GOVERNOR IS ACCUSED

INDEPENDENT GROUP ALSO TO BE THERE

Amarillo Hotel Selected for Thursday Gathering; Pro-ration Enforcement Bill Will Be Topic.

ISSUE IS TIMELY

Governor Sterling Takes Hand in Litigation as Attorney-General Prepares to Push Test Suits.

Pampa is expected to send a large delegation of land and royalty owners and oil operators to a meeting in Amarillo Thursday of those opposed to the proposed Howley proration bill.

Some very able speakers will address the meeting called for the purpose of discussing the Howley bill which will no doubt be offered for passage if the governor calls an extra session of the legislature. The meeting will be in the banquet room of the Amarillo hotel at 3 o'clock.

The men signing the call for this meeting are some of the very largest land and royalty owners in the Panhandle and the meeting is open to all who wish to attend with landowners, royalty owners, independent oil operators and business men especially invited. The Howley bill known as house bill No. 1052, if passed will affect every business in the Panhandle, as it is designed to give complete control of every oil field and oil well in the state of Texas to the state railroad commission.

AUSTIN, June 2. (AP)—The critical situation in the oil industry and the serious condition of the state's finances confronted Gov. R. S. Sterling today.

Will Speed Suits
A lengthy conference was held yesterday with the railroad commission and a member of the attorney general's department at which agreement was reached to push to a speedy decision the suits pending against the railroad commission to prevent enforcement of the commission's oil proration orders. Efforts also will be made to accelerate the suits filed by the state to collect penalties for violation of the proration orders.

Governor Sterling said that if necessary he would use the governor's law enforcement fund to provide additional assistance for the attorney general in carrying out the suits to conclusion. In the event this fund was not sufficient, the governor said he could grant deficiency warrants.

The powers of the railroad commission to prorrate have not yet been tested in court. Speedy court action was expected to more clearly define the issues so that in event the court decisions are unfavorable to the commission, other steps may be taken.

The report on the state's finances will be used as a guide by Governor Sterling in acting on the appropriation bills. It disclosed that unless the appropriations were cut down and additional revenue raised, the deficiency at the end of the present fiscal year, August 31, would be $5,255,639 with an accumulated deficit August 31, 1932, of $5,105,900 and $5,935,411 on August 31, 1933.

Attached to the report was a schedule of revenue that could be raised from an increase in the ad valorem rate.

DALLAS, June 2. (AP)—Officials of the American Petroleum Institute, division of production, were touring the prolific East Texas oil fields today, accompanied by officials of the East Texas chamber of commerce, several state senators and other persons interested in the oil business. Meanwhile, another series of committee meetings was being held here.

The east Texas group was to meet at Arp, then make an automobile trip through the Joiner, Kilgore and Lathrop fields, finally ending the day at Tyler.

Senator J. W. E. H. Beck of DeKalb will head the group of senators. The party will have as escort Carl Estes and Senator Thomas G. Pollard of Tyler, together with officials of the chamber of commerce of Tyler. Pollard said Senators Walter Woodward of Coleman, George Furl of Dallas, R. B. Cousins of Beaumont, John W. Horby of Austin, Pink Parrish of Lubbock, Julian Greer of Athens, Nat Patton of Crockett, Margie Neal of Carthage, and Edgar Thomason of Nacogdoches would be in the party.

BRABHAM IS EXPECTED TO MAKE DECISION SOON ON PRESIDENCY OF TEXAS WOMAN'S INSTITUTION

Local Man Is Offered Important Post Monday

Whether he will accept the appointment as president of Texas Woman's college will probably be decided today by the Rev. Tom W. Brabham, who in addition to his new work is chairman of a committee to devise means of meeting a large deficit and of keeping the school in operation. An interview with Bishop H. A. Boaz last night is expected to have a strong bearing on Rev. Brabham's choice. The minister of the local First Methodist church told The NEWS in telephone conversation last night that the task would be a tremendous one and that he wished time to think it over.

(From Star-Telegram)
Texas Woman's college can be saved, the board of trustees declared at a meeting yesterday, and vigorous plans to keep the door of the historic institution open were set in motion.

A committee was appointed to confer with the bishops, presiding elders and other leaders of the Methodist church in Texas to impress upon them "the terrible calamity" to the church that the closing of T. W. C. would mean, and to make plans for raising funds to maintain the institution.

Brabham Heads Group
Rev. T. W. Brabham, Methodist pastor of Pampa, was appointed chairman of the committee, and was elected to the presidency of the college.

Election of Rev. Brabham as president followed the resignation of Dr. H. E. Stout, head of T. W. C. since 1919. His resignation was accepted with an expression of appreciation for his faithful work.

Dr. Stout said that he had several offers but had no announcement of a decision at this time, though he expected to make known his plans soon.

Other members of the committee to devise a method of saving the college are Rev. F. P. Culver, presiding elder of the Fort Worth district, and Rev. P. E. Riley, pastor of the First Methodist church of Mineral Wells.

The committee will hold its first session within the next few days. Rev. Mr. Brabham could serve as chairman of the committee even though he should decide not to accept the presidency of the college, Marvin D. Evans, secretary of the board, explained after the meeting, which was presided over by Judge Ocie Speer, Austin, chairman.

The resolution offered by Rev. Culver and seconded by W. J. Bailey, follows:

"Whereas the present situation does not necessitate the closing of Texas Woman's college, and whereas we believe that by proper presentation to the leaders of Texas Methodism and Fort Worth business men the necessary financing of Texas Woman's college can be made.

"Therefore, be it resolved that a committee of three be appointed to confer with the presiding bishops, presiding elders and other leaders of the Methodist church in Texas, and to impress upon them the terrible calamity to the Methodist church that would be precipitated by the closing of Texas Woman's college, and that the committee be instructed to devise and make plans for the raising of funds for the continuation of this college, and that the committee report to and work with the executive committee of this board."

The president's report, detailing recent history, especially the efforts that had been made to keep the college open, was presented to the board when the meeting opened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The session continued until noon, then after a brief recess for luncheon, the meeting was resumed and did not end until 3:30 p. m.

Indebtedness of the college is $280,000. T. W. C. was founded in 1913 as the successor of Polytechnic college, which was established in 1895.

Pampa Products Luncheon Likely To Be June 22

A luncheon featuring only Pampa products will probably be held June 22 under the auspices of the board of city development, it was announced this morning.

The primary object of the Pampa products luncheon is to introduce and encourage the use of local grown foods.

Negro's Trial Is Slow

TEN JURORS ARE SELECTED AT AMARILLO

Third Special Venire Called in Attempt to Fill Box—Will Moore Killed Cowboy During Convention.

SECOND HEARING
Death Sentence Was Assessed Him Recently—Two Men Must Be Found Among Sixty.

