Repairs Made

Each summer during vacation months the janitors are busy working at the school. Many people have no idea what these men do in this time.

While most people are vacationing in the mountains, these men make repairs on the buildings on the school campus. Every needed improvement, such as repairing the ceiling in four of the rooms and sanding, revarnishing the marred desks have been accomplished. The journalism room also has been changed. ### They Do Have a Use

One might think trash cans are a luxury if their values are judged by how much trash is used by the students of Pampa High School. Students have developed the habit of disposing of candy and gum wrappers and other papers wherever they happen to be standing when they finish with them. Of course, it is often at least 50 steps to a trash can, but if the beauty of the school grounds is to be kept, a few more steps will have to be taken by many people.

Trash cans and waste baskets were constructed quite a while ago for the purpose—believe it or not—of retaining trash even if it is necessary to walk a few steps. The story is told of a man who jokingly asked a student what those cans were for and saw standing in the school rooms and in the halls. The student promptly replied, "Oh, those are what your teacher makes you put your gum in when you come to class chewing it."

Perhaps you have discovered the ideal use of waste baskets and trash cans. One of their most valued uses is that they help to keep the school grounds beautiful if all the trash is placed in them.

Enrollment Second Week Totals 725

Enrollment for Pampa High school for the 1939-40 season had already exceeded all expectations. After a mark of 725 students has been reached, the junior and senior classes have the greatest number of members with the sophomores and freshmen close behind.

Unexpected numbers in the two lower classes have caused an overflow in the entire school, according to reports from the principal's office. Formerly freshmen had their classes in the Junior High section of the building. However, due to the overcrowded classes in Junior High school, more than 100 freshmen 15 years of age have been moved into high school.

Heavy Harvesters Prepare for Season

They all laughed when Coach O'Neil Mitchell and the Harvester football squad proposed a trip to Europe in order to defeat Hitler, but after a glance at their weights, the "doubting Thomases" declared the odds to be ten to one against Hitler. After all, what chance has a small specimen of the human race against 5,279 pounds?

Even last year's team, which weighed only 4,519 pounds, could probably reduce Germany's dictator to the size of his smallest half-pint, which was Grover Heiskell, 125, and of course, Heiskell, now weighing 140, has grown up with the team. This year's runt is Bobby Dan Lane, who weighs only 120 pounds, but Bob Louver, with his 220 units of weight, restores the balance of power. It is strange that these two Bobs should differ so much in figure.

Committees Named At P. T. A. Meeting

Committees for the year were named at the first regular meeting of the Senior High School Parents Teachers' Association held last Thursday afternoon. With Mrs. Claude Laird presiding.

Physical Education Classes Report Many Improvements

Many improvements have been made for the physical education students, according to reports from Miss Evelyn Gregory and Oscar Hinger, physical education instructors.

Sagebrush

By The Sage
As Sagebrush bursts into bloom in the fall, so the Sage hopes to begin this school year with flowers of friendship, goodwill and understanding.

Miss McFarlin can still talk "baby-talk" just a-k of some of the short-hand students. She said to Ray Boyles, "Do oo 'love me? I 'love oo." Wonder if its catching?

"Watch the birds!" The Harvesters, one and all, became familiar with that old saying last week when they had their pictures made for the football program.

It means that Mr. Anderson has a plan for collecting things. This time it's parking tickets, the fault being not his own, but that of his chauffeur, "Poopy" Green.

Some people who have been frequenting the park during girls' physical ed. classes say that the modern Robin "Hoodlets" aren't quite up to par when it comes to hitting the target. Well, girls, should we suggest more practice?

Speaking of improvements, The Sage of Sage 15 of the opinion that a pair of "cell" trousers would really add some "oomph" to the looks and the "oomph" of the band. By the way, Amarillo and Borger already have them.

Chub Tertin was in Borger, the other day to name the Scottie dog that is to be given away. He named it "Wilberine."

The most astounding thing that reached the ears of The Sage was the knowledge of the attempts of Bobby Burns to buy some of the old band uniforms to be made into tuxedos for his orchestra. Green tuxedos!

Carolyn Surratt seems to have carried over her aspirations toward a stage career from last year. This time she's "Chocolate Drop" (the name of a "Golden Boy" since her sudden show of appetite at Six's last week).

Cecil Branscum decidedly would lead the parade on the band last Thursday. Director C. C. Cox could not get him to come down out of the grand stand at Harvester park and the Sage imagines that most anyone would do the same thing if his trousers were torn.

Ann Chisholm must have been reading some very modern dictionaries. She gave Miss Brunton "vanilla" as a definition for imitation.

James Washington probably read the same thing, because he gave "Hedy LaMar" as a definition for octavia.

Guerrillas To Play First Game Friday
Guerrilla football team under the coaching of Oscar Hinger will reach their six-game schedule next Friday when they play the Stinetts Rattlers at Harvester park.

Sons of Saddle Play At First School Assembly

Sons of the Saddle, former Pampa High school students and radio artists, entertained the student body in the first assembly of the year last Tuesday.

