MEXICAN BOYS KILLED

ANOTHER OIL BODY LIKELY TO ORGANIZE

Dallas Meeting Is Featured by Attacks on Estes and Tom Cranfill—Two Long Speeches.

ASK MORE LAWS

Texas Independent Association's Program Attacked as Inimical To Interests of Big Industry.

DALLAS, June 8. (AP)—The trend of speeches delivered by Ed Landreth and C. F. Roeser, Fort Worth independent oil operators, before 200 Texas operators called to discuss the oil industry situation, today indicated the meeting would form a permanent organization in an effort to supercede the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas and petition Governor Sterling to call a special session of the legislature.

Landreth and Roeser consumed the entire morning with their speeches denouncing Carl Estes, Tyler newspaper editor, for his activities against orderly promotion of the East Texas field, and definite action on any policy for proceeding against the existing situation was left to the afternoon session.

More Power Urged
It was indicated the governor would be asked to assemble the legislature to enact legislation that would strengthen powers of the railroad commission to act to alleviate conditions.

Speakers declared that the Independent Producers' Association of Texas, headed by Tom Cranfill of Dallas, did not truly represent the independents and principles advocated by it were inimical to best interests of the members.

Speakers said Estes' "uninformed leadership" had cost East Texas vast sums of money.

Both speakers pointed out that additional laws should be passed in Texas to make proration "enforceable."

Landreth exhibited a telegram to Governor Sterling, signed by Wirt Franklin of Aransas, Oklahoma president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, and by Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, in which a plea was made for a special session of the Texas legislature to pass other proration measures.

Roeser foresaw in detail the series of events which have led to the present situation involving oil prices as low as 10 and 15 cents a barrel, a decline from the $1.07 level prevailing before the East Texas field was opened. He asserted that oil operators saw what the result would be in the industry if some policy of orderly development was not invoked in the new field.

He particularly denounced former Governor Dan Moody for his action while governor in vetoing appropriations necessary for enforcement of the common purchaser law, which Roeser said would have accomplished the purposes of proration satisfactorily.

Landreth declared the purpose of the emergency committee in calling the meeting today was to effect organization of an association of independents "which would speak for everyone, big and small."

Paris Couple Is Found Dead In Filling Station

PARIS, June 8. (AP)—Tom Manuel, 45, and his wife, 41, were found dead of pistol wounds early today at a filling station, a mile east of Paris. A pistol was found beside Manuel's body and his wife was lying a short distance away. Acquaintances said they had been separated for about six months.

Residents in the neighborhood said they heard several shots at about 10:30 p. m. last night, when a double killing was believed to have occurred. They were no witnesses, so far as known.

Manuel had a son, Volney Manuel, 24, employed by a film exchange in Dallas. His wife had not been living here recently and investigators were able to learn only meagre details as to circumstances which might have furnished a motive for the shooting.

Benedict Speaks At Commencement

AUSTIN, June 8. (AP)—Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University of Texas, told approximately 600 graduating students in commencement exercises today that "obviously it is unfair to spend money that comes from all of the people upon you if you are not to be of benefit to all the people."

"It is a wise investment for the state to spend about $1,000 per head in order to turn loose into the body politic a group such as I see before me?" Dr. Benedict inquired.

He answered his own question as follows: "That public money spent in graduating you is a wise investment is shown by the fact that the graduates of state universities, scattered through the populations of their states, do influence for good all the population of their states. Some black sheep among them live anti-socially, their power for harm increased by the education they have gotten; some neither help nor hinder much; the commonwealth; some are the little leaven that leaveneth the whole lump, and are essential to the building of a happier and nobler commonwealth."

"At least once each succeeding year each among you should search his conscience by asking the question: Did the state of Texas win, lose, or draw when it invested money in my education?"

War on Booze Peddling Carried Farther With Success by County Officers.

About 50 gallons of beer, one-half gallon of whiskey, more than 100 empty beer bottles, and much beer-making equipment were confiscated this morning in a raid made jointly by members of the sheriff's department and constable in the western part of the county.

Two persons were arrested in connection with the raid. Charges may be filed against them later, Sheriff Blansett said.

Today's raid came as a continuation of the war that is being waged by county officers on vendors of intoxicating liquors here. On Sunday as a result of three raids with a city limits, 600 bottles of beer and 10 gallons of whiskey was taken. Three arrests were made.

