Communism of Softer Brand Is Sandino's Goal

Spanish Explorer Tells of Nicaraguan's Philosophy of Government and of How It Is in Practice.

HATES YANKEES

But Insurgent Leader Intends to Carry on Revolution After Marines Leave; Has Force of Gunners.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, June 11. (AP)—A "softened" communism is the aim of Gen. Augusto Sandino, says Ramiro Molla Sanz, a Spanish explorer who has returned here after a three weeks' stay at the mountain headquarters of the Nicaraguan insurgent.

Molla Sanz fell into the hands of a Sandinista band while he was making his way through Nicaragua on foot as part of a walking journey from New York to Buenos Aires.

Escorted to the headquarters of the commander, he was received as a guest and given opportunity to learn much of the methods and objects of the Sandino campaign.

"The Russian brand of communism is not to my taste," Sandino told him. "It is much too agitated. I want a quiet Spanish communism, softened and made orderly."

In the Molla Sanz travel book Sandino wrote sentiments which hailed the explorer as a brother and kindred spirit and added:

"Spain and Spanish America will yet communize the world."

This he signed and sealed with his personal seal, the design showing a Sandinista holding an American by the hair and cutting off his captive's head.

In the territory under his control Sandino is practicing the softened communism which he preaches to the mountain folk. The land belongs to the native, and every man must help his fellow.

Molla Sanz said that the Sandino forces numbered 4,000 and were well equipped with rifles, machine guns, some bomb throwers, a few small cannons and three anti-aircraft guns.

They have plenty of river craft and maintain a line of communications from the headquarters in the Segovia mountains to the mouth of the Coco river on the Atlantic.

It was by this route that the visitor was escorted back to civilization. The party went overland to Bocay, then down the Bocay and Coco rivers to Cabo Gracias a Dios.

Short on Salt
Salt is the great lack of the Sandino commissary. Raids on towns generally yield other food supplies, but salt has been so scarce that several fights have taken place just with the object of getting some.

Sandino himself was described as in good health. He denied that he had ever been wounded in the leg, as had been reported. In fact, Molla Sanz said, the general seldom leads his men into battle, leaving that task to the sub-commanders in charge of his various columns.

Sandino related that he had planned a big attack upon Managua, capital of Nicaragua, but gave up the scheme when the earthquake laid the city in ruins. Instead he turned his attention to the east coast, raiding Puerto Cabezas and Cabo Gracias a Dios in April.

Sandino said he would keep up the fight even after the American marines are out of his country. He will seek to overthrow President Moncada and establish a national government based upon his modified communism.

LONDON, June 11. (AP)—The British admiralty has abandoned hope that any of the men trapped in the sunken submarine Poseidon off Weihaiwei, China, might still be alive.

The commander in chief of the fleet in China sent word today that there is no foundation for reports that some of the crew who went down with the ship on Tuesday are still living.

CONSUL CITES KILLING FACTS

Mexican Investigator Asserts Deputies, in Fear, Shot Without Warning.

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—Consul Valdez at Oklahoma City reported to the Mexican embassy today that two Mexican students, Emilio Cortes Rubio, kinsman of President Rubio, and Manuel Gomez were shot "without warning" in an Oklahoma city deputy sheriff "hearing for his life."

Valdez, who was ordered to Oklahoma City by the consul general at San Antonio to make an investigation, sent a copy of his detailed report to Mexico City.

It follows in part the preliminary investigation it appears Rubio and Gomez after arriving at Ardmore stopped for refreshments, proceeding afterwards on their way along highway No. 77 towards the south. Approximately five minutes afterwards they stopped in an Oklahoma city populated and somewhat dark so that Salvador Cortez Rubio (who accompanied the two) could get out a . . .

"Was Admonished
"To investigators it appears that the officials (Deputy Sheriffs W. E. Cress and Cecil Crosby) were traveling behind the car driven by Rubio and Gomez and seeing that Rubio was standing in front of the lights of the automobile x x Salvador was admonished by Crosby, who, addressing afterwards Emilio and Manuel who were in the car, received as an answer that they were students and were going to Mexico.

"But noticing that Emilio had a pistol over his legs covered with his hands Crosby snatched the gun. A moment later his companion, Cress, approached the car on the right side and found Manuel standing outside the car covered with a blanket and holding a gun in his hand.

"Deputy Sheriff Cress, fearing for his life and without having tried to warn Gomez, fired his gun killing Gomez.

Fired Without Warning
"Then, approaching the car and seeing another person inside, without warning him, he fired on Emilio, who also died instantly."

Embassy officials said they had received messages of condolence from the mayor, city manager, board of commissioners and chamber of commerce at Ardmore.

No instructions have been received from the Mexican government, however, and the officials said they had received no protests of the shooting from individuals or groups either in Mexico or the United States.

Sterling Hears Plea for Session

GOVERNOR IS TO POSTPONE HIS DECISION

His Favor Is Hinted When He Points Out Change of Sentiment in East Texas Territory of Late.

SOLONS POLLED

Representative Howsley Claims That His Body Is Favoring Proration Laws; Two-Thirds Vote Needed.

AUSTIN, June 11. (AP)—The campaign for the calling of a special session of the legislature to consider oil legislation centered in Austin today when 45 oil men asked Gov. Ross S. Sterling to convene the lawmakers soon in extra session.

The governor said he would make known his decision "in a day or two."

"A short time ago I was against calling a special session because I did not believe the legislature would enact what you people desired," Governor Sterling said. "Since then I have noted a change of sentiment, particularly in east Texas. I am carrying on an investigation of my own and I should know more about the sentiment in a day or two."

Mayor Malcolm Crim of Kilgore stated that the last time he had been in the governor's office he had opposed granting additional proration powers to the railroad commission and added he thought the change in his views was representative of 30 per cent of the people in his area who had formerly sided with him.

Kilgore is in the heart of the new oil field, over-production from which has been blamed for the collapse of the oil price structure.

Delegates characterized the situation in the oil industry as "extremely critical" and said they believed the legislature would enact needed laws by the two-thirds majority required to put them into immediate effect.

Says House Favorable
Ed Landreth of Fort Worth, secretary of the group, which is known as the Texas Oil Emergency committee, read a letter which he believed he had received from Representative A. M. Howsley of Albany, in which Howsley said he had polled members of the house and found them overwhelmingly in favor of additional legislation.

Howsley said he polled 117 of the 150 members. Of these he said 87 expressed themselves as favoring enactment of additional legislation. 14 others said they were for proration, five said they did not know the conditions and 11 said they were against proration.

Before conferring with the governor, the committee held a meeting at which executive finance, and legal committees, were named. The legal committee would draw a bill strengthening the conservation powers of the railroad commission in event a special session should be called.

Members of the legal committee were: Rhodes Baker of Dallas, Charles Brachfield of Henderson; E. T. Moore, president of the Simms Oil company, Dallas and Crim east Texas; Giberg Denman of San Antonio; Frank Zoch of San Antonio, and Beaman Strong of Beaumont, south Texas; J. D. Collett, C. F. Roeder and Bob Hardwick of Fort Worth, West Texas, and John Kilgore of Wichita Falls, north Texas.

The Panhandle was asked to name representatives later.

Landreth was made chairman of the finance committee. Members of the executive committee were: W. L. Todd of Dallas, chairman; Zoch, vice-chairman; Roeder, Collett, W. A. Moncrief of Fort Worth, Smith of Mexico, Landreth, Crim and Walter Tucker of Overton.

Todd is chairman of the main committee with Zoch, vice-chairman, and Landreth, secretary. The committee was named at a mass meeting at Dallas Monday.

