WILSON INDICTED FOR MURDER

Legislature Passes Resolution To Congress For Foreign Oil Tariff

The pace Will Rogers is setting is no joke.

Why don't the Democrats in Washington demand Mr. Mellon's resignation? It would not be playing politics to do so.

Talk of aid is reaching the million-word-a-day status, but so far not one word has been said about relief for an over-worked columnist.

There still is time to pay that poll tax, but you'd better be quick to avoid the rush.

That Missouri man who was arrested for using four miles of railroad track for a highway has our sincerest sympathy.

A husband asks us to order some winter weather so his wife won't be buying spring bonnets right at tax-paying time.

Catching up with the depression is getting to be quite a task in these parts. The typical answer to an inquiry is: "We're getting along pretty good here, but if you want to see some real depression just go over to Blanktown."

The flu is spreading. Prevention should get immediate attention. Those who have it should remain at home if possible.

Pampa Lions had a speechless banquet the other night. That was the kind the lions contemplated when he first saw Daniel in the den.

Litigation means more than social contact. Perhaps the readers would like to know what it means. Here is the code of ethics:

To show my faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation for quality and service.

To seek success and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my own self respect.

To hold friendship as an end and not a means. To hold that true friendship exists not on account of the service performed by one to another, but that true friendship demands nothing but accepts service in the spirit in which it is given.

To be careful with my criticism and liberal with my praise; to build up and not destroy.

News and Post ads get results! For instance, a Pampa woman advertised for a lost purse, and found the purse in a dresser drawer the next day.

FILE INJUNCTION An injunction to restrain the defendant from molesting them in the place of business was filed in 114th district court yesterday afternoon.

Funeral services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Patton, who died Thursday night, at the Patton home in the Wilcox addition, were held at the Miami cemetery at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

TO INTRODUCE UTILITIES BILL BEFORE HOUSE

LEGISLATORS WILL BE GUESTS AT BANQUET IN HOUSTON

PICTURE SHOW BILL UP

OTHER MEASURES WILL BE HEARD MONDAY IN LOWER HOUSE

AUSTIN, Jan. 30. (AP)—Another legislative week ended today, the lawmakers planned to leave tonight for an outing and a good natured razing at and near Houston.

The house went on record today in favor of a tariff or embargo on foreign oil, as demanded by independent oil operators.

Representatives McDougald of Beaumont and Hatchitt of Wichita Falls led the fight on the resolutions. McDougald argued that action requested by the resolution would cut off American export markets.

Opposes Resolution Answering a question which asked if the Democratic party had not always been opposed to protective tariffs, Housley said he would not claim to be a Democrat if that meant standing by while people in his district starved.

Senator Woodul of Houston introduced a bill to legalize Sunday picture shows and theater entertainments. A similar bill was passed during the last session but was vetoed.

Not Conclusive Woodul pointed to the open violation of the present law and said such a condition was not conducive to law enforcement.

The public utilities regulation bill, one of the last of the scheduled committee of this session to be offered, is to be introduced Monday by Representative Petch of Fredericksburg.

The Petch bill is backed by the Texas League of municipalities. The bill would create a special public utility commission of three members, each to be paid $10,000 a year.

A bill by Rep. Graves of Georgetown to permit defendants who plead guilty in felony cases to waive right of trial by jury passed the house after a bitter fight by a few members. The vote was 112 to 9.

Representative Laird of Lufkin charged the bill was the opening wedge toward the abolition of the right of trial by jury.

The house also passed a bill to give Walker county, where the state penitentiary is located, venue in the sanity trials of convicts. The trial now is held in the county where the prisoner was convicted.

While the legislature was in session, the governor made three more of his bills into laws. The measures signed were those to make a legal holiday of January 19, the birthday of Robert E. Lee, to relieve overcrowded conditions in the Confederate Women's home by permitting transfer to the women's ward of the Confederate Veterans' home, and to repeal the Tarrant county civil service law.

The senate finance committee voted a favorable report on emergency and deficiency appropriation bills of $422,000 for 1931 summer schools in state colleges, $628,378.85 for state departments, and $385,219 for the state's judiciary. Senator Fosse of Waco announced he would offer a proposal to reduce the number of counties from 253 to 100.

GIVEN DEATH

Mrs. Clara Uhr, 49, above, is the first woman in Texas to be sentenced to death in the electric chair. She was convicted at San Antonio of the murder of her husband, Daniel Uhr. The state charges that the actual killing was committed by Lexie Jones, who was to be paid $500 from insurance that Mrs. Uhr was to collect. Jones faces trial this month.

