World mourns Lennon death

NEW YORK (AP) — A 25-year-old Hawaii man who apparently stalked John Lennon for three days was held today on a charge of gunning down the former Beatle, as the music world mourned the death of the legendary songwriter and singer.

The suspect, Mark David Chapman, was taken under heavy guard to the Tombs prison in downtown Manhattan early today to await arraignment.

A police source, who asked not to be identified, said Chapman gave different stories to detectives about the slaying. But he said Chapman was "emphatic" that he knew he was shooting the 40-year-old Lennon, who helped make the British rock group into superstars and pop-culture legends in the 1960s.

More than 1,000 people gathered this morning outside the Dakota, a luxury apartment building on Manhattan's Upper West Side where Lennon lived with his wife, Yoko Ono, and their 5-year-old son, Sean, and where he was shot Monday night after stepping from a limousine.

David Geffen, president of Geffen Records for which Lennon recorded, said Miss Ono, upstairs in one of the couple's apartments, was "very upset" by the crowd after daybreak.

"They're a bunch of crazy people out there... they're drunk and rowdy. It's like a party," Geffen said.

A smaller, more subdued crowd had stood vigil outside the building on 72nd Street across from Central Park late Monday night.

Geffen said that if Lennon had a funeral it would be in New York City and "very private. Yoko doesn't want a circus."

Then he added: "I don't know there will be a funeral. It'll be no event. I can assure you."

"He repeated a statement issued last night by Miss Ono: 'John loved and prayed for the human race. Please do the same for him.'"

President-elect Ronald Reagan, visiting in the city today, called Lennon's death "a great tragedy."

Police said Chapman told them he had a license for the gun used in the shooting but could only produce a bill of sale for the weapon, a Charter Arms .38 caliber revolver, purchased in Hawaii.

Lennon had autographed a record album for Chapman about 5 p.m. when he was accosted by the young man as he left his apartment complex to go to a recording studio.

The police source said that at one point Chapman indicated he was annoyed that Lennon had only scribbled his autograph on the album.

Lennon, who was the co-author with Paul McCartney of such famous songs as "I Want to Hold Your Hand," "Yesterday" and "Let it Be," was returning from the studio when the shooting occurred.

Yelling "I'm shot," Lennon staggered and collapsed face down after the shooting at 10:50 p.m. Monday. Police rushed the former Beatle to Roosevelt Hospital, a mile away, in a squad car.

"Tell me it isn't true," sobbed Miss Ono, when doctors pronounced the songwriter dead soon after Lennon had said in an RKO radio network only hours before his death that he hoped to die before Miss Ono because he "couldn't carry on" without her.

Even six hours after the shooting, 150 people knelt and recited prayers outside the building.

Hundreds of fans lit candles and ringed the hospital in silent tribute.

McCartney, reported in "deep, deep shock and saddened" by the slaying, was in his Sussex farmhouse in southern England and was refusing to see anyone.

Former Beatle Ringo Starr broke off a vacation to fly to the United States, and George Harrison also was deeply upset and had canceled a recording session scheduled for today.

"So brilliant, so gifted, so giving," said Sid Bernstein, who produced the Beatles' Shea Stadium concerts of 1965 and 1966. "He was the Bach, the Beethoven, the Rachmaninoff of our time."

Police said the gunman emerged from the shadows as the Lennons stepped out of a limousine after a recording session and walked past the Dakota's giant iron gate into the archway.

According to authorities, Chapman had come to New York from Hawaii about a week ago and had been seen near the Dakota three times in the past three days. As Lennon left his recording studio earlier Monday, Chapman got his autograph, police said.

"Mr. Lennon?" police quoted him as saying before he allegedly fired five shots from a .38-caliber pistol.

Lennon, with three wounds in his chest, two in his left arm and two in his back, stumbled into an office and crumpled to the floor.

"I'm sure he was dead when he was shot," said Dr. Stephen Lynn. "Extensive resuscitation efforts were made and despite transfusions and other methods he could not be revived."

Police, who found the gunman standing near the scene with his pistol on the ground, were considering the shooting "just as important as the assassination of John F. Kennedy," said Lt. John Schick.

Police initially referred to the suspect as a "local screwball."

Lennon had only recently emerged from five years away from the musical scene, during which he cared for his son, cooked and kept house.

Lennon rocketed to fame as guitarist, singer and songwriter in the early '60s with fellow Beatles Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Starr.

With McCartney, he penned hundreds of songs for the group, and the Beatles cut 25 albums before their breakup in 1970.

Lennon and McCartney first teamed up as teen-agers in 1957 and wrote "Love Me Do" when Elvis Presley was at the top of the hit parade. The song was their first release in 1962.

George Harrison joined their group, The Quarrymen, in 1958 and the following year, the name had changed to the Silver Beatles and the performers included Pete Best on drums and Stu Sutcliffe on bass.

Sutcliffe left the group in 1961. In 1962, Best was replaced by Ringo Starr, record store owner Brian Epstein negotiated a contract for the group with EMI. George Martin became their producer and by year's end they were on the pop charts.

Their fifth single, "I Want to Hold Your Hand," rocketed them to fame in England. They were introduced in America on the Ed Sullivan show, and Beatlemania began to spread around the world.

Beatles shocked by Lennon slaying

LONDON (AP) — The three surviving Beatles were reported in deep shock and mourning today over the murder of their former partner, John Lennon.

"I can't take it in at the moment," said Paul McCartney, the man who with Lennon formed one of popular music's greatest songwriting teams. He was visibly upset as he drove away from his Sussex farmhouse in southern England.

Ringo Starr broke off a vacation to fly to the United States, said a spokesman for his record company. "He is extremely shocked. He doesn't want to say any more."

George Harrison, the fourth of the "Fab Four" who revolutionized pop music in the 1960s, was reported dismay and anger.

"It's bloody terrible, bloody terrible," said John Chambers, head of the local Beatles' fan club.

The brother of Lennon's widow, Yoko Ono, said in Japan today he was preparing to leave for the United States in an effort to persuade his sister to return to her native country, "where she doesn't have to worry about gunshots anymore."

Keisuke Ono said he was "deeply shocked and saddened" by his brother-in-law's death. "He was a really good man, a good father, good husband and a good friend," Ono said. Other members of the Ono family were in mourning at their residence in Fujisawa, 30 miles southwest of Tokyo, he added.

He reportedly was heading for London, where he had a recording session scheduled for today. Because of the murder, Paul's plans were uncertain, according to a spokesman at McCartney Productions Ltd.

In his native Liverpool, Lennon's death caused dismay and anger.

"It's bloody terrible, bloody terrible," said John Chambers, head of the local Beatles' fan club.

The brother of Lennon's widow, Yoko Ono, said in Japan today he was preparing to leave for the United States in an effort to persuade his sister to return to her native country, "where she doesn't have to worry about gunshots anymore."

Keisuke Ono said he was "deeply shocked and saddened" by his brother-in-law's death. "He was a really good man, a good father, good husband and a good friend," Ono said. Other members of the Ono family were in mourning at their residence in Fujisawa, 30 miles southwest of Tokyo, he added.

Commission overhauls city traffic system

By DEBORAH BRIDGES
Staff Writer

A major overhaul of the city's traffic system including improvement in traffic circulation plans, changes in the on-street angle parking and signal system in the downtown area, improving inadequate and weathered street signs was recommended to Pampa city commissioners today in a traffic study requested more than a year ago.

Larry D. Richardson, project engineer for Henningson, Durham and Richardson of Dallas, briefly outlined the results of the federally-funded survey at the commission meeting conducted this morning in city hall.

Mayor Ray Thompson commented, "A few of these things we have underway. It sure gives us a lot of work to do."

Major traffic problems were in the central downtown area including backing accidents caused by the on-street angle parking, poor signal visibility at intersections and side distance problems for turning at corners, Richardson reported.

Fourteen percent of the city's traffic signs did not conform to state regulations, he said. At least 43 percent of the signs were weathered or vandalized. Also, 46 percent of the signs were mounted too low for requirements set by the Texas Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices, he said.

The report recommends 750 additional signs be placed at uncontrolled intersections in mainly residential locations, Richardson said. Three signals were believed to be unwarranted and should be replaced with right of way controls, he said.

The project engineer told commissioners the traffic system and circulation in regard to capacity and flow analysis was functioning "well below" the streets' capacity. The firm's projection for 1984 indicated it would continue to be below the capacity, also, he said.

The firm recommends a major thoroughfare plan be implemented to be completed over a 20-year period, he said.

Safer routes for elementary children and changes in street crossings and crossing guards at schools were also recommended in the study, Richardson added.

