NOTE: This is another of a series of stories based on a nationwide survey by the Associated Press of athletic conditions.

By DILLON GRAHAM
ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 12. (AP)—Despite the failure of football to draw the customary number of customers through the gates of Southern football stadia last fall, athletic programs in Dixie schools will be carried through practically without curtailment.

Even with receipts running five, ten and 20 per cent below 1930 there was no disposition among athletic directors to curtail other sports activities, which in the main must be supported from the school fund.

Director Miles of Virginia Poly, said his school was prepared to "borrow money if necessary" to keep intramural and minor sports operating on the same plane as in previous years. Dan McGugin, athletic director at Vanderbilt, said the decrease in football revenues there meant merely that there should be less money to apply to reduction of debts on the athletic plant and that no curtailment was planned in minor sports.

Only Mississippi college, Alabama Poly (better known as Auburn) and Tennessee reported a curtailment in minor sports. At Tennessee baseball is being curtailed only "because of lack of interest."

Centenary college, of Louisiana, and Oglethorpe of Georgia, instead of curtailing minor sports are planning to extend them. Mississippi The smaller schools as a group were the hardest hit by the depression.

Oglethorpe, Alabama Poly and Kentucky reported increased football receipts. Washington and Lee reported its revenues as about the same as in 1929, exact figures not being available.

Classifying the schools, responding to the Associated Press questionnaire as to football receipts and curtailment of athletic programs, the lineup is as follows:

Increased receipts: Kentucky (no estimate of increase), Oglethorpe (10 per cent), Alabama Poly (no estimate), Tulane (about the same).

Decreased receipts: Georgia Tech (10 per cent), Virginia Military Institute (slightly off), Mississippi college (20 per cent), Vanderbilt (10 per cent), Tennessee (slightly off), Centenary (20 per cent), Mercer (slightly off), South Carolina (33 per cent), University of Maryland (10 per cent), Washington and Lee (5 per cent), Virginia Poly (no estimate).

CAL FARLEY ASKED TO REFEREE MAT BATTLE AT PLA-MOR THURSDAY

Cal Farley has been asked to referee the match between Otis Clingman and Bull Montana at the Pla-Mor auditorium at 8 o'clock Thursday night, the management of the auditorium announced last night.

The famous "ugly man" is enroute to Pampa now from California, with a record of having downed all of his opponents in his matches of the past year.

Roy Welch of Gorge and Jack O'Hara of Portland, Ore., will meet in the semi-final.

While Farley has not yet aired his acceptance, it is believed that he will agree to referee the Clingman-Montana match.

Tickets are on sale at the Diamond Shop.

MUSTANGS DEFEATED

DALLAS, Jan. 12. (AP)—Led by O. Stringer, a guard, and Dean Coaker, the East Texas State Teachers college basketball team defeated the Southern Methodist University Mustangs, 54-37, here tonight.

HOUSTON BUFFS GET THREE NEW PLAYERS

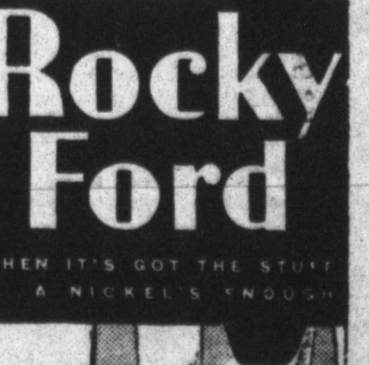

HOUSTON, Jan. 12. (AP)—President Fred Ankenman of the Buffs announced today the acquisition of three new players. They are George Shefflet, catcher, bought outright from Rochester for a cash consideration; Homer Peel, hard hitting outfielder bought outright from the Cardinals, and George Puccinelli, young outfielder obtained on option from the Cardinals.

The acquisition of Peel and Puccinelli assures the Buffs at least two right hand sluggers in the outfield. Peel is conceded one of the best hitters ever to perform in the Texas league, while Puccinelli last season in 11 National league contests batted .563.

GALVESTON WELCOME TO LEAGUE MEMBERS

GALVESTON, Jan. 12. (AP)—In a long distance telephone conversation with Shearn Moody, interested in purchasing a Texas league baseball franchise, here, Alvin Gardner, president of the league, said today he would welcome Galveston back to the loop and do all in his power to facilitate a transfer.

