120 Planes To Engage In 29 Show Events FDR URGES PLAN TO KEEP U. S. OUT OF WAR

Stunt Flying, Chute Jumps Head Program

Races With $700 In Prize Money To Thrill Crowd

Pampans at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon and again at the same hour on Sunday are due to see more planes in the air above this city than they have ever seen before, as ships entered in the Pampa Air Show fly in review over the capital of the Top O' Texas.

To date, 120 planes have been entered in the show, to be held here Saturday and Sunday, with more than a dozen cities represented, including Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Fort Worth, Houston and Dallas.

There are 29 events on the program of the two-day show which will be climaxed by the stunt flying of Carl D. Winstead of Oklahoma City, Cessna distributor, the 10,000-foot delayed parachute jump by LeVern J. Dawson, Denver, parachute packer recently transferred from Fort Sill, Okla., to Colorado, and a parachute jump by an amateur, Frankie Bills, Golden Gloves boxing champion.

Ships will streak around three pylons on a 24-mile course at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, 6:30 o'clock the same afternoon, at 4 o'clock, 5:30, and 6:30 o'clock on the following afternoon.

Awards Total $700

In all, prizes totaling $700 are offered to winners of the aerial efforts.

There will be races for ships of 60 horsepower and under, amateur races for ships of 75 horsepower and under, and a race for ships in the unlimited class.

Winstead, whose stunt flying will be the feature of the show, is to perform loops, snap rolls, spins with snap rolls at the top, Immelman turns and some upside down flying.

He began appearing at air meets See AIR SHOW, Page 4

Oscar Dial Dies Of Heart Attack

The body of Oscar Dial, former Pampa, who died suddenly at his home in Monahans late last night, will be brought to Pampa for burial. Services will be conducted Saturday morning in Holy Cross church but the time has not been set. A Duenkel-Carmichael funeral home ambulance left for Monahans this morning to bring the remains to Pampa.

News of the sudden and untimely death of the popular young Pampa man was received by friends here last night. Paul Kasalike, with whom he was associated as agent for the Skelly Oil company, wholesale department, in Monahans, and C. P. Buckler left this morning to accompany the body home. Visiting him at the time of his death were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Schwind of Pampa, parents of Mrs. Dial who was the former Margaret Schwind.

Mr. Dial came to Pampa in 1926 after graduating from Austin college at Sherman. He was named a teacher in the Pampa high school and was assistant football coach during the 1926 and 1927 seasons, associated with Verde Dickey, now head coach at Sherman.

He remained a member of the faculty for several years before joining the staff of the Cabot Carbon company. About two years ago Mr. Dial moved to Monahans. A few months later he married Miss Schwind. Also surviving is an infant daughter, Patricia Ann.

Billy Rose and Eleanor Set Date In November

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Billy Rose, showman, and Eleanor Holm, swimmer, announced today their long-awaited wedding had been set for sometime in the second week of November.

Today was to have been their wedding day, but Rose found out it would have been an act of bigamy, since Fanny Brice divorced him from her last December in California, until Oct. 27.

I Heard—

That Joe Berry called up Mrs. Berry and told her that Ernie Voss wanted his arm and made him go down hunting yesterday. . . . That the Rev. Bob Bohlen got Walt Wanner out of bed at 4 o'clock this morning and the two left for a Presbyterian meeting at Lakeland.

Gaylor Named Head Of Red Cross Drive

O. K. Gaylor

O. K. Gaylor, assistant postmaster, has been named chairman of the American Red Cross Roll Call for Pampa and the opening date has been set for November 13.

Pampa was originally set a quota of 1,500 members but today a letter from Red Cross headquarters in St. Louis withdrew the figure and set an unlimited quota plus donations.

"When the original quota was set, Poland was the only nation that had asked for assistance and they were sent $50,000 in supplies," the letter stated. "Since then the European situation has become more widespread and if the Red Cross is to carry on its work we are going to have to withdraw quotas and open the field for as much funds as possible."

"Americans stranded in Europe need help and there will be a constant demand for worthy causes," the communication stated.

A local production program which will include the making of surgical dressing, bandages, etc., will be started as soon as information on requirements is received from headquarters, Mrs. W. H. Davis, chapter secretary, said today.

2 Performances Of Mystery To Be Given Here

Who stole the $10,000? Who assaulted Judge Rollins? Who stole Professor Rockbottom's bag? Well, attend "Mystery at Midnight" tonight or tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the City auditorium and see if you can figure out all the mystery that occur in the show being presented under auspices of the Pampa Fire department.

Admission will be 40 cents and by purchasing tickets in advance from the firemen, reserved seats can be secured at the same price.

The play will be presented by local talent and in a kiddy performance last night several outstanding performances were given. Caroline Surratt, as the old maid, Elvira Rosegay has a scream that is professional while R. E. Smith, the driver of the wrecked bus, is a tough guy when the occasion demands. Ernest Jones replaces Harry Kelley as the singer.

All is not mystery, however, there's plenty laughs, plenty of music and plenty of drama and the beautiful part is that there is no wait between acts.

Proceeding the performances, Beaux and Belles of 1950 will parade and a winner will be selected by penny vote. Each entrant is being sponsored by a merchant in whose store is a voting box.

Russians Capture 60,000 Poles In 135-Mile Advance

MOSCOW, Sept. 21 (AP)—Soviet Russian forces strengthened their hold on eastern Poland today as communiques reported new advances by the Red army along a wide front.

In the north, the Soviet high command announced, Russian troops occupied Grodno, 16 miles from the East Prussian border and 90 miles southwest of Wilno (Vilna).

In the south, Red troops were reported in possession of Kovel, Ukrainian village 100 miles north of Lwow, Poland's third largest city. Occupation of both Wilno and Lwow was announced in previous communiques.

(German reports said the Poles were still resisting in and around Lwow.)

The reported seizure of Grodno marks a Russian advance of approximately 135 miles into Poland.

The Russian communique made no mention of resistance encountered in the latest advances, but estimated more than 60,000 Polish troops had been captured in the four days since the Soviet army crossed the frontier.

WHERE AIR DERBY COURSE WAS LOGGED

Here's a scene of the last bit of "ground school" done by local fliers as rules and regulations were drafted for the Pampa Air Show, to be held here Saturday and Sunday. Around this same table, located in the BCD committee room at the city hall, was mapped the thrilling program of the rodeo in the sky, which is sponsored by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce. Pilots shown in the pic-

Mrs. Nelson Dies Of Long Illness

Mrs. C. R. Nelson, 41, died yesterday afternoon at the family home on the Merton lease of the Gulf Production company with which Mrs. Nelson has been connected for the past 13 years.

Death came after an illness lasting more than two years. Until her illness, Mrs. Nelson was an active worker in the First Methodist church of which she was a member.

Survivors are the husband, two daughters, Virginia and Quibel, two sons, Clarence and Kenneth, all at home; her mother, Mrs. D. J. Glover, Hollywood, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Eunice Runyon, Oklahoma City and Mrs. Jack Baggett, Coalgate; three half-sisters, Mrs. Earl Harner, Hollywood, Mrs. Charles Delvin, Paris, and Miss Alva Crofton, Galveston; and a half-brother, Henry Glover, Hollywood.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in the First Methodist church with the Rev. W. M. Pearce, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Miami under direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home.

Bearers will be W. F. Dean, A. A. Proctor, C. O. Bridges, Sherman White, J. C. Cashion, Roy Bourland.

Flowers will be in charge of Mrs. Sherman White and Mrs. Joe Shelton.

Repeal Of Embargo Would Be Violation Of Law, Says Fraser

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—An authority on international law asserted today repeal of the arms embargo by the United States would be a "direct violation" of international law.

Henry S. Fraser, technical adviser to the late George W. Wickard on the League of Nations committee for the codification of international law in 1926 and 1927, in an interview (Post-Standard) said if the embargo is repealed "Germany will instantly have the right under international law to take steps of reprisal and retaliation against American ships."

"Such reprisals might be taken against ships even in coastwise trade, and even if they were not carrying contraband," he said in a statement, and added:

"There is an established principle of international law that a neutral may not, after the outbreak of war, change its legislation for the purpose of assisting one of the belligerents."

Rush In Buying Tickets Expected

Sale of season reserve seat tickets to the five home games to be played by the Pampa Harvesters this fall is expected to reach a new high. The tickets go on sale at 8 o'clock Saturday morning in the office of Roy McMillan in the city hall.

Reason for the anticipated rush is the fact that the Amarillo Golden "andstorm" plays here on Armistice Day and that Van Buren, Ark., high school will be here. An invitation has been extended to Bob Burns to fly from Hollywood to attend the game.

Pans will have to stand in line until 7 A. M., when numbers will be distributed by a member of the school faculty. Eight tickets will be the limit and no seats will be reserved in advance for anyone except members of the school board. Members of the school faculty, newspapers and all will have to have representatives in line, the board announced following a meeting last night.

Tickets for seats between the 30-yard lines in the west stand will sell for $1.50 while tickets between the 30-yard lines and the end zones will sell for $1.

School Board Will Present Building Plan To Public

Relieving the congested conditions now existing in Pampa schools through construction of a new building will be thoroughly discussed by members of the school board and when some solution has been reached the plan will be presented to the public. That decision was reached at a board meeting last night.

