Navy Bomber Lands Safely On Texas Ranch

GOVERNMENT TO BUILD 200 MERCHANT SHIPS

One Dead And 3 Injured In 'Chute Leaps

Pilots Refuse To Abandon Bomber In Snowstorm

EDINBURG, Jan. 3 (AP)—Lt. Murray Hanson, 30, pilot of a navy bomber, and Ensign Robert B. Clark, co-pilot, landed their plane safely in a few inches of water on a lagoon at the Santa Fe ranch last night, and both fliers were uninjured.

The two pilots who refused to quit during a raging snowstorm fought storms and fogs until they spotted the lake near the Gulf coast on what was once a part of the famous King ranch.

"I did not know how much water there was, but it was water," Lt. Hanson said.

"We brought the plane down without serious damage and spent the night in our ship when we saw we could not make our way out through the heavy brush. The water was only a few inches deep."

One member of the crew of the bomber which became lost in a blinding snowstorm approximately 500 miles north of here yesterday afternoon, lost his life when he parachuted to earth near Big Spring. He was W. F. Perich, 25, machinist's mate of Friday Harbor, Wash.

Four other members of the crew who jumped on orders of Lt. Hanson were injured, none seriously. Radioman A. M. Perry, 31, said the plane bailed out at 17,000 feet after encountering a storm that smashed the plane's windows and momentarily sent it out of control.

Lt. Hanson, talking by telephone over the single line connecting Edinburg with the remote ranch house, said he and co-pilot Clark encountered two cowboys in the wild brushlands about mid-morning today.

"We tried to get out last night, but the heavy brush was too much for us, and we decided to stay where we were until morning," Hanson said.

"At daylight we started walking and then we spotted these two cowpunchers. They brought us in a hurry to the ranchhouse."

The headquarters of the Santa Fe ranch is about 30 miles north of here and the weather is barely settled. The lagoon where the plane came down normally is dry, but it fills after excessive rains.

Lt. Hanson said it was the first water he had seen after turning south from the vicinity of Big Spring.

"We soon ran out of the snow, but after that it was fog and rain," he related.

"It got worse as we moved south. About 6:45 p. m. yesterday we knew we should be somewhere near the coast, and we sighted this lake and brought the ship down."

The lake where the plane came down is only a few miles east of U. S. highway 281, one of the heaviest-travelled roads in the state.

Lt. Hanson remained at the ranch house, communicating with naval officials, and Ensign Clark stayed with the plane.

The Santa Fe ranch is owned by Richard King. Until a few months ago it was a part of the famous King ranch, famed as one of the greatest cattle domains in the nation.

Three officers and two enlisted men from the navy and a lieutenant at Corpus Christi went to the lake to determine whether the big bomber could fly out under its own power or whether it would have to be pulled out.

Slightly injured yesterday after bailing out of the bomber over west Texas were Harold Ernest Neff, 34, aviation chief machinist's mate, San Diego; Lloyd J. Hughes, radioman first class, Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Frank Recke, Jr., 30, aviation chief machinist's mate, San Diego.

The injured crewman, all hospitalized, are Harold Ernest Neff, 34, aviation chief machinist's mate, San Diego; Lloyd J. Hughes, radioman first class, Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Frank Recke, Jr., 30, aviation chief machinist's mate, San Diego.

President To Send Hopkins To England

Anti-FDR Forces Start Organizing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Advance notice of a systematic campaign against administration foreign policies came today from those senators who believe President Roosevelt's present course may lead to war.

As the new congress gathered for its first session, these legislators disclosed their intention of putting their case directly before the people in the hope of this eventually converting a majority of both house and senate to their views.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.), outspoken critic of Mr. Roosevelt's handling of international affairs, said that "we first must organize the country" against the existing foreign policies.

Senator Johnson (R-Calif.), ranking minority member of the senate foreign relations committee, commended Wheeler for his speech Monday, criticizing the administration's attitude on the European war and urging that the United States seek to bring about peace.

Senator Nye (R-N.D.), another opponent of administration foreign policies, told reporters he was "in full accord" with Senator Wheeler's view that those opposing the President's stand should seek to gather country-wide support.

First Report Made In '41 Baby Contest

First reported is Jerry Richard Solley, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Solley, 243 W. Craven.

He was born at 7:40 a. m. Thursday morning in a local hospital, and weighed 7 pounds, 8 1/2 ounces.

To the first white baby born in Gray county in 1941, whose parents reside in Gray county, an attractive list of awards is offered by 12 Pampa merchants.

Second Woman Sheriff

ROCKPORT, Jan. 3 (AP)—Arkansas county today had its second woman sheriff to serve in less than two months.

Mrs. Alice Rooker Thomerson, for 28 years a deputy, was appointed to fill the elected term of Sheriff J. A. Brundrett, who died Dec. 7.

Mrs. J. A. Brundrett filled the office from Dec. 7 until Jan. 1.

New Congress Faces Great, Grim Issues

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—A new congress—the seventy-seventh in the history of the United States—will convene today to face the problems of the new international situation since the historic 1917 session convened.

Old and new members alike agreed on what were the paramount issues: "Total defense" for America—an enormous undertaking for which staggering appropriations would be sought; and Greater aid for embattled Britain, with the related question of the administration's foreign policy.

Both subjects, in congressional opinion, were packed with potential controversy and even before the new session came into official existence, there was ample evidence that the issues would be well aired in debate.

On defense, the main difference of opinion seemed likely to center on the progress of the program and its methods, rather than on the objective of a nation well armed against any aggressor.

British aid and the administration's foreign policy had far more explosive possibilities from a forensic point of view, and were considered the questions that would produce the bitterest contention.

Although overshadowed to a certain extent by problems immediately connected with the international situation, there were a number of major domestic issues to demand attention from the new congress—many of them with a bearing on the defense effort, and all containing seeds of controversy.

Well up on this list were higher taxes, an increase in the national debt limitation, changes in present fiscal policies, plans for hastening a balanced budget, social security act revision, and the speeding of the agriculture benefit program and renewed recommendations for alterations in the labor act.

President Roosevelt, who will be inaugurated 17 days hence as the nation's third chief executive, gave his first public preview of his ideas for new legislation at a White House conference yesterday. However, he will delay his opening message on the "State of the Union" until Monday to give the new session time to organize.

In that message—to be delivered in person—he is expected to amplify his Dec. 29 radio address calling on America to transform itself into an arsenal for democracy.

"I believe that he will discuss his plans for putting aid to Britain on a new footing by lending her about $3,000,000,000 in military equipment, to be repaid "in kind" and other goods after the war," his budget message probably will be read Tuesday. Some administration officials have placed the new 1941-42 fiscal year outlay at $17,000,000,000, with perhaps $10,000,000,000 of it going for domestic defense and supplies for Great Britain.

Speaker Rayburn and Rep. McCormack of Mass., house majority leader, spent an hour with Mr. Roosevelt late yesterday. Rayburn said afterward the President's legislative message would be "very interesting."

Only routine meetings were on the calendar for both houses today as they took over the legislative duties from the 76th congress, which continued officially in session virtually to the last minute, thereby establishing a new record of 367 days. Previously, the 354-day World War congress had been the longest session.

The new session was able to convene in the regular chambers, thanks to several weeks of intensive engineering work shoring up the weak roofs over the two wings of the capitol.