"Lone Wolf" Sued In Accident Case

VERNON, June 11. (AP)—A civil suit asking real and exemplary damages, totaling $10,000 from Ranger M. T. Gonzales was on file today in 46th district court here.

The suit was filed by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Barrett of Vernon in connection with an accident on the highway near Vernon July 29, 1930, in which the Ewell La Vern Barrett, 12, son of the plaintiffs, was fatally injured.

(This accident occurred when Gonzales was taking to the penitentiary a Shamrock negro guard, who was tried at Miami but quarreled here when mob violence was threatened.)

Woman Witness Is Under Guard

LOS ANGELES, June 11. (AP)—Mrs. Ethel Hamlin, club woman and witness in the case against David Clark, former deputy district attorney charged with the murder of Charles H. Crawford, politician, and Herbert Spencer, an associate, was under guard today after additional threats against her had been reported.

Found wandering in a dazed, hysterical state late last night by police in a patrol car, Mrs. Hamlin said a man approached her near her home, showed her a badge, and told her she was wanted at the district attorney's office for further questioning.

The man drove her about town, she said, urging her to sign a paper, threatening her with violence and finally promising to "take care of you" if she would leave Los Angeles until after the trial of Clark. Regulating his requests, she said she was thrust from the car while it was moving.

Mrs. Hamlin previously had asked permission to leave the city until the time of the trial. She tentatively identified a policeman as a man who had warned her in a hall of justice elevator that "you're chirping too much" and "if you don't keep your mouth shut you'll be next." She had received other warnings, she said.

Estranged Wife of Local Man Confesses Slaying During Lengthy Gruelling

TAHOKEA, June 11. (AP)—A charge of murder was filed here this morning against Mrs. Ola Redman, 32-year-old confessed slayer of Fred Chase, 33-year-old Gordon community farmer. The man's body was found in an automobile late Tuesday afternoon.

County Attorney G. H. Nelson announced the woman's confession last night. Mrs. Redman, arrested late Tuesday night, broke under a day of questioning and her signed confession was obtained at 5 p. m. Wednesday, 16 hours after she was taken into custody, the prosecutor said.

The woman, who said she shot Chase in self-defense, was arrested at the home of her mother, Mrs. Lula Lloyd, 13 miles southwest of Post. Chase had attempted to gain possession of a .32 caliber pistol in the automobile, the county attorney said.

The slain man threatened her life on a number of previous occasions, she said in her confession.

Mrs. Redman said that she and Chase had been going together for more than three years, although neither of them was divorced.

Chase frequently threatened to kill her if she did not stop seeing her husband, Glen W. Redman, Pampa painter, to whom she had been married for thirteen years. Mrs. Redman is reported to have said in her confession. She last saw her husband two months ago in Pampa, she said.

Had Argument
"Chase and I argued a great deal while we were on route to my mother's home," Mrs. Redman told Nelson. "When we got within a short distance of the house he stopped the car and got out a gun and told me he was going to kill me if I got out of the car."

"I told him that I was going back to my husband if I could."

"Chase reached for the gun which was in a door pocket on my side of the car."

"I begged him not to kill me," "During the scuffle I got hold of a .38 caliber pistol which was on the seat behind Chase."

"I shot him in the head," she said in her statement.

The woman said she and her husband had owned a residence in Lubbock at one time. The building was sold and she was given $800 from the sale, she told officers.

The $800 was given to Chase and he used the money to buy the automobile in which he was slain, the confession related.

"I repeatedly asked Chase for the money, but he refused to give it to me."

Chase's body was found in the automobile Tuesday afternoon, 16 hours after he was killed, by a farmer, who was plowing in a nearby field. The farmer said he noticed the automobile parked there when he went to work Tuesday but did not investigate until several hours later, thinking the machine belonged to some cotton choppers who were working in another field.

PROOF BACKS FISHING TALE

Affidavits and Pictures of 46-Pound Catch Are Brought Here.

A fishing story brought back from Clay Center, Kans., this week by DeLea Vicars, C. L. Thomas, and J. S. Wynne is backed up by an affidavit which states that the witnesses saw with their own eyes 46 pounds of fish caught by the accused fishermen from Pampa. The affidavit is addressed to real and alleged fishermen of Pampa. Witnesses were highly reputable Kansans and citizens of consequence.

The fishing was done in the Republican river, near a farm owned by Mrs. Walter Martin. However, Mr. Wynne insists that the fish were democratic and not republican, because they had consistently refused to even nibble during the last spring at the baits of Kansas republicans, whereas they availed themselves of the first opportunity to swallow bait and hooks offered by good Texas democrats.

The story goes that no sooner did the Pampa gentlemen and their wives hurl their baited hooks into the turbid waters than the 46 pounds of fish began to pile up, one after the other. As if the affidavit were not enough, pictures were taken. One shows Mrs. Vicars yanking a fish out of the river.

Natives of the section were astounded. They looked at the pile of fish and gasped. How come these oldtimers of the streamless Texas pampas with such technique and luck? They rushed to the river while they had thought was devoid of fish and were lining its banks when the Pampans threw away their fish bones and started for home.

Look to Wheat Crop
The need for obtaining right-of-way commitments now was stressed. It is understood that Burlington officials in Chicago have decided that construction of the road must start by August 1 if it is to start this year. It is estimated that the road must be begun by that time in order to finish it by the time the 1932 wheat crop is ready to roll south. The Denver figures that if the road is not finished in time for next year's harvest there is no use in building the road this year.

General Hulien said that he "just dropped in to tell the good Pampa people that everything is progressing satisfactorily. Children citizens have already given definite commitment that they will furnish suit, land-owners in Collingsworth and Wheeler counties will know the road is going to be built and they will get on the band wagon." The official said that Collingsworth and Wheeler committees have secured some right-of-way.

Will Return Soon
General Hulien said that he and Judge Barwise, Denver attorney, would arrive back in Pampa next Tuesday and would stay in this territory until the right-of-way is secured. "I intend to spend most of my time between Pampa and Childress from now on," he said. He will leave for Fort Worth this evening.

DENVER ASKS FOR DEEDS IN COMING WEEK

If Construction Is This Year, Work Must Be Started by About August 1, Which Is Goal Now Set.

SESSION TONIGHT

Burlington Officials Pressing for Action on Project; Value of Early Beginning Is Being Stressed.

The Fort Worth and Denver City Railway company is planning to start construction of the grade for the Childress-Pampa line by Aug. 1, General John A. Hulien of Fort Worth, vice-president of the road, said here this morning.

However, he pointed out, realization of this plan depends upon right-of-way committees of the towns along the route. General Hulien emphasized that the railway company wants definite commitment from Pampa committees that they will furnish the necessary right-of-way and other facilities.

He announced that Childress committees have already said in effect, "You go ahead and start the railroad—we'll furnish the right-of-way; you need't worry about that."

"When Pampa gives us a definite commitment we'll start proceedings to let the contract," the official declared.

Meeting Is Called
After a conference with General Hulien early this morning, Mel Davis, general chairman, called a meeting of the advisory board and all of the right-of-way committees for this evening beginning at 8 o'clock at the chamber of commerce rooms. He urged every member to be present. The proposal to furnish the Denver right-of-way assurance at this time will be discussed.

