THREE MONTHS TEST OF RELIEF STAMP PLAN LOADS DINNER TABLE WITH FRESH FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

BY JOHN DOUGHERTY NEA Service Special Correspondent ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 31— "Fried potatoes, onions and coffee made up our best supper for two weeks."

Mary Ellen Hickey; her health improves as stamps bring her more and better food.

Mrs. James Hickey; prepares fresh fruit and vegetables instead of canned goods now.

Thus, Mrs. James Hickey, 32-year-old mother of a typical Rochester relief family, voices approval of the government's food stamp plan after three full experimental months here.

PLAN STRENGTHENS $12 ALLOWANCE One of 10,000 Rochester welfare and WPA families benefited by the plan...

Now they buy $12 worth of orange stamps, good for any food products, and get six dollars worth of blue stamps free for every two orange stamps purchased.

MODERN MENUS

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX Foreign dishes can seem just like "home folks" when altered slightly...

London Broil One pound flank steak, 3-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon pepper. Broil first on one side and then on the other...

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below.

- 1. Is it good manners for a woman to correct a servant before others? 2. Should a woman overlook carelessness on the part of a servant? 3. Is it important that a woman not interfere with a maid's time off?

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By ALICIA HARR. No matter how tired the white-haired woman is of hearing people say, "I just love white hair," when she knows very well that they hope and pray their own never will turn white...

A weekly shampoo is recommended, with a bit of bluing used in the next-to-the-last rinsing water. Now and then, between shampoos, put pieces of clean, fluffy cotton in the places of the brush and pull small locks of hair through it.

'Dora' Curbs Profiteering Britons Who Sold To Nazis

By MILTON BRONNER, NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—With war between Great Britain and Germany distinctly in the offing, the extraordinary situation has been presented of British metal and rubber dealers selling to the Nazis enormous quantities of material the Reich was anxious to store up for war purposes.

The dealing only stopped when Parliament in its extra session swiftly passed laws destined to give the government full wartime powers. One of these laws is that which in the last war came to be called, partly in derision, partly in earnest, "Dora." It came from "D. O. R. A.," which stood for "Defense of the Realm Act."

Under "Dora" light and heat and food and many of the amenities of ordinary life were restricted. The restrictions remained in force for a considerable time after the war. Hence the cartoonists depicted "Dora" as an old wench.

RESTRICTIONS BADLY NEEDED.

But "Dora" has been badly needed in the past few weeks. In the period just prior to the sudden announcement that Germany and Russia were going to sign a non-aggression pact, Germany bought in London some 9,000 tons of copper. The cost of this was nearly two million dollars. The terms were cash. On the other hand, Germany stipulated that the metal must be delivered before September 1.

As a result of this active buying, the price of copper rose more than $4.60 per ton. It was estimated that after this copper was delivered, England would only have about 29,000 tons on hand. Germany's reason for this swift buying is evident. At home it only produces 33 per cent of its needs.

Next to copper, the most sensational buying was that of new rubber which is capable of being stored for

Hundreds Of Employees To Be Laid Off

AUSTIN, Aug. 31. (AP)—Several hundred state government workers here and elsewhere went to their jobs today for the last time.

Victims of an economy knife wielded first by the Legislature then used again by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, they faced removal from the public payroll tonight which is the close of the state's fiscal year.

While appropriations cuts, drastic in certain instances, were imposed on numerous state departments, they were far from sufficient to balance the general fund budget. The deficit in the fund, now almost $20,000,000 was expected to grow to around $28,000,000 during the fiscal year opening tomorrow.

The state's most-discussed problem on the eve of fiscal 1940 was the same as a year ago, old age pensions. Grants may have to be materially slashed this fall.

A new public welfare board, appointed by O'Daniel, henceforth will guide the pension ship. Its members, Beaman Strong of Beaumont, Marvin Leonard of Fort Worth and Rev. M. E. Sadler of Austin, will be sworn in tomorrow.

Besides pensions, they will supervise unemployment relief and child welfare. They probably will name the executive head of the new department before the end of the week.

