

New British Aircraft Carrier Weathers Seven-Hour Dive Bombing Attack

(Editor's note: Larry Allen, Associated Press correspondent aboard the British aircraft carrier Illustrious, Jan. 10 when Nazi dive bombers attacked her, has been an eye-witness of most of the actions fought by the British fleet in the Mediterranean.)

(Allen went to Europe in 1938 to cover the Spanish Civil war for the Associated Press, which he had joined three years before after service on newspapers in Charleston, W. V., Baltimore, Washington, D. C., Portsmouth, Ohio, and Huntington,

W. Va. His birthplace is Mount Savage, Md.)

By LARRY ALLEN
ABOARD AIRCRAFT CARRIER ILLUSTRIOUS, WITH MEDITERRANEAN FLEET, Jan. 16 (AP)—Battered but still able to move under her own power, the aircraft carrier Illustrious has reached the comparative safety of a Mediterranean port after weathering one of the most punishing attacks a British warship has undergone in this war.

For seven hours on Jan. 10, German dive bombers rained explosives on her in an attempt to send her to the bottom as she plowed through the central Mediterranean with other fleet units escorting a big east-bound convoy.

Between 40 and 50 Nazi planes participated in the attack, diving low to release 1,000-pound bombs whose concussion shook the 23,000-ton vessel as a cat shakes a rat.

In all, 100,000 pounds of high explosive bombs were aimed at her flight deck and many torpedoes at her sides.

I witnessed the first part of the attack from the bridge, where part of the time I was flat on my face, my hands folded across my head, while splinters of steel swept the carrier's decks and the "thump, thump" of anti-aircraft guns mingled with the spine-chilling scream of the dive bombers and the crash of bursting bombs.

The second time the Germans came over, a low-flying Stuka dropped a bomb which exploded near the starboard side of the ship. The blast threw a column of water over the bridge and hurled me down a hatchway to aviation intelligence quarters one deck below. A sheet of fire burned my face.

Throughout the assault the carrier's pom-pom guns kept up a continuous fire, putting up a wall of fire through which the Nazis dived head-on.

A flight of British planes which succeeded in taking off from the Illustrious before the Germans struck also made the Nazis pay. The final score in German planes shot down was 12.

The attack on the Illustrious came after a British cruiser attached to the convoy sank one of Italy's newest destroyers, the 642-ton Vega, and damaged another.

engagement, during which the British cruiser also engaged Italian shore batteries (presumably on the Sicilian coast).

The cruiser opened the battle when she sighted the two destroyers dead ahead. A shell from the British vessel set one of the destroyers afire, and she moved off at top speed, losing herself in the mist along the coast as the cruiser engaged her mate.

The latter, the Vega, exchanged shells for shells with the cruiser until her magazine suffered a direct hit. I saw a great mass of flame shoot up from the Vega and she slipped swiftly beneath waves with her entire crew of 94 men.

British naval units continued to fire at the Italian shore batteries, which fell silent after the Vega sank. A British plane dropped bombs on the other fleeing destroyer and British expressed a belief possibly she sank or was beached somewhere along Pantelleria island.

As the convoy continued its eastward journey after the naval battle, I was in the wardrobe of the Illustrious, just sitting down to lunch, when a Marine bugler sounded a warning and the loudspeakers boomed:

"All hands to action stations."

I had barely reached the bridge when a big bomb struck the ship with a shattering blast, and a moment later another 1,000-pounder crashed alongside. A blinding flash seemed to envelop the whole ship.

Another bomb tore holes in the carrier's side, still another burst close alongside, the fragments striking members of an anti-aircraft crew.

The din was hellish as every gun on the Illustrious roared at the Germans, but they continued to come, See NEW BRITISH, Page 3

NYA District Office To Be Opened Here

Two weeks ago the National Youth Administration said that it would open a district office here if space were donated. The city, county and postoffice scanned their corners but could not find a cranny until yesterday when Jaycees, county officials and BCD members hit an idea all at once: to build an office in a corner of the seldom-used and never filled city auditorium.

The city tentatively decided it was a good idea since it came from so many people at once.

It would be a simple matter to remove the seats, raise the floor, install inside walls and use some of the wasted space. So the new NYA office will probably be built in the auditorium.

The NYA will direct activities in this region from Pampa. The first NYA project will be construction of a sheet metal gymnasium on city park property near Road Runner ball park. The project will be sponsored by the Jaycees and the City with the former furnishing around $6,000 in cash and the latter none.

The Jaycees are now considering ways and means of raising the money. They have agreed that it will be in the form of loans subscribed by Pampans and complete details will be worked out in a few days.

Pampa is not the only city which is beginning to welcome NYA with open arms. Down at Big Spring, a NYA full-time work center for boys will be established. J. C. Kellam, state director, announced yesterday. Kellam stated that during one-half of each day the boys would aid in construction of a municipal airport building and the rest of the day would devote themselves to working in the center's metal shops.

Pampans pushing the gym project believe that successful promotion of it may lead to other projects, such as a work center. Shops being built by NYA now are not play centers, but are large work shops 50 feet long and 50 feet wide and containing thousands of dollars worth of machinery.

Thousands of dollars have been spent in Childress, Amarillo, Canyon, Wellington and other Panhandle towns whose city governments have gone to NYA and asked for projects. These projects have given employment to many jobless youths between the ages of 18 and 24 in these towns. Hundreds of young men are employed on NYA projects in Childress. In many of these towns the city government has sponsored the projects for the obvious reason that by spending money for materials the city can obtain employment for its jobless youths with the labor bill paid by NYA.

Registrants Must Report For Tests

Registrants under the selective service law who do not make themselves available when ordered for physical examination shall be treated as delinquents.

This is the information contained in a letter received by the Gray County Selective Service board from Lieutenant Colonel Darnice B. Burns, A. G. D. manpower division, Austin.

The lieutenant colonel's letter also referred to Americans enlisting in the Royal Canadian Air force or other corps of the Canadian army.

Registrants are not authorized to leave the United States without first securing a permit from their local board. What procedure would be followed and what the penalties would be in such a case are not explained in the letter.

County Tax Officer Files 1940 Report

Report of F. E. Leech, county tax assessor collector of Gray county, is the latest annual report for 1940 filed in the office of the district clerk.

Total fees earned and collected by the tax officer during the past year are shown as $29,685.31; authorized expenditures $15,585.84. Salary of the chief officer is $3,750.

Deputy hire during 1940 totaled $9,956.05, divided among eight employees.

Jack Back, $1,800; Bettie Ragsdale, E. L. Henderson, Charles Cousins, $1,500 each; Bill Finley, $1,250; Sara DeWoody, $950; L. L. Palmer, $750; Edwina Hollingshead, $700.

Population of Gray county is listed on the report at 23,487.

35 Truck Loads Of Mud Scraped From Streets Last Night

More than 35 truck loads of mud were scraped off five blocks of Cuyler street last night, according to Bush Haggard, street superintendent.

Cleaning of South Cuyler street and as many intersecting streets as possible will continue tonight, Mr. Haggard stated today.

"We had wonderful cooperation from Pampans last night," Mr. Haggard said today. "I hope they and visitors will continue to park their cars in the center of the streets after midnight until we have completed the work."

Because of the "soupy" nature of the mud last night use of the street sweeper was curtailed. Brushes and water had to be brought into play and the work was slowed up considerably, according to Mr. Haggard.

DEATH OF FIFTH AVENUE

The drama of a tragic game of cops and robbers on New York's Fifth Avenue is told in these pictures. Called by spectators, policeman Edward Maher, left, draws his gun as he rushes to a holdup scene—a few seconds later he lies dead on the sidewalk, right background, slain by the bandit, arrow, Angelo Distefano, who struggles with spectators over Maher's body. In the foreground, Leonard Weisberg, taxi driver wounded by Distefano, also lies on the sidewalk. Distefano and his brother, Joseph, were captured.

W. Lee Asks Solons To Bury Hatchet

AUSTIN, Jan. 16 (AP)—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel called for a "housecleaning" in state government in a message today to the 47th legislature.

He reiterated his opposition to horse race betting, urged more effective control of liquor sales, denounced lobbyists and made specific recommendations for governmental reorganization.

Much of his talk was devoted to a denunciation of overlapping state boards.

"The headless, irresponsible fourth division (overlapping boards) of our state government," he declared, "and this third house of well-organized lobbyists make a combination which thwarts the will of the masses of our people and brings on most of the demoralized conditions which the great rank and file of our citizens experience."

The governor urged that the battles of two years ago on legislation be forgotten. He said that he wanted to work in harmony with the new lawmakers body.

O'Daniel, renominated last summer by a convincing majority, was given a standing ovation when he entered the house chamber to deliver the first half of his message to the house and senate. The second half will be heard tomorrow.

"I anticipate the greatest joy of my life," he said, "in sharing with you, ladies and gentlemen of the 47th legislature, the most constructive accomplishments of our state's history."

