Texas Guinan and Her Dancing Gang Sail for Gotham

HAVER, France, June 3. (AP)—Texas Guinan and her dancing "gang" sailed as first class passengers for New York today on the liner Paris at the expense of the French line.

"Broadway, here we come," they shouted as the liner headed out to sea.

The troupe was conveyed to the pier in two French line buses. Miss Guinan, accompanied by her manager, John Stein, made a brief visit to the offices of the line and joined the party at the pier by taxi.

They were all in good spirits, shouting "they will be inviting us back." The American hostess, wearing a velvet riding habit, black patent leather boots and a white beret, boarded the boat amid cheers.

La Guinan had a heated argument with her European manager, William Edelson, before embarking, saying that her failure to enter the country was due to "poor management."

Harry Aslett, the Londoner who proposed marriage to Miss Guinan, with the understanding that she could enter England as his wife and then divorce him, arrived this morning from Plymouth to press his case. She was too preoccupied with sailing arrangements to give him much attention, but she said "stick around, there may be something doing yet."

As the steamer pulled out Aslett, was left disconsolate on the pier with "so long, sucker," as Miss Guinan's only farewell. He didn't have money enough to get back to London.

"I was a sucker to come 3,000 miles to go to jail," Miss Guinan said just before she left, "when every jail in America is waiting for me."

She is not angry with France, she said, and she threatened to come back again.

Alsop Case Is Reversed on Error By Trial Judge

AUSTIN, June 3. (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals today reversed and remanded the case of John Alsop, Fort Worth police officer, convicted of murder in connection with the death of a negro during an alleged robbery of the Polytechnic bank at Fort Worth.

Alsop was convicted of the murder of Isaac Tate April 10, 1930.

The state's theory in the trial was that Alsop and others had induced Tate and another negro to go to the bank and attempt to rob it so they could be shot by Alsop and the others and collect a $5,000 reward.

The case was reversed on the grounds of a faulty charge by the judge to the jury in the matter of accomplice witnesses. The opinion criticized the court for failure to instruct that a defendant cannot be convicted on the corroborative testimony of accomplices. The appeals court said "it is to be regretted" that the case must be reversed on a principle of law of such long standing.

The trial court also was criticized for its action in calling in the jury and asking the foreman how the jury stood.

COLLAPSE OF MARKET WILL BE DISCUSSED

Panhandle Prices Slide from $1.56 per Barrel to About 30 Cents Since Beginning of Proration Here.

ISSUE IN COURT

East Texas Is Blamed When Midcontinent Is Pulled Down to Figures Existing in Flush Pools.

Additional slicing of the Panhandle crude oil price schedule is expected to add zest to the meeting of royalty and lease men, landowners, and small operators in Amarillo tomorrow afternoon.

In complimenting the NEWS-POST for its energetic stand in opposition to the proposed Howsley proration plan, J. M. Sanford and his committee arranging the Thursday session said that "this law is so vicious in its scope and effect that it is revolutionary and would embark upon the management of the oil business through bureaus, and commissions and other governmental bodies and would engage in a program of regulations of the details of a great industry through a state board, regardless of supply and demand."

Price Collapses

It was pointed out that the Panhandle was the first field to adopt proration with a view of stabilizing prices and production. At the time the plan was adopted, Gray county crude oil was selling for $1.56 a barrel. Crude oil schedules have repeatedly been sliced until the price is around 30 cents a barrel. The effect has been tremendous in depreciation of leases, royalty values, city property values, and in general unemployment and business depression.

Seaports Wide Open

It is feared that the special session of the legislature will attempt to enact the Howsley plan, which would put the oil industry at the mercy of the railroad commission, allowing for proration according to market demand yet leaving the seaports open for importation of crude oil and refined products from Russia, Venezuela, and other countries.

The Amarillo meeting will be held in the banquet room of the Amarillo hotel tomorrow at 3 o'clock. Delegations from various Panhandle cities will attend.

HOUSTON, June 3. (AP)—The Humble Oil and Refining company today announced it would discontinue posting prices for crude oil in the east Texas fields. At the same time, Humble met price reductions in Texas put into effect yesterday by the Texas company to meet Midcontinent reductions begun by the Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing company and followed by other purchasers.

As Low as 25 Cents

The Texas prices of yesterday, which became the Humble prices today, carry a top of 37 cents per barrel for north Louisiana, north Texas, north central Texas, and central Texas, 20 to 30 cents under the previous level. The scale thus is the same as the new one issued by Stanolind, which quotes oil as low as 25 cents.

In the Gulf coast fields, Humble likewise followed Texas, abolishing the distinction as between "A" and "B" grades and making it all one grade. The highest Gulf coast price was cut from 91 cent to 80 cents and the low is now 44 cents. Gray county was posted at 24 to 30 cents, a decline in the top figure, of 15 cents.

Skeleton Must Stay in Closet

CHICAGO, June 3. (AP)—Anyone who thinks Mrs. C. S. Allison was pleased with what he saw when she looked out of her apartment window is mistaken.

Staring at her from a window across the way was a skeleton, seated in a chair, with one leg on the sill and a spectral finger pointed derisively in her direction.

She called the police. They came and informed member of a medical fraternity that hereafter they would have to keep their skeleton in a closet out of sight.

Men Pay Fines Following Accident

Kelsey Harkins and C. M. Raley pleaded guilty and paid fines on charges of intoxication this morning in corporation court.

Harkins and Raley were arrested last night by city officers following an automobile accident at the corner of West Foster avenue and Russell street, when their Ford car crashed into a Chevrolet driven by Mrs. Chilton of Wichita Falls.

Both Raley and Mrs. Chilton were slightly injured in the crash. They were taken to Pampa hospital for treatment.

Girl Is Killed in Bus Trip

Child Leans Head Out of Window and Bumps Into Telephone Pole.

HOUSTON, June 3. (AP)—One girl was killed and two were injured today in a bus accident at the entrance of a rice mill in industrial section. The children were members of the Boy and Girl Builders' clubs who were being entertained with the bus trip by the Optimists club.

Lydia Bell Moulds, 12, was killed. Companions said she thrust her head out of the bus window and struck it against a telephone post.

