ONE MAN TO DIE

T. F. Hoffman Most Seriously Hurt; Driller and Part Owner of Test Among Other Victims.

KILGORE, June 1. (AP)—One man was burned probably fatally and three others were seriously injured early today when the National Securities company No. 1 Knowles oil well, three blocks from the main business section of Kilgore, caught fire and burned for several hours before it was extinguished.

R. G. Huffman, 33, of Hasse, Tex., was near death in a hospital. The others injured were J. R. McKinney, 32, Oklahoma City; A. C. Bradford, 34, Kilgore; and Ben Tobinwitz, 33, Dallas. They were expected to recover.

T. F. Hoffman was not expected to live. A. C. Bradford, driller, and Ben Robinwitz, part owner of the well, were burned about their faces and arms. The fourth man burned was not identified immediately. The three, however, were expected to recover.

Two explosions were heard before the well and oil-soaked derrick burst into flames. Two nearby buildings were consumed before firemen extinguished the blaze with chemicals.

Failure of electricity in the city water department's pumping plant hindered the fire fighters for a time by shutting off water supply but lack of wind aided firemen in preventing the flames from spreading to nearby supply houses.

Bertram O'Donovan, former Corpus Christi cafe employee, rescued one of the men burned, then crawled under a blazing building and released a dog tied there, which began howling as the flames crept toward him.

Loss occasioned by the fire was estimated at $20,000.

Kidnaping and Conspiracy Will Not Be Pressed Following Settlement With Bolling This Morning.

CASES QUASHED

Quick Disposal Made When District Attorney Valls Tells Judge Plaintiff Was Not Embezzler.

LAREDO, June 1. (AP)—Charges against C. C. Julian, Oklahoma oil operator, and C. C. Boren and Clay Mann, in connection with an alleged attempt to abduct Lamar S. Bolling, San Antonio business man, were disposed of in district court today when Julian and Boren were assessed fines totaling $5,000 and indictments against Mann were dismissed.

Kidnaping and conspiracy indictments pending against the three men were dismissed upon a motion offered by District Attorney John A. Valls, after fines had been assessed in the other cases.

Julian and Boren were fined $1,000 each on charges of aggravated assault with firearms, similar amounts on aggravated assault charges, and $500 each on charges of simple assault.

The actual trial required only about 15 minutes, although attorneys had spent several hours in conference during a recess granted shortly after court opened.

District Attorney Valls announced when court reconvened, "your honor, I am authorized to announce that all differences that might have existed between Mr. Lamar S. Bolling and C. C. Julian have been satisfactorily adjusted. Mr. Bolling owes no money to Mr. Julian or Mr. Julian's company and the statements carried in the press and attributed to Mr. Julian derogatory to Mr. Bolling, to the effect that Mr. Bolling had embezzled $100,000 or any other sum of money, were not authorized by Mr. Julian and were not correct."

PAMPA MERCHANTS JOIN IN PLAN TO MAKE NATIONAL COTTON WEEK SUCCESS; BARGAINS ARE READY

Twelve Millions Work In Industry of Nation

Claim They Led Big Liquor Ring

Pampa retail merchants today were prepared to observe National Cotton week by offering cotton goods at exceptional bargains.

Large stocks of piece goods and ready-to-wear garments are special inducements to shoppers.

ATLANTA, June 1. (AP)—Dixie joined the nation today in a week-long celebration of National Cotton week to help bring prosperity back to a industry which provides a livelihood for an estimated 12 million Americans.

In the south scores of towns and cities arranged programs in celebration of the event, social functions, festivals and style shows heralded the week. Retail stores featured cotton goods.

Casen J. Callaway of La Grange, Ga., president of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association, estimated that more than 200 miles of store windows throughout the country will be devoted to displays of cotton products. He said a survey by the cotton textile institute of New York disclosed 11,840 retail stores in 48 states, more than 100 wholesale concerns, 21 national trade associations and 10 of the nation's largest chain and mail order houses are participating in the movement.

The cotton industry, in promoting its own interests this week, hopes to make a contribution toward general business revival, he said, through increasing the buying power of the more than 12,000,000 Americans employed in the various phases of the industry.

Governors of ten states officially proclaimed the week and it has been endorsed by bankers, manufacturers, merchants, farm representatives and government officials. Cotton week was organized after a conference in Washington attended by Mr. Callaway, George Sloan, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, Secretary of Commerce Lamont, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, and others.

In the south, where scores of cotton mills have been established in recent years, especially keen interest was shown. In some cities, store-wide sales of cotton goods were announced in newspaper advertisements, and hotels, railroads and civic organizations lent their aid.

Civic and trade organizations in Texas joined with newspapers and merchants in urging wider use of cotton, with window displays, advertising campaigns and special programs.

OCEAN TRIP IS ABANDONED

Planes Defects Are Given as Cause of Decision by Thomas Ash Jr.

TOKYO, June 1. (AP)—A Rengo agency dispatch from Samushiro today said Thomas Ash Jr. had abandoned his proposed non-stop flight across the Pacific and was returning to Tokyo.

Ash's abandonment of the flight was attributed to the Rengo dispatch to the failure of his plane to come up to expectations in several particulars. The message said the motor failed to run perfectly and had developed only enough power for 1,650 revolutions per minute when at least 1,850 were needed to rise with his heavy load of fuel.

The failure of a detachable dolly which was used in the place of a tail skid was listed also as a factor in his decision to abandon the project. The message mentioned a bent left auxiliary wing and said Ash had found the plane did not respond properly to the controls.

Ash had reduced his gasoline supply to 900 gallons. He had originally supplied the ship with 1,020 gallons but twice reduced the amount when it was evident the plane would not take off.

Many of Ash's friends here telegraphed him yesterday urging him to abandon the flight.

STANOLIND IS 30 CENTS OFF IN NEW RATE

Sweeping Reduction in Mid-continent Area Made by Standard Branch; 37 Cents Now Top Figure.

STERLING SPEAKS

Governor Hopes East Texas Will "Be Good" so That Market Will Go Back to Its Former Basis.

CHICAGO, June 1. (AP)—The Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing company, one of the affiliated companies of the Standard Oil of Indiana group, announced a reduced schedule of prices for crude oil purchased in Kansas, Oklahoma, and North and South Central Texas, effective today.

