FINLAND, RUSSIA AT WAR

FINNISH PRESIDENT DECLARES WAR ON RUSSIA AS ARMIES BATTLE IN SNOW

border troops, Russia invaded Finland today.

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP)—An exchange telegraph dispatch from Helsinki today said that President Kivost Kallio issued a proclamation declaring war on Soviet Russia.

The proclamation said that "with a view to maintaining the country's defense and the constitution of the Republic of Finland has declared a state of war."

Winter warfare on the Finnish-Soviet borderlands began today as Russian leaders whipped up anti-Finn agitation among the masses. Ski troops shown above in maneuvers, are a vital part of Finnish defense as Russia invaded the northern neutral's snow-banked foothills.

City Aflame As War Rages On Sea, Ashore And In Air

By LYNN HEINZERLING

HELSINKI, Nov. 30. (AP)—Soviet Russian troops, warships and bombing planes launched an invasion of Finland early today.

Within a few hours Red army forces had pushed across the Finnish border on the Karelian Isthmus north of Leningrad, warplanes had twice bombed Helsinki, the capital, and set the port of Viipuri (Viborg) in flames, and warships had begun seizing Finnish islands in the Gulf of Finland.

(An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Helsinki said that Finland had declared war on Russia following the invasion.)

Finnish anti-aircraft batteries fought back at the invading bombing planes, which directed their first attack on the capital upon the Malm airport on the outskirts. Later bombs fell in the heart of the city.

Viipuri, 65 miles from the Soviet border, was attacked by warships as well as bombing planes.

Foreign Minister Elias Erkkö declared the Russian attack was "the purest aggression imaginable."

"As the reason for the attack," he said, "the pretext was used that we invaded Russian territory and our troops threatened Leningrad. We haven't done anything of the kind."

The triple attack came less than a day after Russia broke off diplomatic relations with Finland, less than two days after she had unilaterally denounced the Finnish-Russian non-aggression pact, less than two months after she had first made territorial demands upon her little neighbor.

Finland had refused to yield to Russia, as Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania had before her.

The Diet, Finland's one-chamber Parliament, was called for a session at 8 p. m. 12 noon CST) to receive a statement from Foreign Minister Elias Erkkö and to vote confidence in the government.

Officials said the session would show the unity of the nation in its gravest crisis in answer to Russian charges that the government does not have the support of its people.

Anti-aircraft batteries engaged in several battles with Russian planes after invading warplanes had bombed Helsinki.

HELSINKI, Nov. 30 (AP)—(5:20 p. m.—10:30 a. m., EST)—Russian bombing planes set the southwestern section of Helsinki afire today in a sudden land, sea and air invasion of Finland.

After Soviet bombers roared over the capital in successive raids, the sky over southwestern Helsinki was red early tonight with the glare of burning buildings hit during the afternoon's bombardment.

Red army troops began crossing the Karelian frontier, north of Leningrad, under protective Soviet artillery fire along the whole length of the border.

Soviet warplanes swooped over Helsinki and dropped five bombs on the airport on the outskirts of the city. Anti-aircraft batteries replied vigorously.

Sirens screamed the first air raid alarm at 9:20 a. m. (1:20 a. m., C. S. T.) as a foreign officer spokesman announced, "It has started. The war is on."

Buildings Set Fire
Incendiary bombs dropped on Helsinki set fire to several buildings, including a hospital which was destroyed. Casualties were not immediately determined.

The Russian fleet, after taking Selskari, was believed to be headed for the Gulf of Finland.

Pampa Marks Second Thanks Day In Week

City Prepares Now To Enter Christmas Holiday Season

Pampa went into its second Thanksgiving Day within a week today none the worse for the wear and tear of multiple holidays fore and aft. Just ahead lies the Christmas season.

This Thanksgiving Day No. 2 was just a trifle more official here than No. 1 Turkey Day a week ago. Uncle Sam's postoffice was completely ignoring today's Thanksgiving, however. The postoffice was open and city mail deliveries were being made as usual. It was just another day in the hall of postal dissemination.

On the other hand, the Pampa National Bank, for instance, was taking advantage of the second holiday and was closed again for Thanksgiving No. 2.

The City Hall and the county courthouse likewise closed as did the public schools. Public schools will not resume classes until Monday, December 3, when school was closed for the day but classes will take up again there tomorrow.

City-wide union Thanksgiving services were conducted last night in Central Baptist church where worshippers heard a sermon by the Rev. W. M. Pearce, pastor of the First Methodist church in Pampa.

Thanksgiving Day sports enthusiasts for the most part were headed this afternoon for Amarillo where the Panhandle's football piece de resistance was being offered in the

GOOD CHRISTIAN MEN, REJOICE

"Good Christian men, rejoice with heart, and soul, and voice; Give ye heed to what we say: Jesus Christ is born today." Legend has it that among the first songs to Henry Suso, a 14th century mystic, who was so charmed that he danced with his celestial visitors. Originally a German carol, it was used by Bach for a chorale and was put in its present form by J. M. Neale in 1850.

Texas Favors Third Term, Says Visitor

Louis J. Adamie, secretary of the Democratic City Central committee of St. Louis, was in Pampa yesterday, meeting with H. C. Coffey, chairman of the Gray County Democratic Executive committee and city officials.

Mr. Adamie's visit here was a part of his tour of Texas on which he plans to call on as many Democratic chairmen as possible and to ascertain the attitude of voters toward a third term for the president. He is planning a trip to Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston.

"I find a paradoxical situation in Texas," Mr. Adamie said here Wednesday. "There are a lot of Garner stickers on automobiles, yet most of the Democrats I've met seem to want Roosevelt and many doubt if Garner could carry Texas."

Born and raised in St. Louis, Mr. Adamie said his boyhood ambition was politics, that he had taken Lawrence McDaniel, present excise commissioner of St. Louis, as his pattern. McDaniel, a Democratic leader in St. Louis 30 years, instructed Adamie in public speaking and practical politics.

Adamie was the youngest delegate to ever attend a Missouri state democratic convention, the one held at Joplin in 1915. He was 23 years old at the time.

The quarterly encampment of district 9, Department of Texas, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, will be held at Tulia, on Sunday, December 3, with McKenzie post No. 1798 as host.

Birge, Amarillo, will also be present. Earl A. Reed, manager of the Berger Drum and Bugle Corps, of which Miss Claudene Robertson is drum major and corps leader, has promised that the corps will be on hand to lend color and pep to the encampment.

The business meeting will be called to order at 10 a. m. with E. J. Kenney, district commander, Pampa, in charge of the post meeting and Mrs. Violet Kenney, district auxiliary president, Berger, in charge of the auxiliary meeting. A joint meeting will be held after lunch.

Leo R. Franks, post commander, urges all members to attend this meeting and help welcome department Commander Dunlavy to district No. 9.

Pampa Youths Arrested In Petty Thefts

With the arrest of two 15-year-old Pampa boys yesterday afternoon, city police officers solved numerous petty theft cases that have been under investigation for some time. Loot valued at more than $200 was recovered and articles will be returned to owners by Police Chief J. I. Downs.

After extensive questioning by Chief Downs and trips over the city recovering the loot, the boys were turned over to their parents. No charges have been filed.

The list of stolen articles included a valuable moving picture camera, taken from Sam Houston school, three pocket cameras, a flashlight, five fountain pens, an electric stencil set, a pistol and

2,000 Attendance Wanted At Toy Show

Sponsors of the annual toy matinee, given for the purpose of securing toys to be given away at the Community Christmas tree on December 23, today said they wanted at least 2,000 children to attend the matinee picture show to be held from 1 to 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the LaNora theater.

Last year 480 attended the matinee. Admission to the annual event is the presentation of a serviceable old toy or a new toy, and this year new toys are especially preferred. Children 12 years of age and younger will be admitted free on presentation of the toys at the theater door.

The toy matinee is jointly sponsored by the American Legion and the LaNora theater.

Co-Ed Shoots Star Fullback, Her Sweetheart

PORT COLLINS, Colo., Nov. 30 (AP)—A Colorado State college co-ed fired a bullet into the chest of her football-playing sweetheart because, Deputy District Attorney Winton M. Ault said, they had reached "the parting of the way."

Twenty-one-year-old Walter (Bud) Lyons, 195-pound fullback on the Aztec team, is in a critical condition.

He was struck by one of three shots fired yesterday by Lois Jeanne Vannorsdel, 19, sophomore with whom he had been keeping company for eight months, Ault said.

Ault said he was respecting his sources to the girl he would not make public the details of her romance as related in a statement she signed. The motive for the shooting, he said, involved "the old saying about a woman scorned."

The shooting was described by Ault as follows:

Miss Vannorsdel telephoned Lyons she wanted to see him before he left with the football squad for Albuquerque.

Thanks For What We Have Not

An Editorial

We give thanks today for all the man-made terrors of civilization that have not been visited upon us—the things we cannot afford, the things we do not want.

Bombs bursting in air, fearful eyes pined on the sky, spiritless survivors picking among the ruins of cities for all that is left of loved ones.

Hungry, scrawny little bodies, never getting used to starvation, never understanding why such things have to be.

Men in trenches, nauseated with fear, knowing they will probably come out crippled for life.

Men at a waiting for death in the form of torpedoes, mines, depth bombs, aerial attack. It doesn't matter how. Death is so much alike in all its disguises.

We are grateful we don't have to carry ration cards when we go to the grocery store and because we don't need to do without the things we're used to having at our tables.

We don't need to walk dark streets at night, pecking our way dangerously along in blackness, carrying gas masks always over our shoulders.