New Gas Line Is Tested, Approved

EL PASO, June 8. (AP)—A new high pressure gas line from El Paso to Deming, N. M., Douglas and Bisbee, Ariz., and Cananea, Mexico, was tested finally and put into service today by the Western Gas company.

In tests pressure was brought to 750 pounds per square inch throughout the entire length and held there 24 hours, the first time such a test was known to have been made in the history of natural gas transmission.

The line, with its branches, is 294 miles long and will be fed from the Lea county, Tex., gas field, 224 miles east of El Paso, making 518 miles of main and branch lines under operation by the El Paso Natural Gas company and its subsidiaries. It is of 12-inch steel welded pipe.

Officials saw the line as a means of stabilizing fuel costs of copper companies in the Douglas-Bisbee-Cananea district, with whom long-time contracts have been obtained. These companies include the Phelps-Dodge corporation, the Calumet and Arizona Mining company at Douglas and Bisbee, and the Cananea Consolidated Copper company at Cananea, Mexico.

While the new line ordinarily will be operated under pressures varying from 300 to 600 pounds, and at there will deliver 33,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily at Douglas, it can be operated at 750 pounds, with a delivery of 53,000,000 cubic feet daily at that city.

The project was completed nearly two months prior to the final date called for in the contracts—Aug. 1.

Texas Is Shot by New Orleans Man

NEW ORLEANS, June 8. (AP)—A man who gave the names of Thomas Carson and Frank Casey of El Paso, was shot down today by a street car motorman after he had robbed the conductor and attempted to rob the driver of a motor bus.

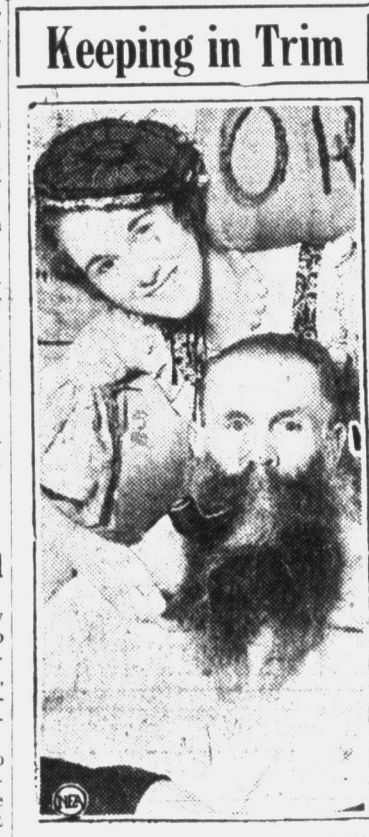

Walking out of the shadows, the man held up Motorman Robert Glass and Conductor Perry Curtis and, after taking $8.75 from the conductor, made them wait in the empty street car until the bus came along.

As the man entered the bus and demanded money from the driver, Motorman Glass shot him in the back. The bullet entered his spine and he was believed dying at the hospital.

The dead: Sam McNew, 23, bakery employe; Bill Orman, 23, garage man; M. Mitcham, 55, grocer, all of Wichita Falls.

Murphy Deshong, 17, Amarillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Deshong; V. J. Notley, 28, Dallas, substitute driver of the truck.

Leonidas Johnston, 14, Vernon, son of Mrs. Isaac Lawler.

Apparently all but Orman were killed instantly. He died of a skull fracture a few hours later. Young Johnston had arranged with Notley to ride to Fort Worth, where he planned to visit his grandparents. Notley had been engaged as substitute driver for the one trip. Deshong was on his way to Decatur for a truck which he intended to drive back to Amarillo. His parents operate a truck line.

CRIME WAVE STRIKES CITY ON WEEK-END

PROBE IS BRISK

Levine's, Pampa Drug No. 2 Casino Club, and Nels Walberg Are Victims of Sudden Outbreak.

An unusual crime wave struck Pampa during the week-end when three business places were burglarized last night and one Saturday night.

City police and officers of the sheriff's department were questioning idle men, including job hunters of every character.

Burglars broke into Levine's store, Pampa Drug No. 2, the Casino club last night and Nels Walberg's farm equipment company on West Kingsmill, Saturday night. Knobs were broken off safes at the Casino and at the equipment company.

Smash Lock
At Levine's the burglars took about $40 in silver from the cash register, and a quantity of merchandise, the amount of which has not yet been estimated by Murray Freundlich, manager of the store. Entrance was forced by smashing the lock on the rear door.