KIWANIS HEAR CHILD SURVEY

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS ENTERTAIN WITH NUMBERS

Facts regarding underprivileged children was the theme of three talks delivered before the Pampa Kiwanis club at their regular meeting at noon yesterday in the Kiwanis lunch room at the Schneider hotel.

Out of 162 children, 80 were unable to have their tonsils removed, with the other percentages in proportion.

Dr. Goldstone defined an underprivileged child as one who has not the advantage of developing physically, mentally, and morally.

Dr. Martin said that to have the physical defects of these children cared for would pay great dividends. "They are our future citizens. Some of them will probably be members of this and other clubs," Dr. Martin stated.

Rev. Todd said that a child might be in perfect shape physically and yet be intellectually and morally underprivileged. He said that adults should speak to children on the streets, and encourage them.

Grave Disturbance Is Still Mystery

The body of Mrs. Carrie Felker, that was taken from her grave in the local cemetery, is at the Stephenson mortuary. Reburial is pending the investigation of the case, by the authorities.

No tangible clues have been discovered for the removal of the woman's body from the grave. James Todd, Jr., justice of the peace, said last night that the report of the state chemist at Austin should be received here at noon today, although it might be later. A 72-word telegram from Dr. W. E. Brunow preceded the shipping of the viscera to Austin.

OIL MEN GAIN SUPPORT FROM INTERIOR HEAD

MAKES STATEMENT TO SENATE COMMITTEE ON COMMERCE

LABOR ENDORSES MOVE

BROTHERHOODS HELP PENDANT SPATTERED HIS TESTIMONY IN MURDER TRIAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—The drive of the independent oil producers for a limitation on foreign oil imports gained support today from Secretary Wilbur.

In a letter to the senate commerce committee, the interior secretary said: "It seems to me that the evident need is proration of imports under the guidance of some fact finding body, such as the federal trade commission."

Continues Hearing While the committee continued hearing the pleas of advocates for legislative restrictions on oil imports Senator Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi, gave notice to the senate of a move to refer the legislation to the finance committee.

Much Oil Left Ralph Arnold, engineer, Los Angeles, told the committee he believed there was enough oil in this country to meet the nation's needs for 500 years at the rate of the present consumption of 1,000,000,000 barrels annually.

Chairman Johnson of the commerce committee, read the letter of Secretary Wilbur. The secretary declined to comment on the proposal of Senator Shortridge, Republican, California, for a tariff of $1 a barrel on crude oil imports. He said this was outside his jurisdiction.

The measure of Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, proposing a limitation of 16,000,000 barrels annually on oil imports was endorsed by the labor representatives and by Arnold.

Will Execute Trio Of Bank Robbers

CANON CITY, Colo., Jan. 30. (AP)—A triple execution was prepared at the state penitentiary tonight as penalty for the slaying of a Colorado officer by three men who robbed a bank at Manker, Kan., and fled into this state.

As their end approached, the trio—Claude Ray, John Walker, and Andrew Halliday, agreed to flip coins to determine the order of the hangings.

The crime for which Colorado courts decreed the death penalty was the shooting to death last March at Eads, Colo., of Coral A. Hickman, Kiowa county undersheriff who blocked the westward trail of their escape. Sheriff Duncan Coe of Cheyenne Wells, Colorado, was made a semi-invalid by a bullet from the bandit's guns and two other persons who joined in the chase received minor injuries.

THE WEATHER

OKLAHOMA: Fair, not much change in temperature, Saturday and Sunday.

Two of the greatest names in France will be united soon with the marriage of Michael (Clemenceau), grandson of the late ex-Premier Clemenceau, who was France's wartime leader, and Mlle. Terka Gross, great-granddaughter of Sarah Bernhardt, the actress. They are shown above.

CHASE WARNS VETERAN BILL

WOULD SHAKE MARKET OF SECURITIES IF PASSED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—The warning of Secretary Mellon that conversion of veterans' compensation certificates into cash would shake the securities market was supported today by J. Herbert Case and Roy Young, directors of the New York and Boston federal reserve banks, respectively.

At the same time Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, predicted "some form" of legislation for conversion would pass at this session, and be vetoed by President Hoover.

Case and Young were called by the house ways and means committee to testify regarding proposals for total or partial redemption of about three and one half billion dollars worth of bonds now held by the world war soldiers.

In millions and billions the financiers calculated effects of floating government bonds to carry out the project—until Representative Treadway of this committee asked if they meant "it would cost eight billion dollars of somebody's money to pay the soldiers one billion."

Allred Will Go To Wheeler For Court

District Attorney Raymond Allred will leave for Wheeler today to appear in the 31st district court.

On February 9, the trial of Tom Johnson, former Wheeler county officer, under indictment for the murder of George Brooks at Shamrock on October 11, 1930, will begin.