"We didn't have time to go into any plan at last night's meeting but we will set some future meeting for that purpose alone," President C. T. Hunkapillar said.

Original plans were to secure a FWA grant to match money secured through a bond issue and sale of bonds but C. S. Adams advised without setting aside funds for such a program. That left the building program up to the district.

Heart Attack Fatal

DALLAS, Sept. 21 (AP)—O. M. Patrick, 43, slammed on the brakes of his automobile for a traffic signal light today and then died at the wheel of his car from heart disease.

The radio said German aircraft were in the automobile at the time.

Warsaw's 'Near-Starving Million' Eating Flesh Of Wounded Horses

BUDAPEST, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Warsaw radio lashed into sudden silence early today shortly after what sounded like the explosion of artillery shells could be heard through the microphones.

The announcer had carried on far into the night despite the deep, periodic rumbles until the station suddenly went off the air halfway through the playing of a Polish military air.

Temporarily, at least, the only communication between the German-besieged Polish capital and the rest of the world was ended.

Silence came after the station had broadcast a grim story of Warsaw being shelled and bombed as never before and predicted "there probably soon will be a big offensive against us."

The studio is in the center of Warsaw. Warsaw butchers were notified to go to military headquarters to receive allotments of horse meat. The announcer said wounded horses would be butchered for the "near-starving million inhabitants" of the city.

Temporarily In Pampa

Col. Gen. Walther Von Brauchitsch, German chief of staff, was reported to have left Germany's Polish front for the west and the Germans were said to have concentrated from 1,500 to 2,000 heavy bombing planes near Aachen.

Aachen, about 85 miles north of the present fighting zone and 270 airline miles from London, was pictured as a key point of the German offensive.

Happy Kitchen School To Offer Latest Methods

The greatest achievement one can aspire to in these modern times is doing whatever job it is ours to do, not half heartedly, but skillfully and better than anyone else can do. This same principle applies to woman's place in the home. There is no finer accomplishment than to be one of those women who take pride in the management of her home and who is always seeking new ways to improve old methods in marketing, or cooking the daily meals.

So that we may serve the women of this community on a broader scope, The Pampa News has secured the services of Mrs. A. D. French, widely known home economist and lecturer, to conduct the Happy Kitchen Cooking School.

Mrs. French's wealth of knowledge in running the home more efficiently will inspire every woman who attends the Happy Kitchen Cooking School. During the sessions many valuable suggestions will be given, including the proper equipment required in the modern kitchen to enable one to work efficiently and save labor. Little household hints will be divulged that will lighten everyday tasks. New economy cuts on marketing and planning will be discussed. New and appetizing menus will be given, enabling one to change up the order of old stand-bys that no longer tempt the faded appetites of the family. The importance of different vitamins and how they affect the energy and well being of the family and many more helpful suggestions that will help each woman raise the standard of living in her own home. Something new is offered each day, so plan to attend every day. The admission is free to the Happy Kitchen Cooking School.

Plan now to attend each and every session. Remember the dates are Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Oct. 2, 3, and 4, and the school will be conducted in the LaNora theater.

Ford Opposed To War And Repeal Of Embargo Act

DETROIT, Sept. 21 (AP)—Henry Ford emphasized today the events of the last 25 years have not changed his "unalterable opposition" to war in any form or place nor his determination to do his utmost to prevent the coming of another world conflict.

A quarter-century ago Ford sent a "peace ship" to Europe in the hope he might "set the boys out of the trenches before Christmas." He has no plans for another such expedition, he said, but he might be intended to make himself heard against any movement which he believes might threaten a spread of the present war in Europe.

Specifically, Ford expressed his opposition to any amendment of the present neutrality law.

"That law," he said, "was written to keep us out of war. Any tampering with it, any change in it whatever, will be a step toward getting us into a war that will bring untold misery to millions of persons and set us back thousands of years."

Ford said he wasn't so sure there was "much of a war under way at present."

The 76-year old manufacturer repeated his advocacy of world disarmament and reiterated his admiration for the men who fought with the American forces in the World War. He is to be a guest at the convention of the American Legion in Chicago next week.

"These men who fought in the last war don't want another," he said. "They have it in their power to stop all wars for all time. They have it within their power to disarm the world and I would advocate that."

Ford restated his conviction that "only those who profit financially from the sale of munitions" want to stop all wars for all time, "nothing less than murder on a mass scale."

The fallacy of war, Ford added, is "a matter of simple reasoning; if there were no profit in war and no urge for power to dictate there would be no war."

ROOSEVELT

the regulation of collection of funds in this country for belligerents and the maintenance of a license system covering foreign trade in arms, ammunition and implements of war.

The President left to Congress, however, a choice of methods by which these "safeguards" should be set up—"so long as the method chosen will meet the needs of new and changing day to day situations and dangers."

To those who say that this program would involve a step toward war on our part, the chief executive asserted, "I reply that it offers far greater safeguards than we now possess or have ever possessed to protect American lives and property from danger."

"It is a positive program for giving safety. This means less likelihood of incidents and controversies which tend to lead us into conflict, as they did in the last war."

"There lies the road to peace."

After relating steps already taken to strengthen the nation's defenses, Mr. Roosevelt said he saw no need for further legislation nor for additional executive action in his proclamation of a limited state of national emergency.

Mr. Roosevelt said the executive branch of the government had done its utmost, within a traditional policy of non-involvement, to aid in averting the present appalling war.

"Having thus striven and failed," he said, "it is our effort to keep the nation from being drawn into the war."

Here he predicted success "in these efforts."

Before closing, the president expressed his desire to be able to "offer the hope that the shadow over the world might swiftly pass." But he said: "I cannot. The facts compel my stating, with candor, that darker periods may lie ahead."

Mr. Roosevelt said the disaster abroad was not of American making, but that "we find ourselves affected to the core, our currents of commerce are changing, our minds are filled with new problems, our position in world affairs has already been altered."

A moment later he asserted: "Fate seems now to compel us to assume the task of helping to maintain in the western world a citadel wherein that civilization may be kept alive. The peace, the integrity and the safety of the Americas—these must be kept firm and secure."

"Thus the President, for some of his audience, gave reassurances the United States would stand firmly behind the Monroe Doctrine.

His message also gave his backing to the neutrality proposals transmitted to Congress at its last session by Secretary Hull.

Before Mr. Roosevelt drove to the capitol to address the Congress called together only seven weeks after adjourning the regular session, 19 senators opposed to repeal of the arms embargo met to plan their strategy of opposition to revision of the neutrality act.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—War stocks rose yesterday when a plane was eventually salvaged and stepped out for a flight that put many up as much as 10 cents. A few isolated gains of 5 or 6 cents were noted.

Prices were steady in the forenoon, with the turnover the first two hours the smallest since the boom got under way nearly three weeks ago.

Speculative forces had their ears to the ground, however, and just after midday, when rumors were heard in boardrooms of a flight at Washington including repeal of the arms embargo, was in the air. Traders hit the list from 10:45 and questions soon mounted to peak levels of the day.

Visiting Pilot Trained Chinese

China was brought close to Pampa yesterday when a plane purchased by an Oakland, Calif., man who has trained 48 Chinese student pilots who are now serving in the Chinese army, according to Paul D. Kaiser, pilot, landed at the Pampa airport.

The ship, a Porterfield-Turner 50 cabin monoplane, was being ferried from Kansas City to Frisco by airport at San Francisco, via El Paso. A leaky tank was the cause of the plane landing here.

Pilot Hoiser, who carries the low-numbered DDCO pilot's license 1513 and a transport license 15 issued in Mexico in 1929, said that the owner and his companion on the flight, Felipe Estaban, was a naturalized Filipino, and had a class of a score of Chinese student pilots who he was instructing at the present time.

British Blockade To Feature War On Sea; Battles To Be Scarce; Germans Strong Enough To Hold Baltic

By BRUCE CARTON
Pampa News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Unless expert naval opinion here is greatly mistaken, there won't be much full-fledged fleet-to-fleet naval action between England and Germany in this war. Both geography and the relative size of the fleets are against it.

The most direct route to Poland from the sea—England—the only water route—leads across the North Sea, through the Skagerrak (the broad sound between Denmark and Norway), down through the Kattegat (the sound between Denmark and Sweden), out through a chain of innumerable islands and into the Baltic.

Up to the Skagerrak, Britain is complete mistress of the seas. Beyond, the waters get progressively more perilous. And although Germany's fleet has not a third the strength of Britain's, it is believed that British warships will not appear in the Baltic at all (except, perhaps, for an occasional ultra-daring roving submarine).

On the declaration of war, the British navy immediately went into action to block the Skagerrak with a line of fighting ships—which already were in position. It is believed, before war was formally announced, that the British had tried to break out only once—at Jutland—and was turned back.

