VACUUM CUT IN CRUDE OIL IS ANNOUNCED

Lockport field in Louisiana hit by Order; Grade Basis Removed and Gravities Taken in Calculations.

MEETING CALLED

Three-Month Import Limitation Expiring; Companies Consider Opening Gate to This Source.

HOUSTON, June 5. (AP)—A second reduction in posted prices for crude oil in the Lockport field of coastal Louisiana was announced today by the Vacuum Oil company, sole purchasers in the field.

Oil of below 25 gravity was posted at 44 cents, a reduction of some 16 cents, in that below 24 gravity formerly was carried as "grade A" at 60 cents.

"Grade A" and "grade B" in the new schedule were discontinued, and prices were posted only on a gravity basis. Crude of 25 to 25.9 was posted at 45 cents, with an added one cent differential for each degree of gravity up to and including 35 and above, the latter reaching a top of 55 cents.

Was on Grade Basis Vacuum on May 27 posted Lockport at 24 gravity and below as "grade A" at 60 cents. All gravities above 24 were lumped, at that time, as "grade B" at 55 cents, a reduction of 10 cents on "grade A" and five cents on "grade B."

The field's production is about 7,000 barrels daily.

NEW YORK, June 5. (AP)—Leaders in the oil industry reported today that whether the curtailed flow of foreign oil into this country is continued after June 30 depends on what happens in the east Texas field.

The three-month agreement to restrict imports, made by four large oil companies in response to a request from the Hoover administration, expires June 30. These were Standard Oil company of Indiana through its subsidiary Pan-American Petroleum, Standard Oil company of New Jersey, Gulf Oil of Pennsylvania, and Shell Petroleum of England.

With production continuing virtually unchecked in the east Texas field, oil men expressed the opinion the importing companies might decline to extend the voluntary curb after June 30. They said the imported oil would be the only supply available to compete with the low priced, high quality crude from the east Texas field in Atlantic coast markets.

"Without Precedent" The situation in east Texas, which is without a posted price schedule, is said by oil men to be without precedent. The withdrawal of prices from the new flush area by major companies was variously interpreted. Some thought it indicated inability to control east Texas' mounting output. Others regarded it as a step to prevent independent producers from selling under the market.

Much uncertainty exists in the industry over the outcome of the east Texas situation. R. R. Penn, vice-president of the American Petroleum Institute, has suggested that a corporation be formed for the unit development and operation of the field as a means of bringing production under control.

DALLAS, June 5. (AP)—A statewide meeting to discuss problems of the oil industry will be held here Monday, pursuant to a call issued yesterday by a group of Texas independent operators. The meeting was decided on at the session of production of the American Petroleum Institute concluded its sessions here.

Directors of the A. P. I. were to meet in Fort Worth today. Form Committee The Texas independents formed an "emergency oil committee," and addressed a statement to the public in general setting forth a list of principles.

The meeting was held at the request of E. L. Smith of Mexico, E. A. Landreth of Fort Worth, H. L. Hunt of Tyler and J. D. Collett of Fort Worth. Policies recommended for adoption were as follows:

Stabilization of the oil industry and conservation of petroleum resources.

- Pair treatment for all oil producers and royalty owners.
- Pair, equitable, and fearless enforcement of all conservation laws.
- Preservation of the Texas oil industry for the benefit of taxable values, the common school fund and the University of Texas.
- Maintenance of employment for labor and stabilization of business in general through better conditions in the oil industry.
- Enactment of adequate conservation laws that will insure the accomplishment of all these purposes.

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, June 5. (AP)—Tommy Armour, American open champion in 1927, today won the British open golf championship after Jose Jurado, the Argentine star, tossed away a great chance for victory on the last nine. Armour's score was 296 for 72 holes.

Bankers Found Guilty VIOLATION OF BANKING LAW WAS CHARGED

W. L. Smallwood and C. C. Johnson of Defunct Texas National at Fort Worth Will Hear Sentences.

JUDGE IS SEVERE Says Law Does Not Excuse Man for 'Chloroforming' Self and Overlooking Misuse of Public Funds.

FORT WORTH, June 5. (AP)—W. L. Smallwood, chairman of the board of the defunct Texas National bank, and C. C. Johnson, vice-president, were found guilty in a federal court at 9:05 o'clock this morning on charges of violating the national banking laws.

The jury for the two officials of the bank, which failed Jan. 31, 1930, with a shortage of $1,283,000, guilty on seven counts. They were tried on charges of misapplication of funds, making false entries in the bank's books, and falsification of reports to the comptroller of the currency on the condition of the bank.