BOB WALLS IS WITNESS FOR MURDER TRIAL

DESCRIBES SCENE OF SLAYING TO JURY AT VERNON

THOMPSON WAS BLOODY

VERNON, Texas, Jan. 30. (AP)—A description of Homer Crabtree's condition after the fatal attack on him near LeFors, Gray county, last November, was presented to a jury this afternoon in the murder trial of Alvin Karpis, charged with Crabtree's death.

Bob Walls, LeFors constable, told of accompanying Thompson back to the scene of the affair November 5 and said he found Carl Hefner bending over the body of Crabtree. He said the injured man's face was gashed near one eye, there were sunken places in the forehead, the scalp was partially torn away and bleeding and blood was streaming from his mouth.

The witness testified he saw blood on Thompson's right boot from the ankle down and that Hefner's boot's and clothing also were bloody. He told of placing Crabtree in a car and sending him to a doctor's office where he died.

Other testimony during the afternoon described Thompson as being spattered with blood, his hat, jacket and hands being practically covered.

B. A. Davis, Pampa truck driver, represented Thompson as recounting how the victim begged for mercy during the attack but was refused it.

Other witnesses who testified they saw blood on Thompson were Herbert Brown and T. D. Yancey, pipeline company employees, who said Thompson told them he wanted some "witnesses" according to their testimony, Thompson asked them witness his apology to Davis, whom he had mistaken for another truck driver. Davis testified Thompson approached him and asked him if he did not see the fight, that Thompson apologized and called Brown and Yancey to witness it.

Major Evans, the state's star witness, had testified he was driving a truck when he saw Thompson and Hefner attack Crabtree. Davis said Thompson appeared to be drunk and angry. Constable Walls also testified Thompson appeared to have been drinking and that Hefner apparently was very drunk.

Frequent clashes of attorneys marked the progress of the trial today, almost every line of testimony being contested with objections. The courtroom was crowded to capacity.

Sterling Names Ranger Captains

AUSTIN, Jan. 30. (AP)—The state ranger force will have two new captains this year. Light Townsend of Wharton county and C. O. Moore of Austin.

The appointments of ranger captains for the next two years were announced today by Governor Ross S. Sterling. Frank Hamer, who will be in charge of the headquarters company here, will L. Wright, who will captain Company A, Fort Stockton, Tom R. Hickman, captain of Company B, Fort Worth, and Albert R. Mace, captain of Company D, Fallurias.

Moore, who was sheriff at Borger before the commission last month, announcing at the time it took this means to meet motor bus competition. Along with the fare cut the Frisco has been conducting a campaign among its employees to work for stricter regulation of buses and truck competition.

TAKE ANNUAL PICTURES All pictures of clubs and other organizations at Pampa high school, for publication in the 1931 Harvest, have been completed and will be sent to the publishers today. Members of the band had a group photograph taken yesterday afternoon.

A marriage license was granted yesterday to Pablo Almanza and Refugia Martine, both of Pampa.

Mrs. J. D. Sackett and infant daughter left the Worley hospital yesterday.

PARROT BLOOD

Eyes of the medical world are focused on Lillian Fisher, 15-year-old infantile paralysis victim of Joliet, Ill., whose life is believed to have been saved by injection of blood from a parrot through a mistake. A Joliet physician, seeking advice from a Chicago specialist by telephone, was told to inject "parrot's" blood, but misunderstood the word as "parrot's" blood.

RAILROAD FARE CUT BY EIGHT

TWO-CENT COACH RATE TO BE IN EFFECT TOMORROW

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 30. (AP)—A two-cent coach fare will go into effect on the Frisco system in nine southwestern states tomorrow night, and on seven other railroads, between points where they compete with the Frisco.

The reduction from 36 to 2 cents a mile was designed by the Frisco management to meet motor bus and private automobile competition, which has been making serious inroads on its passenger business. Frisco officials also said the cut was the "railroad's contribution toward bringing business improvement."

The fare became certain today with failure of the Interstate Commerce Commission to suspend the proposed new rate announced by the Frisco beginning February 1, and six competing railroads well in time before the commission last month, announcing at the time it took this means to meet motor bus competition. Along with the fare cut the Frisco has been conducting a campaign among its employees to work for stricter regulation of buses and truck competition.

GAS WELL COMPLETED ATLANTA, Texas, Jan. 30. (AP)—An 80,000,000 cubic foot gas well was brought in today by the United Production Corporation in section 2,316, Caddo Parish, Louisiana, eleven miles east of Atlanta. The measurement of gas was by gauge. The well is located on the C. W. and J. D. H. property and is close to the line of Cass county, Texas.

