

4,000 Boys And Girls To Attend S.S. Today--The R.R. To Teach Class

By THE ROVING REPORTER
This is the morning for every boy and girl in the Pampa independent school district to go to Sunday school.

This is the morning for every parent to wake up their children, see to it that they are dressed in their school clothes, and send them to Sunday school—just as they see them off to school every morning.

This is the morning for boys and girls who last week promised to go today to make good their promises.

This is the morning for churches to welcome every boy and girl with open arms.

According to the pledged word of the students in San Houston, Woodrow Wilson, Horace Mann, B. M. Baker, Junior High and High school, 4,000 boys and girls should pack the Sunday school rooms of the 23 churches in Pampa.

Those are the plans in a nutshell the Pampa Council of Church Women, sponsors of this youth day in Sunday school, have been working on for weeks. Let's put them over in a big way!

The Roving Reporter believes that not a one, will go back on his promise unless sickness prevents.

Yesterday, a delegation of Pampa school students waylaid the R. R. and hurled this challenge: "If you know so much about S. S., and if you want us to go so badly why don't you go and teach a class tomorrow." So the R. R., believing that there will be a stampede to Sunday schools, and believing that there won't be enough rooms or teachers to hold the mass migration, persuaded Supt. R. E. Gattin of the democratic First Baptist Sunday school to let him teach an overflow class this morning. And he'll be there at 9:30 o'clock, looking for his class. Thanks Mr. Gattin for the privilege and the honor.

Now you boys and girls who like the R. R. are not in the habit of going to S. S., just read over this golden Text of the International Sunday school lesson and see if it does not have special significance tomorrow.

"Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn of me for I am meek and lowly in heart and ye shall find rest unto your souls, for my yoke is easy and my burden is light. Matt. 11:28-30."

Now isn't that beautiful—it is beautiful because it is true.

Now you people out in the camps don't forget to bring in your own children and the children who don't have rides.

All of you will be reminded that today is youth day in Sunday school when Fire Chief Ben White blows the fire siren at 9 o'clock, 9:15 and 9:30 o'clock. "I'd blow that siren an hour," said he, "to get Pampa children in Sunday school!"

Airmen Bomb Camp Fires Of Russians

AP Correspondent Reports Capture Of Many Tanks

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 9 (AP)—Swedish reports from Helsinki said Finnish warplanes today bombed Kronstadt, Russian port 20 miles west of Leningrad. There was no indication of damage inflicted.

MOSCOW, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Red army reported tonight Russian troops had made advances ranging up to 50 miles today in Finland.

The Moscow radio broadcast a communique of the Leningrad command which said the Russians also penetrated the main Finnish defenses along the Taipale river in the Karelian peninsula.

The longest advances were reported in central Finland where Soviet forces were said to have pushed ahead in the Ukhta, Porosozero and Petrozavodsk sectors.

After breaking through the Finnish defenses along the Taipale, the communique said the troops continued their advance.

The point of the reported breakthrough is near the eastern end of Finland's Maanhermet line, a water defense system made up of a chain of lakes.

Finland reports said the Russians were halted today on the Karelian Isthmus, a considerable distance beyond the Mannerheim line.

HELSINKI, Dec. 9 (AP)—Finnish troops along the whole front drove back Russian attacks "at all places" today and inflicted losses of numerous tanks, armored cars and cannon on the invaders, the Finnish high command reported tonight.

The picture of the fighting as given in Helsinki disclosed the Russians had been active virtually along the entire 800-mile Finnish-Russian frontier.

The communique indicated the

Christmas Carols Through the Ages

WASSAIL SONG
"Here we come a-wassailing
Among the leaves so green,
Here we come a-wandering
So fair to be seen . . ."

In England during the 12-day Christmas season, it was customary for young men and girls to go for farmhouse to farmhouse with a great wooden bowl of spiced ale. They sang this traditional song and invited everyone to drink "wassail," a term derived from the old English "Wes hal" or "Be thou hale."

Farmers Vote 153 To 4 For Cotton Quota

By an overwhelming vote of 153 for to only four opposed, Gray county cotton farmers cast their ballots for a cotton marketing quota for Gray county in 1940, in a referendum held Saturday.

Both Pampa and Alarend boxes were 100 per cent in favor of the establishment of a quota, the vote being 14 for at Pampa, and 32 for at Alarend. At McLean, 107 farmers favored the establishment of a quota, while four opposed it.

The county election was a part of the national referendum on the question, which is decided on a national basis. Thus, if a two-thirds majority is secured over the nation, the quota becomes effective on a national scale, even though the vote is against the measure in some counties.

County Farm Agent Ralph R. Thomas said the meeting of quotas started with the Agricultural Adjustment administration at Washington, that prepared the allotments for the states. State AAA committees then determine the county quotas, and county committees decide individual quotas.

For Gray county the acreage allotment on cotton will be about the same as last year, 7,000 acres, Agent Thomas said. The number of pounds is yet to be determined.

Should the quota referendum carry over the nation it means that farmers can market all of the cotton produced on the acres allotted if planted within the allotment.

Dallam Judge Will Discuss Pampa Needs

Honts Will Speak At C-C Luncheon Here Tuesday

"What Pampa Needs" will be the subject at the last monthly membership luncheon meeting of the year 1939 of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, next Tuesday noon in the First Methodist church basement.

John Honts of Dallhart, county judge of Dallam county, and one of the most popular after dinner speakers of the Panhandle country, is the speaker.

Honts' talk will be similar to one delivered at the annual banquet of the Dallhart Chamber of Commerce last Friday when 450 Dallhart people attended to hear his message.

His talk will be applied to Pampa in a local way through his knowledge of many of Pampa's problems from his association with Pampa business leaders at highway, water conservation, lions, and other Panhandle-wide meetings.

Members of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet jointly with the senior organization.

Last Meeting of Year
"This is to be the last regular monthly membership meeting of the year 1939," Farris C. Oden, president of the Board of City Development.

Summer Weather Continues Here

Thanksgiving was advanced one week this year and the weather in Pampa seems to be following suit by one season. For the past three days the weather has been like that of summer, with a maximum of 64 degrees recorded Thursday, 68 on Friday, and 71 yesterday.

Continuation of the "off-season" temperature was likely as the forecast for West Texas today is fair and little change in temperature.

AN EDITORIAL

Christmas Rush Is On!

The Christmas shopping season officially was launched here Saturday by the very excellent Santa Day parade and celebration sponsored by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Thousands of grownups and children turned out to watch the Christmas parade move through downtown streets. The weatherman favored the annual observance with a crisp, sunny day.

One of the largest crowds ever present for a Santa Day celebration was on hand, and the stores and shops, their shelves and display cases loaded with fresh Christmas merchandise, reported crowds from the time the parade ended until they closed last night.

Santa Day traffic was the heaviest Pampa has seen for many years and was handled capably by the police department.

It all serves as a gentle reminder that Christmas is just around the corner. It should be needless to remind residents of the vast Pampa area that it pays to shop early.

Only 12 more shopping days remain until Christmas! In these remaining shopping days there are just two Saturdays. In the stores and shops of Pampa buyers will find an answer to any Christmas need.

And, while we are on the subject—the postal workers will appreciate the public's cooperation in a mail-early campaign. It is just as easy to shop early and mail early as it is to shop late and mail late.

Late shopping gives buyers fewer selections, and late mailing entails the chance that your Christmas present may not reach its destination in time for Christmas delivery.

The postoffice also is stressing a point this year to discourage the use of one and one-half cent postage on Christmas cards. The restrictions on this type of mail is such that many never reach their destinations. Mail your Christmas cards in the dignified, first-class mail way, the postmaster urges.

So, remember—Shop early and mail early so everybody can have a Merry Christmas!

Bicyclist Killed In Shamrock Accident

8,000 Enjoy Unique Santa Day Parade

Under a summer-like sky that contrasted with the season, Santa Claus paid his annual visit at Pampa's Santa Day celebration Saturday and greeted a crowd of 8,000 persons who gathered on Cuyler street to witness his triumphal entry.

Yule-decorated downtown Pampa, Santa almost missed the parade. Anxious Jayces, worried over "the little man who wasn't there" started his float moving from the high school gymnasium. It had proceeded only one block to the intersection of Cuyler and Francis, when an automobile in which Santa rode overtook the float and Santa joined the procession.

More Pets and Bikes
An increase in the number of pets and decorated bicycles was a feature of this year's parade.

Among the entries that attracted the most comment from spectators was the float of the Church of the Brethren, on which was mounted a replica of a church and the slogan, "Peace on earth, good will toward man"; and the Rotary club's old-time surrey, pulled by a group of Rotary members. "This is slay" a sign on the buggy read.

There were 21 units in the parade, led by Pampa police W. C. Dillman and Ray Dudley, on their motorcycles, and a color guard and bearers composed of American Legion and V. F. W. members.

Due to a band clinic in progress at Shamrock, several bands that had been expected in Pampa for the parade, could not participate.

The Kellerville band in their new uniforms, the replica of the Nativity scene of Hopkins 2, Tarpley Music store's accordion band, the chorus of the Kellerville school band, will make the official dedication of the structure on a program, which also will feature the Kellerville school band.

School authorities from many towns and communities are expected to attend the dedication to welcome the state school head to the Panhandle.

The program is scheduled to begin at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

Five Truckers Fined $250 Here

For operating trucks for hire in Texas without having a permit from the Texas Railroad commission, fines totaling $250 were assessed in justice court here Saturday in the case of five truckers moving a rig from an oil lease south of Pampa. The trucks were bound for McPherson county, Kas.

Constable George Iman of Pampa and Rabb Harrison of Amarillo, employe of the Texas Railroad commission, halted the trucks Friday afternoon and Friday night. One truck was stopped west of Pampa, four south of this city, while the constable and the Amarillo man investigated the matter.

The Amarillo man said that the truckers had I. C. C. and Kansas permits, but none from Texas, and that in such cases the firm utilizing their services to haul their property was also subject to a fine.

Port Arthur Chiropractor Faces Charge

Accused Man's Daughter Hears Child's Calls

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 9 (AP)—Dr. W. C. Welch, chiropractor, was arrested tonight and charged with kidnaping and armed robbery in the abduction of Irwin Mingle, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mingle, of Port Arthur.

The charges were filed by Deputy Sheriff Claude Goldsmith, who, with Police Detective Chief Noah Guilbeau, made the arrest.

The child was taken from his home Thursday night by an armed man who entered the Mingle home, bound and gagged the mother and father, and demanded $15,000 for the lad's return.

The kidnaper demanded that the money be left in the garage of Dr. Welch, a friend of the Mingles.

Irwin was taken to a house on the outskirts of town, bound and gagged, and placed in an attic hideout.

Just before noon yesterday the boy wigged out of his bonds, slipped the gag from his mouth and attracted the attention of neighbors who released him. FBI agents and police kept the abduction secret until noon today.

Dr. Welch was one of those who helped rescue the boy. The child's calls were heard by the accused man's daughter who lives nearby the hideout.

The chiropractor said he had "framed."

"Don't tell police or I'll kill your son," the abductor threatened as he left the house with the boy. The parents told officers the man, described by Irwin as looking "like a Mexican," entered their home Thursday evening, and shakingly painted a gun at them. Then he bound Mr. and Mrs. Mingle and the boy.

Mingle, a well-to-do automobile dealer, had made arrangements with a bank to get the ransom. The kidnaper asked that it be left in small denominations of unmarked bills, in a garage near the Mingle home. Officers watched the garage but saw no trace of the suspect.

Irwin's mother persuaded the abductor to take a jacket to cover the boy. He said the kidnaper covered him with a strip of tape, and gagged. He spent Thursday night on a pile of burlap bags in the attic.

Kidnaper Shook Like Leaf, Says Lad In Story

By IRWIN MINGLE
PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 9 (AP)—Sure I was scared—but not as scared as the man was. He was shaking like a leaf.

It was about 7 o'clock Thursday night, and mama and I were tying up a Christmas package. I guess he lip-toed in the house. Papa was reading.

We looked up, and he was pointing a rusty gun at us. It looked silver. He was shaking.

"Get on floor or me shoot," he said. He sounded like a Mexican. He had white gauze over his right eye and a black hat pulled down.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled Christian Science: The Law of God Demonstrating Substance and Supply

By Judge Frederick C. Hill, C. S. B. of Los Angeles, California

Member of the Board of Lecturers of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

Delivered under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in the city hall auditorium Friday evening, Judge Hill was introduced by Mrs. Catherine Sandler, Second Reader of First Church of Christ, Scientist of Pampa, Judge Hill spoke substantially as follows:

The history of the human race is an unfolding record of mankind's endeavor to grasp the meaning of substance and supply and thereby acquire a sufficient amount of something to meet his needs and demands.

No doubt the masses were just as confused then as they are now. Instead of knowing and understanding what substance is, mankind has believed and accepted something—that life, substance, and intelligence are in matter—and this believing has separated him from God; hence, the need for salvation, the need for a redeemer.

The greatest event in human history occurred nineteen centuries ago, when a child was born in Bethlehem of Judaea. About thirty years later, that child, now grown to manhood, appeared as a prophet, preaching the gospel, healing the sick, and laying the basis for the redemption of mankind.

As human consciousness is redeemed, clearer and more correct views of God are obtained. It follows as a necessary result that the right understanding of man is gained through the knowledge of God.

There is nothing wrong with man, and there is nothing wrong with the life of man. That which causes all the trouble is our belief about man, and this is due to a false claim of a mind opposed to the one and only Mind.