How the drug store was entered remained a mystery to the owners this morning. It is believed that the burglar was hiding in the store when it was closed last night. About $20 in cash was taken from the cash register. The back door was open this morning. It had not been forced.

Two boxes of cigars, a carton of cigarettes, and 25 cents in cash were taken from the Casino. Damage to the safes at the Casino and at the Walberg Equipment company was considerable. The Casino was entered through a west window after a pane had been smashed. The amusement club is located above the Courthouse cafe. Dea Rayburn, manager of the place, locked up all cash and currency except 25 cents in the safe before he closed up last night. A screen was torn off the window through which entrance was made.

Many Rumors
A report that a local filling station was also looted last night had not been confirmed at noon today.

After failing to open the safe at Walberg's, the burglars took a dollar's worth of stamps from a desk. Entrance was made by smashing a pane through a rear window. It is believed that the break-in was made during the rain. Fresh tracks were discovered near the window about 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Walberg said that the safe contained only company books and records.

No attempt was made to break into the safes at the drug store and at Levine's. Officers pointed out that the methods of the burglars indicated that they wanted only cash, even though they took a small quantity of merchandise at each place. The burglars that looted Walberg's and Levine's apparently traveled a foot as officers found no tracks of automobiles at the rear of the business places.

Officers Angry
The burglars were unprecedented in number for any week-end in the history of Pampa. Chief J. I. Downs and Sheriff Lon L. Blansett declared that "hoodlums, bums, and all questionable characters, especially busted baseball players, will be quieted out of town or thrown in jail before sundown." The series of burglars have made the police force "plenty mad," Chief Downs said.

There have been comparatively few burglaries, hold-ups, or robberies in Pampa during the late winter and the spring months.

New Berwick Trial Begun at Houston

HOUSTON, June 8. (AP)—Luther Berwick, 27, went to trial today for murder in the slaying of Miss Crowe of Port Arthur in October, 1929. Berwick is under sentence of three years, assessed for the killing of William Byrd, who was shot to death at the same time Miss Crowe was slain.

Five jurors had been selected shortly before noon today. Berwick originally drew the death sentence for the Byrd slaying, but won a reversal and a change of venue to Houston where he was assessed the three-year term.

He testified at the previous trial here that he found Miss Crowe, whom he described as his sweetheart, in Byrd's arms; that he fired on Byrd after the latter had made a menacing gesture, and that the girl was accidentally killed when she stepped into the line of fire.

STEPHENVILLE, June 8. (AP)—Jack Moss, 60, banker and insurance man of Stephenville, was found shot to death yesterday at his home. County Attorney Dick Belcher said the family requested that no inquest be held. Moss, he said, had been in ill health for some time. A shotgun was found near his body.

ARDMORE, OKLA., DEPUTY SHOOTS RUBIO YOUTHS

Cousin to President of Republic Is Slain

ARDMORE, Okla., June 8. (AP)—Two Mexican students, one a cousin of President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico, were slain here early today by a deputy sheriff as the youths were driving home from their year's study in the United States.

The victims were Emilio Cortes Rubio, 20, the president's cousin, and Manuel Gomez, 22, son of a prominent Mexican family.

A companion, Salvador Cortes Rubio, 24, another cousin of the Mexican president, was not injured. Deputy Sheriff Bill Guess shot and killed the two youths after they had stopped their car on a highway. Guess and Deputy Sheriff Cecil Crosby said the boys drew guns when they approached and that Guess fired when weapons were pointed at him.

Salvador Cortes Rubio said the youths had been followed by another car on their drive southward through Oklahoma and had feared a holdup.

Crosby declared he and Guess informed the youths at once that they were officers. No shots were fired by the students and Crosby said he did not shoot.

Fared Bandits
Salvador Cortes Rubio explained he and his companions carried an assortment of guns which they intended to take home as the weapons could be used some time but did not accompany the others. They also had protection from bandits in mind, he said.

Fernando and Guillermo Ortiz Rubio, sons of the Mexican president and students at St. Benedict's, departed at the same time but did not accompany the others.

Pending an inquiry by County Attorney Marvin Schilling, no action was taken against the officers. Deputy Sheriff Guess shot and killed Pat O'Day at Estelline, Texas, last January. O'Day was sought for a slaying.