Velma Morrison, 12, and Mary R. Gilley, 16, were bruised but were not seriously injured. The Gilley child fell from the bus. How the third victim was hurt was not immediately learned. The police began an investigation.

Three buses, loaded with children, visited the rice plant. The mishap occurred in the first vehicle to enter.

The buses were chartered by the club as a part of the entertainment being given the Builder clubs this week.

L. Jack Clark, director of activities of the boy builders, was sitting beside P. Hendrix, bus driver, at the time of the tragedy.

"I heard a commotion from inside the bus just as we were entering the rice mill gate," said Clark. "I looked back and saw a little girl falling out of a window. She appeared to be trying to hold on to the girl sitting beside her."

McLean Boy Is Victim of Fall

A fall from a wagon Monday brought death to Virgil Lloyd Tedder, three years old, this morning while he was being taken in an ambulance from his home at McLean to a local hospital.

Attendants at the hospital discovered the child was dead when he was brought into the hospital. He suffered a fractured skull in the fall. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Tedder of McLean.

The child is survived by one sister, Carmen Allen, besides his parents. The body is at the Stephenson mortuary. Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Burial will be at McLean tomorrow or the next day.

Mrs. S. G. Surratt is visiting her mother in Oklahoma City. Mrs. Surratt is accompanied by her two children.

U. S. Girl, 15, Is Toast of France

NEA Kansas City Bureau. Betty Smith, 15-year-old daughter of Mayor Bryce Smith of Kansas City, Mo., is designated by Marshal Louis Hubert Lyautey of France as "the prettiest girl in the United States."

The marshal proposed a toast to her when he was host recently to American mayors and their families who are touring France.

Lip Readers Have Jolly Time During Chicago Contests

By RUTH BALDWIN COWAN CHICAGO, June 3. (AP)—Miss Frances Harrod Downe of Washington, D. C., is the champion lip reader of the United States.

She won the honor last night, defeating four contenders, in a contest conducted by the American Federation of Organizations for the Aid of Hearing at its annual convention.

When seven years old, scarlet fever affected Miss Downe's hearing. Today she is totally deaf in one ear and can hear only slightly out of the other. But she has gone through high school with her more fortunate schoolmates and is on the threshold of college.

As the hour for the lip-reading tournament approached, half a hundred delegates from Hard of Hearing leagues throughout the country gathered in a hotel ballroom. The audience—except those who could not hear at all and those who could hear normally—adjusted audiphones, which had been especially attached to the backs of their chairs.

In various sections of the room were relay stations. At these were grouped those who could not hear. As he heard the speakers, he silently moved her lips and those who could read lips thus followed the program.

The tournament itself was a mystery to those who could not read lips and high entertainment—judging from the applause and mirth—to those who could.

The five contestants—Miss Downe, Miss Anna J. Loos of Philadelphia, who won second place; Miss Florence Linnell of Chicago, Miss Marion C. Ross of Rochester, N. Y., and Mrs. Cora C. Weston of Philadelphia—in turn repeated orally over the microphone what they lip-read.

Negro Assailant Is Under Arrest

Pat Fisher, local negro, wanted in connection with the fatal shooting of Clarence "Geecy" Wilson, another negro, in the "Flatland" last month, was arrested yesterday in Henrietta, Okla., and is being held for Gray county officers. The shooting was the aftermath of a dice game in which Wilson was the winner.

According to a statement of witnesses, Fisher accused Wilson of having a negro woman "hoodoo" him in the game. Some time after the game ended Fisher returned to the house seeking the woman and in an argument with Wilson the shooting followed. Fisher recovered his money and fled.

Officers will return Fisher to Pampa.

MISS GLOVER RETURNS

Miss Betty Louise Glover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Glover, 1019 East Francis, returned to Pampa yesterday from Denton, where she was a sophomore during the last school term at the College of Industrial Arts. Miss Glover, one of the most popular students of the school, is president of the Junior class next year.

Neal Powers, local attorney, has returned from a business trip to Kansas City.

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Cloudy and unsettled tonight; Thursday cloudy, scattered showers in north and east portions, colder in north portion.

—AND A SMILE

ACCIDENT ON NEW MEXICO ROAD FATAL

Judge L. S. Kinder of Plainview Is Victim Last Night Near Melrose When His Car Strikes Trailer.

COMPANION HURT

Jurist Came to This Section in 1889 and Was First District Attorney in Many Counties of Panhandle.

PLAINVIEW, June 3. (AP)—Former District Judge L. S. Kinder of Plainview was killed instantly last night near Melrose, N. M., when the automobile in which he was riding with Fred Lowe, Plainview, struck the trailer of a truck parked on the highway. Lowe was not seriously hurt.

Lowe said the truck and trailer were without lights and his machine struck the trailer in attempting to pass another car. Kinder's neck was broken. Two men were reported to have been sleeping in the truck when the crash occurred. An inquest was to be held this afternoon.

Kinder came to Plainview in 1889 and was active in development of this section. He served as the first district attorney and as first district judge in several West Texas counties.

Survivors are his widow and a brother, T. A. Kinder, Brownsville.

Pearson Returns From Big Race

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pearson and children returned yesterday from Indianapolis, Ind., where they saw the national automobile races on the world's largest speedway. Mr. Pearson, who admits that he is something of an auto racing fan, reports that there were thrills and spills aplenty.

While in Indianapolis, the Pearsons visited their daughter, Miss Edith Pearson; Mr. Pearson's brother, Edgar Pearson, and his mother, Mrs. S. E. Pearson. They also visited a sister of Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Ann Saunders, at Brownstown, Ill., returning to Pampa. They were gone a week.

While in Indiana, Mr. Pearson resumed his acquaintance with prominent members of the American Legion and Forty and Eight.

Funeral For Pampa Graduate Will Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services for J. Vernon Culverhouse, 1929 graduate of Pampa high school, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock at the First Methodist church under the direction of Stephenson Mortuary with the Rev. F. W. O'Malley and the Rev. Tom W. Brabham in charge. Interment will be made in Pampa cemetery. The body arrived at the mortuary this morning by train from Ottawa, Ill.

Culverhouse lived in Pampa with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Culverhouse, four years from 1929. He is survived by his parents, two brothers, Glenn and Cecil, and a sister, Freda. Pallbearers will be 1929 graduates of Pampa high school.