"This session of the legislature," the governor asserted, "convenes at a time when the whole world is disturbed and at a time when this nation faces many problems constituting a national emergency, which must be dealt with by the president and the congress of the United States. x x x

"I believe that the interest of Texas will be served best if we direct our efforts aggressively to the solution of state and local problems, many of which are unsolved and pressing, and avoid seeking to tell the national representative whom the people have elected, how the national government should be conducted."

First mention of the old age assistance question came when Mr. O'Daniel referred to the "temper" of that body that no applicant be denied old age assistance simply because children were considered able to support them.

War Flashes

LONDON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Malcolm MacDonald, minister of health, today ordered the compulsory removal from the greater London area of all children under 14 considered likely to suffer "in mind or body" from air attacks if they remain in or near the capital.

Liquid Air Will Be Subject Of API Meeting

The first 1941 program of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute will be held next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the city auditorium. It will be the first meeting under the chapter's new chairman, Charlie Alford.

An interesting program has been prepared for the meeting. The subject to be discussed will be liquid air. Many demonstrations and experiments will be presented in connection with the talk by C. C. (Andy) Anderson of the United States Bureau of Mines.

Entertainment will be presented by Bob Clark of Sayre, Okla., nationally known magician who has appeared here before. Mr. Clark has a complete new set of tricks which he will present.

Also appearing on the program will be Sheriff Carl Rose of Gray county who will discuss oilfield thefts and ways and means of protecting property.

The meeting will be open to the public and no admission will be charged.

McClure To Install Boy Scout Officers

Earl McClure of Dallas, deputy regional executive of Boy Scout region 9, will be in Pampa tonight to install new officers of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout council. Installation will take place at the annual council banquet at 8 o'clock in the Schneider hotel.

Toastmaster will be Glenn Mordy of Pampa. The program will include invocation by the Rev. Robert Boshen, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, singing led by J. Troy Israel, field executive, a first aid skit by members of Boy Scout Troop 6, Borger, and an address by the Rev. Dr. R. Thomsen, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, Amarillo.

Scouters and their wives from all parts of the council will be in Pampa for the banquet.

New officers, headed by R. G. Hughes of Pampa, were elected at a December business meeting here. Raymond Harrah of Pampa is the retiring president.

raking the decks with machine-gun fire even as they loosed their bombs. Several torpedoes narrowly missed the carrier.

Battleships, cruisers, and destroyers were being attacked simultaneously. Great puffs of water sometimes hid the other vessels from sight.

Both officers and men of the illustrious risked machine-gun fire to cross the decks to rescue wounded comrades and carry them below to medical stations.

The few fighter planes which the carrier was able to get into action before the first bombs struck drove the Germans off temporarily, and gave the only respite until darkness fell. Less than an hour after the first assault the Nazis returned, and once more hell broke loose.

Bombs fell all about the ship, rocking her so that at times it appeared she was about to turn over. Between 2 and 7:30 p. m. there never were more than a few minutes at a time free of the crash of bursting bombs and the thunder of gunfire.

Throughout the afternoon, Rear Admiral A. L. St. George Lyster stood on the bridge with bomb splinters and machine-gun bullets splattering around him, giving orders to his aides.

So low did some of the big German bombers come that every detail of their markings was clearly visible to those aboard the illustrious.

One officer said later: "It was the most tremendous, terrifying thing I have ever seen. It seemed like all the fires of hell had been kindled. The blast of a 1,000-pound bomb is so crushing, so incredible, there are no words to describe it."

When the illustrious finally reached port 12 hours after the last German attack was over, fire squads rushed aboard and quickly extinguished a small fire in her interior. Shipwrights set to work at once plugging bomb holes and getting her ready to go to sea again.

The dead were taken out to sea for burial in the waters on which they had fought, and the wounded were taken ashore to hospitals.

It will eliminate the competition of many different purchasing agencies from different countries. x x x it enables us to build a well-ordered system of placing contracts and to utilize and carry into effect the studies which have been made over a period of 20 years by our army and navy officials in preparation for just such an emergency as we now face."

Pampans Attending Proration Hearing

Several producers, operators and royalty owners from Pampa and other parts of the Panhandle oil field are in Austin today attending a statewide proration hearing of the Texas Railroad commission.

The men will ask the commission to lift the shutdown which has been imposed upon the Panhandle field. Mel B. Davis, president of the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners association, stated before leaving that evidence would be presented to the commission to show that production is so far under demand that refineries will be unable to operate to meet demand unless the situation is relieved. Refineries are taking from storage, which is the lowest in history, Mr. Davis said.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
The German aerial offensive against the British fleet in the central Mediterranean has the early appearance of being preliminary to a final effort—to save what is left of Mussolini's big Libyan army from destruction at the hands of the Allies, and to prevent British support from reaching the victorious Greeks in Albania.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germy laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beachwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist that you want a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

be to smash a hole in the British blockade and thus reestablish water-communications between Italy and Marshal Graziani's forces in Africa. This would permit sending of badly needed reinforcements and supplies.

This new operation is a continuation of Hitler's rescue party for his Axis partner, who has been so badly lounded by the Allies in Libya and Albania that he bids fair to lose his entire African empire. Unless quick aid reaches Graziani, he and his army are likely to be polished off and marched away to a prison camp.

While the Nazi offensive hasn't begun as a major affair, it obviously might develop into something more elaborate should fortune smile on it. Hitler is a gambling opportunist and generally quick to take advantage of openings—and they call him "Lucky Hitler" in Germany.

However, the Nazis can succeed only if they establish supremacy over the Royal Air Force in the Mediterranean zone. Lacking this control, the German warplanes which are operating from Sicily can scarcely hope to down the British navy and air-force combined. Were that possible, the Nazis would have established domination over the English channel long ago.

The Axis partners may be able to run the gauntlet and carry some help to Graziani. They may even bolster him so that he can maintain himself against attack at his chief base in the port of Tripoli.

But this in itself won't save the rest of Italy's African possessions, which have begun to rock with the Fascist defeat in Libya. Graziani's shattered army is finished as an offensive force for the time being.

Military circles in London believe Hitler may be planning to send German troops to Graziani's aid, if the blockade can be breached. That might be a good move for the Axis, for the purpose of defending fortified areas like the ports of Tripoli and Benghazi. The Germans are powerful fighters and might instill new spirit into the badly man-handled Fascist army.

However, Nazi troops would be handicapped in actual desert warfare, since that calls for highly specialized training. There is little in the German lexicon of war to compare with the science of campaigning over an ocean of sand.

Having thus pointed to the weakness of the Nazis as desert fighters, I really must record that one of the most brilliant tricks ever tried in this warfare was credited to the ingenuity of German army officers. This was in August of 1916, during the World War, at the time of the battle in the Sinai desert east of the Suez canal. I was there at the headquarters of General Sir Archibald Murray, commander in chief in the near east.

The Turks, partly officered by Germans, had confounded most military experts by marching an army of some 14,000 across the waterless desert. That was astounding enough, but a real seven-day mystery was created by the fact that they dragged artillery through the deep, loose sand. The British sweated much before they finally hit on the answer which was this:

There grows in the desert a little plant, like a cactus, which is as tough and wiry as a bunch of steel springs. The German engineers had hit upon the scheme of making a sort of railroad track, the width of a gun carriage, by digging shallow parallel trenches and filling them with the springy plant.

NEW BRITISH

raining the decks with machine-gun fire even as they tossed their bombs. Several torpedoes narrowly missed the carrier.

Battleships, cruisers, and destroyers were being attacked simultaneously. Great quantities of water sometimes hid the other vessels from sight.

Both officers and men of the illustrious risked machine-gun fire to cross the decks to rescue wounded comrades and carry them below to medical stations.

The few fighter planes which the carrier was able to get into action before the first bombs struck drove the Germans off temporarily, and gave the only respite until darkness fell. Less than an hour after the first assault the Nazis returned, and once more hell broke loose.

Bombs fell all about the ship, rocking her so that at times it appeared she was about to turn over. Between 2 and 7:30 p. m., there never were more than a few minutes at a time free of the crash bursting bombs and the thunder of gunfire.

Throughout the afternoon, Rear Admiral A. L. St. George Lyster stood on the bridge with bomb splinters and machine-gun bullets splattering around him, giving orders to his aides.

So low did some of the big German bombers come that every detail of their markings was clearly visible to those aboard the illustrious.

One officer said later: "It was the most tremendous, terrifying thing I have ever seen. It seemed like all the fires of hell had been kindled. The blast of a 1,000-pound bomb is so crushing, so incredible, there are no words to describe it."

When the illustrious finally reached port 12 hours after the last German attack was over, fire squads rushed aboard and quickly extinguished a small fire in her interior. Shipwrights set to work at once plugging bomb holes and getting her ready to go to sea again.

The dead were taken out to sea for burial in the waters on which they had fought, and the wounded were taken ashore to hospitals.