The reductions range from a cut from 42 cents to 25 cents per barrel below 29 gravity to a cut of from 67 cents to 37 cents per barrel of 40 gravity and above.

The Stanolind's reductions, ranging from 18 cents a barrel on low gravity oil to 30 cents for the top grade, were effective at 7 a. m.

R. S. Ellison, president of the company's subsidiary of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, issued this statement:

"During the past week purchasers of East Texas crude oil reduced their posted prices 30 cents a barrel, bringing 40 gravity crude oil down to 37 cents a barrel.

"Approximately 400,000 barrels of crude oil daily is now being sold throughout the Mid-Continent area, including East Texas, at about half of what we have been paying. High gravity crude is being freely offered in East Texas today at less than 20 cents a barrel.

"We cannot go on paying more for our raw material than is paid by our competitors. There cannot be one piece for them and another for us. Economic law rules alike the producer of crude and the marketer of gasoline.

"Existing low prices are the result of current overproduction, and in our opinion will continue until that overproduction ceases. We will gladly pay better prices for crude the minute that economic conditions in the industry warrant our taking such a step."

TULSA, Okla., June 1. (AP)—Dramatic reductions in Mid-continent crude oil prices were announced today by the Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing company, one of the largest purchasers in the area. Under the lowered schedule, the top price for high gravity oil is 37 cents a barrel, or 30 cents under the former price.

AUSTIN, June 1. (AP)—Hope that an immediate marked improvement in the East Texas oil field would obviate necessity of a special session was expressed today by Gov. R. S. Sterling. The governor said he would make a decision this week on whether he would call a special session.

Raps East Texas. "I am very hopeful that producers in the East Texas field will see the advantage of orderly production and will take the initiative to bring about better conditions," the governor said. He expressed the opinion that unless the producers, leaseholders and property owners saw the folly of unregulated production with consequent enormous gas wastage and took steps to correct the condition they would lose millions of barrels of oil by cutting down the ultimate recovery from the field.

Asked what course he would prefer the East Texas field to follow, Governor Sterling replied: "I'd like to see them be good and agree to regulate so that the natural resources will be conserved." He pointed out that orderly production would have a stabilizing effect on the market and automatically bring about better prices.

The new schedule of production in the East Texas field was to go (See STANOLIND, Page 6)

STERLING APPROVAL IS EXPECTED

The NEWS has mailed Gov. Ross Sterling a letter setting forth reasons why he should approve the $25,000 appropriation for the library-museum building on the West Texas Teachers college museum at Canyon.

This appropriation represents most of what was salvaged from the building program originally proposed. Only items of exceptional value were allowed to escape the shears of the solons. It is significant that both the house and the senate studied the Canyon project and allowed it to stand.

The college has long needed adequate library space. It should have had an even larger appropriation. The museum would be a part of the same housing, logically located convenient to the reading room. This is advisable because of the increasing use which will be made of the immense amount of source material in the historical society's possession. Scores of master's theses will be based on the historical data, and many students from the universities of other states will make use of it.

The fact that plainmen will match the state's appropriation is ample proof of the public interest in the project. Plans for the building are ready, and about $18,000 is in hand. Judge H. E. Hoover of Canadian is chairman of the building committee. It is realized that unless better quarters are provided for the loaned collections, many of these will be removed and possibly placed in distant museums. An irreparable loss would result. Governor Sterling can find no building appropriation more deserving of approval.

Daily WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, June 1. (NEA).—Many people are so hard up that they are trying to sell Uncle Sam their old collar buttons.

The U. S. mints and assay offices do buy gold in many forms, but it is hard to sell them any collar buttons.

Prolonged depression has brought out a great number of trinkets which have—or are suspected to have—gold or silver in them.

Watch cases, spectacles, babies' lockets and rings are articles commonly received.

Wedding rings, with dates and names or initials inside, and gold medals once given to someone as an award for something or other are among those articles which obviously once were treasured but are now being offered in the hope of cash.

Any owner of gold or silver may deliver it to a mint or an assay office and receive the equivalent in coin, gold bars—or by check, as most sellers do. But the mints and assay offices are authorized by law to refuse less than $100 worth and they seldom accept less.

Consequently, although all manner of people offer their collar buttons, rings and other trinkets, most of the actual sales are made by pawnbrokers or by traveling buyers who purchase gold or silver articles for small sums and usually sell at a considerable profit.

In the far west, at this period, many unemployed persons have taken to placer mining, sifting the beds of streams for tiny pieces of the yellow metal.

But inasmuch as the mints won't take less than $100 worth of gold and the placer miners seldom average more than $15 worth of gold in a week they have been finding difficulty in disposing of their gleanings. In a few weeks there will be more water in the rivers and most of the placer miners now scraping the bottoms will have to turn to something else.

Bureau of the Mint, to whom one is indebted for all this information, says that in the last year there have been received about three times as many inquiries concerning old coins. Old pieces which have heretofore been treasured or just kept tucked away somewhere are now being dragged out and their owners are writing to the treasury to find out what they are worth. But neither the treasury nor any other government department pays any premium on coins or gives out any information as to their value among numismatists.

Every year the government buys up scrap and sweepings from jewelers and dental laboratories. Often the mints and assay offices receive sweepings with dust, dirt and all, but no payment is ever made to anyone until the material offered has been melted and assayed to determine its value in gold or silver. The melt has to show 20 per cent or more of the pure metal in order to be purchasable.

Last year the mint bureau bought 625,000 ounces of gold in jewelers' bars, dental scrap and miscellaneous sweepings and articles and 925,000 ounces of silver in similar forms. A set price of $20.67 an ounce is paid for gold and the current market price—lately down around 25 cents an ounce—for silver.

There are mints in Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco and assay offices in Seattle, Boise, Helena, Salt Lake City, Carson, Nev., New Orleans and New York City. Most of the minor offerings of gold and silver are being sent by mail or express. The Bureau of the Mint here doesn't buy.

Wheat Market Is Up To Farmer As Board Drops Plan

WASHINGTON, June 1. (P)—Responsibility for maintaining domestic wheat prices today rested on the American farmer after more than a year of government stabilization.

The farm board's authorization for the purchase of surplus stock to bolster prices ended with the fulfillment of May contracts and gave full play to the operation of the law of supply and demand.

