

START ON JURY FOR THOMPSON

Panhandle Oil Operators Will Session In Pampa Tonight

It looks like the government of the G. O. P. is hatching a big plot in behalf of the next presidential campaign. If the various aid plans are not speeded up, they will be worked out just before the coming election, when prosperity will have returned of its own accord anyway.

As a rule, when a woman uses for redress she means quite a number of evening gowns.

It's terrible, positively terrible. Almee McPherson cannot think of anything to get publicity except her quarterly "breakdowns." A good publicity agent is worth his cost—if you can afford one.

Government aid through payment of a considerable part of the veterans' adjusted compensation certificates would be a substantial help not only to the veterans, but to the country as well. Much money would be put into circulation and at the same time the government would be discharging one of its obligations. That is why the Pampa Legion post is backing the move to secure payment of the certificates.

A newspaper is kicking because citizens insist on watering the sidewalks as well as the laws. The Pampa will make no such complaint in Pampa next summer. He urges every family to coax a lawn into existence, and suggests that an early reduction in water rates for such purposes would be a good move.

After being bent to kind for a considerable period, the average household can look rather generously toward the knight of the highway who asks for only a handful.

The re-districting bill leaves the Panhandle intact, as it should be, as Clint C. Small told the News-Post a few weeks ago he would insist upon its being. The eighteen districts include Dallas, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipcomb, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson Gray, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Farmer, Castro, Swisher, Breckinridge, Hall, Childress, Motley, and Cottle.

The nineteenth district would include the counties of Bailey, Lamb, Cochran, Hale, Floyd, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Knox, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Andrews, and Martin.

There are often two sides to a question. So it is with the proposed auto drivers' license law. The merits of this bill have been pointed out previously. An objection logically raised is that we already have a law against driving by minors, an age limit. We have a law against speeding. We have a statute against driving while intoxicated. The proposed law would legislate against the freedom of the masses because a few, relatively, break the laws we have. If the present laws were enforced, the new ones would be unnecessary. The question is whether the proposed measure would be more effective.

The Pampa is strong for the passage of really vital bills, but not for just any measure which may be concocted. There ought to be a law to a victor's attitude. The multiplicity of law lowers possibility of enforcing what we have and adds to court congestion. We need fewer and better laws, not simply more of them.

Unless laws are relatively simple, the attending of one of them tends to involve devious complexities. In other words, the mere selection of a phrase in a law may seem desirable, yet if this is done there is a possibility that the absence of some such phrase weakens another and very vital companion measure. This inter-relationship of laws, a local bar member tells us, makes it more difficult to remove the legal red tape than the public realizes. Codification of laws from their original would be necessary in some instances.

Three Students Burned In School

GAINESVILLE, Texas, Jan. 27. (AP)—Three students were burned, one seriously, when chemicals exploded today in the high school laboratory here. Miss Althella Thompson, daughter of Robert Thompson, secretary of the chamber of commerce, suffered serious burns on her face, neck, and chest and was taken to a hospital for treatment.

TARIFF TO BE DISCUSSED BY WILD AT MEET

OIL MEN WILL SESSION IN NEW CITY HALL AT 7:30 O'CLOCK

TO TALK ON OIL PRICE

WILL EXPLAIN FIGHT IN CONGRESS FOR IMPORT CURB

The proposed tariff on oil will be the subject of an address to be delivered by Claude C. Wild of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas at a mass meeting of oil operators of the Panhandle to be held at the city hall at 7:30 o'clock tonight. This announcement was made last night by Mel Davis, M. F. Riche and W. B. Saulsbury, directors of the association. Operators from all parts of the Panhandle are expected to attend the meeting which will be open to the public. Local operators and royalty owners are especially urged to attend.

To Explain Work

Mr. Wild will explain in detail what the Association is doing in Texas at the present time, but the chief part of his address will deal with the fight now being waged at Washington to place a tariff of $1 per barrel on foreign oil which is being imported into the United States, driving the price of American oil to the lowest level in two decades.

A desperate fight to obtain the tariff will be made during this session of Congress. Independent operators are confident that actual relief from production and low prices cannot possibly come until foreign oil is taxed. At this time, according to Mr. Davis, thousands of operators in the oil-producing states of the union are organizing to make a concerted stand for the tariff. Hundreds of them are already in Washington. The chief purpose of the meeting will be to impress upon citizens of the Panhandle the significance of the fight being made at the national capital and the need for the tariff.

The argument of the independents is contained in the following set of resolutions addressed to congress, and passed by the Texas association. They were prepared by Jack Danciger now at Washington.

TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA: "Those engaged in the petroleum industry in the United States have for a number of years exerted themselves to their utmost to solve their own problems. The success of their efforts to curtail and regulate their production in cooperation with the conservation boards of the various oil producing states has been frustrated, due to the flood of oil coming into the United States from foreign countries.

The price of crude oil has steadily declined, until over two hundred thousand wells are now and have been for some time producing oil below the cost of production. Notwithstanding the fact that crude oil has declined in the last three or four years, in many instances to less than one half its former price, and the price at the refinery has likewise declined, there has been no appreciable decline in the price of gasoline and other refined products to the consumer. For example, in February, 1926, Mid-Continent crude oil of 36 gravity, Baume, which is the principal source of our gasoline supply, sold for $2.04 per barrel. At this time the average price of gasoline at service stations, less the tax, in 52 representative cities of the United States, was 18.09 cents per gallon, while in February, 1929, the same quality of Mid-Continent crude oil sold for $1.20 per barrel, and the average price of gasoline, less the gasoline tax, in the same 52 representative cities of the United States was 18.39 per gallon.

"During the past two or three years, thousands of small wells have been abandoned and plugged, with great economic loss, not only to the owners of these wells, but to future generations, because of the loss of oil reserves. There are now 250,000 wells in America producing on an average of one barrel per day, and 50,000 wells producing an average of five barrels per day, the total daily production from this source amounting to 500,000 barrels. Unless the price structure on crude oil can be remedied, and that without delay, these wells must be abandoned and plugged. They cannot be shut down because of empty future generations, because of the loss of oil reserves. There are now 250,000 wells in America producing on an average of one barrel per day, and 50,000 wells producing an average of five barrels per day, the total daily production from this source amounting to 500,000 barrels. CASH FOR CERTIFICATES OF VETERANS IS PROPOSED AS TONIC TO NATION BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Cash for veterans bonus certificates was proposed to a senate committee today as a tonic for the ill business depression.

SENATE FINANCE BODY HEARS PLEAS FROM PAUL WOLMAN

Paul C. Wolman, Baltimore, commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, told the senate finance committee the certificates given World War veterans should be cashed. He added they would "not be a distinct aid to the welfare of the disabled and needy ex-service men, but also act as a marvelous stimulant to existing economic conditions."

