The new bill carries out President Roosevelt's recommendation for repeal of the arms embargo but provides powerful congressional checks on executive discretion.

Members said there was no objection to Borah's request for delay. It was expected that the legislation would be reported to the Senate by the end of this week.

Borah told reporters he thought the issue before the Foreign Relations committee "boils down to two points—whether the arms embargo should be repealed and how much discretion should be allowed the President in administering the law."

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, expressed hope that the committee would send the legislation to the Senate floor by next Monday.

There is no disposition on the part of anyone, so far as I can see, to delay consideration of the question except for the purpose of studying the bill," Barkley said.

Asked for his opinion as to how many votes for the bill there were in the committee, and how many simply for repeal of the embargo, Barkley said he thought the administration measure would get more votes than a proposal limited to repeal.

Senator Connally (D., Texas), a committee member, said in a statement.

The little girl was playing on the "monkey walker" when she let go with one hand. She fell with one arm under her. She was taken to Worley hospital in an ambulance.

LIFE OR DEATH FOR THIS WOMAN ACCUSED OF SNIPING? AIR RAID HORRORS IN THESE BOYS' FACES

Sitting in judgement on an accused woman sniper, this German court martial, according to German censors, seeks to determine whether Balya Gelblung is a scoldier or a civilian sniper.

On these youthful faces is written the meaning of war as civilians as they watch a Nazi bombing fleet fly over Warsaw at the completion of a raid. In the group, a wounded boy clings to the only real thing that seems left—his dog.

1,000 Civilians Killed In New Bombardment Of Bloody Warsaw

By ROBERT ST. JOHN. BUDAPEST, Sept. 25 (AP)—Warsaw's radio staff, for days the Polish capital's last link with the outside world, stood by its microphones again last night to describe a new German bombardment announcers said had killed more than 1,000 civilians.

Neither continued shelling nor interference from German stations has been able to silence the broadcasters, who rapidly are assuming a legendary character in the minds of Polish refugees.

Apparently ignoring personal danger, announcers continued to hurl charges at the besieging Nazis and give encouragement to the city's civilian population.

Despite silence today from the Warsaw radio, a German broadcast in Polish acknowledged the besieged city still was resisting.

The announcer praised the "bravery" of Polish captives' defenders, but said it was "futile" for them to hold out longer and appealed directly to them to surrender.

From their little studio high up in a modern skyscraper in the heart of the shell-scarred capital, the radio staff chronicled in calm, unburied voices an hour-by-hour story of Warsaw's defense.

French Bombard Main Forts Of Siegfried

PARIS, Sept. 25 (AP)—French troops struck at German positions in the Hardt mountains today under cover of heavy fire by artillery which French dispatches said was bombarding main fortifications of Germany's Siegfried line.

The entire western front sprang to life. Military advisers said shells screamed across the Rhine for the first time since the first two days of the war.

French troops were hitting at a Hardt mountain road which winds through some of the most rugged terrain of the western front. A continuation of the Vosges range, the Hards is a 20-mile sector between the German town of Pirmasens and French Wissembourg.

Apparently the French believed they had found a weak spot in Germany's fortifications where they had depended on rugged country as a protection.

Heavy French batteries, the dispatches said, were dropping large caliber shells on the west wall casemates in an effort to blast German defenders from their positions in the heavily fortified zone.

German guns replied to the bombardment. It was said, but the French declared the Nazi artillery was falling to make direct hits on advance French positions.

Most of the artillery action was reported centered south of the German town of Saarbuercken and along the Lauter river, where the Maginot and Siegfried lines are closest.

Dispatches said Sunday night was comparatively quiet along the entire front as the Germans failed to renew assaults they had been launching during the past few days with small bodies of troops between the Rhine and Moselle rivers.

Earlier, the French, taking advantage of the lull in German thrusts, it was said, assumed the initiative at several points to consolidate positions and thwart Nazi preparations for new attacks.

Hill Says W. Lee Will Be Forced To Call Session

AUSTIN, Sept. 25. (AP)—Charging Governor W. Lee O'Daniel with shedding "crocodile tears" over the old folks, Senator Joe Hill of Henderson declared in a statement today the executive would be forced to call a special session of the Legislature to provide new revenue for old age pensions.

Hill was answering a radio talk Sunday by O'Daniel in which the governor charged "professional politicians" and "propagandized" newspapers were responsible for failure of the Legislature in its regular session to finance pensions adequately.

In another statement, Rep. Abe Mays of Atlanta also criticized the governor.

In his talk Governor O'Daniel deplored the necessity for the Public Welfare board's action last week in slashing the amount of pension checks and disclaimed any responsibility.

Hill said he would sacrifice his personal convictions and answer the governor further in a radio address (WBAP) October 8. He declared he would point out the "utter inconsistency" position of the governor.

"We are going to force him to call a special session," Hill said. "He sheds crocodile tears over the old folks. He had the votes in the last session to pass a tax measure. Those men voted for a sales tax."

Chinese Claim New Jap Drive Halted

SHANGHAI, Sept. 25. (AP)—Chinese, reporting they have nearly 1,000,000 men in the field, declared today they had balked Japanese efforts to coordinate a new major offensive in China's interior.

While Europe was occupied with its war, Japan apparently sought to strike a major blow in her 26-month-old conflict with China. The Japanese army reported its troops were within 50 miles of Changsha, in Hunan province, South Central China, after a thrust down the Canton-Hankow railway.

Pampa Kiwanians Present Program At Amarillo Today

SHANGHAI, Sept. 25. (AP)—Chinese, reporting they have nearly 1,000,000 men in the field, declared today they had balked Japanese efforts to coordinate a new major offensive in China's interior.

While Europe was occupied with its war, Japan apparently sought to strike a major blow in her 26-month-old conflict with China. The Japanese army reported its troops were within 50 miles of Changsha, in Hunan province, South Central China, after a thrust down the Canton-Hankow railway.

Chinese authorities, however, declared their forces had prevented coordinated air, land and naval attacks from developing into a major drive from the Yangtze river southward toward Changsha, objective of a Japanese drive since Tokyo reached a truce with Russia regarding the Manchoukuo frontier.

A Chinese army report said the Japanese had been repulsed at a point 60 miles north of Changsha with the loss of 30 landing boats and many men.

Direct Hits On Plant Reported

ROMANSHORN, Switzerland, Sept. 25 (AP)—One of Germany's main airplane motor factories was reported today to have been put out of action by bombs from French or British planes staging a raid on the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen, Germany, last night.

The first alarm in the Friedrichshafen area—five miles across Lake Constance from here—started searchlights sweeping the skies at 8:15 p. m. (1:15 p. m. CST) and a number of anti-aircraft batteries on the German side opened fire. Explosions of a few bombs could be heard here.

The main part of the raid apparently came when a second alarm was sounded at 11 p. m. Military observers on the Swiss side, judging by the dull roars heard here, estimated at least 30 bombs were dropped by the raiders despite heavy anti-aircraft fire, which included tracer bullets.

Reports reaching here said several direct hits on the factory were scored, but because the border was closed these could not be confirmed.

Thousands Of French Clash With Germans

BASEL, Switzerland, Sept. 25 (AP)—Thousands of French soldiers, backed by tanks and complete offensive equipment, clashed over what dispatches said was heavy fighting along a 40-mile jagged line in the heart of the western front.

Reports reaching this frontier city said the engagement was the result of a series of French attacks from the Saar basin to the Vosges mountains.

It still was too early, however, to judge from reports whether the fighting was the beginning of a French offensive, or merely a concentrated effort to recapture positions which, it was said, German counterattacks wrested from the Poles in the past week.

Over the week-end, reports said, fully-coordinated French and British aviation corps succeeded in forcing to keep German airmen out of French-occupied territory for 48 hours at all costs.

Observers here said they believed the order was given to cover extensive movements of troops and equipment from the French Maginot line bases to the front between the industrial city of Saarbruecken and Wissembourg.

The French were said to have struck straight between two areas where reported German attacks were frequent Saturday night and yesterday morning—the Saar and the Lauter river area near the Rhine river.

German attacks south of Saarbruecken apparently subsided yesterday morning, but German pressure was declared to be continuing on the Wissembourg-Lauterbourg line.

Even before the reported French attacks began in the central zone, there were a few points where they could challenge the main forts of Germany's Siegfried line.

Desperado Arrested After Texas Holdup. HOUSTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—Jimmie Stringer, 28, of Jasper, accused of disarming a deputy armed States marshal at Marlin Thursday and escaping in his automobile, was arrested here today after a filling station holdup.