The grain stabilization corporation then entered the market in February, 1930. Using money from the board's $500,000,000 revolving fund and advances from private banks, it maintained a minimum price of 81 cents. The average price has ranged from 20 to 35 cents above world prices.

Speculation was renewed today as to the final disposition of the huge stocks of wheat which will total upwards of 200,000,000 bushels. The only answer at the board was the repeated statement that the surplus will be disposed of in a manner not to affect the domestic or world markets.

The board has authorized the sale of 35,000,000 bushels abroad. Approximately 25,000,000 have been sold. Chairman Stone said no decision had been made to sell more than this in event a good foreign demand continues.

Exact figures on the loss to the board through stabilization operations were not available. It will depend on the price received when the wheat finally is sold.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 31. The golden text was from Jeremiah 20:13. "Sing unto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for he hath delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of evildoers."

The following passages from the Bible were included in the service (Deuteronomy 18:10-12): "There shall not be found among you any one that... useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or witch, or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer. For all that do these things are an abomination unto the Lord."

This citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, (p. 194) was also read. "Christian Science goes to the bottom of mental action, and reveals the theodicy which indicates the rightness of all divine action, as the emanation of divine Mind, and the consequent wrongness of the opposite so-called action,—evil, occultism, necromancy, mesmerism, animal magnetism, hypnotism."

CATS AND EXPORTERS TIED ON LEAGUE'S ANNIVERSARY

BEAUMONT IN SPEEDY RACE; WINS TWICE

Galveston Loses Forfeit When Del Pratt Refuses to Be Chased Out.

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Texas league championship race whirled around its forty-seventh mile-post Sunday, and when its entries stretched out for another straight-away dash, the Fort Worth Cats and Beaumont Exporters were tied in the pace-setting lane with 29 wins and 16 defeats each.

It is the first time in several weeks the Cats have had to share the league pinnacle.

After several weeks of consistent winning, the Exporters clicked for first place Sunday by sweeping a doubleheader from Galveston. Umpire Steve Basil helped, the Exporters alone when he forfeited the first game 9 to 0 in the seventh with Beaumont leading, 7 to 5. Basil called Drull Spear out at the plate, and the decision brought Manager Del Pratt from the Galveston dugout with a rush and a protest. Basil was ordered from the park by Pratt but refused to leave, and the game was forfeited. The Exporters won an 8 to 4 verdict in the nighttime.

After losing three consecutive games to Wichita Falls, Fort Worth nicked the Spudders in the opening game, 2 to 0. The Cats bowed in the nightcap, 5 to 2. White, in the seventh inning, limiting the Panthers to five hits.

Evidently the Houston Buffaloes are through losing for a while. Just when it looked like the Buffaloes were going to slide out of the first division they registered their fourth straight win, defeating San Antonio, 4 to 1.

Dallas almost won a doubleheader Sunday at Shreveport. After getting away to a four run lead in the first inning of the first game, the Steers went into the last of the ninth on a 2 to 0 lead, but an error by Holman at second base allowed the Sports to tie the count, and in the last of the eleventh, the Sports sent across the winning run. Behind the fine pitching of Lee Meadows, the Steers managed to win the nightcap, 4 to 1.

Witness Sticks To His Story Despite Hint Of Perjury

CORSICANA, June 1. (AP)—Chas. Hassell, brought to the stand as a witness again today after he turned estate's evidence Saturday in the trial of Currie Caldwell, charged in connection with the abduction of Robert Cerf last December, vigorously denied that he was perjuring himself or trying to save himself from punishment.

The witness was subjected to strict examination during the morning by Norris Lovett, defense attorney, but failed to change his testimony materially from that given previously.

Hassell, also under indictment in connection with the alleged kidnaping and $15,000 ransoming of young Cerf, son of a Corsicana bank president, related in testimony Saturday his version of the abduction and the division of the ransom money. He said his part of the money was $1,300.

Caldwell's present trial involved charges of assault upon a person while masked or in disguise. In his testimony today, Hassell said he did not recall whether he included in his statement to the county attorney whether masks were worn when the kidnaping money was divided but that his portion was given him near the Baker hotel in Dallas.

Hassell testified that in the first note sent to Isaac N. Cerf, the youth's father, the amount of money demanded was left blank and that he did not read the second note after it was written.

Testimony was expected to be completed today. Three other men, Jimmie and Doyle Nash and Oliver Clapp, also were charged in connection with the kidnaping. Clapp has not been arrested.

Man Claims He Was "Framed" By Bolling's Brother

SAN ANTONIO, June 1. (AP)—After telling Judge W. W. McCrory today that he "had been framed into jail," so he would not testify for C. C. Julian, oil man who faces a kidnaping charge at Laredo, H. J. Quick, brother-in-law of the complaining witness against Julian, was released from the Bexar county jail.

Quick has been in jail here for 60 days in default of $500 bond set in two cases, one charging theft over $50 and one charging wife abandonment. The latter charge was dismissed by Judge McCrory and Quick was released on his own recognizance. While he was in jail a third charge was filed against him, charging fraudulent acquisition of property by threat. He was released on his own recognizance in this case also.

The charges against him were brought by R. S. Bolling of San Antonio, a brother of L. S. Bolling, oil man who was complaining witness against Julian.

Quick told Judge McCrory in district court he had been asked to appear as a witness against Julian. He said he had refused to testify against Julian and added he did not want to testify in the case for either side.

Rain of Golf Balls Is Cause of Court Case

BURLINGTON, Wis., June 1. (AP)—It was raining golf balls at the W. R. Karges farm yesterday.

Every time one of them would land in the Karges wheat or oats field Karges would fire his shotgun into the ground, which was often, because the balls were coming thick and fast.

It was Mr. Karges' way of letting the caddies from the exclusive Brownslake Golf course know he didn't want them coming over into his place after any golf balls, lost or otherwise.

Things went along this way until Edward Zahn, a Racine, Wis., manufacturer, and his partner had some bad luck. They lost two balls over the fence and the caddies went after them. Then Karges fired, this time with a rifle. Zahn complained, coming dangerously close to the caddies and the golfers.

Zahn said he would seek a warrant for the farmer.

Pampa All-Stars Beaten by Jemcos In Upset Game

The Jemcos upset the dope pall yesterday afternoon at Gulf park by taking an exciting game from the Pampa All-Stars. The score was 8 to 4.