It must be remembered that what Jesus did is within the reach of anyone who attains the same degree of spiritual understanding. In feeding the multitude, walking on the water, healing the sick, and raising the dead, He was proving the allness of Spirit. That spiritual law is the law of annihilation to the false beliefs opposed to spirit, as manifested through human consciousness.

Six Dead In Amazing Plot In Wisconsin

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis., Dec. 9 (AP)—The killing of six persons today, a $40,000 kidnaping plot, robbery and arson—all seemingly related—sent the police on a hunt for clues confirming their theory that the crimes were the work of Donald T. Cameron, one of the dead.

Chief of Police Edward Holtz said these things were known: 1. Cameron, about 35, committed suicide about 1:15 a. m. a few minutes before the bodies of his wife Louise, 35, his two-year-old son, David, and his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wilk, of Minneapolis, were found in the charred ruins of his Lake Wissota cottage, six miles east of Chippewa Falls. Holtz expressed conviction that Cameron killed the four and fired the house. Policemen, called to the cottage by neighbors who heard gunfire, saw Cameron run from the house to the garage. They heard the discharge of a gun in the garage and upon investigating found Cameron lying on a bullet wound.

2. Marshall Brenden, about 40, was shot to death and his body left in an Eau Claire cemetery, nine miles south of here. Two empty cartridges found nearby were similar to those found in the German type pistol with which Cameron killed himself in the garage back of his home.

3. A note addressed to a Mr. Linton, demanding "$40,000 or else" and warning that "marked money means death your boy" was found in Cameron's pocket.

4. Earl Redard, Chippewa Falls filling station attendant, identified Cameron as the man who robbed him of $20 at 12:45 a. m., slugged him and wounded him and two motorists whose help he had solicited.

5. The odor of gasoline was strong in the Cameron cottage when police broke in after answering a fire alarm. Gasoline had soaked one of Cameron's trouser legs.

6. Cameron attempted to borrow $2,000 several days ago from the Eau Claire Citizens Loan and Investment Co. headed by Arthur Linton. Linton has an 11-year-old grandson, Donald, whom he adopted after the death of his daughter.

Ouster Of Russia From League Looms

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ, JR. GENEVA, Dec. 9 (AP)—Indications that the League of Nations not only would condemn Russia as an aggressor but also probably would ouster her from the League increased today as the "trial" of the Soviet Union on Finland's charges opened.

Argentina and her sister Latin American states, threw their support strongly behind Finland and were reported to have told the League it must choose between ejecting Russia and losing them as members.

Russia's representative was absent as the League council discussed the League's appeal for action in two closed sessions and passed it on "for trial" to the assembly which convenes Monday.

Mines And Torpedoes Sink 2 British, 2 Neutral Ships

By ROBERT E. BUNELLE LONDON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Four more ships, two British and two neutral, were added today to the mounting toll of the sea war in which the efforts of Britain and Germany to cut each other's life lines continued with unabated ferocity.

The four were sunk by mines or torpedoes. A partial offset was the British capture of a German ship, which Britain views the maritime conflict was reflected in the admiralty's call for ex-sellers and ex-marines up to 46 years old to volunteer for the duration of the war.

The death toll on the seas for the week, fourteenth of the war, was estimated at 400, including the crews of four German submarines which

The Norwegian 1,271-ton Cimic, sunk by an explosion, three dead, 14 saved.

Russians Far Behind Time In Finland

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

The battle scene in Finland after ten days of invasion by Soviet Russia is shrouded both by snow and utterly conflicting reports from Moscow and Helsinki as to the progress Red armies are actually making.

Yet that does not conceal one highly important fact—that the million-man power Red steam roller is far behind time in flattening out its 200,000-man-power Finnish opponent by the standard which Germany established in Poland. Less than a week after Hitler's armies crashed across the Polish frontier there was not much left of Polish resistance. The war was over, in effect, although Warsaw held out for a few weeks.

By common report, Germany used some 300,000 men in that "Blitzkrieg" attack, against a total Polish army of about a million men. There are no definite figures as to the Russian forces blasting their way into Finland, but Russian propagandists, before the attack, spoke of nearly a million regulars along the 800 mile frontier. Opposed to them were between 200,000 and 300,000 Finns.

Judge Tatum Scorns Long Legal Papers

Know your facts, prepare your case on those facts, and allege no more than is necessary, was the gist of a talk made by Judge Reese Tatum of the 49th district court, Dalhart, at a luncheon of the Gray County Bar Association, held at noon Saturday at the Schneider hotel.

Amarillo Buried In Cemetery Here

John Clifford Brown, 33-year-old Amarillo man, was buried at Fairview cemetery here Friday afternoon following services in Amarillo conducted by the Rev. Roy Kemp, pastor of the Central Baptist church.

Mr. Brown died Wednesday night. He was a carpenter by trade and formerly resided at Texline. Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Juanita Brown; his mother, Mrs. Gertrude Munson, Letors; a sister, Mrs. B. H. Slack, Caldwell, Ida., and five brothers, Walter and Charles H. Brown of Amarillo, Jimmie Brown of Oklahoma City, and Max and Robert Brown of Letors.

Judge Tatum scoffed at lengthy legal papers, saying it was seldom necessary to use more than three pages for any civil case, and that most ordinary cases, such as a suit on a note or a foreclosure, could be covered on a postal card.

He flayed "catch" issues inserted into legal documents for the purpose of making "law a football in court," and urged plain and simple language. "The law is plain, common sense," Judge Tatum declared. "There are seldom more than three issues in any case," the speaker said, in further advocating common sense in legal practice.

The Dalhart jurist was the special guest of S. D. Stennis, president of the Gray County Bar Association. Attendance at the luncheon was 24, including these out-of-town guests, in addition to the main speaker: H. E. Hoover, Miami, Ray Sansing and E. C. Gray of Higgins, W. H. Sewell of Follett, and Riley Strickland of Amarillo.

Profession Lauded
In his introductory remarks, Judge Tatum praised the legal profession, enumerating the number of

Following the speech by the honor guest, Judge Hoover of Miami made a brief talk.

District Judge W. R. Ewing of Pampa introduced Judge Tatum. Business Session Next Month
President Stennis announced that the bar association's next meeting would be a business session to be held in January and that notice of the time and exact date would be made by the secretary.

W. J. Smith was appointed to head a committee to send flowers to John F. Stinson, another local attorney, who is a patient in a Pampa hospital. Present at the luncheon, in addition to those previously named, were: Tom Braly, John V. Osborne, H. L. Jordan, Clifford Braly, District attorney, C. E. Cary, Joe Gordon, county attorney, John F. FDR Proposal Gets Cool Reception

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt's reported desire to sidetrack controversial issues as far as possible in the coming session of Congress got a cool reception today from Republican leaders.

While such a program has been advocated by congressmen anxious to get an early start on their election-year political fence-mending, House Majority Leader Martin (R-Mass.) turned thumbs down on it. "There are very many important domestic problems to be solved," he said, "and I sincerely hope Congress will not run away from them even if it is an election year."

"The first duty of Congress is to promote the welfare of the country and everything else should be subordinated to that—even politics." Well-informed sources had said that Mr. Roosevelt was advising his legislative leaders that he wants Congress to dispose of its routine affairs and get home not later than next May.

The chief executive was said to believe that while the question of renewing the reciprocal trade agreement law, which expires next June, would have to be acted upon, other administration programs should be left up to the people in the 1940 election and that such a policy would be beneficial not only to his own party but to the country as a whole.

newspapers, and sketches of prize-winning decorations in other cities. This book will be available at the Southwestern Public Service company, 205 North Cuyler, beginning tomorrow, from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. A member of the Garden club will be on duty at the company from 3 p. m. to 7 p. m. each afternoon to provide information or suggestions on the contest. A list of the names of works that construct or help construct installations may also be secured through this service.

For the contest, Pampa is divided into three divisions: 1. all houses east of Cuyler and north of Foster; 2. all houses west of Cuyler to Hobart street and north of Foster; 3. all houses south of Foster and west of Hobart.

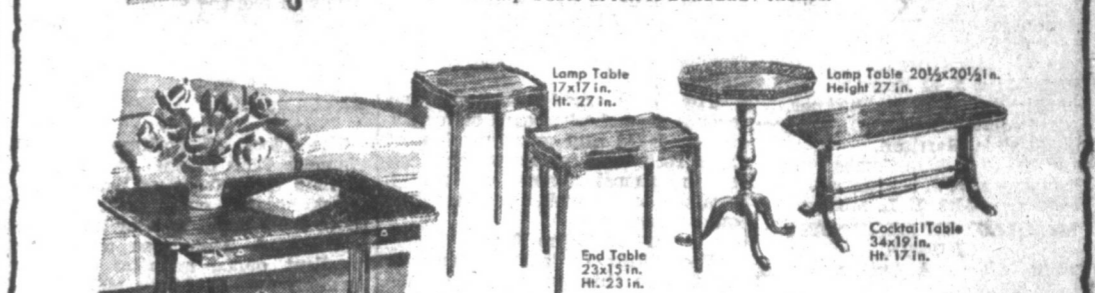

Announcement of the prize amounts will be made within a few days. Pampans are urged by the club to put up decorations and displays. The club is attempting to get churches to have displays also.

Mrs. H. B. Landrum is president of the Pampa Garden club, and with Mrs. James B. Massa is actively pushing the campaign.

FINLAND

(Continued From Page 1) day's fighting was a continuation of various engagements which began yesterday. KIRKENES, Norway, at the Finnish frontier, Dec. 9 (AP)—Thundering avalanches loosened by Finnish dynamite charges were reported today to have caused mountainous waves which drowned between 600 and 800 members of unsuccessful Russian landing parties in icy Arctic waters off northern Finland.

Reports reaching here from across the border said masses of steep hillsides on the edges of fjords near Petsamo and Limhamari were sent tumbling into the water with such force that the boats of the Red army landing parties were swamped. The Finns were said to have employed similar tactics previously in repulsing landing attempts by the invaders. Many of those surviving the man-made waves were reported captured.

East of Petsamo, the reports said, Russian tanks attempting to cross frozen lakes plunged into holes cut in the thick ice by the Finns. Crews were reported to have perished in the plummeting tanks. Snares Amazing With a half dozen other correspondents, I went through an almost incredible maze of barbed wire, tank traps, machine-gun nests, artillery emplacements and mantraps on the Finnish side.

At one time I could look across a snow-covered field and see the Russian lines a half mile away without being seen. The Russians may find travelling a territory of ingeniously laid snares considerably more difficult than rolling into Poland, whatever their numbers. The only roads through and around this checkerboard of forests, frozen lakes and great patches of bare rock wind so intricately that it is almost impossible for a stranger to keep his direction without a compass. Barbed Wire Forests The Finns obviously intend to hang onto this sector well in advance of the Mannerheim line. They have criss-crossed forests with barbed wire running in all directions, laid mine traps for the wariest troops and generally set themselves up where they can attack the approaching Russians from the most unexpected directions.

I visited the colonel's regiment at his tent headquarters and lunched on a large bowl of hot porridge with plenty of butter and bread. A radio was going in one corner, bringing news broadcasts and finally the "Song of Finland." The colonel said the Russians were using fewer tanks since they had lost so many. He stated four were captured yesterday and destroyed. 1,000 Attend Play On Second Night An audience bigger than the first night crowd attended the second presentation of "Our Town," high school senior play. A thousand people saw the play Friday night at the high school auditorium, raising the total attendance to 1,800.

Again the audience was moved many times to laughter and several times to tears. Many spectators came away singing the praises of Jack Johnson who played the role of Editor Webb. He gave a sterling performance the first night and was even better the second, spectators said. The audience was touched by the fine interpretations of Carolyn Surratt, Aubrey Green, Jeanne Lively, Bill Miskimins, Jerry Smith, Bobby Karr, Zade Watkins, Ann Chisholm, James Foran, Chester Carpenter, Leon Holloway, and the others. The play as the winner of the Pulitzer prize for 1938 was judged the best for that year.

It will be helpful, if reservations will be made by telephoning 383, Oden said. Judge Honts has been an active director of the Panhandle Water Conservation Authority since its organization, a leading hand in securing for the Panhandle the dams that have been constructed at the McClellan creek project, at Umbarger, Canadian, Tulla, Dalhart, and Perryton. He has been active in highway promotion and is a booster for Oilfield Highway 41 association from Oklahoma City to Denver. He was a member of the party that journeyed to Oklahoma City Nov. 14 on this project. In Lions Club activities of the Panhandle, Judge Honts has been a popular speaker, having spoken to a majority of the clubs in this district, including a talk before the Pampa Lions club at the annual Ladies night affair last summer. Death Takes Infant Son Of Richardsons Jimmie Dale Richardson, six-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Richardson, died at 9:15 o'clock last night at the family's home, 717 South Barnes. Funeral arrangements had not been completed late Saturday night. The body is at Clay's funeral home. Besides the parents the infant is survived by two brothers, Ralph and Charles, Jr., and four sisters, Ruth, Helen, Audrey, and Wilma Jean.

Listeners Enjoy Unique Programs Aired By KPDN

By THE RADIO EDITOR Statistics of telephone calls, cards and letters reveal that the whole community is getting a kick out of playing a fascinating new radio game. If you haven't heard about it, tune to KPDN Monday morning at 9:30 for the details. Perhaps you've noticed that "Reflections at Twilight" is back on KPDN with soft organ melodies, songs by Willa Dean Ellis and inspirational poetry. The narrator urges listeners to send him poems they would like to have read on the air, also suggestions for more effective reading. As the days pass and more interest in words and their meanings is displayed, telephone calls for the "bone-head" contest increase. Housewives will find this contest a valuable pastime. It is heard via KPDN again Monday morning at 9:15. What will the Cornshuckers do next? Now, they are playing an evening program, at which time they add an ultra-modern shuffle-rhythm to the season's newest melodies. Since they began this program last Monday at 6 p. m., many smiling faces have lined the KPDN studio windows at that hour. This a. m. Cornshucker program draws its share of studio interest, too. Saturday morning a family that lives ten miles out of town was at the studio at 7:15 waiting to hear the Cornshuckers.

