Two charged in Pampa murder and kidnap

Two Pampa brothers are in police custody today after the stabbing murder of a city man and the kidnapping by gunpoint of an alleged witness to the crime late Thursday night.

Stefan Hunnicutt, 20, 1140 Neel Road, was arrested at 11:15 p.m. Thursday in the parking lot of the Coronado Inn. Hunnicutt was charged with murder in connection with the stabbing death of Dewell Jackson, 52, of 510 Oklahoma.

At 2:45 a.m. today, Hunnicutt's brother, James Michael Hunnicutt, 22, also of 1140 Neel Road, was arrested at his home and charged with aggravated kidnapping in connection with the abduction of a 17-year-old female, who reportedly witnessed the earlier stabbing.

Both men were awaiting arraignment on the charges at press time today. No bond had been set.

The bizarre chain of events leading to the two arrests began shortly after 10 p.m. Thursday when police received three calls within a two-minute period reporting an incident at a residence in the 500 block of Oklahoma. The callers reported conflicting addresses, according to Pampa Police Chief J. J. Ryzman.

Arriving at the location, officers discovered a crowd of people at the Jackson residence at 510 Oklahoma. The persons were armed with knives and sticks, police said.

The crowd parted for the officers and ambulance attendants, who discovered Jackson's body lying, face up, in the back bedroom of the white frame house.

Ryzman said Jackson apparently died of a single stab wound to the upper chest. The victim was dead when officers arrived, he said.

"He hadn't been dead very long," the police chief said. Police say they believe the weapon used in the stabbing was a "knife of the folding variety."

An autopsy was ordered by Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford at the scene. The autopsy is scheduled to be conducted by Amarillo pathologist Dr. Jose Diaz - Esquivel at 1 p.m. today in Amarillo, Ryzman said.

After the murder, the 17-year-old woman was reported to have been abducted from 532 1/2 Harlem. The suspect forced the woman — whom police asked to remain unidentified — by gunpoint to walk to 1140 Neel Road, according to police reports.

"Apparently, the (kidnap) victim and two others, a male and a female, were at the address when the (kidnap) suspect came in and told the (kidnap) victim she was going to accompany him and threatened to kill her if she didn't," the police chief said.

"As he forced her to go with him, he took out a handgun and shot it in the air," he said. The suspect reportedly pointed the gun at the victim several times, he said. Ryzman said once inside the Neel Road residence, the suspect allegedly slapped the woman.

After receiving report of the abduction, officers responded to 1140 Neel Road, arrested Hunnicutt and released the victim, the chief said.

Lt. Glen Carden, head of the detective division, obtained a search warrant after the arrest and found the weapon believed used in the abduction at the residence at 1140 Neel Road, Ryzman said.

The victim was not seriously injured, Ryzman said.

Police are continuing to investigate the murder-kidnaping. Services for Dewell Jackson are pending today with Carmichael-Whalley Funeral Directors.

County approves $2.9 million budget

Gray County Commissioners today approved the 1981 county budget to the amount of $2,947,000.

The 1981 budget includes an additional amount of federal revenue sharing receipts, estimated at $135,000. However, commissioners question the future of revenue sharing.

"We would rather keep the money statewide and distribute it locally," Commissioner Jimmy McCrackin, Precinct 3, said.

The Gray County 1981 tax levy was also approved at six cents less than 1980 levy. The tax was set at $1.19 per $100 assessed property valuation by the county commissioners.

In a discussion of a draft for Rural Rail Transportation District as proposed by the Panhandle Regional Planning Committee (PRPC), commissioners agreed the railroad district was probably necessary. "As long as the district will not be given powers of taxation," Commissioner Ted Simmons, Precinct 4, said.

The PRPC draft stated that taxation was not a part of the district powers.

No formal action was required on the Rural Rail Transportation District proposal. Commissioners were in agreement that the rail lines are necessary for many areas of the Panhandle. "And, as opposed to the cost of building highways, rehabilitating the railroads certainly is a good idea," Commissioner McCrackin said.

Commissioners also discussed the $21 million price tag on the 7 miles of highway recently completed on I-40.

"The cost figures $3 million per mile," Commissioner Ronnie Rice, Precinct 2, said.

Austin Ruddick of Pampa was awarded the bid for the Perry-Lefors Airport tiedown contract. Ruddick's low bid for the airport construction came to $1,208,250.

Gray County monthly bills in the amount of $109,000 were approved for payment by the commissioners.

Clovis airmen killed in Egypt

CLOVIS, N.M. — Three Cannon AFB airmen were among 13 Americans killed when a C-141 Starlifter crashed and exploded in the desert near Cairo West Airport in the first overseas test of the U.S. Rapid Deployment Force.

A spokesman at Cannon Thursday identified the victims from the Clovis base as Senior Master Sgt. Gerald J. Stryzak, 40, of Horsham, Pa.; Senior Airman Raymond J. Bianchi II, 21, of Buffalo, N.Y.; and Airman 1st Class Blaine J. Meyer of Milwaukee, Wis.

According to reports, Stryzak was explosives ordnance disposal superintendent with the 27th Equipment Maintenance Squadron, and Bianchi and Meyer were both explosive ordnance disposal specialists with the same squadron. Sergeant Stryzak's wife and two children reside at Cannon.

The Associated Press reported today the bodies of the 13 U.S. airmen were flown to Dover Air Force Base last night and given full military honors.

The bodies arrived at 7 p.m. in a C-141 and were met by Wing Comdr. Col Albert C. Guidotti, Chaplain Col. Ernest Moreau and a military color guard, honor guard and pallbearers, the AP said.

Victims of the crash, in addition to the three men from Cannon, were identified as Airman 1st Class Karen L. Marti of Springfield, Mass.; Senior Airman Martha M. Misko of Chatsworth, Calif.; Capt. Patrick A. Welsh of Vancouver, Wash.; Capt. Bradford B. Hirsch of Cedar City, Utah; Senior Airman Geoffrey L. Galvin of Houston, Texas; Staff Sgt. David L. Hare of Cape May, N.J.; Tech. Sgt. Lonnie G. Hoyer of Lewiston, Idaho; Staff Sgt. Gary T. Payne of Clear Lake, S.D.; Tech. Sgt. Robert S. Tuggle of Satellite Beach, Fla.; and Staff Sgt. R. Williams of Wheelersburg, Ohio.

Flags at Cannon AFB were lowered to half mast Thursday in honor of the three dead.

The plane was one of several involved in Operation Bright Star, the first military exercise to test America's rapid deployment force to defend Western oil supplies in the Middle East.

Barrett van used in get-away, vehicle recovered in Amarillo

A 1981 Ford van, owned by Harold Barrett Ford and used in the get-away after a burglary Wednesday, and the safe, stolen in the burglary of the car dealership, were reported recovered today by the Amarillo Police Department at press time.

Pampa Chief of Police J. J. Ryzman said his office had received a teletype from Amarillo authorities saying the vehicle and the safe had been found abandoned in the city. Ryzman said he did not know the location in Amarillo where the van and safe were recovered. No other articles reported missing in the burglary were found in the vehicle, he said. He said Amarillo will be requested to process the vehicle and safe for more evidence in connection with the break-in. No suspects had been arrested at press time today, the police chief said.

The investigation of the burglary is continuing, he said. Reports that a van, owned by Harold Barrett Ford, 710 W. Brown, was stolen and apparently used by suspects to transport the stolen articles came to light Thursday afternoon.

The five-foot, combination-lock, fireproof safe was reported to have contained $1,000 in cash, various checks and valuable papers. Gene Barrett said Thursday, the papers — 20 years of business records and financial statements — were irreplaceable.

Police said the safe was lifted into a vehicle by a hydraulic floor jack, also owned by the business. The safe apparently was transported to the office-garage door by a dolly, also owned by the business. The door frame was damaged when the vehicle was apparently backed up to the door, white paint can be seen at the damage site.

Stereo equipment — radios, stereos and tape players — were reported missing from the parts department.

Chuck Albus, an employee, reported a personal tool box containing about $1,500 to $2,000 in tools was taken.

