

France In Accord With Purpose of American Debt Plan

PAMPA CANVASS STARTS

Mellon and Ambassador Edge Trying to Assure Nation That Young Plan Not to Be Undermined.

SUCCESS IS SEEN

U. S. Treasurer Lanches With High Officials; Premier Laval Host; Papers Express Optimism.

PARIS, June 26. (AP)—The French reply to President Hoover's proposal for a year's war debts and reparations payments suspension made public today states that the French government is in "cordial accord with the high sentiments" inspiring the president's proposal.

PARIS, June 26. (AP)—An American reply to the French memorandum regarding the Hoover war debts proposal was handed to Foreign Minister Briand of France at noon today.

The reply was as follows:

"The American government appreciates the cordiality of the French government's response to the president's proposal. It takes the French government will take advantage of the presence of the secretary of the treasury in Paris and discuss with the ambassador and with him the various problems arising from the original proposal of the president and the French answer. The ambassador and Mr. Mellon are fully advised as to the views of my government."

The text of Secretary Stimson's statement follows:

"The French note shows a gratifying cordiality to the president's proposal. As we understand it, the French government is mainly concerned that there should be no breach in the integrity of the Young plan agreement. France expresses a willingness to forego the retention of any German payments for a year.

Simple Delay
The president's plan does not propose a reconstruciton or impairment of any international agreements, including our own debt agreements. His suggestion extended only to the simple postponement for one year of the payments under such agreements.

The question of the method by which this postponement is to be accomplished, and the ultimate payment of the postponed amounts are matters requiring negotiation and settlement between different governments.

There are suggestions in the method proposed by the French government which do not accomplish the full measure of relief to debtor nations corresponding to the president's plan and must, therefore, be the subject of further discussion with view to a modification that will bring the full measure of relief of which the fine evidence of cooperation in the French note gives every hope of success.

In view of the action already taken by some governments in acceptance of the president's plan and the corresponding suspension of payments on inter-governmental debts due July 1, Ambassador Edge and Secretary Mellon are engaged in these discussions with the French government with view to early conclusions.

Important Meal

PARIS, June 26. (AP)—Andrew W. Mellon, American secretary of the treasury, took luncheon today with the heads of the French government and discussed with them President Hoover's momentous war debt proposal.

The luncheon meeting was looked upon as being of utmost importance in view of the accepted version of the French answer to the American suggestion that war debts and reparations be postponed for a year—a version which has it that the French will not surrender the $100,000,000 in unconditional payments which they receive from Germany annually under the Young plan.

Optimism that the American secretary of the treasury and the French statesmen would arrive at agreement was reflected in official circles and in French newspapers.

Premier Laval presided at the luncheon given the American visitor. In addition to Mr. Laval and Mr. Mellon, the luncheon guests included Ambassador Walter E. Edge, Foreign Minister Briand, Finance Minister Magin, Budget Minister Druce, and Robert Pell, secretary to the American embassy.

Frank K. Shields, America's number one in the Wimbledon championships, advanced to the quarter-final round with an easy straight set victory over J. S. Olin, of England. The scores were 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

It's just a lot of "hooley" any way you figure, but someone proposed a "hog rodeo" on the grounds that prize porters should do something more than grant to win blue ribbons at the Los Angeles county fair in September. BOWERS BUYS LARGE RANCH

Pays Quarter of Million Dollars for Property of Hext Estate.

A well-watered ranch of 20,000 acres in the southeast corner of Hemphill county was purchased yesterday by Joe Bowers Sr., wealthy Pampa oil man, for approximately $250,000.

Mr. Bowers and his sons will operate the big property, and it is understood that Aubrey will move there at once. The new owners are already in possession of the ranch, which was purchased from the heirs of the Hext estate. Many heirs, who included Mrs. Harry Cornelius of this city, were involved in the deal.

The ranch includes 2,000 acres of meadow land, three sections of farm land in cultivation, and five miles of the Washita river. Two thousand head of cattle graze upon the place. The sand hills which are on part of the ranch are well stocked with prairie chickens.

Mr. Bowers was assisted in the deal by his attorney, Judge S. D. Stennis, who accompanied him to the property yesterday.

Twenty Cars of Wheat Sent Out of This Vicinity

Wheat from many fields in the Pampa territory started moving over the rails yesterday when the Santa Fe shipped out 20 cars. This was the first appreciable movement of the season.

Grain dealers today estimated that tractor and combines were diminishing the acreage of 75 per cent of with the harvest, the peak will be the fields. If no rain interferes passed by July 4. Fields that had a few spotsches of green yesterday were ready for the sickle today after the grain was fanned by strong dry winds.

The price yesterday opened at 35 cents but sank to 33 before the market closed. At noon today, elevators were paying 33c per bushel. Farmers who are storing their grain are of the opinion that in several months the price will be double its present figure.

Mags and Barbers to Play on Fourth

A feature attraction of LeFors' July 4 celebration will be a baseball game to be played at 10 o'clock between the Magnolias and the Pampa Barbers.

The Mags are one game behind schedule with the Barbers and they are taking advantage of the Fourth to make up for lost time. A noon fireworks, and other attractions are being planned. Sheriff Lon L. Blinnest is in charge of the rodeo. Old-timers and pioneers from this section of the Panhandle are due to attend the old settlers picnic to be held at the leading attraction of the celebration.