We were talking to one of the ladies who came up to listen to a program the other day, and she made this remark: "I didn't realize I could feel so much at home up here as I do." And that remark made us wonder if perhaps there are not others in the radio audience who feel the same way. KPDN officials and artists want you to visit the studios. They want you to feel that KPDN is your station, serving and entertaining the people of this area. The Clock of Fortune and the Women's Club of the Air continue to hold their share of listener interest, because every member of those clubs wants to hear her name called next. They also enjoy the excellent dance melodies of Tony Anthony and his Music Masters. Two dramatic shows that are really "taking the cake" are "Talking Drums" and "Do You Believe in Ghosts," the former heard each week-day evening at 6:30 and the latter heard each Tuesday and Thursday mornings at 7:10 and each Tuesday and Saturday evenings at 6:45.

Christmas Gifts For Poor Sought Kettles of the Salvation Army were put up Saturday on Cuyler street, another step in the plans to make Pampa's 1939 Christmas truly Christmas in spirit. On December 20 the annual "White Christmas" sponsored by the Salvation Army will be held at assemblies at all Pampa schools. Students are to bring canned goods to the assemblies, where it will be distributed by the Army, then distributed in Christmas baskets taken to "less-chance" families. The distribution of the baskets will be a part of the Goodfellows campaign, with the Army providing part of the families on the list. A desk of the Goodfellows for the listing of such families is to be placed in the city hall Friday. Names will first be cleared to the desk from the office of Mrs. Willie Baines, county case worker. Purchase of dolls is being urged by the Red Cross, the organization that will sponsor the Community Christmas tree to be held on December 24 in the city hall auditorium. The Red Cross wants the dolls to put on the tree, along with other toys that have been prepared for the tree by Pampa firemen.

Roll Call Nears $2,000 Mark With several oil companies and business firms still to be heard from, the Red Cross Roll Call soared near the $2,000 mark last night, according to Chairman O. K. Gaylor. The successful drive had netted a total of $1,965.44. Mr. Gaylor urged canvassers who have not reported to do so as quickly as possible. At the same time he issued a statement expressing thanks to all workers. "Pampans realizing the great services performed by the Red Cross both at home, over the nation and abroad, again gave proof of their generosity and humanity," Mr. Gaylor said. "Pampa's heart is as big as it ever was and bigger." Memberships were as follows: 1257 at $1 each in Pampa and 77 out of town; 11 at $5 each in town and 2 out of town; three at $10 each in Pampa and one at $25. Contributions less than $1 totaled $18.44. Business firm memberships totaled $490 here and $3 out of town.

Jack Fosters Will Move To St. Louis Jack Foster, for the past three years associated with his father, Frank M. Foster, in the management of the Pampa Furniture company, left last night for St. Louis where he will take employment in the headquarters office of Price, Waterhouse & Co., public accountants. A deal is pending for the sale of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Foster here. Mr. Foster said Saturday. The Fosters will make their home

KIDNAPER

(Continued From Page 1) over his face. I saw he was wearing brown pants and a black coat. I was scared then, but I was glad. He made up his mind on our stomachs and tied our hands, he had a time with papa's hand. Then he stuck old rags in our mouths, and he blindfolded us—used a gown of mama's to blind daddy's eyes and told me to come on. He sounded more scared than I felt. He didn't hurt me—just put his hand on my shoulder. We went out the back door. When we came to the gate, he carried me through. And when he went through the fence he held the wire down so I could step over. I was thinking then. He had told daddy to bring $15,000 and put it in a box. Doctor Welch's garage. And he said: "Don't tell police, or I kill your son." I was thinking how to get away, but my hands were tied. I was blindfolded, but could see over the top a little. I tried to find out more about him. So I said, "I won't be able to go to school tomorrow." I go to DeQueen school. I will be 12 Tuesday—all he said was, "Atraid not!" He put me in the car, and we sat there about five minutes. I guess he was seeing if daddy and mama got loose. Then we drove for about five minutes, about 45 or 50 miles. I was trying to figure out where we were going, but it was hard to tell. We stopped and waited about ten minutes, then he carried me over what felt like loose dirt. He put me down and told me to step up. I did and heard him unlock a door. He led me in and told me to lie down. He covered me up with a jacket. Mama had begged him to take it. He left then for about 20 minutes, I guess. And when he came back I could hear him tear strips from something that smelled like burlap. He lifted me up to the attic, then, and laid me on the floor. He took three pieces of shipplap that he had covered with burlap, and put them across my face and laid me on them. He taped my mouth shut. Tied my hands on one pole and my feet on another and covered me with burlap bags, about 15 of them. I was so thirsty, I tried to ask for water. When I did, he slapped me on the shoulder and said: "Quiet. Me hit." He didn't hurt me. Then he left. I remember something else, now. As we got out to go in the house, I wanted to make him talk more, so I could find out more about him. I told him I wanted to drive some more. "Me uncle fix that," he said. When we started to go in the house I asked him who owned the house. He just said "Me uncle." Several other times he mentioned his uncle. I couldn't find out much. The way he laid me in the attic, I was on one shoulder. It's still sore. It was hard to sleep last night. He had pulled the goggles on my aviation cap down over my eyes. They hurt, but I managed to wiggle them loose. I got hot and sweaty. I finally went to sleep, when I woke up I was cool. Got Tape Loose I thought I heard chickens crow. I wiggled the blindfold loose, but it got over by nose and it made it hard for me to breathe. I got the tape loose from my mouth and one hand loose. I shouted "Hey." I heard some noise, and it scared me a little. Afterwards, I found out it was just ploppers and crows. I went back to sleep. When I woke up again, I got my nerve back and got my hands loose. I shouted. First I just called out easy to see if he was there. Then I shouted loud. I said, "Hey. I'm thirsty." Then a woman answered. At first I was afraid she was the man's wife. I told her what happened. At first, she didn't believe me. Then they came in and got me. Then daddy came. I was scared some. I was worried some too. I worried mostly about mama and daddy. I knew they'd be worried about me. That's all.

FLOOR SHOW (Continued From Page 1) is also a member of the cast and she will present the Indian Saga. Well known to Pampans are Dale Taylor, Jane Allen, Joye and Jean and other Duffy sensations from last year's show. The chapter was fortunate to secure Elton Wells and his orchestra which will be en route west when it stops at Pampa. The 12-piece band has been featured in Chicago, Milwaukee, Des Moines, Kansas City, Houston, and other large cities. It will play only the one-engagement here. Nearly 400 tickets have been sold and the number is expected to reach the 500 mark. Tickets are $2 each admit a couple to the dance and floor show and include a 1940 membership in the AFI chapter. Tickets are on sale at the Schneider hotel, Paul Clifford's Service station and by members of the chapter advisory board of which Walter Biery is chairman. Pension Workers Meet In Pampa Twenty-one county case workers and old age assistance workers of area 31 gathered in the grand jury room at the court house Saturday for the first staff meeting held since the area headquarters was established here on November 17. Meeting with the department of public welfare personnel were Marvin W. Dabbs, district NYA employment officer, Sam E. McChurn, area supervisor, both of Amarillo, and C. N. Cochran, area supervisor with headquarters in Pampa. Miss Mary Gartner is the area supervisor of the department of public welfare, under whose direction the meeting was held yesterday. In St. Louis, Mrs. Foster is to leave Pampa this week-end to join her husband.

Canadian Judges Win Most Places In Pampa Meet

Canadian Future Farmers of America won two out of nine places in three contests held near Pampa Saturday in connection with the first of a series of four district FFA meetings of the Pampa district. Canadian took second in the judging of dairy cattle, held at the Taylor farm, and first in poultry judging, held at the Irvin Cole place. Tantal attendance at the judging contests and at a meeting of coaches, held in Pampa in connection with the event, was 100, representing FFA chapters of nine towns: Canadian, Miami, McLean, Wheeler, White Deer, Groom, Claude, Panhandle, and Dumas. Pampa FFA boys, as hosts, did not compete, but helped in putting on the contests, directed by J. L. Lester, Pampa teacher of vocational agriculture. Results of the contests: dairy cattle, McLean, first, Canadian, second, Panhandle, third; beef cattle, horses, and hogs, held at the Stockstill and Sloan farms, Miami, first, Panhandle, second, White Deer, third; poultry, Canadian, first, McLean, second, Claude, third. The winning teams were composed as follows: McLean, dairy cattle, Leonard Glass, Arthur Boyd, James Rensau; Miami, beef cattle, horses, and hogs, J. Ramsey, R. Maddox, J. Moorhead; Canadian, poultry, David Cloyd, John C. Wise, Thomas Johnson. Judges were Dr. George P. Groust, Panhandle, dairy cattle; Ralph R. Thomas, Gray county farm agent, Pampa, and Marvin Simms, now of Wheeler, but former assistant to Mr. Thomas, beef cattle, horses, and

Former Pampa Court Reporter Killed In Crash

Funeral services for Jonathan Henry Cross, 38, former Pampa resident killed instantly early Friday morning when the car he was driving crashed into the side of a Fort Worth and Denver Railway freight train near Amarillo, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist church, Canadian, by the Rev. W. A. Fite, pastor. At the time of his death Mr. Cross was court reporter for the 84th district and he was returning from court at Canadian when the accident happened. The car struck between two cars, smashing an air hose which caused the train to stop, but not until the car had been dragged a considerable distance. Mr. Cross was appointed court reporter of the 84th district by Judge Newton P. Willis in 1927. At that time and until 1929 Gray county was served by both the 84th and the 31st district courts. In 1929 the Free WPA Lunches May Be Possible For Local Students Free lunches to needy public school children of Pampa may become possible as a Works Projects administration project, as a result of a recent visit here of Mrs. Florence Johnson of Amarillo, WPA supervisor of the free lunch project. President Roosevelt recently approved an allocation to provide $5,085,000 for free lunches to needy public and parochial school children in Texas. To date, no action has been taken by the board of the Pampa Independent School district. However, Supt. L. L. Some said it would be an easy matter to obtain the project here, if the board wanted to approve the sponsor's cost. This would amount to 6 or 7 cents per child per meal. The WPA would provide the labor needed to cook and serve the meals and some surplus food commodities, but other foods would have to be provided by the sponsor. Mrs. Johnson is to be in Pampa again, in the early part of this week, to further discussion of the project, Supt. Some said. The Pampa school board is to meet tomorrow, and it is likely the project will be among the matters considered.

Former Pampa Court Reporter Killed In Crash Funeral services for Jonathan Henry Cross, 38, former Pampa resident killed instantly early Friday morning when the car he was driving crashed into the side of a Fort Worth and Denver Railway freight train near Amarillo, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist church, Canadian, by the Rev. W. A. Fite, pastor. At the time of his death Mr. Cross was court reporter for the 84th district and he was returning from court at Canadian when the accident happened. The car struck between two cars, smashing an air hose which caused the train to stop, but not until the car had been dragged a considerable distance. Mr. Cross was appointed court reporter of the 84th district by Judge Newton P. Willis in 1927. At that time and until 1929 Gray county was served by both the 84th and the 31st district courts. In 1929 the 84th district court was removed from Gray county and Mr. Cross continued in that district. Mr. Cross had resided in Amarillo for 10 years, having a country home at Cliff side. He is survived by the wife; two sons, Jack Cross, 16-year-old senior in Amarillo High school, and Jonathan Henry Cross, Jr., 12 years old; a daughter, Laura D'Ha, 7 years old; a brother, J. B. Cross of Canadian; and two sisters, Mrs. Walter Mayfield, Amarillo, and Mrs. Vance Stickle, Canadian.

Killer Slain, Another In Lubbock Jail

LUBBOCK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Heavily armed possemen continued their search of rough ranch land near Crosbyton tonight for one killer while one of his two companions lay dead in a morgue and the other was in jail.

J. W. Mann, the fugitive, escaped into dense underbrush after officers early today riddled his stogie car with bullets.

Howard Lackey, about 30, charged with Mann and Raymond Davis, 26, in the fatal shooting of Deputy Sheriff D. T. Smith of Cochran county, died in jail at Levelland today.

Smith was shot to death yesterday near Morton when he and Sheriff Tom Stander of Cochran county halted the men after a chase and demanded they accompany the officers back to town. Instead, there was a burst of pistol fire and Smith was fatally wounded.

In a gun battle which followed, Lackey was wounded and Davis, a Morton trucker, was captured. Mann escaped, only to encounter B. L. Woodell and Billy Johnson, state highway patrolmen, at 3 a. m. today.

After a 14-mile chase during which the officers riddled the fugitive's car with bullets, Mann abandoned his car and fled into the woods. He lost a shoe as he leaped a fence and officers were confident of apprehending him soon.

Fifty possemen, guided by two airplanes, participated in the day-long search. Mont Jennings and Thomas C. Laws, the latter a machinist gunner for the highway patrol, were in one of the planes while Bill Alder and Sergeant C. E. Tabor, both highway patrolmen, occupied the other.

Officers believed they had successfully cut off the killer's escape.

