Mob Shouts For Recall Of Attorney

Two Grand Jurors Jailed By Judge At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10 (AP)—A mass meeting of five thousand angry citizens which booted the name of Governor Earl K. Long for more than a minute broke up without disorder at the criminal district court building here today after hearing speeches denouncing District Attorney Charles A. Byrne and launching a movement for his recall.

Meanwhile Byrne was busy inside the building arranging the hearing in his own defense against charges filed by seven members of the Orleans parish grand jury yesterday demanding he be removed as their counselor.

T. Hale Boggs, chairman of the People's league which called the meeting, launched the petitions asking Governor Long to call an election to recall Byrne from office. Twenty five per cent of the registered voters' signatures are needed on the petitions. Boggs predicted these would be forthcoming by tomorrow night. Long would be forced to act, and Byrne would be unseated.

Lord boos, hisses, and yells penetrated the courtroom as eye witnesses.

Canvassers in the annual Salvation Army drive were at work today in Pampa with the expectation of soon attaining the goal set at $5,000.

W. M. Pearce, pastor of the First Methodist church, was the principal speaker.

J. L. Southern, chairman of the advance gifts committee, said $3,900 had already been obtained, leaving a balance of $1,100 to be secured by the canvassers before the goal is reached.

Envoy Frederick M. Lange of Dallas, Salvation Army official here to aid in the drive, praised the work of Mr. Southern and his committee, which started its job Monday morning a week ago.

Rev. Pearce delivered an address on "The Stewardship of Citizenship." In his talk the minister de-

French Claim Army Turned Back Assault

PARIS, Oct. 10 (AP)—French troops were reported today to have turned back numerous German assaults south of the strategic city of Saarbruecken with hand grenades and rifle fire.

The Nazi thrusts, these reports indicated, apparently were aimed at German raiding parties also sought to take prisoners to obtain information on French advance positions, it was said.

In both objectives, French dispatches said, the Germans failed. The Germans were said to have fought desperately before retiring under a raking fire, Saarbruecken, rich German industrial city around which the operations centered, is near the middle of the northern front.

War Flashes

OSLO, Oct. 10 (AP)—A German bombing plane which made a forced landing near Regevig yesterday was so damaged, observers said, as to lead to belief it had been engaged in an air battle.

A Norwegian coast guard ship towed the wreck, with the crew of four still aboard, to Egersund, where the airman were held.

The speech was described in advance as an answer to Adolf Hitler's peace proposals.

Finns Ordered To Vacate Two Regions

HELSINKI, Oct. 10 (AP)—All civilians who can go were urged to make in-vacate preparations to leave the environs of Helsinki and Viipuri in a broadcast tonight by Minister of the Interior Urho Kekkonen.

The warning was given as a Finnish mission was on its way to Moscow at the invitation of the Soviet Russian government to discuss unspecified economic and political problems.

Viipuri is a port on the Gulf of Finland, almost directly north of Leningrad. Russian warships were reported massed today at Kronstadt, huge naval base near Leningrad. (Russian warships thousands of Russian troops are on the frontiers of the Baltic states.)

Germany Would Fight To Bitter End, Nazis Told

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER BERLIN, Oct. 10 (AP)—Adolf Hitler today declared that Germany was determined to fight the war to the bitter end if necessary and once more laid the responsibility for continuing the struggle on the Reich's adversaries.

In a 21-minute speech opening the Nazi winter relief campaign, the Reichsfuehrer said he had expressed his country's "readiness for peace," but that if this were declined by the western allies the fight would go on.

The winter relief work, he demanded, must attain results never before achieved, not only because great tasks lie ahead created by the war, but also because the world must be shown, he said, that rumors of disunion within the Reich are unfounded.

Chamberlain Delays Talk Till Thursday

LONDON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today postponed from Wednesday until Thursday the House of Commons speech in which he is expected to reply to Adolf Hitler's peace overtures.

Sir John Simon, chancellor of the Exchequer, told commons the postponement had been decided on in order to allow fuller consultation with the dominion governments.

The prime minister's speech this is scheduled for the same day David Lloyd George, Britain's world prime minister, has called a meeting of his council for peace and reconstruction.

Lord George has advocated an international conference to settle European issues.

Immediately after Sir John's announcement, Air Minister Sir Kingsley Wood told the House that the Royal Air Force had made a "complete photographic map of the Siegfried line," which forms Germany's west-wall fortifications.

Reporting on British air activities in the war, he said submarines were sighted on 72 occasions during the first four weeks of war and 34 attacks were made, some of which were "undoubtedly successful."

Cardenas Will Not Be Candidate, Says Mexican Authority

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 10 (AP)—A source close to President Lazaro Cardenas said today "all talk about the president seeking another term (or by some other means prolonging his stay in office) is absolutely unfounded."

It was pointed out that the constitution forbids re-election of the president.

"If I had to bet my life on it I would bet that the president would not under any circumstances remain in office beyond Dec. 1, 1940," this source said. "I know what I am talking about. The president believes in strict compliance with the constitution and the constitution is perfectly clear on this point."

Mrs. Morris To Head Bell Club For Second Year

Mrs. Jess Morris was elected president of Bell Home Demonstration club for her second year at a meeting held recently in the home of Mrs. Conner O'Neal.

Under Mrs. Morris' leadership the members have had programs on flower arrangement, quilt making, garment finishing, mounting of flowers, furniture upholstering, personal appearance, meat-cookery, and various other programs.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Roland Damer, vice-president; Geraldine Skibinski, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Damer will be council representative for the coming year also.

The club voted to cooperate with the Alamogordo fair in 1940. All of the home demonstration clubs will contribute material for a county-wide H. D. exhibit.

Plans were made for a Halloween party to be given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Morris. Plans were discussed for the living room achievement programs which will be October 18 in the homes of Mrs. Roland Damer and Mrs. C. McKnight. These women have done outstanding work in living rooms this year and were the club's living room demonstrators.

Refreshments of punch and sandwiches were served to 10 club members. Mmes. Jess Morris, Roland Damer, Melvin Whitechurch, Laddie Kotara, C. McKnight, H. H. Keahey, Conner O'Neal, George Kurtz, Misses Geraldine Skibinski, Margaret Kurtz, Billy Betty, Joyce and LaDonna O'Neal, and Jerry O'Neal.

