

The Weather

West Texas: Partly cloudy, colder, frost in northeast and southwest portions tonight; Wednesday partly cloudy.

(VOL. 37 NO. 224)

(8 PAGES TODAY)

PAMPA, TEXAS TUESDAY, DECEMBER 26, 1939 Full AP Leased Wire

(PRICE FIVE CENTS)

Good Evening

It is difficult to divest one's self of vanity; because it is impossible to divest one's self of self-love.

COLDER WEATHER FORECAST FOR PANHANDLE

IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS CHECK UP ON SURVIVORS

Survivors of the scuttled German liner Columbus will be allowed 90 days of freedom in New York City if immigration officials find them to be "distressed seamen." Bewilderment of many of the crew at the "suicide" of their ship and their present predicament shown graphically in top picture. Other survivors included, below, Arnold Scherer, 14; Charlie Seis, and Selma Sander, stewardess, who was injured while being transferred between lifeboats at sea.

Needy Families Have A Merry Christmas

Pampans in general had a merry Christmas. Thanks to the Salvation Army, the Red Cross, and the Goodfellows—aided by churches, schools and various organizations and individuals over the city—so far as can be learned, not a single needy family went without the cheer that is born of Christmas.

Baptist Minister Addresses Queries To The President

ATLANTA, Dec. 26 (AP)—The Rev. Louis D. Newton, an honorary secretary of the Baptist World Alliance, made public a letter to President Roosevelt asking if the president's representative to the vatican would be paid by himself personally or by the government.

The president announced Saturday he was sending Myron C. Taylor, former steel magnate, to Rome as his personal representative to aid in "common endeavors for peace and the alleviation of suffering."

Newton, pastor of the large fashionable Druid Hills Baptist church, Atlanta, asked five other questions yesterday in his letter seeking, he said, "fuller understanding of this apparently unique policy."

I Heard . . .

That a couple of Pampa baseball fans took it upon themselves to send a beautiful wreath to Eddy Beavers' funeral, which was this afternoon in Muskogee, Okla., in the name of Pampa fans who admired the great young player. Fans desiring to assist in paying for the wreath can leave their donations with Bob P. Sey, Sheriff Cal Rose or at the Courthouse cafe.

Wants to go snowshoeing but has no snowshoes. Any there any in town he can buy, beg, borrow or steal—with moccasins.

Russian Guns Shell Large Finnish City

Hope Raised Peace Moves May Succeed

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

Renewed efforts of President Roosevelt and Pope Pius toward peace cannot but increase hope that war's end may come, if not just now, still without the necessity of a long and destructive struggle.

He would indeed be a pessimist who saw no good in the steady progress of the peace for peace. That is especially so since the call comes not only from great personalities throughout the world but from the folk in ordinary walks of life.

Most significant about all in this is the feeling isn't restricted to non-belligerents. The peoples of the countries at war, while loyal to their governments and prepared to bow their necks to the yoke, definitely desired to get back to their jobs and their flower gardens.

Only yesterday we had a striking confirmation of this from a high place. King George of England, in addressing the men of his fighting services and the peoples of his vast empire over the air, declared earnestly:

"We cannot tell what the new year at hand will bring—if it brings peace for which all men hope, how thankful we shall be."

He very naturally added that if the new year "brings a renewed struggle it shall find us undaunted."

The week-end saw not only our President and His Holiness combining to terminate the European conflict, but also the great protestant and Jewish congresses of America responded quickly to the President's appeal for support in the crusade.

Prime Minister deValera of Ireland came on the aid to add his plea. He advocated that the nations at war seek a settlement "now in good-will rather than wait until exhaustion has forced the requisite dispositions for peace."

Meantime, of course, there still stands the very real offer of the queen of the Netherlands and the king of the Belgians to mediate between the Allies and Herr Hitler. Mussolini never has ceased to work quietly for peace.

All in all this represents a great, steady force which can hardly be ignored indefinitely. The peace ferment which is working so actively everywhere is bound to make itself felt in the long run.

In this lies the value of the steady pressure from President Roosevelt, the pope and other great personages. They are preparing the way for the moment when they feel that the time is ripe for concrete peace proposals.

Hope shouldn't lead us to rash decisions which can hardly be recognized—as undoubtedly do the leaders of the peace crusade—that the present likely isn't the appointed hour.

Neither warring side has yet felt the pinch of real privation or the horrors of heavy loss of life, and devastation—and their aims are as far apart as the two poles.

Fire Truck Becomes Curfew

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Dec. 26 (AP)—The city revived an old law requiring children under 16 to be home after 10:30 p. m. in an attempt to curb a juvenile crime wave, but the curfew was dropped in a matter of days because the curfew was not heard through this community of 18,000.

Hamp Brown, Popular Pampa Barber, Dies

A heart attack at 12:30 o'clock Christmas morning claimed the life of G. H. (Hamp) Brown, 57, well known Pampa resident for the past 25 years at his home 906 North Somerville street. Mr. Brown had complained of feeling ill earlier in the evening and a doctor was called. His condition was not believed serious at the time, however.

Mr. Brown was born in Mississippi but at an early age moved to Salina where in 1903 he was married. In 1914 Mr. and Mrs. Brown moved to Pampa where Mr. Brown opened a barber shop adjoining the post-office, located where the Bruno building now stands. He later moved to north Cuyler street with M. S. Wise as his partner. They have operated a barber shop ever since.

Mr. Brown was known to nearly every child in Pampa. He was "Uncle Hamp" to hundreds of children and adults alike. Mr. Brown was one of Pampa's most enthusiastic golfers.

APPEALS FOR FINNS

Senators Norris To Retire When Term Expires

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—Senator George W. Norris (Ind.-Neb.) said today he would never seek public office again when his present term expires in 1943.

The white-haired senator, after 37 years in Congress, said in an interview:

"My work is done. My friends understand, and they won't ask me to run again."

Norris has said in previous years that he would not run for re-election, but he has been re-elected anyway. Asked whether he would yield to such urging again, he replied with an emphatic "No."

He has had one of the most colorful careers in Congress, and has been the target of vituperation as well as high honors and wide commendation.

Back in 1917, he was one of a little band of senators who filibustered to death President Wilson's "armed neutrality" bill. He voted against America's entry into the World War and he was denounced, even in Nebraska, as a traitor.

Norris, now 78, was a leader in the house fight which stripped away the broad parliamentary powers of Speaker "Uncle Joe" Cannon. He has been in the forefront of congressional forces demanding new social legislation, and he sponsored the constitutional amendment eliminating "lame duck" congressional sessions.

War Flashes

BERLIN, Dec. 26. (AP)—Authoritative sources reported today Adolf Hitler had walked across the frontier into France while he was spending Christmas with German forces in the west-wall fortifications.

PARIS, Dec. 26. (AP)—Military sources today said that official figures, approved by the British, disclosed only three British soldiers had been killed on the western front since the war began, with 2,070 killed in naval service and 438 in the air force.

HELSINKI, Dec. 26. (AP)—This Finnish capital had a 30-minute air raid alarm today when four planes were sighted. The planes were dropped in the city.

Distant detonations indicated a probable Russian attack on outlying points.

MURPHY SAYS ONLY EMERGENCY COULD INDUCE FDR TO RUN

DETROIT, Dec. 26 (AP)—Attorney General Frank Murphy, who said he expected to be back in Washington today, predicted here that President Roosevelt would seek a "third term only in event of a dire national emergency" and expressed a belief that a third "liberal" party would be "disastrous to the progressive cause."

Interviewed while spending the Christmas holidays with relatives in Detroit, Murphy said that Mr. Roosevelt "can, of course, win reelection easily if he should choose to run."

Snow Continues To Fall; Wheat Crop Benefited

Wheat Benefited

The snowfall was of inestimable value to the Panhandle. All wheat that has been planted deep and where the seed is still there will be brought up by the moisture.

However, wheat that was "dusted in" will profit little or none, as a large part of that seed already is gone, either rotted or eaten by worms.

Snow has been falling here almost continually since 9:23 o'clock yesterday morning. The initial snowfall started at 2:55 a. m. on December 23, stopped at 4:35 a. m., started again at 5:07 and ended at 7:35 o'clock Saturday morning. It was a blowing type of snow, little remaining on the ground.

Temperatures in Pampa ranged from 22 degrees at 5:30 o'clock this morning down to 20 an hour later, and remained at the latter reading up until noon. The maximum temperature in Pampa yesterday was 28 degrees.

Part of Big Storm

Pampa's snowfall was a part of the general snow storm that extended as far north as Montana and Wyoming, west beyond the Rockies, south to El Paso and San Angelo, east to Wichita Falls and Oklahoma City and northeast into Kansas.

Heaviest snowfall in the Panhandle was reported in Dalhart and Texline vicinities. Texline got 14 inches of snow, Dalhart 12, Channing and Dumas 7 1/2 inches, Amarillo and Slaton, 7 inches, Wellington 5 1/2 inches, Clarendon 5 inches, Childress three, Shamrock four, Quanah two.

Amarillo Planes Grounded

Amarillo this morning reported that it was still snowing, with the total precipitation to date as 26 inches. The forecast there is for continued snow and cold. Maximum temperature in Amarillo yesterday was 26. At daylight today the temperature was down to 24, then dropped to 21 at 8:30 a. m.

Airways were all grounded. The TWA was grounded from Winslow, Ariz., to Kansas City. Motor car traffic to the west of Amarillo was virtually shut off, and was extremely hazardous in any direction from Pampa.

Half-Inch at Wichita Falls

Wichita Falls reported precipitation totaling a half inch had fallen there within the past two days. It was still misting today with temperature low last night at 33.

At Lubbock the sky was clear, with temperatures rising from an all-season low of 14 degrees during the night to 22 at 6 a. m. and 24 at 10 a. m. The ground was covered with two inches of snow and precipitation was 14 of an inch.

Pampans slithered along slippery pavements to work this morning, and plowed through snow banked along curbs. Automobiles were covered with snow. Taxicabs did a rushing business. Store employees were busy digging out paths along the sidewalks.

Hospitals reported treating several

See SNOW, Page 3.

15,000 Chinese Slain, Japs Say

SHANGHAI, Dec. 26 (AP)—Japanese dispatches said today that 15,000 Chinese were killed in recent fighting north and south of Hankow, in central China, at present the most active sectors in the conflict.

The Japanese reported heavy fighting in north, central and south China and said their counter-attacks in six provinces had forestalled a winter offensive by the Chinese.

It was admitted the Chinese had made a number of bombing attacks last week in the southern war zone, but the Japanese said, all Chinese air bases in Kwang province were bombed and destroyed in retaliatory raids.

Chinese troops were said to have entered Changchih in southeastern Shansi province, one of the active north China sectors.

Snow General Over Entire Plains Region

Snow General Over Entire Plains Region

A continuing snowstorm in the Texas Panhandle grounded airlines and made highway travel extremely hazardous today as the weather bureau forecast colder weather tonight and tomorrow for all parts of Texas.

Heavy clouds and drizzling rain were reported again from all sections. The weather bureau anticipated frost in the northeast and southwest portions of East Texas, with temperatures down to 32 as far south as the trucking and sugar sections of Louisiana.

The forecast for West Texas was fair tonight and Wednesday with somewhat colder weather. Amarillo reported a temperature of 21 degrees and falling at 9 a. m., and Lubbock had 17. The Dallas weather bureau reported, it was still snowing at Amarillo, and most of the Panhandle was covered with snowfall ranging from an inch to five inches.

Everywhere the precipitation was welcomed as beneficial to grain and other winter plantings.

A moderate disturbance in the Gulf of Mexico, moving northeastward, was not expected to affect the Texas Gulf coast, but fresh to moderate north winds were expected. The disturbance was centered off the mouth of the Mississippi.

Motor car traffic westward from Amarillo was virtually shut off, and was dangerous in any direction. Bus service was badly delayed.

The snow extended as far south as San Angelo in West Texas, and to McKinney in North Texas. San Angelo had approximately three inches of snow and sleet. The weather was cloudy, with prospects of more precipitation.

Added to the rain, sleet and snow in the north was hail at Corpus Christi, which did no damage. The total precipitation there totaled 1.69 inches in two days.

Grain in the Wichita Falls area was greatly benefited by the half inch of rain, which has fallen in two days. The misting rain continued. San Antonio's rainfall total was .62 of an inch since early Sunday, every drop badly needed.

Houston had 1.94 last night, and the total at Corsicana since last Thursday rose to 2.59 inches. Rainfall over the week-end at Longview mounted up to 1.82, with considerable sleet Monday. Tyler's week-end accumulation was 2.77, welcome to winter crops. It was still showering there.

Plainview had light snow flurries falling on the five inches that had already fallen. It was highly beneficial to winter wheat, for which the moisture heretofore had been inadequate.

How About A Few Crumbs For Birds?

When the ground is covered with snow, the going becomes pretty rough for birds in search of food.

So your feathered friends are going to get pretty hungry within the next few days unless you lend them a helping hand and toss your bread crumbs and table scraps out on the snow where they can find them.

It takes only a second, costs you nothing—and a united effort in this respect will result in saving the lives of hundreds of birds in Pampa and its surrounding area. Don't forget the birds.

21 Born In Houston

HOUSTON, Dec. 25 (AP)—Santa Claus met stout competition from the stork yesterday.

Twenty-one babies—13 boys and 8 girls—were born in Houston hospitals Christmas day.

I Saw . . .

Boys and girls coasting down the Cook-av hill yesterday and today where kind-hearted policemen had roped off an area for their special operation. . . A splendid safety gesture to permit youngsters to get a real thrill out of new Christmas sleds.

Piece of mahogany wood, two screws held together broken rib of Harry "Chief" Cousinzo, 68, three-fourths Sioux Indian of Oxford, O. Cousinzo performed operation on himself with ice pick, screw drivers and pocket knife and without anesthetic.

Miss Rose La Nell Williams Becomes Bride Of Edgar Myatt Monday

Popular Couple Will Make Home In Clarendon

Miss Rose La Nell Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Williams, became the bride of Edgar Myatt in an impressive ceremony solemnized at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom E. Rose before a group of friends and relatives.

The Rev. C. Gordon Bayless, pastor of First Baptist church, officiated with a ring ceremony at an altar of roses, covered with huckleberry and large floor urns of white mums. Lighted tapers in tall bracketed candelabra illuminated the setting.

Mrs. Tom Rose played the piano as Arthur Nelson sang "O Promise Me" by Reginald De Koven and "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacob Bond preceding the ceremony. As the bride descended the stairs on the arm of her father, Mrs. Rose played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, and "Love Song" from Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The bride wore a white crepe princess style gown with puffed long sleeves and pointed cuffs. She wore a veil of tulle with a short train and a coronet of seed pearls and orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a cameo belonging to her maternal grandmother. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony with the bride cutting the first piece of the three-tiered wedding cake encircled in fern and topped with a bridal party. Tall candles lighted the table where Mrs. Essie Turner of Borger and Mrs. Williams presided.