KIEL CANAL MAJOR BRITISH AIR OBJECTIVE

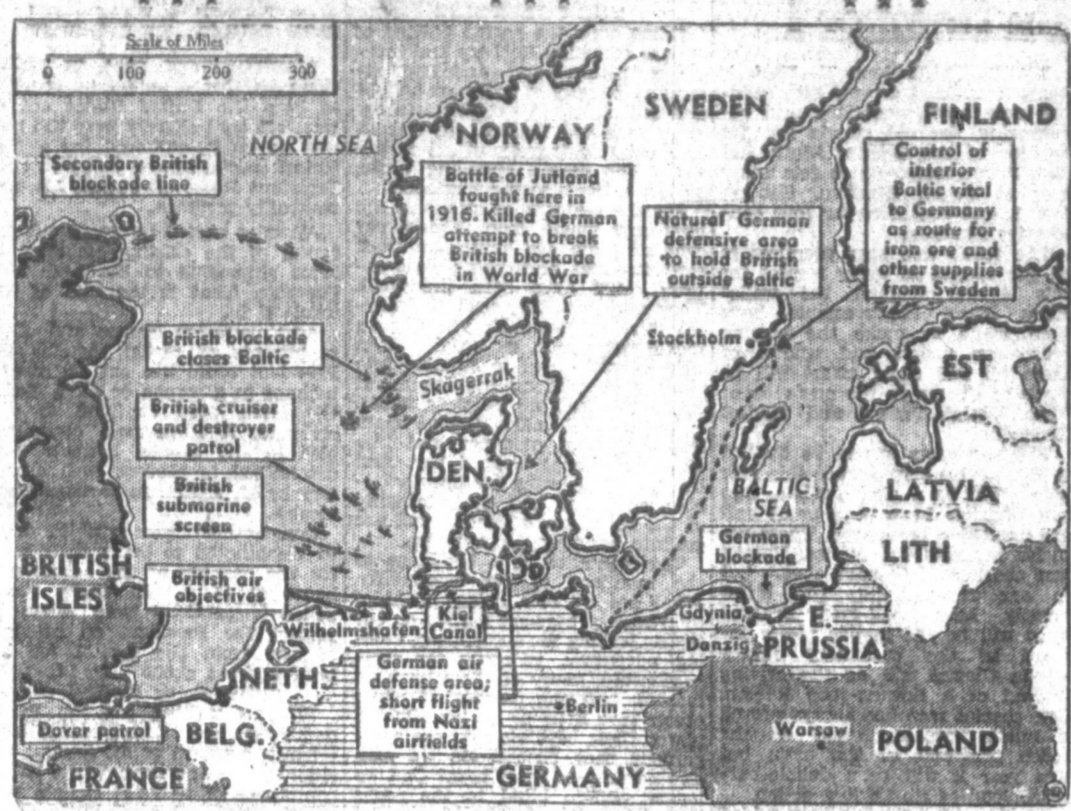

One key naval objective of British air power is expected to be the Kiel Canal, which gives the German fleet quick, easy access to the Baltic Sea from the North Sea. Naval experts here confidently expect Britain to try to block this canal by extensive bombing raids. The fortified German island of Heligoland also will be a major objective. It is believed either naval or air, or both.

What Germany will do with her submarines is a deep riddle. She is known to have 50 or more, enough to make the Baltic forbidden ground and to harass the British blockade-runners considerably but not enough to block the British Isles effectively, as the experts here see it.

They point out that Britain has 200-odd destroyers, and that anti-submarine tactics are more effective now than they were in the last war.

No one here, of course, has any exact knowledge of the naval plans of either side, and the predictions above made are assumptions based on strategic considerations and knowledge of the general picture.

It is not known here where Germany's fleet is—whether the Baltic or the North Sea—nor is it known whether any German cruisers or pocket battleships are so situated as to be able to slip out and become to break through this cordon is considered utterly out of the question. It simply isn't strong enough.

Germany today has seven capital ships, including the "wet pocket" battleships which are no match for the British dreadnaughts. Britain has 18. Much more nearly evenly matched during the World War, Germany had tried to break out only once—at Jutland—and was turned back.

It is not known here where Germany's fleet is—whether the Baltic or the North Sea—nor is it known whether any German cruisers or pocket battleships are so situated as to be able to slip out and become rovig commerce destroyers, as is the Emden. Possibly the sinking of the Athenia points the way this time of the war will go.

The one thing the experts here feel pretty sure of is that there won't be a real clash between the rival fleets—principally, as they see it, because it would be suicidal for the Germans to come out and suicide for the British to go in.

COMMERCIAL DEPRESSION

Following by unemployment and depression after peace was achieved. America's experience in the World War illustrates this fact.

Much of this post-war trouble would have been eliminated by a more foresighted price policy on the part of manufacturers and distributors. Price inflation by the seller when he had a dominant position resulted inevitably in reaction with deflation, depression and suffering. Many of these price increases were not warranted.

MAKES PLEDGE TO CUSTOMERS

"Before such an inflationary cycle of prices is again started, this company publicly pledges itself, as far as possible, to maintain present prices."

"Further, if the materials we buy are increased in price or the cost of labor is increased, then we pledge ourselves to raise selling prices no more than the bare increase in cost of materials and labor going into our products."

"Further, we pledge ourselves to pass on to our customers the reduction in cost made possible by better manufacturing methods, wider distribution and technical advances in production."

WARSAW WILL NOT BE SHELLED, SAYS GERMAN GENERAL

BERLIN, Sept. 21. (AP)—The army high command reported today only "four centers of resistance to Nazi forces remained in Poland and German troops expected they would fall without shelling."

The command's belief the remaining resistance was negligible already had been indicated by the departure for the western front of Col.-Gen. Walter von Brauchitsch, commander of the German army.

"The points still held by Poles, a high command communique said, included:

1. Warsaw, besieged capital of Poland.
2. Modlin, fortified center 18 miles northwest of Warsaw.
3. Gera Kalvarija, on the left bank of the Vistula 23 miles southeast of Warsaw.
4. On the Hela peninsula, narrow finger of land poking out into the Gulf of Danzig. Its extremity is 19 miles northeast of Danzig.

German officers indicated no lightning strokes against these centers were planned, but rather, since they are surrounded, the Poles will surrender.

One of the generals in Reichsfuehrer Hitler's entourage, discussing the situation of Warsaw, said Tuesday:

"Our Fuehrer does not think it worth while to risk the life of a single German soldier to take Warsaw. Cut off on all sides it has no alternative save to surrender."

"Why, then, should we shell it and give Poland a pretext for anti-German propaganda that we are firing on women and children?"

Military men said the same feeling applied to the other remaining islands of resistance.

Some 3,000 Poles were believed to be isolated on the Hela peninsula.

In other quarters Germany's failure to strike a crushing blow at Warsaw so far was attributed to a policy of waiting on Congress action in Washington.

Czech Revolt Under Way, Says Britain

LONDON, Sept. 21. (AP)—British government allegations of a "serious" revolt in Bohemia and Moravia—parts of Czechoslovakia which Germany absorbed—were cited today as backing British hopes of enlisting Germany's anti-Nazi in the fight against Adolf Hitler.

(In Berlin, the British reports of an organized revolt were described as "non-sensical" by a spokesman for Baron Konstantin Von Neurath, Reich's protector for Bohemia and Moravia. He invited correspondents to visit Prague to see for themselves.

(The British did not give the sources of their information.)

A ministry of information communique said Britain had received authoritative information of a revolutionary movement had started last Sunday in Bohemia and Moravia and was continuing despite "ruthless" repressive measures.

"That this is not just a flash in the pan," the ministry said, "is shown by the unanimity of purpose, the tenacity and the discipline of the participants."

It was recalled in London that Eduard Benes, former President of the Czechoslovak republic, told Prime Minister Chamberlain only two days after Britain's declaration of war:

"We Czechoslovak citizens consider ourselves as being also at war with Germany's military forces."

The British press, meanwhile, gave unanimous endorsement to Prime Minister Chamberlain's address before the House of Commons yesterday, in which he answered Adolf Hitler's Danish speech and asserted Britain's war efforts would be "the utmost of which she is capable."

Labor also gave its support to the aim outlined by Chamberlain.

In a speech broadcast to the empire, Arthur Greenwood, acting leader of the labor opposition in Parliament, declared "the monster of tyranny must be strangled forever."

In another broadcast to the defenders of Warsaw, Count Raczynski, Polish Ambassador in London, predicted last night that a new Polish army being organized in France would "return with victorious banners" to the homeland.

The press estimated one-fifth of Germany's submarines large enough to operate on trade routes had been put out of action.

Another government communique said nearly 200,000 tons of contraband values at about $2,000,000 had been seized since the outbreak of hostilities, depriving Germany of vital ores and petroleum products.

Nitro Shell Caught To Save Church

BRACKENRIDGE, Sept. 21 — Probably no more dramatic scenes ever occurred in any field than one which took place Sunday morning in Brackenridge, according to Boyce House, oil field historian, a recent visitor here. The reminiscence was occasioned by the nearness of the Brackenridge homecoming Sept. 22 and 23, commemorating the twentieth anniversary of the oil boom.

"A derick, drifting on black oil stood beside a little church in Brackenridge," House related. "The well had made several flows and it had been decided to administer a shot of nitro glycerin in an effort to make it shoot rapidly nearer."

"From the church came the minister in the midst of his sermon as the shooter was ready to lower the first shell into the hole. As the shell was half-way down, there came a distant roar that drew rapidly nearer. The well was making another 'head,' and the rush of oil and gas was bringing the torpedo and his deadly contents along."

"The shooter shouted a warning and the workers ran. He had taken only a few steps himself when the words of a hymn, just beginning, halted him for he realized the danger that approached from the workmen as they sang:

"Jesus, Lover of my soul,
Let me to Thy bosom fly,
While the tempest still is high,
While the tempest still is high,
There fasted through his mind
That he must, in some way, stop that shell before it shot from the hole and struck some portion of the derick, causing an explosion that would scatter the church and leave in its splintered timbers the bodies of the dead, while the agonized cries of the injured would ring out.