These men are urged to be present. Advisory board and right-of-way committees—Geo. Rainouard, Neal McCullough, J. N. Duncan, J. E. Murfee, Tom Ross, Siler Faulkner, P. B. Carlson, B. E. Finley, R. G. Allen, J. M. Saunders, W. H. Curry, T. H. Lane, C. H. Walker of Pampa, and Ralph Ogden, Earl Durham, George Thut, E. A. Vance, A. M. Clardy, Joseph Lewis of LeFors.

General Hulien said the Denver hopes to send out proposals for bids in two weeks. "If construction of the road is to start within the next two months—and it must if it is to start this year at all—right-of-way commitments must be received next week. We will then advertise for bids. That will take three weeks. We will require some time to figure up the bids before letting the contract. It will take some time for the contractor to assemble his material on the ground. If everything turns out as we hope, laying the grade will begin around August 1."

CHILDRESS SETS GOOD PATTERN

Childress county folk, hard hit as few counties have been during the depression, drought, and cotton market slump, nevertheless has approved a plan for financing the right-of-way project in that community. They deserve credit for meeting the problem in the fact of such difficulties.

The plan, according to the Childress Index, is to borrow $15,000 from a Fort Worth bank. Fifteen Childress men would each sign $1,000 notes to make up this amount. The obligations thus incurred would be underwritten by smaller notes signed by other Childress citizens. The money would be paid back in three annual installments from chamber of commerce funds, retiring the citizens' notes. To carry out the plan, the B. C. D. tax levy would be increased to two mills.

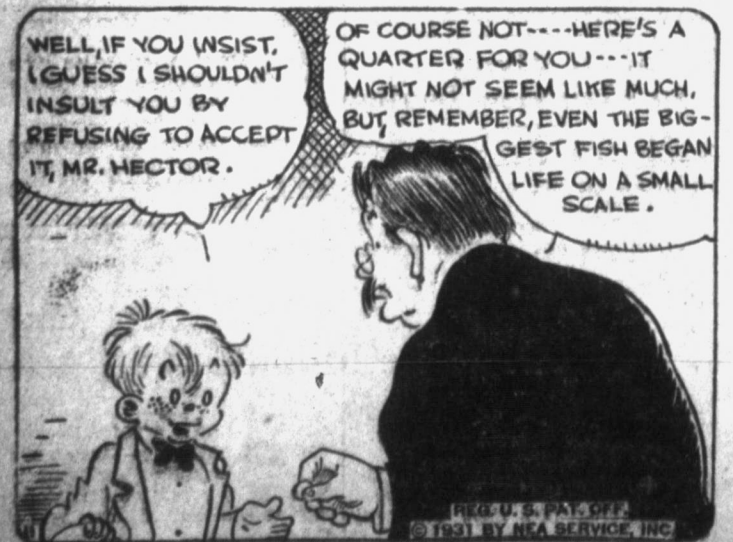

While this plan is possible for Childress county, it is probably not applicable here because a larger amount will be necessary. But whatever plan is used, the cost should be spread widely among the citizenship to lessen the burden on individual firms.

ON WORK FOR BOYS

Pampa's children, or many of them, are idle. Supervised play would partly solve the problem of their idleness, and playgrounds will eventually be provided. Yesterday a father came to this newspaper and asked it to find something for his boy to do. "He is a reliable boy," said the father, "and I want to keep him that way. I thought that by placing him with a reliable business man he would be in good care during the day. It is not easy for a boy to find proper work and

QUITE AS EXPECTED

Mexico's reaction to the slaying of the two prominent young Mexicans at Ardmore was exactly as anticipated. The more thoughtful Mexicans and President Rubio are awaiting the outcome of the investigation before making strong statements, but the inflammatory nature of many of the people is sorely tried. They call it "brutal assassination in the Yankee state of Oklahoma."

The worst is probably yet to come. Mexican students especially resent the incident, and the University of Mexico has several times been torn by rioting. More recently, there was a shooting which grew out of a campaign to discourage adoption of gringo styles in dress. It is impossible to explain such an affair to a prejudiced person.

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, June 11. (NEA)—You don't have to wonder why the governors are stepping out ahead of the senators as presidential prospects. First, just take a look at the senate and the consider the general political situation as regards the presidency.

Where senators are available as presidential possibilities the situation doesn't fit them and where situations are available they don't fit any senators.

The senate has been in session most of the time since the 1928 election. Those of its members who were regarded as possibilities before the last session have seen their chances dim. No new possibilities have arisen among them. But the conference of governors in Indiana met for a couple of days and out of it emerged more insistently than ever such names as Governors Roosevelt of New York, Pinchot of Pennsylvania, Ritchie of Maryland and White of Ohio.

As far as Republican senators are concerned the regulars are all tied up from the start with the knowledge that the party is going to renominate President Hoover. Any opposition he gets for renomination must come from among the anti-administration progressives, none of whom would stand a chance at the convention. Even if it were otherwise it would be pretty hard to get beyond Morrow of New Jersey and find a good candidate among the regulars.

You can hardly imagine any of the more prominent leaders—such as Fess of Ohio, Watson of Indiana, Smoot of Utah, Reed of Pennsylvania, Bingham of Connecticut, Jones of Washington, Moses of New Hampshire—being chosen to head the ticket. If geography doesn't handicap them it's something else. So after looking at the senate and the situation you conclude that Morrow is handy in the unlikely event that Hoover becomes unavailable—and that's about all.

Several Progressive senators would be delighted to run if they thought they had the least chance of nomination or of election in a three-party fight. But such men as Borah of Idaho, Norris of Nebraska and Johnson of California have no illusions about that. Apparently they will be content to let Pinchot carry the progressive banner in opposing Hoover for the nomination. Pinchot has plenty of money and loves a fight. He is such a dashing campaigner that he will be a great sight roving around the country in Rooseveltian fashion, irritating Hoover and perhaps picking up a couple of hundred delegates or even more before he gets through. Only an astonishing upheaval in politics could bring about his nomination. There is some suggestion that he might later run on a third party ticket. It he does he probably will hurt the Democratic chances by drawing off a large anti-Hoover vote. If not, assuming that he has campaigned for nomination, the general effect of his efforts will be harmful to the Republicans in the main campaign.

Democratic senators realize that Roosevelt continues out in front for their presidential nomination, but they are in no better shape than the Republicans when it comes to offering him an opponent. It has become axiomatically safe to ignore the southern members, among whom only Hull of Tennessee and Robinson of Arkansas stand out as real timber. That leaves Walsh of Montana, who is dry and Catholic and unavailable on both counts; Wagner of New York, barred by foreign birth, and Bulkley of Ohio. Bulkley, although he is newly elected and has failed since coming here to develop his publicity possibilities, is the one Democratic senator whom the lightning might conceivably strike in case a dark horse wins out at the Democratic convention. You hear him mentioned along with Ritchie, White, Newton D. Baker, and Owen D. Young.

Brinkley Permitted To Rebuild Station

DEL RIO, June 11. (AP)—H. L. Munal, business manager for Dr. John R. Brinkley, "goat gland" rejuvenation specialist formerly of Milford, Kans., said today a Mexican government permit for a radio station at Monterey, held by Brinkley, had been cancelled but that the permit for a station at Villa Acuna, opposite Del Rio, was not affected. Brinkley, whose broadcasting station permit in Kansas was revoked by the Federal Radio Commission and his medical practice license, by the Kansas state medical board, recently started construction of an 80,000-watt broadcasting station at Villa Acuna. Munal explained that before work was started in Villa Acuna, a Mexican holding company interested obtained a permit for locating the station in Monterey but that a permit for a site at Villa Acuna was obtained later and the Monterey permit was no longer needed.