The couple left on a short trip and will be at home in Clarendon upon their return. Mrs. Myatt chose a brown tailored suit with an egg shell shell blouse and russet shoes for traveling. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Myatt was graduated from Pampa High school in 1937 where she was a member of the pep squad, band, and National Honor society. She is a charter member of the Beta Gamma Kappa club of Pampa. The bride attended Texas Tech college at Lubbock and West Texas State college at Canyon where she was a member of Pi Omega sorority. She played in the bands at both colleges as well as several dance bands since that time.

Mr. Myatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Myatt of Pampa, was graduated in 1936 from Pampa High school. He is employed in a clothing store at Clarendon.

Several entertainments including a coffee given by Mrs. Tom Rose with Mrs. B. W. Rose as co-hostess, a shower given by Mrs. B. W. Rose with Mrs. Tom Rose as co-hostess, and a shower Sunday morning with Mrs. N. F. Maddux and Miss Helen Draper as hostesses were given to honor Mrs. Myatt.

SPECTACULARLY MODERN

Although "dressing down" is the theme song of the current evening mode, there still is plenty of room in the average wardrobe for at least one ultra formal gown for special occasions. If you have a beautiful back and nice shoulders, your one and only strictly formal dress might be something as spectacular as the Lelong model at right. Of white mousseline with threaded scarf train in rust-red mousseline, the bodice comes to an elongated point at the front, ending in a draped neckline strap.

The Social CALENDAR

WEDNESDAY
District Two Order of Eastern star study club will have a meeting.
Ladies' Bible class of Central Church of Christ will meet at 2:30 o'clock.
B. G. K. club will have a dance at the Hotel Schneider at 9 o'clock.
Order of Eastern Star study club will have social in the home of Mrs. Edith Colvin in the standstill west of the city at 2 o'clock.

THURSDAY
Amusee Bridge club dinner-bridge has been postponed until Tuesday, January 2, in the Hotel Schneider.
A weekly meeting of Rebekah lodge is in the Hotel Schneider at 8 o'clock in the I. O. O. F. hall.
Dorens class of Central Baptist church will meet at 2 o'clock for visitation.
Young People's Christian Endeavor of First Christian church will meet in the church at 7:15 o'clock.
Sisterhood class will meet with Mrs. Virgil Thomas.
Catholic youth association will have a dinner in the home of the Schneider at 8 o'clock and a dance in the parochial school hall immediately afterwards.
Fidelity class of Central Baptist church will meet at 2 o'clock in the church for visitation and business.

FRIDAY
Central Baptist W. M. S. will have a silver tea in the home of Mrs. G. C. Stark at 2:30 o'clock.
Catholic Youth association will meet with Maxine French.

TUESDAY
Amusee Bridge club dinner-bridge has been postponed until Tuesday, January 2, in the Hotel Schneider.
Executive board of Business and Professional Women's club will meet at 7:30 o'clock in the city club rooms.
Nazarene Women's Missionary society will meet at 2 o'clock in the church.
Ladies' Bible class of Francis Avenue Church of Christ will meet at 8:30 o'clock in the church.
A regular weekly meeting of B. G. K. club will be held at 7:30 o'clock.

Fur Is Everywhere In 1940's Fashions

By ADELAIDE KERR

Fashion is having a lot of fun with fur this winter. About the only place in the wardrobe where it doesn't appear is lingerie—and even some wool versions of that are woven with angora hair.

This year's furs are not simply a matter of coats. They trim cloaks for every hour of the day from breakfast to supper and accent every part of the costume from head to foot. Those accents offer a smart economical angle to the woman who possesses both an old mink and a new one. A leopard one may be clipped to the neck of a simple black wool dress, for instance, to repeat the furred note of a leopard hat.

Cloves are furred, too. Brown ones are sometimes cuff-banded in beaver, and gay red ones have strips of black Persian lamb running right up the back of the ring finger. Feet aren't neglected, either, in fur fashions. New spots are topped with a rim of it to match a trim, and a few shoes have flat fur buckles.

Add to these such intriguing tricks as fur mittens, fur-trimmed bags, belts with fur buttons, Chamberlain umbrellas whose crooked handles are covered with some pelts such as Persian lamb or leopard and mink tail necklaces and bracelets in which the tails, looped horse-shoe fashion, swing from gold chains.

Besides these fur fashions, there is a lot to be said about hats. They go everywhere in a great variety of pelts. They are not all made entirely of fur, since many modest believe the all-fur hat has a heavy look. Many of them are simply accented with a twist or trim of Persian lamb or mink with a little splash of color somewhere to set it off. Among the most striking all-fur chapeaux are leopard slippers.

Fur also goes to the head at night in little mink pillboxes and toques which top dinner dresses and tailcoats. It makes more evening headpieces in tiny mink tail headresses which are tucked into a coiffure above a swishing evening gown and in fox-bordered hoods covering sleek heads.

Muffs make some of the most important fur news this winter. Big lush ones of mink, fox, marten or beaver go places with coats or hats that carry the same fur. They're a strong night-time fashion, for they give a decidedly luxurious air to the costume.

The season's newest wrap is a fur stole (of mink, baum marten or mink) with a deep cape top and long stole ends that extend almost to the knees. These cover some of the smartest shoulders in New York, and generally are accompanied by a big puff of the same fur.

Fur is doing a lot of interesting tricks in trimming clothes. It bands dark wool frocks, the jackets of evening ensembles and the hems of dance frocks.

Here are some smart fur-trimmed costumes seen around town this fall: Amber tweed frock, mink jacket (typical of a trend which is still going strong), mink-trimmed chapeau and muff; long-sleeved black velvet dinner frock accented at the neckline with a bunch of ermine tails, black velvet pake bonnet, black velvet, ermine-trimmed muff.

The bladders or sounds of several fish furnish the material from which is made, a commercial pure gelatin, is made.

Members-Guests Of Civic Culture Club Entertained

Civic Culture club members and their husbands were entertained recently with a holiday party in the city club rooms with Mrs. C. J. McNaughton, Mrs. Claude Lard, and Mrs. W. B. Murphy as hostesses.

A turkey dinner was served in the room which was decorated with Christmas colors and gifts were exchanged from a Christmas tree. Games were played by the group.

Attending were Messrs. and Misses: Irvin Cole, Cyril Hamilton, Emmett Gee, A. D. Hill, W. G. Irving, C. J. McNaughton, E. A. Shackleton, J. B. Townsend, W. L. Parker, Willis White, and B. A. Norris; Misses: Katie Vincent, J. H. Dehnert, Don Hurst, Hugh Isbell, Roy Kilgore, Claude Lard, and W. B. Murphy.

THIS WEEK IN PAMPA THEATERS

LANORA
Last times today: "Judge Hardy and Son." Lewis Stone and Micky Rooney.
Wednesday and Thursday: Joe E. Brown and Martha Raye in "1,000 a Touchdown."
Friday and Saturday: Edward G. Robinson in "Blackmail."

REX
Last times today: "The Return of Dr. X." with Wayne Morris, Rosemary Lane, and Humphrey Bogart.
Wednesday, Thursday: "Hawaiian Nights."
Friday and Saturday: Bill Elliott in "Taming of the West."

STATE
Today: "Little Tough Guys in 'Little Tough Guys in Society'."
Wednesday and Thursday: Robert Donat and Green Garson in "Goodbye Mr. Chips."
Friday and Saturday: Dorothy Page in "Singing Cowgirl."

CROWN
Last times today: "The Day the Bookies Were with Joe Penner and Betty Grable; also, Walt Disney's 'Officer Duck.'" Pathe News.
Wednesday and Thursday: "Sued for Libel," with Kent Taylor and Linda Hayes.
Friday and Saturday: "Westbound Stage," with Tex Ritter; "Hawk of the Wilderness"; two cartoons and news.

FLAPPER FANNY

"I want to thank ya for your present, Chuck, but I hope ya didn't spend too much on me—they got the same thing at Blank's for a quarter."

Marriage Of Miss Stokes And Cleo Harrison Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stokes are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lucille Stokes, and Cleo Harrison which was solemnized in Miami on November 16.

The bride is a senior in Pampa High school.

Mr. Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Harrison of Pampa, was graduated from Pampa High school in 1938. He is employed with the Columbia Carbon company in Pampa.

The couple will be at home here.

Stolen Girl Back After 10 Years

Kidnaped in Arizona 10 years ago by a section hand, Alice Vestal, 22, above, returned to her parents in San Francisco after deserting the kidnaper and bringing along her four children.

Class Entertained At Holiday Party By Teacher Recently

Mrs. C. E. McMinn was hostess to members and visitors of her Sunday school class of Central Baptist church at a holiday party in her home recently.

Games were played by the group after which gifts were exchanged. Refreshments of cake, candy, and hot chocolate were served to Deloris Conway, Louella Butler, Donald Ray McMinn, Marjorie Nixon, Billie Vaughn, Bonnie Lou McMinn, Wanda Cape, and Lovetta Jean Marcell.

Of North Carolina's area, 3,620 square miles is water.

QUAINT 90's IN 1939

A quaint silhouette of 1890 is adapted in this black wool dinner gown with bustle bow and a deep flounce of black lace at the hemline. The coat hood and the inset covering the back décolletage are of one piece of lace.

Rainbow Girls Honored At Yule Party And Dinner

Members of the Order of Rainbow for Girls were entertained with a holiday party in the home of Mrs. W. R. Sprague, 1022 East Francis avenue, recently.

After a covered dish dinner was served to the group, gifts were exchanged and a basket was prepared for an elderly couple.

Present were Della Mae Foster, Walden Frazee, Mildred Martin, Mary Jane Davis, Donna Jo Berry, Lois and Frankie Foster, Wanda Roberts, and Neoma Snyder.

Mrs. Joe Berry and Mrs. Burt Graham assisted the hostess.

Most Foods Will Taste Better If Cook Is Saucy

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

A sauce can make or mar many a food combination. The right sauce is one that sets off a meat or vegetable dish. It should be a perfect complement—neither too strong nor too mild. And a sauce never should outshine its food.

A perky sauce enlivens a bland food; an interesting one can add just the right color, texture and taste to make an ordinary dish into an event.

Since the colder season is on now, let's consider this timely sauce, one that's made to order for pork or ham: Simmer for 3 minutes 2 tablespoons each of celery, onions and green peppers in 3 tablespoons butter or pork fat. Mix in 3 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika and a speck of savory seasoning (kind used for stuffings). Add 1 teaspoon prepared mustard and a cup of cider. Cook slowly until the sauce thickens.

Barbecue sauce is very important for out-door or informal gatherings. It does a lot for broiled steaks, hamburgers or frankfurters. This makes 2 cups: Simmer, covered, for 10 minutes, ½ cup butter, ½ cup catsup, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon each of salt, granulated sugar and Worcestershire sauce and 2 cups water. Add a clove of garlic, cook it a minute, then take it out. Dip meat into this sauce before cooking; baste with the sauce while it's cooking; then pour some over the meat when you serve it.

Of course, there's an almost infinite variety of sauces that stem from a plain cream sauce. Starting with the cream base, here are just a few of the changes you can ring: Add ½ cup grated cheese, 1 teaspoon minced parsley and 1 teaspoon chopped pimientos to 2 cups of cream sauce. Cook until the cheese has melted; serve on boiled vegetables.

In the last minute of cooking your cream sauce, mix in one hard-boiled egg, minced, and 2 egg yolks. This makes up with broccoli, cabbage or fish cakes.

Add 1 teaspoon of curry powder to 2 cups of cream sauce, blend and you have a curry sauce to pour over cooked vegetables, browned meat or chicken.

Every nation seems to have a sauce that's particularly its own. America has adopted, along with peoples from other lands, certain foods—and sauces—from abroad.

Miss Gray And Paul Gilliland Wed In Church

Miss Eileen Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Gray, and Paul J. Gilliland, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Gilliland of Wadena, Missouri, were married at the Central Church of Christ Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock with the Rev. Robert R. Price, minister, officiating.

The bride wore a grey ensemble with red accessories and a corsage of roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Clegg, Roy and Mrs. R. R. Price, George Saunders, and the bride's family.

The couple will be at home in Pampa.

The book of Isaiah contains more material than that dealing directly with the prophet himself. A series of editors of later date added to it.

NIGHT COUGHS
due to colds... checked without "dosing"!
VICKS
VAPORUB
PROVED BY 2 GENERATIONS

LaNora
Last Day
JUDGE HARRISON and SON
with
LEWIS STONE
HECKY ROONEY
CECILIA PARKER
ANN RUTHERFORD
A MITRO-GOLDWYN-WAYER PICTURE
News - Cartoon

Starts Wednesday
Joe E. Brown
Martha Raye
"1,000 A Touchdown"

REX
LAST DAY
"Swing Styles" - News
WEB - THUR. DAY

ON THE SCREEN
COVE ON THE LOOSE
Whisky Whore of WA. - KI-KI
Johnny DOWNS
Constance MOORE
Mary CARLISLE
Eddie QUILLEN

STATE TODAY ONLY
"LITTLE TOUGH GUYS IN SOCIETY"
Ric Rito
And Her
All Girl Band
Our Gang
in
"Crown Princess"
PETE SMITH'S
"Portrait Of Nature"

QUICK RELIEF FROM
Symptoms of Distress Arising from STOMACH ULCERS
DUE TO EXCESS ACID
Free Book Tells of Home Treatment that Must Help or It Will Cost You Nothing
Over one million bottles of the WILLARD TREATMENT have been sold for relief of symptoms of distress arising from Stomach and Esophageal Ulcers due to Excess Acid.
Poor Digestion, Indigestion, Flat Stomach,
Gasoline, Heartburn, Sleeplessness, etc., due to Excess Acid. Sold on 15 days' trial ask for "Willard's Treatment" which fully establishes this treatment—free—at Fatherson Drug Store

CROWN
Last Time Today
RENEWER
THE DAY THE BOOKS WERE
WITH THE GRABLE
Short Subjects & News
Starting Wednesday
EVERY WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY
Adult Admissions
2 For the Price of 1
Murder writes the headlines!
GUIDE FOR LIBERALS
Key
Linda Fisher
Lillian Bond-Morgan
KEO RADIC
Short Subject & News

Vatican Not Recognized Claims Early

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—Stephen Early, White House press secretary, expressed belief today when the few who have questioned President Roosevelt's appointment of a personal representative to the Vatican "learn the facts they will be satisfied."

