O'Daniel Writes 'No' On Special Session Plans

AUSTIN, Nov. 20 (AP)—Talk of a special tax-raising session of the legislature in the near future was at an end today.

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel said in his Sunday radio address that he had concluded such a session probably would accomplish nothing yet would cost around $200,000 or more.

O'Daniel said he does not intend to call a special session at this time for the purpose of considering social security tax measures.

The governor's announcement came less than 24 hours after a group of state representatives told him that 81 house members, or several more than a majority, had pledged their support in principle of a general tax bill levying chiefly on oil, gas and sulphur.

O'Daniel replied there was considerable difference between supporting a measure in principle and supporting it in fact.

O'Daniel's statement that the people can solve the social security problem in 1940 was a strong indication that no session will be held before next summer.

Pittsburgh Warned Against Sabotage

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20 (AP)—Industrial leaders in this great steel center scrutinized today a warning from Rep. Martin Dies (D. Tex.), chairman of the House committee on un-American activities, that Communist and Nazi agents have planned "sabotage, espionage and labor strife" in local mills.

Subversive agents are already at work here on methods to "halt at all costs" the shipment of arms and other war materials to the Allied armies, Dies said.

The Texan called Pittsburgh, big producer of armaments during the World War, one of the "worst" cities he has encountered "for the amount of known espionage activity."

Oil Wells Ordered Closed Twelve Days In December

AUSTIN, Nov. 20 (AP)—The railroad commission today ordered Texas oil wells closed in 12 days during December in a statewide prorotation order setting a basic daily allowable of 2,140,489 barrels which with shut-ins makes an average daily output of 1,386,429 barrels daily.

The average daily permissible flow of oil is 51,961 barrels below the estimate of December market demand for Texas oil made by the United States bureau of mines.

The shut-in of wells, save those exempted for special reasons, will occur each Saturday and Sunday in December and December 1 and 15.

Under the new order Texas' average daily production will be approximately 122,000 barrels less than the estimated average production of 1,425,000 in November.

A 30-day order was authorized, Chairman Lon A. Smith said, for these reasons:

The December schedule was approved unanimously. Member Ernest O. Thompson said he signed with an understanding East Texas production would be cut back if a decline in bottomhole pressure does not level out soon.

Commissioner Jerry Sadler said he had no comment.

Dallas Lawyer Shot To Death By Woman

DALLAS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Inspector of Detectives Will Fritz said Miss Carrine Maddox, 26, admitted killing Brooks C. Coffman, 40, Dallas attorney, who was shot to death as he walked toward his office early today.

Coffman was under a charge of assault to murder in connection with the recent stabbing of Miss Maddox, daughter of a bank official here, she told officers, after she refused to accompany Coffman to California.

BERLIN, Nov. 20 (AP)—Authorized German sources said today one crewman of a Nazi warplane fired on yesterday while allegedly flying over the Netherlands and "returned seriously wounded after the plane took a circuitous route to its home base."

BERLIN, Nov. 20 (AP)—Beach Conger, correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune, has left Germany with his wife because he considered his usefulness ended by restrictions imposed by Nazi authorities for one of his dispatches.

The dispatch, published last Tuesday, reported among other things alleged discontent among submarine crews in Hamburg. Conger was denied cable, telephone and mail privileges and barred from all conferences.

BERNE, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Swiss government today instructed its minister to Berlin to make "strong representations" to the foreign office against a rash of German anti-aircraft shells in Basel streets Saturday which injured three persons and damaged much property.

BERLIN, Nov. 20 (AP)—Prince August Wilhelm, fourth son of the former Kaiser and a high ranking Nazi storm troop leader, told foreign correspondents today that the Hohenzollerns are solidly behind Germany in the present struggle.

"My entire house," he said, "is absolutely against all efforts to injure Germany, and whatever is against the fuhrer is against Germany."

177 Persons Either Dead Or Missing

Mines Replace Subs As British Coast Menace

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Mines at least temporarily supplanted submarines as the leading sea menace off the British coast today as the floating explosives added still further to the war's greatest week-end toll for merchant shipping.

Nine vessels were reported sunk in the North Sea over the week-end, with 177 persons dead or missing.

The sinking included the 345-ton British trawler Wigmore with a crew of 16 and the 1,287-ton British collier Torchbearer which were disclosed today. Four survivors of the Torchbearer's crew, reported to have numbered 13, were landed at an English port.

The total tonnage of the eight vessels was 27,748. Neutrals were the chief sufferers, losing five ships to Britain's three.

The sunken vessels were: Simon Bolivar, Netherlands, 8,369 tons; Grazia, Italian, 5,857 tons; Blackhill, British, 2,492 tons; B. O. Borjesson, Swedish, 1,586 tons; Carcin Milica, Yugoslav, 6,371 tons;

Kaunas, Lithuanian, 1,521 tons; Torchbearer, British, 1,287 tons; Wigmore, British, 345 tons; Authorities had not computed the full loss of life in the sinking Saturday of the Netherlands liner Simon Bolivar, but the number tentatively at 140. Eleven were believed drowned or killed by explosions aboard the four other ships.

The admiralty accused Germany of laying the mines, and the British press stressed the presence of women and children aboard the Simon Bolivar, bound for the West Indies from Amsterdam.

In Berlin German authorities declared a German mine could not have been responsible for the sinking of the Simon Bolivar.)

Some of the 280 survivors of the Netherlands liner told of harrowing experiences below deck. The time two explosions rocked the ship and she settled in water so shallow her funnels showed.

"It was just like hell," a young Netherlander said. "The first explosion blew me down three decks. I saw people blasted dead, just like knocking down ninepins."

Editorial Briefs

"The Pep rallies to inspire enthusiasm and the welcome given Amarillo were good," said L. L. Sone, superintendent. "The student body should be complimented for its excellent conduct at the Amarillo-Pampa football game."

"We wish to extend our thanks to Lubbock and all the other schools we have played for their treating us so kindly," stated Mr. Sone.

When a student is called out of class for some reason and he leaves his books open, pencil and fountain pen lying nearby, and returns to find everything just as he had left it, that is a real consolation; but the fact remains that this very thing did occur in Pampa High school. That is good evidence of your trustworthiness, students.

Well, another year and Amarillo returned home undefeated. Nevertheless, the Harvesters played a swell game and deserve plenty of credit for it. Some students take a different attitude in the matter. If those people would stop to think back a few games, they too would be congratulating and encouraging the boys.

Boom! Bang! Ouch! Look-out! No, these aren't just words printed for the purpose of showing English students how an exclamation mark may be used, but are just the screaming yells heard over P. H. S. between classes and at noon. Cut the pushing, scrambling, and fighting, boys, and all traffic in Pampa High will improve and yelling will be discontinued.

Has He Hit You Yet?

Everywhere you go you are followed by a mysterious person with a long black object in his hand.

When you reach a darkened part of the school hall, the person comes closer to you—closer behind your back. His hands clutch your arms as your hair stands on end. "Pee-son don't shoot," you ask pleadingly as the firm grip on your arm tightens. The person's mouth comes close to your ear and the words relieve you.

"Do you want to buy an annual?" the person asks, and you postpone payment for your yearbook but the annual staff reports that the deadline for paying the deposit on this year's Harvester is November 29. There are many more annuals to be sold, says Miss Margaret Jones, sponsor of the book.

"The next time a person comes up to you with a receipt book, turn around and say 'Yes, I'll buy one' before the member of the staff asks, 'You want to buy an annual?'"

Walters Speaks To Science Group On Oil Industry

Open Forum Held At Close of Talk

H. G. Walters, geologist for the Texas Oil company in the Panhandle, spoke on geology in connection with the oil industry before the science classes during the second period Thursday in the high school auditorium. His speech dealt with the geological formations of oil and the oil industry in the Panhandle.

According to Mr. Walters the Panhandle was at one time in its geological past a part of a granite ridge completely surrounded by water. Pampa was one of the highest points on the ridge. In time the ridge wore away, however, and water completely covered it. Then a movement of the earth created a pressure that forced the ridge back out of the water and formed layers of granite wash, lime stone, and shale. These layers of granite wash, a porous material, were later to absorb the oil forced into the layers while the hard layers of shale were to keep the oil beneath the surface.

Mr. Walters described to the Panhandle as one of the world's most interesting spots for a geological survey. Already three hundred million barrels of oil have been produced in this area, and daily a billion cubic feet of natural gas is moved, he said. Also he stated that 84.4 per cent of the world's supply of carbon black is manufactured here. To give the students some idea of this huge carbon black output, he said that one per cent of a tire by weight is carbon black.

Near the close of his speech the students took advantage of his suggestion to ask questions of interest about the oil industry.

Sport Lites- By LANE

This paragraph is dedicated to those men on the Harvester squad who are probably the least known to the student body. We are speaking of the managers, Bill Mounts and Bob Ward. Bill has managed the Harvester football team for the past two years and the basketball team last year. This is Bob's first year as a manager, as he played football with the Guerrillas last season. It is the duty of these two boys to keep the equipment of thirty-two boys in shape, and this is some job.