Additionally, Richardson said the firm studied the city's traffic and safety ordinances in comparison with two nationally-used standards for a uniform vehicle code and national traffic ordinances.

"We believe a city should have the legal backing to implement many of these traffic recommendations," he said.

In summary, the report lists the problems according to priority and possible funding sources, he said.

No citizens commented during a public hearing on the Community Development Block Program pre-application to be submitted by the city, for a $2.25 million grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The money, if granted, will be used for improvements in the southeast and southcentral portions of the city, City Manager Mack Wofford said.

Gary Pitner, planner for the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, was present to answer questions. He briefly explained the program to the commissioners, adding he believed Pampa was in a good position for receiving the funds this year after scoring eleventh on the list of cities in the 1980 pre-application submittals.

"I think we have a real chance here in Pampa of being funded this year," Pitner said.

Commissioners decided to table the bids for the traffic-actuated signal light to be installed at the intersection of Hobart and Decatur streets, after Commissioner O. M. Prigmore objected to the low bidder's 200-day period before the signal would be in use.

Wofford told the commissioners that the time periods submitted by the bidders ranged from 60 days to 200 days.

"That is too much difference in time," Prigmore said.

Southwestern Electric of Oklahoma City, second low bidder, had a work schedule of 60 days listed on their bid, Wofford said. The bid total was set at $35,682 — about $300 less than the recommended low bid of $35,314 submitted by Ray's Electric Company of Amarillo.

Wofford upheld the city engineer's recommendation for the low bid based on the submitter's close location and the familiar equipment.

In answer to the city manager, Prigmore said, "I think that is a terrible traffic problem we could take care of a lot sooner by spending $300 more."

Prigmore said it would be easy to find out if the equipment used by the Oklahoma City firm is reliable or not.

All three commissioners agreed to table the bids until the next meeting.

After commissioners voted unanimously to accept monthly salary changes and current accounts payable, Wayne Stedum, of Sammon's Communications, Inc., answered some of the city father's questions concerning cable television service for Pampa.

Prigmore commented on the number of calls he has received, the complaint ratio is "pretty high" concerning the cable service.

Stedum said the changeover from Dallas cable stations to out-of-state stations was due to the poor service and high cost of the Dallas channels.

No action was taken on Sammon's recently requested rate increase.

Army warns no place for unions in Poland

WARSAW (AP) — The Polish army warned today there was no place in Poland for union activity aimed against the state. Unrest meanwhile spread for the first time to the nation's private farmers.

The official army newspaper Zolnierz Wolnosci said some Poles believed the independent trade unions were directed against "the socialist state," and warned: "In people's Poland there is no place for a force of this kind to operate legally."

The warning came a day after the newspaper hinted that the Polish army might be forced to intervene if labor unrest got out of hand.

Private farmers, who account for three-fourths of the country's agricultural production, accused the government of renegeing on an agreement to approve their new independent union.

In other developments, the government signed an agreement with university students demanding their own union, students said, but 100 students at Poland's largest film academy in Lodz were reported staging a sit-in strike, demanding more autonomy for the academy.

In Brussels, a top NATO military leader said today the Soviet Union could move into Poland on a few hours' notice. Adm. Robert H. Falls, head of NATO's military committee, said the Soviets had the military capability to intervene "with very little warning."

Italy's Communist Party, meanwhile, warned that any military intervention would have "very grave consequences." A statement by the largest Communist Party in the West said Italian Communists were worried about the Polish situation.

Organizers of a private farmers' union claimed the government initialed but refused to sign the papers legalizing their independent union. They scheduled a meeting in Warsaw Sunday to discuss their grievances.

"Strikes are a matter for tomorrow, for today there is the meeting of delegates," said one of the organizers, Wieslaw Keciak.

The farm trouble developed as the official Polish media joined the independent labor movement in denying charges from Moscow that "counter-revolutionaries" were causing new unrest among industrial workers.

The Soviet media did not repeat the charges today, but the official news agency Tass accused Washington of making "provocative" statements about Poland.

Independent farmers occupy a strong position in Polish agriculture, in contrast to other countries in the Soviet bloc where collectivized, state farms are the norm.

Family needs Christmas assistance

This single mother is able to feed and clothe her three children throughout the year, but it is just more than she can manage to provide them with anything extra for Christmas.

Separated from her husband, she is in her late twenties. Her children are ages six and under. She has a limited education and no special job skills. However, even with these limitations, she does provide the necessities without outside assistance. Christmas gifts are beyond her means, though.

If you would like to help this family and others less privileged than yourself have a special Christmas, send your contribution to The Salvation Army, Box 1458, Pampa.

READY FOR TEA. These three dolls are all dressed up and ready to make their way into the hearts of three lucky little girls this Christmas. The dolls were chosen as the best dressed of four dozen dolls dressed by volunteers to be given to less fortunate little girls by the Salvation Army this Christmas. Evie Eaves made the costumes for the dolls sitting on the left and right. Mrs. Owen Gee designed the dress of the doll standing in the center.

Trucker listed in good condition

A truck driver, seriously injured in a weather-related accident Monday, was reported in good condition in the Intensive Care Unit of Highland General Hospital early today.

Wayne Goss, 37, of Box 304, Wilcox, Ariz., was admitted to the hospital for head and internal injuries he suffered when the semi-tractor trailer rig he was driving slid and jackknifed on State Highway 60, four miles east of Pampa.

According to Department of Public Safety Trooper Jim Johnson, the accident occurred at 11 a.m. yesterday when Goss apparently lost control of the eastbound truck on an icy curve.

Driving sleet and high winds pelleted rescue workers as they administered first aid and pulled the injured man from the wrecked truck.

Goss was a driver for Gallo Machinery of Wilcox, Ariz., Johnson said.

Middle aged bandits puzzling law enforcement

By ROCKY SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Lawmen looking for a band of elderly bandits say they are deadly serious about catching the supermarket robbers, who have been dubbed the "Over the Hill Gang."
"It ain't all that cute," said Lt. Mel Southall of the Dallas Police Department, one of several departments meeting here today to compare notes on a string of similar grocery store holdups.
"It's reached the stage where one agency cannot do it alone, unless they are lucky."
The meeting was called after Dallas robbery investigators tied at least 15 supermarket robberies in the past year to a group of men ranging in age from 35 to 60.

One suspect who wears a hearing aid has been spotted in several of the holdups.
"We're gonna try to connect them up if we can," Southall said. "This age group is a little unusual."
Southall said physical descriptions of the robbers in the Dallas heists led detectives to believe the crimes were connected.
"The age group is the same, but it's not the same individual going into the store each time," he said Monday.
Police in Austin, Denton, Waco and Oklahoma City have reported similar holdups, although Southall said he had no idea how many of the stick-ups are connected.
Investigators from Arkansas and Louisiana also have been invited to this afternoon's brainstorming session.

"We hope to compare all kinds of intelligence information," Dallas police spokesman Bob Shaw said Monday. "These guys are just eating us up."
Police in Denton, about 40 miles north of Dallas, say two of the robbers were arrested in late November and a warrant has been issued for a third man.
"They have committed five holdups since August," said Lt. Bill Cummings of the Denton Police Department. "We've got two of them and we're looking for the other one."
Johnny Wayne Cain, 44, was charged after he was arrested Nov. 24 in Fort Worth on a murder warrant issued in San Antonio. He was charged with the Denton robberies after a Texas Ranger noticed that Robert H. Hays, the owner of the house where Cain was staying, resembled a composite drawing of one of the Denton suspects.

Hays has been charged with four counts of robbery and was in the Denton County jail today in lieu of bonds totalling $75,000.
San Antonio police said Cain was in the Bexar County jail today and has been denied bond on the murder charge.
Southall said the suspects generally rob only large grocery stores. The last holdup was Saturday afternoon in Dallas, when a man showed a store manager a gun and demanded money while another kept watch near the front door of a North Dallas grocery store.
Police said the suspects always use stolen cars to make their escape and rarely vary their method of operation.

Overtime causes union, management clash

By DON BEMAN
Associated Press Writer
DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The two huge presses run 24 hours a day, most of the time seven days a week, at the Meredith Corp. magazine printing plant.
Until 18 months ago, overtime — too much of it — was eating up weekends and personal holidays and becoming a source of friction between union and management.
"I went for a year and a half one time with just two or three days off outside my vacation," said Bob Moore, who runs the control console on one of the two roto gravure presses.
John Downey, plant manager, said Moore wasn't the only worker with that kind of schedule in the 64-member roto gravure division.
"Wives were mad and the crews were like zombies," he said. "You just can't have people working that long without a break and not see the effects on them."