We don't need to leave our factories, offices and fields to put on uniforms and carry guns and learn to shoot men we don't hate.

We don't need to stand along the streets and wave our little flags and cheer as soldiers strut along, when in our hearts we know it is all wrong.

We don't need to feel the deadness and hopelessness that come when fathers and sons and brothers and husbands exchange their places on earth for little white crosses.

We made a mistake once before; we don't want to make it again. We want to be left to do the things we were meant to do—build, not destroy. We want to enjoy all the blessings we know today and all the others we can earn. We want our children to be glad they were born into this world. We want to give them a world that is not charred and stained with needless blood.

We are thankful for having been given a chance to rebuild an earth we nearly tore apart 25 years ago. We're sorry some men again want to destroy it. We think it's big enough for everyone to live peacefully.

We hope, above all, we can repeat these words of Thanksgiving a year from now—and every year thereafter.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows feels like it will tear your chest walls apart. You need reliable and ready help. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to loosen germ laden phlegm, increase secretion and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding that you are to like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back. New Key Man For Mussolini

Here's the latest picture of Ettore Afari, Italian Fascist Party's new general secretary. "Most be-medaled man in Italy," he replaced "Pantherman" Achille Starace in Premier Mussolini's recent drastic cabinet shakeup.

$3,500 Bonds Set In Robbery Cases

Bonds of $3,500 each set yesterday afternoon at a hearing before Justice of the Peace E. F. Young for Carlyle Sheiton and Hubert Cisco, both of Skellytown, Frank Agee and Ray Reames, both of White Deer, who have been charged with robbery with firearms. The charges against the four were in alleged connection with a series of filling station robberies at Clarendon and Spearman and the hijacking of four Oklahoma tourists near Alameda. Reames has been charged in alleged connection with the Alameda robbery only, according to a county official. Nearly a score of Panhandle peace officers were in Pampa Tuesday night and early yesterday morning as a month's investigation of the hijacking came to a climax. In the group of officers was Lynn Wall, Skellytown constable, who made two of the arrests, and J. L. Pingenot, Jr., Texas Highway patrolman from Childress, who halted a 1937 model Ford sedan north of Wellington on November 4, on account of the tail light being out and noted the license number one of the clues in the case.

Mrs. FDR Shows Up At Dies Hearing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt showed up unexpectedly today at the Dies committee hearing. Shortly before she arrived acting chairman Starnes (D-Ala) told newsmen: "If she does come I'll invite her to take the witness stand and testify." The First Lady said earlier this week she would be willing to take the committee witness stand if she had any information the committee wanted. Starnes asked her whether she would like to take a place at the committee table. "I have just come to listen," Mrs. Roosevelt said. Starnes suggested she might want to listen from the committee table. Mrs. Roosevelt, as she joined a front row line of young congress officials, replied: "I think I would hear better here, wouldn't I?"

Dies Wants FDR's Opinion Of Probe

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex.) believes the "trend" toward centralization of power in Washington is the "first stage toward dictatorship." Addressing a Madison Square Garden mass meeting last night, the Texan "beseeched" the Roosevelt administration to take a stand "for or against," his congressional committee which has been holding hearings the last 18 months.

Chamberlain Regrets

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain declared today it was "quite obvious that Soviet Russia wants to dominate Finland" and termed Finland's attitude in the negotiations with Moscow from the outset "unprovocative." Chamberlain told the house of commons the government "deeply regret this fresh attack on a small, independent nation which must result in fresh suffering and loss."

Glass eyes are not modern inventions. They were used by the Romans and, before them, the Egyptians.

Fan Dancer Sally Rand Tells How To Go Broke On $174,830 A Year

Sally's Face

By SALLY RAND
Written for the Pampa News Through NEA Service

For several years they've been billing me as a sort of Babson of the Bubble-Dance, the fan-waving financier, the Nabob of Nudity. I took it big. I didn't see then that I was about to lose my shirt.

Shucking off a garment or two now and then is nothing in my young life. But losing your shirt is something else again.

It isn't the first time it happened to me. When my bank folded in 1933 it squeezed to death all the savings I had up to that time.

The success I've had since, which built all that reputation as the Tycoon of Terpsichore, came during the last six years. Now I can start over again. And I will.

... NOT EVEN A ROLLS-ROYCE

Some of the writers made me out a sort of combination of Hetty Green and Salome. Well, however much of that may have been true last August, it isn't true now.

No stocks, no automobiles, no annuities, not even a Rolls-Royce. Just $8067.30 worth of clothes and jewels, for even a fan-dancer has to have clothes for leisure moments.

My creditors are trying to squeeze $64,638 out of that.

According to all the stories about me as a financial genius, I ought to be able to help them, but I can't. Where did it all go? I don't know. Where's Guy Kibbee's hair?

FIRST YOU GET THE $174,830

So overnight I turn from an expert in "How to Make a Million" into an expert on "How to Go Bankrupt, in One Easy Lesson." And it is easy, really it is. Here are some of the things you can do to help:

First, you taken in $74,830 from the Nude Ranch at the Golden Gate Exposition. Then you add another $100,000 by night club appearances. This provides the money to go broke, with. If you haven't got that, you don't go broke, you just are broke. I've been there both ways.

Then you open, at tremendous expense, a show called Guy Paree, at an exposition which suddenly decides to close 35 days ahead of time.

PROVIDE DOORS FOR CREDITORS TO BEAT

This enables you to take in just $140 net before the doors close and the creditors begin beating on them. You pay good salaries to the flock of girls who work in your concessions. Knowing that you are lucky yourself, you try to be generous to everybody. You keep your shows changing, and costume them lavishly.

Somehow you will find that it goes out faster than it come in, and before you can say Lady Godiva it's all over.

But of course it isn't all over. Nothing over is. I still have my fans, and while there's feathers there's hope. It's all such a mess!

But I've been broke before. I've slept on a bench in Central Park, and I worked as a cigar girl when I was 13.

And I didn't create my balloon "bubble" dance for nothing. I know that what goes up must come down, but also that it's likely to come up again if it's buoyant enough.

JEWELRY RESTS WITH UNCLE

I've drawn $3,000,000 into the box offices during the past six years. Some have claimed I was a millionaire.

I wouldn't know about that. Maybe a million has passed through my hands, but people forget the expenses that go with these big salaries. Usually the whole cost of my production and troupe came out of these big salaries.

All I know is that my best jewelry is with Uncle in New York, and that I have more pawn-tickets than platinum right now.

Farmers Must Conserve And Rebuild Soil

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Farmers cooperating with the government's 1940 crop control program must place greater emphasis on practices designed to conserve and rebuild their soil if they would be eligible for shares of the $725,000,000 offered in subsidies.

The objective of the program, officials said today, was two-fold—to prevent accumulation of greater crop surpluses and to encourage farmers to plant more legumes and grasses, which tend to enrich the soil.

As in past years, each farm will have a "soil-building" goal as well as acreage allotments for such majoring "soil-depleting" crops as cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco, rice, potatoes, and peanuts.

For each "unit" of soil-building practices employed, the farmer will be allowed $1.50. This is in addition to benefit payments allowed farmers who plant within their acreage allotments.

Soil-building practices recommended by the agriculture department include seeding non-crop land to legumes, grasses and other vegetation which prevents water and wind erosion; planting forest trees, and contour cultivation of land planted to the major crops.

Officials explained that farmers would be required to perform more of the soil-building practices in 1940 than previously in order to get the same amount of benefits.

This year's farm program, each acre seeded to alfalfa entitled the farmer to two units of soil-building practices, which in turn save him $3 in benefits. Under the 1940 program, each acre seeded to alfalfa will entitle him to but one unit, or $1.50. Likewise, each acre seeded to legumes and grasses will be equal to half a unit, compared with one unit under the 1939 program.

Students Disable 'Attacking' Plane

FORT WORTH, Nov. 30 (AP)—Two North Texas Agricultural college students conducted an honest go gosh air raid on the football bonfire of a rival school and were winged—by a stick hurled into the bonfire.

But I've been broke before. I've slept on a bench in Central Park, and I worked as a cigar girl when I was 13.

And I didn't create my balloon "bubble" dance for nothing. I know that what goes up must come down, but also that it's likely to come up again if it's buoyant enough.

Muddy Field Hikes Texas Aggies' Chances

Longhorn Win Wouldn't Be Too Big Upset

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 30 (AP)—Slow, soaking rain spattered throughout the night to give the dramatic meeting of undefeated Texas Aggies and their football rivals of 45 years, University of Texas, a wet setting as some 40,000 crowded this hamlet today.

One step from its first unbeaten season since 1920 A. & M. planned to lean on its power. Only one regular back was injured, Walemon (Cotton) Price. The veteran senior quarterback has a trick knee.

The wet field exchanged Aggie chances of winning their tenth straight game, although it wouldn't be much of an upset if Texas triumphed. Cowboy Jack Crain and Gilly Davis, Texas' men of the hour, racked up runs of 66, 64 and 58 yards in the rain against Texas Christian 10 days ago.

But in front of the Texas today will be a massive Aggie line that has the most remarkable defensive record in football this season. A. & M. forwards held Santa Clara, Villanova, Texas Christian, Rice, Southern Methodist, Arkansas, Baylor, Centenary and Oklahoma Aggies to only 350 yards on ground plays.