Mr. Roosevelt announced Saturday he had chosen Myron C. Taylor, retired chairman of United States Steel and presently head of the Inter-Governmental Refugee committee, to go to Rome in the interest of more closely coordinating efforts for world peace.

Simultaneously the Chief Executive invited Dr. George A. Buttrick, president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, as a Protestant leader, and Rabbi Cyrus Adler, president of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, as a leader of the Jewish faith, to confer with him here "from time to time" on the problems of peace.

Favorable responses to the President's action in many quarters of government and organized religion were tempered in some instances by expressions of whether Mr. Roosevelt was not working toward re-establishment of formal diplomatic relations with the Vatican. Such formal relations were severed in 1877.

Among others, the Rev. Louis D. Newton, Atlanta Baptist Clergyman, and Bishop Paul B. Kern of the Methodist church, at Nashville, Tenn., questioned the action, chiefly on that ground.

Early, informally discussing such questions, said Mr. Roosevelt had the constitutional right to appoint Taylor and added he never had held and does not hold any intention of according diplomatic recognition to the Vatican.

Reviewing the responses Early said today that of more than 400 telegrams received at the White House not more than four "might be called critical."

SNOW

(Continued from Page 1)

persons injured in minor automobile accidents over the two-day holiday period, but no serious accidents were known to have occurred in the Pampa area, according to information from the police and sheriff's offices. Law violations were few, with only three arrests reported by the police, and county officers also had a quiet time.

On Highway 83, 15 miles south of Childress, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Fisher of Lefors suffered cuts and bruises, and Mrs. Alton Hardy of Shallock also suffered cuts in an automobile wreck. The Fishers and Mrs. Hardy are in a Childress hospital. The automobile in which the Fishers were riding and the Hardy automobile crashed on a bridge. Billy Hardy and Matthew Douglas Hardy, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy, were uninjured.

Tulla Woman Killed
Mrs. M. T. Hudson of Tulla, died in a Childress hospital yesterday after the car in which she and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudson and two children were riding figured in a collision with another automobile three miles west of Goodlett on Highway 37.

Robert Hudson and his son, Walton Hudson, suffered bruises.

Occupants of the other automobile were taken to Quanah. Barbara Jane Stone, three months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Stone of White Deer died today in

Neglect May Invite Pyorrhea

Gums can become mighty trying. Druggists will return your money if the first bottle of "LETOS" fails to satisfy.

Crefney Drug

Children of 'Okies' Sing Yule Greetings to President

Christmas greetings to President Roosevelt, were sung and recorded by these children of "Okies," Oklahoma and Texas dust bowl migrants now destitute in California. Mrs. Sue Sanders, Bakersfield, Cal., author, is taking the pleas of the farmers to Washington. Sung by the children were carols, "Jingle Bells" and the migrant's folk song at right.

Sea Foes — Harbor Mates

In the neutral harbor of Montevideo, Uruguay, the French liner, Formose, left, that lured the German sea raider, Admiral Graf Spee, right, into battle with three British cruisers, lie quietly at anchor. The shell-battered Graf Spee limped into port to escape British gunfire and the Formose steamed in several hours later.

Off to Fight for Finland

Quanh of injuries sustained in the accident.

The Tulla woman who died as a result of the injuries received in the accident near Goodlett was not believed related to the late John Hudson, Gray county deputy. Sheriff Cal Rose said today.

The first Christmas snow in 30 years fell at Big Spring, bringing 35 inches of moisture. Four inches of wet snow brought a white Christmas to Abilene, the first since 1926. Ranchers and small grain farmers were rejoicing in that area.

There was about two inches of snow on the ground at Lubbock after the winter's coldest night, when the thermometer dropped to 14.

Sugar Act Restored

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—President Roosevelt issued a proclamation today restoring marketing quota provisions of the sugar act. "I have issued a proclamation today," the President said in a statement, "terminating the suspension of marketing quotas on sugar, which suspension was made necessary on September 11, 1938, by the extraordinary purchases of sugar by consumers immediately after the outbreak of the war in Europe and the excessive speculative activity and advancing prices which accompanied such purchases."

Two Gleeful People

Carrying his heavy boots and a blanket roll, Tovo Evert Talle k sees Susannah Salminen goodbye at a New York dock. Talle sailed with the first contingent of more than a thousand Finns in the United States who have volunteered to return and fight for their homeland.

Wallace Defends Certificate Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—Secretary Wallace declared today critics were wrong in characterizing his proposed farm certificate plan as a "regressive" tax on consumers.

"Its effects," the agriculture secretary asserted, "instead of being regressive would be progressive because it would benefit the low-income farm group through improved prices from agricultural products supplied in large part to the higher-income non-farm groups."

Wallace's analysis of the certificate plan—described as a form of processing tax which would help finance crop control programs—was made in a statement, which was considered at the agriculture department to be a reply to indirect criticism by Secretary Montgomery and Marinette S. Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve system.

Wallace said congress had for seven years declared "its objective to bring about parity relationships between prices and incomes of agriculture and other industries."

The secretary said that farm income was now about 75 per cent of parity.

Wallace has suggested that the certificate plan be applied to wheat, cotton and rice.

In his statement, Wallace said it was "not only misleading, but also astonishing" to describe the certificate plan as an "unfair" tax on consumers "because a fundamental result of the program would be the correction of existing injustices."

Woodring Child Dies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—A boy, the fourth child of the Secretary of War and Mrs. Harry Woodring died at birth yesterday in Walter Reed hospital.

Baby Born With Fractured Bones

There's a "Handle With Care" sign on David Wayne Hatton's crib and he's all broken up about it. Victim of a rare bone disease, infantile fragilitas ossium, the 3-day-old baby was born in Los Angeles with 20 of his bones fractured.

Read The Classified Ads

Market Briefs

KANSAS CITY STOCK
KANSAS CITY, Dec. 26 (AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Hogs: salable and total 2600; top 5.75; good to choice 4.00-2.50 lbs. 70; packing sows strong at 4.40-75.
Cattle: salable 7000; total 7800; calves salable 1200; total 1500; bulls slaughter steers eligible to sell from 7.50-9.50; few loads held up to 10.50; most fat cows 5.25-5.75; choice vealers up to 16.00; few medium to choice steers and feeders 7.00-7.75; strongweight sausage bulls up to 6.75.
Sheep: salable and total 6500; few loads good to choice fed lambs at 8.75; medium to good ewe 3.00-4.00; best held considerably higher.

CHICAGO PRODUCE
CHICAGO, Dec. 26 (AP)—Butter 1.144-83 (two days) steady; creamery-83 score 28% -90%; 28%; 29; 29; 30; 28%; 28; 27%; 88; 26%; 90 centralised curds, 28%; 28.
Eggs 13,828 (two days) steady; fresh graded, extra firsts 20; firsts 19; current receipts 17%; refrigerator extras 14%; standards 14 1/2, firsts 13.
Poultry live, 1 cat. 16 trucks, firm; hens 4 1/2; up 15; under 4 1/2 lbs. 13; Leghorn hens 10; Broilers 2 1/2 lbs. and down colored 14; Plymouth Rock 15; White Rock 15; Leachon chickens 12; Springs 4 lbs. and colored 13 1/2; Plymouth 15; White Rock 14 1/2 under 4 lbs. colored 14; Plymouth Rock 16 1/2; White Rock 16; Baraback chickens 10; Boosters 9 1/2; Leachon roosters 8 1/2; Ducks 4 1/2 lbs. up colored 12; white 13; small colored 10; small white 10; Geese over 12 lbs. 12; 12 lbs. and down 14; Hens 17; apons 7 lbs. 15; under 7 lbs. 16.

Gunmen Take $3,000

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 26 (AP)—A downtown holdup this morning netted two gunmen approximately $3,000 when they jumped on the running board of a car and ordered J. M. Goodman, manager of J. C. Penney Company, to drive to the outskirts of the city where he was relieved of a bank satchel.

The store manager and another employee were enroute to a bank with Saturday's receipts when accosted.

Communism Reported To Be In Hollywood

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—Special investigators have submitted to the Dies committee a survey of Communism on the west coast which informed persons said today purported to show the Communist party had penetrated the Hollywood movie colony.

A report of the survey was said to list a score of movie actors and actresses as having been either party members or supporters.

This report, now in the hands of Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) of the house committee investigating un-Americanism, also was described as setting forth evidence that Communists used a "front organization" to obtain some important positions in the state governments of California and Washington.

Child Born to Mary in Bethlehem Christmas

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Dec. 26 (AP)—A child was born in Bethlehem as Christmas dawned.

Geza Czapa wept softly when three physicians told him his wife Mary had given birth to a son.

He prayed and then walked under a star-studded sky to his modest home.

It was the only Christmas day nativity in this city of 60,000.

As early as 1818, there were baby clinics in London. Americans consume a great deal more fruit than do Englishmen.

Eyes Examined — Glasses Fitted
DR. A. J. BLACK
Optometrist
Offices, Suite 309 Rose Bldg.
For Appointment — Phs. 282

The BEST NEWS for WISE BUYERS

OUR STORE IS FULL OF SPECIAL VALUES FOR THE LAST WEEK OF 1939---NO LEADERS EVERY ITEM IN THE HOUSE

MARKED DOWN

LIBERAL Credit

5 BIG MERCHANDISING DAYS

Our coat is off, figuratively speaking, and our sleeves rolled up—for we are determined to "Ring the Bell" this last week of 1939. . . We marked down every item plenty to make YOU and YOU and YOU take this furniture off our hands so that we will have room to stock the merchandise that our buyer is planning on bringing back with him from market. . . If there's any item in your home that may need replacing soon, or an item that is missing from your room, don't fail to take advantage of the new low prices. . . During this last week of 1939.

TEXAS FURNITURE CO.

210-12 N. CUYLER GUY E. McTAGGART, Mgr. PHONE 607

HURRY! SALE ENDS SATURDAY DEC. 30TH!

Wards Great Annual
COTTON DRESS SALE

Pacific Mills Percales 48c

Pepperell Poplins 84c

Broadcloth Housecoats 109

MONTGOMERY WARD

Two Gleeful People

In jovial mood over being home for Christmas, away from black-out and war atmosphere, Joseph P. Kennedy, U. S. Ambassador to Great Britain, is pictured with Mrs. Kennedy after arriving in New York aboard a trans-Atlantic clipper.

THE PAMPA NEWS
Published every evening, except Saturdays, and Sunday morning by the Pampa News, 322 West Foster Avenue, Pampa, Texas. Phone 666—All Departments.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life -- By R. C. Hoiles

EXCESS PROFITS BY EXPLOITING LABOR
A defender of collective bargaining says that when excess profits are made through exploitation and at the expense of the worker, the only apparent solution for the worker is to organize, appoint representatives and bargain for a just wage.

What is a "just wage?" What is "excess profit?" If a "just wage," over a period of time, is not to be determined by a free market, I challenge the user of the term to define what is meant by the term, so that his definition is communicable and understandable to a single person and the person can then determine what a "just wage" is in individual cases without returning to the definer of the "just wage" for specific instructions.

Lord Kelvin said, "If you can reduce to numbers what you are talking about you know something about it, if you cannot reduce it to numbers your knowledge is meager and of little value." How Is A "Just Wage" Determined?

If a "just wage" is not measured by what other workers personally are willing to do the same identical work for, then how is it determined? Why should any American worker be paid more than many other American workers are willing and able to do the same job for?

It is hard to conceive how labor can long be exploited when it is privileged to work for any employer in the world who will pay it more. For a man to contend that he is exploited, when his employer benefits him more than any other employer in the world will benefit him, is to write an arbitrary or a prejudiced definition of exploiting.

Wage Levels Not Some Wages
The contributor quotes me as saying that raising wages by collective bargaining has never been demonstrated. I believe the contributor overlooked the word "LEVELS." I said "wage levels," not some specific wage. I admit frankly that wages of certain groups can be raised for a time, but at the expense of other workers.

Production Increase Is What Benefits
The contributor says that when a customer's wages are increased he is benefitted. This is true if the increase is due to increased production. But would the contributor contend that if the wages were raised so high that the product of the worker could not be sold, and as a result the worker shortly lost his job, that the workers and customers would be benefitted?

It is easy to cite cases where the wages of a few are temporarily raised but it is always at the expense of some other worker—some other customer. It is because some wages are raised that most people jump at the conclusion that collective bargaining can raise wage LEVELS as a whole.

The Nation's Press

THE PRESIDENT'S SECRET (Los Angeles Examiner)
By Benjamin G. Casares
Will we soon have "heat tanks" on the roof? The Massachusetts Institute of Technology engineers have worked out some sort of scheme whereby a householder can "trap the sun's rays" on the roof and use them during the winter—thereby putting the coal miners out of work.

Most notable donation to posterity: Miss Lamour's original script, now displayed by the Los Angeles Museum of History, Science and Art. Most applauded movie milestone: The smacking of Alice Faye with a custard pie tossed by Buster Keaton in "Hollywood Cavalcade." Statement most deflating to our national ego: Ingrid Bergman's "What I like best about the United States is corn-on-the-cob."

PAMPA PERSONALITIES —By ALECK SAKOWITZ

MANAGER MONTGOMERY WARD & COMPANY - CAME TO PAMPA IN 1928 - JOINED PRESENT FIRM AT LITTLE ROCK, ARK. IN 1929, AS FASHION SUPERINTENDENT WITH OFFICES IN NEW YORK CITY - MEMBER MASONIC LODGE - LIONS CLUB - THE AMERICAN LEGION - V. F. W. & PAMPA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 26—After solemn deliberation over the momentous events of 1939, this department presents its own list of special awards in the motion picture field. The events involved are chronological, and not in order of their importance.

Lightest blow at moral liberalism: The pricking, by the Hays Office, of Sally Rand's movie bubble. Most nonchalant defiance of history: Twentieth-Fox's version of the story of Jesse James.

Most effective safeguarding of kiddie morals: The elaborately conceived contrivance that smoked a pipe of peace for Shirley Temple in "Suzannah of the Mounties."

Most felicitous anniversary: May Robson's 75th birthday. Most conspicuous example of nepotism: The Metro contract given Joe Yule, who as the star comic in Los Angeles' dirtiest burlesque theater was billed prominently as "Mickey Rooney's Father."

Most superfluous query in a movie title: "Are Husbands Necessary" starring Madeleine Carroll, who has divorced her husband. Most astonishing financial revelations: That they tried to walk out on it, but were slapped back into line with a $150,000 damage suit.