Several producers, operators and royalty owners from Pampa and other parts of the Panhandle oil field are in Austin today attending a statewide proration hearing of the Texas Railroad commission.

Refineries are taking from storage, which is the lowest in history, Mr. Davis said.

Legislation Program Presented At Meeting Of B.-P. W. Members

A regular recreation night sponsored by the health committee with Opal Wright as chairman, will be conducted for members of Business and Professional Women's club this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the city club rooms.

At the monthly business session of the club held this week in the city club rooms, a letter of congratulations from Miriam Coleman, state executive secretary, was read complimenting the local publications committee, with Mildred Overall as chairman, on their new bulletin.

Following the business session Tuesday night, Letha Northrup and her committee presented an educational and interesting program on legislation. Passes, similar to those sent out by the United States senate before each session, were sent to each member of the local club after they had been signed by Senator Grady Hazlewood.

Material for the program was furnished by Bob Barkdale, secretary of the Texas senate for 13 years, and Representative Gene Worley.

Appearing on the program were Mildred Lafferty, president of the club.

FOR YOUR NEW SPRING PRINT

Right now's the time to get into a gay new print, or a suave black flock in flat crepe or thin wool, or a bright-colored spun rayon. Something slick and young and decidedly new-looking, that will be as smart this spring, for countless days, as it is right now under your winter coat.

This design (8867) is one of those gracefully simple basics that you'll want to make up in more than one version. The deep V of the neckline is a perfect background for jewels or a cluster of flowers, so that you can vary it endlessly with different accessories.

Plan your spring wardrobe right now! You'll find all the approved new styles in our Spring Fashion book, worked out in easy designs that you can make yourself.

Pattern No. 8867 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 4 yards of 39-inch material without nap. Mail your order today.

For a PATTERN of this attractive model, send $1.00 IN COIN, YOUR NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE to The Pampa News Today's Pattern Service, 211 W. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill.

MIDDLE-AGE WOMEN HEED THIS ADVICE!! Thousands of women are helped to go smiling through life by the use of Vicks VapoRub. It relieves the distressing symptoms of colds, coughs, and sore throats.

Watch Family Now While Epidemic Colds Are Spreading

At a treacherous time like this, with an epidemic of contagious colds all around you, what do you do today may save you and your family a lot of sickness, worry and trouble later.

Follow these simple rules of health: Live normally. Avoid excesses. Eat simple food. Drink plenty of water. Keep elimination regular. Take some exercise daily—preferably outdoors. Get plenty of rest and sleep.

Then use these two time-tested treatments when needed. AT THE FIRST SHUFFLE, SNEEZE OR NASAL IRRITATION—put a few drops of Vicks VapoRub on each nostril.

Both VapoRub and VapoRub have been tested through years of use in millions of homes. When you use these two medicines you are not experimenting, you are not taking needless chances. Remember: If the condition of the cold fails to respond quickly to treatment—or if more serious trouble is indicated—call your family physician right away.

Electric Refrigeration HIGH IN VALUE LOW IN COST It's impossible to put a money value on the protection of a family's food supply, but your electric refrigerator dealer can show you in dollar and cents how very little it costs to keep food absolutely pure and fresh in an electric refrigerator. As health protection alone an electric refrigerator is worth its weight in gold. And when you consider the convenience, ice cube supply and home-made ice creams and frozen dainties, the operating cost is little compared to the service rendered. # Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (AP)—The prices of leading stocks were given another cut of fractions to 2 or more points in today's market but even reduced rates failed to tempt many buyers.

Dealing picked up now and then on the selling side and transfers for the full proceeds were around 600,000 shares against about 400,000 yesterday.

Prominent stocks on the backside included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Common and Preferred, Goodyear, Sears, Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, American Smelting, Westinghouse, American Can, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Monsanto Chemical, Johns-Manville and senior bonds of American Locomotive, International Agricultural Chemical and International Paper.

Standard Oil of N. J. was slightly under water at times. Assistant vice president, preferred, Air Reduction, Consolidated Gas, Preferred and American Telephone. Commodities were irregularly lower.

Carriers' loans did better than other bond categories which inclined to trail with stocks.

Falling a point or so in the curb were American Hard Rubber, Humble Oil, Mead Johnson, Pittsburgh Plate Glass, Todd Shipyards and United Shoe Machinery, cut.

Mrs. Roach is vice president of district one of the Texas Home Demonstration association. She spoke to the council group on organization, procedure in district and state elections, and district expenditures.

So far, no names of candidates for district vice president have been submitted to Mrs. Roach, although the date of the district meeting has tentatively been set for April 17 in Pampa. Heretofore the meeting of district one has been in Amarillo.

Mrs. Charles Walker, chairman of the council, and district secretary, presided at the Saturday meeting and announced the committees for 1941.

They are as follows: Finance, Mrs. C. C. Lawson, Cuyler; Mrs. Vernie Oglevie, Skellytown.

Exhibit: Mrs. M. C. King, King; Mrs. A. E. Crimes, Conway; Mrs. Carl Devitt, Skellytown.

The recreational representative will be selected by the council chairman later.

A new feature this year is the systematically designed year books for use of council representatives for each club.

Eight clubs were represented at the meeting.

Mrs. Ruth Perry, the new home demonstration agent, was unable to be present because of illness.

Flagman 'Lost' By Train In Miami Fog

Special To The NEWS
MIAMI, Jan. 16—London, traditional scene of "fog blackouts," hasn't a thing on the Roberts county capital.

An eastbound passenger train "lost" a flagman here in a heavy fog one morning. He got off the train with his red flare torch, and went about the performance of his job.

The train pulled out of the station. When it arrived in Canadian there was the flagman, who had been given a ride in the automobile of Wayne Robinson, signal maintainer.

On account of the heavy fog the engineer had been unable to see the distance to the rear of the train to ascertain if the flagman was aboard when the train left Miami.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give heavy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Flu Due To Break Out In Europe Next

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
 Associated Press Science Editor
NEW YORK, Jan. 16—Next stop of the flu epidemic is Europe.

Although medical authorities will not be quoted, the trail is plain.

The first place to report an outbreak was Honolulu, late last summer. California health authorities traced it from there to the west coast, where it started in late fall.

Its eastward progress since has been so inexorable that it might be said to have travelled 50 miles a day, although actually it came east spotted all along the lines of travel, with its van at any one time always next door to an area farther west where the outbreak had become epidemic.

Where the Honolulu outbreak originated is unknown. But flu outbreaks have occurred sporadically for several years in widely-scattered parts of the world.

The first outstanding feature of this one was its steady progress eastward.

Another sign of the eastward trail was the fact that England recently asked for, and received large large shipments of the new influenza vaccine developed at the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research in New York. There have been unverified reports that all the British military forces are to be vaccinated.

England stands first on the European receiving end because American war support is probably sending more human flu carriers there than to other countries. But all western Europe is exposed to catching America's flu, especially Portugal, landing point of the Clippers.

Contrary to a widespread belief, this flu is not likely to start with intestinal and stomach upsets and pains. Those things can happen, but doctors say they usually don't.

Even when a person has it, physicians may have difficulty in diagnosing it. Possibly, the outstanding characteristic is the speed with which it strikes. There is likely to be sudden fever, headaches, back aches, leg aches. Medically speaking, these are not very specific signs, yet they are all there all the time.

The second great characteristic of this flu outbreak in the United States is that it is virtually non-fatal. Pneumonia, the thing that caused the high death rate in the great world-wide World War outbreak of flu, is not accompanying this one to any extent.

The first cause of human flu was discovered in 1933—a virus, an organism which in size rates below microbes.

The flu caused by that virus is known as Type A influenza, but the puzzling thing is that there are other types of flu. There have been several small outbreaks in recent years for which the cause was not discovered.

So far as the present epidemic has been assayed, it is all Type A, but the assays take time, and whether some other kind of flu may be creeping along is not certain.

Resistance to the Type A flu varies greatly. Some persons, probably 30 per cent in some communities, seem so resistant they do not become ill. Yet, in a few tests, evidence of flu has been found in this kind of group.

This finding has led to a suspicion that persons apparently perfectly well might be the worst flu spreaders. This explanation is based on the facts that a person really ill goes to bed and stops moving around where he can infect others.

What Kind Of A World Do We Want?