Amnic Day The Harvesters Played Before The Largest Crowd

Amnic day the Harvesters played before the largest crowd they had appeared before the entire season. Eight thousand fourteen fans paid a total of $6,280 to see the Harvesters play the Sandies, and they got their money's worth. The net receipts of the game were divided evenly between the two schools.

Fans are wondering about the date of Pampa's final game with Borger. Coach Mitchell of the Harvesters would like to set the date up to November 23, because they prefer November 23, because they hope for an extra half day out of school.

Now that the football season is drawing to a close sport fans can turn their eyes toward basketball, for in basketball the Harvesters are always supreme. Last season they won district and went a long way in the regional tournament. Basketball will also bring back several familiar faces from the football team. Pete Dunaway, Seth Cox, James Carlisle, Robert Clements, and many more will be back. James plans to be right in there by the time basketball opens, with his foot as good as new.

Lost and Found Reports Success

Jack Moorehead reported the successful operation of the lost and found department in student council meeting last Thursday.

Many articles have been turned in to the department since its recent organization. Purses, hats, belts, scarfs, and even a pair of shoes have been received.

Ross Buzzard, recently elected treasurer of the council, read his fine list. It is the duty of this officer to fine council members for things they do contrary to parliamentary procedure.

Members of the Pampa High school council plan to visit the Amarillo student congress of Amarillo High school, December 6.

A financial report was given by Anna Belle Lard.

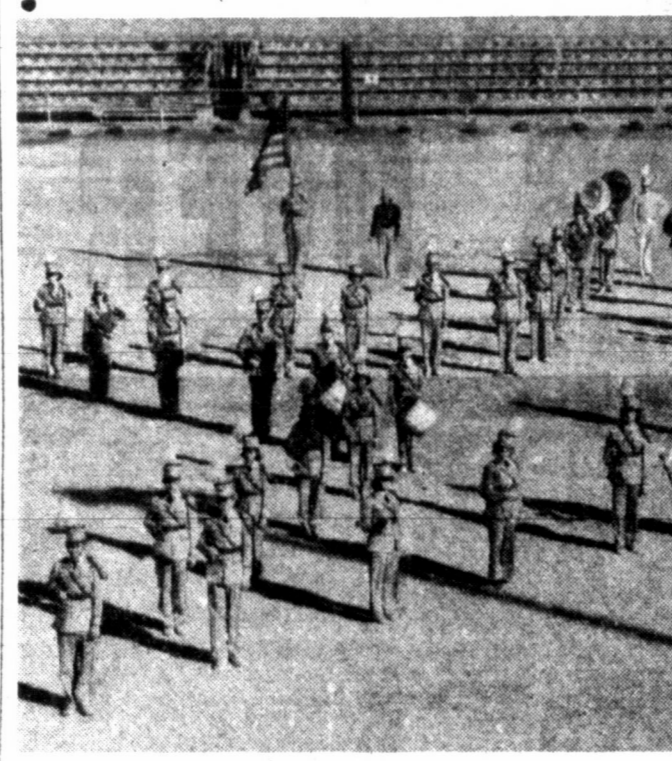

Debaters To Meet Tuesday Afternoon

Members of the debate class will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in room 301, according to F. Shewmaker, sponsor. All material ordered so far this year has come in, explained Mr. Shewmaker, and more progress will be made.

Only seven students have reported for debate, and Mr. Shewmaker urges all boys and girls interested in debate to attend the meeting.

Debate is the only speech activity which carries 1/2 credit toward graduation.

Not The Only Star In Pampa High School

Sagebrush By THE SAGE

A column that is always full of humor would become very monotonous to the reader. The Sage has just decided that this column should be dedicated to the more serious side of life. Partly at least.

The entire staff, student body, and the faculty wish to offer our sympathy to the students of Lubbock High school in the recent loss of their coach and friend, Weldon Chapman.

The Sage uncovered a story accidentally one day last week. It is the story of an act of one of the faculty members. It seems that a certain lady teacher heard that a girl in school could not be in the pep squad because she could not get a suit. This teacher bought a suit for the girl so that she could be in the organization. To this teacher the Sage would award not one but a bouquet of orchids!

And now that the serious mood has passed the Sage will turn to the brighter side of life.

A new club has been formed within the halls of P. H. S. It is known as the Woman Haters club. Members include: Glen Nichols, James Carlisle, Aubrey Green, and Ed Terrell. These boys have definitely sworn off of women, between classes at least.

James Foran has turned domestic on the world, and is now a traitor to his sex. The Sage saw James industriously drying dishes for Margie Williams, and he was wearing the cutest little pink apron, and it was ruffled, too. My, my, henpecked already?

James Evans is one of those persons every one likes to be around. Evans plays the trombone in the band, and is the best of cultivators. He is one of those fellows called "Tubs," too.

Pampa will turn music minded at the Pampa-Borger football game—all four ward schools, Junior High, and the Harvester bands will play at the game.

Miami Defeats 1940 Harvesters 27 to 12

The Miami Warriors defeated the future Harvesters 27-12 in a game played at Miami Thursday afternoon. The future Harvester team was composed of Reapers, Guerrillas, and Harvesters who will be back next year.

With the coaches on the field advising the boys of their faults, the game was largely a scrimmage. Miami scored twice in the first quarter and again immediately after the opening of the second half. Their last touchdown came in the latter part of the game.

Pampa scored their first touchdown in the second quarter after a long pass to Mole worth had placed the ball on Miami's 3-yard line. Propper, Reapers quarterback, plunged for the valley. Their last touchdown came in the closing minutes of the game when Nichols, shifted from center to end, scored on a long pass.

Arthur and Propper of Junior High and Edmondson of the Guerrillas were outstanding prospects in the backfield, while Moleworth, Harvester end, and Louvier, Guerrilla tackle, showed up well in the line.

Teachers Attend Boy Scout Course

Five men teachers in the Pampa school system attended a Boy Scout leadership course given by E. W. Cade, supervisor of instruction, and Fred Roberts, the Adobe Walls Council Scout executive, for the purpose of teaching men interested in Scouting some of its principles and also the methods of operating troops.

J. H. Morehead, Jr., teacher in Senior High school; Jack Davis, Robert Carter, and Flandie Gallman, teachers in Junior High; and Earl Gobble, teacher in Horace Mann school, constituted the teachers taking the course.

Harvester Left End-Kenneth Mullings

Friendly readers, if you will step a little closer, you will notice that the very capable looking person you see in the picture is none other than the Lochinvar of P. H. S., Kenneth Mullings!

Kenneth is playing his first year with the Harvesters. Last year he ably assisted the Guerrilla team by donating his services at an end position. Kenneth has seen much service this year and has played in only one game that he could not walk out of. In the Lubbock game he injured his back in the fourth quarter and had to be carried from the field.

Kenneth is 5 feet, 7 inches tall and there is 160 pounds of beef, bone, and personality packed into his ample frame. He prefers roast beef when it comes to eating, but in the way of entertainment, he will take Martha "Yow Man" Raye in a good movie.

Here's a tip, girls. Kenneth says that a brunette is the only type that takes to first base with him. When asked about his popularity with the girls, Kenneth very emphatically replied, "Well, I'm not so popular with them, but they're shore nuff popular with me."

Kenneth, who is a junior, has not yet made plans for his college career.

Beta Sigma Phi President Speaks To Girl's Group

"Boy and Girl Relations" was the subject discussed by Miss Johnnie Hodge, president of the Beta Sigma Phi society, before the high school girls last Monday.

"When I was in high school I was just as anxious for boys to like me as you are," said Miss Hodge. "First impressions are made by personal appearance. I will repeat what you have heard many times. Practice the regular health habits. It is not what you wear, but how it looks on you that makes you look neat. This helps to stimulate self-confidence. If you feel like you look, you can be so different. Do not let yourself get in your way."

"What kind of a girl does a boy like? Is it the fastest girl, the cutest, the smartest, the most popular, or the girl whose personality is the most pleasing to them?"

According to Miss Hodge, boys prefer the one that is friendly and congenial to others. They discuss other girls to show, it is not too familiar with boys, and is courteous at all places.

The next of these monthly meetings sponsored by the A. A. U. W. will be held December 11. Girls may place their questions in a box in the principal's office. The speaker for next time has not been announced.

West To Speak At Hi-Y Meeting Tomorrow Night

C. D. West, state patrolman, has been invited to speak to the Hi-Y club tomorrow night on "Alcohol and Narcotics" according to Jess Hamilton, program chairman. New members will be accepted at that time.

Maximum membership of the club is 25. Charter members total 14 in number. Just five new members can be taken in at one time, so the full membership will probably not be reached this semester.