JURY FAILS TO HEAR EVIDENCE IN WIFE'S CASE

INDIFFERENT AS TOLD OF GRAND JURY VERDICT

WILL GO TO TRIAL SOON

MRS. WILSON'S STORY REMAINS SAME ON QUESTIONING

Charles, alias "Little Chuck" Wilson was indicted yesterday by the grand jury of the 114th district court, for the murder of C. H. "Bert" Taylor. Both Wilson and his wife, Billie Wilson, are held in the county jail.

Wilson was stoically indifferent when officers returned the indictment against him. The information did not disturb him at his game of dominoes.

Due to the pressure of work and the fact that this was a sort of special grand jury, the case of Mrs. Wilson was not considered by the grand jury, and no indictment has been returned against her.

Wilson will probably be brought to trial within the next three weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were arrested by county officers, after they had been notified by Gabe Garrett, a passing motorist, that the dead body of the 45-year-old carpenter foreman of the Phillips Petroleum company had been found at the rear of Taylor's car on a road three and one-half miles west of LeFors, early Wednesday morning.

With Mrs. Wilson, Taylor had left in his car from a dance at LeFors to go to Bowers City, where Mrs. Wilson desired to find out how much more time she had on a ring that was in pawn, according to the story told county officers by Mrs. Wilson. She became sick and asked Taylor to stop the car. They were ordered to "stick 'em up" by a hijacker who approached as they got out of the car. Taylor complied, but later made a move as though to reach for his gun. The hand fired, the 41 caliber bullet striking Taylor in the abdomen and killing him. After shooting Taylor, the hijacker, Mrs. Wilson ran along the highway to LeFors, where she informed cafe attendants of the tragedy, she said.

Story Unchanged After three hours of questioning by county officials Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Wilson's story remained unchanged. Mrs. Wilson's slight variation as to the details.

The body of Taylor was sent to Newcastle, Pa., for burial, Thursday afternoon, after funeral services at the First Presbyterian church here. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Alexander of Borger accompanied the body. Mr. Alexander is a cousin of the slain man. Other relatives were to join the Alexanders at Bartlesville, Okla.

In all, 13 felony indictments have been returned by the grand jury for the five days they have been in session. The grand jury was composed of M. K. Brown, foreman, E. E. Cole, W. E. James, Lee Harrah, W. R. Campbell, J. L. Noel, E. F. Elms, P. C. Ledrick, Oscar Prastler, Homer Kees, Roy McMillen, and Lee McConell.

Gilliland Opens New Confectionery

Formal opening of the La Nora confectionette, located at 1104 North Cuyler, was held at 6 o'clock last night. It is the newest confectionery in Pampa.

Alfred Gilliland is the proprietor of the new business. Jimmy Baker and Fred Stone are the employees of the place. Mr. Baker is manager of the fountain, and both are experienced sandwich men.

From the black tile and fine glass of the front of the business to the private room at the rear where parties of all kinds may be held for it is a beautiful place. Walls are of golden brown, and fixtures are rose-colored. There are six booths at the rear of the place, just in front of the private room.

OUR CLUBS STUDY SEWING HERE ON FRIDAY

'Midnight Fantasy' and 'Legend of Roses' Presented Friday Evening

MRS RUNYON NOW TEACHING SCHOOL AT COURT HOUSE OF GRAY COUNTY FOR TWO DAYS

BINDING, GATHERING, AND HEMMING ARE TAUGHT

Four Gray County Home Demonstration clubs were represented on Friday at the two-day sewing school which is being conducted at the court house by Mrs. E. G. Runyon of Amarillo, assisted by J. B. Brown of this city and Miss Myrtle Miller, home demonstration agent. Each woman is to make a book containing more than 20 types work which she can make with the various machine attachments.

A covered dish luncheon was served at noon Friday and another will be served today.

The following women were present Friday:

Grandview, Mrs. Joe Looper, Mrs. H. G. McCleskey, Mrs. Guy Andis, Mrs. B. C. Jones and Mrs. Roy Ritter.

Bluebonnet, Mrs. P. F. Britten and Mrs. Gus Davis.

Wayade, Mrs. A. L. Patrick, Mrs. Billie Taylor, Mrs. Gus Greene, Mrs. Tom Clayton, Mrs. H. H. Isbell, Mrs. R. R. Thomas and Mrs. E. Balch.

Pampa, Mrs. Robert Gilchrist, Mrs. Harold Blymiller, Mrs. J. B. Brown, and Miss Hazel Christian.

The following types of binding were studied Friday: straight, outside curve, inside curve, outside curve with rick rack, with French fold, scallop, placket, square corner and wooden materials. The group learned to use the hemmer for a straight hem, a hemmed seam, sewing on lace and hemming at the same time, and hemming and sewing on lace the French way.

