In a judgment granted last week, a divorce was granted in the case of Dottie McKee vs. George McKee, with plaintiff awarded custody of a daughter, Lois Mae.

Dallas Youth Held For Hit-Skip Death
DALLAS, Nov. 2 (AP)—A youth told police here today that the reason he did not stop to render aid to a traffic victim was because the victim was dead.

The suspect fled from the scene, he told investigators, on the theory the victim—a woman motorist—was beyond aid.

Investigators prepared complaints charging the youth and his companion with failure to stop and render aid in connection with the death of Mrs. Hermine Thurmond, 40, Mrs. Thurmond was killed as she prepared to change a tire on her automobile.

Two suspects were arrested after police traced ownership of an automobile abandoned near the death scene.

Tickets To Game Will Go On Sale
General admission tickets to the Pampa Harvester-Hobbs Eakle football game to be played at Hart stadium here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock are now on sale at downtown drug stores. General admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

There will be no game reserve seats tickets available but reserve seat tickets for the final three home games of the season, located between the 20 and 30-yard lines in the west stand, are available at the office of the school business officer in the city hall at 60 cents.

Briton Says Russia Disappointed Nazis

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain, making his weekly war report to the House of Commons, today declared Russian Premier Molotov's foreign policy speech had "occasioned some disappointment" in Berlin.

Despite leave to British shipping since the war started, the Prime Minister said "nothing has occurred to shake our confidence in our ability to overcome the submarine menace."

"We have continued to take toll of enemy submarines" although "a certain number" of British merchant ships have been lost, he declared.

Saying that stormy weather had slowed the war, Chamberlain described as particularly "gallant" the flights of Royal Air Force reconnaissance planes over Germany.

In discussing Molotov's speech, Chamberlain recalled a declaration made by the Russian premier May 31 that the Soviet Union stood for peace and the prevention of aggression.

That also is the position of the British government, Chamberlain declared, adding that Britain's war aims had been stated in plain terms.

The presence in London of division ministers he called a "striking demonstration of the united determination of the empire."

Chamberlain said he refused "to disturb myself over the flights of fancy in which Molotov indulged when describing the aims of the allies."

The Russian premier Tuesday accused the allies of fighting Germany primarily to protect their colonial empires, and declared the restoration of Poland could not be considered.

He dwelt at length on friendly relations with Germany, but made no mention of any aid other than economic and political in Berlin.

German Big Guns Pounding French

PARIS, Nov. 2 (AP)—German heavy artillery is continuing its pounding of French positions on the western front, military reports said today, disclosing that the town of Forbach was shelled yesterday.

Forbach, two miles inside the French frontier on the eastern side of the Warndt forest, was believed to be the town mentioned by the French as having been attacked unsuccessfully Tuesday by a German raiding force of 1,000 men.

French dispatches said damage to the town was minor.
German artillery also directed its fire against French positions on the left bank of the Hies river, near Sarreguemines. There were a few encounters of small infantry detachments.

Premier Daladier conferred with Generalissimo Maurice Gustave Gamelin to review the war situation.
Despite the artillery activity, the war ministry noted a general lull in operations on the western front and military commentators predicted a winter-long "waiting war."

DOGPATCH REVUE ORCHESTRA MAKES HIT AT REHEARSAL

"You'd better be prepared to give several encores," Director Kenneth Carman of the Dogpatch Revue to be presented tonight, advised the Cornshuckers of KPDD last night.
Mr. Carman offered the suggestion after the large cast of the Revue, listening to the Cornshuckers, rehearse their act, clapped and yelled "More!"

The Cornshuckers will entertain for about 20 minutes. A trio composed of Ken Bennett, Louise Smith and Billy Gilbert will sing six verses of "Huld My Down My Walking Cane." There was almost a riot last night after Ken sang "South of the Border." The trio also directed it.

A rigorous 10-minute burlesque entitled, "The Sadie Hawkins Day Race as Jack Benny and Al Capone Would Pull It," starring John Edwin McConnell, blond and beautiful Marjorie Williams as Daisy Mae, and the funniest woman in town, Mrs. Elsie Cone as Mitzl Muddark. John Edwin and Mrs. Cone may steal the show in this hilarious burlesque.

A 12-minute comedy presented by Patricia's with Jack Johnson, Bill Kiefer, A. L. Patrick, Mrs. Bell Wells, Mrs. Noble Mounts and Vincent (Freak) Kersey in the principal roles.
Dogpatch dances, including the hot-dog and polka, directed by Mrs. Kathryn Steele. Girls in this act are dressed as Daisy Mae and Strange Gal and boys as Lil Abner, Billie Thompson and John Robert Lane, as Mummy and Pappy Yokum are announcers.

A 20-minute program of songs and music by the Cornshuckers.

A 10-minute act in charge of Harry Kelley will be Mavor Gurgie. This will be followed by an act entitled, "Mitzl Tells Her Toe Secrets," featuring Richard Kilgore as Lil Abner, Charlene Jaynes as Strange Gal and June Marie Hodges as Mitzl.
Admission will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for students. Proceeds will help buy instruments for the high school orchestra.

All who wear costumes shown in the comic strip will be admitted free.
Prizes will be given the four best individual performers.

Tech Prof Will Speak On War At C-C Luncheon
A topic of interest to every man and woman in America presented by a man who has made an exhaustive study of the subject, will be the feature of the regular monthly Chamber of Commerce luncheon which will be held at noon next Tuesday, November 7, in the basement of the First Methodist church.

Subject of the address by Professor H. C. Pender, dean of the department of government at Texas Tech college Lubbock will be "The European War and the American People."

The meeting is being advanced one week this month because the annual session of Oilfield Highway 44 association will be held in Oklahoma City on November 11 and many Pampans plan to attend. President Parks Oden of the Board of City Development said today.

Reservations may be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce office, telephone 384.
"We urge our citizens because an overflow crowd is expected to hear the address."

175 Dismissed From Welfare Department
AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—The Texas Public Welfare department which administrators old age pensions has dismissed 175 employees of its direct relief division, director Adam R. Johnson said today.
Johnson said a reorganization of the old age assistance division, effective Nov. 15, will further decrease the departmental personnel.

Those dismissed at the start of the month had been paid for WPA funds and worked under the old Texas Relief commission which was absorbed by the Public Welfare department.
Johnson declared district supervisors' offices of the pension set-up would be abolished on Nov. 15 to be replaced by approximately 37 small offices.
The director said the commission had applied for November federal matching funds for pensions on a basis of October grants or 122,000 pensions to receive an average of $2.24 each.

Daughter Was To Be Bride In Oklahoma

Tire Blows Out And Car Overturns Near Wheeler

A wedding party's trip from Pampa to Erick, Okla., where Velma Luella Jones was to have become the bride of B. I. Schnold, ended in tragedy six miles south of Wheeler on U. S. Highway 83 at 7:30 o'clock last night.
The sedan in which four Pampans were riding overturned three times after striking the road's sandy shoulder when a tire blew out, killing almost instantly Mrs. Minnie Bell Jones of Pampa, mother of the bride elect, Mrs. Jones died enroute to a hospital. The others in the party, S. W. Jones, Mrs. Jones and Schnold, received treatment for minor injuries at a Shamrock hospital.

A Duenkel-Carmichael ambulance was to return early this afternoon from Shamrock, bringing the body of Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Jones would have observed her forty-third birthday on Armistice day.

Jones, an oil field worker, came to this section seven months ago from Seminole, Okla., Schnold's home in Pampa.

Mrs. Jones is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hiland, Seminole, Okla., two sisters, Mrs. Nellie Gleason, Showman, Okla., and Mrs. Elsie Laviness, Earlsboro, Okla., and two sons, Roy of Pampa, Cecil, Oklahoma City, and a brother, E. F. Hiland, Seminole, Okla.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jones are pending the arrival of relatives. Funeral services for Mrs. Minnie Bell Jones will be conducted at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Assembly of God church, with Rev. H. E. Comstock, pastor officiating. Burial will occur in a local cemetery. Arrangements are being made by the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home.

Red Cross Gave Grocery Orders When Necessary

You read yesterday that the Red Cross spends part of its roll call funds here for groceries for the word's poorest and underprivileged children, but that service is only a detail of the work the Red Cross carries on here.

Now the Red Cross is not a relief agency in any sense of the word, except when it has to be. When it is absolutely necessary the Red Cross will give the assistance required.

Thus in the last year, it became necessary to issue orders for groceries in emergency cases which were not cared for by any other relief agency. Outstanding cases in this group were for chronically ill persons where special diets were necessary. The Red Cross issued grocery orders in the amount of $7184.

The annual roll call will be held next week in Pampa. Workers are now being lined up for the task of interviewing Pampans and giving every one a chance to become a "messenger of mercy." There is no limit on the number of memberships this year. The Red Cross, sensing activities in Europe ahead, are not setting any quotas. The Red Cross must help friends and for alike in time of war, and must be impartial.

Postoffice Receipts Show 3 Per Cent Gain
Pampa postoffice receipts for last month showed an increase of $211.32 or nearly three per cent over the same month last year. Postmaster C. H. Walker stated today.

Receipts for last month totaled $7,092.55 compared with $6,881.23 for October of 1938.
Sale of baby bonds and money order business also showed an increase. Postmaster Walker said.

Kids May Be Right
CHICAGO, Nov. 2 (AP)—Youngsters may sometimes have scientific basis for their protest, "I don't wanna talk."
Dr. Eugene F. Traub of New York declared in Hygiea magazine that the daily soap and water bath—if taken indiscriminately—may cause eczema during winter months because lack of sunlight and too much dry heat tend to dry out the skin.

Clack Finally Wins Compensation In State Supreme Court Ruling

A three-year legal battle was concluded in Austin Wednesday when the state supreme court affirmed a court of civil appeals judgment in the case of Texas Employers Insurance Association vs. P. K. Clack, in favor of the defendant.

The case was first tried in 31st district court here on October 15, 1936, and judgment given whereby the defendant was to receive $16.89 a week for a 401-week period, a total of $5,799.90 as compensation for injuries suffered by the defendant in a 20-foot fall from a cooling tower at the Red Roster station of the Phillips Petroleum company.