While this tussle was going on, Phillips, Oilers defeated LeFors 4 to 2 in a game at the Phillips diamond. The Oilers have played eight games and have won five.

The Jemcos shot their works in the fourth inning when they scored six runs, two of which were earned. Their two other tallies were made in the third and sixth inning. The All-Stars considered it a catastrophe as far as their chance for winning the game was concerned, when Phillips, shortstop, got hit in the head with the ball while at bat. He was brought to Pampa for medical attention. The Jemcos marked up 15 hits to the All-Stars' nine. Each team made three errors.

Batteries, Jemcos—Bullock, p.; Shore, c.; All-Stars—Tiller, pitched during first four innings, and Andrews during last five; Landrum caught for them. Andrews effectively stopped the hitting orgy. Wilson knocked a three-base hit for the All-Stars, and Roberts executed a single and a triple for the Jemcos.

In the other game, batteries were: Oilers—Raines and Pulliam; LeFors—Ellis and Clemons.

Mallow for the Oilers got two doubles and Clemons of LeFors, one double.

Batting order: Oilers—Earnes of, Drake as, Pulliam c, Keith 2b, Kirkpatrick 1b, Ferguson if, Roumaine 3b, Mallow rf, Raines p; LeFors—Badoin ss, Rose of, Thomas 2b, Newsum 3b, Pechacher if, Flynn rf, Clemons c.

NEW MEXICO MAN IS MISSING

FORT WORTH, June 1. (AP)—Further inquiry today into the disappearance of Roy Lee, 29, Lovington, N. M., who left home Tuesday, to attend the graduation of his wife from the College of Industrial Arts at Denton and has not been heard of since last Thursday at Abilene, failed to disclose his whereabouts.

Deputy Sheriff Webster of Denton county said J. B. Bevans, Bonham, Mrs. Lee's father, had conferred with authorities, but no clues were uncovered.

Sheriff E. C. Cockeril of Denton county was taking the lead in trying to locate the man. The officer came yesterday. Other officials along state highway No. 1 also were seeking Lee. Lee lived at Denton with his wife until Jan. 1, when he went to Lovington, expecting to come back to Texas when his wife received her diploma.

INVADING ENGLAND

BRITISH WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP
NO AMERICAN HAS EVER WON IT.

hooks and slides william braucher

Jim Jeffries still nurses in his heart the rancor of the bitter defeat he suffered under Reno's boiling sun 21 years ago. Recently, when Jack Johnson was in Los Angeles, boxing an exhibition, they asked old Jeff to pose with Lt. Arthur for a picture.

"Pose with him?" was Jeffries' contemptuous reply. "I'll kill that son of a bitch!" The old fight is still there.

Jess Would
"I would have posed with Johnson if I had been asked," said portly Jess Willard, who beat down the jungle king in Havana five years after Jeffries' rude awakening. "I believe in posing, and if I could help Johnson in his vaudeville tour I would be glad to do so."

Does Jess remember Havana 16 years ago? Does he?
"I don't like the way Johnson has talked about that fight in Havana," said big Jess, who now is a prosperous real estate operator in Glendale, Calif.

"I won that fight in the 26th round by a knockout. Get that straight. Those who saw the fight know that it was on the up and up." Johnson says that he wasn't hurt, and that he took the dive, shading his eyes as he was counted out. You can watch him for an opening to plant that deadly left and the smashing right. Johnson, calm, leaning backward a little, stabbing, waiting. Dempsey's terrific punches and Johnson's thousand elbows waiting to catch them, Johnson's quick turns and twists that let the punches slide off. The black man's cruel, stinging left.

Before the Johnson-Jeffries fight there was much talk of Lt. Arthur's courage. After the first round that chatter was forgotten. He was not afraid. He was as game as Gans, Gans who fought him while deadly tuberculosis was ravaging his slender body.

Who would have won such a fight? I don't know. Nobody can say. But certainly not Max Schmeling! Or Willie Stribling!

HARTZ CLAIMS SCHNEIDER TO BE RUNNER-UP

Several Protests Launched Following Indianapolis Racing Classic.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 1. (AP)—Members of the contest board of the American Automobile association today considered a protest by Harry Hartz of Los Angeles, challenging the records by which Louis Schneider, Indianapolis, was declared winner of the annual 500-mile automobile race here Saturday.

Hartz contends Fred Frame, Los Angeles, driver of a car entered by Hartz, beat Schneider to the finish line. Officials of the Indianapolis motor speedway said the records which have been completely gone over once, showed Schneider completed the 500 miles 59 seconds ahead of Frame.

W. D. Eidenbun, chief steward of the contest board, said a recheck of the records will be made. He planned to confer with A. C. Pillsbury, Los Angeles, also a steward, and Chester Ricker, director of timing and scoring.

Other protests before the board included one by Louis Meyer, South Gate, Calif., that he finished third in Myron Stevens' car instead of fourth, where the official records placed him sixteen seconds behind Ralph Hepburn of Los Angeles, and another by Phil (Red) Schafer against the officials' action in forcing him to the pit for conference on complaint he passed a competitor in violation of rules while the racers were slowing down during the race which interrupted the race.

NEGRO'S SECOND TRIAL IS BEGUN

AMARILLO, June 1. (AP)—Will Moore, negro hotel porter here, was on trial this morning for the killing of Mont (Pete) Moore, New Mexico ranchman, during the recent cattlemen's convention in Amarillo.

Two jurors had been selected this morning and an additional venire of 200 men was asked by defense lawyers. The negro was given the death penalty at a former trial on the same charge but a motion for a new trial was granted.

The killing occurred at a downtown hotel when the gun victim and companions went to the hotel at an early morning hour to see another friend. The killing resulted in an alleged altercation with the negro. The negro will plead self defense.

INDIANS WIN FOURTH RUNG DURING WEEK

Eastern Clubs Are Shown to Be Superior—Ruth Hits His Ninth Homer.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer.
Just by emphasizing the superiority of the eastern clubs of the American league have shown over their western rivals so far, the Cleveland Indians, who failed to win a game in their stand against the east, have climbed back to a 500 average and fourth place in a little over a week of campaigning against the clubs of their home sector.

