ALMA RUBENS DIES AFTER SIXTY HOURS IN STATE OF COMA

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21. (AP)—Alma Rubens, former motion picture actress, died tonight from pneumonia after 60 hours of unconsciousness.

Death came unexpectedly at 7:40 p. m., after three physicians had announced two hours previously Miss Rubens had shown some slight improvement during the day.

At the bedside were her mother, Mrs. Theresa Rubens and her sister Mrs. Hazel Lange of Madera, Cal., who had rushed here on learning of her sister's illness.

Miss Rubens had not been active in motion picture circles for over a year. Victim of a narcotic habit, the brunette, who once ranked with the highest in Hollywood film circles, fought an uphill battle against the habit which had taken hold of her.

During the summer she was placed in a state institution to be cured, and later was released and apparently was on her way to complete recovery.

Then, last month, she was arrested in San Diego by federal officers on a narcotic charge. She was bound over to the district federal court for trial, and was free on bail at the time of her death.

SOVIET RUSSIA IS SUFFERING OF GREATEST LABOR SHORTAGE IN ITS INDUSTRIAL HISTORY

NEED TWO MILLION TO MAINTAIN 5 YEAR PROGRAM

By VICTOR EUBANK
MOSCOW, Jan. 21. (AP)—Soviet Russia, facing in these days of world unemployment the greatest labor shortage in its history, is openly sounding the battle cry "only those who work may eat."

A million and a half more men are employed in industry today than a year ago, but another two million are necessary to carry out this year's portion of the famous five-year industrialization plan.

The government, therefore, is studying every possible means of developing the last ounce of energy from the tolling masses.

While the term "forced labor" is anathema to the Communist authorities, who characterize such a description as "nonsense", the various commissariats have issued many orders with regard to slackers, prescribing all sorts of punishments for those failing to cooperate in socialistic construction.

The railroads have been hardest hit by the lack of workers.

So serious has the situation become in the national transport that the government has ordered every man in Russia who has worked on the roads in the last five years to return immediately to his old job.

Recently plans were prepared to draft housewives and other women into industry by building more communal kitchen apartments, thus freeing the feminine population from what is described as "the old fashioned unskilled duties."

As a result of the government's campaign, the abandonment by any Russian of his job is considered almost a counter-revolutionary crime. Millions of factory workers and others have been induced by their unions to sign pledges to stick to their individual jobs until the five-year plan is completed.

An American recently cast about for a secretary who could speak English. He found her. She had been working with technicians in the Ural Metal Trust.

She applied to her union for release but was informed that under no circumstances would she be released until the five year plan was accomplished.

A comparison of Soviet wages with those in America is difficult, for the laborer here who gets three rubles about $1.50 a day gets living quarters and other privileges which are intended to make his wage go a long way.

Skilled workers get all the way from $15 to $25 a month, some engineers much more. But with each wage or salary go food, clothing, rooms and privileges which are supposed to take care of every good Socialist.

SIAMESE TWINS WIN FIRST MOVE IN SUIT AGAINST EX-GUARDIAN

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 21. (AP)—Daisy and Violet Hilton, Siamese twins, won their first victory today in their suit against Myer Myers, their former guardian, and his wife, when Judge W. W. McCrory, after a hearing in district court, issued a mandatory injunction, directing Myers to turn over $35,000 in bonds to Joe Freeman, receiver. The securities were held in Myers' name.

The order concerned only the plaintiffs' request for a receivership, preliminary to their suit for cancellation of a 10-year contract held by Myers, under which he was directing vaudeville appearances of the twins. Also, there was pending action on application for a permanent injunction to restrain Myers or his wife from interfering with them in any way.

The court ordered that Freeman arrange all contracts for the girls while the litigation is pending. A receiver had been asked to take charge of more than $200,000 worth of property claimed by the Hiltons. They testified they had not been allowed to handle any of the money they earned by stage appearances. Violet station she and her sister had not heard that Myers had been designated as their guardian until it was revealed in court. She said they had signed many papers not knowing what the documents were. She told the court they were afraid of Myers.