Receipts of the annual Christmas seal sale by the Gray County Tuberculosis association for the first week in the campaign, totaled $226.90. It was reported today by W. E. Jansa, president of the county association.

Students in Pampa schools are to be given tuberculin tests next Wednesday and at 2:30 o'clock on the same afternoon a meeting of the board of directors of the county association is to be held in the county court room.

The tests to be given Wednesday are for all pupils who tested positive at the time of the last examinations and for those pupils who will be given the test for the first time. It is for pupils of both ward and high schools, and will be held at the high school building, to which pupils from the other schools will be transported. It is expected that 1,300 pupils will be examined.

Proceeds of the sale of Christmas seals are used in making these local of this year's seal, which shows an angel with outstretched arm against a brilliant blue background. A large double-barred cross, international badge of the fight against tuberculosis, is prominently displayed.

At the request of the committee, Mr. Weathered explained the use of the double-barred cross.

"The First International Conference on Tuberculosis adopted the double-barred cross as its insignia in 1902," he said. "Dr. Gilbert Sersiron of Paris made a plea for its use as an emblem. He called it an emblem of peace and of fraternal understanding to spread our message throughout the world."

"The cross, also known as the Lorraine Cross, was taken over by Godfrey de Bouillon, Duke of Lorraine, the first Christian ruler of Jerusalem, as the insignia of his House. It had previously been used by the leaders of the First Crusade as their standard and to them meant a symbol of peace and hope."

A modern variant of the double-barred cross was adopted as the insignia of the 79 Division of the American Expeditionary Force in the World War, Mr. Weathered added.

Ball, Bearded Cagers Trick Shot Experts

Harvesters Beat Stinnett Five 54 To 14

Flowing whiskers do not always denote age as basketball fans of Pampa will learn Wednesday night when five elongated men with hirsute adornment take the floor at the high school gymnasium for a regulation basketball game with the Pampa Harvesters. The game will be called at 8 o'clock but there'll be an exhibition game between the Guerrillas and Pemmions one hour earlier.

The bearded sharpshooters who will strut their stuff will be the famous House of David basketball team coached by Bob Hale, who also plays a deadly game at guard. Coach Mitchell's Harvesters defeated the Stinnett Rattlers Friday night at Stinnett 54 to 14. Every man on the squad played. It was the second victory for the Harvesters. The Pampa cagers, current district cage champions, defeated Groom last week. Prospects for another winning team are increasing.

Members of the David team were "best players" in various colleges over the southwest and each was selected by the House of Davids because he could do a certain thing almost perfectly.

Take for instance Pecos Finley. He's 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 182 pounds, was a star forward for New Mexico A. & M. college and he can dribble a ball as though it is glued to his fingers and his passing is like lightning. He plays a roving game on defense.

At the other forward slot will be Bob McColium who used to be a star sharpshooter for Hardin-Simmons college. He fits in perfectly with the David's pinwheel offense.

The center will be Bob Hale, 6 feet 4 inches, who starred with Texas Tech college. He can jump and hit his head on the basket ring and he keeps the net dancing with trick shots.

Captain of the team is none other than Jim Neely, 6 feet 3 inches, who plays guard. He's from Texas Simmons and he was one of the officials at the Pampa-Amarillo game this fall.

Rounding out the starting lineup is Coach Rich who halls from Texas A. & I. college. He'll be in high school football for four years.

Against the 6 armed experts Coach Odus Mitchell will send Carlisle and Bearden, forwards, Terrell, center, and Seth Cox and Dunaway, guards.

Admission will be 25 and 50 cents.

Groom Citizens To Honor 6-Man Football Team

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

GROOM, Dec. 9—The desire of football fans of the Groom community to banquet the team and coach will be realized Wednesday night at 7:45 o'clock. At this time the Amarillo News-Globe will present the trophy given to the winner of the Panhandle six-man football league.

The banquet is not being sponsored by any club or organization. It is being given because there is a feeling in the community that the members and coach of Groom's first district championship team should be honored in this manner. Too, it should be the privilege of all the fans and supporters to have a part in the evening's entertainment. Then, the News-Globe, since it is giving the trophy, would like to present it in the presence of the community, and not just a club or small group.

The banquet, which will be held in the school gymnasium, will be prepared by the home economics classes of the high school, under the direction of Miss Brown. A program is being prepared that will provide entertainment. The sports department of the News-Globe has promised a speaker for the principal event of the program, which will be handled by Henry Young as toastmaster.

Tickets for the banquet will be on sale by Mr. Culver at the State National bank and Dalton Ford at the school. No soliciting will be done. Those desiring to attend the banquet may secure a ticket from either of these men before 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Those desiring to buy a ticket for one of the football boys may do so and leave it at the bank for that boy, or present it to him personally. Mr. Culver will have a list of the six-man team and Mr. Young's Peewee squad.

Clemson Will Be Boston's Grid Foe In Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Dec. 9—From away over in South Carolina comes Clemson college, co-champion of the Southern conference, to play host in Dallas' Cotton Bowl grid classic to Boston college, an eastern power.

The game was finally signed to-day after the Southern conference voted unanimously to permit Clemson's appearance in Dallas.

Director J. Curtis Sanford of the four-year-old Cotton Bowl game, closed the deal and started laying plans to educate Texans on the merits of South Carolina and Massachusetts football.

Both teams lost only one game over a ten-game schedule. Clemson, boasting Banks McFadden, All-America half-back, dropping a choker to mighty Tulane, 6-7, and Boston taking an early season upset from Florida, 0-7.

Clemson, often referred to as the country's most underrated football team, finally wound up in a first-place tie with Duke last year's southern Rose Bowl team.

The southerners were chosen from a Big Three consisting of Duquesne, undefeated; Mississippi State and Clemson. The Dukes inferred they could not get together with Cotton Bowl officials on arrangements for the game.

Clemson, incidentally, was strongly considered last year as a possible opponent of Texas Tech before the St. Mary's Gaels of the Pacific coast were finally signed.

Sanford said no word had been received from either school as to when they will arrive in Dallas for final training.

Landis Supports American League

CINCINNATI, Dec. 9—Refusing to relinquish any of his views concerning baseball's farm system, Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis cited the votes today that overruled all the legislation of inter-club relations adopted earlier in the week by the minor leagues.

Presiding at a joint meeting of the two major leagues, which had taken opposite stands on the proposed amendments yesterday, Judge Landis entered the deciding ballot and in every case aligned himself with the American League against the National.

This action had been expected. The minors proposed amendments that would permit chain systems greater freedom in the transfer of players, allow scouts of one club to sign players for an affiliated club, and prohibit interpretation of certain rules governing the transfer of players.

The National League voted in favor of these measures to favor the commissioner, but the junior circuit took Landis' side and yesterday rejected every proposal sent up by the smaller leagues.

By KENNETH GREGORY

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 9—Tennessee's orange-shirted Volunteers, touchdown-tight team if there ever was one, climaxed a spectacular gridiron campaign today with a 7 to 0 triumph over an Auburn team that gave its all—but not enough.

The Rose Bowl, an elusive honor for the gridgers who have fought under the direction of that old army strategist, Major Bob Neyland, hung in the balance as a gallant defensive Tennessee team, which knew what to do and how to do it, win, crashed through to its 23rd straight triumph and waited for an expected invitation.

As the color-capped Tennessee band whipped into a jazz-jittery presentation of "California, Here I Come," while a gathering of 20,000 witnessed the climax to a thoroughly-convinced season, the expected invitation to Pasadena's Tournament of Roses was apparently only a matter of course.

The sophomore sensation of the nation, Johnny Butler, a Knoxville lad who can travel with the compass, sparked the payoff victory for the second-stringers, who have borne the brunt all season of a Tennessee team that capitalized on opportunities.

The sophomore sensation of the nation, Johnny Butler, a Knoxville lad who can travel with the compass, sparked the payoff victory for the second-stringers, who have borne the brunt all season of a Tennessee team that capitalized on opportunities.

Butler was the spark. He reeled off eight yards, then dropped out as Bob Arndt cracked around end for 13 yards on a reverse and a first down at the Auburn 40. Then came a typical Tennessee play.

Butler, 150 pounds of gridiron talent, dropped back to fake a pass. He wheeled wide to his left, feigned a forward toss just back of the line of scrimmage, dodged would-be tackler and then tucked the pigskin under his arm and raced ahead. Momentarily checked at the 25, he squirmed out of a trio of tacklers and sprinted for a "touchdown."

The touchdown might easily be termed an $85,000 scoring jaunt. Tennessee just a few days ago turned down an invitation that carried that offer for the undefeated, untied and unscared on Volunteers to play in the Cotton Bowl.

Giants And Packers To Play For Title

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 9—The New York Giants and Green Bay Packers, pro football's two finest teams when the chips are down, clash tomorrow for the National grid championship before a record gate at State Fair park.

A crowd of 32,000 has paid $80,000 to see the classic between the league's defensive unit and the most dangerous passing outfit. The stage was set for a similar battle a year ago, and the Giants won, 23 to 17, but the glory of their victory was dimmed somewhat by the fact that Don Hutson, the Polkney brilliant pass-catching end, was injured and played only briefly.

Now Hutson, one-time Alabama star who caught 34 passes this season and scored six touchdowns, is ready to go and many partisans figure he is good for at least one touchdown against the Giants.

SMU Last To Punch Rice On Chin 13-6

DALLAS, Dec. 9—Off beaten Rice Institute took one more punch on the chin today. Southern Methodist landing a 13-6 wallop, but it came within six inches of being surprisingly great.

The big blue and grey machine picked to lead the Southwest Conference chase was imbedded in the collar after today's closing game, not a victory on the books.

A tie with Arkansas was its best effort.

Potent on the ground, Rice, with little J. P. Wood and reserve full-back Jack Everett doing the heavy work, actually made the Methodists look meek on total yards gained, but the punch collapsed when it hurt.

Down on the one-yard line, with four downs for a touchdown and trailing by only one point, Rice couldn't shove through the massive Methodist line. So ended, in the late minutes of the second period, a Rice challenge that, with success, might have given them a dramatic close to a season that netted only one victory in eleven games.

Rice and passes earned Rice 205 yards to the 118 gained by Southern Methodist on running plays only, but the big Rice line seeped Methodist chargers in the fourth period to permit a blocked kick that made all the statistics go by the board.

For the third time this season, all in crucial spots, sophomore end Roland Goss of Southern Methodist charged in and hurled his flying body against Ole Cordill's kicking leg. The ball bounded down to the eight yard stripe, center Ray Pope picked it up and ran for the clinching touchdown.

Cordill, limping on an injured leg, had two kicks blocked in the last half as SMU linemen had their own way.

But J. P. Wood, a 145-pound jumping jack who seems to like heading straight into the thick of the line, gave no quarter to the Methodist line. He bounced off the tackles, sneaked through the guards and swept the ends for 83 yards on 18 tries.

His most destructive was Southern Methodist's prize son, Preston Johnson, who averaged 5.5 yards on 17 carries besides chipping in some crucial long distance and out of bounds kicking.

'Dusk Bowl' Tilt Set For Next Friday

The big Dusk Bowl football game between the Pampa Black Oilers and the Amarillo Yellowjackets, scheduled for this afternoon, will not be played until Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Harvester field here. Admission will be 25 and 40 cents and proceeds will go into the American Legion Good-fellow fund.

Pampa's negro squad, many of whom played football school or college, has been working faithfully for more than a week and they were glad when the postponement was made, at the request of the Amarillo team.

Coaches Tom Dever and "Doc" Ross have been uncovering talent daily and with the postponement favoring them they have been able to do more experimenting with their squad. A long practice is in order for 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at Harvester field when a eleven will work together the rest of the way until game time.

Leaders of the game are Joe Roche and I. J. (Frenchy) Huval of the Legion post. They urge Pampa fans to see the game which will be for blood and not a burlesque. White fans will sit in the west stand and negro fans in the east stand.

Sponsoring of the game is the contribution of the two men to the Goodfellow fund which will be used to purchase shoes for needy children and purchase food for the needy at Christmas.

UCLA And Southern Cal Battle To 0-0 Tie

103,000 See Both Elevens Almost Score

MEMORIAL COLISEUM, Los Angeles, Dec. 9 (AP)—The University of California-at-Los Angeles all but wrecked the Southern California Rose Bowl special today, but the Cardinal and Gold Trojans moved on to the Pasadena post-season classic after a furious two-hour battle with the UCLA's that ended in a scoreless tie.

The result left the University of Southern California with two ties against its record, and the Bruins of UCLA with three in Pacific Coast conference play and one outside battle.

The formality of the conference naming USC as its representative in the Rose Bowl was to be attended to later.

A record-breaking crowd of 103,000 spectators watched the two hometown adversaries struggle on near-even terms throughout the game.

The favored Trojan machine, geared for an uninterrupted march to the Rose Bowl for the second straight year, made one mighty scoring effort in the first period, and the blue of UCLA brought the roaring crowd to its feet with a 78-yard thrust in the final quarter.

Between whistles, the two undefeated teams tore into each other like unacquainted wild cats—yet only one serious penalty was called. It was a clipping foul ruled against USC.

For once, the yardstick accurately measured the ability of two elevens. The Trojans made 11 first downs and the Delacis, with Halbrook and Kenney Washington training in a Kenny Washington turning in a USC had an edge in yards gained, but the trojans found a line as big and as tough as their own in this Bruin forward wall.

Woodrow Wilson Pitcher Beats Masons 21 To 0

FORT WORTH, Dec. 9 (AP)—Red Maley, one of the finest pitchers in Texas schoolboy history, pitched the Mighty Males of Masonic Home in defeat here today as Woodrow Wilson's Wildcats thundered into the quarter-finals of the state football race, 21-0.