2 Citrus Truckers Arrested, Charged

MALLEN, Nov. 2 (AP)—Two truckers hauling citrus fruit out of the valley faced trial at Edinburg today on charges of violating the load limit law, while shippers took heart in a reported verbal attack on the statute by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel.

The two truckers were arrested last night and made bond before Justice of the Peace Ramsour. A. J. McCall of Mallem, grower-shipper and chairman of a valley committee seeking a solution to the citrus movement problem, quoted O'Daniel as terming the 7,000-pound load limit measure "the craziest law on the statute books."

Dancer Sentenced In Espionage Trial

GENEVA, Nov. 2 (AP)—A 35-year-old dancer known as "Nina" was sentenced to five years in prison today by five Swiss judges who found her guilty of espionage and treason. Roger Joel, a former draftsman in a Swiss arms factory, jointly convicted on the same charges, was sentenced to three years imprisonment.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Bullish feeling was plentiful in the stock market today but the buying lull, except on rare occasions, failed to spark. Oil, aircraft, metals and specialties got mild late support, and numerous issues kept decline to inconsequential fractions. Steel-traded for a rise at the start, then backed away only to recover at the end. Motors and rails were feeble throughout.

The list topped on the get-away, but picked up some volume on the selling flurry around mid-day. Offerings dwindled from the on, along with activity, and transfers for the full proceedings were in the neighborhood of 800,000 shares.

A smattering of short covering here and there combined with a dribble of quick-turn purchasing, enabled many stocks to finish above their lows or with gains.

Business news still had a boom-time tinge, but an assortment of traders inclined to stand aside as doubts began to blossom regarding a possible "correction" in the upward industrial sweep which has pushed operations in many lines to within the vicinity of capacity. Earnings statements, boosted dividends and "extra" were encouraging but seemingly without a great deal of motivating power market-wise.

Muny Executives Warned Not To Expect War Boom
CHICAGO, Nov. 2 (AP)—Col. Francis C. Harrington, National Works Progress Administrator, advised the nation's municipal executives today not to count on a wartime boom for any extensive reduction in unemployment.

In a prepared speech to the Petroleum Association, Col. Harrington said he feared many Americans were "expecting too much from the war, especially in the matter of new employment." The high mark for major league baseball attendance was reached in 1930, when 10,186,000 persons paid admissions.

Enforcement Of Wage-Hour Law To Be Concentrated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—A concentration of wage-hour enforcement activities in areas of low wages and long working hours was forecast today by H. Col. Philip Fleming, who took over direction of the wage-hour administration 10 days ago.

"Our efforts to enforce the law," he said in an interview, "should be concentrated on the areas having the largest number of workers who have been getting less than 30 cents an hour or working more than 42 hours a week."

A recent survey by the bureau of labor statistics showed that the bulk

Reforming A City

The federal government's campaign to free Kansas City completely from any vestige of the Tom Pendergast machine goes on with results that must be gratifying to every citizen of the middle western metropolis. Both federal and county grand juries have worked incessantly to clean up the loose ends since the Big Boss himself was packed off to the penitentiary last May. The federal jury has just retired after a fruitful session.

Besides Pendergast, three of the top-ranking men in the old machine have been sentenced to jail terms, and indictments against several more have been returned. Dozens of minor figures, gamblers, narcotic peddlers and vice leaders, have been sentenced or driven from the city. Former City Manager H. F. McElroy died just as the federal grand jury was looking into his income tax accounts.

Not only Kansas City but all of America breathes a sigh of vast relief every time the disintegrated political machine of corruption is given another blow. Crooked political bosses are a threat to the very core of democracy. Their kind has no place among a people whose basic philosophy rejects the concept of dictatorship in any form—nation-wide or local.

Congress Sees A Movie

There was consternation in Washington the other day when congressmen and newspaper correspondents got around to realizing the full import of a current film ("Mr. Smith Goes to Washington") portraying the capital scene. It dawned upon both groups that they were being laughed at with loud guffaws that their dignity had been ruffled.

Some congressmen were especially indignant—and said so in censorable language. The hero of the piece, they said, was a wee bit loud. Perhaps they forgot the late lamented Huey P. Long and Marion Zlonchek. Furthermore, the congressmen thought, the hero was inordinately dumb. No one, they said, could be named to their august body if he were as naive as Hollywood's conception of a senator. On that point alone, thousands of citizens can be found who would be willing to put up a stiff debate.

Maybe the film isn't exactly an authentic record. But it is good, clean, American fun. If any group has a right to set store, it is the newspapers. The scenes showing a political boss running the newspapers of an entire state simply by talking over a telephone are fanciful in the extreme. But, they're grinning at the film as another sample of Hollywood's handiwork—not all kosher, maybe, but a spirited bit of entertainment. And in these terrible times, it's important that no one lose his sense of humor.

The Nation's Press

WHO PAYS FOR THE SLOWDOWNS? (Chicago Tribune)

It is significant that no regular model of any American automobile is offered this year at a price as high as $4,000. The distinctive feature of the industry is not so much that it has constantly improved its products—few industries fail to do that, although they may not match the strides of the motor industry—but that it has lowered prices as rapidly as it has improved quality.

There is, of course, a vital connection between improved quality and lower prices. Each begets the other. Mass production has made for higher quality because it makes it possible to spread over many units the almost fabulous cost of machinery that produces improved automobiles. Mass production is not possible without mass distribution, and mass distribution has been achieved by lowering prices as quality is raised. Neither process is possible without the other.

With these facts in mind, every automobile owner in the country can look with apprehension on tactics pursued by the C. I. O. auto workers' union in the Chrysler plants in Detroit. The tactics employed are a slowdown—a refined form of sabotage in which workmen accept their jobs by failing to perform assigned tasks on some of the cars that pass them on the assembly line. Because of the continuous nature of assembly line production, a few saboteurs are able to keep a majority of employes from doing their work. Under the circumstances, the company has had no recourse but to close the plants in which the sabotage takes place. Some 19,000 men and women are already out of work with winter approaching, and a general strike is threatened.

The objective of the slowdown sabotage is to make permanent the same performance. The union seeks to dictate to the company the number of cars that shall be made daily. There has been no showing that there has been any speed-up of operations to burden workmen unfairly. The slowdown is primarily a device to make work. The company is asked to pay, in addition to the workmen actually needed to produce an automobile, a certain percentage of mechanical leaf rakers.

The auto workers' union, which has been recognized in the motor plants less than three years, is already attempting the production limitation tactics of the building trades union, whom the C. I. O. leaders have been calling reactionaries. Those limitations, rather than high hourly wages, have virtually wrecked the building trades unions by discouraging construction. The same tactics will wreck the automobile union by raising prices to a point where sales will be reduced seriously.

The ranks filled of the auto union may not realize this. All they may see now is the extra jobs their leaders promise, not the restriction of sales that inevitably results from higher production costs. But the leaders of the C. I. O. undoubtedly know what they are doing. Richard T. Frankenstein, leader of the Chrysler division of the unit, shifted his allegiance from Father Coughlin a few years ago and now is a active fellow traveler of the communists who boss the auto union. Paralysis of American industry is obviously to the advantage of Stalin and his ally, Hitler. The communists in the auto union take their orders from Stalin, not John L. Lewis. American industry cannot continue to exist half free and half ruled by the communist C. I. O.

MORE MAGIC BY LAW

On October 24, 1939 more magic laws go into effect. A magic law is one that attempts to do something by law that cannot be done. Most people believe that wages can be set by law or by collective bargaining, or by wish.

People, without experience, do not seem to realize that every worker must produce his own wages; that wages come from production; that if a man does not produce enough so that his products can be exchanged for an amount at least equivalent to the money he receives, then that employe has no job. It makes no difference whether he is getting 20 cents an hour, 50 cents an hour or $5 an hour. If the products of his labor cannot be exchanged for this much money, there can be no permanent employment. Of course, the employe can supplement this for a time but not for long and when the employer's savings are exhausted the job ends. Of course, the employer will not do it knowingly, but nine out of every 10 employes make so many mistakes in judgment, they fail.

This week, the Federal Wage and Hour Law changes the wage rate from 25 to 30 cents and the number of hours from 44 to 42.

Most people without experience contend that any man or woman should be able to earn 30 cents, or $2.40 a day for eight hours. But there are millions of men and millions of women without experience and without training and who have little natural ability, are not able to produce enough wealth to exchange for this amount. These will all be without jobs eventually and every worker who does produce will have to share, by indirect taxes, to support these unemployed. Besides there is much farm land, much live stock, and much equipment that we have to use in order that all may be employed that even efficient workers cannot operate so as to earn 30 cents an hour.

When these people put out of work have to be fed and clothed at the expense of other workers, they lose the joy that comes with doing something that supports themselves and benefits others.

Why Not Higher Wages? If wages can be raised without causing loss of jobs, then why not have a minimum wage of 50 cents or $1.00 an hour? This is proof that as wages are raised by law, instead of by furnishing better tools and management, there is bound to be more and more unemployment.

It is the belief that wages can be raised by law that has caused the demand for the Wagner Law and the Social Security Law. And these laws are largely the reason we do not by this time have full employment. The government has changed the banking credit so there is an abundance of credit. It has, in a degree, corrected the income tax law by repealing the Undistributed Profits Tax, so that producers who control corporations are not so excessively penalized as they were under the excess profits tax law. Of course, this discriminatory tax still greatly regards people from being venturesome. But, with the excess bank credit and the revised tax laws, we now have employes who would be venturesome and employ labor, if it were not for the fact that the Wagner Law and the Minimum Wage and Maximum Hour Law have prevented them from allowing men to work as long as they wanted and these laws have prevented the employers from hiring labor at a price their product could be traded for their effort and risk.

All business is simply a trade and when the employe comes to believe he is not benefited by the trade, he does not employ those whom he believes will lose him money.