This musical group is composed of three former Pampans, Wincer Baker, commonly known as Duke (of Windsor), Clyde Perkins, Pete Welburn and one from LeFors, Kenneth Bratcher. The boys broadcast regularly over Lubbock and play two weekly engagements at Amarillo.

Mrs. Mildred Duncann Williams announced the play, "Mystery at Midnight," to be presented by the freshmen September 21 and 22. Eighteen girls from Pampa High school will dance.

The musical program consisted of Riden to Glory, Steel Guitar Rag, Draggin' the Bow, Whica Mite Whoe, Marie, Wishing, Exactly Like You, Lime House Blues, "Tiger Rag and Corridado.

In imitation of Donald Duck's singing was given by Wincer Baker. Harry Kelley, high school teacher, sang Brown Eyes, accompanied by the Sons of the Saddle.

Bewildered New Students Find Out About PHS

They closed in rapidly—their victim valiantly sought escape through the onrushing crowd. No, not G-Men—just upperclassmen!

A bewildered little figure huddled in a corner—disappointment shading his countenance. So, this was High School! For eight years now he had worked toward his goal, yet all he could decipher were the two words, "grade points" and "credits."

Valiantly he retrieved his lost composite and made one last attempt. The stairs proved his Waterloo—they were winding pathways in a dark cavern. Dejected, he retired to his corner. He debated the question uppermost in his mind. Was this Grand Central station or just his first taste of Pampa High school? As he mused his fate, a kindly hand touched his shoulder. Here was the one friendly face among all the mass—and he followed the teacher down the hall.

Thousand Schedule Pencils Bought by Harvester Backers

Want to buy a pencil? During the past week the Harvesters have been selling pencils bearing the Harvester schedule for the opening season. These pencils are sold in color with the schedule printed on them in green letters. To date over a thousand of these pencils have been sold.

National Honor Society To Elect Officers Soon

Officers for the coming year will be elected this week when the National Honor society holds its first meeting of the year, Miss Clarine Brannon, sponsor, disclosed.

Each year five per cent of the junior class and ten per cent of the senior class are eligible for membership in the society. The group is selected by the faculty from the third of their class ranking highest in scholarship on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership and service.

Pep Leaders To Be Taylor, Archer, Price, Cunningham

Harriet Price, Peggy Cunningham, Doris Taylor and Betty Archer were elected pep squad leaders by popular vote Thursday afternoon. The ex-leaders of last year—Jeanne Lively, Jerry Smith, and Iris Williams—will hold positions as field marshalls. Miss Evelyn Gregory, teaching for the first time in Pampa High school, and Miss Marie Cox, science instructor, will be in charge as sponsors.

At the present time, the pep squad is practicing yells, songs, and simple marching drills. Their first appearance will be made September 29 when the Pampa Harvesters oppose the Central High football team of Oklahoma City, here.

Library Shelves To Have New Books

Within a few weeks 150 new books will have found their way to a place on the shelves of Senior High school's library, according to Miss Maybelle Taylor, librarian.

Eight Members In School Orchestra

Eight members have enrolled in the high school orchestra, under the direction of Herbert Miller, Sam Houston, band director. Orchestra is a course added to the curriculum this year.

Vernon Lions Beat Harvesters By 13-7

Pampa Harvesters were defeated 13 to 7 by the Vernon Lions Friday night when the two teams met in Vernon with an 80 degree temperature.

Teachers Trael, Rest and Study During Summer

Back to school days and treasured memories of vacations are not only shared by students, but teachers, also.

Miss Helen Martin went the farthest distance when she took a boat from Seattle, Washington, for Alaska. Miss Opal McKay, Los Angeles, California; Miss Clarine Brannon, New York World's Fair; and J. L. Lester, San Francisco, Exposition, the far second place, while Kenneth Garman, Chicago, rated third in distance.

Miss Louise Warren spent her vacation in Plainview, Mrs. Lou Roberts, Clinton; Coach Odus Mitchell and Harry Kelley, Houston; while B. C. Gordon, Miss Lorraine Bruce, and Mrs. E. L. Norman vacationed in Colorado.

B. R. Nuckols and A. C. Cox attended college at Canyon, and Miss Anna Louise Jones received an M. A. degree in English at Austin.

Miss Zenobia McFarlin made a trip to New Orleans, Louisiana; Tom Herold, Ft. Worth; Mrs. J. B. Austin and Aubrey Steele, Oklahoma; Miss Margaret Jones, Bartlett; and Mrs. Robert Sanford, San Antonio.

Those who spent summer in Pampa are Principal D. P. Osborne, Bill Anderson, Mrs. Frances Alexander, and J. C. Prejean.

Harvesters Seen In New Uniforms

These new uniforms are of the Harvesters color—green and gold. The jerseys are gold with myrtle green trimmings and numerals. They are constructed of rayon and give the fans a clear-cut view of the players. The slacks are also old gold with trimmings and numerals of myrtle green. They are made of a special football material, tackle eight.

Due to shrinkage during cleaning the suits last year, although almost new, are not suitable for use again. This made necessary the ordering of the new suits that arrived shortly before the opening game. The suits are similar to those of last year.