TORCH MURDER CASE GIVEN TO JURY

FORT WORTH, Jan. 27. (AP)—Convicted of murder, Herbert A. "Hub" Stanley, 39, was given a 99-year penitentiary term tonight in connection with the "torch slaying" of Roy Hawthorne last July 26.

Late today, Hugh D. "Hop Toe" Butler, charged also with Hawthorne's death, as are two other men, A. E. Stanley, father of the man on trial and James L. "Speck" Casstevens, told his story to the jury.

It was an account that Hawthorne was beaten with a pistol and bottles in the Stanley home on the north side that he then was pushed under water in a bath tub "to make sure he was dead," that the body was tied, was wrapped in bed clothes and then taken to a pasture where gasoline was poured over it and then set afire. Butler said he was a witness to most phases of the killing but was not in the pasture where the blazing body was found.

The motive for the slaying, as outlined by Butler, was that Hawthorne had reported to officers what appeared to be a case of cow theft in the local stockyards against the elder Stanley. He was charged with theft, but the charge later was dismissed.

Butler testified the elder Stanley first struck Hawthorne, who screamed. Soon after when the younger Stanley had a hammer and was quoted by Butler as saying "You do you know you are going to die?" There was no answer, and according to Butler, young Stanley said, "Have you got any word to send to your wife and babies?"

Butler said that after Casstevens and Young Stanley had driven away with Hawthorne's body he (Butler) and the elder Stanley tried to wipe up the blood that was in the house. Butler said he, Casstevens and young Stanley left Fort Worth, carrying a machine gun, a shotgun and two pistols. Butler and Stanley were arrested September 10 near Fort Smith, Ark. They were tried for robbery of a bank at Alma and received fifteen year sentences. Casstevens surrendered to officers in Fort Worth several weeks ago.

The defense introduced no witnesses. A statement young Stanley made, which was introduced by the state, was read in portions by defense attorneys.

MILLER TELLS STORY OF BANDIT PICKED UP ON ROAD

A hold-up bandit who intended to murder his victim in a cruel, torturous manner and make it appear as if it were suicide was being sought last night by officers of the sheriff's department.

WILL RECOVER

Miller will recover it was reported at the hospital last night. Eight ounces of iodine was removed from Miller's stomach with a pump. His throat is so badly burned that he has been unable to talk much.

In a statement to Miss Smallwood, chief nurse at the hospital, Miller said that he left his home in Pampa about 7 o'clock to look for work in the oil fields west of Pampa. He said he and his wife came here a short time ago from Missouri.

BRADY ENTERS PRISON WALLS

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, Jan. 27. (AP)—John W. Brady, former judge, entered the "walls" here at 6:06 p.m. today to begin his three year sentence for the murder of Miss Lehigh Highsmith, in Austin November 9, 1929.

Commitment papers arrived from Sheriff Hal Hood of Dallas county at 5 p.m. and Warden W. W. Waid went for the former magistrate at his home.

Sitting in a chair in the lobby looking worn and haggard, the former judge said: "Well I had just as well start right now as any time," when approached by the penitentiary official with the papers relative to his commitment.

Brady then turned to the hotel porter and instructed him to bring his suit case to the walls, which are about a block from the hotel where he has been stopping for the past three days.

In company with the warden, Brady then walked the short distance to the walls that will be his home for the next three years.

He was dressed in gray prison denim and ushered to his cell a few minutes past 6 o'clock. Tomorrow morning he will be given a thorough physical examination by the prison physician and assigned to his duties.

FIELD OPENS AT LONGVIEW

DALLAS, Jan. 27. (AP)—A period of unusual development appeared to oil men here today as having opened a Longview, after the bringing in yesterday of the Moncrieff, Farrell Arkansas Field No. 1 Lease, five miles north of here, for an estimated production of 15,000 to 20,000 barrels of oil daily.

Development of a complete division unit of the Humble company at Longview was predicted, after the purchase of a two-story building there for offices, a two and one-quarter acre tract adjacent to the International-Great Northern railway, for truckage, a warehouse and houses for employes.

The company already has a power plant under construction, the present plan being to build a four-unit pumping station with pipe-lines to connect the company's holdings near Longview with its Baton Rouge refinery through the Van-Louisiana pipeline.

Work was started yesterday on a branch line from the Humble company's holdings in the Henderson county field through the Kilgore field, south of Longview, to the pumping station in Longview. The company also has announced plans to bring in nearly 30 steel derricks.

Independent operators also reported drilling activity near Longview. The Sabine Syndicate, composed of Longview business men, has spudded in its No. 1 E. B. S. Florey, a mile and a quarter northwest of the Bateman-Crim well. Some members of the syndicate also are forming another group to drill on a 20-acre tract about three-quarters of a mile south of the Bateman well. Eddie Jones has spudded in a test near the Bateman well, as has John Olvey.

Predict Arrest Of Span Blasters

TEXARKANA, Ark., Jan. 27. (AP)—The arrest of ten or fifteen men in various sections of the south in connection with a dynamiting plot that resulted in wrecking of the Garland City span over the Red river on Sept. 3, at a loss of $250,000, was predicted by authorities here tonight.

They said ramifications of the plot were "so far-reaching it is impossible to handle it without the utmost secrecy."

Reports of the arrest of a man across the river from Garland City were confirmed by officers tonight. They said he was taken "in the general direction of Little Rock." One of the four men held in Little Rock yesterday was arrested near Ludlow, also in Lafayette county, and another arrested at Ida, La., was returned without extradition proceedings.

CRAFTREE BORN NEAR VERNON MOTHER REVEALS

VERNON, Jan. 27. (AP)—

Selection of a jury for the trial of Emmett Thompson, charged with the murder of Homer Crabtree, Gray county ranchman, began here this afternoon, after Judge W. N. Stokes in district court overruled a motion for continuance. The case was brought here on a change of venue. Only one taleman had been selected before court recessed.

A heated debate was the climax of almost two days of legal maneuvering over a requested continuance of the trial. Prosecutor J. F. Weeks of Wichita Falls sharply criticized the defense for what he termed the delay in the trial. He attempted to show that persons listed in the defense motion as absent material witnesses were important to trial of the case.

E. A. Simpson, defense attorney, in arguing for a continuance, gave insight into the plan of the defense, indicating a plea would be made to show that responsibility for Crabtree's death should rest on Carl Hefner, jointly indicted with Thompson for the killing, and already under a 99-year sentence. Hefner was tried at Pampa. He indicated the defense would claim that Thompson had no part in inflicting the injuries that caused Crabtree's death.

The slain man was born in this county. Mrs. J. L. Crabtree, his mother, said he was born here 69 years ago. The family lived eight miles southeast of Vernon for about three years, from 1887 to 1890.

BEAUTY DISCUSSED BY TWENTIETH CENTURY

HELL IN RESIDENCE OF MRS ROSE

PROGRAM GIVEN UNDER DIRECTION OF MRS. W. A. BRATTON

Under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Bratton, personal beauty as an element in personality formed the basis for an interesting program given for members of the Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Tom Rose.