This new increase in wages and reduced hours will simply mean there will be less produced and this will lower our standard of living, instead of raising it. It is an extremely expensive lesson for people to learn something that should not be necessary to learn by trial, because it cannot even be figured out theoretically how people can be employed who cannot produce the minimum wage.

Behind The News Of The Day

By BRUCE CATTON Pampa News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—After all these years, a way to pump a little life into the veins of some of those long-dead South American debts is being worked out here.

Strictly speaking, those debts are no direct concern of the government, because they're owed to banks and individuals and not to the government. But they're one of the key pieces in the complicated jigsaw puzzle that has got to be put together before the United States can cash in on the new export trade opportunity opened to the south by the European war.

So the debts, along with many other things, have been getting serious study from the government's crack business advisers, notably the staff that is beginning to make its presence so evident in the Department of Commerce.

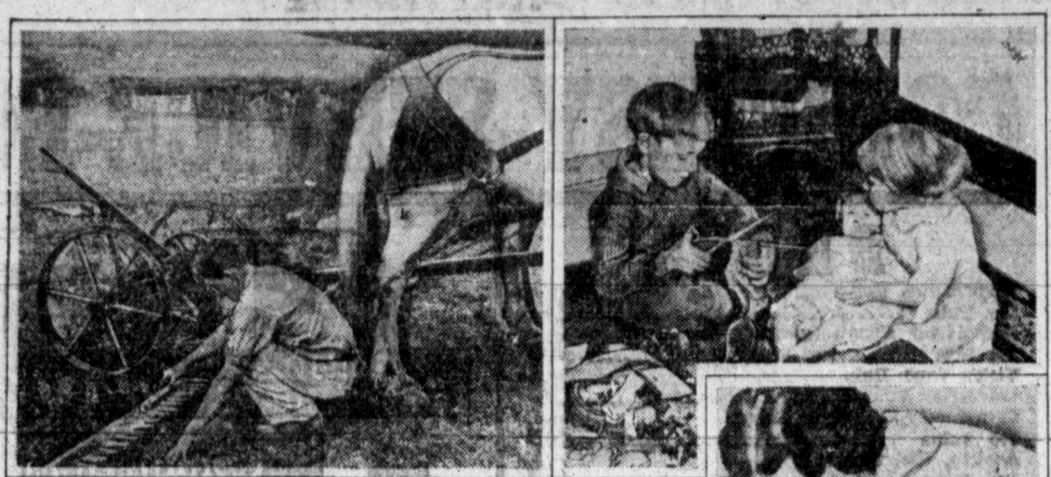

The debts come into the picture like this, as these experts see it: Before South America can really boost its purchases of United States goods it has got to sell more things to the United States. Right now it can't do that to any great extent—as this week's hearings on the proposed Argentine trade treaty demonstrated, with high-powered senators dashing in to protest vehemently against letting the tariff bars down to Argentine goods.

But South America has vast undeveloped resources, and if these resources were properly developed there would be a lot of things the United States could and would buy—various mineral products, for instance, oil, jute and manila fibers, hardwoods, and so on.

South America can't develop those resources very fast, because it hasn't got the money, and it can't get the money now because those default debts give it a very bad credit rating.

The scheme now under consideration in regard to the debts, then, would do something like this: Defaulted debts in Brazil (to take on country as a sample) run to something like $350,000,000. Those debts are in dollar bonds and Brazil has no dollars to spare. However, she does have plenty of mirlis, which aren't worth much outside of Brazil but which, due to export restrictions, are plenty good inside the country. Suppose, then (say the experts), that some ar-

HOME mishaps kill or injure more persons than motor vehicles, yet the average householder faces traffic with misgiving and relaxes at home.

To combat this annual accident fatality toll, the American Red Cross has launched a "nation-wide" program in 1935 to acquaint householders and farm workers with the hazards coincident with their work and home life. This year more than 1900 Red Cross chapters are sponsoring this task in the communities they serve.

Director to protect: "But the scene is censorable." Producer to director: "I'll get by now." (C'est la guerre!) Sitting through the preview of "Hollywood," which introduces a new Swedish star, Ingrid Bergman, I was conscious of something unique in the girl's appearance. Something startling. About the second reel it dawned: the girl has eyebrows, real ones, but unshaped, unshaped, unglamorized, the real McCoy. It's been years since that kind has reached the screen. Questions before the house: Are eyebrows coming back? Along with corns and busties?

There's a scene in "A Call on the President" in which Joe Turp (William Gargan) is visiting the White House, and the chief executive is listening to a foreign broadcast. Says Joe: "Is that guy shooting off his mouth again?" The President nods, and philosophizes to Joe about the state of the nation, asks Joe what he would do in the situation. And Joe, drawing on his Brooklyn wisdom, says he'd handle it. In the way you do a telephone threatener: "Just don't answer. Hang up on him—and let him guess what you're going to do."

Gargan, playing Brooklyn's (or Damon Runyon's) Joe Turp, with Ann Sothern as his wife Ethel, says he spent years forgetting his Brooklynese, expects to spend years again learning English. He's again. He was born on Brooklyn's Henry street, once worker "under a truck." In "A Call on the President" the set is a reproduction of Henry's street, and Joe Turp's living is mechanical. "For years," says Bill, "I was like many a Brooklynite in resenting Brooklynese as Damon Runyon wrote it—and then I left Brooklyn and began to notice 'er' for 'er' and 'er' for 'er' oyster. I don't know why we talk that way. No, dem and does, but 'er' and 'er' always. It's the only place in the world you hear it."

After all these years, Hollywood is actually going to provide a home for its old people. The stage, with actors' homes and hospitals, is far ahead of the screen, but the movie industry is catching up. That Sunday air program of screen stars—sponsored by the Guilds—got off to a big start with the Cary Grant-Ann Sothern-Mickey Rooney-Judy Garland show, and in 31 weeks will bring to the "home fund" another $220,000. Tentative plans call for a central building plus individual bungalows on an as yet unselected tract of at least 25 acres—and work to begin within the next two years. The home will be open not only to actors but to the eligible from the entire movie industry. At least a dozen stars, directors, and others have offered to donate bungalows.

It's a sign of the times—this arrangement worked out whereby those bonds were changed from dollar bonds into mirlis bonds. Payments could be resumed, but they would be made in mirlis—which can't be taken out of the country and wouldn't do the bondholders any good if they could be. Part of the arrangement, therefore, would be for the bondholders to invest their newly-gotten mirlis in Brazil—in some of these undeveloped resources above mentioned.

DEBT REDUCTION. MORE CAPITAL FORESEEN. It wouldn't be quite as simple as that, of course. It is suggested that there probably would have to be some scaling down of the debts, and that it might also be necessary to send a little fresh money into the

People You Know

A dozen rain-raising high school boys found an unexpected recipient at fun-loving Dr. C. H. Schulky's residence on Mary Ellen Holloway's night. The boys, arm in arm, had been going from door to door in the Cook addition (the boys referred to it as "Rich big hill") asking for something to eat or anything else that came to their minds... just for the heck of it. They had been shooed off and emphatically turned down at every house on the hill. They were prepared for a rebuff at Dr. Schulky's, but he said "Come on in, boys, and make yourself at home and we'll have a party. I've been hoping you'd drop in." And Mrs. Schulky opened peaches and got cookies and made hot chocolate, and after the boys had eaten they went into the parlor and the energetic Doctor began to sing songs until a late hour. "Now don't wait until next Halloween to come back," said he. "Come any time." And the boys promised they would. "I've been hoping something to eat seemed to be the new angle of this year's Halloween celebration. Many a housewife dished it out. Now, we won't destroy any of your stuff," Mrs. W. L. Davis on North Frost was told.

The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein

Dr. Henry A. Christian, formerly professor of medicine at Harvard University, is convinced that excessive exercise is detrimental to health. There is a difference of opinion, however, as to what constitutes excessive exercise. Since heart disease has become the leading cause of death, doctors recognize in exercise more injury than benefit in cases of people who have indulged too vigorously or for too long a time. This is particularly true of men past 50 who are found in their clubs still trying to play handball, tennis, volleyball or badminton at a pace beyond their normal capabilities. Dr. Christian believes that many men past 50 indulge in excessive exercise to reduce their weight. Most persons tend to add weight after 40, and it is generally known that overweight after middle age is a hazard to health. Proper reduction of weight, however, does not involve excessive activity. Reducing should be gradual and should be accomplished by eating less starch, sugar and fat.

Exercise has little effect on loss of weight. Because exercise is likely to increase the appetite, it is difficult to reduce in association with too much exercise.

Dr. Christian especially warns those who exercised vigorously when young and who try to keep up this activity as they grow older. The human body, after 50, begins to break down. It cannot undergo the stresses that it could tolerate in youth. The person past 50 who tries to play 36 holes in a week-end without keeping suitably in training is putting a burden on his heart, his kidneys and his other vital tissues.

Our sense of fatigue is a reasonable guide to the amount of physical work in which we can indulge. Any exercise is too vigorous if it is followed by a restless night or if one is still tired the next morning.

ARE YOU one of the many people who have tried to sleep long by counting imaginary sheep jumping successively over an imaginary fence? If so, it's time for you to feel sheepish. It's the wrong approach to Morpheus, says Dr. Louis J. Karnosh, Cleveland physician. Counting sheep, or any similar dodge, says Dr. Karnosh, simply concentrates the mind on the expedient, thus keeping the insomniac wider awake than ever. Reading in bed, or any sort of mental gymnastics, simply defeats the whole plan.

The real thing to do is to relax as far as possible and then try to avoid thinking about anything in particular, thinks Dr. Karnosh. In other words, trying to concentrate too hard on the sheep simply makes you the goat.

IT IS estimated that it costs an alumnus $23 to attend his alma mater's homecoming football game. Only the rich can afford to be loyal. Meteorologists forecast an unusually cold winter for Canada, but a chill became noticeable right after Lindbergh's second speech. The British House of Commons virtually ignored Herr von Ribbentrop's speech. Only insults from Hitler and Stalin are being considered this season.

Prince Michael, heir to the Romanian throne, recently celebrated his 18th birthday and probably wished his father a long and healthy life. Hitler is already having a hard time in Czechoslovakia. The Czechs apparently don't appreciate being saved from the menace of liberty.