With the retiring vice president—John N. Garner—back in the chair after nearly six months in Texas, the swearing in of 10 new senators and appointing a committee to notify the President that the senate was in session constituted that branch's only new business. Garner will wield the gavel until the new vice president, Henry A. Wallace, becomes the senate's presiding officer after his inauguration Jan. 20.

The house planned to organize immediately with the election of a speaker and the swearing in of 74 new members.

Reelection of Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) as speaker was only a formality. He was nominated late yesterday at a Democratic caucus, which also renominated McCormack Democratic leader.

Bomb Wrecks Houses In Dublin, Injures 20

DUBLIN, Jan. 3 (AP)—Daylight raiders bombed Dublin today in a continuation of sporadic attacks of the past 48 hours and the government of neutral Ireland (Eire) ordered its charge d'affaires in Berlin to make "energetic protest" to the German government.

The government's action was disclosed in an official statement which coincided with a rumor circulated in an informer's quarters that the German minister might be given his passport if the bombings continue.

"Fragments of explosive and incendiary bombs dropped at Curragh, Julianstown, Duleek and Bolls have been examined and found to be of German origin," said a statement issued by the department of external affairs.

The charge d'affaires in Berlin has been instructed to make an energetic protest to the German government against the violation of Irish territory by German aircraft, and the loss of life and destruction of property which took place as a result of bomb explosions and fire.

He was further instructed to claim full reparation and insist that effective steps be taken to avoid recurrence of such happenings.

"An investigation of bombs dropped at other places is proceeding."

The nearest the government had come publicly to linking the Nazis with the attacks was the official announcement that one incendiary bomb and green silk parachutes which landed a number of magnetic sea mines were German-made.

The planes, drawing rifle and machine-gun fire from Irish soldiers, swept over the city at 12:20 p. m. (5:20 p. m. CST) within nine hours of the dropping of the bombs on Donore avenue, in a Dublin suburb where some 20 persons were injured.

Public indignation mounted to fever heat. People on Dublin streets muttered that "the bombers must be hit by more than night attackers."

"Ireland's army will exact punishment," the Donore avenue bombing was the work of one plane and a single bomb. This afternoon's attack was by more than one plane and the first assault on this city in broad daylight.

The afternoon raid was the latest of a series against the Dublin region in the past two days, carried out by bombers by night.

Observers said today's pre-dawn attacker appeared to be a heavily-laden bomber.

A battalion of defense forces at Griffith Barracks turned out immediately to care for the injured and hunt through the ruined houses of Donore avenue for persons at first thought to have been trapped in the wreckage.

The flames of the rescuers cast an eerie light over this warlike scene in the capital of a country still at peace.

Rescue workers were impeded by gas escaping in the shattered houses. Large families occupied each of the two wrecked houses.

Army engineers arranged to destroy today a number of magnetic sea mines which fell on land yesterday near Enniskerry in County Wick.

Ireland, looking anxiously to her defense needs and acknowledging the pinch of the blockades which Britain and Germany have clamped upon each other, has suffered a half-dozen bombings in recent months.

The German government expressed regret for the bombing of Campile, Ireland, last Aug. 25, in which three girls were killed.

It was not until Wednesday night, however, that anything like a concerted bombing attack occurred.

ARMY'S YOUNGEST

The army's no place for softies, but evidently age has nothing to do with it. Private Harry Wohlfel, Jr., pictured above at Fort Custer, Mich., where he's attached to the 50th Field Artillery, has attained the ripe old age of 15. He's believed to be the youngest soldier in the U. S.

Dan Williams Commander Of American Legion

Pampa's Kerley-Crosman American Legion post has a new commander today.

Succeeding Ray F. Barnes as commander is Dan E. Williams, first vice commander, who automatically advances to be elected as Barnes is leaving Pampa to make his home in Elwood, Ind., where he has purchased a newspaper.

W. M. James, second vice commander, is advanced to Williams' former position, and a new second vice commander is to be elected at the local post's February meeting.

For the present, the post is meeting only once a month, on the first Thursday.

At last night's meeting, mention was made of the visit of the national commander, Milo Warner of Toledo, Ohio, to Amarillo on Tuesday.

Legionnaires of the 18th district will gather in honor of the chief national officer of their organization, and have been asked by J. M. Johnson of Canadian, 18th district commander, to accompany Warner on his trip to Lubbock that afternoon, where similar recognition will be given him by Legion members of the 17th district.

Mr. Worley Looking And Listening In National Capital

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Mr. Worley got to Washington Thursday.

The 31-year-old gentleman who has been generally hailed as a real-life counterpart of "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," found no crowds to meet him, no hands to greet him, but he hadn't expected any. That's not the way Mr. Worley operates.

In fact, the way Mr. Worley operates is still something of a mystery to the nine other congressional candidates whom he licked a few months ago for the honor of representing the Eighteenth Congressional District of Texas. They're not sure yet what hit 'em.

Thursday he slipped into Washington to look over the ground before being sworn in Friday when Congress convenes.

He thinks it's all pretty swell, but knows there's a lot of work ahead for any freshman Congressman. Hasn't any immediate plans—thinks he has a lot to learn and that the best way to learn it is to watch and listen for awhile.

He would like to get on the Agriculture Committee, but he knows that new Congressmen seldom get on the committees they want. But, more than that, he sincerely wants to serve his country and his district with the best that's in him, and if sincerity counts for anything, he'll do right well on that score because he's dead earnest and probably will be around for quite a spell, what with these kids all reaching the voting age pretty soon.

FDR Refuses To Say Ships For Britain

Merchant Vessels Will Be Owned By Government

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt announced today that steps were being taken to begin building about 200 merchant vessels of about 7,500 tons each and costing $300,000,000 to $350,000,000.

Asked at a press conference whether the ship construction program would benefit Great Britain directly or indirectly, the chief executive said he did not know.

Mr. Roosevelt said he was allocating money from a special contract authorization fund, granted him by congress, to permit work to get underway.

The vessels, he said, will be constructed in new shipbuilding yards and will be owned by the government.

The President was reluctant to say where the new yards might be located.

As to whether the building of the vessels would make it possible to release existing commercial ships to Britain, to take up some of Britain's losses through submarine and air warfare, Mr. Roosevelt said that was an iffy question and offered no definite answer.

He asserted, in response to an inquiry, that he thought steel plants could turn out enough material for the ships, but he disclosed that he expected a report within two or three days on whether the steel industry had enough production facilities for requirements for the defense program.

Mr. Roosevelt said he believed, however, that some expansion would be necessary.

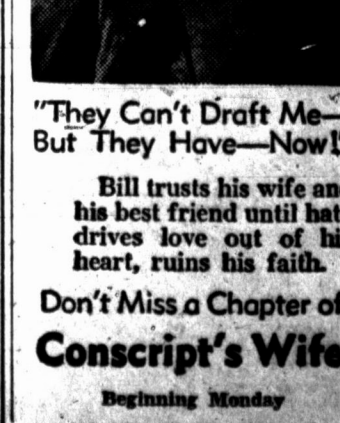

The shipbuilding program would be in charge of the maritime commission, the chief executive explained, and to start work on it, he has set aside $36,000,000 from his special fund. He indicated this allotment would be used for erecting shipyards.

How soon the program can get underway, the President was unable to say, but he said that some ships ought to be ready for use inside a year.

I Saw . . .