Eight New Teachers Give Opinions of Pampa High

The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power, await alike the inevitable hour—the paths of vacuity lead back to school, books, old friends and new, and eight new teachers.

Miss Martha Cox, instructor of senior science, general science and physics, has two degrees, a B. S. and M. S. from Texas Tech. Pampa has impressed her as being a very nice place and she thinks the high school is a class A school.

Previously a teacher in Junior High, A. C. Cox has joined the high school faculty as director of the Harvester band. He also will direct the Junior High school band. According to Mr. Cox, the band will be even bigger and better than he had expected. He says he enjoys high school work.

"High school is 100 per cent," says Miss Evelyn Gregory, physical education instructor, and pep squad sponsor. She, formerly a student in Junior High, she has a B. S. degree from Texas Tech. During the summer she attended the University of Southern California.

Physical education director for the boys and coach of the Guerrilla football team is Oscar Hinger, who "really likes the high school, especially the way the boys co-operate." Mr. Hinger has a B. S. degree from West Texas State college.

Four Students Nominated For President of Council

Karr Leads Race With 265 Votes
Candidates for president of the student council were nominated last Wednesday during home room period. Bobbie Karr, council chairman, received the largest number of nominations, 265.

Other nominees are James Evans, Ross Buzzard and Jack Johnson. Aubrey Green and Grover Heiskell withdrew their names from the race because football players would not have sufficient time to give to football and to the student council all.

Qualifications for the president are: (1) a student must have at least eight credits, four of which must have been earned in Pampa High school (must be a junior or senior); (2) must not have failed in more than one-half credit in the preceding year; (3) must be able to devote a sufficient amount of time to his duties.

Bobbie Karr was a member of the Harvester squad for two years. He was president of his sophomore and junior classes. He is a member of the National Honor society. Last year he was co-captain of the track team and has served on the student council.

James Evans was the most popular boy in the junior class and was president of the band. He has played in the band for two years.

Ross Buzzard was president of his sophomore class, also was most popular boy. He is a member of the Boy Scout organization. He was president of the leaders club in Junior High school.

Jack Johnson was in the junior play, "What Happened to Jones," and the all-school play, "Come Out of the Kitchen" in 1938. He served as sports editor of the Little Harvester for two years.

Home room presidents will be elected after the presidential election. Bonnie Lea Rose served as councilor-at-large with Bobbie Karr.

Harvesters Will Leave For Wyoming Early Wednesday

On Wednesday the Harvesters will begin a 780-mile trip to Casper, Wyoming, where they will play the Casper team. Casper has consistently turned out teams that were among the top ranking teams in the state.

In this game the Harvesters will encounter different conditions from those to be encountered in other games on the schedule. Under Wyoming rules, the age limit is 20 years compared to the Texas limit of 18. By Texas rules the passer must be five yards behind the line of scrimmage, but in Wyoming he may pass four yards point beyond the scrimmage line.

Because of early cold weather, Casper cannot keep grass on its field. Instead they use sawdust.

Casper, the second largest city in Wyoming, will play teams from five states. Other teams on their schedule include Lincoln, Nebraska; Ogden, Utah; Tead, South Dakota; and a Washington high school team.

Football fans in Wyoming are eager for the chance to see a Texas football team and the Casper authorities expect to have a large crowd for the Pampa game, according to Supt. L. L. Stone, who visited in Wyoming this summer.

WAR-TIME BUYING EXPECTED TO STIMULATE U. S. BUSINESS AFTER DEMAND STRENGTHENS (Oakland, Calif., Tribune)

While it is too soon to calculate the effects of war on the United States, there are several economic developments that seem likely to eventuate. Purchases by belligerents, as well as diversion of orders from countries now preoccupied with war, are expected to offset the shock to business resulting from the outbreak of hostilities.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Holles THE EUROPEAN STRUGGLE

The struggle for domination of Europe which has for the last quarter of a century been very active, now again has reached the boiling point. It is not a temporary matter but a matter of years.

This conflict between Germany and the other nations of Europe is a prolongation of the World War. Before this present conflict became acute, Americans had pretty generally come to believe that we had made a mistake in entering the World War. Since, in our sober moments, we admitted that we had made a mistake in entering the last war, we should be very slow to draw the conclusion that it is our duty to take part in this war.

Pampans are fonder of water-melon than you would think. One of the stands which sells only watermelons has averaged selling 1,000 a week since it opened this summer. All the melons in this particular stand were trucked in from Oklahoma—Elk City, Sayre, Erick. The operator of the stand (which is going out of business this week because he says there are no more melons in Oklahoma except the over-ripe ones) reports that Pampans are partial to yellow-leaved melons. He says people here eat more watermelons than they do over in Oklahoma where they grow.

BUSINESS STILL SHACKLED By WALTER E. SPAHR, Professor of Economics, New York University

It has been said many times since the adjournment of Congress that the country's economic recovery program was defeated, business and arbitrary personal government, and bureaucracy. Beyond these fundamental debilitations lie several other serious problems which must be met before economic, social and political health can be restored. Thus far they have not been dealt with in a careful or statesmanlike manner. Instead, they have been used as means of currying favor with pressure groups and as text for pontifical or purely dated remarks of the most superficial sort about matters not understood.