Membership committeemen urge that all boys interested in joining the Hi-Y club turn in their names to any Hi-Y member. The candidates for membership will have to be approved by the membership committee and then passed on by a three-fourths majority of the club.

The formal initiation of the new members will be held at the annual Father and Son banquet in December.

A social committee was selected at the meeting Tuesday night. The committee consists of Billy Behrman, chairman; Jack Moorehead, and Tom Johnson.

New Maps In Use In History Classes

"Attempting to teach history without maps is very similar to trying to teach nearly every course without books," said A. L. Stacie, history teacher in Pampa High school, when commenting on the new maps in the history department.

One of the new delineations is an official map issued by the United States government which shows the territorial additions to the continental United States and official government surveys of lands as well as the customary cities, rivers, lakes, and the like. Attached to this map are also smaller maps of the outlying possessions of the United States.

Another variety of map is the blackboard map on which is presented in dim outline all the principal rivers and other tributaries, the important cities, and the chief mountains, in addition to the names of these elements being indicated.

Still another type of map being used this year is the unlettered colored outline map which is written upon with a special kind of colored pencil. The pencil mark is easily erased. Delineations of this sort are very effective in teaching, because the students can actually see the changes and alterations that take place. A map of the United States of this last mentioned type is in Tom Hero's room, and another of Europe, is in J. C. Prepean's room.

Bill Miskimins Will Play Lead in Cast of "Our Town"

Five Students Give Accounts of Roles

Bill Miskimins has been chosen for the main role in "Our Town," the senior play, reported Kenneth Carman, play director. Six other important parts were cast last week.

"Bill serves as narrator, as proprietor of a country drug store, and as a preacher in the marriage scene," stated Mr. Carman. "He is responsible for keeping the play together, arranging the scenes of the stage to show the history of Grover's Corners, New Hampshire, the setting of the play, and is called the stage manager."

"I play the part of Mrs. Gibbs, the 35 to 40 year old wife of Dr. Gibbs," said Jeanne Lively. "I am just a common housewife who cooks three meals a day and is the mother of two children."

"The character I am to portray is Mrs. Gibbs' husband, a country doctor who is just a lovable sort of person to whom we should like to go if in trouble," stated Chester Carpenter.

"I play the part of a conceited little 11 year old girl, Emily Webb, who grows up to high school age, becomes married, but dies at the age of 27 years only to come back and live over one day," said Carolyn Surratt. "I am to be simple, silly, and very common."

Jack Johnson describes his part by saying, "I am to be Emily Webb's father, Mr. Webb, who is editor and owner of the town paper, the Grover's Corners Sentinel."

"I am to characterize Mrs. Webb, a firm, crisp woman about 30 years of age, who has been married ten years and is the mother of two children," reported Jerry Smith.

Aubrey Green is to be George Gibbs, a typical small town high school lad who is interested in football and baseball and makes a decision between college and love," stated Mr. Carman. "Being so unsophisticated and just an average high school boy, he makes the comedy of his very seriousness."

Senior Pictures Now Number 181

Senior pictures taken for the 1940 annual outnumber those of 1939 by more than 50. When last checked on, the total was 181.

"Pictures of the faculty, buildings, classes, class officers and sponsors, Harvesters, Guerrillas, pep squad, and band have been taken," stated Miss Margaret Jones, sponsor of the yearbook. They are to be sent to the engraver's along with the senior pictures this week.

Miss Jones said that additional pictures of activities, clubs, and athletics will probably be taken after Christmas. A pep squad formation will also be taken.

Staff members have completed the dummy and have set the division pages and the back to be used. The snapshot section is incomplete and prints may still be turned in to Miss Jones in room 205 or to a staff member.

About one hundred annuals have been sold to date. The deadline is November 29, and the staff has set its goal at 300.

Craft Committees Working Actively, Says Harry Kelley

Pampa High school's diversified occupations class is one of the 31 in Texas which has all its craft committees working actively, Harry Kelley, Pampa coordinator, stated Friday.

This signifies, Mr. Kelley reported, that the local business men and women have the occupation students' welfare in mind.

Craft committees are made up of local people, and these members of the different committees help those students interested in the vocation at which they hope to make their living. Subjects discussed are: assignments, wage scales, and removals. Help is given to each individual.

Local men on the general advisory committee are Frank Ouberson, chairman, L. L. McCain, Hol Wagner, A. C. Green, and Arthur T. Working. Local women interested in being doctor and dental office assistants are Mrs. E. E. McNutt, Loraine Bastion, and Alberta Latus. The craft committee interested in the machine shop practice students are E. L. Layde, H. H. Boyington, and Dewey Pulmitier. Bill Shook, W. E. Riley, and Hulon Cooper are in the auto mechanics group. The department store management committee is made up of F. C. Johnson, Frank Smith and Frank Hood.

Mr. Kelley will attend a coordinators conference of district four in Lubbock, Saturday. State and district supervisors will attend the meeting.

Clarence Mathews-Harvester Halfback

Tall—well not very, dark—fairly, so—handsome, well now that brings us around to the very fellow we're talking about. Clarence Mathews, who fills one of the halfback slots on the Harvester team, Clarence is a very modest person, as you can tell by the bright crimson color of his nose. He says, "Aw, I'm just lucky. But my good fortune was the bad fortune of someone else." (Meaning Chief Carlisle, whose place he has filled since the Oney game.)

Clarence is playing his second and last year with the Harvesters. The new age limit cut short his football career in P. H. S. He says "I think I will go to school in Casper, Wyoming, next year 'cause you can play football 'til you're 25."

Pampa High was his favorite school until the football team went to Casper, and now P. H. S. has a rival for his favoritism.

When the topic of ears was mentioned, his nose turned even more crimson, and he stated rather emphatically that brunettes get his votes.

While Clarence is not a Davey O'Brien, a Sid Luckman, or a Whitey Herfence, he was one of the most promising players for the next year's squad before the new age limit went into effect.

He says after the Harvester-Bulldog game on Thanksgiving the Turkey had better lay low 'cause he's laying for him.

Guess Who?

Pictured above is one of the most beloved persons in Pampa High school. She can be described in three words—quiet, modest, and efficient. She is a blonde.

Bob Clements and Sherman Gray came to the final decision last week that the caricature looked like Miss Anne Louise Jones, and the staff is entirely in accord with their opinion.

Sudden Death

All over the broad expanse of Texas you see signs that read, "School Zone—Drive Slowly." In a great many cases during the morning and evening hours when school begins and ends, you will see Young America with a red flag stationed at either end of the highway near his school building.

Of course no driver wants to maim or kill one of these little children. But carelessness and negligence and drink can get the job done before its awful reality is registered in your mind.

Your business can't be so rushing, nor your time so valuable that you can't lose the minute or two necessary to observe every rule of precaution near these school buildings. Salute Young America with the red traffic flag. He is the guardian of the men and women of tomorrow.

WAR BOOM FADING (San Bernardino, Calif., Sun) Economists who have looked over the prospects for a war boom in the United States, based on trade with Britain and France after repeal of the arms embargo, are reaching the conclusion that those who expect a repetition of what happened from 1914 to 1918 are to be disappointed.

A YARDSTICK BITES THE DUST (Chicago Tribune) A spell of dry weather has completed the unmaking of the motives of President Roosevelt, Senator Norris, and the other fellow travelers of socialism, who have sunk more than half a billion dollars of tax funds in the Tennessee Valley authority.

Legally, TVA is a navigation and flood control project. That, of course, was only an advanced post to be occupied by the legal skirmishers during the court battles. It was recognized at an early date, of course, that navigation and flood control, legitimate functions of the government, were the real by-products; that the primary interest of the TVA sponsors was hydroelectric power, and the legal activities merely camouflage to conceal the real cost of the power the President falsely labeled a yardstick.

Now water levels in the TVA pools have fallen to a stage where the hydroelectric stations are incapable of supplying the market that has been built up or expropriated from private utilities. TVA has had to resort to steam plant generation to supply that market.

The TVA protagonists' second line of defense has been shattered. TVA was no more a project to develop hydroelectric power than it was a project to improve navigation and provide flood control. It was, purely and simply, a project to put the government in the power business, where it has no constitutional warrant to be, and where the incompetence of political operation will lead it inevitably to failure.

THE IMPORTANCE OF CHARACTER BUILDING INFLUENCE OF THE BIBLE IN SCHOOLS

Inasmuch as our economic trouble is a result of moral decadence and since Germany and Russia have so viciously repressed the moral teachings of the Bible, what a great agnostic, Thomas Huxley, had to say more than half a century ago on the importance of the Bible in schools, is now very timely.

It will be remembered that Mr. Huxley was a member of the London school board and the question was raised concerning the use of the Bible in the schools. It was generally supposed that he would oppose it. In The Contemporary Review for December, 1871, he said:

"I have always been strongly in favor of secular education, in the sense of education without theology, but I must confess I have been no less seriously perplexed to know by what practical measures the religious feeling, which is the essential basis of conduct, was to be kept up in the present utterly chaotic state of opinion on these matters without the use of the Bible. The pagan moralists lack life and color, and even the noble Stoic, Marcus Antonius, is too high and refined for an ordinary child.