The state police force was hit hardest by the governmental economy movement. Personnel of its various branches was cut by 160 persons to a total of 437. Starting tomorrow the highway patrol will have but 232 men.

The game department will lose 25 of its 108 wardens and the Railroad commission 60 of its 403 employees, mostly in the oil and gas divisions. The office and field force of the comptroller's department will be reduced by 71. Other departments suffered in varying degrees.

The governor is due to make several appointments early in the new fiscal year. The most important is that of successor to the late Claude Teer, chairman of the board of control.

O. P. Lockhart, Austin business man, and John Wallace, former board of control members, are among those mentioned as possibilities for the place. O'Daniel also will name a state auditor and two persons to the six-member game and fish commission.

Italian Army Divided Into Two Sections

ROME, Aug. 31 (AP)—Division of the Italian army into two parts, respectively commanded by Crown Prince Umberto and Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, was announced today.

No explanation was given for the brief order made known over the air to Italians.

Umberto has been inspector of infantry and a member of the army general staff. Graziani, next to Marshal Pietro Badoglio, was Italy's principal Ethiopian war commander and succeeded Badoglio as viceroy of Ethiopia.

Foreign observers saw no reason for the unusual division of forces unless it were in obedience to some war plan known only to the high command.

The order becomes effective tomorrow.

The war ministry also announced special permits would be necessary to operate motor cars.

Another announcement said present civilian traffic should be reduced by at least 50 per cent.

Complete suspension of trains now using motor fuels and eventual substitution of steam trains was another provision.

Quest'n Widened.

The Fascist press contended Europe's crisis had spread from the German-Polish dispute over Danzig and the corridor to the vastly wider question of giving Germany and Italy their share of the world's wealth.

At the same time, Fascists expressed fear Polish action might precipitate war at any given moment by "abusing Germany's patience."

Developing the Italian arguments for a general revision to settle the present crisis and prevent new ones, Il Popolo Di Roma said:

"It is no longer the fate of the free city which is in discussion. The question has widened and includes a problem of high justice. It is now desirable to give Europe a real peace and deal with all the problems which regard colonies, lines of communication and raw materials; in brief, to repair old and new errors."

Despite the bold show being made in official propaganda, both in stressing Italy's preparedness for war and asking for a general revision of European order, reliable sources said Premier Mussolini was striving to moderate Chancellor Hitler's demands. They thought it more likely than ever that Mussolini would make a conciliatory.

IMPROVE MT. MCKINLEY

SEATTLE (AP)—Two hundred CCC men have gone to Alaska to spend the summer improving Mt. McKinley National Park. Construction of trails, landscaping and stringing of 75 miles of telephone line are on the program.

Two sets of twin heifer calves were born this spring at the farm of G. W. Williams near Ackerly, Dawson county. One set was almost identical in appearance.

MAY REVIVE OLD FORT

LONDON (AP)—The "dead" port of Pagham Harbor, which was the home of Thomas Becket, may be revived as a base for Britain's trans-Atlantic flying boats. Experts estimated that the harbor, 70 miles from London, could be converted into a suitable base at a cost of $4,000,000.

Deputy Sheriff Ollie Neathery of Grayson county needed a book case for the jail office atop the county building at Sherman and got it unexpectedly. Construction of a slot machine gave him an idea and now the large blue metal case is the repository of books instead of complicated machinery.

55,000 Texas National Guardsmen Could Be Mobilized Within 60 Days

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
 AUSTIN, Aug. 30. (AP)—A plan astonishingly complete in detail has been worked out by Texas military men and the war department whereby, should this country become involved in war, an emergency armed force of approximately 55,000 volunteers would be available from this state within 60 days.

Of this number 15,000 would be the Texas national guard, which has a present minimum strength of 9,712 officers and enlisted men and which on the day of mobilization, known as "M-day," would, in an estimated two-day period, be brought to maximum power.

The remaining 40,000 would be allowed to enter the regular army, the navy and the marine corps, as they chose, so long as the selections did not interfere with welfare of the services.