Chinese Diplomat Reigns Position

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—The Chinese legation announced today that Minister Chao Chu Wu had resigned his post. Legation attaches declined to go into details but said the resignation was for "political reasons." The minister was said by legation attaches to be "out of sympathy with the Nanking government." They withheld further information until a conference with newspaper men called for today at 3 p. m. Acting as a special commissioner, Minister Wu conducted negotiations with the Washington government on the subject of extra territorial privileges accorded Americans in China under treaties, before his appointment as minister plenipotentiary. He was appointed special commissioner in 1927 when the nationalist cabinet was formed. He formally presented his credentials to President Hoover as minister to the Washington government March 26, 1929. The minister since then has played a prominent part in the Chinese-American extra territorial negotiations and has been an outstanding exponent of abolition of those privileges which accord to Americans in China in effect the same rights they would have were they in their native country. The resignation of Minister Wu leaves the legation again in charge of Yung Kwei, attached to the legation for more than a quarter of a century and charge d'affaires ad interim on the many occasions when the military situation in the eastern republic has left him representing virtually no government.

We are told that Babe Ruth deliberately missed a ball pitched by a woman in a practice game recently. Some one called him chivalry. It was not chivalry. It was an insult.

PAMPA ALL STARS DEFEAT CALIFORNIA OWLS, 6 TO 5

Farmer Vance To Attempt To Tame Home Town Grappler

NIGHT GAME IS SEEN BY BIG THROUGH

McKinley and Fuller Turn in Fine Hurling; One Visitor Is Hitting Genius.

The Pampa All Stars won their opening game of night baseball last night on Gulf field when they defeated the California Owls 6 to 5. The All Stars hit safely nine times while the Owls were getting ten.

Lefty Fuller, relief All Star hurler, proved to be the hero of the game when he fanned the last five men to face him with the score standing 6 to 5. Fuller relieved McKinley in the seventh. The Pampa boy had pitched winning ball until he gave way to Fuller.

A large crowd of fans saw their first game of night baseball and were somewhat disappointed by the poor lighting system carried by the Owls. Visibility was poor but the local boys seemed to have cats' eyes when it came to seeing the ball.

Hootie Is Present
The feature of the evening was the yelling of Oran "Hootie" Harrah of White Deer, who was here to yell for the All Stars. "Hootie" was given credit with winning the ball game, along with McKinley and Fuller.

Miss Mary Novak, Owl first baseman, played a stellar game on the bag but failed to hit safely. Flarito was the star of the game. The Owl outfielder hit a single, double, triple, and home run on his four trips to the plate. He was the only member of the team to get more than one hit.

Lister got a double and triple for the All Stars to lead the parade. He got the only extra base blow for the All Stars. Honeycutt pulled the prize fielding plays when he scooped up two scorches with one hand and threw his men out at first.

McKinley pitched great ball and was invincible in the pinches. Fuller's big ninth inning hit him pitch 13 balls for three strikeouts. Pullan caught a great game.

Loses Many Balls
Manager Murray Freundlich lost 23 balls during the game.

Wheat Outlook Is Called "Bullish"

KANSAS CITY, June 11. (AP)—James C. Stone, chairman of the Federal Farm board, terms the wheat outlook "bullish."

"It is bound to be," he explained last night. "Wheat growers will not continue to produce wheat to be sold at less than cost. It isn't natural."

Stone, Edgar Markham, his assistant, and Stanley Reed, general counsel for the farm board, arrived here on their way to Manhattan, Kans., where Stone will address the American Institute of Cooperation Friday.

Stone said information reaching him was that wheat acreage in Australia had been reduced about 30 per cent, in Argentina, 25 per cent and the Canadian crop was worse than it had been for a long time.

Sport Slants

BY ALAN GOULD

Collegiate note: The Carnegie foundation's latest bulletin, No. 25, entitled "Current Developments in American College Sport," will be spread out for scrutiny June 15.

Perhaps it won't be quite so juicy as bulletin No. 23, which a year and a half ago turned up a flock of annoying details, stimulated simultaneous waves of reform and indignation, and applied the "illy-white" label only to about a score of American colleges and universities.

The most significant trend since the Carnegie report's relations echoed around the collegiate athletic offices has been the move to "departamentalize" sports, with more or less sharp separation from alumni or outside control. Several eastern schools have taken radical steps along this line.

The idea of giving college athletics back to the students, of abolishing gate receipts or placing less emphasis on football have not taken much root since they came in for study by the Carnegie investigators. Nor has there been any less emphasis placed on or ballyhoo developed by the outstanding performances of individual stars.

HARPER AROUND AGAIN
Jess Harper has been welcomed back into the collegiate athletic circle. He came east for the first time during the I. C. A. A. A. meet at Philadelphia, and has rapidly taken hold of Notre Dame's far-reaching program. He has renewed old friendships and made many new ones.

"Notre Dame made the greatest possible move in persuading Harper to come back and carry on the program," remarked an eastern athletic director at Philadelphia. "Jess has kept pace with the times and his ability to handle men and situations now is no less marked than it was when he built up the system at Rockne made nationally famous."

"Harper developed Rockne. I would not be surprised to see him do the same thing with Hunk Anderson, who will have charge of football this fall."

Harper, highly of Anderson and will give the former his coach a free hand in the direction of the 1931 Fighting Irish. He believes that Anderson, knowing this and having the full responsibility for the first time, will justify the confidence placed in him.

INTENDS TO STICK
Harper will spend this summer at his ranch in Kansas. So long as he can keep his own business going satisfactorily and still devote sufficient time to the direction of athletics at South Bend, he will be glad to stay as long as Notre Dame wants him to. This mere or less dispels the notion that Harper went back to South Bend strictly as a temporary measure.

It was 18 years ago when Harper first went to Notre Dame. He was coaching at Washash college, Indiana, when he accepted an offer to go to South Bend in the fall of 1913. This was Rockne's senior season, the year that Notre Dame came east to startle the natives with a smashing victory over West Point, and the turning point for the Fighting Irish on the road to national renown.

CLASSIC PLAY IS PULLED IN DALLAS GAME

Houston Man Singles Cleanly With Bases Loaded But Sees Triple Play.

By the Associated Press
The story how Homer Peel of the Houston Buffaloes hit into a triple play with a clean single to right field should by rights become a classic of the pastime.

Peel came to bat in the fifth inning of the Buffs' 3-2 victory over Dallas. Nobody was out and a single, a Texas leaguer, and a beat-out bunt had loaded the bases. Peel lined out his single, Hock scoring from third. Rollings rounded third in his wake but paused to take stock of the situation.

The Dallas right fielder threw home, the catcher flipped the ball to third, and Pinky Higgins tagged the Rollings out. Selph, who had arrived in the vicinity of third, started back to second, where he found Peel in possession of the base. Peel started back to first. Both were run down between the bases.

Shreveport's 8-2 victory over Beaumont had given the Buffaloes their chance to regain the league lead. Even so, they have only half a game on the Exporters, who could easily be in the lead again by nightfall. Southway Thornton Lee of the Sports let Beaumont down with three hits.

At Galveston the Buccaneers took their customary dive, the Wichita Falls Spudgers collecting 13 hits for an 8-1 victory. Carroll of the Buccaneers relieved Dumovich in the ninth with one base and one out, retiring the next two men.

At San Antonio Fort Worth ran wild in the fourth, scoring seven runs off three pitchers. The final score was 9 to 5.

VETERAN HITS WAY UP INTO SECOND RUNG

Washington Gains as Athletic Outfit Rests; Margin Now 4 1/2 Games.