According to police reports, the burglars entered the business by breaking and crawling through the rear window of the garage.

The burglary was reported at 7:30 a.m. Thursday by Chunky Leonard, an employee who had arrived to open the business.

Kip Craft Memorial blood drive set Dec. 17

The "Kip" Craft Memorial Blood Drive, to replace 60 pints of blood used in attempting to save the life of the Metropolitan Ambulance attendant, is scheduled Wednesday, Dec. 17, from 2-6 p.m. — not Monday, Nov. 17, as earlier reported.

John Mitchell, a spokesman for Coffee Memorial Blood Bank in Amarillo, told the Pampa News today the date was mixed up by persons planning the blood drive.

He said the blood drive will be conducted at Highland General Hospital and a large turnout is expected.

The ambulance attendant died Monday of injuries he suffered in a car wreck Nov. 8, in which two Wheeler women were killed.

Those who give blood insure the availability of all the blood needed by members of the donor's family. The blood donation acts as a kind of "blood insurance."

One pint of blood per year guarantees 100 percent payment of any blood needed by the donor, spouse or children.

Persons aged 17 to 18 years old must have written permission to give blood. No permit is needed for those over 18.

Coffee Memorial Blood Center supplies more than 1,000 pints of blood each month.

$5,500 mink stolen

A full-length ranch style mink coat, valued at $5,500, was stolen Thursday from the Hollywood women's shop in the Pampa Mall. The suspect apparently put on the coat and walked out through the front door of the business.

According to police reports, Sandra Maune, manager of the shop, reported someone had taken a dark brown, full length mink coat from the coat rack. The report said the suspect would have had to exit the business through the front door.

Lt. Glen Carden, head of the Criminal Investigation Division of the Pampa Police Department, said eight employees were on duty at the time of the theft.

No suspects had been arrested at press time today. Police are continuing to investigate the theft.

Beware of strangers

The report of an unidentified man going to a city residence and attempting to take two children into a vehicle without the permission of the children's parent has prompted city police to urge parents to watch their children closely and report anything of a suspicious nature to the department.

A Pampa woman reported Thursday that an unidentified man approached the residence at approximately 3 p.m. One of her sons was at home sick.

According to police reports, the suspect asked the child if the other two children were at home — calling the children by name.

The suspect reportedly said the sick child's mother had told him to pick up the children.

The Pampa mother told police she had picked up the children from school and had gone to church with them. She said she had not authorized anyone to pick up the children and had no idea who the man was.

Chief of Police J. J. Ryzman said he was increasing police patrol of the schools.

"I want to urge parents to report anything of a suspicious nature to the us and to try to obtain any and as much information as possible," Ryzman stressed.

The police chief said he did not believe the incident was connected to several child molesting attempts reported in early October.

Weather

Travelers advisories are in affect today due to the accumulation of ice on the roads. The forecast calls for a 50 percent possibility of showers throughout today and this evening, clearing and partly cloudy on Saturday. The high for today will be in the upper 30s the low for tonight will be in the low 30s. Winds will be 15-20 mph today diminishing tonight.

ICE AGE. Pampa entered the Ice Age temporarily last night as freezing rain coated vehicles with a solid sheet of ice. Sabra Stevens, a junior at Pampa High School, is shown here taking the scraper to the ice flees. The morning low was 31 degrees and Pampa recorded .14 of an inch of moisture — primarily in the form of freezing rain. A slow recovery from the cold front is forecast with Saturday's high expected in the 40's.

Furor over royalty's documented dalliances

By SETH MYDANS Associated Press Writer
 LONDON (AP) — Debate has developed along class lines over two new books that peek into the bedrooms of England's kings, princes and aristocrats, and find mistresses in many of them.

The publisher of one of the books is so irritated over complaints from people with "bourgeois attitudes" that he is withholding review copies.

Nobles have rallied to the cause, in support of their traditional vice.

"Mistresses, and their offspring, have been an accepted part of life for the aristocracy for centuries," said Harold Baker, manager director of Debreit's Peering, which has just published "The English Gentlemen's Mistress," by Douglas Southerland.

Debreit's has been deluged by complaints — which he describes as "a furor which frankly surprises" — and he refuses to give out copies of the book for review.

"The middle classes now seem to think (mistresses) should not even be mentioned in polite society. ... But if we are to document the upper classes we cannot be swayed by bourgeois attitudes."

Commented one female bookseller, "The book won't sell here. People don't like the idea of mistresses."

Another book at the dalliances of British royalty has drawn wide-eyed comment over the excesses of some of England's monarchs, previously thought to be staid and respectable.

"How would we react, I wonder, if Prince Charles came to the throne accompanied by the actress he had been living with and their 10 illegitimate children?" asked the Sunday Express. "Queen Victoria's predecessor, William IV, did just that."

Indeed, "The Kings' Mistresses," written by Alan Hardy and published by Evans, indicates times have changed, at least in the public behavior of England's royalty.

"What if the news broke tomorrow that the Prince of Wales (Prince Charles) had secretly married a twice-widowed woman six years older than himself ... by procuring a clergyman, from jail, to marry them?" the Express asked. "That most notorious Prince of Wales of all, later King George IV, did just that."

Examples abound.

Charles II shocked his subjects by riding in his coach with his wife, his mistress and his eldest bastard, Hardy writes.

James II was "perpetually in one amour or another without being very nice in his choice," according to contemporary historian Gilbert Burnet.

George I arrived from Hanover, in what is now West Germany, to take over the British throne in 1714 with two women — neither of them the queen — who were dubbed the Pole and the Elephant by his new subjects. One was thin and one was fat.

No whiff of sexual scandal has touched today's Prince of Wales, Charles, although rumors about who may become his queen have swelled as he nears his 32nd birthday today.

But Southerland says adultery is still a favorite sport of the British upper classes.

"If the Islamic penalty of decapitation for adulterers was applied to the English upper classes, there would be the greatest difficulty in making up a mixed foursome at the average tennis party on the vicarage lawn," he said.

And another aristocrat defended mistresses as a better social plan than today's system of marriage and divorce.

The Duke of St. Albans, great-great-great-great-great-grandson of Nell Gwynn, mistress of King Charles II, said, "Taking a mistress was not a frivolous business, not the licentious, libidinous thing the Victorians made out, and had nothing to do with the sleeping around which is supposed to go on now."

"In the days of arranged marriages, the mistress provided a social life, a normal, loving life, which the wife often could not ..."

"You could say it had advantages over the modern way. It was probably far better for the children than divorce."

RAYMA WATSON, publicity chairman of Epsilon Sigma Alpha chapter of Kappa Alpha, and Van Vandebrook, manager of Harvester Lanes, prepare for the St. Jude's benefit bowling tournament slated for Nov. 15-16 and Nov. 22-23 at Harvester Lanes. The tournament, sanctioned by A.B.C. and W.I.B.C., will begin at 3 p.m. Saturday and 1 p.m. Sunday. All proceeds from the tournament will be donated to St. Jude's Children's Hospital.

British papers predict prince's betrothal

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles celebrated his 32nd birthday today amid newspaper speculation that he has chosen 19-year-old Lady Diana Spencer, a distant relative of the Churchills, to be his wife.

Some papers predicted the engagement would be announced today. Others suggested it would be delayed until spring.

The heir to the British throne planned a small, private birthday party tonight at Highgrove, the $2.4-million estate he bought in Gloucestershire three months ago. Lady Diana is certain to be there.

The latest front-runner in the royal matrimonial sweepstakes is the youngest of four children of the 8th Earl of Spencer. Her father, like the Churchills, is a descendant of the first Duke of Marlborough and is the owner of vast landholdings. Her parents are divorced.

and her mother has remarried.

Dubbed Lady Di and Dishy Diana by the press, she is slim and pretty, with short blond hair, teaches kindergarten at a private day school in London's Pimlico district, and is reported to be shy, unsophisticated and fond of outdoor activities.

She also gives reporters the brushoff, which gossip columnists say impresses the royal family.

Navy aims to recruit more blacks

HOUSTON (AP) — The U.S. Navy has branched out beyond college ROTC programs and accelerated its recruiting of qualified blacks and Hispanics, says the service's chief of personnel.