"Take the Bible as a whole, make the severest deductions which fair criticism can dictate for shortcomings and positive errors, as a sensible lay teacher would do if left to himself, all that is not desirable for children to occupy themselves with, and there still remains in this old literature a vast residuum of moral beauty and grandeur. And then consider the great historical fact, that for three centuries this book has been woven into the life of all that is best and noblest in English history; that it has become the national epic of Britain, and is familiar to noble and simple from John o' Groat's House to Land's End, as Dante and Tasso were once to the Italians; that it is written in the noblest and purest English, and abounds in exquisite beauties of a merely literary form; and finally, that it forbids the veriest hind who never left his village to be ignorant of the existence of other countries and other civilizations, stretching back to the furthest limits of the oldest nations in the world.

"By the study of what other book could children be so much humanized, and made to feel that each figure in that vast historical procession fills, like themselves, but a momentary space in the interval between two eternities, and earns the blessings or the curses of all times, according to its efforts to do good and hate evil, even as they also are earning their payment for their work?"

The real soul of the Bible was a gradual growth among people to encourage respect for the equal rights of others. As Thomas Huxley so ably pointed out, it is very difficult to conceive how secular education can teach respect for the rights of others without amplifying the spirit and motive expressed in the New Testament and the Ten Commandments.

UNIVERSAL UNIONISM IS WAR

In a speech before the Advertising Club of Los Angeles, James Samuel Knox, president of the Chicago School of Salesmanship and Business, declared that "universal unionism would mean war in America."

What has come to be the main function of unionism is collective bargaining and collective bargaining is just a combination of one group of workers against another group of workers, to prevent them from having equal rights to sell the only thing they have to sell—their services.

Yet men who seek power without responsibility, such as President Roosevelt and former President Hoover, advocate more and more collective bargaining. And these men refuse to answer questions as to how collective bargaining can benefit all the workers.

This country is going through a quiet form of confiscating the rights of men. It is doing it by the belief that wages can be raised by collective bargaining and that taxes can be levied without working a hardship on labor.

We have been trying this policy for a quarter of a century. The real results of the policy came into effect after 15 years. The last 10 years we have been reaping the results from belief in collective bargaining, belief in ability to pay tax theory and belief that bankers can be permitted to synthetically create credit. There is not much chance of returning to a constantly increasing standard of living as we had prior to the time when these beliefs came into operation—until we learn that so-called collective bargaining is war, as James Knox so ably stated to the Advertising Club.

Mr. Knox also pointed out that Edison increased the world's wealth by $60,000,000,000 by his inventions. He inquired whether this can be regarded as exploiting workers and his answer, of course, was no. He also stated that we can say the same thing about Ford, General Motors and Chrysler.

The sooner we learn that better wages are paid because of inventions and the accumulation of capital and good management and in spite of collective bargaining, the better off we will be.

THE DAILY TAKE

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 20—Show business being what it is—a world of make-believe and artifice—it seems fair enough for people to use equally harmless deceptions to get themselves jobs in the movies or on the stage. And a great many of them have done it. Miriam Hopkins, Clark Gable, Gary Cooper, Claudette Colbert and Greta Garbo are a few who helped themselves by misrepresenting their experience.

Recently Samuel Goldwyn, who has done a little innocuous hoaxing in his time, was fooled by an attractive "unknown" who called herself Doris Jordan. In this case, though, it was Miss Jordan's strategy to disclaim any previous experience. She didn't want the producer to know that she once had failed in Hollywood.

Actually she had been one of the select troupe of Goldwyn Girls, six years ago, and after that had played extra and bit roles for several seasons. Her name was Doris Davenport, but she changed it, went to New York and became an advertising model. A scout for David Selznick saw and tested her for the role of Scarlett O'Hara, but nothing happened until eight months later, when Goldwyn saw the test and decided she was just what he needed for the film lead opposite Gary Cooper in "Vivacious."

He didn't know then that his new "discovery" was a former employee. Miss Wyman serenely. "The Lyceum theater was turned into a warehouse nine years ago, so Mr. Lytell couldn't have played in it either."

INGENUOUS FOOLS BROADWAY PRODUCER On Broadway, reports Irving Hoffman, there's an ingenue named Robin Raymond who should go far in Hollywood. When George Abbott was casting a new play, "See My Lawyer," the girl breezed into his office and introduced herself as an actress who had appeared in the movie version of "Golden Boy."

Abbott hired her, under the name she had given, and the play went into rehearsal. Other members of the cast became suspicious when "Golden Boy" was released in New York and they noticed that she bore no resemblance to the girl in the picture. The ingenue laughed it off—said it was just a good job of makeup and dyed hair and some padding here and there.

Came the opening night of "See My Lawyer," and the girl asked Abbott to list her on the program as "Robin Raymond." She confided that she had had some contract trouble with her studio and didn't want to use her real name. So the play opened, and she drew good notices. Then she admitted that never in her life had she ever been inside a Hollywood studio, or on a stage, either.

There are now 337,366 Indians in the United States, as compared with 298,000 in 1900. The best way to retain most of the nutrients of the potato is to cook it in its jacket. Wallace had to put up a stout argument against it. He insisted that if the farmer was not assured of at least the "loan price" of his cotton there would be a lot of panicky selling of this year's crop.

How quickly the autumn darkness surrounds the golden trees, and another day from forever sweeps into history. The hint and hush of the winter comes down the pensive air, as we pause at the season's threshold through which our journeys fare. Well there's a bit of verse for those who like verse, and for those who don't we might say that the first snow of winter, if you take it on the average, is long overdue, and we can't expect these perfect days to continue. There have been more quiet, Indian summer days than you can remember. Snow used to have a habit of falling early in the Panhandle. Fifty years ago on Oct. 31 which was Halloween a snow blizzard swept over the Panhandle. We know that to be so because it was Halloween day, 1889 when a certain beloved Pampa woman came to the Panhandle. Many times it has snowed in October. Dr. Morris Fishbein We can do much to prolong our lives and to prevent heart disease by maintaining suitable hygiene, including control of diet, exercise, work, sleep, relaxation, and rest. For the person who already has a heart disease or weakness, there is also some important advice. Sir Clifford Allbutt, one of the greatest British authorities on heart disease, used to say to the young physicians who studied with him, "Tell a patient with heart disease to find out what he can do and do it; tell him to find out what he cannot do and never do it."

The one most important rule for prolonging life in the case of people with heart disturbances is to keep all their activities within the capacity of the weak organ. This means that people with heart disease should avoid any kind of work that involves sudden effort, such as lifting heavy weights, the constant use of the arms in swimming—even sweeping and hammering. Any exercise that the patient can take without becoming short of breath or feeling a pain may be helpful. The first prescription, however, is rest. To provide rest for a weakened heart, we must consider what causes strain.

An excess of fluids in the body, an excess of food that must be digested, an excess of muscular endeavor of any kind, and excess of emotional tension will make work for the heart, speed up its rate, and endanger the life of any one whose heart is not up to normal capacity. A doctor can prescribe drugs which induce sleep and lower the tension of the nervous system. He can also prescribe drugs which slow the rate of the heart and strengthen its beat. Every drug, however, is capable of harm as well as good; no drug should ever be taken in case of disturbed action of the heart unless prescribed specifically by the doctor after the patient has undergone a careful examination.

Few people realize that worry is bad for the heart. In fact, worry over the condition of the heart may actually lead people to feel symptoms that do not exist. Women frequently complain of palpitation of the heart, which turns out usually to be something wrong with the mental and nervous system. We now have tests for measuring not only the size of the heart and detecting the character of the heart beat but also for measuring the capacity of the heart to do its work. Such tests made by competent doctors are of the utmost importance in determining how much work a heart can do, and in regulating the routine of the patient to ensure him the longest possible life expectancy.

The annual Christmas shopping early has begun, but the stores on Saturday, Dec. 23, will probably be just as jammed with riotous last-minute shoppers as they always are just before the holidays.

This is too bad, because merchants can't very well save their choicest merchandise for the convenience of harassed eleventh-hour buyers. It is also a pretty well established fact that getting your toes stepped on and your hat pushed down over your face amid the frenzy of late shopping doesn't help to develop Christmas spirit. And salespersons who should be singing Christmas carols and hanging holly wreaths will probably spend Christmas Eve with their feet in a mustard bath.

Folks who have tried checking off their two eastern collectors early have found the holiday season to be a lot less strenuous, and a lot more fun. The day will come, says an engineer, when baseball will be played in a clubhouse. Fans will be persuaded to toss roses instead of pop bottles at the umpire. Eleven highway patrolmen in California were injured while testing applicants for driving licenses. It's a lot safer just to go out after public enemies.

