Correct Constipation Before—Not After!

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of emergency relief. Why let yourself suffer these dull lifeless days because of constipation, why bring on the need for emergency medicines, when there may be a far better way? That way is to KEEP regular by getting at the cause of the trouble.

If it's common constipation, due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, a pleasant, nutritious, ready-to-eat cereal—Kelllogg's All- Bran—goes straight to the cause by supplying the "bulk" you need.

Eat this crunchy toasted cereal every day—with milk or cream, or baked into muffins—drink plenty of water, and see if you don't forget all about constipation. Made by Kelllogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Members and Guests Of Bell Club Visited In Home Recently

"It seems terrible now to think that we ever had our living room, bedroom, and dining room in the same room," Mrs. Roland Daurer told visitors and members of Bell Home Demonstration club at her home recently.

To view Mrs. Daurer's living room now one would never think it was in the same house for now she has a large living room 12 by 18 furnished comfortably with both reading and rest centers. To keep the children from playing with the radio, it has been placed on the wall.

Committee reports of the year's work were given. In summing up the accomplishments of the club members as co-operators some of the things done were as follows: Four bedrooms were improved, 92 piece of bed linen were added, three living rooms were improved, with 28 articles of living-room furniture added to mount a flower and to make a wild flower book.

The program closed with singing "The Eyes of Texas" and the group adjourned to go to the home of Mrs. C. McKnight.

At its luncheon with Mrs. Seth Horn, Tom Deart and Julia E. Kealey of Pampa; N. B. Cude, E. A. Shackleton, of Kingsmill club; W. F. Gaylor, J. S. Puga, L. R. Gaylor, H. A. Mrs. Coonrod Leads Builders Union Program Discussion

Members of the Builders Union of First Baptist church presented a program Sunday evening for 43 visitors and members.

"Temptation to Compromise With Evil" was the theme of the program directed by Mrs. C. L. Coonrod, group captain. Two scenes, one showing a home of love and another showing the effects of alcohol in the home, were used in presenting the discussion. Mr. and Mrs. Owen Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Orr took part in the play.

Following the singing of "Stand Up For Jesus," topics were discussed by Mrs. Ray Beasley, "The Pressure of Selfish Interests"; Mrs. Floyd Yeager, "Pressure of Public Opinion"; John Baptist, "Pressure of Thoughts Argument"; Mrs. B. R. Coltharp, "Knowing the Right by Yielding to the Wrong"; B. R. Coltharp, "Be Sure That Your Sins Will Find You Out."

Concluding the program the group sang "Yield Not to Temptation."

Mrs. Roth Displays Living Room For Eastside HD Club

"To appreciate the improvements in my living room you should have seen it before I started," said Mrs. H. M. Roth to members of Eastside Home Demonstration club at the living room achievement held in her home.

"The paper on the walls, with large ugly flowers, was dirty and unattractive, along with an uncovered, rough floor and little convenience for reading and book storage."

In enumeration of her accomplishments Mrs. Roth cited a new efficient floor lamp, power being furnished by the new wind charger, which was located by a comfortable overstuffed chair and roomy magazine rack made by Mr. Roth. The floors were painted a dust color after carpets were filled. A linoleum arch square was added and waxed. Soft light ten wall-papers was used to reflect light. Cheerful autumn colors such as soft-green, rust, brown, oak, tan, and cream were depicted in drapes, furnishings, and wood finishes. The furniture was placed about the room in a well-balanced arrangement to furnish centers for music, reading, resting, and conversation. Attractive accessories were added for color and beauty.

The work accomplished by Mrs. Roth will make her living room a more cheerful livable home center for the entire family and their friends. Mrs. Julia E. Kealey, county home demonstration agent, pointed out.

Mrs. McKnight Hostess at Bell Achievement Day

"I'm glad that I live in a day when we have living rooms that the whole family can enjoy," Mrs. C. McKnight told members of the Bell Home Demonstration group visiting in her home on achievement day recently.

"I remember not so long ago when we had parlors which were never opened except on special occasions. The furniture consisted of a horsehair sofa and straight backed chair set primly against the wall," continued Mrs. McKnight.

"Our present living room is 16 by 20 and we have a sunroom which is really another living room. In choosing our furniture, we kept in mind the thought of comfort, convenience, and pleasure of each member of the family. In our smaller living room we have a day bed that is seldom without an occupant. This is perhaps the one thing the whole family enjoys to the fullest extent. The roomers are heated by a floor furnace and fire place. My living room has both a reading and rest center and I am sure my family will be happier and have a more cheerful outlook on life by having this larger, more comfortable living room," she added.

The programs for the past year were summarized by Mrs. H. H. Kealey who began her talk with a few of the verses from the poem, "Why Be a Club Woman," by Mrs. G. W. Stowell. In closing Mrs. Kealey read "Home" by Edgar A. Guest. Songs sung during the program were "The Hammer Song" and "Sing Your Way Home."

Officers for the year was introduced and committees were appointed as follows: President, Mrs. Jess Morris; vice-president, Mrs. Roland Daurer; secretary-treasurer, Miss Geraldine Skibinski; council representative, Mrs. Roland Daurer; council attorney, Mrs. Melvin Whitchurch; reporter, Mrs. H. H. Kealey; assistant reporter, Mrs. L. C. O'Neil; parliamentary, Mrs. C. McKnight; recreation committee, Mrs. Melvin Whitchurch; and Miss Margaret Kurtz; exhibit, Mrs. T. S. Skibinski; and George Kurtz; finance, Mrs. H. H. Kealey; and Mrs. Laddie Kotara; education, Mrs. Roland Daurer, and Mrs. C. McKnight.

Attending were Mrs. O. G. Smith and Mrs. Chester Williams of the Kingsmill club, Mrs. N. B. Cude, H. A. Holtman, Felix J. Stalls, W. F. Gaylor, J. S. Puga, E. A. Shackleton, L. R. Taylor, Seth Horn, Tom Deart, Julia E. Kealey, Melvin Whitchurch, T. S. Skibinski, G. J. Kurtz, and Miss Margaret Kurtz.