Vice Adm. Lando W. Zech Jr. told the presidents of four predominantly black universities Thursday there now is "an interest in accelerating the effort to get qualified minorities into responsible positions."

Rear Adm. Floyd H. Miller Jr., the Navy's recruiting commander, said about 13 percent of the enlisted men are black but only 3 percent are officers.

Attending the session were Dr. Alvin I. Thomas, president of Prairie View A&M; Dr. Walter L. Smith, president of Florida A&M; Dr. Jesse N. Stone, president of Southern University in Louisiana, and graduate school to consider, said Dr. Wendell G. Rayburn, president of Savannah (Ga.) State College.

Thomas said blacks historically have perceived their role in the Navy as "wardmen and messmen, but times have changed. It is now our job to get the young blacks now attracted by industry, business, government and Republican administration expects good opportunities in the service. He said President-elect Ronald Reagan made firm commitments to a strong national defense and to support black colleges.

Funds advocated in lieu of immigration control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower, pointing to the federal government's inability to enforce immigration law, says local school districts should get some financial help to educate illegal alien children.

"The states are not responsible for the establishment or enforcement of our nation's immigration policy and laws, and I do not believe they should be burdened with the expense brought on by the federal government's failure of enforcement," the Texas Republican said Thursday in introducing a bill to provide federal aid.

The measure is the second introduced since a federal judge last summer declared unconstitutional a Texas law that denied state funds for the education of illegal alien children.

Supreme Court Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr. later refused to allow Texas school districts to postpone enrolling illegal aliens or to charge them tuition while the decision was being appealed.

Rep. Jim Mattox, a Democrat from Dallas, introduced in the House a bill similar to Tower's but there has not been any movement since it was referred to committee.

Tower aide Linda Hill said any groundwork laid during the current lame-duck congressional session would make it easier to re-introduce the bill when the new session starts next year.

"It would be overly optimistic to predict passage," she said of the bill's chances during the lame-duck session.

Tower's bill also would ease federal regulations for local school districts with growing enrollments of illegal alien children, including suspension of the Department of Education's proposed bilingual education regulations.

The loosened regulations would apply in districts where 200 illegal alien children are enrolled or where they make up at least 2 percent of total enrollment.

The bill authorizes a maximum of $200 million annually for the 1981-1983 fiscal years to be paid to eligible state education agencies. The reimbursement for local school districts would be the average per pupil expenditure in the state or $1,500 — whichever is less.

"The cost should be borne in principal part by the entity responsible for the problem which has arisen — that entity being an administrative agency of the federal government," Tower said in his remarks.

Texas was the only state to have a law of the type declared unconstitutional by U.S. District Judge Woodrow Seals in Houston last summer.

The state's school districts have not reported the expected flood of illegal alien children since the court order went into effect.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, is the sponsor of a proposal to authorize $45 million in funds to border school districts for the construction of new facilities, particularly classrooms.

The measure is included in the Economic Development Administration bill currently in a House-Senate conference committee, and prospects are uncertain for its passage before the congressional session ends.

Spokesman fears Reagan policies

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The housing industry will founder if president-elect Ronald Reagan tightens mortgage money supplies to combat inflation, says a housing industry spokesman.

Home builders are afraid Reagan will seek advice from leading economists like Alan Greenspan, who has suggested that the government call a six-month moratorium on mortgages to help correct the nation's economic problems, said Herman J. Smith, president-elect of the National Association of Home Builders.

Smith, a builder and developer from Fort Worth, Texas, made the remarks Thursday at a convention of the Colorado Association of Home Builders.

He said the industry will closely watch the cabinet and administrative appointments Reagan makes in the several weeks.

"We hope we see businessmen put in these positions, not warmed-over politicians," Smith said. "Only one current member of the Federal Reserve Board has ever met a payroll in private life."

Homebuilders will encourage the government to make more money available to thrift institutions, which can in turn provide more money for home loans.

Machine turns money to mud

DALLAS (AP) — Every day at an unobtrusive building on downtown's east side, $1.5 million in good old American greenbacks are chewed into itsy-bitsy pieces.

That's roughly $7.5 million a week, and $30 million a month and (gasp) $360 million a year.

And the destruction has Uncle Sam's full blessing. Before you clutch your chest and keel over, let's explain: The money is old, dirty, tattered and downright unusable.

Federal Reserve Banks just yank the dingy bills out of circulation and feed them to a paper shredder the likes of which you've never seen.

The hungry beast counts the money, checks each bill for fitness, spots counterfeit money, then hits the unusable fortune with a blast of air as it chews it into an unrecognizable mess.

The result is a tangled wad of spaghetti-like strips. Each bill takes up 27 times as much space as it did when it left your wallet.

The Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas owns two of the greedy money shredders — known in government-ese as Currency Verification and Counting Systems — and is about to purchase a third.

The CVCS can process more than 70,000 bills an hour, and it stays pretty busy since the Dallas bank receives between 700,000 and 800,000 pieces of currency each day from area banks.

After it is reduced to so much confetti, the money is shipped weekly to Great Bend, Kan., where it is pulverized and mixed with oil drilling mud.

The money, it seems, gives the goeey mud a slippery, but durable consistency.

Bob Davis, owner of Davis Mud and Chemical Co. in Great Bend, says he started using the money after the Environmental Protection Agency banned incineration of the currency.

"About eight years ago, I saw a newspaper story about how banks were having trouble getting rid of this old money," Davis said during a recent telephone interview. "They couldn't burn it any more, and when I found out they were shredding it, I knew we could use it."

"Not only is it a high quality of paper, but it's durable."

Although Davis gets the money for free, he says weekly transportation costs soon may make it too expensive.

Poland facing food and fuel shortages

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The Polish government has avoided a showdown with the country's biggest independent labor union, but Poland still faces the bleak prospect of food and fuel shortages, declining economic growth and local labor disputes.

Premier Jozef Pinskiowski estimated in a recent speech that it would take at least two or three years to rebuild the economy after years of mismanagement and months of labor unrest.

"We must all be aware that we are faced with a difficult period of time," he said.

Some Western observers believe the potential for new and potentially devastating social and labor unrest will remain until the economy is restored.

Settlement of the controversy over the charter of Solidarity, the country's biggest new independent union, apparently has ended the threat of widespread strikes for the time being. Solidarity leader Lech Walesa called off plans for nationwide selective strikes after the Supreme Court ruled the union's charter need not include a clause affirming the leading role of the Communist Party.

But local labor disputes ranging from temporary work stoppages to full-fledged walkouts continue.

The government has warned repeatedly that the cumulative effect of local strikes will add another burden to the already strained economy.

Crash victims' bodies return

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Spectators and the honor guard shivered in the chilly night air as a C-141 landed with the remains of 13 U.S. airmen killed in a practice mission in Egypt.

Families of the 11 men and two women were not at Dover Air Force Base when the transport plane arrived Thursday night after a 9½-hour flight from West Germany.

Six pallbearers, led by a color guard, removed each flag-draped casket from the plane to a waiting hearse for transfer to the base mortuary.

The airmen were killed shortly before midnight Wednesday when their plane crashed during the first test of America's Rapid Deployment Force, authorities said.

Wing Cmdr. Col. Albert C. Guidotti stood at attention beside the plane while Col. Ernest Moreau, a chaplain, blessed each casket by saying: "May you be blessed for having given your life for your country and for each one of us."

About 40 people lined the airstrip to watch the ceremony, but most were gone before half of the caskets had been removed. The unloading took about 45 minutes and pallbearers could be seen struggling to keep a good grip on the caskets.

Maj. Robert Groom, a base spokesman, said he did not know how long the bodies would remain in the mortuary.

MUD MONEY. A bank worker at the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas bundles shredded U.S. currency for shipment to a Kansas firm where it is pulverized and mixed with oil well drilling mud. The money, it seems, gives the mud a slippery but durable consistency. The bank shreds $1.5 million a day of old money, over circulated money and dirty money.