Other lettermen are Borden Price of Springlake, a junior, 6 feet tall, a guard; Captain Ernest Schur of Vernon, a senior guard, 5 feet 11 inches; Earl Stagner of Dimmitt, a junior guard, 6 feet; Dewey Johnson of Abernathy, 6 feet 4 inches, a forward; and Donald Kendrick of Groom, 6 feet 3 inches, a forward.

Promising sophomores include: Dalbert Barron of Borger, 6 feet 3 inches tall, a guard; Price Brookfield of Friona, 6 feet 3 1/2 inches, a forward; Tommie Fox of Dalhart, 5 feet 11 inches, a guard; Roy Lee Jones of Pampa, 6 feet 4 inches, a guard; Jack Maddox of Wichita Falls, 6 feet 4 inches, a forward; Bob Nipper of Kirkland, a 6 foot 4 inch squadman and forward; and Frank Stockman of Malta Bend, Mo., 6 feet 2 inches, a guard.

Claude Defeats LeFors 32-7 For Class B Title

By HARRY E. HOARE
Sports Editor, The Pampa News
Claude's mighty Mustangs tucked away the Class B football championship of the Panhandle yesterday afternoon when they defeated the LeFors Pirates 32 to 7 on neutral Harvester field here.

The Mustangs presented for several hundred chilled fans a backfield of ace ball carriers without a star.

It didn't matter whether the Wilson brothers, Ben and Joe, Calvert or Brown had the ball, they were all dangerous. The Mustang line charged low and hard to make way for the crack ball toters.

Ammons, Twig and Earhart, with Jenks blocking, were able to gain plenty of yardage, but when scoring opportunities presented themselves the Mustangs lightened.

The game was much closer and hard-fought than the score indicates. Claude scored mostly on long runs in which speedy backs broke away and couldn't be caught or on individual efforts through a broken field.

Claude Scores Early
Claude drew first blood after taking a LeFors punt back to the Pirate 34 and then powering across. Ben Wilson making the final half yard over the pay line.

A punt that was almost blocked set up Claude's next touchdown near the end of the quarter, the Mustangs taking the ball on the LeFors 35. A Ben Wilson to Calvert pass was good for 12 yards. Ben Wilson swept end for 8 more paces to set up a pass play. Ben Wilson to Calvert for 12 yards, Calvert romping across the goal line.

Claude got a break soon after the second quarter opened when a bad pass from center was fumbled and Claude recovered on the 19. On a double reverse Joe Wilson outran the LeFors secondary to score standing up. Calvert carried the ball over for the extra point.

The LeFors touchdown came late in the second period after a series of sensational plays by Twig, Earhart and Ammons, to the 20-yard line, at which point Twig ran 10 yards back of the line of scrimmage, avoiding two Claude tacklers and just as he was hit by a third Mustang when he broke through center Atkinson, end, who had broken into the clear in the end zone. Twig kicked the extra point.

Calvert electrified the crowd soon after the opening of the third quarter when he broke through center Atkinson, end, who had broken into the clear in the end zone. Twig kicked the extra point.

Harvester Cagers To Open Season In Groom Tomorrow

Although they've practiced only three times, the Pampa Harvester basketball teams will open the 1939-40 basketball season in Groom Friday night. The reserves will battle at 7 o'clock and the first strings one hour later.

Coach Odus Mitchell of the Harvesters has named two starting lineups but he doesn't know whether they will be permanent or whether changes will be made later in the season.

Two cripples will be in the Harvester lineup when James Carlisle starts at one forward position and Ed Terrell at center. Carlisle broke his foot in the third football game of the season and Terrell injured a knee in the opening game and was in only one game the rest of the season.

Assigned to the other forward job with Carlisle will be Belton Beardon. Guards will be Pete Dunaway, the only regular back from last season's district champions, and Seth Cox.

The starting lineup for the reserves will be Tom Cox and Tom Dewey, forwards, Jearl Nichols or Frasher, center, and Deward Mitchell, brother of Coach Mitchell, and Billy Mounts, guards. Cletus Mitchell, nephew of Coach Mitchell, is a forward on the reserve squad.

Strength of the Groom team is unknown but the Tigers have been working for three weeks and are believed to be in good shape.

Coach Mitchell announced today that the game with the House of David five would be played here December 13 instead of December 16, original date. The bearded team asked that the date be advanced.

Interscholastic league has collected some statistics on injuries in schoolboy football and from them makes these observations: In 650 games involving 750 high schools and 17,000 Texas boys there have been two deaths and 250 injuries.

One hundred and thirty of the injuries were suffered between the 20-yard line; one was hurt in a goal kick stand; one in the end zone, and three out of bounds.

Albert Reese of the Galveston News draws the conclusion from these figures that the greatest danger to the player near the goal lines but in a broken field where there is more likelihood of clipping, flying tackles, etc.

It should be quite an aerial display when Woodrow Wilson plays Masonic Home in a bi-district game that will be played here next week because Masonic Home has the best passing record in the state—schoolboy or collegiate—and Woodrow Wilson claims the best passer in Red Maley.

Masonic Home has completed 1,800 yards, an average of 14 completions for about 200 yards a game.

Footnotes: Add long winning streaks—St. Thomas of Houston has taken 10 straight and copied the state Catholic High school championship three consecutive seasons.

This week St. Thomas meets Lamar of Houston, one of the leaders in District 12-AA. Prexy Anderson nominates quarterback Doug Lamesa as the leading scorer of West Texas. Cox has well over 150.

Floyd Aten, Tyler sports writer, says Henderson has an end who compares with the best of them in Bill Brazell, 171-pounder, who can take passes from all angles and is double tough on the fence.

Lamesa's High school coach, Ted McCullom, who has been at the business for 18 years, is expected to retire after this season. He will devote his time to the job of being principal of the Lamesa school.

Fifteen thousand militiamen had to be called out to suppress the whiskey insurrection which broke out in western Pennsylvania when the authorities attempted to end illicit distillation.

The world's smallest country is Vatican City, which comprises 108.7 acres. The world's largest country is the U. S. S. R. (Union of Soviet Socialist Republics) with an area of 8,144,228 square miles.

British factories use up 3,000 tons of celluloid annually manufacturing toys, of which 22,000,000 celluloid-made are sold each year.

Because moths fly at night and are usually not seen, few people realize that these are nine times as many moth species as butterflies.

Hull-Daisetta went down the other night after winning 43 straight and thus was broken the longest string in interscholastic league history.

But that's nothing for Bill Stages to worry about. The marvel is to reach a schoolboy team could keep itself "up" so long. A schoolboy is a difficult proposition for a coach.

Most times the boy can be brought to a fighting frenzy once and perhaps twice a season—that is, to the frenzy that means he can't reach "over his head" football.

But Hull-Daisetta stayed "up" for four years, although in the case of the Bobcats you have to admit they had more than just spirit to go on.

But even with all their ability, it hardly seems possible that a team of boys could play four years without a letdown somewhere along the line.

10 Schoolboy Titles To Be Decided Today

Ten district championships are in the balance today as the Texas Schoolboy football race rolls toward the main show.

Five titlists already have been determined and the last one, completing the bi-district round next week, will be decided tomorrow night.

Austin (Houston) last night defeated Sam Houston (Houston) 20-13 to win district 13 honors. Already "it" as champions were Salubr Springs in district 8, Masonic Home (Fort Worth) in district 7, Waco in district 10 and Nacogdoches in district 12.

Today's crucial games: District 1—Lubbock at Amarillo, district 2—Childress at Electra, district 3—Sweetwater at Big Spring, district 4—Austin (El Paso) vs. El Paso high, district 5—Sherman at Gainesville, district 8—Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) vs. Dallas Tech, district 9—Breckenridge at Cisco, district 11—Marshall at Tyler, district 14—Beaumont at Port Arthur, district 16—Brownsville at Robstown.

In most of these districts the issue is clear cut but in some of them the games are being played because teams already defeated still retain mathematical chances.

Austin plays Kerrville at Austin Friday night in the final important clash. Austin must win or tie to take the title. A loss would throw Austin and Kerrville into a tie.

Tennessee-Kentucky Game Watched By Bowl Bosses

By JUDSON BAILEY
NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—The dinner bell is ringing for the second table of the Thanksgiving Day football feast and the fans who waited are getting something more than the bones of the first gridiron turkey.

It wasn't a fat offering that was left for approximately half the country celebrating today as a holiday, but the portion included juicy cuts such as the Tennessee-Kentucky and Texas-Aggies-Texas Sizlers.

The attention of football fans generally and a couple of bowl committees in particular centered on these contests because Tennessee and the Aggies, undefeated and untied, are likely choices for some New Year's Day public appearances.

There aren't any football feuds any hotter than the Tennessee-Kentucky dispute over a battered old beer keg. With George Cafego and other Volunteers reportedly all pins but high series went to Schlemeyer of Jones-Everett with 537.

The Texas Longhorns' chances against the Aggies, on the other hand, weren't any brighter than the rainy weather forecast for the game. Their rivalry is fully as fierce, and dates back to 1894, but wet grounds added advantage to the heavier and more experienced Aggies.

In the east, undefeated Rutgers collides with a bigger eleven from Brown University.

In the south once-beaten and tied North Carolina bumps into Virginia's gentlemanly Cavaliers, Auburn meets Florida, Alabama tackles Vanderbilt, Davidson plays Wake Forest and Loyola vies with Texas Tech.

The piece de resistance for the Rocky Mountains pairs Colorado and Denver, with Colorado State scrapping against New Mexico.

Out on the Pacific Coast one of the mightiest of the small schools, San Jose State meets Drake and Washington State will engage the University of California at Los Angeles in a night game.