Hugh Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Anderson, back from the U. S. S. Colorado where he serves as a sea-going marine. He will report Jan. 6 to the same ship which will leave the same day for the Hawaiian Islands which he has already visited once. Hugh is a gun-painter on the ship. "The damn sailor clucks haven't got enough sense to point a gun," he raged. Hugh joined the U. S. Marines last summer.

'Art In The Community' Topic Of Talk Given For Council Of Clubs

City Council of Clubs met in regular monthly session Thursday morning in the city club rooms with Mrs. O. R. Humphrey, president, presiding.

The Rev. R. G. West, pastor of Church of the Brethren, whose hobby is art, gave a talk on "Art in the Community."

"All else passes, only art remains," he quoted and pointed out four mediums through which art is expressed: sculpture, literature, music, and painting.

"True art is an expression of the soul," he continued. Rev. West was one of the judges in the recent art exhibit of the Panhandle artists held in Amarillo. Rev. West added that Pampa people have a rare opportunity in the local art school and demonstrated some of the works of students of this school. He mentioned the mural paintings in the new post office at Amarillo as being a credit to the Panhandle.

Mrs. C. A. Vaught of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority made further announcement regarding an art exhibit of the Panhandle Association of Artists to be held in Pampa on January 30 and 31, sponsored by the Schill school of art.

The representative of each club told of the projects of her club.

Present were Misses: Hazel Wagner, A. D. Hills, Cyril Hamilton, H. T. Hampton, C. A. Vaught, J. B. Massa, H. B. Landrum, Roy McMillen, James Todd, Jr., Bob Thompson, R. J. Hagan, L. L. McCole, H. H. Hahn, Roy Bourland, L. K. Stout, Owen Moore, and one guest, Mrs. W. W. Wallace of Cedar Edge, Colorado.

Simplicity Style Motif Of British

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
LONDON—Mayfair has more or less moved out to its luxurious country residences, but it still maintains its traditions of elegance. London's exclusive dressmaking salons are almost as busy as they were in peacetime, while the "bitz" has apparently made little or no difference to the even tenor of their lives.

With very little delay on their original schedules, Britain's leading fashion designers have produced mid-season collections. Though primarily intended for the American markets, they also include models which will appeal to Mrs. Well-to-do at home.

Mrs. Well-to-do, by the way, has discarded the more extravagant formal models for what she likes to call a "simple" dinner dress, with a vague idea perhaps that this might be in the interest of democracy.

COSTLY, BUT IN KEEPING WITH TIMES
This dinner dress costs pretty nearly as much as the erstwhile evening gown, but is worn by everyone as generally more in keeping with the situation.

Simplicity is the keynote, but subtle touches of embroidery and other decorative effects, coupled with the high price of luxury fabrics, often find the said dinner dress with a price tag ranging from one hundred to one hundred and fifty dollars.

Tweeds and wooleens have gone to town in a big way. Both Molyneux and Hartnell use these fabrics unrestrainedly in their latest creations. Molyneux stresses belted woolen jersey jumper blouses. These are worn with skirts cut lightly on the bias.

Some go under topscoats, others are completed by straight, hip-length jackets. Marina, Duchess of Kent, wore just such an outfit at a recent official appearance. Her dress was in black wool with deep beaver cuffs and scarf.

EVENING GOWNS ARE SCARCER
There are few evening gowns, but a good selection of the now ubiquitous dinner dress, long or short-sleeved. Of particular interest is the new sleeve Molyneux launches for both formal afternoon and evening wear. This is cut in a small balloon at the shoulder, falling over skin-tight lower sleeves.

The use of wool for day and evening provides Norman Hartnell with his theme, while he also emphasizes the fact that embroidered on formal gowns can take the place of jewels which few women are wearing today in England.

The collection opens with a group of tailored frocks in plain and patterned tweeds, the latter mainly in the cross-stuff variety. Jackets are squared, slightly longer and are neatly fitted, especially around the waist. Patch pockets appear in gowns, sometimes oval and triangular, as an alternative to the rectangular. Skirts are pleated but preserve a slim hipline.

Informal Tea Given As Courtesy To Miss Bernice Westbrook

Special To The News
PANHANDLE, Jan. 3.—Complimenting Miss Bernice Westbrook, home demonstration agent of Carson county and bride-elect of O. P. Kennedy, the home demonstration club council entertained the women and 4-H club girls at an informal tea given from 2 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the parlors of the Baptist church in Panhandle.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Charles Walker, council chairman; Miss Westbrook, and presidents of various clubs attending, Mrs. Leo R. Studer, Mrs. M. D. Eagle, Jr., and Mrs. J. L. White.

The tea table, laid with a lace cloth, featured an unusual centerpiece of small silvered gourds in a large crystal bowl placed on a mirrored reflector. On either side blue tapers burned in crystal holders. The piano and registration table were similarly decorated, further carrying out the blue and silver color scheme.

The silver service placed at one end of the table is more than 100 years old and belongs to Mrs. J. P. Weatherly.

Mrs. M. F. Callihan, vice-chairman of the council, presided at the tea service. Assisting her in pouring were Miss Opal Callihan, a gold star 4-H club girl, Mrs. Van Carter, and Mrs. J. L. White, council officers.

Mrs. M. O. King was assisted in serving by Mrs. M. E. Cox, Mrs. M. D. Eagle, Mrs. C. F. Hood, Mrs. Tom Epting, and several 4-H club girls.

A musical program was presented by Miss Lois Sue Callihan playing

FINGER OF STYLE POINTS TO MITTENS FOR WINTER

Mittens are news for college girls and young women who live in the country. This young lady wears pigskin mittens in four colors, with the sections whipstitched together. The mittens on the line are, left to right: bright red doekskin back with capeskin palm; white baby lamb for dressing; white capeskin with gold piping for evening; ski models with dark green capeskin palms, white sheared lamb backs and green sheared lamb cuffs; tan doekskin, heavily whipstitched in contrast; red capeskin palm with white bunny back.

By MARIAN YOUNG
AS SMART AS DRESS GLOVES
American glove manufacturers and designers have put as much thought and skillful workmanship into the creation of mittens as they have into fall and winter's newest dress gloves.

The "side-wall" construction, which means that a strip of leather about an inch wide runs between the front and back sections of the mitten, is new. So are drawing effects and buckles or snaps to make mittens cling to the wrist.

For sports, there are beautiful models of white sheared lamb with sheared lamb cuffs in bright green, brown, or red. For general campus or street wear, capeskin, pigskin, and doekskin are widely used. Bright colors, used alone to form "side-walls," are popular.

For afternoon, mittens of white babyrabbit are charming. For dinner and formal parties, ermine makes good looking ones of finest white doekskin with trimming, and pippings, are chic.

Intermediates Of Christian Endeavor Have Holiday Party

Members of Intermediate Christian Endeavor of First Christian church were entertained at a New Year's Eve party Tuesday in the church basement.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Madeira were in charge of arrangements for the event.

During the evening games were played and the group made fudge candy and popped popcorn.

Attending were George Neef, Betty Jo Casada, Percy Hollingshead, F. H. Meskimen, Earl Brooks, Ernest Miller, Helen Marlin, Ivan Marlin, Dual Lee Brown, Mary Frances Roders, Billie Jane Hood, Lee Hutchens, Vi Lois Lincecum, Peggy Joyce Eckerd, Vera Slusher, Russell Neef, Joyce Cloud, Jackie Raines, Louella Goodwin, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Madeira.