Will Appeal Federal Judge William Sheppard will pass sentence upon Smallwood and Johnson Monday, after which the defense will give notice of appeal. Henry Zweifel of defense counsel said.

The case was given to the jury yesterday afternoon. Judge Sheppard, ruling on a plea of former jeopardy for A. L. Baker, co-defendant, who appeared as a witness for the government, decided a plea of guilty in February to similar charges had precluded further prosecution of that defendant. He instructed the jury it was not to consider evidence against Baker.

Prisoner Returned Baker was returned for trial from Leavenworth penitentiary, where he is serving a 10-year sentence imposed by Federal Judge James C. Wilson.

"The law," Judge Sheppard said, in his charge to the jury, "excused no man for 'chloroforming' himself, putting himself in a position where he does not, or does not want to know what is going on."

He instructed, however, that intent to breakdown or injure others must be found before returning a verdict of guilty. He defined misapplication as the diversion from its legitimate use of the money placed in the bank by depositors for safe-keeping.

"I feel a little better," she told friends, "and will leave for my Nevada ranch at the end of next week with my nurse for an indefinite rest." The ranch is near Las Vegas.

Insertion Of Word Remains Mystery AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—The word "telephone" in a bill originally drafted to give incorporated cities of a population of 500 or more authority to regulate water, gas, sewerage and light company rates was written into the bill before it passed the house, according to Mrs. Elsie Rupert, senate enrolling clerk.

The record showed no amendment adding "telephone" companies was adopted on the floor of the house but Mrs. Rupert said it was written in the original bill as passed by the house and that no changes were made in the senate.

No explanation of how the word crept into the bill was available. Employees copying the bills are forbidden from inserting any words unless specified by a regularly adopted amendment.

BOOSTERISM VS. WORK

Boosterism can go too far and often does. It goes too far when it degenerates into the vapid pastime of attempting to exploit what is instead of working for what should be.

The editor of the Emporia, Kans., Gazette takes a healthy swat at booster Babbity, as follows:

"Herein lie the evils of Babbity. Its fatal elixir will lead an ordinarily hard-headed, sensible business man to chant the praises of a ram-shackle, unpainted, rodent-run, futureless hamlet like Dodge City, a tank-town whistling post on a branch line to nowhere—when he should be using the same space in the paper to tell the citizens how, but just a little more application and broader civic vision, they could develop their wretched hamlet into a live-wire, progressive, and rapidly growing center of business and intellectual activity like Emporia."

It takes faith and energy to build a live city. There are ups and downs in the history of every city, but the hardest and the most progressive citizens go forward and the stragglers drop by the wayside. In business life, as in other things, the fittest survive and carry on. It is a history of civic growth repeating itself when any city forges ahead dizzily, slacks up, starts to work in earnest, and then goes ahead better than before because of better planning.

The NEWS has faith in Pampa and in its citizenship and it looks forward to the pleasure of recording many great civic achievements.

Markets

COTTON IS SLOW

NEW ORLEANS, June 5. (AP)—Cotton here opened somewhat easier today as Liverpool cables did not fully respond to the advance of the American market yesterday and first trades showed losses of 8 to 9 points. Prices continued to ease off after the start owing to favorable weather in the belt and better crop reports, July dropping to 8.65, October to 8.99 and December to 9.21, or 12 to 14 points under the previous close. This early decline encouraged shorts covering and the market at the first hour had rallied 5 to 8 points from the lows.

GRAINS STRONGER

CHICAGO, June 5. (AP)—Canadian reports of sprouted wheat dying from drought led to higher grain prices today after an irregular start ascribed to stock market unsettlement. No adequate moisture relief was reported either north or south of the Canadian boundary. Opening at 1-4 cent decline to 1-8 advance, wheat later rose all around. Corn started unchanged to 3-8 lower and subsequently rallied.

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer
The housewife who can serve an interesting, out-of-the-ordinary dessert to her family will seldom hear of those "pies that mother used to bake."

However, during hot weather few women want to spend hours concocting elaborate desserts, which after all may be too rich for summer temperatures.

The ideal summer dessert is easy and quick to make, easily digested and nourishing. Very often the actual nourishment is found in the dessert at the end of the meal instead of in the main course. This is particularly true when a vegetable dinner is planned with the dessert rich in eggs and milk.

The dessert that can be prepared in the morning and tucked into the ice box until wanted is always popular with the cook and its chilled, appetizing smoothness makes it popular with the family as well. The following recipes offer a tempting variety.