Rice All-Opponent Team Includes Five From Aggieland
HOUSTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—The Rice Owls today announced their all-opponent team, which included five players of the Texas Aggies, Southwest conference championship team.

A sixth Aggie, Tommy Vaughn, missed out at center by one vote. Four players were unanimous choices: Kay Eakins of Arkansas, Jack Crain of Texas, John Kils, brother of Texas A. and M. in the backfield and Joe Boyd of Texas A. and M. at tackle.

Others of the team are Alexander, TCU, center; Robnett, Texas A. and M., and Simington, Arkansas, guard; Fannell, A. and M. tackle; Looney, TCU, and Kavanaugh, LSU, ends and Thomason, Texas A. and M., back.

Rice has not played Southern Methodist and Baylor.

Tom Harmon Leading Ground Gainer Of U. S. Football

By GAIL FOWLER
SEATTLE, Nov. 30 (AP)—Tom Harmon, Michigan's great back who rolled up 221 yards last week, ranked first as the nation's leading ground gainer today, and also held the distinction of surpassing the 1938 rushing leader.

American football statistical bureau figures showed Harmon totaled 1,356 yards from both passes and scrimmage for an average of 169.5 yards per game and 6.08 yards per play.

In eight games, he carried the ball 129 times and threw it 94 times, gaining 898 yards on the ground and 458 in the air. His ground gain of 868 yards passed the 1938 leader, Len Eshmont of Fordham, who totaled 831.

After trailing Kay Eakin, the Arkansas traveler, for two weeks, Harmon zoomed into first place while Eakin was idle. Eakin has accounted for 1,150 yards in nine games.

Kenney Washington of the University of California at Los Angeles, whose last minute efforts enabled his team to tie Oregon State last Saturday, moved up from sixth to third with 1,107 yards in eight games. Others in the top ten, with the number of games played and total net yardage:

Player	Games	Yards
Tom Harmon	8	1356
Johnny Knalla	7	1107
Paul Christman	8	1095
Jim Plunkett	9	1090
Nile Kinnick	8	1086
Harold Van Every	8	1084
Granny Landsell	7	1081
Jim "Sweet" LaLanne	8	1081
North Carolina	9	1031
Altogether records on his tenth game are yet unavailable.

Eakin of Arkansas, still leads the passers with 89 completions of 187 attempts. He is followed by Christian of Missouri with 63 completions; Plunkett, Vanderbilt, 60; Hal Hursh, Indiana, 57; Graham Edwards, the Citadel, 52; Rusty Cowart, Texas Christian, 51; Ernie Lain, Rice, 50; LeLanne, North Carolina, 48; Marlin Bugh, Texas A. & M., 40; and Ed Boehl, New York U., 37.

26 States Observe Thanksgiving Today

(By The Associated Press)
Residents of 26 states observed Thanksgiving today while the rest of the nation went about its ordinary business—the turkey and the celebrations only a week-old memory. The 26 were mostly states which did not accept President Roosevelt's proclamation designating the holiday a week earlier than usual. But they included three—Colorado, Mississippi and Texas—which observed both days.

Business generally took less of a holiday than it did last week. For many of the populous centers are situated in states which chose the earlier observance. The District of Columbia celebrated a week ago and government offices in Washington were functioning as usual today. But federal employees in many states enjoyed a second holiday.

New England declined to change its historic observance and Plymouth, Mass., prepared a 17th century pageant and feast commemorating the first Thanksgiving. Governors of 46 states contributed native foods for a banquet tonight climaxing the celebration.

Kuhn Will Face Maximum Of 30 Years In Prison

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—Fritz Kuhn, portly foe of the German-American Bund, convicted of stealing $1217 in Bund funds and falsifying Bund records, will face a maximum of 30 years' imprisonment when he comes up for sentencing December 5.

Specifically, Kuhn was found guilty of spending $717 in Bund funds wrongfully to move the furniture of Mrs. Florence Camp, his erstwhile "golden angel," from Los Angeles to Cleveland to New York, and of taking $500 which he claimed he paid to James D. C. Murray, an attorney, for legal services to the Bund. He also was found guilty of falsifying the Bund's records to indicate payment of the money to Murray, who denied he received it.

Al Lawson is confined to his home following a tonsilectomy. Marselles, famous French seaport is the oldest city in Europe. It was formerly called Massalia. Draft-rioters in New York in 1863, resisting service in the Union army, held possession of the city for four days.

FINLAND

ing toward other Finnish islands in the Gulf of Finland. Selskari is near the narrow neck of the gulf, just west of Kronstadt, port of Leningrad, Russia's second city.

The government has taken no step as yet regarding the removal of itself or civilians from Helsinki. The capital is regarded as strongly fortified against naval attack.

Preliminary orders to the public have been drawn, however, and, as a precaution, some government papers were burned in the basement of the capitol.

Viborg, on the northern shore of the Gulf of Finland, apparently was heavily bombarded from the sea.

Air defense guards quickly and calmly took their stations in the highest buildings and scanned the horizon with binoculars, toured the streets helping civilians find air raid shelters or manned fire prevention posts.

Harbor Island Bombed

No bombs were dropped in Helsinki itself but a small island in the Finnish capital's harbor was bombed.

Street cars, automobiles, trains and all other traffic was halted as soon as the air raid warnings sounded.

The invaders also bombed Viborg and the Finnish industrial city of Enso.

Their troops attacked north of Lake Ladoga and cut off Soujaervi, a small button of Finnish territory extending into Russia and a strategic point in the Finnish defense plan.

They also cut off the so-called Fisherman's peninsula near the Arctic Ocean harbor of Petsamo.

After the first air raid, Soviet planes dropped handbills in Finnish saying:

"You know we have food. You know we have bread. Why hunger?"

The first sound this correspondent heard after the thunder of bursting bombs and the barking of anti-aircraft batteries had died away but a chorus of singing, marching soldiers in Helsinki's streets.

All barracks were alive with calm activity.

Calm also was the keynote of civilian behavior. There was no panic.

Gas Masks Worn

Anti-gas units appeared in the streets and Helsinki's inhabitants slung gas masks over their shoulders.

Small groups of men and women stood in the entrance of buildings scanning the sky, comparing notes and discussing the sudden developments.

The Russian fleet was reported to have sailed from Kronstadt and to have participated in bombardments along the Karilian seacoast.

The isthmus lies between the Gulf of Finland and Lake Ladoga, north of Leningrad.

(Reports in Copenhagen said the Soviet fleet had been sighted from the Helsinki water front.)

The announcement of war was made shortly after bombs had fallen on the airport from three Russian planes.

The crossing of the frontier preceded the air raid, the government said, and was accompanied by some firing and artillery bombardment of Terijoki.

Telephone communications with the Finnish city of Soujaervi, north of Lake Ladoga and almost 300 miles north of Terijoki, were reported broken by another Soviet artillery bombardment.

(Reports in Copenhagen said the Soviet fleet had been sighted from the Helsinki water front.)

Bomb Strikes Hospital

It was reported there also that a bomb, apparently intended for a woodpulp factory, had struck a nearby hospital. The raiders also dropped handbills in the Finnish language urging the Finns to cooperate with Russia, these reports said.

The foreign office spokesman's fateful announcement, "The war is on," apparently wrecked the hopes of staying at peace which Finland had pinned on a conciliatory note handed to Russia after the Soviet government had broken off diplomatic relations last night.

The Finns, shocked by the rupture of relations before they could deliver their offer, had written fearfully, aware that hostilities threatened.

Finland offered to withdraw her defense forces from her border with Russia near Leningrad, as the Soviet had demanded, and to submit other differences to investigation by a joint commission.

Although border patrols had been ordered to move back at various points to avoid clashes with Red troops, Finland's previous refusal to withdraw them 12 to 16 miles at Russia's insistence, led first to the Soviet's denunciation of the 1932 Finnish-Soviet non-aggression treaty and then to the break in relations.

Foreign Minister Elias Erko made the offer as a gesture toward peaceable settlement in replying to the Russian decision to annul the non-aggression pact.

The carefully-deliberated Finnish note emphasized the agreement in the denouced treaty binding the neighbors to try to settle any disputes "in a spirit of justice" and creating the machinery for joint conclusion.

"My government," Erko declared, "is of the opinion it is not justified to denounce the treaty of non-aggression which, according to the protocol of 1934, remains in force without the right of denunciation until the end of 1945."

Cable Address: Care of Cupid

Officers W. C. Dillman and Ray Dudley, who solved the cases, recovered loot from on top of three downtown buildings, from the rear of a cafe, from under a grain elevator and other hiding places.

One of the boys was taken from a school room and strapped to his chest with a belt was the new pistol, officers said. Several fountain pens, the flash light and an assortment of keys were in coat pockets, the officers revealed.

Light Drizzle Wets Pavement As Pampa Hopes For Moisture

The weather man gave Pampa a typical Thanksgiving brand of weather for its celebration of the old-fashioned national holiday.

Skies were overcast today after light sprinkle fell and a light fog covered the city last night. The rainfall, the first precipitation here since the 62 inches of November 9, measured .04 inches, making the month's total .26 inches and the year to date 18.91 inches.

Lyons hurried to the apartment house where the girl lives with her mother, Mrs. Marie Vannorsdel, an elementary school teacher here.

Meanwhile, Miss Vannorsdel purchased a .38 caliber pistol, and returned to find Lyons lying on a couch. She opened fire.

Lyons, wounded, grappled with the girl, got possession of the pistol, plunged into a bathroom across the hall, laid the pistol on a table, and collapsed.