Mrs. Enright And W. E. Melton Wed In El Paso Recently

Special To The News
MIAMI, Jan. 3.—Announcement was made this week of the marriage of Mrs. Myrtle Enright of Miami to W. E. Melton of Pampa, which occurred Thursday afternoon, Dec. 28, in El Paso. The home of the officiating minister, the Rev. Adkinson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of El Paso, was the scene of the ceremony.

Mrs. Melton's son, J. C. Zuspan, who is in training at Fort Bliss, was the couple's only attendant. After a trip to Carlsbad Caverns and other points of interest they returned to Miami Monday.

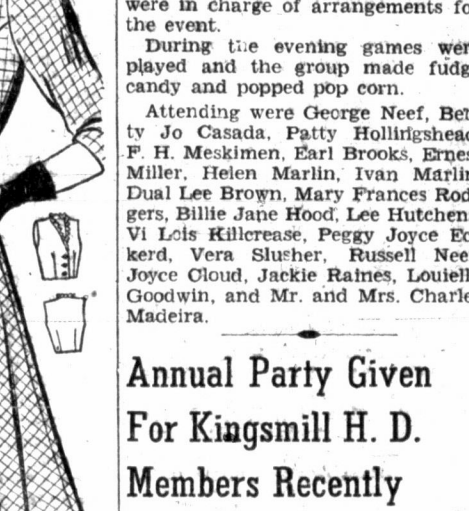

NEW SUIT FROCK WITH GILET

Smart to wear under your winter coat right now—a wonderful tonic for a weary mid-season wardrobe! Smart to wear as a suit this spring—an indispensable street type! This new fashion (design No. 8822) includes a tailored, flaring skirt, a bell-hop jacket that narrows into a tiny waistline, and a full-trimmed gilet to add soft note of feminine flattery. That's a good deal to get in one inexpensive pattern, especially when the style is so new, so important and so useful!

Light-weight wool in stripes or checks, dark flit crepe or pastel flannel—all these are good fabric suggestions for the suit, pique, satin, linen and batiste are smart for the gilet; you'll want several of that!

Pattern No. 8822 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 14 suit, with long sleeves, requires 5 1/2 yards of 39-inch material; 1 1/2 yards for gilet.

For a PATTERN of this attractive model send 15c IN COIN, YOUR NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE to The Pampa News Today's Pattern Service, 211 W. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill.

Dinner Given For Couple On Silver Wedding Anniversary

Special To The News
SHAMROCK, Jan. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Zeigler were honored last Monday with a surprise dinner on their silver anniversary by their children.

An all-white two-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, and decorated with silver ornaments, was the centerpiece for the table.

The Zeigler children presented their parents with a silver service and the honorees received a number of nice gifts from friends.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. William Kyle, R. E. Braudrick, Miss Geneva Zeigler, sister of Mr. Zeigler, and the Zeigler children, J. B. Harris, Jr., Jane and Geraldine, their son-in-law, Richard Harvey, and their grandson, Charles Richard Harvey.

Move To Have Kleberg Named Ambassador To Mexico Popular

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3. (AP)—The move started in Texas and Mexico by friends of Rep. Richard Kleberg of Corpus Christi to get him appointed ambassador to Mexico is gaining headway here.

There has been no public comment on the matter by administration leaders, but mention of the Texan's name as a likely successor to Ambassador Joseph Daniels has become more and more frequent in influential quarters.

The Mexican embassy here, it was learned, has received a great number of letters from individuals in Mexico urging that representations be made to our state department suggesting that Kleberg be sent to their country. For several years a number of intimate Mexican friends of Kleberg in Monterrey and Mexico City have declared he would be an excellent diplomat, and since the report has been circulated that Daniels soon would retire they have been particularly active.

Friends of the congressman point out that to his advantage is the fact that he speaks Spanish fluently and knows the people of Mexico well through a lifetime of association with them on both sides of the border. As part owner of the famous King ranch, Kleberg has had particularly close contact with cattlemen in the neighboring republic. He has known President Camacho of Mexico personally for many years and members of his family for three decades.

The story reached here shortly after the recent inauguration of President Camacho a state dinner was given, attended by many dignitaries of the United States and Latin

Incidents of pioneer days in the Big Bend, legends, and particularly the occupation of land by original settlers has given rise to many designations of sites. Almost every ranch in the Big Bend has a road called after the owner, a small box or creek.

Naming of "Dog Canyon" constitutes one of the innumerable legends of the Big Bend. Back in the Indian days, the story goes, settlers in the Santiago mountains found a lost team of oxen wandering, followed by a dog. Why the location was not called "Ox Canyon" has never been clear. The canyon, situated between the Santiago Range and the Dead Horse Range, thereafter was known as "Dog Canyon" because of a lone canine trotting behind a lost pair of oxen.

Dead Horse Canyon, near Boquillas on the Rio Grande, assumed its name about 1881, when Texas Rangers were coming down the Rio Grande by boat. Spying a small Indian settlement on the Mexican side of the river, they landed at the spot. Immediately, the Indian inhabitants took flight, leaving in their haste a small herd of horses. Knowing that the horses would be used by the Indians upon their return to harass and rob the settlers across the river, the Rangers characteristically decided to eliminate that possibility by killing the horses. The animals were left as they had fallen—and natives of the border attached the name "Sierra Del Caballo Muerto" to the spot—"Mountain of the Dead Horse."

4 New Boy Scout Troops Organized

Plans of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout Council to secure more troops in 1941 were given a boost yesterday when four new troops were registered at the council office here. One troop was organized in Pampa, one in Mobeetle, one in Turkey, and the other in Briscoe.

The Pampa troop was organized by the Holy Souls parish with J. D. Roche as scoutmaster and Wendell Cox and T. J. McGarrity as assistants. The troop council is composed of D. C. Kennedy, the Rev. W. J. Stack, F. D. Kelm, E. J. Lewis, Jr., D. J. Gribbon, B. L. Kelm and H. W. Waddell.

Nine boys have joined the troop, to be known as Troop 17.

At Mobeetle troop 44 was organized by a group of citizens with John W. Gilliam as scoutmaster and Si-

Long Holiday For State Workers Hit

PORT WORTH, Jan. 3. (AP)—Representative Jack Love said today that he would expand his request for a legislative investigation of nine-day Christmas holidays for state employees to include all departments.

He singled out the old age assistance commission in a statement issued yesterday but decided to ask a probe of all state employe time off allowances.

"It doesn't seem right to me that the state employes should be given a nine-day Christmas vacation in addition to a two-week paid vacation and time off on various other holidays observed by the state officials," Love said. "That doesn't look like a sound economy program to me."

Rev. Norris Will Head Ministerial Alliance For 1941

At a recent meeting of the Pampa Ministerial Alliance, the Rev. B. A. Norris, pastor of the First Christian church, was chosen as president and the Rev. Russell G. West of the Church of the Brethren was named secretary-treasurer.

Through the courtesy of radio station KPDM and under the sponsorship of the Alliance of churches of Pampa, a 30-minute worship service will be broadcast each Sunday afternoon. The radio devotional service for the opening Sunday of the new year will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Norris.

All people of the community are invited to tune-in at 3:15 o'clock on Sunday afternoon and participate in this service.

Two Children Burn To Death At Brownwood

BROWNFIELD, Jan. 3. (AP)—Fire starting from a wood stove fatally burned the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Puryear yesterday.