According to Adjutant General Harry Knox, Jr., the war department has declared the plan one of the three best among all the states. Plans of Ohio and Pennsylvania also have received high commendation.

"We are ready to go at the drop of a hat," Knox says.

The plan contemplates this volunteer force to meet a serious emergency and before selective service, such as the country had in the World War, begins. The national guard and the additional volunteers would constitute the first line of defense while the vast, slowly-moving machinery of selective service was getting under way.

BRITAIN TOUGHENS NAVAL ARM

With part of the British high seas fleet hovering off the German coast ready to blockade the Baltic at a given signal, England rushes more naval reservists (above) to Portsmouth Naval Yard to bring its navy up to full fighting strength.

Face Slapping Brings Discipline

was expected to swell Poland's armed manpower from 1,500,000 to well over 2,000,000.

A government communique declared that Germany's "policy of aggression" had "left no doubt about the fact that Poland is endangered."

The pro-government newspaper, Express Forum, said "a bad neighbor has come to the gates of the serene Polish republic and this indicates that after Polish diplomacy has done everything it can to maintain peace the Polish armed forces will have to play their role."

Hopes of peace have not been entirely erased, the Express Forum added, "but if war does come it will be for all of us a sacred and victorious war."

The mobilization order, it was taken for granted here, was issued with full knowledge of Britain.

In hundreds of towns and villages there were dramatic scenes as farmers, laborers, lawyers and other civilians said farewell to tight-lipped, dry-eyed women. Some of the women shouted the slogan of Marshal Pilsudski: "Poland will fight to the last man—and to the last woman!"

The government put into effect orders for requisitioning automobiles, trucks, horses, bicycles, and other equipment.

Panama canal traffic tolls for the first seven months of 1939, its 25th anniversary year, totaled a little more than $13,000,000.

Apologizing for slapping of Mrs. Frances Mary Richard of San Francisco by sentry at Tientsin, China, Japanese consul general in city says slapper has been disciplined, asserts orders have been issued to accord courteous treatment to American citizens as far as they assume a similarly courteous attitude.

FORGET SPANISH WAR
LONDON MAGAZINE ADVISES
 LONDON (AP)—A magazine editorial complains about a daily paper's protest over "bombing of refugees in Spain" and takes the paper to task for suggesting the "good" should be remembered "when France comes to us for a loan."

"That is hardly calculated," says the magazine "to increase friendly relations between financiers in this country and the forces of the law, order and decency in the Spanish nation—where there is big business to be done in the future."

UNFAIR FAIR ADVERTISING
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Somebody in the Post-Office department certainly got tactless.

When 10,000 new three-cent stamps arrived here for sale in the post-office at the Golden Gate International exposition, it was found they advertised the New York World's Fair.

A total of 1,500 two-hundred-man CCC camps and approximately 100 smaller camps are now in operation.

500,000 Poles Grimly Answer Call To Colors

WARSAW, Aug. 31 (AP)—Thousands of grim-faced Polish citizens donned khaki uniforms and marched off as soldiers today to answer President Ignace Moscicki's order of near-general mobilization for defense of the republic.

The order, calling all reservists under 40 years of age to the colors,

Sparkplug of this preparedness is the Texas national guard, described by Knox as "one of the finest bodies of troops in the country."

Here are some facts about this guard:

It has in its possession more than $30,000,000 worth of federal property, guns, uniforms and equipment.

It expended at artillery, machine gun, rifle and pistol practice in 1937 more than $55,000 worth of ammunition.

The 141st infantry twice has won the Pershing trophy, infantry donated each year to the infantry regiment of the national guard of the United States making the best record in rifle, machine gun and trench mortar marksmanship.

The 124th cavalry has won the Pershing trophy for cavalry four times.

WHAT IS SCOUTING?

Scouting is a program of interesting, useful things for boys TO DO in their leisure time. These boys learn the mysteries of Woodcraft, First Aid, Swimming and Life Saving, of Outdoor Cooking and Camping, of Signaling, Map Making, Hiking and Citizenship.