The youth was instantly killed Monday afternoon near Ottawa when a truck he was driving for a construction company overturned. His parents reside at Knoxville, Ia., but his mother and sister were visiting in Pampa when news of the tragedy was received.

As a high school student, Culverhouse was active in theatricals and debating.

Miss Opal Brooks, a former employe of the Worley hospital, left this morning for her home in Fayetteville, Ark.

BANKERS WRITE TO FARMERS

Living at home as the best solution of the farmers' problem is being forcefully suggested by bankers of Memphis, Lakeview, Turkey, Estelline, Clarendon, Hedley, Childress, Kirkland, Tell, Wellington, Dodsenville, and Quitaque in the form of letters.

A copy is presented herewith: "The present agricultural conditions and the prospect for the prices of all agricultural commodities in the future suggest that a program of live-at-home for the farmer is imperative.

"We wish to point out to the farmers of this territory that from our viewpoint the time has come when it behooves every farmer to grow his food and feed at home, consisting of fruit, vegetables, poultry, meat, and milk, and have these products preserved in sufficient quantities to feed a family at least one year, and a two-year supply of feed for all livestock. It is an utter impossibility to produce any one crop (particularly cotton) and meet your obligations. One-crop programs have always proved disastrous.

"We have no disposition to dictate to our farmer customers, but it is our seasoned judgment and experience that unless a live-at-home policy is adopted harder times are ahead. Therefore, it will be the policy of the following banks to base their farm loans in the future, beginning with 1932, on whether or not the farmer is following the program as outlined above.

"This statement is made at this time so farmers may plan their 1931 farming activities accordingly."

It is to be presumed that the banks will financially assist the farmers in changing their methods as outlined. It costs money to change from the simple one-crop plan to the more complicated system of living at home.

A few years ago, while the rest of the world was recovering from the war and was buying chiefly with capital lent by American investors, the hue and cry in America was for more production. But this has radically changed since that time. Production, which by use of machinery and intensive organization made gigantic strides, outstripped the power of consumers to buy. Moreover, American brains and machinery have helped other nations to raise their production figures.

This tendency meant the death of one-crop systems on the basis of mass production. It is necessary that the system of the last decade be altered, largely because one-crop incomes are not great enough to permit living off the products of other industries. At the same time, the farmers may be depended to use their good judgment. There are a number of farm products which can be bought more cheaply than produced.

This decade must see more emphasis upon distribution and less upon production.

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, June 3. (NEA).—Commercial history in the last few years appears to have damaged the theory that Europe was on its last legs.

It makes a lot of difference to this country. No one disputes the growing interdependence of the two continents. Europe provides half our export markets and the percentage of loss in exports to Europe during the period of depression has been less than that in our export markets and the percentage of loss in exports to Europe during the period of depression has been less than that in our exports to any other continent.

The United States is more important to Europe as a source of supplies than as an export market, it was pointed out by economists at the International Chamber of Commerce congress here, and Europe is more important to America as an export market than as a source of supplies.

Despite foreign protests at our high tariffs and international debt payments, monographs, reports and speeches at the congress were in essential agreement that Europe had begun a period of convalescence from her post-war illness and that Europe commercial progress would continue despite the world-wide depression. When the depression arrived, her exports to America had been increasing and she was again holding her own in the markets of the world.

European delegates brought statistics to show that 1926 to 1929 industrial output increased more rapidly in many European countries than in the United States and from 1929 to 1930, the first full calendar year of depression, it decreased more rapidly in the United States than in the leading countries of Europe.

Foreign trade values decreased everywhere in 1930, they said, but the shrinkage was less marked in Europe's leading countries than in the United States.

Although 1929, except for 1920, was America's record year for foreign trade, Europe's share of international trade had risen from 49.6 per cent in 1926 to 52.2 per cent in 1929.

Between 1926 and 1928 European consumption of such basic raw materials as coal, fuel oils, copper, lead, zinc, tin, aluminum, rayon, wool, rubber and cocoa increased while American consumption decreased, according to figures presented by Alberto Pirelli, the Italian industrialist, who was chairman of the Europe-United States committee which had supervised an immense amount of research and produced many long reports for the congress.

Also, said Signor Pirelli, although the United States owns 75 per cent of the world's operating automobiles the number of new registrations of motor cars in 1930 was 453,000 in Europe and only 123,000 in the United States. John H. Fahey, the American publisher, former president of the international chamber, said the trade of Europe as a whole had expanded at practically the same rate as that of the United States except for the war period.

Fahey also made the interesting observation that it was an open question, raised by able economists, whether living standards in the United States had risen more rapidly than in Europe. Comparisons, he said, might be merely matters of opinion and the variations simply those represented by different tastes and attitudes of mind.

In a careful examination of 1930 from the American standpoint, he showed that our foreign trade had fallen off considerably more in value than in volume, owing to lower commodity prices. American foreign trade reached a peak of $13,500,000,000 in 1920, fell almost by one-half to $7,000,000,000 in 1921, reached $9,200,000,000 in 1928 and $9,600,000,000 in 1929, only to fall to $6,900,000,000 in 1930. The last total was 28 per cent below 1929 and 25 per cent below the average for the previous five years.

But although our exports fell 27 per cent from 1929 value to $3,843,000,000 in 1930, the department of commerce, making adjustment for price changes, has estimated that the quantity of our exports dropped only 19 per cent. And imports of $3,061,000,000 for 1930, which was 30 per cent off from 1929, represented a quantity decrease of only about 15 per cent.

Wheat Harvest To Be About June 20

AMARILLO, June 3. (AP)—Delayed somewhat by late spring freezes and recent heavy rains throughout most of the territory, the wheat harvest in the Texas Panhandle will not begin until about June 20.

A comparatively small amount of the acreage in lower West Texas, on the South Plains and in the lower Panhandle, lying north of Wichita Falls, will be ready for harvest by June 10, but the bulk of the crop will be harvested during the last week of June and the first week of July.