Mrs. Puryear said she attempted to rescue the children, aged 2 years and 6 weeks, but the flames forced her back. Her husband, a truck driver, was out of town.

Forty-four states, having more than 90 per cent of the nation's motor vehicles, now require the new year's license plates to be on automobiles by April 1, 1941.

Britain Wants More U. S. Destroyers

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Britain wants more United States destroyers to help "hunt, catch and kill submarine and surface raiders," reliable sources declared today as the Royal Air Force and German Luftwaffe traded new blows in the unceasing war in the air.

One informant intimated that Britain's need for additional U. S. destroyers and cargo ships to replace those being sunk would be among the first matters discussed when Lord Halifax reaches Washington to take up his post as the new British ambassador.

In 16 months of war at sea, approximately 4,500,000 tons of British, allied and neutral shipping has been reported sunk, emphasizing the need for cargo ships and the graver need of more destroyers to protect them.

"The more unprotected ships there are on the Atlantic routes the more targets," one source asserted. "We want destroyers to protect them and to hunt and catch and kill submarine and surface raiders."

In connection with Britain's reported desire to obtain more U. S. destroyers to guard convoys, maritime circles pointed to the assertion by Food Minister Lord Woolton that "the enemy is making a direct attack on our foodships" and "the danger is much worse than it was in the last war."

Effective Monday, individual Britons will be limited to 36 cents worth of meat weekly instead of 44 cents worth.

Italy Sub Sunk, Claims Admiralty

LONDON, Jan. 3. (AP)—The sinking of an Italian submarine was credited by the admiralty today to the British submarine Thunderbolt, formerly the Thetis, which sank June 1, 1939, taking 99 men to death, but later was raised, reconditioned and renamed.

The Italian submarine was proceeding to a base "in enemy territory" under escort, the admiralty announcement said, when it was attacked by the Thunderbolt, commanded by Lieut. C. B. Crouch Run.

The Thunderbolt's commander, firing his torpedo, "saw a tall column of water rise from the Italian U-boat and a large explosion occurred, and when the smoke and spray cleared away only one end of the vessel was seen sticking out of the water at a steep angle. This quickly disappeared."

Nazis Admit Eight Killed 20 Wounded

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—The German high command acknowledged today that in night British bombardments of two northern German communities, factory and storehouse fires were started and eight persons were killed and 20 injured.

(The British identified the two places as Bremen and Emden.)

At the same time the daily communiqué told of an all-caller German air bombardment of the city and harbor of Cardiff, Wales, last night in retaliation for attacks on Bremen. Some of the resulting "numerous fires" could be seen more than 60 miles from Cardiff, according to the Germans.

Along with factory and storehouse damage the high command reported a hospital and several houses hit by the RAF in the "two northern German communities," but declared the fires were quickly extinguished and "no noteworthy military or military-economic damage was caused."

Two British bombers were reported downed to one missing for the Germans.

Yesterday's German attacks along the English coast brought the sinking of a British patrol boat under a dive-bomber attack, the communiqué said.

From the Hague, DNB, official news agency, reported that the RAF bombed two Dutch towns last night, destroying several dwellings "and killing four civilians."

Vermeer's painting, "Lady Writing," once sold for an equivalent of $6; one of his other works recently sold for $200,000.

Hollis Will Play Harvesters Here Tonight

Strong Quail Five To Play In Pampa Tomorrow Night

Quail's potent basketball forces will invade the local court tomorrow night. Quail has one of the strongest teams in Collingsworth county, and in the Childress district known as "maister". Quail was entered in the Childress tournament and was one of the favorites to win, but was eliminated in much the same manner that the Harvesters were a few points. Quail will play Memphis tonight at Memphis, and Coach Mitchell will get a lineup on the strength of Memphis, a team the Harvesters will play Tuesday night in the Hall County seat. There will be two games tomorrow night, the second one between the first string, starting at 8 o'clock.

Ever since Coach Odus Mitchell saw the Hollis, Okla., team eat such a swath in the Shamrock tournament last year, he has wanted to pit his Harvesters basketball team against them. And he will realize that desire tonight when the Oklahoma will battle the Harvesters on the floor of the local gym. The Hollis eagles may make it as miserable for the Harvesters as the Cooper-ton Lions did.

The first of two games will begin at 7 o'clock with the B teams of both squads rattling the backboards. The first string will clash in the second game which should begin around 8 o'clock. Not much is known of the Hollis team, except that it is almost always a good team. Referee Joe Ley who used to coach down in that section predicted that Hollis would have a good team. The Hollis defense features a man-to-man guarding system in which the players chase the opposition all over the floor. The Harvesters never did break down the Cooper-ton, Okla., shifting zone defense last week.

Tuesday night the Harvesters are expected to run into trouble at Memphis where they will meet a vengeful Cyclone which lost by a few points to the Pampans here two weeks ago. Tuesday night the Cyclone mopped up on Childress, 24 to 16, one of the leading teams in that section. The two teams played at Childress last night again, but the result had not been learned today.

Coach Mitchell is undecided about his starting lineup for the first game. Pat Flanagan who was ill all week is still weak as a sick kitten, and the coach has not been using him much in practice. So it is likely that Junior Frasier who has done most of the playing at center anyway this season will play a lot. Burch forward, who has been out since he had a touch of the flu and bad cold.

Grover Lee Heiskell's knee seems to be getting better. Grover Lee who was as fast as greased lightning year before last when he played on the first string, has been slowed down by a bad knee that goes bad on him every so often. It has also cut his speed and balance.

The starting lineup for the first game between the reserves of the two teams will probably be Cox and C. Mitchell, forwards; Burch, center; Ot and Haler, guards; with Allen, as reserve guard. The first string starting lineup may have Mounds and Mitchell at the guard positions. Frasier or Flanagan at center; Farrell and Heiskell, forwards; with Dewey, Enloe ready to go in at a moment's notice. Heiskell has been practicing at a guard position this week.

Bucks Lose 30-23 To Groom Tigers
The White Deer Bucks began their 1941 basketball season Tuesday night at the high school gym by losing to the Groom Tigers, 23 to 30.

The experienced Bucks started off well but soon dropped behind. The half-court with the Groom boys in the lead about five points.

At the last of the game the Bucks opened up and ran their score up to 22 with the Tigers 25, but some long shots and a free throw by the Bucks 30 points while the Bucks were able to tally only one free shot, making the final score 30 to 23.

Starters were Gilbert Morris and A. C. Hourigan, forwards; Ollie Buchanan and Wayne Tomlin, guards; and Bill Hinkley, center. Substitutes were Clifton Williams, Clarence Leonard, J. W. Weaver, and Chester Gurry.

The second string lost a rough and tumble preliminary game 26 to 17 as nearly every man on the bench got to play.

A return game will be played Friday night at Groom.

Memphis Beats Childress 24-16

MEMPHIS, Jan. 3.—In their first start of the 1941 season since the Christmas holidays, Bobcat eagles were defeated 24-16 at Memphis Tuesday night when they were unable to stem a late surge by the Cyclones.

The cats piled up lead in the first half but dropped behind when the Memphis offense picked up in the third and fourth periods. Salmon headed the late Cyclone drive, scoring 10 points in the last half after making only three in the first two quarters.

Frank Cunningham pitched in six points to run second high in scoring.

Tuesday night's box score follows:

Replay Of Football Game Booted Out Of Memorial Coliseum
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—A proposed replay of the New Year's day East-West football game, already under fire of Shrine officials in San Francisco, was booting out of Los Angeles' 100,000-seat Memorial Coliseum today.