Miss Vannorsdel suffered a black eye in the struggle and was treated for hysteria and placed under guard at a hospital.

A dozen Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity brothers of Lyons volunteered blood for a transfusion.

Lyons, a college junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lyons of Mount Morris, Colo.

The foreign office spokesman's fateful announcement, "The war is on," apparently wrecked the hopes of staying at peace which Finland had pinned on a conciliatory note handed to Russia after the Soviet government had broken off diplomatic relations last night.

The Finns, shocked by the rupture of relations before they could deliver their offer, had written fearfully, aware that hostilities threatened.

Finland offered to withdraw her defense forces from her border with Russia near Leningrad, as the Soviet had demanded, and to submit other differences to investigation by a joint commission.

When Baron Aarno Yrjo-Koskinen, Finnish minister to Moscow, first attempted to deliver the note yesterday, the Russian Vice-Commissar of Foreign Affairs, Vladimir Potemkin, told him he had been called to the Kremlin to inform him relations with Finland had been severed.

Howard Jensen, Texas A. and M. college student, returned to Pampa to spend Thanksgiving in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Jensen.

O'Daniel Has Magnificent Office Desk

AUSTIN, Nov. 30 (AP)—From the lowly origin of the capitol basement, the largest and possibly the most beautiful desk in Texas' huge statehouse has been prepared for the use of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel.

Oval in shape and containing five woods, the top measures eight by four and one-half feet in length and width and several inches in thickness. Its brilliantly-polished surface reflects images like a mirror.

There is a report the base of the desk once was used by Gov. James Stephen Hogg, Texas' great "Commoner" Governor, but the report so far has not been verified. The desk will be used by Gov. O'Daniel when he sets up office in what long has been the governor's public reception on the second floor of the capitol.

Decision to utilize the blue and gold reception room as an office was made some time ago after suite had been found to be too small. Recently the room was the setting for the extradition hearing of Richard Gallogly, the Georgia convict who fled to Texas.

Judge Tom L. Beuchamp of the court of criminal appeals, the governor's appointee to the court and before that to the secretary-of-state, originated the idea of the unusual desk.

It to Garland Barcus, assistant state auditor. "Barcus located an old desk in the basement, just stored there in poor condition, and we got W. C. Jones, architect with the state park department to draw plans for remodeling it.

"A lumber company downtown did the work in about six weeks." The old desk forms a base about five feet long and four feet wide for the new top, which is inlaid with mahogany, oak, cherry, maple and walnut wood.

More than 100 countries offer more or less protection for inventions.

Germans Persecuted As 'Hitlerites' In Dallas Community

DALLAS, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Wattermans, who came over from Germany before Hitler stepped in, had all but no food, no heat and no wage-earner today but they still found something to smile about.

"Papa" John Watterman was home again, free from jail, virtually clear of two assault charges—and the neighbors had an official warning that anti-German intimidation must cease.

Watterman, 37, who came from his native Germany 17 years ago, was taken to jail yesterday, accused of aggravated assault on two neighbors. Behind at home he left his German-born wife and four children with no food to eat and trying to keep warm with a blow torch. Their rooms were barren.

When the weeping wife and the children told their story, Assistant District Attorney Jimmy Martin investigated, ordered Watterman released and indicated he would drop the charges.

The unemployed father, proudly relating he and his wife were American citizens, said his neighbors forced him to move from one home, called his children little "Hitlerites," cut his telephone wires and threateningly battered at his door.

"I told them all I was an American citizen and they told me all Germans ought to have their heads cut off," he said.

Martin warned all parties the neighborhood belligerency would have to stop.

In England, the making of ice cream once was a royal secret. So well was it liked by Charles I that he pensioned his cook to keep it a secret for the exclusive use of the royal household.

Economy For Defense

Sentiment for sharp cutting of other government spending to make way for expected increases in defense appropriations at the regular session of Congress appears to be making headway in official circles. Senator Byrnes, one of the majority leaders, is quoted as saying: "I think we are going to find that the people at home are willing to spend all that is needed for national defense, but that they are going to want to cut down on some of the other government spending."

This year more than $1,750,000,000 was appropriated for defense, and it is now believed that an additional deficiency appropriation will be required because of the "emergency" increase made in the army and navy. And men close to Washington affairs estimate that considerably more than $2,000,000,000 will be appropriated for defense purposes in the fiscal year beginning July 1 next.

It should be obvious to the most rampant advocate of government spending that it would be an insane policy to pile new and greatly enlarged defense expenditures on top of our other "deficit expenditures." National security is as much dependent on a sound economic structure at home as it is on battleships and airplanes and tanks. If necessity forces an increase in our defense appropriations, necessity also requires elimination of non-essential spending in other fields.

The whole federal "emergency" and "relief" structure is alive with waste, duplication of effort, and inefficiency. It is as much the duty of Congress to reduce government costs wherever possible as to provide the gigantic sums which are now apparently needed to build up our military and naval establishments.

GRIPES AND WRATHS

(Chicago Tribune)

The board of the public library of East St. Louis has ordered the burning of the library's three copies of Mr. Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath," in the belief that the book contains obscenities. Mr. Steinbeck's words have occasioned a good deal more comment over the country than his ideas, the it would be difficult to decide which are the more primitive. In fact his language and his economies date from about the same period as the Saxo vocabulary might be deemed as a proper medium for the expression of early medieval notions regarding the production and distribution of wealth. Like the words, the ideas are a throwback to an impoverished and brutal past.

Mr. Steinbeck discloses a poor opinion of people who make their livings by buying and selling things. These men may have been all right to start with, but once they went into business all their innate goodness was destroyed and they became brutes, deaf to cries of suffering and responsive only to the desire for money. Mr. Steinbeck seems to say that the world is a far better world if the so-called profit system were abolished.

This is a very old story and it is still believed by many who haven't taken the trouble to find out how people lived and how they behaved toward their fellow men before the profit economy contributed its enormous part to making the world a relatively comfortable and decent place in which to spend a lifetime. Before the profit economy overthrew the feudal economy 99.9 per cent of the population would have envied the lot of Mr. Steinbeck's Okies.

The Jews and their fellow migrants, as Mr. Steinbeck tells their story, had made the serious mistake of trying to wrest a living where no living could be made, at least in the way they tried to do it. In an economy from which second hand automobile dealers and filling station proprietors were excluded the Okies would have starved to death where the drought found them, precisely as the Ukrainian peasants did by the millions a few years ago.

Whatever profit the used car dealer may have made on the sale of $75 automobiles was a small price, indeed, to pay for the service he performed for the victims of the drought. He provided them with the means of escape at a time when if Mr. Steinbeck is to be believed, no one else was doing anything of any consequence to relieve their plight. The used car man and other cultures in Mr. Steinbeck's story made possible an exodus which was speedier, we venture to say than any other similar movement in all the history of mass movements of population.

Mr. Steinbeck draws a terrible picture of the sufferings of the Okies after their arrival in California. That indictment provides the chief justification for the book and should have been taken into account by the East St. Louis board. If such conditions exist the country should know of them. It is a pity, however, that Mr. Steinbeck was not more judicious in his treatment of this aspect of his story. The Okies descended by hundreds of thousands into an area which could provide work for only some of them. They could have saved themselves this experience by the expenditure of 3 cents for a postage stamp. They chose instead to rush blindly to California without inquiring whether California had anything to offer them. If the consequences were appalling, the victims were not wholly blameless.

Mr. Steinbeck and many who reviewed his book seem to think that somebody should have forbidden the Okies to go where they wanted to go and directed them to go some place else. Somebody in a position of power should have been prudent. For them, that is an idea which Mr. Stalin and Mr. Hitler also advance. It could hardly be applied to the Okies and not to the rest of us any more than it is applied to some of the people and not everybody in Germany or Russia. If our government is reorganized to make our country safe for Okies, this will be a bossed country, indistinguishable from the other totalitarian states except in unimportant details.

These remarks are ventured not to belittle suffering or excuse brutality, but to discourage resort to remedies which would cause a great deal more misery than the Okies suffered even if every line in Mr. Steinbeck's book may be taken for truth.

SENATOR BRIDGES' SPEECH MOST DISCOURAGING

One hardly realizes how socialistic we have become until he hears the speeches of some of the Republican candidates for President. Last Saturday, I heard Senator Bridges from Vermont, who is an avowed candidate for President on the Republican ticket, talk under the auspices of the Republican County Committee.

Senator Bridges said, during his speech, that we would not allow any man, woman or child to go hungry or cold.

When he was asked whether he wanted to leave the impression with the audience that it was the duty of the government to keep a man who refused to work, from being hungry or cold, he said that it was.

This Republican candidate is evidently trying to out-promise the Democrats. Senator Bridges is regarded as a conservative, but when he believes it is necessary to establish a new policy contrary to the history of our nation and the history of Christianity, it is evident how far we have gone in state socialism.

It will be remembered that the allegorical story of the Garden of Eden explained that it was necessary for men to live by the sweat of their brows; also that John Smith established a policy in America that he who would not work, should not eat. Now, according to Senator Bridges, we have established a new policy in this country and discarded the Biblical theory and the theory of John Smith—no man need no longer work in order to not be cold or hungry.

I cannot believe that we are that socialistic. I do not believe that it is even good politics for a candidate for President of the United States to stand up and say that we will feed a man who refuses to work because he cannot get the kind of work he wants or the wages he wants. When we take this stand, it means that we will have millions of people to be supported at the expense of those who work. It means it will so dishearten those who work that it will be necessary to establish a dictatorship in order to correct this erroneous idea that people now have a right to live without work at the expense of those who are willing to work.