Technically, the roto crews were on five-day, 37½-hour work weeks. Actually, they were on what the unions call "forced overtime."
"Everybody likes overtime when it first starts. But after a while, that's just not enough anymore," Downey said.
Downey said the two-story Italian-made Cerutti roto presses are worth about $10 million each and must roll seven days and nights most of the year to make money. Rotogravure, a process that yields high quality color printing, is used primarily for ad supplements, catalogs and magazines. Meredith has its own products — Better Homes and Gardens, Sail, Apartment Life and Successful Farming — and also contracts job printing of other magazines through a subsidiary, Meredith-Burda Inc.
Enter "3-36," a scheduling system based on a three-day work week with 12-hour days. Meredith presented the system to the union after a tryout at the company's non-union plant in Lynchburg, Va.
"We were hesitant," said Moore, who has worked in Meredith's printing division for 34 years. "Nothing is ever perfect and anything that's strange, well, you're going to be hesitant about it."
After union-management sessions that probed such things as fatigue factors, the "3-36" system went into use in Meredith's roto section and has been expanded into the computer operations division. It works this way:

There are A, B, C and D crews. The A crew works 7:15 a.m. to 7:15 p.m. Monday through Wednesday. The B crew works the same hours Thursday through Saturday. The C crew works 7:15 p.m. to 7:15 a.m. Monday through Wednesday; the D crew works those hours Thursday through Saturday.
Overtime is divided so the Monday-Wednesday crews pick up Sunday, a double-time pay day, one week and the Thursday-Saturday crews pick it up the next.
That way each worker gets three days off one week and four days off the next, plus one double-time overtime day.
There is still overtime, but it doesn't wipe out all time off.
About 380 people work at the printing plant, and every six months they may bid for the roto division. Seniority governs final selections for the 64 roto gravure slots.
"I wouldn't go back" to the old five-day work week, Moore said. He has enough seniority to avoid being bumped from the roto crews until he retires in another year and a half.
"There are a lot of good things I can say about it. This one might seem like a little thing, but my wife and I, we like to go out to eat once in a while. Well, now we can go on Thursday night when places aren't crowded like they are on weekends."
"I also like to fish and I have a pontoon boat. My wife's relatives live in Indiana and we can go over every other week if we wanted."
Downey said the "3-36" system has not only sidined the overtime issue, but has also made the night shifts in the roto division more attractive. The bid list for any job in roto is 300 names long.
In roto gravure, Downey said the future of the system is pretty well sealed.
"We'll stay on it as long as the workload justifies it," he said, explaining there must be at least six days worth of work to make 3-36 pay off.
Downey said the system is also being considered for the offset printing division.

Panel wants smaller gas rate increase

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The state Corporation Commission will be deciding whether Lone Star Gas Co. gets less than a fourth of its requested $7.8 million annual rate hike for Oklahoma customers, based upon recommendations made Monday.
Commission attorney Cody Waddell on Monday recommended a $1.75 million rate increase. Waddell served essentially as an administrative law judge in hearings last month into Lone Star's request.
The utility's full rate increase request would have raised gas rates for Oklahoma customers 40 percent in winter and 28 percent in summer.

Mixed reviews hit prison site subject

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A proposal to build a new state prison unit in Grimes County has drawn a "mixed reaction" from area residents, but opposition is not expected to be as vocal as that leveled against a similar plan in South Texas, officials said.

The Board of Corrections voted earlier to pay $6.7 million for 5,968 acres in Grimes County.

A three-member Prison Approval Board, consisting of Gov. Bill Clements, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and Board of Corrections Chairman James Windham, has scheduled a meeting for next Tuesday for final action on the purchase.

"There is mixed reaction from what we can determine," TDC spokesman Rick Hartley said in a telephone interview from Huntsville Monday.

Hartley predicted opponents to the purchase would travel to Austin for the meeting.

In May, local opposition killed the Board of Corrections' plan to buy land in Starr County for a prison farm. After the Starr County protests, Clements promised to hold public hearings before a final selection is approved.

"I don't think we're going to see that kind of opposition," Hartley said, referring to the overwhelmingly negative response from Starr County officials and residents.

Some Grimes County residents have expressed the same fears raised by the Starr County opposition.

Hartley said some opposition is inevitable no matter what area is selected for a prison.

Opponents to the Grimes County purchase are running a petition and post card campaign against the plan. However, some Grimes County residents have spoken in favor of the proposed 2,000-cell prison.

The site is about six miles from Navasota, where city commissioners refused to approve a resolution endorsing the prison.

Congregation bails out pastor jailed in shooting

LUFKIN, Texas (AP) — A church pastor is free on bond and three trustees lie wounded in a hospital today after what has been described as a "standing church feud" erupted in gunfire.

Several congregation members posted a $15,000 bond Monday to free Albert Jenkins Jr., 57, former pastor of the Church of the Living God. He was charged with three counts of attempted murder before County Court-at-Law Judge David Cook.

Officials said the three trustees were wounded as they stood outside the church, waiting to attend services on Sunday.

John Norman, 43, and Frank Lively, 62, were in critical condition today at Lufkin's Memorial Hospital. Norman was shot in the hip and Lively, who is in intensive care, was shot in the left shoulder, police said.

A third trustee, Will Goolsby, remained in fair condition with a gunshot wound to the leg, officials said.

Lt. James Wall said most of the investigative work had been wrapped up Monday night and the case would be referred to an Angelina County grand jury.

Goolsby said Jenkins — who had been pastor for six years — had been asked to resign after openly criticizing congregation members.

Jenkins' attorney, Jerry Whittaker, said the incident grew out of a "standing church feud between some members of the church who wanted him replaced."

"It's like all church feuds," Whittaker said Monday. "Half the people wanted him to stay and half wanted him to leave."

Goolsby said the three men were standing outside the church Sunday morning when Jenkins drove up in a pickup truck and stopped in the church parking lot.

"He (Jenkins) just stayed in the trunk and none of us went over to talk to him," Goolsby said from his hospital bed Monday. "We couldn't figure why he had come back after resigning."

The three trustees started walking toward Jenkins' pickup when he rolled the window down. Goolsby said he turned his head for a second and "that's when I heard the first gunshot."

Willie Christopher, who witnessed the shooting, said five shots were fired before Jenkins drove away.

Poletown slated for demolition

DETROIT (AP) — The city of Detroit can demolish 1,176 homes and uproot 3,438 people to make way for a new General Motors Corp. assembly plant that the "Motor City" says it needs to reverse an industrial decline, a judge has ruled.

Visiting Wayne County Circuit Court Judge George Martin said Monday that residents of the ethnically diverse Poletown neighborhood had failed to show that the City Council abused its discretion in its effort to save 6,100 auto manufacturing jobs.

Detroit's mayor called the decision a victory. Neighborhood residents feared it was hailed Poletown's last stand.

The city wants to level the residential areas around the abandoned Dodge Main plant, which once employed 30,000, to make a 465-acre site where GM can build a modern plant.

"They call your house a slum and shack and they tell you that you have to take what they offer," said Elizabeth Marshall, 64, who has lived on Trombly Street for 24 years. "I don't know the law. I don't know what they are giving me. They tell you to sign; I don't know what I am signing. I don't know where I'm going to move."

Mayor Coleman Young said in a statement the ruling was a "significant victory" toward "a brand new departure in the realm of reindustrialization," but warned there were still obstacles on a timetable for clearing the land by May 1.

Stores to reopen

Shelves emptied after poison threat

WACO (AP) — After the "most massive stocking effort the country has ever seen," six H-E-B Food Stores here prepared to welcome back regular customers Wednesday, hoping a poison "hoax" would not dampen business too severely.

And although store officials were taking steps against a recurrence, a corporate official admitted there is little his company can do to protect itself against such terrorism.

The stores were closed, emptied and completely restocked of foodstuffs and other items during the weekend because of the anonymous telephoned threat by a male caller who said he had laced some items with strychnine in three of the stores, said H-E-B Vice President Bill Ault.

There were two unsuccessful attempts to connect with the would-be extortionist, Ault said Monday, and when they failed store employees were joined by H-E-B workers from other cities and the wholesale representatives to replace possibly tainted items.

It normally would have taken 12 weeks to do that in six supermarkets but the "mind-boggling" cooperative effort finished it off in two to three days, he said.