Alan Mowbray, representing the War Relief Association of Southern California, quickly bid for the 250,000 seat Gilmore stadium for Sunday, hoping to salvage the game and its profits for the English cause. He was to get his answer at a meeting scheduled for 9 a. m. (11 a. m. CST).

Ralph O. Chick, manager, said directors of the Coliseum were not convinced the game was on a "strictly amateur basis."

TEXAS AGGIES WHIP FORDHAM 13-12

All-American John Kimbrough walks over a pileup of players to make a second quarter first down for Texas A. & M. as Fordham fell before the Aggies, 13 to 12 in the Dallas Cotton Bowl.

RAM BAMS INTO AGGIE WALL

Eshmont of Fordham is brought down by Sterling, No. 67, and Pannell, No. 54, both of Texas A. & M., as Henderson, No. 55, and Thomason, No. 47, come up to help stop the smashing Fordham star. No gain was made on this first quarter play of the 5th Annual Cotton Bowl game at Dallas which was won by the Texas Aggies, 13-12.

Hero Of Sugar Bowl Wants To Teach School

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 3.—The Sugar Bowl's current hero wants no more glory and no more bruises. Slim Charlie O'Rourke is willing to end his playing career and to teach school.

A team physician said that after the sensational performance that brought Boston College a 19-13 victory over Tennessee Wednesday in the closing minutes. The plaid life of a teacher appeals to him more than the turbulence of a professional gridiron.

Dead-Fan Charley had plenty of both glory and bruises Wednesday. In the first few minutes of play he received a cruel hip blow, and chunks of skin were scraped from his shins.

A team physician said that after the game his body was a mass of bruises. In addition, during half-time Charlie took two salt tablets that made him sick.

None of the cheering 13,191 spectators realized it was a cripple, playing on his nerve, who completed three passes for 40 yards, slithered 24 more for the winning score, then broke up two long Tennessee tosses which appeared to be touchdown specials.

O'Rourke has been drafted by the Chicago Bears but leans toward a proposition as assistant coach and teacher at the Malden, Mass., high school where he started before going to college.

"I've had enough," said the blond hero as he packed his bags last night to leave for Boston. He was limping badly, and when he dropped an envelope he could hardly stoop to pick it up.

"You play professional football three or four years, you're through, and what have you?" He hasn't rejected a professional offer, however.

"I have a cousin, Ray Perry, teaching in Malden," he said. "He always has been my adviser. I'm going to do what he says."

Cotton Bowl Will Attempt To Eliminate Confusion

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
DALLAS, Jan. 3 (AP)—Firmly rooted in the nation's football bowl picture, the infant Cotton Bowl will sit tight and play close to its chest for the time being.

No enlargement plan are in the immediate offing, despite the buzz of such talk through Dallas today, said Dan D. Rogers, president of the Cotton Bowl Athletic association.

"We had a great game Wednesday—a sell-out. It was given a tremendous reception by the public and we are deeply appreciative. But conditions are too uncertain to talk of expansion. Right now we are interested in correcting a few little mistakes that our inexperience caused. But we know better now."

The next game will be another. A throng of 45,507 paid customers milled around with 1,000 ushers, some 400 policemen, workmen and vendors to put about 50,000 in the big saucer to witness Texas A. and M.'s 13-12 triumph over Fordham University.

Plans now call for recommendations to the Southwest conference and Cotton Bowl association by Rogers and James H. Stewart, director-general of the game, that will include an earlier ticket sale; better ticket distribution for the competing Southwest conference school and a new price scale.

Both Rogers and Stewart said they probably would recommend a sliding ticket scale of $5.50 for box seats; $4.40 for all seats between the end zones, and a lesser figure for the actual end zone seats.

"The question of an early ticket sale depends to a large degree upon arrangements to be worked out with the Southwest conference on ticket allotments to the host school."

But it is believed that tickets will be printed far in advance of the actual selection of the two competing teams. This year tickets were mailed late because printing was held up to include names of both Fordham and the Aggies.

"It will never be an easy matter to place all tickets on sale at an early date because of the conference tieup," said Rogers and Stewart. "It depends too much upon the size of the host school and the number of tickets they will need for their alumni."

Rogers admitted that some dissatisfaction had been expressed over tickets, but added that in many instances the ticketholder himself was to blame. He cited cases where reservations were made, checks and money orders sent much later without reference to the previous reservations.

"Naturally, they were given tickets in the order of arrival of checks," he said.

"Out of thousands of checks received in payment for tickets, only six remained on the 'hot' list today."

"And I'll bet you we get our money on those," grinned Rogers.

'Moose' Hartman Has Not Lost His Amateur Standing

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—All of the players who participated in the East-West football game at San Francisco New Year's day, except Fred Hartman of Rice, have automatically lost their amateur standing. Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the A. A. U., said today.

"At a recent A. A. U. convention in Denver, the A. A. U. ruled that all players must apply for permission to play in the East-West game if they wanted to retain their amateur standing," said Ferris. "Hartman was the only one to apply. His application was made by Rice officials."

As the result the A. A. U. has no jurisdiction over Sunday's charity game in Los Angeles, in which most of the East-West players plan to play.

Hartman, former Pampa Harvesters star, was one of the outstanding players in the West line. Although newspaper accounts failed to mention the play of linebacker, the radio announcer praised the play of Hartman. He said that time and time again Hartman stacked up the interference and also bagged the ball carrier. Once the announcer said that Tom Harmon must have thought that there were two or three Hartmans on the West team. Hartman was named an All-Southwest conference tackle and was named on the Associated Press second string All-American team.

Phil Zwick Still Wants To Take It

KAUKAUNA, Wis., Jan. 3 (AP)—Fifteen years ago, Phil Zwick, a youngster, climbed through the ropes in Milwaukee and went ten fast rounds with Joey Bangor, then rated as one of the best featherweights in the fight business.

On New Year's day that same Phil Zwick again climbed into a Milwaukee ring and through eight fast rounds gave Gene Ward, an up and coming Chicago negro, a lesson in boxing and punching.

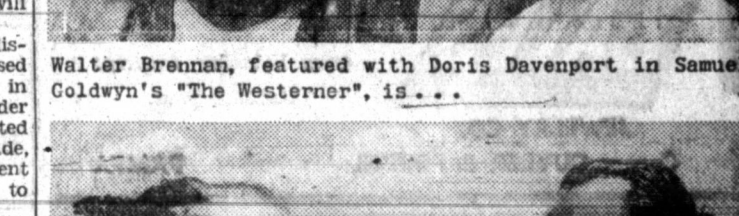

And the end is not yet in sight for Zwick. He's still willing and able to take on any of the featherweights. Zwick don't tell how old he is, but he must be about 35. He had his first fight while still in grade school so he must have been boxing nearly 20 years. At any rate he can't recall any man still fighting who was boxing when he first donned gloves.

The Kaukauna veteran left home early in the 20's for Florida where he had about 12 or 15 fights before heading for Cleveland. He fought many bouts in Cleveland and in the east before coming home 4 year later to take on Sanger, Bud Taylor, Lew Massey, Freddy Miller and other topnotchers of that day. By 1932 he had earned top spots on two Madison Square Garden shows in New York.