Neither Germany nor Britain has stated with any directness, its war aims—the kind of Europe and the kind of world they would like to see emerge from the war. As long as both are locked in death grips, it isn't likely that either will. Once at war, the only object is to win. Remolding the world comes afterward. There can be no harm, therefore, and perhaps some good, in speculation about these things in the United States. We had a hand once in rearranging Europe. It was a reluctant hand, as shown by the fact that the United States fought only as an "associated," never an "allied" power, and that it never did sign the Versailles Treaty, but made a separate peace with Germany later (Treaty of Berlin, 1921). Most of the suggestions we made in 1919 were rejected, and even those which we adopted did not work very well. Yet when Senator Wheeler issued his recent prescription for Europe, his 1941 version of a Wilsonian Fourteen Points, what did he propose? Nothing better than another of those interminable reshufflings, re-arrangings, of the European map. It seems doubtful if anything like that will do this time. No matter who wins, the defeated people will remain a fact, and a stubborn fact. Germany was beaten, and thoroughly beaten, in 1918, but the German people remained a fact. The French people were beaten this time, and terribly beaten, but they remain a fact, as Herr Hitler is already beginning to discover. Franco already knows that, despite the shootings and executions, that the large republican element in his people remains a fact. And the Norwegian people are facts, and the Dutch, and the Belgian, and the Polish and Czech. Military victory does not eliminate peoples. They remain. No possible rearrangement of Europe into another set of nationalistic closets, walled off from the rest by tariff barriers and artificial restrictions, can be much better than the one devised in 1919—a rearrangement, by the way, that embodied a considerable amount of scientific study, and was by no means entirely a victor's caprice. Europe must federate or die. Not as the Caesars federated it, or as Napoleon tried to federate it, under a single master working the other peoples as slaves—such a federation leaves safe no country in the world. Europe requires a continental economy, allowing national political and cultural institutions, yet allowing continental freedom of shipping and intercourse and trade in such a way that all can live. The United States can certainly impose no such order in Europe, nor would it be so foolish as to try. Yet Europe itself has produced almost no leadership with such a vision. We can only hope that somewhere, in the trenches or bomb-shelters, it is being born.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES
This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given moral right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

INNOCENT SUFFER WITH THE GUILTY
One often hears the expressions that "the rain falls on the just and the unjust" and "the innocent suffer with the guilty." This is true in war as well as in economics. At first thought, this seems out of harmony with a just God. I think the justice of this is explained more clearly by Henry Wood in his "Political Economy of Humanism" than any place I have ever read. I quote: "We often regard financial panics as 'unqualified calamities, but they really cleanse the system of the body-politic. They seem severe because they involve not only the economically guilty, but also thousands of the innocent and of non-participants. Human relationship is so intimate and unitary that those who are lawful suffer with and for those who are lawless. The latter also find some degree of succor in the virtues of the former. Such a commingling—though having a superficial appearance of injustice—breaks the boundary walls of the smaller or personal interest, and by its educational revelations brings to view the larger and truer unit. It shows that there is no selfish element in Law, and that, paradoxical as it may at first appear, it is best that the innocent should divide the penalties of the guilty with them. Law has made no mistake, even though our selfish concern makes her seem unreasonable. If each suffered solely for his own economic transgressions, it might teach him prudence on his own account, but now he finds that his interest is woven into the very warp and woof of society. It is simply impossible for him to live unto himself, even from the standpoint and purpose of self-interest. To help himself through the promotion of the general good, at length reveals the larger solidarity. The fact that transgressors and non-transgressors are inextricably commingled at first seems unfair, and even unjust; but under the light of a truer interpretation it is found to be not only wise but positively beneficial. It is a standing object-lesson of racial unity. Law is incapable of true interpretation under any fragmentary restriction. One's superficial or apparent advantage may suffer from things beyond his own control; but when the innumerable lines of relationship and compensation are traced out, it is finally found that he receives his supremest good encompassed within that of his fellows. . . . Even the distress and poverty which everywhere follow in the wake of a monetary crisis have their compensations. They not only stimulate industry and production, but inspire a fraternal spirit and awaken a general altruism. Such a condition warms the chill atmosphere of selfishness, and brings into high relief the claims of man upon his brother man. The sweetness of charity is realized, and society is brought to see and feel that it is an Organism. Man discovers that he cannot live to himself alone, and that, in a vital sense, he is his brother's keeper." Not only panics, but all economic ills, are monitors that rise up to teach us lessons that we refuse to learn in any easier way. It, thus, behooves each man to preach the gospel of goodwill to all mankind. . . . And when we consider the infinite blessings that man received from his fellowman, and that he would perish in a few hours if it were not for these blessings, then it naturally follows that he must reap the bitter with the sweet. As a whole, he is a great benefactor because of this natural and universal law.

WAR AND IDLE MINDS

As we see the country rapidly drifting into for eign wars, some of the conclusions drawn by Emerson in his essay on War is apropos. I quote: "It is the ignorant and childish part of mankind that is the fighting part. Idle and vacant minds want excitement, as all boys kill cats. Bull-baiting, cockpits and the boxer's ring are the enjoyment of the part of society whose animal nature alone has been developed. In some parts of this country, where the intellectual and moral faculties have as yet scarcely any culture, the absorbing topic of all conversation is whipping; who fought, and which whipped? Of man, boy or beast, the only trait that most interests the speakers is the pugnacity. And why? Because the speaker has as yet no other image of manly activity and virtue, none of endurance, none of perseverance, none of charity, none of the attainment of truth. Put him into a circle of cultivated men, where the conversation broaches the great questions that besiege the human reason, and he would be dumb and unhappy, as an Indian in church. . . . It will be noted that those people who are strongest in the advocacy of our entering into European wars are invariably the people who will not attempt to state an impersonal, universal, eternal rule of conduct. The only thing they seem to be interested in is a fight, in order to create excitement and kill the monotony that goes with all people barren of any principles.

Behind The News

By BRUCE CATTON
The Pampa News Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The speaker of the House will be a more important man in the government this year than for a long time. Sam Rayburn of Texas, who holds the job, is the sort of man who will return the post to its old importance. He won't be a Czar Cannon, but he definitely will be one of the three or four top men in the administration. This is partly because he is a different sort of man than his predecessor, the late William B. Bankhead, and partly because President Roosevelt has adopted a new attitude toward his party's leaders in Congress. The important part is that Speaker Rayburn has Roosevelt's confidence 100 per cent—and, despite half-baked criticisms occasionally heard on the fringes of the New Deal, he gives 100 per cent loyalty in return. "TELL 'EM THE TRUTH" Two true stories show the change in the administration's relationship with Congress. About a year ago, someone at a press conference asked Speaker Bankhead if he expected a presidential message on taxation. He replied that as far as he knew no such message was coming. Half an hour later, a presidential message on taxation was laid on his desk to be read to the House. Just before the last fireside chat, FDR had Rayburn in and discussed the defense program and the coming radio address, remarking that he was highly pleased with some of the defense program progress, greatly displeased with other parts of it. "What should I tell the people about it, Sam?" he asked. "Tell 'em the truth," said Rayburn. "That's what the people expect from you, Mr. President. Don't hide the bad parts. Tell the people just what you have told me." Roosevelt did so . . . and the point is that now he is talking to the speaker of the House before a speech or a bill is drafted, not afterward.

GUIDED KEY LEGISLATION

Sam Rayburn came in for a lot of criticism in the last Congress, which was unruly and often broke away from the President. Rayburn was a close friend of Vice President Garner. Because the House didn't stay in line, he was often accused of quietly sabotaging New Deal efforts. That wasn't true. Rayburn was in a spot. Speaker Bankhead was in bad health, and in effect Rayburn had to be both majority leader and speaker. In addition, Bankhead was a good presiding officer, but

ROLLING!

Then there is the Pampa man who is reported to have listed his dependents as "wife and one child" when he registered for the draft—the child has not yet been born, but will be soon. We have instructions to dedicate this poem to Vaughn Darnell from Mark Bratton: "Now I slump me down to sleep; my notes, I pray, my friends will keep. If I'm called on 'fore I wake, poke my ribs for physicks." A two-column picture of Nolan Sparks, TCU footballer, appeared on the sport page of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram yesterday. Nolan, brother of Connie, was shown typing on a portable in his room as he crammed for the semester exams. The cutlines said that Nolan was "studying for a big examination in English history." . . . Finis Stilwell, the handsome assistant manager of the Griffith theaters here, read a 10-page letter in longhand as he ate his breakfast of toast and one egg yesterday morning. . . . Mr. Stilwell may run Frank Monroe a close race in the matter of being well-dressed and well-groomed. He certainly is turned out each day, but maybe it's because Finis looks well in any clothes. He keeps that figure by dint of much walking, his favorite form of exercise. . . . Speaking of theaters, from now on my "favorite movie star" is the rabbit that talks. He was in the colored short, "Elmer's Pet Rabbit" at the LaNora this week. We never could understand Donald Duck anyway, and besides sometimes we get Donald Duck mixed up with people who imitate him.

So They Say

Longevity is exquisitely hereditary. DR. LEWELLYS F. BARKER, of the Johns Hopkins Medical School. We can meet the demands of armament because we are a people with the will to defend and the means to defend. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT to Congress. American youth, starting on its first worth-while job today, is going to be proud to remember experiencing the year 1941. COL. PHILIP B. FLEMING, wage-hour administrator. I am convinced that the days of separate matchings and empires are at an end, and that world federations are the only way out of world chaos. H. G. WELLS, British novelist.

SHERRIDAN WORTH?