"He sprang back to the mouth of the well and braced himself as if for the leap of some foe. Calculated in his face, almost blinding him. Gas burned his eyes, tortured his nostrils and crushed his throat with invisible fingers. But he stood there and as the slim silver shape glided into view, he clutched the shell, took a step backward and slowly crumpled to his knees but all the while clutching the burden to his breast until his comrades ran up and took it from his tightly-clenched hands.

"The song ended and the minister prayed—none in the congregation knowing that the wings of the death angel had but a moment before fanned their checkers.

"The shell was again let down into the well—for the shooter must complete his job. After all the tubes had been put in place, the charge was set off, rocks pattered on the church roof and, when the service had ended, the members of the congregation, starting home, paused to look at the new oil well.

"History has not preserved the name of the shooter, but a praise would have only embossed him," House concluded.

Compact Hopes To Build 'War Surplus'

TULSA, Sept. 21 (AP)—Oil compacting states appeared today to have decided to keep crude production well within market demand in an effort to prevent building up of a "war surplus."

At present all of the compacting states, with the exception of Michigan, report current production only equal to, or below, market demand estimates of the Bureau of Mines.
Michigan recently has reduced production about 15 per cent.

Texas, which upped the flow of East Texas wells, trimmed allowables in other fields and is well below the Bureau of Mines estimate.

Texas' action in cutting back total production followed closely upon a meeting of the compact commission in Fort Worth last Friday.

Oil men generally feel the crude situation was the best in some time.
Gasoline supplies in the Gulf coast area were reported moving rapidly, with consequent strengthening influence reaching pretty well inland.

The affect of the European war on demand still remained a question.

In the field 578 completions were reported for the week ended September 16, compared with 527 the previous week, and 553 a year ago, the Oil and Gas Journal said.

Half-Million May Have To Die To Crack Western Front

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Anybody who has seen a working model of the fortifications on the western front in Europe can understand why the generals on both sides—and the soldiers in the line as well—aren't any too anxious to get down to blood and thunder.

Any man worth his military salt tells you that the attacker on either side is going to lose at least four men to the defender's one. More likely, if the attempt is extremely determined, the losses will be ten to one.

The Germans are supposed to have lost 600,000 men trying to take Verdun in the World War. Consider the shock of anguish that comes when the dead and wounded started pouring back. Some military psychologists have even surmised that those losses primarily broke the back of German resistance.

Now come authoritative estimates that an attacking force on the new western front might have to count on losing 500,000 men to achieve a breakthrough.

Psychological

If the attacking force should be the French army aided by the British, the victors would still find themselves on the west bank of the Rhine, barred from the heart of Germany by the secondary defenses behind the Rhine between Hanheim and Essen, and probably too exhausted to exploit their initial victory.

As a matter of fact, military men who have seen one side or the other of the western front recently, speculate that the primary value of breaking through the wall on either side would be more psychological than real.

It would prove to the victorious army and the people back home—and to the vanquished too—that a Maginot or a Siegfried line is not impregnable. That should inflame greater will to win.

But consider the assault that falls. Military men can conceive of no more tragic figure than the general who had lost 500,000 men—and fallen to win his battle. The effect on the morale of the people on the home front would be almost disastrous.

These are the reasons why you hear so much speculation that the Franco-British alliance may seek another way around before they really get going. That's why military men are wondering about little Belgium and the Netherlands again, and Switzerland. Outflanking the enemy is an old military custom, as old as war itself. To assume that the Franco-British diplomatic and military commands are not also trying to figure a way to outflank the German West Wall, is to assume

Mobeetie High School Enrolls 120 Students

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.

MOBEETIE, Sept. 21—All programs have been dealt with satisfactorily with the beginning of the third week of school.

At the present date, the seventh grade has recorded 31 students and there are 120 enrolled in high school classes.

The students and faculty were pleased to find the grass in the yard improved, flowers around the building and flag-pole, unusually beautiful, and the elm trees, set in the campus in the spring of 1938, grown beyond recognition.

The information file has been improved in the library during the summer, with more than 50 subject headings on record, and new subjects are being added to the file as time marches on.

Ten volumes of the National Geographic Magazine have been bound and made into book form, six months to the volume, to be used in the library. One new set for the Americana Encyclopedia has been added to the information department of the library. The Britannica Jr., a reference book of 12 volumes for lower high school and seventh grade students, is now in circulation for this group.

Mrs. Wilbur Beck, who has been librarian for the past two school terms, has again taken her place in the high school library.

Texas Prison Rodeo Begins On October 1

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 21—Work is going forward at a rapid rate building new accommodations and rearranging the old stands for the opening of the Greater North Austin Prison Rodeo which gets under way at Prison Stadium, Sunday, Oct. 1, and continues for four consecutive Sundays.

The rodeo this year promises to be the biggest in every respect for this unique "behind the walls" show. Many improvements have been made to make the coming rodeo the fastest and wildest of them all and every effort will be made to live up to the new slogan: "The World's Fastest and Wildest Rodeo."

The spectators are to be thrilled with a double chariot race this year which will be a hectic affair. Two new chariots have been made and are painted a bright red. They will resemble the famous Roman war chariots of Caesar's time—but in one respect they will differ.

Mad, wild-eyed Bushma bulls will be the motive power instead of the customary stately steeds. Clowns will do the driving instead of a flowing-robe Roman. The chariot race has always proved a mirth-provoking event on the rodeo programs of the past; but this year it will be a double-barreled load of rib-tickling action.

A wild mule race has been added to the events of this year's show, according to Albert Moore, Recreation director of the Texas prison system and rodeo director. "There will be ten inmate riders mounted on ten wild, hard-headed mules, and they leave out of as many chutes simultaneously," Mr. Moore said. "It will be a bareback contest and the first man to persuade his stubborn mount to cross the finish line will be the winner of first prize in the event," he concluded.

Other entertaining standard rodeo events on the program for the delight of the patrons, such as: saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, calf bending, wild horse racing, wild cow milking, calf roping, goat roping, bulldozing, wild mare milking, and wild steer riding.

The prison military band will be on hand to furnish an inspirational musical background for the occasion. The Rhythmic Stringsters, heard regularly over WBAP on the prison program, "Thirty Minutes Behind the Walls," will lend their hand with an assortment of music especially prepared for the rodeo.

The Southland Singsters and the Cotton Pickers Glee Club will also be present to insure the spectators that there will not be a dull moment at this year's performances of the only show of its kind in the world.

State Rests In Holbrook Trial

HOLBROOK, Ariz., Sept. 21 (AP)—The state rested its case yesterday against Leland King, 25-year-old former copler, on a trial for the murder of Walter Dickson, Spur, Tex., merchant.

The defense introduced preliminary testimony and planned to call King to the stand today to testify he fought with the 64-year-old merchant in self defense.

The prosecution based its case on admissions it alleged King made following his arrest at Portales, N. M., in a statement to officers, which was read to the jury, the former copler was quoted as saying the fight resulted from a quarrel over a dice game.

Dickson, who had given King a ride from Texas, was found dying on the desert east of here July 17. A physician testified his death was because they had had associates and were not under the proper influence in the years when boyhood was turning into manhood—between the ages of 12 and 18. That is the most important period in a boy's life. Then his character is acquired, his character formed. In those years

FDR Expected To Win Out In Six Weeks

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—A Congress firmly united in wanting to keep the United States out of war, but split sharply over the best way to do it, sat here for a historical annual session today to hear President Roosevelt outline his own neutrality program.

All sides agreed he would ask for repeal of the existing embargo on arms shipments to European belligerents. That is the nub of the whole fight.

Administration leaders and other opponents of repeal thought the President could win out eventually in a month or six weeks if the issue were confined to the embargo. A bi-partisan opposition bloc in the senate, however, was determined to prevent such a victory by all legitimate parliamentary means.

Congressmen were rushing back to Washington to be in their seats for the opening of the senate and house at 11 A. M. (CST). Extra police precautions were taken to protect the President on his trip to and from the capitol for his brief address about 1 P. M.

Bill Being Drafted

Without waiting for the President's message, administration legislators, apprised of his general position at a bi-partisan White House conference of national leaders yesterday, were starting work on a bill substituting a "cash and carry" system for the arms embargo and restricting such things as travel in war zones and belligerent credits in this country.

At the same time, advocates of retaining the arms embargo called a meeting in the office of Senator Nye (R-N. D.) to devise strategy.

Some of those who attended the every body needs to be under the influence of the right kind of man. He needs such a man's life to supply his ideals and such a man to become his hero. Every boy is a hero worshipper. The reason so many become criminals is that they follow the wrong leaders.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove waste acids and poisonous waste from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause itching, backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with burning and burning sometimes indicate kidney trouble.

Don't neglect your kidneys for Dean's Pills, and successfully by millions for over 45 years. They give happy relief and will help the miles of filters to break out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Dean's Pills.

White House Meeting Reported

White House meeting yesterday reported Mr. Roosevelt indicated he preferred scrapping the entire neutrality act and returning to the normal processes of international law, but was told such a program could not succeed.