Then Zwick became a globe trotter and from 1933 to 1939 he fought in England, Wales, Ireland, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, India, Arabia, and Ceylon, taking time out to send for his sweetheart, Peggy Spencer, of Cleveland, and marrying her in Liverpool, England.

He came back in 1939 and showed he had lost little of his cunning, earning top spots in California and in the southwest.

For 15 to 20 years of fighting Zwick has very few scars to show. His nose has been flattened a bit, and he has faint scars from a couple of cuts, but his ears are not marred and he still is lithe and keen of eye.

White Deer To Play In Groom On Friday
Special To The NEWS
GROOM, Jan. 3.—After taking a squad of boys to White Deer who were barely recovering from the effects of the flu, Coach Burch Clark hopes to have a full strength club when he plays host to a return game with White Deer Bucks on Friday night in the local gym. To date the Tigers have won 2 games and dropped one.

White Throw Record
GROOM, Utah, Jan. 3 (AP)—Weber Junior college and Montana State basketballers missed enough free throws to have won a season's schedule of games in Weber's 72-62 victory.
Foul pitches totaled 70. Weber's Wildcats made good only 18 of 30 and the Montanans 16 of 40.

sieging forces may have begun the long-awaited frontal assault on the subject, where 20,000 Italians are strongly entrenched.
London's admiralty reported the dramatic sinking of an Italian submarine by the British submarine Thunderbolt.
Neutral Ireland (Eire) also was raided by unidentified aircraft, and a lone plane dropped planes on Dublin, injuring 12 persons and burying two others in debris in a residential district. Many magnetic sea mines loosed by other planes on the island in the last 36 hours were found and a government statement said they resembled those used by the Germans.
The Greek high command reported successful "local actions" against the Italians in Albania, but zero weather was said to be limiting the fighting. The Greeks said both prisoners and a number of machine guns were captured by the troops. Hitler's high command listed eight

Germans killed and 20 wounded in RAF raids on two north German communities—identified by the British as Bremen and Emden—and acknowledged some factory fires were set.
RAF pilots said the flames were so intense they couldn't see the bomb bursts in the attack on Bremen, a follow-up of Wednesday night's blasting assault in which more than 20,000 incendiary bombs and heavy loads of explosives were dropped on the German shipping center.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Jan. 3. (AP)—Stocks and news exhibited a little more backbone in today's stock market and, along with selected issues, managed to move up fractions to a point or so.
Many issues continued in the losing division without showing pronounced weakness.
Volume of approximately 500,000 shares was among the smallest in a month or so.
Among shares Universal Pictures preferred ran up several points on a few transactions. Savage Arms, responding to resale earnings predictions, jumped to a new peak for the past year.
All the advancing division most of the day were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Monsanto Chemical, Johns-Manville, Studebaker, Santa Fe, Standard Oil of N. J., Lofts, Electric Boat, Philip Morris and U. S. Industrial Alcohol.
Wavering now and then were DuPont, Westinghouse, N. Y. Central, Montgomery Ward, Sherry, Eastman Kodak, Kennecott and J. C. Penney.
Corporate bonds were a bit shaky, as were commodities.

British Find That U. S. Made Engines Can Take Punishment

By DEVON FRANCIS
Associated Press Aviation Editor
NEW YORK, Jan. 2—The scene was a British air training camp and the day was one of those typically dismal, overcast days when even a ghost of a wind over the rolling English countryside sends chills to the marrow.

She Gets the Last Word

Leave it to a woman to get the last word. Docksides good-byes had been made and this troop-laden transport was ready to shove off from a South African port. A soldier lowered his steel helmet over the side and the girl he left behind him dropped in the final words of farewell. Troops were probably headed for the Egyptian-Libyan battle area.

Absent-Minded

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 2 (AP)—Here's another story about the absent-minded man. After waiting in line for more than an hour to renew his driver's license, A. G. Bailey was informed by a clerk that he had already obtained his renewal—back in October.

It Costs the Average Driver about Three Cents a Mile to Drive His Car; in 1900 the Average was 30 Cents a Mile.

It has been estimated that Americans buy approximately 28,000,000 phonograph records annually.

SERIAL STORY

CHRISTMAS RUSH

BY TOM HORNER

YESTERDAY'S Dr. Connelly made Jerry's unconscious at the scene of the accident. Valerie is in a hospital, almost in a coma...

VALERIE HAS HER INNING

CHAPTER XI

THE principal injury Valerie Parks had suffered in the accident was to her feelings, the house physician who examined her decided...

The medicine quieted her nerves to some extent, but nothing could calm her rage. Her car—her beautiful new car—was wrecked...

Mr. and Mrs. Parks reached the hospital at 4:30, demanded that Valerie be awakened, so they could hear from her the full extent of her injuries...

Mary Ward saw her come down the hall, saw her start up the stairs toward Jerry's room...

Valerie hung back. "I'm in a hurry. I'm going up and tell those Connelly's—all of them—what I think of that precious son of theirs..."

"Yes, he did. He drove right into that poor man. My car is a total wreck. Val raved on. When her tirade ended, she turned to leave...

Shamrock CC Names Officers For 1941

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS. SHAMROCK, Jan. 3—James F. Smith was chosen to head the Shamrock chamber of commerce for the year 1941...

The incoming directors, who were chosen by written ballot at the membership meeting for election of officers, R. F. Fry was chosen by the body as vice president and Perry Bear was named treasurer...

New directors who were inducted into office were: J. H. Caperton, James F. Smith, W. H. Walker, John L. Nunn and Perry Bear...

Among the projects mentioned for special attention during the coming year were: Securing a cheese plant for Shamrock, continuing with the annual St. Patrick's day celebration...

A good will program to be extended to all parts of the trade territory, county exhibits of 4-H boys and girls club work and of home demonstration club work...

Wheeler Officials Start New Tenures

SHAMROCK, Jan. 3—With County Judge D. A. Hunt administering the oath of office, the official family of Wheeler county assumed their duties in the court house in Wheeler at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning...

Several new officials will be found among those taking the oath of office in a ceremony which was held in the district court room. Jess Wink, sheriff, took the oath of office on Oct. 1 after the resignation of Raymond Waters...

George Hefley will succeed Glenn King as commissioner of precinct 4. Arlie Lee Hunt will be the new district clerk, succeeding Holt Green. Harry Woford succeeds B. F. Craig as county clerk...

Other officials who will retain their offices for the next two years are: D. A. Hunt, county judge; Alan Kavanaugh, county superintendent of schools; H. H. Walker, commissioner of precinct 1; Homer Moss, county attorney; Terrell Gunter, tax assessor-collector; J. D. Merriman, county surveyor; A. C. Wood, justice of peace precinct 1; B. B. Walker, justice of peace precinct 3 & 4.

"Listen, Val, you're not leaving here until your parents come for you. You may wreck Jerry's medical career, but you're not going to disturb him, nor his family right now, ranting about your car."

"Don't you realize how seriously Jerry has been hurt? He may not get well—and you stand there worrying more about your car than the life of the man you're going to marry?"

VAL laughed. "The man I'm going to marry! That's funny. Do you think I'd ever tie myself to a drugstore clerk?"

"But Jerry's in love with you. You told Dr. and Mrs. Connelly you wanted to get married right away..."

"That was Jerry's idea, not mine," Val snapped. "Then you never intended to marry him..."

"You were willing to let him quit medicine, wreck his entire life, destroy his father's hopes and plans..."

"I'll show you, if you'll move out of that doorway!" Val answered. "Listen, Mary, Jerry is the best-looking man on the campus..."