Meanwhile friends of Moody were attempting to sell stock in local sportsmen, and met with considerable success. In this continues, it is believed a transfer will be effected in a few days.

Harry Withers, who is organizing a South Coast league to play class B or C baseball this year, said here today he has decided not to enlist Galveston unless the deal for transfer of Texas league club here falls.

Withers has lined up Corpus Christi, Fort Arthur, Austin, and Brenham. If Galveston could be landed he would be able to start a Class B league without the Island City he could organize only as Class C organization.

Withers called a meeting of the new loop at Houston Sunday.

WIFE IS COMPANION OF ARTIST ON HIS PAINTING TOURS

JOHN ELIOT JENKINS DOES LITTLE FISHING BUT PAINTS AND STUDIES WHEN ON TRIPS

OZARK SCENES SHOWN IN STUDIO OF CITY HALL

Every season of the year in the awe-inspiring Ozarks has been brought to Pampa art lovers by the famous western painter, John Eliot Jenkins. About twenty-five masterful paintings are on exhibit in the city hall studio each afternoon this week through Saturday and each evening during the week except Wednesday.

Mr. Jenkins accompanied by his charming wife, has spent many days in scenic spots, living a simple camp life in order to obtain the pictures. Although she herself does not paint, Mrs. Jenkins is always at the side of the artist, carrying her sewing with her, or finding some other means of diversion. Through her association with Mr. Jenkins and other famed painters, she was secured a rare appreciation of art and the beauties of nature, and can discuss them intelligently with the painters themselves.

"Mr. Jenkins does not care for fishing," his wife said yesterday, and the artist added, "When I go to the Ozarks it is for study, rest, and painting."

Sunlight Pictures Shown
In the collection now at the city hall there are two mid-summer scenes, with floods of sunlight artistically introduced.

Then, in a scene of late summer or early autumn, the unique features of the shallow water, which seems to fairly trickle over the rocks. Leaves in this picture are just beginning to take on the hues of red, yellow, and brown.

The December picture also has its charm, the trees, and the snow-covered, although color is noted in the bank next to a stream of crystal water. In the distance may be seen a rose-colored barn and the indefinite lines of a home, barely visible.

In the lovely springtime picture, the hills, the trees, and the streams all seem to take on new life and blossom into loveliness.

The artist painted one picture of the tent in which he camped, and of the scenery which surrounded it. Even an axe may be seen outside, and the faintest suggestion of a flame is left in the camp fire.

There is also a painting of the hut in which Harold Bell Wright wrote "Shepherd of the Hills," with Muston Hollow visible. The house now is used for a tea-room.

LEGION BAND WILL HOLD ONE PRACTICE

The American Legion band during the winter months, will meet for practice only once a week instead of twice a week, as heretofore, it was announced last night. The band meets for practice each Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Legion hut, C. L. Stine, business manager said.

Frank Hinkley, former Pampa, was in the city last night, and practiced with the band. Hinkley plays the clarinet. He was formerly associated with the Jones-Everett Machine shop and was one of the original band members here.

TEXAS COMMITTEE ON WAY TO CAPITAL

DALLAS, Jan. 12. (P)—Most of the Texas delegation to a meeting of independent oil producers in Washington, headed by Tom E. Crammill of Dallas, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas, left here today for St. Louis where they will be joined by other Texas delegates.

Spokesmen said the oil men would seek a tariff on oil, or failing that, an embargo on crude oil exports, which have been blamed by speakers at many recent meetings of independent operators as the basis for their troubles.

THREE PRINCES COME TO AMERICA TO WORK, MARRY MOVIE STARS

By LORENA HICKOK
NEW YORK, Jan. 12. (P)—Prince Mdivani, late of Tiflis but more recently of Paris was in his youth an aide-de-camp to Czar Nicholas II and in his middle age a general in the Russian imperial army.

If the Soviet had not changed everything the lives of his three handsome princeling sons, David, Serge and Alexis, must inevitably have followed much the same course.