Counties lying north of Lubbock are said to have 2,650,000 acres planted to wheat, and estimates of the yield range from 35 million to 45 million bushels. The yield per acre is estimated at from 15 to 20 bushels, but from 4 to 6 bushels above the average. The yield will vary because of an undetermined amount of damage resulting from the late freezes and dry weather in scattered sections. Much of the grain is said to be blighted in spots, and some farmers are cutting it for hay.

Grain men say that early estimates of the Panhandle yield are unreliable because of the great amount of damage that may result from hot winds and hail before harvest time. Damage from hail so far has been negligible.

Every piece of harvest machinery available, including binders discarded in recent years, will be put into use to handle the big crop. Harvest costs will be the lowest on record.

NANCY CARROLL TO DIVORCE HUSBAND

NEW YORK, June 3. (AP)—Jack Kirkland, playwright, today confirmed reports that his wife, Nancy Carroll, screen actress, had filed suit in Mexico for divorce. Today was the seventh anniversary of their wedding.

The action, Kirkland said he understood, was filed in Nogales.

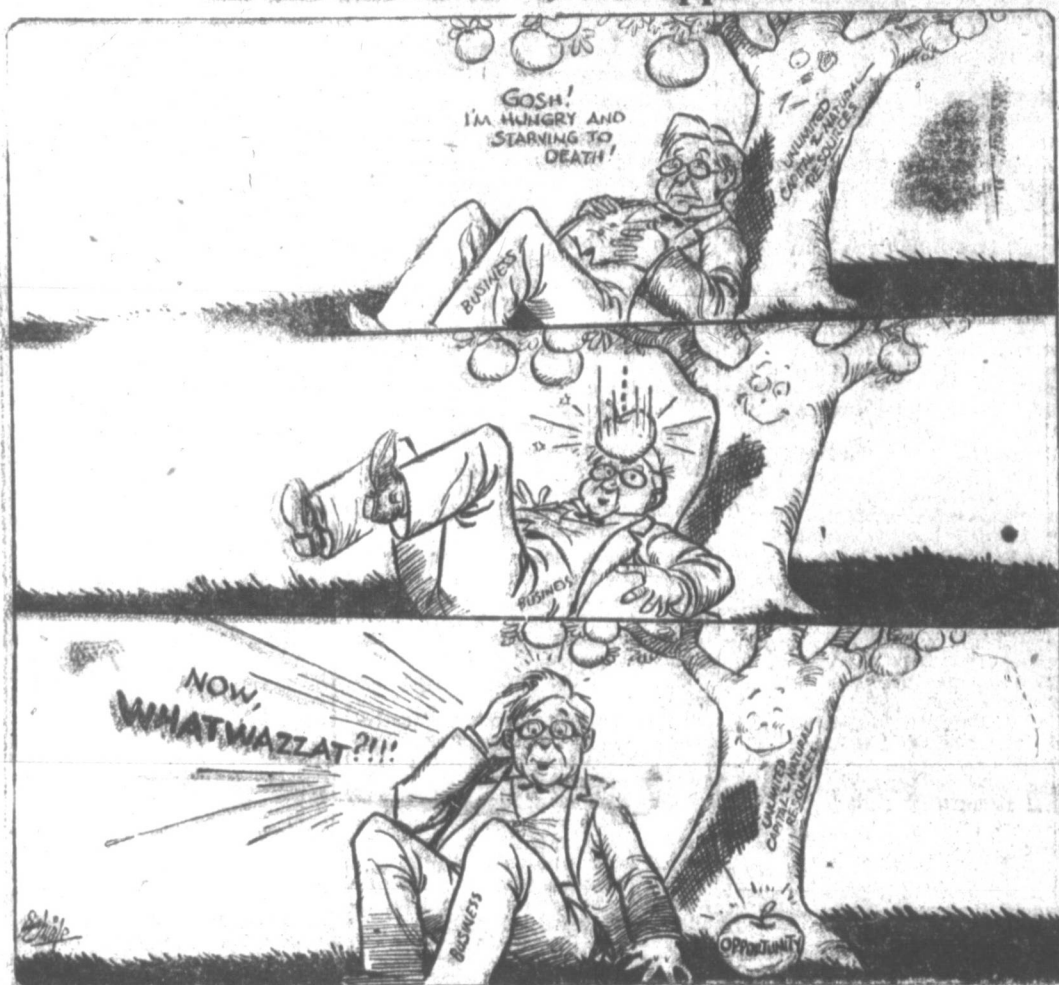

"Nancy and I have parted the best of friends," he said. "Neither of us wanted this to happen, but it was unavoidable. We hold each other in admiration and respect. Nancy is genuine, unspoiled and entirely worthy of the place she has won for herself.

"Somewhere along the line of romance just went out the window. We both came to the realization that to continue being happy we must respect each other's independence.

The divorce grounds were reported here as "incompatibility."

"TEXAS HISTORY MOVIES"

Some FEMININE Fancies

This writer has taken up a new pastime—that of learning to play golf. It's a great game if Old Sol is kind to one's neck and arms and leaves one in condition to try a second time.

Noticing the sunburn, a local merchant saw an opportunity to render service and make a sale at the same time, so today the society editor is wearing a new 10-gallon hat. As Colonel William Eastwood of Dallas said, "If this hat just had a propeller, we wouldn't need a plane."

And that's not the only thing new. We remembered Miss Myrtle Miller's suggestion, "Cotton hose with cotton dresses," and today we are wearing a new pair of cotton hose. Every one at the office declares they are silk, which only goes to prove that we can do our part in boosting the Texas industry by wearing cotton, and yet look just as nice as those wearing silk.

Speaking of cotton, had you noticed all the pretty cotton materials in the Pampa show window? All seem to be cooperating in making national cotton week a big success.

One lonely man is Sam Fenberg. His wife and little son, Charles Barry, will not return until Sunday. Accompanied by Mrs. Joe Lazarus and little daughter, Charlotte (Kiki), they are visiting relatives in Galveston, Dallas, and other Texas points. Mr. Fenberg is taking great pride in showing attractive photographs of his young son to friends who enter his store.

We have just learned that Miss Clara Lee Shewmaker will accompany Miss Aurelia Miller to the national meeting of Business and Professional Women in Richmond July 6. With such an inspiring meeting as was held in Amarillo by the state organization, we are expecting the Richmond gathering to be one of unusual significance, and we are proud to be so well represented.