Like the Red Cross, SCOUTING is chartered directly by Congress and the President of the United States is its "Honorary President."

The Scoutmasters are picked local men, who give their time without pay because of their interest in the boys of America.

SCOUTING gives boys a chance to serve their community. Its activities not only give pleasure and knowledge, but they prepare to meet community emergencies. Whenever disaster has struck Scouts have proven their readiness to SERVE.

SCOUTING is neither military nor anti-military. It carefully avoids political or commercial entanglements.

SCOUTING knows no race or creed or class. Troops are found alike in Catholic, Jewish, Jewish Synagogue and Protestant church. It is available to farm or city alike. It is found in schools—it serves the rich as it serves the poor. Its aim is to help each of these boys to become the best citizens that he can make of himself.

His "Daily Good Turn" to some is one of the Scout's effort to help the other fellow to make the best of himself.

Each year new thousands upon thousands of boys join SCOUTING. They find not only fun, but also a real chance to BE something more. Every boy really wants to "make good."

It is ironic that in our concern for the FUTURE safety of our youngsters, we often lose sight of the PRESENT dangers.

Today as we read of the injection of Communism into the minds of our children, and talk and fret with our neighbors, of the red flag of danger that flaunts its fangs of undemocratic belief. . . we are so occupied we are not fully conscious of a greater danger . . . the driver of an automobile, on our streets of Pampa today!

Certainly Communism is deadly to the minds of our children, but the grim truth is that, traffic on our streets can kill off our children long before they are old enough to shape their decisions as to belief in Communism.

Longview Pitcher 'Skunks' Henderson

(By The Associated Press.)
The emphasis is on pitching and well do the batters know it as next-to-last-place Longview gives Henderson a real work-out in the East Texas League race.
In two days the teams have scored only 17 runs and managed to get only 17 hits. Tuesday-Henderson won 1-0 and yesterday Longview reversed things with a 1-0 victory as Pat Besley allowed the leaders three singles.
Runner-up Kilgore crushed Texarkana 10-0 behind two-hit hurling by Walt Brown, third-place Palestine bounced Marshall 11-5 and fourth-place Tyler split a double header with Jacksonville, taking the first game 9-7 and dropping the nightcap 6-0.

Aggies Will Not Lose Colton Price

NEWCASTLE, Aug. 31 (AP)--The Texas A. and M. football machine, clinging to top what many expect to be a victorious ride through the Southwest Conference, will not lose its sparkplug after all.
Walmston (Colton) Price, star halfback, was burned in a gasoline explosion Tuesday and at first it was feared he would be lost to football. However, physicians said Price should be in condition to report to practice.

Bremen Crew Heils Hitler, Then Departs

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP)--The $20,000,000 Nazi liner Bremen ploughed the Atlantic today, homeward bound after a rigid inspection by American authorities that kept her at a New York pier two days past her sailing date.

The 898-foot vessel, examined from top to bottom to make certain she carried no armaments for possible offensive use in the event of a European war, had no passengers aboard as she steamed down the bay last night.

The ship's band played the "Horst Wessel" as the Bremen slipped out into the Hudson.
A few of the crew shouted "Hell Hitler!" and the ship dipped her colors in an exchange with the French liner Normandie, but that was all. Only the navigation lights shone in the twilight.

The Normandie, at an adjoining pier, was free to sail at the same time, but remained in New York on orders from Paris.

Also sailing eastward about the same time as the Bremen were the Cunard-White Star's Aquitania and the Anchor line's Transylvania, both British.

There were reports, lacking confirmation, the two British navy ships were standing out to sea to convoy the Aquitania home.

Radio messages to the liner went unanswered. Her ports and windows were painted black.

The Transylvania, with nearly 300 passengers, carried a supply of sandbags for possible defensive placement about the bridge when she reached European waters.

Capt. William Drechsel, marine superintendent of the Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd lines, declared the Bremen was bound for her home port of Bremerhaven.