Most daring opportunity: The Florida theater manager who advertised "Estasy" with a huge sign reading, "Hedy Lamour Bathes Here in the Nude Today." Most notable donation to posterity: Miss Lamour's original script, now displayed by the Los Angeles Museum of History, Science and Art.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim
You'd have to know this driller to appreciate this story about him. You'd have to know that he lives with his partner, and that he has no wife, no children, no close friends. He's alone, and things haven't been going exactly right.

Death is caused principally by other conditions which result, such as pneumonia, inflammation of the kidneys, ulcers of the intestines, and shock. The shock reaction is manifested by a sudden weakening of the pulse and a fall of the blood pressure. Gradually the circulation stops. The legs and arms become cold and blue, and the blood becomes thick and dark.

'Down-And-Outer' Now Up And Coming, Enjoys Christmas

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 26 (AP)—A down-and-out young Pittsburgher abandoned his announced plan to end his worthless life in some spectacular way and enjoyed a beautiful Christmas with his wife and baby boy. Describing himself as "a disappointed American," the distraught father wrote the Sun-Telegraph he would resort to suicide at midnight Christmas eve to attract attention to the plight of the unemployed.

That, Miss Lamour wears a girle under her new sarong. Most precedent-shattering picture: "Campus Wives," in which the hero made a touchdown during the first minute of the picture; "Bad Lands," a western in which the cavalry did not arrive in time. Sinoobest understatement: The communique from 20th-Fox referring to the curtailment of production as "the lull in expansion."

The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein
Cases of extensive body burns are likely to result in death. Seldom is there recovery for anyone who has as much as one-half of his body surface burned. Children die frequently when even less than one-half of the skin is burned.

On the basis of this conception, they have introduced the idea of replacing the blood as rapidly as possible after a burn so that this condition of shock cannot develop. They described the case of a 15-year-old girl, who was burned when her evening dress caught fire at a ball. The pain of the serious burns was stopped by placing her into a tub of 1 per cent salt water at body temperature.

She remained in this bath for 1 1/2 hours. Then she was placed in a bed with sterile sheets and dressings moistened with salt solution. In ordinary cases small blood vessels dilate, the circulation stagnates, and the fluid material of the blood escapes from the small blood vessels into the tissue spaces. Thus, the patient dies of shock due to loss of blood fluid which is so rapid that nothing can be done to replace it.

Other blood transfusions were given later. It was finally decided, however, to discard the giving of whole blood and to give only the fluid material of the blood with the substances which is contains aside from the red blood cells. Continuous treatment and application of oxygen at times resulted in gradual improvement and eventual recovery in this case.

Cranium Crackers

World's Progress
In what manner has the world advanced? In what chronology were some of the world's most important inventions offered to the world? Rearrange the following list of inventions so that the earliest will come first, the others follow in chronological order: Telegraph, steel, sewing machine, electro-magnet, photography, radio, printing, telephone, incandescent lamp, cotton gin, motion picture machine, steamboat, wireless telegraph.

Pettengill

Democrat Congressman From INDIANA

SICK CAESARS

At the next session your Congressman will be under pressure from the left for the Wagner so-called "health" bill. Before making further costly experiments in national socialism, now home we might pause in our mad rush and contemplate its results abroad.

I urge you to read "Health Under Hitler" in the December Readers Digest and then to urge your Congressman to read it. It is a summary of a forthcoming book by Dr. Martin Gumpert, formerly head of the Berlin City Dispensary for deformity diseases. Every fact in it is said to be supported entirely from official and scientific German publications which somehow escaped the censor.

This article is the most astonishing unmasking of state medicine I have ever seen. But more than that it is a devastating indictment of the whole theory of the supposed efficiency of the super state. It takes Caesar off parade. Even if you are interested only in the question of how long can Caesar fight read this article.

The Socialists in American medicine are promising gaudy results if you put them on the payroll. But "let us look at the record." Hitler came to power in January 1933. By 1937 scarlet fever had increased 47 per cent, and diphtheria 50 per cent. The diphtheria mortality rate is now four times greater than in the United States where we are not yet blessed with political medicine.

And how kind is Caesar to his subjects? The age limit for child labor at home has been reduced from 12 to 10 years. Workers under 16 are at work in steel mills and glass works, and in underground mines the per cent of boys between 14 and 20 has doubled since 1932.

And adult workers. How do they fare under Caesar and national socialist medicine? The eight hour day has been replaced by the 10 to 14 hour shift. But more damning than that, perhaps, is the fact that the frequency of sickness among German workers—supposed to be in the prime of life—was three times as high in 1936 as when the whole American people which includes all our aged persons, infants and invalids. Tuberculosis, a disease of poverty, strain and undernourishment, is on the increase, due to youthful labor, lengthened working hours, declining real wages, and limitation in the choice of food.

Dysentery, a disease of filth, you would find it difficult to imagine in a nation with a marvelous efficiency in its municipal government, as Germany had for decades. But it has increased under Hitler 300 per cent due to the free distribution of the meat of inferior cattle. We had it from a similar cause during the Spanish-American war 40 years ago. But it has now become a small factor in our inefficient democracy!

And, women readers, here is something for you especially. German women are on a strike against motherhood. Despite the effort of the state to increase marriage and propagation by taxing bachelors, distinctions for mothers, and credits for marriage, yet marriages and births have both declined since Hitler came to power.

If Dr. Gumpert is correct, it is plain that the German people are worked out. They have reached the limit of their physical and psychic powers. They have made a heroic effort to rebuild their prestige after Versailles. But from these facts it does not seem possible that Germany can win a war of exhaustion. If that is the case we are to have the plight of these millions who have accepted a Spartan discipline, and especially their children, will be so terrible that even the hates engendered by war ought not to dull our mercy.

So They Say
Stop following policies going in different directions. Stop being halfway for a sort of creeping Socialism and halfway for private enterprise. —THOMAS E. DEWEY, G. O. P. presidential candidate. The people of the American republic have drawn very close together these recent years, and particularly so since the outbreak of the European war. —SUMNER WELLES, under-secretary of state.

593 Die Violently During Christmas

(By The Associated Press)
This year's three-day Christmas holiday brought death to at least 593 persons in accidents and other forms of sudden death with automobiles traffic taking 397 lives. Last year 508 persons died in various kinds of accidents and as the result of violence during the three-day period.

Five states—Nebraska, Nevada, Rhode Island and Vermont and Wyoming—kept their death states clean last year but this year Delaware was the only one. Illinois led the list this year with 60 dead. Although last year was a "green" one with comparatively little snow and ice against a preponderant white Christmas this year, the traffic accidents remained about the same.

Answers to Previous Puzzle
HORIZONTAL: 1. Famous band leader, pictured here. 14. Ostriches. 15. Chamber. 16. Brought up. 17. Little devil. 18. Embroidered. 19. Peruses. 20. Chart. 21. Point. 22. Whirlwind. 23. Type standard. 25. Like. 26. Inlet. 27. Wing. 28. To pursue game. 29. He was a composer of. 31. Tipster. 33. High mountain. 34. Frozen dessert. 35. To suffice. 36. Northerly. 37. Musical note. 38. Preposition. 39. Excused. 44. Marsh. 45. Work. 47. Kill. 48. To challenge. 49. Tanning cistern. 50. Bow of a boat. 51. Aphids. 52. Copper. 53. To become bankrupt. 54. Grayish-green color. 56. Star-shaped flower. 57. He was a pitcher of the U. S. A. 12. Horse fennel. 13. Paid. 18. Depot. 19. To order. 20. His. 21. His. 22. His. 23. His. 24. His. 25. His. 26. His. 27. His. 28. His. 29. His. 30. His. 31. His. 32. His. 33. His. 34. His. 35. His. 36. His. 37. His. 38. His. 39. His. 40. His. 41. His. 42. His. 43. His. 44. His. 45. His. 46. His. 47. His. 48. His. 49. His. 50. His. 51. His. 52. His. 53. His. 54. His. 55. His. 56. His. 57. His. 58. His. 59. His. 60. His. 61. His. 62. His. 63. His. 64. His. 65. His. 66. His. 67. His. 68. His. 69. His. 70. His. 71. His. 72. His. 73. His. 74. His. 75. His. 76. His. 77. His. 78. His. 79. His. 80. His. 81. His. 82. His. 83. His. 84. His. 85. His. 86. His. 87. His. 88. His. 89. His. 90. His. 91. His. 92. His. 93. His. 94. His. 95. His. 96. His. 97. His. 98. His. 99. His. 100. His.

Answers on Classified Page

1939 due to work-wages, of mumb-with it to a mar-nickel and fur pressed it due of the Fe had during ar 47
low in-er in-ere is ually, strike
the increase
by tax-for mar-Hitler
it is le are reached and made their
But seem in win that is plaint ve ac-
and es en-not to ing in g half-elabam erlism
O. P. an re-ing in
of -sec-in this by the time, I adically ave us (Dem.
Christ-at least auto-led in and as New-at, and states Dela-at with green" show erantly e trafto the ons ed.
ed.
ature iber ure
15
24
55

Boston Team Entrains For Cotton Bowl

BOSTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—With thousands of well-wishers planning to join the Boston College student body, Coach Frank Leahy and his 39 Cotton Bowl-bound Eagles were assured of the most enthusiastic send-off in New England's football history today when they entrain for Dallas, Tex.

The squad, which was dismissed Thursday to spend Christmas at home, was scheduled to report at Boston College, about three hours before train-time (noon GST). All the players, with the exception of Alex Lukachik, the place-kicking end, were reported physically fit. Lukachik, the last to be stricken by the grippe attack that hampered the squad's training at Andover, was confined to bed yesterday but team physicians assured Leahy he would be able to entrain.

Hampered by the cold, Leahy was unable to prime his squad as he wished and it is so short of much-needed contact work that he has arranged for long scrimmages tomorrow in St. Louis, where the football special will be halted for eight hours. Similar workouts have been scheduled for the remainder of the week in Dallas but Leahy hopes two scrimmages will be enough to sharpen his team to the point where it can start on even terms with the powerful Clemson Tigers.

Although every member of the Eagles' squad, with the exception of Lou Montgomery, the speedy negro halfback, made the trip, Leahy boasted that he was not taking anyone "just for the ride."

"We expect the stiffest kind of competition from Clemson," he said, "and we are going to need plenty of replacements. If we have any difficulty getting acclimated, I may be forced to use even the fourth-stringers. We have devoted as much attention to them as to the regulars and the ranking substitutes and every boy on the squad has been schooled in Clemson tactics."

Howard Jones Has Regard For Vols

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 26 (AP)—Coach Howard Harding Jones, never a loser in the Rose bowl, makes no secret of his high regard for the University of Tennessee football team.

The University of Southern California headman, gunning for his fifth triumph in Pasadena's annual Tournament of Roses grid classic, candidly said he expected a tougher battle from the Vols than Duke put up last New Year's day.

Considering the fact that it took Troy something like 50 minutes and 20 seconds to crush the rock-bound Dukes in a finish that read like a wild movie script, Jones' observation seems remarkable.

"We knew Duke had a great defensive club, but we didn't have much fear of his attack," Jones commented. "That was the way the game went. Duke didn't act much like they wanted to run with the ball, but at the same time we couldn't get anywhere, either."

"From what we know of Tennessee, they have not only a great defensive record, but a dangerous running and passing game as well. That's why we look for more trouble from the Vols than we did from Duke."

Clemson To Reach Dallas Tonight

CLEMSON, S. C., Dec. 26 (AP)—Clemson's Tigers, bound for the Cotton Bowl, moved today in two pull-man cars toward Dallas, Tex., where they will engage the Boston College Eagles on the gridiron New Year's Day.

The Tigers will reach Dallas tonight and will put up at a hotel about two miles from Southern Methodist University, where they will practice. They will workout before the public tomorrow afternoon but subsequent drills will be behind closed gates.

The official party, consisting of 35 players, a couple of managers, five coaches and the team physician, left here yesterday.

Walter Cox and Frank Delta, regular and reserve guard, respectively, were the only players who did not take part in yesterday's drill. Both have minor injuries, but are expected to be in good shape for the game.

16 McLean Tigers To Receive Letters

Special To The NEWS
McLEAN, Dec. 26—Sixteen varsity football sweaters, and four for the substitutes, arrived here this morning for presentation to this year's Tiger football squad.

The varsity sweaters are white, with an orange and black "M," while the substitutes will wear a black sweater with the same letter.

For Bory And Soul, It's Good to Bowl!

BERRY'S ALLEYS
115 N. Frost Joe Berry, Prop.

1935 Soap Box Derby Winner Goes to College

In 1935, Maurice Bale, Jr., 13, of Anderson, Indiana, won the national championship of the All-American Soap Box Derby at Akron, Ohio. His chief award was a four-year college scholarship. This fall, Bale, now 18, became the first champion to use his scholarship by matriculating at Indiana State Teachers College, in Terre Haute, Ind. Bale says, "If they could only know what the Derby has meant to me, every boy in the country would enter." In the photo, at upper left, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, World War ace, is shown congratulating Maurice. Upper right, C. P. Fiskin of Chevrolet Motor is presenting the scholarship certificate. Lower pictures show Bale on the campus and in his chemistry laboratory at the college.

Sports Roundup

By KENNETH GREGORY
(Pinch-Hitting For Eddie Britz)

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 26 (AP)—Scoop parade: Bobby Jones is taking golf lessons. . . Honest, Injun. . . The grand-slammer wanted another expert's views on his swing, so he's having his strokes scrutinized once or twice a week. . . Which means, no doubt, the one-time world champion intends to shoot for a higher position in the Augusta "Masters" tournament next April. . . Young Harold Sargent, assistant East Lake Professional and son of the 1909 national open champion, is working with Jones.

Today's guest star, Zipp Newman, Birmingham (Ala.) News: "Illinois' victory at football over Michigan was voted the upset of the year. . . The boys must have forgotten the College of the Pacific's victory over California. . . After all Illinois is in the same league with Michigan."

Alabama kicked itself into the Rose Bowl two years ago. . . Tennessee ran there. . . Sandy Sanford's winning field goal booted over Tulane and Vanderbilt got Alabama the invitation. . . Johnny Butler's 56 and 40 yards run against Alabama and Auburn helped write Tennessee's ticket. . . So help me, Auburn's players, who faced four of the "bowl" teams, nominated Villanova as the toughest club encountered.

Note to Pacific Coast sports writers: You will see Michigan's record in a light grey double-breasted suit with hat to match. . . The Major has worn the same outfit since Tennessee started a 23-game winning streak two years ago. . . He says he isn't superstitious, just careful. . . Ray (Vanderbilt) Morrison says Tennessee will defeat Southern Cal 20 to 7. . . He predicts the Tulane-Texas Aggie game will wind up in a 13-13 deadlock.