But now we have:

Prince David Mdivani married to Mae Murray, American motion picture star, and giving "husband" as his occupation when speeding in Santa Monica, Cal., a couple of years ago.

Prince Serge Mdivani is engaged in the oil business in California and is claimed by Mary McCormic, American opera singer, as her future husband, the wedding to be celebrated as soon as his divorce from Pola Negri becomes final.

Prince Alexis Mdivani, youngest—and some say handsomest—of the three, engaged to marry Louis Astor Van Allen, great-granddaughter of the late Mrs. William Astor, who once ruled New York society as imperiously as the Mdivanis ever ruled in the Russian state of Georgia.

When Prince Alexis first heard of the American girl who is to be his bride he was attending an exclusive boys' school in England and among his chums were two Americans, "Jimmy and Sammy" Van Allen.

Then everything began to turn topsy turvy. The prince's father, who had won distinction in the imperial army in the early years of the czar's reign, was military governor of the Caucasus when the Russian revolution occurred. Georgia became a republic with his father as a minister of war.

The Bolsheviks arose. The Mdivanis were exiled and their property confiscated. The three young princes had to look about for something to do.

They all came to America.

David married Mae Murray in Hollywood in 1926, with Rudolph Valentino as his best man.

Serge was president of the Georgian Exploration Co., Inc., dealing in oil lands and leases, with offices in Paris and New York, when in 1927, he married Pola Negri.

Alexis on his arrival in America hunted up his schoolmates, the Van Allens, who helped him get a job.

During 1928 and 1929 he courted Louise Van Allen and they were great friends of time at the Van Allen estate at Newport, where they are to be married at Easter time.

After Serge had married Pola Negri in 1927, at her chateau near Paris, and the couple had gone on to Hollywood, somebody expressed a doubt that Serge was a real prince.

Solomon Mdivani, he proved, was the first prince of the line. His title was settled on him by Czar Irakly II of Georgia in 1752, for extraordinary valor in battle.

BRIGGS RELAXING
George W. Briggs was relaxing yesterday after a strenuous week end that included a poultry show, a meeting at Amarillo, attendance at the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce and the regular monthly meeting of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. The only date on his calendar for the week this far being at White Deer, where on Wednesday he will attend a father and son banquet.

800 ARE LISTED
Pampa's list of unemployed attained the 800 mark today, with more than 20 additional names being listed at the employment bureau. Jobs were found for 14 men, eight of these on the railroad. Jobs were found for three women.

Will Cox was dismissed from the Pampa hospital yesterday.

LOCAL EDUCATORS SPEAK AT YOUNG PEOPLE'S GATHERING

R. B. Fisher, superintendent of the Pampa public schools, and A. L. Patrick, principal of Sam Houston school, were speakers for the young people's regional conference held during the past week-end at the First Brethren church, Pampa.

About 50 out-of-town guests were present from Perryton, Spearman, Waka, Greer, Okla., and Clovis, N. Mex.

Mr. Patrick, who spoke at the fellowship banquet on Saturday evening, gave an interesting material based on three words: recognize, analyze and utilize. Recognize the bigger, nobler, more uplifting things of life, analyze them for personal use and utilize them for one's growth and development, the speaker urged.

After a brief worship period Sunday morning a very impressive program, the address of the Rev. H. W. Johns, with Mrs. S. A. Hurst in charge of the program. In answering this question, members particularly praised those women who have been able to do something new, the pioneers in their work.

Mrs. H. D. Lewis gave an interesting discussion of Mary Washington; Mrs. W. A. Crawford told of Julia Ward Howe, and Mrs. Floyd McConnell discussed Lydia M. Child. Mrs. Roy Tinsley told of the life of Botticelli, and showed the group a print of his "Allegory of Spring."

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. Those attending were Mrs. Roy Wiley, Mrs. Roy Tinsley, Mrs. W. S. Tolbert, Mrs. Joe Smith, Mrs. J. R. Spearman, Mrs. Floyd McConnell, Mrs. H. D. Lewis, Mrs. H. W. Johns, Mrs. S. A. Hurst, Mrs. B. E. Pinley, Mrs. W. A. Crawford, Mrs. I. E. Kullman, Mrs. W. E. Coffee, and Mrs. T. H. Barnard.