Oilers Show Appreciation of $477 Gift Fund

Each Player Gets $36.70 In Division

"There's nothing we can say but thanks, and that's not nearly enough," declared a spokesman for the Pampa Oilers yesterday when $477.10 was divided among the 13 members of the team that took Pampa to the finals in the West Texas-New Mexico league Shaughnessy playoff before dropping to Lubbock, defending champions, after five hard games. Each player received $36.70.

The money was given to the boys by Pampa fans in appreciation for the fine playing and sportsmanship of the boys even though they knew they could not receive one cent of the playoff money because of a league rule which clearly and definitely states that no part of playoff receipts can be given to players either directly or indirectly.

The boys are scattering to their homes, all but Milbert Vannoy, Rex Dilbeck and Harvey Hutson, who want to make Pampa their future home if they can secure work, and Bob Bailey, Lloyd Summers and Frank Grabek who will accompany an All Star team to South America for six weeks.

"We're proud of you what you've given Pampa and the fans are glad to give you this small gift in appreciation of your fine sportsmanship and play," Bob Posey told the boys. "We'll expect to see you back next spring because we're going after the title next year. You've been gentlemen and you've been sports and you've never let us down."

"We'll be back if we're sent contracts," was the unanimous decision of the boys. "Pampans are different than people in other cities where we have played. They're more friendly and they're more considerate."

Manager Grover Seltz called the boys together after Saturday night's final game and congratulated them for their fine play and thanked them for their cooperation.

"I've played with a lot of teams but I've never been with one where players got along as well as these boys," Manager Seltz told friends yesterday. "They've played team all season and stuck by me all the way."

Additional funds received from fans, besides those already published, included:

- Tom Rose and employes, $10.15;
- Alex Schneider $20; Southwestern Public Service company, Coca Cola Bottling Works and C. M. Jefferies, $10 each; Sam A. Fenberg $15; F. E. Hoffman, A. J. Beagis, M. C. Johnson, $5; Chuck Cahill $4.50; R. W. Lane, F. E. Maynard, R. C. Story, J. B. Austin, W. D. McArthur, C. L. Woolley, J. H. Riegal, Stormy Jordan, George Porter.

Borger Barely Beats Shamrock In 26-25 Tilt

Special to The NEWS. SHAMROCK, Sept. 18.—In a game replete with thrills and yet the usual early season miseries bobbing up, the fighting Shamrock Irishmen all but stopped the Borger Bulldogs' attack here tonight. The final score was 26-25 for Borger.

Both teams played a fighting brand of ball and it was late in the second period when Borger took to the air to score the first touchdown of the game and add the extra point. Not content to be left on the short end of the score, the Irishmen came back and on several reverses and two passes scored a touchdown one minute before the half and kicked the goal for a tie.

In the second half the Borger boys blocked Shamrock's first try at punting and ran it for a touchdown but failed to add the point. Within five minutes the Irishmen had duplicated the blocked punt and tied the score again. They also failed to kick the extra point.

In the final quarter the Borger team, paced by Sikes and Russell,

Meyer Relying On Sparks And Odle To Break Jinx

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

FORT WORTH, Sept. 18 (AP)—The infallible rule of the Southwest Conference—champions don't repeat—may trap mighty Texas Christian, but not without a back alley brawl.

It would take every break in the books, plus an act of injustice for the undefeated Christians of '38 to come through again. The opposition has toughened with age, some of the Christian stalwarts of a year ago are gone—and the hex is on.

Coach Leo Meyer isn't as doleful as he looks. He has a lot of improvement in view of the fact that Davey O'Brien and his touchdown arm has departed.

"But I have Jack Odle," he beamed. "He isn't the player O'Brien or Sam Baugh was in senior years, but he's got a good deal of the same." Coach Meyer's statement about his offense is just a little short of startling, in view of the fact that Davey O'Brien and his touchdown arm has departed.

"I'll say that so far, Odle is as good as any back I've had at Texas Christian. That is, up to his junior year. He has shown tremendous improvement. His scrumming work has been excellent."

"He can pass that football—and don't you forget it. Of course, he will do our kicking, too. Connie Sparks, who is no greenhorn at kicking, will be in there with him."

Alongside this pair in the Christian backfield will be Logan Ware, a sliding tackle, runner, and Earle Clark, the mad violinist whom all agree is about the roughest running back in the league. Coach Meyer may be right about his offense.

Starting with the end, it would look as if his line is still solid as the Magnolia line. Veterans Don Looney and Durward Horner are the nearest pair of wingmen in this sector, and replacements Charlie Williams and Melville Ehlers are better than fair hands.

One of the main worries of a week ago has faded into insignificance. Big Bob Cook, starting left tackle feared out of play with a bad shoulder, went through a long scrimmage encoased in a harness that will permit full play. He alternates, Ray Standley, has a bad knee and may not be ready. On the other side, Ennis Kerle, junior letterman, gets the call, with sopho Everett and Adams looking acceptable.