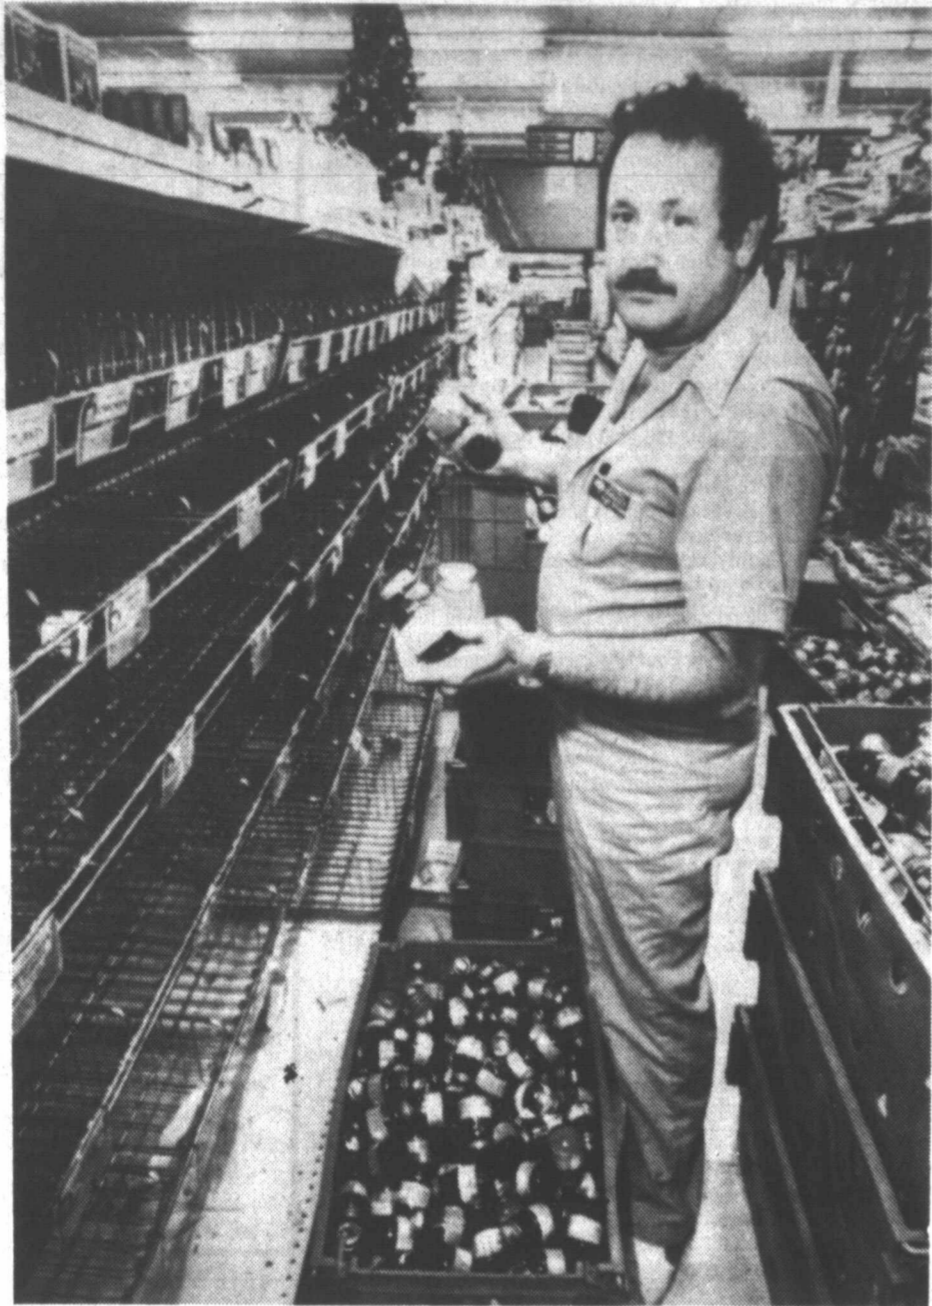

Ault said H-E-B had hoped to reopen the outlets today, but the restocking job took more time than originally estimated.

"Keep in mind it normally takes about two weeks to stock and reopen a large-sized supermarket," he said.

"It was one of the most massive stocking efforts the country has ever seen ... I couldn't believe my eyes," he said. "Every aisle is just full of employees, salesmen, suppliers and merchandisers."

Despite the big undertaking, Ault said H-E-B realizes its vulnerability to a possible repeat and hopes to find preventive measures.

"We are going to try to take some steps — which I'm not free to talk about at this time — but the question of terrorism is one the whole world is trying to answer, not just grocery stores but everybody. Frankly, I wish I knew how to answer it. I don't."

Ault said the company had estimated the cost of the huge undertaking but was not going to make that information public.

Waco police Lt. Marvin Horton said the first threatening call came Thursday, as a man claimed he had put strychnine in three of the six stores and would reveal the location if he received $50,000.

Twice, police and FBI agents tried to arrange a "drop" but nobody showed up either time, Horton said.

GROCERY STOCK REMOVED FROM SHELVES. Hundreds of H.E.B. Food Store employees worked into the early hours Monday in an effort to clear the shelves of merchandise in three stores after a telephone caller said he poisoned items in three of the stores and demanded $50,000 to reveal the location of the alleged strychnine. Here, H.E.B. district manager Hugh Williams helps in clearing merchandise from the shelves.

Witness tells of watching slayings

ANTLERS, Okla. (AP) — A key witness in a first-degree murder preliminary hearing here Monday reiterated his account of how he watched the shotgun execution of three acquaintances.

Ronald Dunkin, who occasionally brought a ripple of laughter from the crowded Pushmataha County courtroom with his plain-talk answers, insisted he believed his five companions only planned to beat the three teen-agers who later were found slain near here.

Dunkin, a 21-year-old part-time roofer from Farris, repeated much of his testimony of two weeks ago.

Charged in the slayings are Chester Eastham, 31; Edward "Junior" Smmons Jr., 20; Gary Gregg, 20, and 17-year-old twin brothers, Larry and Terry White, all of the Antlers area.

The five are charged with first-degree murder in connection with the Sept. 14 slayings of brothers James Henson, 18, and John Henson, 15, and Freddy King, 19.

The five are accused of killing the three over a dispute involving 1 1/2 pounds of marijuana allegedly stolen from one of the defendants.

The victims, found skinny-dipping in a river, were forced into a van and driven to a hill where they were methodically shot, testimony has indicated.

Dunkin has testified he was with the five, but maintains he never knew the teen-agers were to be killed.

When quizzed by attorneys about his alleged lack of action in stopping the slayings, he said, "I was standing there unarmed. What was I going to do — get shot?"

Clayton wants prompt census results

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — House Speaker Bill Clayton says in order to speed up the process of legislative redistricting, Texas should join a Census Bureau appeal of a federal judge's order that delays the publication of the 1980 census.

Clayton said Monday that if the U.S. Supreme Court does not force prompt publication of 1980 census results, "you can kiss redistricting goodbye for 1981."

Clayton's remarks were based largely on information he received from John Potter of the Texas Legislative Council, who was in Salt Lake City last week for a special seminar on redistricting.

Potter said Census Bureau officials had told him it was "highly improbable" that the population figures would be available by April 1.

Potter said Marshall Turner, chief of Census Bureau's data users division, advised those at the seminar to be prepared for the census case "to be in court for a long time."

Judge Horace Gilmore of Detroit found the bureau had undercounted minorities and directed census officials to submit three options for correcting the count. The bureau complied but said there was no statistically valid way to correct the figures.

Gilmore permitted the bureau to delay certification of state and national totals from the normal deadline of Dec. 31, 1980.

to Sept. 30, 1981.

Publication of population figures for each census tract, vital to redistricting congressional and legislative seats, could be postponed from April 1 until Nov. 30, 1981, Gilmore said.

If population figures are not issued before the Legislature adjourns in May, legislative redistricting would be delayed until the 1983 session, Clayton said.

The Texas Constitution states the Legislature must reapportion itself immediately following the publication of census data.

If release of the census data is tardy and figures are out just before the 1981 session ends, reapportionment would be done by a five-member Legislative Redistricting Board instead of the Legislature.

Congressional redistricting could be accomplished in a special session before the 1982 elections, however, since there is no state constitutional restriction.

"We are going to go ahead full blast to try to be ready by April 1. We have to," Potter said. "This miracle might happen that we would get out data then."

Armadillos arrive in Peking

PEKING (AP) — Four West Texas armadillos settled down today to life in the Peking Zoo, the only armadillos — or "qiu yu" — in the People's Republic of China.

The small armored mammals were brought to Peking Monday night by Robert E. Carlile, vice-president of the Peady-Ray Geography division of Geosource Inc. of Houston, Texas. He reported them "safe and feisty" after the long flight from Texas.