During the business session which preceded the program, Mrs. Rose was elected president of the club and Mrs. H. H. Hicks was named vice-president.

The group voted to give $5 for charity to be used by the local welfare board.

Mrs. W. A. Bratton, in opening the program, stated that the whole beauty and intelligence are not related, that if a person is beautiful it does not necessarily follow that he is "dumb," and if a person is brilliant, it is not necessarily that he must be unattractive.

Mrs. Bratton spoke of the opening discussion with a talk on "Does Dunlap over-emphasize personal beauty, or is he calling attention to an aspect of personality which has been neglected?"

Mrs. H. H. Hicks then spoke on racial betterment as viewed by Dunlap, and the program was closed with a round-table discussion of positive and negative criteria of beauty. The expression "beautiful but dumb" is misleading, it was said.

CHARM CHATS

by Nancy Earle Noted Authority and Writer on Health, Charm and Beauty.

"Yoo-hoo, Skin-nay!" This is for you—ho! All about how not to be so skin-nay! All about those hollows in the neck, and the arms that are thin and twiggy, and legs that are modeled after the canary's.

Now thin arms and scraggly necks and pipstems legs are corrected in two ways. From the inside—by diet. And from the outside—by exercise.

If you are undernourished, then your diet must be carefully remedied. If your entire body is thinny padded, and you can count your ribs, and you're always tired, and nothing seems worth the effort, then you must look to your diet.

Usually thinish arms and legs and a gangly neck are phased of undernourishment. But sometimes they are not. Sometimes they are the result of inactivity. It's like this.

The roundness of the arm, the smooth symmetry of the leg, are contingent entirely upon the muscular development. An arm which is full and well moulded is so because the muscle has been properly developed.

The muscle is large, well-formed—the graceful underpadding for the outer flesh.

On the contrary, a small straight arm, underdressed and devoid of those curves which made for beauty, is so because the muscle—unused—is small, flat, undeveloped.

The proper exercise of course develops the muscle. It increases in size and strength, and the arm takes on those moulded curves that made Venus famous.

The same is true of the shapeliness of the leg, and of the graceful curve of the neck.

Outdoor exercises of all kinds are excellent. Swimming, tennis, walking—all are Venus's friend.

But sometimes these things do not fit into the everyday program, and

The program, arranged by C. Herbert Walker, Philip E. Carlson, J. O. Gillham, and E. D. Immerman, will be unique in it is to be "speechless," and local talent only will be used.

Station KORS, Amarillo, has granted the Pampa club a 20 minute period for broadcast, during which time several local artists will appear.

A "Lucky Strike" hour will be another feature of the program, and Mr. Walker has been announced as toastmaster. The dinner is to be prepared and served by women of the First Baptist church.

Reservations for the function must be made with Carson Loftus by noon Wednesday.

ALL TYPES OF GIRLS IN STATE PICTURE

For the first time in film history screen fans have the opportunity to decide at one sitting whether their preferences in the matter of pretty girls lean toward ingenues, vamps, or the good-girl with naughty ways type.

The three leading exponents of each school—as far as advance styles, 1930 models, are concerned—have been gathered together in "Swing High," a dramatic Pathe dialogue and singing production which boasts an amazing cast of popular stage and screen favorites, and which will be on view at the State theater today.

Playing the principal role in this picturesque circus romance is Helen Twelvrees, demure and wistful-eyed youngster, whom a critic once dubbed "a Lillian Gish with stage experience."

As the beautiful but brazen heavy of the picture will be seen Dorothy Burgess, Miss Burgess created a sensation when "In Old Arizona" presented her in her first seductive and sinful role. She has since added to her laurels with similar characterizations both on stage and screen.

Completing the triumvirate is little Sally Starr, snappy-eyed possessor of pep and personality, whom many regard as Clara Bow's leading contender for the title of "High Priestess of It." Twelvrees, Burgess, and Starr, furnish the sex appeal of a cast which includes Fred Scott, Nick Stuart and Robert Edeson.

Reliable comedy is provided by such sterling heavies as Chester Conklin, Duplex Pollard, Ben Turpin, and Stepin Fetchit. Joseph Santley directed, under the supervision of E. B. Derr, producer.

VESEL ON REEF SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27. (AP)—The marine department of the United States receives a wireless report from the Dollar liner President Madison today saying it had picked up a distress signal from the British steamer Enton, ashore on a New California reef. The Madison, enroute from Yokohama to San Francisco, relayed the request for aid to naval authorities at Honolulu.

NATIONAL OFFICIAL OF A. A. U. W. VISITS IN CANYON

CANYON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Mrs. F. G. Atkinson, first vice-president of the American Association of University Women, who visited Canyon last week has written a letter to Miss M. Moss Richardson expressing her appreciation of the Canyon college.

Mrs. Atkinson was visiting Texas for the first time, and after her commendation of the local educational institution, she said: "My trip since leaving Canyon has been a busy and interesting one. I am impressed with the largeness, the hospitality, and the activity of Texas."

Mrs. Atkinson was to spend two weeks in the state in the interests of the million dollar fellowship fund of her organization.

VAST EXPERIENCE IS AID TO NANCY EARLE

A brilliant background of experience and study are assurances that the school to be conducted in Pampa by Nancy Earle, authority on subjects dealing with health and feminine charm, will be a marked success. The speaker will be in this city on Feb. 24-27, inclusive.

Nancy Earle's life has been divided into three major classifications: cultural training, newspaper columnist; dramatics and social leadership; lecture work. The daughter of influential southern parents, Miss Earle was given every opportunity to develop her talents. Her early education was followed by study in leading universities which led to three college degrees. While in college, Miss Earle won distinction both in her studies and in outside activities, which included research work in fashions, dietetics and kindred phases of work.

Because of her concrete knowledge of those things of universal interest to women, she was secured by a large newspaper syndicate to pass her knowledge to its women readers. Her articles and personal column proved of great interest to women in all parts of the country.

Dramatics and social work took a large portion of Miss Earle's time for a number of years. President and director of five women's organizations, acting and directing in Little Theatre work, professional stage work, a continuation of newspaper articles, together with further research work in the three cornerstones of a woman's life—fashions, health, and homemaking—occupied Miss Earle's time for a number of years.

A European syndicate secured Miss Earle to carry their story of homemaking, correct table appointments, and related subjects to every part of the United States. Her social background and expert knowledge of these subjects were the means of making these talks of outstanding importance to American women.

Feeling that this field was somewhat limited, Nancy Earle welcomed the opportunity of increasing the scope and nature of her work and now is appearing in those cities where her Charm Chats are appearing, giving her famous talks on charm, health, and beauty. Her itinerary carried her to every part of the country, and her talks have been the means of entertaining and helping thousands of women.