Harry M. Durning, collector of the port of New York, said no contraband had been found on any of the ships.
Captain Drechsel said his line planned to "do something" about the delay, which he contended had cost several thousand dollars.

Maverick Recall Petition Signed At Mass Meeting

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 31 (AP)--Another snafu was placed in the political comeback trail of stormy Maury Maverick today--an organized movement seeking his recall as mayor of San Antonio.

Maverick, whose tiffs in the halls of Congress were numerous before his defeat at the hands of Paul Kilgore, was denounced by a crowd of 1,500 persons gathered last night in the auditorium of the city hall as an aftermath of disorders at a Communist meeting last week.

The recall movement was designed to include police and Fire Commission Louie H. Gibson, Cincinnati at Boston, ppd., cold weather. Pittsburgh at Philadelphia, ppd., rain. Chicago at Brooklyn, ppd., rain.

SERIAL STORY

Murder on the Boardwalk BY ELINORE COWAN STONE

Copyright, 1939, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday Chandra makes the surprising discovery that Mrs. Talbert's nephew, Earl, who was kidnapped 12 years ago, engineered the murder. He is still alive. Jaspur tells of receiving a letter from Mrs. Talbert, Inspector Parsons asks him to identify the one found in the victim's purse.

CHAPTER XVI

"MRS. TALBERT did not write this, sir," Jaspur declared as soon as he glanced over the letter which the inspector had handed him. "Someone forged it, apparently to throw suspicion on Miss Christine."

"But you are sure that Mrs. Talbert did not write this note delivered to you the night of her disappearance?"

"Yes, sir. . . . I told you that for some time Mrs. Talbert had been anticipating an emergency. If I may say so, sir, she seemed pleasantly excited by the idea. In preparation for it she had worked up a kind of code, and she had rehearsed me in it."

"Well, go into the code later. Tell me what that note said."

"It said—on the face of it of course, sir—'Am called away on sudden business. Close house to night; send servants on month's vacation with pay; have all services discontinued; and deliver keys to bank. Wait at Surf City for further instructions.' You see, sir, the trick was in the way she formed her letters. For instance, if she looped her 't's, it meant, 'What I expected has happened; and if—"

"Let's have the note," the inspector interrupted, "for what you understood from it."

"Well, what she wanted me to understand first, sir, was that that note had been dictated by someone else. I also gathered that she was being detained. But Mrs. Talbert must have been hurried or confused. For aside from that, I could decode only two words. One was 'Boardwalk,' and the other—"

A MOTORCYCLE roared to a stop at the door, and an imperative knock sounded outside. Inspector Parsons said, "I'll attend to this," and went out into the hall."

When he returned he was briskly sorting a sheaf of reports.

"Go on," he prompted without looking up.

"It was the second word, sir, that was responsible for my having spent most of the next two days about the waterfront."

"And that word, of course, was 'boat'?" the inspector anticipated.

"But that launch wasn't abandoned as the newspaper story said, Jaspur. The owner, Captain Parks, was aboard. He showed us a letter from Mrs. Talbert, engaging his boat for a deepsea fishing trip, enclosing a check, signed by her, in partial payment, and instructing him to call at the Twenty-seventh street dock early this morning. . . . But long before that, Mrs. Talbert was dead."

"For a moment Jaspur seemed stumped for words."

"But, sir," he faltered at last, "Mrs. Talbert doesn't fish. She never wrote that letter of her own accord."

"I don't think so either. Yet some hours after the murder, Mrs. Talbert's car was located, empty and locked, at the Twenty-seventh Street dock. . . . Now, about the time when Mrs. Talbert's dead body was found, you were picked up on the beach with a key-holder in your hand."

"The key-holder turned out to belong to Mr. Yardley, who two hours before had been seen hiding in a car parked exactly where Mrs. Talbert's was found, waiting—so he said—for Miss Thorenson. Among the keys was the key to Mrs. Talbert's car. . . . And early last evening you rowed out to Captain King's launch and spent some time snooping around."