Two sturdy guards, Capt. Bud Taylor and Bob Sherrod, form the first string tandem, but Sherrod is out of commission, temporarily, with a shoulder separation. In good health, they will rank with the league's best set of middle-men. Seniors Blinn and Chamberlain are reserves.

"Don't worry about our centers," said Meyer. "We'll be well manned there. Of course, we don't have a KI Aldrich, but we have two swell ball players."

Lefty Alexander, Aldrich's understudy last year who didn't play too often, has been damaged in scrimmaging and Fred Shook, former All-State schoolboy center, is just a breath behind him.

Cincy's Lead Looks Longer Every Day

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Time is ticking away chances of clubs chasing the Cincinnati Reds in the National League, and some of them must know by now how a clock sounds to the condemned.

Every day untold from the senior circuit's crowded calendar in the last week has made Cincinnati's 3 1/2 game lead look longer.

This was the standing today: Cincinnati . . . 85 52 . . . 17 St. Louis . . . 82 56 3 1/2 15 (X) Chicago . . . 78 65 10 11 Brooklyn . . . 74 63 11 17

One game with New York cancelled. The Reds and Cards divided doubleheaders yesterday. Cincinnati made nine errors, but Paul Derringer overcame six of them in the first game to beat the Reds, 6 to 5 in his 22nd victory. Boston took the nightcap, 6-3.

Carl Hubbell pitched the Giants to a 2-1 triumph over the Cards in the first game, but pitcher Bill McGee reversed the tables in the second session to win by the identical score.

The Brooklyn Dodgers swept two games from Chicago, but failed to eliminate the Cubs from pennant contention. The scores were 10-4 and 3-2.

The Pirates committed eight errors in the first game, but won the Phillies, but grabbed the second installment, 10-1.

The Yankees relaxed, having clinched their fourth consecutive American League championship and the St. Louis Browns, 4-4 and 3-1.

Five errors by the Cleveland Indians helped the Philadelphia Athletics beat Bob Feller, 4 to 2, but the Indians took the nightcap, 18-5.

Thornton Lee's souped slants stymied the Boston Red Sox on three hits as the Chicago White Sox opened with a 1-0 victory, but Boston retaliated with an 11-7 conquest in the second.

Bobby Riggs Wins National Tennis Crown

By GAYLE TALBOT
FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 18 (AP)—Bobby Riggs, the Chicago minister's son, finally has won the national men's tennis championship and made good a promise to himself of this year's standing.

He reached his goal late yesterday by knocking the spoils from young Wiley Van Horn of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4, in 58 minutes.

Now all Bobby needs is somebody to beat him to do with the latest bauble of tennisdom.

Bobby came East three years ago with the avowed purpose of winning the championship, eventually, and cashing in on it.

That time, the professional business looked very good. Ellsworth Vines, Fred Perry and Bill Tilden were making all kinds of money. But that was before they made the monumental mistake of inviting Donald Budge to join up with them.

Don, as everybody knows, put entirely too much amateur spirit into his battles with Vines and Perry last winter. He beat the socks off both of them, and the didn't do the professional touring business any good.

One fears there will be no popular demand for Riggs to turn professional and tie into Budge, for everyone has a pretty good idea what would happen to Bobby.

Bobby said last night he probably would continue to play as an amateur two more years.

Alice Marble of Beverly Hills, won the women's title for the third time, by defeating permanent possession of the gaudy trophy by defeating Helen Jacobs, 6-0, 8-10, 6-4, in their final struggle.

Alice proved herself an able torch songstress in one of this city's hottest night spots last winter. There is a report the current she has signed a $50,000 contract to sing on the radio.

Top Wrestlers To Be In Battle Royal Tonight

Tonight's night. Yep, tonight's the night of the big battle royal at the Pampa Athletic arena when six stalwart matlers crawl through the ropes at the same time and then try to tear each other apart for the right to meet in a main event match to follow the battle.

The big battle will be called to order at 8:30 o'clock sharp with no increase in admission, reserve seats being 65 cents, tax included, general admission for men 40 cents, and general admission for women and children, under 12, being 10 cents.

Going together in the battle royal will be Otto von Ludwig, Don Carver, Ray Clements, The Red Shadow, Billy McEwin and Charlie Carr.

The first two matlers to bite the canvas will meet in a preliminary to follow the battle royal. The second pair to succumb will be semi-finalists. The two ruling the roost will come back in a main event.

In a battle royal the matlers can pick on one or two of the six or they can pair off against each other in teams or just any way.

Seventh man in the ring tonight will be Alfie (Dutch) Mantel of Amarillo who is always worth the price of admission.

The Dutchman said he'd slap the daylight out of the guy who didn't obey the rules. "Yes, and I can do it," remarked Dutch.

New Laws To Be Effective On Wednesday

AUSTIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—Nearly two-score new laws, some drastic, some merely revisions of old statutes, become effective in Texas next Wednesday.