FIRST BAPTIST W. M. S. GATHERS IN CIRCLE

Varied activities held interest for members of the four First Baptist W. M. S. circles when they met in the homes of members Monday afternoon. Circle 4 had the largest attendance, 18 women being present.

Mrs. John Brown led the devotional, reading the ninth chapter of Romans, when Circle 1 gathered at the home of Mrs. John Anderson. The study book, "Oak and Laurel," also were completed, and dainty refreshments were served. It was announced that the next meeting would be held in the home of Mrs. Lee Banks.

Those present were Mrs. Roy Conner, Mrs. Charles Stephens, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. D. A. Gells, Mrs. R. E. Gatlin, Mrs. C. L. McKinney, Mrs. Bush Haggard, Mrs. Bob Malone, Mrs. L. H. Greene, and Mrs. Anderson.

Chairmen Appointed The following committee chairmen were named at a meeting of Circle 2 in the home of Mrs. J. J. Simmons: Benevolence, Mrs. F. O. Penn; periodicals, Mrs. Ollie White; stewardship, Mrs. Mary Binford; missions, Mrs. J. A. Meek; educational, Mrs. C. H. Schukley; personal, Mrs. W. D. Benton, Mrs. E. F. Brake, Mrs. W. O. Workman, Mrs. J. A. Meek, Mrs. Mary Binford, Mrs. J. J. Simmons, and Mrs. Clyde Garner.

Visiting held interest for members of Circle 3, following their regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Wilson Hatcher. Mrs. F. E. Hoffman led the devotional and a business session was held.

Those attending were Mrs. Charles Gilmore, Mrs. Fred Throckmorton, Mrs. R. E. Lantz, Mrs. Tom Rose, Mrs. Hatcher, Mrs. Hoffman, and Mrs. Hockaday.

Gives Piano Solo A piano solo by Catherine Barrett, daughter of Mrs. Ernest Barrett, hostess, was a feature of a meeting of Circle 4. Mrs. W. B. Henry read the fourth Psalm as the opening devotional, which she followed with prayer, and the group joined in singing "God Will Take Care of You." The sixth and seventh chapters of "Why and How" were studied.

Those present were Mrs. Addie Izzard, Mrs. J. J. Mezell, Mrs. T. L. Anderson, Mrs. Lennie Hawkins, Mrs. J. C. Barnard, Mrs. W. B. Henry, Mrs. T. D. Gross, Mrs. Lewis H. Davis, Mrs. J. F. SHOCK IS RECORDED DENVER, Jan. 27. (AP)—Earthquake shocks of third degree intensity were recorded today on the seismograph at Regis college. The shocks lasted 31 minutes. Father A. W. Forstall, in charge of the observatory, said, and were approximately 1,800 miles north and west of Denver, probably in Alaska.

The first shock was recorded at 2:03 p. m. (MST), the maximum at 2:10, and the last at 2:34 p. m.

RANDALL NOW HAS LIBRARY FOR SCHOOLS

BOOK COLLECTIONS ARE PASSED FROM ONE TO ANOTHER

CANYON, Jan. 27. (Special)—The Randall County Teachers Association, cooperating with Ex-Officio County Superintendent E. B. Orton, has put into circulation a library which reaches practically every rural school in the county.

Through it each school buys a library membership at a cost of $10.00, and as many boxes of books are secured as there are schools in the county. The book collections are used in one community for a short time, then passed on to others.

While the plan has been in operation only a very short time, it is already meeting with enthusiastic approval of the rural schools and their patrons.

FOR GINGER'S SAKE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Life in the little town of Red Thrush, Iowa, was too unexciting to suit GINGER ELLA TOLLIVER, so she conceived the idea of organizing a Junior Country Club and thus saving the younger set from complete boredom.

The club was to be exclusive. No parents allowed—and no children. The motion was heartily seconded by GINGER's intimates, all of them leading spirits in Red Thrush.

It was agreed that the purpose was to have a good time. And one day, while the rehabilitation of the old house was going on, GINGER was in the kitchen of her home cooking assisted by GOOBY, the cook, when a stranger called. He was bearded and prepossessing looking, and he offered to do a sketch for a meal.

"That's a good name for it, too," said GINGER thoughtfully. "Jole de vivre means just what we stand for. No parents, no preachers, no babies. Yes, we'll call it jole de vivre. That's the first article in the constitution."

"I'm sure I could do it," he said. "I'd like to." "I can't pay you a lot but you don't need to work very hard at it. You see—don't tell anybody—it's my club, and I'm footing the bills. Phil and father don't know it yet. And it is taking a lot more money to fix it up than I figured on. Maybe we can arrange with Phil for you to stay here while you are so further information was revealed. The bones were then ordered buried.

"I don't think I could stay here—I'm sure—Who is Phil?" "Phil is my stepman. She'll be surprised," GINGER's eyes twinkled. "Think up a good reference—she may ask for one. You never know what to expect of people who have money. Make it somebody who lives a long way off so she can't hear too soon—Paris, maybe. Or China, if you know anybody there."

"Do you live here alone, you and Phil?" "And father," said GINGER nonchalantly. "Bard Holloway moved unceremoniously. 'Your father? Goah, what will he think if you spring me on him like this—dropped in from heaven knows where? He'll be sure to object. And he'll ask a lot of questions—'

Senator Tydings proposed that senate ask Wickliffe commission for testimony and reports it received in preparation of report. House passed $1,052,700,000 independent offices appropriation bill.

mental life did it. If they're going to chuck me out they can jolly well do it before I put any long-legged women on your walls." "Not at all, my dear sir—it will be a pleasure. This is a par—Phil, my darling," he said, contently. "I beg your pardon. I forgot that this is your house I am living in—and no longer a paragon."

"I agree with my husband, Mr. Holloway, that it will be a joy to have you stay here with us while you are in Red Thrush." And she observed how GINGER's eyes shone thanks. "Ginger stood up. 'That's settled,' she said cheerfully. 'I beg your pardon,' said the artist humbly. 'I'm very sorry Miss GINGER, but I simply can't let you get away with this. They've got entirely the wrong impression. I confess I don't see how you worked it so cleverly, but you did. I didn't come here upon commission to do the club house. GINGER doesn't know me at all—'

"But you're going to do the club house," she interrupted hotly. (To Be Continued)

"Aren't they going to think this is a very strange proceeding?" inquired the artist anxiously as he followed GINGER along the flowered flagstone path from the kitchen door. "Oh, not so very," she assured him contently. "They are so used to strange proceedings."

"But after all this is pretty much out of the ordinary, you know." "Most things are," she replied. "Circumstances conspired to ease the awkwardness of their sudden appearance. Phil was reading aloud to Mr. Tolliver on the front piazza. A piazza presentation is bound to be less formal than one in even the most livable of living rooms."