German named 'Miss World'

LONDON (AP) — Gabriella Brum of Germany is the new Miss World, and the organizers of the annual contest say she is the first holder of the title to be judged on personality and intelligence as well as beauty.

The 18-year-old blue-eyed blonde, tallest in the contest at 5 feet 11 inches, won over 66 other contestants in London Thursday night. She has been working as a model in Los Angeles for the last six months, but her parents live in West Berlin.

Reacting to criticism that the 30-year-old contest was nothing but a "cattle market," the organizers this year said the contestants would be judged on personality and intelligence as well as looks, and the usual bust-waist-hips measurements were not given to the judges or the press.

But Miss Brum told reporters she thought she won "more because of my beauty."

Miss Guam, Kimberly Santos, 19, a travel consultant representing the U.S.-owned South Pacific island, was second, and 17-year-old Miss France, student Patricia Barzyk, was third.

Miss Israel, Anat Zimmerman, finished fourth; Miss Britain, Kim Ashfield, was fifth; Miss United States, 17-year-old receptionist Brooke Alexander from Kailua, Hawaii, was sixth among the seven finalists, and New Zealander Vicki Lee Hemi was seventh.

MISS WORLD. Miss World 1980, Germany's Gabriella Brum, 18, is flanked by her runners-up at the end of the Miss World beauty contest at London's Royal Albert Hall Thursday. The women are from left, Miss United Kingdom, Kim Ashford, 21; Miss France, Patricia Barzyk, 17; Miss World; Miss Guam, Kimberly Santos, 19; and Miss Israel, Anat Zimmerman, 18.

Population boom foreseen in state

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Stemming an escalating birth rate is one of the world's biggest challenges in this decade, a population advocate contends.

"Next to nuclear war, overpopulation is the worst human disaster," said Werner Fornos, founder of the World Population Institute in Washington, D.C.

Fornos, a spokesman for the Population Action Council, is in San Antonio through Saturday seeking support to prevent an overpopulation disaster he sees for the future.

By the year 2000, Fornos predicted the Amazon River Basin will be a desert, half the world's forests will be gone and 6.4 billion people will inhabit the earth if current population trends continue.

"At the current rate of growth, there is no way we are going to keep pace with supplying all the food and sewage and garbage facilities for everyone," Fornos said.

Bishop calls for repentance

HOUSTON (AP) — The United States has caused the deaths of many who try "to free people" from tyrannical regimes and Americans should apologize for the "horrible things" done in their name, says a Methodist bishop who has worked to free the hostages in Iran.

Bishop Dale White, who twice has traveled to Iran in an effort to win release of the 52 American hostages, told the United Methodist Council of Bishops Thursday his suggestion probably could include apologizing to Iran for past actions and making restitution.

White, of Princeton, N.J., told the 90 bishops attending the biennial meeting that Americans were like passengers who "enjoy the festivities in the great ballroom of a ship while it is sinking."

"No matter how many horrible things are done in our name in the world, when someone suggests we own up to our own culpability, we all stand in the door of our establishment with an ax handle crying, 'Never!'"

He blamed the United States for causing the deaths of many who tried "to free people from systems American leaders forged and continue to support in our name," citing the assassination of Archbishop Oscar A. Romero in El Salvador.

He added, however, "the poor of the world are waking up... They are learning mass economic and political systems to ensure the domination of the few over the many."

New bills and old losers ready for legislature

AUSTIN (AP) — Wearing masks, scalping tickets and selling babies are some of the things under attack in proposed legislation that will be scrutinized by Texas lawmakers when they convene here in January.

Legislators won't take their seats until Jan. 13, but several eager participants have pre-filed a pile of bills that would:

- Make it illegal to wear a mask.
- Ban excessive profits on ticket scalping.
- Increase the penalty for selling children.
- Do away with the Sunday blue law.
- Allow criminal prosecution of children.
- Double the penalties for crimes against the elderly.

Under the mask bill, it would be illegal to wear a mask as a disguise except on celebrations such as Halloween.

ASHTON, Mich. (AP) — Four children who were in school when a fire killed their parents and three siblings have reported they were the victims of child abuse — and one of them has confessed to setting the fire, police say.

It may not have been the first time the children fought back with fire, police say.

The young survivors told police they had been abused by their parents, and one of them had been abused Monday morning before the fire.

Wearing a mask during a crime would be a third-degree felony. The bill, a rerun from Rep. Sam Hudson, D-Dallas, died in committee in 1979.

Another 1979 loser is Sen. Chet Brooks' ticket scalping bill. Tom Kleinworth, an aide for Brooks, D-Pasadena, said the bill is backed by professional teams.

The bill would make it a misdemeanor to sell tickets to entertainment events at excessive profits. A $2 profit would be allowed on tickets costing $10 or less. A $5 profit would be allowed for more expensive tickets.

Doyle Willis, D-Fort Worth, wants the penalty for selling children bumped up to a third-degree felony from the current misdemeanor charge.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The mayor handed out miniature Liberty Bells to the producer, the director, the star and his leading lady, and they gave him a bit part.

"Any politician who doesn't want to be in the movies is missing a bet," Mayor William Green said Thursday.

"Look how far you can go," he said, referring to President-elect Ronald Reagan, an old movie star whose films are making quite a few post-campaign appearances.

Green and Pennsylvania Gov. Dick Thornburgh accepted invitations to appear as ballroom extras in "Blowout," which is being filmed here.

"Any time I can get on stage or in front of a camera, I grab at it," Thornburgh said.

The movie stars John Travolta as a sound technician who inadvertently records an actual crime and then becomes involved in the murder. His leading lady is Nancy Allen.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Film Institute says hats off to Fred Astaire, the classy crooner and dancer of "Top Hat" fame.

The institute will present its Life Achievement Award to the star of "Daddy Long Legs," "Swing Time," "The Gay Divorcee" and other film classics, institute director Jean Firstenberg announced today.

Astaire, 71, will receive the award in Los Angeles at the ninth annual Life Achievement Award dinner in late February or early March. It will be televised on CBS.

Astaire first put on his dancing shoes in vaudeville at age 8, dancing with his sister, Adele. The pair captured Broadway and London stages, and in 1931, when Adele married, Astaire went to Hollywood to begin his film career.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Ronald's Reagan's victory was a right-wing takeover of the Republican Party, not a "majority mandate," says Gloria Steinem.

The feminist editor of Ms. magazine predicted Thursday that the president-elect will be "actively hostile" to feminist political views.

Speaking to some 2,000 teachers at the New Jersey Education Association convention, Ms. Steinem said she expected Reagan to attack the Equal Rights Amendment, federal aid to child care and battered women centers, food stamps, welfare and even women's scholastic sports.

And the conservative push for a constitutional amendment defining human life as beginning at conception, thus outlawing abortions as murder, "would literally turn women's bodies into possessions of the state," she said.

The teen-ager was too disruptive to stay with his parents after being barred from NIH in January of this year and then spending only three weeks in another hospital. The Post said. So he spent much of the last year alone, living in vacant lots and sleeping on the streets.

"What I'd like most is to get out of the hospital and live with my parents but I guess I can't do that," said Kreuter, who suffers from a rare form of cancer known as undifferentiated sarcoma. He is 6 feet 1 inch tall, but weighs only 110 pounds.

Kreuter is able to stand the pain of his illness only by taking morphine every four hours, and doctors at NIH acknowledge that the youth had become addicted to the drug while at the facility.

"We were really torn because Joe could be a very likable and charming kid," said Dr. Philip Pizzo, a pediatric cancer specialist who treated Kreuter for 2½ years at NIH.

Cancer victim living on streets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joe Kreuter, an 18-year-old cancer patient banned from treatments at the National Institutes of Health because of his drug problems and unruly behavior, says he's looking forward to getting an apartment after spending much of the last year living on the streets.

Kreuter, who according to doctors may be terminally ill, was discharged from NIH after repeatedly smoking marijuana at the facility in suburban Maryland and assaulting a physician on one occasion. He had received treatments at the government-run facility for three years.

The Arlington, Va., man, whose story was told in today's editions of The Washington Post, is now recovering from his latest operation — this time on his lung.