An indication he was ready, however, to go along with the six-point neutrality program outlined last July by Secretary of State Hull was given by Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the senate foreign relations committee, one of the conferees.

Hull's Program

Pittman asked his committee to meet Saturday. He said he would try to substitute his bill, incorporating Hull's six points, for the house-approved measure on which no senate action was taken during the regular 1939 session. Hull's program would:

1. Prohibit American ships from entering combat areas.
2. Restrict travel by American citizens in such areas.
3. Require that goods exported from the United States to belligerent countries be preceded by the transfer of title to the foreign purchaser (combined with the first point, this means "cash and carry").
4. Continue existing restrictions on loans and credits to belligerents to normal short term commercial transactions.
5. Regulate solicitation and collection in this country of funds for belligerents.
6. Continue the munitions control board and the licensing system for importation and exportation of arms, ammunition and implements of war.

Pittman predicted his committee, which voted 12 to 13 last session to defer action on neutrality legislation, would approve a bill.

Max Baer To Referee Matches In Amarillo

Max Baer, former world heavyweight boxing champion, will referee the wrestling matches in Amarillo tonight according to Alfred (Dutch) Mantell.

There will be a team match for the main event with Dorry Detton and Otto Ludwig battling against Wildcat Billy McEwin and the Red Shadow. Newcomers will be featured in the preliminary and semifinal.

Joe Louis Knocks Out Bob Pastor In 11th

Champ's Legs Look Tired To Some Experts

By GAYLE TALBOT
DETROIT, Sept. 21 (AP)—A crushing blow to the law sent little Bob Pastor to his knees, dazed and helpless, in the 11th round at Briggs Stadium last night, and Champion Joe Louis had snuffed out one more fighter who made the mistake of facing him the second time.

The blow so numbed Pastor's senses that he didn't hear as the gray-haired referee, Sam Hennessey, told 10. They had to lift him to his tired legs, and he mumbled apologetically: "I didn't see the punch. I didn't see it coming at all."

Joe had knocked the New York Jewish boy down five times in the first two rounds, and then, after what he described as a "breathing spell," had dropped him with a single blow, clean and neat. It was what he had dreamed of doing ever since the night 30 months ago that Pastor had danced around and taunted him in Madison Square Garden.

Some of the experts were saying after the fight that Joe wasn't the brown bomber of old, else he never would have let Pastor get away from him temporarily after he had slugged him to the canvas repeatedly at the outset of the battle. They thought the champ's legs looked tired and that he was fuddled in the eighth, ninth and tenth rounds, all of which Pastor won. But Joe laughed at that.

Not a Brutal Fight
"I knew I was in there for a 20-round fight," he said. "I wasn't in any hurry at all after I hit him so much there at the start. But when I had made the mistake of facing him the second time, I knew I was in there for a 20-round fight."

Not a Brutal Fight

10 Amateur Fights On Card Tomorrow Night

Guerilla Lineup Features New But Promising Players

It will be a light and inexperienced but scrapping team of high school Guerillas that will face the Stinnets Rattlers under the lights at Harvester park tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Coach Oscar Hinger, new Guerilla coach, released a tentative starting lineup following a stiff workout yesterday afternoon. No change will be made.

Nothing is known about the Rattlers excepting that they had a set down at the end of the tenth. It felt strong and fresh, so I told "Chapple" (Jack Blackburn, his name) that I would get him the next round.

It wasn't a particularly brutal fight. Pastor, who weighed 183 and spotted Louis 17 pounds, came out of it with a rash on his left eye-lid and a slightly bruised face. Louis had a mouse under his left eye.

Pastor got in some pretty good locks, first and last. Once, in the eighth round, he stood Louis up against the ropes and whaled him right smartly. In fact, long after the scrap was over, he kept insisting to his manager, Jimmy Johnston: "I can punch with that guy, pop."

Bob's Major Mistake
That seemed to have been Bob's major mistake. Some time in the last 30 months he must have got it into his head that he could punch with Louis. He began trying to do it right in the first round.

Of a sudden, over snapped a Louis right. Down went Pastor, badly hurt, but he was up without a count. Three more times before the first round ended, Bob hit the deck, for counts of nine and seven and nothing, the bell finally rescuing him.

Again in the second Louis dumped him with a scorching right, but this time Pastor took the nine-second rest and finished the round looking strong. Actually, from that moment on until the 11th, when the lights went out, the game New Yorker came along better and better. He was doing all right until he failed to see that pay-off punch.

Louis in all probability will not pull on the gloves again until he fights Tony Galento next summer. He's about fought himself out of opponents, for one thing, and he has his eye on his income tax, for another.

Corpus Again Favorite In Grid Battle

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff

Corpus Christi's Bucaneros, whose all-around brilliance last fall ranked them among the best teams of Texas schoolboy football history, open the season tomorrow night and many critics predict it will mark the start of a march toward another state championship.

The Buc meet the veteran Lafayette, La., team at Corpus Christi. This will be one of 64 games this week that bring all but one team in action for the season to date. Included also will be a conference game, El Paso High, the district 4 favorite, meeting Ysleta. Thirty-two inter-district tilts are on the card along with an ambitious schedule of nine inter-sectional games.

Feature tilts include Austin (El Paso) at Amarillo, Gainesville at Wichita Falls, Waco at Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), Adamson (Dallas) at Longview and Austin (Houston) at Lufkin.

This week's schedule by districts: 1—Friday: Pampa at Casper, Wyo., Capitan (Oma. City) at Lubbock, Austin (El Paso) at Amarillo, Fort Worth Tech at Plainview, Hollis, Okla., at Borger.

2—Friday: Shamrock at Childress, Mineral Wells at Electra, Gainesville at Wichita Falls, Wellington at Quanah.

3—Friday: Colorado City at Big Spring, Raton, N. M., at Lamesa, Midland at Pecos, Roswell, N. M., at Odessa, Brownwood at San Angelo, Roscoe at Brewster.

4—Friday—Bowie (El Paso) at Carlsbad, N. M., El Paso High at Ysleta (conference).

5—Friday—Greenville at Denton; Whiteboro at Bonham, Mount Pleasant at Pampa, Paschal (Fort Worth) at Sherman.

6—Friday: Masonic Home (Fort Worth) at Highland Park (Dallas).

7—Friday: Sunset (Dallas) at Ft. Worth, Fort Worth, Saturday: Vern-n at Poly (Fort Worth).

8—Thursday: McKinney at Forest (Dallas); Friday: Waco at Woodrow Wilson (Dallas); Saturday: Mill (Houston) at Dallas Tech.

9—Friday: Abilene at Breckenridge, Graham at Cisco, Comanche at Stephenville.

10—Friday: Olney at Cleburne, Bonita at Corsicana, North Dallas at Hillsboro, Paris at Bryan.

11—Friday: Palestine at Tyler, Sulphur Springs at Gladewater, Van at Athens, Adamson (Dallas) at Longview, Texarkana at Byrd High (Shreveport).

Eagles and Bucks To Clash Friday

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 21—A rivalry that extends back over 15 seasons will be renewed here on Friday night, Sept. 22, when the All-league Eagles, coached by Dewey Mayhew, meet their traditional foes, the Breckenridge Buckaroos, coached by Eck Curtis, in a football game that is the feature of the celebration marking the twentieth anniversary of the Breckenridge Oil Boom. The game is a non-conference battle.

It was when Mayhew and Curtis were coaches in Class B that they first clashed. Mayhew, during his Marlin team again Curtis' Anson eleven for the unofficial Class B championship of the state. The game was played in Abilene and Curtis' club won, 3 to 0.

The rivalry was resumed when Mayhew became mentor of Abilene and Curtis went to Ranger in 1928 and, with the exception of two seasons which Curtis spent at El Paso before coming to Breckenridge, has continued ever since, with honors about even.

Besides the football game, other events during the two days (Friday and Saturday) including a golf tournament for visitors only, giving them a chance to try out the new grass greens; checker and domino match play; big parade; massed band concert and square dance contest.

Higgins Faces Tough Schedule

HIGGINS, Sept. 21 (Special)—keen competition among members of the first and second teams of the Higgins football squad snags the Coyotes to greater efforts as they enter their year's practice schedule.

Good blockers and tacklers, the boys are well matched as to physique and playing technique, according to Coach Russell Hays.

With the loss of twelve men from last year's squad only three experienced men, W. Schultz, K. McAdoo, and Bud Forba remain.

The new lineup includes Captain Bud Forba, 185 lbs., R. E.; G. C. Parnell, 138 lbs., O. C. Chaney, 123 lbs., F. B.; Ned Patton, 125 lbs., L. M.; Jack Houser, 120 lbs., Q. Fort Worth Needs Only One Game To Win Title

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

FORT WORTH, Sept. 21 (AP)—One game away from its second Dixie series in three years, Fort Worth will entrust Ancient Fred (Frip) Marberry with the chore of finally snuffing out Dallas' flame in the fifth game of the Texas League's championship playoff tonight.

Winner of three, all by shutouts, and loser of one in the series, the Panthers, playing a great brand of hustling baseball, appeared odds-on choices to topple their old foes without going on to another game. Bob Uhl is the Dallas pitching choice.

Pitcher Ray Starr, a temperamental sort of fellow who usually huris only when his arm feels like working, was in the mood last night and Dallas, almost amateurish in spots, went down without much kicking, 6-0.