Saw Gold Star
Deputy Sheriff Crosby told the Associated Press today he and Guess informed the youths at once that they were officers and that "they read every word on my gold star before anything happened."

He looked down, he said, and saw that one of the youths who had emerged from the car had an automatic.

"I wrestled with him," said Crosby, "and disarmed him. Then Guess came around the end of the car and the other boy drew on him. He shot him. I had turned to the third boy who was standing by the radiator of the car when we came up and when I turned back, the boy I had disarmed drew a pearl-handled revolver from his pocket. Guess fired and shot him."

Neither Boy Shot
Crosby said neither he nor the boys did any shooting. Guess could not be reached immediately for a direct statement but was quoted as saying he decided to take no chances when he saw the display of arms.

Marvin Schilling, county attorney, was taking a statement from the surviving youth this forenoon.

"We first said 'we are officers of the law' and asked them what they were doing," said Crosby. "They looked at my star, and said they were returning home from college. I looked down and saw the one gun."

Groveton Chamber Loses An Appeal

DALLAS, June 8. (AP)—H. C. Davis, Interstate Commerce Commission examiner, today overruled a motion of the Groveton Chamber of Commerce for continuance of the hearing on the plea of the Groveton, Lufkin & Northern railway for abandonment of its line. Opponents of the plan were allowed 30 days in which to file briefs.

R. E. L. Sauer of Dallas represented the Groveton Chamber of Commerce at the hearing and John S. Burmore of Chicago represented the railroad.

Burchmore told the examiner the G. L. & N. was losing approximately $2,000 per month on its 32-mile line and faced the prospect of even greater losses. The road, in January this year, filed an intervention with the I. C. C. asking an amendment be made to the commission's plan for railroad consolidations so as to include the G. L. & N. in the proposed Southern Pacific-Cotton Belt system.

BUS HOLDUP SUSPECTS ARE JAILED TODAY

Armed Trio Under Arrest at Dalhart to Be Viewed by Victims of Robbery Near Shamrock.

JEWELRY SAVED

Auto Highwaymen Neglect to Make Thorough Search of Passengers—Bandits Arc Nervous.

DALHART, June 8. (AP)—Three men in a small car parked on the edge of town were arrested today by Sheriff H. D. Foust here, as suspects in the holdup of a transcontinental bus near Shamrock early Sunday. Sheriff Foust said the trio was armed. Efforts will be made to identify them, he said.

AMARILLO, June 8. (AP)—Passengers on board a Pickwick Greyhound transcontinental bus that were victims of a holdup shortly after they crossed the line into Texas at Texola, Okla., early Sunday morning, arrived in Amarillo late last night and most of them continued their journey westward today.

The passengers were held in Shamrock all day Sunday while officers searched for the bandits. Two suspects were brought before them, but were not identified. Passengers said they could identify at least three of the unmasked men.

Disabled Motor
Mrs. Martha Johnson of Amarillo, the only Texan on the bus, told a story that varied little from the original report. She said the bandits held the party an hour and 40 minutes, deliberately searching each passenger and then disabling the motor to keep the party from moving on. The robbery occurred about 2:30 o'clock and it was daylight before three men who went to Texola for help returned to the stranded bus.

"We were scared to death, and no one made a sound during the robbery," Mrs. Johnson said. "But after the bandits left we got back into the bus, relaxed, and made ourselves as comfortable as possible until help arrived."

"The leader of the bandits wore a handkerchief over his face, but the others were unmasked. The leader appeared nonchalant. The others were nervous and acted like amateurs. They stood around after the robbery apparently waiting for something. As soon as the west-bound Rock Island passenger train passed they drove away."

One of the robbers was sitting directly behind me. When he ordered 'hands up' I raised my hands to my face, and slipped my diamond ring from my finger and dropped it down the neck of my dress, trusting that it would lodge some place. I found it in my clothes after the holdup."

Mrs. Johnson lost $12 and a few cents that was in her purse.

Except that the robbers rode automobiles instead of cayuses, everything was strictly in accordance with traditions of Wild Bill Hickok's time. Two of the men rode in the bus and the other five were in two automobiles, one behind and one in front of it.

The bus was halted about 2:30 a. m. on a detour from United States highway 66.

Return Small Sums
Punctilio of the western desperadoes was observed as each passenger was returned enough money to wire home for funds and purchase breakfast. No elaborate search was made and several women passengers saved their money by hiding it inside their stockings. Besides the cash the robbers took jewelry valued at $273 by the losers.