"I think an apartment will be okay," he said as he discussed attempts by Arlington Hospital officials to find him his own place to live on $320 a month in disability checks and food stamp payments.

first thought the 21-month-old baby was sick with a flu. Bell County Health Director Dr. G.J. Womack said he was "nearly positive" the toddler died of the contagious form of spinal meningitis called hemophilus influenzae.

Because that form of meningitis is considered contagious and sometimes fatal, the day care center was closed Thursday and will not reopen until test results on the children and adults are available, Womack said.

The form of meningitis that killed the boy usually strikes children between six months and three years of age, said a Dallas pediatrician.

It is curable in most cases if detected early enough, he added.

Meningitis hits day care center

TEMPLE (AP) — A church day care center here remains closed after a toddler died of contagious meningitis and health officials await results of tests on the staff and children.

Throat cultures were taken from 100 children and 30 adults who were exposed to the bacteria at the First Baptist Church Child Development Center on Thursday.

Physicians at two Temple hospitals say they are trying to find out if any of the others who came in contact with the sick child contracted the contagious illness.

Alan Tate Maxwell died Wednesday, 24 hours after he was taken to Scott and White Memorial Hospital in Temple. Doctors say they murder in the Oct. 20 shooting. He has said he wants to withdraw from the bizarre case, however.

Miss Piotrowski, former mistress of Houston millionaire Richard Minns, was shot four times in the back as she left a Houston doughnut shop. The 27-year-old model, recuperating at a Houston hospital under an assumed name, is paralyzed from the waist down.

Minns has refused to discuss the case.

Shooting trial counsel wants out

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston attorney hired to defend two California men accused in the attempted murder of Barbara Piotrowski testified Thursday before a Harris County grand jury investigating the shooting.

After his testimony, Jim Tatum refused to answer questions about the case.

Tatum said he was hired to represent Nathaniel Ivery, 26, and Tony Patrick Steen, 21, both of Riverside, Calif., charged with attempted

Utility accused in well drilling

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston utility ordered shut down by a federal bankruptcy judge for alleged state health violations has been accused by the Harris-Galveston Coastal Subsidence District of drilling an underground water well without a permit.

Last month, U.S. Bankruptcy Judge John R. Blinn ordered the financially troubled firm closed after failing to comply with Texas Health Department requirements for purifying water.

Each piece is totally individual...yet, creates an integrated whole. This is what we have strived for, and achieved in the American Drew Venture Oak Collection.

The total collection can be used in three different ways: The first, to achieve a formal and elegant look. The second, a less formal and more country look. The third, a blending of the two for your own uniquely personal electric look. The entire collection has a glowing amber-tone finish with a great deal of highlighting and antiquing. The finish evokes the lovely look of candlelight on a precious heirloom, or a hearth fire on a cold winter night.

MICKEY GILLEY

Mechanical bull ride not Gilley's idea of a fun-type pastime

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Country music singer Mickey Gilley, whose Texas nightclub helped inspire the urban cowboy craze, says he believes the western charm will last a lot longer than a twisting ride on a mechanical bull.

Gilley, whose club was the earthy setting for the John Travolta film "Urban Cowboy," says the variety of country music, the lure of its lyrics and associated attractions like the mechanical bull and western fashion will maintain the "cowboy chic" fever.

The movie helped launch dozens of similar clubs across the country, many of them converted discos whose rhythmic beat was becoming unimaginative and boring to scrutinizing listeners.

Patrons now show up wearing snappy western hats, boots and jeans, and some of them drive shiny pickup trucks with Confederate flags in the rear window and bumper stickers deriding disco.

And the onslaught has even affected some skating rinks, whose traditional organ music has succumbed to the country sound.

Gilley, whose nine No. 1 country hits include "Stand by Me" and "True Love Ways" from "Urban Cowboy," says he thinks the appeal of his type of music will last as long as a well-preserved rhinestone.

"It's got a hold on the country because there are so many types of country music," he says. "Disco had no variety. There was just one beat to it so it all sounded the same. After all, you don't eat chicken every day; you want baloney once in a while."

"The kids are enjoying country music because songs are being written that they relate to," he says. "The songs reach down and grab you and become very meaningful."

"As long as the songwriters keep writing about life, it'll last. Fifteen years ago, you couldn't hear the type music you are hearing now. We're spinoffs of rock 'n' roll."

"We've come a long way from the days of the box guitar and mandolin. We don't live in the Stephen Foster days any more. 'You keep rollin' with the flow,' as Charlie Rich would say," Gilley said.

Gilley's club, near Houston, is a 48,000-square-foot cavern with a capacity of up to 3,500. Attractions include a mechanical punching bag and three mechanical bulls, made famous by "Urban Cowboy."

"At the club, you can drink, dance, ride the bull, pick up women or use the punching bag," he says.

But riding the bull is not for him. "I can ride it and I have four or five times. But the operator can hurt you if he cranks it up. I don't want to get hurt."

Television magazine draws Congress' eye

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It's not very often that a TV magazine enjoys the special attentions of Congress. A publication called The Dial actually has an amendment of its very own floating around somewhere on Capitol Hill.

The Dial finds itself in that heady circumstance because it happens to be a subsidiary publication of four public TV stations, and it sells advertising.

The amendment in question is The Dial's death warrant, a measure calling for withholding of all federal funds to PBS stations that accept advertisements in their program guides. The amendment, authored by Rep. Robert E. Bauman, R-Md., was passed last summer in a sparsely attended House session.

The status of the Bauman amendment is uncertain. For one thing, its sponsor, Bauman, was rejected in his re-election bid after a personal scandal, and no one has stepped forward to assume championship of the cause. The measure has not been considered by the Senate.

The effort to kill The Dial has to do with its indirect connection to the federal government — its startup money came from a tax-exempt foundation, its subscribers will be able to deduct a portion of their subscription fees from income taxes.

Thus, the pretzel logic holds. Uncle Sam is really publishing The Dial. And since the magazine sells advertisements, the federal government is competing with private enterprise in going after advertisers.

Got that? If you can grasp that thinking, you may wonder how the private enterprise system has survived the selling of ads by other magazines similarly connected to government, such as Smithsonian, Harvard Magazine, National Geographic and that nemesis of capitalism, Boy's Life.

Public TV's detractors are always raving about taxpayers' dollars being squandered on the limited-appeal Public Broadcasting Service, and funding is an abiding problem among PBS stations. So, a few of the stations get together, publish a slick magazine and sell advertisements in the hope of turning a buck that doesn't come from taxpayers.

Profits will go to the stations for programming and operations. Sounds perfectly American to me.

Surrogate mother goes home, baby stays with new parents

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — An Illinois woman reportedly has given birth to an 8-pound, 6-ounce boy and relinquished it to its father — a man she has never seen.

The child was born Saturday night to a 37-year-old woman who was artificially inseminated with the man's sperm in a surrogate parent program, according to a television report. The baby will not return home with its mother, but instead remain in Louisville with his new parents.

The birth was reported Thursday by WHAS-TV. Hospital officials told the station the birth was kept secret until a judge could approve parental rights.

The woman is one of at least four to have been impregnated in a program administered by Surrogate Parenting Associates, Inc., an organization set up by Dr. Richard Levin, a Louisville specialist on infertility.

The woman, who entered the hospital as Mrs. Elizabeth Kane but whose real name and hometown haven't been revealed, was flown to Louisville and gave birth to the boy at Audubon Hospital, according to the report.

The woman had answered a classified advertisement in a Louisville newspaper last November which sought a woman to carry a child for a Louisville couple who couldn't have one any other way.

"From Raquel with love" on television

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Take one super sex symbol, examine that image in the crack'd mirror of self parody, and you have Raquel Welch's new television special.

"From Raquel with Love," which ABC broadcasts Sunday night, is a mini-musical about a movie star's visit to New York to claim her own corner of Paradise.

"I play the Hollywood actress," said Miss Welch, "and it's a takeoff of my own image, what people think a movie star is."

She taped the special in four days on location in New York, with guest stars Mickey Rooney, James Coco and Douglas Fairbanks Jr. She then returned here for another four days of studio taping.