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Harvey Hendrick, the 33-year-old veteran who wasn't good enough to play regularly with the Brooklyn Robins this spring, has become a ball of fire since his recent sale to the Cincinnati Reds. His batting average is topped only by that of Babe Ruth.

Inspired by the big first baseman's great 386 clip at the plate, Col. Dan Howley's pupils have won seven of their last eight games against the invaders from the east and are beginning to make threatening gestures from their cellar retreat. Hendrick's big bat has helped them win as many games in eight days as they won in the first six weeks before he joined them.

Hendrick's former mates, the Robins, were the victims of the latest Cincinnati outbreak. While the veteran Epps Rixey turned them back yesterday, his mates pounded Friels and Moore for a 10 to 3 victory in the series opener.

The defeat knocked the Robins back into a tie with Pittsburgh for fifth place, ten games from the top, as the Pirates subdued the New York Giants, 5 to 1.

The Giants, in turn, dropped into a tie for second place with the Cubs, who stopped the Phillies, 3 to 0. Charley Root allowed only four hits, scattered over as many innings, to record his sixth victory.

Rabbit Maranville, veteran Braves shortstop, enjoyed a field day against the St. Louis Cardinals. He banged a triple and three singles, and scored five runs as the leaders went down, 13 to 4.

Washington finally managed to gain ground on the Athletics. While rain prevented hostilities in three other American league cities, Wall Johnson's men took their opener from the Cleveland Indians, 9 to 4, cutting Philadelphia's lead to four and a half games.

Second Base Is Bush's Problem

CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—Donie Bush is getting so mixed up with his player talent that he may end it all by making some trades.

First and second base are his most important of many problems. Lew Fonseca, recently acquired from Cleveland, is showing signs of wearing out at second base but Lu Blue, obtained last spring from St. Louis, is playing the first bag so well that Donie doesn't like to bench him.

Hence, he may trade Blue and put Fonseca on first if he can get what he wants.

Al Thomas, a pitcher who hasn't returned to form, and outfielder Carl Reynolds, who has been ill much of the season, are wanted by other clubs. If Donie can swing a satisfactory deal, he may do so.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Thomas and family are leaving for Fort Cobb, Okla., to visit relatives. W. T. Hayer was in Amarillo yesterday on business.

TENNIS MEET SEES PLAYERS IN FAST ACT

Wilmer Allison Quickly Knocks Over Two Opponents at Fort Worth.

FORT WORTH, June 11. (AP)—Third round matches in men's singles, start of men's doubles plus competition in girl's second round singles, doubles and play in the junior divisions were scheduled today in the third annual Texas district Lawn Tennis association tournament.

Due to Tuesday night's rain, play yesterday did not start until late afternoon, but soon enough to complete the second round of men's singles and a few matches in the third round. First round in girl's singles were played yesterday at the Texas Christian university courts.

Wilmer Allison, third ranking player in the United States Lawn Tennis association, put himself in the quarter-final round with two wins. He defeated Johnny Maddox of Dallas in a second round match postponed from Tuesday, 6-0, 6-1. He then eliminated "Doc" Barr of Dallas in a third round match, 6-3, 6-2.

School Boys to Enter Big Meet

CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—An army of 520 high school stars from 24 states today headed for Chicago and the 27th National Interscholastic track and field meet at the University of Chicago tomorrow and Saturday.

Although the entries this year were trimmed by the refusal of some state high school athletic associations to permit their prep stars from competing, the field looked as good as ever. Several meet records were expected to go by the boards.

CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—Relampo Saquero, Cuba's latest pride of the ring, gets another hard test tonight when he meets the rugged Tug Phillips of Pittsburgh in the main 10-round battle at Mills stadium. The Cuban welterweight champion, victor in 71 out of 75 bouts, was favored to win.

BOY IS DROWNED

ELIASVILLE, June 11. (AP)—R. J. Johnson, 17, was drowned yesterday when he was swept over a dam in Clear Fork creek. A companion, C. D. Williams, swam ashore.

VETERAN HAS LOW OPINION OF CLINGMAN

Will Be Last Match For Otis and Red—Ready For Trip.

Clashing with a tough and ugly veteran of mats of many countries, Otis Clingman will make a last appearance here tonight before leaving on a lengthy tour of the Pacific coast country.

His opponent will be a man from that region, Farmer Vance of Portland, Ore. Vance is a powerful, cauliflowered braggart who takes great pleasure in traveling about beating home town favorites. Unmindful of Clingman's reputation, he has looked the local boy over and described him as a country boy who has a long way to go to afford competition for world trophies.

Vance gives every evidence of being sincere and his supreme confidence serves notice on Clingman that the visitor has a win-at-any-price complex.

Clingman is unworried by the crowing of the farmer. He has been working out with Rob Roy, Gal Farley, and others and is in superb condition. He and Red Michaels will leave tomorrow on a six-week journey—if, as Vance says, Clingman is able.

Tonight's semi-final will be between Michaels and Tommy Thompson. There will be a 30-minute limit.

Pittsburgh Men On Fast Flight

PITTSBURGH, June 11. (AP)—Three Pittsburgh business men who had breakfast in Los Angeles yesterday morning had a belated lunch in Pittsburgh early today, after having made the trip from the Pacific coast by airplane in 14 hours, eight minutes.

Ellis Harry Taylor landed the plane at Bettis field here at 2:03 o'clock, eastern daylight time, this morning.

Five stops for refueling were made and the elapsed time for the trip was 17 hours, 37 minutes. Stops were made at Kingman, Ariz., Albuquerque, N. M., Oklahoma City, St. Louis, and Columbus.

The trip was made merely to demonstrate comfort and safety in a trip at from 170 to 175 miles an hour, the men said.

Oil Well Fire Creates Menace

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 11. (AP)—Flare oil wells in the heavy production north area of the Oklahoma City oil field were threatened last night by a lightning-caused oil fire that destroyed nearly 5,000 barrels of crude oil stored in tanks before being brought under control.

The tanks were on the Sun-Ray Pipeline company lease in the negro community of south-western Oklahoma City, and less than 100 yards from the nearest producing wells. Loss was estimated at approximately $15,000.

In addition to the oil, three 1,500-barrel storage tanks were destroyed by the heat of the flames.

Television Again Proved Success

GY C. E. BUTTERFIELD
Associated Press Radio Editor
CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—Another of those rather convincing television demonstrations, this one with a receiver that puts the picture on a small screen, has come outside the radio trade show.

The outfit over which pictures were picked up from the transmitter of 29XAP, companion short wave station of WMAQ, owned by the Chicago Daily News, was designed for possible home use.

It had a small frosted glass screen at the top on which the radio movie could be seen. This was four inches square. By removing the glass and placing a larger screen in front of the set, pictures up to two feet square were reproduced.

The complete outfit was housed in a cabinet about three feet tall and placed on a small table.

The projection was made possible through the use of a lens disk only eight inches in diameter and a crater type of Neon lamp developed by Lloyd F. Garner, director of the Western Television Laboratories. It operates on only 15 volts. Focusing apparatus is incorporated to clear up the picture when its size is changed.

Today delegates to the Radio Manufacturers' association convention spent in viewing the exhibits and discussing marketing plans at private meetings, having concluded the business of the convention yesterday with the election of J. Clark Colt of Chicago as president.

Mexican Wrestler Is Still Captive

Francisco Aguayo, Chihuahua wrestler, is still in the hands of rebels according to word received here yesterday from El Paso. Aguayo was to have wrestled Sailor Otis Clingman, local wrestler, here three weeks ago but the bout had to be called off because the Mexican could not get here.