Today the class will be taught the uses of the tucker and the gatherer.

Sewing in Vogue

"Fifty per cent more women are sewing now than ever before," declared Mrs. Runyon.

Her statistics are based on sales of Singer sewing machines of which 20 are being operated by representatives of home demonstration clubs in the county. Mrs. Runyon is demonstrating the use of 27 attachments.

Mrs. Runyon sees a quick return of the immense popularity of the sewing machine enjoyed. "Why everybody's sewing now. They've got to! The dresses women buy won't fit—they've got to alter them, and when they decide they must alter them, they just make them a dress. It's easy to learn to sew. Much easier than it used to be. That's because of the great improvement in the machine."

After the war, the sewing machine went out of favor, Mrs. Runyon pointed out. Then for 10 years everybody was prosperous and women were too much in a hurry to sew. Then too, they could buy dresses cheaper than they could make them. Now, there are only a few who are not short on cash. It pays to sew.

"Women are going back to their sewing machines!" she declared. "You may not believe it but more piece-quilts are being made now than ever before. Piece-quilts are in style again. Women are making their own draperies. The return to the sewing machine is going to bring individualism back to children's and women's clothes, to home furnishings. America is being rapidly de-standardized and the sewing machine is doing its part."

The sewing demonstration is in charge of Mrs. Runyon and Miss

FOUR HUNDRED ATTEND CARNIVAL GIVEN AT BAKER ON THURSDAY

Parents, teachers, and pupils cooperated to make the carnival on Thursday evening at Baker school a marked success. More than 400 persons attended the event.

Proceeds are to be used toward installing a cafeteria with the opening of school next fall.

A lunch counter was maintained in the assembly room under the sponsorship of Mrs. Emma Arrington and Miss Helen Anderson, fourth grade teachers, assisted by their room mothers. Bingo tables in the same room were sponsored by Mrs. A. J. Johnson, Mrs. McFarling, and the room mothers of their classes.

Doll racks in the same room were conducted by Miss Mary Bishop and Miss Martha Wolfman and their room mothers, while the fishing pond was overseen by Principal J. A. Meek, Mrs. Meek, J. W. Crowder, and "Red" Watkins.

In one room, the fifth grade, under the direction of Miss Edna Underwood, Miss Leota Brown, and the room mothers, entertained with a negro minstrel, while "The Biggest Little Show in the World" was given by Miss Cleo Snodgrass, Miss Ada Dabney and their room mothers.

CHARM CHATS

by Nancy Earle
Noted Authority and Writer on Health, Charm and Beauty.

More about abdomens! And ways to get rid of them! Or rather ways to get rid of the distorted protuberance which comes with bad posture, wrong diet, and lack of exercise. It should be remembered that it is impossible—even if it were desirable—to do away entirely with this part of the anatomy.

Many women make the mistake of seeking a complete flatness of abdomen. But a visit to art museums where the authority of Phidias himself may be called upon, will convince us that in the world of artistic conception, the fact of the abdomen is recognized. Certainly physical culturists and health enthusiasts agree that the aesthetic ideal is that of a gently moulded contour.

But this is something different from the unlovely distension which so often mars the figure even of a slender woman. Where the remainder of the figure is slender, then an unbecoming abdominal contour is almost invariably a matter of posture.

The so-called "debutante slouch" with head and shoulders jutted forward, the chest a cavernous recess, the body dangling on one leg as the other—with unjuncted hip—is left to its own devices at one side! A fitting last touch to such a picture is a bulging middle section which is inevitable when the body structure is distorted in its principles of equipoise and balance.

The "debutante slouch" herself is usually much distressed about her figure and reads endless reams of articles about diet and exercise and talks about it endlessly and even practices a faithful regime of exercise, and refrains from munching chocolate creams as she reads the articles. But all to little purpose—if she neglects the simple rules of posture.

Head up. Chin up. Backbone straight. The body poised upon the balls of both feet. That isn't so hard, is it, to do, or to remember? There is such a thing, however, as a geometrically large abdomen. A stomach which is ungracefully large in proportion to the rest of the body. Such cases result either from an accumulation of fatty tissue or from stretching the stomach by filling it too full of food.

The walls of the stomach are very elastic. And very obliging. If some evening Mrs. Satan serves our favorite mince pie, and we succumb to another piece and another—after an especially savory roast has lured us to another serving and another, and perhaps those delicious petit pots again and yet again!

Something has to be done about it! Can't you imagine the consternation in the nether digestive regions? Spatial accommodations exhausted! And more to be accommodated. Like a distracted Mine Host with more guests than the Inn has quarters.