"Mickey Rooney plays a New York cab driver," Miss Welch said. "He's sort of my guardian angel who rescues me from situations and takes me places a movie star couldn't ordinarily go."

"Jimmy Coco is my comical, hysterical, very Hollywood press agent. The characters are very broad, but it's meant to be entertaining and not intellectual."

The special was written by Andre Weinfeld, who also is executive producer — and who also happens to be Miss Welch's new husband. They were married July 5. Weinfeld has written the script of a movie she plans to do after completing her role in "Cannery Row," which is next on her schedule.

That role in Weinfeld's film borrows from the clumsiness of Constance. Miss Welch's character in the recent comedy remake of "The Three Musketeers." But Miss Welch said she's not going to become a female version of Inspector Clouseau.

Miss Welch has been signed, meanwhile, for the important role of Susie in MGM's "Cannery Row," opposite Nick Nolte.

David S. Ward, who won an Academy Award for writing "The Sting," wrote the screenplay and will direct the film based on two of John Steinbeck's books, "Cannery Row" and "Sweet Thursday."

Miss Welch said she has mixed feelings about turning 40 on Sept. 5.

"I haven't been back to Chicago since I was a child, except going through the airport," she said. "Victor Skrebneski took some pictures of me and he put five on exhibition in Chicago. He asked me if he could call them birthday pictures. I hadn't thought of turning 40 as a milestone. But so many people ask me about it that it's becoming a milestone."

Prison drill team popular

RIVERVIEW, Fla. (AP) — At a correctional institute near Tampa, inmates mark time while they serve time. It's an experimental drill team of state prisoners. The idea came from Donald Cole, a Hillsborough County Corrections Institute guard, who is a retired Marine gunnery sergeant and drill instructor from Parris Island, S.C.

Tampa. Cole offered to organize it on his own time. "After talking to several of the inmates and finding out they wanted to do it, we put out a notice to our population of 360," said Landress. Eighty-five signed up, and after four months 39 are still with it.

"These are young men, average age 18, with the best chance of rehabilitation. They are in for the least severe crimes," Landress said. The average sentence is about two years and most prisoners are out on a work-release program about 10 months prior to release.

Several months ago Cole approached Dale Landress, superintendent of the minimum-security facility for first-time offenders located in this rural community 25 miles south of Landress feels the exercise has been successful because the men lack discipline and crave authority. "On the squad, they get both," he says. "They know I'm tough, but they know I care about them," he says.

Cole's team practices once or twice a week for two hours during the prisoners' free time. "It has helped their attitude and their personal appearance," says Cole. "The ones in the program changed and everyone knows it, including them."

Clovis writer wins first Western novel competition

NEW YORK — Bantam Books Vice President and Editor-in-Chief Rollene W. Saal and Lorna Darmour, vice president, creative affairs of 20th Century Fox recently announced that "Season of Vengeance" has won the $25,000 Bantam Books-20th Century-Fox Pictures First Western Novel Competition. "Season of Vengeance is the story of a peaceful rancher's relentless quest to avenge the mysterious murder of his wife."

Written by W.W. Southard, a 48-year-old New Mexican newspaper editor, the novel was selected from nearly 1,000 manuscripts submitted in a contest that was designed to encourage writing of the kind of quality Western fiction that has entertained readers and movie-goers for decades.

"Season of Vengeance" will be published for the first time in book form as a Bantam paperback in April, 1981. Film rights have been purchased by Fox. Mr. Southard will receive $25,000, of which $5,000 is an outright prize, $10,000 is the publisher's advance against royalties, and $10,000 is the film studio's purchase price for the motion picture rights.

According to Irwyn Applebaum, Bantam's Western editor, "Interest in good Western writing is currently very strong, based on the hundreds of entries to our contest by men and women from all parts of the country. We are delighted by the discovery of Mr. Southard, whose "Season of Vengeance" is an excellent Western, particularly for a first novel. We look forward to publishing many more of his novels as he joins the Bantam list, a list which includes such fine Western writers as Louis L'Amour and Will Henry."

Added Lorna Darmour, Fox vice-president, "Westerns have provided good entertainment for movie-goers beginning with 'The Great Train Robbery,' made in 1903, through the most successful Western ever filmed, 'Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid' (Fox 1969), and continue as an important genre. We are pleased to encourage new writers in this field and are especially pleased to honor Mr. Southard with this award."

A lifelong New Mexican, W.W. Southard grew up in a world of Westerns, reading the masters of frontier story-telling. As a youngster, his earliest ambition was to become a cowboy. As an adult, he has spent his life at "newspapering." For the past 11 years he has been managing editor of the Clovis News-Journal, situated at the heart of New Mexico's High Plains region.

Married and the father of three children, Mr. Southard is at work on his second Western novel which, like "Season of Vengeance," he says will be about "the New Mexico frontier, the men and women who tamed it, and those who died trying."

DEAR ABBY

DEAR ABBY: You always advise people who know that a friend's spouse is having an affair not to tell the unsuspecting wife or husband.

I just found out that my husband has been having an affair for six years, and I am now in the process of getting a divorce. He surely must have been seen by some of our friends. Or they certainly must have heard about it. Had I known about this earlier I might have been able to save my marriage, but how can you fight back when you don't even know there is a problem?

You don't ignore a fire in the hope that it will burn itself out. To stop it, you've got to throw water on it.

I think your policy of keeping quiet is wrong, Abby. Please reconsider.

TOO LATE IN CLEVELAND

DEAR TOO LATE: I would never recommend informing a friend that his or her spouse is having an affair.

In the first place, it may not be true. But if it were, the spouse possibly already knows but is trying to put up a good front in hopes that the fire will burn itself out. (Some do.) However, each case is different. Generalizations are useless — including this one — but I still wouldn't make it my business to inform.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 15, I gave birth to a baby girl out of wedlock. She's a beautiful child, and I know I did the right thing by keeping her.

Now, three years later, I am getting married to a wonderful guy who loves me and thinks of my daughter as his own.

My problem? My father says that a girl who has "made a mistake" doesn't deserve any kind of wedding — she just goes off to a judge and gets married without any celebration, publicity or parties.

I say that the past should be forgotten and that because this is really my first marriage I'm entitled to be married by a minister in a church with a few flowers. Abby, I don't

Dumas to host bazaar

DUMAS — The 20th annual Moore County Arts Bazaar will open Nov. 21 for a three-day run at the Community Building, 16th and Maddox. Dumas. This year's show will feature work by 70 artists and organizations from Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and many area towns and cities of Texas.

Hours for the event are 4 to 10 p.m. Nov. 21, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Nov. 22 and 12 noon to 5 p.m. Nov. 23. There is no admission charge.

Among the fine arts to be exhibited are oil, pastel, watercolor, goldleaf, collage and mixed media paintings; metal sculpture; etchings and silverpoint; pen and ink and pencil drawings; silkscreened toys; needlepoint; puppets; wheat weavings; macrame; metal crafts; wood crafts; dried and wildlife arrangements; Christmas decorations; silk flowers; corsages; ceramics and barbed wire crafts. One exhibitor will offer homemade candies and another will show living plants with proceeds to be donated to the Moore County Arts Association. In addition, the Senior Citizens will sell an afghan donated by Mabel Ritchey.

Organizations exhibiting home arts are Girl Scouts, Senior Citizens, Lubbock Christian College Association and the Moore County Association for Retarded Citizens. Esprit, Etc., a local civic club, will serve snack dinners, coffee, tea, candy, cookies, brownies and soft drinks during the three-day bazaar. Proceeds from food sales will go to the Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center of Amarillo, the Dumas Satellite School for the handicapped and Girltown of Borger.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Memorabilia from over the past 50 years at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer wardrobe department have been presented to the Margaret Herrick Library of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Science by Eugene H. Murray, head of the department.

Included are stills, negatives and transparencies of wardrobe test shots, sketches and production stills, scripts with test stills and fabric swatches; and original costume sketches by such designers as Helen Rose and Walter Plunkett.