Now, if Ginger Rogers and Carol Lombard can get $150,000 a flicker, or about $100,000 a week while working, how much would you say Ann Sheridan is worth? In the Motion Picture Herald poll, Miss Sheridan was only one place behind Miss Rogers as a box office attraction, and 18 places ahead of Miss Lombard. But Ann Sheridan's salary is $600 a week. It would be, at least, if she were not still on suspension with no salary at all. Several weeks ago $200,000 by four successive weeks. Deanna Durbin gets about $280,000 and earns every dime of it. Ginger Rogers, whose RKO contract expires May 1, is demanding a new deal at $150,000 a picture and only two of them a year.

SHERRIDAN WORTH?

Under the surface, Rayburn is a sentimentalist. He still carries a battered watch which members of his delegation gave to him 25 years ago when he was in the Texas Legislature. The gavel with which he calls the House to order each day is a souvenir some Dallas high school boys gave him in 1934 in the innocent confidence that some day he was sure to be speaker.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim
Then there is the Pampa man who is reported to have listed his dependents as "wife and one child" when he registered for the draft—the child has not yet been born, but will be soon. We have instructions to dedicate this poem to Vaughn Darnell from Mark Bratton: "Now I slump me down to sleep; my notes, I pray, my friends will keep. If I'm called on 'fore I wake, poke my ribs for physicks." A two-column picture of Nolan Sparks, TCU footballer, appeared on the sport page of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram yesterday. Nolan, brother of Connie, was shown typing on a portable in his room as he crammed for the semester exams. The cutlines said that Nolan was "studying for a big examination in English history." . . . Finis Stilwell, the handsome assistant manager of the Griffith theaters here, read a 10-page letter in longhand as he ate his breakfast of toast and one egg yesterday morning. . . . Mr. Stilwell may run Frank Monroe a close race in the matter of being well-dressed and well-groomed. He certainly is turned out each day, but maybe it's because Finis looks well in any clothes. He keeps that figure by dint of much walking, his favorite form of exercise. . . . Speaking of theaters, from now on my "favorite movie star" is the rabbit that talks. He was in the colored short, "Elmer's Pet Rabbit" at the LaNora this week. We never could understand Donald Duck anyway, and besides sometimes we get Donald Duck mixed up with people who imitate him.

TEX'S TOPICS

By Tex DeWeese
HERE'S a story that is told for the truth: "I wonder if it will be a boy or a girl," said the expectant mother. "Give me your wedding ring and lie down on the floor," said one of the women at the bride party. . . . Tying the wedding ring to a string the woman dangled it over the expectant mother's prostrate form. Ring went around in a circle clockwise. "It will be a boy," said the dangle. . . . And it was a boy! . . . In the sex feminine, there are 85 types of feet. . . . No wonder so many women are struggling in shoes that do not fit. . . . The most profitable motion picture of all time was "The Singing Fool," starring Al Jolson. . . . It was a first talkie.

The most useless day of all is that in which we have not laughed. —Chamfort.
THIS reminds us that there are altogether too many people with a sour-puss complex. . . . Maybe they don't intend to be that way, but they slip into the groove and the thing grows on them, one suspects, until they can't do anything about it. . . . So, they just go around with a dead-past outlook on life in general. . . . Cheer up, there's enough trouble in the world without trying to borrow more. . . . Some people insist you cannot get past the barrier of what your fellowmen think about you. . . . Maybe so, but we wouldn't trade one sincere unconventional person for a whole room full of insincere conventional ones—if you get what is meant.

We always thought that tune, "Beat Me Daddy, Eight to the Beat," was some kind of an all-time high for dizzy song titles. . . . Understand, though, that a sequel to it is being written. . . . Its title will be "Prezels, Barboy, Five to the Beat." . . . An ASCAP listening society once had the goods on BMI for pirating an ASCAP tune the other night. . . . He called his head office to report that the station he was listening to was sending out a tune called "The Star Spangled Banner." . . . Says he: "I'm sure it's a steal from Irving Berlin's 'God Bless America'."

THE boy whose mother didn't raise her son to be a soldier probably would be better off now if she had. . . . A temperamental person is merely one whose parents or associates don't slap him down when he cuts loose on a tantrum. . . . No person would be temperamental if thrown into a cage of lions. . . . Nothing is as dead as what remains after the fires of love die out—but even when they are extinguished there still are some who continue to stir their ashes in the hope of finding a live ember. . . . It happens every day somewhere.

For several days the Jaycees, BCD, county and city officials who are pushing the N.Y.A. gym project here, have been trying to figure out where to locate an N.Y.A. office here. They were stumped for awhile, but today the Right Idea appeared to have emerged. It was suggested that the city install an office in a corner of the little-used city auditorium which has not had a full house in a coin's age. That idea clicked all around, and everybody said yes in unison. Well, that's getting the job done. That N.Y.A. district office is something that Pampa needs. It will lead to better things, and the Jaycees, BCD and county feel grateful to the city for co-operating. Pampa counts not a feather that becomes the district headquarters for N.Y.A. when the opportunity arose.

Texans Bidding For Committee Positions
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Two Texas members of congress are bidding for a position on the important House Appropriations committee, and the delegation in private caucus has been unable to decide which it should endorse for the position. They are Representatives Lyndon B. Johnson of Johnson City and Albert Thomas of Houston. Should one or the other get the assignment, Texas would have two members on the appropriations committee. Already on that body is Representative Mahon of Colorado City.

Unlucky
(By The Associated Press)
TERRER HAUTE, Ind.—B. C. Roberts of Terre Haute started to drive to Clinton, where he is employed, but turned around and started back because of sleet on the road. It was a mistake. An automobile pulling a trailer hit Roberts' car. He received a cut over one temple and a hand injury. As he tried to get his damaged car off the highway, another automobile struck it. No additional injuries. Roberts climbed out of his battered vehicle and was knocked down by a hit-run driver. First aid put him back on his feet, and he finally got home.

COME AND GET IT

What to Eat in Winter—and Why
SUNSHINE VITAMIN GIVES PROTECTION AGAINST RICKETS

Mr. duBois, a former food chemist for the government, is a nationally recognized authority on diet. By WILBUR L. duBOIS, M. A. Vitamin D has a pleasant name—the sunshine vitamin. It is produced by the ultraviolet rays of the sun or suitable substitutes, one of which is ergosterol. This compound is found in the outer layers of the skin. Vitamin D is formed when the sun shines on this material in our blood. It is then absorbed into the body. Sun bathing isn't as idle as it looks. Our blood must contain an ample supply of calcium and phosphorus to make sound bones. The normal content of these minerals in our blood depends on the presence of vitamin D. It is the regulator. There must be enough calcium and phosphorus in the blood to start with. Then vitamin D must be present to keep them in order. Most mothers have heard the word "rickets." It is the most common nutritional disease occurring among children of the temperate zone. Pulmonary tuberculosis is rampant in large cities show signs of rickets. Apparently the food eaten by most children is deficient in important vitamin D. The food can and should be supplemented by concentrated forms of this vitamin, especially during the winter when there is not as much direct sunshine as in the summertime. Egg yolk is the richest food source

Vitamin D keeps the blood pumping regular. Small minnows and shell fish feed on this plankton. They also come cod and halibut, who feed on the small fish. The vitamin D which the sun put into the plankton is now stored in the liver of the cannibal cod or halibut. Along comes "man, catches the cod, and makes cod liver oil from his liver. There, in a roundabout way from the sunny sea, comes our vitamin D. The doctor will know whether the children should have this concentrated vitamin D. Many specialists in nutrition believe that it should be added to the diet of all growing children during the winter months.

Now, if Ginger Rogers and Carol Lombard can get $150,000 a flicker, or about $100,000 a week while working, how much would you say Ann Sheridan is worth? It would be, at least, if she were not still on suspension with no salary at all. Several weeks ago $200,000 by four successive weeks. Deanna Durbin gets about $280,000 and earns every dime of it. ### Father Of McLean Woman, Oldest Active Texas Pastor, Writes Book

Special to THE NEWS
 ASPERMONT, Jan. 16—Rev. E. B. Featherston, 90-year-old Aspermont pioneer who is perhaps the oldest active minister and court judge in Texas, today posed an added claim for distinction—authorship of an autobiographical volume, "A Pioneer Speaks."

Credited with leadership in the breaking up of a band of "wire cutters" when he lived near Comanche, and with the single handed routing of the band in a midnight clash, the veteran minister, who is a retired preacher and rancher, has lived in and near Aspermont since 1881.

His life story is told in the 236-page illustrated volume, from the presses of Cecil Baugh and company, Dallas. The pioneer's youngest daughter, Vera, Featherston Beck, of McLean, edited the book, and a granddaughter, Mrs. June Woods, designed its jacket cover.

A Baptist minister since 1873, his youngest son, Solon R. Featherston, Wichita Falls civic leader, declares "there are few living men who have preached more sermons than Dad."