Patrolman George Lingenfeiler said Stringer admitted the escape, which occurred while Deputy Marshal Henry Barton was taking him to the Marlin jail. He had been charged with transporting a stolen automobile from Beaumont to Oklahoma City and another from Oklahoma City to Waco.

A robbery by firearms charge was filed against Stringer here this morning. He was captured after jumping from an automobile and hiding under a house.

In the dash compartment of the automobile used by Stringer, was this note: "This car belongs to H. T. Barton, Marlin, Texas. Please return to same. (Signed) The man who took it."

Also in the car was found a badge bearing the legend: "Deputy U. S. Marshal Henry Barton."

Stringer said Barton had taken him and another prisoner, J. F. Banks, from Waco to Marlin Thursday.

"We were all in the car in front of the Marlin jail when I grabbed Mr. Barton's pistol and ordered him to drive out of town," said Stringer. "I directed him to Sabin and near there forced him to take off my handcuffs. I left the officer and Banks there. Banks wouldn't go with me."

Rebbed Of Pants. DALLAS, Sept. 25 (AP)—A resident of Rockwall came to town today, had a few convivial drinks, and lay down in a vacant lot to sleep it off.

He awakened in the nude. "I've been rebbed!" he explained.

Panhandle Towns Win Gas Rate Reduction

AUSTIN, Sept. 25. (AP)—The Railroad commission scored a victory today in its long fight to force the Public Service corporation to accept a gas rate of 27 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for natural gas distributed by it.

The company owns and operates the gas distributing systems in the Texas Panhandle towns of Canadian, Booker, Ferryton, Wakar, Farnsworth, Glazier and Higgins.

Pampan Burned In Automobile Fire

Quick-thinking probably saved Joe Elliott from suffering severe burns when his car caught fire in front of the Duackel-Carmichael Funeral home on North West street at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Elliott beat the flames out with his hands which were painfully burned.

Mr. Elliott was working on a clouded gas line when the fire started. The engine soon became enveloped in flames and the fire department was called. Before the truck arrived, however, funeral home employees extinguished the blaze with a fire extinguisher.

Mr. Elliott was treated for burns and then taken to his home.

Girl's Arm Broken On School Grounds

Patty Huddleston, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huddleston, 701 North Faulkner street, suffered a broken arm when she fell while playing on the Horace Mann school grounds at this morning's recess period.

The little girl was playing on the "monkey walker" when she let go with one hand. She fell with one arm under her. She was taken to Worley hospital in an ambulance.

Borah Given Neutrality Action Delay

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations committee delayed action until Thursday today on the administration's new neutrality legislation.

The delay was agreed to at the request of Senator Borah (R., Idaho), ranking minority committee member, and opponent of President Roosevelt's proposal to repeal the existing arms embargo.

A draft of the administration measure, written over the weekend by committee Democrats, was submitted by Chairman Pittman (D., Nev.) when the group met this morning.

Booth said opposition forces had no disposition to lock the bill up in committee, but added: "I have always had a prejudice against voting on a bill before I have read it."

Members said there was no objection to Borah's request for delay. It was expected that the legislation would be reported to the Senate by the end of this week.

Borah told reporters he thought the issue before the Foreign Relations committee "boils down to two points—whether the arms embargo should be repealed and how much discretion should be allowed the President in administering the law."

Sone Talks of Need for New Building

Awards were given to members of last year's choral and band organizations by Miss Helen Martin, supervisor of public school music in the Pampa schools, and A. C. Cox, band director, in assembly last Wednesday afternoon. Superintendent L. L. Sone spoke to the group on the need of a new high school building, and on the care students give the building.

Mr. Sone stressed the crowded conditions in the high school. "Something must be done to relieve the pressure," he said. New Building Discussed According to Mr. Sone, a splendid building can be built for approximately two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. In addition to these comments he urged closer contact between students and teachers and invited both to visit his office at any time. Here's A Toast!
To you students who are gracing the stately halls of P. H. S. for the first time—the old timers—(not life-timers, mind you) offer this toast.

Now, don't get the wrong idea; this toast is to those who have buffered the storm of crushing humanity into the humble dust of the hall and said, "So what?" and then made some biting remark when their own toes were done the same way, we say, "Life is full of hard knocks. If you don't get your share you are lucky and what's more you try and your place is on a throne with a halo and not in the halls of our beloved and stately edifice, better known as P. H. S."

For he is indeed an aristocrat.
Blessed is he who has no mashed toes.
For he must have little feet."

Foundner's Lament
Her burning, red-framed eyes were picturing want, her lips were cracked and dry, her blackened tongue dangled from her parched and smoldering mouth. It was a drinking fountain on the second floor describing a girl approaching him.

"She swooped down upon me, turned the knob (which slipped and refused to produce a drop of liquid), and then she turned to my brother, with her tongue drooping on her chin. He, too, was old (old enough to draw an old-age pension) and could not force that delicious colorless matter over a fourth of an inch above his top. No matter how hard he tried, weeping, she turned away—no water before this class!

"Another girl, in a gym suit and carrying a tennis racket, came next. She tried me first, then my brother, neither giving forth that which she sought. She opened her mouth above me and disclosed, dry, crumbling tennis, returning to their spongy origin. I wept a drop down my chromium-plated side. I know she would have lapped it up, but germs surrounded me.

"O, weep, weep and weep! I am a failure after 19 years of service (who wouldn't be). Imagine—service (who wouldn't be). Imagine—service (who wouldn't be). Imagine—service (who wouldn't be)."

Can We Beat Them, Boys?

Sagebrush

By The Sage

This is the Sage returning from the riddle of affairs—it is now 2nd down and 25 to go. Check signals and reopen this column of "no-sense." This famous oracle of "know-nothing land" is here again to let you in on the latest gossip.

As the wheels turn, the Sage sees that the shuffle board is quite a popular sport with the boys. They are playing it in physical education classes.

Wanted to trade! A case of ultra-hay fever for a mild case of anything milder. See Harry Helley! He has something like this to say about his nose.

It doesn't breathe.
It doesn't smell.

So very well.

I am discouraged.
With my nose.
The only thing it
Does is blow.

Cecil Branscum has missed his calling. To see him strut at band marching practice one would think that he should be head drum major.

From other sources we find—
"A girl often speaks without thinking, but never thinks before speaking."
"A large variety of the girls aren't as dumb as they look—they could not be."

Band students have been heard remarking that the new chairs are quite comfortable. In fact, too comfortable. Some of the band students have developed a habit of sleeping between numbers.

Band, Pep Squad, A Cappella Choir

Noel, and "Zee-teen" by Genaro Godina, and the pep squad gave three yells. The choir sang two negro spirituals, "Climbin' Up the Mountain" and "Oh Susanna" by Foster.

After the pep squad gave another yell, the band and the pep squad ended the program with "Dear Old Pampa High School." The program lasted 30 minutes.

Eleven post graduates have matriculated in Pampa High School. General courses taken by these students are shorthand, typing, second-year algebra, journalism and French.

Lambrech First Speaker Before Sociology Class

Captain Herman Lambrecht of the Salvation Army spoke to the sociology class Tuesday morning on sociological problems in Pampa. Captain Lambrecht made his speech more vital to the students by giving accounts of actual happenings in Pampa, using fictitious characters so as not to reveal names. Mrs. Hol Wagner, instructor of sociology.

The speaker gave such examples as these: The broken home is largely the cause of juvenile delinquency. Unemployment is the cause of people in need. Lack of emphasis on health causes many sociological problems. Among diseases tuberculosis and heart trouble have caused most of the deaths around Pampa. Injuries from accidents result in many sociological problems in the oil fields. The speaker also pointed out in this community—that of dismissing men after they reach the age of 45—has also resulted in welfare problems.

Captain Lambrecht also talked on the works of the newly-organized social welfare department. He also stressed the fact that not all the problems were with the poor.

The sociology class has planned to have a speaker every week, one who is engaged in sociological work. Captain Lambrecht, in a complete work. Captain Lambrecht, in a complete work.

Each student in class will choose some particular sociological problem of study for the semester. Some of the subjects from which they will choose are: juvenile delinquency, treatment of prisoners, child labor, the mentally disabled and physically disabled, labor problems, migratory workers, marriage and divorce, youth movements, the use of leisure time, effects of war, and the liquor problem.

Finkbeiner Makes Two Years In One In College Work

Gene Finkbeiner, former Pampa High school student who was valedictorian in 1928, attained two years of work in music in one year last winter at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, New York. Mrs. William Finkbeiner, Gene's mother, said.

"For this accomplishment, Gene was awarded a scholarship which will begin Wednesday," she stated. "He went back early to visit the New York World's Fair before school reopens."