A called meeting of the club members will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home of Mrs. T. S. Skibinski.

ARRANGEMENT SUGGESTED FOR EXHIBIT

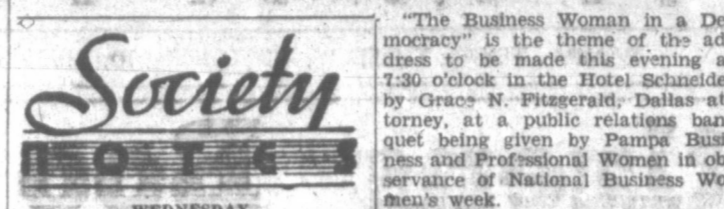

Typical of the flowers to be exhibited at the annual Garden club flower show Friday at the First Presbyterian church is this centerpiece, a boat load of loveliness and good wishes which will find a warm response from guests. The gondola full of roses was used at a birthday party, but the idea is as good for any special occasion, and is more interesting than the conventional bowl of flowers in the center of the table.

It is one of a myriad of new and novel containers which are available for flowers, and may be had in several sizes and colors. White is perhaps the most practical, as it harmonizes with any color of flower that one wishes to use, and also with the table furnishings. A dull green is also good for most occasions.

Roses are always a wise choice for table adornment. They are delicate flowers, the favorites of everyone.

First In Series Of Book Reviews Given On Monday

Beginning a series of eight book reviews to be given under the sponsorship of the Contemporary Literature group of American Association of University Women, Mrs. Hol Wagner reviewed John Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath" Monday evening in the city club rooms.

Mrs. Fred Roberts, president of the A. A. U. W., introduced Mrs. Wagner.

In outlining the merits of the book, the reviewer pointed out Steinbeck is skillful in his characterizations, especially that of "Ma" in the book. The author's homely philosophy and rhythmic style in writing are good, she added. Throughout the book Steinbeck plays upon human sympathy.

Among the outstanding faults of the book, she pointed out by Mrs. Wagner, are the uncalled for obscenity, lack of truthfulness in order to put over propaganda; the unsatisfactory ending of the story, and the soul weapon of playing upon sympathy of the reader.

A large group of members and guests were present.

1940 Oldsmobile Custom 8 Cruiser Four-Door Touring Sedan

3 New Olds To Make Their Appearance In Pampa Today

Three new Oldsmobile series for 1940—two sixes and an eight—with marked changes in styling, and impressive increases in wheelbase length and overall dimensions, make their appearance today in dealer showrooms everywhere. Bigger and better throughout in body and chassis alike, the new Oldsmobiles reveal striking advances in comfort, safety, power and beauty.

Headlining all features of the 1940 Oldsmobile offerings is the introduction of a feature called Hydra-Matic Drive—a combination of liquid flywheel and fully automatic transmission, which reduces driving to its simplest, easiest terms. The conventional clutch assembly is entirely eliminated. There are no clutch parts to wear out and replace. The clutch pedal itself is gone, leaving no work for the left foot to do. To start the car you simply step on the starter, move a valve-actuating lever into forward position, and then step on the accelerator. Changes from low, thru second and third, and into fourth, or cruising gear, are entirely automatic. Gears, incidentally, are always in mesh—so that there can be no clashing of gears or chipping of gear teeth. This means also that the engine serves as a brake on down grades.

To stop the car the driver simply steps on the brake. With no clutch to press and no gears to shift, there is nothing for the driver to do but steer, "step on it" and stop. The feature is available at an extra cost in all three series of cars.

Oldsmobile's series "60," introduced so successfully last year in the low-price field, this year appears with an overall length increased to 197 3/4 inches and an engine stepped up to 96 horsepower. An entirely new body has been designed for the "60" this year that takes full advantage of the greater wheelbase length. It is a body of a type heretofore associated only with cars of much higher price, and reveals quality in every line. Seats are so wide that three passengers may ride with comfort in either front or rear seat.

In the popular priced field, Olds again offers the six cylinder "70" series, biggest selling car last year in the Oldsmobile line. It is equipped with an improved, luxurious observation-type body, distinguished for wide, deep, windshield and windows, and narrow body pillars that provide maximum vision for the passengers, and likewise add grace and distinction to the outward appearance of the car. Overall length of the "70" series is increased to 199 3/4 inches.

Future homes may be of all-glass or of steel and cement, built around a center axis, with walls made completely of windows, living rooms on the top floor and sleeping rooms beneath.

German Bombers Attack British Naval Vessels

LONDON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The threat of German naval activity in the North Sea, broadened by clashes between British warships and Nazi bombing planes, spurred the royal navy's "watchdogs" to new vigilance today.

Air and sea patrols stood guard against any surprise maneuver by the German fleet, now bottled up in the Kiel Canal and the Baltic.

The British press said the fleet was taking every precaution to prevent the Germans from turning raiders loose in the Atlantic to prey upon shipping.

Despite German claims to the contrary, British naval experts said all enemy attempts to harass the North Sea patrol from the air had failed.

Anti-aircraft guns, the admiralty said in a communique last night, were successful again yesterday in turning back German bombers which made repeated attacks on British war vessels.

The communique did not say whether any of the air raiders had been shot down.

On the home front, Prime Minister Chamberlain's refusal yesterday in comment to amplify his previous general statement of Britain's war aims met with a varied reception in the press.

The London Times indicated approval of Chamberlain's stand, but the Liberal News Chronicle termed his statement "not very satisfactory."

The News Chronicle said "it is vitally important that neutral opinion should be satisfied that our war aims are constructive and unselfish."

Will 'Peace Zone' Be As Effective As War Zone?

The New World has launched an interesting experiment which is without direct and exact precedent. It will determine whether a group of neutral countries can mark out a sea zone adjacent to them into which countries at war can be prevented from carrying their war.

Because this zone has been extended several hundred miles instead of to the three-mile limit which has been the customary limit of territorial waters, there has been a wild scrambling to books on international law.

The odd part of this is that much of the scrambling has been done by those who were the first to throw international law and precedent overboard in one bundle as soon as the World War began in 1914.