THE BATTLE against disease goes on slowly, relentlessly, in the end usually productive of new developments to lessen the annual toll of lives. Once in a while, scientists aiming for one result, stumble accidentally upon another, totally different from but as significant as the one they sought. Something like that happened when a Washington physician used the new drug, sulfapyridine to combat pneumonia germs. The doctor's patient was also infected with influenza germs, and the drug destroyed not only the pneumonia bacteria but the influenza germs as well.

Subsequent experiments by the U. S. Public Health Service have borne out the theory that sulfapyridine can be used effectively against influenza. But scientists are unwilling to accept the findings as definitive until exhaustive research has been completed.

AT ALL events, there is some reason to believe that important progress has been made. The drug must be used with considerable care, and it will probably be some time before it is generally accepted. But the discovery may be the beginning of a fresh battle on influenza.

THE WAGE HOUR BILL. With an army man at the helm, the Wage-Hour act embarks on a new course beginning Oct. 24th. There'll be plenty of comment elsewhere in your paper today about this adventure, because it's vastly important, this new phase of wage-hour control.

Maybe you hadn't reckoned on any personal application of the new departure of the law; and maybe, Col. Philip Fleming who succeeds Elmer Andrews as head man in charge of administration of the law, hadn't contemplated the job as embracing more difficult or more perplexing ones than he'd previously, but now note this:

On October 24 the minimum wage will increase from 25 cents to 30 cents an hour, or twenty per cent. On the same day the maximum legal week will increase from 44 hours to 42 hours, and a half is paid for overtime. And a year hence it will again be reduced to 40 hours a week.

Beginning on the same day the minimum weekly pay will increase from $11 (34 hours times 25 cents) to $12.60 (42 hours times 30 cents). The least efficient and therefore the poorest paid workers will have a better pay envelope provided their employers can absorb the increase and continue to employ them. When the act went into effect a year ago it was estimated that the minimum wage provision affected about 750,000 of the poorest paid workers.

Skilled labor has at no time been benefitted by the wage minimums. It has been paid, and would have been paid more even if the act had never been passed. But the hourly maximums affect skilled labor as well as unskilled. Before the act went into effect both killed and unskilled could agree to work any number of hours a week unless forbidden by State law, as was the case in some hazardous occupations. A year ago the maximum became 44 hours. Now it is only 42 hours. A year from now it will be only 40 hours. The 44-hour provision effected 2,500,000 workers. The gov-ment maximum will affect still more. Will the workers like it? Here is the hurdle. If the hourly rate has been $1 the worker made a maximum of $44 a week. He will now make a maximum of $42. This is $2 less a week. Next year he will make a maximum of $40. This is $4 a week less unless workers through collective bargaining, or the economic pressure of strikes, actual or threatened, get an increase in their hour rate sufficient to make up this shrinkage in pay due to shrinkage in hours or unless it is made up by their boss through time and a half pay for overtime hours; the worker is going to be hurt by the act.

This brings to light a fundamental fault in the law. It ought not to be attempted to put minimum wages and maximum hours in the same bill. There is general acceptance of minimum wages as an effort to improve the lot of those least able to protect themselves from economic pressures. But a limitation on hours is a different story. And its burden falls hardest on the poorest. It is he who needs the additional hours of work the most.

When the ceiling during peak work hours is lowered from 44 to 42 to 40 hours the yearly average is sure to be less. You have lower peaks to balance off the valleys. If a worker could balance off 25 weeks of 48 hours, he still has a yearly average of 40 hours. But when his peak is 40 his yearly average is certain to be below 40 with consequent reduction in total annual earnings.

Exceptions were made in the act of a few peak businesses, like saloon fishing, or tomato picking where you can what you can when you can. But nearly all businesses are more or less seasonal—including such basic ones as steel and coal. Here the act collides with fact. And the act is going to suffer. What interests the worker—and his wife—is total annual pay. The reduction in hours points toward a reduction in pay.

The bill's authors would get around this by time and a half pay for overtime. But employers can pay fifty per cent more in wages for overtime? Ford, for example, reported a factory profit during the past few years of only $8 a car. Companies with hair line margins of black ink like this, big or small, are going to suffer. What interests them—cannot pay time and a half and keep ahead of the sheriff.

So They Say

It is to be assumed that the President will continue his efforts to keep this country out of war. —HENRY A. WALLACE, secretary of Agriculture.

The status of all nations, great and small, should be equal before the law. And the establishment of a true reign of law between the nations is the only remedy for war. —LORD LOTHIAN, British ambassador to the United States, speaking to the Pilgrims Society.

We did everything possible to prevent war, and now we are doing everything to facilitate the conclusion of peace, of a true peace based on justice which cannot again be disturbed in the near future. —POPE PIUS XII.

We can talk about the war as long as we like, but it boils down to the fact that it is a very curious war. —HUGH S. GIBSON, former U. S. ambassador to Belgium.

Criminal Charges Against Railroad Officials Dismissed. AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—Criminal charges filed in justice court here Monday against the three state railroad commissioners have been dismissed after an investigation of justice of both district and county attorneys.

The charges, filed by Luther W. Davis, former commission employe, were dismissed yesterday. District Attorney Edwin Moorhead said he concluded after an investigation that no law had been violated.

Davis' complaints were based on an allegation the commission payroll for September listed an employe as an assistant intrastate rate expert whereas in fact he was working in the oil and gas division. The charges were filed against Lon A. Smith, Jerry Sadler and Ernest O. Thompson.

Pettengill EIGHT YEARS Democratic Congressman From INDIANA

THE WAGE HOUR BILL. With an army man at the helm, the Wage-Hour act embarks on a new course beginning Oct. 24th.

Maybe you hadn't reckoned on any personal application of the new departure of the law; and maybe, Col. Philip Fleming who succeeds Elmer Andrews as head man in charge of administration of the law, hadn't contemplated the job as embracing more difficult or more perplexing ones than he'd previously, but now note this:

On October 24 the minimum wage will increase from 25 cents to 30 cents an hour, or twenty per cent. On the same day the maximum legal week will increase from 44 hours to 42 hours, and a half is paid for overtime.

Beginning on the same day the minimum weekly pay will increase from $11 (34 hours times 25 cents) to $12.60 (42 hours times 30 cents). The least efficient and therefore the poorest paid workers will have a better pay envelope provided their employers can absorb the increase and continue to employ them.

Skilled labor has at no time been benefitted by the wage minimums. It has been paid, and would have been paid more even if the act had never been passed. But the hourly maximums affect skilled labor as well as unskilled.

Before the act went into effect both killed and unskilled could agree to work any number of hours a week unless forbidden by State law, as was the case in some hazardous occupations. A year ago the maximum became 44 hours. Now it is only 42 hours. A year from now it will be only 40 hours.

The 44-hour provision effected 2,500,000 workers. The government maximum will affect still more. Will the workers like it? Here is the hurdle. If the hourly rate has been $1 the worker made a maximum of $44 a week.

Next year he will make a maximum of $40. This is $4 a week less unless workers through collective bargaining, or the economic pressure of strikes, actual or threatened, get an increase in their hour rate sufficient to make up this shrinkage in pay due to shrinkage in hours or unless it is made up by their boss through time and a half pay for overtime hours; the worker is going to be hurt by the act.

Republicans Will Oppose Adjournment

By W. B. RAGSDALE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—A few Republican house members have been in a situation this week somewhat similar to that in which some southern Democrats used to find themselves before a tariff vote.

More than one southerner used to talk the ways and means committee into increasing the duties on foreign products that competed with those of his home district. Then he would vote against the bill on the floor, certain in his own mind that the Republicans had the votes to put the measure through.

Similarly, some members approached the vote on repealing the arms embargo, ready to shout "no" when their names were called, but hopeful that the repeal would go through.

They will be no more comfortable when they vote on the adjournment of the extra session. Republican leaders want to hold Congress in session straight through until the 1940 regular session convenes in January. President Roosevelt favors adjournment as soon as the neutrality bill is enacted.

Representative Martin of Massachusetts, the Republican house leader, gives three arguments why he thinks Congress should stay here. They are:

1. Repeal of the arms embargo may create an urgent need for auxiliary legislation.
2. There are still 8,000,000 persons out of work, and Martin thinks Congress ought to try to do something about it.
3. He says that work needs to be done on an agricultural program, on further development of national defense, and on railroad and other domestic legislation.

Martin's leadership has gone far toward welding the Republican house minority. When he arises to oppose adjournment, he may expect the strong support of his party.

And he will get it, irrespective of the desires of many members to be back home where the 1940 crop of votes needs plowing and where sentiment is being shaped for and against presidential candidates.

Thus, the adjournment issue some members will be voting on, and hoping the result will add up against them. It probably will, for the Democrats will use the argument that every vote to stay in session will display a lack of confidence in President Roosevelt.

Mexico 6-Year Plan Up For Ratification

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 2 (AP)—A six-year plan for Mexico, which includes a proposal for complete nationalization of the petroleum industry, today came before the nation's dominant political organization, PRM, or the Mexican Revolutionary Party, on the second day of its three-day convention.

The six-year plan will be the program to be followed if the candidate chosen by the convention should be elected the successor to President Lázaro Cárdenas in the election next July.

PRM's candidate probably will be named tomorrow and political circles said it was certain the nomination would go to 42-year-old General Manuel Ávila Camacho, former war minister in the Cárdenas cabinet.

PRM's power at the polls has not been tested seriously for years.

The executive board of the party introduced its proposals for the six-year plan before more than 1,000 delegates at the convention last night.

One plank in the draft proposed that the petroleum industry "be totally and completely nationalized." When foreign-owned oil properties were expropriated March 18, 1938, some small private properties were not affected.

Longley To Handle Valley Situation, Garrison States

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—Director Homer Garrison, Jr., of the state police said today Lieutenant J. W. Longley, in charge of license and weight inspectors, had blanket authority to act in any difficulties arising from enforcement of the 7,000-pound truck load limit in the lower Rio Grande valley citrus growing district.