Germans Hold U. S. Freighter At Murmansk

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—German seizure of the American government-owned freighter, City of Flint, set in rapid motion today a state department inquiry into her capture under contraband rules and her detention at the neutral port of Murmansk, Northern Russia.

The low-riding, 4,963-ton vessel, one of the rescue ships in the Athenia disaster, was taken late last week by a German naval ship some 200 miles between New York and Liverpool—presumably near Great Britain.

The capture became known last night when the Maritime commission, her owner, announced that the City of Flint had been brought by a German prize crew to Kola Bay, on which Murmansk is situated. She flew a Nazi flag.

The Russian news agency, said Murmansk port officials detained the ship for the time being and interned the Germans. There was no information here as to the disposition of the ship or original American crew of about 35. The City of Flint carried no passengers.

The state department immediately asked the Russian government for all available information about the seizure. It made the same request of the Norwegian government, for the German crew had put the freighter into Tramsø, Norway, for a short time Sunday.

The City of Flint was carrying about 5,000 tons of general cargo, destined for Liverpool and Glasgow. It was assumed in Washington that the Germans regarded the cargo as contraband.

International law provides for examination and detention of a neutral ship believed to be carrying contraband, if 51 per cent or more of the City of Flint's cargo could be held by a German prize court to be contraband, the ship could be condemned and would become German property.

Situation Complicated
The fact that the City of Flint was taken to a neutral port, rather than to Germany complicated the situation, in the belief of legal experts. They said that only exceptional circumstances—such as weather, need of repairs or lack of supplies—warranted such action.

The neutral country ordinarily tells the prize crew to move the ship along after the repairs are made or supplies taken. Otherwise, the vessel and her crew are interned, but the original crew must be released and permitted to return home.

There was speculation as to what the Russian government ultimately would order the 18 Germans on the City of Flint to do with the vessel. This was the first instance in which an American vessel had been seized during the war, although cargoes of several United States ships have been taken over by Great Britain in enforcing her blockade against Germany. Britain requires all neutral craft to call at certain ports for examination. If the cargoes are held to be contraband, they are confiscated and paid for.

The City of Flint, built in World War days, was commanded by Captain Joseph A. Gairard. She dashed to the aid of the Athenia after that British liner was sunk on the first day of the war, and picked up more than 200 survivors. Although she had accommodations for only six passengers, she carried all these survivors to Halifax, N. S.

Sunday School Night To Be Observed This Evening At Revival

"Sunday School night" will be observed in the First Baptist church revival tonight at 7:30 o'clock. All classes and departments are expected to be well represented. Rev. C. Gordon Bayless, pastor, has announced.

Evangelist William H. Joyner, who is conducting the revival, will preach on "Turning to God." He will show some real fire in the pulpit as an illustration of his message.

Last night Dr. Joyner preached on "The Biggest Fool in This Country." He said, "The biggest fool in this country is the person who duplicates the mistakes of the fool about whom we read in Luke 12. What were his mistakes. One, he had no time for God; two, he tried to satisfy his soul upon materialism; three, he thought more of his body than he did his soul; and four, he lived as if he had a long lease on this earthly life with no thought of another life."

Since the revival started there have been 58 public declarations for the Christian church. Arthur Nelson is conducting the musical program in each service.

Rep. Jack Langdon Assails Sales Tax Plan Of O'Daniel

AUSTIN, Oct. 24 (AP)—Representative Jack Langdon of Glen Rose asserted today in a statewide radio broadcast that Governor W. Lee O'Daniel has asked members of the legislature to abandon their convictions and vote for a sales tax. Referring to the governor's poll for determining legislative opinion on a consumer-natural resource tax which Langdon said was similar to that proposed in a constitutional amendment which the legislature refused to submit at the last general session, the representative said:

"Two weeks ago your governor stated to the people of Texas that he would convene the legislature in extraordinary session if the members would write him and promise him in advance they would vote for his plan without reservation and without amendment. "Whether or not an emergency exists in Texas sufficient to justify convening the legislature... is a decision which is left by our constitution entirely with the governor. "If that emergency exists because of the suffering of the aged people with the approach of winter, it is the duty of your governor to convene the legislature."

Californian's Giant Death Ray Would Have No Military Value

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 24 (AP)—The price of three giant bombing planes will build the world's first real death ray, a bright, blue beam 50 feet long, a few inches in diameter, whose touch for one instant would be a human death warrant.

As a death ray the blue beam would have no military value for two reasons. The person touched by it would not die for several days and meanwhile would remain for some time a very live fighter. The giant is too heavy to be moved around.

The machine is a paradox, because it can't be used for war, and the ray for peace purposes promises knowledge beyond all present dreams.

The ray machine is a cyclotron, which would manufacture one-hundred-million-volt particles and shoot them out at speeds of 60,000 to 70,000 miles an hour. Its possibilities were described to the National Academy of Sciences by Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, of the University of California.

Rebel Leaders In Mexico Surrender

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 24 (AP)—Military authorities made public today a report from General Lucas Gonzalez, army commander in the state of San Luis Potosi, on the surrender of three rebel leaders who operated in that state after the suppression of General Saturno Cedillo's rebellion.

Cedillo was killed by federal troops several months ago. The men who surrendered are Ascension Esperon, Perdo Sanchez and Lucio Moreno. They turned over to the government horses, arms and ammunition.

Military authorities also reported that eleven men, members of an outlaw gang, were killed in an encounter with federal troops in the state limits of San Luis Potosi and Nuevo Leon. The men were surprised as they were stealing cattle.

In 1938 the United States sold Latin America 35 per cent of the latter's imports. Germany was second with 17 per cent.

1,000,000 Bureaucrats

As the New York Times observes, "Though we have got used to the spectacle of enormous government spending and no other remarkable comparisons, as a result, it is none the less rather startling to learn that on June 30, last, there were 928,310 civil employes on the Federal government's payroll—2,500 more even than at the World War peak of November 11, 1918."