AMARILLO, June 2. (AP)—Ten jurors have been selected to try Will Moore negro, for the killing of Mont (Pie) Moore, New Mexican ranchman, here during the recent cattle-men's convention and a third special venire has been called from which to select a jury. Only two men are needed to complete the jury.

The original venire was for 250 men and at the close of court last night the panel was exhausted with only eight men qualified. A call was made for fifty men this morning from which only two men were selected. An additional venire of sixty men was called to report this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

The negro is charged with shooting the white man to death in a downtown hotel when an altercation followed a request at an early hour in the morning to see a friend registered at the hotel. The negro was given the death penalty at a former trial.

NEWKIRK, Okla., June 2. (AP)—Earl Quinn, held in the Kay county jail on charges of murder in connection with the slaying of Zexia and Jessie Griffith, Blackwell school teachers, has been linked with a second crime, Bruce Potter, county attorney, announced today.

The county attorney said that several women who viewed Quinn in jail identified him as one of two gunmen who robbed a bridge party in Blackwell last December.

Potter declared that if the state failed to obtain a heavy penalty on the murder charges, Quinn would face a charge of robbery with firearms. A third charge, in connection with the accusation of a Muskogee girl that she was attacked by Quinn also may be filed, Potter said.

Motion to End Church Relations Appears Lost

PITTSBURGH, June 2. (AP)—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. today refused to act on a motion to withdraw from the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, but disapproved "ecclesiastical pronouncements on birth control."

The motion to withdraw from the federal council resulted from a recent report of a council committee approving birth control under certain conditions.

A majority report of the committee on bills and overtures disapproved withdrawal from the federal council, and this report was adopted by the general assembly to repudiate the birth control report of the federal council's committee and withdraw from the council.

Sleepy Driver Has Serious Accident (Drive Carefully!)

ROSOWELL, N. M., June 2. (AP)—Mrs. L. E. Lynch of Stratford, Texas, was injured seriously yesterday when the car in which she was riding turned over three times about 45 miles northeast of here.

Mr. Lynch, who was driving, said he fell asleep and the car ran off the road. He said the car was traveling between 50 and 55 miles an hour at the time of the accident. The car was not badly damaged.

In the car with the Lynches were Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Flores of Tulla, Texas, both of whom were slightly injured.

The tragedy occurred while the family was camping near Memphis.

Flying Cadet Badly Hurt

J. Conway Banks Too Fast for Engine Speed and Falls 200 Feet.

GALVESTON, June 2. (AP)—L. J. Conway, army air corps cadet of Brooks field, San Antonio, was probably fatally injured today when his plane crashed from a height of 200 feet near the third attack group field at Fort Crockett, near Galveston. Conway was on a cross-country solo flight.

Observers said Conway's plane slipped when he attempted a climbing bank and the motor apparently did not have sufficient speed. He was taken to the Base hospital at Fort Crockett.

Conway was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston. His home address was not available immediately.

Missing Man Was On Fishing Tour

ABILENE, June 2. (AP)—A general search for Roy Lee, young ranchman of Lovington, N. M., who had been reported overdue at Denton, ended late yesterday when Lee telegraphed his wife from Comanche.

The Lovington man was surprised over the stir his absence had caused, explaining he had been fishing on the San Saba river. A Comanche officer who had read a newspaper account that Lee was missing and that fears for his safety yesterday that Lee, accompanied by Roscoe Roberts of Lovington, had registered Sunday night in a local hotel. A checkup today showed that it was Lee's brother, R. D. Lee Jr., also of Lovington, who had registered. Roberts, a relative of the Lee boys, recently underwent an operation.

Last week, en route to his fishing grounds on the San Saba, Roy Lee stopped here to transact business with Frank Badami, head of a barber supply company.

Clara Bow is to begin on a new picture as soon as she recuperates.

Communism's Children No Longer Are Homeless and Often Thieving Waifs; Much Propaganda Received

By VICTOR EUBANK
MOSCOW, June 2. (AP)—The children of communism are no longer homeless and often thieving waifs; much propaganda received.

A new low price level has been reached for merchandise which will sell in Pampa Thursday, according to advance prices offered by merchants cooperating in Dollar Day. Hundreds of items, needed by every family, will be offered Thursday, this week.

Dollar Day advertisements in Wednesday's News and Thursday's Post will list many more items than usual, offering savings that will surprise many.

Pampa merchants are becoming known for their liberal bargains and many visitors from larger towns say that they can buy much cheaper in Pampa. The volume of trade enjoyed by Pampa merchants makes it possible for them to carry a fresher and newer stock of merchandise.

Come to town early Thursday morning for the bargains. The savings will pay you to visit all the stores which are cooperating.

Low Price Mark Will Be Evident On Dollar Day

For instance, the correspondent recently met a girl of 18. She spoke English, German, French and was working at a job which paid her the unusually high salary of 200 rubles (approximately $100) per month.

She was the daughter of a former engineer. Her family was of the intelligentsia. She had very faint memories of the pre-revolution days.

"But I am now for the communists," she said. "My father is still an engineer, but he is of the old regime, and he has his prejudices. But I have been brought up under the bolshevik system, and my sympathies are entirely with the new government."

"My father and mother are entirely out of date. They do not realize the trend in world affairs. But I am more or less educated, and I am enabled to grasp the trend of affairs. When does the revolution start in America?"

Old Are Tolerated
This girl told the story of modern youth in the U. S. S. R. Most of them have been trained to be for the new system. The oldsters are tolerated, but watched closely. The youngsters are given a fusillade of propaganda which most of them do not resist.

In other words, the communist government hopes to win by the children. When one considers there are some 10,000,000 Comsomols (members of the Communist Youth League), the government's idea becomes obvious.

For one thing, children in Russia are the best treated of all the population.

Throughout last autumn and winter the correspondent of the Associated Press traveled through Soviet Russia. He saw people who were hungry and miserable and ill clad. But children, generally, were living on the fat of the land—if one can imagine any such fat in this country.

The youngsters were well clad, well shod, and apparently happy. There was none in tatters and none that looked as though he hadn't had his regular rations.

Children get an exceptionally liberal allowance of all rations, and if cheat about this they go to Siberia or some other disagreeable place.

In event the father and mother are exiled—which is frequent—the children are taken over by the state and put in homes where they get the best that the state affords.

The communistic tendency is to do away with the family system. The rearing of children, eventually, is supposed to be a state affair.

Accordingly any family that doesn't feed and clothe its children properly is supposed to lose their offspring. And they do frequently.

STATE LOST HEAVILY WHEN BANK FAILED

Henry Horton of Tennessee Is Said to Have Caused Fund to Be Placed With Weak Institution.