"Lieutenant Longley is in Edinburg now," Garrison said, "and in full charge of activities of the department there. The trouble our men are having occurs every year. As far as I know, enforcement work is continuing as usual with only a small group of inspectors on principal outlets."

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel was unavailable for comment.

Gaylor Outlines Great Work Of U. S. Red Cross Nurses

The American Red Cross Nursing services are ready to meet any demands arising from the European war as well as disaster and epidemic in its domestic operations. O. K. Gaylor, chairman of the Annual Roll Call, Pampa Red Cross chapter, said today, pointing out that the organization has reached its greatest strength in history with a reserve corps of 44,283 nurses registered for active duty.

During the World War, she said, the Red Cross pressed into service nearly 20,000 nurses for duty here and overseas. Increased activities during peace-time in meeting nursing needs during major disasters and epidemics in this country have more than doubled this number she pointed out.

"Conditions abroad daily emphasize the need for maintaining a strong nursing reserve," the local chairman stressed, "if the Red Cross is to be prepared for the eventualities that we may face tomorrow, either through war, disaster or epidemic, the Red Cross must have the support of additional American men and women during the membership Roll Call this year."

Roll Call dates have been set for November 11 through 30 this year. Plans arranged at the Red Cross convention call for a million more members to meet the growing needs in this country for Red Cross services.

"Outbreak of hostilities in Europe has prompted the national organization to seek members far in excess of this goal," Gaylor said.

"American Red Cross nurses have served in 2,000 major disasters and in two wars since the founding of their parent organization," he said. "Their greatest challenge arose in the World War and in the 1937 Ohio Valley flood which forced more than a million persons from their homes."

"Despite the fact that war and disaster represent the more spectacular tasks undertaken by Red Cross nurses, we cannot lose view of the splendid nursing program carried on yearly by the Red Cross in urban and rural communities."

"During the past year, Gaylor said, an average of 656 Red Cross nurses per month made a total of 1,046,933 visits to patients in their homes throughout the nation. Many of these home visits, the chairman said, "are made by nurses who are themselves patients."

Hallowe'en Party Given At Hopkins For All Scouts

HOPKINS, Nov. 2—The combined committees of the Boy, Girl, Brownie and Cub and Bunny Scouts of the Hopkins district 18 held a mass celebration recently in the form of a Hallowe'en party for all the scouts in the above classifications.

Approximately two hundred scouts and parents attended, returned in appropriate Hallowe'en garb.

Upon arrival those costumed made every effort to keep their identity hidden. After a brief inspection of each outfit the guests assembled with their respective groups for the grand march.

Mrs. R. W. Orr played the march while everyone filed past the judges' stand.

Girls First Contestants

The first contestants were the girl scouts. In this group Doris Barnett won first prize dressed as the good fairy in the "Wizard of Oz." Second prize was awarded to Mary Alice Mallow, dressed to represent a witch, third place to Delva Shedy Howe as Dutch girl.

Next to be judged were the Boy Scouts. First prize went to E. Redus, dressed as a negro servant, second prize to J. B. Horn, dressed in a Spanish costume, Kenneth Bowers, third prize, dressed in a clown suit.

Bertie Blalock, dressed as Daisy Mae, won first prize in the Brownie Scouts, second prize, Nadine Pierce, as a pirate, and third prize to Joyce Jones in an Indian suit.

The Bunny Scouts were judged next. Don Barret in a cowboy suit won first place, Gene K. Smith in a rabbit costume won second, Russell Talley won third dressed as a tiger.

In the Cub Scouts, J. D. Partridge, dressed as a pirate, won first, Rob Mallow, as a pirate won second, and Fred Boatwright, also as a pirate, won third.

Adult Costumes Judged

The next hour was taken up with all children playing games. Mrs. D. Partridge, chairman, and Mrs. B. V. Brunnett, LaVerne Curson, and H. L. Tippen, directed these activities. Mrs. D. Partridge officiated at the public address system during the games.

Committees

The refreshment committee included A. A. Miller, chairman, Mrs. R. W. Talley, Mrs. R. E. Smith, W. M. Parker, P. E. Simpson, J. M. Jones. Those assisting this committee were Mrs. George Howe, Mrs. K. W. Rippel, Mrs. Elmer Sparks, Mrs. W. M. Abernathy, D. Partridge, and W. R. Barret.

Refreshments consisting of 65 pumpkin pies, two crates of apples, eight cases of pop, ten pounds of candy, and two and one-half gallons of coffee.

Those in charge of order and maintenance included Mrs. C. C. Jones, chairman, Mrs. J. D. Redus, A. W. Mallow, George Howe, E. L. Sparks, Cleve Blalock, K. W. Rippel, and J. L. Clauder.

The community building decorations were in charge of K. P. Rippel, chairman, W. M. Abernathy, and Cleo Coffey.

The judging committee consisted of C. L. Curson, chairman, George Adame, and Mrs. D. M. Brynau.

Those assisting in this event were Mrs. D. Partridge, captain of the Girl Scouts, Mrs. B. W. Orr and Mrs. J. W. Barnett, patrol leaders, Mrs. B. V. Brunnett and Mrs. George Adame, leaders of the Brownies, LaVerne Curson, Boy Scoutmaster, A. W. Coltharp, assistant; R. E. Smith, Cubmaster; Henry Tepper, assistant; and Mrs. P. E. # Model Plane Show To Be In Amarillo

Pampans whose hobby is the building and flying of model airplanes have been invited to participate in a model plane show to be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Amarillo.

A definite site for the event has not yet been finally announced. Frank A. Davis and Jere C. Reese of Amarillo are attempting to obtain permission to use English airport but the show may be held at the model plane field in the 1300 block on West Thirty-third street.

Marquis Bratton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bratton, of Pampa, a model plane fan, said he had not heard of any local entries in the contest to date, but expected that Pascal Massey and Vernon Casey, Pampans who are enrolled in WTSC, might enter their planes.

Duplication of army and navy airplane performance, with bombs, smoke-screens, parachute releasing and pick-a-back combinations will feature the show.

Girl Scout Troop 8 Organized This Year By Auxiliary

In connection with the local observance of National Girl Scout week, October 29-November 4, each of the Girl Scout troops of Pampa has prepared a brief outline of the troop's history.

The following is an account of troop 8, and is another in the series of accounts The Pampa News has been publishing this week.

Sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary under the direction of Mrs. Hoyt Allen, Girl Scout troop 8 was organized on May 4, 1939. Mrs. Hupp Clark became troop leader on October 26. The troop was formed from eight former members of troop 1, separated from their unit because troop 1 had become so large it was necessary to divide it. Activity of the troop during the summer has consisted of work on curtains in the Little House, an all-day hike, afternoon hike, and a slumber party at the Little House.

The present troop membership is 11 girls, ranging in age from 10 to 12 years. Mrs. Katie Vincent is ROME, Nov. 2 (AP)—Athens dispatches reporting an Italian-Greek peace agreement were regarded in diplomatic circles today as fresh evidence of Premier Mussolini's leadership in efforts to keep war out of the Balkans.

"The Greek government announced an exchange of letters with Italy contributing to the preservation of peace in this part of Europe."

Nothing has been disclosed here concerning the Italian-Greek negotiations, but diplomats heard two days ago that the two states were about to sign a non-aggression pact.

Foreign circles pointed out that Italy now is on good terms with the Balkan countries which lie within Rome's sphere of influence.

Not only Italy, but the Mediterranean area of Europe from Spain to Turkey was spared war, in the view of many observers, because of Mussolini's choice of a non-belligerent status of his country.

Meanwhile, the Fascist press reaffirmed the Italian-German military alliance signed last May and declared it remained unchanged.

Newspapers revived mention of the alliance, which had been missing from their columns since the outbreak of the European war, in comment on Tuesday's shakeup in the Italian government.

Il Messaggero said that it was "foolish" wishful thinking to look for any connection between the reorganization and relations between the axis powers.

Gray Doubles Potter In Tax Collections

Gray county can go Potter county one better in tax collections—and then some, in the opinion of County Tax Assessor Collector F. E. Leech.

A day's payment of $46,357.33 broke income records yesterday at the Potter county tax office.

Today, the Gray county tax officer deposited $124,854, representing the current taxes collected.

This is the last day on which taxpayers can obtain the 3 per cent discount for promptness. After today the discount will drop to 2 per cent and will remain at that figure until December 2.

3 Games Will Be Played On Field Friday

Guerillas And Reapers On Schedule

Football cleats will tear the turf at Harvester field almost continuously from 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon until 10:30 o'clock tomorrow night. There will be three games played here tomorrow, starting at 3 o'clock when the Guerillas meet the Perryton "B" team. An hour later the Reapers will tangle with LeFors Junior high. The night game, at 8 o'clock, will send the Harvesters against Hobbs, N. M.

The Guerillas of Coach Oscar Hinger were scheduled to go to Shamrock this afternoon but the game was postponed until Monday. When Coach Otis Burke of Perryton was contacted, he agreed to send his second string down for a game. The Guerillas and Perryton will play the first half of their game on the regular playing field and will move to the practice field behind the east grandstand for the final half so that the Reapers and LeFors can start their game on time.

Last Night Game

Admission to the games will be 10 cents and a large crowd is expected to be present for the first doubleheader of the season.

Last night game of the season will see the Harvesters and the Hobbs, N. M., Eagles in action at 8 o'clock. The Harvesters will be battling for a win before meeting the Amarillo Sandies here Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in an Armistice Day attraction.

The Harvesters went through a long, tough scrimmage with the Guerillas yesterday afternoon as Coach Odus Mitchell and J. C. Frejan checked their offense and worked over new plays. Blocking, which has been a forgotten art the past two weeks, looked better during yesterday's scrimmage.

With the exception of Grover Heiskell, all Harvesters were placed on the firing line. Heiskell is being allowed to rest his injured back this week and it's doubtful if he plays Friday night. Other Harvesters, although bruised and battered after their Lubbock loss, will be ready.