To leave hair-splitting to the barbers, it boils down to this: European countries in all their recent and most of their past wars, have calmly set aside whole slices of the ocean pathways adjacent to their countries as war zones. They have said: neutrals who enter these zones enter at their peril and under conditions which we will prescribe. "The freedom of the seas" got short shrift in any waters designated as war zones.

Now when the American nations, all 21 of them, decide to restrict freedom of the seas, to the extent of trying to exclude their regular trade lanes from federal battleground which Europe believes the seas of the world should be, there is a great deal of criticism, and a great deal of thumbing through textbooks on parliamentary law.

All warring nations have been informed of the decision of the American nations. We do not yet know how the policy will work. If all the warring nations would accept the wishes of the Americas in the matter there would be no trouble at all. The danger is that all will not, or that one may try to take advantage of the other's acceptance of the new limitations.

What would happen if a British cruiser should be chasing a German submarine, which ducked inside these new limits and then claimed asylum? What would happen if a German commerce-raider secretly got supplies inside these neutral waters, and ducked outside from time to time to raid French commerce? What would be the duty of American naval patrol vessels on duty which ran across such actions? Can the American nations enforce their will in this matter, and how far are they willing to go to enforce it if it meets defiance?

We do not know, and it would probably be a mistake to say in advance. This is a new and as yet untried policy. It will be necessary to try it out, see how it works, and what sort of complications it causes.

Any policy adopted these days brings complications with it. The intent of the American nations is clear. They wish to keep free from war sufficient sea-lanes so that they can carry on their business without danger to themselves. Whether the belligerents will respect that united wish remains to be seen. The New World is feeling its way toward new conceptions of insulation from war; fortunately feeling its way hand in hand.

The Nation's Press

ILLUSIONS ABOUT RELIEF (New York Times)

The United States Conference of Mayors is politically a very powerful pressure group. It has consistently thrown its support toward the maintenance and expansion of the Federal work-relief system. It is now opposing most of the changes that Congress has made in that system. It is impossible to read the statement which the conference has now published without recognizing that it is not written from the standpoint of citizens impartially concerned with every aspect of the problem as it bears on the public interest, but merely from the standpoint of Mayors as Mayors. This is perhaps only natural, but it means that the views they express are somewhat one-sided.

The change in the Federal law to which the Mayors object most strenuously is that requiring local governments to assume 25 per cent of the cost of WPA projects beginning with the next calendar year. They contend that in many cities there are simply not enough local funds available for this purpose. This contention deserves to be carefully studied. But it is significant that the Conference of Mayors, while constantly expressing concern for the state of municipal budgets, has never once expressed serious concern about the state of the Federal budget. When the proposition is made that the localities bear a certain percentage of the cost of Federal work-relief, the localities ask where the money is to come from, but when they are urging the Federal Government not merely to continue its former program, but to enlarge it to take all employable persons, they do not ask where the money is to come from. A hugely unbalanced Federal budget, they say in effect, is simply not their problem. That is somebody else's worry. This may be so; but those who are concerned with the whole problem cannot be expected to look at the matter that way.

While the Federal budget is hugely unbalanced, most of the city budgets are in balance, or very nearly so. But the system rests on a serious optical illusion. The citizens of the cities may not be paying for their improved streets and sewers and parks as owners of real estate, but they are paying for them—or must eventually pay for them—as receivers of salaries and wages, as corporation stockholders, as consumers of gasoline, tobacco, alcohol, imported articles, as theater and movie goers, and in a score of other capacities in which they are reached by Federal taxation. The citizens of New York City, considered as a unit, are certainly losing more than they are gaining on net balance as a result of the Federal WPA system.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

$120,000,000 GRABBED BY COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

In the September 9 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, Garet Garrett has a very instructive and informative article on the effects of collective bargaining and government interference in railroads.

He points out that from 1916 to 1938 the number of employees in the railroads had decreased by better than 43 per cent. Yet the pay for 67 per cent as many workers, had increased by $294,000,000. The average wage per worker had more than doubled.

With the invention of machinery and the accumulation of capital, wages, of course, should increase but to have one worker's wage increased more than double for less hours, while the wages of the farmer had decreased, is manifestly grossly unfair. Especially is it unfair, if this is done by force and intimidation of collective bargaining, confirmed by demagogic politicians miseducating the workers as to how wages can be increased.

Mr. Garrett points out that last year the railroad workers received $120,000,000 for work they did not do. They received this in addition to having their hourly wage very materially increased, as a result of interference with the free and natural division of labor.

It might be well for these collective bargaining advocates, like Roosevelt, and Governor Olson of California and all these so-called humanists, who tell other people to do things and will not do them themselves, to explain how diverting $120,000,000 to railroad employees benefit the consumers of the products of transportation.

It must be remembered besides that many of these engineers get $300 or $400 a month for about ten days' work, besides getting paid quite often for work they do not do.

The sooner we get people to realize that anything which interferes with the free and natural division of labor, instead of benefiting the workers, hurts the workers as a whole, the sooner we will be on the road to full employment and a higher standard of living.

EXTREMES OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

When people come to believe in collective bargaining, it is hard to fathom to what extremes they digress in order to justify their position and try to raise the wage level by this magical Utopian method of creating something for nothing.

The National Labor Relations Board has recently ruled, in order to promote collective bargaining, that the Waumbec Mills Inc., at Manchester, New Hampshire must give back-pay to men who never worked for them. The President and Secretary of the Union made application for jobs and were known as radical disturbers. The company refused to give them employment. The National Labor Relations Board contends that refusing to give members of the labor union employment, even if they were as radical as Harry Bridges or John Lewis and advocated and believed in sit-down strikes, might prevent other people from joining the union. Therefore, they have ruled that this company must pay these men from the time they made application for their jobs.

This is a nice example of the impracticability of trying to make collective bargaining raise wage levels. Any man who undertakes it, sooner or later, arrives at just as ridiculous a condition as the National Labor Relations Board. They have arrived at the ridiculous condition because collective bargaining lowers wage levels instead of raises them.

The same National Labor Relations Board declared that the General Motors Company was indulging in unfair labor practices by having one of their executives protest against sit-down strikes. The believers in collective bargaining have been pushed to such ridiculous absurdities that they now have a law that employers dare not even explain to their workers the ill effects of collective bargaining and how it has a tendency to cause the workers as a whole to have a lower wage level. Yet, we talk about free speech and say that we still have a Constitution!