The stomach is a very hospitable host. It will push out its walls in an effort to entertain all comers. When we overeat that is just what happens.

The stomach literally expands. Then at the next dining, there is that more commodious space to be considered before the stomach registers contentment. What little Sambo calls "that good feeling", the sense of sufficiency does not descend until the new and larger cavity is filled.

And we have room at Mrs. Satan's next invitation for still another triangle of mince, and still another

VALENTINE PARTY IS PLANNED BY SO JOLLY

Among the gayest events of the past week was the Valentine banquet given for Lions club members and their guests Thursday evening in the basement of the First Baptist church.

The large room had been decorated by women of the church with balloons and other bright effects suggestive of the Valentine season. Runners of red and white were used for the tables, which were also adorned with vases of flowers and with red hearts, cupids, and arrows. Valentines went as favors to each guest.

Baptist women who served the meal were frocked in white with red hearts as aprons.

The opening song, "Eyes of Texas," was followed with invocation by the Rev. Tom W. Brabham. After the first course, each woman present introduced her escort, telling his business, his hobby and his pet name. C. H. Walker was toastmaster for the occasion.

Hugh McKimling, official pianist of the Lions club, then entertained with two selections, and Clarence Arnold and Smith Woe delighted the crowd with two ditties, "At the Movies" and an impersonation of Amos and Andy.

"Broadcast" follows.

It was then announced that Station KORS, Amarillo, had dedicated a 20-minute period to the Pampa Lions club and would feature local artists. It was generally known, however, that the majority of those announced as appearing on the program were many miles from either Amarillo or Pampa, and when the radio was disconnected and the singing continued, the secret was disclosed. It was all a joke.

During the "Lucky Strike" hour J. O. Gillham was chosen as director, and four "experienced smokers," Ross Allen, W. H. Curry, W. T. Fraser, and Clyde Fatheree, were blindfolded and asked to identify each of four particular brands of cigars which they were given to sample. Various answers were given, much to the amusement of the guests, who knew that still another brand had been offered each time.

In closing the program, a lively sing-song was conducted by George W. Briggs.

ITALIAN OPERA STAR GIVES CHARITY EVENT

FLORENCE, Italy, Jan. 30. (AP)—Louisa Terrazini came back to the scene of her first operatic triumph tonight to learn that Italians never forget artists they have loved.

She answered the call of charity and emerged from her retirement to sing once again at the Verdi theater where two generations ago she made her debut and won the hearts of all who heard her in the lead role of Meyerbeer's Africana.

Tonight every song of the former Diva was cheered to the echo.

In the audience were many who had heard her at the height of her career. They applauded her just as they used to applaud her when she was the star of stars. Although she is nearing 60 the great soprano demonstrated tonight the "golden" voice still is golden.

Terrazini was a girl of 17 when she first trod the boards of Agricana. Today her name is a household word in Italy and so beloved is she that among her prized possessions is a picture of Mussolini in the audience when she sang in the voice that makes one believe in Paradise.

Tonight's program, which she said would make her last appearance in public, included songs in Italian, Spanish, French and English.

Big Fund Raised By Will Rogers

FORT WORTH, Jan. 30. (AP)—Will Rogers tapped the generous till of Fort Worth for considerably more than $15,000 for Red Cross drought relief funds tonight. The total will not be known until the money is counted.

He spoke twice, once at a negro church, and later in a theater, where the "gate" exceeded $15,000. He also was a guest at the Woman's club.

Rogers was greeted at the airport on his return from an engagement at Wichita Falls by Harry F. Sinclair, oil man, who arrived by plane a few minutes earlier.

Undertakers Now Modern In Dress

Vanishing from the American scene is the familiar old-time undertaker. Not so many years ago a characteristic figure at every funeral, easily recognizable by his rickety dress and bearing, he has been almost universally displaced by the modern funeral director, conventional in manner and attire like any doctor or business man.

One may still see him on the stage in plays of earlier American periods—the undertaker in silk hat and frock coat, black tie and wing collar and gray life gloves. In actual life he sometimes left trailing behind him a more or less distinguishable odor of the stable, because of his dual life, combining the functions of the funeral business with those of the livery and boarding stable.

COLUMBUS PRO SHOOTS BIRDIE TO TAKE TOURNEY LEAD

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer) BRACKENRIDGE PARK, SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 30. (P)—

Shute, the 46-year-old young Columbus, Ohio, professional, who won first prize of $1,500 last year's Texas open tournament, evidently has come back to claim his own.

Starting in just where he left off a year ago, Shute topped a hot course today in 66 strokes, five under par, to lead his closest rival by two strokes in the opening round of the 1931 event.