One Man Gang

Many Pampa fans are taking the Hobbs team lightly but those who have seen them play figure there's going to be a sizzling battle on Harvester turf tomorrow night. In Clemens, fullback, Hemperley, quarter, and Green, halfback, Hobbs has three players who can justly be classed as triple-threaters. They're light, fans admit, but they make up for their lack of weight in speed and cunning.

In the line, Rankin, a 170-pound guard, is known as the "one man gang." Every team that has opposed the Eagles this season has

The ball toting department of the Hobbs, N. M., Eagles, pictured above, is classed as one of the most dangerous in the country. The Eagle attack is led by Clemens, fullback, who carries the ball, passes and punts. Clemens is the sparkplug but not far behind him as a dangerous ball toter and passer is Hemperley, quarterback. Green also lugs the ball and is a good pass receiver. Callahan leads the interference although at times carries the ball. The Eagles expect to beat the Harvesters here tomorrow night.

Princeton Tackle May Lose His Leg

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 2 (AP)—Don Herring, stalwart tackle of the Princeton University football team, lay on a hospital bed today, unaware surgeons were considering amputating his left leg.

"There is only one chance in a million the leg can be saved," said the injured youth's father, Donald G. Herring, Sr., as he stood misty-eyed last night outside his 21-year-old son's room in Princeton hospital.

Herring, Sr., came by airplane from Florida yesterday. Dr. Ralph J. Belford, hospital surgeon, said a "decision has not yet been made" on amputation. Don was injured on the first play of the Brown game last week.

Peewees Play Hopkins Today

Jack Davis, who has been having a lot of trouble getting games for the Peewee football team, has matched a game for this afternoon at 4 o'clock with Hopkins.

The Harvesters of 1942 have won three games, lost two and tied one. Both losses were to much larger teams and the youngsters came back to tie the team that gave them their worst trimming—LeFors.

The Peewees, although without games for two weeks, have been working out daily and are raring to go.

Commissioner Has No Sympathy For Chicago U. Team

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—George E. Allen, commissioner of the District of Columbia, cocked an ear today to the wailing over the football woes of Chicago University, looked bored and finally yawned.

"Poor Chicago," sympathized an alumnus. "They've had 154 points scored against them. Michigan walloped them 85 to 0, and Harvard downed them 61 to 0. There ought to be a law."

The commissioner opened his mouth in a bigger yawn.

"No," he said. "They don't need a law."

Allen pointed out that little Cumberland University at Lebanon, Tenn., lost to Georgia Tech, 222 to 0 in 1916, and it didn't ask for a law.

"But how do you know?" he was asked.

"Well," said the commissioner, "that famous team."

"The Georgia Tech team?"

"No," he laughed. "The Cumberland team."

"I still ache when I think about that season," he said.

"It's true that Chicago has had 154 points scored against them, but don't forget, they have scored 12 points this year."

"At Cumberland we not only failed to score any points—we didn't even get the ball into the enemy territory the whole year long."

Fishing Favorite Sport Of Kavanaugh

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 2 (AP)—Kenneth William Kavanaugh, the ace pass-snagging end of Louisiana State university, is quite a fisherman—literally and figuratively.

Literally, he loves to fish. It is his favorite recreation.

Figuratively, he likes to fish forward passes out of the air. That is his specialty.

In forward-passing fishing, Kavanaugh has very likely established a record for ends. He has scored nine touchdowns this season, bringing his collegiate total to 19 and one extra point.

Kavanaugh, 22 years old, with 203 pounds on his six-foot, three-inch frame, is a campus favorite. He gets his degree next June.

In his gridiron achievements and his teammates who do the passing and handle the blocking.

Between classes, one may find him having a soft drink in the university field house, listening to jazz music, surrounded by classmates. Fishing and football are for the day. Kavanaugh likes a hearty meal followed by a game of checkers before his evening's studies. He gets his degree next June.

Coach Bernie Moore calls the "Arkansas Traveller" a "pass completer" rather than a pass receiver. He is tough to guard, since he takes advantage of his height.

The Arkansas was further opportunity this week to add to the rapidly-gaining prestige for an all-America berth when Louisiana tackles Tennessee.

Canzoneri Belted Into Oblivion By Placid Al Davis

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Broadway saw one of its favorite sons reach the end of the road in Madison Square Garden last night—and it wasn't a pretty sight.

Old and ring-wise Tony Canzoneri, veteran 168 stirring battles, was belted into oblivion by the stinging left hand of a young Brooklyn kid, placid Al Davis, in the third round of a scheduled 10-rounder in the same arena where a fight with Al Singer set an attendance record back in 1928, the same ring where he lost the featherweight title to Andre Routis, the same ring where he won the lightweight title from Singer in 1930.

Afterwards the Canzoneri dressing room was like a tomb.

"Well, it had to come some time," Tony mumbled through a cut lip. His followers nodded sadly. He said he hadn't any plans but when asked if this was his last fight he looked glumly up and said, "Gosh, I hope so."

A momentary roar from the crowd of 12,750 greeted the end of the Canzoneri saga, and then they filed out almost as though they were passing Tony's Bier, shocked and stunned that the end had come so quickly to their idol.

Schmeling In Italy
 ROME, Nov. 2 (AP)—Max Schmeling, arriving here for a short visit, said today he still hoped for a return bout with heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis.

Challdon Wins Pimlico Special

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2 (AP)—Challdon, champion of all racing for 1939, went on vacation today before getting back on the glory road which stands a good chance of leading him to Sun Beau's all-time high money-winning record of $376,744.

William Brann's colt is still nearly $125,000 short of Sun Beau's "bank account," but this bay son of Challenger II is only three years old—and from the way he whipped Kayak II and Cravat in Alfred G. Vanderbilt's annual "three races" at the Pimlico special yesterday, there's no indication he's going to stop hitting the jackpot soon.

His half-length victory over Kayak in the $10,000 winner-take-all special at a mile and three-sixteenths, with Cravat a poor third, boosted his earnings after two years of racing to $252,235, and earned for him a rest, which Owner Brann and Trainer Lou Schaefer are going to give him now. Although plans are still indefinite, the chances are "Big Pete" won't have any more work to do this year.

Woodrow Wilson Defeats Baker 14 To 0 For Title

Woodrow Wilson's football team proved its right to the title of champion of the Ward School conference yesterday afternoon when they swarmed over a fighting Baker team 14 to 0. Woodrow Wilson won the title in season play and then accepted a challenge of the second place Baker team for an off-season game.

The winners hung up eight first downs to three for the losers and showed remarkable ability to take advantage of breaks. Twice the Woodrow Wilson ball hawks recovered their own punts, once they took a fumble and again they gobble up a blocked punt.

Working double reverses and fake spinners, the Woodrow Wilson youngsters flashed a brilliant offense to march for their touchdowns. First Woodrow Wilson touched down in the opening quarter when Billy Clay faked handing the ball to a teammate and then tucked it under his arm and went around the weak end of the line for 25 yards for a touchdown. Beasley plunged for the extra point.

Both teams played sensational defensive ball until late in the third quarter when Woodrow Wilson smashed 55 yards for a touchdown. Clay, Williams, and Beasley took turns carrying the ball, which was placed in scoring position by Clay on a 20-yard run. Clay had some nice blocking from Beasley and McTaggart. Beasley blunged the last yard of the touchdown. Williams skirted end for the extra point.

Woodrow Wilson presented a real ball carrier and great blocker in Beasley and a sweet runner in Clay. In the line the work of R. Clay, no relation to W. Clay, Vanderlinden and Bray was outstanding.

Baker's Dee Griffin was the sparkplug of the team attack with Evans showing plenty of power but they were unable to get away. The line play of Van Huss, Tidwell and Moon stood out.

First reported casualty of the season was Evans, Baker halfback, who hit Beasley, Woodrow Wilson ball carrier, so hard that he knocked down his right shoulder. There was no one between the ball carrier and the goal line until Evans leaped up to make one of the most spectacular tackles of the game. He was carried from the field but before the game was over he insisted on returning to his position. Today he was in bed nursing a badly swollen shoulder and wondering when he will be able to play again.

Woodrow Wilson is coached by Terrell Davis and Baker by J. D. Livingston, graduates of Texas Wesleyan College, teaching their first year in the Pampa schools. They are room-mates.

Starting lineups were:
 Woodrow Wilson: Duncan and R. Clay, ends; Vanderlinden and Raines, tackles; Hopkins and Bray, guards; Hatcher, center; McTaggart, quarter; B. Clay and Williams, halves; Beasley, full. Subs: Vogel, Wallace, Elson, Spear.
 Baker: Beard and Van Huss, ends; Miller and Tidwell, tackles; Moon and Gwin, guards; Upton, center; Griffin, quarter; Asher and Evans, halves; Porter, full. Subs: Ayer, Binion, Appleton, Jones.

Lubbock Will Go To Borger For Grid Battle Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
 Associated Press Staff

The Texas schoolboy football parade rolls toward the start of the main show this week.

Soft spots in the schedule will be far between from here on out as the sixteen performers for the grand finale are determined.

One of them is due to be known Saturday when Woodrow Wilson's Wildcats clash with the Adamson Leopards in the game of the year in the Dallas district. The winner will become a prohibitive favorite to gallop in with the title.

It is a slack week as far as the number of games is concerned but the 25 conference engagements on the schedule will have far-reaching effect on the ultimate district championships.

A game of double importance is scheduled in the Rio Grande valley where McAllen and Brownsville clash for what the critics consider to be the lower bracket of district 16. McAllen is unbeaten and untied and Brownsville has a perfect record except for a 6-6 deadlock with Mercedes. Incidentally McAllen defeated Mercedes 29-2.

In district 14 Livingston clashes with Beaumont in a game that will cut the teams unbeaten in conference play in two. South Park (Beaumont) is the other leader. Livingston is one of the state's undefeated, untied teams.