Behind The News Of The Day

By BRUCE CATTON

Pampa News Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—One of the most important angles of the whole arms embargo fight is the isolationists' feeling that there is much that has not been told in the history of the months immediately before the outbreak of the present war.

Bluntly, they suspect that the American government somehow, somewhere, committed itself in pre-war conversations with the British. There is no direct evidence to support such a charge. The accusation may never be made openly while embargo repeal is being debated. But the fact that a number of senators feel that the administration has already become involved in the European quarrel is an extremely important factor in the situation.

To explain why they feel that way it is necessary to recall some of the background of the present crisis.

WERE BRITISH "ENCOURAGED"?

Early last April, President Roosevelt bade goodby to a group at Warm Springs, Ga., and promised to return in the fall "if we don't have a war."

A week later Senator Walter F. George of Georgia rose in the Senate to say:

"When that declaration is made by the President of these United States it will arouse and it has aroused a genuine fear throughout this nation that somebody has afforded some encouragement to the distinguished English statesman (Lord Halifax) who today said that America, the United States, was in full sympathy with, or shared fully, the expressions that had just been made in the House of Commons by the English premier."

A moment later Senator George added: "I venture the statement, Mr. President, and I venture it without fear or hesitancy, if we let Europe alone there will be no war."

Today Senator George is ranked among the revisionists. But the isolationists have that fear he mentioned—that "somebody afforded some encouragement" to the British, and that that fact helped to stiffen the British for war.

On April 11, at a White House press conference, President Roosevelt, by warmly endorsing a Washington Post editorial, implied broadly that any general European war would involve the United States and

OCEAN CROSSING

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 10.—Miss Deanna Durbin, young Mr. Robert Stack and Producer Harry Koster sat in chairs on the ballroom set of "First Love" and intently read a freshly typed page of dialog.

After two minutes, Koster rose and said, "Okay, let's try it." So they tried it. Through the broad windows of a hotel ballroom, the lights and signs of the Manhattan skyline glowed and blinked. Park Avenue-ish extras, mostly debs and juveniles, danced properly for the camera. Mr. Stack approached Miss Durbin and they spoke lines which portrayed an obvious mutual attraction on a second meeting.

From the sidelines, Bruce Manning said, "I think it's too sudden." He was a peasant-looking but disheveled gent, forty-ish, and needed a shave.

Lionel Houser, looking younger and trimmer—perhaps because of a recent vacation in China—said, "I told you it was too sudden."

The two writers got up and went over to Koster, who used to be a writer himself. He agreed that it was too sudden. They called Miss Durbin and Mr. Stack and dictated a new sequence. Stack must be looking over his shoulder and bump into Miss Durbin accidentally. They would exchange apologies and some other bashful, fumbling pleasantries. Same idea, but more delicate and naturally kiddish.

They tried it. "Perfect!" said Koster. I said to the writers: "That's yanking one out of the hat. It's a good thing you guys were around."

ALWAYS WRITES "OF THE LIP"

"Around!" echoed Houser. "That is the way Manning works all the time. That's the way he has written all the Durbin stuff, except the first."

"Remember 'The Rage of Paris,' with Danielle Darrieux? That was not done on the cuff; it was practically written off the lip. Manning did the first script in a day and a night, with two secretaries taking his dictation and the producer editing what came out of their typewriters. When they finished, none of them knew whether they were writing a screen play or cantering on a bridal path. But it turned out fine.

"Manning has got Hollywood licked. Generally, you know, the first script turned in is the best. But that this country should stand with England and France against any Nazi-Pascif design to dominate the world by force.

On April 15, President Roosevelt made his famous peace appeal to Hitler. He asked Hitler to issue a pledge of peaceful intentions, offered to try to get such pledges from all of Germany's possible enemies, and promised that, if this were done, the United States would take part in a world conference looking toward the reduction of armaments, the abolition of trade barriers, and the making available of raw materials sources to all nations.

Shortly thereafter occurred one of the queerest factors in the whole chain of events—an abrupt drop in Britain's purchases of American munitions export licenses.

Senator John A. Danaher of Connecticut points out that Britain bought licenses for $26,611,797 worth of arms and munitions in the United States in 1938. In the first four months of 1939 she bought $14,008,000 more. But from the end of April to the end of August she bought only $701,000—in which same four-month period France bought $60,000,000.

Here is the way some of these isolationists put these facts together:

In April, the President talked freely of war and of the danger of America becoming involved. He made a dramatic peace appeal to Hitler, offering substantial benefits to Germany; and it was reported at the time that there was some advance knowledge of this appeal in London and Paris.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

It's apple-picking time down on McOlellan Creek. Less than 45 minutes drive from Pampa, and there are plenty of apples this year, even though hundreds of bushels of apples fell to the ground during the windy days of the last few weeks. However, there are still hundreds of bushels on the trees. One owner of an orchard has made 250 gallons of cider out of apples that fell on the ground and you can't tell that any are gone. That same grower does not pick apples off the ground until they are sold.

He says they keep better on the ground than in a pile. The orchards are located the south of LeFors, and the road to them leads across the bridge west of LeFors. Then you angle back south. The first orchard on the right is owned by T. T. Griffin who, incidentally, grows some of the prettiest roses you ever saw. Above the Griffin orchard to the west is the Bruce orchard, and the site of Paul Bruce's famous house made of petrified wood, and his nursery.

The first orchard on your left belongs to L. L. Palmer. Hundreds of people go to the orchards, especially the Palmer and Griffin orchards, every week for apples. The orchards are among the few apple orchards in the Panhandle that does one good to visit them because in a good year like this one it gives you a secure feeling that Autumn can come to Gray county in a normal way, and that this country is not all barren as a desert in the fall.

producers always have to change everything, so they have it rewritten four or five times and wrecked. Manning mentally throws away the first five scripts and turns in the sixth at the last minute. It's a swell idea for anybody with the temperament and stamina to do it. "It's kinda of dangerous, on a big picture," admitted Manning. "But it's good for comedy. You write a swell gag ahead of production, and by the time it's told and re-read, and rehearsed and shot and re-shot, everybody begins thinking maybe it isn't so funny after all. They're tired of it, so they throw it out and put in something that's fresher — to them — but maybe lousy."