NEGRO-KILLER HAS ESCAPED LARGE POSSE

Slayer of Oklahoma Under-Sheriff Is Believed to Be Fleeing to Wichita, Kans., to Hide.

GUARDSMEN OUT

Two companies Are Moved by Governor Murray After Excitement Over Crime Becomes Intense.

CLEO SPRINGS, Okla., June 23. (AP)—Search of a posse of several hundred men and officers for Fillmore Davis, negro, who yesterday shot and killed Guy Jarvis, Blaine county undersheriff and wounded George Gender, deputy sheriff, turned to other sections of Major county early today.

After an all-night manhunt in underbrush along Eagle Creek near here, Henry Law, Blaine county sheriff, announced this morning the negro had evaded the posse. Sheriff Law said the countryside northeast of here was being searched in the belief the negro was headed for Wichita, Kans.

WATONGA, Okla., June 26. (AP)—Two companies of national guardsmen stood on the alert today in the vicinity of Cleo Springs, about 40 miles north of here, while a large posse closed in on the presumed hiding place of a negro who killed one officer and wounded another yesterday before escaping in the officers' automobile.

The negro, Fillmore Davis, former convict, was traced to Cleo Springs by the officers' automobile found abandoned near that village. Guy Jarvis, Blaine county undersheriff, was killed by a shotgun charge fired at close range when he and George Gender, a deputy sheriff, were tricked by the negro into leaving their car to approach a house in which he had barricaded himself.

Mother Quizzed As To Death of Two Daughters

LEBANON, Ind., June 26. (AP)—Held for a grand jury investigation of the poison deaths of her two daughters, Mrs. John W. Simmons reiterated to officers here today that she had no knowledge of how or by whom poisoned capsules were placed in chicken sandwiches eaten by Virginia, 14, and her 10-year-old sister, Jean, at a family reunion picnic last Sunday.

The woman's husband, refusing on the advice of an attorney to answer questions, returned to his home at Greenfield to await developments. Mrs. Simmons, who prepared the sandwiches, was questioned concerning the fact that some of them were held together with one toothpick while others contained two. Authorities said they believed the person who inserted the poison might have used the means to distinguish the poison as a protection to himself.

The victims' mother said she at first placed one toothpick in all of the sandwiches and later stuck a second one in several when they came apart.

TRUCK DRIVER KILLED

LONGVIEW, June 26. (AP)—Clarence Crain, 30, of Venton, La., a truck driver, was instantly killed, and his companion, L. L. Dicker, 28, of El Campo, was injured and cut when a Texas and Pacific train struck their truck at a street crossing here today. The truck, to which a trailer loaded with cement was attached, was dragged half a block and demolished.

"TRADER HORN," REALLY ALFRED ALOYSIS SMITH, SUCCEUMS AT "YOUNG" AGE—82

Famous Adventurer Passes as Chill and Fever Racks His Constitution.

WHITSTABLE, Kent, England, June 26. (AP)—Alfred Aloysius Smith, known to the world as "Trader Horn," died today at a nursing home in Tankerton after a brief illness. He was a "young man of 82" in his own words.

He was stricken with a chill at the home of his sister several days ago and did not rally. With a sparkling eye and a great white beard, he maintained until his death the happy, breezy manner that had accompanied a career of adventures.

"Trader Horn" came out of the jungles of the dark continent to take a place in the spotlight of the world's literary capitals. In collaboration with Mrs. Ethelreda Lewis, he wrote "Trader Horn" and entertained England and America with fascinating tales of his experiences with African natives.

His travels began in 1871 when he left Lancashire for the ivory coast of West Africa on behalf of a Liverpool steamship company.

Among his activities were shooting elephants and lions. Prospecting in the Kalahari desert of South Africa, diamond trading in Rand, washing gold at Cherry Creek, painting pictures in the southern part of the United States, and helping salvage billies from the wrecked steamship Empress of India.

He came to England at the outbreak of the World war and tried unsuccessfully to enter the British army, declaring he was 20 years younger than his age.

"Trader Horn" was facile in establishing himself with the black races and though sometimes in danger he was usually on the best of terms with natives. He did not hesitate to describe cannibals as his blood brothers.

Jury Charged By Judge

State Attorneys Disagree On Argument Order; Shilling Wins.

ARDMORE, Okla., June 26. (AP)—Jurors trying W. E. (Bill) Guess for the slaying of Emilio Cortes Rubio, shot to death with his student comrade, Manuel Gomez here June 7, were instructed by Judge John B. Ogden today to return a verdict of first degree murder, first degree manslaughter or acquittal.

After the instructions, Frank Dudley, assistant attorney general, began the state's opening argument. He was to be followed by H. H. Brown of the defense. Judge Ogden, following a conference today with James Springer, special prosecutor of Governor W. H. Murray, held Marvin Shilling, Carter county attorney, might close for the state. Springer and W. H. Brown, another prosecutor for the governor, had moved to take the lead in the closing sessions of the trial after what Springer described as a "disagreement" among attorneys as to order of arguments.