Some effective pitching by Willis Hudlin and Wesley Ferrell gave the Indians a 6 to 4 victory over Detroit. Timely hitting against Mill Gaston gave the Athletics the first game yesterday 7-4, but the Red Sox won the second 7-3.

The Yankees picked up a game in Washington yesterday as Babe Ruth's ninth homer produced a 4 to 2 victory. St. Louis defeated Chicago 6 to 2.

Bob Smith pitched a two-hit game for the Chicago Cubs against Pittsburgh yesterday, giving them their fourth straight victory over the Pirates 5-0. After winning the first game from the Braves 9-2, Brooklyn led 3-1 in the ninth inning of the second and Hollis Thurston had two strikes on Handy Moore. But Randy Clouted a homer, his second of the game, instead of taking the third strike and the game ended in a 3-3 tie when darkness stopped it after the tenth.

The Giants and Phillies each ended their intra-sectional series with even breaks as New York won yesterday's game 10-5. John Berly gave the Phils 15 hits but escaped serious trouble.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who regained the lead with seven victories in eleven games, finally lost a game to Cincinnati on their home grounds yesterday. The Cards took the first half of a double header 7-5 but Johnny Ogden stopped them with seven hits in the second game, 7-2.

Brothers Held in Burglary Probe

SAN ANTONIO, June 1. (AP)—Two brothers, R. L. and D. B. O'Conner, 23 and 27, of Sonoma, were held in the Bexar county jail here today as suspects in the burglary of the Cleo, Texas, postoffice May 18.

They were arrested at a filling station here yesterday by deputy sheriffs, under Sheriff Albert Hauser. Both of them made verbal statements to Hauser shortly after their arrest and postoffice inspectors were to take written statements from them today.

Hauser said the arrests followed a tip from Comfort, Texas, that the car which had been driven by the postoffice burglars at the time of the crime, had been seen here. The sheriff found 114 of the 156 stolen money orders in a pad in the automobile. It was necessary to rip away the upholstery before the orders could be found.

WILL RE-TRY PREACHER

MONTREAT, N. C., June 1. (AP)—The case of the Rev. Hay Watson Smith, D. D., Little Rock, Ark., pastor, who is charged with holding unorthodox theological beliefs, was remanded to the Synod of Arkansas today for re-trial by a commission of the Presbyterian church in the United States.

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—Thirty scientists whose chief object is to obtain specimens for smaller mammals that cannot afford to send out their own expeditions, will sail from New York July 1 on a two years' cruise to far-off places.

The group will be known as the Tay-Lan expedition and its itinerary includes Porto Rico, to which it has been invited by Governor Theodore Roosevelt; Haiti, the Galapagos, Marquesas, Samoa, Society and other Pacific islands, Australia, New Caledonia, the new Hebrides, Dutch New Guinea, Borneo, Java, Sumatra, Siam, French Indo-China, Cambodia, Southern China, and the Hawaiian Islands.

Captain Harry Carpelan, formerly of the Russian imperial army and an explorer and engineer whose career has led him from the Arctic down to the Congo and the Amazon river, will be the director.

FORMER BANKER SENTENCED

PONTIAC, Mich., June 1. (AP)—A 29-year-old bank clerk and his two 20-year-old accomplices were sentenced today for the $12,000 robbery of the Pontiac Commercial and Savings bank May 22.

Gerald Grandon, the bank clerk, was sentenced to from 25 to 40 years. Adam Moigan and Louis Klsh who committed the actual robbery and fled to Canada in a stolen airplane with the loot, were sentenced to from 20 to 40 years each. All had pleaded guilty.

Trojans Expect To Win National Track Laurels

CHICAGO, June 1. (AP)—Having quelled the track and field opposition in their own section in the east, Southern California's men of Troy will try for national overlordship Saturday in the tenth renewal of the National Collegiate association championships at Stagg field.

The bulk of the Trojans' competition will be provided by Stanford, its neighbor, and the stars of the middle west, but it is not likely any one team can muster enough power to take the title from Coach Dean Cromwell's powerful squad.

Frank Wykoff appears to be a certain bet in the 100-yard dash, although he will have to beat Eddie Tojan of Michigan, again. In the I. C. A. A. meet at Philadelphia Saturday, the Trojan flyer barely beat the Michigan negro, and the latter may have his day Saturday.

None of these was represented in the starting field but the Americans had a half dozen or more formidable contenders. American professionals entered were Horton Smith, Johnny Farrell, Gene Sarazen, Macdonald Smith, Tommy Armour, Tony Marano, Joe Turnesa, Joe Kirkwood, Willie Hunter, and Arthur Straub. None of the three American amateurs, Joshua Crane, Johnny De Paolo of Los Angeles, and Tom Maguire of Stockdale, Calif., was conceded a chance.

AMERICANS IN BRITISH GOLF REAL THREAT

Yankees Have Won Title in Nine Out of Ten Tournaments.

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, June 1. (AP)—A field of 214, including 13 Americans, was set for the British open championship today.

The United States has walked off with this prize nine times in the last ten years, only Arthur Havers succeeding in breaking through for England in 1923. Of the nine American titles in this period, Walter Hagen won four and Jones three, the others going to Jim Barnes and Jack Hutchinson.

None of these was represented in the starting field but the Americans had a half dozen or more formidable contenders. American professionals entered were Horton Smith, Johnny Farrell, Gene Sarazen, Macdonald Smith, Tommy Armour, Tony Marano, Joe Turnesa, Joe Kirkwood, Willie Hunter, and Arthur Straub. None of the three American amateurs, Joshua Crane, Johnny De Paolo of Los Angeles, and Tom Maguire of Stockdale, Calif., was conceded a chance.

Play today was to be over the first 18 holes of the qualifying round.

Uncle Sam Plans Big Bond Issue

WASHINGTON, June 1. (AP)—A long term bond issue totaling $600,000,000 will be offered to the public June 15 by the treasury. The proceeds will be used to retire short term securities.

As Secretary Mellon announced yesterday in the face of a $1,000,000,000 treasury deficit, the congressional department reported that business conditions generally in April showed improvement.

April was described as "the third consecutive month in which the volume of business in the United States, after allowing for normal seasonal trends, showed further slight expansion from the low levels established in January, while the seasonal decline occurring in early May has been slightly larger than usual."