Raspberry Tapioca.
Any kind of berry or small fruit can be used in place of raspberries. One-half cup pear tapioca, 3 cups milk, 3-4 cup granulated sugar, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup whipping cream, 1 quart red raspberries.

Soak tapioca two hours or overnight in 1 cup cold water. The water should be absorbed. Add salt and sugar to milk in top of double boiler. Add tapioca and cook over hot water until clear. Chill thoroughly and fold in cream whipped until firm. Serve with washed and drained berries.

Fruit Ambrosia.
One cup finely diced fruit, 1-4 cup sugar, 1-4 pound marshmallows, 1 cup whipping cream, 4 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1-4 teaspoon vanilla, few grains salt.

Soak marshmallows in quarters. Sprinkle with 1-4 cup granulated sugar and combine with marshmallows. Chill thoroughly for several hours. When ready to serve fold in cream whipped until firm with salt, powdered sugar and vanilla. Serve in sherbet glasses. The cream should be very cold so that the whole dessert will be well chilled.

Chocolate Custard.
Two squares bitter chocolate, 3 cups milk, 3-4 cup sugar, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons flour, 3 eggs, 6 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Heat milk in top of double-boiler. Add chocolate cut in small pieces and heat until melted. Add a dower beater until chocolate is melted and thoroughly incorporated in milk. Mix and sift flour, salt and sugar and add to yolks of eggs. Beat well and slowly add to hot milk, stirring constantly. Cook over hot water until custard coats the spoon. Remove from heat and add 1-2 teaspoon vanilla. Turn into a buttered baking dish and cover with a meringue made with the whites of

Lindbergh Trip to Be Hazardous

NEW YORK, June 5. (AP)—Some time after June 22, the first birthday of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., his mother will leave him at Englewood, N. J., with his grandparents, Senator and Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, and fly over the Pacific ocean for a vacation.

Preparations for the flight are being rushed. At the North Beach airport, Queens, mechanics are fitting the colonel's Lockheed plane with pontoons for use in the journey.

While details are unsettled, the Pacific flight probably will be made from the Alaskan coast over the Aleutian islands, across the 800-mile stretch of ocean and over the tip of Kamatchka, along the Kurile islands to Japan.

This is the same route the army-round-the-world fliers took. Another possibility is a more northern route, which would only necessitate flying over a 36-mile stretch of water at Bering Strait.

Mrs. Lindbergh, the former Ann Morrow, would be at the controls with her husband, relieving him of the full strain of such a flight. The plane they will use is the same one she helped pilot in the 14-hour flight from California to New York last year.

The colonel will have different problems compared to his Paris flight four years ago. For that he had a tail wind and other excellent conditions. On the Pacific he may expect wind, fog, and storms. Fly-eggs beaten until stiff with powdered sugar and remaining vanilla. Put in a moderate oven for eight minutes to puff and brown the meringue. Chill and serve.

ing to Paris he needed no exact determination of his position. Possibly the Lindberghs will greet another flier while over the Pacific. Seiji Yoshihara, known in his own land as "The Japanese Lindbergh," plans to fly to the United States along the same route the colonel may take.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 5. (AP)—The projected flight over the north Pacific of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh was described today by two fliers who helped blaze the aerial trail over that route, as a "sound undertaking."

The fliers, Erik Nelson and Jack Harding of Seattle, Wash., members of the 1924 army round-the-world expedition, said rapid mechanical progress in aviation in the past seven years had greatly reduced flying hazards. They added that uncertain weather rather than any technical failure would constitute the chief risk of the Lindberghs' proposed flight.

"Look at the progress in engine building alone," said Nelson, "we used motors which are obsolete now."

"Look at plane construction," interrupted Harding, "now lighter, stronger, more durable and more eficient aircraft is available, the result of intensive experimentation. We know pretty well what all materials and types of construction will do. That increases the safety factor. A great deal has been learned about flying and Colonel Lindbergh is one of the best."

Crowds of 6,000 to 8,000 at intercollegiate baseball games between Stanford and California are hailed as indicating a revival of the sport's popularity in colleges.

As an extra inducement to fair fans, the Oklahoma City Western league club has two ladies' days a week and on other days charges them only 25 cents.

A. E. Fisher and family of El Dorado, Kans., are the house guests of R. E. Campbell this week.

Mechanical Whale Is Proving Ability

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., June 5. (AP)—The submarine Nautilus was plowing through the north Atlantic today on her way to test the feasibility of reaching the north pole under Arctic ice.