The first degree murder verdict would carry either the death penalty or life imprisonment, although prosecutors did not attempt to qualify the jury for the extreme penalty. The first degree manslaughter verdict carries a minimum sentence of four years. Oklahoma juries set the penalties.

Judge Ogden said that for Guess to have been justified in taking Emilio's life, he must have had some real or apparent necessity and acted honestly and in good faith.

Allred Asked To See Dead Prisoner To Obtain Papers

It's been tit for tat between District Attorney Raymond Allred and the state capital, recently, and today Mr. Allred was waiting upon the state's reply to a wisecrack that was an answer to what the local official considered a pointless joke.

Lately, Mr. Allred asked the state to pay him for compiling the statement of facts in the trial of Monte C. Twitty, a man recently electrocuted. The state answered that the man's pauper oath, which is necessary before the state will pay for a record, had been lost, and that Mr. Allred would have to get another from the county.

YOUTH DROWNS

GAINESVILLE, June 26. (AP)—Willard Davis, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Davis, was drowned today in a small pond two miles south of Gainesville while swimming. His two small brothers summoned aid and his body was recovered soon afterward, but resuscitation efforts failed.

NEGROES IN CONFESSION

SAN ANTONIO, June 26. (AP)—Mysteries surrounding the disappearance and murder of Frank M. Kempf, Devine dairyman, whose half-clothed body was found near Natalie Wednesday, were thought by San Antonio officers today to be completely solved.

IRISH MENTOR ILL

ROCHESTER, Minn., June 26. (AP)—Dr. C. J. Barborak, Mayo clinic physician, today said incomplete diagnosis showed that C. J. "Hunk" Anderson, Notre Dame senior football coach, was in a serious condition.

Dr. Barborak said that while tests had not proceeded far enough to determine the exact cause of Anderson's headaches from which Anderson has been suffering since last May, a serious head condition was indicated.

OIL OPERATIONS ARE SHUT DOWN AS FIRES RAGE ON

Overton Well Problem More Difficult As Flames Eat Connections.

By The Associated Press.
Operations in two East Texas oil producing sectors were at a standstill today as operators shut down their wells and sent men and equipment to fight flames which for two days and nights have been lapping up the oil from two wells.

Last night the flames ate away the last of the connections in the Frank O'Quinn well near Overton resulting in an increased flow of oil. So heavy was the flow that the fire could not handle it. Small rivulets of fire and oil drained away from the well.

Likewise the Bell and Gaddy number one near Kilgore burned on, unchecked. Efforts to send a torpedo into the mass of flames and blow out the well's "Christmas tree" connection failed when the fire melted the line on which the torpedo was extended.

It was expected that efforts would be made today to "blow" both wells. Gladewater's wild Texas and Pacific number one, within 1200 feet of its business section, succumbed yesterday to a mass attack of workmen who blanketed it with sand bags and cement.

Near Center, in Shelby county, a gas draser roared out of control yesterday, and continued today to run wild. Danger of fire was imminent.

Traffic Officer Makes 236 Arrests

There were 236 traffic law violators who failed to talk Officer Joe Persky out of the notion of giving them a ticket during the last month. His arrests were as follows: Running stop-sign, 75; speeding, 30; left turn out of alley, and left turn into alley, 50; running red light, 15; double-parking, 32; U-turns, 12; other traffic violations, 22.

Yesterday, Officer Persky, assisted by Lee Miller and W. A. Conwell, members of the state highway department, started a war on drives of cars with one light, no tail light, one license plate, cutouts, broken mufflers, and out of state drivers who are driving cars with foreign state licenses.

NEW PLAN WILL BE USED BY GROUP

Project to Be Lost If Answer Not Ready Soon

"There is a tide in the affairs of men which taken at the flood leads on to fortune; omitted, all the voyage of their lives is bound in shallows and in miseries. And we must take the current when it serves or lose our ventures."—Shakespeare.

Unable to coax local business men and citizens to meetings intended to put the railroad drive "over the top,"

The Right Spirit!
Mr. Mel Davis,
Chairman of railroad committee.

Dear Sir:—I want to make a pledge of $10 for the new railroad that you and your fellow-workers are trying so hard to get. I want you to know that I am for you and am hoping that the project will go over in a big way at the meeting this morning. I am wondering what is to become of our town if we fail to put this over?

What is to become of our schools and other things that go toward making a worth-while city? I feel that we have encouraged people to come to our town and buy homes here. Now I feel like we ought to do all we can to make it possible for them to stay with us and be one of us.

Respectfully,
Mrs. C. L. Mullen,
101 South Wynne street.

committees this afternoon were energetically carrying the canvass to the people in the form of a city-wide canvass. Estimates of what pledges should be made, compiled upon the basis of property assessments, were being used as suggestions.

The canvass must be completed by 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, which is the last minute the Fort Worth & Denver Northern railroad will wait to receive Pampa's answer to its request for right-of-way in Gray county and terminal grounds in Pampa. Burlington directors, who will advance the $4,000,000 for construction of the Pampa-Childress line if it is built, will meet Wednesday to authorize advertisement for bids or will postpone the project indefinitely.