This is one more reason why about 25 cents out of every dollar we earn goes directly or indirectly into the insatiable maw of government. Our entrance into the World War caused the number of government workers—entirely aside from those in the military forces—to be doubled. By 1923, the number of employes had dropped almost to the pre-war level. Then a slow rise set in, which became a fast rise in 1933. There were 583,000 government tax-employees in 1932—and 719,400 in 1935. And where 824,259 workers lived at the expense of the rest of us in 1935, some 920,310 eat at a tax-supported table today.

Most startling of all is the fact that the number of government workers seems to increase regardless of changes for the better in business conditions. The years 1932 and 1933, going by—all the statistics, were the worst of depression. But more than 150,000 additional people were employed by the government in 1937, when a comparatively high level of industrial production was reached, and the national income was substantially greater.

As the New York Times also says, "The increase in Government employes is in some respects even more impressive evidence than total expenditures, of the relentless growth of Government functions and of Government regulation and control—it is not surprising that, in spite of the highest taxes in our peacetime history, the Treasury is still unable to balance outgo with income, and the national debt soars to incredible heights."

FLUSHING THE COVERT

There was a fair certainty that as the debate in the Senate proceeded it would break away from unrealities, evasions, and deceptions and come out of the brush into the open. Some of the speakers would fire of thinking one thing and saying another. That happened Wednesday when Senator Burke, Democrat of Nebraska, and Senator Clark, Democrat of Missouri, spoke, one for the repeal of the embargo and one against it. Senator Burke said he had crossed the bridge. He would not speak of repeal as an expression of "neutrality" for it was not that. "It checks the belligerent that I want checked," said Senator Burke. "It favors the belligerents that I want favored... Only harm can result if the erroneous impression is permitted to be spread about abroad and at home that America has no rights which it cherishes so deeply that it will not fight to the last drop rather than surrender them."

"This is Senator Burke's war and he wants to repeal the embargo because he intends thereby to help Great Britain and France overthrow Hitler. He regards Nazism as an enemy of the American people."

Senator Clark said that if he believed for one moment that the American frontier was on the Rhine, that the Maginot line was an American line, and that our first line of defense is the British navy or that the British and French are fighting our battle he would scorn the idea of casting a vote on the proposals before the American Congress.

"Tragic as the choice would be to me," he said, "if I entertained any such belief I would unhesitatingly vote for a declaration of war... If I believed that the safety of this nation or the safety of our institutions was involved in this power struggle in Europe, if I believed that Britain and France are fighting to protect us, I would regard the cash and carry or the credit and carry scheme as no more honorable than hiring a substitute for military service—as a national justification."

This is not Senator Clark's war. He does not propose to say it is and not fight it. He believes it to be the duty of the United States to preserve its neutrality and its peace. He is, therefore, against the repeal of the embargo.

THE VANDERBERG SPEECH

(Chicago Tribune)

Senator Vandenberg's speech on the neutrality bill served to clear the air. There is, as he said, only one issue and that is the repeal of the arms embargo. The burden of proof is upon those who propose to change existing law. They must call the country how its peace and welfare will be promoted by the sale of arms to belligerents. They have not done so and they cannot do so. The best they can do, as Mr. Vandenberg intimated, is to put their brains in cold storage and appeal for a decision founded upon emotion. Mr. Vandenberg said with obvious sincerity that he shared the almost universal dislike for Hitler in his country, but he could not allow himself to let his sentiments guide his action on the embargo.

The question to be decided is not whether Hitler is a good man but whether the repeal of the embargo will be good for the United States and its people. The question is not which side we would prefer to see win the war in Europe but how can we best prevent the United States from getting into the war.

We let emotion guide us from 1914 to 1917 with the result that we got into the war in which we sacrificed much and from which neither we nor the world obtained any commensurate advantage. If we are to avoid a repetition of that experience we must not again lean upon emotion as a guide to conduct. Intelligence can keep us out of war; emotion, if unchecked, can get us in.

EVIL EFFECTS OF OLD AGE PENSIONS

Old age pensions is a subject that is much farther reaching than most people consider. Old age pensions, at first thought, seem to be humanitarian. They seem to be making progress in our treatment to our fellowman. When we consider the eventual effects of what old age pensions will do to the country that adopts them, we come to the conclusion that instead of being humanitarian and progressive, it is just the opposite.

It is not progressive and productive because it is not in accord with natural laws, and not in harmony with adding to the maximum happiness of a people over a long period of years. The reason for this is as follows.

When people begin to believe that when they grow old they will get a pension that will permit them to live in comfort and security, then people, through their most productive years, are not willing to abstain and set aside part of their earnings. These people do not understand that savings or capital—that is, tools and equipment which includes machines, buildings, live stock, transportation facilities and new inventions—are of great benefit to other people than those who own them. For this reason, when the great mass of people get the idea that they do not have to save for old age, this accumulation of capital, as above mentioned, is reduced. The result is workers do not have the kind of equipment they would have if the workers as a whole were setting aside a part of their earnings, or production for old age and this was put into tools and equipment.

The average worker does not understand that when he saves and puts his money in the bank or in a life insurance policy he is, in reality, helping furnish some worker with better tools to work with so that the worker can produce more and, thus, earn more and have a higher standard of living.

Do Not Save

And when people come to believe in pensions, then they do not save. The result is workers are obliged to use older and more obsolete equipment.

It is to the interest of society that capital and tools be owned by many people rather than by a few people. When many people own tools, they are interested in preserving them. When only a few people own the tools, it is harder to get them to understand the importance of tools. And with the present taxing system—income, gifts and inheritance taxes—it is impossible for the few to furnish enough efficient tools for all workers. It is necessary for the great mass of people to participate in furnishing tools and equipment for workers to work with.

It is for this reason that old age pensions, which tend to make people spendthrifts, in order to get pensions, in the long run are not humanitarian because they make more poverty and misery and suffering than they eliminate.

Of course, I am not advocating that old people be permitted to starve. I am simply stating that the kind of assistance they get must be such that they will all their life try to live so that they will not have to be supported in their old age by the government, and if they have to be helped the assistance they get from the government must be such that their children will feel an obligation to help care for the parents rather than have them cared for by the state. And the kind of assistance that will encourage the accumulation of capital and raise the wages of all workers and add to the aggregate happiness of all the people over a long period of time is assistance in kind, rather than in money. And it does not seem unreasonable to tell elderly people who have managed their affairs that they have to receive public assistance rather than private assistance that the management of how they should be taken care of should be left to those people who are furnishing the assistance rather than to giving them the discretion to buy the assistance that they want. It is an old law that the man who pays the fiddler writes the tune. And to give people pensions and permit them to squander and mismanage it as they see fit is a violation of a natural law that, in the long run, only adds to the misery and poverty of the people as a whole.