PLOT ALLEGED

Seven More Articles of Impeachment Are Brought in By Solons — Politics Said to Be Involved.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 2. (AP)—Blame for the depositing of millions of state funds in the Bank of Tennessee, a subsidiary of Caldwell and company, investment banking house both of which are now defunct, was laid at the door of Governor Henry W. Horton in one of seven additional articles of impeachment against him which were reported to the Tennessee house of representatives today.

It was charged that on Aug. 14, 1930, the governor called the state funding board into session and that some member of it, in the governor's presence and with his knowledge and participation, directed preparation of a resolution that "undertook" to make the "so-called" Bank of Tennessee the depository of all state bridge funds.

More than $3,000,000 of bridge funds was on deposit when the bank failed last November.

The first article of impeachment, reported to the house by its committee last week, charged Governor Horton conspired with Rogers Caldwell, financier, and Col. Luke Lea newspaper publisher and politician, to influence governmental affairs for their personal gain in exchange for their political support.

Caldwell was president of Caldwell, well known company and the Bank of Tennessee.

Jury for Riot Cases Is Near

AUSTIN, June 2. (AP)—Selection of a jury for trial of the first of the Sherman riot cases moved swiftly toward completion today.

Seven jurors had been chosen when the first venire was exhausted late yesterday. Ten of the first 12 men questioned today qualified. The court planned to qualify 14, from whom nine men unacceptable to attorneys would be eliminated.

J. B. McCasland, 19, was on trial on an arson indictment, was excused as a witness, were excused today, and indications were that testimony would not last more than two days.

Witnesses were excused today in the case of Horace Reynolds, one of the 14 defendants. Reynolds, a world war veteran, operates an aviation repair shop at Sherman. J. D. Buxter, his attorney, predicted he would never be tried.

AUSTIN, June 2. (AP)—The jury for the trial of the first of the Sherman riot cases was completed shortly after noon today. J. B. McCasland, 19, was on trial on an arson indictment in connection with the burning of the Grayson county court house May 9, 1930.

The court recessed for lunch shortly thereafter. J. D. Moore, district judge, said he planned to spend about an hour calling the civil docket before testimony was started this afternoon.

No Architect for Local Building to Be Chosen, Belief

Architect's plans for Pampa's federal building will likely be those used in many other cities for similar cities, it was said today.

Marvin Jones, congressman for this district, has written to W. R. Kaufman, local architect, that the projects of less than $200,000 in size do not call for a local supervising architect.

Mr. Kaufman said that similar jobs elsewhere had shown that the government buildings were more or less standardized, had that specifications as much as 15 years old often were used. He expects the local plans to be modernized by the supervising architect at Washington.

Six trans-Atlantic trips are planned for the Graf Zeppelin during the summer.

Robbery of Bridge Party at Blackwell in December Is Recalled.

NEWKIRK, Okla., June 2. (AP)—Earl Quinn, held in the Kay county jail on charges of murder in connection with the slaying of Zexia and Jessie Griffith, Blackwell school teachers, has been linked with a second crime, Bruce Potter, county attorney, announced today.

TWO KINDS OF EDUCATION

A great deal of unnecessary furore seems to have been raised by the decision of Yale University to drop Latin and Greek from the list of required subjects for undergraduates. The decision is not as revolutionary as it sounds; it merely recognizes a trend that has been apparent in American universities for a good many years. For a long time we have been demanding that education be "practical," and Latin and Greek, undoubtedly, are not in that classification. No one will be a better bond salesman because of a familiarity with Virgil and Homer. They will not help a prospective attorney to master the intricacies of corporation law. In an age when a professor in a leading college can bluntly urge his young men to keep both eyes on the main chance and marry the boss daughter, if possible, the study of humane letters is something that can easily be dispensed with.

Yet these subjects will remain on the curriculum, and such students as attend college in the hope of getting some genuine culture can still take them. These students will be in the minority, of course; in a country that rates its colleges and universities by the prowess of their football teams and the wealth of their graduates, nothing else could be expected. But there will always be a few of them, and they will be a wholesome leaven. After all, why does a young man go to college? A desire for social prestige and a belief that a degree will boost his future earning power probably account for the majority of enrollments. But there are some who have other aims, and in every college in the land there are some professors who will greet them with open arms.

To these youngsters it will make no difference whether or not they "have to" study Latin and Greek. They want to study them; a desire to get acquainted with the mighty literature of those languages is one of the things that got them into college in the first place. They may not distinguish themselves in athletics, and after graduation they may not become either rich or famous, but their lives will be infinitely richer and fuller than the lives of those who found the ancient languages too impractical to bother with.

As a matter of fact, we are offering two kinds of education today. One kind is for the go-getter, whose rough corners are rounded off and who is given a very nice, glossy polish. The other kind is for the real student. Yale's action simply recognizes, openly, the difference between the two.

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, June 2. (NEA)—News that loans to veterans on their bonus certificates have now exceeded a billion dollars, interesting as it is for the reason that the demand for loans has been so much greater than anyone expected, is even more so in the light of persistent reports that a strong movement will develop in favor of forgiving the loans altogether.

The demand is expected to be heard at the American Legion convention in Detroit next September and although most Legion leaders presumably will oppose it there is bound to be some support in congress and there is always the possibility that rank and file sentiment will run away with the more conservative officers of veteran organizations.

If the forgiveness movement makes progress the most optimistic thought for its sponsors is that congress has always given veterans what they wanted, sooner or later. The principal dampening factor will be the huge treasury deficit. No one expects forgiveness by the next congress, which, however, is likely to pass a widow's pension bill. If and when veterans' loans are forgiven the total of them probably will have exceeded $1,500,000,000.

Rumors that the Republicans would hire the radio team of Amos and Andy to campaign for President Hoover in 1932 have been current for several weeks, but the Republican command certainly has no such plan at this time.

Conservative politicians, worrying plenty about 1932, believe it would be a dangerous experiment and might prove ruinous. General agreement is that it will be safer to try to warn and admonish the voters than to try to kid them into voting the Republican ticket.

Among the government employes here now, a bright researcher has found, are George Washington, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, James Monroe, Andrew Jackson, William H. Harrison, John Tyler, James Buchanan, Ulysses Simpson Grant, Chester Arthur, Benjamin Harrison, William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt and Herbert Hoover. Hoover is a captain in the army, Roosevelt governor of Porto Rico, Grant director of public buildings and parks and the rest are to be found among the chemists, engineers, clerks, guards, messengers and other employes.

The same authority reports that Zachary Taylor,

James K. Polk, Andrew Johnson and Woodrow Wilson are also to be found in the local telephone directory.

Invited to the big Red Cross Golden Jubilee 50th anniversary banquet here, one Washington editor returned his ticket with word that he didn't think he would enjoy the food and decorations because so many people were starving.

Congressman David J. Lewis of Maryland, returned to congress after about 20 years, probably will be the foremost Latin scholar and the hardest working student in the next House.