If Senator Bridges, with this type of demagoguery is the best kind of a candidate that the Republicans have for President, we surely have gone a long way in state socialism. I cannot believe that the American people, as a whole, agree with Senator Bridges and are willing to give the politicians this much power to confiscate the wealth of the workers in order to perpetuate the politicians in power.

Senator Bridges condemned Roosevelt for wanting power; but a man who will make the statement that he will feed men who will not work is so anxious for power that he will promise most anything in order to be popular and get power.

It certainly is most disheartening that our supposed-to-be conservative men are not willing to stand for sound Christian and American principles.

ROOSEVELT EVIDENTLY DOES NOT KNOW

The kindest thing we can say about President Roosevelt is simply that he does not know how to reduce poverty and increase private employment. He has had an opportunity to demonstrate his ability to bring about laws that will permit reducing poverty and increasing private employment for nearly seven years. The results he has obtained are evidence of the strongest kind that he simply does not know the fundamental principles of increasing wages, furnishing employment and reducing poverty. What he knows is how to increase public jobs. But this does not reduce poverty.

Sooner or later, we will have to get people in control of government who understand how poverty is reduced, wages increased and liberty preserved. We certainly have said enough for theoretical experiments in which Roosevelt has indulged.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON—A dining room picture of Herbert Hoover's quiet campaign for support and vindication shows how earnest the former President is in his effort to impress his own views on the next Republican campaign.

A staunch group of 20 to 40 Republicans friendly to Hoover are invited to a private dinner at which the former President appears as speaker. He discusses public issues, naturally emphasizing his own opinions on the Roosevelt administration. What it amounts to is a sort of stately pep talk.

Each guest at the dinner is expected to hold a little dinner of his own in turn to deliver the Hoover views to an ever widening circle. It seems to be patterned on the chain letter idea.

Reports have it that there is solid headway being made in California, and progress in Minnesota and Wisconsin. Advance agent of the plan is Ben Allen of San Francisco, a former newspaperman who has been credited with putting zip into Hoover's speeches of the past three or four years.

One guest at one of the "primary" dinners reported that he noted two Hoover characteristics at these affairs: One, that at a private dinner where his guests are amably disposed Hoover is a convincing talker, the other that the former President reveals a yearning to demonstrate once more—in the White House—that his way was the wise way.

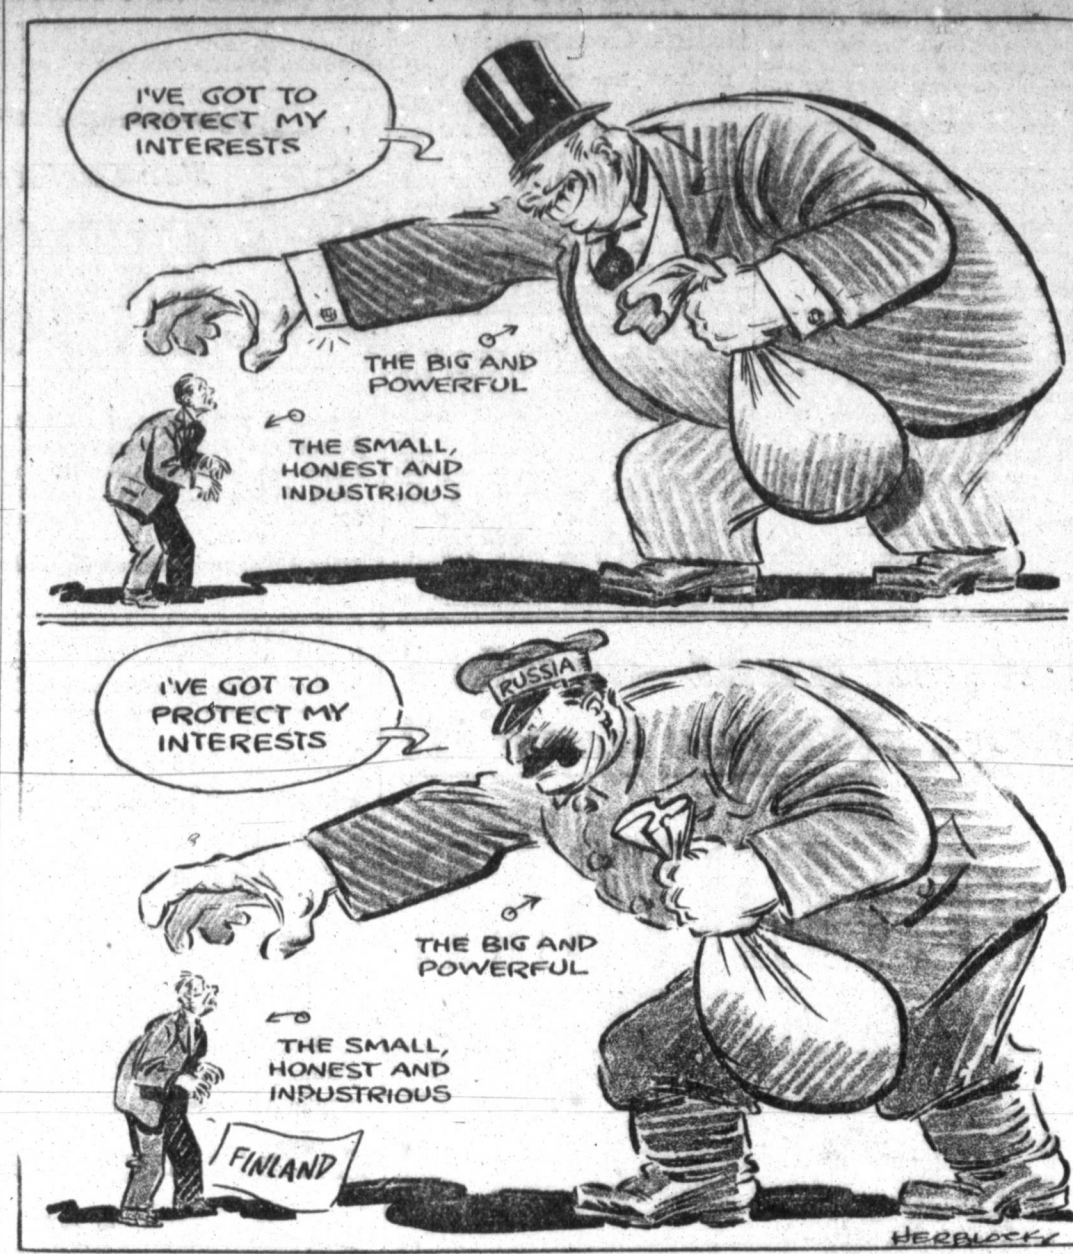

G-MEN ON THE ALERT

British and French purchasing missions already in this country create a tricky situation for J. Edgar Hoover and his anti-subotage agencies. Following the practice of last war, the visiting missions set about buying the whole output of a plant, and sometimes the plant itself, in order to assure a steady supply of essential materials.

We checked with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and were told that reports of sabotage in any plant whatever, British-owned or otherwise, would be investigated. With only 950 FBI agents and a smaller number of military and secret service agents at his disposal for such work, G-man Hoover can't put a man in every plant where sabotage might be expected. However, he has invited everybody to report to the nearest FBI office any reports or rumors of sabotage or espionage. None will be neglected.

The FBI couldn't see any grounds for discriminating agents British or French-owned plants in this country, if the Allies should acquire some. After all, they will be manned by American workmen whose peace and security is important.

NEW YORK—One of the tragic overtones of the war are those quiet, resigned men who were all through the last war and who are now watching the clock tick what few remaining minutes they have away.

You read of the old trenches dug by the doughboys 21 years ago, which may still be seen near the Magnin store—but if you get in a cab or even walk for a few minutes you can come to a place where men are in wheel chairs, here in Manhattan, who have no limbs, and sometimes no eyes, and frequently, only the remnants of what used to be strong and healthy lungs.

About their cots are scattered newspapers with their screaming headlines. But on their faces has come a sort of blessed tranquility. The folly of trenches and guns is to them something that may have been very real a long time ago, but now they are waiting—and some men are almost happy. To them the war is a vague, far-off, not clearly-defined, thing. They see it as a man to whom pain no longer means anything—a man who watches the whip descend, the blows come—but to whom they mean nothing. These men grow fewer, and fewer, every day. It is a wonder, with their shattered, twisted frames, that so many have survived all these years.

War may be glamorous through the eyes of historians, but 20 years after—in the hospitals—it's something else again.

Phil Spirelli's orchestra is composed of girls. The lass who plays the lead trumpet walked into a lipstick shop and asked for some lipstick.

"Kiss proof?" asked the clerk? "Trumpet proof?" was the dumbfounding reply.

It is one of the sad oversights of New York life that so many worthwhile things go unmentioned while silly, meaningless trivial things always climb into the headlines.

Take, for instance, this note, sent in today's mail: "Untouched for more than 300 years, a Renaissance tapestry from the Cathedral of John the Divine is now being repaired in Rockefeller Center. This is at a place known as Pedac. Not since Giacomo della Riviera lifted it off his loom back in 1620 for Cardinal Barberini has it been stretched to a loom. Now, under the careful supervision of Baroness Wilhelmine von Godin, it will be woven in many places frayed by time. The Baronesse used to be master needlewoman with the Munich Museum. She will use both loom and needle in this delicate restoration."