The week's schedule by districts:
 1—Friday: Hobbs, N. M., at Pampa; Saturday: Lubbock at Borger (conference).
 2—Friday: Quanah at Graham (conference); Electra at Olney (conference).
 3—Friday: Abilene at Midland (conference); San Angelo at Odessa (conference); Stephenville at Sweetwater.
 4—Thursday: Vyleta at Pecos; Mexico City Y. M. C. A. college at El Paso High; Saturday, Cathedral (El Paso) vs. Austin (El Paso).
 5—Friday: Forest (Dallas) at Paris.
 6—Friday: Denton at Sulphur Springs (conference); Greenville at McKinney (conference).

Parking Duplicity LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 2 (AP)-This seems to be the height of something or other.

HARRY Bloom, Louisville Times columnist, said a woman shopper asked her friend, "Why don't you drive into this free parking lot?" "I don't intend to buy anything from that store," the friend replied. "Oh, that's all right. Charge something and bring it back the next day. I do it all the time."

SCHOOLBOY SIDELINES

Associated Press Staff Red Forehand, who used to fashion championship outfits at Team, speaking: "Amarillo has a better team than some I have seen them use to win the title." The slender coach, now with Brackenridge (San Antonio) High school, added: "Don't sell Amarillo short. They have got the stuff." Brackenridge, therefore, should be a pretty good eleven inasmuch as Brack beat Amarillo.

Forehand doesn't think San Angelo very strong, although San Angelo beat Brackenridge. He's worried about Austin in his own district but said he'd rather play Austin than meet Kerrville again.

Brackenridge defeated Kerrville 19-0, and to add to the writers' confusion, Brackenridge lost to Dallas Tech, a team that hadn't won one game and had scored only a single touchdown before it met the Sam Houston outfit.

What does the coach of a team like Brackenridge worry about? At first glance we'd say nothing—that is, nothing right now, because Brackenridge seems headed for a district title without further ado.

But Coach Eck Curtis says he is worried because his team is riddled by injuries and that this Brackwood bunch, that's been kicked around considerably, is going to be loaded for bear when it meets his Buckaroos. "They've got a good team all right," he said.

Attendance reached a new low at the Dallas stadium Saturday afternoon when Brackenridge met Dallas Tech. Sixteen paid admissions were the total announced by Athletic Director P. C. Cobb.

There were 121 at actual count in the stands outside the band, pep squad, ushers, teams and officials.

But that night they packed the stands in Woodrow Wilson played North Dallas in a major conference game. That took care of the $500 deficit on the afternoon, till.

Speaking of versatility, take the case of Thomas Dale of Iowa. Pat High. "This young man by trade is an end but he doubles for center or quarterback. In other words, he works where they need him most."

Here's what makes Tyler High click: Walton Roberts, its ace back, has completed more than 70 per cent of his passes for an average of more than 8 yards per completion and his average in running with the ball is around 9 yards per try. He also has an average of more than 30 yards at punting.

But the incredible feat of the season was Travis Eaven's 39-point total for Austin High against Jefferson of San Antonio last week.

Austin won 39-6 so you can see who did the scoring. This young man doesn't bother about anything when he has the ball except to measure how far it is to the opposing goal and then set his pace accordingly.

Yet Coach Forehand, mentioned previously, says Raven is not exceptionally fast.

John Sidney Smith, sports editor of the Bryan Daily Eagle seconds the motion about De Duhiels, Bryan High star, being of all-state calibre.

They call him the best ball-carrier Bryan ever produced and it must be remembered that Bryan, in its 1921 championship days, had one Chris Cortemella who was quite a wow later at Southern Methodist.

He made touchdown runs of 57, 75 and 94 yards in recent games and John Sidney points out that if he does such better he'll have to bring the ball from behind his own goal line.

The days when the boys were star blockers on the football field have a place in the class-room. One are from school-boy football.

Here is the latest example of the fact that boys who stand out in their studies are standouts on the gridiron. Luke Abbott, sophomore center at Paris High school, made 100 in each of his four subjects.

T is younger, incidentally, is expected to be at the best center in Paris High history.

Paul Tyson's Waco Tigers are on the prowl again. Year in and year out the canny mentor of the Brazos Bengals produces one of the consistently good teams of the state.

This time he seems to have a club rolling like those that make the schoolboy history in the twenties.

Tyson won four state championships with his Waco team and that's tops for the Interscholastic League's 20-year history.

There are many who say Waco would have won the title in 1921 had the school been in the league.

The Seale High school Tigers dedicated a game to their coach, Vernon Madden, but on the day of the contest Madden got a call to Huntsville that a new arrival was expected shortly in his family.

"With no assistant coach I couldn't just let the boys go play alone," the mentor said. "At the same time, my wife wanted me to be with her. So I was in a dilemma."

But he finally decided to go to the game, scheduled that night, and as he left Hempstead his parking meter at Paris High school was running.

Black, the attending physician, was: "I hope I don't get nervous and put the water boy in at center." At Hempstead, the Tigers won 18-0 and after the game the boys said knowingly: "This one's for you, Mr. and Mrs. Coach."

Madden hurried up the roads back to Huntsville, getting there at 11:30 p. m. At 1:15 a. m. he was the proud father of a 7 1/2 pound boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Coach Madden and the son, Vernon Henry Madden, are doing fine, thank you.

She is the former Irene Curley Bodde, and married the wealthy Wall Street operator in 1926.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIEZE NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Can Chattanooga check reports that Whitlow Wyatt, Dodger mound ace, is headed for John Hopkins for an operation on his knee? The mid-west situation can be summed up this way: Plenty of fast backs; line not up to standard.

Just Ask Him Uncle Bob Ratcliffe, Marquette's sophomore tackle, is the proud uncle of nine nephews and eight nieces.

These stories that Jack Jacobs, Oklahoma's crack Indian back, graduated from high school in 1931, were pure fiction. Jos Henderson of Fort Smith, Ark., says he played vs. the chief two years ago and still has bruises to prove it.

Today's Guest Star Harry C. Glasheen, Lowell (Mass.) Evening Leader: "From what I have seen of the Harvard attack in the last two games, I have a suspicion Dick Harlow is playing for his residence."

Marshall Goldberg will tell you the main difference between pro and semi-pro football is this: He gets $10,000 a year from the Chicago Cardinals, whereas at Pitt he was paid only $48 per month.

Dick Freeman, sports editor of the Houston Chronicle, here for Rice vs. Fordham, says the all-America pickers can't go too strong on Jackie Crain, Texas U.S. sophomore back.

When Pals Fall Out A fellow named H. S. Martin stepped up to the tee in London the other day, shot himself a 160-yard hole-in-one, but didn't win the hole. No sir. His partner, G. E. Mobbs, stepped up and dittoed.

World's Fair For 1939 Boarded Up

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—The World of Tomorrow was a $156,000,000 ghost town today. A skeleton crew of workmen began boarding up the 1939 New York World's Fair, a deserted, deserted, deserted place.

Yorker which closed its first season yesterday. Paid attendance since the opening last April 30 totaled 25,811,733.

Board Chairman Harvey D. Gibson said he was pleased with the fair's first year, although attendance was 23,000,000 below optimistic advance estimates.

Gibson disclosed the fair has $1,128,924 cash on hand, but owes $587,035 to contractors and debenture holders, plus $23,892,808.81, which is the unretired balance of the $27,000,000 bond issue originally subscribed to by private investors.

He predicted the fair would show an "operating profit" next year. He made it clear, however, he was not contemplating complete liquidation of the bond issue.

Mobeetie School Nets $199.40 On Halloween Fete

MOBEEITIE, Nov. 2—Proceeds of the annual Halloween carnival held Friday night totaled $199.40. The money will be used for the improvement of both high school and grade school libraries.

Bingo was the biggest attraction at the carnival followed in patronage by the trained mouse game, dart board, goal pitching and ring stands.

A motion picture show was held in connection with the carnival. $1,128,924 cash on hand, but owes $587,035 to contractors and debenture holders, plus $23,892,808.81, which is the unretired balance of the $27,000,000 bond issue originally subscribed to by private investors.

Duquesne Uses Rubber Tip For Kicking Placements

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2 (AP)—A $3.50 investment for extra-point insurance is returning dividends to Duquesne University.

The outlay was a rubber device which fits over the shoe of a placement kicker, providing a solid square surface for booting the piggskin.

The athletic department sent out of town for the extra toe the Duquesne missed four out of five placements in the season opener. It wasn't available until the third game but has been used to make good five out of six placements.

Coach Buff Donelli hit on the device while worrying over early season mediocre kicking. He glanced back to last year when Texas Tech beat Duquesne 7-6. When the Red Raiders made their touchdown, Coach Pete Cawthon produced one of the rubber shoe attachments for his kickers.

After vigorous Duquesne protests officials ruled it out. Tech made the goal anyway. Donelli looked through the rule book, found no law against employing the extra toe and so his place-kicking star, wingman Johnny Rokisky, has been using the device since. Incidentally, Rokisky has missed only once, and that against Texas Tech in the rain and mud last week when use of the attachment precipitated a heated argument. Duquesne won the argument and the game.

"As to the argument on the field last Friday," explained Donelli, "the officials told me afterward that Coach Cawthon had protested against use of the device prior to the game. They agreed to bar it but they failed to notify me until Rokisky stepped up to try for the first placement."

"I insisted it was legal and told them we had used it to kick all three placements against Pitt. The second one against the Panthers broke a 13-13 tie and really won the game. They had no answer for that argument and finally permitted us to use it."

Texans Principal Challengers In Mexico Tourney MEXICO CITY, Nov. 2 (AP)—Two lanky stars from Texas today posed as the principal challengers of defending champion Percy J. Clifford, at the start of play in the 14th annual Mexico City golf championship.

On the basis of their play in yesterday's qualifying round, Harry Todd, of Dallas, and John Barnum, of Edinburg, Tex., will face Clifford, British resident here, plenty of company. The Texas stars played the tricky Chapultepec course in '72, one over par, to qualify only two strokes behind the Britisher.

Todd today will encounter Don Benschneider of South Bend, Ind., who qualified with an 80. Betty Jameson, United States women's amateur champion, who scored an 80 in the women's qualifying round will meet Mrs. B. Lange, of Mexico City, whose score was 98.