During his previous service he learned French so that he might read authorities for an exhaustive study preparatory to a speech on reorganization of the house. When his bill to create the parcel post was up and they were about to divide an hour's time between sides, Speaker Jim Mann announced that there was only one man on either side who knew anything about parcel post and he might as well have all the time. So Lewis had the whole time.

Canada Raises Her Tariff Levies On U. S. Products

OTTAWA, June 2. (AP)—Increased tariffs were in effect today on 200 commodities, many of which Canada imports in the greatest quantity from the United States. Coal, steel, automobiles, oranges, and corn are among the items imported into Canada from the United States upon which Premier R. B. Bennett declared increased duties yesterday in his budget speech before parliament. In addition to the schedules which became effective with their announcement, a duty of 15 cents per pound to become effective July 1, was announced on magazines.

Canada cannot afford to be unprotected against the competition of countries protected by high tariffs. Premier Bennett said. He added that his government stands or falls by its policy of protection to Canadian industry.

Anthracite, which was on the free list, is subjected to a tariff of 40 cents a ton under the new rates. Last year Canada imported $28,500,000 worth of this fuel most of which came from the United States. The rate on bituminous coal was increased from 50 cents to 75 cents a ton. There is a drawback of 99 per cent on bituminous coal used for smelting. The rate on coke, which was on the free list, is fixed at $1 a ton. Charcoal was increased to $7.50 a ton.

Oranges, of which Canada imports $10,000,000 worth a year, large-

French President Delays Honeymoon

PARIS, June 2. (AP)—President Gaston Doumergue, married yesterday after decades of bachelorhood, will postpone his honeymoon until the end of his term June 13. An official announcement said he would remain alone in the Elysee palace until he is relieved by President-Elect Paul Doumer, and that Mme. Doumergue would go to his villa at Tourneville, near Toulouse. Mme. Doumergue taught for many years in the Jules Ferry lyceum for girls. She holds a college degree, but is not prominent in Parisian society. She is the widow of Philippe Jean Graves, a government official, from which she inherited a comfortable fortune. She is a Catholic while her husband is a protestant.

USED TO SUFFER EACH MONTH

"I used to have severe headaches each month," writes Mrs. Henry Heape, of 248 Lincoln St., Savannah, Ga. "I suffered a great deal. The pain in my head seemed to run down the back of my neck. I felt like I was drawing back. I would get very nauseated and have chills. I would have to go to bed. My mother and my mother-in-law both had taken Cardui, and I knew it was good. I bought a bottle, and after I began taking it I felt strong."

CATS OF FORT WORTH ARE LOOKING UP TO BEAUMONT

EXPORTERS IN LEAD OF HALF GAME TODAY

Houston Beats San Antonio Last Night to Cinch Third Position.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Fort Worth Cats, who paraded the Texas league pennant marathon for several weeks, are now getting a touch of looking up at Beaumont. Del Baker's Beaumont boys swept into a half-game lead Monday by defeating Galveston 7 to 4 while the Cats remained idle.

The Exporters won on the commendable hurrying of Muleshoe Vaughn's seventh victory this season. When Vaughn limited the Buccaneers to four runs and eight hits, it made Galveston's eleventh defeat in twelve starts. Galveston scored three runs in the ninth when White miscued on Bailey's line drive, but the rally was three runs short of making it worth while.

In the only other Texas league game Monday, Houston made their third place position a little safer by defeating San Antonio in a tight contest at Houston, 2 to 0. The same fellow who usually pitches shutouts for Houston, Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, let the Indians down with four hits for his eighth victory this season.

Suspended Term For Fall Likely

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Failing to obtain relief through the supreme court, Albert B. Fall today had remaining two narrow avenues of escape from a year in prison and a $100,000 fine.

The interior secretary in Harding's cabinet was refused a review by the highest tribunal yesterday of his conviction of accepting a $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Doherty, wealthy oil man, in leasing government oil lands.

If Fall receives a presidential pardon, he will be relieved of the entire penalty but if that falls there remains the hope of his friends that the prison sentence will be suspended because of his age and ill health.

Four Prisoners Still at Liberty

HENDERSON, June 2. (AP)—One of five prisoners who escaped from the county jail here yesterday was still at liberty today, four having been captured.

Shots served as a call to arms at supper time yesterday, and peace officers and citizens soon were on the trail of the five who escaped after attacking D. H. Burnett, county jailer, when he unlocked the cells to give the prisoners their supper.

Curtis (Oklahoma Slim) Burns, held for Muskogee, Okla., and Ed Queen, Ark., authorities for bank robbery, was among those who escaped but were recaptured. One of the escaping prisoners shot at Burnett and also at citizens in escaping.

Thrill Murderer Believed Caught

WEST ORANGE, N. J., June 2. (AP)—Philip K. Knapp, a member of a well-to-do Syracuse family, who had lived under an assumed name six years, was arrested early today on a 1925 indictment, charging him with the "thrill murder" of a cab driver near Camp Mills, Mineola, N. Y.

Pinchot May Be Presidential Timber

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Sentiment among western senators over the prospects of Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania becoming a candidate for the republican presidential nomination next year is being sounded out by some of his friends here.

While the senators receiving the overtures have declined to divulge the names of the Pennsylvania friends, the approaches precipitated much conjecture at the capital. The senators would not indicate their attitudes or discuss the matter openly.

The party will then visit Mr. and Mrs. Noel's daughter, Mrs. Ruth Frizell at Durango, where Mrs. Cole, another daughter, has been visiting the last two months. The Noels and Mr. and Mrs. Cole will return to Pampa about June 15.

LOUIS SCHNEIDER IS GIVEN 59-SECOND LEAD IN RACE

Auto Association Officials Not to Recognize Claim of Harry Hartz, Los Angeles

INDIANAPOLIS, June 2. (AP)—Louis Schneider's winning race car crossed the finish line 59 seconds ahead of that driven by Fred Frame, Los Angeles, in the 500-mile race here last Saturday, the contest board of the American Automobile association ruled last night in disallowing the protest of Harry Hartz, also of Los Angeles, owner of the entry driven by Frame.

Ruling out another protest, the board said official timers' records showed Ralph Hepburn, Los Angeles, nosed out Louis Meyer, South Gate, Calif., for third place by 16 seconds.

The check of the timers' records did reveal, however, that the average speed of Schneider was 96.229 miles per hour instead of 96.128 miles per hour with which he had been credited.

At a banquet last night, drivers were awarded their prizes. Schneider received $29,800 in cash and several trophies. Frame $12,650, and Hepburn $6,350. Prizes were given for the first ten to finish and a $10,000 consolation fund was divided among the other 30 entries, the distribution being on the basis of the distance each covered.

"DARBY" OF TOMORROWS VERY POPULAR

Irish Sweepstakes Will Mean Division of Ten Million to Lucky Persons.