Arizona Indians, after getting outlawed a statute forbidding issuance of hunting licenses to them, now face another old statute forbidding sale of firearms to Redmen. They should be thankful they still have their teeth.

An agreement has been signed between two eastern collectors who have consented to exchange goal posts after a football game on a gentlemanly basis. No more riots, and the end of another Golden Era in college football. A burglar ransacked the second story of a home while the mayor was addressing a gathering downstairs on "City Government." You and Your Nation's Affairs

U. S. NOT "LEFT HOLDING THE BAG" By WALTER E. SPAHR Professor of Economics, New York University

In an earlier article I mentioned briefly a notion, being expressed with increasing frequency, that unless we do something to stop the influx of gold other nations would be stripped of it and may repudiate it with the consequence that we may be "left holding the bag" with a huge stock of gold on our hands which will depreciate sharply.

This notion rests upon a failure to understand the things: (1) what it is that gives gold its value; (2) what the price of gold means; and (3) that many nations have already "repudiated" gold in so far as they can. Each of these points deserves examination.

1. The notion that gold will lose its value if other nations abandon the gold standard grows out of an unwarranted assumption that fundamentally gold gets its value from its use as a monetary standard and as a money. Just as there is true gold attained in its intrinsic value—the value it has for other than monetary uses, and the history of the use of gold as money is quite clear on the point that gold has been used as a money because of its intrinsic value—the value it has for other than monetary uses.

2. No power can affect our price of gold so long as we are a sovereign nation. We alone fix the price. Our price of gold is nothing but a question of the number of grains of gold dollars we decide to specify for our gold dollar. Since an ounce of gold has in it 480 grains, our price of gold was $20.67 per fine ounce when our dollar contained 23.22 grains, and it is $35 per ounce because, since devaluation in 1934, our dollar has had in it 1205 grains.

The names, at least, of some of the largest dams in the United States are familiar to most people. Try to identify the dam indicated in each group below. The state in which the dam is located and the river on which the dam is built are the key to the answer.

2. Workers completed the dam in 1936. It is on the Arizona-Nevada border, on the Colorado river.
3. The dam is in Arizona, on the Salt river.
4. The dam is in Washington, on the Columbia river.
5. The dam was completed in 1936. It is in Tennessee on the Clinch river.

3 Men Leave For 2 Years In Jungles

LAREDO, Nov. 20 (AP)—Three men on horseback started a 3,000-mile journey to the jungles of South America today, bent on catching rare specimens of wild life for the San Antonio Zoological association. They crossed the border into Mexico this afternoon, accompanied by a pack mule carrying their supplies. The men were Capt. H. R. Leighton, explorer and geologist from Los Angeles; Edgar Thatcher, former U. S. army officer, and Denver Steed, of New Brunswick, N. J. They also will spend their time doing field work for the Rutgers university and other zoological societies. The men will travel to Mexico City via the Pan-American highway, and then over all kinds of roads, and through jungles into Colombia, their destination. The trip, they figured, will take more than two years.

Hobby Courses Urged

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 20 (AP)—A prominent educator today recommended that courses in the selection and pursuit of hobbies be made a part of the nation's college curriculum. The recommendation came from Dr. Samuel N. Stevens, dean of the university college at Northwestern University, who said that a hobby may keep a man broke, but it will also keep him mentally alive. Pampa Will Have Baseball Team In 1940

Eight Teams Sign Up For Next Season

Pampa will have professional baseball again in 1940. The Pampa Oilers, who placed second in the league playoff this year, will again represent Pampa in the league. Manager Grover Seitz informed President Milton Price at a meeting of league officials in Amarillo yesterday.

The same eight teams that closed the 1939 season—Pampa, Borger, Lubbock, Amarillo, Big Spring, Lamesa, Midland and Clovis, N. M.—will comprise the league and play will begin on April 23 and close on Labor Day, Sept. 2. Again 140 games will be played.

At the league meeting yesterday members voted to increase the player limit from 14 to 15 players and to increase the salary limit from $1,000 to $1,200 a month, exclusive of the manager. The six-rookie limit was retained, thus allowing each team six non-rookies, or players who have had less than three years' experience in professional baseball, and three class men, or players who have had more than three years' experience.

Borger Opens Here

By a vote of 6 to 2, it was agreed that the teams will play a split schedule with a modified Shaughnessy playoff as was the case last year when necessitated by transfer of Abilene's franchise to Borger.

The first-place club at the end of the first half of the schedule will be assured a place in the play-off at the close of the season. The other three contenders for playoff honors will be determined during the second half of the schedule. Amarillo and Lamesa voted for a full-length schedule instead of the split season plan.

Clovis will open at Amarillo, Borger at Pampa, Lamesa at Lubbock, and Midland at Big Spring. The league also voted to play July Fourth doubleheaders at Amarillo, Lubbock, Clovis, and Big Spring.

A meeting will be held in March to arrange the playing schedule for the 1940 season.

Those attending the meeting: Bob Seeds, Don Howard, Neal Rabe, W. W. Finch, George Locke, "Doc" Jones, G. S. Nealey, and J. E. Wood, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Rego, Big Spring; Bob Linder, Bob Take-well, Bob Gilms, Austin Collard, R. E. Penland, and Roy Story, Borger; W. L. (Scotty) Price, and R. C. Johnson, Clovis; S. P. Collins and Jodie Tate, Lamesa; Arthur Hale, Collier Parris, and Sied Allen, Lubbock; Claude C. Duffy, Bob Myer, and Sammy Hate, Midland; Harold Miller, Grover Seitz, and Lloyd Summers, Pampa.

DiMaggio Off On Auto Honeymoon

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, the famous Fresno fisherman's son who battled his way to baseball fame, was off on an automobile honeymoon tour today with his actress bride, the former Dorothy Ardmore Olson.

The bride is known in New York and Hollywood as Dorothy Arnold.

The DiMaggiros will make their home in San Francisco.

Play in the Pampa Country club Winter Tournament will swing into the final round this week with Jim Richesin and Floyd Ward meeting in the championship flight.

Ted Hagbig won by default as did Bill Speed and they'll meet in the finals of the first flight.

It took Frank Showell 19 holes to defeat E. Gee in the top bracket of the second flight. Pat Ponton had to go the same distance with Pete Barfield before winning.

Trojan Stars--Lansdell, A Clothes Model, Smith, A Janitor

Grenville Lansdell, left, Southern California's triple-threat quarterback, gets a hero's escort as he strolls with a bevy of pretty co-eds. Harry (Blackjack) Smith, right, All-America guard, helps pay school expenses working as part-time janitor on the campus. Lansdell and Smith are big reasons why Troy again is Rose Bowl bound.

By JERRY BRONDSFIELD
NEA Service Sports Writer

Grenville Lansdell nearly died of scarlet fever while in high school. His mother refused to let him go out for football when he recovered. He threatened a hunger strike... carried it out for one day.

Southern California's tri-threat quarterback became a blocking back for Pasadena High school and his team lost every game that season.

The following season he was switched to quarterback where he learned to pass and kick, preparing him for the Trojan system where the quarterback does most of the ball-carrying.

Twenty-one years old, six feet tall and weighing 185 pounds, Lansdell is a handsome chap who worked during the summer for Los Angeles men's clothing firm... where he was used considerably as a model.

Senior, majoring in banking and finance, plans to go into business in Pasadena.

Member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Considered something of a "screwball" but very popular with both sexes... Outside of football, tennis is his hobby. Plays it well.

Extremely nervous before game, but shakes it off with kickoff. Key man in Trojan offense. Lansdell got big chance as sophomore two years ago... against Notre Dame, of all times and his brilliant play tabbed him as a star.

Harry Smith decided when he was 13 years old that he some day would play for Southern Cal and become a good public speaker. He already has reached one objective and is well on his way to the other.

Twenty-one years old, five feet 11 inches and weighs 216 pounds.

Plenty fast and leads interference.

Started playing football at age of six in home town, Ontario, Calif.

In 1931, when Trojans ended Notre Dame winning streak with a 14-14 last-year victory. Plays it well.

Extremely nervous before game, but shakes it off with kickoff. Key man in Trojan offense. Lansdell got big chance as sophomore two years ago... against Notre Dame, of all times and his brilliant play tabbed him as a star.

A senior, he is majoring in speech with physical education as his minor. Has hopes of landing combination coaching-speech instruction job. This punctuated-looking, but really mild-mannered youth, helps earn school expenses by working evenings as part-time janitor in science building, and as house manager for Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Spent first half of last summer tending crates of cantaloupes around in Imperial valley and last half as movie extra. There's never a dull moment for the Trojan War Horse.

District Championships To Be Decided This Week

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff

Seven of the district champions are expected to be known after this week in the Texas Schoolboy football race.

Sulphur Springs and Waco already have clinched their titles and five others will be determined during sensational upsets.