More is Pledged
About $10,000 was pledged at the mass meeting this morning, which was attended by a small group. This raised the total of pledges to around $30,000, of which the amount estimated to be necessary. A number of corporations had not decided how much they would give, but local managers promised immediate action. When the list of desired pledges was read, J. N. Duncan's former pledge of $1500 was placed at $1750. He arose and voluntarily placed it at $2,000.

Numerous others approved raised pledges. There was no doubt of the interest and cooperation of those present; the main issue was how to obtain similar support from others whose businesses and jobs were vitally affected.

Chas. C. Cook made a fervent appeal in which he told of the sympathetic help of General John A. Hulen, general manager of the Denver, who is using every effort to prevent the Burlington officials from delaying the project, as several directors have proposed. Mr. Cook said that F. E. Williamson, president of the Burlington system, was favorable providing the cities met their obligations and the line was begun at once. Mr. Cook said that there was reason to believe, however, that if Pampa does not give the right-of-way now and the project is delayed, it may not be carried out in the next five years.

Need Fighting Spirit
Chairman Mel Davis called for the old move-the-county-seat fighting spirit so dominant in this community a few years ago. He expressed surprise that so few business men interested themselves in a matter so obviously vital to their best interests. He said that times were harder in other towns along the route, but that Pampa's attitude is the main obstacle now.

Canvassing committees are asked to report to headquarters at the B. C. D. twice daily—at noon and late in the afternoon. A clerical force will keep the totals tabulated as pledges are received. Pledges will be placed at businesses where pledges are made.

The goal is to raise $50,000 by 4 p. m. Monday, with loss of the railroad as the penalty for failure.

Famed Polish Dancer Leaps to Death

CHICAGO, June 26. (AP)—Andrew Pawley, famous classic dancer, plunged to death today from the 14th floor of the McCormick hotel. He was 45 years old.

DANES HAPPY TO ARRIVE AT COPENHAGEN

Hoiris Clasp Mother to His Arms After He Escapes Throgn At Landing Field.

HOP TO SUCCESS

Post and Gatty Proceed to Irkutsk, Siberia, on Round-the-World Trip—2,000 Miles Covered.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, June 26. (AP)—Otto Hillig and Holger Hoiris, the first emigrants to America to come back to the old country by air landed here today and received a rousing welcome home.

It was 2:10 p. m. (7:10 a. m. CST) when their plane alighted at Copenhagen's airport from Bremen, 240 miles away. They had made the hop in two hours and 33 minutes.

"This is the greatest day of my life," said Hoiris as he got out of the plane and was picked up by wellcomers who garbed about with him on their shoulders.

He clasped his mother in his arms, kissed his sister, shook hands with several other members of the family who were on hand to see his triumphant home-coming, and then heard official welcoming words from the lips of Minister Fritz Skotts, representative of the government.

Born in Denmark
It was home for Hoiris, for he was born in Denmark, leaving here as a boy to go to America. It seemed like home to Hillig, although technically it was not. He is a native of Stenbrucken, Germany, and as soon as the festivities in Denmark are over he and his companion will visit there.

The flying field was thronged with Copenhagen residents, many of whom had spent hours there yesterday awaiting news from the fliers while they were making the crossing of the Atlantic from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland.

Given Honors
The aviators received more than welcome words. Former Minister Thyge Rothe, acting in behalf of the Aeronautical society, presented them with the society's gold plaque.

After that ceremony, Hillig and Hoiris got in a motor car which fought its way through the crowds to city hall where Burgomaster Hebeol welcomed them in behalf of the city of Copenhagen.

BREMEN, Germany, June 26. (AP) Europe's metric system and a gasoline "jag" were blamed today for the failure of Otto Hillig and Holger Hoiris to reach Copenhagen last night on their trans-oceanic flight from America.

Inhaled Gas Fumes
When they reached Erefeld both were dead tired but ready to push on. Hillig, however, was in poor shape for the reason that in trying to catch a little sleep en route he had stretched out on a gasoline tank and inhaled such a quantity of fumes that he was about ready to slide under the table—if there had been any table.

To add to their troubles, they forgot momentarily that gasoline is served here in metric liters instead of gallons.

"Pump in fifty" ordered Hoiris. The mechanics followed his instructions, giving him about 121-2 gallons.

Once in the air, their fuel supply got them over Bremen without difficulty, but when they continued toward Hamburg they noticed that their tanks were dangerously low. Puzzled they turned back toward Bremen and by the time they had landed it was too dark to continue the journey.

Body of Bullet-Riddled Youth Is Found on Ranch

FORT WORTH, June 26. (AP)—The bullet-riddled body of Claude Prater, 15, was found this morning on the Winfield Scott ranch, 30 miles southwest of Fort Worth, by two deputy sheriffs.

It was under a clump of bushes, apparently where it had stopped rolling after being tossed over a sloping bluff. The location was several miles from the scene of a gun battle Wednesday night between four youths and men who evidently were defenders of a still on Mary's creek.

The MELODY GIRL

By RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Beryl Ebert, secretly in love with Tommy Wilson, knows that he would never be happy with her half-sister, Irene Ebert, and tries to prevent their marriage.

Irene is jealous when she falls and Beryl secures a radio contract. Beryl's voice wins her new friends but she cannot forget her hopeless love though she goes to parties with young Prentiss Gaylord. Irene hears Prentiss is rich and tries to win him from Beryl. He is susceptible, takes her driving and to dinner.