Academy librarian Terry Roach says the collection includes material from silent films starring Greta Garbo, Joan Crawford, Lon Chaney and Lillian Gish.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG

Q. — I have read several times about taking out white spots on furniture, but never about black spots. One of them is in the center of our living room coffee table and I cannot seem to get it out no matter what I use. Unfortunately, I do not know what caused the spot, which is the question a hardware man asked me when I sought his advice. Anyway, what he sold me did not work. Any ideas?

A. — Only that it seems you will have to remove the entire finish. If the blackness still remains, use a commercial bleach, the kind you buy in hardware and paint stores. Apply the bleach over the entire table top so that whatever refinishing material you use will "take" uniformly. Read the remover container's label carefully to be sure that you rinse the surface in the recommended manner after the bleaching is completed.

Q. — Somehow one of the wire strainers on a gutter outlet became dislodged. Now the rain does not go into the downspout and spills over the gutter down the side of the house. I tried flushing the downspout with a hose, but no water comes through. Can you suggest a solution?

A. — Try using an auger or plumber's snake of the kind used for clearing out obstructions in drains. If you don't have one long enough and don't wish to buy it for a single job, attach something like auto-tire chains to a long rope and dangle it up and down in the downspout. Once the leaves or other debris have been loosened, use a hose, turning on the water full force.

rising gradually for a set period of years and then leveling off, but how fast is the increase and how long before the payments level off?

A. — There are five basic graduated-payment mortgages which vary the rate of monthly payment increases (from 2 to 7½ percent) and the number of years over which the payments increase (5 or 10 years). The greater the rate of increase or the longer the period of increase, the lower the mortgage payments in the early years. After a period of 5 or 10 years, depending on which plan is selected, the payments level off and stay at that level for the remainder of the loan. Remember that graduated-mortgage payments increase every year, not every month.

Q. — I get a kind of knocking noise when the cold water in our kitchen sink is turned on. I have checked the faucet, including the washer, and am convinced that one of the pipe supports has come loose. Is there some way to track down where this is?

A. — There's no magic way to determine at which point the pipe has come loose from a support. You'll just have to search along whatever studs and beams are visible until you make the discovery.

(Noisy pipes, leaky faucets, clogged drains, condensation drips and dry wells are among the subjects discussed in Andy Lang's booklet, "Make Simple Plumbing Repairs," which can be obtained by sending 50 cents PLUS a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Know-How, P.O. Box 477, Huntington, N.Y. 11743.

Q. — You told somebody about the graduated-payment mortgage, but did not give enough details. I understood the part about mortgage payments

NATIONAL YOUTH WRITING COMPETITION

INTERLOCHEN, Mich. — High school students are invited to submit poems and short stories to the 1980-81 National Youth Writing Competition. This, the second-largest youth writing contest in the country, is sponsored by the Interlochen Arts Academy. The closing date for entries is Dec. 15.

Winning entries in both fiction and poetry will receive a first prize of $100, a second prize of $50 and a third prize of $25. Prize-winning poems will be published in the "Interlochen Review," a journal of the finest high school writing in the nation.

To receive contest rules for the National Youth Writing Competition, contact the Creative Writing Department, Interlochen Arts Academy, Interlochen, Mich. 49643.

composed as if written for a local newspaper. Entries will be judged on clarity, persuasiveness, factual content and style," said Ms. Bollman. She stressed that students will not be required to endorse the speed limit, but merely to express their own opinion as supported by logic and facts.

Classroom teachers will be asked to explain the contest to their students and to assign the editorial as a regular class writing assignment.

The final judging will be by a committee of experienced journalists from the capitol bureaus of various Texas newspapers.

SPECIAL POETRY CONTEST
SACRAMENTO, Calif. — A $1,000 grand prize will be awarded in the Special Poetry Competition sponsored by "World of Poetry," a quarterly newsletter for poets.

Poems of all styles and on any subject are eligible to compete for the grand prize or for 49 other cash or merchandise awards, totaling over $10,000. Says Joseph Mellon, contest chairman, "We are encouraging poetic talent of every kind, and expect our contest to produce exciting discoveries."

Rules and official entry forms are available from the World of Poetry, 2431 Stockton, Dept. N, Sacramento, Calif. 95817.

SDHPT EDITORIAL CONTEST

AMARILLO — Wanted: anyone 19 or younger to write "editorials" explaining the life-saving and energy-conserving advantages of the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (SDHPT) is sponsoring an "Editorial" contest with assistance from the Texas Joint Council of Teachers of English, the Texas Education Agency and Texas Journalism Teachers.

"Anyone 19 or under is eligible but the contest is being organized mainly among Texas high schools," according to Ms. Lou Bollman, SDHPT Amarillo District Traffic Safety Administrative Assistant.

Ms. Bollman said contest packets have been mailed to all Texas high schools, and that a school's first place winner must be mailed to the SDHPT address below by no later than midnight, Dec. 1.

The first place winner will receive a free weekend at Six Flags Over Texas for the winner and three family members.

Each of the 20 regional winners will receive digital watches or desk calculators. Each first place school winner will receive a certificate of congratulations from Governor William Clements.

The best editorial from each school will be eligible for competition, and a first place winner will be selected from each of the 20 Education Service Center regions in Texas. A first state winner will then be selected from among the 20 regional winners.

The editorial should be

November 15, 1980

A personal ambition which is important to you can be realized this coming year if you have the patience to stick with it. Be careful you don't give up or change direction just when your goal is in sight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You function better as a loner today than when you have to deal with others. If they do anything to irritate you, you may not be too kind in dealing with it. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Make your plans early in the day. If you wait until later everyone will be tied up and you'll be unhappy about spending the evening alone.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A friend may make some unreasonable demands on you today. Just because he or she does so does not mean you have to yield, against your better judgment.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You may be a bit too vulnerable today where your pride is concerned. Try not to take yourself or what anyone else says too seriously.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Frustrations you might run into today will be of your own doing. They can be avoided if you don't become negative or impulsive in your thinking.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be careful when talking with a friend today that you don't burden the person with your problems. He or she may resent being imposed upon.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Once you begin a task today, stick to your original plans. Making revisions will cause confusion and won't be to your benefit.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) This is a day when teamwork is called for. Cooperate. Don't try to do alone something that requires an additional pair of hands.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're OK today as long as things are going your way. However, should you encounter a little opposition you're apt to lose your cool.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Some of the family might not feel like going along with your desires to party today. If this happens, keep your activities outside of the house.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You could wind up with a small rebellion on your hands if you come on too strong or bossy when working with others today. Lead by example.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) There is nothing wrong with wanting to have a good time with friends today, but be sensible with your spending. Avoid spur-of-the-moment flings.

Pampa girls open basketball season here Saturday night

Watch for a free-wheeling offense when Pampa's Lady Harvesters open the 1980-81 basketball season here Saturday night against Hereford.

New head coach Jerry Johnson is a believer in constant movement, and then some.

"We're going to try to fast break everytime we get the ball," Johnson said, describing his free-lance motion offense.

"If we don't get an eight-foot jumper or a layup we'll go into one of several different motions, depending upon what the defense is running."

Johnson almost has his starting lineup set with Debbie Young, a 6-1 sophomore, expected to be at center along with Bobbie Skaggs and Jeanette Britt at forwards, and Ladina Honeycutt at one guard spot. The other backcourt position is still up for grabs between Deanna Porter, Jeanna Porter and Kim Albin.

"We're going to have some height, but we're also going to be inexperienced," Johnson pointed out. "Bobbie is our only returning starter."

Johnson expects help from Lena Young, Sharolyn Salisbury, Keva Richardson, Shana Barker and Tamara Wilson.

"We're working a lot on our defense and press this week," Johnson said. "I've got 13 different defensive setups that I want to try and work in as the season goes along."

Johnson figures he may need more than one defense to stop Hereford's Louise Mays, a 5-8 pivot who led the Whitefaces in scoring last year with a 13.3 average.

"Hereford is going to rely on her for most of their points," Johnson said. "She's a good inside shooter. They've also got a couple of quick penetrating guards that could give us trouble."

Tipoff time is 6 p.m. in Harvester Fieldhouse.