Carrying Sir Hubert Wilkins, explorer in charge of the expedition, and a crew of 18 the Nautilus left here last night bound for London, England, her first port of call. She was conveyed by the United States coast guard cutter Po Chatrain which will keep her company as far as the Newfoundland banks.

In speed tests yesterday the submarine proved itself efficient at 11 knots, a speed which will take her to London in 20 days.

From England Sir Hubert plans to go to Spitzbergen, Norway, where the voyage through and under the polar ice will start. The route will take the Nautilus across the pole to Alaska.

Before starting, Sir Hubert said he hoped to be at the pole in time to keep a rendezvous with the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin, which also plans a polar trip this summer.

The Nautilus is equipped with radio and apparatus for making tests and observations in the polar region.

She carries food supplies for 18 months and sufficient fuel and oil for a cruise of 4,000 miles. At Ber-

YOUNGSTERS TO BATTLE IN DALLAS GOLF

Long Hitters Also Steady in Putting and With Their Iron Clubs.

BROOK HOLLOW COUNTRY CLUB, DALLAS, June 5. (AP)—When Starter Willie McGuire takes down his score cards at the starting tent tonight, two players from the field of 32 qualifiers will be in the finals of the Texas Golf association state championship, and tomorrow those two will battle 36 holes for the 1931 state title.

The outstanding match today will be a quarter-final set between Gus Moreland, Cedar Crest Country club, Dallas, and Bud McKinley, Dal Rio. This match brings together two youngsters who have had their share of minor tournament championships. Both are long hitters off the tee, steady putters, and each boasts an accurate iron game. Moreland yesterday defeated C. F. Whalley, Dallas, 6 and 5 in his morning match, and stopped Dick May, Dallas, 7 and 6 in the afternoon round. McKinley, in matches yesterday, sank a long putt for a birdie at the 18th green to beat O'Hara Watts, Dallas, and south-west conference champion, two up in the morning round. He beat Eugene Pittman, Dallas, 3 and 2 in the afternoon round.

Another interesting match today will see Leland Hamman, Paris, playing the now tournament sensation, Bernard A. Schriever, Bryan. It was Schriever who arrived as a star in Texas golfdom yesterday by giving the tournament two real upsets. Schriever eliminated Lanham Connor, Dallas, and 1929 runner-up, in his morning match, one up, 19 holes. Rated the underdog in his afternoon match, Schriever gave the tournament critics another jolt by defeating Ossie Carlton, Houston, and former state champion, 3 and 2. Willie Cutler Hunt, defending champion and veteran Houston stylist, meets Jack Munger, Dallas' 15-year-old star, and Reynolds Smith, recent winner of the Lakewood Country club invitation tournament, and Louis Jacoby, Dallas, and former state champion, will meet.

MOM'N POP

BIGGER GOLF BALL IS NOT SO POPULAR

Heavy English Gales Blow It Out of Line and Even Off Greens.

By FRANK H. KING Associated Press Staff Writer. CARNOSTIE, Scotland, June 5. (AP)—The new American balloon golf ball has made no friends in Great Britain says Gene Sarazen, one of the leading American favorites in the British open golf championship. "On Carnostie's gale-swept links," said Gene, "it would be suicidal to champion aspirations to attempt to use the balloon ball." As far as the average golfer is concerned, Sarazen declared, he wouldn't break a hundred. Even John De Forest, who is a fine golfer and was finalist in the recent British amateur championship, needed 47 going out yesterday. "With the balloon ball," Sarazen commented, "he probably would have needed ten more."

Sarazen came to England prepared to give the American ball a thorough try-out. He practiced with it a little while until he became convinced of its unsuitability under British playing conditions. Then he began giving the bigger balls away to Scotch friends and to use the old standardized ball. Other Americans had similar experiences and none has hit a shot with the bigger ball in British competition, says Sarazen.

INDIANS ARE PUZZLING TO OTHER CLUBS

First Win Dazzling Games Then Lose 14—Now Crowding Yankees.

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR. Associated Press Staff Writer The Cleveland Indians at least have enjoyed the satisfaction so far of keeping the rest of the American league guessing. It is difficult to tell whether they are the best club in the junior circuit, or the worst. They insist on resembling one or the other by turns.

Roger Peckinpaugh's mysterious men started like world beaters, winning nine of their first 12 engagements. Then, with little or no warning, they lost 14 of their next 15. Just now they are in the midst of another winning spurt that has reached 10 straight and carried them back into the first division, only a game behind the third place Yankees.