EPSOM, Eng., June 2. (AP)—England's thousands began their annual trek to this birthplace of English racing today for the 748th renewal of the "Darby" tomorrow.

While stablemen and trainers bent to their tasks of bringing the 29 remaining eligible candidates around to top form, railroad train, automobile, ancient horse drawn carriages, aristocratic four-in-hands, airplanes and buses dumped their passengers into this quaint little village. Meanwhile, the turf world at large anxiously awaited the flashing of the winner. To the holders of tickets on the winner and the sweepstake the result means a fortune. The division of the Irish sweepstakes this year provides for distribution of nearly $10,000,000.

As for the horses, not more than two dozen are expected to answer the bugle call. Worth 15,000 pounds added, depending on the amount of money accruing from owners who post additional fees preceding the race, the event, representing millions of dollars in expenditure, is generally run under three minutes over the one and one-half mile horse-shoe shaped course.

Two Americans will seek to take the coveted honors back home and according to the betting odds, stand a good chance. Marshall Field's was quoted at 22 to 1 in the call over yesterday. William Woodward will depend on his American-bred colt, Sir Andrew, a 25 to 1 shot.

MARRIAGE MAY HELP TEX GUINAN

HAVRE, France, June 2. (AP)—Texas Guinan, New York night club hostess, was confronted today with a shower of marriage proposals.

One of them was from Harry Asprey, of London who offered to marry her so she could enter England as an Englishman's wife and later obtain a divorce. She said she was willing to marry either an Englishman or a Frenchman if "it helps me out of this mess."

Judith Dean, toe dancer member of her troupe, and Ralph Cook, comedian, tried to obtain permission of the American consul to be married with a license obtained in New York but he refused on the grounds that three days would be required to get the necessary French legal papers.

Home Town Boy Makes Good in Auto Race

Schaaf Comes Up

Whisper to the effect that Jim Maloney took the dive for Ernie Schaaf have been heard in some of the spots where alleged wise folk gather. Until the quick Maloney knockout, Schaaf never was suspected of having that sort of knock-out judge. But you must remember that Risko knocked out Maloney, too, and Johnny never was suspected of having that kind of fist either. At any rate Maloney is now all dressed up with no place to go, and Schaaf is pretty hot.

Moving Over

An example of the way the old-line golfers are moving over to make room for youth is reflected in the Chicago district. On the honor roll for the district only two of the old-timers find a place among the first 10 names. The veterans are Bob Gardner and Chick Evans, and the babies are Charlie Becka, Ira Couch, George Dawson, Johnny Lehmann, Gus Novotny, Rudy Knepper, Jack Westland and Dick Martin. Of these only Knepper is past 30. Becka is not yet 21.

Shires, Shires

A St. Louis newspaperman was discussing with Owner Phil Ball the shortcomings of the Browns the other day. Ball also owns a controlling interest in the Milwaukee club.

"You need a first baseman," he told Ball, "and Milwaukee has one. I mean Art Shires. Why not send Burns to Milwaukee for Shires?"

And the amazing answer of Mr. Ball was:
"But Milwaukee doesn't want Burns."
Well, well, you don't say!

About Ed Brandt

The sudden success of Ed Brandt, the swift scutpaw of the Braves, after a bad year in 1930, has been one of the puzzles of the big league campaign. Bill McKechnie explains it in this manner:

"Brandt is using his curve. In a recent series with the Giants he used almost nothing but curves." The Braves, by the way, have quite a few roundhouse flingers. Tom Zachary is down in the books as a "nothing pitcher," but it's a fact he has a pretty good curve.

Shedel throws a tantalizing slow curve.

The National league is referred to by baseball men as "a curve ball league." With a collection of curvers such as McKechnie has gathered, some team in the first division is due to be shoved back.

NOBILITY IS ABOLISHED

MADRID, June 2. (AP)—The provisional government has abolished titles of nobility because "Spain has entered a new regime of liberty and democracy."

Batting Order of Pirates Is Altered

PITTSBURGH, June 2. (AP)—Disgusted with the Pirates' inability to hit, Manager Jewel Ens tore up the batting order today and wrote a new one.

The shakeup sends another regular to the bench. First Baseman Gus Suhr is to watch play from the dugout with Shortstop Tommy Thevenen, when left-handed pitching is encountered. Paul Waner is to play first base, Fred Bennett is to be given a chance in right field and Grantham is to drop to sixth place in the batting list.

FWL TO LONGVIEW

Dr. J. C. McKean and Bill Morris, pilot, flew to Longview Saturday in Dr. McKean's Stearman biplane. They will return by way of Dallas where they will stop, and will arrive back in Pampa Thursday. Dr. McKean is considering opening an office at Longview. He is manager of Worley hospital.

Order Reported in Cuba

Order was reported in Cuba yesterday after 24 hours of uncertainty which threatened to bring about a national crisis.

We Save You Money!

HARD GAMES ARE AWAITING MAJOR CLUBS

Intersectional Clashes Will Include That of Chicago on A's Own Grounds.

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
After a day's hiatus in which only one game escaped the rain and the general movement of clubs east and west, intersectional warfare breaks out on both major league fronts today.

Four western members of the American league, invading the Atlantic seaboard for the first time this year, have scant prospects of success against the powerful Philadelphia - Washington - New York combine. The National league's eastern contingent, on the other hand, opens in the west with more concerted strength than it has boasted in several seasons.

Interest centers at St. Louis, where the New York Giants engage the St. Louis Cardinals in what a little later on might be termed a "crucial series." The Brooklyn Robins engage the Chicago Cubs, Boston opens at Pittsburgh and the Phillies meet Cincinnati.

To Chicago falls the thankless task of bearding the Philadelphia Athletics in their own park. St. Louis invades Yankee stadium, Detroit faces Washington and Cleveland meets Boston to round out the American league main.

Their ability to take all extra-inning decisions again stood the Cardinals in good stead yesterday as they nosed out Cincinnati, 6 to 5, in 12 innings. It marked the fifth time the Birds have been forced beyond the regulation nine innings this year and the fifth time they have won.

NEW COLLEGE PRESIDENT STUDIES HIS CHARGE

SHERMAN, June 2. (AP)—Everett Brackin Tucker today studied the problems of his new charge, Austin college, whose president he became yesterday. He succeeded Dr. T. S. Clyce, who guided the institution 30 years.

Many prominent churchmen and laymen were present at the inauguration ceremonies. The Rev. W. A. Rolle of Durant, representing the Oklahoma synod, conducted the installation prayer. Dr. Conway T. Wharton presided.

Because of recent numerous breakages of machinery in factories and on collective farms, the Supreme Court of Soviet Russia has ordered that henceforth "carelessness" will be considered a crime.