A crowd of 20,000 saw Maley personally account for all the Woodrow Wilson scores, passing for two of the touchdowns and plunging for the other, then adding all the extra points.

Masonic Home threatened continually, once advancing to the Woodrow Wilson two-yard line.

Pampa Girl Held in Clarendon

Bond of a 15-year-old Pampa girl, charged in Donley county with robbery, a felony, has been set at $7,500. She was still in jail at Clarendon last night, no bond having been posted. Bond was set Friday.

The girl was one of five persons arrested in alleged connection with a highway robbery at Alameda on the night of November 16. A Gray county complaint against the girl was dropped, but she was taken into custody by Sheriff Guy Pierce of Donley county.

The Donley county charge was in alleged connection with the robbery of a filling station at Clarendon on the night of November 4.

Held in Gray county jail are Frank Agee of White Deer, Carlyle Skelton and Hubert Glasco, both of Skelkytown, each charged with robbery with firearms in alleged connection with the hijacking of a group of Oklahoma tourists near Alameda. Ray Meyers of White Deer, charged in alleged connection with the same case, was released a week ago on posting $3,500 bond.

THE PROPOSAL TO SHORTEN THE 1940 CAMPAIGN

Here's What Grid Stars Plan To Do

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—If your son plays football in high school next fall, there's a good chance he will be coached by one of this year's crop of gridiron stars.

If you want to drill an oil well, or take an airplane ride, or build a building, or a railroad or run a farm or buy some fur or read a newspaper, you can find one of the boys who has been playing football this year to help out. If you need a lawyer or a doctor or a dentist in a few years, they'll be on the job, too. And if the doctors aren't successful, remember Tom Biggs of South Carolina, who aspires to become an embalmer.

There's not a great deal of active interest in professional football except in the south and southwest, but a lot of the stars admit they'd listen if any good pro offer came their way.

The annual Associated Press survey revealed today among those who are counting upon pro football as a means of livelihood or at least to help them along are Ed (Ty) Coon of North Carolina State, who also plans to go into construction work; Ray Andrus of Vanderbilt; Ed Merrick of Richmond, who wants a minor league baseball umpiring job on the side; Gus Triddy and Lloyd Phillips of William and Mary; Kay Eakin of Arkansas; Leonard Akin of Baylor; Stipan Rouse of Missouri; Elmer (One Man Gang) Hackney of Kansas State and Bob Nowaskey of George Washington.

A lot of others, notably John McLaughry of Brown, Ronnie Cahill of Holy Cross, John Schiechl of Santa Clara and Harry Smith of Southern California, might be receptive to pro offers although they have other plans.

Perryton Buries Tulia's Hopes In 14 To 12 Rout

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
PERRYTON, Dec. 10.—Perryton's mighty Rangers remained the only undefeated and untied football team in Panhandle Class A ranks after their bi-district game with the undefeated and untied Tulia Hornets here Friday afternoon. Perryton, coached by Otis Burk, won the game 14 to 12.

Statistics meant nothing in the great struggle for supremacy of the north half of the region. Perryton raged up and down the field for 11 first downs to three for Tulia and gained 283 yards to 77 for the Hornets. Tulia failed to make a single first down in the opening half of the struggle but scored once.

The Wait Mayo intercepted a fluke pass and raced 28 yards for a touchdown. The conversion failed. Although Perryton gained almost at will, they failed to score until the second quarter when McClung and Williams sparked an attack that was successful. McClung making the last 8 yards on a quick-opening play through the center of his line. Little Lilly added the extra point from placement.

Tulia Threatens
Just before the half the Rangers struck again. Clyde Flowers, 200-pound Perryton fullback, racing 87 yards to the Tulia 1-yard line before being pulled down. On the next drive will claim Ralph Wenzel of Tulane and Jim Logan of Indiana, while Ken Devine of Washington State plans to become a veterinarian.

The oil business, in one department or another, will require the services of Otis, Cordill of Rice, Milton Howell of Auburn, Young Bussey and Dave Bartran of Louisiana State. Ruten Shetley of Furman, Alen McSkellill of Georgia and Joe Melendreck of Georgetown want to be big league baseball players.

Jarring John Kimbrough, Texas Aggies fullback, hopes to be a soil conservation expert and Luke Linden of Kentucky aims at a position as country agricultural agent or farm manager.

Buff Cagers To Open Season At Canyon Monday

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
CANYON, Dec. 9.—West Texas State college's "world's tallest cagers" will be up to par when they open their season Monday and Tuesday nights against New Mexico State of Silver City. The starters will average slightly more than 6 feet 4 inches.

But it will not be a bean-pole aggregation; there isn't a freak on the squad. The starters will average more than 192 pounds to the man. Charles Halbert, center, is the tallest at 6 feet 10 inches, but he also is the biggest, weighing 215 pounds. He is a sophomore, beginning his career as a varsity man. His home is at House, N. M.

Lothar Stephenson of Apton, forward, is 6 feet 7 inches and weighs 200 pounds. Price Brookfield of Ft. Reno, the other forward, is 6 feet 3 3/4 inches tall and weighs 195 pounds. The guards are fast and somewhat smaller. Ernest Schur of Vernon, a senior, is 5 feet 11 and weighs 168 pounds, while Frank Stockman of Malta Bend, Mo., his running mate, is 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 175 pounds. Reserves average 6 feet 3 inches in height.

The Buffs, in training only 10 days, hope to defeat the New Mexico outfit and be unbeaten when Drake university of Des Moines, Ia., sends its great five here December 19 and 20. Drake has six returning lettermen of the squad which tied the Oklahoma Aggies for the Missouri Valley championship last year. Drake cagers have been in training for more than a month and will play five games before they reach Canyon.

Regional Game Site Will Be Picked Today

Perryton and Shamrock school officials will gather in Canadian at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon to decide where the regional Class A football game between teams of the two schools will be played.

Perryton won the championship of districts 1 and 2 by defeating Tulia 14 to 12 Friday afternoon. Shamrock defeated Lockney 19 to 7 for the championship of districts 3 and 4.

Otis Burke is coach at Perryton and Forrest Kline at Shamrock. Use of Harvester field, Pampa, for the regional playoff will be offered by representatives of the Pampa school board and the Pampa Board of City Development.

Westerners Passing Attack Whips Electra 20 To 0

Westerners Passing Attack Whips Electra 20 To 0

LUBBOCK, Dec. 10.—Dominating play from the opening whistle until fans crowded on the field, the Lubbock Westerners defeated the favored Electra Tigers 20 to 0 here Friday afternoon in a bi-district Class AA football game.

The Westerners unexpectedly found the airways for two of the touchdowns, one of them a beautiful backward-forward pass across the goal line.

Big Joe Tyson sparked the Lubbock attack while Clifton Hill, end, stood out on defense. Bud Ely was everything that had been said of him but he was unable to fire the Tigers despite several sensational plays.

The Westerners took advantage of the ease of several beatfully set-up plays to score when with the ball on the Electra 31-yard line Tyson started into the line but suddenly stopped and threw the ball 10 yards behind him to Caython. By that time Jackson had worked behind the Electra safety where he took a pass and stepped over the goal line. Tyson booted the extra point from placement.

The next Lubbock touchdown was also via the cone. Tyson, who hadn't passed all day, faked a plunge into the line and then fading back to pass to Jackson on the Electra 7-yard line from where Jackson slipped over the goal line.

Lubbock's fourth quarter touchdown came when Tyson made the last four yards of a 66-yard march which was sparked by Alford, Jackson and Tyson.

'The Women', M-G-M Satire, Opens Today

All Feminine Cast In Photoplay At LaNora

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON

Lavishly staged, breezy and well acted by a carefully selected cast of feminine stars, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's satire, "The Women," also offers a sound kernel of hard common sense and workable philosophy.

The photoplay, adapted from the Clare Boothe Luce production, is highly sophisticated in tone. Under all the foofery and sparkling dialogue, serious stress is placed upon the real victims of divorce, the children of the belligerents.

Virginia Weidler, as the bewildered little daughter of separated parents, both of whom she loves, draws a convincing picture.

Rated as a picture of exceptional and constructive film, full of tears and laughter. It's the story of a small girl from the slums reared with love and understanding, who gives a new viewpoint to a swanky girls club whose members come from wealthy, snobbish families. Gloria Jean has a phenomenal voice, as well as unusual acting ability. Virginia Weidler also deserves special mention. Robert Cummings, Nan Grey, Beulah Bondi, and C. Aubrey Smith are other principals in the cast. Wednesday and Thursday.

Third in the "Dr. Kildare" series, "The Secret of Dr. Kildare," again has Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore heading the cast in a scientific detective romance, dealing with a beautiful girl's strange secret terror, and the detective work of Ayres as Dr. Kildare to trace it down to the plot of a fanatical nurse, and a quack doctor. The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture is showing Friday and Saturday.

REX
Columbia's humorous melodrama, "The Amazing Mr. Williams," featuring Melvyn Douglas and Joan Blondell, is another film on the gifted-detective-too-preoccupied-for-romance theme, but is swift in action and its comedy value is enhanced because it is derived from situations without distortion of characters or dialogue. Today, tomorrow, and Tuesday.

Showing at the theater Friday and Saturday is another Columbia picture, "The Stranger from Texas," featuring Charles Starrett, Lorna Gray and the Sons of the Pioneers are in the supporting cast. Starrett is cast as a young U. S. marshal, playing a lone hand in trying to reconcile warring factions in a cattle country excited over cattle rustling.

STATE
Sophisticated social comedy is Paramount's "Man About Town," which has Jack Benny, Dorothy Lamour, Edward Arnold and Binnie Barnes as the principals in a lively story of a theater manager in love with his leading lady and of his attempts to interest her. Today and tomorrow.

A skillfully written, directed and acted photoplay, based on Odets' Broadway success is Columbia's "Golden Boy," featuring William Holden and Barbara Stanwyck in a drama of a music-loving youth who crushes his craving for lyrical beauty, in a mad desire to grasp power and wealth as a champion fighter. Wednesday and Thursday.

INVENTION'S MOTHER
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Seeking a way to save her chrysanthemum beds from frost, Mrs. B. B. Ticknor erected canvas tents over them and heated the tents with electric lights. The scheme worked and Mrs. Ticknor walked away with most of the honors at the Oklahoma City chrysanthemum show—15 blue ribbons.

The name "Rotten Row," given a famous London street, is a corruption of the original name, "Route du Roi," or King's street.

Joan Crawford is the hard and calculating Crystal Allen who almost succeeds in wrecking Norma Shearer's marriage in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Women," opening a three-day run today at the LaNora. Rosalind Russell, the third in the group above, is cast as Sylvia Fowler, inveterate gossip who almost ruins the lives of several of her friends. Not a single man is in the cast of 135 of the photoplay.

DETECTIVE'S ROMANCE

Melvyn Douglas has the title role in Columbia's comedy melodrama, "The Amazing Mr. Williams," in which Douglas is the detective who is always too busy to marry his fiancee, Joan Blondell. The picture is showing at the Rex today, tomorrow, and Tuesday.

Chic Woman Goes Into Huddle With Herself Over Suits

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—No truly chic woman says, "Now I must buy a fall suit," or "I think I'll get a new hat next week."
No, indeed.
Her conversation with herself goes about like this: "How do I want to look this fall? If I get a suit, what kind of accessories will I need to go with it? What type of clothes best suits my kind of figure? Should I do something about my figure before I even consider anything new? Is my hair right with the hat I'll want to wear with the suit I have in mind?"
In other words, she's a planner and a schemer. She knows what's being talked about in the stores at the moment. She thinks twice before picking a style that is being talked about too much.

Before trying on a single suit, she has made up her mind what accessories will be needed. She looks straight down her nose at the sort of shopper who gets a hat on the spur of the moment and then has to buy dress, shoes, bag and gloves to wear with it.

Once she has completed her shopping list, bought a new foundation garment and decided how she's going to wear her hair, she shops for a suit. She knows that suits have taken on a new importance this fall.

EVERY SILHOUETTE IS REPRESENTED
Every silhouette, every fabric and every type of trimming is as perfectly represented in suits as in day dresses and separate coats. You can be as feminine looking in a dressmaker suit as you can be trimly tailored in a slim-tweed one.

There are costume suits galore—some with short boleros over matching or harmonizing dresses, many with longer jackets, quantities with full-length coats. The last named is ultra-utilitarian, of course. The coat will go over other dresses and the dress may be worn under a fur jacket or heavier winter coat.

For trimmings are highlighted, with such outstanding American designers as Helen Cookman putting fur yokes as well as fur sleeves and every kind of collar on becoming dressmaker suits.

Tiny, moderately flared peplums at the backs of suit jackets give the popular fullness-at-the-back effect. The new double-sewing skirts and accordion-pleated ones are shown with hipbone-length jackets. The pencil-slim or cigarette silhouette is as handsomely worked out in suits as in day dresses.

It's new to wear linen blouses with tweeds. It's smart to buy two sets of accessories to wear with your suit—one tailored, the other quite afternoon-ish. For variety's sake, have several scarfs as well as the right blouse. And use a little imagination about tying the former. Ascot ties are fine and dandy, but so are any number of bow treatments. Incidentally, to keep a crossed, but untied, scarf in place, fasten, tangle tape or ribbon to both ends and pin the ends of the tape together in the middle of your back.