W. E. Trammell, making his first trip as driver of the bus, was the first man ordered out to be searched. Finding no money on him, the robbers became profane and called him a hack driver. One passenger, Henry MacZiel of Champagnat, Ill., hid his money in his shoe, which the robbers neglected to search.

ROSS HAS NEW PET PROJECT

It both appear that Ross Sterling is more interested in proration at present than his pet statewide paving bond issue. Perchance it is because the road issue is either dead or in a coma, while proration has the backing of the major oil companies who conceived it.

TREES ADD BEAUTY TO ANY STREET

Take a drive over the city and note the inherent beauty in those streets which have large trees. Pretty, they attract much favorable comment. Nature is willing to make Pampa a veritable oasis in the desert, if citizens will cooperate somewhat.

Those citizens who are developing lawns are to be congratulated, and likewise those beauty lovers who are adding patches of bright color with their flower gardens.

It's not the sales resistance that is worrying many local merchants; it's the bills resistance.

Sterling approved a mosquito control bill for East Texas, but that doesn't help oust the bugs which buzz around the editorial desk these nights.

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, June 8. (NEA)—There probably will be a swell tariff fight at the next session of congress, but it will be only a fight without any particular result. There will be a lot of noise in the air and the attack on the Hawley-Smoot act probably will be more ably directed than any similar assault in the past.

To most politicians the tariff fight in congress will be so much drum-beating for next year's presidential campaign, in which it now appears that the Democrats will undertake to make the Hawley-Smoot law an important issue.

The administration party is definitely committed to standing by the tariff. It couldn't do much else, anyway, but lately its leaders have stepped out aggressively to tout the high rates as an effective bulwark through the depression period rather than an important contributory factor. The present rates, the Republican National Committee says in an official statement, are no more than adequate and in some cases perhaps not high enough.

The general Democratic position is that the rates are too high and that they have resulted in cutting our important foreign trade in half. Democratic ranks, however, aren't any too firm on this tariff question. The administration Republicans, accepting the challenge to make it an issue, are able to keep demanding that members of the opposition party name specific rates they would reduce. And the Republicans can show that there was only one Democratic senator who had not voted either to raise or maintain some of the previous duties during the progress of the Hawley-Smoot measure.

It's nearly impossible to cut any tariff rate without hitting at some Democrat. Democrats have industries back in their states, just like Republicans, and their industries are likely to clamor just as loudly for protection. That's why it's so much easier for the party propagandists to argue that the whole Hawley-Smoot act was a mistake than to peck at this rate and that rate and demand general reduction. As long as the tariff remains in politics the only men who will steadfastly refuse to bow to pressure from their home industries will be men as brave as Senator Norris of Nebraska—and there are hardly any of those.

Nevertheless, recent months have seen a considerable growth in vocal resentment from financiers and industrialists, many of whom derive no direct tariff benefits and some of whom appear to have become increasingly skeptical about the indirect benefits. The agricultural, automobile and railroad industries are among those which the Republicans must convince.

MEXICANS—

(Continued from page 1) and said are you going to college with that gun? Then I disarmed him. The shooting, Crosby said, occurred beside a main highway, U. S. 77.

President's Son Ahead ATCDISON, Kans., June 8. (AP)—Emilio Cortes Rubio, 20, cousin of President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico, who with another Mexican student, Manuel Gomez, 22, was killed at Ardmore, Okla., early today, left Ardmore yesterday to drive to Mexico City.

Fernando Ortiz Rubio and Guillermo Ortiz Rubio, sons of the president, left in a second car at the same time but were believed to have outdistanced the other students because they drove a more powerful machine. They were believed to be somewhere in Texas today.

Salvador Cortes Rubio, 24, another cousin of the president, who was a companion of the two boys slain, telegraphed authorities of St. Benedict's college here that they had mistaken the Oklahoma officers for bandits.

Finished Course Salvador was the first of the distinguished Mexican family to enter Benedict's college. He matriculated in the preparatory school eight years ago and was graduated from a chemical engineering course a few days ago. A few years later he was joined here by his cousin, Emilio, who withdrew two years ago to attend the Missouri school of mines at Rolla.

Guillermo and Fernando Ortiz, sons of the president of Mexico, arrived at St. Benedict's last fall a month after school opened. They became residents of the rooming house where their cousin Salvador lived.