Wes Ferrell, apparently fully recovered from the jinx that trailed him after his no-hit performance a month ago, held Boston to eight scattered hits yesterday as the Tribe made it three straight over the Red Sox, 10 to 2. He helped his own cause with a homer in the ninth. The Athletics and Senators kept pace by continuing their slaughter of the visiting western clubs. Philadelphia, with George Earnshaw pitching three-hit ball, took its third from the White Sox, 4 to 1, and General Alvin Crowder pitched the Senators to a 5 to 1 victory over Detroit.

The St. Louis Browns jumped on Charlie Ruffing for seven runs in the first four innings to make it two straight from the Yankees, 8 to 6.

Pittsburgh and Boston supplied the day's thriller in the National, battling for 13 innings before the Pirates squeezed out a 2 to 1 triumph.

Harzen (Kiki) Cuyler, Chicago outfielder, cracked one into the bleachers in the last of the ninth with one on to give the Cubs their second straight over Brooklyn, 6 to 4.

The Cardinals stretched their lead to two and a half games again by nailing out the Giants, 6 to 5. After allowing only four hits for seven innings, Ray Benge of the Phillies blew up in the eighth and Cincinnati scored four runs to make it two straight, 5 to 2.

SPECIALIST IS VISITOR Dr. Charles Heare, eye, ear, nose, and throat specialist of Port Arthur, visited Dr. J. H. Kelly and other acquaintances here yesterday. Dr. Heare's mother lives in Miami where he lived in his youth. He is a brother of Clayton Heare, Shamrock attorney.

The West Texas Golf association's 1931 tournament drew entries from 19 Panhandle clubs.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press Kiki Cuyler, Cubs—Hit a homer in the ninth with one aboard to beat Brooklyn, 6 to 4.

Pepper Martin, Cardinals—His pinch single in the last of the ninth scored Adams and beat the Giants, Bill Regan, Pirates—Singled in thirteenth, scoring Paul Waner with the run that subdued the Braves.

Alvin Crowder, Senators—Kept seven hits scattered to defeat Detroit, 5 to 1.

Goose Goslin, Browns—His single, double and triple helped make it two straight over the Yankees.

George Earnshaw, Athletics—Held the White Sox to three hits, all singles, to score his eighth straight victory.

Dundee Proves His Superiority

NEW YORK, June 5. (AP)—For the second time in little more than a year, Vince Dundee, Baltimore middleweight, has proved his mastery over the young east side Hebrew, Ben Jebby.

While one of the smallest crowds in the history of boxing in Madison Square Garden looked on with only slight interest, Dundee outpunched and outsmarted Jebby last night to gain a split decision in ten rounds. The referee, Jack O'Sullivan, cast his ballot for Jebby but was outvoted by the two judges.

Johnny Plummer, Iowa farmer, unsuccessfully sought wrestling bouts until he billed himself as a hooded "mystery man."

Curt Walker, outfielder with Indianapolis in the American association, is an undertaker at Beville, Tex., during the winter.

Phil De C. Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns, recently was appointed a member of the St. Louis aviation committee.

HOUSTON BUFFALOES MOVE TO SECOND PLACE BY CROWDING FORT WORTH CATS TO THIRD

Exporters Defeat Indians 4 to 2 and Promise to Hold First Rung Indefinitely.

By The Associated Press Meet the Houston Buffaloes, new owners of second place in the current Texas league pennant marathon—and then meet their next door neighbors, the Fort Worth Cats, who against their wishes have moved into third place as a result of Thursday afternoon and night games! This idea of being moved into third position is something entirely new to this year's Fort Worth players who have paced the league since the early days of April.

Thursday night the Cats slipped out of second place when Dallas beat them 4 to 3. The defeat marked the first loss this season for Dick McCabe, control artist of the Texas league, until Thursday night's trimming of McCabe's hand by eight games, starting and finishing all except one.

Playing an afternoon game, the Beaumont Exporters enjoyed another day in first place and promised to stay there indefinitely by defeating San Antonio, 4 to 3. Du-movitch and Thurman, Galveston pitchers, failed to check Houston's winning streak which is now eight straight. Three runs in the fourth inning let Houston put lock and key on the game.

BANQUET WILL CLOSE YEAR FOR COUNCIL HERE

LAST DIVISION MEETINGS HELD THIS MID-WEEK

A banquet slated for Wednesday evening, June 3, at 8 o'clock will close the church year for the Woman's Missionary Council, First Christian church. The function will be held at the church.

Featuring the meeting will be installation of officers for the coming year, initial plans for the year, and reports of work done during the last year. There are now 110 women in the council, and it is the aim of the group for the next year to enlist every woman of the church.