"Yes, sir—because I gathered from Mrs. Talbert's note that she either was detained on a boat off the Boardwalk, or expected to be."

"But Captain King woke up in time," Inspector Parsons said, "to follow you to shore in his dinghy. . . . You are right about one thing, however: Mrs. Talbert never was on that boat."

MR. WILMET spoke for the first time, his round pink face puckered in bewilderment.

"But how can you be sure that Mrs. Talbert wasn't taken to that boat and murdered after this man was there? I understood from the newspaper that one pair of those footprints was hers."

"Miss Thorenson is evidently one woman who doesn't run to gossip. You had dinner with her, didn't you? . . . Those footprints, as I told her, did fit Mrs. Talbert's shoes. Not the ones she was wearing that night, but another pair, identical in measurements except for one slightly damaged heel."

"Did he tell me that because he wanted it repeated?" Christine wondered.

But the inspector was going on, each word dropping like the tinkle of ice. "Mrs. Talbert, it happens, was killed in a wheel chair, her body wheeled to the booth and left there. The Coast Guard found the chair this morning under the edge of the Boardwalk."

After a silence through which his words seemed to echo and re-echo, he went on, "The man who had been pushing that chair has confessed."

"Confessed?"

The voice of Chandra, who until now had remained thoughtfully aloof, rang out, sharply incredulous.

"Confessed?" the inspector went on smoothly, "that the night before the murder, he had left his chair to join a dice game, and that when he went back to the place where it should have been, it was gone. When we found it, the number-plates of the company had been removed, so that, in a crowd, it might have passed for any private chair."

"But I should think," Bill said, "that the next tide would have carried the chair from beneath the walk and out to sea."

"That was what the murderer thought when he hoisted it over the railing. . . . Perhaps he was hurried at the last moment, or—the inspector paused as if to inspect an idea—"perhaps he didn't know that except for a few times a year, with phenomenally high tides, the water doesn't come up under the walk at that particular point."

CHRISTINE said in a voice she hardly recognized as her own, "I thought the doctor said she must have been killed before 11:30. Up to that time, the Boardwalk was crowded."

"That's just the point, Miss Thorenson—the Boardwalk was crowded. And who, in a crowd like that, ever looks twice at the man pushing a wheel chair—or at the passenger. Besides, this was an enclosed chair with sun-glass windows. The booth into which he wheeled the body to unload it was unlighted, and the point at which the chair was finally discarded is the darkest part of the promenade, where few people walk."

Jaspur asked, his face chalk white, "But how do you know that Mrs. Talbert was murdered in that chair?"

"Because," the inspector said, "in that chair we found fragments of the spectacles she had been wearing, and various indications of violence. That letter to Captain King and the one to Miss Thorenson we found in Mrs. Talbert's purse—both probably forged as you have not failed to suggest—and those footprints—Christine wondered why he glanced toward Bill Yardley—were deliberate attempts to frustrate justice."

"It'd been doing it," Bill put in, "I'd have looked to make sure the tide ordinarily came in that far, before I heaved the chair over."

Chandra said very softly, "I find it impossible to believe that he did not at least—try to see."

President Plans No Further Peace Move

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. (AP)—President Roosevelt was described by a high official today as believing for the time being there is no further move which he can make for peace.

The government therefore will keep its attitude of watchful waiting, it was said, in the hope the diplomatic exchanges going on between London and Berlin will open a way toward settlement of Europe's crisis.

Officials here viewed the European situation as follows:

It is better psychologically because the nations are talking, writing notes and sending ambassadors; but the issues still remain. They may have been narrowed by the exchanges between Great Britain and Germany, or they may have been broadened into the possibility of a wider settlement than merely the German-Polish problem.

Hitler has made strong demands on Poland that will be hard to meet and equally hard to back down from.

King Vitoria Emanuele, replying last night to the appeal Mr. Roosevelt sent him last Wednesday, said Italy was doing "whatever is possible" to bring about a peace with justice.