So the question of old age pensions is something that should be given careful consideration because, if it is adopted, it means a lower standard of living than if assistance is given in kind and those giving the assistance have the right to be the judge as to what the destitute need and are entitled to.

The columns of this paper are open for any man to explain why the above is not in harmony with natural laws and will build a stronger and better society.

Only free peoples can hold their purpose and their honor steady to a common end, and prefer the interests of mankind to any narrow interest of their own.—Woodrow Wilson

Behind The News Of The Day

By BRUCE CATTON

WASHINGTON—Washington doesn't often nose out New York or Hollywood in getting a world premier view of a new motion picture but since it had first got at "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" it has had some uneasy hours.

Early off-hand views were that it would be a "money picture" for several reasons, first because it is as timely as a war thriller, and second because Frank Capra directed it. Further it is a stirring piece, with more than an average quota of good acting and laugh lines. Photographically it picks out the capital's principal monumental attractions, such as the capitol, the Washington monument and the Lincoln memorial and takes them to the scene—hungry public in a dress more gorgeous than any we've seen.

MOVIE NEWSPAPERMEN

But for all the precautions taken to hide it truly reflect the way of life in Washington, it will help to perpetuate a pair of faulty ideas about what goes on here. Hollywood seems to have a stylized view of how newspapermen look and act, and will go to its grave holding that view, regardless. The idea evidently persists that a newsman can reach a try out of thin air about as readily as he can reach in his vest pocket and pull out a quart bottle of bourbon, with fix water and glasses.

However, nobody should become perturbed about that. What might be viewed with a more critical eye

FORMERLY KNOWN AS THE 'SICK MAN OF EUROPE'

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 24 — Short takes: At home, or at friends' parties, Charlie Chaplin rehearses his Hitlerian speech which he'll deliver in "The Dictator." People who hear it, and who speak German, usually strain for several minutes in complete bewilderment to understand the impassioned oratory. Then they realize that Chaplin isn't speaking German at all. He can't.

It's just a Teutonic-sounding gibberish that seems to make sense but doesn't—like the lyric in his song, "Tetina," in "Modern Times." As Hitler, in his double role, Chaplin will be called "Adenoid Hinkley." Billy Gilbert has been tested for the part of Goering, who'll be known as "Herring." And Jack Oakie is being tested as Mussolini.

If the character is used, it'll become "Gasolini."

Hollywood's snarky dinner honoring Attorney General Frank Murphy was called off—but not by Hollywood—on the day that hundreds of prominent movements were served summonses to appear before the federal grand jury in the government's investigation of the industry. The attorney general, who probably would have been the only banqueter who could have shaken the vittles, decided he shouldn't leave Washington.

Shift Roles For Remake

Jean Arthur drew a 12-week suspension for refusing to play in "His Girl Friday," which is a re-write of "The Front Page" with a girl in the role formerly played by the federal grand jury.

And Ralph Bellamy plays the part originally written for the only girl in the cast. Rosalind Russell will be the new Hildy Johnson.

Miss Arthur previously was slated to star in "Arizona," a super-western with a $500,000 replica of early Tucson. But that wasn't super enough for Director Wesley Ruggles.

He went out on location and ordered some big trees moved to provide a better camera angle. Then he ordered a stream moved. The studio toted up the cost, said the hell with it, and put the whole thing on the shelf.

Feud notes: Bob Taylor's grunting—but only in his boozes—about the roles he has had lately. A few more like "Lady of the Tropics" and he may as well go back to playing the cello. However, Hedy Lamarr, who fared better in that picture, is bidding for more money. A lot more money. . . . Beita Davis and Warner are quarreling again.

The Hedy Lamarr - Spencer Tracy picture, "I Take This Woman," will be hauled back into the projection room and sound stage for transmutations of story, new direction, and general re-shooting.

They could even recast Mr. Tracy's part, if they liked. What they've got now, is mostly a series of closeups of the glamorous batting her eyelashes.

People You Know

By Archer Fulfillingim

Your friendly silence, my young friend, when we, on the crest of the hill, looked below at the incredible, golden trees that crowd the banks of long, curving Sweetwater creek for many a sun-tinted shady mile across Wheeler county, was proof enough that you, a mere boy caught in the maze of A-Lo-Of-Things-To-Do, were stricken wordless by the searing beauty and the importance of those yellow cottonwood trees—far more golden than aspens in New Mexico and Colorado in autumn.

My young friend, you started, prolonged glance at those trees was indeed evidence that they at that moment were the most important thing, and then you went down and, tested the leaves with your fingers and waited one until a puff of wind revolved in the upper branches, and the shining leaves filtered down and lightly touched your hair, and then we stood under many more trees and it was like standing in a halo of gold light, and it was like hearing violins playing familiar music, or a lyric voice singing high notes—those were your own words, my young friend. And that is why two can enjoy such things better than one, and so I hope that the gold in leaves will always be as desirable as any other gold.

Everybody knows that the swimming pool closed too soon this year, long before a lot of us got our bellful of swimming, long before we got enough of that cool, green water, and one of us was Charles Jaynes who couldn't resist the beautiful weather of Sunday, and she lit out for Ten Mile hole below LeFors and slid through the cool water to her heart's content.

The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein

High blood pressure is more common among Americans than all other forms of heart disease and disturbances of the circulation put together. It is estimated that one-fifth of the entire population suffers from high blood pressure.

Physicians examining a patient nowadays take three measurements promptly—temperature, beat of the pulse and blood pressure.

For a long time it was believed by the medical profession that there was no specific cause for abnormal blood pressure. More recently, however, doctors are inclined to link high blood pressure with disturbances of the kidneys, heart and blood vessels.