Due to a supposed lack of eligibility Gene was at first confronted with difficulty when trying to enter the Eastman School of Music, but was given an audition and immediately admitted. Mrs. Finkbeiner declared.

"Gene has worked very hard, enjoys music and schooling immensely, and is working on his Bachelor of Music degree now," she remarked. "The Eastman School of Music is affiliated with the University of Rochester."

Classes Experiment With Nuchol's Plan

Experiment is being made by B. E. Nuckols, instructor of mathematics, assisted by E. W. Cabe, supervisor of instruction, in two algebra classes to determine the more effective plan of training which includes regular class along with daily arithmetic drills of regular class activity without the drills. Tests will be given before the experiment to record the score of attainment in each class. After the experiment is completed a final test will be given to determine which of the plans is working more successfully.

Juniors, Seniors Active As Office Library Helpers

Twenty-three juniors and seniors now spend one period each day working as student assistants in either the library, the attendance office or the registrar's office. This work takes the place of physical education and yields one-fourth credit yearly. The requirements are good grades and a junior or senior standing.

Harvester Band Marches At Fair

The Pampa Harvester band made their first appearance in the Pampa uniforms Friday at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo.

Leaving by bus at 4:30 in the afternoon, the band arrived in Amarillo shortly before 5:45 o'clock and met at Forest Hill school with other Pampa bands attending the fair. There a delegation from Amarillo met the Pampa group and conducted them downtown where a parade was held.

After the parade the band members were guests for supper at Mr. Fraser's dining room in the Ross Hotel. Immediately after the free supper provided by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, the band went to the fair grounds where a short concert was played before they attended the night show, "Stars on Parade."

The band returned about midnight. Bus drivers making the trip were Frank Holts and Joe Brown.

Harvesters Play First Home Game With Central High

In their first home game of the season, the Harvesters will play the Central High school team of Oklahoma City at Harvester park, Tuesday, September 26.

Central High was champion of Oklahoma City and was generally regarded as the state champions. A large number of the players from last year's squad are back for this year.

So far, the Oklahoma team has a clear slate, having won one and lost none.

The Central High team has the flashiest uniforms in Oklahoma, according to the Daily Oklahoman. They are solid silver.

A large crowd of backers from Oklahoma City is expected to follow the Central team here. In past years the games with this team have attracted large crowds in both cities.

N.Y.A. Employs Twenty Students

Twenty students of Pampa High school are employed by the N. Y. A., a national organization, which is supervised by Mrs. G. H. Alexander, school sponsor.

There have been 24 applicants for positions, and the majority of these are already working.

Three matches planned for this fall are with Canyon High school, Mitchell and Stennis won the Tri-State Tennis tournament this fall. Stennis reached the final's final, but lost because of a smashed finger.

Students Take Parts In Play

Two high school students, one teacher, two ex-students, and several Junior High students had parts in the firemen's play, "Mystery at Midnight," which was presented in the city auditorium last Thursday and Friday. Seven girls danced in the chorus.

Miss Evelyn Gregory, physical education teacher, played the part of "Mystery." The chorus was led by Betty Cree, who played Elvira Nosegay, an old maid who wanted a man and even fainted to get one.

Ex-students acting in the play were Bill Ketter, who played Ralph Norris, an eccentric fellow; and Jane Robinson, the newly-rich and haughty Mrs. Holloway.

Casper Defeats Harvesters 18-6

Although gaining practically as many yards as the Casper Mustangs, the Harvesters were defeated 18 to 6 at Casper, Wyoming, Friday night.

Pampa's only touchdown came in the fourth quarter when Grover Heiskell made a 32-yard run to place the ball on Casper's half. Carlisle plunged over from this point.

The Harvesters completed six passes out of 19 and two more were ruled complete because of interference by Casper players. Over 34 yards were gained by these eight completed passes.

The Mustangs led Pampa in ground gaining, 194 yards to 188, and made 12 first downs to Pampa's 9. Pampa was penalized four times for unnecessary roughness. Casper was penalized once for five yards.

Pete Dunaway and Grover Heiskell led the Pampa attack, according to the sports editor of the Casper paper.

Starting line up for Pampa was: Clemmons and Nichols, ends; Phillips and Candler, tackles; Pade and Giddens, guards; Maynard, center; Grover Heiskell, half back; Heiskell, Heiskell, quarter back; and Pete Dunaway, full back. Heiskell and Nichols are co-captains.

Four Occupation Students Will Get Work Soon

All but four members of the diversified occupations class have been placed. Harry Kelley, occupations coordinator, stated Thursday.

The four unoccupied students are expected to take over positions soon and there are jobs waiting for them, one in a shoe shop, two in machine shops and one in a floral shop.

Diversified occupations is for those students who think they will be unable to attend college. Mr. Kelley said. They attend occupational classes from eight to ten in the morning and from ten until noon they have regular classes that will help them in their field.

In the afternoon they work. The minimum week's work is 20 hours and the maximum is 25.

The diversified occupational class is not a government agency. It is strictly local.

Mr. Kelley also has some other jobs that students may have by coming at first office with references.

Two students have dropped from the class since school started and there are a few more openings in the group.

F.F.A. Boys Place In Fair Contests

The F. F. A. poultry team ranked fifth among the 16 teams participating in judging at the Amarillo Tri-State Fair. The team consists of Grant Rake, Wendell Stanley, and Leon Qualls. Grant Rake placed fifth and Wendell Stanley seventh as individual contestants.

The dairy cattle team, Bill Stockstill, Herndon Sloan and Thomas Gower placed eleventh among 22 teams. Bill West was the dairy cattle alternate while Donnie Stanley and "Marvel" Rake were alternate poultry judges.

A booth, with the theme of "Finishing Baby Beef Calves," placed ninth, although it received favorable criticism, according to J. E. Lester, sponsor. The background consisted of the F. F. A. banner and a picture of Bill Stockstill's calf he is now feeding.

On the platform was placed a calf self-feeder, a hay rack and examples of different feeds for calves.

Are You Guilty?

Mrs. Lou Roberts, with an urgent message, rushed to her office telephone to be greeted with these words: "And did you see who Mary was with last night?" No, these words weren't addressed to Mrs. Roberts; it was just a social call being carried on by one of the many students who make these little telephone chats a daily happening. Everyone appreciates these sweet nothings, whispered over the telephone, but it must be remembered: Business is business and there's a place for everything.

Eyes To The East—And To The South

War is reality. It is a fact, not a theory, once the guns begin to roll.

As war sweeps Europe, it presents the United States with a set of facts. They are facts not primarily of our making. Their roots go far back into the past, their immediate ancestry is in the World War, for which we had no responsibility. Our comparative reluctance since 1919 to join in movements aimed at a decent world order may throw on us some share of today's blame, but primarily a new war is not of our making.

One of the facts inevitably resulting from another widespread war in Europe is this: Germany is almost certain to be completely shut out of the South American market, both as buyer and seller, for the period of any war. Britain may buy there, but her sales are certain to fall, since she will not be able to fill orders. Italy's trade must also be adversely affected. Japan is already hurt-deep in the war in China.

This forces upon the United States an opportunity to be the provider of goods which South America can get nowhere else, or get only with difficulty. Such a war will literally drive the American nations in upon one another as nothing else could do.

The United States must prepare to accept this responsibility, and to make the most of this opportunity. It seems heartless to plan thus to profit by the misfortune of others. But there is no other way.

This challenge must be picked up promptly, and handled effectively. The airplane industry has already taken steps to supply the ships which Europe cannot spare. Builders of autos, tires, and many other products are preparing to meet the demands that are certain to come to them.

The situation must be met in a statesman-like manner. If it is frittered away in a mere orgy of quick profiteering, nothing will have been built for the future.

But if proper credits are extended liberally, if excellent goods are provided at fair prices, further reciprocal trade treaties made, and purchases in the South American market raised until the increased trade is not a one-way proposition, a foundation can be built for inter-American trade and co-operation that will be hard to shake in future.

One may well regret the circumstances which create a situation like this. But to refuse to meet this challenge would be unforgettably stupid.

When Europe returns to peace, if it ever does, the scramble for the favor of South and Central America will be resumed, probably with ruthless ferocity. Time and chance have given to the United States the opportunity to build in the Americas meanwhile a structure of mutual trust and interdependence that will be unshakable.

Sheer Nerve

Call it sheer nerve, cheek, or crust, whatever you will, the newest German move reported by the United Press certainly ought to win a Brass Cross for the fellow who thought it up.

It is simply this: In Belgium, the German consulate has posted a notice that doctors, engineers, and technicians "of German nationality regardless of race" are invited to come home to Germany.

This could mean nobody but the Jews, and it could mean nothing but that lack of their trained technical ability is now being felt by the country which so brutally and ruthlessly expelled them, and drove them as beggars into the world beyond its borders.