Shute already was assured of at least $125 at the pay off Sunday night, having won $100 as the leading professional in yesterday's amateur pro event and $25 for today's low score.

In second place tonight, just two strokes back of the pace setter and one ahead of five ardent pursuers, was Harry Cooper, Chicago professional, with a 68. Like Shute, he was never over par. His card showed three birdies and 15 pars. By actual count, the Chicago star was putting for birdies on 16 greens, several of them stopping on the lip of the cup.

Grouped at 69, two under par, and in threatening position for the second round of play tomorrow were five straight shooting professionals. They were Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., a former Texas open champion; Abe Espinosa, the Chicago Espinosas; Francis Schneider of Dallas, Tom Lally of San Antonio and Mike Murra, a dark horse from Wichita, Kan.

Charles Guest, Los Angeles money maker, was the lone amateur who registered a 70, running the total of par breakers to eight for the day, but seven succeeded in hanging up exactly what the score card called for, 71. In the group were Ralph Guldahl, the 18-year-old Dallas star, winner of last week's movie tournament at Los Angeles; Al Espinosa, Chicago veteran; Willy Coy of Brooklyn, who led through the third round of the Los Angeles open; Tom Bakker, Aberdeen, Wash.; Harold Long, Denver; Lou Waldron, Celina, Ohio, and Jack Speer, San Antonio amateur.

John Golden, Agua Caliente open champion, of Stamford, Conn., was dethroned with Dudley Bell, Houston, and Fred Gilbert, Los Angeles, at 72. A group of 15 players bunched with 73's included Horton Smith, New York; Frank Walsh, Chicago; Craig Wood, Deal, N. J., and John Dawson, Chicago.

Shute's fine 66 today tied the competitive course record for Brackenridge park, held jointly by Bill Mehlforn and Willy Cox. Playing in the threesome with Horton Smith and Jack Speer that attacked the Columbus principal gallery, the Columbus star gave the spectators something to look at from the first hole on.

Although the course was fairly heavy and the sun appeared through the low clouds only intermittently, there was no further moisture today and the fairways promised to be in good shape for tomorrow's round. The low 64 scores will be eligible to compete in the final 36 holes Sunday.

LEGISLATION ON TAXES IN TEXAS

Sometimes we think legislators have unusual sense of humor. At the present time there seems to be a funny idea of relief among the various solons now in session at Austin.

The situation is this. A bill providing semi-annual payment of taxes which was especially designed to relieve citizens of this state from paying their taxes while times are not as prosperous as formerly, has been passed. Governor Ross Sterling signed the bill to prevent taxes from becoming delinquent until October 15. The measure passed both houses without much difficulty. That is one kind of relief.

At the present time there are several bills in the legislative hopper proposing taxes on sulphur at the rate of $1.25 per ton and one cent per 100 pounds on salt. Some are proposing a tax on natural gas and petroleum products.

It apparently is a program of: I will relieve you of paying your tax until later but I will relieve you of your money with another bill.

But this is not the only angle to view this business of taxation. Governor Sterling is urging Texas industries to make Texas products and natural resources known to the markets of the world. He is urging them to go forward in the nation's business circles. Governor Sterling says natural resources in this state are enormous and they should be used.

While the Governor is making this good speech, the legislators are plotting to tax the natural resources. Heavy taxation of natural resources as gas, sulphur, salt and petroleum products will not help to build Texas industries and it will be no encouragement for the development of natural resources.

It is just one of those two act comedies that appear during the legislative shows every time the solons gather in the state house or the capitol building at Washington.

It is reported Mussolini is all smiles since he received an official apology from the United States for the remark Major Butler is supposed to have made recently. Just think the major might have hurt the gentleman's feelings.

Chicago is reported to be broke again. Altho Al Capone is unofficial manager of the city, he should be made official manager to see if he could rid the city of its debt. Apparently he has had plenty of experience in "managing."

We wonder why wives want to take their husbands window shopping these warm spring-like days.

TEXAS FARM BUREAU WANTS TARIFF CHANGE

DALLAS, Jan. 30. (AP)—The Texas Farm Bureau federation demanded tariff revision and tax equalization in resolutions adopted today at the closing session of the three-day eleventh annual convention here.

The group approved the federal farm board's recommendation to congress to increase duties on agricultural imports. This action was directed especially toward imported vegetable oils, of which it was claimed more than $75,000,000 annually is brought into the United States either on the free list or at low duty.