DODGER CAGERS TO MEET LEFORS ON COURT TONIGHT

PAMPA CREWS LOSE GAMES WITH LEFORS

GORILLAS NOSED OUT BY 16-15 SCORE; NUBBINS 26-13

For the third time this season, the Miracle City's All-Stars will meet the LeFors Ramblers on the LeFors court at 8 o'clock tonight. The Borger cagers and the LeFors team have each won one game from each other, and tonight's contest will probably settle whether or not the old capital of Gray has the better basketball team.

Starting lineup of the Ramblers has been announced as Connor and Flynn, forwards; Schone, center; Hieronimus and Clark, guards. Thomas, forward, is another member of the Ramblers.

Next Thursday, the Ramblers have scheduled a game with a Miami team at Miami.

Pampa's Gorillas and Nubbins lost their game to the LeFors basketball team at LeFors Tuesday night, the Nubbins losing 26 to 13, and the Gorillas being nosed out 16 to 15.

Return games have been matched by the Gorillas and Nubbins with the LeFors team for Tuesday night at Pampa. Tonight the local teams and scheduled to play the Panhandle reserves at Panhandle.

Better playing was done by both the local teams at LeFors, Tuesday night. Coach Workman had his Gorillas playing a passing instead of a dribbling game. The Gorillas had the LeFors cagers on the jump all through the game.

The LeFors team was composed of their first string men, with a few substitutes, their entire squad numbering about 12. Against such experienced opponents, the Nubbins and Gorillas were handicapped.

Starting lineup of the Gorillas; Woodward and Heard, forwards; Max Marbough, center; Kitchens and Stout, guards. Substitutes: Blanton, center, and Howard, guard.

Starting lineup of the Nubbins; Rogers and McDuffie, forwards; Heskell and Woodward, guards. Both coaches took as many players on the trip. All of the Gorillas were in LeFors Tuesday night.

INVESTIGATION INTO OKLAHOMA PROPRATION INITIATED BY HOUSE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 21. (AP)—Sweeping investigations by the legislature into all phases of oil production and laws relating to the oil industry, into state departments and into the business and personal affairs of state senators, were initiated today in the Oklahoma legislature with introduction of regulations.

A resolution, introduced in the house asked a full investigation by the house oil and gas committee of production as well as "the purposes and motives of those interested in legislation concerning the oil and gas industry in Oklahoma." Its author, David Logan, Democrat, Oklahoma, chairman of the oil and gas committee, asked this committee be clothed with investigative powers.

Earlier in the afternoon a resolution by James Babb, authorizing the committee to subpoena witnesses and records and to go into any or all state institutions and departments. Babb said he did not know which department would be investigated first. He will confer with Governor W. H. Murray, who requested an inquiry.

In the senate, Senator Alvin Moore, Democrat, Okemah, asked for a resolution that "every senator be required to file with the president of the senate for public inspection statements showing whether he had received fees or gifts, or borrowed money from corporations in the last 12 months, whether he had hidden on passes and if so by whom issued; whether he had been employed by a corporation; whether he had relatives on the state payroll and if so their salaries, positions and duties.

PARIS, Tex., Jan. 21. (AP)—B. B. Sturgeon, 66, prominent attorney and former state senator, died tonight at his home after a long period of ill health.

GOLF ASSOCIATION HEAD LIKES LARGE BALL NOW ADOPTED

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor) (NEW YORK, Jan. 21. (AP)—From the window on the twenty-third floor, we could see the sleek beating down on the rocky peaks and the chimney pots of mid-town Manhattan. Cold, miserable weather without but within the discussion turned to golf, the warmth of talk about playing under the palms—and the new ball.

"What's all the shooting for about this new ball?" inquired stolidly, genial and practical-minded Herbert Hartley Ramsay, one-time captain of the Andover Golf team, one-time manager of the Yale football team, president of the United States Golf association.