Salvador, known at the school as "Mike," immediately became their mentor in the ways of American college life and attended numerous entertainments here, in Kansas City, and elsewhere in honor of his distinguished cousins. He remarked that their appearance at school had transformed him into their "social secretary."

Despite the press of study in a foreign language and numerous entertainments, Fernando found time to take up boxing and made several appearances in the ring against school mates and opponents from other schools. Gomez was a skilled boxer and a regular member of the school team.

Both Guess and Deputy Sheriff Cecil Crosby, his companion, asked that the charges be filed, Shilling said. The county attorney was closeted this afternoon with Senator H. Valdez, Mexican consul at Oklahoma City.

MEXICO CITY, June 8. (AP)—President Ortiz Rubio expressed great sorrow today at the killing of his cousin, Emilio Cortes Rubio and Manuel Gomez at Ardmore, Okla.

He felt some nervousness, he said, regarding the whereabouts of his two sons Guillermo and Fernando who were school mates of the two boys who had left for their vacation with them.

On Saturday, he said, he had talked with the boys by telephone and directed them not to drive to Mexico City as they had intended, but to go to New York where he had arranged for them to work during the summer for the International Telephone and Telegraph company. Unless they disobeyed him they were on the way to New York today when their friends were killed.

The president's secretary said he had not heard from the boys and could not be certain of their whereabouts.

Emilio Cortes Rubio is the son of a second cousin of the president, Salvador Cortes Rubio, who told police of the killings near Ardmore, is the president's cousin.

The latter's father said today his son had told him by telephone that the two boys who were killed were driving toward Mexico City when a policeman ordered them to halt. They did not do so and the officer opened fire.

COMPLETES FLIGHT LOS ANGELES, June 8. (AP)—Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam, is the first woman to complete a transcontinental flight in an autogiro.

Navigating her craft through rain and fog which caused other plans to be grounded, the aviatrix arrived here late yesterday from Oakland, Cal. She planned to depart today on the return trip to Philadelphia by way of Phoenix, Ariz., and El Paso, Tex.

Bob Kahl left this morning for Tulsa, Okla., where he will work in a bank there until school starts in the fall.

TWO PERSONS SHOT

TEXARKANA, Ark., June 8. (AP) Jim Collins, 30, tenant farmer, was at a hospital here today for treatment of shotgun wounds and a Mexican farm laborer known as "Mexican John" was in a critical condition at his home near Bradley, Ark., from three revolver wounds. REV. TRUHITE RESIGNS AS PASTOR OF CHURCH HERE

ILL HEALTH GIVEN AS REASON FOR ACTION; WILL ACCEPT NO OTHER PASTORATE AT PRESENT

Due to ill health, the Rev. D. H. Truhitté has resigned as pastor of the Central Baptist church of Pampa, his resignation to take effect July 1. He will accept no other pastorate for several months but will visit his parents in Missouri for a few days, after which he will go to Mineral Wells.

The Rev. Truhitté became ill with influenza in March and was confined to his bed for two weeks. Soon after he was able to ride in his automobile, he went to Mineral Wells and stayed seven weeks.

The minister came to Pampa four years ago on July 1 as pastor of the First Baptist church. That congregation was worshipping in the old building which stood where the Combs-Worley building now is. They soon outgrew that building and built an annex, now occupied by Malone Funeral home. The Sunday school continued growing and reached the 500 mark and Rev. Truhitté led the church in building the $100,000 structure now occupied by the First Baptist church. This building was opened for worship Sunday, April 28, 1929. During Rev. Truhitté's pastorate for nearly three years there were over 500 additions to the church.

Rev. Truhitté resigned to go to Weslaco, Texas. He was called to the Central Baptist church to begin his work July 1, 1930, and in the last 11 months, there have been about 200 additions to the Central Baptist church. He led there in building a Sunday school annex 100 by 40 feet.

Rev. Truhitté believed the scripture "This one thing I do." All his time while he was in the city was given to the church work. He often stated a minister's place is not in the clubs or fraternal work, but the minister should give his time wholly to the preaching of the gospel.

Television to Be Reality in Homes

CHICAGO, June 8. (AP)—The radio industry is preparing itself for the introduction of television in the home. By fall or winter the new art should be in its preliminary stages.

That was the opinion expressed today at the opening of the seventh annual convention and trade show of the Radio Manufacturers' association by Bond F. Geddes, executive vice-president and show manager.