The "blood" pressure records of 11,383 people were studied recently by Dr. S. C. Robinson and Dr. Marshall Bruce, who sought to determine what might be regarded as normal blood pressure. The researchers were able to examine the records of many people who had been tested as to suitability for life insurance.

As the result of their studies, Doctors Robinson and Bruce reached two important conclusions: 1. People who will suffer from high blood pressure in late years generally have high blood pressure when they are young.

2. Women are more likely to have extremely low blood pressures than men. Low blood pressure is usually found up to the age of 40, after which it rises somewhat but is still lower than that of men of corresponding ages.

Nowadays, the physician makes two records of blood pressure—one just after the heart has contracted to force out the blood into the blood vessels, and the other just before the heart relaxes.

Doctors have learned that a single measurement of blood pressure is not especially significant. To obtain figures that really indicate the state of circulation, medical men must take frequent measurements over long periods of time.

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWesse

HAD some Martians been peering down upon the earth a few days ago, he would have observed a most curious phenomenon.

On the continent of Europe, he would have seen men huddled around conference tables in most of the leading business centers, discussing the best five-year program of efficient methods of annihilating the human race. . . . Across the Atlantic Ocean, he would have seen another group of men, openly plotting to preserve mankind.

THE preservationists were members of the American College of Surgeons, attending their 59th, annual clinical congress in Philadelphia. They were reporting recent progress in the war on cancer and rejoicing over 30,000 cures their profession had brought about during the past five years in a series of cases once considered incurable. . . . The whole paradoxical business would have confused the Martian (almost to the point of madness).

ONE of the most freely made pronouncements of these days is that widespread European war will mean "the end of civilization." . . . Because this has been said so often, it is good to hear the calm words of President James B. Conant of Harvard University which he spoke recently to a class of incoming freshmen. Dr. Conant felt certain assumption about the next 10 years "sufficiently probable to be the basis of intelligent action." And first of these was. . . that contrary to the dire prophesies of recent years, we are not facing the end of civilization.

A moment's reflection shows that Dr. Conant is right. Such a war might set civilization back, as the last one definitely did. But a civilization that had died suddenly, from heart failure, it dies gradually, from what the doctors like to call, "asthmatically, a complication of diseases."

70 Tons of Gold Arrive From Poland

PARIS, Oct. 24 (AP)—Seventy tons of Polish gold removed from Warsaw in the opening days of the war has arrived safely in Paris after a hazardous journey by truck, train and ship over 6,000 miles. (Seventy tons of gold would be worth about $65,556,000 at the United States treasury's price of $95 an ounce.)

You and Your Nation's Affairs

WHAT IS THE LOGIC OF EMBARGO ISSUE

By HARLEY L. LUTZ

Professor of Public Finance, Princeton University

The question whether repeal of the embargo or its retention will be the more likely to keep our country out of the war is one which must be decided on grounds more definite than are provided in the President's address. It is, principally, an expression of the President's opinion.

The discussion surrounding that opinion is not consistent. In one place the President says there should be a return to the international law of neutrality, which means the right of a neutral to trade with both belligerents. Had the war occurred before 1933, he says, such trading would have occurred. But in another place he says that if the embargo repeal is voted, the government intends to insist that American citizens and American ships shall keep away from the immediate perils of the actual zones of combat.

This raises the question, Just how are the people to continue to do business with either belligerent if they must stay entirely away from the zones of conflict? Trade with belligerents has always given rise to friction over contraband, rights of search, and other points connected with the enforcement of a blockade by land or water. The proposal amounts to asking that Congress, in one law, restrict full trading rights and also take them away again. . . .

One answer to this question is that the belligerents shall do the trading by the cash and carry method. In fact, both cannot do this on equal terms. When the restrictions on the export of completed arms and munitions were enacted, the real motive was to prevent sale to Japan rather than to China. This was believed to

My Personal Opinion Is . . .

By JUDD

Most anybody'd like to see that war stopped and settled peaceably, but you know if it is done by mediating or not, on account of mediating ain't nothing else but getting both sides to make some promises, and it's awful disappointing for his hard work.

to find out that one side ain't got no more respect for a promise than if it was jest another o' the New Year's resolution. And so if one of the sides breaks the promise, that's when the mediator is his hard work.

feels like he's the one that's been insulted, and it's up to him to do something about it to save his own face. I kin remember once when I was a kid, and jest after school one day a strange kid come along and started a fight with a spell and it didn't hardly take no time before I seen that my pal was going to get licked. Well, pals is two fellers that's sposed to stick together, and so I thought I better mediate, and see if I could save him from the slaughter. And so I stepped in and says, "Here now fellers, you can't do this," and that's as far as I got before finding myself extended out lengthwise on the ground, on account of suddenly getting hit quicker'n I expected, and I no more'n started to get up before getting another good stiff crack, and so I jest stayed there this time, on account of seeing it wasn't no use in getting up any ways. And when I was laying there horizontal like, I looked all around for my pal, and I remember how disappointed I was to find out that he went home at the first crack. Well, you kin jest imagine how embarrassed it was to have to finish mediating from such a awkward position, to not say nothing about the mediator having to give all the promises instead of receiving em. And that's the reason why Harry E. Hoare of the Pampa Daily News, attended the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in El Paso.

P. S.—And anyways, anybody with as long a neck as wey got, should ought to mediate before they mediate—J.

Pampans Reject Westerner Injury Stories

Lubbock May Concentrate On Air Raids

Coaches Weldon Chapman and Goober Keys have the crying towel cut down at Lubbock and are filling it full of big, scalding tears every afternoon as they prepare for the invasion of the Pampa Harvesters Friday afternoon for a critical conference game. The injury list has hit the powerful Westerners, cry the coaches.

But all the weeping and wailing down at Lubbock hasn't fooled the Harvesters one bit. They've heard the story so often that they just can't swallow it any more. As a result, they're out at Harvester field every afternoon working like mad-men as they prepare for the big battle at 2:30 o'clock on Texas Tech field in Lubbock.

And while the Harvesters are working grimly, fans of Pampa are buying train and game tickets. A block of 700 reserve seat tickets and 700 student tickets have arrived and are now on sale at the office of the school business manager in the city hall at 75 and 25 cents respectively.