He referred to the new lighter and larger golf ball, standardized this year by the U. S. G. A.—the sphere that is 1.55 ounces in weight, 1.68 inches in diameter as contrasted with the old regulations ball having 1.62 inches and weighing 1.62 ounces.

"Somehow or other," continued Ramsay, "many golfers have the idea this new ball has just been brought out of a hat as a trick to make things harder for them. I feel complaints that it cuts off too much distance. I hear it won't putt and does tricks."

"The fact is that the new golf ball adopted by the U. S. G. A. is the result of nearly seven years of exhaustive, disinterested study and development.

"It does not handicap the long or the medium or the short hitter. It gives better lies through the fairway, it is, on the whole, easier to handle around the greens."

"We started to work on this ball in 1922, the year after the 1.62 size was standardized, for the sake of having a uniform ball. Up to that time there was no standard."

"Over a year ago we decided to adopt the new ball, anyway, but served a year's notice so as to allow sufficient time for the manufacturers to make the switch."

"I felt sure that complaints would vanish as soon as the great army and navy of golfers gets to know and appreciate the new ball. It won't cure a hook or a slice or do anything miraculous. It still will be necessary to hit the ball properly to get results, but the new size will have many advantages over the old."

"I have been interested in the showing of the professionals since the first of the year. A few complained at first that they lost some distance. They have changed the scores. If you have noticed, the scores tend to be about the same; concerned about the average player is concerned, much better."

THURNBLAD SCORES SECOND VICTORY

CHICAGO, Jan. 21. (AP)—Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago, a long shot in pre-tournament calculations, stroked his way to the front of the eight player field in the world's championship three cushion struggle today by chalking up his record straight victory.

Thurnblad started yesterday by defeating Tiff Denton, former champion from Kansas City, and followed through today by winning a hard fought match from D. J. Jacobs of St. Louis, Southern champion, 50 to 42, in 54 innings. His victories put him one up on Otto Reisel of Philadelphia and Allen Hall of Chicago, who captured their opening matches yesterday.

Denton climbed into fifth place by winning his second match today from Frank Scoville of Buffalo, the eastern champion, 50 to 41, in 60 innings. Scoville, who started the tournament by upsetting Johnny Layton of Sedalia, Mo., the defending champion, who has lost two matches in a row and landed in sixth place.

No definite date has been set for the trial of Ace Pendleton, Judge Clifford Bray said last night. However, Pendleton may be brought to trial within the next two weeks.

hooks and slides
william braucher

There is something distressing and unforgettable in the picture of a man weeping. That is why, after all, one should really feel a little sorry for Jack Sharkey.

After Sharkey had landed a wild left below Schmeling's beltline last summer, he went to his dressing room and cried.

"I'll never be champion," he kept repeating between sobs.

SHADOW-BOXING
Sharkey cast his lot with the New York Boxing commission and loyally stuck to them. He was offered a bout with Camera in Chicago at a time when it would pack them in.

As a reward, he is left in the cold, with only himself to box with, that is, if you except his verbal jousts with Jack Dempsey.

ALPS GET IN FREE
Stribling deserves a crack at the title, of course, despite not a few fights that have been most unsatisfactory. Max is the champion, foul or fair, until the title is taken away from him in the ring. But doesn't the Portable Alp get in there pretty cheap?

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
Max Baer, they say, is going the way of all flesh along the big Incandescent Canyon... making the night clubs and all that... a certain type of femme goes for him in a big way... in his bout with Tom Heaney he didn't look so good... he told MacDon Square Garden authorities that three weeks between a Heaney and Risko bout wouldn't be time enough for him to train... on the face of his showing against the old Crusader Rock, Baer would be lemon-cream pie for Risko... several people interested in his career have tried to tell him he is on the wrong track... but he is one of those whom bitter experience only will teach... and he gets on his muscle when he is advised. Not a bad heavyweight prospect, say the boys, but he will never go anywhere... there have been others like him.

Entirely outside the picture stands the Boston sailor. In justice to him, he is a pretty fair fighter, too, from his ears down.