A quilt may be a practical cover designed primarily for warmth, but there is many a quilt which also represents beauty, memories, and traditions. The fact will be impressed when women of the Presbyterian church hold their quilt show here June 11, 12, and 13. Mrs. T. W. Sweetman and Mrs. D. W. Canfield will enter quilts more than a hundred years old and Mrs. S. E. Shaver will submit a quilt with the date 1840 woven into it. All kinds of attractive quilts made by people in Pampa and surrounding territory also will be entered.

Were we to visit the University of Texas library, Austin, we might find half of a home-spun and some seven covered in gay patterns more than one hundred years old. It was brought to Texas from Virginia in a covered wagon about 1830 by Wallace Maxwell and his wife, Polly Curry Maxwell, and was even then considered practically worn out. It is now considerably patched in order that it may be held together. The other half of the relic is in the possession of Mrs. Alfred Ben Atkinson, to whom it was bequeathed.

COMING EVENTS

THURSDAY Division 6 of the Missionary council, First Christian church, will hold an evening meeting at 8:15 o'clock in the home of Mrs. L. C. Peddicord, 907 E. Francis.

Rebekah lodge will hold a regular meeting.

American Legion auxiliary will meet at 8 o'clock in the legion hut.

Miss Christine Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook, has returned from Dallas, where she was attending the Hockaday School for Girls. Miss Mary Ellen Cook will return tomorrow.

SOCIAL GROUPS ARE ENTERTAINED ON TUESDAY One Dish Meals Are Prepared by Home Demonstration Agent

PARTIES GIVEN BY MEMBERS OF VARIOUS CLUBS

Attractive parties were given yesterday afternoon for various social clubs of Pampa. Mrs. Mel Davis entertained members of the Contract Bridge club in her home on North Christine street. At the close of the games, Mrs. Floyd Senter was favored for high cut and Mrs. John Sturgeon for high score.

A dainty ice course was served to Mesdames W. J. Cottrill, John Sturgeon, Henry Thut, Cook, Floyd Senter, Phillip R. Pond, J. H. Kley and the hostess. MRS. FAULKNER IS AMUSU HOSTESS Mrs. W. J. Smith made high score when members of the Amusu club enjoyed an afternoon of bridge in the home of Mrs. Siler Faulkner.

TWO ARE HONORED BY LONDON BRIDGE

Two members, Mrs. W. E. Coffee and Mrs. Dick Hughes, were honored with a surprise shower in connection with the party for the London Bridge club in the home of Mrs. W. M. Fraser. The dining table was candle-lighted and was centered with a big white stork. It bore many attractive gifts for the guests of honor.

TRIPLE ACE GROUP IS COMPLETED

Mrs. L. R. Hartel was hostess to the Triple Ace Bridge club at her home on Sunset drive Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Williams won high score and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson won second high. At the close of the evening a salad course was served to the following members: Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Curlock, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Broughton, and the host and hostess.

MOTHER MAKES BETTER GRADES THAN DAUGHTER

EVANSTON, Ill., June 3. (P) — Betty Coed has been outclassed by her mother.

The Betty Coed in this instance is Betty Seelye, daughter of Mrs. Nettie Seelye, who has been going to school at Northwestern university since last fall with her mother.

Mrs. Seelye entered college to complete the work toward a bachelor of science degree which she began as a girl. At the time of her entrance her daughter, then the youngest girl ever admitted to the university, began her work as a freshman.

The mother and her daughter have had to work their way. Mrs. Seelye got a job in a department store. Betty worked as a waitress in a sorority house.

Both said they enjoyed their college year immensely. "And we understand each other much better than we did before," Mrs. Seelye said.

Mobeetie W. M. S. Members Attend Social Meeting

MOBEETIE, June 3. — Approximately 45 guests enjoyed the hospitality of the Baptist W. M. S. Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. W. Love, with Methodist W. M. S. members as guests of honor. Games and contests furnished diversion for the afternoon and Mrs. Brinton favored the guest with two readings, "Our Family Album" and "Orphan Annie." Miss Adatee gave three vocal solos.

At the close of the afternoon delicious refreshments were served to the guests.

AZOR OFFICERS HOLD MEETING

Mrs. Bonnie Rose was hostess Tuesday afternoon to 12 officers at the Azor class when the group held a business session at La Nora confectionette. Refreshments were served during the afternoon. The president, Mrs. Workman, presided for the meeting, during which plans were made to hold a meeting of the entire class June 9 in the home of Mrs. P. Post and another officers meeting June 16 in the home of Mrs. W. E. Bell. Mrs. Clyde Garner led in prayer.

WAYSIDE GROUP HOLDS MEETING HERE TUESDAY

One dish meals were prepared and discussed by Miss Myrtle Miller, county home demonstration agent, at a meeting of the Wayside club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. W. MeJunkin.

In one instance, Miss Miller spread mayonnaise on a slice of bread and placed over this slices of tomatoes and one slice of pickle. This she toasted, and the dish was declared tasty by the club members.

More Elaborate Dish A more elaborate dish was prepared with green beans, Irish potatoes, raw cabbage, onions, chicken, mayonnaise, boiled egg, and green pepper.

Miss Miller emphasized the fact that a one-dish meal should be well-balanced, just as a meal with several dishes should be well-balanced.

Members discussed the coming fair and the dress contest which is to be held Friday and Saturday. The Wayside club will enter about six dresses, and dresses from other demonstration clubs of the county also will be entered.

Shower Is Given As a courtesy to Mrs. Ernest Balch, who is moving to Wheeler Friday, a picture was taken of the entire club. A shower of tea towels was given Mrs. Balch by Mrs. J. E. Corson and Mrs. Homer Taylor.

An ice course was served at the close of the afternoon, and the next meeting was announced for June 16. It will be held in the home of Mrs. W. M. Jackson.

Mrs. Skeet Roberts and Miss Maxine Cowan were special guests for the occasion, while members present were Mesdames Tom Clayton, J. E. Seltz, Ernest Balch, J. E. Corson, Homer Taylor, Billie Green, E. A. Shackleton, Katie Vincent, Ralph Thomas, H. H. Isbell, and the hostess.