This resolution was aimed to aid livestock development and dairy farming. A federal tax was asked on oleomargarine products used as butter substitutes and the use of federal rather than substitute in butter and state institutions was urged. Revision of the present antiquated revenue system to place the tax burden where it falls to "pay" was demanded and to accomplish this, the group asked for a state board of equalization or a tax commission to bring about more equitable assessment methods; classification of intangible property for assessment and taxation purposes; a state income tax; and a production tax on natural resources, as a means of reducing the state property tax.

Other resolutions urged national and state legislation to directly reduce acreage of surplus farm crops and practical and elastic rural credit system; uniform weight cotton bagging; election law revision to insure the secret ballot; immediate passage of an anti-discrimination law to protect the farmer in the sale of his products on the open market, or through cooperatives; commercial truck and bus legislation to obtain from the operators more taxation for highway construction and maintenance; and use of high bred cotton seed.

About New York

By RICHARD MASSOCK NEW YORK—Is New York America?

Some vehemently say "No, it is not!" Some don't care one way or the other. But Robert E. Sherwood, editor and playwright, has gone to some length—a couple of hours of well-selected words, in fact—to make the point that New York, after all, is America. May I go out and play, therefore, and let him write the column?

LOCAL BOY SPEAKS UP Mr. Sherwood is virtually a New Yorker. He was born in New Rochelle, a few minutes away from the theater where his play, "This Is New York," ran a few weeks.

In that play he displayed a local pride worthy of a small-town chamber of commerce. And he has written a preface to the published version, in which he iterates the argument. "Wherever there is a saxophone, or the echo of one; wherever there is a riveting machine, or an argument over contract bridge, or a violation of the speed laws, or a photograph of Clara Bow, or a bottle of illicit gin—there is New York," says Mr. Sherwood.

Then he shoots his major shaft, which hits, not our middle-west (anyway, mine) but his own community, New York is not New York, but Broadway and by his reasoning, that makes America Broadway. Do you follow me? Well, then, let him explain.

"If you would find that definite being known as the typical New Yorker . . . you would look for him on Broadway and you would find him," Mr. Sherwood writes.

Urging the student of sociology to attend a representative New York first night, he continues: "If he can force his way through the drifts of ermine, the tropical tangle of orchidaceous decorations, and the Guerlain mists, he will discover just why it is that New York is hated, and feared, and envied. He will see the efforescence at the summit of the main stem which gives to New York its bad name.

"Here is a list of 'typical New Yorkers' taken from the report by the oye-eyed Ward Morehouse (a Savannah, Ga., boy, by the way), of the first night audience at a recent revue:

"Ivring Berlin, Mayor Walker, Marc Connelly, Greta Nissen, Marc Laubmann, Jesse Lasky, Mrs. Somerset Maugham, Earl Carroll, Luelia Gear, Arch Selwyn, Otto H. Kahn, Dorothy Fields, Lew Fields, Fay Marbe, Arthur Richman, Walter Wanger, Fannie Ward, Frank Crownshield, Texas Guinan, Martin Beck, Anita Loos, John Emerson, Jules Glaesner, Marjorie Oelrichs, Harold Ross, Lillian Gish, Peter Arno, Thomas Meighan, Mrs. Vincent Astor, Joseph Leblang, Claireborne Foster, Gilbert Miller, Louise Brooks, Sam H. Harris, Peggy Hopkins Joyce, Lee Shubert, Evelyn Wood, Charles B. Dillingham, Paul Block, Vincent Lopez, Gladys Glad and Lyman Brown.

"Certainly there are in this group individuals who are brilliant, charming and even respectable. But put them all together and you have such a horrible gathering as might have attended a rite at the court of Helogabalus or a celebration of the Black Mass in Byzantium." Why, Mr. Sherwood!

A hospital interne was dismissed in Brooklyn because patients complained that he had charged them to ride in the ambulance to the hospital.

R. R. Watson, manager of the Western Union, will leave this afternoon on a week end trip to Wichita, Kan.

Buck Jones Waives Examining Trial

MIDLAND, Jan. 30. (AP)—Explaining that he had obtained sufficient voluntary evidence to warrant the action, Sam K. Wassif, counsel for Buck Jones, today waived the right to examining trial for Jones, who is charged with murder in the fatal shooting Saturday night of Weldon L. Russell, Abilene real estate man. The 70th district court grand jury, which is to convene Monday, is expected to give first place to the investigation. Wassif said he would produce 14 character witnesses from Fort Davis, where Jones is said to have been employed in filming a motion picture, and several eye witnesses to the events at a dance party, where Russell was fatally shot.

When told that the visiting nurse would examine the feet of the first grade pupils at Trenton, Mo., one child exclaimed excitedly, "Let her come. I washed my feet last night." The bullet which killed a suicide in New York state passed through his head, severed a telephone wire overhead and sounded the call system in the home of the coroner of the county.