Active and vigorous, the Rev. Featherston still preaches at the Corinth Baptist church, at Anson, at the Community church at Guthrie, and at his home church, the Shiloh Baptist, north of Aspermont, near his home.

The court over which he presides here does a larger volume of business than any court in Stonewall county. He has been on the bench successive times as its judge, and he walks down town to hold his court almost daily.

Here at Aspermont, the aged pioneer has just moved to a new five-room modern home. "If the FHA plan, I'll have it all paid for in 15 years and hope to be here then," he declares as he looks ahead to observing his 91st birthday on March 17.

Has 66 Descendants
 On his birthday a year ago, almost all of his 66 descendants attended a birthday dinner given at the Wichita Falls Country club, in his honor. A Bible, with description in gold to mark the occasion, was given him then by the 66 children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. "There are 73 of them now," he said today, recounting births in the family the past year.

The autobiography, written over a period of years, tells numerous dramatic incidents by an eye witness to at least four Texas frontier periods. Its author describes preaching "at least one sermon with a gun in one hand and the Bible in the other" and "prayer with one eye on the enemy and one on God."

Book Recommended
 Perhaps the first tribute to the volume came from Dr. Carl C. Rister, professor of history at the University of Oklahoma, an authority on the history of the Southwest.

"I can most heartily recommend it to writers and collectors in the field of Western Americans. The chapters dealing with the fire-cutting movement, frontier conditions in Stonewall county, and experiences as a border preacher are particularly interesting," said Dr. Rister.

A native of Bucksmort, Miss., now known as Redlands, Edward Baxter Featherston came to Rusk county with his father, Charles Henry Featherston, a Confederate veteran, and mother, in 1852, and has since lived in the state.

He was married to Bettie Moxley in 1874, and the Featherstons had nine children, five sons and four daughters. Three sons, W. S. of Swenson, Charles Henry and Solon R. of Wichita Falls, and the four daughters, Mrs. E. D. Ashburn, Abilene; Mrs. Nannie Roberts and Mrs. Mary L. Gardner, Lubbock, and Mrs. Brock of McLean, are living.

Mrs. Featherston died in 1927, and in 1933 he married again, marrying the wife of a friend of years standing, Mrs. Willie Metcalf, of Aspermont.

"Happiest days of my life," he said today, "were those when my wife and our two oldest children lived in what we'd now call a rude cabin, on the divide between the Brazos and Colorado rivers."

Hardin-Simmons Graduates
 Since 1906, when a daughter Mary entered the then Simmons College, there has scarcely been a session of the Abilene school that is now Hardin-Simmons university that does not have one or more members of his family enrolled there.

In all 18, two daughters, a son, Solon, now a trustee, seven grandsons, two granddaughters, three great grandsons and three great granddaughters, have attended Hardin-Simmons.

Today, enroute to his downtown office, he was pleased to learn of the appointment of a grandson, Moxley Featherston, as an assistant U. S. district attorney, at Amarillo. He read the news, as he can read any other, without using his glasses. "Though he wears them sometimes," he said.

Better Feeling In Oil Industry

By EDWARD CURTIS
 TULSA, Okla., Jan. 16 (AP)—A better feeling, a slow swing toward more optimism, stood out today in the oil industry.

The feeling is a decided change from last fall, when many oil leaders looked forward with much uncertainty. Here and there in major firms, executives are dispelling this attitude.

There are many factors contributing to the change. Demand for crude oil continues strong, with the market showing some improvement. Production, meantime, has remained stable.

While gasoline sales have eased, and some prices are off an eighth cent a gallon, industry is actively buying heavy grades of fuel oil.

The industry feels confident that it can easily meet defense needs and the first sharp upturn of such demand is expected near the end of the first quarter.

In the field, the Oil and Gas Journal reported 462 completions for the week, compared with 456 the previous week, and 491 a year ago.

The old Dilworth pool of Kay county, Oklahoma, apparently was revived when a well drilled to shallow than any in 1917 was deepened to the Wilcox sand and filled 2,000 feet of hole with oil in six hours. . . . Casco county may be the second county in Nebraska to produce oil. A test near Plattsmouth showed heavy oil saturation in the Wilcox sand at 1,333 feet. . . . A test in the abandoned Mexican border town of Samford, southwest Texas, established the Nichols pool with an initial test of 91 barrels of oil in 24 hours through choke. . . . Discovery of deeper pay in the Trenton lime in the Lake Central-Salem field has set off a campaign of deepening old Devonian lime tests. . . .

Grapefruit Crop Million Boxes Short

AUSTIN, Jan. 16 (AP)—Production of Texas grapefruit for the 1940-41 season, based on conditions of January 1, was estimated at 14,000,000 boxes, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

This is about 1,000,000 boxes under the December 1 forecast, about one per cent over 1939-40 harvested production and 5 per cent under the indicated production of 15,200,000 boxes, allowing for fruit not utilized because of freeze damage.

Traveler

BRANTFORD, Ont.—A hitch-hiking hen from Redwood, Miss., has arrived in Brantford.

When a freight car of lumber sealed at Redwood was opened, the hen, a white rock, bustled out with much squawking and flapping of wings.

Inside the car, workmen found two eggs—frozen solid.

Canada's cold weather didn't bother the hen, though. She chased all over the railway yards before workmen finally cooped her up.

Stockholders Attend Meeting—To Music

BURTON, O., Jan. 16 (AP)—G. B. Fox, president of the First National bank here 38 years, finally has found a way to get stockholders to attend an annual meeting.

"They simply would not turn out," Fox said, "so I conceived the idea of backing up the annual report with plenty of music and entertainment."

Did they go for it? Seventy-five families were present when dinner was served last night.

Gasser Threatens To Topple Derrick

HAWKINS, Jan. 16 (AP)—A wild gas well that developed a cave-in after being choked on 1,700 sacks of cement threatened to topple its derrick today.

The well, the Bobby Manziel No. 1 Lee Bell west of here, had roared with 50,000 feet of gas daily before it was choked off.

The cave-in occurred yesterday as a crew attempted to salvage the derrick abandoned when gas pressure threatened to open craters in the surrounding area.

Tokyo Will Remove English Signs

TOKYO, Jan. 16 (AP)—All English signs soon will be removed from the Ginza—Tokyo's Broadway—the newspaper Yomiuri said today as a result of a police "suggestion" which observers interpreted as another step in a campaign to "purify" the Japanese language.

Yomiuri estimated that 1,500 cafes, bars and restaurants along the Ginza are identified by electric signs in English—or approximately 70 per cent of the total.

Almost all English signs in railway stations and other places have been removed in line with the current campaign.

High Court Calls For Arguments On Grand River Dam

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The supreme court today called for arguments in the appeal of Oklahoma from a lower court decree enjoining the state from interfering with federal work on the $20,000,000 Grand river hydroelectric project.

A three-judge federal court, which the state contended had no jurisdiction over the controversy, ordered Governor Leon C. Phillips not to interfere with the work. It had been contended that the governor, by the use of state troops and a state court action, attempted to halt progress of the job until the Grand River Dam authority, which is financed by PWA, had paid $89,275 for state roads and bridges to be inundated by a 52,000-acre reservoir.

The federal government charged Phillips with "lawless acts" against the dam project as part of a plan to "exact for the state of Oklahoma from the United States money in payment of flooded roads over and above" an amount previously determined.

SERIAL STORY

CONSCRIPT'S WIFE

BY BETTY WALLACE

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Martha evaded Bill. Paul suddenly turns up at the apartment, apparently in a mood to go along. When Martha finally tells him she doesn't want to go, he asks what is wrong. She has been avoiding him. He had promised Bill to look after her. She finally tells him that before Bill left there were three of them...

PAUL ANSWERS QUESTIONS

CHAPTER X

PAUL ELLIOTT stared down at Martha, speechlessly, as the echo of her words hung in the stillness. "The three of us," she had cried. And the implications of those words were suddenly filling the room—suddenly so plain, so clear, so hurting, that she wanted to run away from him. She could not bear the look in his eyes, the way a muscle in his lean cheek was twitching.

"Oh, I didn't want to hurt him," Martha thought in dismay. "He's my husband, so worth anything. Maybe I'm destroying him. I'll never find again. I hurt him once, when I married Bill. He forgave that." She thought of the clean, unselfish friendship—the strong arm, always ready to help her—and she experienced a sinking sense of loss.

"I didn't mean to say that, Paul," she cried quickly. "I-I didn't mean it—the way it sounds." Sit down, Martha, Paul said gently. "Sit down here and let's talk this over."

"But—but there's nothing to talk over." Again the panic and the uncertainty—as if her feet were set on a bit of earth that kept sliding out from under her.

"The whole thing's silly, really. I-I didn't mean to put it that way." Her fingers smoothed the maroon housecoat, played with the ornaments on the zipper pull.

PAUL pushed her gently down on the sofa. He sat beside her. "Martha, we must be honest with each other. Since this thing has come up—since we've already started discussing it—let's drag it out into the light and examine it. Deliberately. I don't want to understand why. What you just told me makes it very clear. It's because Bill is not here."