The monarch said he had transmitted the appeal to his government immediately, and he expressed his gratitude for Mr. Roosevelt's interest.

Nazi Offensive Against Poland Would 'Bog Down,' Claims Expert

By GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT
(Writes for NEA Service)

ATHENS, Aug. 29—If war breaks between Germany and Poland—

The Germans probably will concentrate four-fifths of their available troops against the Poles, hoping to overwhelm Poland in from two to six weeks—meanwhile standing strictly on the defensive in the west.

My guess is that any such offensive against Poland will bog down.

The best Polish allies are General Winter and General Mud. Besides, the Polish army is tough and will fight. German superiority is insufficient to overcome all these.

The main German attack probably will be against southwestern Poland, with secondary attacks on the Corridor from Pomerania and East Prussia.

The possibility of Germans attempting a military-political coup in Hungary and perhaps Rumania at the same time must not be discounted—possibly accompanied by an attempt to seize Rumanian oil fields.

With air infantry concentrations now massing in Silesia and Vienna, Germany could move either against Poland or down the Danube.

These might slabs of steel and concrete have all the appearance of ruins left by some vanished prehistoric race. Actually they are tank barriers along the Siefried Line by which Germany hopes to hold French tanks in check if war comes. This picture was flown across the Atlantic to NEA Service and The Pampa News.

ENGLAND'S FIGHTING STRENGTH EXCELLENT

The chance of war now rests on the correctness of Germany's appreciation of the actual situation.

Germany's danger lies in over-confidence—first in ability to overwhelm Poland quickly and confront the western powers with this accomplishment to be followed by negotiated peace. Second, in Ribbentrop's belief that Britain will not fight for Poland.

Great Britain has mobilized her regular army reserve, enabling from four to six regular divisions, plus two armored divisions, to take the field at once.

The British territorials are partly mobilized at the moment, and are

In the process of being doubled. Twelve territorial divisions could be added in approximately 60 days—and be highly efficient.

Great Britain's air force is, in fact, the best air force in Europe. While only about two-thirds as strong as the German first line machines, it is superior in staff, training and experience.

The navy's reserve fleet is completely mobilized—to the extent that it can control Germany in the North Sea and still spare reinforcements for Western France while the Mediterranean air defense of the British Isles are in better shape than last September, but not yet complete.

FRANCE AND POLAND BOTH VERY STRONG

France has the best army in Europe. Organization and leadership are magnificent. Three classes of reserves have been mobilized.

France can put sixty to one hundred divisions into the field immediately.

In strength, the French air force does not measure up to the British, but much progress has been made during the past year and it being made now. There is a deficiency in personnel as well as machines.

The Polish army has an excellent staff, and both officers and men are of fine material and well-instructed. The shortage of artillery and equipment limits the number of divisions ready to take the field, mobilization of classes 26 and 28 brings the number of troops under arms to almost one-half million, or 30 fully equipped divisions. Fifteen reserve divisions are reasonably well equipped. Fifteen are only moderately so. In addition, there are fourteen cavalry brigades and some corps of artillery.

The Poles think that their shortage of heavy material is balanced by bad roads and weak bridges which will check Germany's use of heavy materials.

Polish air force has good pilots and mechanics and about 1200 modern planes and some older ones. They are very short of anti-aircraft artillery. However, air raid precautions are well organized in some industrial areas, but badly coordinated and spotty.

GERMANY'S ARMY HAS WEAKNESSES

The German army can mobilize 80 to 100 divisions—not all fully equipped and with trained officers and non-commissioned officers spread very thin. Landwehr divisions for the western border are large.

Reserves of ammunition troops are well trained and organized and administration is excellent. Transportation vehicles are for the most part commandeered civilian trucks and wagons.

The Germans now have about 1,000,000 men under arms, plus another half-million in air force and navy. The air force is divided into four air fleets with nominal strength—1,500 to 1,800 planes—each not yet attained.

The German air force includes a force of air infantry with about 1,000 troop-carrying planes, capable of handling 12 men each. Half of the divisional artillery and most division trains are animal drawn. Cavalry divisions are in the process of organization, but there is a severe shortage of horses.