The series, played in perfect weather, has drawn 36,457 paid admissions in four games, an average of 9,114 per game. Dallas pulled 12,279 and 7,369 with its two games and Fort Worth, 9,263 and 7,268.

Dallas had hoped for Bryd (Jelly) Sorelle, kid right-hander, to get them back into the series last night, but he turned up with a misbehaving arm and went out of the game after two were out in the first frame. Earl Overman and Sal Glisto eventually worked.

Fleet Frank Metha singled in the fourth and went all the way to third on Stebbins' sacrifice and scored on Linton's groundout. Stoneham started the fifth with a walk, scored on Walter Cazen's triple. Metha dumped an extra scratch hit over first sacker Mort and Cazen romped in.

The speed twins, accounted for the next two runs, McDowell singling and going all the way to third on Chatham's single to center and both scoring—Chatham from first—on Stoneham's double to left.

Karl Kott laced a homer over the left field palings in the eighth.

Deer Plentiful In Texas This Year

Special To THE NEWS
AUSTIN, Sept. 21.—Despite a drought which reduced the range, deer are going to be plentiful and in good shape when the hunting season rolls around. November 16, early reports to the executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission indicate.

Deer are increasing annually in the Lone Star state. In fact, their numbers are so large in some sections that there would have been a shortage of food for them even had there been no drought. This condition has existed over a period of several years and Game Department biologists, after considerable research, have reached the conclusion that the deficiency of food has brought about smaller deer. Many persons had expressed the belief that inbreeding was the cause.

Deer are afflicted with several diseases and are victims of ticks.

New Trend Seen In Texas Road Building

A new trend in highway construction in Texas may come from an idea that was developed by county and chamber of commerce officials along highway 18 in Ochiltree, Roberts, Gray, Donley and Hall counties. Harry Hines, member of the Texas Highway commission, is taking the lead in something that may be revolutionary in the highway program.

It will be remembered that a few weeks after Mr. Hines was first appointed chairman of the state commission in 1935 that he called in a few prominent Texans to join him on a trip to the national capitol where he advanced, for the first time, the need of roads for "the folks back home," along the secondary state routes, and even out on the rural mail route, off the "beaten path" of coast to coast travel, but roads that would serve to bring products to the farm market.

This idea was new and only a small fund was set up by the Bureau of Public Roads for such routes. Since 1935, however, many miles of these farm-to-market roads have been constructed an dthe rural people of Texas have found themselves in some communities "coming out of the mud" where small communities had previously felt their road to market would never have attention.

In those days of the early pioneering of Commissioner Hines for these secondary roads, all attention was being centered on through roads to serve coast to coast and other cross-country traffic. This was particularly true in Texas where everyone was interested in getting Texas' house in order for the coming of millions of Texas Centennial Celebration tourists from every state in the union.

Because of the availability of federal funds that must be matched with state funds, many of these cardinal routes are being finished or practically paved and more thought, and perhaps more money, soon can be placed on the secondary routes which may some day become of prime importance with a little construction here and there to connect them up with other roads.

For the past few years a surplus has been accumulating in the bond assumption fund, the one cent of the four-cent Texas gasoline tax bringing in more than the required funds to retire bonds voted by counties for state highways. The 1939 road bond assumption act provides that the surplus over bond needs be turned back to the 204 Texas counties on a pro-rata basis to be used to pay road district right-of-way or road bonds, to be used in constructing county lateral roads, or to be turned back to the Texas Highway Department to be used in building farm to market roads.

Gray county and the other North-South Highway counties have elected the latter option, realizing the highway department is better qualified to build the roads than the individual counties. Officials from these counties were the ones to suggest to Senator Clint C. Small that he be sure the free conference committee which rewrote the bill incorporate this last option in the bond assumption act to facilitate the cooperation of counties with the highway department.

Commissioner Hines passed this idea on to West Texas county officials last week in Mineral Wells and suggested that Texas officials might follow the lead of the North-South highway officials and then send a delegation to Washington to seek five to ten million dollars of farm to market road money to match and supplement these surplus funds.

Thus it appears that the major attention of the highway department may some day soon divert from the cardinal routes back to the secondary routes and that eventually some of these secondary routes, through improvement, may become a cardinal route.

With the cross state and international possibilities of Highway 18 and its connections north and south, we predict heavy traffic over this route some day when the Canadian and the Red rivers are satisfactorily bridged.

The Nation's Press

BACK TO FREE TRADE (Omaha World-Herald)

In a survey of interstate trade barriers the Associated Press sees hopeful signs that "the United States is returning to its historic policy of free trade at home."

Five states last winter repealed some trade barrier laws and a score of others rejected proposed laws which would have restricted the flow of goods across their borders. Among the more conspicuous repeals were those of Oklahoma and Indiana, where ports of entry were abolished.

This is only a beginning. Guarded economic frontiers are still left standing in more than half the states, but the conclusion to be drawn from the action of last winter's legislative sessions is that the trend is now in the other direction.

It is about time to call a halt and beat a retreat from this policy. It was fast growing to become a mania and it could inflict incalculable damage upon the country. One of the chief reasons for failure of the new states to function under the articles of confederation after the revolution was the imposition of discriminatory tariffs against one another. One of the best jobs the constitution framers did was to abolish these barriers and place interstate commerce wholly under control of the federal government.

Ostensibly these trade barriers are not meant for the purpose of safeguarding interstate commerce and some of them or partly were conceived with wholly other ends in view. But the temptation to employ them for the purpose of protecting some interests was too strong for the constitution framers to withstand. It had reached the point where the states had begun to retaliate against each other for the imposition of restrictive measures.

To the influence of the Council of State Governments may probably be credited the retreat from the trade barrier system. It is promoting a program by which the states may carry on that retreat in a manner which will be mutually satisfactory.

WAR AND AN ADVISORY CABINET

There is no subject of more interest to the people than the effect of the war on us. There has been considerable comment about Roosevelt's radio address on the subject of war. Those who understand what words mean are placing emphasis on the words, "hope" and "believe" used by Roosevelt in his talk. He said, "I HOPE the United States will keep out of this War. I BELIEVE it will."

In this speech, he also said, "And at this time, let me also make the simple plea that partisanship be abandoned and national unity be the thought that underlies all others." A number of columnists have suggested that it might help keep us out of war if Roosevelt would establish an advisory board that included Republicans and Democrats who were not New Dealers.

Walter Lippmann even suggested that Hoover, Taft, Vandenberg be selected as Republicans and Gagner and Bird be included as anti-New Deal Democrats. Lippmann pointed out that the Roosevelt term of office expires in about 14 months so that Roosevelt is not in a position to promise anything for any length of time. Lippmann also pointed out that Chamberlain has invited into his cabinet men who were opposed to his policy, such as Eden; and that this taking the opponents into the government greatly strengthens confidence of the people in the English government.

If Roosevelt really desires to keep us out of war and is determined, instead of "hopes" and "believes" that we will, and if he is willing to do as he says, abandon partisanship, then it would seem he would be glad to appoint a committee that would represent different conceptions of liberty and government from Roosevelt's ideas.

But, inasmuch as Roosevelt seems to believe that he has a monopoly on wisdom, there is little hope he will invite anybody's counsel who is not a yes man.

Our political future is too serious to permit partisanship now.

FREE MISSEDUCATION

When any group of citizens attempts to make education free, it invariably degenerates into free miseducation. If education is "free" in a country like Germany or Italy, it will educate its subjects to perpetuate those in control. If it is free education in a country like the United States or England, it will use methods that will be popular and keep the ins in and living easier lives than they could without their positions.

As an illustration of this, the Santa Ana, Calif. library has 26 copies of "Grapes of Wrath" and does not have a single copy of "International Vagaries" by John Rustgard. "Grapes of Wrath" costs $1.98 and "International Vagaries" costs 50 cents each. One copy of "International Vagaries" would do more to help establish peace, harmony, prosperity, and goodwill than a hundred million copies of "Grapes of Wrath." "International Vagaries" was written by John Rustgard, author of "Sharing the Wealth." "Sharing the Wealth," Roger Babson said that if anyone bought the book and did not want it and would send it to him, he would return the money. Mr. Babson had no connection with the author of the book. "International Vagaries" is very timely because it treats of the causes of war between nations and strife between people.

Truly public education invariably is miseducation.

TWO WAYS OF RESTORING FULL EMPLOYMENT

Any time we want full employment, we can have it by either one of two ways. One way to furnish full employment for everyone is to establish a free market for services and commodities. The other way is to establish a dictator who will tell every worker what he should work at, what he will receive, how long he should work and how hard he should work, what his punishment will be for disobeying.

These are the two ways that will restore complete and full employment. It is because we are betwixt and between these two ways that we have so much unemployment. If we study history, we discover that it is to that degree we approach the free market, that we obtain a high standard of living and make great progress. And to the degree that we approach a tyrannical dictator, who stifles initiative and makes a bottleneck out of production, do we have a low standard of living.

A majority can be as despotic and tyrannical as any dictator.

There is only one way of establishing a free market and that is for each individual to have respect for the equal rights of every other individual. It is this lack of respect for the equal rights of every other individual that is causing our trouble in unemployment.