They say this tapestry is 16 feet square, and it portrays the adoration of the Magi at Bethlehem. Imagine passing, say within 20 feet of something like this, and not knowing it. It should be put on display—and every school child in the city compelled to see it.

Rev. Todd Speaks To Panhandle Lions

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS PANHANDLE, Nov. 30—Rev. James Todd was guest speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Lions club Tuesday at the Panhandle Inn.

H. H. Smith, who had charge of the Thanksgiving program, introduced Rev. Todd, who spoke on "Meekness and Gratitude." In his talk Rev. Todd urged people to be thankful at all times and not just once a year. "All great men, and these who have done things worth while have been those who have been thankful, grateful, meek and humble," Rev. Todd said.

Dave Coffman and Ivam Boxwell of Amarillo were visitors, and H. L. Cantrell of Panhandle was a guest. Panhandle had 100 per cent attendance.

The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein

(This is the 13th in a series of 14 articles by Dr. Fishbein on the nine principal causes of death in the United States.)

Before 1900 the motor car did not figure in the list of death causes. Now it is established, just ahead of cigarettes. In 1937, the records show, 39,643 people died as a result of motor car accidents, which was 2.7 per cent of all the deaths.

Motor car accidents cause relatively few deaths among the very old and the very young. The majority of these deaths occur during the most productive period in human life.

There are many campaigns for the prevention of automobile accidents, and these should show some results. It has already been established by the experience of certain cities, counties and states that the licensing of drivers, which includes a suitable physical examination, improved lighting on roads, and development of one-way roads, are useful in preventing accidents and in lowering the death rates.

Certainly the provision of Red Cross stations where emergency treatment can be given and the hospital care are bound to be helpful. Improvement in automobile construction to make them less likely to crush when traveling at high speeds will have a favorable effect on the accident rate.

For pedestrians certain rules have been developed which everyone is caught to obey:

- 1. The safe walker does not step out carelessly from behind parked cars or obstructions. 2. He does not try to weave his way through traffic. 3. He crosses streets at right angles. 4. He uses care in getting on and off vehicles in traffic. 5. He looks left and right when crossing a street. 6. He obeys traffic signals. 7. He holds his conference on sidewalks, not in the middle of the streets. 8. Children do not play in or on the streets. 9. The pedestrian walks toward traffic, not with it, on open highways. 10. He uses particular precautions when walking at night.

Remember that many automobile accidents occur because someone has fallen asleep at the wheel or because someone has been careless about taking alcohol before driving. The fatal accident record is 65 per cent higher for drivers under 18 than for the general average. Children have no right to be driving motor cars any more than they should be trusted with firearms.

The big days for damage are Saturday and Sunday. The accident rate on Sunday is 18 per cent in excess of the week day rate.

Well, here it is—Thanksgiving Day again. It appears that tempus is fighting faster and faster. One can hardly believe that another Thanksgiving Day has rolled around—it seems only a week since the last one, and there's no telling when another one will jump out from behind a tumbleweed.

However, it could have been worse. Suppose you had been a turkey and got it in the neck twice. It is always well to consider the other fellow's plight.

I had a letter from London, England, yesterday. It was marked "opened by Censor." On the inside was the startling news that the Duke and Duchess of Windsor will spend at least two years in America immediately following the end of the war, visiting every part of the country, including PAMPA. You have that direct from Harold Lewis, managing editor of Trans-Atlantic News, 102-105 Shoe Lane, Fleet Street, London. ** Chamber of Commerce please copy.

A FEW staid eyebrows may have lifted along Fifth avenue and in Newport colony when the New York Social Register for 1940 was pulled off the press with Mrs. Hester G. Huntington's name still in its old place. There may even have been whispers about the Register's pinkish tinge, because Mrs. Huntington went ball for Earl Browder, Communist leader.

But a great many of the 400 probably haven't even cut the pages of their Registers yet. The old book ain't what she used to be. It is very likely packed away on the library shelves between Homer and the finishing school French grammar instead of being prominently exposed on a drawing room table.

While dowagers still lock themselves in their ancestral citadels, the deb and playboy crowd is galivanting about within easy range of the public's eye. The youngsters are a lot more interested in getting into their favorite gossip columns than into the Register.

Naval Air Base To Be Established In Texas, Solon Says

DALLAS, Nov. 30 (AP)—Senator Tom Connally today said the establishment of a naval aviation training center on the Texas coast, probably at Corpus Christi, was virtually assured in the next Congress.

Three Baltic States Face Poland's Fate

WITH Germany and Soviet Russia apparently in full accord over the partition of Poland, the three World War-born Baltic triplets, Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia helplessly await developments which may doom their independence. Although protected from German invasion by non-aggression pacts with the Reich, the three little countries are in danger of being returned to Russia.

Hitler has already recovered the important port of Memel, ceded to Lithuania by the Versailles treaty, and apparently has no natural barriers, such as Switzerland possesses, to safeguard neutrality.

Exports consist chiefly of forest products and foodstuffs. Flax is also exported in quantity. These goods constitute a rich prize for a belligerent nation.

Oil May Be Achilles Heel For Germany

(Note to readers: The "blitzkrieg" which conquered Poland in a month has failed to develop on Europe's western front. The "blitzkrieg"—lightning war—was powered by oil for airplanes, tanks, trucks and armored cars. Frederick Gardner, Associated Press financial writer, surveys the petroleum background of the machine age war.)

By FREDERICK GARDNER
NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—Why has the European war bogged down? Why, most especially, have those routed air forces been used so sparingly? Before the fight began, military experts suggested a knock-down-drag-out war, with huge air armadas swooping down on key cities. Ask the economic experts. The shortest of the many answers they gave is one word: Oil.

Oil isn't the whole story, but many economists and oil men call it a chief factor in the strategy of raw materials in this "economic war of attrition."

This is the machine age. Motor fuel for the mechanized armies, air fleets and navies is the nub of the strategy. Oil epitomizes what is duplicated, in large or small degree, by iron ore, cotton, rubber, copper, lead, zinc, nickel, tin and other materials.

Supplies may explain why the war in the west has started in slow tempo, why it is being pushed mainly on the seas, why Germany's vaunted air fleet is held in leash. The consensus of some experts is that Germany is better situated than in 1914 to beat the allied blockade on foodstuffs, textiles and most metals, accumulated reserves and sources of supply to the south-east.

When they spot a possible "Achilles heel" is petroleum to keep modern weapons operating. Opinion varies on Germany's exact position in oil. Nobody knows how large a reserve of fuel the reich had before the fighting began. "Wild Guesses" range as high as 100,000,000 barrels. There is uncertainty as to how much Germany can step up production of synthetic fuel, what she can get from Rumania and Soviet Russia, both substantial producers.

Germany, having made strides in producing synthetic and substitute products from basic imports, was racing to attain self-sufficiency in oil, pointing toward 1942 as the year it might achieve independence. The start of the war in September, however, raised the question whether the reich could fight a long war without fresh supply other than from across the Atlantic.

In midst of the Polish campaign, Hugh Gibson, former United States ambassador to Belgium, suggested an oil shortage might be the determining factor in the war. Germany, he said, would begin to feel the pinch in 1940 and regarded oil supply as more urgent than food.

Allies Import Oil
England and France, too, import practically all their oil. The big difference is that the allies have wider access to supply on the seas. Germany appears blockaded save for what she can get through the Danube from Rumania, from old Polish fields (largely in Russian hands) or through neutral countries.

Soviet Russia as a source of supply is rated by petroleum authorities a big question mark. V. R. Canaris, an international oil authority, says Russia hasn't enough surplus for export to be of much help to Germany.

The major possibilities, as some see it, would be increased diversion of Rumanian oil to Germany and expansion of synthetic output with the aid of Polish coal fields. It takes four or five tons of coal to make a ton of motor fuel, an oil man observes. Even assuming refining facilities were available, he doubted whether German transportation could handle a wholesale shift to synthetic fuel.

Engineer Says Mrs. Roosevelt Is 'Sore' At Him

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—Henry Winslow Brooks, a 62-year-old industrial management engineer, declared with a smile today that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was "sore" at him because he criticized a nude statue last summer.

That was the reason, Brooks said, why she waved a leaflet at a conference on refugee problems last night and criticized campaigns seeking to exclude immigrant refugees from American employment.

Brooks has an office in lower Park Avenue and is an advocate of America for Americans. The leaflet Mrs. Roosevelt displayed carried a heading: "American jobs for American citizens," and was sent, she said from an address in Park Avenue. Brooks said the address was his. "I can't understand," the president's wife said as she spoke of the growth of "unreasoning fear and prejudice against immigrant refugees. The patriotic organizations and groups of people who print documents like this. "It would be very interesting to know where the money for all this comes from." "She's sore at me," Brooks said today, "because of that sculpture exhibit they had across the street (the annual outdoor summer show, of which Mrs. Roosevelt is a sponsor). "I wrote her about a sculpture of a nude woman sitting on a nude man's lap, called 'the embrace,' and she wrote back to me that she was not an art critic. "I replied to her that she didn't have to be any critic of art to see that the statue was radical and Communist."

Special Service Conducted Today At Local Church

A Thanksgiving Day service was held by First Church of Christ, Scientist, 901 N. Frost Street, at eleven o'clock, this morning, in conformity with the Proclamation of the President of the United States and of the Governor of this state. Similar Thanksgiving Day services are held by The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and its branches throughout the world. The order of service included the reading of a Lesson-Sermon on the topic of "Thanksgiving." Opportunity is also given to those present to express gratitude to God for blessings which have come to them during the past year.