Tommy's aunt dies and he loses both money and job through her husband. Tommy tells Irene his bad luck and she breaks her engagement. When Prentiss asks her to marry him she accepts. In despair Tommy drinks heavily and Beryl finds him. She tries to cheer him up and tells Irene that she must either go back to Tommy or confess to Prentiss how heartlessly she has treated Irene. Irene promises but plans to outwit Beryl. After receiving a telegram from Prentiss asking her to marry him that day she slips away and meets him. They are married and Irene telephones home to tell the news. The parties are elated over the wealthy son-in-law. Beryl knows that Irene has evaded the truth.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXIII

The morning following Irene's wedding day was beautiful. It was one of those crystalline mornings when earth and sky seem to call to all living creatures to be joyous. The house was strangely quiet when Beryl opened her eyes after a night of fitful sleep. She glanced at her watch. Her mother would be about the house soon. She thought uncomfortably of the day that was ahead of her, dreading conversation with the family. Yet if she said nothing she would be thought sullen.

Beryl arose and picked up a hand mirror. What it told her stirred her sense of humor until a faintly mocking light showed in her eyes. There was her excuse. With a throat like that silence would be her smarting eyes. But she couldn't dash the picture that had called for about words out of her mind. It was the picture of a once laughing boy in helpless collapse on a wet bench. It had flashed into her day dreaming like an evil threat.

She put a hand to her throat. She must know how Tommy was. She must go out and find him.

Beryl started to dress hurriedly lest the pain in her throat frighten her into staying indoors. It was a terrible thing, to be so afraid, she thought. But what would she do without her voice? She needed the money she earned but there was more. There was the release she knew in spirit when she sang. She could pour her longing out in song. She could call to Tommy. She could send to him by messenger. "And I haven't seen him since," he added worriedly. "Why didn't you stop him?" Beryl flinched. "Don't you know he might do something reckless?"

"How could I stop him? I hurried home after you told me what had happened and found him acting natural enough."

"What do you mean, natural enough?" "Well, he wasn't using anything—just lying on his bed. You didn't expect he'd be doing a tap dance, did you?"

Beryl ignored the question. "Then what happened?" she snapped. "Then the messenger boy brought the note and I took it up to Tommy."

"Did you stay there while he read it?"

"No. I came down to think about something for supper and while I was doing it Tommy left. He didn't argue about it. He just left."

"Who was the note from?"

"I don't know, but I guess it was from Irene."

"Yes," Beryl agreed, and her voice grew more caustic. "I guess it was Irene would do a thing like that."

She went home then, and sent for the doctor.

"You might as well have come in to see me," he scolded her. "I saw you driving around in your fresh air bus."

The doctor's tone was good natured, but there was graveness in his eyes. His voice changed as he decided to tell her the truth.

"Seriously, Beryl," he said, "I must warn you that your condition is one that you must not neglect."

I'm going to put you to bed for a few days at least. And I'm going to call Dr. Auguston from New York. He's a throat specialist—a good one. I want his opinion."

Beryl looked at him, suddenly really frightened. "Do you think it's anything really serious?" she asked quickly. "Anything . . . permanent?"

The doctor hesitated for a moment. Then, "Beryl," he said suddenly, "you're a sensible girl. That entitles you to hear the truth. I hesitated about alarming you, but I think it best to warn you that you have some of the symptoms of a rare throat ailment. Little is known about it. I have never encountered it in my practice, but I believe Dr. Auguston know as much about it as any man living."

The shadow in Beryl's eyes deepened. "Is it—dangerous?" she breathed.

The doctor shook his head. "We do not consider it incurable," he said, "but it can give endless trouble, especially to a singer. Until I have Dr. Auguston's advice I want you to stay in bed."

Beryl stirred impatiently. "But I can't stay in bed," she protested. Then, seeing a look of annoyance on the doctor's face, she added quickly: "Could you get Dr. Auguston today?"

"Possibly," the doctor said dryly, "but I expect you to understand that we will be fortunate to get Auguston at any time at all. His fee, by the way, may seem exorbitant but he's worth it, every penny."

Beryl sighed. "Yes," she said. "I've heard of famous specialists." (See STORY, Page 7)

The fire was started when workmen using a flashlight to peer into a car of oil struck the flashlight against the metal car, making a spark which ignited the oil.

War Department Reduces Budget

MEXICO CITY, June 26. (AP)—The war department announced today it is planning a reduction of $3,000,000 in its budget for the next fiscal year.

The economy is in line with cuts to be made in other departments and will be effected principally by striking off the payroll several hundred officers who are not in active service.

Mrs. W. T. Fraser accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson, back to their home in Terrell. She will return in about a week.

BILIOUSNESS

The Rev. J. Z. Wisner, of Drake town, Ga., says he has taken Black-Draught, when needed, since childhood, and he is past fifty years of age. "When I would get bilious," he says, "I would feel like shuffling along instead of walking. My feet felt too heavy to lift. I had such a dull, tired feeling, and I would feel dizzy and nauseated like I couldn't hold my head up. I found how much the Black-Draught helped me, and I took it. I got having these bad spells, and find now I only have to take a few doses and I am good as new. Don't have to take much more. My health is good. Get the genuine Theodor's."