Sailor Clingman received a letter yesterday from T. McIntosh, wrestling promoter at El Paso in which he said: "Aguayo is still in the hands of rebels and I haven't any idea when he will be in circulation again. It seems that Aguayo was wrestling a rebel favorite, Beppe Benito, and he hurt him bad and as the rebels were in charge at that time, Aguayo was seized and is being held. Will be seeing you soon. Send your mats at once." Signed, McIntosh.

Clingman will leave here tomorrow for El Paso where he will write on his way to the Pacific coast.

WILL COMPLETE HEARING
MAMAMOROS, Mexico, June 11. (AP)—Completion of the hearing for Dee Ham of Weslaco, held in connection with the fatal shooting of Miss Mina Clark of La Feria Sunday night in a cabaret at Rio Rico, was expected here today before Judge Jesus Rojas. The hearing is similar to one in justice court in Texas its purpose being to determine if the defendant shall be held for trial.

Policeman Arnulfo De La Rose testified yesterday that Miss Clark was shot as he, and Ham were scuffling over the officer's gun. He said Ham snatched it and attempted to shoot him.

Appropriation To Committee Is Cut

TULSA, Okla., June 11. (AP)—Directors of the Independent Petroleum association of America at an all day conference here voted to reduce the pledge of $9,200 that they voted on April 23 to the support of the oil states advisory committee to $1,000. Wirt Franklin, president said the reduction had not yet been recommended by Cicero I. Murray, chairman of the oil committee.

The minutes of the directors relating to the support also were amended to clear any implication that the association was endorsing the program of the oil committee.

A plan to have the association approve the creation of a board of three, composed of Amos L. Bealy of New York, treasurer of the American Petroleum Institute; Sam W. Hays of Oklahoma City, former supreme court justice, and Harry H. Rogers of Tulsa, president of the Oklahoma state chamber of commerce to make a survey of the problems confronting the industry and to recommend a program for settling them, was defeated by a vote of 9 to 8, but not until after two hours of prolonged debate.

J. Edward Jones of New York, made an attack upon the oil states advisory committee, and asserted that the association should not endorse any state or governmental oil plan that seeks to take control of the business from the oil men. His questions brought out the story of how the association came to pledge payment of one third of the oil states advisory committee's expenses.

Cicero I. Murray made a short talk, declaring that the members of the oil committee were all for a tariff, but that they did not state so in the Austin compact recommendation because it might further the controversy. On June 1 at Los Angeles five members of the committee did come out for a tariff, and his statement was applauded.

British Golfer Is Champion Of France

DEAILLE, France June 11. (AP)—As a fitting climax to a morning of thrilling golf in which the recently made record of 71 for the Deauville course was broken four times and tied once, Aubrey Boomer, British born professional from St. Cloud turned in a sparkling round of 67 yesterday, to win the French open championship with a 72-hole total of 291. He equaled the mark set in the morning by the Argentine ace, Thomas Genta. Genta, who appeared to have the title clinched at the 54th hole, weakened badly on the final 18 holes, taking 78 strokes, eleven more than his morning round to finish with a total of 293, tying Allis for second place.

Joe Kirkwood, the only entry from the United States, took an 80 for the last round and finished in a tie with Churio for seventh place at 298.

In the event bids submitted shall make it appear to the best interest of the City to make payment of the City's part of such cost in cash; the right is reserved to make payment in cash, and bidders are requested to submit bids on such basis of payment in addition to proposal to accept time warrants.

Fess Says Words For Mr. Hoover

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—Leadership of President Hoover was lauded today by Chairman Fess of the Republican National committee, in an address to the conference of young republicans.

After a review of "seventy years of national progress," Senator Fess launched into enthusiastic praise of the president, which gave the conference somewhat of a nominating convention atmosphere.

The party chieftain defended the protective tariff policy of the administration and attributed a sound money policy to republicans throughout the years.

Turning to the present era, he said Mr. Hoover had taken "masterful and heroic steps" at the outset of the depression in calling to the White House leaders of industry and labor and fostering a move to maintain wages.

"The need of the hour," said Senator Fess, "is a leader with a vision to comprehend the problem and the courage to withstand the organized clamor."

Peter F. Snyder, assistant secretary of labor, another speaker of the day, went further than Senator Fess and called for the "triumphant re-election" of Mr. Hoover.

Both speakers welcomed the tariff issue for the 1932 campaign, each declaring the tariff wall a necessity to protect the American standard of living.

The MELODY GIRL

by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beryl Borden, secretly in love with Tommy Wilson, delays his elopement with her half-sister, Irene Everett, but fails to convince him that it is his duty to finish college.

Later Irene postpones the marriage believing she is to be a star radio singer. Securing an audition, she permits Beryl to go to the studio. While waiting Beryl sits down at a piano and croons melodies. A director hears her and grants a private test. He promises a contract later. Irene falls into a fury when she hears of Beryl's success. Time passes but no word comes from the studio. At last a letter arrives and Beryl slips away in victory. Irene is bitter-sweet for her family and Tommy believe she robber Irene of her chance. Beryl's debut is a success and she returns home laden with floral tributes.

Burning with envy, Irene decides to marry Tommy immediately, but his aunt dies and so the marriage is again postponed. Mr. Hoffman, Tommy's uncle, wants a housekeeper and offers inducements for an early marriage.

Trying to kill her love for Tommy, Beryl accepts invitations from young Prentiss Gaylord who takes her to a party. Irene is staying when they return that night.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XX

Irene, waiting up for her? Beryl looked at her sister, a lovely creature in (the nerve of her) seashell pink lounging pajamas that were Beryl's. The flood of soft light that came from a golden shade was flattering to Irene.

Beryl turned to Prentiss with a feeling that she ought to shout a warning to him. Of course he couldn't see for himself, but he couldn't read the signals as Beryl did. He would see only the golden hair shining in the soft light, the gleam of a satiny shoulder, the childlike pose of innocent sleep.

Prentiss wouldn't know that the lounging suit was taken without permission from its owner and that the wearer had waited for her sister for the express purpose of meeting him or falling that, to talk about him.

Of course, Beryl realized, she herself could only guess at what was in Irene's mind, but she knew her sister well. She felt she had made a fair guess.

Beryl wanted to let Irene sleep but even as she put a silencing finger to her own lips Irene stirred and opened her eyes. Seeing Prentiss standing there staring at her Irene sat up in pretended embarrassment. There was no reason for genuine embarrassment. Her costume was complete with its yellow coat and she knew her sister would understand that if she had hoped to be caught in the pajamas she would not have worn the coat on a hot summer night.

Irene had learned through painful experience not to face Beryl's cool gray eyes when she was engaged in tricks. There was something about Beryl which made tricks, even the most commonly practiced ones, seem cheap and tawdry. She wasn't going to have her plans spoiled by Beryl so she smiled sweetly and apologetically at Prentiss.

"I wanted to hear about the party," she said, in the voice of a Cinderella who had no parties in her own life.

"Do you want a drink, Prentiss?" Beryl asked in a matter-of-fact tone.

Prentiss answered vaguely. "A drink? Oh yes, yes of course. I was thirsty, wasn't I?"

"May I have something too?" Irene pouted, still the little sister who'd be suppressed if other people had their way. That was the idea she hoped Prentiss would get. Irene had learned that most men enjoy being protectors, or imagining themselves such. She was young enough to look helpless and appealing.

Strange that little shallow-minded Irene should be much more about men than her brainier sister. Was it instinctive knowledge that comes only to primitive minds? Or was it that much talked of woman's intuition? Beryl wondered as she made her way to the kitchen for the refreshments what Prentiss would say if she were to ask him about this.