VISIT IN RATON

Mrs. A. N. Dilley and daughter and Mrs. F. Fowler returned Monday night from Raton, N. M., where they spent Memorial day. They left here Friday, traveling by automobile. Mrs. Dilley's mother is interred at Raton. They visited friends while there.

AT TEMPLE CLINIC

Mrs. Floyd McConnell and Mrs. F. M. Culberson left yesterday for Temple, where they will receive medical attention at a clinic in that city.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM IS PLANNED FOR BIBLE SCHOOL AT CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

Miss Mary Burks, principal of the daily vacation Bible school at the Central Baptist church, this morning announced the commencement program to be held at the church Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock. The program is for all interested in the work, and parents of the children in the school are especially invited to be present.

Opening the program will be a processional and a worship program conducted by Miss Burks.

The beginners program, composed of the following numbers then will be given under the direction of Mrs. J. M. White: Good morning song, memory work, questions and answers and a prayer.

Under the direction of Mrs. G. D. Holmes, the primary department will give Psalm 100 by memory and will join in singing "The Bible."

Mrs. G. C. Stark will direct the junior program, consisting of memory work and a sword drill. "The Cry of the World's Children" will be dramatized by the intermediate group under the direction of Mrs. Ray R. Hungate. Characters will include the following: Christian mother, Herma Beckham; temperment mother, Jessie Marie Gilbert; mill town mother, Agnes Miller; neighbor mother, Edith Beckman; Chinese mother, Rita Holmes; mother from India, Monette Ratcliff.

Certificates will be awarded to honor pupils. Certificates without honor also will be awarded, as well as teachers' certificates.

Following the recessional, guests will be invited into departmental rooms, where handwork will be exhibited.

There were 82 persons, including 14 workers and 68 children, present at the vacation Bible school this morning.

PICNIC IS HELD TUESDAY NIGHT

Misses Pauline McKean and Ruth Henry were the hostesses at a picnic in Green's pasture Tuesday evening.

Games and contests furnished amusement for the guests and a picnic lunch was served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. D. Balhrops, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rose; Misses Eurltha Henry, Ada Sands, Lucille Henry, Roy Riley, Leora Kinard; Messrs. J. P. Duncan, Ace Gibbs, E. L. Turner, Charles E. Capers, E. S. Stewart, and Jimmie Drake.

CAMERONIAN, THE FAVORITE, IS WINNER AT EPSOM DOWNS

AMERICANS IN WINNING LIST OF BIG DERBY

United States Entries Unable to Place; Finish Thrills Huge Throng.

EPSOM DOWNS, England, June 3.—J. A. Dewar's Cameronian, the favorite, today won the 148th renewal of the English derby.

Sir John Rutherford's Orpen, co-second choice, finished second in front of Lord Rosbery's Sandwich with Marcel Bousac's Goyes as fourth.

The two American horses, Marshall Field's Jacopo and William Woodward's Sir Andrew, were unplaced.

Cameronian went to the post the 1 to 1 favorite, while Orpen was held at 9 to 1 and Sandwich at 8 to 1.

Cameronian won by three-quarters of a length with a like distance separating Orpen and Sandwich.

King Sees Event
A crowd of 750,000, including King George and the royal family, saw the son of Pharos Unamerson, gallop home in front of 25 other three-year-olds.

Janopo, the Aga Khan's Fomme d'Al and Sir Edward Hammer's Gallani finished practically in line for fifth place. Sir Andrew was far back among the pack.

Cameronian was the first favorite to win in recent years. The colt was installed the choice soon after his victory in the 2,000 guineas and up to post time was a good thing at 4 to 1. His odds were lengthened, however, as the huge crowd began to plunge on the outsiders.

Americans Lucky

EPSOM DOWNS, England, June 3.—Five Americans won big money in the Irish Hospital Derby sweepstakes and as a consequence of Cameronian's victory and the place and show of Orpen and Sandwich.

Joseph Kennedy of Boston, Mass., was the only American who held a ticket on the winner. He receives one of the 19 first prizes of $150,000 each.

Thomas O'Connor of New York City, and George Hill of Norway, Maine, hold tickets on Orpen, who came in second. They are worth $75,000 each.

Two Americans held tickets on Sandwich and will receive $50,000 each. They are S. L. Horowitz of New York City and William Coyle, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Jemco Nine Will Play Canadian In Crucial Contest

Bent upon revenge, the Jemco baseball club will leave here tomorrow afternoon for Canadian where they will engage that city's team in a second game. A few weeks ago, the Canadian team shut out the Jemco here 10 to 0, but the boys who wear the uniforms of the Jemco Everett Machine company feel they have a much better team now than they had then.

This game is called for 5 o'clock. The Canadian team has won 10 straight games and has not suffered a single loss during the current season. Last Sunday, the Jemco took an easy victory from the Pampa All-Stars. The Jemco battery staff has not been announced.

Many Farmers At Rotary Luncheon

By conducting your farming on a business basis, in the same manner that the business man conducts his business, and by diversification, you can make a success of farming. J. P. Osborne of Miami told Rotarians and visiting farmers at the regular luncheon today.

About 25 farmers were guests of the club and the program, in charge of T. C. Lively, was designed to interest farmers.

"I believe we are now on the bottom of the depressed period and that we can look forward to a rise in business conditions," Mr. Osborne continued. "Now is the time to buy, while prices are low. Everything is due for a rise in price."
Music was furnished by the Thompson string quartet. Frank Clowe, of Amarillo, was a visiting Rotarian.

WOMAN ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

SCHULENBERG, June 3.—Mrs. W. L. Baumgarten, 37, was killed today as the result of a hunting accident yesterday. The small bore shotgun which she had been using was discharged as she and her husband were riding home. The charge struck her near the heart and she died before reaching medical aid.

E. S. Reed left Sunday to visit his mother at Temple, Okla. He is expected to return here this morning to be gone from Pampa two weeks, on a fishing trip to Durham, Okla.

FARRELL LEADS GOLFING PACK

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, June 3.—(AP)—Johnny Farrell, smiling young Irishman from Mamaroneck, N. Y., today took the lead among the early finishers of the first round of the British open golf championship with a par 72.