When the broadcasters now experimenting with radio sight establish the entertainment value of television, the industry itself will have anticipated that move," Mr. Geddes said.

Television undoubtedly is progressing. Already manufacturers are paving the way for the home vision set and others are becoming more and more numerous.

"This fall and winter should see television in the 'crystal stage' thru which the sound receiver passed 10 years ago."

Due to the fact television is relying upon many things learned in the design of the sound receiver, Mr. Geddes also said its introduction would come at less cost than the case with the broadcast set of the days when a one-tube retailed for $100 without accessories.

While television apparatus has a part in the trade show together with the display of new things in radio, it is not attracting the attention there that it is among the unfortunates of the industry. One of the men to comment, D. E. Replogle, television engineer of Passaic, N. J., said that "television today is ready for those who like to experiment and those who like to be the first with a novelty."

Dunning through the show and convention is an unusually optimistic tone to business prospects.

"The industry has such confidence in the improvement of general business conditions," Geddes said, "that it has made production plans for the sale of $250,000,000 worth of broadcast sound receivers and accessories."

There are at least five television companies showing their products and private demonstrations have been arranged during the exhibition, which closes Friday.

Commission Denies Senator's Request

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Senator Davis, republican, Pennsylvania, has asked the Wickersham commission to make public the results of a questionnaire purposed to deal with the economic effects of legalizing 4 per cent beer.

Expressing surprise today at the contents of Senator Davis' letter, two members of the commission said emphatically the organization had sent out no such questionnaire.

It was pointed out the commission had completed its study of prohibition and too little time remained for the completion of the general survey of crime to allow any return to that subject.

Some FEMININE Fancies

By HOLLYCE SELLERS HINKLE

Another honor has come to Pampa through the selection of "Miss Greater Pampa" as "Miss West Texas" at the beauty pageant held during the week-end at Lake Wichita.

"I know she's thrilled to death," declared Mrs. A. M. Harvey in speaking of her daughter, Miss Leona Leedom, who won the title at Wichita Falls. "I am happy for her. I hadn't dared hope for such an honor."

Miss Leedom, a slender blonde and has not lost the simplicity of the average high school girl, yet her charming manner, her buoyant step, and her perfect poise seem more like those of a professional actress or trained fashion model. They are usually possessed only by a much older person, but are strikingly attractive when found in one so young.

The unusual stage appearance of Miss Leedom can be attributed in part to the training of her mother, who has spent considerable time studying manikins and has given much thought to ways to make a person look her best through her hair and her costumes.

But that is not all. A part of the girl's poise and self-reliance comes from her general training. She is a good scholar and an accomplished pianist. She received honorable mention in the Panhandle Music festival last year and won medals in speaking during her freshman and sophomore years. She is a member of the dramatic club.

Miss Leedom likes office work and plans to enter business when she finishes school. Recently she represented her school at the district interscholastic league contest at Canyon as a typist.

Some of the older women are probably asking "What about exercise and diet?" Here our winner is pretty much the same as any other high school girl. She takes her "daily dozen" faithfully at times. Then at other times she forgets them entirely.

"And it's a wonder she's not fat," declared her mother recently. "She eats candy, pie, cake, and other sweets and has no particular diet."

Pampa's beauty uses no cold cream. She washes her face in warm water and soap and then daches it with cold water.

And does she know how to play? She's hard to beat. She plays tennis and basketball. Is a good swimmer, and an excellent dancer.

New York Girl Has Disappeared

WATERTOWN, N. Y., June 8. (AP) Search for Elizabeth Wardwell, 24, daughter of Addison Wardwell, retired president of the Watertown National bank, today was spreading across the country.

Miss Wardwell disappeared last Tuesday. Her parents said they knew of no motive for her leaving home. They said the young woman was unprepared for a journey of any length, taking no luggage and having not more than $10 in her purse.

She was last seen Tuesday evening on the Watertown-Syracuse highway with a man whose identity has not been determined.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"God the only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, June 7. The golden text was from Psalms 33:8-9. "Let all the earth fear the Lord; let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of Him. For He spake, and it was done; He commanded, and it stood fast."

Included in the service was the following passage from the Bible (John 1:13): "In the beginning was the word, and the word was God, and the word was with Him; and without Him was not anything made that was made."