Zoo officials said they were doing well and getting used to the winter cold, in which they often hibernate. They are expected to be put on exhibit soon.

Carlile said his company captured the shy, half-blind little beasts in the wilds of West Texas, donated them to China and hopes they will become "Texas pandas," as popular with visitors to the Peking Zoo as China's giant pandas are in the Western world.

NUMB ARMS, LEGS Danger Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

Here are nine critical symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations which are usually the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these usually spells back trouble.

- (1) Paresthesias (see above) (2) Headaches
- (3) Painful joints (4) Numbness in the arms or hands (5) Loss of sleep (6) Stiffness in the neck (7) Pain between the shoulders (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back (9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals indicate that your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these danger signals ... call for in depth consultation in Layman's terms.

Books to films road concerns hit author

By Dick Kleiner
HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — If there is such a thing as a batting average of better than 1,000, Avery Corman's got it. Not only have all the books he's written been sold to Hollywood for movies, but the two movies that have been made so far have been monster hits.
The first was "Oh, God!"; the second was "Kramer vs. Kramer." The third, to be made shortly, is based on Corman's latest novel, "The Old Neighborhood."
Most authors would gladly change places with Corman's track record and his bank account. But, being human, Corman has found something to worry about.
To wit: "I think there is a danger," he says, "of being typed as an author who only writes books that become movies."
For "The Old Neighborhood," Corman will try something new. He'll take a shot at writing the screenplay. This is not that he is in any way dissatisfied with the "Kramer" screenplay, because he thought it was superb.
"I doubt," he says, "that I could have improved on the screenplay of 'Kramer.' I think, however, that I could have improved on the screenplay for 'Oh, God!' I didn't particularly like that film."
He would have liked, at the time "Kramer" was published, to have written the screenplay. But he was so full of the idea that ultimately, two years later, became "The Old Neighborhood," that he wasn't then interested.

Now, he says, even though he has some ideas for his next novel, they are not as passionate and demanding as was that urge to write "Neighborhood." So he will do the first draft, at least, of the screenplay, but he is enough of a realist to doubt that it will be the final draft.
If ever there was a novel that seemed to be totally wrong for the movies, it would be Jean Auel's incredibly fascinating story of prehistoric man, "The Clan of the Cave Bear."
That's because every character in it, save one, is a Neanderthal. Even central casting's vast files don't list anybody who is hairy with a protruding jaw and a big knob on the back of the skull.
Yet Mrs. Auel's first novel is arousing great interest here among producers. It could be a fabulous movie, or equally good on television, providing they can lick the casting problem.
Her thought is that, assuming whoever buys it will want to do it tastefully and not turn it into another Raquel Welch "One Million Years B.C." horror, the casting could be accomplished through skillful make-up.

VOLCANO HEAT MAGNITUDE DETERMINED
ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Air temperatures eight miles from Mount St. Helens soared to 675 degrees — hotter than an oven set on high — when the volcano erupted May 18, scientists say. Metallurgist Mark J. Davis and mineralogist Ed Graeber of the Sandia National Laboratories analyzed debris in the 220-square-mile "red zone" surrounding the volcano. They determined temperatures rose to 675 degrees at a site eight miles from the volcano where a car's plastic taillights were partially melted. "It turned out to be hotter than we had thought it would be," he said.

HEART TRANSPLANT RECIPIENT DIES AFTER TEN YEARS
EAST PATCHOGUE, N.Y. (AP) — Richard Cope, whose 10-year survival with another man's heart made him the third most successful heart transplant patient in the world, has died of coronary insufficiency, the Suffolk County Heart Association says. Cope, 56, who died Sunday night, was operated on Oct. 15, 1970, by Dr. Norman Shumway at Stanford Medical Center in California. The methods engineer for Grumman Aerospace underwent transplant surgery after having suffered 47 heart attacks. Emmanuel Vitria is the world's most successful heart transplant patient. The Marseille, France, resident underwent surgery in 1968.

Foreign briefs

ELEVEN LASHED FOR PUBLIC DRINKING
JIDDA, Saudi Arabia (AP) — Ten foreign men and one Saudi each were lashed 80 times in Jidda's public square for drinking alcohol, which is illegal under the Islamic laws of this country, the newspaper Al Medina reported. The nationalities of the foreigners were not disclosed. The paper said the men were arrested some time ago and all pleaded guilty to the charge.

KOREAN POET TO BE FREED
SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Dissident poet Kim Chi-ha, serving a 20-year prison term for anti-government activities, will be freed Wednesday, informed sources said today. A spokesman for the martial law command had no comment. Kim was arrested in 1974 and charged with plotting to overthrow the government. He was sentenced to death, but the sentence was later commuted to life and then to 20 years.

BELSHAW ACQUITTAL WILL BE APPEALED
LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — The acquittal of Cyril S. Belshaw, the Canadian anthropologist, will not be appealed, the prosecutor, Willy Heim, said today. Belshaw, 59, was found innocent Monday of unpremeditated murder. Heim, who argued Belshaw might have killed his wife Betty Joy in January 1979 during a quarrel over his affair with a married

BAY AREA TRANSIT SYSTEM SHUT DOWN
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The ultra-modern Bay Area Rapid Transit system was shut down for an hour when the two computers that regulate traffic on the 75-mile system failed. Officials said the main computer was knocked out about 1 a.m. Monday by a power failure and the backup system failed about 6:30 a.m. The trains began running again under manual control about 7:30 a.m., and one of the $1.5 billion system's main computers was back on line by afternoon.

RESIDENTS RETURN HOME AFTER POISON DANGER SUBSIDES

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss. (AP) — More than 220 northern Mississippi residents are back in their homes and schools after an evacuation caused by a tanker truck carrying pesticide springing a leak. Residents in a section of the Mount Pleasant community in northern Mississippi were evacuated Monday when about 25 gallons of toxaphene spilled onto U.S. 72. The chemical was contained under the tanker by a makeshift dirt dike and authorities allowed residents to return several hours later when it was determined there was no danger.

Vancouver woman, said he was satisfied the facts in the case had been thoroughly considered. Heim said he realized the lack of "decisive proof" made a conviction difficult.

BRITAIN DISAPPOINTED WITH U.N. ACTIVITIES
UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Britain expressed disappointment over a U.N. report seeking to identify activities of the world body that are "obsolete, ineffective or of marginal usefulness." It said the report showed just 14 activities involving only 297 professional work-months had been found obsolete and ineffective, and that this would scarcely begin to make up for new activities authorized this year.

NEW PARTY FORMED IN ARGENTINA
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Conservative politicians in Argentina have formed a new National Center Party and urged their old allies, the armed forces, to set a date for withdrawing from power.

The movement is a descendant of the party which governed Argentina from 1930 to 1943 with the help of military intervention and fraudulent elections rigged against the left-center Radical Party. Although Conservatives never polled more than 10 percent of the vote in any national election since 1943, the movement formed over the weekend is important because it sides with the Peronists and Radicals in opposing prolonged military rule.

ROOM IN RUINS. Beverly Hills fire marshal George Wood, looks over the charred ruins of a room at the posh Beverly Wilshire Hotel in Los Angeles Sunday as other firefighters, background, clean up after a fire at the hotel earlier in the evening. A fire of unknown origin sent flames more than 100 feet into the air and necessitated evacuation of some guests before firefighters could bring the flames under control. The efforts of the firefighters took about 19 minutes, but flames were not contained until thousands of dollars of damage was inflicted. There were no injuries in this third major hotel fire in recent days. (AP Laserphoto)

Texan in Washington line

WASHINGTON (AP) — Changes in top House leadership positions have put another Texan in line for a committee chairmanship next year. Rep. E. "Kika" de la Garza, a Democrat from Mission, stands to replace Rep. Thomas Foley, D-Wash., as chairman of the House Agriculture Committee. Foley was appointed House Democratic whip Monday and cannot hold both positions. De la Garza, first elected to the House in 1964 from his Lower Rio Grande Valley district, is second in seniority among Democrats on the panel and would become chairman if the traditional pattern is followed. "He'll take it if they give it to them — if that's the will of the House," an aide, who asked not to be identified, said. "I haven't heard of any problem."