Over the mixing of the cool drinks she smiled suddenly and said to herself: "Beryl, don't be a cynic. There must be men in the world somewhere who don't care for baby dolls at any stage of the game. Maybe Irene is just clever enough to pick her men."

Then she remembered having heard someone say that youth is intolerant but that its earnestness is necessary to the movement of the world. Well, maybe she could get a jump on life by practicing tolerance before she grew old. Maybe she wasn't justified in setting her own standards for other people to follow. Maybe Tommy wasn't weak in loving Irene. It wasn't Prentiss, it was Tommy she was judging.

"How about it, Partner?" she said softly aloud. "If I were 40 would I be able to admit that possibly I'm wrong?"

But she wasn't 40 and when she went back to the living room and saw Irene curled up in a picturesque pose in one corner of the sofa while Prentiss sat beside her (like a charmed bird, Beryl thought), all her philosophizing vanishing. Her disgust welled up stronger than ever, and she was sorry that she had brought a third glass for Irene.

The little mixx should be spanked and put to bed if she got what she deserved, Beryl thought. But Irene was years too old for that and one had to treat her as a grownup.

Prentiss drank the lemon-mint and ate the thin brown cookies. Beryl knew that it might as well have been cider and doughnuts for all the difference he'd have known. She wished he would go for she was very tired. The party had been a strenuous one for her. Other guests had walked by twos on the adjacent beach or sat in dim corners of the big porch that fronted the ocean, but she had been kept indoors singing and dancing.

Her success, professional and social, was in no wise bore some to Beryl. She liked people and enjoyed being in a crowd because in spite of her directness she maintained a protecting reserve.

She sighed audibly and Irene had the impudence to tell her she should go to bed if she were so tired.

Beryl wanted to answer: "And leave you alone with Prentiss?" Instead she said: "We're all going to bed. Prentiss, get up hat. This is an old-fashioned household and not a speakeasy. You may sleep until noon tomorrow but we can't."

Irene sat up in anger. "How can you be so rude?" she flamed.

Prentiss laughed. "Beryl's right," he said apologetically. "I only came in for a drink, but . . ."

His voice drifted away while his eyes lingered on Irene's face as though to say its beauty could be blamed for his delay.

Irene pouted. "I'm awfully sorry not to hear the rest of that story about the time you were robbed of your father's payroll," she said regretfully. "Were't you just scared to death?"

Idiot! Beryl thought. Irene had not to look at Prentiss to know he wouldn't be "scared to death" of anything. But then, of course, her question would give him a chance to declare himself on the subject. What more could a man want?

"I'm getting to be a cynic," she said to herself.

Why hadn't Prentiss told her that story? Well, she wouldn't be "scared to death" of anything herself. Maybe it's not fun to tell a person like herself a hero story. Maybe it's only interesting with someone who will say, "Oh, Oh!" with wide, round eyes and a round, rosy mouth.

Maybe that was why—because she didn't have wide, round eyes and a round, rosy mouth—that Prentiss had not gone on with his story after she came back with the refreshment tray. Oh, well, she cared only because Tommy was like that, too.

Beryl said good-night to Prentiss with a detachment of mind that pleased Irene who thought it really alarmed at last, she got up and gargled with an antiseptic. The thought of a cool shower appealed to her.

She was enjoying the shower when Irene banged on the bathroom door and said: "For Pete's sake, will you please stop making so much noise and let people sleep?"

Beryl turned off the shower and Irene started to go back to her room. A few paces away she stopped and listened. From the doorway into the situation, his admiration for Irene, and Irene's greedy grasping at his interest? Where would it take them?

"Better to live on the surface," she whispered in the dark, holding one of her one-sided conversations with her father. "Life gets messy when you dig too deep, doesn't it, Father? Unless you're very, very wise. And I'm wise. I'm . . . I'm . . . crying. My throat hurts."

And so it did. The throat felt tight and hot and queer. Neither it nor her thoughts would let Beryl sleep. She tossed in a hot bed until long after daylight arrived. Then

Trial of Missouri Official Is Near Conclusion Today

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 11. (AP)—With the testimony all in, the Missouri senate hearing the impeachment trial of Larry Brunk, suspended state treasurer, today met for a half day session for the closing argument by the prosecution, the house impeachment managers. The final arguments by the defense counsel, John G. Madden, Kansas City, Brunk's attorney, will be heard tomorrow morning.

Nation's Highway Program Speeded

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—The nation's emergency highway construction program is four months ahead of 1930 and has furnished employment for about 265,000 men. The cost of federal aid projects approved thus far in the plan to aid the idle is $241,200,000. It is made up of $112,450,000 regular federal aid funds, $14,500,000 emergency money provided by congress at the last session, and $84,250,000 state funds.

With the $80,000,000 emergency money advanced to enable states to take up immediately a greater portion of the increased federal aid appropriations, the program equals projects started and approved up to October 1 last year. It exceeds by many millions the entire 1929 construction work.

In April this year the federal aid employment totaled 96,000 men against 39,000 in the same month last year. The total of both state and federal aid during April was $65,000.

Of the $90,000,000 emergency money, $76,445,000 has been obligated by the states and Hawaii. Twenty-two states have obligated practically all of their shares. The others have unobligated amounts ranging from $27,000 to $1,289,282 as in the case of Michigan, which probably will be erased before the summer has passed.

French Liner Is Freed From Mud

GALVESTON, June 11. (AP)—The French line passenger steamer Guadeloupe, freed from mud banks at the entrance to Galveston harbor after being aground since Sunday, sailed at 9:30 p. m. last night for France, via New Orleans and Havana. The coast guard cutter Saraboe and a fleet of tugs floated the ship after a dredge had worked several hours digging a clear path in the mud bank. The Guadeloupe was due to stop at New Orleans en route to Havre. It sailed here with a passenger list of 225.

Perry Eastman Called "Find"

PERRY EASTMAN MERCER BEASLEY

Mercer Beasley (right) who has coached half a dozen nationally known tennis stars and is now tennis coach at Tulane university, New Orleans, says Perry Eastman (left) will become one of the outstanding net stars. Eastman is a sophomore at Tulane.

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 10. (AP) Mercer Beasley, Tulane tennis coach, who has developed half a dozen nationally known tennis players, has found another to add to the list.

Perry Eastman, Tulane sophomore, red-haired and with the physique of Clifford Sutter, fifth ranking national player, is the youth to whom Beasley looks to carry on. "Eastman," Beasley declared, "has taken to the game remarkably well and I believe he is destined to go up. He has just started and he is good already. Of course, it will take time, but he has the touch and determination. Watch him a year from now."

This from the man who coached Frankie Parker, now a member of the national boys' doubles championship team; Clifford Sutter, national intercollegiate champion and ranked fifth in the nation; Mrs. John Van Ryn, nationally ranked woman star, and Ellsworth Vines, the California sensation.

Beasley watched Eastman beat Jay Topper, number one man of the University of Illinois, recently. Topper is a veteran on the Illini team which has lost only two matches in the Big Ten the past four years.

Miner's Home Is Razed By Dynamite

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio, June 11. (AP)—The home of H. J. Malin, trimmer at Dillonville mine No. 1 of the M. A. Hanna Coal company was dynamited today but Malin and his wife escaped injury.

Striking miners were alleged by Belmont county officers to have stoned miners who attempted to report for work at the Fairport mine of the Hanna company.