The new treasury bonds will mature in 1949. They will bear 3 1/2 per cent interest and will be redeemable after June 15, 1946. Replacing $589,000,000 in certificates of indebtedness, they will reduce the short term debt to about $2,500,000,000. The balance will be used to pay interest on the public debt and to meet other obligations.

The issue will help the treasury simplify its short term debt problem but will have slight effect on the deficit this fiscal year ending June 30. Treasury officials expect an expenditure of $4,435,000,000 by then, with the total income amounting to but $3,000,000,000, due to decreases in income tax and customs receipts.

Mussolini Faces Open Break With Pope And Church

ROME, June 1. (AP)—Italy and the papal state stood at the crossroads of an open rupture today as Premier Mussolini pursued his intention to dissolve the Catholic Action Society throughout Italy. The situation was regarded by some Vatican authorities as a de facto severance of diplomatic relations.

The tenseness of the situation was aggravated by the explosion of four bombs near Catholic institutions in Bologna Saturday night. A carabinieri brigadier was killed and two persons were injured by fragments. Thirty persons were arrested, presumably Fascist youths opposed to the church.

The pontiff said in an address to a group of ecclesiastics in Vatican City Sunday that he would invoke the Lateran treaty and concordat in protesting the closing of the Catholic clubs by the Duce.

The events of the last few days, he said, were "the first manifestation of proof of an education that is the antithesis of Christian and civil education and entirely given to hate, to irreverence, and to violence."

Chrysler Reveals An Extortion Plot

TOPEKA, June 1. (AP)—Three men accused of attempting to extort $40,000 from Walter P. Chrysler, automobile manufacturer, were in liberty today under bonds pending preliminary hearing June 13 on charges of blackmail.

Richard A. Swallow, former employe of a morning newspaper, Ralph Ulrich, alias Ralph Chrysler, also of Topeka, and Fred S. Clark, Meriden, Kans., were released yesterday after their arrest late Saturday.

The three were alleged in a complaint signed by Gordon Ross, representative of the motor magazine, to have asked $40,000 for suppression of a story concerning an alleged relationship of Ulrich to the late Henry Chrysler, father of the automobile manufacturer.

THE MILK YOU DRINK by RUTH DEWEY GROVES AUTHOR OF "THE HUSBAND HUNTER, ETC."

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beryl Borden, secretly in love with Tommy Wilson, discovers that he is planning to elope with her half-sister, Irene Everett, and kidnaps him with the assistance of her "gang." She urges him to stay in college and not break the heart of the aunt who is financing him. Failing to convince him, Beryl lets Tommy return to Irene who, enraged at the delay, refuses to listen and postpones the elopement.

Later Tommy goes fishing and finds Beryl and her gang on the beach. One of the boys is carried off by the tide and Tommy helps Beryl rescue him. She finds it hard to bear the reproaches of his mother and the sneers of her jealous sister.

Irene again refuses Tommy after receiving an offer for an audition over radio. She consents to let Beryl accompany her to the studio. While waiting in an ante-room, Beryl sits down at the piano and dreamily croons melodies to the father who died so long ago. Accidentally hearing her, one of the directors is charmed with the quality of voice, and gives her a private test.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XX What Mr. Barnhoff had to say to Beryl turned her world upside down in the space of a few seconds. "We're looking for a woman's voice for Gaylord, the soap man," he said when Mr. Leonard had conducted her back to his office. "I'd like you to hear yours."

Beryl stared at him, not knowing what to say. As she said later she wasn't sure that she wasn't dreaming. "Perhaps you do not know it," Barnhoff went on, "but some of the best voices are not good on the air. They lack evenness of tone and must either be stepped up or cut by our monitor men. Your voice is peculiarly suited to broadcasting."

He paused to smile at the amazement on her face. "We shall not attempt to make a great singer of you," he explained, "but you should have at least a few weeks of study before we put you on our program. We are looking for a voice with personality, feeling. Yours has it, I personally think you would be ideal for Mr. Gaylord's advertising campaign."

He turned to Leonard, his eyes alight with the enthusiasm of discovery and intention. "The girl with the velvet voice!" he exclaimed. "How is that? Gaylord calls his new soap Velvetan. It contains an oil, he claims, that aids the skin to tan evenly, and painlessly. . . . Miss Borden, I wheeled back to Beryl and carried her out, that is just what your voice is - even and soft as velvet. And I'm sure the radio audience will find it painless."

His enthusiasm was infectious. Beryl was beginning to know how it felt to have a promising future in view. But she was not altogether swept off her feet. "Mr. Gaylord hasn't heard it yet," she reminded her discoverer. "He might not like it."

"I've never made a mistake about a voice," Barnhoff boasted. "Will you sing for Mr. Gaylord?" He did not wait for an answer, but rang at once for his secretary and asked her to take Beryl's address and telephone number.

"We'll let you know the date as soon as we've arranged it with Mr. Gaylord," he told Beryl. "Then, of course, you will make your contract with him. By the way, have you a voice teacher?"

"No," Beryl answered. "I know just the one to give you who you need," Barnhoff assured her. Then he offered a roundabout apology for taking so much for granted. "I'd be sorry to hear you say you can't understand this," he admitted, "but I suppose I should ask you about it. I'm afraid I've been a bit impulsive. However I feel that I'm justified," he added, in compliment.

Beryl hesitated. A contract! A voice teacher! Good Lord, she had no money for voice lessons. "Can't I let you know later?" she asked reluctantly. It seemed like shaming her head in the face of a smiling fate, of being too stupid to appreciate good fortune, an imbecile thing to do—but voice lessons!

Oh, it must be managed somehow! She'd sing for Mr. Gaylord and then . . . Barnhoff interrupted her incomplete thought. He seemed, unaccountably, to have read her mind—or perhaps his keen eye had noticed the listlessness of her costume. At any rate he said in a kindly, casual way: "Nonsense, if Mr. Gaylord is pleased with your voice and decides to offer you a contract he will be willing to advance the cost of necessary preparation."

For an instant Beryl was tempted to say: "Then, 'Thank you,' she said simply. "I was considering the question of financing the venture. They smiled together and Beryl had a friend for life. And now that the darkest cloud had been except away from her sun-filled sky she was seized with a desire to tell her good news to some one—any one. She thought of Irene. "My sister!" she exclaimed. "She is waiting for you in the Florentine room," Barnhoff told her. "But—er—perhaps if you could manage to look a little less radiant. . . . I'm afraid she is slightly disappointed with the outcome of her test."