Almost, his voice was like the voice of the Paul who sat in the private office at Air Transport, discussing with the chief engineer the stresses, strains, and examining the evidence to explain the crumpling of a wing in the wind tunnel. "You said that three of us." Meaning, now that there are just two, you and I?—he smiled, but his eyes weren't smiling. "The situation has changed. Either you haven't ever really wanted me about, since you and Bill were married..." She gasped. "Paul! That's not so! I don't see how you can think that."

"Then, Martha, your remark must mean that you—that you're afraid of me. Or of how our being together with Bill away looks. It doesn't look proper, is that it?" She stirred uncomfortably. "No, that's not it."

"I don't believe you, Martha. Once there was a time when I would have sworn that gossip—other people's incorrect opinions—meant nothing to you. But now, especially after what Suzanne was foolish enough to get excited about—"

Martha's little start, the unguarded gasp that escaped her, was enough to betray the fact that Suzanne had had a finger in this, too. Paul said, "So she came to you, too."

"She—she only wanted to warn me," Martha said miserably. "She knew there was nothing in it, but—the memory of her neighbors' whispers, the remark that even the cleaning woman had made, burned in her mind. She was right, Paul. Besides, it wasn't fair to her, that when you t-took her out, I should always be there, like a—like a fifth wheel."

Suzanne is intensely emotional. She has an imagination that sees a roaring blaze where other people see not even a wisp of smoke," said Paul, choosing his words very carefully. "I'm fond of Suzanne, sorry that she—she spoiled things."

No words came to Martha. She could only sit there, picking at that foolish little zipper ornament. "You'll break it," Paul said. And now he was in absolute control of himself. He stood up. "Look here, Martha. Let's be honest to the very end of the thing. We used to be engaged. I—I thought I was in love with you, and you thought you were in love with me, and it's that knowledge which makes our friendship now look queer while your husband's away."

Martha's lips parted. A great tight band seemed to be closing around her chest. It hurt to breathe. "Paul said quietly. "But people are wrong. I'm not in love with you now. You're only my best friend's wife, and I want to make his absence less difficult."

YET, even as the words left his lips, Martha saw that tell-tale twitching there in the hollow of his lean cheek. "I'm not in love with you now." How steady his voice was! How rigid the control with which he reined himself in! Only as his fingers curled into fists, as his teeth clamped down on the pipstem in his mouth; as Martha stared at him, her heart beating fast—Paul's eyes were giving him away. Those clear eyes, looking down into hers, were shining with a look she remembered too well. Steady eyes, gentle eyes, eyes that could not smile even when he forced his lips to smile. Eyes that could not lie, even while his lips lied. His love for her, unchanged since the day he first slipped their betrothal ring on her finger, shone in Paul's eyes and Martha turned her head away, a poignant pity sobbing inside her.

"I was silly, Paul," she whispered. "Suzanne was silly. Of course—of course you're not in love with me. She broke away from him and said, more normally, 'And now I've simply got to dress and get started. It's late.'"

He took his car keys and put them on the table. "You must take my car, Martha. A hundred miles is too far for that wheezing wreck of yours." He picked up his hat. "The car's downstairs. Have a good time. Tell Bill I said hello."

AN hour later, as she got behind the wheel of Paul's new car, Martha was glad he had insisted. The hum of quiet power, when she started the motor, was reassuring. "And please, Butch," she told the dog, "stay on the newspapers I've spread on the seat. Paul doesn't want your hair all over his car."

It was a long drive. Plenty of time to think. In a way, it was better they'd had it out. Paul would go on pretending, and she would go on pretending, but with this scene vivid in their minds, Paul would not insist so strenuously on seeing her every night. She wouldn't have to stall him off so much. Gradually, they'd be less and less of each other. This way was easier, less hurting, than the abrupt ending she had tried to achieve.

A swift gray bus came up behind her. Her toe on the accelerator pressed down a bit harder. "Martha," she admonished herself, "keep your mind on your driving if you expect Bill to see you all in one piece."

Tomorrow morning, early, she'd be seeing her husband. Feeling his lips on hers, hearing the gladness in his voice. "Tomorrow morning, I'll be where I belong. With Bill!" (To Be Continued)

Balky Mules And Old Trucks Carry Food To Greeks

By J. WES GALLAGHER

WITH THE GREEK ARMY IN ALBANIA, Jan. 15 (AP)—Truck drivers with rickety old cars and farmers with trains of stubborn mules are meeting transportation problems as fantastic as any army ever faced to keep food and ammunition flowing to their comrades in the Greek front lines.

Day after day, this army of supply is getting through to the army of fighting men whose advances steadily lengthen the lines of communication north into Albania.

The determined men, the ancient trucks and the balky mules at doing their part in the war through ice and slush and ankle-deep mud, through mountains as wild as the American Rockies, in country where the best roads are only "truts frozen on the mountainsides."

The drivers are men like Mike. He is married, has one child, owns and operates two buses in peacetime, and has his own car, a 12-year-old American flyer.

The day Italian troops invaded Greece, Mike was on his way to the front as a supply driver, nursing along his rattling sedan. His buses also were put into service. And he has been at it ever since.

I saw him under the hood of the old car, working furiously with an engine that sputtered like an outboard motor with the hiccupps.

He's like the others—the "spirit" behind the Greek fighting line, but he'd just laugh if anyone told him so.

He told me, after tying down the hood with baling wire, that he had two hours of sleep in the last three days—driving 400 miles a day on roads where, in some places, a mistake would send the sedan hurtling 1,000 feet down a mountainside.

rots and oatmeal increased last season, and the government is hoping to increase average consumption. The food ministry official stressed the protective value of carrots against winter ailments and night blindness.

The present estimated "known reserves" of oil in the United States total 18,485,000,000 barrels, sufficient to last only until 1964 at the present rate of consumption. Oil discoveries of the future undoubtedly will increase the reserve.

BUCK-HARVESTER GAME HERE TONIGHT SHOULD BE THRILLER

Main Set-To To Begin At Eight O'clock

The White Deer Bucks whose last victim on the basketball court was Phillips, will try to show the Harvesters tonight on the Pampa floor how the cow ate the cabbage.

There will be two games; one starting at 7 o'clock and the other an hour later. The games, if they follow the pattern of Harvesters-Buck games in the past which were close, should be thrillers. The Bucks nearly always nearly beat the Harvesters.

They may do it tonight. If you want to know how good White Deer is all you gotta do is find out how good Panhandle is, because all the years the Bucks and Panthers have been feuding there has seldom been more than one point difference in their scores. Well, the other night Panhandle whipped Borger pretty badly, and Borger had been touted as the team to beat in the district tournament.

Panhandle is mentioned just to show you how good White Deer could and should be if the Bucks run true to form.

The Harvesters will probably play tonight without three regulars, Pat Flanigan who is in bed with flu, Grover Lee Heiskell who has torn cartilage around a busted knee-cap, Billy Mounds who is weakly wobbling around after an attack of grippe.

Coach Mitchell doesn't know exactly who he will start, but it may be Dewey and Cox at forward, Frasher, center, and Curward Mitchell and Terrell, guards. Ready to go in at a moment's notice will be a bunch of boys who play just as good and sometimes better than the starters. They are Haller and O. C. Enloe and Burge, forwards.

If the injury-illness jinx would lay off the squad for a couple of weeks, or even one week, the coach might be able to turn out a permanent starting lineup, but here it is the middle of January and the Harvesters have been beset by so much hard luck in the matter of physical disabilities that all the coach can do is to play the boys that come out. You can't take a boy out of bed and play him.

This is Flanigan's second illness. He had the flu all during Xmas.

Buffaloes Beat Cowboys 67-37

CANYON, Jan. 16—Hardin-Simmons basketball players went back to football, only on a hardwood floor, last night ending a basketball game with only four players on the floor. The Buffaloes of West Texas State won the game 67 to 37.

So eager were the Cowboys to get the ball that five of the nine players on the squad fouled out.

F. Stockman, a guard, led the scoring for the Buffaloes with 13 points, followed by Halbert, giant center, with 10. Ration with 11 and Osborne.

Each year there are two peak periods. The other in September. As a result, most perhaps all colds a year, a fall cold and a spring cold.

Drafts, wet feet and sudden changes in temperature do not necessarily cause colds. Most perhaps all of them—are caught from other people.

A RED HEAD

No, she's not a beauty contest winner; she's Marjorie Brown, one of the stars of the All-American Red Heads basketball team that will appear here Wednesday night in a game with the Pampa Harvesters. The girls play men's rules and so far this season they have been winning nearly every game played, even against top college teams.

The seven girls comprising the Red Heads arrived in the Phillips Islands in May, 1940, and before leaving the Orient they played and won 28 games against all star women's teams, men's teams and boys' teams. In Manila the Red Heads played before 5,000 fans who paid two pesos, $1 to you, each to see the game.