Harvesters host Sandies tonight

The Pampa Harvesters may have lost the war, but one battle hasn't been decided yet.

The Harvesters, 4-5 overall and 1-2 in District 3-5A play, have a shot at the district champions and a 500 season when the Amarillo Sandies invade Harvester Stadium at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

The Sandies have already clinched the district crown, but the contest is far from meaningless to Gilbert.

"This is a big one, the finale," said Pampa head coach Larry Gilbert. "Our chances of winning district went down the drain last week (when Pampa lost to Palo Duro, 28-6), but it doesn't matter if we were 0-9. This is the game we've been pointing to all season."

Amarillo High, coached by Larry Dipple, is 4-5 overall and 3-0 in district action.

"Our seniors have never beaten Amarillo High," Gilbert said. "I'd like them to leave here with a sweet taste in their mouth after a win tonight. It would be a nice legacy to leave for future Harvesters."

Pampa enters the rivalry as district's second-ranked team in total offense (224 yards per game) and third-ranked team in total defense (265 yards allowed per game).

Amarillo High ranks second in total offense (224 yards per game) and first in total defense (251 yards allowed per game).

"The Sandies have a good sound football team," Gilbert added. "They're kind of at a peak now, so it's going to take our best effort to beat them. They've got more size than they did last year and, of course, that means they're bigger than us."

Sandies' fullback Mark Mathiasmeier is the district's top rusher with 959 yards on 196 carries and six TDs, while sophomore tailback Brad Williams is also a dangerous runner.

"Mathiasmeier can hurt you, but we just can't concentrate on him," Gilbert said. "Williams has really been coming along and he's running more like a junior or senior now."

Quarterback Randy Aufleger and split end Lyndell Flowers are also a dangerous couple.

"Aufleger is a better passer than the guy they had last year and Flowers is probably the most underrated receiver in district. He's very deceptive and has more speed than you realize."

Flowers is ranked third among district receivers with 32 catches for 390 yards and five touchdowns.

Harvester end Steve McDougall is atop the receiving chart and will try to wrap his third district pass-catching title in a row. McDougall has caught 32 passes for 467 yards and two TDs.

Gilbert is trying to forget last week's loss that ended any district championship hopes for the Harvesters.

"It's unexplainable. We were just flat and didn't play with total effort, but nobody on the coaching staff is giving up on this team.

The starting lineups are listed below:

Pampa Harvesters

Offense: Steve McDougall at split end; Cavin Coleman at tight end; Rodney Brewer at center; Gwenn Greenwood and Pal Langford at guards; Ted Hutto and Mike Graham at tackles; Sam Edwards at quarterback; Leroy Kuhn at fullback; John Kadingo and Bobby Dorsey at halfbacks.

Defense: Harold Landers at noseguard; Joe Ryzman and Ruben Ambriz at tackles; Clifford Anderson and James Bochardt at ends; Robbie Leffel and Rod Walker at linebackers; Clay Coffee at strong safety; Derrick Bigham at free safety; Andy Richardson and Leroy Kuhn at cornerbacks.

Amarillo Sandies

Offense: Lyndell Flowers at split end; Roger Caryle at tight end; Mike Dearing and Ronnie Hibbs at tackles; Kyle Eddleman and Mike King at guards; David Kenyon at center; Randy Aufleger at quarterback; Mark Mathiasmeier at fullback; Brad Williams and Stan Briggs at halfbacks.

Defense: Darin Wilkerson and Mark Havins at ends; Stoney Brown and Richard Craig at tackles; Mitch Woodard at noseguard; Robert Lovato and Tommy Hibbs at linebackers; Gary Benson and Chris Roberts at cornerbacks; Lyndell Flowers at strong safety; Monte Slatton at free safety.

Pampa swimmers fall to AHS

Par Amarillo High in a dual meet Thursday at the Pampa Youth and Community Center.

Amarillo High won the final three events to take the boys division title, 43-33.

It was the first swim meet of the season for the Harvesters.

Richard Steger was the only first-place finisher for the Harvesters, winning both the 200 freestyle (1:58.6) and the 100

backstroke (1:05.7); Richie

Don Braswell, second, 200 freestyle (2:09.3); third, 500 freestyle (6:08.6); Cody Moore, third, 50 freestyle (25.3); third, 100 backstroke (1:07.8); Robbie Hill, third, 100 breaststroke (1:14.0); third, 100 butterfly (1:10.7.4); Clay Douglass, second, 500 freestyle (5:25.3); Reid Steger, second, 100 backstroke (1:05.7); Richie also placing for Pampa were

Pampa was outnumbered, 15-5, in the girls' division and lost a 48-26 decision.

Winning two events for Pampa was Lisa Raymond, who finished first in both the 500 freestyle (5:66.6) and 100 butterfly.

Cindy Raymond captured the 100 breaststroke for Pampa with a time of 1:19.8. She also took second in the 200 individual medley (2:22.1) while Julie Turner also took third in the same event (2:42.7).

Turner also took second in the 100 backstroke (1:14.5) while Julie Rabel placed third (1:38.2).

Pampa is entered in the San Angelo Invitational Nov. 21-23. The Harvesters' next dual at home is with Tascosa on Dec. 9.

Lefors opens cage season

Lefors opens the 1980-81 basketball season at Mobeetee Saturday night with an inexperienced squad.

Senior guard Mark Connell is the only returning starter. The other starters are all sophomores, according to coach Charles Sullivan.

"We're not only going to be young, but we're also going to be small," Sullivan said.

Ninth grade falls to Canyon, 14-6

Pampa ninth-grade lost to Canyon, 14-6, Thursday night in the district championship game at Canyon.

Dennis Kuempel scored Pampa's lone TD as the Threshers finished the season with a 6-4 overall record and 4-2 in district play.

Pampa's running attack suffered when halfback Danny Sebastian suffered a hyperextended elbow in the third quarter and had to leave the game.

"These kids did a fine job all season long," Pampa coach Dick Crockett said. "I just can't say enough about them. If they stick together and work hard, the Harvesters are going to have a fine football team by the time they're seniors."

Crockett said linebacker Jimmy Ontiveros, noseguard David Parr and Alfredo Soto were the defensive standouts.

"These guys were really outstanding, but everyone on the team played real well," Crockett added.

Canyon won the district title with a 5-1 record while Pampa was second (4-2). Borger, third, (3-2), and Dumas, fourth, 0-5.

GERRY COONEY, 24-year-old boxing professional, fries hamburgers at New York McDonald's Wednesday with Ronald McDonald. Cooney was presented a symbolic spatula on a plaque memorializing him as the "Big Mac Biggie."

In four years, most of them in virtual obscurity, he has battled his way to No. 1 contender in the heavyweight division, the logical next foe for either Larry Holmes, the World Boxing Council titleholder, or the World Boxing Association champion, Mike Weaver.

National Football League roundup

By BOB GREENE AP Sports Writer After being battered all season long, the National Conference Central Division now gets down to deciding who will go to the National Football League playoffs.

Cleveland has won five straight games, including a 27-26 victory over the Steelers three weeks ago when Browns quarterback Brian Sipe completed a club-record 28 passes, including the decisive 18-yard TD toss to tight end Ozzie Newsome with 5:38 to go.

Atlanta Falcons hope to stretch their winning string to five and, at the same time, avoid becoming the first team to lose this season to New Orleans, 0-10. "We realize that beating the Atlanta Falcons would erase much of the disappointment of the Saints' season," said Atlanta Coach Leeman Bennett.

Bowl bids still not sealed in Southwest Conference

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer By dark Saturday Texas is supposed to be in the Bluebonnet Bowl, Southern Methodist in the Holiday Bowl and Baylor in the Cotton Bowl.

Holiday Bowl committeemen will be in Lubbock to sign Southern Methodist for the Dec. 19 game in SAN Diego after the Mustangs meet Texas Tech.

Irish are concerned despite persistent rumors from the Midwest. The Houston Cougars, who could finish 7-4 by winning their final two games against Texas Tech and Rice, are still in the picture for the Garden State, Hall of Fame and Peach Bowls.