The Family Doctor

When a child is born, the long bone of its thigh, which ought to be in close relationship to the bones of the hip, is sometimes out of place.

The head of this long bone, which is called the femur, is a round cap which ought to fit perfectly into a socket in the large bone of the hip.

The possibility that these long bones could be out of place has been recognized for many centuries. Cases were described more than 2,300 years ago.

Even then it was thought desirable to keep the bones under a pull in the long direction to get the head back into the place where it belongs and then to try by various means to force it to stay there.

An Italian surgeon in 1880 described a procedure for manipulating the bones to straighten out the dislocation. More attention was focused on this subject when the Austrian surgeon, Lorenz, came to America in 1901-02 to perform his manipulative procedure on a famous patient.

Great force was employed to bring about a restoration of the tissues to an approximately normal position. American orthopedic surgeons insisted that any procedure which damaged the soft tissues greatly might lead to results which were worse than the condition it was desired to cure.

Since that time doctors here have been practicing gentle manipulation of the bones. They do not believe that the method is frequently successful in children over four years of age.

The possibility of surgical operations to control these conditions still remains. In serious cases the surgeon can open the joint. In a small percentage of cases which are seen very early in life and in which the abnormalities are slight, gentle manipulation can bring about restoration to normal.

This is no work for an amateur. It involves some of the most highly expert training and practice that is known to medical science.

When the joint is opened, the operation is also a serious one because of the size of the joint and the amount of tissue that has to be controlled. Records show a considerable number of cases that have been benefited by modern orthopedic science.

Experts continue to study these cases, with a hope of still further

THE ACTIVE, organized defense of civil liberties guaranteed by the Constitution springs from the war emergency of 1917. Today, with the nation after nation surrenders civil liberty to the grim necessity of war, it is pleasing to note that the defense of civil liberty in the United States is better organized than ever. Evidence of this is in a conference to be held in New York Friday and Saturday of this week, sponsored by the American Civil Liberties Union, but attended also by 12 other organizations also interested in the situation.

The United States is not at war, nor is it likely immediately to be, but a certain rising of wartime psychology can already be felt. That stern vigilance which is the price of liberty can never be better exercised than now. In the fields of the rights of aliens, of censorship, of the rights of labor, and of academic and religious freedom, stirrings of intolerance can already be felt. It is not too soon to begin tightening our defenses against un-American restrictions on our freedom.

IT WOULD be hard to find any fault with the approach of President W. Gibson Carey, Jr., of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce to the problem of federal economy. He asks that state and local communities stop seeking federal funds for local projects whenever possible, thus easing the continued drain on the federal treasury.

Federal aid to local communities in carrying through work projects which would take up the slack of unemployment with useful labor has been a necessity of the times. Local communities simply did not have, and could not raise, the money for work on such a scale. Any which now feel able to do this ought certainly to carry their own burden.

IN MANY communities the unemployment strain has not at the moment been lessened; in others the financial state of their treasuries has improved. The task of seeing that local people have work certainly falls first on the local community. The more of them that can reassume that burden the better for the federal government and in general for everybody. But the burden, as long as it exists, must be carried by someone. We assume that Mr. Carey does not recommend simply that it be dropped.

I cannot forecast to you the action of Russia. It is a riddle wrapped in mystery inside an enigma. —WINSTON CHURCHILL, First Lord of British Admiralty.

Although a Hitler victory would be economically and morally intolerable for America, it does not seem necessary that the United States should become actively involved at present. —THOMAS MANN, self-exiled German novelist.

There is great danger to the principle of individual freedom involved in the possible victory of Nazi Germany. —PRESIDENT CHARLES SEYMOUR of Yale University.

Debussy's 'Reverie' Won Fame 20 Years Late

WHEN Claude Debussy, famous French composer, wrote his piano composition, "Reverie," he had little thought that it would ever become a "hit." But an American swing bandmaster "discovered" the melody, wrote lyrics and made it one of America's most popular modern tunes. Almost overnight, America became Debussy conscious. To musicians, however, Debussy was well-known and admired long before swing was born. His "L'Après Midi d'un Faune," was an immediate and lasting success; his many other compositions have been favorites for years.

Debussy's life is divided into two distinct periods. The first was that of a Bohemian, struggling for existence, starving. During this period he married Lilo Texier and with her won acclaim.

His divorce from Lilo and his second marriage to the wealthy mother of one of his pupils, marked the beginning of his second period. Surrounded by comforts, living in a magnificent hotel, he enjoyed luxury with a quiet egotism that contrasted with his perpetual restlessness.

Debussy died March 25, 1918. His later years were saddened by the war and the prolonged illness which caused his death.

The composer is shown, above, on the French semi-postal, issued in 1939 for the relief of unemployed intellectuals.

Guerillas To Play At Raton N. M., Saturday

Pampans Will Take Longest Trip Of Year

A Guerilla football squad will make its longest trip this week when Coach Oscar Hinger takes his squad to Raton, N. M., for a game Saturday night with the Raton second string. Raton will play a return engagement later in the season.

The Raton first string is undefeated this season, the greatest year of football in history. The team is coached by Mason Anderson, brother of Bill Anderson, business manager of the Harvesters. Anderson also coaches the second string.

team from Wheeler county. The Guerilla offense was smoother, both on the ground and in the air, and defense was stronger.

Passing, which had been erratic all season, started to click with "Lefty" Pendleton doing the heavy-lifting on the receiving end.

Barrow Trying To Get McQuinn From St. Louis

By GAYLE TALBOT NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—President Ed Barrow of the Yankees and George Weiss, head of the Yankee farm system, are an inseparable pair, with no conscience whatever.

Barrow said, however, and with some regret, that he didn't believe he would be able to get McQuinn. It was evident there was no use in trying to appeal to his finer, more generous nature, so Weiss was tackled.

"Why?" echoed the aged but burly Barrow. "Why, because McQuinn is a fine hitter. He would make us a little stronger, wouldn't he?"

"Aren't you a little ashamed sometimes?" he was asked. "Here the Yanks have the best team there is by a country mile. They're murdering everybody. Do you have to keep bringing up those kids like Charley Keller?"

"Ashamed?" he said, started. "Hell, no. I've got a job to do and I'm doing it."