But from the ears up? Well, he has managed to do the wrong thing consistently. He turned his head to squawk and Dempsey knocked him out. He had beaten Schmeling to a frazzle until that left went astray.

NO SPLITTING OF PRIZES IN TEXAS EVENT

SAN ANTONIO OPEN TO START NEXT WEEK ACROSS GREENS

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer) (DALLAS, Jan. 21. (AP)—There will be no pre-arranged splitting of prize money in the Texas open golf tournament at San Antonio next week if Jack O'Brien, red-headed champion of the event, has anything to do with it. The boys, he declares, will split it out fair and square and pocket exactly what they win.

It pained Mr. O'Brien to learn that George Von Elm, the well-known businessman-golfer, and Jimmy Golden, veteran professional had agreed to split first and second prizes in the again Caliente tournament before they engaged in their 18-hole "playoff."

"There will be no purse-splitting of that sort in the Texas open only over my cold and rigid corps," Mr. O'Brien was quoted. Such an agreement, O'Brien declared, removes the sporting angle from a tournament and is unfair to the promoters and the merchants of a city who guarantee the purse. He felt it would greatly impair the receipts, since sportsmen would stay away in great number if they felt such a play-off was cut-and-dried.

Just what steps he will take to prevent an "understanding in the court of a play-off at San Antonio, Jack O'Brien was unwilling or unable to reveal. But he is dead set on something. First prize at San Antonio will be $1,500; second $750.

Most of the field that competes in the Alamo City is expected to drop down to Harlingen next week end for that city's first annual event. Prizes aggregated $3,600 have been posted. The 72-hole event will be played over Harlingen's new municipal course, completed only a year ago. It is said to be a sporty layout.

JONES, JOHNSON VIE IN OTHER SPORTS

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 21. (AP)—Bobby Jones, the four-way golf champion and Jimmy Johnson, former amateur champion, are great home state boosters. For years they have vied with each other—and right now the match is all square.

When Bobby was in Minnesota for the National open at Interlachen last summer, Jimmy undertook to prove what he had said about Minnesota as a great fishing state. One bright morning he told Bobby into a boat on Lake Minnetonka, assuring him plenty of black bass would be caught.

Bobby got a splendid burn on his neck, and during the tournament it was so sore he could scarcely turn his head. Two fish, a small bass and a pickerel, was the total catch.

Last week Jimmy went to Atlanta. Bobby prevailed on him to stay one day longer than he had intended for a quail shoot, assuring him plenty of quail would be shot.

"The bag was two quail," "And that," said Jimmy, "makes us all even."

AMERICAN TENNIS MEN WIN MATCHES

MONTREAL, Jan. 21. (AP)—Four leading tennis players from the United States, led by George Lott, who is defending his title, and a number of less famous racket wielders, won their first round matches in the Canadian indoor tennis championships today.

Not one of the four stars, Lott, Berkeley Bell of Texas and New York, J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., and Eddie Jacobs, of Baltimore and the University of Pittsburgh, lost more than three games in winning straight set victories over Canadian rivals.

GOOD COACH

COACH BURTON

CANYON, Jan. 21. (Special)—Coach Sam Burton, who has coached the West Texas State Teachers college cage teams for the past nine years, and who has probably set a national record over that period, winning 160 out of 191 games played, has probably outdone himself this year.

Without a single regular from last year's team and with a scant representation from last year's reserves, he has developed a team that at this stage of the season appears to be the strongest he has ever developed.

With the close of football this past season, Coach Burton called all basketball men out, and with the experienced men reporting, the Buff mentor was none too cheerful, the result of which caused him to be given the moniker of "Sad Sam," which seems to have stuck with most sport writers of this section.

Opening the season, "Sad Sam" and his outfit split a two game series with the Baylor Bears, then handed two drubbings to Panhandle A and M, and Texas Mines respectively. Then journeyed to Lubbock and knocked its antagonists over for two encounters, and then on January 17, met the Phillips '66' team of Bartlesville, Okla., a team made up of all-American men, and held the all-stars to a 30 to 23 game. If the Buffs continue at their present pace they will have to be reckoned with in the final standing of the T. I. A. A.