"Oh, hello, darlings," called GINGER cheerfully. "Got to interrupt a minute. Phil, dear, I want you to meet Mr. Holloway, the artist from New York. My father and my step-mother, the Tollivers, Mr. Holloway. Mr. Holloway is the artist going to brighten up the walls for us at Mill Rush, father."

"How nice," said Phil, extending a friendly hand. "I hadn't heard about it," said Mr. Tolliver cheerfully. "Seems quite a bright idea. You're really a place out here, GINGER—you children—and I take it as a distinct hardship that parents and preachers are barred, thus cutting me out on two counts."

"And babies, too," added GINGER. "Do come up and sit down," said Phil cordially. "And in less than a minute they were all sitting companionably together on the pleasant piazza, quite as if they had known one another for years. GINGER entirely forgot about it all. Mr. Holloway just the least bit ill at ease.

"Mr. Holloway is going to do a portrait of Mrs. Uplike while he is here, too, and maybe one of Miriam," announced GINGER cheerfully. "Oh, that is just lovely," said Phil with quiet appraising eyes upon the young man's face. "Where are you stopping in town?" inquired Mr. Tolliver cordially. "Why, to tell you the truth," he began, but GINGER interrupted with a great burst of conversation.

"To tell you the truth, father, he isn't stopping at all yet. He just arrived. Naturally he wouldn't wish to make a mistake, so we thought we'd better ask you. What do you think about it, father? The hotels here are so awful. Don't you suppose it all, Mr. Holloway, is comfortable at Mrs. Adams' boarding house? I wish the club house was ready—we could put him up there. He will be here for—oh, maybe a couple of weeks or so."

"Why, my dear boy," said Mr. Tolliver, "why don't you stay here with us? We have plenty of room, and it would be a pleasure—"

"Oh, that would be nice," gurgled GINGER, "so convenient. He is going to do a portrait of me, too, Phil, in color, and I am going to give it to you for a present. Including the frame. And you can pick it out yourself and I'll pay for it."

"How nice," said Phil enigmatically. "I think that would be a very great imposition upon your good nature—entirely unwarranted," said Bard Holloway clumsily. "Not at all, my dear sir—it will be a pleasure. This is a par—Phil, my darling," he said, contently. "I beg your pardon. I forgot that this is your house I am living in—and no longer a paragon."

LEGISLATIVE ACTS TO AID COTTON FARMERS PLANNED AT MEETING

HOUSTON, Jan. 27. (P) - Legislative acts designed to improve the position of the cotton farmer were suggested today in a meeting of the Texas Cotton committee here.

Dr. A. E. Cox of the University of Texas at Austin, chairman, was empowered to appoint a committee of five or seven to ask the legislature for action agreed upon.

One resolution suggested a law enabling Texas to "cooperate with the federal government to have all cotton classes by districts wanting same, by a federally licensed classifier at the time it is sold by the grower, and a grade and staple report made each day on the receipts."

Another suggested a law to set up "one variety cotton communities to be protected in growing and ginning of one variety agreed upon by the community or district."

A third suggested establishment of a conservation commission "to function similarly to commissions now existing, which supervise the activities of the railroads, insurance companies and banks, which have, after several years of operation, demonstrated their merits and which have endured to the general welfare of Texas citizenship."

A fourth recommended that the legislature committee "encourage the program of more uses of cotton in every way, and that they give serious consideration to the practicability of using cotton for the wrapping of our bales."

Markets

GRAIN PRICES UP. Associated Press Bureau Editor. CHICAGO, Jan. 27. (P) - Reports of drought surplusing in places the severity even of last year's disaster carried grains upward today. Central Illinois advised said creeks and springs never before known to have gone dry had failed, and that more wells were empty than at any time last summer.

Corn advanced faster than wheat, and closed unsettled, 1/2 to 1/4 cents higher, wheat 1/4 to 1/2 gain, oats 1/4 to 1/2 up, provisions unchanged to 10 cents off.

Increased buying of corn was partly due to statements by a trade authority that official estimates indicated less than 1 per cent reduction of feed grains was 11.5 per cent less and hay production 16.5 per cent less.

Firmness of hog values helped the provision market to absorb hedging sales. Closing indemnities: wheat: May (bids) 81%; July 65%, 67%. Corn: March (offers) 65%; May 65% to 67%; July 66% to 68%.

S. Dept. Agri. - Livestock trade around the 11 market circuit was featured by a fairly active demand for fat lambs at prices unevenly steady to 25 higher. Choice fat lambs in Chicago cashed up to 9.43 while at Omaha and St. Joseph the best offered made 9.00. The supply numbering around 31,400 was 21,000 short of a week ago and 11,500 less than the corresponding year.

Lighter weights of hogs, 220 lbs. down, sold on a steady to 10 lower price basis while butchers scaling above 220 lbs. ruled weak to 25 lower. The day's extreme top of 8.53 was paid at St. Louis. Offerings were around 123,200 against 127,448 last Tuesday and 119,675 a year ago.

Several points around the loop reported strength on better steers and yearlings, but packers were very bearish towards any advance on the general run of short feds and at some markets were able to obtain slight concessions on steers selling downward from 9.00. Difficulty also was encountered in maintaining steady values on light yearlings and fat steers. Medium weight steers at Chicago and Omaha cleared up to 12.00 while best heavy steers in Chicago brought 11.85. Stocker and feeder classes were comparatively scarce and prices held mostly steady. Aggregate receipts estimated at 31,200 were 7,000 less than a week ago and 5,500 under a year ago.

COTTON IS QUIET. NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 27. (P) - Although cotton here today was fairly active, prices developed a firm tone owing to some trade buying and price fixing. Generally more favorable foreign political news, more demand in the cotton goods trade and a better inquiry for spots caused ring traders to bid prices up developing a scarcity of contracts. After opening unchanged to 3 points up, prices gradually improved throughout the morning until around noon active months all showed gains over the previous close of 14 points. In the early afternoon the market eased off 3 to 4 points from the top on some realizing by earlier buyers and realizing by scalpers.

The market continued rather quiet in late trading and any tendency to advance was checked by straddle selling by Liverpool in the northern market. Only the two nearest months were active at the end, the market closing steady at net gains for the day of 8 to 9 points.

Port receipts 26,375, for week 60,800, for season 7,449,131, last season 7,450,937; exports 7,829, for week 32,268, for season 4,308,022, last season 4,748,521; port stocks 4,222,377, last year 2,518,138; combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 92,032, last year 117,549; spot sales at southern markets 10,645, last year 11,101.

SPRING DRILL FOR GRIDDEBS STARTS SOON

TEXAS STEERS WILL BEGIN PRACTICE IN FEBRUARY

AUSTIN, Jan. 27. (Special)—Spring football training at the University of Texas will start February 3, and last through 16 practice days. Head Coach Clyde Littlefield has announced here W. N. (Bill) James, line coach, and Marty are to assist Littlefield. Late in the spring, there will be an additional five days of practice for all men, including those who are out for basketball, football, and track during the first period.