Charley Keller Not Impressed With Series Hits

By SID FEDER NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—About the only fellow who wasn't particularly impressed with Charley Keller's work in the world series was (you guessed it) Charley Keller.

"Guess I was just swingin' where they were pitchin'" insisted the little Yankee somewhat shyly. "Don't know any other reason why I got hot."

This was from the lad who merely collected seven hits in 16 times at bat for 19 bases and a .439 batting average.

He led the series in runs, runs batted in, hits and the size of his meals. This Killer Keller was the most amazing rookie in a series since Pepper Martin turned Connie Mack's hair white and gave Mickey Cochrane a nervous breakdown back in 1931.

You asked him how he could hit a ball like he does, and he wasn't so sure about that either. "I got good strong arms," he pointed out, holding up his sleeve to show a forearm that resembles a good stout trunk of an oak tree.

"How'd I get 'em? Why, milkin' cows when I was a kid I guess. From the time I was seven, my father used to have me milk the cows down on the farm near Middletown." (Middletown, Mo., pop. 900.)

He went to the University of Maryland and played a year of football there. Then during the summer he picked up some odd change playing semi-pro ball for a couple of years in North Carolina. That was four or five years ago when he recalls.

That's where the Yanks heard about him.

Former Pampa Boy Boomed As All-State Grid Center

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

TYLER, Oct. 10 (AP)—Don't let Coach Hennig know it's being bruited, but Tyler High school football fans will tell you the Lions are going to be better this season than last.

Which would be something, because the 1938 Tyler team was unbeaten in interscholastic League play and lost in the quarterfinals to Temple on penetrations after the two teams battled to a 13-13 tie.

They've hitched their wagon to a star over here but they can do pretty well with just the wagon. Walter Roberts, called the greatest high school player he ever saw by Hennig, is rated the finest running back and passer in the league this season.

Playing about half the time in three games, Roberts scored over 90 points.

Last week Roberts was out with an injury. The fans worried because Tyler was playing Kilgore, a team unbeaten and unscorred on, but the Lions took the game 28-7 and that is what made all this talk about Tyler aiming at the state championship.

They say if the Lions can do that without Roberts, they can do twice as well with him. He'll be back in the lineup next week.

They're booming three of the Lions for all-state honors. Roberts is one; Derwood Mumford, formerly of Pampa, is another; and Charles Finlayson, an end, they tell you is better than allstate Wally Scott of last year's team, is the third.

What they like about Finlayson is that he's a "five" backfield man. He is good on end-around plays. is a fine passer and can go in at quarterback if needed.

And here's some more bad news for Tyler's opponents: Gilbert Johnson, the understudy of Roberts at quarterback, can pass right now as well as Roberts could last season—and Davey O'Brien said then that Roberts was the best high school passer he had ever seen.

Coming from Davey, that just about made it official.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIEZE NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—The golfing pros will have purses totaling nearly $100,000 to shoot for on the winter tour.

This week's game with Notre Dame will be "the season" for Southern Methodist and it could be close.

The N. Y. football Giants will trot out their own brass band when they play Philadelphia here next Sunday.

Down in Texas the Austin and Hillsboro high school teams couldn't afford to scout each other.

Gabby Street, who once managed the Cards into a pennant, is bored with collecting prints on all those apartment houses he owns out in Joplin, Mo., and is looking for a baseball connection.

Dr. Harry A. March, one of the early figures in professional football history, is recuperating from a serious illness.

Indian Star To Be Kept Out Of Game

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 10 (AP)—Jack Jacobs, sensational Indian sophomore on the University of Oklahoma football team, probably will be kept out of this week's game with Texas because of a leg injury he suffered in Saturday's 23-0 conquest of Northwestern.

Trainer Ted Owen said the injury, below the knee, was not serious but probably would not heal in time for the game at Dallas.

Harvesters Scrambled Up In Scrimmage

Harvesters and rail birds thought the football season was just beginning yesterday afternoon at Harvesters park when Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejan scrambled the squad and let them stage a scrimmage.

The coaches didn't give any reason for the unusual scrimmage but simply watched each boy closely. But the rail birds soon caught on.

They figured that the coaches were anything but satisfied with their team and that radical changes might be made, especially in the line, before the invasion of Plainview Friday night.

Even after the long scrimmage coaches had nothing to say. This afternoon, however, they are expected to put a first string in action against the reserves.

It may be the old bunch, or it may be that some changes will be made.

Glen Nichols worked at the half-back position on one of the teams yesterday and he appeared to like the change. Kenneth Mullings was at end in place of Nichols and if he continues to work hard he is scheduled to start in Plainview.

That will leave Warner Phillips and Nichols battling for the backfield vacancy left when James Carlisle received a broken foot in Olney. Carlisle is still confined to Worley hospital here. His physicians cannot set the bones until the swelling goes down.

Phillips was sensational in the closing quarter of the Olney game and if he continues to show up as well in practice this week he's almost sure to get the call in Plainview.

Gearing up of the offense and work on defense, especially ways of stopping the fleet Bulldog backs from sweeping around the ends, will be the principal order of business the rest of this week at Harvesters field.

Riggs Adds Coast Title To Collection

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 10 (AP)—Bobby Riggs, national and Wimbledon champion, added the Pacific Coast singles title to his collection today after beating down young Francis of Oakland in five sets in finals of the 50th Pacific Coast tennis championships yesterday.

The Chicago ace was within two points of losing to Kovacs, who is the California state champion, but turned on the steam to win five games in a row in the crucial final set to take the match 6-3, 2-6, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5.

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan of Boston won the women's singles title from state champion Virginia Wolfenden of San Francisco, 6-4, 6-1.

Miss Wolfenden and Jack Bromwich of the Australian Davis cup team won the mixed doubles championship by beating Mrs. Helen Willis Moody of San Francisco and Harry Hopman of Australia, 8-6, 10-8.

Reapers Will Play Borgans Next Friday

Coach C. P. McWright and his high-stepping Junior High Reapers will invade Borgers Friday afternoon for a game with the Borgers Bull Pups. Game time will be 4 o'clock at Bulldog field.

Borgers called Coach McWright yesterday asking that the game be postponed for a week but McWright refused because he is scheduled to play Central of Amarillo here on that date. Central is rated the strongest team in the league and last Friday they defeated Borgers 13 to 0.