Final meetings for the various divisions were held this mid-week.

Group Meets Thursday

Mrs. L. K. Stout, leader, presided for a meeting of Division 8 at the church Thursday evening.

Following the opening devotional by the council president, Mrs. Harry Marbaugh, Mrs. Lillian McNutt presented a paper on "Our Witnesses in India," and Mrs. John Beverly read a paper on "Yes, I Would Do It Again." The statement of the last subject referred to the foreign missionaries. Short articles were given by Mrs. James Todd, Mrs. C. W. Stowell, and Mrs. Beatrice Walters.

Mrs. Marbaugh, playing her own accompaniment, sang a missionary song. Light refreshments were served.

Mrs. L. C. Feddicord will be hostess at the next meeting.

Luncheon is Served

Division 2 met at the church at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday for a covered dish luncheon.

The meeting was opened with a song, "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning," and a prayer by Mrs. Lee Ledrick.

Mrs. H. D. Lewis presided over the business session, during which it was decided to hold a picnic for charity. A meeting for this purpose will be held next Friday at 1 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Ivy Duncan.

A lesson on India was led by Mrs. Lewis, assisted by Mrs. Hugh Isbell, Mrs. Roy McShen, Mrs. Frank Moore, and Mrs. C. J. Meadow.

Mrs. Lewis was given a handkerchief shower in appreciation of the division for her leadership during the year.

"Blest Be the Tie That Binds" was sung in closing the meeting for the following: Mesdames H. D. Lewis, Dick Rhodes, Garrett, Roy McMillen, Walstead, J. Curry, Frank Meers, John Tate, Lee Ledrick, Hugh Isbell, Joe Berry, J. W. Rouse, and new members, and one special guest, Mrs. F. W. O'Malley.

Two Hundred Chapters from the Bible have been read by members of Division 5 during the last month, according to announcement made at a meeting in the home of Mrs. E. R. Sly Wednesday. One perfect reader, Mrs. F. W. O'Malley, was reported. Members of the group have

Some FEMININE Fancies

By HOLLYCE SELLERS HINKLE

Mrs. Herbert Hoover has contributed five children's sweaters, which she knitted herself, to a Red Cross unit formed to supply clothing to needy families of the unemployed.

Knitting, often considered a menial task, is not too lowly a pastime for the first lady of the land. The simplest lives often are the ones that are the most interesting. Those schooled in the art of polite living are those around whom persons of all classes feel at ease. Thus we have the first principal of etiquette. Be yourself, be kind to others, don't consider yourself above honest labor.

Irving Bachelier has said "The true gentleman can no longer live proudly apart and look down upon the crowd out of his conceit and self-approval. He has got to be worthy of his respect."

The above statement is especially true in this western country. Respect must be obtained through deeds and not by hereditary or conceit. Etiquette, to the westerner, is a thing to take or leave, depending upon its practicability. When used, it is to make life more beautiful, more graceful, and happier for the one who practices it and for his associates. It is a valuable asset when wisely used, but becomes ridiculous when used blindly from an etiquette book without consideration of local conditions.

An etiquette book is a reference book filled with valuable suggestions. It is designed to aid one in solving his society problems and must be used with tact and common sense.

Two new books of etiquette by Lilian Eichler, which have just been received at the society desk, will be used in such a way—to help the readers of this column through the column itself and through special inquiries, but without making of a red-blooded person a social mechanism.

BRIDGE EVENT WILL BE HELD NEXT TUESDAY

The Pampa library will be benefited by the bridge tournament to be given Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Mitchell building. The library association, which is sponsoring the entertainment, has set 75 tables.

It is planned to have 25 hostesses, according to announcement of Mrs. C. P. Buckler, who is general chairman of the event. Mrs. Buckler is assisted by Mrs. James Todd, Jr., librarian, and Mrs. W. R. Campbell in making the arrangements.

Refreshments are to be furnished by local merchants.

Plans for the event were made at a meeting of hostesses yesterday afternoon.

PAMPA COUPLE TO BE WED IN MIAMI CHURCH

The Methodist church of Miami will be the scene of an impressive service tomorrow morning when Miss Lorene Hayter and W. O. Christian, both of Pampa, are married. Miss Hayter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hayter of Miami and Mr. Christian is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Christian of Morris, Okla. The ceremony will be read at 10 o'clock.

Student Is Buried Here On Thursday

The body of Harley W. Kennedy, 18-years old, who died Tuesday night, was laid to rest in the Fairview cemetery yesterday afternoon following a colorful service at the First Methodist church.