HUNTER JOINS RANKS OF PRO NET PLAYERS

NEW YORK, Jan. 21. (AP)—Francis T. Hunter, former doubles partner of William T. Tilden, member of the United States Davis Cup team and second ranking tennis player in the United States for the past two years, decided today to follow his friend and partner into the professional tennis ranks.

Hunter announced today he would make his debut as a professional along with Tilden in Madison Square Garden Feb. 18. No arrangements have been made for a match for Hunter on the day when Tilden will play Karel Kozeluh, the famous Czechoslovakian professional. He will not be able to accompany Tilden on his professional tour, but will play in the east whenever his other interests permit. Hunter is engaged in the publishing business in New Rochelle, N. Y.

A veteran player, famed for his powerful drives, Hunter never has been able to scale the peak of National championship. On two occasions he was runner up, carrying the colors of the United States against Henri Cochet of France in the 1928 finals. He was placed second in the national rankings in both years.

Ermer Reed of Dalhart was a business visitor here Wednesday.

About New York
 By RICHARD MASSOCK
 NEW YORK—Columbia university is a massive capital of learning, one of the greatest in America.
 And, like other universities, it has students who are working their way to degrees.
 How, then, has the employment situation been during the past year among the student workers of Columbia?
 Well, to begin with, a large textbook publisher has hired some students to record their voices on phonograph records to be used in teaching English in the Philippines.
 Likewise, several students from Europe and the Far East have had their syllables recorded for the talking pictures, to be used in advertising a popular make of small cars abroad.
ODD JOBS
 One scholar was hired to give a series of lectures on modern literature to a group of executives of the American Telephone and Telegraph company; another to educate the members of a church along a similar line.
 A large department store employed 100 students to count the traffic in its aisles. A newspaper used a dozen more to take a census of its readers on the commuting trains.
 One medical student was employed as week-end nurse to a group of monkeys, subjects of yellow fever experimentation at the Rockefeller Institute.
 A Japanese was required to explain a collection of Japanese prints to a person who had just inherited them. A young woman was paid to pack a trunk for a Manhattanite who was sailing abruptly for Europe.
 A little son of the rich received a chemical set for Christmas, and a Columbia freshman was engaged to teach him how to use it. A blind man sent for a tutor in history and literature and shortly made him his companion and financial secretary.
 A varsity fencer was hired by a dramatic club to prepare the principals for a duel scene.
 Other students were theater ushers, floorwalkers, process servers, dress models, movie critics and dancing teachers, besides those who,
 of course, carried lunchroom trays and performed the more usual tasks of young men and women laboring for learning.

 that pressed against the windows

 The Harmonica band and the Junior orchestra of Sam Houston school accounted for most of the spectators. There were 13 members in the orchestra and 45 in the Har-

BRADY DENIED REHEARING ON MURDER TRIAL

MUST SERVE SENTENCE OF THREE YEARS IN PENITENTIARY
 AUSTIN, Jan. 21. (AP)—The motion of John W. Brady of Austin, former civil appeals court judge, for a rehearing of his appeal was denied today by the court of criminal appeals. Brady had appealed from a jury decision assessing him three years imprisonment for the killing of Miss Lehlia Highsmith, capital stenographer, and the appellate court had affirmed the verdict.
 The appellate court's decision today probably means Brady must begin serving his sentence as the court seldom grants a second motion for rehearing. The mandate ordering the Dallas county district court in which he was tried to take him into custody is to be mailed Friday.
 Brady was charged with murder after he had stabbed Miss Highsmith to death the night of November 9, 1929. The case attracted national attention, the trial in Travis county ended in a hung jury.
 Brady pleaded insanity caused by chronic alcoholism. Judge O. S. Latimore wrote today opinion. He said the trial court was well within its discretion in allowing Dr. Lee Edens Austin city health officer, to testify that in his opinion and from his observation and conversation, Brady was sane.
 Another alleged murderer received a decision unfavorable to him when the court denied the petition of Clyde Thompson of Eastland county under sentence of death for permission to file a second motion for rehearing.
 Thompson was assessed the death