The Reapers have wins over Buchanan and Sam Houston of Amarillo so far this year and the youngsters are pointing to an undefeated season.

Smoothing out of offense and getting a little more zip on the ball through the air will be the major work of the week, Coach McWright announced yesterday.

The Bull Pups are doped to be stronger with another week of practice and having held Central to two touchdowns the Pups will be out for blood against the Reapers.

Reds Should Be Able To Win Any Game In Spring

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 10 (AP)—A city election is coming up, the football season is claiming its due, and if the sun will ever give us a break, the frost will be on the pumpkin.

But this is a baseball city and the corner's verdict is what means most right now.

The corner, much to his own astonishment, found that despite the bloodshed, the Cincinnati Reds were still whole and alive as a team. The Yanks may have pummeled the daylight out of them but the bones are sound and when the spirits heal, the team ought to be back like a whirlwind.

But Manager Bill McKechnie no doubt is thinking of improvements, and of the fact that past Yankee victims have had a time maintaining their National League prestige, this much may be said:

Barring injuries or one of those mysterious things which can happen to a team over a winter, the Reds, with the present lineup, should be able to walk out next spring and win any ball game they really wanted.

Almost all the mainstays are at or near—on either side of the line—their primes, as far as age goes.

Southwest Faces Biggest Intersectional Program

(By The Associated Press)

Southwest conference football teams counted a minimum of injuries today as they dug in for the biggest week of intersectional play this season.

There is but one "family" squabble on the schedule. Baylor playing Arkansas at Waco in a conference tilt.

Rice meets Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, Southern Methodist goes to South Bend to play Notre Dame, the Texas Aggies tangle with Villanova at Tyler, Texas Christian engages Temple at Philadelphia and Texas meets Oklahoma at Dallas.

Baylor's Bears concentrated on defense after hearing about the dazzling offense flashed by Arkansas in downing Texas Christian last week.

Only one player was doubtful at Arkansas. John Freiberger, giant wingman, is on the injury list and may not be able to go against Baylor.

Coach Dana Bible was hopeful his triple-threat fullback, Pete Layden, would be able to enter the line-up for Texas against Oklahoma. He did not make the trip to Wisconsin last week.

Jack Odle, Captain Bud Taylor and center Fred Ghook were cut with injuries in the Texas Christian camp but Odle may be able to play this week.

The situation has improved at Rice with only Captain Ed Singletary, Andy Nobles and Mitchell Sadler missing from the line.

Woodrow Wilson Uses Sneak Plays To Beat Baker 12-0

Pulling a sneak play out of the bag, the Woodrow Wilson grade school football team yesterday afternoon defeated a bigger Baker team 12 to 0 at Harvesters field.

Sam Houston and Horace Mann met this afternoon in the second game of the series.

The two teams waged a mid-field battle for two full quarters and until midway through the third quarter when Beasley, full-back, switched to the short position and after pulling two reverses kept the ball himself and raced 40 yards unmetled for a touchdown.

Woodrow Wilson pulled the same play late in the fourth quarter and again it brought results, Beasley making 25 yards without being touched.

Dee Griffin, Baker-quarterback, tried hard to put his team in scoring position but he was pulled down after several nice runs.

The youngsters played some pretty smart football. Dick Livingston is coach at Baker with his roommate both at Texas Wesleyan college and here, Terrell Davis, coaching Woodrow Wilson.

Starting lineups were: Woodrow Wilson—Randal Clay and Billy Spears, ends; Jackie Dunnam and Jackie Ekins, tackles; Donald Gray and Troy Hopkins, guards; Charles Hatcher, center; Jimmy McTaggart, quarter; Billy Clay and Lonnie Williams, halves; Herbert Beasley, full.

Russian Concentrates Fleet Near Finland

MOSCOW, Oct. 10 (AP)—Reports of a concentration of Russian naval power in the Gulf of Finland emphasized today the vigor of Soviet Russia's drive to regain the dominant position in the Baltic Sea she held before the World War.

The dispatches from Kronstadt, the big naval base near Leningrad, said a "whole armada of battleships" was massed there and that naval and military activity was unceasing.

Finland is only a few miles from Kronstadt's territorial waters. A Finnish mission was en route to Moscow for one more in the series of Russian conferences with envoys of Baltic states in which Russia has been gaining sweeping concessions.

The naval mobilization also coincided with the massing of hundreds of thousands of Soviet troops along the frontiers facing the Baltic states.

The Finnish delegation was expected here tomorrow. Conversations already were going on between Soviet leaders and representatives of Lithuania and Turkey who are here.

The Kremlin, however, remained a big enigma. Although the Russian press continued to attack Britain and France the government's moves seemed intended to seize strategic advantages which would be of immense value if Russia ever went to war against Germany.

ORD, Neb., Oct. 10 (AP)—If Ord high school, now with 39 consecutive football victories, gets beat by Burwell next Friday, Coach Jim Kell won't have to look for an alibi.

"But," says Kell, "we are not superstitious."

Court Passes On CIO-AFL Labor Fight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed Monday to pass on three controversies between the American Federation of Labor and the CIO over interpretation of the national labor relations act.

Acting on approximately 300 petitions filed during the summer, the court consented:

To review a decision by the United States court of appeals for the District of Columbia, leaving in effect a certification by the labor board of a CIO union as the exclusive bargaining agency for Pacific coast longshoremen. The court of appeals said it did not have jurisdiction to pass on the controversy.

To pass on a ruling by the sixth federal circuit court denying the labor board the right to place the name of only one labor organization (a CIO affiliate) on the ballots for a run-off election to determine collective bargaining representation for employees of the Consumers Power company at Jackson, Mich. The federation argued that its affiliate should be placed on the ballot.

To review a decision by the fifth federal circuit court setting aside a labor board order directing the Waterman Steamship corporation of Mobile, Ala., to reinstate a group of employees with back pay, they were dismissed after changing their membership from a federation affiliate to a CIO unit. The circuit court held the dismissals were for economy.

There were among the scores of petitions filed during the court's summer recess.

In addition, the tribunal refused to review lower court decisions sustaining orders by the labor board that:

The Cudahy Packing company must cease recognition of the Packing House Workers' Union of St. Paul, an independent union, at its Newport, Minn., plant.