Doc Newton, North Carolina State pilot, let the Greensboro (N. C.) Touchdown club have a curve ball with this one: "Some of you wouldn't look so good at the end of the week if your work was splashed throughout the newspapers."

Found in grandmother's scrapbook: "Christmas over, money spent, time to figure, and repent. Here's hoping that it was a merry Christmas for you and you, and that the New Year will be a happy one."

Grid Game Played For Birthday Fund

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 26 (AP)—A 22-yard field goal by Quarterback Benny Babula in the final period broke a tie score and gave the Garfield, N. J., high school football team a 16-13 victory over Miami High in a spine-tingling Christmas night Health Bowl game.

The three-pointer offset a brilliant 78-yard touchdown run by Miami's Lt. David Eldredge, which, with the conversion had tied the score at 13-all a short time before Babula's kick.

Sponsored by the President's birthday committee, proceeds of the game went into the national infantile paralysis fund.

The Detroit river sometimes is called the "Dardenells of the New World."

Wm. T. Frasier & Co.
The INSURANCE Men
112 W. Kingsmill Phone 1044
F. H. A. And Life Insurance Loans
Automobile, Compensation, Fire and Liability Insurance.

THE 1940 CENSUS IS ABOUT TO BE TAKEN

THEY LUG THE MAIL FOR CLEMSON COLLEGE

Left to Right—Banks McFadden, Joe Payne, Bru Treadler, Shad Bryant Clemson

Blue And Gray Gridders Practice

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 26 (AP)—A wide-open game, featuring passes and lightning thrusts, appeared in prospect today as northern and southern coaches sent their 44 all-star charges through two drills preparatory to Montgomery's Blue and Gray classic Dec. 30.

Don Principe, Fordham's ace back, and Bill Hutchinson, Dartmouth's passing star, gained most attention from Carl Snively of Cornell and Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern as they reviewed plays which brought the Yankees a 7-0 victory a year ago.

Young Bussey of Louisiana State and Ken Heineman of Texas Mines won most attention from Ray Morrison of Vanderbilt and John Cody of Florida, Rebel tutors.

Elephants have been known to live to an age of 120 years.

Athletes To Compete At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 26 (AP)—World-famous athletes in many sports will compete in the Sugar Bowl's festival of athletic events which begins tomorrow night with a basketball game between the University of Kentucky and Ohio State University.

Other competition is scheduled in tennis, boxing, rowing, yachting and track before the climax football game between Tulane University and Texas A. & M. on New Year's Day.

Widely-known athletes continued to arrive. Don Lash, Indiana distance star, wired he would be here for the track meet Sunday. Glen Cunningham, Archie San Romani and Lou Zamperini are already on hand.

Bobby Riggs, America's No. 1 tennis player, and Charley Hare, England's leading player, are among those entered in the tennis tournament, starting Thursday.

Friday night's boxing match will pit a team from Philadelphia against a squad of New Orleans champions.

The six-year-old sports program this season seemed likely to surpass New Orleans' fabulous century-old Mardi Gras as a tourist attraction.

Hotel managers said the number of folks already here and those expected probably would be the largest in history.

KPDN Radio Program

- TUESDAY AFTERNOON
3:30—Final Edition of the News.
3:45—Borger Studios.
5:00—Ken Bennett.
5:15—Sports Cast—WLW.
5:30—Makers of History.
5:45—Talking Drums.
6:00—Carnuckers
6:15—To be Announced.
6:30—To be Announced.
6:45—Do You Believe in Ghosts?
7:00—Goodnight!
- WEDNESDAY
7:00—Rise and Shine—WBS.
7:25—Borger Studios.
7:30—Cormack.
8:00—Borger Studios.
8:40—Shoppers Guide.
9:00—Sam's Clock of Fortune.
9:15—Your Lexicon of the Air.
9:20—Name a Number.
9:30—Borger Studios.
10:00—Mid Morning News.
10:10—It's a Fact.
10:15—Women's Club of the Air.
10:45—Borger Studios.
10:50—House of Peter MacGregor.
11:15—News—WKY.
11:30—Moods in Melody.
11:45—Rhythm and Romance—WBS.
11:55—Fashion Flash.
12:00—Read & Console.
12:30—World's News—WBS
12:30—Linger Awhile.
12:45—Billy Gilbert.
1:00—News Headlines.
1:15—Sweet or Swing.
1:30—Hits and Encore—WBS.
1:45—Sixty—WBS.
2:00—Bill Haley.
2:15—Birth of the News.
2:30—Today's Almanac—WBS.
2:45—Tonic Tunes—WBS.
3:00—Rough Riders—WKY.
3:15—Borger Studios.
3:30—Final Edition of the News.
3:45—Borger Studios.
4:00—Ken Bennett.
4:15—Sports Cast—WLW.
4:30—Air Adventures of Jimmie Allen.
4:45—Talking Drums.
5:00—To be Announced.
5:15—To be Announced.
5:30—Reflections At Twilight
7:00—Goodnight!

Among the current Baylor University student body of 2,350 are 216 from states other than Texas and six foreign countries. The latter include China, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Brazil and Russia. Distant states and insular possessions include Vermont, Florida and California, and Hawaii.

Eating His Way Into the Air

U. S. Army Private Joseph G. Froberg, of Brockton, Mass., yearned to enter the Air Corps. He passed all requirements except weight, lacking seven pounds. What to do? Of course! Here he is at Mitchell Field, L. I., doing it—with spare ribs, sauerkraut, baked potatoes and chocolate cake.

Royal Family of American League

Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Nationals, is confident the family has another heads-up ball player in his 19-month-old grandson, Thomas Griffith Cronin, son of Joe Cronin, manager of the Boston Red Sox. Mrs. Cronin is Griffith's adopted daughter.

WINNING BASKETBALL

Second of a series of basketball plays used by top-notchers.

Butler university, coached by Paul Hinkle, uses this quick-break play with two options.

The maneuver starts with player No. 1 passing to No. 5, who breaks into foul circle to meet ball. Player No. 3 screens No. 1's guard and No. 4 screens No. 2's guard.

No. 1 and 2 then have opportunity to break loose down the sideline for a quick pass over from No. 5.

Golfer Gets Shoe Weighing 50 Pounds

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 26 (AP)—Earl Burke lifts his left foot high in the air when he hits a golf ball and is never quite sure where it will go.

Hap Slater decided something should be done to remedy the situation, so for a Christmas present he gave Burke left shoe of the correct size—but made of concrete.

It weighs 50 pounds.

Now all Burke has to do is figure out how to carry it around.

McLean Introduces Intramural Sports

Special To The NEWS
McLEAN, Dec. 26—Initial success greeted the first efforts to introduce an intramural program into the McLean high school here.

The plan has basketball teams for each class, both boys and girls teams, competing with each other for pennants which the winner will display until the next monthly tournament.

In the first tournament the senior girls won a pennant by defeating the freshman girls in the final game, while the senior boys defeated the freshman boys for their pennant.

Approximately 70 boys and girls participated in the games played. Over 200 spectators watched the contests.

In the future, it is planned to have eliminations between the classes on one night and the final games the next evening. A rule restricting any person playing for the high school team from playing on a class team until after the first half of the game was adopted to equalize the class teams.

The program was tried out here several years ago, and then dropped until this year. If successful the program will provide an answer to critics who point out that high schools are becoming too professional in their athletics, and that their athletic program is not for the average student.

Orville Cunningham, principal of the McLean High school, originated the present program and is directing it.

Sign Of Spring

OLATHE, Kas., Dec. 26 (AP)—Snow and freezing weather notwithstanding, James G. Manning insists he's uncovered a sure sign of spring.

A hen hatched eight chicks in a barnyard nest.

Longhorns To Play Tonight In New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 26 (AP)—There isn't much left of the Christmas turkey, and there won't be much left of one basketball team, following the main attraction in Madison Square Garden's second collegiate twin bill tonight.

It would be hard to arrange a game that has more of a national championship aspect than the University of Southern California-Long Island University game. The Blackbirds unbeaten in 42 games, are the eastern kings, while the coast powerhouse has mowed down such perennial midwestern powers as De Paul, Purdue and Notre Dame.

It's a shame that either has to lose.

That's why the game takes on the spotlighted aspect, even though the Texas University Longhorns, champions of the southwest, play Manhattan's stout metropolitan machine in the other end of the twin tussle.

A victory tonight would enable the Birds to match their all-time high winning streak of 43 which was compiled between the 1933 and 1935 and smashed in '35 by Stanford.

And that curtain-raiser is something more than an ordinary Epworth League tussle.

O'Brien Stars In Exes' Grid Game

PORT WORTH, Dec. 26 (AP)—"Lil' Davey O'Brien sparked an all-star team composed mostly of former Texas Christian players to a 12-6 victory over ex-gridders of four other Texas schools in a charity football game here yesterday.

Davey passed to Bob Brandon, former Rice athlete, five yards to score a touchdown early in the second quarter and his team counted again in the third period with Johnny Hall, former T. C. U. star, intercepted a pass by Billy Patterson and went 30 yards.

Leonard Akin of this season's Baylor team dropped back from his guard position, took an O'Brien pass, and set up the score against the O'Brien-men in the late fourth period. Akin ran to the 8-yard line and Patterson passed to Ed Vickers, star of the 1937 Rice eleven, for a touchdown.

O'Brien's eleven was opposed by former gridders of Baylor, Texas Wesleyan, Rice, and North Texas Teachers.

Read The Classified Ads

STOP! LOOK!! READ!!

White Gas 14c
Bronze Leaded 16c
Ethyl Gas 18c

LONG'S STATION
701 W. Foster

Buy Without Cash!

Why waste another whole year, waiting till you save enough to buy that needed Car? With the little you have, and the balance which we will provide, you can have your car, New Year's! You can repay us as months go to our Friendly Auto Finance, by—as you ride. Inquire in—

Southwestern Investment Co.
Combs-Worley Bldg. Phone 604 Pampa

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND HAPPY NEW YEAR

Classified Adv. Rates-Information

All want ads are strictly cash and are accepted over the phone with the understanding that the advertiser will be paid at least one week after last insertion cash rate will be allowed.

LOCAL CLASSIFIED RATES
 15 Words 2 Times 4 Times 8 Times
 1.00 1.50 2.00 3.00
 Charge 1.00 1.50

All ads for "Situation Wanted" and "Lost and Found" are cash with order and will not be accepted over the phone.

Out-of-town advertising cash with order.

Phone You Want Ad To 666

Our courteous ad-taker will receive your want-ad, helping you word it. Notice of any error must be given immediately. Report body and address. Ad will be received until 10:30 a. m. or insertion same day. Sunday ads will be received until 5:00 p. m. Saturday.

AUTOMOBILE SERVICE

1-A Wash-Grease-Gas-Oil
 FRENCHES saved or penicillin made. White gas. 14c. Bronze (loaded) gas. 15c. Ethyl gas. 18c. Long-Stations. 701 W. Foster.
 BE sure your clothes are really clean. Send them to the Service Cleaners Free delivery. Phone 1290.

DON'T take chances—Let us "Bear-A-Lap" your car. Expert body and wheel. New equipment. Schneider Hotel Garage. Phone 1838.

1-C Repairing-Service

BATTERIES recharged 6c. Rental battery, first class body work, and general motor overhauling. Pampa Body Works. South Cuyler and 7th.

Let Us Paint Your Car

DUPONT It will look like new. Expert body and fender repair.
 See us for free estimate
PETE'S BODY SHOP
 806 W. Foster Phone 802

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2-Special Notices
 COMPLETE line of fresh meats and Groceries. Pure pork sausage 20c. lb. Lane's Greasy & Station. 5 Points. Phone 954-4.
FOR SALE—OIL TRAILS—160-A. rental contract government program 100-A. wheat growing. Tractor (John Deere). One-way. 1/2 cent. $500.00. 1 1/2 miles northwest Kingsmill.
FOR FULLER Brian Service. Phone 261. Lowest prices in history.
GARAGE equipment. All in fine condition. A real sacrifice for cash. Modern Motor Service, Perryton, Texas.
A BRIGHT New Year. An F. H. A. home of your own. Charlie Meisel. Acton Lumber Co. Phone 257.

THAT family group—Now is the time to make it, while there are still relatives.

GOOD plumbing adds to your comfort, health, and pride in your home. Call Moore Plumbing. 533 S. Cuyler. Phone 924.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

And
HAPPY NEW YEAR
 Charlie Meisel

Acme Lumber Co. Phone 257

4—Lost and Found
 2 Cat Keys, post office, house key, lost downtown district. Call 143W.

EMPLOYMENT

5—Male Help Wanted
 AMBITIOUS, reliable man or woman who is interested in permanent work with a good income, to supply classified customers with famous Watkins Products in Pampa. Write J. E. Watkins Co., 70-94 W. Iowa Ave., Memphis, Tenn.

6—Female Help Wanted

WANTED: Experienced white girl for general house work. Must stay nights. Phone 1425.

BUSINESS SERVICE

17—Flooring-Sanding
 LOVELL'S A-1 Floor Sanding. Floors resanded and sanded, sanitary and easy to clean. Portable power. Phone 62.

18—Building-Materials

BUT YOUR house in A-1 condition for winter. Earnest Building, servicing, warm air heating, Metal Work. Des Moore, Ph. 102.

21—Upholstering-Refinishing

CALL us for free estimate on all class furniture, repairing, upholstering, mattress work. Pampa Upholstering Co., 824 W. Foster. Phone 138.

CASH in the hand is worth something of what you want household furniture, farm machinery, etc. if stored in the attic, cellar or garage. Let us help you get a little cash in hand through a classified ad.

FURNITURE repairing and re-upholstering.

Lowest cost. Guaranteed work. 1st class shop. Spear Furniture Co. Phone 543.
BRUMMETT'S upholstering and refinishing shop. Free estimate and delivery service. Satisfaction guaranteed. 614 So. Cuyler. Phone 1425.

26—Beauty Parlor Service

THIS ad is good for $1.00 on a $25.00 treatment or a Pammy Beauty Shop. North Crown Station. Phone 108.

MERCHANDISE

28—Miscellaneous
 FOR SALE—Dps 4 foot meat case and compressor. Practically new. S. Cuyler. S. B. Black.
 NINE great Everglades An Everglades for every home. Electric model in "tops". McConnell Implement Co., Phone 485.

29—Mattresses

WE will be in our new location, 817 W. Foster, about the 1st of the year. Apex Mattress Factory. Phone 638.

WHY not let us convert your present mattress into a guaranteed interpreting. An ideal gift for anyone. Apex Mattress Factory. Phone 638.

30—Household Goods
 1948 General Electric is now on display at Thompson Hardware, 107 North Cuyler. Phone 28.
 WILL, washing machine, 8 foot meat case with refrigerator. Phone 888.