CHRISTMAS PRESENT FOR HOME

If your home does not have a downstairs lavatory or dressing room, any unused space that could be converted to this purpose and the necessary cash outlay would be a most worthwhile investment. Fixtures need not be elaborate. In fact, simplicity only adds to its ultimate attractiveness. Tiled floor and wainscoting give a feeling of shining cleanliness, but colorful linoleum with clever inlays is probably less expensive and is interesting and long-wearing as well. Washable wall-papers are shown in any number of beautiful colors and patterns. Adequate lighting is important as well as sufficient shelf and closet space.

Rhode Island bent, creeping bent, and Canadian bluegrass are the best grasses to plant in shady places.

Justice Steps Out

The cause of justice took a firm step forward the other day, but it looks as if it may bog down knee-deep in legalistic mire. Magistrate Henry Curran of New York adjudicated a case before him in a manner that is likely to bring litigants into court as if it were dish night.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Lewis complained that city building operations just outside their apartment window were driving them crazy. Magistrate Curran realized just how they felt, instructed the couple to do up the town, complete with cocktails, dinner, a show and a night in quiet hotel. They did—to the tune of about $65. The bill, said the jurist, would be paid by the city of New York. The city disagrees.

Magistrate Curran's decision is practically a brand new twist in judicial logic. If the idea grows, the line of outraged citizens who want redress at law will please form to the right. The magistrate probably figured that after a sizzling night of Broadway night clubs and hot spots, the Lewises could stand any kind of racket outside their windows.

On Second Thought

An effective method of getting action out of a city council was discovered in Little Rock, Ark., where the 12 aldermen refused to pass a tax levy for payment of a judgment. The members were found guilty of contempt of court. The 11 men were sentenced to 10 days each in jail; the woman member was fined $50. After a few hours, the council decided to change its collective mind, voted the levy unanimously. All sentences were suspended.

A lot of heated and futile debate might be avoided if legislators could be sent to some quiet place like a jail cell or a hermit's cave for meditation just before important issues are to be brought up.

It's a lot better for city officials to spend a few peaceful hours in jail before taking a decisive action than to be packed away behind bars for a few years after taking it.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—William Dudley Pelley, head of the Silver Shirts, will be the next target of the Dies committee—if the committee can only find him.

Just before leaving for Texas to take an enforced rest necessitated by overwork, Chairman Martin Dies appointed a special sub-committee consisting of Congressmen Jerry Voorhis, Joseph Casey and J. Parnell Thomas to quiz Pelley about various ramifications of his career as Silver Shirts leader.

The sub-committee's job may be a tough one, however, for at the moment no one knows where Pelley can be found.

The Dies committee has been trying for weeks to locate him.

GET FALSE TIPS ON PELLEY

Twice its own investigators have flown to Asheville, N. C., to serve him with a subpoena, only to learn that the tips which said he was there were false. The U. S. marshal there has made a number of attempts to serve a Dies subpoena on him, without success.

Since the committee has but three investigators on its staff, and will go out of existence at the end of the year, Mr. Voorhis and his colleagues have been given a tough job.

In the end, whether Pelley appears before the committee probably will depend on the Department of Justice. Both Dies and Voorhis point out that the committee is not equipped to dig up missing persons, and a formal request for help will be made of the Justice Department.

If Justice puts some G-men on the trail, Pelley may be found. If not, there isn't much the Dies committee can do.

DIES AT ODDS WITH MURPHY

Relations between the Justice Department and the committee have not been exactly cordial, to date.

Last year the committee brought out evidence severely critical of Attorney General Murphy's conduct as governor of Michigan during the auto strikes. More recently, there has been some disagreement about whether membership in the Communist party proved a person is an agent of a foreign power, with Mr. Dies taking the affirmative and Mrs. Murphy the negative.

The present situation may be helped in that the request for aid will be made by Mr. Voorhis, who is on much more friendly terms with the administration than is the chairman of the committee.

In any case, both Dies and Voorhis are very anxious to have Pelley appear for questioning.

WOULD QUIZ LEADER ON SILVER SHIRT FUNDS

The committee has compiled a good deal of material about Pelley.

For one thing, it wants to quiz him about the disposition of funds he collected as head of the Silver Shirts. It also wants to examine him about the source of material published in his magazine, with an eye to determining whether any of it (as the committee suspects) came from official propaganda agencies in Germany.

Lastly, it wants to make a full study of the organization, extent and affiliations of the Silver Shirts.

Both Pelley and the Silver Shirts have been mentioned at various times in testimony before the Dies committee, although so far no definite linking his group to any of the leading Fascist-type organizations in America has been turned up.

Members of the committee say they have enough material and sufficient "leads" from work done thus far, so their questioning of Pelley—when and if he is produced—will not be in the nature of a blind fishing expedition.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

"THE CHOICE BEFORE US"

I have just read, "The Choice Before Us," by E. Stanley Jones, missionary and evangelist. He contends that we have to choose between Fascism, Communism and the Kingdom of God.

He says, "The church seems confused and afraid. Its old reasons for living are not adequate. It will have to be devotional in a wider sense or not at all. If it is to be saved from the charge that religion is opium—then it will have to gear its devotions into larger problems of human welfare and set its sanctuaries in the heart of human problems."

He condemns the church for having too many compartments, touching one subject and not touching social problems.

I think he is right along this line, but the problem is how to present the social problems intelligently. Mr. Jones admits that he is not an economist nor a statesman, but that he is an evangelist and a missionary.

He, of course, contends that Christianity should not coerce people.

Then, at the close of his book, he makes this startling statement: "When there is a sufficient majority, we shall not hesitate to put this Kingdom program through legislative halls into the national life. We reaffirm our belief in Democracy as a method, therefore we would not capture power by a coup d'etat through a small minority and force it on the rest. Neither shall we wait till everybody is individually converted till we put it into operation."

Evidently Evangelist Jones thinks the majority can coerce the minority and still be Christian. The Evangelist contends that we cannot have the Kingdom of Heaven with competition. He says we must have cooperation. He specifies that cooperation must include, "for each according to needs and from each according to ability." But Mr. Jones does not say who will be the judge as to what each man needs and what each man should produce.

The Missionary is so confused on his economics that it is just pitiful to think that an evangelist of a great church should make such misleading statements. For instance, he says that one man's becoming rich makes other men poorer. I would ask Mr. Jones whether Henry Ford did not enrich every man who bought an automobile, whether he did not enrich every man who worked for him, whether he did not increase the total wealth of the land? Would the world have been better off if Henry Ford had not been permitted to accumulate tools and equipment in order to make cheap transportation?

Truly the Evangelist should be more careful about discussing economic problems, when he admits that he is not an economist. Careless statements by men of responsible positions do a great deal of harm. Of course, the columns of this paper are open to Evangelist Jones or any of his supporters to explain how he would put his cooperative idea into practice.

"THEY HAVE GONE TOO FAR"

Most advocates of collective bargaining and/or New Dealers will admit that collective bargaining and labor groups have gone too far.

Now that the thing is carried to an extreme, it is easy to see the injustice of collective bargaining, but the principles of collective bargaining, when put into operation only on a small scale, is just as unethical, just as unjust, just as tyrannical, as the sit-down strike, or the slow-down strike. The whole purpose of collective bargaining is to prevent some American citizen, some human being from having an equal right to make a living. Collective bargaining is bound to lead to the complete collapse of production because it is all based on the theory of scarcity and restriction. It caused Spain, Italy and Germany to adopt a dictator in order to again give men a chance to earn a living.

These people who admit that it has gone too far are the people who cannot see the injustice when it is on a small scale.

When people commence to understand that all collective bargaining contracts are a method of restricting production and lowering the standard of wages of the people as a whole and their living standards, then will they react against the injustice of collective bargaining.

PRESSURE GROUPS DO THEIR STUFF (Kansas City Times)

In the older days the complaint of government for "special interests" was familiar and it ordinarily meant something pretty bad, which might be disguised, however, as something pretty good and necessary. The multiplied instances of tariff enactments of course were "special interest" legislation, favoring the industrial as opposed to the agricultural groups of the country.

The attempt has been made to balance that up in recent farm enactments, but in late years the government attitude toward "special interest" groups has undergone a radical change. This is stressed in an independent study just made by the Brookings institution, which finds that it is only recently that "the government has sought actively to promote the organization of partisan interests and required their participation on one level or another in the legislative and administrative process."

In other words, it would seem that government has ceased to resist pressure groups and to yield only reluctantly to their demands, and now has gone over voluntarily to the actual promotion of their interests. The NRA was an early example of it which did not survive, thanks to the Supreme court. More recently it is noted that there are "three broad partisan groups which have been promoted by government"—labor, the "producer" or employer group, and "the consumer group."

The labor relations act, the bituminous coal act or the "little NRA," the agricultural adjustment act, and others are seen to be among this legislation aimed at the benefit of "special interests." It is found that in this newer trend there is some instances an effort to "identify the public interest with the interest of the group as members of the group desire it."

Naturally any special interest would feel or at least argue that the government favors it desires would be in the "public" interest. But it is the function of government to represent and protect all the people. In the exercise of that function it should be possible to draw the line between "special" and "public" interests. When that is not done we have frankly government by pressure groups and nothing else. And that considerable part of the public which is not comprised within any successful pressure group is certain to be rather hard time of it.

Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 8 — The moviemakers, who are convalescing nicely from their war jitters, have announced that production will go ahead pretty much without curtailment either in volume or quality. (By "quality," they mean "cost.") Anyway, the epics and the super-doopers, together with the usual quota of "good pictures" and "good little pictures," will keep on rolling along.

There are indications that the studios now are worrying almost as much about sources of stories as they are about picture markets. Embarrassing truth is that most of the sure-fire subjects were squandered during the time when an open foreign market and local monopolistic practices such as block booking, made minimum returns predictable and secure. When they could have afforded it, producers didn't experiment with stories.

And now the patterns are wearing out, just at a time when foreign profits are uncertain and the pending Neely bill promises that each picture must be sold individually and on its merits.

30 LIFE STORIES ARE ON WAY

It isn't that all the worthy material in history has been used, or that film biographies have been made of all the interesting personalities. But the best known events and names—the obvious subjects which will attract the rank and file of customers—have been done or are scheduled. Among the titles now registered with the Hays office are about 30 more life stories, and several of them will deal with some pretty obscure individuals.

Already, in a few films such as "Jesse James" and "Gues," the fans have seen facts distorted into almost straight fiction. Pretty soon 20th-Fox will film what now is purported to be the story of Grigam Young, but it will deal exclusively with his leadership of the Mormon migration into Utah and won't say a word about his many wives.

Lately, too, we've been having a cycle of "firsts," with pictures about the invention of the telephone, completion of the first transcontinental railroad, laying of the first ocean cable, the birth of aviation, the first gold rush, Fulton's steamboat, and so on.

JAZZ HISTORY EPIC WAS LUCRATIVE

Biggest money-maker in the inaugural category was "Alexander's Ragtime Band," ushering in the jazz era. The current, two-part biography of Thomas Edison will show the invention of the phonograph and will be climaxed by his electric light. Science has been busy on the screen, especially in the field of serums and antioxins. "The Story of Dr. Ehrlich," now in production, deals with his fight on syphilis. And the first experiment in anesthesia are described in Paranoyn's "Triumph Over Pain."

Institutional pictures such as "Wells Fargo," "Western Union," "Lloyds of London" and "Union Pacific" are box-office naturals only as long as the supply of well-known names holds out. Probably there'll be one on the birth of radio, something on the numerous early attempts to make movies.

But there are not many more "firsts" worthy of Hollywood attention. Invention of the cotton gin is one subject already scheduled, and that doesn't seem very vital. Perhaps there's a chance for comedy, though, in the field of origins. I propose Mae West in an historical epic titled "First Corset."

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

Miss Marian Reichling, music teacher at Horace Mann school, takes the prize (if any) for having traveled the longest distance to teach school in Pampa; that is, if you consider that she came from Bennington, Vermont, which was her home until five years ago. . . . More than fifty years ago a Panhandle pioneer, the late T. D. Hobart, came to the Panhandle, and later brought his bride to live here. This fall, Miss Reichling visited Mrs. Hobart and the two talked Vermont. . . . Miss Reichling will spend Christmas in New York visiting her brother. She likes the Panhandle and the people here. She studied music at the Julliard school in New York, majoring in the flute which she plays in the high school and orchestra. . . . Well, here's a Sunday school record that beats them all. Over at Miami, Charles Casey, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hall Casey of Miami, has attended the First Methodist Sunday school at Miami for 11 years without missing. No matter where the Casseys go on Sunday, Charles goes to Sunday school, and sometimes he has carried his fishing pole with him. He started his attendance in the Cradle roll, and if you will count up you will find that he has attended Sunday school 574 times! . . . The Rev. Hubert Bratcher, pastor of Harrah-McCullough churches here, recently received member into the church, Mrs. M. E. Brown by a letter that was issued Aug. 30, 1899, at Union Hill church, near Coffee, Miss. . . .

The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein

The little organism, known as an itch-mite, which is so disturbing to so many people, is frequently overlooked for days before its presence is correctly diagnosed and proper methods of treatment are applied.

One of the reasons is that the itch-mite is so small it is hard to see without a magnifying glass. Since it usually is found first between the fingers in the web, this is the place where the magnifying glass should be first applied.

The condition usually spreads from one person to another by direct contact, but may also pass from one person to another through clothing, bedclothes or other materials. The chief sign of the itch-mite's presence is irritation. This is intensified when the person infested becomes warm. After the itch-mite has penetrated the body, a fine rash will appear, usually between the fingers, but sometimes spreading over other portions of the body. Usually the victim has scratched so seriously that the skin has been damaged and there is secondary infection.