CHILD STUDY MEMBERS GATHER FOR PROGRAM
Ideals of womanhood which should be placed before girls, formed the basis of a general discussion at a meeting of the Child Study club Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. W. Johns, with Mrs. S. A. Hurst in charge of the program. In answering this question, members particularly praised those women who have been able to do something new, the pioneers in their work.

Mrs. H. D. Lewis gave an interesting discussion of Mary Washington; Mrs. W. A. Crawford told of Julia Ward Howe, and Mrs. Floyd McConnell discussed Lydia M. Child. Mrs. Roy Tinsley told of the life of Botticelli, and showed the group a print of his "Allegory of Spring."

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. Those attending were Mrs. Roy Wiley, Mrs. Roy Tinsley, Mrs. W. S. Tolbert, Mrs. Joe Smith, Mrs. J. R. Spearman, Mrs. Floyd McConnell, Mrs. H. D. Varied Program Is Given At School
Holt Hamlet and Billy Cornelius were presented American Legion medals by Superintendent R. B. Fisher at Friday's chapel exercises at Woodrow Wilson school.

Mrs. H. H. Hicks told the group a fairy story, and the Rev. Smith gave an interesting talk.

For chapel services hereafter the children will be divided into two groups, first, second, and third grades will meet on Tuesdays, and fourth and fifth grades will have chapel on Fridays.

Officers Will Be Elected By Girls
The Order of Rainbow girls will hold its regular meeting Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 7:45 o'clock, at the Masonic hall.

Election of officers will be held, and all members are urged to bring the money for their dues. All East-Enders and Masons are cordially invited to attend.

DE ARMAND VISITS HERE
H. V. DeArmand of Canadian, secretary of the Canadian chamber of commerce, was in Pampa yesterday. He said that he noticed in the Panhandle that communities cooperated more over here than they did in the eastern part of the state. Mr. DeArmand has been secretary of the Canadian organization since February, 1930, coming to the Panhandle from Dallas.

Jean Vogel is improving at the Worley hospital.

WILD BEAUTY

By MATEL HOWE FARNHAM

SYNOPSIS: The implacable hatred of her mother-in-law drives Fanny Frost to run away with Bob Daniels, and to marry another. Fanny's parents and returns, but her mother-in-law, believes her badly and David, her husband, is suspicious. Fanny then goes away for good. A divorce gives David custody of their daughter, Sheila. In New York Fanny finds work as a dressmaker's model, and there also she meets Garrett Wentworth, a publisher, whose wife is an invalid. He falls in love with her. After five years of separation Fanny's hunger to see Sheila impels her to go secretly to see her child. Sheila loves her mother as reawakened. A year later Sheila, now 11, leaves home ostensibly to visit a friend in the country, but fails to arrive.

Chapter 34 STOLEN HAPPINESS

When Fanny came home from work late Saturday afternoon the junior's wife was waiting for her. It was evident that Mrs. Murphy was bursting with excitement. "There's a grand surprise waiting for ye," she said.

By the glow of the red coals in the shining grate Fanny saw that someone was sitting in her big chair. It was a little girl, asleep. It couldn't be, it couldn't be—it was Sheila! Sheila stirred and raised her head. "I got away. You don't mind?" was her anxious greeting.

"Mind? My darling, my darling!" Sheila explained how chance had made it possible for her to have a few days without being missed; how she had left the local train at the Junction and hidden in the waiting room until time for the New York express.

Though they slept late next morning, there was no hurrying through breakfast, no thought, indeed, of anything except to enjoy themselves. It was a day of raptures. First came Mrs. Murphy, while they were still in bed, to make up the fire and inquire whether Mr. Murphy shouldn't be sent after delicacies in honor of their visitor.

"That's an inspiration," cried Fanny. "Tell Mr. Murphy to get a finnan haddie. Do you like finnan haddie, Sheila, blestest?" Sheila did. She also liked strawberry jam, English muffins, home-made melon.

"Anything else?" inquired Fanny anxiously. "I would like a chocolate puff, or a chocolate éclair," ventured Sheila. She had never been consulted thus about her preferences in food, her grandmother being adamant about what was and was not suitable for growing children.