The MELODY GIRL by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY BERYL BORDEN, secretary in love with TOMMY WILSON, prevents his attempted elopement with her half-sister, IKENE EVERETT, by kidnapping him with the assistance of her "gang".

Later Tommy rescues one of Beryl's gang from drowning. The girl is blamed by her family. Irene receives the offer of an audition over radio, and again refuses to marry Tommy. She consents to let Beryl accompany her to the studio.

Wally waiting in an ante-room, Beryl sits down at the piano and dreamily croons melodies to the father who died so long ago. Accidentally hearing her, one of the directors is charmed and gives her a private test. They like the velvety tones of her voice and assure her of a contract with MR. GAYLARD. When Beryl tells Irene, whose test is a failure, the latter flies in a rage and says Beryl has made a fool of herself.

Always that thrust from Irene. Beryl winched inwardly. Could her sister have guessed how she felt about Tommy Wilson-how he was the greatest thing in the world to her in spite of her appreciation of his limitations.

Well, whatever Irene thought she'd never get the truth from her lips, Beryl decided, and remained silent.

Irene stormed on until they reached the Pennsylvania station, when verbal exhaustion forced her also into silence. But once they were seated in the Long Island train she took up her grievance again, impelled to questioning by her curiosity.

Beryl would not tell her of the chance she was to have to sing for Mr. Gaylard, the soap manufacturer. After all, she had her own pride and some sense and if Mr. Gaylard did not like her voice she'd never hear the end of it from Irene if she told her of the trial before-hand.

Irene was still talking angrily when they arrived home. The scene that ensued, with their mother in the middle, siding with Irene finally sent Beryl to her room to save herself from crying before them.

"The hard-boiled ingrate," Irene characterized her as Beryl disappeared up the stairs, her head high and an air of jaunty disingenuousness unbecomingly.

She wanted someone to share her unimproved good fortune-to thrill with her over its possibilities. Beryl was not one to enjoy happiness alone. As she was eager to share other people's sorrows and joys she was just as eager to share her own. She liked sympathy when she needed it, and plaudits and congratulations when she deserved them.

Now when she had something tremendous to share there was no one near and dear to her to share it. If in the forlornness of her position she indulged in a little self-pity no one knew it and when next her family saw here there was no trace of the tears she had shed. Rather she affected an unconcern in regard to their sullen criticizing silence, that furthered their impression of her heartlessness.

Mrs. Everett had warned Irene to keep quiet before her father. He'd had a trying day at the store without Beryl's help and his wife knew the instant he entered the house that he would not take part with anyone who started a row, regardless of her husband's displeasure for, like many mild but strong-minded persons, he was loud in battle and she feared his words would be overheard by the neighbors. Next door a family had built up close to the property line, and in summer time, with the windows open -

"Don't get your father started," she had whispered in an aside to Irene just before the family gathered for dinner.

Irene had been upstairs taking a shower bath and dressing for the evening. She had telephoned Tommy to come over after dinner - Beryl had heard her - and when she came into the dining room she was palpably made up to please him. She looked as fresh and daintily as a daisy in dew. Beryl, who had been helping her mother in the kitchen, was more like a flower beside a dusty road.

Mr. Everett, too, looked the tollier. Beryl offered to make him a tomato cocktail and when she brought it, filled with fine ice, he thanked her with a grateful glance.

He was 'too tired to sense the undercurrent of ill feeling that his wife and daughter shared. Other-wise he would not, perhaps, have been so tactless as to ask Irene how her audition came out.

"It was a flop," Irene answered, "and it's all . . ." Behind her father's back her mother shook a warning head at her. She checked her speech but her eyes glared daggers at Beryl.

"Why, that's too bad," her father said sympathetically, but he did not question her further. To a man who had been on his feet all day after sweeping out a grocery store-lifting, heaving, stooping, dragging, weighing and wrapping packages, trying to give service to make up for lack of superior stock, a daughter's aspirations were less interesting than the prospect of rest. Especially when he could leave her future to her mother. His wife could handle these things better than he could, he always argued, and so he had been more or less left out of consideration when Irene's career was discussed.

Mrs. Everett felt no such comfortable acceptance of her daughter's first failure. But she was able to hide her disappointment from her husband because of her belief that Irene had been dealt with unfairly. She still believed what Irene had told her-that Beryl had got them both laughed at at the studio. Beryl had not denied it. Another time and Irene would succeed.

The dinner that Mrs. Everett had prepared as a feast to celebrate Irene's triumph was eaten in silence. Irene was the first to leave the table-to wait for Tommy on the front porch.

Beryl, realizing that it was hopeless to expect assistance from her, washed the dishes in haste for she, too, had made plans for the evening after she'd heard Irene telephoning to Tommy. Irene had not broadly to him at the time that she had some trouble to pour out to him and Beryl had guessed that she meant to accuse her of everything short of murder.

Well, she wasn't going to stay around and get a awful of what Tommy thought about it. Tommy was Irene's man and she could suspect him to sympathize with her sister.

For her part she'd go to her gang and tell them her good news. The kids would appreciate it. When she got them all together she swore them to silence and then confided that she was going to get a chance to sing on the radio. "And we'll make up a code," she said excitedly, "like some of the radio announcers do so they can tell their wives when they'll be home and then I can send messages to you." "Aw, you're gonna sing, net talk. If you talk nobody'll listen to you." "Well, I can cough." "When you going to do it?" "I'll tell you as soon as I'm hired and don't forget not to breathe a word about it." They asked her a lot of questions but she wouldn't keep them out late enough to give all the answers. It was still too early to go home, though. Tommy was sure to be there.

She dismissed her gang and went for a walk along the beach. It was practically deserted and Beryl loved it when she had it alone. There were big boulders strewn along it-one in particular upon which she liked to perch and stare at the lights twinkling across the sound. But tonight she found it occupied, and by Tommy and Irene.

They did not see her as she approached in the darkness, not did she see them until she was close enough to overhear their conversation. They were arguing and what Beryl heard Tommy say set her heart singing with happiness. He did not, apparently, agree with Irene that she had ruined her sister's chances at the broadcasting station. He seemed to think Irene's surmises were absurd.

"Gosh, Irene," he said, "Beryl wouldn't deliberately do a thing like that." "It wasn't a very warm defense, and it was made with a bit of reluctance, as though the defender were forced to make it by an emotion of which he was not proud. Beryl knew that he was taking her part against his will and for a moment she loved him without reservation.

"He has to be fair," she exulted. "He can't help it!" What Irene was thinking of him was distinctly different. To make sure of his allegiance she had made herself as irresistibly attractive as she could. Tommy had been impressed-she had seen that at once-and he had begun again urging her to marry him, she had felt certain that he would be as furious with Beryl as she was.