The greatest weakness of the German air force is lack of experience in handling large formations. Also lack of high test gasoline for training.

The German navy has very good ships and personnel. They might try to cut loose ships to raid British sea lanes before war begins. However, this may be affected adversely by reports of Spanish neutrality since use of Spanish ships would be vital to any such attempt.

BALKAN ARMIES CAN CAUSE REAL TROUBLE

Italy remains a question mark both as to attitude in case of hostilities and military effectiveness. I have not yet been in Italy, but opinions gathered elsewhere, including Germany, do not alter my previously expressed views.

The Yugoslav army is excellent in personnel, but short in equipment. They will not fight on the side of the Axis. Internal unity between Serbs and Croats, just announced, gives Yugoslavia increased importance.

The Yugoslav army is in the throes of re-organization. Rumania is not a serious factor at the moment.

The Turks probably can keep the Bulgars quiet.

The Greeks will defend their frontiers if attacked, and may allow Great Britain the use of their harbors.

It is too early yet to predict the military effect of the Russian-German pact, but this much is true: the Poles were not counting on active Russian assistance anyway—only on raw materials and perhaps some military aircraft and moral security.

'Squads Right' And 'Parade Rest' To Go

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—Beginning with tomorrow's reveille, that old army command—"squads right!"—will be just a memory.

The present European crisis, incidentally, didn't kill it. It just died of old age.

"Squads right" is something Frederick the Great thought up. Arranging soldiers in squads and marching them straight at the enemy guns was a good system—in his time.

It deluged the opposition and drove it back. It is good and enough men and ammunition. Military books don't say so, but Frederick the Great never was in that first squad, which of course gave him an opportunity to study results.

Today the system doesn't work. The modern machine gun, fired by a single soldier, can heap on 200 doses of death a minute.

Tomorrow also will see the end of "Parade Rest," which the army now admits didn't rest anyone.

"Port arms"—as now executed—will go, too. No more will the infantryman flip his rifle into the air and smack it with his hand. It sounded fine, but it often was tough on the fellow to the left.

Drilling will be easier after today, but a big army problem still remains—how to make a rookie remember which is right and which is left.

Paris To Be Blacked Out Hencelorth

PARIS, Aug. 31 (AP)—The French government drove swiftly ahead today with its preparations for war, if it must come, by declaring that Paris henceforth must be blacked out.

Meanwhile the diplomatic lines for peace negotiations were kept open, awaiting the next move by Germany's Fuehrer.

Across the Rhine border, however, French sources said, the German army was already on a wartime footing.

Through the Paris police an order was issued putting into execution the strict black-out laws already published.

Under their very exterior light must be extinguished on Paris buildings and every window must be so screened that no ray of light escapes. Any light will lead without further warning to cutting off the electric current for the whole building as well as a police investigation.

The government also issued its fifth appeal to the citizens of Paris who could leave the city to get out while transportation was still available.

The government formally took over the railroads to transport troops and military supplies to strategic centers. Thousands more school children were sent to the country in continuation of evacuation of 50,000 which started yesterday.

War fears were intensified by Berlin dispatches Germany had appointed a high, inclusive military and political "war council."

French leaders saw a dark future, despite the frequent exchange of diplomatic notes between Britain and Germany over Germany's claims on Poland. Many of them believed the "explosion point" was near.

Premier Daladier said yesterday Frenchmen would know "where we stand" after learning the contents of Adolf Hitler's note to Britain. The note has not yet been made public.

Death Of Claude Teer Listed As A Suicide

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 31 (AP)—Death of Claude B. Teer, chairman of the state board of control, was listed as suicide in the records of Justice of the Peace O. L. Wiley today.

Justice Wiley announced last night he had reached a verdict that Teer took his own life when he plunged beneath a train near the San Antonio state hospital Monday.

President and Mrs. Hayes were the first to celebrate a silver wedding anniversary in the White House.