Needless to say, any Jewish technician lured back into Germany on any such grounds as the promise to repatriate him and restore his stolen property, would be too dumb to be of much help to Hitler or anybody else. Our guess is that there won't be many.

The Nation's Press

TWO LICKES FOR BRITAIN
 (Buffalo Courier Express)

Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harold L. Ickes are not the only gentlemen in public life who do not like the press; and their sympathetic fellow-statesmen are not all on this side of the Atlantic. Some members of the British House of Commons are displeased with the way in which London newspapers handle international stories. One bold M.P., Sir William Davison, Conservative—recently went so far as to suggest that Prime Minister Chamberlain should have a personal conference with the proprietors of newspapers of this country with a view to the elimination . . . of a great deal of what appears in the press which is not in the National interest.

British editors and publishers were prompt to seize Sir William Davison's suggestion as an opportunity to tell him and other members of Parliament to mind their own business. Gerald Barry, editor of the News Chronicle, asked: Who is to determine what is or what is not in the National interest? If the Government is to be arbiter, Mr. Barry added, "then plainly we have the beginning of the end of a free press."

Sidney Carroll, managing editor of the Daily Sketch observed: "We do not want to take our marching orders from the Government because the Government of the day might be turned out and another set up in its place with which we might be in complete disagreement. Once the principle was established, however, we would have no redress and would soon be in the same position as the newspapers in the totalitarian States."

And the Daily Express published this even sharper editorial comment: "How happy the public would be if its representatives in Parliament would mind their own business as well as they mind that of the newspapers."

We wonder what those quick-on-the-trigger London editors would say if the British Cabinet curtailed all news and all comment unfavorable to the Government in power. Our guess is that the Conservative, Liberal, Laborite and nonpartisan editors of Great Britain would gang up for the purpose of throwing a British lick on his ear.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life — — — By R. C. Hollis

THE MIGRATION PROBLEM

There is a very definite cause for the plight of the migrators to California. Anyone with any foresight could have told years ago that this problem would become especially acute in California.

This migration problem has been called to public attention by the "Grapes of Wrath." If the book has any merit at all, it is that it points out the difficulties facing migrants.

The trouble with the book, however, is that those who read it have no conception of the only remedy for the trouble. Invariably the readers are, like the author, determined to give more of the very thing that has caused the acute situation. There is one cause and one cause only. The condition can only be remedied by correcting this cause. In the United States, we do not want to prohibit people from seeking work in any state in the Union. To do so, would be discriminatory and would mean loss of liberty. The solution of the migratory problem is not barriers between states.

The reason migrants flock so strongly to California is simple. It is because the wages and the dole are so much higher in California, considering climate and living costs, than in most any other state in the Union. This naturally attracts all workers who do not have exceptionally good jobs in other states. It is true that occasionally this migratory labor is paid very low per hour, but as a whole the wages are much higher than in other states and when these migrants are out of work, the dole which they receive in California is very inviting to people from other states.

The only way to correct this influx of migration is to let wages and the dole take their natural course, climate and living costs considered. This may be cruel but it will not be cruel if all wages, labor union wages, wages of government employees, are put on a free market basis.

Sooner or later, we will have to return to an approach to a free market or have all labor regulated as to hours, work, kind of work, amount of work required and punishment for disobeying. Sooner or later, we will have to make up our mind which one of these two we want. We cannot permit indefinitely certain groups of workmen to monopolize certain lines of production and compel those 1 ft out, to take such a small and unfair share of the national production. A free market in the long run means a much higher wage for all. An artificial collective bargaining market for some and a free market for others is just a form of serfdom and slavery. The migratory problem must be solved sooner or later, or the dole resulting from a surplus of unskilled labor coming to this state will pull down the whole structure.

FREE RADIO TIME

I listened to a radio program the other night over a national hook-up. It was simply propaganda for the theory that wages can be raised by ship, or by law. It sold envy and hate and put the blame of unemployment on the employer. It never pointed out the fact that labor is now getting practically 85 per cent of the total production. It was insidious class hatred, one-sided propaganda, sponsored by the government.

I wrote to the Department of Labor to ascertain whether the government paid the radio station for the time. The following is the answer:

"In reply to your letter of September 2, 1939, regarding the broadcasts which the Department of Labor has been giving on the NBC network. I would say that no government department ever pays for time on the air. There is no Congressional appropriation of money for such a purpose. All the networks, however, are very generous in donating time for government use.

"Thanking you for your interest, very truly yours, Dorothy Donnell."

And there is a very good reason why the networks are very generous in donating time for government use.

They have to have their licenses renewed every six months, so the stations have to let the government say most anything they want to, in order to feel safer that their license will be renewed and they will not be discriminated against.

In any event, it is evident that if the government takes large amounts of time on the radio stations and does not directly pay for the time, profits of the radio station are reduced or the exchange of other commercial announcements that tend to educate the public and promote business are greatly retarded because of this time donated to the government. Any way you figure it, the worker pays the bill for the propaganda those in power see fit to inflict upon a suffering public.

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 25. — The first bomb tossed by a European war plane jarred the movie producer's feet from his desk and knocked the long ash from his cigar. He leaped forward and jabbed a buzzer button. A thin, prematurely gray young man popped in from a side door.

"George," snapped the producer, "I got a big war on my hands."

"Get me the sheets on the production budget for this season, and a blue pencil. Make it two blue pencils."

"Get New York on the phone. We gotta stop 'em from borrowing that million bucks to make 'Bustle Along.' Tell Horowitz to figure on leaving out all the big dance numbers because 'Bustle Along' is an intimate musical and mustn't cost a dime over three hundred grand."

"Call casting and tell Bloomie we won't be needing Helga Hassam for 'Pomp and Ceremony' on account of our war. We won't be making 'Pomp and Ceremony.' Say that if Helga hollers about having a contract to show her Clause 18, which is about acts of God and Hitler."

"Take a memo to Henry in the story department: 'Dear Henry: Tell all your writers to get those pencils out of their offices and to start writing. Or else.'"

"Take a memo to my Brother Moe and Cousin Joe: 'Dear Fellows: On account of the big war in Europe, Eplc Pictures will have to cut expenses to the bone. So you'd better take a vacation from whatever you are supposed to be doing and look around quick for some other business to get into.'"

First Crisis Worried Studios

During the European crisis last year, Hollywood poised its blue pencils for a slash of almost 50 per cent in production costs because it was anticipated that nearly all the theaters over there would be closed.

The war scare passed, but foreign markets began to close down anyway. Hitlerland and Italy ousted American films and most other countries imposed new quota restrictions on Hollywood. Even more frightening was a further slump in box office receipts in this country.

Bewildered executives began to look about closing down studios. For a few weeks almost no new top-budget pictures were started. But suddenly, American patrons began raising Cain about having to sit through two class B pictures on one program. Such protests proved that the fans still were interested, so producers regained some of their confidence and went to work again.

Behind The News Of The Day

By BRUCE CATTON
 Pampa News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—It has been assumed generally here that "the President has the votes" to get the changes he wants in the neutrality law.

That may be true today, but it is a wide-open question whether it will still be true when the matter comes to a showdown.

Members of the so-called isolationist bloc in the Senate are beginning to be optimistic about the chances for retaining the arms embargo. A few days ago they were anything but optimistic; now they profess to sense a definite turning in the tide.

One thing which encourages them is the tremendous flood of mail that has been pouring into congressional and senatorial offices from the folks back home. One Senate postoffice attaché says that it is even heavier than the flood which came in during the Supreme Court fight. It is strongly pro-embargo, and all but unanimously anti-war.

"PEACE BLOC" WILL BATTLE

The isolationist bloc is capitalizing on that latter fact. It is speaking of itself as the "peace bloc," for one thing; for another, it seeks to rally the peace sentiment behind it by insisting that the move to repeal the embargo is based on a desire to help England and France beat Hitler and hence is a step toward war.

It seems certain that this will not be a short session. In the first place, technically, the neutrality legislation is in the hands of the Senate foreign relations committee.