In children, pus infections occur. A child in school with this condition should be sent home for treatment and not be permitted back in school until the infestation is removed.

In Canada, a routine has been adopted which involves treatment with a remedy containing benzyl benzoate. After having had a thorough warm bath, involving thorough rubbing with soft soap, the affected portions of the body are painted with this solution which seems to destroy the itch-mite.

Of course, the patient can become promptly infested again from his own clothing or bedclothing unless clean clothes are put on and underclothing and soiled linen are boiled and hung in the sun to dry. Since the drugs involved in the treatment of the itch are potent remedies capable of harm as well as good, they are to be used only under a doctor's direction.

The methods of treatment most frequently used heretofore have involved preparations of sulfur. There are many different ways in which sulfur is employed, varying from the use of sulfur powder and pastes to ointments, lotions and paints which are applied to the body.

New Amendments To Social Security Act Explained

(Editor's Note: The following is one of a series of eight articles prepared by Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Board, located at 324 New P. O. Bldg., Amarillo, Texas. These articles will explain the new amendments to the Social Security Act and it is believed the information contained in this series will be read with interest since it is educational and explanatory of the provisions of the old-age and survivors insurance program.)

According to the new formula, referred to in the preceding article of this series, monthly benefits for old-age insurance are figured as follows: On the first $50 of a man's average monthly wage, he gets 40 per cent.

On the next $200 of his average wage, he gets 10 per cent. This basic amount is increased by one per cent for each year in which the wage earner made at least $200 in covered employment.

Thus, while the new plan maintains a close relationship between rate of earnings and rate of benefits, it also works out to the advantage of those who have been in the system a long time before their benefits are due.

Another change which increases protection for both elder and younger workers is the provision of supplementary benefits for aged wives and dependent children and of monthly benefits for survivors. These additions represent a tremendously significant step in the direction of greater social security. The family is the basic unit of our society, and adequate security for the wage earner must include the security of those dependent upon him. This is recognized in the amendments. They provide additional monthly benefits for an annuitant's wife if and when she is 65, and for his minor children. When an insured worker dies, survivors' benefits are provided for his widow, if she is 65 or has minor children in her care, and for such children themselves; or for the worker's parents, if they are aged and dependent, and if there is no widow or child.

Texas Still Has 2,476 Little Red School Houses

AUSTIN, Dec. 5 (AP)—Texas, despite its program for streamlining the public school system, has 2,476 little red school houses.

These are one-teacher schools located in all but 38 of the state's 254 counties, the department of education reports.

Statistics concerning the small school units were compiled by Myrtle L. Tanner, director of the division of information, who recommends that Texas not hide under the out-dated statistics and "refuse to see the first pale morning light which tells of a brighter, more splendid day coming."

From reports of county superintendents the director learned there are NO independent districts with such schools for white pupils except districts in Bexar county which include two county training schools. She adds there might be a few independent districts made up of several smaller districts maintaining these units to avoid the transportation of smaller children. These, however, are under the direction of the district superintendent and are maintaining high standards of work, the director explained.

There are 1,579 one-teacher schools for white children with an

It must be a neck or a unsatisfactory place to go for a boat ride over there, never knowing when you start out just how long to have your mail sent, on account of not knowing who's going to pick you up after you're sunk. And that's one thing where living in a peaceful country like our'n has got it all over them Europeans, our sea travel is safer. Yes sir, we got the best system of shipping in the world. It is fer preventing the loss of lives and property at sea, and they ain't really no way of telling just how many lives has been saved and how many thousands of tons of cargo has been kept from going to the bottom under our system. Facts of the matter is, it's actually been perfected to the point now where you not only can't get sunk, but you can't even get sick on one of our boats, and they're figuring to take all the railroads off'n em, on account of nobody not needing nothing to leap over no more. And that's why, ever since we installed our C.I.O. shipping system, you kin get on any of our boats and feel perfectly safe that you ain't going to get lost at sea, on account of the dang thing never getting away from the dock. And not only that, if you don't want to go on the voyage yourself, but just want to ship some perishable goods, you don't never have to worry none about the goods not perishing in good shape, on account of that's part of the system, and I ain't sure but what you kin get a guarantee to that effect, but if they's any doubt in your mind you kin always go down to the docks and watch em perish yourself. And the only thing you gotta remember is to not disturb any of the peaceful pickets on account of that's interfering with the Federal Government.

enrollment of 26,561 and an average daily attendance of 22,864. Negro one-teacher units in common school districts total 897 with enrollment of 26,851 and average daily attendance of 20,942.

Against a "misconception in regard to the length of the term in one-teacher schools," the director offers these figures: Only 313 white schools had terms of less than eight months last year while more than that number operated nine months. There were 373 negro units which operated less than seven months and at the same time more were active for eight or nine months.

Among counties which report NO one-teacher schools for white pupils are Andrews, Armstrong, Bailey, Baylor, Brewster, Brown, Coke, Cottle, Crane, Crockett, Ector, Edwards, El Paso, Glasscock, Hockley, Irion, Jeff Davis, Jim Wells, Lamb, Loving, Marion, Maverick, Nolan, Orange, Palmer, Pecos, Reagan, San Angelo, Sterling, Upson, Ward, Winkler, Cherokee, Gregg, Harris, Lubbock, Montgomery and Upshur.

Another Hutchinson Wildcat To Be Drilled

Firms Stake 12 Locations, Six In Gray

The north central part of Hutchinson county will be the scene of another wildcat drilling operation with announcement last week by J. R. Phillips that he had staked a location in section 101, block 5-T, T&NO survey, on the W. W. McClay ranch.

The new wildcat is about two miles northwest of the town of Prince and about five miles north of the E. J. Durigan Trust No. 1 Park which had an excellent showing of oil until shot. Then water rose in the hole and the well may have to be abandoned. The Duniagan well was drilled to a total depth of 3,800 feet.

The Phillips wildcat was one of 12 new locations staked during the week. Gray county led the activity with six locations followed by Hutchinson with four and one each in Moore and Wheeler counties.

Nine oil wells and one gas well were tested and given potentials by local railroad commission employees. New oil for the week totaled 2,827 barrels with the gas well good for 16,004,000 cubic feet. Five Gray county wells gauged 1,478 barrels with four Hutchinson wells good for 1,349 barrels.

An increase of nearly 20,000 barrels in the daily allowable was announced late in the week giving the field a net production of 80,000 barrels. The field will be shut down 12 days during the month.

Completions by counties follow:

In Gray County
S. C. Evans No. 6 B&N, section 84, block 3, I&GN survey, gauged 463 barrels with lime formation between 3,212 and 3,288 feet in line.
King Oil Co. No. B-5 Baer, section 125, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 343 barrels. Pay was from 3,215 to 3,288 feet in line.
Magnolia Petroleum Co., No. 5 Archer, section 174, block 3, I&GN survey, gauged 90 barrels with pay in line between 3,272 and 3,280 feet.
Skelly Oil Co., No. 101 Schaefer ranch, section 172, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 20 barrels with pay between 2,980 and 3,071 feet.
Cree & Hoover No. 6 Hiale, section 16, block L, E&R survey, was given a potential of 824 barrels. Lime pay was from 2,980 to 3,055 feet.
Bob Murphy No. 7 Whittenburg, section 59, block 46, H&TC survey,

Temporary Holiday Employees Must Produce Social Security Cards

Persons who expect to work temporarily in stores, shops and other business establishments during the holiday season were urged by Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Board, to assure themselves that they can produce their social security account numbers before making application for employment.

"Those who have not already done so should equip themselves with an account number because many employers now require account numbers to be recorded before the worker may start on the job," Reed said. "Duplicate cards should be requested by workers whose originally-issued cards have been lost or destroyed."

Employment in seasonal businesses such as turkey picking, pecan shelling, and part-time work usually is covered by the law. It was pointed out that the fact that workers are employed on a temporary basis does not exclude them from participation in the old-age and survivors' insurance program. Generally, any employment in the fields of commerce and industry is covered. Wages received for such work are counted toward old-age and survivors' insurance.

"Employers should request all employees to obtain account numbers promptly, and make a record of them since each employer is required to report each three months the name of each worker, his number and amount of wages paid him."

Application forms, available in Amarillo at the Social Security Board office, and elsewhere in this area at post offices, should be filled out and returned to the Social Security Board, 324 New Post Office building, Amarillo, Texas. To those who apply at our office personally, we are able to issue an account number in just a few minutes. Account cards are forwarded for applications received by mail on the same day they are received, provided they are properly executed."

It was explained that persons who already had established social security accounts should not apply for another. Reed emphasized that a worker keep his one social security account number, reporting it to each of his employers, throughout his working lifetime, regardless of the number of firms by whom he may be employed.

RANGING AROUND TEXAS

WITH JACK KRUEGER (Associated Press Staff)

Now that Texas Aggies everywhere you look are doing nip-us and handspins over their all-conquering, bowl-bound football team, this may be a good spot to slip in a word or so about another College Station hero who is doing all right by himself.

It's Jimmie Aston we speak of, a young fellow who came through his first big test a few days ago in his new job of city-managing Dallas. Perhaps you noticed that terse news item a while back saying Dallas had settled its $145,000 back-pay-ment-unionization squabble with its firemen. It was a long drawn-out scrap, the upshot being that the firemen threw their union overboard and decided to forget about the backpay. Their defeat was sweetened, however, with a wage increase and other things.

Jimmie Aston manned the guns for the city in the fight.

Jimmie came out of Farmersville, Tex. (pop. 1,876) a decade ago to make A. & M. a fine fullback. He captained the Aggies in 1932 and explained into the depression-chilled world to make a living. He knew what he wanted.

He prowled around Dallas seeking work with the city. Nothing doing. He offered to work for nothing except the experience. He did just that for a while and then he snapped up a day laborer's job at $50 a month. Far from becalmed in this spot, Young Jimmie picked up pointers on how to run a town and sailed right into a $5,000-a-year job as city manager for Bryan, Texas.

Hutchinson County School Makes Magnificent Christmas Display

Special To The NEWS

SPRING CREEK, Dec. 9—A dazzling Christmas decoration set has been erected in front of the Spring Creek school, which is located in Hutchinson county, six miles east of Berger and three miles north of the Phillips Texroy gasolin's plant.

The decorations are built above the plasters on the front of the building and extend 25 feet into the air and are 35 feet long.

Built in three panels the decorations portray the three wise men approaching Bethlehem. Over the city is a guiding star, extending 16 feet above it. The scene is illuminated at night by colored lights of 2,400 watts and is visible for a long distance from the school.

Cedar wreaths lighted with flood lights are the trimmings on each side. The wreaths are each four feet in diameter and are placed on both wings of the building above the scene.

The seventh grade handicraft class constructed and erected the decorations. It required two days to make the figures, that are cut from veneer and painted, and two days in addition to place them on the side of the building. The scene was completed on Thursday and will remain in place until after January 1.

Parents in Connecticut.

This is the first year for such a decorative set to be placed on the building and the display is in connection with the school pageant, "On Christmas Night," to be presented on the night of December 20. Composed by Miss Marie Stedje and Mrs. Annie Lou R. Deering, music teacher in the school, the pageant is a presentation of the Christmas story in song and scripture. There are 30 children in the cast, of which 60 compose a chorus dressed in white choral robes, seated about a pipe organ.

The Christmas scene will be portrayed in front of the choral Scripture by the group. The presentation will last two hours.

J. W. Dillard, formerly of Alameda, is principal of the Spring Creek school, and teacher of the handicraft class, composed of 20 students both boys and girls, that made and erected the decorations. The entire faculty of the school contributed to the Christmas arrangement.

Hits Financial Comeback Trail

Back in the financial spotlight is Cyrus Eaton, above, Canadian-born Cleveland financier, who is offering to buy "all or any part" of Consumers Power of Michigan from Commonwealth and Southern. Once leader in "regional financing" plans in which he tangled with New York interests in the formation of Republic Steel, in the floating of the Continental Shares investment trust, and in various jousts with the Insull utility interests, Eaton had been comparatively inactive recently.

The city commission has ordered the Port Arthur fire department "under no circumstances" to answer alarms beyond city limits. The action resulted from a consensus of lawyers at the last convention of the Texas League of Municipalities that cities are liable for damage done by fire trucks en route to out-of-town fires.

The school board is composed of B. V. Walsh president, and E. S. Gaston.

Hoover Seeks Contributions For Finland

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9 (AP)—Herbert Hoover, former president of the United States, and chairman of the commission of relief in Belgium during the World War, issued the following statement tonight:

"America has a duty to do its part in the relief of the hideous suffering of the Finnish people. Our people should have an outlet in which to express their individual and practical sympathy. I have consented to organize a nationwide Finnish relief fund for this purpose."

"I appeal to the American people for its support."

Panhandle Production Hike Raises Percentage Factor

Percentage of proratable oil allowed to be produced under a new proration order released here yesterday, effective as of last Monday, nearly doubled that of the previous order which was in effect only one day. New percentage factor is 4.069 percent compared with 2.6833 the previous order.

Increased factor was due to a large hike in allowable authorized by the Texas Railroad commission earlier in the week. Present allowable is 130,527 barrels compared with 111,734 barrels in the previous order.

The new order gives the Panhandle field, not including Moore county and the Osborne pool in Wheeler county, a net production of 80,000 barrels daily or an amount to meet demand of local refineries. The field will be shut down seven more days after today.

The Panhandle field now has 4,239 wells with a potential of 1,265,806 barrels. Gray county leads the way with 1,991 wells capable of producing 531,637 barrels daily.