Intended to protect John C. Chiles, in overall as well as white collar, the laws are the final batch of hundreds born of the longest session of the Legislature in history. The lawmakers specified this group should be enforced 90 days after the session adjourned.

On Sept. 20: A new board and machinery in the general land office will handle state land sales and vacancy claims of major importance in Texas' huge oil industry.

Counties will be remitted one-half of state property taxes assessed after that date.

Hot check artists will face severe penalties.

Taxpayers will benefit by discounts for early payment of state taxes.

Fruit and vegetable planting seeds may be imported into the state.

Stealing or destroying of timber will become a felony.

Mutual life insurance companies will be subject to examination and attorneys will file duplicate copies of pleadings and numerous other legal procedural changes will take effect.

Other statutes prohibit the forgery of archeological objects, establish a procedure for municipal bankruptcies under federal laws, enlarge powers of Morris Plan banks, revise optometry laws, exempt certain types of boilers from inspection and provide a 10 per cent preference to war veterans in state government employment.

State lands were taken off the market by the Legislature in February and a new statute governing leasing of vacancies in agricultural lands will be effective.

Schools to benefit for bona-fide occupants on agricultural lands who have lived on the good faith and the belief it was theirs, a filing fee of $100, instead of $1, for applicants claiming unimproved state land belonging to the public school fund, and authorization to a new board to sell such excess acreage in patented surveys to owners or bona-fide holders for not less than $3 an acre.

Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, member of the new board with Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, and Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, estimated the permanent school fund would benefit possibly $4,000,000 annually from the new law, designed to prevent "vacancy racketeering."

Approved despite strong opposition, the tax remission statute, effective five years, was estimated to lose $5,000,000 a year revenue for the state general fund, already nearly $30,000,000 in the red.

The new hot check law, applying only to those giving worthless checks with intent to defraud, places the burden of proof on the person accused and levies a stiff fine on merchants who, having filed a complaint, try to withdraw it or have it dismissed.

A three per cent discount will benefit persons paying state ad valorem taxes prior to 90 days before they become delinquent with two per cent applying on 60 days and one per cent on 30 days.

Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald will be empowered to prevent infested citrus fruit and potato seeds of all kinds crossing the state line into Texas.

Army Air Corps Enlistments Now Open At Amarillo

AMARILLO, Sept. 18.—Enlistments in the United States Army Air Corps are now being made at the recruiting station here. Accepted applicants are forwarded at once to March Field, Calif., with all expenses paid by the government. They are eligible for this choice assignment if applicants must be able to produce a high school diploma.

Full Pardons Given Innocent Convicts

AUSTIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—I. L. Southard and O. L. Mathis who served parts of penitentiary sentences for conviction of a crime which a third person later confessed have received full pardons and restorations of citizenship.

Southard was assessed a 50-year sentence and Mathis a 30-year term for conviction in Cass county of robbing an Atlanta, Tex., bank. They were eventually released by Governor James V. Alford in 1938 when Charlie Chapman, shot and wounded during a second robbery of the bank, confessed to the first robbery.

Gov. Alford said their was a serious question as to the guilt of the two men. Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel authorized the full pardons on the strength of the board's recommendation.

Stalemate On West Front Seems Likely

By EDWARD E. BOMAR, Associated Press Staff Writer.

"All's quiet on the western front," for the time being regarding French attacks and German counterthrusts.

Unless professional military men misinterpret completely signs they consider significant, the fighting yesterday and earlier represents a mere prelude to a major drive which will not come before spring—if then.

There is a belief the French, British and German legions in effect will go into winter quarters in the Maginot and Siegfried lines by the end of November.

What takes place elsewhere in the meantime, may well have a positive bearing on the outcome of the European war, such possible events as the complete subjugation of Poland and its partition or absorption, the entrance of Italy, Russia or other nations into the conflict or Nazi withdrawal to both positions.

By World War standards, a successful allied breakthrough at this season would be highly unusual because winter would hamper attempts to exploit the success. A costly failure would obviously be extremely damaging to the French-British cause at the start of a long war.

A temporary stalemate would fit snugly into Nazi strategy as it has been unfolded thus far. Lacking the trained reserves of France, Germany would have months during the winter in which to train youths back of the lines for a war of mass attack or attrition.

This was the course Imperial Germany followed in the winter of 1917-18 and with the arrival of spring the Kaiser's generals launched an overwhelming offensive which all but destroyed the British fifth army.

The latest available official information indicates that Germany has compared with 5,900,000 for France, aside from the reserves, both nations had under arms prior to the general mobilization this summer.

Britain Needs Time. Even more than Germany, Great Britain needs time for intensive schooling of troops in mass warfare, before the first limited campaign went into effect last spring. England was credited with only about 500,000 regulars and reserves, and even less trained soldiers in the rest of the empire.

It might be the better part of valor for French troops, with the onset of winter, to give up ground already won and withdraw to both security of the Maginot line and conserve their strength. Gains already made in the no man's land between that line and the imposing German west wall followed in the winter of 1917-18 and with the arrival of spring the Kaiser's generals launched an overwhelming offensive which all but destroyed the British fifth army.