32—Musical Instruments

FOR SALE— handmade violins. Old curly maple. Full range, possible case. Cheaper, $95.00. L. M. Keller, 727 E. Fredrick.

34—Good Things to Eat

SPECIAL on home rendered snow white lard, 5c lb.; plenty nice young fat hens and nice meat; plenty nice young fat hens; pure pork sausage, 17 1/2c lb. Fresh 100c pork, 15 1/2c lb.; ham, center cut, 22 1/2c lb.; half lb. whole, 12c; Fresh double eggs, 25c dozen; J. R. McKenzie, Phone 73.
DRESSED hogs, 13 miles South and 2 west of Pampa. Clarendon Road, John Baggettman.

LIVESTOCK

37—Dogs-Pets-Supplies
 VERBIDS for a different Christmas gift: white, turquoise blue, mauve, olive green, a d. yellow. Moses Store, next to Diamond Shop.

ROOM AND BOARD

42—Sleeping Rooms
 NICELY furnished bedroom. Telephone privileges. With or without garage. 311 S. West. Telephone 1326.
FOR RENT: Nice comfortable bedroom. Outside entrance, 405 East Kingsmill.
 DESIRABLE bedroom, convenient to bath for rent to gentleman only. 704 E. Francis. Phone 1892.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE

46—Houses for Rent
 CLOSE in 3-rm. furn. duplex with garage $30. 3-rm. unfurn. apt. $25. 2-rm. modern unfurn. $15. Phone 166.
 1 LARGO room unfurnished house, hardwood floors. Mrs. Ed Fowler, Phone 1694W or 377.

47—Apartments

2 ROOM furnished apartment. Close in. Inexpensive mattress. Telephone. 415 W. Browning.
ONE furnished 2 room apartment to responsible people. Phone 1292.
2 ROOM apartment furnished, bills paid, modern. $15.00 per month. Apply Tom's Place.
 NICELY furnished 2 room apartment. $35.00 and up. Maystar. 508 So. Ballard. Phone 247-W.
 1 LARGO room unfurnished duplex, clean garage. Bills paid. Phone 651 W. Call 125 S. Nelson.

4 ROOM modern duplex. Newly decorated. Private bath. Built-in Water paid. Garage. Hardwood floors. 619 N. Cuyler.

FURNISHED 2 room apartment to permanent elderly couple. Quiet home. No gas. washer, bills paid. 902 E. Browning.

3 ROOM APARTMENT

Furnished, including Electrolux icebox, close in, bills paid. Adults only. $6.00 a week.

PAMPA PAWN SHOP

FOR SALE REAL ESTATE

54—City Property
 $1200 is our sacrifice price on this lovely 3-rm. modern with built in garage. Located on E. Francis corner lot, beautiful lawn, trees and trees, real homey home. Ideal for couple. On account of other investments, owner is offering this cozy little place, say below former price. Someone is going to get a real buy, go out quickly. John L. Mikesell, Phone 166.

FOR SALE— 3 room modern house on Christine street. A good buy $3150.00. A reasonable payment down. W. T. Hollis, Phone 1478.

FINANCIAL

62—Money To Loan

Every "Santa" may need some extra cash to see him through the holidays. Our signature loans are easiest. See us about quick, convenient loans without endorsers.

Salary Loan Co.

Room 3, Natl. Bank Bldg. Phone 303

AUTOMOBILE

REFINANCING

$50 to $1000
 FINANCE DIFFICULTIES

Don't fret! Get an Auto Loan! You can get any amount up to $1,000 without any fuss. Call on us for complete information. Car need not be paid for!

MAYS LOAN AGENCY

Room 4 Duncan Bldg.—Phone 1822

AUTOMOBILES

63—Automobiles

EYE THESE BUYS

1938 PONTIAC COUPE
 Extra clean. Equipped with heater and seat covers. Good motor and tires.

1938 BUICK COUPE
 Beautiful beige paint. Equipped with heater and radio. Hear our attractive proposition on this one.

1936 PONTIAC COACH
 Completely reconditioned. Has new paint job.

Lewis Pontiac Co.

USED CARS

1938 Ford Deluxe Sd. 525
1937 Chevrolet Deluxe Sedan 450
1936 Ford Tudor 350
1936 Chev. Pickup 275
1936 Ford Pickup 250
1934 Chev. Truck 150
1930 Chev. Coach 50

Tom Rose (Ford)

Phone 141

AUTOMOBILES

63—Automobiles
 USED 1936 G. M. C. pickup. Cheap. O'Brien Machinery Company. Phone—494.

HIGHEST cash prices paid for late model used cars. Also, see us for car loans or refinancing your present car. Bob Swain, 122 N. Sonerville.

NOW WRECKING
 1937 Chevy coach. Real good motor. Ford parts of all kinds. Glass installed. $2.50 up. C. C. Matheny, 422 W. Foster.

CONSULT our classified page for bargains in good used furniture and gloves to "put your house in order" before "winter comes." Phone 666.

AT OUR LOT
 Corner S. Cuyler and Atchison.
 1937 Plymouth 2 door sedan . . . $450
 1936 Ford 2 door sedan . . . $350
 1937 Dodge 4 door sedan . . . $450
 1937 Packard 2 door sedan . . . $525

PAMPA BRAKE

Authorized Chrysler-Plymouth
 315 W. Foster Phone 340

USED CARS

'38 Chevrolet Town Sedan . . . $550
 '38 Chevrolet Master Coupe . . . $525

'38 Chevrolet Town Sedan . . . $625
 '37 Chevrolet Town Sedan . . . $425

'38 Chevrolet Town Sedan . . . $325

Culberson-Smaling Chevrolet Co.

USED CARS

'38 OLDS 2 DOOR SEDAN
 Motor reconditioned. Heater and ready for winter driving.
 '37 PLYMOUTH COACH
 A dandy.
 '36 FORD DEL. 2 DOOR SEDAN
 Columbia overdrive. Tip top in every way.
 '34 CHEVROLET COUPE
 A fine cheap car.
 Many others to choose from

CHRISTOPHER MOTOR CO.

114 S. Frost Phone 1939

Lot at 411 S. Cuyler

BUY NOW AND SAVE

1938 Buick 40 series, 2 door sedan.
 1937 Packard Coupe.
 1937 Dodge Coupe
 1935 Chevrolet Coupe
 1935 Dodge 4 door sedan

TEX EVANS BUICK CO., INC.

Used Car Lot Opposite Post Office
 Phone 1817

GOOD USED CARS

'36 DODGE
 Deluxe, 2 dr. radio, heater, defroster. . . . . $230
 '37 FORD
 Coach, deluxe, a good clean car, bumper to bumper. . . . . $325
 '37 CHEVROLET
 Standard coach, radio, heater, new tires. . . . . $450

2 MODEL (A) FORDS

Lots of transportation at low cost.
 '31 coupe, $85—'29 coach, $55.

MARTINAS MOTOR COMPANY

211 N. Ballard—Phone 113
 Used Car Lot, 111 E. Kingsmill
 J. E. Martinis, Owner
 Phil Middleton, Sales Mgr.
 DODGE—PLYMOUTH

Captured Freighter Taken Thru Canal

COLON, Panama, Dec. 26 (AP)— Despite a German diplomat's protest, the British prize crew in control of a captive German freighter today was guaranteed clearance from Cristobal for a British port by the United States army command for the canal zone.

The protest, by Consul Walter Schmidt, "has not been entertained," said Major General David L. Stone, canal zone commander, and the freighter, the 4300-ton Dueseldorf, was "free to proceed to sea."

The Dueseldorf was captured Dec. 15 off the Chilean coast by the British cruiser Dispatch two days after putting out from Valparaiso.

ANSWER TO CRANIUM CRACKER

Questions on Editorial Page
 Printing (1893), lightning rod (1752), steamboat (1787), cotton gin (1793), electro-magnet (1828), telegraph (1832), photography (1839), sewing machine (1846), speed (1857), typewriter (1868), telephone (1876), incandescent lamp (1878), moving picture machine (1893), wireless telegraph (1896), television (1926).

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

RED RYDER

Between Life and Death

ALLEY OOP

Of course you can't so drop the cave-man stuff and remain with us for a while

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Never Satisfied

L'L' ABNER

Merry Christmas Fum Mistah Capp

WASH TUBS

Looks Suspicious

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

A Reservation

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

EGAD, SOLOMON IN ALL HIS GLORY WAS NOT ARRIVED AS ONE OF YOU!

RED RYDER

Of course you can't so drop the cave-man stuff and remain with us for a while

ALLEY OOP

Never Satisfied

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Merry Christmas Fum Mistah Capp

L'L' ABNER

Looks Suspicious

WASH TUBS

Boots and Her Buddies

A Reservation

SERIAL STORY BLACKOUT BY RUTH AYERS

BY RUTH AYERS

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday, Mary and Vincent hurried to the hotel as the air raid siren sounded. It was a message signaling the hour of sailing. Vincent hurried. As Mary undressed a card slipped from her dress. It bore the name Vincent.

CHAPTER III

A SHARP rap on the door awakened Mary Carroll. "Seven o'clock!" the maid called through the door. Slowly Mary sat up in bed. Through her window, she saw the uncertain light of a London morning and the silver balloons guarding the city. This was the day she and Vincent were to sail on the Moravia to America.

The joy of this thought suddenly swept away all the fright and foreboding of the night. Gone was the haunting fear that had kept her awake half the night. She had imagined Vincent in Carla's home—Vincent, completely ensnared by the personal magnetism of this strange woman.

Her blue eyes lighted on the card atop her dressing table. Its terse message—"At Midnight"—no longer frightened her.

"What a ridiculous old Mother Worry I was!" she chided herself as she reached for her slippers.

Last night, those two words had flooded her mind with nameless terror. But this morning, it all seemed far away and unimportant. The message might have meant the time of a radio broadcast or a train departure or something equally harmless.

"And there I was," she reflected, "thinking up all kinds of mysterious rendezvous and secret meetings."

She had barely closed her last piece of luggage when a knock sounded on her door.

"A letter, Miss." She found a slip of paper and her trembling fingers tore open the envelope. She read: "Sweetheart; Sorry—had to dash off on last minute commission. Don't worry. I'll make the boat without fail. All my love. Vincent."

Mary's lips quivered as she studied the note. Suddenly, all the shadowy fears of last night returned. For the first time since she had known Vincent the chill of doubt struck her. Oh, of course she knew he was a gentleman adventurer and a scoundrel by profession. He'd never denied it. But until this minute Mary had never questioned. Now she fought back her suspicions.

At noon, when the boat train from London pulled into Southampton Mary's heart began to beat expectantly. She would soon be with Vincent. She presented her ticket and her passport and followed the steward up the gangplank. The huge bulk of the Moravia loomed like a towering monster up from the water.

"Deck, three flights below and to the left." The porter knew where he was going. "Here you are, Miss." He swung open a door. "I beg your pardon, Miss," he addressed an unseen person in the cabin. "Sorry for not knocking."

"It's quite all right," a low quaver came from inside the cabin. When Mary stepped in she saw a frail girl in gray. Red-rimmed eyes betrayed recent tears.

"Oh, hello," Mary said. "We're cabin mates, I guess. I'm Mary Carroll."

"My name's Anna Winters. I live in Bournemouth. The boat's so crowded—I hope you won't mind."

Mary paid scant attention. Only churches built on English crown land have not been permitted to ring bells since the Reformation.

Prehistoric men were afflicted with dental trouble, the same as we are today. The idea that they had perfect teeth arose from the fact that early archeologists picked out the most perfect specimens.

In 1907, 338,452 inhabitants of Austria-Hungary emigrated to the United States. This was the largest number of people to move from one country to another in a single year.

Hold everything. Secretaries Ickes, Wallace, Morgenthau, Hopkins and Perkins were all lifted out of non-political settings by President Roosevelt and put into posts of national power.

When he goes, they go out of necessity. None of them has the political backing needed to push them within reach of any important plum for a new Democratic administration.

This fact might be expected not only to cause them to root for a third term, but the pre-dispose them against any other Democratic candidate—Vice President Garner, Paul V. McNutt, or any one of the ambitious senators and governors.

Ickes and Wallace are recent converts to the Democratic party; not to the party of Garner, Secretary Hull and Postmaster General Farley but to the Democracy of the New Deal. However able they may be, their power in national affairs undoubtedly would vanish with the incoming trend of a new administration.

Ickes was practicing law and politics in Chicago when Mr. Roosevelt found him. He had been a Bull Moose with Theodore Roosevelt, then had drifted into the between-party fringe of Independents.

Bounties for the killing of crows have been offered in the United States since 1789.

She had imagined Vincent in Carla's home—Vincent, completely ensnared by the personal magnetism of this strange woman.

one thing was important—to see Vincent. The girl went on: "I've put my things over here. I'll be glad to unpack for you." Mary smiled absently. "Thanks," she said and tossed her luggage keys onto the bunk beside Anna. "I'm going up on deck to wait for my fiance."

There was a bustle of goodbys in the passages and the beating of gongs. Page boys' calls, laughter and sobs all blended together in a confused babel. Beneath all the din came the throb of the engines. With difficulty Mary edged her way to the gangplank. There, pushed and shoved and elbowed by the crowd, she waited for Vincent as the minutes dragged.

Afraid she might have missed him in the jostle, Mary made her way to the purser's office. It was nearly an hour before she moved up to the window.

"Has Mr. Vincent Gregg come aboard?" she asked the harried Britisher. He made an expert search through a pile of documents.

"His ticket isn't here, Miss." Seeing her disappointment, he added consolingly, "There's still an hour before sailing."

MARY rushed back to the gangplank, a thousand fears mocking her. When a double blast of the ship's whistle announced only a half hour remained before sailing she realized there was only one thing to do. She was not going to cross the Atlantic on the Moravia alone!

Turning, she fought her way through the swarming crowds. "Look smart there, Miss," a luggage carrier warned as she tripped over a mound of baggage. Picking herself up, she finally gained the companionway and the three flights to D deck.

"Quick!" she cried to the gray clad girl in her cabin. "Give me my bags, I'm not sailing. Hurry!" One glance about the cabin and Mary realized that Anna Winters had faithfully kept her promise to unpack Mary's belongings.

"Oh, I'm sorry, Miss Carroll. I have everything put away."

"Help me get them together again," Mary sobbed. "I've got to get off this boat."

Then sharp and clear in the passage came the steward's call, "All ashore that's going ashore." Beating gongs sounded louder.

For a minute, Anna Winters was too taken aback to make an utterance.

Then, as she flew to the cabin closet, she became all sympathy. "Oh," she stammered, "I'm so sorry. Your fiance hasn't come aboard!"