NEW ORLEANS, June 26, (AP)—Cotton opened steady today in sympathy with rather better Liverpool cables than due, and first trades showed gains of 1 to 3 points. The market continued to improve after the start due to a firmer opening of the stock market. July traded up to 9.81, October to 10.22, and December to 10.56 or 7 to 10 points above yesterday's close.

Later in the first hour the market eased off on profit taking and in selling on favorable weather in the cotton belt. October eased off to 10.12 and December to 10.35 down 1 to 10 points of the early highs. At the end of the first hour the market was steady, and had recovered 3 to 5 points from the lows.

STRIBLING UNIMPRESSIVE ONE DAY—SLAMS 'EM HARD AT NEW PARTNER ON NEXT

Schmeling Plays Golf as Means of Preventing His Becoming Star.

GEAUGA LAKE, O., June 26. (AP)—Fighters must be something like baseball pitchers. One day they feel great and all their stuff is working. Another day they also feel great, but they can't get a man out.

For instance, Frank Cawley, a clever young heavyweight sparring partner of Tommy Loughran, wandered into Bill Stribling's training camp for the first time Tuesday night to work with the southern challenger for Max Schmeling's heavyweight title. Bill looked great physically but he could do little with Cawley. Frank was fat and out of condition but he did himself proud.

But last night, with a couple of days training to work on, Cawley tackled the husky Georgian again. He got himself thoroughly pummed with left hooks to the head and body and a few times winging right hands thudded off his head guard. He scarcely laid a glove on Stribling. It was by far the most impressive workout the southerner has turned in in seventeen sparring sessions since starting training here for the July 3 battle.

In all Stribling went ten rounds, six of them with Cawley. He hit each man every time he wanted to with any punch he cared to use.

CONNAUT LAKE PARK, Pa., June 26. (AP)—Max Schmeling begins the welcome slide over the peak of his training today.

The world's heavyweight champion, rested and refreshed after a day's layoff, will begin to bear down on his sparring partners for the next three days to get himself on edge for the defense of his title against Young Stribling in Cleveland's new municipal stadium a week from tonight.

Schmeling will box six to eight rounds daily. He will have plenty of opportunity to perfect his famous straight right hand smash to the head, his new inside right uppercut and his left hook as his quartet of sparring partners have been freshened up for the final days of training.

The beetle-browed German enters the final week of training full of energy and confidence. His present weight of 193 1/2 pounds is regarded as perfect, poundage with five more days of work ahead. He tipped the beam at 193-4 yesterday, a pound and one-quarter above the figure he will scale on the night of the fight. He probably will melt a pound or so between today and Sunday as the weather has turned blistering hot and the sun beats down intensely on Schmeling's canvas-shaded outdoor ring.

Magnolia Team to Play Phillips In Game Sunday

The big baseball game of the season is scheduled to be played at Magnolia park Sunday afternoon when the Magnolia Mags and the Phillips Oilers, leaders in the Gray-Carson league, meet. Raines will probably start the game for the Oilers with Bullian behind the bat. Manager Burks of the Mags will probably start Boart with Bozeman catching.

The game has been called for 2:30 o'clock. The park is located at the east end of Foster avenue. The Oilers have played one more game than the Mags.

The Mags have signed "Sugar" Edwards and he will be eligible for mound duty Sunday. Edwards has been out of the game for more than a year but is fast rounding into shape. Bogeman has replaced the veteran Tom Clayton behind the bat.

Tariff Revision Is Declared Necessary

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 26. (AP)—Revision of present tariffs by a non-political and non-partisan committee will be sought by the Southwest Foreign Trades conference.

At the closing session of the annual meeting, which ended here last night, a resolution was adopted for forwarding to Washington in the hope of bringing about a change in tariff rates for the "vital interests of our importers as well as of our export trade."

The resolution also stated that "the welfare of producers and consumers alike is jeopardized by government's participation in, and interference with, private initiative, energy and managerial direction of business."

In another resolution, the trade body asked the United States shipping board to make a study of shipping in the gulf ports with a view to assisting American steamship operators in the improvement of services to enable them to compete favorably with the service afforded by foreign lines that are building fast motorships.

STEALS HOME ON VANCE TO WIN GAME

George Watkins Ends Five-Contest at Brooklyn—Team Moves Up.

By HUGH S. FULLEBTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
George Watkins, brilliant young St. Louis outfielder, stole a game at Brooklyn yesterday. The teams were battling on even terms up to the first of the seventh inning and Dazzy Vance had not allowed a man to reach first in his duel with Paul Derringer. Then Watkins beat out a bunt. Jim Bottomley singled and sent him to third. As Vance threw to first to hold Bottomley on the sack Watkins streaked for home and slid in for a perfect steal of the base and the game.

The Cards gained a full game on New York and Chicago which lost. The Giants could not solve Benny Frey's pitching and dropped a 6 to 0 decision to Cincinnati. Chicago's Cubs were on the short end of a 4 to 3 score in a tight duel with Boston.

Clise Dudley turned in another fine pitching performance, holding Pittsburgh to five hits while the Phillies pounded out a 5 to 1 victory.