On that committee are such stout foes of modification as Borah, Johnson, Vandenberg, and LaFol-

The Harvesters' defeat in Casper would have been harder to take if the boys had not been treated so royally in the Wyoming city. The boys came back singing the praises of Casper hospitably . . . In an assembly program Friday, the Casper high school band played the Eyes of Texas, every other tune, having practiced diligently on it for a week. Then Co-Captains Nichols and Heistell made speeches, also Coach Mitchell. Coach Mitchell's speech was enlivened by Joe, his youngest son, who broke loose from his "convoy" and ran up on the stage and looked up at his puppy all the time Coach was making a speech . . . Then Friday night after the game, the Casper team gave a dance for the Pampa boys and got every boy on the team a date, including Bert Isbell and Billy Willy Moutins . . . And speaking of Bert, Coach Prejean and Bert were the leading participants in a bridge game all the way to Casper. Roland Phillips turned out to be the life of the party in the matter of evoking laughs . . . The Casper boys thought the Harvesters were rough and tough, but that opinion was due to accidents. Fade was ejected from the game after a collision resulted in a broken nose for a Casper player, and the officials considered putting Candler out of the game after another Casper boy lost some teeth . . . The Pampa boys thought the Wyoming rules were screwy. Players could talk immediately after going back into the game, and they could be substituted an unlimited time in the same quarter . . . The Harvesters were impressed with Casper's Reserve Officer Training Corps unit in the high school. All the boys wore uniforms. The Pampa boys, found out that the boys in the officers' uniforms had the edge at the dance . . .

In most wars disease always causes more deaths than gun powder or projectiles. Typhus, plague, cholera, typhoid, dysentery and influenza do far more damage than dynamite, torpedoes, and poison gas.

As one great biologist said, "Epidemics get the blame for defeat; generals get the credit for victory. It might be the other way around." Dr. Hans Zinsser of Harvard University has said that typhus and the louse won the World War.

Observers point out that the Persians under Xerxes were defeated in their invasion of Greece by an epidemic of plague and dysentery. Athens fell as the result of plague. In the Crusades there were great epidemics of scurvy, plague, smallpox, and other infections.

The French captured Prague in 1741 due to a typhus epidemic among the Austrian defenders. Napoleon's campaign in Russia failed because of typhoid, typhus, dysentery and pneumonia. Out of 500,000 French soldiers who invaded Russia in June, 1812, 400,000 were killed in battle, 20,000 returned home in December, and the remainder died of exposure and disease.

In the Mexican War, 1846-1847, over 100,000 American soldiers went to Mexico. Of these 10,986 died of typhoid fever, dysentery, smallpox, malaria and tropical diseases, while 1549 were killed or died of wounds.

In the Civil War the Union Army lost something over 200,000 men by disease and 112,000 approximately by battle wounds. In the Spanish-American war we lost 379 in battle and 4,795 from disease. Most of the deaths were among soldiers who never reached Cuba. In the camp in this country typhoid fever caused 20,904 cases of sickness and 2,188 deaths.

In the World War American troops had 58,119 deaths from disease, 50,385 deaths from battle wounds. By this time typhoid had been brought under control so that there were only 2,200 cases of typhoid fever with 200 deaths, in contrast to 20,904 cases of typhoid in the Spanish-American War and 2,188 deaths.

The great majority of deaths caused in the World War resulted from the epidemic of influenza which was virulent and which struck with a seriousness never before seen in that disease.

Now comes a definite prognostication by Dr. Thomas M. Rivers, leading authority on infectious diseases from the Rockefeller Institute, that another outbreak of influenza may well be expected in association with the present war. Epidemiologists throughout the world are inclined to accept this prediction because it is known that great epidemics of influenza sweep the world every 25 or 30 years.

Thus far reports from the various fronts do not indicate any great outbreaks of infectious disease. The time has been too short even for the incubation of some of the commoner infectious disorders.

WHO IS TEACHING YOUR CHILD?

27,000,000 boys and girls have now returned to public school. They are taught by 850,000 teachers. The buildings they occupy cost the taxpayers nearly $7 billion. Of this $3 billion is still owing. The annual cost of operating this vast plant, including the payment of teachers, is about $2 billion.

Since the days of Horace Mann our public school system has been one of the things of which we have been most proud. Under it, greater advantages, at greater cost, are given to more children than in any nation in the world. For example, for every 50 inhabitants we have registered in primary and high schools 12 children; Germany 8; Italy 8; Russia 7.

If you were living in Germany, the State would be your child's teacher. "Who has the youth holds the future of Germany." The State has the youth. That is basic. Without it the totalitarian state is unthinkable. Religious instruction has been taken from ecclesiastical authorities. There is racial discrimination. Science is no longer taught for the sake of science, but for the sake of the State and its Nazi doctrines. College professors are no longer responsible to their alma maters, but to the State, which is Hitler.

In Italy all teachers who refused to swear allegiance to the Fascist regime were discharged. This would be comparable, with us, to the hiring of only New Dealers. Teachers in all Italian schools, men and women, have been ordered to wear uniforms. The Sons of the Wolf is a semi-military organization for boys between 6 and 8 years of age. The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the Black Shirts. In Russia, illiteracy has been greatly reduced. But the more you can read, the greater the indoctrination of Communist ideology. "The materialist-international world outlook." In all these countries the child is the pawn of the State, which is the politicians in power. There is no such thing as objective Truth. Truth is what serves the State. The idea is that as we have factories to manufacture pins, let us have factories (schools) to manufacture opinions. Opinions or pins—what's the difference? Such is the brutal materialism which moulds the minds of the cantonry fodder of the new Caesars.

So They Say

A new danger confronts us at home. It is the drive for a huge increase in federal aid to education. When we see what is happening abroad where civilization totters on the will and whim of one man, we may well weigh the price. Can any alleged gains to the pupils in "backward" States compensate for the dangers inherent in this plan to the pupils of all States, and to the nation itself?

From the book, "Our Country, Our People and Theis," which I wish were in every school library in America, I quote: "Not being subject to national control, the American educational system is virtually free from the risk of domination by political objectives on a non-wide scale." Let us keep it so.

I am sorry to report that this drive for more billions is being supported by many of our teachers. They figure that they can get more money. Now it is admitted that many teachers are not paid enough. But on the whole our teachers have come through this long depression as well as any group in the country. Some interesting figures have just been released by the Department of Commerce.

In per cent of 1929 figures, payrolls in 1928 in building were only 44; in agriculture, 59; manufacturing, durable goods, 63; mining 64; transportation 70; restaurants 72; etc. etc. The only payroll in 1928 in building were greater than in 1939 were the payroll brigade working for the government—local, State and national—and teachers!

It seems, therefore, that with millions of their fellow citizens still struggling to keep going, with the national debt increasing $3 billions a year, now for the 10th consecutive year, with the savings of thirty people melting slowly away, and with God knows what expenditures may be forced upon us for national defense, that it is only cricket for our teachers, their organizations and lobbies, to defer further demands upon the public purse until a more convenient season. And with that I think every father and mother has the right to ask if his child's teacher endorses the program recently adopted at Buffalo by the American federation of Teachers, which, according to last week's Statepost, has a fellow-traveler with Communists its head.

Central Will Have 11 Lettermen Starters

Harvesters Look Better In Wyoming

Although named after a bird, the Central high school of Oklahoma City football team that meets the Pampa Harvesters here on Friday night is a wildcat, according to record this season.

Game time will be 8 o'clock under the lights at Harvester field.

The Cardinals, as the Central boys are known, will field eleven lettermen and have several more in reserve.

They have size and age, Oklahoma having a 20-year-old age limit. Highlight of several years of play came for the Cardinals on Friday night when they swamped Wellington, 1938 Kansas State champions in Wellington.

Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Frejman and their Harvesters returned home last night from Casper, Wyo., where they lost 18 to 6 Friday night.

The boys showed up much better in their opening game against Vernon and if they continue to improve they'll be ready for the conference season which opens October 13 in Plainview.

Conflicting reports as to who carried the ball and when Friday night were clarified today by Coach Mitchell. In the Harvester touchdown drive, Heskell and Mathews opened and Dunaway and Carlie closed.

It was Heskell that got the march started with a couple of nice spinner thrusts. Mathews added yardage with a reverse and then Dunaway crashed through and sidestepped tackler after tackler to carry the ball to the Casper 3-yard line.

It was reported previously that Heskell had made the long run. Carlie was then called into the picture and he powerhoused the remaining three yards for a touchdown.

Dunaway's passing, according to Coach Mitchell, was dead as he and his receivers failed to hold the ball, holding only six of 19 passes. Punting was also a strong feature of the game for the Harvesters.

This week coaches will work on offense, defense, punt, field goal and receive plenty of attention, it being passes that caused a lot of damage in Casper.

While the Harvesters were losing in Casper, Amarillo dropped a 7 to 6 decision to Austin in El Paso in Casper, Amarillo dropped a 7 to 6 decision to Austin in El Paso in Casper, Amarillo dropped a 7 to 6 decision to Austin in El Paso in Casper.

Championship Grid Race Opens In Six Districts

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff
The championship race opens in six districts of Class AA schoolboy football this week but interdistrict games steal the show.