Fundamentals will be stressed during the first period of training, while the one in the late spring will be given to development of team play and perfection of a system of offense and defense. The spring training is not compulsory for members of the squad, but is designed to furnish a chance to learn football, exercise and credit for physical training to those men who are not out for baseball, basketball, track or tennis.

Talking of the coming practice, Littlefield said, "Spring training is the time to learn football—a time when men do not have to play games and when they are free from any kind of pressure. It is the time for the coach to learn about his men, for he has time to watch individual attitude, development, and, above all, to pick out any man who might have a tendency to be a quitter or an all-in-maker. We will be able to see just what we have for 1931."

"Speaking of 1931," he continued, "some of our friends and writers have already written a few games on the 1931 schedule for us. In fact, they have called the score and plays that won the games. They have named us a 'wonder team' several months before we have put on our uniform. Football teams are not made on paper or public opinion, but from hard work, cooperation, friendship, loyalty, and above all, that determination to come back under pressure and defeat. It is true that we have 30 lettermen returning, but we will miss men like Shelby, Peterson, Vining, Perkins and Galtour. These men were experienced in every phase of the game."

The 1931 schedule, which is one of the most attractive ever arranged by a school in the southwest, is coming in for quite a bit of attention from Little field. It calls for meeting Oklahoma university, the University of Missouri, Rice institute, the University of Oklahoma, Harvard university, Southern Methodist, Baylor, Texas Christian, and the Texas Aggies on successive week-ends.

Commenting on the schedule, Littlefield said, "The part of the schedule that will force the team to the limit will be where we go to Dallas one week-end to play the University of Oklahoma. Sooners then go to Cambridge, Mass., to play Harvard, and then drop back to Texas to play S. M. U. at Dallas, on three successive week-ends. We must have a determined team and all the psychological factors that help a team to go into the games in the right frame of mind this year, to be able to succeed next year. I hope those interested will play last year's season over with their enthusiasm and work with us to develop a team for next fall out of an anxious and willing group of boys."

HORNED FROG CAGERS REMAIN IDLE DURING WEEK OF EXAMINATION

FORT WORTH, Jan. 27. (Special)—After dropping the second clash with the five-time Arkansas Razorbacks, Coach Francis Schmidt and his Texas Christian cagers team will remain idle this week because of mid-year examinations. Although there are no games on their schedule, the Horned Frog cagers is holding the most strenuous afternoon practice session of the year for his charges, to help them to the free throwing department.

Their inability to make their shots from the foul line made the result of the first game undecided until the last minutes of play, and was the direct cause of the Frogs' loss of the second tilt. In the first game, in which there were 24 fouls committed, the Schmittmen made but 12 of their 30 tosses good, and in the second fray they missed 18 out of 29.

Following their no-game week, the Christians will play their first conference tilt on a foreign court, meeting the conference-leading St. U. Mustangs in the Methodist Field house next Monday. On Saturday night of the same week, they will journey to Waco to meet the Baylor Bears.

Although the Frogs will devote much time to the tossing of free shots, more of the time will be spent on perfecting their passing attack, that looked ragged at several times during the Arkansas games, and to the shooting of field goals.

NEW YORK. A certain movie actress whose name often is in the public prints was in New York some time ago and employed a local maid to attend her during her stay here. DETROIT BALL LEAGUE TO BE TOUGH NUMBER

NEW RECRUITS HELP STATUS OF CLUB NEXT SEASON

By MERLE OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer
DETROIT, Jan. 27. (AP)—Manager Stanley Harris believes the Detroit American league baseball team "will be hard to beat" this year with a supply of young outfielders to choose from and a pitching staff probably better than last season when the Tigers finished in fifth place.

The outstanding weakness of the 1930 team was the hitting of the outfield which averaged in an average of about 285. To remedy this, four good prospects were purchased—the "Walk" brother, Gerald and Harvey, from the Evansville club of the Three-Eye league, and Eckhardt and Shiver, from the Beaumont, Texas club.

Johnson, Funk, Stone and Doljack remain from last year's outfield. Stone batted .310 and Doljack joined the club in September after hitting .391 at Wheeling, W. Va. Johnson batted .273 and Funk .276.

Discussing the four recruit outfielders, Harris said "judging from their records last year, I feel confident they will improve our outfield." The four had an aggregate batting average of .354.

Whitlow Wyatt, fast ball pitcher who joined the Tigers last spring, showed plenty of stuff until his arm failed him. "I only recently received a letter from Wyatt," Harris said. "He stated his arm felt fine. I honestly think he will be a real good pitcher."

Earl Whitehill, southpaw who finished with 17 victories and 13 defeats after losing his first nine starts, is expected to have the best year of his career. Whitehill is said to have conquered a handicap of temperament which made him blow up easily.

Vic Sorrell, George Uhle and White Hoyt are other prospective regulars on the mound. Harris expects to use the same infield which functioned sufficiently well last season.

In addition to Wally Schang, Harris has Gene Desautels, Holy Cross college product, who joined the Tigers last summer, and Ray Hatworth on his catching staff.

EASY TEXAS CAGERS BEAT STEPHEN AUSTIN

COMMERCIE, Jan. 27. (AP)—The East Texas Teachers college basketball team tonight drubbed Stephen F. Austin college cagers from Nacogdoches 42-27, in the first Texas intercollegiate athletic association game of the season in which the East Texas teachers have participated. The teachers led throughout, never being in danger, and at the half the score stood 19-16 in their favor. O. Stringer of Commerce and Donnell of Nacogdoches tied for high scoring honors with 15 points each.

Hard times for business usually mean good times for baseball, Ban Johnson, former head of the American league, said at Hot Springs, Ark.

Sport Slant's

by ALAN GOULD ~ ASSOCIATED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

I tried to swing the subject into baseball, pointing out to him that it was what "his public" expected at this time of the year, but the $60,000-a-year man of baseball persisted in giving me the gruesome details of his sensational 72 on the St. Albans course the day before.

"With six three-putts, 100!" he roared, then pinning me helplessly in my chair. "On in two at that 535-yarder—two daisies—and putting for an eagle. Missed it. Know that tough third hole? Shoved one clear over the trees to the green, good 200 yard shot, after hooking into a bad spot."

Babe Ruth grew reminiscent. "Say, when I was a young fellow, I went 72 holes of golf in one day with a friend of mine, baseball pitcher, think his name was Penner. We started about 5 in the morning and then ran between every shot. I seemed perhaps a trifle skeptical, but he persisted. 'Fact, Young fella then. Could stand it. Got a little tired, though, late in the afternoon. Good way to get in condition. Couldn't do it now, though. Getting too old.'"

Still not much prospect of talking baseball, but we finally did get the conversation into boxing.

"Dempey's about your age now. Think he could comeback and fight again successfully?" I asked the Babe.