"No—something's delayed him. I won't sail without him. We are going to be married—very soon. If he's had to stay behind, I'm going to stay, too."

From the closet, came armfuls of Parisian frocks—Mary's trousseau. There was a sudden interruption in the flurry of this frantic packing with a sharp knock on the door. Brusquely, the steward called—"All visitors ashore."

Mary let the lovely gowns slip from her hands. "There isn't time," she said. "I don't dare wait."

WITHOUT a backward glance or a goodbye, she ran out of the cabin and into the passage. The crowds had thinned. Farewells were over. Even so, the twisting stairs seemed endless as Mary raced the three flights.

When she reached A deck, the gangplank was already in the air, pulleys easing it shorewards. For a minute, Mary was so stunned she could only watch as the last tie between her and Vincent vanished. Then her startled cry brought a steward to her side.

"What's wrong, Miss?" "I've got to get off. I'm not sailing."

He understood the emergency at once. "If we're quick, you can catch the third class gangplank before it's lifted. Come with me."

(To Be Continued)

OUR WAY

BY J. R. WILLIAMS

RED RYDER

The Challenge

BY FRED HARMAN

ALLEY OOP

Maybe He'll Learn About Women

BY V. T. HAMLIN

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Luckless Lord

BY MERRILL BLOSSER

LIL' ABNER

Dogpatch Auto Show!

BY AL CAPP

WASH TUBBS

Pretty Late For Santa Claus

BY ROY CRANE

BOOTH'S AND HER BUDDIES

Leave It to Pug

BY EDGAR MARTIN

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

with

MAJOR HOOPLE

She had imagined Vincent in Carla's home—Vincent, completely ensnared by the personal magnetism of this strange woman.

one thing was important—to see Vincent. The girl went on: "I've put my things over here. I'll be glad to unpack for you." Mary smiled absently. "Thanks," she said and tossed her luggage keys onto the bunk beside Anna. "I'm going up on deck to wait for my fiance."

There was a bustle of goodbys in the passages and the beating of gongs. Page boys' calls, laughter and sobs all blended together in a confused babel. Beneath all the din came the throb of the engines. With difficulty Mary edged her way to the gangplank. There, pushed and shoved and elbowed by the crowd, she waited for Vincent as the minutes dragged.

Afraid she might have missed him in the jostle, Mary made her way to the purser's office. It was nearly an hour before she moved up to the window.

"Has Mr. Vincent Gregg come aboard?" she asked the harried Britisher. He made an expert search through a pile of documents.

"His ticket isn't here, Miss." Seeing her disappointment, he added consolingly, "There's still an hour before sailing."

MARY rushed back to the gangplank, a thousand fears mocking her. When a double blast of the ship's whistle announced only a half hour remained before sailing she realized there was only one thing to do. She was not going to cross the Atlantic on the Moravia alone!

Turning, she fought her way through the swarming crowds. "Look smart there, Miss," a luggage carrier warned as she tripped over a mound of baggage. Picking herself up, she finally gained the companionway and the three flights to D deck.

"Quick!" she cried to the gray clad girl in her cabin. "Give me my bags, I'm not sailing. Hurry!" One glance about the cabin and Mary realized that Anna Winters had faithfully kept her promise to unpack Mary's belongings.

"Oh, I'm sorry, Miss Carroll. I have everything put away."

"Help me get them together again," Mary sobbed. "I've got to get off this boat."

Then sharp and clear in the passage came the steward's call, "All ashore that's going ashore." Beating gongs sounded louder.

For a minute, Anna Winters was too taken aback to make an utterance.

Then, as she flew to the cabin closet, she became all sympathy. "Oh," she stammered, "I'm so sorry. Your fiance hasn't come aboard!"

"No—something's delayed him. I won't sail without him. We are going to be married—very soon. If he's had to stay behind, I'm going to stay, too."

From the closet, came armfuls of Parisian frocks—Mary's trousseau. There was a sudden interruption in the flurry of this frantic packing with a sharp knock on the door. Brusquely, the steward called—"All visitors ashore."

Mary let the lovely gowns slip from her hands. "There isn't time," she said. "I don't dare wait."

WITHOUT a backward glance or a goodbye, she ran out of the cabin and into the passage. The crowds had thinned. Farewells were over. Even so, the twisting stairs seemed endless as Mary raced the three flights.

When she reached A deck, the gangplank was already in the air, pulleys easing it shorewards. For a minute, Mary was so stunned she could only watch as the last tie between her and Vincent vanished. Then her startled cry brought a steward to her side.

"What's wrong, Miss?" "I've got to get off. I'm not sailing."

He understood the emergency at once. "If we're quick, you can catch the third class gangplank before it's lifted. Come with me."

(To Be Continued)

She had imagined Vincent in Carla's home—Vincent, completely ensnared by the personal magnetism of this strange woman.

one thing was important—to see Vincent. The girl went on: "I've put my things over here. I'll be glad to unpack for you." Mary smiled absently. "Thanks," she said and tossed her luggage keys onto the bunk beside Anna. "I'm going up on deck to wait for my fiance."

There was a bustle of goodbys in the passages and the beating of gongs. Page boys' calls, laughter and sobs all blended together in a confused babel. Beneath all the din came the throb of the engines. With difficulty Mary edged her way to the gangplank. There, pushed and shoved and elbowed by the crowd, she waited for Vincent as the minutes dragged.

Afraid she might have missed him in the jostle, Mary made her way to the purser's office. It was nearly an hour before she moved up to the window.

"Has Mr. Vincent Gregg come aboard?" she asked the harried Britisher. He made an expert search through a pile of documents.

"His ticket isn't here, Miss." Seeing her disappointment, he added consolingly, "There's still an hour before sailing."

MARY rushed back to the gangplank, a thousand fears mocking her. When a double blast of the ship's whistle announced only a half hour remained before sailing she realized there was only one thing to do. She was not going to cross the Atlantic on the Moravia alone!

Turning, she fought her way through the swarming crowds. "Look smart there, Miss," a luggage carrier warned as she tripped over a mound of baggage. Picking herself up, she finally gained the companionway and the three flights to D deck.

"Quick!" she cried to the gray clad girl in her cabin. "Give me my bags, I'm not sailing. Hurry!" One glance about the cabin and Mary realized that Anna Winters had faithfully kept her promise to unpack Mary's belongings.

"Oh, I'm sorry, Miss Carroll. I have everything put away."

"Help me get them together again," Mary sobbed. "I've got to get off this boat."

Then sharp and clear in the passage came the steward's call, "All ashore that's going ashore." Beating gongs sounded louder.

For a minute, Anna Winters was too taken aback to make an utterance.

Then, as she flew to the cabin closet, she became all sympathy. "Oh," she stammered, "I'm so sorry. Your fiance hasn't come aboard!"

"No—something's delayed him. I won't sail without him. We are going to be married—very soon. If he's had to stay behind, I'm going to stay, too."

From the closet, came armfuls of Parisian frocks—Mary's trousseau. There was a sudden interruption in the flurry of this frantic packing with a sharp knock on the door. Brusquely, the steward called—"All visitors ashore."

Mary let the lovely gowns slip from her hands. "There isn't time," she said. "I don't dare wait."

WITHOUT a backward glance or a goodbye, she ran out of the cabin and into the passage. The crowds had thinned. Farewells were over. Even so, the twisting stairs seemed endless as Mary raced the three flights.

When she reached A deck, the gangplank was already in the air, pulleys easing it shorewards. For a minute, Mary was so stunned she could only watch as the last tie between her and Vincent vanished. Then her startled cry brought a steward to her side.

"What's wrong, Miss?" "I've got to get off. I'm not sailing."

He understood the emergency at once. "If we're quick, you can catch the third class gangplank before it's lifted. Come with me."

(To Be Continued)

She had imagined Vincent in Carla's home—Vincent, completely ensnared by the personal magnetism of this strange woman.

one thing was important—to see Vincent. The girl went on: "I've put my things over here. I'll be glad to unpack for you." Mary smiled absently. "Thanks," she said and tossed her luggage keys onto the bunk beside Anna. "I'm going up on deck to wait for my fiance."

There was a bustle of goodbys in the passages and the beating of gongs. Page boys' calls, laughter and sobs all blended together in a confused babel. Beneath all the din came the throb of the engines. With difficulty Mary edged her way to the gangplank. There, pushed and shoved and elbowed by the crowd, she waited for Vincent as the minutes dragged.

Afraid she might have missed him in the jostle, Mary made her way to the purser's office. It was nearly an hour before she moved up to the window.

"Has Mr. Vincent Gregg come aboard?" she asked the harried Britisher. He made an expert search through a pile of documents.

"His ticket isn't here, Miss." Seeing her disappointment, he added consolingly, "There's still an hour before sailing."

MARY rushed back to the gangplank, a thousand fears mocking her. When a double blast of the ship's whistle announced only a half hour remained before sailing she realized there was only one thing to do. She was not going to cross the Atlantic on the Moravia alone!

Turning, she fought her way through the swarming crowds. "Look smart there, Miss," a luggage carrier warned as she tripped over a mound of baggage. Picking herself up, she finally gained the companionway and the three flights to D deck.

"Quick!" she cried to the gray clad girl in her cabin. "Give me my bags, I'm not sailing. Hurry!" One glance about the cabin and Mary realized that Anna Winters had faithfully kept her promise to unpack Mary's belongings.

"Oh, I'm sorry, Miss Carroll. I have everything put away."

"Help me get them together again," Mary sobbed. "I've got to get off this boat."

Then sharp and clear in the passage came the steward's call, "All ashore that's going ashore." Beating gongs sounded louder.

For a minute, Anna Winters was too taken aback to make an utterance.

Then, as she flew to the cabin closet, she became all sympathy. "Oh," she stammered, "I'm so sorry. Your fiance hasn't come aboard!"

"No—something's delayed him. I won't sail without him. We are going to be married—very soon. If he's had to stay behind, I'm going to stay, too."

From the closet, came armfuls of Parisian frocks—Mary's trousseau. There was a sudden interruption in the flurry of this frantic packing with a sharp knock on the door. Brusquely, the steward called—"All visitors ashore."

Mary let the lovely gowns slip from her hands. "There isn't time," she said. "I don't dare wait."

WITHOUT a backward glance or a goodbye, she ran out of the cabin and into the passage. The crowds had thinned. Farewells were over. Even so, the twisting stairs seemed endless as Mary raced the three flights.

When she reached A deck, the gangplank was already in the air, pulleys easing it shorewards. For a minute, Mary was so stunned she could only watch as the last tie between her and Vincent vanished. Then her startled cry brought a steward to her side.

"What's wrong, Miss?" "I've got to get off. I'm not sailing."

He understood the emergency at once. "If we're quick, you can catch the third class gangplank before it's lifted. Come with me."

(To Be Continued)

She had imagined Vincent in Carla's home—Vincent, completely ensnared by the personal magnetism of this strange woman.

one thing was important—to see Vincent. The girl went on: "I've put my things over here. I'll be glad to unpack for you." Mary smiled absently. "Thanks," she said and tossed her luggage keys onto the bunk beside Anna. "I'm going up on deck to wait for my fiance."

There was a bustle of goodbys in the passages and the beating of gongs. Page boys' calls, laughter and sobs all blended together in a confused babel. Beneath all the din came the throb of the engines. With difficulty Mary edged her way to the gangplank. There, pushed and shoved and elbowed by the crowd, she waited for Vincent as the minutes dragged.

Afraid she might have missed him in the jostle, Mary made her way to the purser's office. It was nearly an hour before she moved up to the window.

"Has Mr. Vincent Gregg come aboard?" she asked the harried Britisher. He made an expert search through a pile of documents.

"His ticket isn't here, Miss." Seeing her disappointment, he added consolingly, "There's still an hour before sailing."

MARY rushed back to the gangplank, a thousand fears mocking her. When a double blast of the ship's whistle announced only a half hour remained before sailing she realized there was only one thing to do. She was not going to cross the Atlantic on the Moravia alone!

Turning, she fought her way through the swarming crowds. "Look smart there, Miss," a luggage carrier warned as she tripped over a mound of baggage. Picking herself up, she finally gained the companionway and the three flights to D deck.

"Quick!" she cried to the gray clad girl in her cabin. "Give me my bags, I'm not sailing. Hurry!" One glance about the cabin and Mary realized that Anna Winters had faithfully kept her promise to unpack Mary's belongings.

"Oh, I'm sorry, Miss Carroll. I have everything put away."

"Help me get them together again," Mary sobbed. "I've got to get off this boat."

Then sharp and clear in the passage came the steward's call, "All ashore that's going ashore." Beating gongs sounded louder.

For a minute, Anna Winters was too taken aback to make an utterance.

Then, as she flew to the cabin closet, she became all sympathy. "Oh," she stammered, "I'm so sorry. Your fiance hasn't come aboard!"

"No—something's delayed him. I won't sail without him. We are going to be married—very soon. If he's had to stay behind, I'm going to stay, too."

From the closet, came armfuls of Parisian frocks—Mary's trousseau. There was a sudden interruption in the flurry of this frantic packing with a sharp knock on the door. Brusquely, the steward called—"All visitors ashore."

Mary let the lovely gowns slip from her hands. "There isn't time," she said. "I don't dare wait."

WITHOUT a backward glance or a goodbye, she ran out of the cabin and into the passage. The crowds had thinned. Farewells were over. Even so, the twisting stairs seemed endless as Mary raced the three flights.

When she reached A deck, the gangplank was already in the air, pulleys easing it shorewards. For a minute, Mary was so stunned she could only watch as the last tie between her and Vincent vanished. Then her startled cry brought a steward to her side.

"What's wrong, Miss?" "I've got to get off. I'm not sailing."

He understood the emergency at once. "If we're quick, you can catch the third class gangplank before it's lifted. Come with me."

(To Be Continued)

She had imagined Vincent in Carla's home—Vincent, completely ensnared by the personal magnetism of this strange woman.

one thing was important—to see Vincent. The girl went on: "I've put my things over here. I'll be glad to unpack for you." Mary smiled absently. "Thanks," she said and tossed her luggage keys onto the bunk beside Anna. "I'm going up on deck to wait for my fiance."

There was a bustle of goodbys in the passages and the beating of gongs. Page boys' calls, laughter and sobs all blended together in a confused babel. Beneath all the din came the throb of the engines. With difficulty Mary edged her way to the gangplank. There, pushed and shoved and elbowed by the crowd, she waited for Vincent as the minutes dragged.

Afraid she might have missed him in the jostle, Mary made her way to the purser's office. It was nearly an hour before she moved up to the window.

"Has Mr. Vincent Gregg come aboard?" she asked the harried Britisher. He made an expert search through a pile of documents.