Little Odessa, out in the turbulent Oil Belt, and Austin (El Paso), the giant killer of the far west, clash in one of the feature battles.

Odessa was the only Texas team able to score an interdistrict victory last week. Previously this club had downed Poly, the Fort Worth outfit that last week piled a 27-0 defeat onto Vernon, a district 2 favorite.

Austin won over widely-heralded Amarillo, 7-6. The top conference game ends Corsicana against Bryan in district 10.

Both of these games match undefeated, united teams but the battle between Corpus Christi and Waco will be one of major importance although both took lickings last week.

Corpus Christi lost inter-district game to Lafayette, La., and Waco fell before Woodrow Wilson (Dallas).

Gainesville, which has one of the best records in North Texas, meets the surprising North Side team of Fort Worth in a feature inter-district clash.

There are 56 games on the schedule this week, nine of them conference affairs, 25 interdistrict and four interconference.

Last week's firing list of 52 of the 101 Class AA teams with defeats. There are 43 unbeaten and untied and six undefeated but with ties on their records.

Conference games this week are: District 1—Plainview at Borger, District 7—Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) vs Fort Worth Tech. District 9—Ranger at Stephenville. District 10—Bryan at Corsicana, Hillsboro at Cleburne, District 11—Gladeview, District 15—Laredo at Kerrville, Brackenridge (San Antonio) vs Harlandale (San Antonio).

Only one conference game has been played in the state to date. El Paso high defeated Yteta 25-13 in district 4 last week.

There will be no wrestling at the Pampa Athletic arena for the next few weeks but instead amateur boxing will return to Pampa. First of the series of amateur bouts will be presented on Wednesday night of this week when Pampa and Borger amateurs will stage a dual meet beginning at 8 o'clock.

Athletic events during the summer have been starting at 8:30 o'clock but on Monday night autumn will be officially ushered in with an 8 o'clock performance.

There are scheduled some of the best bouts since the Golden Gloves tournament. Each team will present several Golden Gloves champions while newcomers are expected to prove sensations.

Everyone has heard of Dood Massey of Borger. His opponent on the card will be Herman Nuniz, newcomer to Pampa boxing circles. Nuniz has been using sparring partners, big ones too, roughly for two weeks and Trainer Cliff Chambers is all excited about his new prospect.

He believes he has a state champion in the boy. The Pampa team will be strengthened by Billis, Moore and Roden of Shamrock and Hornback and Simpson of Canadian. Training period for local boxers began last week and the boys are not yet ready for competition.

Attorney To Hurl Tonight For Nashville

By FELIX E. McKNIGHT
FORT WORTH, Sept. 25 (AP)—Solomon Sam Nahem, a bespectacled Brooklyn attorney who passed the bar in June, dropped down from McCreary and pitched Nashville in the Dixie series, gets his first serious case tonight—prosecution of the Fort Worth Panthers.

The 23-year-old barrister faces a vicious band of base thieves, ball murderers and generally incorrigible Texas League champions, who, in seeking their eighth Dixie title out of nine efforts in the past 19 years, went one up yesterday with a 10-2 slaying of the Vols.

Nahem must face such dangerous characters as Walter Casen, whose two home runs and a single drove in five runs; Karl Kott, who pitched across three more, and—old Ed (Beat) Greer, the past-40 pitching veteran who has been feeling his pitches all summer.

The hurling giant, who had 24 games, Anchor of the old-timers Ray Starr, who was sold to Fort Worth by the season when he appeared dull after a serious illness, checked off the record yesterday before 7,793 paid customers.

He struck out nine batters, three times disposing of Bert Haas, the Southern circuit's leading hitter at .365, and had himself a 10-0 shutout against the Cardinals, who had before Kott, filling in at left field, made his second error in the pasture and misjudged a fly ball.

Starr waited no longer than the second inning to see his mates start sailing away at ball game for Giants and Stoneyham singled and Casen punched out a home run. Lee Stebbins beat out an infield hit. Catcher Eddie Kearse smacked one to the center field fence that Charlie Gilbert, brilliant son of Manager Larry Gilbert, speared. Starr walked and Kott doubled Stebbins and Starr across the plate.

Three more came across in the third. Chatham got the infield hit and Stoneyham doubled to left. Outfielder Dugas, with an injured leg, falling to huddle to an easy catch in time. Lutz replaced Dugas and had to snag down Casen's single that scored Chatham and Stoneyham. Metha sacrificed and Stebbins double scored Casen.

Casen dropped his second homer out of the park in the fifth. Metha singled, went to second on Stebbins' grounder, stole a base and scored on Kott's single. Two were out in the seventh when Kearse doubled and scored on Starr's single.

Lutz got his third hit in the ninth, and with two out, Pinch Batter Bill Rodda sent a liner to Kott, which he dropped. Lutz scoring.

Gilbert drove in Rodda with a single.

Heat Now On Cardinals In Red-Hot League Race

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The thermal state of the National league pennant race has passed from the boiling to the exploding point, and when the Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals collide tomorrow something is going to blow.

A few weeks ago, Cincinnati's critics said the Reds would have to buckle down to shove off St. Louis. They did—winning 16 of their last 20 games and seven straight up to and including yesterday's 11-2 triumph over Pittsburgh.

As a result the Cardinals, winning 13 of 15 games and likewise their last seven in a row including a 9-1 crusher against the Chicago Cubs Sunday, actually have dropped a half game further in the last two weeks.

They must grab each of their remaining games—four with Cincinnati and three with Chicago—to win the pennant. If the Cardinals should the Reds resume their rout of the Pirates.

This is how they stand today:
Club W L GB To Play
(x) One game with...3
Cincinnati...53 54
St. Louis...49 57 9 7 (x)
(x) One game with New York cancelled.

The Brooklyn Dodgers dragged down their second doubleheader in two days from the Phillies, 3-1 and 5-3, to move past the Cubs into third place. The New York Giants and Boston Bees split two games, New York taking the first, 5-4, and dropping the nightcap, 5-2.

The World Champion Yankees defeated the Washington Senators, 3-2. The Detroit Tigers topped the Cleveland Indians out of third place in the American League with a pair of victories, 2-1 and 9-1. The Chicago White Sox took another double helping of the St. Louis Browns, 11-9 and 4-3, and the Boston Red Sox scored five runs in the eighth to beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-4.

Notre Dame-Purdue Battle Tops Week-End Grid Slate

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—A dozen years ago, you probably could not have imagined such a thing, but Purdue is playing Notre Dame this week, and Pitt's Golden Panthers are flying west to meet the University of Washington.

The southwest features inter-collegiate clashes such as Florida-Texas and Centenary (beaten twice by small college rivals) against Texas A. and M. Iowa State-Denver and Santa Clara-Utah are tops for the Rocky Mountain region, while the Pacific Coast Conference campaign will begin with Southern California facing Oregon and Stanford playing Oregon State.

Of course, 12 years ago all these were not "big time" football colleges, but the ones that were did not play their equals at the start of the season.

Other noteworthy games last week-end saw North Carolina swamp the Citadel, 50-0, Wake Forest beat South Carolina, 19-7. Arkansas and Texas A. and M. of the Southwest Conference and Iowa State of the Big Six also started well, but on the west coast Washington State had difficulty beating Gonzaga, 19-6.

This week, however, it is all business. There are big games in all sections.

A few of them are Manhattan-Holy Cross, Furman-Army and William and Mary-Navy in the east and Marquette-Wisconsin, Arizona-Minnesota and Colorado-Missouri, in the Midwest. Down south, North Carolina and Wake Forest may settle part of the Southern Conference race offhand, While Mississippi and

British Destroyer Sunk By Submarine, Germans Claim

By ROBERT F. SCHILDBACH
BERLIN, Sept. 25 (AP)—Sinking of a British destroyer by a German submarine was announced in an official statement today by German military leaders. The British destroyer was reported to have been shot down during an air battle in the western North Atlantic on Sept. 16. The official statement said the submarine was "yielding good results."
The same announcement said eight French war planes had been shot down during an air battle in the west, where, it added, there had been "reconnoitering activities and artillery activity on both sides" at various undisclosed points.
News of the sinking of the British destroyer came as informed quarters reported German military leaders apparently were convinced the lightning conquest of Poland could not be used as a stepping stone to a possible peace with France or Britain.
These quarters said the high command, which announced the Polish campaign officially "ended," was concentrating its entire attention on the Western front.
British Areas Marked
The same sources regarded as significant information that construction of a bombproof army headquarters had been started "somewhere in the west."
There were indications the Germans planned to limit hostilities against France as much as possible in the hope of weaning the French away from Britain.
Preparations in the west, informed quarters said, apparently were directed chiefly against the British.
If German tactics on the eastern front are followed, it may be expected that the German air force will strike in the near future at British concentration areas.
White Warsaw continued to hold out, an official announcement said. Nazi troops were moving "along the entire eastern front" toward the demarcation line splitting Poland between Germany and Soviet Russia.
How Funds Are Raised
Army authorities said the German soldiers were withdrawing westward with precision while the Russians were advancing toward the line from the east.
It was expected that German and Russian forces would take up their positions tomorrow night on opposite sides of the new frontier extending from East Prussia to Hungary.
Some light on how the German government expects to finance the war was given by the current issue of "Die Deutsche Wirtschaftszeitung."
The publication said a special levy on incomes was expected to yield 2,600,000,000 marks annually. (Par value of the mark is 40 cents.) Contributions by cities and communities were expected to bring in 1,500,000,000 marks and taxes on tobacco and alcoholic beverages, another 1,250,000,000. Total revenue from these sources was estimated at 4,500,000,000 marks, or about $1,400,000,000 at normal foreign exchange rates.