That afternoon they rode on a bus up Riverside drive. In the evening a tall man, Mr. Wentworth, came, bringing Fanny orchids. Sheila's bouquet, with a paper full of Monday morning news, took her daughter to the place where she worked and introduced her to Mr. Hirschberg and seven or eight of the prettiest ladies Sheila had ever seen in her life.

"This is my little girl," was what Fanny said. The tone of her voice, her smile, her radiant bearing, said, "Isn't she a darling? Isn't she the sweetest, dearest, cleverest, most beautiful, adorable, charming child you ever saw?" Mr. Hirschberg patted Sheila on the head, presented her with a dollar, granted Fanny the three days off she asked for.

Sheila's heart had ached hotly at the thought of her mother working for a living, but now she decided that work that meant dressing up every day in a succession of beautiful costumes was something altogether delightful.

"Does Mr. Hirschberg make dresses for little girls?" she asked her mother on leaving. "No, sweetheart. If he did I'd have him make you one."

"I didn't mean that," said Sheila. "I thought—maybe he'd let me be a model too, and you could afford to let me stay with you. I've saved quite a lot—25."

"Blestest!" Fanny choked, squeezed Sheila's hand. It was some time before she could explain that little girls had to do what their fathers said. That was the law—at least in this case.

"But we could hide, couldn't we?" suggested Sheila. "They'd find us—your grand-

SHOWDOWN DUE ON PROPOSALS OF FOOD LOANS

REPUBLICAN LEADERS PLAN TO DEFEAT MEASURE

By CECIL B. DICKSON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. (AP)—The day was opened today for a showdown in the house tomorrow on the senate's $10,000,000 food provision for drought sufferers.

The Republican leaders will move that the house disagree to the senate proposal and send it to conference with the view to its elimination.

Democrats plan to propose that the conferees be instructed to accept it. Administration leaders said, however, they expected their forces successfully to resist such a move.

At the same time Representative La Guardia, New York Republican, plans to propose that the conferees be instructed to vote that whatever if any funds agreed on for food be distributed without limitation as to classes, occupation or residence.

Although President Hoover's approval of a call to the country for $10,000,000 to be contributed to the Red Cross has somewhat curbed the enthusiasm of some proponents of a direct food appropriation, minority leader Garner declared that at least 150 members would vote for the senate proposal.

The house rules committee broke a six-day deadlock in granting legislative right of way to the question of sending the bill to conference.

Shortly after Chairman Spess of the rules committee introduced his measure which could not, under the rules, be acted upon today, Representative Pearl Peden Oldfield in her first speech in the house, supported the senate amendment. She demanded relief for the sick and hungry in Arkansas.

The other woman member from Arkansas—Effie Gene Wingo—presented to the house a telegram from a personal friend describing the recent food disturbance at England, Arkansas.

Another proposal to raise funds for the unemployed and drought stricken was made in a bill by Representative Ackerman, Republican, New Jersey, to print a billion two-cent stamps to sell for three cents, the extra penny to go for a relief fund. He estimated $5,000,000 would be realized within 10 weeks.

SIX SUSPECTS HELD IN CONNECTION WITH MONTGOMERY BANK JOB

had fallen victim to thieves. The burglars broke in through the same section of the wall others entered six months ago.

The safe was cut with an acetylene torch and water water then was forced in, either to float out the currency or to keep the safe from becoming overheated.

An acetylene torch, a pistol and a shotgun were seized at the bungalow.

Five of the suspects, including the woman gave Houston addresses. The sixth said he was from Galveston.

Police believed one of the men taken in custody was Tommy Reis, Galveston jail breaker whose escape cost the life of Jailer Joe Meyer, who was shot down by a Reis confederate, recently. That theory was abandoned shortly afterward.

Cashier C. L. Wilcox of the bank, who arrived during the afternoon, said he had identified "money and other items" confiscated by the police when the six were arrested in a bungalow here, as property of the First State bank at Montgomery, near here.

The bank lost between $4,000 and $5,000 and headquarters here reported that currency and silver recovered from the bungalow. Monday, a police lieutenant said, was "all over the place," when he and his companions entered the house, which had been under surveillance for some time.