Behind The News Of The Day

By BRUCE CATTON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—In February, 1893, the British bark Springbok was smacking along 150 miles northeast of Nassau, in the Bahamas. She carried a quantity mixed cargo—gingham, woolen cloth, gents' and ladies' boots, needles and thread, tea and coffee, steel pen points and the like, valued at some $325,000—plus an odd $300 worth of swords, bayonets and army and navy buttons.

Up to the Springbok came the United States cruiser Sonoma. The Springbok was bound from a British port—London—to a British port—Nassau. She was british-owned and so was her cargo, consigned to a British firm. Except for the swords, bayonets and buttons, she carried precious little that would be of any use to Robert E. Lee, whose under-equipped soldiers were getting ready for the battle of Chancellorsville.

The Sonoma stopped her, put a prize crew aboard and sent her to New York. There a U. S. district court condemned her and her cargo. Lawyers got busy and the case reached the Supreme Court, which timed the ship back but allowed the cargo to be seized. PRESIDENT RECALLE SPRINGBOK CASE

All of which is worth recalling now because President Roosevelt suggested that anyone curious about the situation arising from the Anglo-French blockade of Germany might study our own Civil War blockade. The Springbok case is a simple. The Civil War blockade was a sweeping affair.

SOME REAL SEA MONSTERS

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—The protracted war-of-nerves look that toll in the movies. All the world has been too much a stage of late for anybody's comfort, industrially or individually.

Hollywood is going right ahead making pictures even without any assurance that the completed films can be flashed on a large portion of the world's screens. The prospects are that they'll finish the current batch, "Bonnie and Clyde," simply because it would cost the studios more to drop them than to go ahead. They've spent too much in story acquisition, set-costume contracts which would cost money to break, and other details to stop now. After that, it looks now as if the production schedules will settle down to a strictly "business" basis, to pictures which can return a profit minus the normally expected reserves from exhibitors to be held for a happy day in the other regions.

The "uncolored" business might probably last "for the duration" and—although looking for a bright spot for Hollywood at the moment is like diagnosing a mosquito bite on a man with cancer—it might in the end be a good thing. If for no other reason, it would re-emphasize to the town that good pictures can be made without examining them with everything that is costly.

On the RKO lot, they've moved it notably in the past couple of years, with pictures like "A Man to Remember" and "Five Came Back," and the more recent "Full Confession"—a dramatic study of a murderer (Victor McLaglen) and a priest (Joseph Calleia) to whom his crime is confessed. The picture was made quietly and efficiently, with no fanfare, and it should rise to its own to a deserved success.

In it McLaglen (I quote a conferee, Jack Grant, who expresses it perfectly) "earns the Academy Award he was given for 'The Intermars.' And Calleia's job is no less commendable."

The best other example of the comparatively inexpensive but really entertaining movie comes from Metro, where the latest of the Hardy films, relative to Andy and singing stars, has cleaned up—justly. Even the least ambitious of the series—in my opinion "The Hardy Ride Hiel"—contained more entertainment than many a more ambitious and costly production. That goes too for the adventure of the Joneses at 20th Century-Fox, although they neglected to include a Mickey Rooney in the family.

To think in terms of story and direction rather than in lavish sets and other costly movie front-door will afford the local geniuses some healthy exercise.

Meanwhile, the American movie fan can look forward to a goodly stock of peace-made local "colossal," typical of which are "Gone With the Wind," "The Wizard of Oz," "Elizabeth and Essex," "The Rain Came," and "The Women."

Any of these should provide the movie-goer with a little forgetfulness of the times the world moves through.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

Almost every day somebody dies in Pampa, and long or short stories, depending on how much we can find out about them, are published, yet it doesn't seem that Death has cornered the living. Only a few blocks away until someone we know and loved has died, and then we know that there are no tears, no sympathy that can assuage the grief that Death leaves behind, and we know that every day in this community someone grieves as we grieve today for Plunger Wampler, who worked with us day in and day out for eight years. First it was Emmet Cotcher, then two weeks later it was Wampler. The news is a sad place these days, especially the "back-end" (composing room) where Plunger worked.

And yesterday when we heard Jan, two-year-old son, say at the grave, "My daddy is that best and I want to see him," we remembered Edna Millay's oft-quoted opinion of death: "I am not resigned to the shutting away of loving hearts within the black ground." Down into the darkness of the grave they go, the beautiful, the tender, the kind. I know, but I do not approve and I am not resigned.

Plunger was not afraid to die but he was not ready—and nobody is ever ready. Whenever we think of Plunger we shall think of his sense of honor. It was not only a debt-paying honor but a sincerity and an honor in his soul. He was one of the few persons this one ever heard of who lived to the church because he believed his honor demanded it—publicly or outside pressure had nothing to do with it. He was on his honor all the time. And so down here at the News we feel as if a brother had died, a brother whom we loved, a brother who was, it seemed to us, almost an ideal husband and father, a brother whose company we bought and enjoyed.

Four motorcycle riders are practicing to race on a circular track. The first can complete one trip around the track in 3 minutes, the second needs 4 minutes, the third, 5 minutes, and the fourth, 6 minutes. If they all start together, when and where will they all be exactly together again if they all continue to ride at their normal rates of President Lincoln ordered the stopping, not merely of contraband, but of all commerce in and out of the Confederacy. Previously, ships suspected of bearing contraband were searched at sea. Lincoln's cruisers simply sent the ships into northern harbors for search.

It had also been the rule that only ships actually bound for a blockaded port might be seized. Lincoln's cruisers made seizures a thousand miles at sea.

The Civil War and the blockade passed into history. Early this century leading nations drew up a set

The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein

Goiter, the enlargement of the thyroid gland, occurs in two forms. The one, high in the throat, is easily removed; the other, deeper in the chest, is dangerous and difficult to take out.

The thyroid gland lies in the front of the neck. Two large lobes of the gland lie on each side of the windpipe. A small portion of tissue, called the isthmus, lies across the windpipe connecting the two lobes.

An ordinary goiter is easy to reach during surgical operation and can be removed without a comparable difficulty to the modern surgeon. There are certain forms of goiter, however, which are so low in the neck that they eventually drop down and grow behind the breast bone or sternum. This type is called intrathoracic goiter, because it is actually within the chest.

The danger from such a goiter results not only from the pressure on the windpipes, which causes hoarseness, but also from the manner in which the goiter presses on the veins in the neck, preventing the return of blood from the head and the neck to the heart and the circulation of blood.

Because of these dangers, persons with large goiters growing deep in the neck and chest have interference with breathing, particularly when there is exertion and an unusual demand for air. The voice is likely to be high and soprano-like and the breathing noisy and whistling. Pressure on the veins results in swelling of the vessels and the accumulation of fluid in the tissues that is to be removed. He has to control completely the blood vessels that pass into the goiter and away from it. He must free the goiter from the surrounding tissue without damaging any of the important structures such as the nerves, blood vessels, or organs which lie in the vicinity.

The surgeon must arrange to take care of the tissues after the enlargement of the thyroid gland has been removed so that they will fill in rapidly and there will be no secondary infection or complication.

With proper care and surgery, the majority of patients who require this operative procedure recover and are able to live a normal healthy existence.

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWeese

I SAW some leather-skinned, rugged he-men who couldn't take it the other day. . . . It was down state where a number of us went to accompany the body of a man we all loved. . . . They were saying last rites over him at the grave. . . . It was solemn, impressive. . . . A great many of his school-day friends were there to give final tribute to one they revered.

There, too, were his grief-stricken widow and his two fine children of pre-school age. . . . A quiet sang "The Old Rugged Cross." . . . It was sad, down there was a great of sinner peace and calm as they prepared to lay him to rest on the wind-swept plains near where he played as a boy.

A CHRIST-LIKE atmosphere pervaded the scene. . . . And when it was quiet and the sun was going down, the boy-child of the man who loved sunsets and photographed many of them, expressed a desire to see his Daddy turned away and waded across the grave-stones near where he played as a boy.

The large crowd that stood around the canopied, green-velvet resting place was silenced in awe. . . . There was not a dry eye among the hundreds. . . . And those leather-skinned, rugged he-men who knew him so well were deeply touched. . . . Some of them with tear-filled eyes turned away and waded across the grave-stones. . . . Others of them stood still, sobbed noticeably.

AND, THEN the services were concluded. . . . As they came away from the cemetery, these men had faith. . . . They knew that the kindly God would answer the prayer of the minister who beseeched that an even greater fullness of life would come to his little boy and his sister and their devoted mother, and that He would watch over them and guide their destinies in the absence of the father who was gone. . . . There is great comfort in knowing that.

The cost of a war does not fall alone on those countries which are fighting. . . . Everybody pays. . . . It is a matter of degree. . . . The United States is already paying, just because it is in the same world with countries which insist on war. . . . Many people have already been gouged by phony "war prices."

OUR ARMAMENT burden has been boosted sky-high, all of which must be paid for in taxes, present or future. . . . And one large insurance company has already adopted war risks regulations to cover insurances of future policies. . . . In case of citizens likely for any reason to enter military or naval service or to be subjected as a civilian to the hazards of warfare, insurances cannot be issued. . . . Thus it is that the burdens of war, like ripples from a stone cast into a placid lake, reach around the world.

So They Say

His majesty's government will never resort to deliberate attack on women, children and other civilians for the purpose of more terrorism.

There's no such thing as a hero. You're either a man or a bum.

—CAPT. JOSEPH L. GAINARDEY of the City of Pitt.