Admission will be 50 cents for all. The price has been increased because the girls are coming here on a guarantee. A preliminary game will be played at 7 o'clock with the Red Heads and Harvesters clashing at 8 o'clock.

Reapers Hit Basket From All Angles To Win 45-16

Hitting the basket from all angles and from all positions, the Pampa Junior High Reapers ran roughshod over Central Junior high of Amarillo here yesterday afternoon in a Panhandle Junior High Conference basketball game. When the Reapers had finally quit trying to wear out the basket the score was 45 to 16.

Coach C. P. McWright of the Reapers surprised the Central boys of Coach Bill McCasland, and fans too, when he threw up a tight zone defense which kept the Amarillo boys away from the basket all afternoon. Zone defense is rare among local teams, the man to man method being the order of business on most occasions.

Amarillo also used a zone defense but the Reapers were able to feint their opponents out of position and then slip under the basket for setups. When stymied the Reapers flipped in long shots from the center, the corner or from just about anywhere. The Reapers didn't seem to be tired. They just played steady basketball that got results.

Ball handling was uncanny and there was no hogging the ball or passing to any one player on offensive thrusts, the boys working the ball down the court watched for an open man and then passed hard and true.

Bobby Dunham was the Reaper hotshot, bagging eight field goals and a free throw for 17 points. Curly Robbins was next in the scoring parade with five field goals for 10 points. Sheehan and Kuehl relieved the regulars and each bagged three field goals.

Pulton, Taylor and Dehner each made four points for Central as Coach McCasland used three complete teams and a substitute in an effort to stop the Reaper scoring machine.

The Reapers play Sam Houston in Amarillo tomorrow night. Sam Houston, like the Reapers, is undefeated. Sam Houston won a 19 to 17 game from Horace Mann yesterday when Lynch looped a field goal in the last 20 seconds of play.

Unknown Youngsters Set Pace In San Francisco Meet

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—Two comparatively unknown youngsters of the professional golfing world set the pace today as the country's greatest linksmen teed off in the second round of the 36-hole qualifying trials of the $5,000 San Francisco match play open tournament.

Chick Harbert, of Battle Creek, Mich., led the parade, with a five under par 67 for the Presidio course. Martin Heifner, a caddy at the Stanford University course, near Palo Alto, Calif., was two steps behind the leader.

Heifner turned in a 34-35-69 to become one of two players in an original field of 199 breaking 70.

Teasing off today in the 70-stroke bracket were former National P. G. A. champion Denny Shute of Chicago; Sam Byrd, of Ardmore, Pa.; Zell Eaton, of Oklahoma City; John Revolta, Evanston, Ill.; and Emerick Kocsis, of Detroit.

The only others to break par in the first half of the qualifying trials were the Argentine star, Eduardo Blasini from Buenos Aires, and John Perelli, of Tahoe, Calif., each carding a 71.

Canadian And LeFors Split Close Games

LeFors Pirates and Canadian Wildcats stand even in their two-game series. Canadian won in LeFors Tuesday night by a score of 42 to 39 but last night in Canadian, LeFors turned the tables and won 36 to 34 in an overtime period.

The "B" teams also divided games, only on different courts. In LeFors Tuesday night the future Pirates won 21 to 15 but last night in Canadian the home team came back to win 23 to 15.

Earhart was the LeFors scoring ace in both games but last night the big noise of the Pirate win was Oldham who scored 11 points in the last quarter, eight of them in three minutes, to tie the game. Earhart looped one in the overtime for the win.

Earhart looped 16 points, Oldham 11 points and Bowman eight points for LeFors last night. Rivers led the Canadian scoring with 13 points.

In LeFors Tuesday night Earhart was high scorer on the floor with 21 points. Rivers followed with 16 points and Briggs also of Canadian, was second with 15 points.

The Pirates will play the winner of the Shamrock-Briscoe game in the Shamrock tournament tomorrow night.

On Tuesday of next week the Pirates will go to White Deer while on next Friday night White Deer will return the game. There will be three games played and no admission will be charged.

LeFors Boxers To Battle In Borger Thursday

LEFORS, Jan. 16.—Coach Toby Waggoner's LeFors Pirates will meet the Borger Thursday night to meet the first high school boxing team Borger has ever had.

The LeFors team will be at full strength Thursday night with the exception of Jack Shipman, who has been on the sick list for a couple of weeks. Paul Barrick and Cecil Straninger, both in their rights in Amarillo, are finally using some boxing skill.

Both these boys are lovers of the sport of boxing and are as tough as they come.

Twigg is rocking and socking them with his left, ducking, slipping and blocking like a professional. Waylon Hughes is in better shape than he has ever been in his boxing career. Donald McLaughlin and Rex Lee Jones lost decisions at Amarillo but they did not lose any of the admiration of their friends.

They are still in the minds of the coach and boys, Charles Nipper, Bob Delver, and Vernon Watkins are working harder and harder to overcome their weaknesses. All three boys have great possibilities. They already have the heart and what else it takes except experience and knowledge of the sport.

Eugene Cooper and Bobby Dunn, in the 65 pound and 75 pound classes, are only hoping that Borger will have someone for them to fight.

The first battle at LeFors is to be held in the LeFors gymnasium on January 31. Many fight fans are howling plenty for some action in the squared ring.

A new public address system has been ordered and the efficiency and loudness of it takes exception to the fact that it takes exception to being touched up.

LeFors has a home schedule of eight matches. Posters of the home schedule have been distributed over the town in all directions for miles around. Many boxing fans came from far corners to see fistie action at LeFors last season.

Shamrock Tournament Will Begin Friday Special To The NEWS SHAMROCK, Jan. 16.—Shamrock's Annual Invitation Basketball tournament will begin Friday morning at 9 o'clock with 12 of the strongest teams of this section entering the fray. These do not include the Shamrock teams.

8 Schools Will Enter Plains Boxing League

Panhandle Beats Borger 27 to 15

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS PANHANDLE, Jan. 16.—In their third basketball game of the season the Panhandle Panthers defeated the Borger Bulldogs 27 to 15 at Borger Tuesday night.

This was the first game the Panthers had won and the second game the Bulldogs had lost this season.

Berl Pruitt was high point man with 13 points. At the end of the half, the score was 9 to 12 in favor of the Bulldogs.

Line-up for the Panthers was B. Pruitt and Leo Throp, forwards; B. Roy Cox, center; Merl Pruitt and Charles Cunningham, guards. Substitutes were Howard Cox and Jack Powell.

The Panthers will go to Shamrock where they will play the Wheeler team in their first tournament game at 1 o'clock Friday.

Gorillas Enter Shamrock Meet

Coach Oscar Hinger drew a tough assignment for his Pampa Gorillas in the Shamrock invitation tournament tomorrow when Quail turned up as his opposition in the first game at 11 a. m.

Quail gave the Pampa Harvesters a big run for victory here two weeks ago. But the Gorillas have been showing rapid improvement and it may be open season on Quail to return the game. There will be three games played and no admission will be charged.

It will take two losses to eliminate in the Shamrock tournament.

Panhandle Beats Borger 27 to 15

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS PANHANDLE, Jan. 16.—In their third basketball game of the season the Panhandle Panthers defeated the Borger Bulldogs 27 to 15 at Borger Tuesday night.

This was the first game the Panthers had won and the second game the Bulldogs had lost this season.

Berl Pruitt was high point man with 13 points. At the end of the half, the score was 9 to 12 in favor of the Bulldogs.

Line-up for the Panthers was B. Pruitt and Leo Throp, forwards; B. Roy Cox, center; Merl Pruitt and Charles Cunningham, guards. Substitutes were Howard Cox and Jack Powell.

The Panthers will go to Shamrock where they will play the Wheeler team in their first tournament game at 1 o'clock Friday.

League members voted not to sponsor any meets or tournaments until the close of the basketball season, if boxing interferes with basketball, and to make the season two months long, beginning approximately February 18. The officials felt that basketball was gradually losing interest, possibly because teams play too many games in a season, and that they did not want to do anything to detract interest from basketball.

Members voted to box teams within the league as much as possible and not to box any outside team that does not comply with the Texas interscholastic league age, semester and transfer rules, or which is not a strictly school team.

Every boy who goes out for boxing must be examined by a physician, and have a card which will be filed with the secretary along with his eligibility blank.

Any boy who is 18 or under on September 1 will be eligible to box on a team.

Coach Waggoner Honored By Boys

LEFORS, Jan. 16.—Members of the LeFors boxing team gave a banquet Saturday night in the Ellis cafe honoring their coach, Toby Waggoner.

Speeches were made by Toby Waggoner and Rex Lee Jones, Coach Waggoner spoke on how he enjoys working with the Pirates, and what he expects of the boys this boxing season.

Rex Lee Jones gave the response, and in behalf of the boxers talked on how they appreciated their coach, not only as a boxing instructor, but as a man that is understanding and on whom the boys can rely in all their problems.