The tip which actually led police there, however, came from a neighboring house, by telephone.

It was the third time the bank

MOVE FOR REHEARING ON BLACK TOM CLAIM CASE FOR SABOTAGE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. (AP)—

Charging irregularities in the decision favoring Germany by the German-American mixed claims commission in the Black Tom Sabotage case, American representatives moved today for a rehearing.

In a lengthy brief presented the commission by Robert W. Bonynge, American agent, the United States offered to present new testimony not in conflict with the evidence previously submitted.

The decision of the commission denying the $20,000,000 claim against Germany was published November 14. It was handed down along with that in the so-called Kingsland case involving a similar sum, decided also in favor of Germany.

The American brief in the Black Tom case served notice on the commission also that an attempt would be made by the United States to have the Kingsland case reopened.

The two cases involved were filed during the world war. The American contention was that these were caused by German agents.

Clarence W. Boyden, umpire of the commission concurred with the American and German commissioners in their decisions that there was insufficient evidence to show that this was true.

The American petition was based on three main points. The first one was that the commission "manifestly committed errors in its finding of fact on the evidence submitted; manifestly contributed errors in

For the Red Cross were laid before the house agriculture committee by Representatives La Guardia and Fish, of New York.

No date was set for a hearing. La Guardia proposes an outlay of $30,000,000 while Fish's proposal is for half that amount.

ANOTHER NEGRO IS LYNCHED

A mob placed another "black eye" upon a city in the mid-west as a Maryville, Mo., mob took a negro, charged with assault and murder of a young school teacher, and burned him to death.

The negro is reported to have confessed the crime. His guilt of the crime was no excuse for the mob action in that city. The negro deserved severe punishment for his acts but it was coming to him by the official way.

Mob actions are a disgrace to any city, no matter what the cause of action may be.

PREVENTION OF CRIME IN PAMPA

In the past few months there has been an increase in the number of robberies in and around Pampa. All of these were not caused by men out of work. They were caused by men of illegitimate work.

Trying to cope with the situation, local officers, both city and county, have increased their vigilance at night when the major part of them occur. But, the officers have not been everywhere at the same time.

To stem any possible increase in crime in and around Pampa, some fifty reserve officers have been commissioned to keep down any possible lawlessness. Borger has a past that few people still hold against the city but we do not. It is a good city and we know mayor John R. Miller is trying to create a new and clean city.

Most of the robberies in this city are done by those from other cities who come in for a "flying" job and scatter.

Every time a man that is known to have been connected with a robbery in the past in this city or in any city who lands in this town should either be hustled out of the city in fast order or arrested for vagrancy. If they are in jail it is a cinch they can't rob a store or some person.

If the practice of arresting thugs every time they hit town is maintained, it will tend to make them shy of this city. We don't want that kind of people here.

People's lives and property must be protected and if Pampa needs to put on reserve officers, that should be done.

One commission President Hoover is probably glad he didn't appoint is the New York Boxing Commission.

ALFALFA BILL TAKES OATH AS SOONER CHIEF

COLORFUL PAGENT OF STATE HISTORY AT INAUGURATION

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Oklahomans joined today to inaugurate William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray their ninth Democratic governor.

The white man, the red man and the negro, formed a spontaneous pageant of Oklahoma history as 12,000 of them saw the gaunt, picture-gaunt constitutional author take the oath of office from his 81-year-old father, Colonel Uriah Dow Thomas Murray.

Murray, who already had served notice his administration would be one of the common people with slashing and grim economy, said in an extemporaneous speech he would "walk the highway alone," challenge his enemies, and promised to reform the pardon and parole system.

Just after Murray had defeated the oath of office, Millett Hoy Koy Bitty, Comanche Indian chief, bright in ceremonial costume and paint, confronted him and uttered a prayer in his native tongue, wishing "our great chief" goodspeed and asking justice for all races.

The quiet housewife who became Oklahoma's first lady is one eighth Chickasaw and Murray himself at the inauguration was close to Indian affairs.

In itself the inauguration program was simple. Murray stood on a small platform decorated with a few flags. The colorful crowd was confined to a roped off area before the south steps of the capitol building.