Train-Game Tickets Selling
 Tickets for a special train to leave the Santa Fe station at 9 a. m. Friday are also on sale at the same office and at the Santa Fe ticket office. If enough fans desire to see the Amarillo-Plainview game in Plainview Friday night, one section of the train will stop at Plainview while the other section will steam for Pampa, arriving about 9:30 o'clock.

Lubbock's Coach Chapman reports that Joe Tyson, big fullback, will be out of the lineup Friday, his broken leg not yet being in shape for the game. Leete Jackson was an injured shoulder, Clifton Hill minor injuries, Pat Harris an injured rib and Frank Reeves a minor bruise.

But the crafty coach didn't come right out and say they wouldn't be in the game Friday and that's why the Harvesters are prepared to meet the strongest lineup Westerner coaches can throw into the field.

There'll be plenty of passing in the game, according to advance information. Max Walshall, classed as one of the greatest passers ever to tread Texas Tech turf, and Pete Cawthon, son of the Texas Tech coach, are hurling footballs all over the practice field. It was the pair that took turns dealing misery to Breckenridge last Friday night.

Lubbock to Air
 Taking the Lubbock aerial show seriously, Coaches Oatis, Mitchell and J. C. Prejan plan to work long on a pass defense. Developing a potent secondary to withstand the charges of the fleet Westerner backs is also coming up for much attention. When James Carlisle was injured it left the Harvesters in a spot for a line backer, Carlisle being one of the best in the state.

The Harvesters are also scheduled to stage an aerial show in Lubbock with Pete Dunaway and Grover Heiskell doing the hurling. Although he hasn't done much chinking this season, Heiskell has a pretty fair arm.

One of the largest crowds, if not the largest, ever to see a high school football game in Lubbock is expected to be on hand when the whistle blows.

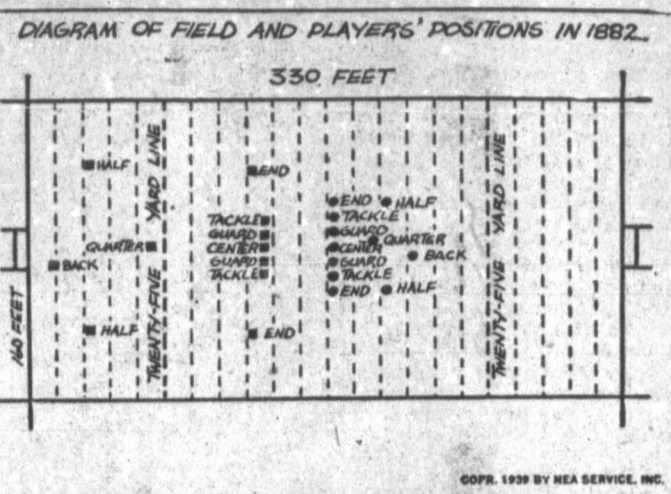

The Cherokee of North Carolina speak a "lispless language." Very few of their words require the lips to come together. Typical words are Tuckasee, Hiawasse, Junaluske, Cullasaje, Nantahala.

PIGSKIN PARADE

First important eligibility rule was drawn up in 1882. Championship competition was limited to five years.

The Story of Football Told by Art Krenz and Jerry Bronfield

Settlement of positions came in same year, with seven forwards, quarterback, halfbacks and fullback. Ends were rush-line extremists. Next-to-ends became known as tackles because of greatest defensive value. Guards were so-called because they protected center.

Season of 1884 produced the "V" trick, the forerunner of the flying wedge. It was originated by R. N. Hodge of Princeton in a game with Pennsylvania. As finally perfected, 10 men formed solid V-shaped mass, apex forward. Ball carrier was in the apex. In motion, this mass was difficult to break through. This was first step toward putting interference ahead of the runner. Next: Defense tactics changed.

Rice Coach Bars Gates Against Fans

Barred gates today greeted those who would take a peek at the Rice Owls as they prepared to open the Southwest Conference football campaign next Saturday with Texas.

That 9-8 licking little Sam Houston State gave the highly-rated boys from the Institute was the reason. Coach Jimmy Klits said everyone, including newspapermen, would be off the outside this week. He also said there would be some changes in the lineup.

About the only tangible news was that Captain Ed Singletary and Bill Haner, a couple of first line guards, would be off the injury list and ready for Texas.

Meanwhile, four other conference camps were plagued with injuries, the most lament coming from Texas Christian university. So critical was the situation here that Connie Sparks, star fullback, was shifted to fill up a gap. A half dozen others were out with hurts.

Baylor feared its center, Robert Nelson, would be out of the game with Texas A. and M. Saturday and a wrenched knee may put Fullback Ray Cole of Arkansas on the sidelines when the Razorbacks play Villanova at Philadelphia.

Southern Methodist had Preston Johnson out of practice but the Mustangs rest, this week and the star sophomore back is likely to be ready for the opening conference game against Texas Nov. 4.

Texas had no new injuries to report and the Texas Aggies were in tip-top shape.

Lufkin Sweeping Toward Fourth Straight Title

LUFKIN, Oct. 24 (AP)—Along about December 1 each year Texas schoolboy gridiron followers find the Lufkin Panthers squaring off for the state championship battle.

But its been a tale of woe down here in the piney woods. With a great team in 1937 the Panthers met the Longview Lobos in the first round. Longview became the state champion. Last season it was Tyler, which went to the state quarter-finals and was unbeaten but lost on penetrations in a tie.

But this year, they aver, it's liable to be another story, and as far as the district campaign is concerned, they are doing little worrying.

The critics give no other team the slightest hope of stopping what may prove to be Lufkin's mightiest eleven. The Panthers, sweeping toward their fourth straight district title, are following the churning legs of Willie Smelley, the sector's leading scorer and one of the hardest-running ball luggers ever seen in these parts. He's a triple-threat.

Lufkin, they say, is stronger than last season, and they expect the weight and experience—they have 15 lettermen—to carry the Panthers further than ever before in the state race.