 A jury in district court at Eastland found Thompson sane after his father had filed an affidavit expressing the belief his son had become insane since the trial.
 Woodrow Davis, the state's chief witness, testified that Thompson, then 18, killed the Shooks with a gun he had taken from the Davis home and that the only explanation he gave was, "I wanted to see them kick."

THE NEW ERA OF TEXAS INDUSTRIES
 The possibilities to which industries in Texas can be developed are greater than in most states of this nation. Texas is awakening and in the last few years has been going ahead and gaining an industrial name.
 Natural resources in this state are such that they will last for years if carefully handled. In the eastern part of the state are thousands of acres of timber. Along the gulf coast the shipping industry is increasing every year. In most areas there is petroleum and the Panhandle oil and gas fields are in the lead right now.
 The greatest part of the sulphur used in the world comes from wells in southern Texas. While the great cattle areas are diminishing considerable, there are still ranges that feed thousands of cattle to be sold to the world markets.
 Agriculture is gaining headway, especially in the Panhandle, which was formerly occupied by ranches. Some land in this section not being used in drilling for oil is being planted in wheat. But there are still millions of acres of land that has never been broken in this locality.

THE TEXAS WEEKLY: "An economic awakening is in process in Texas. Probably it may be said with a large degree of truth that it is being born of economic necessity. But the signs are unmistakable that Texas is beginning to take thought of its economic status, to delve into the matter of causes, and to cast about for ways and means of effecting improvements."

Governor Ross Sterling in his inaugural address characterized agricultural as the "backbone of civilization," and said that Texas, "through development of agriculture and other natural resources, should first start building Texas."
 As for the development of the Panhandle, we see many things for the future. Great gas pipe line and crude oil lines are under construction at the present time to furnish a direct outlet from 500 to nearly 2,000 miles away. New oil pools and gas fields are being found in this section. Several rail extensions are under construction leading into the Panhandle and others are being considered. New towns are springing into being along the railroads. Many people of other states are moving into the Panhandle to make their homes in this new land of promise.

From the last census figures, we can see how few people lived in the Panhandle ten years ago, in comparison with the many more thousands there are here now. We have the natural resources. What are we going to do with them? In this section of the state we have developed them to a partial extent but the limit is far from reached. Let us build up Texas and show the "silk stocking" states of the east how to make an impression on the industrial world.

Worst Cough Cured Overnight By New Remedy
 Three well-known specialists have recently perfected a marvelous new remedy for coughs, which stops the severest spells almost instantly, and often clears up a stubborn, deep cough overnight. People who have hardly been able to sleep at night for coughing, rest all night without a break, after the first few doses.
 The new discovery is known as Mentodene, and is based upon a new way of taking menthol internally in a pleasant-tasting liquid. Everybody knows how menthol, even when inhaled, clears out the pipes, soothes soreness, loosens phlegm, relieves congestion and kills a cough quickly. When taken internally in this new combination with other healing ingredients coming in direct contact with the irritated and congested throat lining, it is 10 times more effective than when used merely as a spray inhaler, or ointment.
 Furthermore, Mentodene at once works its way all through the system, clearing out from the inside the cough, cold, bronchitis poisons that cause that miserable headache fever, etc., and bring up the entire system. The result is that a cough that has hung on for weeks goes in a short time.
 Make this amazing overnight test yourself without risking a penny. Get a bottle of Mentodene today from your druggist and take as directed. No matter how severe your cough or how long you have had it, if you do not have a thoroughly comfortable and cough-free night and if you don't feel 100% better in the morning, manufacturer refunds your money. Be sure to start today. —Adv3

by ETHEL HUESTON © 1930 THE BOBBS-MERRILL CO.