Members of the 1930 Harvester football team wearing the school colors attended the funeral in a body and acted as pallbearers and honorary pallbearers. Members of the girls pep squad were flower girls. It took several cars to carry the floral tributes to the grave.

The Rev. Tom W. Brabham, pastor of the church where Harley was an active member, took as his text the words "Play the Game". He told how Harley played the game. How life was a game or a race where it took training, sacrifice, strength, to carry on.

"Here lies a youth who carried on in an active way," Rev. Brabham said. "He did his part on the football field where co-operation is necessary. The ball was given to someone else to carry when Harley probably could have made the touchdown but he did not mind, he co-operated, and made the touchdown possible," the pastor said.

Rev. Brabham spoke feelingly to the parents and brothers and sisters and to Harley's friends in Pampa high school and citizens of Pampa. He told the football team to carry on, that Harley would be watching them, and would be with them in their games and in their life.

Rev. James Todd, Jr., offered prayer in the service. Superintendent R. B. Fisher sang a solo.

The church was filled with students and friends of the youth whose passing was a shock to the community in which he has lived

The MELODY GIRL
 BY RUTH DIXON GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 Beryl Borden, secretly in love with Tommy Wilson, succeeds in delaying his elopement with her half-sister, Irene Everett, but fails to convince him that it is his duty to his family to finish college.

Later Irene postpones the marriage date believing she is to be a featured radio singer. When she secures an audition she permits Beryl to go with her to the studio. While waiting in an ante-room Beryl sits down at a piano and croons melodies. One of the directors hears her and gives her a private test. He promises her an interview with Mr. Gaylord. Irene fails and is furious when she hears that her sister has been given a test. Beryl's hopes of a radio career dim as time passes and she hears nothing from the studio.

Then a letter comes and she slips away secretly for her interview. Nervous during the ordeal, Beryl is elevated to ecstasy when presented with a contract. But her victory is bitter-sweet because she fears Tommy will believe she has robbed Irene of her chance. Beryl's "gang" celebrates her victory by putting on a show.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XV
 "I'll bet Beryl put him up to that cheap trick," the girl had remarked sneeringly. Mr. Dorgan turned quickly in his seat to see who dared so to malign his son.

"Huh," he snorted when he saw that it was Irene. "I guess Mike can think up his own tricks," he added grudgingly.

His wife dug him in the ribs with her elbow and bade him turn around and keep quiet for his manner was too truculent for a public place.

"Anyway Mike gets a new bicycle," he said with a touch of defiance.

Irene, discomfited by the attention this called to her, turned upon her companion. "Why did you bring me to this silly show?" she demanded wrathfully.

"Why, you wanted to come!" Tommy stammered in surprise.

"Well, I want to go!" she said and got to her feet. Her companion followed her uncomfortable under the amused glances and half-suppressed grins of those who had overheard the conversation.

"Tommy Wilson, you're a fool," Irene said hotly when they were outside the "circus" grounds. "I didn't want to come!"

"Good, Irene, what's the matter with you these days?" Tommy asked. "One minute you're as sweet as sugar and in the next you turn sour."

"Of course you wouldn't understand," Irene replied with a whimper of self-pity. "I'm perfectly wretched and no one has any sympathy for me."

"That's all nonsense," Tommy said boldly. "But if you're so unhappy why don't you marry me?"

"I don't want to marry you just to escape my unhappiness," Irene replied nobly.

Tommy was too much impressed with the sentiment to consider the rapidly with which she had changed from anger to self-pity then to self-sacrifice. Never had he suspected Irene of being insincere.

"What's that got to do with it," he asked, "if you love me?"

"Everything, Tommy," Irene said wistfully. "Don't you see? When I marry you I want it to be because there's nothing else in the world that I want to do more. And right now what I want most is to get away from all this humiliation Beryl has caused. Sometimes when it's hardest to bear—like tonight—I think I'll go away somewhere and..."

Her voice trailed away sadly for she did not want to spoil the effectiveness of her threat, which would not be a threat if it were not vague. Just the thought of her "going away somewhere" ought to make Tommy terribly unhappy she believed.

And she wanted him to be unhappy. She wanted to make someone suffer and he was nearest at hand. His answer filled her with rage but for once she kept it under control.

"Dorgan's not so bad," Tommy said uneasily. "He didn't mean anything. But listen, Irene, won't you give me a break? We could be married right away and..."

"Oh, Tommy, I'm so tired," Irene stopped him. "Let's go and have a soda."