It was just what Beryl had expected, but now that it had happened she was sorry for Irene, especially as she contrasted her own good fortune with her sister's hard luck. She said goodby hurriedly to the two men, after thanking them with a genuineness of gratitude which they found refreshing, and hastened away to Irene.

When she was gone Leonard grinned at Barnhoff. "Well, Barny, old man, think of you turning soft at your time of life," he remarked. "What do you mean?" Barnhoff asked stidily. "You get me. Since when has Gaylord been advancing anything to anybody?" Barnhoff brushed the levity aside. "That girl has a rare quality of voice," he answered warmly. "I don't know what she'd be if given a chance, but she's just what Gaylord wants and I think I can make him see he'd be a fool to lose her."

"But if he balks?" "If he does, why then, damn it, all, I'll find a patron for her and put her into the Mel!" "Then you weren't thinking of financing her yourself?" "Get out, you bum," Barnhoff grinned. Leonard heaved a huge sigh of mock relief. "I thought you might be running a fever," he said in pretended anxiety. "Think of you paying for singing lessons!" "Yeah, think of it. But seriously, Hal, I think Miss Borden is a real find. The luck's as much ours as hers."

That statement would have surprised Beryl, who was trying to tell Irene of her good fortune without seeming to flaunt it. The minute she had seen Irene she had known her sister would not be in a congratulatory mood. "Is this the Florentine room?" she asked, pushing the door open wider and poking her head inside. "You ought to know," Irene snapped. "You're supposed to be 'Yes, but I specialize in Early American.'" "No wonder," Irene retorted. "All you need is a feather to be an Indian. But I'd like to know what she's doing by keeping me waiting here! I suppose you've been busy in where you've no business to be."

Beryl looked away from her sister's angry countenance. "I've been making a test," she answered quietly. "What!" Irene shrieked, then she laughed. "What for—brains?" "I don't suppose anyone will believe it," Beryl said apologetically. "Because she felt somehow guilty of a part in her sister's ill fortune. You had come here with Irene by force, you might say, with Irene's ability to command a test as her passport and she had walked off with something that Irene would think belonged to her. She felt desperately sorry for Irene. "No, it's almost too much to believe. It's silly, really, when you come to think of it. "Well, think of what? Will you please talk sense?" "Why," Beryl smiled placatingly. "I was sitting here right here at this piano, just sort of singing to myself, and a man heard me. . . . "I dare say," Irene interjected sneeringly. "And do you know," Beryl went on with awe in her voice now, "I think he must be someone terribly important for he took me to his office and then, can you imagine it, he said he was looking for someone with a funny voice like mine."

"Beryl Borden! Do you dare to stand there and tell me that you had the nerve to pose as a singer here—here—where I brought you? Oh, no wonder they said I wouldn't do!" she walked desperately. "They thought it was a trick!" Beryl lost a little of her pity.

High Hatted Whiskers Tell That Husband Is Trying Big Hoax

CHICAGO, June 1. (AP)—One way to solve a kidnaping mystery is to subtract the missing man's whiskers from the number of days he has been missing. A problem along this line was presented to highway police in the case of Charles E. Dean, missing for two weeks. Last night they found him, bound and gagged behind an abandoned hot dog stand near Willow Springs. Kidnapers, he said, had left him to die last Tuesday. Sergeant Samuel Meyers, who knows his mathematics, noticed Dean had but one day's growth of beard. Then he remembered Dean's remark about last Tuesday, which was six days ago. The sergeant and a lieutenant took Dean to a hospital and set out to investigate, calling his wife. Mrs. Dean laughed. She also ventured the opinion her husband was merely a little timid about coming home after a quarrel. She also said she couldn't believe he had been hurt while gone from home, but predicted he would be when he returned.

Deaths of Five Husbands Probed

CHICAGO, June 1. (AP)—The deaths of the five known husbands of Mrs. Margaret Summers, as well as those of 14 other persons were under investigation today, Coroner Herman W. Baudens said, in connection with poison murder charges already made against the woman. The inquiry, the coroner said, was carried back over a period of 25 years as a result of information supplied concerning Stanley Jones and James Lynch, two of her husbands, whose deaths antedated those of three others. Investigators were trying to learn whether Mrs. Summers insured these men as she did the others. James Fairfax, Stanley Korzen, and Thomas Summers were the husbands who followed Jones and Lynch in death.

Texas Guinan Not Choosing to Run

HAVRE, France, June 1. (AP)—Texas Guinan does not "choose to run" until the last hope wanes that she and her night club "pals" can land in France.

She was awaiting today an answer from the minister of the interior to her appeal from the government's decision barring her troupe from appearing in a Paris cabaret and ordering their deportation Wednesday on the liner Paris.

"Well, in the words of Coolidge: 'I do not choose to run,'" she said. "I will not accept this as final until I receive word from my agents in Paris as I have appealed to the minister of the interior to consider my case."

The party was under strict surveillance by French police in the enigmatic hotel in which they have been quartered since they arrived. The girls have been refused permission to resume their jaunts about the city and a scheduled trip to church was cancelled yesterday.

Amplifying the reason for the government's action, an official of the immigration bureau said he had heard of the parties conducted aboard ship by La Guinan and that he did not think "her type of amusement is our type."

MAY CHANGE SENTENCE
VALPARAISO, Ind., June 1. (AP)—Judge Grant Crumpecker, criticized for the one to ten year sentence he pronounced on Virgil Kirkland for the slaying of Arlene Draves, today ordered the Gary youth returned here from Girard's reformatory and said he would hear arguments on a new sentence.

The court acted on its own initiative and said it would set aside the sentence of last Wednesday after a second jury had convicted Kirkland in the girl's death. The verdict was assent and battery with intent to rape.

CLARA REMAINS ILL
LOS ANGELES, June 1. (AP)—Clara Bow remained under treatment at a Glendale sanitarium today as Fred Girard, publisher of a weekly newspaper was called to trial in federal court for ending alleged obscene articles on her life through the mail.