SERIAL STORY

JOAN OF ARKANSAS BY JERRY BRONDFIELD

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Through Elaine's... Joan is named...

CHAPTER XX

THEY waited until Joan was well on her way down the walk before any of them spoke again...

The nickelodeon was going full blast. Students struggled in looking for empty booths...

"Those kids never get tired of this stuff, do they?" "Hope not," Uncle Jim said...

Rocco laughed, good-naturedly. "You've got something there, grandpaw..."

"Sellout! Son, I'm tellin' you I've been here close to 24 years and I've never seen a demand for tickets like this is going to be..."

Rocco flicked ashes into the tray. "Look, grandpaw, I never saw the football game a guy couldn't get a ducat to somehow..."

Rocco, the scarf, smiled thinly. "Sure, Ed, sure." He gestured with the nail file...

"No. All I wanted to do was take a gander at the gal today. We know where she lives so there's no use trailing her now..."

"Let's go, Sam. We've got some eggs to do." "Yeah," said Rocco. "Fifty G's worth, hey Ed?"

"Yeah... yeah, sure," said Ed slowly.

JOAN had planned to stay in that night but Marianne talked her into going to the library...

"Kid brother of mine went to Tech a few years back," he lied, just to make conversation.

"Oh, I see." "The outside door opened and Tommy Peters came in. Uncle Jim called him over..."

"What does Fan like to talk about? We-l, she's terribly interested in football."

"Let's see." He scratched his chin. "Said he was a salesman traveling through here..."

"Yeah, I didn't like that guy, Tommy. I didn't like the way he called me grandpaw, all the time..."

"Tommy leaned both elbows against the showcase. 'Jim, I've got a queer gift. Once I see a picture somewhere I never forget it. Now I'd swear I saw that fella's picture somewhere...'"

"In a newspaper. Yessir, Jim, I think it was in St. Louis a couple years back. But I can't recall what the connection was."

Officers Elected By Irish Band Parents

Special To The NEWS

SHAMROCK, Nov. 2--Election of officers for the ensuing year and plans for activities for the next two months occupied the time of the Shamrock Band Parents Association at their regular monthly meeting held at the band house on Monday night.

Officers elected were R. D. Midgeley, president; J. W. Fears, vice president; Mrs. R. D. Midgeley, secretary-treasurer; Glen Truax, Frank Sanders, Mrs. S. Q. Scott, Mrs. P. T. Boston and Bedford Harrison, directors.

Committees appointed by incoming President Midgeley were: finance, Louis B. Goodrich, Frank Sanders, E. D. Nolan and Walter Darlington, Jr.; uniform, Mrs. T. H. Sonnenberg, Mrs. Walter Darlington, Jr. and Mrs. Glen Truax; membership, Mrs. Tom Brown, Mrs. E. C. Montgomery, Mrs. C. L. Reavis, Mrs. L. L. McDonald, and Mrs. O. O. Moore.

A discussion of needed instruments for complete instrumentation resulted in the passing of an order instructing Director Truax to purchase a bell front alto and a alto clarinet.

Plans were made to hold a two-day band clinic in Shamrock on December 8-9. Announcement of final plans on this event will be made shortly.

An indirect lighting system that has been placed in the band house on trial was purchased by order of the board.

Hundred Prints To Be In WTSC Photo Exhibit

Special To The NEWS
CANYON, Nov. 2.—The free display of the fifth annual Zeiss-Ikon exhibition of prize-winning photographic prints in the art room of the museum here November 6 to 12 is expected to attract amateur photographers from all parts of the Panhandle.

It is a 100-print exhibit insured for a thousand dollars. It will come here from a showing at the Dayton Art Institute of Dayton, Ohio. The prints include a wide range of pictorial, press, commercial, scientific, and industrial subjects.
To make the photographs of more value, the exhibitors have provided data on the type of camera used, the aperture and speed of shutter, and other useful information. A catalog has been printed as a guide to the pictures displayed.

The exhibit will be open for inspection at the museum from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 6 p. m. on weekdays and from 2 to 6 p. m. on Sunday, November 12.

Poe Funeral Held Monday At Mobeetie

Special To The NEWS
MOBETTIE, Nov. 2.—Funeral services for Mrs. W. P. Poe, 74, who died Sunday evening at the family home in Old Mobeetie, were held at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Poe home, with Rev. Lester Hathaway and Rev. T. W. McNely officiating. Burial was in the Mobeetie cemetery.
Mrs. Poe is survived by nine children, of whom two daughters, Mrs. J. K. Ribble and Mrs. Simon Burns, and three sons, George, Allan, and Wiley, reside in Mobeetie.
Arrangements were by the Hunt Funeral home.

Mistrial Declared After Woman Juror Changes Her Mind

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 (AP)—Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe declared a mistrial today in a $70,000 case in which a woman juror changed her mind about the verdict after she had signed it.
To nip criticism of the action of one of the first women to serve on a federal court jury in Illinois, Judge Igoe said:
"It should be clearly understood that this is not a reflection on woman jurors. She had a right to dissent. Because she is of the female gender there is no reason to assume women are unfit for jury service. They have demonstrated they are just as intelligent as men."
Mrs. Katherine Merrifield, wife of a Northwestern University professor, renounced her verdict during a routine poll of jurors.
The verdict set aside the will of the late Samuel J. Howe, a Wheaton, Ill., attorney who left $70,000 to Northwestern University. The will was contested by his son.

Eluded Subs, But Was Ready for Them

This six-inch gun and the huge smoke screen pots seen in front of it, kept British liner Cameronia prepared for U-boat trouble as it crossed Atlantic without convoy, first ship of a belligerent to do so. The Cameronia is pictured at New York, after being guided over by new system of patrol-to-patrol radio directions which, her captain said, was like "going from lamppost to lamppost" across ocean.

THE GOOD TURN

A good turn is a service that a Scout renders because he wants to not because he is obliged to. It may involve some very little kindness like helping a blind man to cross the road, or it may involve a great deal of effort and sacrifice, perhaps even the saving of a life.
Boyhood is a time of high idealism and eagerness to be of service. One of the outstanding contributions that Scouting has made to the youth of the nation is the opportunity for boys to have a share in the affairs of the community, to help others in a constructive and worthwhile way—to be, in short, participating citizens.
In time of emergency and disaster Scouts amply fulfill their pledge "to help other people at all times." Literally volumes could be written of their splendid service—service which has been given recognition by organizations and individuals alike.

But it is not only in time of emergency that the Scout good turn is evidenced. Daily in their communities unobtrusively and effectively Scouts are carrying on a program of civic service that is not only an educational force to the boys themselves but an asset to others.

The test of good citizenship is evidence that the individual cares for somebody beyond himself. His attitude of mind must be such that he feels an obligation, not only to carry his own weight, but to be eager at least to help to carry some part of the responsibilities of the welfare of the community. Democracy is dependent upon a voluntary process of thinking, feeling and acting individually for the good of the community, the state and the nation.

German-Russian Trade Booming

BERLIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—A great whirl of activity in the Soviet Russian trade headquarters today was visible evidence of Nazi-Communist economic cooperation whereby Germany hopes to get raw materials she needs for the war.
The trade deal with Russia has brought about a rush of business which has overflowed the Russian embassy.
While the German press was exulting in the praise Soviet Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov for outlining a foreign policy in which a strong Germany was regarded as necessary, economic cooperation between the states was being accelerated.
Russian experts were scurrying about German factories placing vast orders for machinery and other industrial products. In Russia, meanwhile, German buyers were ordering Russian wheat, lumber and ores. Little money was involved. The deal was essentially one of barter arrangements.
German political leaders expressed satisfaction with the trend of German-Russian relations and insisted they never expected military cooperation from Moscow.

Sen. Hill Predicts Special Session

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—State Senator Joe L. Hill of Henderson, political foe of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, predicted today that O'Daniel next Sunday would announce a decision to call a special session of the legislature.
"Three months ago," Hill said in a press statement, "I prophesied he would call a special session after we had put the pressure on him to do his duty. He now has been smoked out and though he tried to escape by means of the proposal to commit the members to the sales tax, he will issue the call."
The average price of autos in 1907 was $2,131.

Roosevelt Hits Double Talk of Soviet Russia

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Striking back indirectly at Russian Premier Molotov's criticism of his leading "moral support" to Finland, President Roosevelt has produced a six-month-old Soviet statement which focused capital attention today on American relations with Moscow.
Without explanation or comment, the White House reissued last night a cablegram from President Kalinin of Russia expressing "profound sympathy" for Mr. Roosevelt's efforts to prevent attacks on Finland, Poland and other countries. It was first made public in April.
The unusual action followed:
1. White House speculation as to whether it was "purely coincidental" that Molotov's speech Tuesday came as the house was debating neutrality legislation.
2. A demand by Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.) that the American ambassador be recalled from the "anti-God" Soviets.
Molotov, in a speech to Soviet deputies, had said that Mr. Roosevelt was "intervening" in Russian-Finnish negotiations "in contradiction of the United States' policy of neutrality."
He said also that if the United States repealed its arms embargo, it would intensify, aggravate and protract "the European war."
The flare-ups over Molotov's address came while the state department still was inquiring into Russia's course in the City of Pines case. The American freighter was seized by a German prize crew and taken to a Russian port. It now is en route down the Norwegian coast, with the prize crew in charge and the Americans still aboard.
The child born on the Mayflower during its epic voyage to America was named Peregrine White.

Finns Go Back To Kremlin Conference

MOSCOW, Nov. 2 (AP)—A Finnish delegation trod the familiar path to the Kremlin today with a decision imminent on Soviet Russia's request for military and territorial concessions.
The Finns, who already had made two trips here, arrived this morning and were expected to resume negotiations late this afternoon in an atmosphere sharpened by Soviet Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov's public declaration Tuesday of the Russian aims.
(Foreign Minister Elias Eriko intimated in Helsinki that Finland was willing to conciliate provided guarantees were given with a treaty.)
Russia meanwhile continued to move toward commercial coalition with Germany.
Semi-official German quarters reported a Nazi economic delegation would return to Berlin today, having completed arrangements for major items to be obtained from Russia.