This was "Bill" Murray, who left a Texas cotton patch at the age of 12, made chief executive of Oklahoma.

The former congressman, who returned only recently to the state whose constitution he helped to write after failing to establish an agrarian colony in Bolivia, was swept into office last November with the greatest vote ever given an Oklahoma governor.

A man of simple dress and tastes, outspoken always, he has promised a new departure in Oklahoma government. This state's last two elected executives were impeached and removed.

Telegrams of congratulation poured into the executive offices from high dignitaries but the state's new governor remembered best the faltering words of his father, whispered after the oath had been read: "This is my happiest moment—my next to the time, down under an elm tree, when I got religion."

SEVERAL ARE KILLED IN PAGAN UPRISING

MANILA, Jan. 12.—(AP)—An uprising of 400 religious fanatics in Pagan province, 100 miles north of Manila, was reported quelled today by Philippine constabulary with undetermined loss of life.

At least three towns people of Tayug, were killed yesterday when the savages burned the constabulary barracks, the postoffice and ten other buildings. The American flag, stripped from the city hall, was burned by the fanatics, who wore inscription band reading: "We want the Filipino flag alone to fly in the Philippines."

CANAL ZONE BORDER GUARDED DURING REVOLT

To the American state department, it was not "just another revolution" when President Francisco Franco's army, of Panama, and his government were ousted by a sudden rebel uprising, in which nine persons were killed and fourteen, including an American newspaperman, were wounded. For it was feared that safety of the Panama Canal and residents of the Canal Zone might be threatened. Pictured above is a scene at the Canal Zone border, closely guarded by U. S. troops on the right and by volunteer Panamanian guards on their side of the line. Both were on guard against further outbreaks.

NEGRO BURNED TO DEATH FOR GIRL KILLING

ANGERED MOB TAKES NEGRO TO SCHOOL FOR LYNCHING

By J. H. ANDERSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) MARYVILLE, Mo., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Raymond Gunn, negro, chained to the ridgepole of a little white country schoolhouse, died in flames today, victim of a mob's vengeance.

Neither civilian officers nor a national guard battery, mobilized to protect him, interfered after those who resorted to lynch law had wrested Gunn, confessed murderer, from the automobile of Sheriff Harve England and marched and dragged him three miles to the school.

There, eye witnesses said, he was taken to the place where the battered, partly nude and violated body of Veima Colter, 19 year old school teacher, had been found and made to repeat a confession of complicity in her death.

The schoolroom furniture was piled about the building. Gunn was forced to mount a ladder to the roof and crawl to the ridgepole. Shingles were removed to permit him to be fastened by chains to the rafters of the building. Roof, floors and furniture were drenched with gasoline and a moment later a burst of flame reached the negro.

The victim waved at the mob once before the flames reached his flesh. He screamed and screamed until he perished.

In his final confession at the schoolhouse, the negro introduced the name of Paul (Shike) Smith, 28, a negro hunting companion, and sought to place part of the blame for the actual clubbing of the teacher on him. Smith has disappeared since Gunn's arrest.

"C" battery, 126th field artillery, had been mobilized on orders of A. V. Adams, adjutant general of Missouri, to assist Sheriff England in protecting Gunn and his members were in the nearby armory, waiting for the sheriff's orders when the negro was removed from the car of the sheriff at the courthouse.

Captain Ed. Condon, commanding "C" battery, said the unit was under orders to act only on request of the sheriff.

"We were powerless to move," he added, "unless ordered to do so by Sheriff England. We left the armory at 3 p. m. without hearing from the sheriff. That was hours after the lynching."

The 63-year-old sheriff was at home in bed, suffering, he said from a sprained back and arm resulting from his encounter with the mob. He said: "It's too bad it happened but there were just too many of them for us."

Citizens said there were several hundred about the courthouse when a group of men, wearing no masks or other disguise, seized the negro. A rope was placed about Gunn's body and the leaders took the sheriff's handcuffs to manacle him. No shot was fired, no weapon brandished.

As the march through the streets of Maryville began, the crowd grew rapidly to about 2,000. Gunn was pulled along, then dragged as he hung back. Long before the school was reached he was stripped to the waist. His shoes were lost as he was dragged. He talked volubly and protesting about the crime but there was disagreement among those who heard as to what he said.