The Greenville Refining company must bargain collectively with the International Association of Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers of America.

The Crowe Cattle company of Henry county, Missouri, is under the jurisdiction of the labor board and must reinstate discharged employees.

The court agreed to review a lower court decision sustaining an order by the labor board that the National Licorice company of Brooklyn must cease dominating an employees' collective bargaining committee and cancel a wage contract with it.

Men Needed In Play Work, Says Texan

BOSTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Miss Corinne Pende, Houston (Tex.) recreation superintendent, maintained today recreation work needs more "red-blooded" men as leaders to balance effects of "our petticoat education" in other fields.

In an address prepared for the 25th National Recreation Congress, she said, however, recreation work should be "at least" comparable with teaching salaries, "if we hope to attract the red-blooded, upstanding, talented, ambitious young man."

She asserted, "we have lost our perspective when we pay more to coaches than we pay to leaders carefully selected and trained to give balanced participation to all."

The Bor-kum had been anchored in the outer harbor since the start of war in Europe. Another German ship, the Gosenheim, departed similarly three weeks ago.

Red Flag Removed From Tulane Pole

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Red Flag of Soviet Russia flew from the Tulane university campus flagpole for a while here today.

Students on their way to class discovered the flag flapping high on the pole which had been thoroughly greased. The ropes used to raise the flag had been cut.

Porters finally lowered the emblem.

Dr. Rufus C. Harris, president of the university, said "it's a stupid stunt perpetrated by an offensive group of people against an institution that holds in contempt the Communism which the flag symbolizes and all other isms opposed to the principles of American democracy. Characteristically the act was done in the dark."

WORKING WIVES

BY LOUISE HOLMES

Yesterday, Marian's child is a girl. After she leaves the hospital, she goes to Mary's mother's home...

IT was Thursday when Marian alighted from the train in Portland. A red-cap carried her bag...

SATURDAY morning Marian called Dan's hotel. Dan had said that he was settled in a pleasant room in the Heathman hotel...

Along Broadway, finally out of the business district and up a slight incline. At the top stood the St. Andrews Hotel. It had a large, well-kept garden and wide, inviting porch...

"Then—will you have dinner with me?" Would he say that he would come right then? He did not.

"I quit my job the last of January. I've been learning to be a home-maker and—and I've lived on your money, Dan."

Courses For Oil Workers To Be Taught

The State and Federal governments, recognizing the demand for practical education for adult workers, appropriate money each year to provide aid for schools offering instruction in evening trade extension classes. Special courses have been prepared for oil field workers and on Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium classes will be organized for workers in this area.

A employed worker may enter a trade extension class if the instruction given is directly related to his daily work, and will help him in his regular job.

Cost of courses will be small and competent instructors will conduct the classes, paid by the state and federal governments. B. G. Gordon of the Pampa high school staff is coordinating the course. The Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute is cooperating in the classes by securing qualified instructors in subjects not taught in the local schools.

There will be no preliminary meetings. Classes will be organized at the mass meeting and class organizations set up at group meetings. Class night will be arranged at the first meeting.

A certificate will be given by the state department of Vocational Education to each person completing a given number of hours credit.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—The stock market moved into rallying territory today and with stocks in front, leaders posted gains of 1 to 3 points at the best. Late profit taking, however, substantially reduced or cancelled extreme advances.

Wall Street, while still puzzled over the European war jumble, apparently refused to be dissuaded to any great extent by peace talk.

Transfers approximated 900,000 shares. These speculative transactions that have been betting against any nearby armistice were encouraged first by Hitler's forenoon speech at Berlin in which he declared Germany would fight to the bitter end and her adversaries refused the Reich's peace proposals.

In the final hour further war fuel was provided in a battling address of French Premier Daladier in which he characterized the Fuehrer's peace offer as one of "ruse and violence."

Husband Slays Wife At Scenic Lookout

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 10 (AP)—Sheriff Sam Deal said Martin Sukle, 35, confessed shooting his wife to death at Point Sublime, a lookout point on a scenic highway near here.

The sheriff said Sukle, who walked 4 miles from Pueblo to surrender late yesterday, also calmly admitted fatally shooting Jack Russell, 37-year-old carpenter, whom he had warned "to leave Mrs. Sukle alone."

The body of Marie Essex Sukle, 23, was found late Tuesday in Russell's automobile. Russell's body was found Thursday in the Black forest northeast of Colorado Springs.

Sukle asserted he found his wife and Russell in a compromising position two weeks ago near the Pycnopathic hospital where Sukle was employed as janitor and his wife as a waitress.

nesses to yesterday's turmoil described what took place then.

Byrne announced Conrad Meyer, his assistant, would conduct the hearing before Attorney General David M. E. Edson did not appear.

Meanwhile scores of policemen swarmed through the building and outside. Keeping the public from entering the courtroom, and seeking to prevent disorder. Two details of uniformed police guarded the entrance to Judge George P. Platt's courtroom. Judge Platt yesterday refused to hear the jury's verdict asking Byrne's reinstatement of the men to the jury. Edgar Powell, one of them, was in the courtroom with an attorney.

Meanwhile outside loud boos and hisses penetrated to the courtroom as citizens listened to fiery speeches from several lawyers, at began signing petitions demanding Byrne's recall. T. Hale Boggs, chairman of the People's league, which summoned the mass meeting, bitterly denounced Byrne, saying he was a "do-nothing" district attorney, and alleged that he had consistently handicapped the jury, and rejected all efforts of the Citizens group to investigate and halt political corruption in New Orleans.

Although with rumors had spread that national guardsmen would be called to duty, none appeared.

DRIP GRIND

MAXWELL HOUSE Coffee

2 DEFINITE REASONS why Maxwell House is now even richer, more delicious!

1. New Enriched Blend. Yes! The famous Maxwell House blend has actually been improved... made richer, smoother, even more delicious and full-flavored!

2. Improved Roasting Method! And this magnificent new blend is now roasted by a new method called Radiant Roast. A method that roasts each bean evenly... brings out more fully the extra-rich flavor of these choice coffees. No weak coffee from under-roasting. No bitter coffee from parching. Always full-flavored, always delicious!