European conflict directly, but in his plea for strong national defense measures, he said no one could tell when a madman might rise to great power, nor what he would do when he got there.

Rayburn And Garner Leave For Capital

DALLAS, Sept. 18 (AP)—Two key figures in the called session of Congress, Vice President John N. Garner and Congressman Sam P. Rayburn, left for Washington today.

Garner, accompanied by Mrs. Garner, moved from his Texas home to San Antonio yesterday thence by rail to the capital. As usual, he declined comment on national affairs.

Rayburn, house majority leader, made the last of several addresses in Texas last night at a Constitution Day celebration here where he declared in favor of amending the present neutrality law.

He pledged every effort to keep this session out of war.

SERIAL STORY

WORKING WIVES

BY LOUISE HOLMES
COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday Dan's wedding anniversary "speech" strikes deep at Marian, she says. She explains that she let Bill care the living, provide for his family. Her story of their struggle to make ends meet, she goes to Dan, asks him to dance with her.

CHAPTER XIII

DAN put his arm around Marian and they sidestepped past Randy and Dolly, Randy flattening himself against the wall. Still held by Amy Ellen's story, Marian crowded close to Dan.

"I like to dance with you, Dan," "Me, too," he said indifferently. "How do you think Carma is going over with Randy? Seems to me he's paying a lot of attention to Dolly."

Marian glanced into the living room. Bill had challenged Carma to a game of pinocle. Amy Ellen was sitting on the arm of Bill's chair, vastly interested.

"Dan," Marian said, "shouldn't we be a little bit sentimental on our 12th wedding anniversary?" "I dunno—should we?" he asked blankly.

His indifference piqued her. The fireless which she had noticed so much of late was creeping over her and with it came irritability.

"At least you can pretend to care for me when people are looking."

"Why?"

"Dan, you're impossible tonight. Just what did you mean by your speech at dinner?"

"Nothing. I wasn't prepared."

"Well, I think it was very poor taste to air our difficulties to the world."

"I didn't know we had any difficulties. Guess we're just about as happy as the average couple." He was deliberate in coming to that point.

She was ready to cry with impotent rage. "I wish we'd never had this party. You didn't have to stand up and make fun of me. I know I work. I know I haven't been satisfied to be a drudge on—"

He stopped abruptly that she stumbled. "Let's not go into that tonight," he said gruffly. Leaving her, he went to Amy Ellen. "How about stepping off a few measures with the old maestro?" he asked lightly.

The party continued until after 12. To the guests it appeared to have been a most successful entertainment. They had sat in a circle on the floor, playing nonsensical games of Randy's devising. They had laughed at anything and nothing during the party. They prepared to leave with reluctance.

"Hello—oh, hello—no, I was talking to Marian and Dan—oh, I see." Right there a soft, excited giggle. "Of course I would have been here in the morning—what?"

And, after a short silence, "I think so—I think I'd love it. Um—um—um—all right."

Dolly came slowly back to the Harkness door. Her eyes were as round as a child's, she looked slightly breathless. "You wouldn't believe it?" she gasped faintly.

"Believe what?" Dan and Marian asked in a chorus.

"That was Randy Means."

DAN swung around on his footstool. Tired as she was, Marian sat up.

"Randy Means—" they both exclaimed, laughing at the oneness of their speech.

Dolly did not laugh, she looked utterly bewildered.

"Where was he?" Marian asked. "He just left here with Carma."

"He was in a drug store—Carma was out in his car."

"Great guns," Dan roared. "Couldn't he wait until tomorrow?"

"That's what I asked him," Dolly blushed a deeper hue. "He said he could get glamor girls at a dollar a gross, but—"

"What else did he say?" Dan wanted to know, greatly amused.

"Well—he asked me to have dinner with him tomorrow night."

Marian was overcome. Shoddy, unpretentious little Dolly—Randy Means, one of the most eligible bachelors in town.

Marian found words. "But—what'll you wear? He'll take you to some swanky place."

Again color flooded Dolly's round cheeks. "He asked me to wear this." She looked down on her pink gown. "He said he was allergic to Paris finery."

"I give up," Marian groaned, falling back on the pillows.

What was it all about? Women strove for luxuries and beauty, they bartered every normal instinct for material things. And what did they get in return? Husks, nothing else. Transversely, simple, easily satisfied persons like Dolly, women who neither knew how to dress or walk or talk elegantly, inherited the earth. A depression, compounded of envy and hate and utter disillusionment swept over Marian. But she had Dan—Carma had told her to hold on to Dan.

She said, "Dan—"

He did not answer. She heard him moving about the bedroom.

evening had been a nightmare of weariness and forced gaiety. Her face felt stiff and drawn, her eyes seemed to have sunk into her head, her hands shook with fatigue. She went to the bedroom with the girls.

Amy Ellen kissed her. "I've had a grand time, Marian. Old friends are the best," she said lovingly.

Carma still glittered, but she had been more like herself, joining in the fun and helping it along. As Amy Ellen left the bedroom she said, "I missed the boat when I let Pete get away and don't think I don't know it. I want a home and a husband and I don't care if the home has a tight roof or not."