Farrell went out in a par cracking 33 and staggered home in 39, a garrison finish on the last three holes giving him his score.

Close behind Johnny was his golfing partner, Gene Sarazen, both of them former United States open champions, with a 74.

MacDonald Smith, who led the qualifying field of 109 with two brilliant rounds of 70-71 lapsed just often enough today to pull him down to a 75 and third place among the early American finishers.

It was black magic, the natives, that Johnny did with his putter on that outward skin. Of the nine holes seven were scored with one putt.

Farrell did not hold his lead alone for long, Henry Cotton, the 24-year-old British pro, coming in with a 72 to match the American's score.

As the day wore on the headlines began to come in the American scores looked better.

Charles Whitcomb, captain of the British Ryder cup team could do no better than a 79 and Abe Mitchell took a 73.

Joe Turnesa, who had a fine 34, two under par, going out, ran into trouble on the nine and took 43 for a 77.

Umpire-In-Chief Has Been Named

CHICAGO, June 3.—(AP)—William Harridge, newly elected president of the American league, believes it takes a good umpire to find out what's wrong with other umpires so he has appointed the veteran Tom Connolly for the job.

In keeping with his promise to American league club owners and managers, who have been complaining about umpires' decisions this season, President Harridge yesterday appointed Connolly as umpire-in-chief of the circuit. He will take up his duties June 18.

Connolly, dean of the umpiring staff of the league and rated as one of the best in either major league loop, also will advise the president on playing rules.

NO DOUBT AS TO WINNER OF TRACK MEET

Southern California Trojans Are Doped to Take First Place With 40 Points.

By PAUL NICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer.
CHICAGO, June 3.—(AP)—Knut Rockne once said his Notre Dame football teams "saved" Southern California for the union, but there appear to be no Rocknes around to stop the victorious sweep of the Trojan track stars.

Usually, the annual national collegiate track and field meet causes almost as much speculation over the probable winner as the 'Kentucky derby but not this year. Every track expert picks the Trojans to gallop away with the title for the second consecutive year at Stagg field next Friday and Saturday.

Their only differences in opinion are in the margin of victory. A close sifting of past performances today indicated that the Trojans would sweep through with four to six firsts and land enough point winners to score at least 40 points.

With the team title granted to the Trojans in advance, the second guessing revolved about the individual performances, notably the 100-yard dash in which Frank Wykoff of the Trojans will attempt to repeat his triumph of a year ago. While Wykoff won't have to face George Simpson, the Ohio flyer, again this year, he will have plenty of competition in a field of 11 stars of great reputation.

Eddie Tolan, Michigan's midnight express, whom he has defeated by narrow margins on two occasions, will finish his brilliant three years of competition for Michigan at the meet and is fired with the ambition not only to beat Wykoff but to equal or better the Trojan's world record of 9.4.

GIANTS NEED HELP FROM OTHER CLUBS

By HUGH S. FULLETON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Giants, battling for the National league lead, apparently will need a lot of help from the other eastern clubs of the circuit. And if their sectional comrades hold the present pace, they may get it.

The Giants took a severe setback in the opening game of their "crucial" series with the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday and have few hopes of capturing first place unaided.

The Cards won the opener 5 to 3 in a tight dual between Burleigh Grimes and Fred Fitzsimmons and placed themselves 2 1-2 games ahead of their rivals. Grimes drove in the winning run himself with a timely seventh inning single.

But if they escape trouble in their current series the Cardinals must face Brooklyn, Boston and Burleigh Grimes and Fred Fitzsimmons and placed themselves 2 1-2 games ahead of their rivals. Grimes drove in the winning run himself with a timely seventh inning single.

Philadelphia and Washington, the other big winners of the circuit, came through in their usual form. Bing Miller's sixth inning homer with one on base and Rube Walberg's four-hit pitching gave the Athletics a 3 to 2 victory over Chicago. Carl Fischer, young Washington hurler, was hit freely but pitched a good game and the Senators beat the Detroit Tigers 5 to 3.

New York trounced St. Louis 9 to 2. Lefty Gomez checked all his rivals except Melillo, who hit four times.

Dallas Champion Strokes Out 71. Score to Lead 134 Golfers When Final Qualifying Round Is Begun

DALLAS, June 3.—(AP)—Headed by Nell Smith, Dallas champion who stroked a 37-34-71 yesterday, one hundred and thirty-four golfers were ready to tour the Brook Hollow Country club course here today in the final qualifying round of the twenty-fifth annual Texas Golf association state championship. At nightfall, the low 32 will be bracketed in the championship flight to battle it out in match play competition Thursday, Friday and Saturday for the 1931 state crown.

Yesterday, an ideal golf day marked off by a wind, fairly sparkled with championship golf rounds in the first 18 holes of the qualifying test. Paced by Nell Smith's 71 and Joe Bailey's 72, 26 players finished in the 70's 10, turned in flat 80's, and 12 scored 81's.

Willie Hunt, Houston and defending champion, made qualifying trouble for himself when he required a 40-42-82. Dennis Lavender, 1929 state champion, had an even worse round yesterday, and today faced an almost impossible task of placing himself in the championship flight. His 41-46-87 yesterday left his game badly rattled. He had a nine on one hole and four putted the 18th green.

Ossie Carlton, former state champion and alleged to be Houston's best chance this year, played a non-pressure round of golf yesterday with his 39-38-77. Carlton experienced a little trouble on the greens, but was the least disturbed of any concerning his qualifying score, and many believe this perfect mental frame of mind will send the Houston ace far in this year's tournament.

The Buffs will entertain the Beaumont Exporters in a double header Monday night. Women will be admitted free. With the extra attraction of Dean getting married at the home plate, club officers said they expected the double header would draw more than fifteen thousand fans. Dean probably will pitch the second game of the bill.

The New York Giants, battling for the National league lead, apparently will need a lot of help from the other eastern clubs of the circuit. And if their sectional comrades hold the present pace, they may get it.

The Giants took a severe setback in the opening game of their "crucial" series with the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday and have few hopes of capturing first place unaided.

The Cards won the opener 5 to 3 in a tight dual between Burleigh Grimes and Fred Fitzsimmons and placed themselves 2 1-2 games ahead of their rivals. Grimes drove in the winning run himself with a timely seventh inning single.