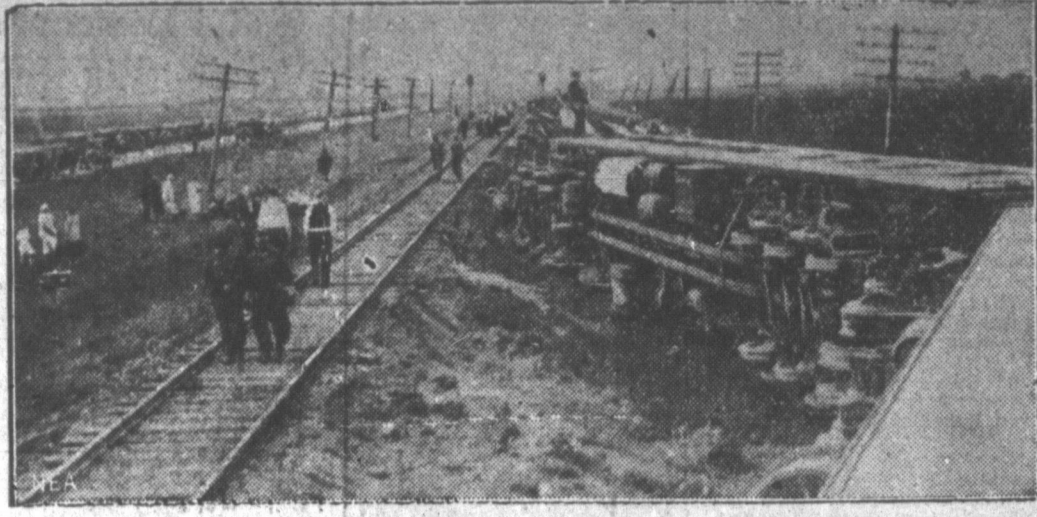

Miss Bow suffered a nervous breakdown May 2, a little more than a week after Girard's arrest. Last Friday, G. P. Schulberg, managing director of Paramount pictures, announced that the actress desired to retire from the screen. Miss Bow has not commented publicly on his statement.

NURSE RETURNS
Miss Wilma Singletary, office nurse for Dr. W. B. Wild, returned yesterday from Elk City where she underwent an operation for appendicitis two weeks ago. She traveled by train to Amarillo and returned to Pampa by automobile, accompanied by Miss Louise Hayter and George Shader.

ADMITS KILLING WIFE
PORTLAND, Ore., June 1. (AP)—Police said today Ira H. Ormond, 38, an ex-sailor accused of slaying his wife and two children, had admitted that he put the children to bed Saturday night and then asphyxiated them with illuminating gas.

He declared, however, he could not remember stabbing his wife to death with a bayonet as was charged. Officers said they believed Ormond's motive was his wish that his wife, a restaurant employe, stop working, though he himself was unemployed.

Two passengers were killed and more than 50 injured. The baggage coach was pitched 115 feet from the rails. The wreckage of the flyer is shown above.

GRAIN UNSTEADY
CHICAGO, June 1. (AP)—With Canadian reports at hand telling of considerable moisture relief in drought districts of Canada, grain prices today underwent an early downturn. Advices indicated, however, that there were large areas in which the Canadian crop prospect was little short of a failure.

Opening 6-8 to 1 cent lower, wheat afterward sagged further. Corn started at 1-4 to 5-8 decline and subsequently held near the initial range.

COTTON IS WEAK
NEW ORLEANS, June 1. (AP)—With Liverpool much lower than due and weather reports favorable for over the week-end, cotton here opened lower today, first trades showing losses of 12 points. Near the end of the first hour the market was somewhat steadier and had rallied 5 to 7 points from the lows.

It is the famous love doctor's belief that the thing that chiefly ails marriage is too much of it. If men and women could be married only five days a week, she declares, every marriage would be a grand success.

Maybe Dorothy Dix is right. By the time the husband had to remember to put out the milk bottles, make up his own bed, order the groceries, feed the cat, and wind the clock every time he began to be bored, perhaps he would appreciate his wife more. And perhaps every time the wife had to go to a movie alone, play golf alone, prepare meals for herself only, and see no one coming up the sidewalk when 6 o'clock arrived, she would appreciate her husband more. Veterans Decorate Graves of Buddies

Seven graves were decorated simultaneously by members of the Kerley-Crossman American Legion post yesterday following the Memorial day service at the First Baptist church. The deceased veterans honored were William J. Reid, navy; Albert E. Crossman, army; Jess A. Cliff, navy; Albert Hammett, quartermaster corps; George A. Soward, army; Oscar Smith, army; Mr. Benton, a civil war veteran.

Several hundred persons witnessed the service. An afternoon service was held by members of the American Legion auxiliary on the city hall lawn. They placed a marker for a tree which they dedicated to the veterans. Mrs. W. C. deCordova was in charge of this service.

More than 900 persons were at the First Baptist church Sunday morning to hear the address of the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, chaplain of the American Legion post.

Rev. Lancaster used as his subject "Redeeming Old Wells." He told the Bible story of Jacob's redeeming of old wells and urged that his hearers redig the following wells: The wells of faith in God as revealed in Jesus Christ; the wells of faith and prayer; the wells of faith in carrying the kingdom of God; the wells of government; the wells of personal influence; the wells of sacrifice; the wells of appreciation and gratitude.

Much Over Allowable
Although the allowable has been set by the railroad commission at 180,000 barrels, approximately 350,000 barrels is being produced. The 180,000 barrel excess is being produced under the ten injunction suits filed against the commission by operators in East Texas.

Governor Sterling said he believed production could be cut down if the railroad commission would refuse permits to drill. Parker said the commission had no authority to refuse a drilling permit except where it was proposed to drill within 150 feet of a property line.

HERE'S ONE SWEET THAT CAN'T BE ABUSED

Six and a half ounces of liquid is all one small tummy can hold. In each bottle of Dr. Pepper are five and a half ounces of pure sparkling water; that little bodies need; and one ounce of pure cane sugar, in pre-digested form. That odd alluring flavor of mingled fruit juice, extracts and essences adds pleasure to nourishment.

Modern mothers have learned the new knowledge of sugar and its place in the diet of children. Hundreds have adopted Dr. Pepper as the happy solution of uniform sugar-balance, necessary to health. They give it at 10, 2 and 4. Dr. Pepper satisfies the sweet tooth. There's nothing in it can harm the delicate digestion, even of little "kids."