"Mean, I wouldn't care if Pete were in the house," she said.

Marian asked, "Do you like Randy?"

Carma shrugged. "Yes, I do—but he can't see me."

"He's taking you home—I heard him ask you."

"Oh, yes, but that means nothing. I haven't got what it takes any more." The glitter in her eyes was suddenly tears. "When a woman loses the man she loves, it does something to her, Marian. She loses something that has made her desirable to other men. Perhaps it's her own awareness of not being wanted—oh, I'm a silly fool."

Marian gazed at Carma silently, feeling her hurt. Carma put a gloved hand on her arm. Moving, her trappings jingled. "If a woman has a man to love her, she's just plain lucky. You have Dan—you don't know—you have no idea—" She left the room, painted smile, jingling baubles, costly Parisian clothes.

DOLLY stayed a few minutes to talk things over. She sat down in a big chair, one foot curled under her, the honey of her hair a splash against the dark upholstery. Marian went to the bedroom, slid out of her clothes, and returned in a velvet robe and broad-clothed slippers. Snapping off all the lights except one lamp, she dropped wearily to theavenport. Dan sat on a footstool in the pale circle of light from the lamp.

"Uh-huh," Dan agreed absently.

"You never know when you have a mixed crowd like that. It might have been a flop just as easy."

At the tinkle of a bell across the hall, Dolly jumped to her feet. "Who can be calling me at this hour?" She left both doors open and they distinctly heard the one-sided conversation.

"Hello—oh, hello—no, I was

Senator Clark Opposes Repeal Of Arms Embargo

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—Senator Clark (D-Mo.) asserted today the issue in the impending congressional struggle over repealing the arms embargo was whether this country wanted to take sides in the European war.

"Those who favor the course of taking sides and fighting should naturally vote for the repeal of the arms embargo as a step in that direction," he said in a statement. "Those who favor keeping out of the war should vote for the retention of our present safeguards and the addition of any others that may be necessary."

The Missouri senator's statement was regarded as a further laying the groundwork for the fight to be conducted by himself, Senators Borah (R-Idaho) and others at the special session opening Thursday against President Roosevelt's efforts to win repeal of the arms embargo.

While advocates of repealing the arms embargo have, for the most part, remained silent, the Clark-Borah-Nye bloc has been actively organizing for the struggle.

"But for the necessity of calling Congress, we would already have gone very far in the direction of government by decree," Clark's statement added.

"Already remarkable things have taken place. Already by what authority of law it is not clear—a war resources board has been set up with its dominant personnel closely affiliated with J. P. Morgan and company (New York Banking House) to seize control of all the resources of the country.

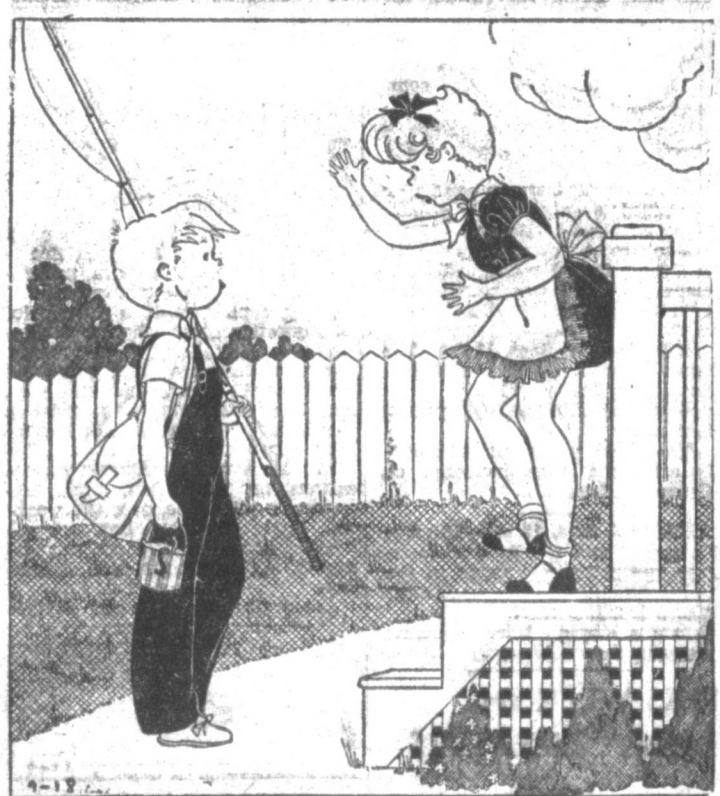

At the capitol, legislators who have arrayed themselves on opposing sides of the neutrality question were unanimous in their praise of the appeal of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, over the radio, that the country stay out of Europe's wars.

Sen. Borah obviously was elated. Senator Hayden, an advocate of repeal of the embargo, said Lindbergh had sounded what was an almost universal sentiment of the American people—that this country should not become involved in war.

"But I did not take it," he said, "that Colonel Lindbergh was suggesting how we keep out of war and that seems to me the big question."