The only blotch on the Lufkin record this season is a 20-13 reversal at the hands of Austin of Houston. It was the first game of the season and one of those contests in which the Panthers looked like winners in everything but the score.

The first sentence of death imposed by a federal court in the United States was passed in New Bern, N. C., in 1793, when four sailors were hanged for mutiny at Ocracoke Island, N. C.

At the beginning of this year, the number of horses on farms was the smallest in 60 years and the number of mules was estimated to be the smallest in 30 years.

Crain From Nocona Sells Cowboy Boots

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS
 AUSTIN, Oct. 24 (AP)—In these parts, jackrabbits once were considered pests.

That was before Jackrabbits Crain put the phit-t-t back in football in this pass-mad Southwest Conference.

It was four Saturdays ago that the 165-pound University of Texas sophomore galloped out on the football prairies. He is a tow-headed kid from Nocona, Tex., who sells cowboy boots to make his way through school.

He handed him the ball in his first game against Florida and phit-t-t—a touchdown. The 5 foot 7 inch youngster streaked 42 yards. He stopped on the way back and kicked a goal.

Victory hungry alumni went into spasms of hysteria.

Up north, against Wisconsin, Crain buzzed 37 yards for a touchdown. People were amazed. Here was a Texas football player who actually carried the ball instead of throwing it all over the lot.

He went to Dallas, Oklahoma's powerful Sooners had been pushing Texas around all afternoon and were leading 17 to 0.

Suddenly snit—he then went Crain for 69 yards and a touchdown. Two minutes later he burned up the gridiron again, this time for 71 yards and a touchdown.

Oklahoma won but Jack Crain had a big day.

Last Saturday, Arkansas, a team that walloped Texas 42 to 0 a year ago, came to town for a killing.

Crain grabbed the ball on his own seven yard line. He ran forward, backward, sideways and started once to lateral. Those clever rabbit runners trapped him on their own seven-yard line. The run gained 86 yards. A teammate took the ball over for a touchdown, then Crain kicked the goal and waited until the game's 59th minute for his next chance.

It came on his own 39-yard line. He tucked the ball under his arm and made a bee-line for the Arkansas goal. He got there, Crain kicked and waited until the game's 59th minute for his next chance.

Saturday Crain and his mates face the floundering Giants of the conference, Rice, which has beaten Texas five straight.

Old grads call him Cowboy—his can almost fly.

6-Man Title Game To Be Played Friday At Groom

By TEX DE WEESE
 GROOM, Oct. 24—There'll be a conference championship decided here Friday night under the lights at Firemen's Field, and it will be unlike any other football game in this section of the Panhandle.

The undefeated Groom High school six-man football team will be playing Adrian's sextet for the championship of the southern section of the Panhandle Six-Man League. The victor in this game will be in line for the Panhandle title contest with the winner of the northern section which is made up of Texline, Stratford, Gruver, Lipscomb, Booker, and Darrouzett.

The victor in this game will be in line for the Panhandle title contest with the winner of the northern section which is made up of Texline, Stratford, Gruver, Lipscomb, Booker, and Darrouzett.

Coach Butch Clark, the Groom grid menter, feels certain his team will take Friday night's game from Adrian and then go on to win the Panhandle championship game to be played on Friday, Nov. 17.

In this section of the Panhandle there are six teams playing six-man football, but only three are in the southern half conference—Groom, Adrian and Price Memorial High of Amarillo. So far this season Groom has defeated Price 13 to 6 and Happy 20 to 0. Groom also won its opening game of the season, other teams Groom meets, but which are not in the conference, are Dotsenville and Kelton.

Two games are scheduled with Kelton on Nov. 3 and Nov. 10. The local conference will be wound up in the playoff with Adrian Nov. 17.

First string players on Groom's six-man team are Troy Whately, center; Robert Kuehler, right end; Austin Crowell, left end; Kenneth Black, halfback, and Jack Kuehler, fullback.

Coach Clark carries seven substitutes including John Angel, center; Martin Clark, Cecil Stokes an Bill Collins, ends; Elbert Townsend, Evy Clark and P. T. Clark, backfield.

Dalton Ford, Groom school superintendent, explains that Groom High school has only 50 boys from which to pick its football team and that six-man football was decided upon purely as an economical measure from the school's financial standpoint.

Groom has a lighted football field and grid games are played at night. All home games are played on Firemen's Field.

To the volunteer firemen of Groom the whole town is grateful and particularly the superintendent Ford and Coach Clark hold in their praise of what the firemen have done for school athletics.

The movement to get the lighted field and other necessary equipment was begun last summer by Fire Chief Melvin Asberry and the members of the volunteer department. They organized softball teams and held other athletic exhibitions for which they charged only five cents admission. Public support was good and the firemen put all the money into a pot which has made possible the lighted recreational field. The bill is a balance of around $95 in the treasury which will be used as a nucleus for a fund to build grandstand seats which will be ready for the next football season.

Incidentally, if you ask anybody in Groom who will win the conference game here Friday night between Adrian and Groom—it is amazing how quickly you can get the same answer from everybody without the slightest hesitation.

Superintendent Ford and Coach Clark are the only ones who do not have the game in the bag.

They are confident, but they say they can tell you more about it around 10:30 o'clock Friday night.

Aggies Ranked Fifth Team In United States

By BILL WHITE
 NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP)—Little Mercer College of Macon, Ga., has one consolation, at least—it's going to be beaten next Saturday, barring grid-don's greatest upset, by the best team in the nation, the Volunteers of Tennessee.

By a margin as wide as from here to Mars, the Vols stand acclaimed today as the finest college football crew in the land. In the second weekly Associated Press national ranking poll, the talented southern juggernaut received 93 first place votes out of a possible 131 to roll up a total of 1,203 points.

Seldom, if ever, has one team so dominated the picture. And not only did the nation's press box experts pile their plaudits on the team, but no less a personage than Dr. John Bain (Jack) Sutherland told metropolitan football writers yesterday he considered the team "one of the most perfect I have ever seen." He added he didn't think any team in the country could score, let alone beat them!

If there is any team that could beat the Vols, in the opinion of the writers, it is Notre Dame. The rambling Irish got 13 votes for first place and a total of 923 points for second place in the weekly rankings.