The election for chairman will be held after the new congressional session starts in January. Foley became chairman in 1975 following the ouster of former Rep. Bob Poage, D-Texas. De la Garza would be the second House committee chairman from Texas in the new Congress. Rep. Jack Brooks, a Democrat from Beaumont, is chairman of the House Government Operations Committee. Rep. Ray Roberts, a Democrat from McKinney who chairs the House Veterans Affairs Committee, is retiring. The Republican takeover of the Senate has placed Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, in line to be the chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Surgery removes extra toes, fingers of child

DALLAS (AP) — Two churches raised money and two surgeons volunteered their time to remove an extra finger and two extra toes from an 18-month-old Columbian boy whose father credits hospital staffs and an airline with the surgery's success. Doctors at Baylor University Medical Center removed a sixth finger from the child's right hand and an extra toe from each foot during surgery Monday. Danny Garcia was born in June 1979 with the additional digits. His mother said shoes did not fit properly and the boy was having difficulty using his right hand. The Rev. Harold Garcia of Bogota said the operation was the culmination of a year of prayers and efforts by Braniff International, the medical center, two surgeons and two Dallas-area churches.

"The doctors in Colombia advised us that we should have the surgery done in the United States," said Danny's mother, Diane Garcia. "They didn't have the proper resuscitation equipment there for a child this small." A Dallas plastic surgeon, recommended to the couple by a friend, advised them to wait until Danny was at least 15 months old before considering surgery. But Garcia's small salary as pastor of the Bogota Baptist Chapel would not cover the cost of travel, much less the medical costs. "We knew it would be expensive and impossible for us to take care of," Mrs. Garcia said. "But we just knew the Lord would take care of it." Garcia said his son was scheduled to be released from the hospital today.

DR. LAMB

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have been getting deaf for quite awhile. I am a female and started wearing a hearing aid 25 years ago. I'm now 64. My left ear went completely deaf quite awhile ago. Last year I got a new hearing aid and in a short while I couldn't seem to hear well with it. A specialist told me once that the nerves were dying in my ears. He said he couldn't help me any. I have an awful noise in my head that I can hardly stand. Sometimes when we have company I feel like asking them to go home. I am so ashamed and I don't want to go anywhere. The specialist says the nerves are all dead in the back of my ears. He has given me Valium. Can I become addicted to this medicine?

DEAR READER — Anyone who has a significant hearing problem should be evaluated by a specialist in ear, nose and throat problems. Usually an audiological evaluation will also be needed, using the various modern tests available.

The early age of onset of your problems suggests that you may have otosclerosis, a problem of bone formation that affects the hearing. Sometimes surgery is useful in such cases. The nerve can be damaged in the course of time in some people with the problem.

Once the nerve is damaged from any cause, it is more difficult to aid the hearing. If you need to amplify the sound too much it may be distorted or may exceed noise thresholds. Some hearing loss is mostly in high frequencies and adjusting the amplification to the range of sound frequencies lost often makes a hearing aid more functional. These problems are discussed in The Health Letter number 16-8, Your Vital Hearing, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

The nerve can be damaged by other processes, including noise exposure and even virus infections such as mumps. It is often involved in hearing disorders that occur later in life and may be damaged from changes in circulation. Many people with nerve damage can be helped with hearing aids as long as reasonable amplification actually helps. Once the nerve damage has progressed too far and can't be helped, then hearing aids may be of little value.

Valium can be addicting and must be used with caution. Nevertheless, you may need some help to keep you from being so tense. Talk it over with your doctor. If you are worried about the amount you are taking, perhaps he can suggest something else.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My son is 26 years old. His dentist who just passed away had said his teeth were perfect and never mentioned a word about his wisdom teeth.

Now his friends tell him that they should be extracted. Is this true?

DEAR READER — Not necessarily. It depends entirely on the condition of the wisdom teeth and their relation to the other teeth.

Parents influence child's view of Santa

COLLEGE STATION — Treat Santa Claus as the spirit of joy and giving, advises Dianne Welch, a family life education specialist.

"Children will then probably place Santa Claus beside their pleasant imaginary friends of childhood."

"Santa can help a child grasp abstract concepts, learn about fantasy and reality and develop a caring, sharing and giving nature," the specialist points out.

Mrs. Welch is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Parents greatly influence how their children react to Santa, she says.

"Some parents are concerned about honesty. They feel their child will see the Santa Claus myth as a form of deception."

"At the other end of the spectrum, some parents use Santa as a means of getting 'good' behavior from their children in exchange for promises of gifts.

"In between these two groups are parents that tolerate the myth but do not exploit it," Mrs. Welch explains.

These parents allow their children to exercise their fullest imagination about Santa, participate in the excitement of preparing for Santa's arrival but encourage them to revise their understanding in terms of their age and maturity, she says.

For example, the pre-school child is often fascinated by all the arrangements surrounding Christmas. They are anxious to take an active part in getting ready.

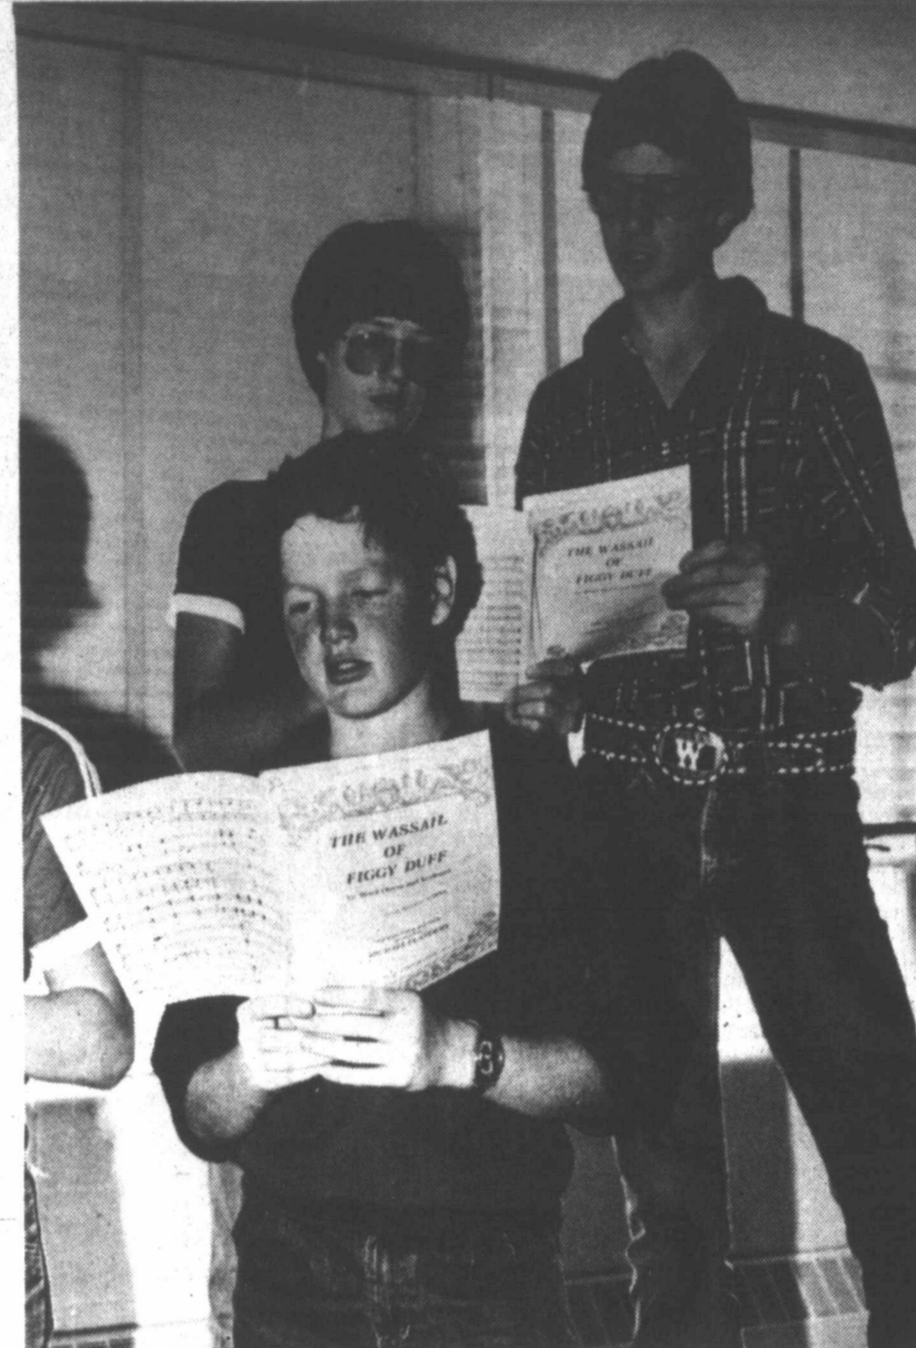

However, their sense of time is limited and they are continuously asking when Santa is to arrive. Many parents are innovative in the way they use the "mark-off" techniques to give the child a sense of knowing how many days are yet to pass, the specialist suggests.