Nor would she listen again to his plea. She had to punish him for not taking her part, right or wrong, and resenting Mr. Dorgan's rudeness to her. She was irritated too by the fact that Tommy had spoken the truth when he said that she had wanted to attend the boys' benefit show. She had wanted to go to parade Tommy's attentions publicly. Smarting under the interest that everyone was showing in Beryl's sudden claim to fame (Mr. Gaylord's advertising forces were announcing her as a great radio "find"), and sensing that Beryl held a warmer affection for Tommy than she professed, Irene had encouraged him at every opportunity.

She didn't know exactly what she wanted to do. Half the time she thought she would marry Tommy but he somehow always succeeded in upsetting her when they were together. Then, angry with him, she could not say yes. It was a trying position for one who had never cultivated unselfishness and Irene was in a maze of doubts.

Well, she thought, looking at Tommy over her soda, she could wait until Beryl actually "went on the air" and then decide. Beryl might be a flop and then home would be home once more.

That would not be long away now. Beryl's debut was to take place in just a few days. And there was no danger in putting Tommy off.

And so Tommy, led on by Irene in her uncertainty and rebuffed by her as a result of their clash in viewpoints, found himself in a maze, too.

He did not notice that his Aunt Emma was looking far from well and he quite forgot to take any special notice of Beryl's debut.

It occurred on a rainy night, thereby affording Irene an excuse to stay at home and listen in on the radio without admitting that she wouldn't have done anything else for weeks.

She'd have been much happier if she had gone out for — there was no doubt of it—Beryl scored a success.

The announcer told of the telephone messages of praise that poured in and of the enthusiasm of the studio attaches, of the congratulations that were being heaped upon the young singer and of the singer's charmingly natural acceptance of it all. She seemed, he said, neither to take it for granted as what was due her nor to feel that she was being overpraised. She was grateful, pleased, happy and "like a child before a Christmas tree," he told his audience.

"You'd be glad, if you could see her," he confided, "to share her joy without an iota of envy. Why, right now, folks, she's turning her back on a famous impresario to stand in awe before a bouquet that — well, I just wish that I could describe it to you! We never saw anything like it around here before. It's a mile high and a half mile long and looks like it had all the flowers from the Garden of Eden in it — but all in all, folks, it's the grandest, most gorgeous bunch of flowers that was ever put together as a love posse. Yes, sir, that's what it is — a love posse. I can tell by the way she looks at it, and I think I hear her saying something about 'those blessed kids.' All I have left to say is, well, kids, whoever you are, she is sure tickled to death with your wonderful offering."

There was more, but Irene tuned (See STORY, Page 9).

STORY—

it out on pretext of improving the reception. Her face was contorted with jealous emotion but Tommy did not see it as they had been sitting in the semi-dark. It was the season when, for a few days, certain parts of Long Island were sorely troubled with gnats. The Everett house was none too well screened. It was best not to burn a light in the room where you sat. Tonight there was only the subdued light from the hall to illuminate the living room.

So Tommy did not see how Irene felt about her sister's success. He heard her say something conventionally decent about it, and agreed, although more wholeheartedly, that it was great, never realizing that Irene was seething with suppressed envy. With her mother and father sitting in the dining room, and no excuse for it anyway, Irene had not dared say what she really felt concerning Beryl's debut. She could not refrain, however, from remarking that of course anyone who appreciated music could not care for Beryl's singing. If people really wanted that sort of thing it was just lucky for Beryl that was all.

Then the telephone began ringing. People whom Irene had stormed against inviting to the house for the occasion (and finally convinced her mother that Beryl might flop and embarrass them) were calling up to say how glad they were that she had made a hit. That was more than Irene could endure. She dragged Tommy away for a walk on the beach. He hated to go for some of the nearby neighbors were coming in uninvited and Mrs. Everett was getting out marble cake and lemonade.

The neighbors ate the cake and stayed on. Someone had suggested that they remain and greet Beryl. Mrs. Everett in a flutter of pride and excitement said, "Yes, do," and got out more cake and lemonade.

Beryl would, she said, come on the 11:57 train from New York. Who was going to meet her at the station?

Why, Tommy was supposed to. No one in the family could drive her flivver but Beryl. Maybe she'd left it at the station. No, she hadn't for it had a flat tire when she went to town and the kids had just got it patched for her.

Well, where was Tommy? He went out with Irene. Well, Mr. Reed would get his car out and they'd give Beryl a surprise at the station. As many as could piled into it, leaving a place for Beryl, but when they returned she was not with them. She had not come on the 11:57 and that was the last train.