Standings of the teams (points figured on a basis of 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1, first places votes in parentheses):

First Ten—
 Team Points
 Tennessee (93) 1,203
 Notre Dame (13) 923
 Michigan (8) 777
 Ohio State (5) 771

 Southern California (0) 393

Clemson's 99-yard touchdown drive against South Carolina isn't the longest match of the season, it will do until next Saturday.

Perryton To Play At White Deer

Special To THE NEWS
 WHITE DEER, Oct. 24. — Although the Bucks ran up a 51 to 0 score against the Canadian Wildcats last Friday night they are not over-confident, but realize that they are facing what will probably be the stiffest competition of the season, when they meet the Perryton Rangers here Friday night.

The Rangers are rated the leaders of Class A and have won every game so far by decisive, if not overwhelming scores. The Bucks, however, have also made a good record, having lost only one game, non-conference game with McLean, and fans may be assured of a battle royal here Friday night.

Gas Fumes Overcome Mobeetie Boy, 10 Special To The NEWS

MOBETTIE, Oct. 24 — Harold Ware, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Ware, was found by his mother in the bathroom of their farm home one mile west of Mobeetie overcome by gas fumes early this morning. He was rushed immediately by friends to the Wheeler hospital, but revived before the hospital was reached. He was then taken to his grandmother's home in Wheeler where he is reported resting well. Efforts are being made to contact his father who was on route to San Antonio, having left a few minutes before the accident occurred.

Huntsman Trial Scheduled To Start Thursday

Petit jurors of the fifth week of the current term of 31st district court are to report at 9 o'clock Thursday morning when a jury is to be selected in the case of State of Texas vs. B. H. Huntsman, who was indicted on October 10 on a charge of assault with intent to murder, in alleged connection with a fight on August 27 in which Fred Koehn received 150 inches of knife wounds.

There were 27 jurors out of the panel of 40 reporting when the court opened the week Monday morning. Court was dismissed at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when District Judge W. R. Ewing announced that a settlement had been reached in the case tentatively set for trial, that of J. B. Adams vs. Associated Indemnity corporation, a compensation suit.

Judgment has not yet been filed in the case.

Stonegate Sunk By 'Pocket Battleship'

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 24. (AP)—The German "pocket battleship" Deutschland, speedy 10,000-ton fighting ship, was reported by authoritative sources today to have been the vessel which sank the British freighter Stonegate in the middle Atlantic.

erment what became of the crew and at Berlin the embassy sought an explanation of the seizure.

Captured by the German cruiser Emden, the City of Flint rode at anchor in the harbor in Murmansk, Russia.

The United States Embassy at Moscow promptly asked the Russian government what became of the American crew of 42, and the embassy at Berlin sought an explanation from Germany.

The City of Flint was in the hands of a German prize crew of 17 and flying the Nazi flag, when it put in at Tromso, Norway, last Friday night.

Several Ships Detained

It stopped there to land 38 British sailors it had rescued a week before from the Stonegate, a torpedoed British freighter.

The American crew was still aboard when the City of Flint left there Saturday evening, expressed belief the Americans would be sent home from Murmansk.

Meanwhile, maritime commission officials said that "several" American ships now are being detained for search by the British.

The American government has not recognized the contraband lists of any of the nations now at war and has taken the position that American flag ships may carry anything except arms, ammunition and implements of war, forbidden by the present neutrality act.

British and German contraband lists are so extensive that they include almost anything which might help the other in war.

The Emden's commander declared the City of Flint's cargo of tractors, leather and other shipments consigned to Glasgow and Liverpool was contraband and placed a prize crew on the ship.

Survivors Landed

Norwegian authorities ordered the City of Flint's captors to take her out of territorial waters within 24 hours and a torpedo-boat escorted her beyond the three-mile limit Saturday morning.

She stood by, however, until the late evening when she disappeared in the north.

The survivors from the Stonegate said they had had only a few minutes to leave their ship before she was torpedoed. They were exhausted from their long battle with the North Atlantic when their lifeboats were picked up by the City of Flint.

3 Slain In Reno

RENO, Nev., Oct. 24. (AP)—A middle-aged New York City matron, her estranged husband, and her woman traveling companion were shot to death in Reno today apparently in a case of a double slaying and a suicide.

Mrs. Lillian Hawthorne Webster, the matron, had expected to sue for divorce in Reno tomorrow.

The other shooting victims were Nils Albin Almgen Webster, the husband; and Mrs. Webster's companion, tentatively identified as Louise Schmeltz.

Funeral services for Otis Howard Hendrix, three-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hendrix, who died at 7:30 o'clock this morning at the family residence south of Pampa, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Nazarene church, with Rev. E. W. Robinson, pastor, officiating. Burial will occur in Fairview cemetery.

The infant is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hendrix, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Winton, of Pampa.

Clay Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Divorce Tragedy

Funeral services for Mary Lou Follis, 5-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Follis, 418 Roberts street, were conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Central Baptist church by the Rev. Jno. O. Scott, pastor. Burial was in Fairview cemetery under direction of Duengel-Carmichael Funeral home.

The child died last night in a hospital of a brief illness. Survivors are the parents and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar M. Follis of Pampa.

Hendrix Infant To Be Buried Tomorrow

Funeral services for Otis Howard Hendrix, three-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hendrix, who died at 7:30 o'clock this morning at the family residence south of Pampa, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Nazarene church, with Rev. The captain reported three members of the crew and the English pilot were missing. He said the sinking occurred early today.

LONDON, Oct. 24. (AP)—An admiralty spokesman said today there was "no present confirmation" of a report that the German "pocket battleship" Deutschland had slipped through the British blockade and sunk the British steamship Stonegate.

Naval circles said, however, that the combined navies of the world would be sufficient to put a complete blockade on the Baltic.

Crude Production Up 73,076 Barrels

TULSA, Oct. 24. (AP)—The nation's crude oil production increased 73,076 barrels daily to 3,768,625 for the week ended Oct. 21, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

East Texas production was off 400 to 492,448, but Texas as a whole gained 57,485 to 1,514,588.