"Maybe. He's laid off a long time, though. I couldn't stay away from baseball that long and be able to

Jackets Defeat Trinity Tigers

WAXAHACHIE, Jan. 27. (AP)—Scoring three points in an overtime period, the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets defeated the Trinity university Tigers, 31-30 here tonight.

Worley and Gibbs accounted for the Jackets' points in the extra period, while Grand scored a field goal for Trinity. The score was 29 all at the end of the regular scheduled game.

YAYLOR BEARS WIN

WACO, Jan. 27. (AP)—After getting off to a flying start to score 11 markers before Rice institute looped a goal, the Baylor Bears continued their heavy scoring pace throughout the remainder of the contest here tonight to earn a 53 to 40 decision.

The game was a rough and tumble battle, and it saw captain Raymond Alford hit his scoring stride for the first time this season. The Bruin leader sank seven field goals and added five charity tosses to add up a total of 19 points for high point honors.

Baylor grabbed an early lead and continued to increase it until the middle of the second period. Hart, the Owl scoring ace, then led his mates in a comeback that was cutting down the Baylor lead in the late minutes of the game. Hart's total score for the night 11.

DANIEL BAKER WINS

STEEPHENVILLE, Jan. 27. (AP)—The John Tarleton college Plowboy cagers were nosed out 32-30 here tonight by the Daniel Baker college Hill Billies, from Brownwood. The game was the first defeat of the Plowboys this season in seven states. The Plowboys led 18-16 at the half and continued in the lead until the last few moments of play.

DEFENDING CHAMP FOR STATE GOLF OPEN IN SAN ANTONIO FOR VIE

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 27. (AP)—Denny Slute, defending Texas open golf champion, rolled into San Antonio won last year in a brilliant teno this afternoon to defend his 72-hole record of 277.

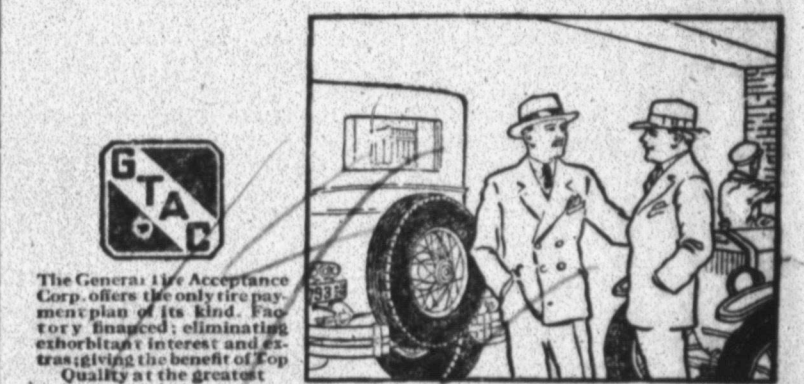

Two days of rain, while affecting practice rounds of the visiting golfers, brought predictions of a pleasant week-end for the championship. Golfers were arriving on all trains.

The first event of the tenth Texas open program is scheduled for Wednesday when the amateurs get underway over Willow Springs course in a qualifying tournament for places in the pro-amateur event Thursday. The pro-amateur best ball will be run off over Brackenridge the Texas open layout.

Favored to win the amateur event is John Dawson of Chicago, who arrived with the gold army from the West Coast. John will meet plenty of opposition in such golfers as Jack Speer of San Antonio and Jack DeLo of Houston along with 175 other amateurs.

WHEAT ACREAGE REDUCTION IN PANHANDLE

At recent meetings throughout the Panhandle farmers in conference over the matter of the price of wheat have agreed to cut acreage for the coming year in an effort to raise the price on that grain.

In Gray county several farmers have agreed to cut their acreage on wheat. All of this cutting of production is scheduled on the theory that scarcity of an article will cause prices to go higher.

Wheat is the main agricultural crop in this section of the county and it is of paramount importance to the farmers and other persons concerned to keep the price of wheat at the highest point possible.

A 40 per cent reduction is being sought by the wheat farmers all over the nation. With this percent sliced from the annual production, the price should come back up to profitable margin. However without the cooperation of the wheat farmers all over the nation, the plan will not work.

Local bankers are behind the farmer's movement and are willing to assist them in every way. The following is a letter to the News-Post:

Editor of the News-Post: "We have been solicited to lend support to the movement to eventually better the Agricultural conditions and interests of this and other communities of Texas and elsewhere.

"It is our pleasure to state that we will be glad to render any assistance that is consistent with reasonable business methods and looking to the future welfare of the public general.

"We believe that the tentative plan or movement for the reduction of wheat acreage and a more diversified farming program outlined for this and all wheat farming communities is the satisfactory beginning of a probable solution of this great problem.

"All farmers desiring circulars and further information along this line can obtain same by calling at either bank in Pampa, Texas.

RELIEF BILLS PILED HIGH IN LOWER HOUSE

CONTINUE HEARING ON SENATE'S PROPOSAL ON RED CROSS

By CECIL B. JACKSON WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—In spring for jam fashion, relief legislation piled high in committee tribunes of the house today while members attempted to blast loose some of the proposals to flat them into the main stream for early action.

The house appropriations committee continued its hearing on the senate's proposal to give the Red Cross $25,000,000 for food distribution.

The agriculture committee laid plans to consider tomorrow the senate plan of diverting 20,000,000 bushels of farm board wheat to the needy. The administration is opposed to these suggestions.

At the same time a plea was made before the rules committee for early house action on the senate's proposed $95,000,000 revolving loan fund for drainage and irrigation districts. The farm loan board presented evidence to the banking and currency committee to show that federal land banks had sufficient funds to grant mortgage extensions to farmers in drought and depressed stricken areas.

In the senate Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, charged action on the Red Cross relief fund was being delayed deliberately.

Congressing that considerable distress existed in the South and the Middle West, Surgeon General Cummings of the United States public health service told the appropriations committee the first results would not come from the existing acute situation, but from disease resulting from malnutrition of children.

Major General Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers, before the committee, said that by March 1 about 45,000 men would be given employment under the $22,500,000 appropriation for river and harbor and flood control work.

Tomorrow Red Cross officials, headed by John Barton Payne, chairman, will conclude the hearing.

encroachment of salt water will destroy them, this source of crude oil will be lost forever, because of the impossibility of economically re-drilling the area in which these wells are located. Such an economic and social loss to the people of America is unthinkable.

"In addition to the disaster which will befall the owners of these wells, multiplied thousands of these employed in pumping and servicing these wells will lose their employment, thus adding to our serious unemployment problem. These employees know no other business. They have spent a lifetime in their vocation, and it will be difficult, if not impossible, for them to become gainfully employed in any other.

"The revenue which these wells produce and the employment which they furnish is the mainstay of large areas in our country. There is now stored in the United States nearly 700,000,000 barrels of crude petroleum and its refined products, and although the oil producers of our country have radically and drastically reduced their production during the past year, in some instances as low as one percent of the potential capacity of their wells, because of the importation of oil from foreign countries, the stocks of oil in the United States have declined only about 26,000,000 barrels, and the tremendous loss of crude oil and its refined products from evaporation, because of being stored above ground, cannot be remedied as long as oil importations continue.