The sudden rejuvenation of the St. Louis Browns and the steady play of the Washington Senators in the American league were combined to reduce Philadelphia's lead to a single game. The Browns took two games from the Athletics, winning the first 4 to 5 and the second 8 to 5. The Senators, held to four hits by Vic Sorrell, defeated Detroit 4 to 3.

New York went on a home run spree with Ben Chapman in the lead to take two games from Chicago. Chapman hit for the circuit twice, winning the opener 10 to 9. George Pipras won his first game of the year 9 to 2.

The Boston Red Sox made it two straight over Cleveland to end their series on even terms, winning 8 to 3.

Both Marriage and Divorce In Sharp Decrease

WASHINGTON, June 26. (AP)—Hard times hit both the marriage and divorce markets last year, leaving a trail of lean, lorn figures at the census bureau.

Of 40 states on which the figuring is finished, 33 showed decreases in marriage, and 30 showed decreases in divorce.

Miss Alice V. Hagan, who for five years has written the annual census bureau study on marriage and divorce, ascribed the decreases to the fact that getting-married and getting-divorced costs money.

"It is well-known that the marriage rate responds quickly to changes in economic conditions, increasing in periods of prosperity and decreasing after a commercial crisis or during hard times," she said.

As of divorce, Miss Hagan wrote to officials of all counties where the rate had fallen as much as 10 per cent asking an analysis of the cause. A large majority of the replies, she reported, laid the lack of divorces at the door of the depression.

HOUSTON HAS SMALL GAIN ON BEAUMONT

New Exporter Hurier Looks Good Seven Innings But Weakens.

By the Associated Press
With only five days of the first half Texas league pennant race left, Beaumont, Houston and Fort Worth continue their mad scramble for the pinnacle.

Thursday afternoon and night games saw Houston pick up a few points on the leading Exporters by defeating Wichita Falls, 8 to 2. Tex Carleton won his eighth game this season against seven defeats.

In the crucial doubleheader at Fort Worth, Beaumont won the first game 6 to 1 on some fine five hit pitching from Marrow. Hollerson, new Beaumont pitcher recently obtained from Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league, hurried the night-cap affair for the leading Exporters, and for seven innings he shut out the Cats, but in the last of the eighth, Krauss, Fort Worth catcher, lit a home run to give the Cats a 1 to 0 victory.

Although not in the first half pennant fight, Shreveport, with Lefty Erickson of no run, no hit fame on the mound, beat San Antonio 8 to 1 but lost the second game, 8 to 3.

Federal Agents Guarding Trucks of Milk Dealers

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 26. (AP)—A milk war in which federal agents were mysteriously taking a hand by guarding dairy trucks with machine guns was reported here today by Detective E. P. Davis of the Montgomery police force.

Davis said federal guards on trucks from here to Birmingham had instructions to shoot to kill any persons who attempted to molest them or the vehicles. He also stated two recent unsuccessful attempts had been made to bomb trucks en route to Birmingham.

No explanation was forthcoming from federal officials on the reason for their intervention in the "war," and neither Police Lieutenant W. S. Powell nor Davis would make any statement.

W. H. Barber, official of the foremost dairies, said he believed the attempted bombings were the work of gangsters seeking to levy a tribute on operators.

STORY—

The doctor got up to go. "I'll send for him at once," he said. Beryl stopped him at the door. "my Wilson today, have you, doctor?"

The doctor, on the strength of long years of practicing in the family, spoke frankly in reply. "Yes," he admitted, "I saw him, early this morning. The young fool was in trouble with the Larkin boys."

Beryl sat up with a jerk. "What kind of trouble?" she cried.

"The kind a guy like Tommy always get into when a girl throws him over," the doctor replied. "It's a pity girl like Irene aren't all born in China."

Beryl flashed him a faint smile of gratitude for placing the blame where it belonged. But his implication of weakness on Tommy's part needed refuting, she thought.

"Tommy's all right," she protested. "All his bad luck came at once."

"H'm," the doctor returned dryly. "Someone had better dig him out pretty quick."

"Yes," Beryl agreed. "Someone had."

The doctor shook his head. "Not today," he said warningly. "You stay right there in bed until Auguston sees you. If you don't," he added gravely, "the consequences may be serious for you."

"Will you let me know if Dr. Auguston is coming today?"

The doctor promised and departed. Mrs. Everett, who had been on an errand during his call, appeared to ask Beryl what he had said. Beryl did not tell her all the doctor had hinted at. Instead she asked a question of her own.

"Do you know what Irene said to Tommy in that note she sent him yesterday?" she demanded.

"Who told you she sent him a note?" her mother evaded.

"If she flouted Prenties' wealth in Tommy's face—" Beryl began heatedly, but her mother cut her short.

"She did nothing of the kind," she declared. "It was just a sweet little note to ask him to try to forget her."

"I can imagine," Beryl remarked bitterly. "So sweet it would drive him to drink. He probably thought he'd lost an angel."

"Irene's a good girl," the mother asserted, "you ought to think of all she can do for you!"

Beryl did not answer for a moment. Then, "If you mean my career," she said slowly, "I may not have one. Our old medico is sending for a genie to find out."