Four of the state's undefeated, united teams have conference games: El Paso high playing Austin (El Paso), Breckenridge meeting Mineral Wells, South Park clashing with Livingston and Austin tussling with San Antonio Tech. Sweetwater and Gainesville rest this week.

Play starts early this week with Athens meeting Texarkana at Texarkana tomorrow night in a district 11 conference tilt. Wednesday finds Longview playing at Marshall in the same district and Woodrow Wilson clashing with Sunset in the Dallas district.

Only Two Small Boys Menace Aggies' Glory

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Only two small boys stand between iron-fisted Texas A. & M. and the glories of an unbeaten season.

One is a grand 145-pounder who doesn't even bother to wear shoulder pads. The other, a bow-legged cotton-top, is just about the most dangerous runner in college football.

On Thanksgiving day—the old-fashioned Nov. 30 one—the Aggies come face-to-face with the cowboy Jack Crain-Gilly Davis problem. It's a slick "litt'l brother" act. Two kids who are just as liable to come bolting out of a crack in the line and bound 65 yards for a touchdown as look you in the eye.

Each one of the University of Texas Rascals, most of them sophomores, is this breathless pair. Twelve touchdowns have been carted across by the Nocona cowboy and Davis. Eighty points is their total; in the most sensational Southwest conference battle of modern times. It went like this: Crain dodged 66 yards for a touchdown on the game's first scrimmage play. Davis passed to Crain for a touchdown. Davis, a muddly marvel, erased an 18-19 deficit in the shadowy finish with a 66-yard touchdown center; Davis, on the last play of the game, stretched his five feet, five inches to haul down a T. C. U. pass on his own goal line and race 58 yards before being jockeyed out of bounds.

Coach D. X. Bible needed a full-back who could kick when sophomore Pete Layden's leg went sour. Davis took his 145 pounds right into the vacancy. Only a jersey draped his shoulders—pads bither him when he pounded smack into the middle of the 200-pound average Christian line and swept the ends. And he made yards.

Boots 387 Yards

Mud caked his tiny feet, but he mudded every Texas kick for a fine average of 38.7 yards.

Crain didn't shoot his bolt on that opening 66-yard thrust. He was good for many more yards—and Davis if they want to spend New Year's day in the Rose or Sugar Bowl.

Too, the Aggies have a remarkable pass defense record, permitting only 356 yards. To knock down Texas aerials and chase Crain and memphis, Tenn., Nov. 20 (AP)—Next season's football players may be made to undergo a new type of examination to determine whether they will develop "athlete's heart" from violent physical exercise.

Dr. Dan G. Stine of the University of Missouri described today before a preliminary session of the Southern Medical Association's annual meeting, a test which measures the ability of a heart to compensate for the severe strain put on it.

About ten percent of 400 athletes examined were found to have developed chronic enlargement of the heart, he declared. All these vigorous young men showed either specific damage to the heart or inability of the heart to return to normal rest after exercise due to damage to the nerves which control the heart, lungs, stomach and abdominal organs. Some also had defects in the heart valves.

The test consists of placing a stethoscope with a long rubber tube on the chest. Then as the person alternately stands and squats to his heels, the doctor listens to the increase of his heart rate and the rapidly with which it returns to normal when he is exhausted.

The heart of a normal person beats about 75 times per minute. The heart of a trained athlete will rise quickly by from 10 to 30 beats per minute while in an untrained athlete the rise is from 30 to 50 beats per minute.

In a person with athlete's heart this velocity increases beyond the normal control level of about 120 beats per minute, seemingly without being in check by the vagus nerve which comes back to normal very slowly after exercise.

Dr. Stine declared that he believed the test to be one "which is easily done and gives definite information regarding the ability of the heart to cope with work."

Dozen Teams On Unbeaten List

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Football's select circle of unbeaten and united teams said goodbye to the Manchester (Ind.) eleven Saturday—and that left an even dozen yet to be halted this season.

Mighty Tennessee, the nation's top ranking team, according to the Associated Press weekly polls, continued at the head of the list with its 13-0 win over Vanderbilt. It was the Vols' 21st game without defeat over a three-year span.

Longest winning streak this year is that of the Jose State team of California which took its 11th victory over Loyola, 10-0.

Davey O'Brien Completes 21 Of 36 Passes

CHICAGO, Nov. 20 (AP)—Professional football's glamour boys—the Davey O'Briens, Parker Halls and Sid Luckmans—are finding fame in the cash-and-carry game no harder to achieve than in the college end. They are stealing the headlines from the seasoned veterans and, in some instances, proving themselves a big help in championship battles.

Parker Hall, All-America back at Mississippi a year ago, turned yesterday's game into a one-man show as his Cleveland Rams thrashed the Detroit Lions, 14 to 3, dropping the losers to their fourth straight western division of the National League.

Hall accounted for both touchdowns with deft aerial pitching, and connected for 16 passes in 25 attempts.

But even this performance was below that of little Davey O'Brien, Texas Christian All-America of 1938, who completed passes all over the field in vain for the Philadelphia Eagles. O'Brien connected for 21 out of 36, but the Eagles lost to the Chicago Bears 27 to 14.

Osmanski ran 65 yards for the first touchdown. Luckman's passing and kicking were outstanding.

Green Bay smashed Brooklyn, 28 to 9, and favored to win the western division title.

In the eastern division Washington and New York maintained their stalemate for the top spot. The Giants disposed of the Pittsburgh Pirates, 23 to 7. Washington breezed to a 28 to 7 decision over the Cardinals.

Class B Title To Be Decided At LeFors

LEFORS, Nov. 20 (NS)—A district football championship will be decided here Thursday afternoon when the LeFors Pirates and the Miami Warriors meet to decide the Class B title in the northeast section of the Panhandle. Game time will be 2:30 o'clock with admission 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

These same two teams battled to a scoreless tie early in the season. They then dropped them into a second place tie with Stinnett on top of the heap but on last Friday Stinnett lost to Higgins and Miami and LeFors took over the lead.

Both teams feature speed and deception to offset lack of weight. There's scheduled to be plenty of passing and a lot of tricky running as the lightweights battle for supremacy.

LeFors will feature the passing of Twigg and the running of Ammons and Atkinson. Miami will use little Eitzen, quarterback, as a passing and running threat assisted by Newman and Cunningham.

Both lines have outstanding players. LeFors featuring Earhart, Libby and Goulayk while Miami's Locke, Booth and Ellis have been standouts all season.

The game will be the only one played in this section on the "new" Thanksgiving Day and the largest crowd of the season is expected to witness the title clash.

Clark Griffith 70 Years Old

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Clark Griffith—one of the grand old men of baseball—got a laugh on his 70th birthday anniversary today out of this question: "When were you born?"

If you had the 70 years to live over again, what would he be? "Baseball," he said, "would do."

There's scarcely a man in any branch of American sports whose life has been more wrapped up in his game than that of the white-haired president of the Washington Senators. Until 1907, Griffith was one of the best hurlers in baseball. In his early teens, Griffith and some other boys pooled their pennies to buy a dollar ball. The boy who went on horseback to make the purchase handed over the ball and galloped away. The first time one of the lads hit the ball it broke wide open. The horseback rider had bought a 25-cent ball and pocketed the change.

Ever since then, Clark Griffith has been a baseball fan. He is up to baseball, and that, they are not all on the diamond.

The game calls him "the old fox." At 70 he is feeling fine. His golf game is in the 80's.

"I've never," he said, "my score's going to be lower than my age."

Coloradoan Leads Nation In Scoring

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—If the people of Golden, Colo. elect Coach Johnny Mason mayor, they will have to erect a statue to his ablest pupil, Lloyd Madden.

For while Mason has tutored Colorado Mines into its first conference football title in decades, Madden has given the school its first national football scoring lead-off in history.

The husky Colorado halfback, in eight games, has punched across 19 touchdowns and booted three extra points for a total of 117 points. That gives him leadership over Don Leberum, Manchester (Ind.) captain, who also has made 19 touchdowns, but who has no conversions to his credit.

Leberum had been the scoring leader almost since the start of the season.

Tommy Harmon, Michigan's great back, leads the major college outfits with 93 points, made up of 13 touchdowns, 12 conversions and one field goal in seven games.

Sixth among the eleven leaders was Jack Crain, of the University of Texas, with 8 touchdowns and 8 points after touchdowns for a total of 56 points in 8 games.

Borger Will Decide Game Date Tonight

The "let's go" sign was hung out for the Pampa Harvesters at the high school today which meant that a week of rest is over and this afternoon work for the game with the Borger Bulldogs will begin.

Date of the game has not yet been decided but action is expected to be taken tonight by the Borger school board which will make the final decision. Pampa officials have suggested that the game be played on Friday afternoon of this week instead of on November 30.

The Harvesters are safely entrenched in third place in the district lineup both in season and conference play. A win over Borger would leave them in the same position but a loss would put them in a tie with Plainview in the conference race and shove them into fourth place in the season standing.