"Not only the laborers engaged in and the capital invested in the oil industry is affected by the deplorable situation in which the oil producers find themselves but in addition thereto the inability of the oil producers to go forward with their business, and the disaster which faces them, drastically affects the laborers engaged in the manufacture of oil well supplies of all kinds and character; those engaged in transporting such supplies; the farmers whose products they consume; the mercantile establishments with whom they trade; the laborers who manufacture and the manufacturers who sell to the mercantile establishments in the oil producing states, and so on, forming an endless chain of unemployment, until the plight of the oil industry becomes national in character and directly and indirectly causes loss of employment to hundreds of thousands of our people throughout the United States.

"When it is considered that nearly one third of our national area is contained within the oil producing states, and that 20 percent of our population is contained in this area, the dire effects upon the nation as a whole resulting from the depression of those engaged in this major industry can hardly be visualized. Our problem indeed is national in scope. The oil producing states and their municipal subdivisions are in many instances largely dependent upon monies derived from gross production taxes and royalties to defray the expenses of their educational and eleemosynary institutions, and a reduction of the revenue derived from these sources has already seriously impaired the efficiency of these institutions. The injurious effect upon the credit of these states and upon their securities and bonds now outstanding needs only to be mentioned to be comprehended.

"Although for many years it was thought that our supply was nearing exhaustion, it is now definitely determined that our petroleum resources have neither been seriously depleted nor fully developed. As recently as 1915, the United States Geological Survey estimated that the future oil production of the United States would amount to 7,600,000,000 barrels, but from 1915 to 1929, inclusively, the United States produced 8,912,633,000 barrels of oil—all of the Geological Survey estimate, plus 17 percent. As late as 1925 the Committee of Experts composed of the best informed scientists in America, estimated the future production of oil in the United States to be 5,300,000,000 barrels. Since then we have produced more than this estimate.

"Conservation legislation and cooperation on the part of the producers have been retarded, and rendered of little value, because of large importations of petroleum and its refined products. True conservation can never be attained, and the present deplorable situation in the oil industry cannot be remedied unless a tariff be appointed on crude petroleum and its products or foreign imports be curtailed and reduced to an amount not exceeding 20 percent of their 1928 imports.

"In support of this we quote from the 1929 report of the American Bar Assn's Conservation Committee: "Full protection of the public interest required a restraint not only upon production in the United States, but also upon the importation of crude petroleum and refined products. The import question is an obstacle to proper conservation legislation."

"For the above reasons, we, the representatives of the petroleum industry, the business interests, and the farmers and laborers of the oil producing states, duly appointed and accredited by the governors thereof, in convention assembled, in WASHINGTON, D. C., this, the 15th day of January, 1931, do hereby solemnly petition and urge the Congress of the United States to enact without delay a law placing an adequate tariff upon imports of crude petroleum and its refined products, or in the alternative we pray that the Congress enact without delay a law limiting the importation of crude petroleum to 20 percent of the amount imported during the calendar year of 1929 and that in the interest of American labor the law absolutely prohibit the importation of any of the refined products of petroleum said imports to be allowed only from those countries from which petroleum was received during 1928.

ITALIAN MINISTER ATTACKS REMARKS ABOUT MUSSOLINI

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Ambassador De Martino of Italy in a formal statement characterized today as "untrue and slanderous" remarks regarding Premier Mussolini, attributed to Major General Smedley Butler in a recent address in Philadelphia.

The navy department has asked to explain the speech but has no reply as yet. Major General Butler commands a Marine post at Quantico, Va.

Adequate redress has been demanded by the Italian government in a formal protest to the state department against Butler's remarks. "In an address delivered before the contemporary club of Philadelphia on January 19, Major General Smedley D. Butler stated," the ambassador's statement said, "as it appears from the Philadelphia papers, that Senator Mussolini had invited a friend of the general's (whose name he did not mention) to accompany him in a tour around Italy in an armored automobile; that during this tour Senator Mussolini ran over a child without stopping when the child was hit and that when the general's friend screamed when the accident occurred, Mussolini uttered these words: 'what is one life in the affairs of a state?'"

"The royal Italy embassy can state categorically that Senator Mussolini has never invited any American to accompany him on any trip around Italy. That the premier has never run over any child, man or woman. That, if any accident of this sort had happened, Senator Mussolini would have done what is the duty of every one—he would have stopped and brought help.

Doctors Disagree When children are irritable and peevish, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers, too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms. The fact remains that these symptoms will yield to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. British Ship On Reef in South Sea

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27. (AP)—The British motorship Eton, with a crew of 60 to 75 men, was aground on a reef near the island of New Caledonia today, and leaking badly. New Caledonia is in the south seas, about 1,500 miles northeast of Sydney, Australia.

A distress signal was picked up by the Dollar liner President Madison, 4,000 miles away, and relayed to the U. S. naval radio station at Honolulu and to the Musset Rock station here.

Attempts were made to get in touch with stations in Australia or ships near New Caledonia, Captain Austin messaged to company officials. The Madison was eastbound, midway between Yokohama and Honolulu when the message was picked up.

Slow Rain Falls In Part of State

(By the Associated Press) Texas weather of almost summertime warmth and clear skies fled Tuesday before a slow drizzle which spread across the state from the Panhandle to the Gulf and from the Red river to the Rio Grande. Warm temperatures still prevailed, however.

Slow rains varying from a sprinkle to one inch were reported in West Texas from Abilene, Lamesa, Clyde, Spur, Colorado, San Angelo, and El Paso. At El Paso, the rain, which totaled about an inch, at times turned into light flurries of snow.

The drizzle extended across north Texas from Dallas, Fort Worth and Paris southward to Waco, Austin, San Antonio, and Llano. Although skies were overcast at Beaumont, no rain fell, but a maximum temperature of 48 was recorded during the day. Corpus Christi reported cloudy weather and a trace of precipitation.

The Atlanta Professional Golfers' association has announced plans for forming a pro-amateur golf league.

THE STORY OF 1930 During 1930 approximately 550,000 new customers were added to the number receiving electric service from the light and power companies of the United States. At the same time the twenty million domestic customers already on their lines increased their average consumption from 500 kilowatt-hours a year to 550 kilowatt-hours. To maintain its quality service, meet this increased demand from small domestic consumers, and carry out a carefully planned, long-time program of expansion, the light and power industry spent approximately eight hundred and fifty million dollars on new construction, extension and improvements. This was its response to the so-called "period of depression" and its response to the plea of the President that American industry do everything in its power to accelerate activities in order to meet the unemployment situation. It is a record of progress and a declaration of confidence in the future of the country and of the electric light and power companies that serve it.