At five or six years of age, children are interested in the details and spirit of Christmas. This goes along with their interest in fantasy.

Although still involved with imagination about reindeer and a "fat man" that takes away cookies, children ages five and six can better grasp an understanding of what Christmas is all about.

By ages seven and eight, a child probably knows about the reality of Santa but may want to continue the illusion of mystery and legend.

Classic kilts top style scene

By Joanne Schreiber

The classic, romantic, swinging kilt is back! Thrill to the flutter of plaid pleats in bright red Royal Stewart, navy and green Black Watch or the green and white Dress Gordon — the kilt is the most flattering and comfortable of all pleated skirts.

This fall the kilt takes on an all-American look with an Oxford button-down shirt or a frilly blouse, a necessary navy blazer, textured stockings or cable-knit knee-highs and gleaming leather shoes and shoulder bag. It's a terrific look for any age.

Buy the blazer, but sew the kilt. It's easy to sew, even without a pattern, and most of the ready-to-wear kilts are discouragingly expensive and skimpy on fabric. Kilts should be made with good, deep pleats to assure that swing and flutter.

Three yards of fabric is ample. Kilts are pleated on the cross grain, so there are no side seams. The overlap can run 12 to 14 inches, depending on the size and the scale of the plaid.

To make a kilt, begin with the waistband. Cut it to your waist measurement plus overlap and seam allowances. Lay the plaid out flat. Mark the overlap at each end of the length of material. These sections will remain unpleated; the remainder of the fabric will be pleated to the waistband measurement.

Establish your pleats according to the plaid. Each pleat should be at least an inch deep and perhaps 1 1/4 inches. Pin in your pleats, until you achieve the right spacing. It will take some trial and error. Remember to consider the way the plaid is located on the front panel. The strongest and darkest vertical motif should go down the center of the front.

When you get the pleats pinned in to match the waistband, baste them into position. You'll want about three inches ease around the hips, so each pleat needs to fan out by about 1/4 inch at a point seven inches below the waist. Pin the skirt to the ironing board and pin and press each section in turn. Do not press the pleats in clear to the hem.

Baste along the edge of each pleat and try the skirt on. If necessary add small side-front darts to both overlap sections. If the fit is good, edge-stitch the pleats from waist to hip. Edge-finish the skirt before applying the waistband. The underlap edge is simply folded under and machine-stitched. The overlap edge (kilts lap from right to left) is fringed. To do this, fringe the raw edge of the fabric, then fold and stitch along the folded edge so the fringe edges the material. Hand-stitch the inner edge of the fold.

The traditional buckle-and-strap fastening is available in notions sections of fabric stores. If you can't find one, use snaps or Velcro. Finish the waistband and stitch to the pleated skirt. Hem and do final pressing.

Be sure to select a fine, light pure wool. You'll find it a joy to sew; the pleats will press in firmly and beautifully.

DEAR ABBY

DEAR ABBY: When I was outside getting my newspaper, I saw my son running up the street, leaving his bicycle abandoned on the sidewalk. I called out to him, "If someone steals your bike, I'm not buying you a new one!"

He shouted back, "You didn't buy me the first one — Daddy did!" At first I was angry, then I realized it was true. I had never worked outside the home, so everything we had was paid for with Daddy's paycheck.

All I had ever given our son was an enema when he was sick, a bath when he was dirty and a whipping when he was naughty. The chocolate chip cookies and taffy apples he loved so much weren't really from me because without Daddy's paycheck, I wouldn't have had the ingredients.

Perhaps one day I will become a "liberated woman" and get a job that will bring in some money. Then I'll feel like an equal partner.

ANONYMOUS MOM

DEAR MOM: Your contributions as a wife, mother and homemaker are as important as your husband's paycheck, which makes you an equal partner, so don't put yourself down. Your son needs some perspective on the true nature of the parental partnership. (And a little discipline wouldn't hurt, either.)

DEAR ABBY: Please urge your readers to make the small but worthwhile investment in electrical outlet plug caps. Last night our 3-year-old inserted a car key in an outlet. Fortunately he received only a mild shock, and the only damage was a burned-out fuse and two terrified parents. I've read several letters in your column from parents offering various warnings after it was too late for them. We were lucky. I hope you can find room in your column for this warning, too.

T.A. NACKERS, ST. FRANCIS, WIS.

DEAR MR. NACKERS: Thanks for pointing out an obvious but seldom mentioned danger to youngsters.

DEAR ABBY: What to get our elderly mother, Dad, grandparents, aunts, uncles and friends for Christmas? We all have fancy robes, gowns, tablecloths, napkins, etc., stored away, but what we would appreciate most is to have things done for us that we aren't able to do ourselves.

For example: Furniture moved, windows and doors repaired, pictures and mirrors hung, trees and bushes planted, and so on. It would be wonderful to receive a Christmas card saying, "Make a list of things you want done and I will be over on Saturday from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. to do them. And that will be your Christmas present from me."

Homebuyer's package available ON THE HOUSE

By Andy Lang

WASHINGTON, D.C. — One of the most mysterious, surprising, and sometimes frustrating steps in buying a home is closing the deal.

A new, 97-page, "Homebuyer's Information Package," subtitled "A Guidebook for Buying and Owning a Home," and prepared by the Office of Policy Development and Research, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, warns that closing costs may add two to ten percent to the cost of buying a home. The information workbook comes with checklists and sample legal forms. It is available from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Dept. 32H, Washington, D.C. 20402, for $4.95. Send check or money order, or give your VISA or MasterCard credit card account number and expiration date, and specify GPO Stock No. 023-000-00508-5.

A "closing," the workbook explains, is a meeting between the buyers, sellers, their representatives or agents, real estate broker and, in some cases, a title insurance representative.

The purpose of the meeting is to transfer ownership of the property from the seller to the buyer.

Weeks often elapse between the first agreement to buy and final settlement. During this period, a new deed is prepared, financing and home insurance is secured, the title is "searched," and tax adjustments are made between buyer and seller.

Under the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA), Federal law requires that the lender provide the buyer with a "good faith estimate" of the closing costs. Some charges, not listed on the RESPA statement, do not have to be disclosed until 24 hours before settlement. They may come as a surprise to the unsophisticated buyer.

The checklist included in the Information Package advises the buyer to expect to pay legal fees (incurred by the lender for preparing and recording documents), an origination fee (the lender's charge for making the loan — usually one percent of the loan), appraisal fees, inspection fees, mortgage insurance, credit report, loan application fee and survey fee. In addition, the buyer will probably have to pay for the office secretarial help required during the settlement meeting.

The package also points out that many other one-time costs — some of these substantial — are often overlooked by the buyer until the moment of settlement.

These include real estate taxes, town service charges (which might include a special assessment), home and mortgage insurance payments that must be paid several months in advance, and interest charges from the date of the closing to the date of the first mortgage payment.

The package advises the buyer to bring more money to the settlement table than the lender has estimated and to do it in the form of a certified check. If it's too much, the excess will be rebated.

Just prior to settlement, the package cautions the buyer to make a last-minute check of the home being purchased to make sure all agreements made in the contract have been complied with and that all of the seller's furniture and trash will be out of the house by settlement.

The buyer who has been renting is reminded to give a landlord ample notice, confirm a moving date with a moving company, and notify utility companies when to shut off service at the old dwelling and turn it on at the new one.

The section on closing costs is one of seven categories to be thoroughly discussed in the Information Package.

When you are looking for a house, old or new, you always give considerable attention to the number and sizes of the available closets.

Six months after you have moved in, no matter how few or how many closets there are, all of them appear to be jammed to capacity. It's one of the facets of Parkinson's Law — whatever space there is to be filled gets filled.

Actually, closets that appear to be unable to hold another thing very often have extra usable space. Nearly every clothes closet has a single rod for hanging garments and a single shelf for hats, boxes, blankets and whatever.

What happens if you take all the short garments in the closet and hang them on one side of the pole and all of the long garments and hang them on the other? Try it and see. You will discover that there is a lot of space under the short garments that can be utilized!

Use your imagination and put that space to work. As one example, you can put a divider in the closet and place drawers on runners in the space below the short garments. Or, if you don't need drawers or don't want to bother with them, how about another pole beneath the other, far enough down not to interfere with the clothes above it, yet far enough up so it will take care of more short garments? The rest of the pole can still be used for long clothes.