There is no section of the nation where natural resources and climate and population hold greater promise of a happy civilization than in the South.

—JOHN L. LEWIS.

Our present pseudo-neutrality punishes England and France and rewards Germany.

A BID FOR A SMILE

NON-RATS

Language falls in masculine effort to describe who women still persist in calling their hats Doughnuts, pancakes, piloboxes, frying pans, saucapans, topknobs, buns, pretzels, saucers, mushrooms, acorns, cabbages, turnips, cauliflower, onions, pies, fruitcakes, inverted posies, sunflowers, squashes, artificial forelocks. . . . We give it up! And they're worn anywhere from the forehead, where they may effectively conceal the right eye, to a turvite position behind the left ear.

The worst of it is, a man can't tell whether this weird outburst shows that women really have a sense of humor or no humor whatever. That's one of the things no fellow can find out.

The pity of it is from the masculine viewpoint, that so many women otherwise clothed with dignity and character should soil it by making comic caricatures of themselves. Now, you take the men—but perhaps we'd better not go into that. —FERRIS (Ill.) Journal Transcript.

Pettengill

EIGHT YEARS Democratic Congressman FROM INDIANA

KEEP OUT! This is not our war. We did not start it. We did not start the last war. . . . We gained nothing from that war. We can gain nothing from this war.

But already the "war brides" are booming on the stock exchange. The drums begin to beat. The fever rises. In addition we have the unusual attitude of the administration, indicated in numerous instances, that has happened since Mr. Roosevelt's "quarantine" speech in Chicago in 1937. . . . We are sure to be in within six months. . . . You see that in the papers. WHO are saying that? And WHY are they saying it?

The millions of people in this country who are certain this is not our war had better begin "waking their Congressmen and DO IT NOW. Tell them to keep America out of Europe or they will be kept out of Washington."

If there are any Congressmen, such as Mr. Sot Bloom, new Chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, who are being impressed by the "necessity" of a "holy crusade," tell them to keep their shirts on!

At this point a little history may have a sobering effect. Many people think Mr. Roosevelt in 1936 received the biggest percentage of the popular vote ever cast for the two leading candidates for president. This is not so. Of the total vote for Roosevelt and Landon Mr. Roosevelt got 37.2 per cent. In 1920 Mr. Roosevelt was also a candidate. . . . That year for vice president with James M. Cox. He campaigned that year for the Versailles Treaty and the League of Nations. He and Mr. Cox got exactly 36.3 per cent of the vote. . . . Mr. Coolidge got 63.8 per cent of the total cast for the two leading tickets. . . . This was greater than Mr. Roosevelt ever got.

But that year Eugene Debs, running on the Socialist ticket, got $20,000 more than Mr. Roosevelt and went to prison rather than endorse the war. His vote is certainly entitled to be considered as an anti-war vote. . . . If it be added, the total isolationist or anti-involvement vote that year was 64.4.

A vote of 64.4 is sufficient to elect any Congress. . . . In 1920, Mr. Roosevelt was not elected. . . . But this is now mere kicking against the pricks. If the majority were wrong, they preferred to be wrong in America than to be wrong in Europe. . . . In short, Mr. Roosevelt was more popular than Mr. Roosevelt has been at any time.

1920 was the last official expression of public opinion on this question. . . . But many polls in recent months show a strong majority belief now, that not only were we right in not going to the Versailles Treaty in 1919, but that we should never have gotten into that war to begin with.

Here is the platform of 1920 upon which Mr. Roosevelt ran for Vice-President. . . . No one can say the issue was not clearly presented. I quote: "It was for this that America broke away from traditional isolation and spent her blood and treasure to crush a colossal scheme of conquest." (Sound familiar, doesn't it?)

We felicitate the President (Mr. Wilson) on the exceptional achievement at Paris involved in the adoption of a league and treaty so near akin to previously expressed American ideals. . . . We condemn the Republican Senators for their refusal to ratify the treaty merely because it was a product of Democratic statesmanship. . . . The honor of the country is involved in this business. . . . We advocate the immediate ratification of the treaty without reservation which would impair its essential integrity."

That was the issue. On R. Mr. Harding went to the White House. And in Congress, the party strength in the Senate was 59 Republicans, 37 Democrats, and in the House 300 to 132.

For these reasons, if there is any effort to push us into this war, I say again, and especially to my Democratic friends because they have the major legislative responsibility, a word to the wise is sufficient. I emphatically do not agree with this new hullabaloo and propaganda that our participation is "inevitable" or that it would guarantee a third term.

Whatever happens, insist on time to think. If there is a special session of Congress, it war-diplomats will be written down. . . . Let us be pushed to Capitol Hill. Take time to think. In his first inaugural message Abraham Lincoln said, "My countrymen, one and all, think calmly and well upon this whole subject. Nothing valuable can be lost by taking time. If there be an object to HURRY any of you in hot haste to a step which you would never take DELIBERATELY, that object will be frustrated by taking time, but no good object can be frustrated by it."

—ABRAHAM LINCOLN, First Inaugural Address, 1861.

Tri-State fair, according to art. . . . Exhibitors to be included. . . . Military music by Harold Bennett. . . . Our Director, Dr. E. B. Biglow and Washington Post, by J. P. Sousa. . . . Although the exact time of broadcast has not been set, the band will also make a radio appearance.

SERIAL STORY

WORKING WIVES

BY LOUISE HOLMES

Yesterday Dan returns, happy after a pleasant day with the...

MARIAN waited for Dan to come back. He'd walk over to the...

With his departure, her anger had turned to miserable ashes.

Dan returned at the end of an hour. Quietly, he hung his hat in the closet.

"It's all right," he said. "I'm sorry, Dan," she said.

She longed to talk to him, to tell him about Sally Blake who was slowly but surely making...

Did she want that? Did she honestly want to start again where they had left off 10 years ago?

Without money of her own which she could spend as it suited her?

Wearily, she laid her head against the back of the chair. No, that wasn't the answer.

She had been 10 years ago, but not now. She and Dan loved each other, she had never wanted any other man.

What had Dan said? She had told him he was a spineless worm who never turned.

Further action is not required, the SEC announced.

On June 8, the SEC ordered an investigation to determine whether Du Pont, chairman of the Board of S. L. Du Pont De Nemours and Company, had violated sections of the securities act which require reports on stock transactions of company officers and directors.

PREXY DOESN'T WANT ALL HONOR STUDENTS

MIDDLETON, Conn., Sept. 21 (AP)—President James L. McCaughy told Wesleyan undergraduates today it would be a "backward step" for the university if they qualified as honor students.

The university, he said in a prepared matriculation address, was proud of the students who won honors. He asserted, however, the "backbone of every institution is the man, sometimes of average even of mediocre ability, who does his work faithfully."

Dr. McCaughy contended the university would be a "drift place if all of us were geniuses."

LAFFIT-OFF

BREAKFAST was a tense meal. Dan spending politely when necessary, ordering nothing. Marian did not touch her breakfast.

"Oh, hello, I didn't see Dan go down." So Dan was that low in spirit, too low for a greeting to Dolly.

"I guess he was in a hurry. Have a good time last night?" "Simply won-derful," Dolly sighed.

"That'll be fun," Marian returned lightly. "It would do us good to step out once in a while."

"That'll be fun," Marian returned lightly. "It would do us good to step out once in a while."

"Of course, I'm fine." She went slowly down the stairs and out into the murky morning.

Dan waited and she got into the car. Not a word was said on the drive downtown.

EVERYTHING went wrong at the office that morning. Sally Blake was too radiant, too young and joyous.

Sally chirped. "Did you have a nice weekend, Mrs. Harkness?" Marian stopped at her desk.

"Wonderful," she said. "My husband and I celebrated our wedding anniversary. We had a dinner party and a grand time."

"Your wedding anniversary—nice—how many years?" "Twelve."

Mr. Fellows nodded without his usual smile and Marian's mind fled back over Saturday's work.

"Anything wrong, G. F.?" she asked. "No—guess not—Monday morning blues—ever hear of them?"

"Like Monday morning—rested—all set for a good week. It was a worthy attempt but missed fire."

"I told Florence she couldn't have a raise," Marian said quietly. It was the wrong thing to say.

"Is this my office or yours?" he bellowed.

MARIAN took instant offense at his tone. "I have charge of the girls. You went over my head when you engaged Sally Blake, now you've done it again."

"And who has a better right?" Marian leaned toward him, her eyes spitting fire.

She stared at him with stricken eyes and he softened. "We're both edgy this morning. Let's drop the matter for the present. I shouldn't have given Florence Avery a raise, that's what makes me sore—but she bawled."

"You're a little figure," he said. "You're proving a point that I believe and hate to admit—the inadvisability of keeping any girl in the office until she thinks she owns it."

"I'll now sing you my own interpretation of 'Hark, Hark, the Lark.'

OPPORTUNITY DAYS

MEANS GREATER FURNITURE SAVINGS... IN THE THE FACE OF RISING PRICES...

(FREE DELIVERY)

No drastic advances are expected in the furniture industry due to the European War, says the National Retail Furniture Assn. in their latest bulletins. However, the new Wage and Hour Laws which will further increase the cost of production October 1st will necessitate an advance of from 3% to 10%. The Texas Furniture Co. has always operated on the policy of volume selling and quick turnover, thereby saving our customers from high profit margin prices.