The Golden Text was "Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you" (1 Thessalonians 5:16-18). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "O give thanks unto the Lord; call upon his name: make known his deeds among the people" (Psalms 105:1). The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christians rejoice in secret beauty and bounty, hidden from the world, but known to God. Self-forgetfulness, purity and affection are constant prayers. Practice not profession, understanding not belief, gain the ear and right hand of omnipotence and they assuredly call down infinite blessings (page 15). ## Youth Congress Communist Says Dies Witness

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—William G. Ryan, of Milwaukee, who described himself as a former Communist party member, repeated before the Dies committee today his contention that the American Youth Congress was a Communist party "front" organization.

This assertion, previously made by several committee witnesses and also denied by some, was described as "a generally accepted fact." "All Communists know it," he testified. He said he had not worked in the Youth Congress but had talked to Communists who had. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has addressed the Youth Congress and has asserted—although not before the committee—that she knew it was not Communist controlled. This week she offered to testify provided the committee thought she had any information of value. The committee has not acted on the offer. Ryan said that the majority of members of the congress were not Communist party members. "The Communists exercise control through small minorities," he said. The same was true, he declared, of the American League for Peace and Democracy, the American Negro Congress, the American Students Union, Friends of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade, North Amer-

Five Foods Added To Food Stamp Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—The agriculture department added pork products, rice, oranges, grapefruit and hominy grits today to the list of surplus agricultural products obtainable by relief families under the food stamp program.

Commodities already on the list include butter, eggs, raisins, apples, dried prunes, onions, dry beans, fresh pears, flour, corn meal and lard. Through the stamp system, relief families receive free of charge stamps good for the purchase of surplus products at regular grocery stores. The plan now operates in 23 cities.

SERIAL STORY

5 WOULD KILL

BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday Ara tells how a John Douglas married her mother, and how she found her father...

CHAPTER XIV

DAWSON was not surprised as Ara related her first meeting with young John Douglas...

"Let me go on from here, darling," Douglas put in, anxious to spare her as much as possible of the ordeal...

"There are some things I've never even told you, John dear," she said, taking his hand and pulling him down to the arm of her chair...

John laughed at the memory. "You see, Captain Dawson," he explained, "after Ara had promised to help me search for this man, she left me standing there after I had told her my name...

"And I thought your uncle was my father, I saw a chance to locate him, at last, through you, possibly to hunt him to within ten miles of his home..."

Ara and John could find no trace of any John Douglas in Salt Lake City. Then one day, when they had almost given up...

"I reported the whole thing to my father, and he agreed that Benson probably either won or stole uncle's claim. If uncle had sold his claim in Seattle, in 1916, as the records showed, he never would have gone back to Alaska without seeing his family..."

FROM there the trail grew faint. A single, slim clew was a brief letter, addressed to "John Douglas, Salt Lake City," in the company files. That was the last communication the company had with Douglas, subsequent efforts to locate him having failed.

ingly similar. Then Ara had one of the pictures of her father copied and we sketched a beard on his face. The result was so perfect we were convinced that Benthorpe was our man.

"You would have thought that dressing as a miner for a costume party was the last thing that Benthorpe would ever have done. I guess he was so confident that the past could never bother him, but he overplayed his hand. Perhaps I'd better explain," he added, noting Dawson's unspoken questions.

"The real John Douglas was 'Big Red,' my uncle, as I've already told you. He was a prospector, the old editor went to Alaska in the first gold rush. For years he grubbed along, making a little strike, always looking for that one great mine. Then he disappeared into the un-mapped interior.

"For years no one heard of him. The family, my father and the others, lost track of him, believed him dead. That opinion would have remained unchanged if I had not got a job with the Great Northern Mining Company, after graduating from college.

"In going over some data for a survey, I found that a John Douglas had sold a rich claim to the company in Seattle in 1916, long after my uncle had disappeared. I told my father about it and he sent me to Alaska to check on the sale. It took me over a year to search out old miners who had known 'Big Red' personally, and to check 20-year-old records.

"I had one piece of real luck. The old editor of one of the Juneau papers had a photograph of my uncle, taken just after he had filed on the claim which the Great Northern later bought. Pictured with 'Big Red' was a picture, a bearded fellow named Denon.

"I never liked this fellow, Benson," the old editor told me. "Red and I were good friends and I told him that Benson was a crook. But Red went back to his claim, this Benson fellow disappeared."

On that vague lead, young John Douglas had come to Salt Lake, found Ara. After they discovered Benthorpe's picture, they compared all their notes and records, even handwriting, and concluded that Ara's father, the gambler Benson, and Arnold Benthorpe were one and the same.

But proving it was another matter. They came to New York and determinedly set about learning all they could about Benthorpe.

The financier had refused to see Douglas, but did agree to an interview with Ara after she had mentioned her mother's name, and a few personal matters known only to her mother and father.

IT was the smudged fingerprint on the letter that broke Benthorpe's denials, Ara told Dawson. Only when she confronted him with that irrefutable proof did he finally admit that he was her father.

"Then he made all sorts of promises, if I would only go away, never come back. He had no more love for me than for my mother. His only fear was that his social position might be endangered, that a scandal might hurt his business. His one idea was to get rid of me as quickly and as painlessly as possible..."

"You're lucky Benthorpe didn't live longer," Dawson said. "He might have 'removed' you permanently. . . . But why, after you had left the house earlier in the evening, did you come back with this silly marriage stuff?"

"That was my idea, Captain," Douglas replied. "I figured if I could get in the house for a few minutes, I might recover Ara's proofs; and I wanted a chance at Benthorpe myself. I know he robbed my uncle."

"But Miss Johnson had no further use for the letters and pictures, unless she really intended to try to ruin Benthorpe."

"I wanted to do just that, Captain," Ara said. "I intended to wreck everything that Arnold Benthorpe had—his marriage, his business, his entire life. He showed no mercy to my mother..."

"So you suggested that Douglas come back for the proofs. . . . Did you tell him about the secret entrance from the street?"

"I didn't know you knew of a secret entrance, Ara," Douglas interrupted. "I did not know you had been here last night. I thought—Dawson directed his next question to Douglas. "Did it occur to you, Douglas, that this girl might have wanted to have you discovered in the house. . . . to cover up a murder she intended to commit?"

Houston Doctor Advocates Law To Rid Country Of Ragweed

Texas hay fever sufferers, if they can find a jot of consolation in the fact, may be pleased to know that allergy has NOT arisen only in recent years to plague mankind.

The human race has been pestered for centuries. In the 14th century, Jagello, king of Poland, had a violent distaste for apples, and fled their aroma. The smell of dogs and mice affected some of his subjects. A scientist said recently that minute insects that soften the ground also contribute to the suffering of allergic mankind.

Down the years, says Dr. Warren T. Vaughan of Richmond, Va., in his "Practice of Allergy," hay fever and its pesky allies have come to bring skin rash, sniffles and prosperity for the handkerchief makers.

But the sufferers are NOT sitting quietly. They are up in arms and are attempting to alleviate their situation.

The recent Galveston hay fever contest, for example, served to aid in focusing attention upon the troubles of the watery-eyed nose blower and sneezer.

Quite frankly it was a chamber of commerce stunt to attract notice to Galveston's claim as a haven for "those afflicted, but it also brought an expert to give some valuable information, and inspired discussion and further laying of plans to combat hay fever.

All that, of course, is valuable. There are many, many thousands of hay fever sufferers in Texas. Dr. Ernest Valenta, president of the Houston chapter of the Texas Hay Fever Sufferers' Association, estimates there are 40,000 afflicted ones in Houston alone.

What can they do to help themselves. Dr. Valenta believes the first thing to do is get rid of ragweed, the No. 1 enemy.

"The thing to do, I believe, is to have a law passed forcing the destruction of the weed, just as in the case of marijuana," Dr. Valenta, who was named King at the Galveston contest, said.

"There are about 13 million persons in the United States suffering with this disease, and something must be done for them.

"Only a few persons suffer from marijuana. It seems strange to me that, for example, we'll spend a world of money to keep ticks off cattle but we do nothing to help human beings."

The doctor feels the Houston association has helped to spread the amount of ragweed in Houston through a militant campaign, and recommends the same procedure in other cities.

Hay fever is a strange disease. It may be caused by anything from the ragweed pollen to rabbit hair, the date and palm tree, feathers or a wool hat.

The difficulty in combating it may be realized when Dr. Vaughan relates in his book that pollen has been recovered in the Atlantic just above sea level.

Rust spores can be blown from northern Texas to Minnesota in 48 hours and airplane pilots have detected grass pollen as high as 17,000 feet.

Linberg, on his North Atlantic flight in 1933, found that air currents played a part in the distribution of pollen and spores between northern lands.

Ragweed pollen is difficult to battle because it is so light it may travel 3,000 feet up. Goldenrod pollen is another enemy, but it doesn't fly because of its weight, and fairly close contact is required for it to cause damage.

Hay fever comes and goes with, sometimes, the regularity of the calendar. The period of its prominence varies in some sections. It usually hangs around Houston for about 65 days—from the 15th of September to the first frost, usually in the middle of November or slightly later. Galveston reports it for 15 days, and when the breeze whips up the Gulf, the hay fever clientele cheers.

In New England it begins in mid August and a sufferer who lived many years in Massachusetts before coming to Texas ten years ago says his first attack came untrailing at 2:30 p. m., Aug. 15, yearly.

Hay fever is responsible for a great deal of tourist traffic. Many sufferers who can afford it leave