Amarillo and Lubbock are in the lead and they will meet November 30 in Amarillo to decide the conference championship.

Although a week of rest is over, the Harvesters are taking the game seriously. In the past Borger teams have been known to rise to heights of achievement and with the material available in the land of the Bulldogs, this might be the season.

The long rest after the Amarillo game has put the Harvesters back in shape. They worked out only once last week, to limber up stiff muscles.

The conference standing-to-date follows:

Last Week's Results:
Lubbock 14, Hobbs, N. M. 0.
Hollis, Okla. 12, Plainview 14.
Borger 0, Amarillo 45.

Enough To Cause Dash Into Burning Building!

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 20 (AP)—Scantly-clad occupants of the Lexington College of Music building were routed by an early-morning fire.

Among them was Mrs. Mary Barnett, 24, who, upon reaching safety, discarded warnings of firemen and dashed back into the burning structure. She emerged a few minutes later.

Triumphantly, she waved two tickets to the Kentucky-Tennessee football game Nov. 30 which she had left in her room.

According to scientists, trees grow more during years of great sunspot activity.

2,480 Miles Of Roads Improved In Texas In Year

AUSTIN, Nov. 20 (AP)—The statistical picture of road building activity in Texas last fiscal year shows 2,480 miles of improvements added to the state's expanding network of arteries which stretched over the commonwealth for 22,275 miles on Aug. 31.

Reconstruction and additions to the system cost $31,321,706 while total disbursements of the department, by far the state's biggest and one which operates on a cash basis, were $48,211,450. Moreover, the department ended the year with a cash balance of $4,733,753.

During the year 891 projects, including 70 large bridges and 10 grand crossings, were completed, adding to the system 753 miles of grading, 1,185 miles of gravel and caliche surfacing, 1,152 miles of asphalt surfacing and 188 miles of concrete and brick surfacing. Highway protection devices and landscape projects added to the picture.

At the end of the year there were 516 bridges, including 49 large bridges and 18 grade separations, totalling 1,692 miles under construction. Highway department revenue is derived from a 2-cent state tax on each gallon of gasoline—after deduction of collection costs and payment of refund claims—and from 60 per cent of motor vehicle license fees. In addition, the federal government's state highway fund contributes to Texas road construction. Total receipts last year were $43,409,039.

The average cost per mile of maintenance of all state roads has steadily decreased, reaching a net of $289.92 last year. In 1930 it was $413.80.

FDR Arouses More Third Term Guesses: By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL. HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 20 (AP)—Another wave of speculation over President Roosevelt's intentions roiled along today in the wake of a speech in which he expressed the hope his collections and papers would be ready for "public inspection and use" by the spring of 1942.

In a bantering mood yesterday at the site of the library that will house the private papers of his public life, the President said he hoped "my good friends of the press" would give due interpretation to the exhibition roiled along today in the wake of a speech in which he expressed the hope his collections and papers would be ready for "public inspection and use" by the spring of 1942.

The remark was interpolated in the library cornerstone on the Roosevelt estate and interpreted by newspaper reporters as meaning the President actually is enjoying all the hullabaloo over whether he will aim for a third term.

ACC Buys 2,200 Pounds Of Beef For Homecoming

Special To The NEWS: ABILENE (ACONS)—Twenty-two hundred pounds of beef "on the hoof" has been purchased by Abilene Christian college for the West Texas barbecue, a traditional highlight of Homecoming, Nov. 24 and 25.

Last year a record crowd of 2,000 ex-students and friends were present for this feed and the other events of the Homecoming program. Officials predict this year's crowd will exceed all previous records.

Invitations numbering 6,250 have been mailed to ex-students living in practically every state of the Union, urging them to join the ex-students' pilgrimage back to their alma mater November 24 and 25.

Featured events of the program include the huge bon-fire and pep rally Friday night; ex-students' chapel, free barbecue, organization meetings, and the A C C football game with McMurry college, Saturday.

A C C is sponsoring a reunion of students from Christian college formerly located in the southwest in connection with the Homecoming. Some of these institutions which were forerunners of A C C are: Thorp Springs, Lingville, Cleburn, Gunter, Terrell, Lockney, Sabine, and Cordell (Okla.) Christian colleges.

Dr. Rainey Praises Noted Atom-Smasher: AUSTIN, Nov. 20 (AP)—A non-committal statement, high in praise of Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence of the University of California, came today from Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of the University of Texas, in response to reports the Texas school had offered to employ the noted California atom-smasher.

Dr. Rainey said he had once visited the physicist, who recently won the Nobel peace prize, and added: "I go without saying that any university would be honored to have Dr. Lawrence as a member of its staff. His work as physicist has attracted international attention and the recent award of the Nobel prize is but another indication of the marked scientific contributions he has made."

Dr. Lawrence was reported to have said he had received an attractive offer from the Texas institution, but was considering it only with the thought that the construction of a gigantic cyclotron might not materialize at once at the University of California.

Bureau Announces Census Managers For Texas Areas

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The appointment of 150 area managers and assistant managers who will direct the taking of the 1940 census was announced today by the census bureau.

They will open area offices early next month in 105 cities. Each area will contain from five to eight census districts, which in turn will be divided into enumeration districts, of which there will be 143,000. District supervisors and enumerators have not yet been selected.

The training of district supervisors, enumerators and clerks will be part of the job of the area manager, who also will correlate the census returns before they are forwarded to Washington.

Thirty-five of the managers and assistant managers named today were permanent employees of the census bureau who were brought to Washington for training, generally from the area to which they have been assigned. About 50 assistant managers remain to be named. Their salaries range from $175 to $350 a month.

Among the appointments were (in some cases two areas will have headquarters in the same city): Texas: Dallas—M. Marshall, Chico, assistant; J. H. Newell, Dallas; Amarillo—W. S. Ruffner, Lubbock; assistant; L. G. Rainey, Childress; Waco—W. Woods, San Marcos, assistant; N. Little, Austin, assistant; not yet appointed; San Antonio—J. L. Lewis, San Antonio, assistant; not yet appointed. New Mexico: Albuquerque—C. L. Hudson, Washington, no assistant.

Belligerents Detain 44 American Ships

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—State department officials disclosed today that 44 American flag ships had been detained by belligerent nations since the outbreak of the war, but indicated they expected the number of such incidents to decrease sharply in the future.

They believe that operation of United States merchant vessels in the combat zone will preclude virtually all such cases in the future. The state department records for detention of ships between September 1 and November 17 showed that all had been released except one and that was detained by the British only yesterday. Four of the 44 ships detained by the belligerents for search of their cargoes for possible contraband were stopped twice, making a total of 48 cases.

The majority of the detentions—33—have been made by Great Britain. France made 10 detentions, Germany four and a belligerent vessel of unidentified nationality searched one ship.

To date, there have been no formal claims made for loss of cargo. Consequently, an accurate total on the amount of goods seized during these detentions is lacking.

The United States recognizes the right of belligerents to search neutral ships to determine whether contraband is carried.

Food Stamp Plan Faces Death In City of Nativity: ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 20 (AP)—The federal surplus commodity corporation's food stamp plan conceived in Washington, born in Rochester, and dedicated to the nation's poor—today faces sudden death Dec. 1 in the city of its nativity.

Uncle Sam, angered at the Rochester Clearing House association decision to assess a one per cent charge for cashing the food stamps, of which the government gives one free for every two sold to relief clients, declared "make the charge and we will abandon the plan."

Dr. Rainey Praises Noted Atom-Smasher

AUSTIN, Nov. 20 (AP)—A non-committal statement, high in praise of Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence of the University of California, came today from Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of the University of Texas, in response to reports the Texas school had offered to employ the noted California atom-smasher.

Dr. Rainey said he had once visited the physicist, who recently won the Nobel peace prize, and added: "I go without saying that any university would be honored to have Dr. Lawrence as a member of its staff. His work as physicist has attracted international attention and the recent award of the Nobel prize is but another indication of the marked scientific contributions he has made."

Dr. Lawrence was reported to have said he had received an attractive offer from the Texas institution, but was considering it only with the thought that the construction of a gigantic cyclotron might not materialize at once at the University of California.

The cyclotron is an atom-smashing machine which he has used in his experiments. He now uses a 225-ton machine but envisions a 2,000-ton smasher.

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 20 (AP)—The University of Texas is bidding for the services of Dr. Ernest Orlando Lawrence, 38-year-old University of California scientist, who won the Nobel prize for physics this month for his work in devising and using an "atom smashing" machine known as a cyclotron.

"It is true," Doctor Lawrence said, "that the University of Texas has made me a most attractive offer."

The physicist disclosed that the Texas institution, fabulously rich because of its ownership of oil fields and other Texas lands, had offered him a large increase in salary, and proposed to build for him a cyclotron more than 13 times as large as the 225-ton one he now has.