And he had dared to differ with her. As her hot words poured out into the night Beryl turned away with tender smile in the corners of her mouth. An impulse toward joyous expression sent her cartwheeling down the beach where the sand was smooth and hard. From that night she did not mind the attitude of Irene and her mother. Nor did she tell them of her prospects. But they felt a suppressed glow about her and Irene presented it as a manifestation of envious satisfaction.

Burglar Trap Is Fatal to Maker

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., June 2. (AP)-The death of Dr. Ralcy Husted Bell, apparently a victim of his own burglar trap, was under investigation today.

The body of the silent, naturalist and author was found at Bycamore lodge, his summer home. There was a gunshot wound in the chest. A shot gun set on a closet floor with a wire to the door apparently had been discharged, killing Dr. Bell almost instantly. Death occurred Friday.

The body was discovered by Ollie Major, caretaker of the home. Dr. John J. Sweeney, county coroner, issued a certificate of accidental death and said there were no indications of foul play. State troopers today, however, were looking into the case.

Some years ago Dr. Bell became incensed at what he termed "rampant motorists" who drove over the highways and pulled up flowers and shrubs. He vowed he would put an end to the practice and stretched barbed wire over lanes. He rigged up traps in hidden places and included his own grounds in the elaborate plan.

Later he fixed shotguns about the house and outbuildings so that they would be discharged if any intruder attempted to gain entrance. The gun with which he was killed was wired to the floor at an angle which put the full charge squarely in the chest of an intruder.

JUDGE ORDERS MILK TO QUIET CRYING BABIES

CHICAGO, June 2. (AP) - Every now and then Judge John F. Haas of the landlords and tenants branch of the municipal court, halts the process of the law and says to his bailiff:

"Another bottle of milk, please." The judge does not consume the milk himself but directs the bailiff to give it to crying babies as a means of maintaining silence in his court room. Yesterday a newspaper photographer caught the judge himself feeding milk from a glass to a two-year-old girl.

"That's the way I keep quiet in the court," he said. "Frequently mothers who have been evicted for rent come with little babies. The babies cry, most of the time because they are hungry."

Twelve bottles a day are ordered by the court.

TO LEAVE TOMORROW Miss Pauline McKean and Max McKean are to leave tomorrow for South Texas on a fishing trip. They will travel by automobile. They will be gone two or three weeks.

"Trader Horn" Is Attracting Crowds To La Nora Now

"Trader Horn," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sensational film of the famous book of African adventure, is attracting local people to the La Nora theater. It is the biggest undertaking in the history of adventure films in history.

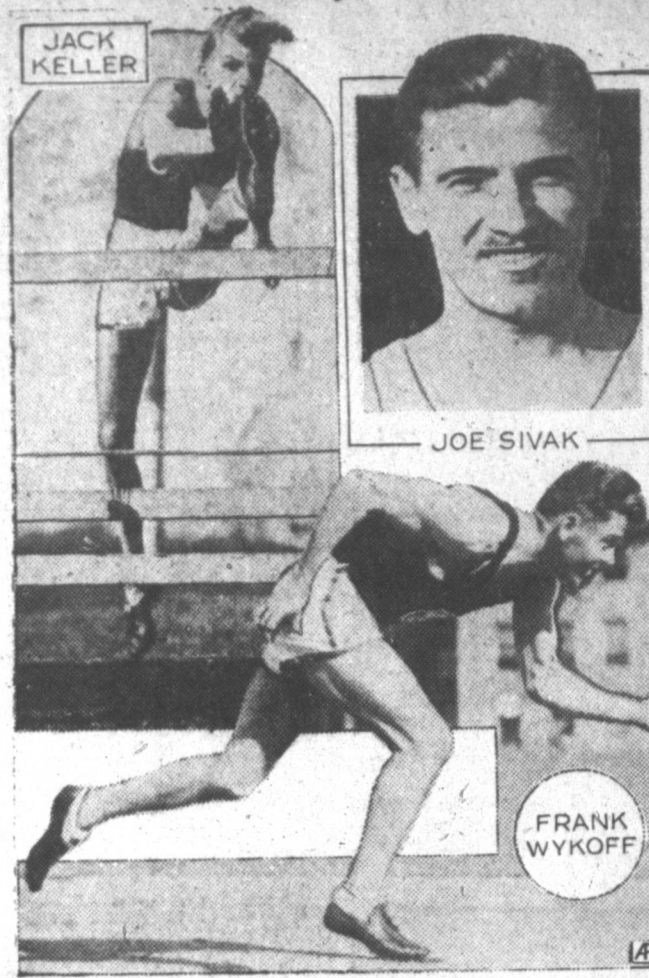

They carried the first and only sound recording apparatus ever brought to Africa's jungles, and filmed and recorded the drama, with wild beasts, savage native dances and ceremonies and other details right on the ground.

They covered British East Africa, the Belgian Congo, and invaded the dreaded Murchison Falls "sleeping sickness" country, in the 25,000-mile "kitchen" trip.

The story as adapted from the famous book by Alfred Aloysius Horn and Ethelreda Lewis, deals with the trader and his protegee, Peri, who promises a woman missionary to find the "White Goddess" of the savage Isorgi, whom she believes to be her daughter, lost in a native raid as a baby.

How they brave the terrors of the jungle and the savage head hunters, find the girl, escape, both fall in love with her, and Trader Horn's dramatic sacrifice at the end to send the two younger people to safety are among the elements of the tale. It binds together wild elephant charges, fights between lions and leopards, thrills among crocodiles, the charge of a savage rhinoceros, and other terrific natural drama of the jungles.

"Men of Troy" Formidable

Big track names entered in the National Collegiate Athletic association championships June 5 and 6 at Chicago. Jack Keller, Ohio state sophomore wizard on the hurdles. Joe Sivak, Butler miler.

By JOHN W. STAHR CHICAGO, June 2. (AP)—Southern California against the field—with no takers for the field in sight! Such is the lineup for the 10th annual National Collegiate Athletic association track and field championships at Stag field here June 5-6.

Equipped with a personnel that represents 42 1-7 of the 55 27-70 points with which they swamped other contenders a year ago, and with a few capable added starters, Dean Cromwell's Trojans appear likely to roll up one of the most remarkable totals in modern track history.

The unusually even distribution of points in this year's Western conference meet indicates that no one squad from the Big Ten may be expected to come close to the versatile California crew. The University of Washington has lost by graduation the three athletes who gained 38 of the 40 points with which she finished second last year.

Frank Wykoff, winner of the century, and Jim Stewart, high-jump champion, each accounted for 10 Trojans points a year ago and will be back.

Vic Williams, second in the 440 for eight points; Dick Barber, third in the broad jump for six; Bob Hall, fourth in the discus for four, and Bill McGeagh and Ernie Payne, who won fifth places in the 880 and low hurdles, all return.