There are many other possibilities, which become evident if you look inside a closet for the specific purpose of finding unused space. It must be more than a casual inspection, otherwise you will not "see" the unused space, simply because the closet has always appeared to be filled. Some closets have a considerable amount of space above the shelf that will accommodate a second and higher shelf. A word of caution, though. If you do contemplate such a second shelf for storing seasonal or little-used items, be certain there is enough room to get them in and out comfortably. If a closet has the conventional swinging type of door, see if it will hold towel bars or some kind of narrow shelving.

AT WIT'S END

By Erma Bombeck

Publishers are always asking, "Where are tomorrow's authors coming from? Who will write our humor? Our mysteries? Our fiction? Our how-to books?"

The naive little fools. Don't they realize our future generation of writers is already at work in a little commune outside Cincinnati setting down words that surface in every utility room across the land? They are the authors of laundry labels. Every day some housewife picks up their labels of detergent dogmas... their drippy warnings, their cool iron prose. It's fiction at its very best.

Have you read "Care of your rug" by inspector 56? It's a hard-cover label with a rather simple plot. "Spot clean with soap and water or use carpet cleaning fluids." But it's the hilarious footnote that titillates the imagination of the reader: "This rug contains 100 percent miscellaneous odd lots of undetermined animal fiber content."

I had a coat once that contained the same undetermined animal fiber and every time someone turned off the light, it ran under the kitchen sink!

And how's this label in a blouse for a real mystery plot? "Do not dry clean. Do not bleach. Do not wring dry. Do not hang in the direct sun. Do not iron. Do not hang on wire hanger." It makes one wonder what would happen if you wore it!

And check the whodunits. The ones that read, "Warning. To preserve the life of this garment, wash in..." That's it. The rest of the message is sewn into the seam.

Some authors write laundry label novels. They don't know when to shut up. And write more about the care of a sweater than you want to know. This is especially true of the foreign labels. First, there's the listing of the characters: "100 percent acrylic, acrylique, polyacryl." This is followed by an illustration of a tub of water with a 30 degree sign on it, a little pyramid which slightly resembles an iron with an X on it, and a circle with an X through it which I assume represents either the sun or the moon.

Just below is another message: "MADE IN ITALY. Hand wash separately in lukewarm water (90 degrees Fahrenheit or 30 degrees Celsius). Do not wring or twist or dry in the sun or near the heating."

I call this fiction because a label in the identical sweater read "100 percent Acrylic. Acryllique. Polyacryl. Dry Clean Only. Do not use petroleum or chlorinated solvents or the coin-operated method of dry cleaning."

My favorite label is the label out to get your attention. It doesn't matter what it says. It's four inches square, made with thorns and needles and placed strategically at the back of your neck. You may not like it... but it's a label you can't put down!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Something material you've been interested in will be made available to you today through a least-expected source.

Clovis downs Harvesters with fourth-quarter surge

CLOVIS-The undefeated Clovis Wildcats went on a fourth-quarter scoring spree to outdistance the Pampa Harvesters, 76-68, Monday night. It was anybody's ballgame for most of four quarters.

Pampa outshot the winners from the both the floor (48.3 to 47.4 percent) and foul line (66 to 57.3 percent) and had a 25-22 rebounding edge, but Clovis' 27-point fourth-quarter surge made up the difference.

Leading by one, 49-48, Clovis bounded away to a 57-50 advantage in the early going of the fourth quarter. Pampa rallied and closed the gap to two, 60-58, on a pair of foul shots by Charles Nelson.

After the two teams traded baskets, Clovis ripped off seven straight points and led by nine, 69-60, with 2:30 to go.

The lead changed hands seven times throughout the game with Pampa taking an early 6-2 lead and Clovis rallying to take command, 20-14, at the end of the first quarter.

Clovis led the entire second quarter to hold a 35-32 edge at halftime.

The lead switched three times in the third quarter, but Clovis jumped on top to stay, 43-42, on Mike Mims' layup at the 1:50 mark.

Charles Nelson led all scorers with 22 points, hitting eight of 14 from the floor and six of seven from the foul line.

Teammate Terry Faggins scored all his points (8-13) from the floor to finish with 16 points. Mike Nelson was right behind with 15, followed by Kirt Crouch with six, Ray Condo, four; Damon Fleming, three and Ed Guerra, two.

Faggins pulled down eight rebounds while Charles Nelson had six and Mike Nelson, four.

John Robbins, a 6-5 senior, tossed in 20 points for Clovis.

Pampa is now 4-2 for the season while Clovis is 4-0.

The Harvesters' next outing is Friday in the Bi-State Classic at Lawton, Okla. Pampa, which drew a first-round bye, meets the Wichita Falls Hirschi-Lawton High winner at 8:15 p.m.

SWC roundup

Aggies roll past Sam Houston

By The Associated Press
Texas A&M's basketball team got high praise from the opposing coach Monday night after the 12th ranked Aggies beat Sam Houston State, 75-58.

In other Southwest Conference games, Texas Tech romped to an easy 67-47 victory over Louisiana Tech and Rice whipped Angelo State, 77-56.

Sam Houston coach Bob

Derryberry says he believes the Aggies pose a threat to win the NCAA championship as well as the SWC crown this year.

"I thought Texas A&M has the best team that I have ever coached against in more than 700 games in high school and college," Derryberry said.

"I believe they are totally by themselves as far as the Southwest Conference goes this year. If there is a team that beats them out for the title I don't want to see it because it would be awesome," he added.

Aggies coach Shelby Metcalf isn't likely to be predicting any national title for his team, but he also had praise for them.

"I thought we showed some improvement on defense tonight. We showed a lot more intensity and hustle than in previous games. We still need more improvement in our offensive play," Metcalf said.

Bynn Wright, Vernon Smith and Rudy Woods combined for 43 points. Wright had 20, Woods 12 and Smith added 11.

Jeff Taylor had 19 points, 15 in the second half to pace the Texas Tech Red Raiders to a 67-47 victory over Louisiana Tech. Dave Simmons of Louisiana Tech led all scorers with 22 points.

Ricky Pierce and Kenny Austin provided the offensive power as Rice coasted to a 77-56 victory over Angelo State of the Lone Star Conference.

Pierce had 17 and Austin had 16 to lead the Owls.

Texas is at Southern California in the top game involving SWC teams tonight.

Falcons not surprised by success

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer
You may call them the 1980 Atlanta Falcons if you wish, but Wallace Francis has a better idea. "We're the 1974 Pittsburgh Steelers all over again," he says.

And they have belief. Not just in each other. In a Higher Power.

They are one of the National Football League's surprise teams of the year — yet they aren't surprised by the success and attention which has flooded their way this year. "We knew all along how good we were, what we could do," says Francis, one of the team's premier wide receivers.

"We really are the team the Steelers were in '74," he says of the team which won the first of what was to become four Super Bowls in six years.

"Remember, they'd been losers for something like 40 years. Then they finally built a tradition. They got the key players in a couple of drafts; they began believing in themselves. Same here. We've got a bunch of guys here who have the talent and the belief we can win."

"Maybe we don't have the same kind of winning tradition yet," continues Francis, "but hey, most of us haven't been together more than a couple of years. But we have ourselves one solid foundation."

Francis is in the perfect position to talk about the birth of this contender. He arrived in 1975, compliments of a trade with Buffalo, the same season the Falcons signed free agent wide receiver Alfred Jenkins and drafted quarterback Steve Bartkowski.

He speaks now of his life with God, of how "He changed my priorities all around," of how the whole team paid for his mistakes.

It is a strain of conversation you hear steadily throughout the Falcons' locker room. "We know now we've got to excel," says Francis. "We don't worry about where we are in life because we're comfortable in the position that we're in."

Banquet tickets on sale

Tickets are on sale for the annual Harvester Football Banquet at 7 p.m. Dec. 18 in M.K. Brown Auditorium.

Tickets may be purchased at Citizens Bank, First National Bank or at the athletic business office.

Bill Yung, head football coach at West Texas State University, will be the guest speaker. In four years at WTSU, Yung has guided the Buffalos to two Missouri Valley Conference titles.

Swim meet today

Pampa visits Tascosa for a high school swim meet at 4 p.m. today at the Maverick Club pool in Amarillo.

The Harvesters are favored in the boys' division while Tascosa has the edge in the girls' division, mainly because they outnumber Pampa, 18-5.

Pampa's next home duel is Jan. 10 against Lubbock Monterey.

Pampa gals host Lawton

Pampa's Lady Harvesters host Lubbock High in girls' basketball action at 7:45 p.m. tonight in Harvester Fieldhouse.

There will be a junior varsity game at 6 p.m. between the two teams.