SERIAL STORY

5 WOULD KILL BY TOM HORNER

Copyright, 1939, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday Dawson sends Flynn to find the taxi driver, Nick Smith, then questions Mrs. Benthorpe. She admits that she had quarreled with her husband, had sent for her father, she also admitted she is an excellent pistol shot.

CHAPTER V

"I AM NOT accusing anyone of Arnold Benthorpe's murder," yet," Captain Dawson said. "The fact that you once captured a pistol team does not make you a killer. I could have found out from the records anyway, but I prefer to have you tell me."

Helen Benthorpe sobbed into the back of her chair. "Oh—I can't—I can't stand any more!" Gently, Dawson lifted her to her feet. "I know, I know," he said soothingly. "You may go upstairs now, try to get some rest."

"YOU called for me Captain Dawson?" Jameson bowed slightly as he entered the room. Dawson stopped his pacing across the study floor. "Yes," he snapped. "Where were you when Benthorpe was shot?"

"I had just left Mr. Alston in the back entry, sir," Jameson said. "I wanted to take his things—his wet coat and hat—but he seemed to be in a hurry. I knew Mrs. Benthorpe was expecting him—she had asked me to be sure he got in the back way all right. He—Mr. Alston—seemed quite upset, if I may say so, sir."

"You may, what did Alston do?" Dawson asked. "He started up the back stairway—she closed to Mrs. Benthorpe's room—and told me to go to bed. And he told me not to tell Mr. Benthorpe that he—Mr. Alston—was in the house."

"And then, what did you do?" "I went directly to my quarters, sir. They're on the ground floor, beyond the kitchen. Daniels, the chauffeur, was there. We'd been having a few drinks. Daniels will tell you."

"How about that front door?" Dawson turned on the man. "I ordered that front door left unlocked. But when Flynn and Krone tried to get in—"

"Habit, sir, habit," Jameson apologized. "I've been locking up Mr. Benthorpe's house for years, sir, every night at 10. Tonight I made my usual rounds and stopped at Mr. Benthorpe's study to say good night to him. To tell the truth, sir, I forgot all about your order for the door."

"Mr. Benthorpe seemed to be expecting someone, sir. He told me to unlock the side entrance—"

William Alston

"What side entrance?" "I thought you knew, sir. It looks like a closet door, sir. It's right across the hall." He led Dawson out of the study, opened the doorway a few feet down the hall, pointed down a long passage-way. "It opens directly on the street, sir," he explained. "Many of Mr. Benthorpe's visitors used this entrance."

"ABOUT how long, Mr. Alston, were you in the house before you heard the shot?" "Not more than five minutes, Captain," William Alston replied after a pause. "I had just reached the second floor. I can't move very fast, especially up stairs—my heart."

Dawson nodded, waited for Alston to continue. "Jameson let me in the back way, you know," Alston went on. "Helen—Mrs. Benthorpe—my daughter, had called. She and Arnold had had a tiff—some family affair—something about a girl. I didn't understand her over the telephone."

"I dismissed Jameson and started up the rear stairway. Then I decided to see Arnold, get his side of the story before seeing Helen. I started toward the study—I knew I'd find him there. Then I changed my mind again and went back up the stairs to Helen's room. I—I was afraid Arnold might be in a nasty mood. I didn't want to quarrel with him. I hoped to be able to settle this difference between him and Helen."

"I had just reached the second landing when I heard the shot. I was terrified for a moment for it seemed to come from Helen's room. I hurried on up the stairs, came down to Helen's room. I searched through her sitting room and bedroom—even looked into her bath—afraid that I might find her body. Then I came down the front stairs and found your officers and Helen at the door of the study. You know the rest—"

"I can imagine your feelings, Mr. Alston," Dawson observed. "Tell me," he went on, "was Mrs. Benthorpe angry or hysterical when she called? Was this tiff so important that you would come in a storm at midnight?" Alston leaned forward, instantly alert. "I can see you're not a father, Captain," he explained indulgently. "When one's child is hurt a storm makes no difference. The pain has to be eased, the hurt kissed away. Helen is my only child. I'd do anything to keep her happy."

Dawson filled his pipe, tamping it carefully, then lighted it. A cloud of smoke dimmed his direct gaze. "You didn't like Arnold Benthorpe very well, did you, Alston?" The words snapped through the air like electric sparks.

"You're wrong, Dawson!" Alston countered angrily, meeting the detective's eyes. "I was very fond of Arnold. He was my son-in-law, my partner in Alston Motors."

"You mean you married your daughter to him to save your precious Alston Motors?" "It wouldn't put too much faith in what you read in the papers," Alston laughed, without mirth. "How much does it mean to you to have Benthorpe dead?" Dawson fired a shot in the dark. Alston's sudden start told him he had scored a hit. Alston's wearied calm returned almost immediately.

"You might as well know, Captain," he said slowly. "It will come out with the probating of the will. Upon my death full control—my shares—of Alston Motors will go to Arnold. His—his death returns his holdings to me. We had arranged it that way for Helen—and any children she might have. No outsider will ever own Alston Motors."

"THE slamming of the front door interrupted him. Angry voices rose from the outer hall. Then Flynn pushed open the study door. "Here's Torio, Captain," he announced. "Says he's got an alibi. Better make it good, Joey!" And he shoved the angry, glowering night club proprietor through the doorway.

If you are the type that wears frills effectively, it will be quite correct to wear them on your slippers this season. An exclusive Fifth Avenue shop sponsors a simple, graceful pump with high slender heel of hand-sewn black reindeer with an upstanding ruffle of black faille extending around the top, fairly wide in front, tapering very narrow at the heel. Match it with a generous-sized square handbag of soft, black reindeer with faille all-around ruffle. For evening the same pump is shown in black satin with black lace ruffle or black satin with red lace and red satin heel.

Upsilon Chapter Represented At Amarillo Meeting

Fourteen members of Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority attended the Texas Panhandle second area council in Amarillo Sunday.

The three Amarillo chapters, Alpha Alpha, Gamma Iota, and Gamma Kappa, were hostesses to the 77 members who represented Alpha, Borger, Canyon, Dalhart, Perryton, and Amarillo.

As the guests registered on the mezzanine of the Herring hotel, coffee was poured by Kay Utterback and Lillian Mead of Alpha Alpha.

To open the meeting Miss Rosemary Selover, president of Alpha Alpha chapter, introduced Walter W. Ross of Kansas City, Missouri, international president of the organization, who spoke to the group, and Miss Ruby Weldon of Wichita Falls, state president, who extended an invitation to the state convention which will be held there in May.

In the business session conducted by Miss Selover in the Crystal ballroom, Borger was named hostess city for November, 1940. Group business meetings of directors, sponsors, and chapter officers were held following the addresses.

As a colorful luncheon was served in the Mexican Inn, appropriate musical numbers were played by Jose's orchestra. Bright place cards and programs marked the places and in keeping with the theme, the hostesses wore Mexican costumes.

During the lunch hour, Lois Smith of Amarillo gave the welcome and Valda Cypher of Borger presented the response. Among the sponsors and directors who were introduced were Meses. J. B. Massa, Raymond Harrah, and A. M. Teed of Pampa; Meses. Ardelle Scales, L. O. Thompson, Dolly Pendleton, Faye S. Gordon of Amarillo; Mrs. Ed Harrell, Canyon; and Eugenia Mitchell, Perryton.

Continuing the day's program, a style show was presented in the hotel ballroom as Roy Diven's orchestra provided music. Following this feature, Jean Wright of Amarillo gave two whistling solos, "Glow Worm" and "Indian Love Call," after which a playlet on Beta Sigma Phi history and ideals was presented, and group singing closed the program.

Tea was poured by Miss Weldon at a table laid with a white Italian cutwork cloth and centered with yellow rose buds and tall yellow tapers in silver holders.

The Pampa chapter, the oldest in the council, was hostess at the first area council on April 23 of this year.

Attending the meeting in Amarillo yesterday were Meses. J. B. Massa, A. M. Teed, Raymond Harrah, Charles Vaught, E. E. Shehmer, W. G. Glasius, Fred Thompson, and Robert Curry; Meses. Johnnie Hodge, Dorothy Jo Taylor, Anne Johnson, Louise Smith, Johnnie Davis, and Lois Hinton of McLean, a member of the Pampa chapter.

All-Vegetable Laxative Has Important Points

Most people want a laxative to do three things: (1) act punctually, (2) act thoroughly, (3) act gently. Here's one that usually fills all three requirements when the easy directions are followed. It's an all-vegetable product whose principal ingredient has medical recognition as an "intestinal tonic-laxative."

This ingredient enables BLACK-DRAUGHT to impart tone to lazy bowel muscles. And it's the main reason for the punctual, thorough relief from constipation that most often follows next morning after you take BLACK-DRAUGHT. The millions of packages used prove its merit. 25 to 40 doses: 25c—Adv.