"There was another reason, too," Valerie hurried on. "You've never liked me, Mary Ward, any more than you've liked me."

"You—president of the house, telling me when I had to be in at night, how many dates I can have a week, when I should study, it's a wonder you didn't try to tell me what I could wear..."

"You were dating Jerry Connelly when I came to school. I wanted to take him away from you, just to hurt you, and I did. I'm glad. I suppose you're in love with him..."

"Mary's face was white, but her eyes flashed anger. When she spoke her voice was low, controlled. "I do love Jerry. But he doesn't know it. He hasn't time to think about love and marriage now. He has too much work to do. Maybe he loved me. I used to hope he would, before you came. Now you've wrecked everything..."

"I don't think so." Mary whirled around. Dr. Connelly and his wife stood in the doorway. "YOU'LL forgive us for eaves-dropping, Miss Parks," Hugh continued, stiffly formal. "We couldn't help hearing you. You seem to place more value on your car than upon Jerry's life..."

"You might have wrecked Jerry's entire life—if he lives..." Now, I believe your parents are waiting for you." He stepped back to let her out the door.

Valerie pulled her coat tightly around her, hurried from the room. "I hope I never see any of you again—and that goes for Jerry, too!"

"You heard—everything?" Mary asked. "Everything," Martha answered. "We understand, Mary. We love him, too."

"Will he—will he get well?" "He hasn't regained consciousness," the doctor told her. "There was concussion, but no fracture. He has a broken arm, and a couple of cracked ribs. He is resting easily now..."

"Now, Martha, I want you all to go home, try to get some sleep. I'll stay here. This has been a hectic night for all of us."

The doctor was right. Martha thought sleep impossible, but she awoke to find the sun flooding her room with warmth. She could hear Cleo rattling pans in the kitchen, and Hugh whistling!

She picked up a robe, ran downstairs. Hugh was waiting for her in the living room, smiling. She rushed to him. "He'll live, Martha."

Her heart was pounding. She wanted to laugh, to cry all at once. Her boy would live. She sobbed against Hugh's shoulder. "He regained consciousness soon after you left the hospital. Her husband was saying, 'recognized me, and went back to sleep. He's still a 'hardhead.' He can still take the bumps."

"The boy is a long ways from well, but he'll make it. We're not losing him this time, darlin'." "Wake up the girls and we'll go back to the hospital. Jerry will be wanting to see you."

God To Be Subject Of Lesson-Sermon

"God" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 5.

The Golden Text is: "Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Zion; and unto thee shall the vow be performed. O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come" (Psalms 65:1, 2).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning" (James 1:17). The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit blesses man, but man cannot 'tell whence is cometh.' By it the sick are healed, the sorrowing are comforted, and the sinning are reformed. These are the effects of one universal God, the invisible good dwelling in eternal Science" (page 78).

Traffic Lanes, "Made to Order," by New Curbs

Traffic lanes, "made to order" by curbs that rise and descend, are helping solve traffic problems along Chicago's lake front highway. Curbs are normally flush with the pavement. Hydraulic lift quickly raises them nine inches, making various combinations of lanes in the roadways, depending on traffic volume of the moment. The new elevating curbs, pictured above in use, were designed by traffic engineer Otto E. Jelonek.

Special Oil Body To Be Considered

AUSTIN, Jan. 3 (AP)—Whether to create an appointive body to administer oil and gas regulatory duties now performed by the Railroad Commission will be one of the big subjects before the legislature, Rep. Harold L. Kennedy of Palestine said here today.

"I do not know if demand for such a body is as strong as it was some time ago, but I think one of the big fights of the session lies there," Kennedy said. One of the youngest men in the legislature—he is only 23—Kennedy expressed the opinion the people would be glad if only conservative legislation were enacted. "I do not think they are demanding anything sweeping and radical in pension, tax or any other form of legislation," he said. "There are many matters of lesser importance, pertaining to the ordinary life of the state, which need attention, and the legislature ought to occupy itself with these."

Sailfish Abound In Gulf Stream

STUART, Fla., Jan. 3 (AP)—Unprecedented concentration of usually elusive sailfish in the Gulf stream off the lower coast of Florida is providing anglers a field day. On a single day, 14 small craft boated 92 prize sailfish off Stuart, establishing a modern record for this sport, and yesterday more than 100 were reported caught. On another day, two men in one boat had 28 strikes, boated 20, released 19 of them and had time for a mess of dolphin on the side. Forty were landed by another party, which released 28 of them.

Old fishermen say they've never seen anything like it. Just why the schools are so thick nobody knows for sure.

'Sea Devil' Von Luckner Probably Sinking Ships Again In Pacific

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 3.—British naval circles, stirred by the recent depredations of a German sea raider in the Pacific, say it is not only possible, but "probable" that Count Felix von Luckner, the German "sea devil" of World war fame, is again on the prowl.

The bluff, 45-year-old seaman, who led British men o'war a merry chase more than 20 years ago, is just the man on whom the Nazis might pick, these circles declare, to command the modern mystery raider.

Von Luckner, who is not a regular officer in the German navy, was reported in America shortly before the war broke out. It was recalled, however, that he had been in the Pacific, riding the big British liner, Rangitane, on Nov. 26. The ship's crew and passengers were landed on the little island of Emirau near New Guinea, whence they later were rescued.

Twenty-four years ago a picturesque old German windjammer, the Seeadler, made its appearance in the south Pacific and began raiding allied shipping. Count Felix von Luckner commanded her and in that 1916-17 period was credited with sinking more than 25 ships, earning the title of the "sea eagle" or "sea devil."

He provisioned largely from the ships he sank, imprisoning their crews until he could land them on south Pacific islands. The sinking of the four-masted schooner Manila, an American vessel, finally led indirectly, to his internment in New Zealand until the war ended.

The Seeadler approached the Manila in June, 1917, and sank her with time bombs after stripping her of valuables and taking her crew aboard. Months later, Von Luckner anchored off the reef of Montpelier island to land the Americans and other prisoners he had aboard. In the attempt, a tidal wave drove the Seeadler on a reef.

Von Luckner and his men then took a small French vessel and got as far as the Fiji islands, where they were captured.

After the war he lectured widely in the United States. Only last June he was accused by the British of conducting spy activities in Australia while on a "good will" visit there in 1938.

Oil Millionaire Buys Race Track

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 3 (AP)—William G. Heils, oil millionaire, declares he put up the money for a syndicate which planned to resume racing at the historic Fairgrounds track "purely from a civic standpoint," and added that he was "not interested in making any money."

The track equipment was offered at auction yesterday by a group which had purchased it for $460,000 with the announced purpose of turning the site into a residential subdivision.

Several thousand dollars worth of chairs, tables, and other articles had been knocked down when the auction was halted abruptly and the announcement made that an option had been given on all equipment and the site for $525,000.

There was some grumbling when money was refunded on the already-auctioned articles.

Sylvester W. Labrot, Jr., New Orleans sportsman who breeds thoroughbreds on a Maryland farm, said that he planned to head the new racing association without a salary.

Heils, who became rich in the Louisiana oil fields and recently donated $1,000,000 of his oil equipment in his native Greece to the Greek government, said his interest in the deal was purely one of a civic nature.

The 3,065,000 miles of American highways are nearly three times as much as the total road mileage of France, England, Germany, Spain, Portugal, and Italy combined.