Distribution Of Food To Needy To Be Continued
WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—Agriculture department officials said today they would go ahead with an expanded distribution of surplus food to the nation's relief families despite an expected increase in European demand for American farm products.
Although war has tended to lighten the burden of agricultural surpluses here, they said, the war demand is not expected to show much change for several months.
The agricultural department's food stamp plan for distributing surplus food to regular commercial channels is now operating in six cities. Several dozen other cities are under consideration.
By the time war buying showed any sizable increase, officials said, American production could be expected to meet the extra demand in the case of most crops.
The war has caused the government to change its method of distributing food to relief families, however. Prices shot up. Cuba and other Western hemisphere customers which ordinarily buy in the Orient turned to the United States for supplies. Consequently, the surplus problem has disappeared.
At the same time the department included land under its food stamp plan despite a potential sharp increase in European demand.
White Washington continued to hold out, an official announcement said. Nazi troops were moving "along the entire eastern front" toward the demarcation line splitting Poland between Germany and Soviet Russia.
How Funds Are Raised
Army authorities said the German soldiers were withdrawing westward with precision while the Russians were advancing toward the line from the east.

Army Divisions To Be 'Streamlined'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—The War Department is planning to carry out a general staff plan for a mobile, hard-hitting corps which would be ready for instant dispatch to defend any threatened mainland point, or such outposts as Guam and Hawaii.
Not since the World War has the army had an organized corps. President Roosevelt's national emergency order adding 17,000 men to the regular army provided means to carry out a general staff plan for a combat corps of about 40,000. Its organization from five "small, seasonal" divisions was recommended by General Malin Craig in retiring recently as chief of staff.
General Craig's plan, the first move to create the new force were taken by General George C. Marshall, present chief of staff, along with other defense measures adopted on August 17.

Former Resident Of Galveston Killed In Polish Fighting

GALVESTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—Kurt von Johnson, 27, former resident of Galveston, was killed in fighting at the Rice Institute, Houston, was killed while serving with the German army in Poland, according to a cablegram received by friends here today. He was a lieutenant and company commander in the German army.
"Kurt died fighting, rescuing comrades," read the cablegram received from his mother, Mrs. Elsie von Johnson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Duffy, prominent Galveston residents.
AUSTIN, Sept. 25 (AP)—Because of infiltration of the pink boll worm into nine southwest Texas counties the state agriculture department today ordered an emergency quarantine in the area.
Counties affected are Maverick, Zavalla, Frio, Dimmit, Laskie, Webb, Duval, Zapata and Jim Hogg. Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald, ex-officio secretary of the pink boll work commission, stated Government will cooperate in setting up machinery preparatory to establishing permanent regulations for the area.
The worm, dread foe of cotton producers, has been discovered in all of the nine counties although state government is minimizing the seriousness of the situation because relatively little cotton is grown there.
They reported the pest came from counties of the lower Rio Grande valley and coastal bend area which already are subject to regulations designed to halt its spread. It was carried to the new area by prevailing winds which blow the insect during the stage of life at which it is a moth.

Coke Stevenson Has Not Sat In Governor's Chair

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
AUSTIN, Sept. 25 (AP)—In one respect, Lieut.-Gov. Coke Stevenson of Junction seems ill-starred.
As the first in line to substitute for Governor W. Lee O'Daniel when the latter is out of the state, he has been lieutenant governor eight months and not once has been acting governor.
Since this joint inauguration January 17 O'Daniel has stayed well within Texas' far-flung boundaries and unless he crosses them Stevenson must continue nothing more than a lieutenant-governor and president of the state senate.
For a time there was talk O'Daniel might go to Mexico for a vacation, but apparently such a trip is off, if it ever was contemplated seriously. The governor says he has too much work to permit a vacation even inside Texas, not to speak of one outside.
Stevenson, of course, would like to be governor, if only for a day, as would any other Texan who appreciates public distinction. Every acting governor of Texas in the knowledge of this writer has admitted he got a big kick from his brief stint of supreme state executive authority.
An acting governor may do anything the governor may do. He may grant clemencies, issue proclamations on any subject under the sun, appoint friends as colonels on his honorary staff or even call a special session of the legislature and make recommendations concerning old age pensions.
As a matter of fact, however, he seldom does anything except carry on routine functions of the office and stand ready to act more importantly in a serious emergency. Usually he attempts to act in accordance with the governor's policy.
Walter Woodul Broke Records
There was a time not so long ago when it would have been the part of wisdom for a lieutenant governor of Texas to keep a bag packed in readiness to hurry to Austin and plump down in the executive suite.
That was the situation in the days of Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Woodul of Houston, who never knew with certainty in a morning that he would not be governor before night.
Governor "Jimmy" Alford, now a federal judge, was a man who liked to get about and see things. He often travelled by plane and went far and fast. Texas boundaries meant no more to him, with respect to travel, than lines on a map.
Washington and other cities in the east saw him repeatedly in the four years he was governor. He went to the Pacific coast, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Colorado, New Mexico and other states cheerfully and with abandon, enjoying himself completely, winning friends everywhere and promising to come back.
As a result, Lieut.-Gov. Woodul broke all records for acting as governor of Texas, sitting at master in the governor's chair, and placing his heels on the governor's costly mahogany desk with none to say him nay, not less than a score of times. His number of substitutions may have been more than that. Press correspondents' lost count after the first 20.
Woodul fitted in happily with the Alford scheme of getting from here to there. Frequently he left Texas right after the governor, making it possible for the men who happened to be president pro tempore of the senate to attain the honors of governorship. The senate president pro tem follows the lieutenant governor in rights to the governor's office when the governor leaves the state.
One year Alford went west, to the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, whereupon Woodul promptly took off for New Orleans and the Sugar Bowl tiff, which made Senator Wilbourne B. Collier of Eastland acting governor. There is disagreement as to what would have happened if the senator had followed the precedent of Alford and Woodul.

This Milkman Is Allergic To Cows

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 25 (AP)—Here's a milkman who is allergic to cows.
Everett Erickson was getting along all right with the hesses on his dairy farm near here until about five years ago.
Then he began to wheeze and sneeze. He finally went to Rochester, Minn., where they told him association with the milk manufacturers was the cause of his trouble.
Everett feels swell now—along as he stays away from cows.

Electrifying Of Farm Increases

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—The number of Texas farms now served by electric power lines is nearly 300 per cent greater than it was four and one-half years ago when the rural electrification administration was established, according to the REA.
Average annual gain was more than 8,000, placing Texas eighth in rank of all states. The average annual gain in electrification of Texas farms for the 11 years preceding formation of the REA on May 11, 1935, its officials found, was about 850 a year.
There was an estimated total of 2,100 electrified farms in the state at the end of 1923. The number had increased to about 11,500 by the end of 1934, and on June 30 this year was estimated at 45,500.
The REA found in a study of several Texas cooperatives that approximately 80 per cent of the members own radios, 75 per cent have electric irons, 25 per cent electric washing machines, 7 per cent electric water pumps, 3 per cent vacuum cleaners, 2 per cent electric brooders for poultry operations, and 1 per cent have electric motors up to 1 horse power for various farm chores.

SERIAL STORY

WORKING WIVES

BY LOUISE HOLMES

Yesterday, Marian tried to launch the old... when Marian... he tells her... she turns away without knowing her.

CHAPTER XVIII
MARIAN was hurt and angry and, more than that, frightened.

They spent the evening as usual. Dan read and played a few games of solitaire. He wandered restlessly about the apartment and eventually crossed the hall to Dolly's door.

Lying on the davenport with damp, pungent pads over her eyes, Marian indulged in an orgy of self pity. The old, dog-eared query presented itself to her. What had she done to deserve this?