DEPRESSION PSYCHOLOGY

Economic measuring sticks serve to tell the expert how deeply the business depression has bitten into things. For the ordinary man, however, a glance at the human misery that the depression causes is necessary.

Fred C. Croxton, acting chairman of the president's emergency committee for employment, told an audience at Minneapolis the other day that fully 20,000,000 Americans have been made to suffer by the depression.

This includes all those who have been out of work or on part-time jobs during the last 19 months, and their dependents. As Mr. Croxton points out, these 20,000,000 have learned that industrial slumps mean "personal distress, hunger, loss of morale, and a change of life-plans."

The man who has lost his job, even though he may be able to get along without calling on the charitable organizations, is bound to suffer a lowering of his standard of living.

He may lose the equity in his home. He may be forced to move into a less desirable neighborhood, or live in crowded quarters. He may have to let his insurance lapse. He will undoubtedly get saddled with a huge load of debt. Plans to give his children college educations may have to be given up.

Worst of all, he undergoes a loss of self-confidence and self-reliance. He has lost, forever, that feeling of security that is essential for a contented life. In the future, even though times are good, he will never be quite free from the spectre of fear—fear that some day there may be another depression that will, through no fault of his own, plunge him into the depths of despondency again.

A great deal has been printed about various aspects of the depression in the past year or so. Many of us have grown tired of reading about it. But it is extremely important that we get indelibly printed on our minds a picture of the human misery that a depression causes.

FIRE AT CROSS PLAINS COSTLY

CROSS PLAINS, June 26. (AP)—Fire that broke out early today in the roof of the Cross Plains hotel virtually destroyed the two-story frame structure at an estimated loss of $5,000. Cause of the blaze has not been determined.
The hotel was owned by R. D. Thorp of Stephenville and Jim De Lay of Cross Plains. De Lay, who was manager, was routed by smoke at 3 a. m. He dashed upstairs, kicking at doors, routing out the hotel's 20 guests, all of whom escaped. Insurance of $3,000 was carried on furniture and fixtures.
R. C. Sturgeon of Amarillo arrived in Pampa this morning for a business trip.

TODAY and SATURDAY

Pro Leaders Are Planning Drive

WASHINGTON, June 26. (AP)—More than a score of prohibition leaders gathered in the capital today as members of a "board of strategy" to lay plans for coordinated action in the 1932 campaign. Leaders in the group, composed of representatives of both new and old-line prohibition organizations, disclosed the board purposely was meeting as such nearly a year in advance of the coming major party conventions in order to rally support for those two occasions.
As the board met this morning, however, one of its members stood pledged to the statement that the organized dry forces thus far had fallen short in their plans and that his newly created group planned to seek "fresh support for the dry law."
Dr. Daniel A. Poling, of New York, chairman of the allied forces for prohibition, asserted yesterday he believed this new support, from sources he said thus far had not been touched by organized dry efforts, was necessary to "weigh the balance between defeat and victory in 1932."
In discussing details of the allied forces' plans for a campaign into 27 cities in as many days, Dr. Poling said he believed that "instead of disturbing the support now accorded the anti-saloon league and the W. C. T. U. we will bring them fresh strength."

CHICAGO, June 26. (AP)—Despite stock market buoyancy, wheat pursued a downward course early today. Harvest conditions for new domestic winter wheat were bearish, and traders displayed persistent inclination to await evidence that government sponsored old crop holdings would not compete with the new 1931 crop.
Opening unchanged to 3-8 cents lower, wheat afterward underwent an all around setback. Corn started 1-4 off to 1-8 1/2 and subsequently scored general gains.

Mrs. A. B. Zahn and Mrs. E. B. Emerson are in Amarillo today.

How to Escape Heat Is Problem

By the Associated Press
Keeping cool was the paramount problem of the nation today.
From the Alleghenies to the Pacific coast, America sweltered. Heat records willed away as temperatures climbed high above the century mark in a dozen states.
Eighteen lives were snuffed out yesterday and today by summer's blast. Stampedes to beaches brought a near-score of drownings.
Only in the east and parts of the northwest was it moderately cool. Illinois suffered most. In Chicago, the thermometer topped the season at 95. Four persons succumbed yesterday and a fifth early today. Hundreds of thousands rushed to Lake Michigan's shores. Four bathers drowned. It was 100 degrees above over practically all the downstate. A man died in Peoria and a child in East St. Louis.
Ohio had three lives lost in the welter. So did Wisconsin. Indiana had two, Iowa one.
The mercury rose all day yesterday in Detroit, setting a new record of 98. The season high of 99 was recorded in Kansas City. It reached 100 in St. Louis.
The continued sun-baking and scorching winds brought fear of extensive crop damage to all the middle west farm belt.
The procession of high readings to the far west started at Neodesha, Kans., with 100. For nine straight days, the J-shawk state has burned under 100 degrees. Rain was badly needed for corn.

In San Diego, Calif., a June record of 96 was reached and automatic sprinklers in the top floors of several buildings started flowing.

TALBOT FIGHTS BACK
SAN FRANCISCO, June 26. (AP)—James A. Talbot, bankrupt former president of Richfield Oil company, in a formal statement last night accused Raymond L. Haight, state commissioner of corporations, of misrepresentation in reporting a deficit of more than fifty-four million dollars in the company.