Sheriff W. J. Yost said the dynamiting of Malin's home and the stoning of miners at Fairport was the first violence to occur in the strike which has affected 1,000 men in five mines in Jefferson and Belmont counties.

Only a few workmen continued in the mines affected by the strike in which the National Miners Union demanded an eight hour day, abolition of the "average system," and rehiring of miners they said were dismissed because of affiliation with a union.

Two squadrons of 100 men each are scheduled to leave March field by rail tomorrow for San Antonio to report here for duty at Randolph field.

Cubs Are Worried By Double Plays

CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—Double plays are irking Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Cubs.

So far this season, the Cubs have been victimized just 69 times by double killings and Manager Hornsby doesn't like it.

"It's our one biggest weakness," Hornsby said. "Our hitting is good enough to lead the league and so is our fielding. Our pitching is good but those double plays are taking the steam out of our wallopos."

Hack Wilson, who has been unable to drive out long ones this season, hit into the sixtieth double play yesterday, the Phillies turning the trick.

Perjury Angle To Pantages Trial Is New Development

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 11. (AP)—Charges that attempts had been made to obtain false testimony in behalf of Jesse H. Shreve, wealthy real estate operator, and one of the four defendants in a "girl market" case here, precipitated an investigation today.

The charges were disclosed yesterday when Mrs. Mary A. Siens filed suit for divorce against E. Byron Siens, oil promoter.

Mrs. Siens told investigators her husband had informed her and Miss May Cornell of Chicago, a visitor in their home, that he expected the two women to give perjured testimony, if necessary, in favor of Shreve.

John P. Mills, who became a state witness after he had pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of two girls in bringing them to a hotel party here attended by Shreve and Alexander Pantages, theater magnate, testified that he and Shreve agreed to pay William Jobelmann and Olive Clark Day, co-defendants, $200 to bring the girls to San Diego.

Mills denied he had said in the presence of Mrs. Siens and Miss Cornell that he wanted Shreve to "take care of a couple of my friends" who were coming from Los Angeles October 30.

District Attorney Tom Whelan said Mrs. Siens mentioned the purported conversation in outlining to him the testimony she and Miss Cornell had been asked to give.

Siens, who was held for questioning, denied having had any difficulty with his wife on anything to do with testimony for Shreve. Shreve declared there was not a "word of truth" in the woman's story.

Smoke a fresh cigarette

Of course I've switched to CAMELS

You don't have to look beyond your own intimate circle to realize what has happened.

Everywhere you see evidence of a great country-wide switch to Camels.

That is because the new Humidor Pack performs a real new service for the smoker.

Throughout the nation, literally millions of people have found by actual test that the new air-sealed, sanitary package of moisture-proof Cellophane not only keeps out dust and germs, but also keeps in the rich, mild flavor of the choice Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos of which Camels are blended.

To show their real appreciation of the Humidor Pack Camel smokers from all parts of the country write letters telling the advantages of this scientific new wrapping.

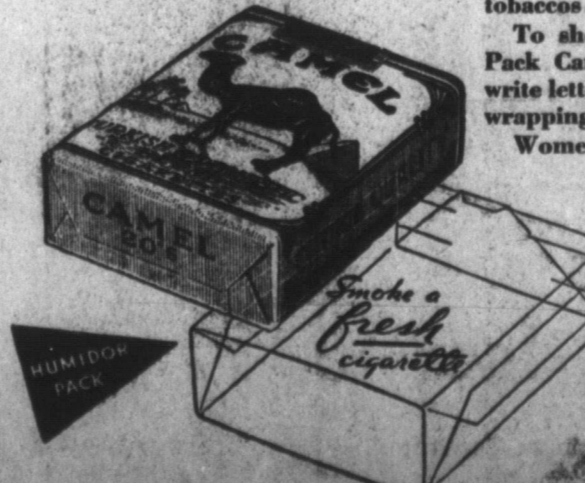

Women tell us they carry Camels in the Humidor

Pack in their handbags without having them absorb powder and perfume odors. Workingmen say this moisture-proof wrapping protects their cigarettes from perspiration and pocket dust. Sailors are enthusiastic because the damp salt air does not reach Humidor-packed Camels.

All real benefits of course, but the chief fact that is causing this great nation-wide swing to Camels is the protection which this air-sealed wrapping gives to the choice Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos of which Camel cigarettes are blended.

No peppery dust to irritate the membrane; no dried-out tobacco to burn the tongue or sear the throat. Just the fresh, cool mildness of perfectly conditioned tobacco.

Switch to Camels for one day, then quit them—if you can.

Tune in CAMEL QUARTER HOUR featuring Morton Downey and Tony Vans Columbia Broadcasting System—every night except Sunday

Stricken Farmers Will Welcome All Kinds of Donations

MEMPHIS, June 11. (AP)—Voluntary contributions were being received today by J. Claude Wells, chairman of the Hall county Red Cross chapter, for the aid of farmers in the vicinity of Turkey and Quitaca, 40 miles to the southwest, whose crops were destroyed by a cloudburst Monday night.

A drive for funds and for seed to replant the crops was begun in Memphis today, and a similar drive was under way in the Turkey community, directed by Garland Ocker, chairman of the Red Cross there.

Henry M. Baker, state manager of the Red Cross in Oklahoma, went to Turkey yesterday to conduct a thorough survey for headquarters in St. Louis, but immediate relief is needed due to the lateness of the planting season, Wells said. Aid from the national organization is expected later, he said.

J. H. Jackson of Shamrock, who gave four tons of unthreshed maize, was the first to make a donation.

Wells estimated that the 300 families in the 66,000-acre area would need an average of $10 worth of seed to the family, or a total of $12,000 worth.

"Farmers in the flood area are in a desperate situation, having had crop failures the two preceding years," Wells said. "Voluntary contributions of seed or money will be gladly accepted. The need is urgent."

Arrington, who disappeared from a motorboat near Horse island, a mile and a quarter from the scene of today's search, on the night of May 21, was believed to have been seen on Timber island yesterday.

COTTON FAIRLY STEADY

NEW ORLEANS, June 11. (AP)—Cotton had a fairly steady opening today, although Liverpool cables were considerably worse than due. While July opened seven points down, the new crop months showed losses of only 1 to 4 points, while prices eased off slightly after the start, they soon rallied, July trading up to 8.41, October to 8.77, and December to 8.99, or 2 to 7 points up from the initial lows and even with yesterday's close.

At the end of the first hour the market was quiet but steady and only two points down from the previous close.

Corn started 1-8 to 1-4 off and subsequently showed but little rallying power.

Sportsmanship of Woman Flier Is Revealed as Ruth Offers Her Data

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—The tradition of sportsmanship between trans-Atlantic fliers founded in 1926 by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd has been upheld by a woman.

In the summer of 1926, Colonel Lindbergh, Clarence D. Chamberlin, and the members of the Byrd expedition were pushing preparations in a race to be first into the air. Lindbergh won but Byrd was ready a few hours later.

"Will you start after him right away?" Byrd was asked while Lindbergh was still somewhere over the Atlantic.

"No," Byrd replied. "Slim got away first and until he lands in France the sky is his and we will make no attempt to share the honor that is his due."

Today Ruth Nichols, who is to attempt the first solo flight across the ocean by a woman and who seems likely to be first in the air of all this year's aspirants for Atlantic air honors, has made as gallant a gesture of sportsmanship as did Byrd five years ago.

She has offered to share the weather data gathered at her expedition and by her organization with Laura Ingalls, who is preparing in California for a trans-Atlantic flight. The offer has been accepted by Miss Ingalls' representatives.