"His ticket isn't here, Miss." Seeing her disappointment, he added consolingly, "There's still an hour before sailing."

MARY rushed back to the gangplank, a thousand fears mocking her. When a double blast of the ship's whistle announced only a half hour remained before sailing she realized there was only one thing to do. She was not going to cross the Atlantic on the Moravia alone!

Turning, she fought her way through the swarming crowds. "Look smart there, Miss," a luggage carrier warned as she tripped over a mound of baggage. Picking herself up, she finally gained the companionway and the three flights to D deck.

"Quick!" she cried to the gray clad girl in her cabin. "Give me my bags, I'm not sailing. Hurry!" One glance about the cabin and Mary realized that Anna Winters had faithfully kept her promise to unpack Mary's belongings.

"Oh, I'm sorry, Miss Carroll. I have everything put away."

"Help me get them together again," Mary sobbed. "I've got to get off this boat."

Then sharp and clear in the passage came the steward's call, "All ashore that's going ashore." Beating gongs sounded louder.

For a minute, Anna Winters was too taken aback to make an utterance.

Then, as she flew to the cabin closet, she became all sympathy. "Oh," she stammered, "I'm so sorry. Your fiance hasn't come aboard!"

"No—something's delayed him. I won't sail without him. We are going to be married—very soon. If he's had to stay behind, I'm going to stay, too."

From the closet, came armfuls of Parisian frocks—Mary's trousseau. There

Xmas Comes To Bristling, Rival Lines

(By The Associated Press) To the echoes of Christmas carols that had a paradoxical obligation of violence, the world rushed today into the last week of a year of bloodshed and bitterness...

Christmas observances ranged from the fireside quiet of most American homes, through the bristling, undecorated trees on Europe's western front...

French Get Cigar The French soldiers received from the government a cigar and an extra quarter-bottle of wine by way of Christmas cheer...

British Tommies sang carols, dined on plum pudding and turkey, and decorated their billets with evergreens...

Adolf Hitler, "first soldier of the reich," paid a Christmas eve visit to German soldiers near Saarbruecken...

From Dublin, Prime Minister Eamon de Valera broadcast an appeal that a settlement of the war "be sought now in good will rather than wait until exhaustion has forced the requisite dispositions for peace..."

In northern Ireland, about 60 prisoners in Londonderry jail locked their keepers in cells and rioted for five hours before being subdued...

Terrorists in Shanghai shot to death two supporters of Wang Ching-wei, Chinese leader who has been slated to head a proposed Japanese-controlled government in China...

Quints Get Skates In the Holy Land, long the scene of violence between Jew and Arab, there was a quiet, but the peeling peals of Bethlehem were not broadcast as in former years...

Pope Pius, who assailed war in a pre-Christmas peace proposal, informally acknowledged President Roosevelt's appointment of Myron C. Taylor as special representative to the Vatican...

The Dionne quintuplets in Calander, Ontario, had a gay Christmas, highlighted by their attempts to use ice skates presented by Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo...

Since its establishment at Fort Worth two years ago, the fifth region office of the Public Works Administration has handled 1,166 projects with an estimated cost of $232,032,849...

The Pacific northwest accounts for 35 per cent of the nation's lumber output.

LOOK AT YOUR HAT EVERYONE ELSE DOES The well dressed man is using this service.

ONE DAY SERVICE Factory Finished By ROBERTS (THE HAT MAN)

Men's Dress OVERSHOES $195 Men's 4 Buckle SLUSHERS $298 Men's RAINCOATS $695

Men's FRIENDLY MEN'S WEAR

SERIAL STORY BLACKOUT BY RUTH AYERS

YESTERDAY, Mary Carroll and her fiancé, Vincent Gregg, soldier of fortune and adventurer, are in London during the early days of the war, awaiting passage to United States...

CHAPTER II ANYTHING could happen in a London air raid alarm. And what was happening was that Mary Carroll was being held in the strong arms of a strange man...

But her fears were calmed when the man spoke again in the same deep, obviously Yankee voice: "I'm not going to take any chance on having you break your neck on the stairs," he said.

Mary opened her eyes. In the beam of the porter's flashlight she caught a glimpse of a rugged figure and a crest of obviously red hair above a broad grin and smiling eyes.

She saw the stranger looking at her. It was only a hurried glance, but there was something friendly and kind about it. "You look like a girl from America," he mumbled.

"I am," she said simply. "How did you know?" He laughed. "Feeling better? I'll carry you downstairs."

"Thanks—you're very kind. Did you just appear from nowhere to rescue me?" "No, I'm a doctor on air raid duty and this is one of my emergency stations. You were just in the line of duty."

He handed her a gas mask, carried her downstairs. "Thanks so much," she whispered as he put her down.

"Okay—and good luck." The young American doctor spoke quickly and then turning, was swallowed in the gob of blackness and the blue of fantastic bobbing masks around her.

FOR a minute, Mary stood alone and uncertain. Then the revolving beam of the porter's flashlight swung around to outline Vincent nearby. She stumbled toward him.

When she touched his arm, he wheeled sharply. "Oh," she heard him say through his mask. "It's you, Mary. Sorry we got separated in the jam. Here's your mask!"

Instantly, Mary sensed his voice was strained. She clung to him silently. The porter was barking orders like a top sergeant. "Everyone put gas masks on. A. R. P. regulations."

In the pitch of the cellar, people jerked like puppets, the masks turning them into strange Martian figures. Fat sandbags were propped against the windows and the wine kegs had been rolled away to give clearance in the middle of the room.

Minutes dragged like hours until, as suddenly as it had begun, the banshee wails of the sirens stopped. Ears strained for the awful sound of crashing bombs, heard instead the welcome sound of the "All Clear" signal.

London's Black Watch had kept the enemy planes away. There was a stir in the restaurant shelter as gas masks came off and people went pell-mell to the stairs.

Mary heard Vincent's voice whispering, "Let's get out of here. False alarm."

Hurried along, she went with him—saw him fling a pound note on the table for their check and gather up their coats. Outside, even the darkness of blackout was welcome.

Gratefully, they drew in deep draughts of the frosty, foggy air. "I hate that sort of thing," Vincent said, his voice still strained.

Puzzled, Mary stared at the oversized card.

It seemed odd for Vincent to be untroubled by the experience, but Mary could understand his fear. After all, Vincent had been a pilot in a bombing plane himself.

"Let's not think about it," she said. "I might tell you, though, that I was panicky when I found I'd lost you. I'm ashamed of myself, honey, but honestly, I almost dove off into an old-fashioned faint."

It was lucky that a doctor was at hand to scoop me up and find a gas mask for me. He must have given me his own."

"They keep extra masks in the shelter," Vincent explained. Tenderly, he bent to kiss her cheek lightly. "You're a sweetheart," he said.

"Madhouse business—that air raid stuff. Let's hope we'll be back in New York this time next week."

BY the time they'd stumbled through the darkened streets to Mary's hotel, Vincent was his same gay self.

"What ho," he said as he guided her through the muffled lobby to the desk. "There's a message for you."

Mary's eyes danced. "Ah—at last!" she cried out joyously. There could be no mistake about the envelope the desk clerk handed her. It bore the stamp of the American consulate and inside was a note. Mary stepped to the desk light to read it.

She came back to Vincent, drawing him aside so no one would overhear. "We're sailing on the Moravia tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock," she whispered. "The consulate warns us to keep it secret."

Vincent nodded. "Swell. I'll rush over to my lodgings and pack. We'll meet in the morning for coffee and get the first train to Southampton."

"Your tickets and passports are safe?" "Silly, of course. And you hang on to your pocketbook for dear life, too."

"At Midnight." (To Be Continued)

Among the first refugees from the war in Finland to arrive in the United States were Mrs. Elms Soderman and her sons, Martti, four months, and Jarmo, 4, pictured in New York. They fled Helsinki just after the first Soviet bombs fell.

Texas Counts 40 Dead On Holidays

(By The Associated Press) The Texas holiday toll of deaths by violence swelled to 40 Christmas day.

Included were a Laredo youth who was shot accidentally, a man at Dallas who died after an accidental fall, and four persons killed in traffic accidents. Compilation began Friday.

An automobile skidded on wet pavement at Dallas struck a passenger train, killing George Mudd, 77, of Monroe City, Mo., injuring two others.

Mrs. M. T. Hudson of Tulla was killed and 11 persons were injured in two auto accidents near Childress. The injured were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudson, Valton Hudson and two children, all of Tulla; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fisher of LeFors, and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hardy and their two sons, all of Shallowater.

W. D. Crows, 32, of Colorado City, was killed and his wife and 10-year-old daughter were injured in an auto collision near Big Spring. Occupants of the other car, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Anders and their three children, of Odessa, were injured slightly.

Tommy Wainwright, 32, former Oklahoma City water board employee, was killed at San Antonio when he was struck by a car.

Sled Turns Out To Be Best Of All Christmas Gifts

Little boy optimists who wrote to Santa Claus and asked him to bring them sleds for Christmas, today were reaping the reward of looking on the brighter side of things.

For weeks, the occasional sled that shoppers saw in Pampa windows—sleds that caused many a laugh in the summer temperatures of the holiday shopping season—appeared rather lonely and forlorn among the countless other toys.

But today the sleds were laughing up their sleeves at bicycles, tricycles, toy autos, scooters, roller skates, and other springtime toys—because they weren't worth a hoot to their youthful owners in the six-inch snow that covers the Plains.

For the sled, and the sled alone, was king of all toyland today.

Oranges Used In Feeding Of Horses

ORLANDO, Fla., Dec. 26. (AP)—An orange a day will keep the horse doctor away, says Johnny Stewart, one of the more successful trainers and tanbark riders.

Stewart, who conditions and rides horses for the nationally-known Orange Blossom stables here, has been including citrus in the diet of his charges and contends it is decidedly beneficial.

"Something has gone out of our soil since the old days," Stewart said today. "Feeds just don't have the mineral properties a horse needs. And it's hard to find a way to build his bones and muscles without these mineral properties."

"I put the Orange Blossom stable entries on citrus last winter. They liked it. I just cut good oranges in half, laid them on the feed board and— presto, they're gone."

Stewart sold on citrus and credit it with the showing of our stable last summer and you can't laugh that off."

Last summer, Royal Entertainer, a seven-year-old gelding, ranking high among three-gaited horses, won many national stakes for Orange Blossom. Might Flower, nine-year-old five-gaited mare, ranked behind only the great Vandy of the Fair City stables, Elberon, N. J., in the "under harness" stakes.

Phillips Reverses Charges on CIO

In testimony before the House committee investigating NLRB, Philip G. Phillips, Labor Board regional director in Cincinnati, backed down on charges he once made that the CIO owed the Communist party obligation.

SIDE GLANCES

"Now that we've lived through Christmas, shall we keep that New Year's Eve date or stay home and be sensible?"

End of the 'Gipsy'

Only the superstructure of the British destroyer, "Gipsy," remains above the surface after it was sunk by a mine off the east coast of England. Twenty-nine officers and men were lost.

Gifts And Pet Dog Save Sisley Family

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 26. (AP)—Christmas gifts and a pet dog saved the Clarence B. Sisley family from what might have been violent death.

Mr. and Mrs. Sisley and their eight-year-old daughter Joan were driving from Pittsburgh to nearby Confluence for Christmas when a car rammed their machine toward a guard rail.

The car turned over and came to a stop precariously on top of the rail, the weight of the dog and gifts in a rear seat preventing it from tumbling over a 20-foot embankment.

The three hardly dared move for several minutes then squeezed out the front seat to safety, using the utmost caution lest the car lose its balance.

About 1,000 naval officers live in San Diego, home base of the destroyer fleet.

Eyes Examined Glasses Fitted DR. ADRIAN OWENS OPTOMETRIST First National Bank Bldg. 109 East Foster For Appointment Phone 209

Accident Victim Buried At Alanreed

Funeral services for J. H. Steger, 45, killed in an automobile accident near Wilcox, Ariz., Friday, were conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Alanreed, his former home.

Eural was in Alanreed under direction of Duemel-Carmichael Funeral home of Pampa.

Mr. Steger was formerly station agent for the Rock Island at Alanreed. At the time of his death he was employed at the Amarillo Globe-News. He was returning from California with some friends when he was killed. According to word received here he was cleaning the car windshield when the car was struck by another.

Survivors are two sons and two daughters, his mother, Mrs. J. E. Searcy of Pampa, a sister, a brother and a half-sister, Miss Jimma Searcy of Pampa.

Funeral services were held at Sherman White, W. E. James, R. M. Gibson, Everett Hall, W. H. Blackney, Hartley Hall.

Snow-Covered Cars Double For Igloos

Automobiles took it on the chin in Pampa's Christmas snowstorm. Most cars being driven through city streets today had the appearance of a stream-lined igloo from some far-off land of ice and snow.

Filling station operators had a busy weekend in thawing out frozen radiators, refilling them with anti-freeze solutions.

Slippery street intersections caused many minor bumps between cars. Taxicabs were busy. Bus and train schedules through Pampa were slowed down by the storm.

But everybody was so happy about a white Christmas that there were few complaints over inconveniences caused by the snow.

WHY suffer from Colds? For quick relief from cold symptoms take 666 LIQUID-TABLETS-SALVE-NOSE DROPS MAYFAIR FIXTURES FOR SALE AT ONCE Complete Or By Piece VERY CHEAP 55 Feet Ready-to-Wear Cabinets in 11-ft. sections These would be fine for women's shops, Men's wear or Cleaning Establishments. 28-Ft. Shoe Shelving In 4-foot Sections 1-6-ft. Section Shelving 3 Long Mirrors In Frame 18-in. by 6-ft-3-in. 2 Alcove Triple Mirrors 1 Desk Carpet 18x29-ft. Beautiful Beek Root Color Millinery Hoods Millinery Hat Racks Air Conditioning (Esbeck) Unit used only 2 months Ironing Board Chairs Inquire at Store at Once For Inspection and Sale Must Be Sold This Week

MAYFAIR BANKRUPT SALE THIS IS FINAL THREE MORE DAYS! EVERYTHING GOES AT WINDUP, SENSATIONAL, CRAZY PRICES NOTHING WILL BE LEFT IF PRICE MEANS ANYTHING DRESSES, COATS, SHOES, UNDERWEAR Hundreds of pairs of Shoes of Fine Quality to go in Three Days. Don't be foolish—just don't wait. No Lay-Aways No Exchanges No Refunds BORROW IF YOU HAVE TO BUT GET YOUR FINAL BARGAINS NOW ALL FIXTURES FOR SALE

FOR YOUR HOLIDAY TRIP TRAVEL BY BUS Convenient Connections to all points For Information Phone 871 Pampa Bus Terminal