Supplementing this veteran crew are Milton Maurer, sprinter; Bill Craber, pole vaulter, who has finished with 14 feet; Bill Carlis and Bill Stokes, low and high hurdles; Cliff Halstead, a better-than-4:20 miler; Art Woessner, a 48.4 quarter-miler, and others.

Against this sweep of sunkissed speedsters will be pitted a field of unquestioned class—as good as the country affords—but its leaders are from a wide range of schools.

Wisconsin, new Big Ten champion, scrapped together 11 1-10 points last year, all in field events. If the Badger runners, especially Davidson in the 440, Kirk in the mile and Wright in the two-mile, perform as surprisingly as they did in the conference titular meet, the Cardinals should have a sizeable total, but scarcely enough to push the men of Troy.

Stanford will attempt to stave the Trojan Tide with Hee Dyer, sprinter; Maynor Shove and Ben Eastman, quarter-milers; Poge Smith, hurdler; Arnold West, broad jumper; and Jones, discus thrower, all top-notchers.

Ken Churchill, defending javelin champion, is the University of California's chief contribution to the ranks of coast invaders. Besides Wykoff, Stewart and Churchill, champions in five other events, will defend their 1930 laurels. Joe Sivak of Butler and Harold Manning of Wichita will try again to run away from the boys from bigger schools in the mile and two-mile, though Sivak may switch this year to the 880.

Lee Sentman, Illinois flash, opposed by the sensational Jack Keller of Ohio State, will seek to duplicate or better his performance of last year, when he won the low hurdles and took second in the highs.

Ed Gordon, Iowa negro, and Tommy Wayne of Northwestern will defend their broad jump and pole vault championships.

Arltelle Briand was welcomed with widest enthusiasm by a solid mass of admirers when his train arrived in Pampa from Geneva.

Dr. Selecman Is Voted Confidence of Official Board

DALLAS, June 2. (AP)—Dr. Charles C. Selecman, president of Southern Methodist university, today held a vote of confidence from the board of trustees of the institution. Along with its action on the president, the board also voted confidence in its executive committee of which R. H. Shuttles is chairman.

The board also accepted the resignation of Dr. R. N. Blackwell, business manager of athletics at the institution the past nine years, to become effective Jan. 1, 1932.

Crude Oil Hits Prices Of 1912

TULSA, Okla., June 2. (AP)—The Mid-continent crude oil market had dropped today to its lowest level since 1912.

The new prices, ranging from 25 to 37 cents a barrel and representing reductions from 18 to 30 cents a barrel, were initiated yesterday by the Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company of Indiana.

Other large purchasers including the Mid-continent Petroleum corporation, Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company, Continental Oil company, Champlin Refining company and Prairie Oil and Gas company, met the Stanolind prices, making the lowered schedule general over the area.

The price cuts prompted Wesley E. Disney, congressman-elect from the first Oklahoma district, to send a telegram to President Hoover urging a special session of congress to investigate "the unmerited reductions and stabilize the oil industry."

Kiwanians Will Have Picnic Today

About 40 members of the Pampa Kiwanis club, their wives and friends will gather in front of the Schneider hotel at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon and proceed by automobile to the Mel Davis ranch for a picnic.

The picnic is being given in place of the monthly Kiwanis ladies' night. The Mel Davis ranch is southeast of LeFors. A baseball game between two sections of the club is to be one of the main features of the picnic, Paul Hill, president, announced.

Commission Suit Near Conclusion

The court's charge and the counsel's arguments will be presented to the jury this afternoon in the suit of Alex Schneider against Dr. A. McClory and the Pampa Refining company—now being tried in the 114th district court, Judge W. I. Game-well, presiding.

Schneider is asking for approximately $30,000 commission in connection with the sale of the Pampa Refining company to the Wilcox Oil and Gas company. The testimony in the trial has lasted three days.

Americans Are Starting Well In Scottish Meet

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, June 2. (AP)—Paced by MacDonald Smith, returning to his homeland in search of his first major golf title, the nine leading American professionals competing in the British open golf championship today qualified for the tournament proper, beginning tomorrow.

Smith's record-breaking 71 at old Carnoustie, in the sunshine, added to his record-breaking 70 at Pan-mure, Barry, in the rain yesterday gave him net list honors with a 36-hole total of 141.

Seven strokes back came Horton Smith and Johnny Farrell each with 148. Tony Manero scored 149, Gene Sarazen 151, Joe Turnesa 152, Joe Kirkwood 154, and Willie Hunter and Tommy Armour 155.

"TEXAS" OF NEW YORK

AUSTIN, June 2. (AP)—Governor Ross S. Sterling said today, in response to a cable from Edgar H. Shumate, a former American newspaper man now in Paris, he would take no action to intercede with the state department in behalf of Texas Guinan who was refused admittance to France.

"As far as I am concerned, Texas Guinan is a citizen of New York and not of Texas. I shall take no action in the case," Governor Sterling said.

Wife of Slain Man Is Nervous

MADISONVILLE, June 2. (AP)—Funeral services were arranged today for Carl T. Harper, former district judge shot and killed in his home here yesterday, allegedly while he and his wife were scuffling over a pistol.

Mrs. Harper, in a highly nervous condition, was staying at the home of her mother here. She said the shots were fired in self-defense. County Attorney Luther Broadway said he believed no charges would be filed.

COTTON WEAKER

NEW ORLEANS, June 2. (AP)—Cotton had a very weak opening today owing to generally lower foreign cables. First trades showed losses of 12 to 16 points. The market continued easy after the start owing to fair weather in the belt and absence of sustained support. July traded down to 8.35, October to 8.68 and December to 8.88, or 16 to 17 points below yesterday's close.

GRAINS FIRM

CHICAGO, June 2. (AP)—Unexpectedly firm in Liverpool wheat quotations and reported anxiety abroad regarding crop prospects in Canada led to higher prices here for grains early today. There also were official advices that the Canadian government would absorb 5 cents a bushel on the cost of wheat exported.

Opening 1-8 to 1-2 cent higher, wheat afterward rose further. Corn started unchanged to 3-8 up and subsequently showed a general advance.

Consider your Adam's Apple!!* Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants "Reach for a LUCKY instead"

When you visit your physician for your periodic health examination, one of the very first things he asks you to do is to open your mouth wide, and to say "Ah." He is examining the delicate lining of your throat. "Ah!" There is not a man or woman who could even make this simple sound, if in the throat there were no Adam's Apple. For your Adam's Apple is your larynx—the voice box containing your vocal chords. And what a delicate piece of Nature's handiwork the Adam's Apple is. A slight cold—even a tiny particle lodged in the throat—and our voice often grows husky. In acute cases, we may even lose our voice for several days. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants—Reach for a LUCKY instead—remember, LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette in America that through its exclusive "TOASTING" process expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. No wonder 20,679 American physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating. LUCKIES are always kind to your throat. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."