"Oh, Ginger!" cried Patty Sears. "Its just precious! How did you ver think of it?"

GINGER ELLA TOLLIVER was bored. Ginger's father was a minister, and her stepmother a very wealthy woman, but life in the little town of Red Thrush, Iowa, ran too slowly to suit Ginger and her set.

When 24 hours the farm had been bought for $1,500, and the organization of the Junior Country club was under way.

for the flames. The English oak pieces were quite as good as new, "better," crowed Ginger, "because the older the antique."

with tools for labor—brooms and hammers, hoes and rakes — and ready to take orders. And waiting for them at Mill Rush was Ginger Ella, burning up with orders to give.

Walter Main the schoolhouse janitor who had stayed up half the night to give the building its weekly cleaning according to his contract with the school board, in order that he might join the staff at Mill Rush bright and early on Saturday morning, was put in charge of the younger boys and girls to clean up the grounds.

The old boys organized what they called a "road gang" to hurry up work on the road, and the girls, having discarded everything — designed for the big fire, were noisily adjusting the furniture inside.

Carpenters, plasterers and masons were busy at work on the road, and the girls, having discarded everything — designed for the big fire, were noisily adjusting the furniture inside.

plumbers were at work all over the place. A tennis court was being laid out under the supervision of Eddy Jackson in one of the choice garden plots, and Wesley Meeker, whose vacation was not yet over, was superintending the layout of hammocks and swings.

"Oh, Ginger!" cried Patty Sears. "Its just precious! How did you ever think of anything so nice?" "Oh," explained Ginger lightly, "I always get bright ideas when I'm bored."

The donation committee had succeeded beyond her fondest hopes. Bedding and linens sufficient to supply the entire house had been secured. Joplin Westbury contributing a dozen brand-new sheets and six pillows from his big store — only slightly stained, they were, from window display.

Phil promised an old grand piano and a new radio. The Ladies' Country Club donated a silver service of plated silver. The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church in collaboration with the Ladies' societies of the other two churches provided dishes.

Eddy Jackson gave a detreppid buzz and an old sorrel mare. An old favorite, that mare, in the family of Eddy Jackson, as her first errand in their household had been to bring the nurse who officiated at the arrival of Eddy himself, and it was in her honor that she was called "Mrs. Carter" for ever after.

Cells and pantries of every home within miles were scoured for donations of food, vegetables, canned fruits and bottled drinks. All of these demands and countless others, met with a cheerful response. Many had children already of proper age for membership and wished to curry immediate favor.

Those with ineligible "infants" were looking to the future and as Ginger said, "nobody is quite without hope," which principle doubtless explained why the Donation Committee met with no refusal.

The formal organization of the club was extremely informal. It followed a private frankfurter roast on the last night of Wesley Meeker's vacation, and was attended by Ginger and Patty Sears, Ben and Jenky Brooks and Eddy Jackson, with Wesley as the guest of honor. Ginger Ella sat at the table with an immense notebook and a very fat fountain pen.

experience with them. But in the end her practical nature triumphed and she decided to retain them as sleeping apartments, looking forward to future week-end parties.

Ginger saw no reason to bother with the old attic, as it was a queer ungainly affair, jutting off into curiously shaped corners under the gables. But Dab had ideas of his own about it.

"When you come into your money," he said firmly, "you'll want a lot of servants here, and that'll give accommodations for four."

The grounds were badly grown up in brush and weeds, but she counted on the high school boys to take care of that, depending on a judicious application of flattery for payment in full.

By eight o'clock on Saturday morning the road to Mill Rush was a stream of traffic, cars, delivery wagons, trucks, bicycles, two ponies and a saddled old fire horse—all crowded to running-board or handle-bars with boys and girls from middle high school age up to the early twenties. Each was armed

She immediately appointed a donation committee, headed by Patty Sears, whose gentleness was an instant recommendation to parents, to make the rounds of the town soliciting contributions for the Junior Country club—donations of furniture, linens, bedding and, as an after-thought, food.