The new summary issued from the local office of the Texas Railroad commission, of which Jack Dunn is deputy supervisor, follows:

Fambrough looked in the barn and, sure enough, there was a fine bouncing baby bull, bawling and kicking its heels in the air. To Fambrough's incredulous look, the grinning negro replied:

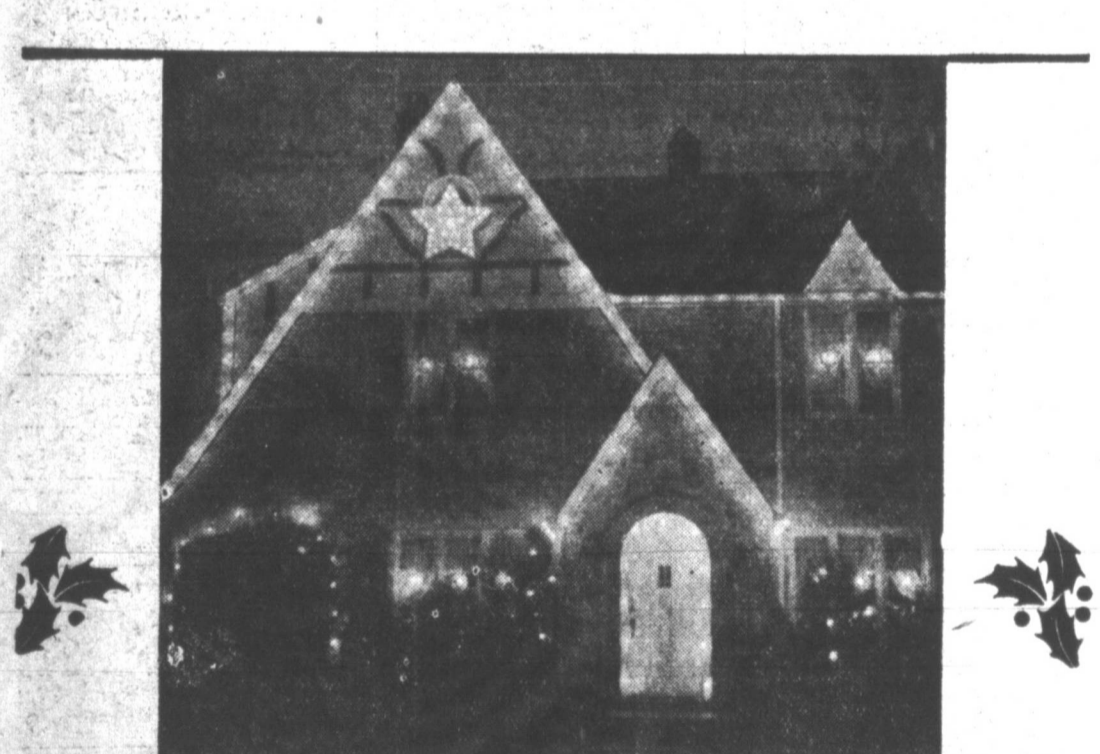

"Them was twins!"

SERIAL STORY 5 WOULD KILL BY TOM HORNER

Yesterday Dawson decides that someone who knows Benthorne's superstitions "planned" the cat for him to see. He also recalls the "three on a match" episode before di Torio's death.

CHAPTER XXII THE room was practically unchanged since Dawson's last visit. Someone had made the bed, and the spread was tightly and neatly drawn.

He walked to the bed, lifted the mattress, then turned it completely over and on to the floor. If there had been a gun hidden there, it was certainly gone now.

A slight noise startled him. He rushed to the door. It had sounded as if Alston's door had been opened. There was no one in the hall.

"It would take a bomb to wake him up now," Dawson said, half aloud. Deciding not to disturb Alston, the detective closed the door again, called Krone from the head of the stairway.

"Keep an eye on this hall, and the one below, too, if you can, Krone," Dawson ordered. "Who is downstairs?"

"The coroner's deputy just arrived and the coroner is with him. I left them with di Torio. Mrs. Benthorne was in the living room."

Dawson nodded and returned to the bedroom. Krone took his post at the stairs, so that he could see both the upper and lower halls.

In a few moments he saw Helen Benthorne walk through the archway from the living room. Krone leaned out to watch her as she walked along the hall to the study. Then he heard the dining room door close and her footsteps died away.

HELEN BENTHORNE watched the coroner and his assistant at work over di Torio's body. When they took a few preliminary pictures she took care to be well out of camera range, but when they started to lift the raincoats Dawson had ordered spread over the body, she could stand it no longer.

"Do you mind if I leave now?" she asked. The coroner looked up. "No reason for your staying. If Captain Dawson had wanted you kept here, he'd have said so."

She knew Krone was watching her as she passed through the hall. She paused at the study door, to see Ara and John talking earnestly. It's lucky for them to have love, she thought, and inwardly she voiced a prayer that this whole affair might turn out well for them.

The breakfast dishes were still on the dining room table. She'd have to speak to Jameson. Then she recalled that Dawson had ordered the butler and the entire staff of servants placed under guard in Jameson's quarters after the second shooting. That officer—the Irishman was probably there too.

She stopped at the refrigerator, found a pint of milk and went on to the rear entry. There was a coat hanging in a closet near the door and she slipped into it, hiding the bottle of milk in a deep pocket.

Outside, she hesitated, glanced around to see if any patrolmen were near. The sun was trying to break through massed clouds, but last night's rain left it still wet underfoot. She went on across the driveway, disappeared into the garage.

DAN FLYNN saw her coming, and crouched lower in the rear seat of Benthorne's limousine. If she intended trying to get away in a car, he reasoned, she probably would take the small roadster. It was likely her own car.

But she evidently had no such intention. She passed the car, went on to the rear of the garage, toward the stairway that led to the loft. As she reached the door, Flynn stepped out of the limousine, called to her.

"And where are you going, Mrs. Benthorne?" She swung around, surprised. "I was just going upstairs for some luggage that's stored up here," she explained. "I couldn't find any of the servants and I wanted—"

"There's no luggage or anything else up there and you know it."

Mrs. Benthorne, Flynn answered. "The Captain will want to see you. Come along with me." He took her arm, led her back to his house.

"I FOUND her going up to the garage loft, just as you thought she would, Captain, with this bottle of milk in her pocket," Flynn announced as they entered the bedroom.

Helen Benthorne stared about her. While Dawson had been somewhat careful, however thorough, in his first search of her room he had spared nothing in his second. He had made no attempt to replace the mattress on the bed, her closet door stood open and the cushions of her chairs had been pulled out, pounded and awkwardly replaced. When they entered, Dawson had been carefully tapping the walls.

"What were you doing in the garage, and why were you going up to the loft?" Dawson asked.

"I've told the officer what I wanted. There's some luggage stored there. I can't stay here after—after last night. I couldn't find the servants."

"And why would you carry a bottle of milk?"

Helen Benthorne did not answer. She groped for a chair, sank into it.

"Go get the cat, Flynn!"

AT the mention of the word, Mrs. Benthorne looked up, startled. "Cat?" she queried. "What cat?"

"We'll see, soon." She fidgeted in her chair as they waited. Dawson went on with his tapping.

"There may be a cat around here, but it probably belongs to one of the servants," she said. "I can't see what—"

"It's nothing to worry about, Mrs. Benthorne," Dawson assured her. "Just a little experiment of mine to determine the ownership of a certain cat. If you know nothing about it, you need have no fears. Hub, sounds like Flynn's having trouble."

Flynn appeared at the doorway. In his arms he struggled to hold a spitting, biting, scratching cat. Long scratches on his hands showed that the cat had not been captured without something of a battle.

"All right, Flynn, you can let go now." The officer complied, gladly.

The huge black cat ran lightly across the room to Helen Benthorne, paused for a second at her feet, then leaped to the arm of her chair, to fawn against its mistress and glare back at Flynn.

Rumania In Most Unhappy Circumstance

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
With Russia taking out from its invasion of Finland to rain its field glasses on Rumania, King Carol's kingdom finds itself in the most unhappy position of any of the small countries which fear aggression against them may result from the European upheaval.

Rumania is so isolated from its sworn guardians, England and France, that in event of invasion it likely would become another Poland.

This largest of the Balkan states has the misfortune to be a prize from which not one nation, but several, would like to cut a fat slice. Naturally its big worries are Russia and Germany, lying as it does virtually under the heavy guns of these two powers. But there are other dangers.

The fears of this potential victim of the storm frame up in this disconcerting fashion:—Russia wants back Bessarabia (at least) which Rumania got at the end of the World War; Germany would give much to get a Carol's rich store of oil, other minerals and grain; Hungary has never ceased to demand the return of Transylvania, which she lost in the last war; and on Rumania's south, Bulgaria is after the rolling wheat-fields of Dobruja, which were taken from her.

When Rumania finally signed up to join the Allies in 1916, she lasted 100 days against Germany and Austria, and signed a humiliating treaty. However, the allied victory reversed her fortunes. She more than doubled her pre-war area, to become the largest country in South East Europe—bigger than the British Isles—and her population rose to over 17,000,000.

Since then Rumania has been steadily on her way to become a great and important nation.

King Carol has his army mobilized and declares he will fight to preserve his country's sovereignty. None doubts that this forceful monarch-dictator means that, still, the cards seem stacked against him and it is doubtful if he could hold out long especially should more than one opponent go for him at once. It is interesting, but not conclusive, that the Fascist grand council, meeting in Rome, has warned Russia by implication to stay out of the Balkans.

MANNA FROM NEIGHBORS
BONAN, Mont. (AP)—The home of Dave Anderson and his family was completely destroyed by fire. Pablo residents got together and gave them a "miscellaneous" shower of household equipment.

Then they announced they would take a public subscription to build the family a new home. People who couldn't give cash offered their services.

Man Shot When Pig Kicks Rifle Trigger

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (AP)—Be careful of pigs with trigger fingers. Harold Ruetush of Scotia, Ill., had one, the National Safety Council reported today in listing the odd accidents of 1939.

Ruetush leaned his .22 caliber rifle against the barn. The pig knocked it down and then stepped on the trigger. The bullet hit Ruetush in the shoulder.

Joseph Schubert, a Wichita, Kans. high school pupil, needed neither a gun nor a pig to get wounded. A cartridge he carried in his hip pocket exploded when he leaned against a hot radiator and shot him in the back.

Joseph Fynder mislaid his toothbrush but an X-ray machine found it. Joseph had swallowed it.

In Memphis, Tenn., a bird ignited a match in its nest on a church steeple. The flames melted icicles on the steeple and the water extinguished the fire.

Wheeler Representative At Area Band Clinic

Special To The NEWS
WHEELER, Dec. 9—Wayne Davis, band instructor in Wheeler High school, and six of his band students attended the two-day band clinic held in Shamrock yesterday and today.

In all there were 212 students registered at the band clinic, representing bands of Canadian, Higgins, LePois, Miami, McLean, Wellington, Childress, Shamrock, Wheeler, and Erick, Okla., schools.

A special band concert was held at Shamrock Saturday night. Students attending from Wheeler were Niles Patterson, Billy Wiley, Melba Wiley, F. B. Craig, Harry Garrison, and W. E. Pennington.

Marv Owen Sold To The Boston Red Sox

CINCINNATI, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox sold infielder Marv Owen to the Boston Red Sox today for an undisclosed amount of cash.

Owen was a regular with the Sox in 1938, but fell into a slump last season and spent considerable time on the bench. In the 54 games in which he played he hit .237.

Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox said he expected to use Owen for utility purposes.

Peaceful harbor of Helsinki, Finnish capital, toward which Russian Baltic Fleet raced, became a chaos of racing flames as buildings and shattered boats were hit by Soviet bombs.

Suit Attacks Galveston's Bakery Law

HOUSTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—A suit to void a Galveston bakery ordinance, on grounds it is contrary to the federal constitution, went on trial here today.

The ordinance requires a $12.50 inspection fee of all bakery establishments serving the city, and an additional charge against bakeries outside the city.

Outside bakeries are assessed an annual fee of $10 per mile, based on the total mileage from Galveston limits to the bakery and return, to cover expenses of Galveston inspectors.

The plaintiff, the National Biscuit company of Houston, consumed the morning with testimony to support its claims, and at the noon recess Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly was discussing with attorneys for each side the possibility of submitting the case on briefs or oral argument.

Plaintiff's witnesses introduced were Paul E. Lowman of Houston, production superintendent of the bread division of the National Biscuit company; Charles F. Heider, a food and sanitation inspector for "The City of Houston;" Dr. Henry O. Nicholas, assistant professor of chemistry at Rice Institute; Dr. Asa

C. Chandler, Rice Institute biology professor, and John C. Koetting, manager of the Fehr Baking company, Houston.

Generally, they testified that the city of Houston's bakery inspection requirements were rigid enough to insure safeguarding of the public health; that the National Biscuit company plant was clean and fulfilled sanitary requirements; and that bread baked under ordinary conditions is one of the least carriers of disease-spreading germs.

The company's attorneys alleged the Galveston ordinance was discriminatory and fulfillment of it meant an unreasonable exercise of police powers by the city, and that enactment of it was the result of an over act and conspiracy on the part of the city of Galveston "to exclude outside bakeries under the guise of administering its police powers."

The defense maintained it had the right to safeguard the health of Galveston citizens, and that the ordinance was not extra-territorial because it affected consumption of bread by Galveston residents only.

Mrs. R. S. Coon, wife of "Uncle Dick" Coon, head of the famous Panhandle ranch of Coon & Culbertson, is building a church for the Christian Science society of Dalhart. She also will install a pipe organ in the $11,000 structure.