Philadelphia and Washington, the other big winners of the circuit, came through in their usual form. Bing Miller's sixth inning homer with one on base and Rube Walberg's four-hit pitching gave the Athletics a 3 to 2 victory over Chicago. Carl Fischer, young Washington hurler, was hit freely but pitched a good game and the Senators beat the Detroit Tigers 5 to 3.

New York trounced St. Louis 9 to 2. Lefty Gomez checked all his rivals except Melillo, who hit four times.

The MELODY GIRL

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Beryl Borden, secretly in love with Tommy Wilson, prevents his attempted elopement with her half-sister, Irene Everett, by kidnapping him with the assistance of her "piano."

Falling to convince him of his duty to finish college, Beryl lets Tommy return to Irene who, enraged at the delay, refuses to elope with him.

Irene receives the offer of an audition over radio, and again refuses to marry Tommy. She consents to let Beryl accompany her to the studio. While waiting in an ante-room Beryl sits down at a piano and croons melodies while thinking of her dead father. One of the directors hears her and gives her a private audition. He likes the very tones of her voice and assures her of a contract with Mr. Gaylord. Irene falls and is furious when she hears that Beryl has had a home. She misrepresents facts to the folks and says Beryl has made a fool of herself.

The sarcastic taunts of Irene make Beryl miserable, especially as time goes by and she hears nothing from the studio.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIII

Beryl no longer showed any particular interest in the daily mail. She had asked the postman who delivered at both the store and the house to leave all her mail at the former place to insure it against falling into Irene's hands. Whether a letter from Mr. Barnhoff would be opened and read by her sister was a question on which Beryl did not care to gamble.

But one day when the postman was sorting out the store mail she told him he needn't bother about her personal letters. He could leave them at the house as before.

"All right," he said, "but here's one for you now."

Beryl accepted the letter listlessly and only happened to glance at the sender's address in the upper left hand corner. Then her heart seemed to turn a complete somersault.

"Good news, eh?" the postman laughed. He had known Beryl since childhood and could take liberties with her mail. Having read the name and address that so excited her he was interested to know more about the letter.

"I don't know, Johnny," Beryl replied, rapidly tearing open the envelope.

"Well, you're registering pleasure sure enough."

"Wait a minute, and maybe I'll tell you," she promised. Beryl unfolded the sheet of writing paper and scanned its contents, skipping the salutation and getting at once to the message it carried.

"Good fortune—or bad?"

"Well?" the postman pressed.

looked "bloomin' well for a sick girl."

"I've a fever," Beryl answered firmly.

Irene bridled. "H'm," she snorted in disgust. "If you're so sick it's funny you wouldn't have a doctor. I don't believe there's anything the matter with you."

Irene was incensed because she'd had to wash dishes for two days and her father had dared to insist that she help at the store. After an hour of her presence there he had sent her home, glad to be rid of her.

For once Beryl's mother took her part. "Well, she must be sick when she can't eat," she said. Beryl always had a healthy appetite and she's no call to reduce."

"She's stalling," Irene sneered. "For heaven's sake, stop talking about me!" Beryl exclaimed. Irene was hitting too near the mark for comfort. Not that she was exactly stalling—but she was avoiding over-eating without proper exercise.

"Yes, let's talk about something pleasant," Irene agreed. "I hear there's had a revolution in South America."

And so it went until Beryl left for New York. She told her mother she felt better and would run over to the store for a little while. That was precisely what she did but there was going to be a surprise.

"I'm taking a day off for something important I have to do in New York," she said. "but please don't say anything to mother or Irene if you can help it."

She often lunched at the store while it was her father's custom to go home for something hot. Beryl hoped her mother would take for granted that she was at the store for the day and not question Mr. Everett about it.

From the store she walked to the local railroad station carrying her best pair of shoes—which she had hidden in the store beforehand—to change at the station. The station mistress was an old friend. She would look after the much-scuffed every day sandals until Beryl returned.

That solved the shoe problem but Beryl was forced to go to town in her country clothes. However, she looked attractive. She was slim and tall—taller at any rate than Irene—and her skin looked as though she put it on new every morning. Her gray eyes were difficult of description. Sometimes they were like a sunny day at sea—a blend of sea and sky, clear and sparkling. Though sometimes one couldn't say just what shade they were. Her hair was not in itself a crowning glory but it smelled faintly of verbenia and Beryl had a style of dressing it that was distinctive. In color it was just a plain dark brown.

Beryl was rarely ever immaculate as to costume. She was too active and self-forgetful to look for long as though she had just stepped from a fashion plate. But she was fastidious about frequent changes. When she left the house in a freshly laundered gray linen skirt, a matching gray sweater, with dainty lingerie cuffs and collar, no one thought of it as an out of the ordinary outfit for the store. With gray stockings, a white hat and shoes, she was really well dressed.

Anyway, whether it was what she would have selected to wear if she'd had a wider choice, she soon forgot about her appearance and lost herself in day dreaming.

Suppose some day she became famous and rich and Tommy should need money, a lot of money. . . .

She laughed at herself. Besides, hadn't she heard that such thoughts sprang from an inferiority complex? Well, she wasn't inferior! And she wasn't going to be scared into failure. If she had talent she would demonstrate it this afternoon.

There is no doubt that the will to succeed eased the strain for her but it was the actual possession of an unusual talent that won her sincere praise from those who listened in on her second voice test. And Mr. Gaylord, whose opinion meant most, was most enthusiastic over her singing.

"No one will ever time her out!" he exclaimed, as highly pleased as though he had found her himself. There was even an "I dare you to contradict me" note in his voice which brought a subtle smile to Barnhoff's lips.

And then Beryl was offered a contract that dazzled her. Relatively it wasn't dazzling—it just dazzled Beryl, who'd never had more than pin money in all her life.

She signed and put the paper away in her gray bag as carefully as though it were a tube of radium she was taking home.

Home! Now she could tell them! Now she could take her revenge. And she wasn't a bit ashamed of the pleasure the prospect afforded her.

She wasn't ashamed, but before she got home she thought of something that brought her out of the clouds and robbed her big moment of its highlights.