The crowd of people and automobiles around the scene of the lynching extended a mile along the roads in each of four directions.

Virgil Rathbun, nodaway county prosecutor, said he did not care to discuss what action he might take against leaders of the mob.

NO TRACE IS FOUND OF TEXAS AVIATORS

GALVESTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—No trace had been found late today of Lieut. Jonathan Grasty, 25 year old pilot and his passenger, Corporal Schuchman, 28, both members of the 13th squadron third attack group, missing since last night.

Twenty-five planes of the Fort Crockett attack group were making an intensive search of the area between Galveston and Matagorda Bay, the last point where the aviator or was seen. Lieut. Grasty and his passenger took off Saturday for Brownsville and were returning to Fort Crockett yesterday afternoon after tooping at the attack group's hunting grounds at Matagorda.

The coast guard cutter Saranac cruised about the waters of the bay in an effort to trace the lost aviators and all vessels in the vicinity have been asked to be on the lookout.

MAN KIDNAPED AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Austin police tonight listened to the story of W. H. Stroud, 54 year old salesman, that he was kidnaped and drugged yesterday. The Stroud home was burned to the ground shortly after Stroud disappeared late yesterday.

Stroud was found wandering on a San Antonio street. He told police there several men invaded his home and threatened to kidnap his six-year-old daughter unless they were paid $1,000, and then he was drugged and taken away from Austin. Stroud's daughter was with her grandmother when the fire occurred.

CONOCO

Starting that's swift... starting that's safe, because this free-flowing oil never leaves working parts..... CONOCO GERM PROCESSED PARAFFIN BASE MOTOR OIL

Tomorrow morning, as you step hopefully on the starter, will there be a slow disappointing groan, as it tugs at your unwilling motor? Or, will there come a swift responsive roar?

If you're having trouble starting, you're probably using an old-type oil that congeals at temperatures well above freezing. You should change to Conoco Germ-Processed.

But that's not all! To ward off the wear that these prolonged starting periods bring, you want an oil which provides instant lubrication at the first reluctant revolution of a cold motor. And there's just one oil which can do that! Because there is just one lubricant which penetrates metal surfaces and never drains away in idle periods. Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil is that one lubricant. Change to this motor oil with twin advantages for winter use... 35 cents per quart for all grades at the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle.

CHICAGO GRAND JURY RETURNS INDICTMENT ON ST LOUIS GUNMAN

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A tall young man—cold-eyed, tight-lipped—stood before Judge Philip Finnegan today and heard a grand jury indict him for the murder of Alfred Lingle, Tribune reporter.

He is Leo Brothers, St. Louis gunman whose capture was hailed by the authorities here as the successful culmination of the seven months search for the daring assassin who shot down the newspaperman amid home-going throngs in a pedestrian tunnel under Michigan boulevard.

Handcuffed, he was led from the court building across the courtyard to the jail, where a mild-mannered, neatly dressed woman waited for the son she had not seen in 17 months.

"One look at Leo," she told Warden David Moneypenny, "and I'll know whether he is innocent or guilty."

And then the prisoner entered amid a squad of guards. The cold lost its chill, the tight lips softened, the air of bravado faded. And then:

"Ho've you been, mom?" The mother, Mrs. Cordell Jessen, made no effort to conceal her emotion. Brothers, meanwhile, sought to hide his face from photographers. He was allowed to confer with his attorneys and then was taken back to his cell, in the county jail.

"One look into his eyes, said the mother, "convinced me that he is innocent."

The true bill charging him with murder was returned at 5 o'clock and two minutes later the grand jury returned the indictment before Acting Chief Justice Finnegan. Three witnesses were called: Otto Svoboda, and Warren Williams, said to have been eye witnesses to the killing, and Police Captain John Steese, former deputy commissioner in charge of detectives, who established the corpus delicti.

Brothers was asked by reporters to make a statement and his attorney advised him to do as he pleased.

"Well," he said, "there's only one thing I want to say. I didn't know Lingle—I never saw him or heard of him—until I was arrested. I was held for four days until I knew what it was all about. And that's what I told my mother."