Behind her lay conscientious effort and well-placed energy. Through circumstances, circumstances for which Dan was responsible, she had been cheated of a normal, happy life. She had been denied all the things which belong to a woman by right.

She had been horrid the night before, she admitted it. But did not all married couples quarrel on occasion? Hadn't she asked Dan to forgive her? Hadn't she ignored his childish behavior in stamping out of the apartment? Hadn't she, like a silly fool, asked him to kiss her? And had he done so? No, he had not.

For a moment her injured feelings were forgotten in a longing for Dan's kiss. She loved the feel of his mouth on hers, his kiss had never lost its thrill for her.

Once she had said, touching his lips with her fingertips, "I love your mouth, Dan—nice and hard and tender. I hate men with soft lips."

Dan had laughed, holding her close. "Ah—so you are a connoisseur of kisses. Are you making a collection, by any chance?"

And she, brushing his cheek with her lips, had teased, "I get around a little."

THAT was when the chart of their married life had many high spots, when even the low ones held contentment and love. Marian removed the eye pads and went across the hall. Dolly was at the telephone, her eyes bright, a pleased little smile on her lips. Dan did not look up from the evening paper. Marian sat down and idly turned the pages of a magazine. The magazine reminded her of the doctor's office and she threw it down. Dolly joined them.

"All the happy family," she said, giving Marian an affectionate pat on the shoulder.

"Did you say happy?" Marian asked. Dan said nothing and Dolly changed the subject. "That was Randy on the phone. The party is growing."

Randy's party filled Marian with distaste. More effort, more wasted energy. "Sounds exciting," she said indifferently.

"He has asked Pete Thorpe and his new wife."

"Oh, really? I'll be glad to meet her."

"He knew that Pete and Dan were friends and he's been wanting to show the bride and groom a little courtesy because Julie was his secretary before her marriage."

"Hm—it's a small world," Marian mused. "Has she quit her job?"

"Oh, yes. Randy says she is the domestic type. Anyway, he doesn't employ married women."

"Is that so?" Her mounting anger crept into Marian's voice. "I didn't think Randy was like that, narrow-minded and smug, still playing with the idea that it's a man's world. Marian seemed to be forced constantly to defend herself."

very logical. Randy says if all the women, especially married women, would drop out of business, thousands of jobs would be available for men. The old men, who have been shoved out, could run elevators, do the filing and accounting in offices, lots of things like that.

Marian laughed scornfully. "The employers would like that. A lot of doddering old men—"

Dolly ignored the interruption and continued. "If all the married women's jobs were vacated there would be a shortage of help. Capable men with poor positions would be moved up to better ones. They'd make more money, their fathers would be put back on the payroll, and the women would be provided for."

"And how," Marian said inelegantly.

"It's an idea, Marian."

"And a darn good solution," Dan put in.

MARIAN'S eyes blazed at him. So he wouldn't kiss her—so he blamed her for his inferiority complex—weak persons always found alibis.

"You can't make the world over," she argued. "You've got to meet it as it is and do the best you can. If I quit my job another girl would take it. Nothing would be gained."

Dolly shook her head. "There's nothing personal about the discussion, honey. What would be right for you might be entirely wrong for me. Let's talk about what we are going to wear tomorrow night."

Dan said amusedly, "I have a nifty gray suit. It's left over from last year but, with a few new accessories, a tie, perhaps a gray feather for my hat—I should look pretty nice."

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—A little profit taking stemmed a feeble rally in today's stock market, although leading issues jumped fractions to a point at their best gains were shaved at the close.

Steels, motors, rails and specialties were most favored throughout the day, but some of them slipped toward the end. Mixed and a little higher was the phrase which appeared to most accurately describe the pictures.

Activity was never marked, although the day's business was fair. Transfers approximated 1,200,000 shares.

Some brokers expressed the opinion the war "boom" had tapered off and that the market, which rushed upward at the beginning of the conflict abroad, had about caught up with the quickened movement of domestic industry.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Sept. 25 (AP)—Wheat prices held about steady, the latter reflecting reports of a revival in foreign demand for U. S. Corn.

Estimates of corn sold for export ranged up to 1,800,000 bushels, with the British government believed to have been the principal buyer. This business could not be confirmed, however.

Selling of wheat was based largely on lagging export business in that grain and prospects of some showers in parts of the winter wheat belt.

Wheat closed 5/16 cent lower than Saturday, December 85 1/4-%, May 86 3/4-%; corn unchanged to 1/2 down, December 84 1/2-%, May 87 1/2-%; oats 1/4-1 1/4 lower.

The government announced further reductions in subsidy rates on export flour.

Pampa Weather Bureau Part Of Airway Service

Pampa's U. S. Weather Bureau is one unit of the system of the 840 airport, off-airway and intermediate airway weather reporting stations distributed over the United States and Alaska.

Value of the weather bureau's service to aviation has been duly recognized in the observance of National Air Progress week, which ended Sunday.

The Weather Bureau was authorized by Congress in the Air Commerce Act of 1926, and again in the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, to provide the necessary service to promote the safety and efficiency of air navigation.

The United States now has a comprehensive and efficient airway meteorological service. A communication system, which is operated by the Civil Aeronautics Authority, speeds the various reports of weather to and from hundreds of airports and reporting stations in the United States and Alaska.

An enormous volume of surface and upper-air observations are transmitted daily by teletype and broadcast by radio.

Four times a day, observers at 101 of these Weather Bureau stations release an inflated balloon and follow its path of ascent by means of a theodolite, a special telescope.

From these observations, the direction and velocity of winds at various flying levels are computed and transmitted over the communication system. Charts prepared from these upper-air reports enable the pilots to choose flying levels where the winds will be of most benefit or least resistance.

Larger balloons are inflated once a day at 37 stations and each of these carries aloft a radiosonde, a small instrument which broadcasts signals that represents the temperature, humidity, and pressure of the atmosphere to heights of 15 miles or more. After these signals are received and translated at the ground station, they are transmitted to other stations and used in determining the types, boundaries and movements of air masses and the likelihood of cloudiness, precipitation and icing.

Wounded Russians Taken To Moscow

Moscow, Sept. 25 (P)—While Russian troops showed deeper into Poland today, the Soviet government refused to permit foreign ships on the River Neva, which flows through the outskirts of Leningrad into the gulf of Finland.

The ban, ordered yesterday, was said to have included Finnish ships. A 1923 agreement between the two countries gave Russia the right to close the strategic waterway to Finnish ships in case of "war danger."

Red troopers reported taking many Polish prisoners and arms as they pushed to within about 35 miles of Warsaw, occupying much of the territory formerly held by the withdrawing German army.

The return of wounded Soviet soldiers to Moscow, however, indicated the Poles still were putting up a fight.

Little time is being lost in attempting to Sovietize the newly acquired area.

Rev. Boshen To Speak At Lions Zone Meeting

Rev. Robert Boshen, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Pampa, will be the principal speaker at a Lions club district 2-T zone meeting to be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night at Panhandle.

A "ladies night" will be held in connection with the banquet, which will be followed with a dance at the American Legion hall.

Several Pampa Lions are expected to attend, although the Pampa club is located in a different zone from that of Panhandle.

Naval Battle May Be Under Way Off Norwegian Coast

BERGEN, Norway, Sept. 25 (AP)—Inhabitants of Algori Island reported this afternoon that unidentified ships had been engaged in heavy cannonading off the coast of Norway since 6 a. m. (11 p. m. CST), leading them to express the belief a naval battle was underway.

A "ladies night" will be held in connection with the banquet, which will be followed with a dance at the American Legion hall.

Several Pampa Lions are expected to attend, although the Pampa club is located in a different zone from that of Panhandle.

Preparedness And Peace Advocated At Legion Meeting

CHICAGO, Sept. 25 (P)—Government, state and civic leaders joined with high officers of the American Legion today in counselling the nation to buttress its peace with an impregnable defense.

Uncompromising neutrality and preparedness formed the theme of addresses delivered to thousands of veterans and women's auxiliary members gathered in the coliseum for the first session of the Legion's 21st national convention.

All-Vegetable Laxative Has Important Points

Most people want a laxative to do three things: (1) act punctually, (2) act thoroughly, (3) act gently.

Here's one that usually fills all three requirements when the easy directions are followed. It's an all-vegetable product whose principal ingredient has medical recognition as an "intestinal tonic-laxative."

This ingredient enables BLACK-DRAUGHT to impart tone to lazy bowel muscles. And it is the main reason for the punctual, thorough relief from constipation that most often follows next morning after you take BLACK-DRAUGHT. The millions of packages used prove its merit. 25 to 40 doses: 25c.