The lesson-sermon also included the following citation from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 249): "Mind is not the author of matter, and the creator of ideas is not the creator of illusions. Either there is no omnipotence, or omnipotence is the only power. God is the infinite, and infinity never began, will never end, and includes nothing unlike God."

Girl On Stand In Trial Of Pantages

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 8. (AP)—Lydla Nitto, young complaining witness, resumed the witness stand today for further cross examination by attorneys for Alexander Pantages, theater magnate, and the other defendants in the "girl market" case.

Miss Nitto, under questioning by Jerry Geisler, Pantages' attorney, denied telling three friends in Los Angeles last year that she was 22 years old. Friday the girl identified an affidavit in which she had given her age as 23 last year.

The state charged that Pantages, Jesse H. Shreve, business man, and Oliver Clark Day and William Jobstman, alleged operators of a Hollywood "girl market," conspired to bring Miss Nitto, a girl of 17, to a hotel party here in October and at the party violated the juvenile court law.

Miss Nitto admitted she had told a girl friend, Jean Du Vall she was "having a swell time and getting three square meals a day," at the hotel where the investigators took her after she promised to testify against Pantages.

TWO BIG BANKS MERGED TODAY

CHICAGO, June 8. (AP)—Two of the most important bank mergers in the history of Chicago were effected early today when the First National bank and the First Union Trust and Savings bank, its affiliate, absorbed the Foreman-State National bank and the Foreman-State Trust and Savings bank, and a consolidation was arranged between the Central Trust company of Illinois and the National Bank of the Republic.

The mergers provide the city with three large banking institutions. Through acquisition of the Foreman banks, the First National becomes an institution with total resources of approximately $83,000,000, making it a close second to the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company, which has been called the largest bank in the country under one roof. Total resources of the Continental March 25, the date of the last bank call, were $1,122,942,654.

The Central Trust-National bank of the Republic merger will result in a bank with total resources of more than $350,000,000, the third largest banking unit in Chicago by a comfortable margin.

Capone's Wealth Object of Search

CHICAGO, June 8. (AP)—The government was on a treasure hunt today with Alphonse Capone's reputedly vast resources as the goal.

The location of the notorious gang leader's property holdings was sought by federal authorities as a preliminary move to the filing of civil liens to insure collection of the $215,983 the government alleges Capone owes as income tax.

Capone was indicted last Friday for alleged evasion of the income tax. He subsequently surrendered and was released on a $50,000 bond. In addition to his Chicago and Miami Beach, Fla., real estate holdings, he is reputed to own a huge ranch between Los Angeles and San Diego, Cal., and property near Eagle River, Wis.

The announcing of the latest government blow aimed at the gang chief was made by Robert E. Neely, acting collector of internal revenue, who said the lien actions would be started next week in the various revenue districts where Capone property could be found. He added that the action would cover safe deposit boxes and other personal property.

An early trial on the income tax violation charge was promised by the prosecutors on the indictment, which alleged Capone's income between 1924 and 1928 was at least $1,038,654. They said the case would be disposed of by the end of the summer.

By SUE McNAMARA WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—In company, she believes, with many women of the country Mary Roberts Rinehart, widely known author and writer of detective fiction, is abandoning her scruples against capital punishment.

"The country-wide prevalence of crimes committed in cold blooded, calculating fashion for profit is responsible," she believes punishment to fit the crime is the only way to remedy the present situation.

In the quiet of her tree shaded work room in her spacious, cream colored house on one of the capital's fashionable thoroughfares, she talked thoughtfully of the tragedies being enacted from Los Angeles to New York. Her Queen Anne desk was in order. Her day's work finished.

"Only by the fear of punishment is society protected against the criminal; by swift and sure retribution," she said. "I am not talking of crimes of passion, which are never affected by such fear, but of cold blooded crimes committed for profit of one sort or another."

"Crime has recently become profitable. The percentage of murderers who pay the extreme penalty is almost negligible in our mounting lists of killings, and the more profitable the crime, the more money available to defend the criminal."

Mrs. Rinehart, five times a grandmother but retaining her look of freshness and youth, continued: "We may have to return to the old idea of vengeance," she said, "an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth."

"Along with respect for law, too many have lost their respect for property and even for human life. It is absurd to blame crime on moving pictures, or to seek any other such explanation. The plain fact is that too many criminals are finding crime profitable and are escaping its consequences."

"The reign of terror should be reversed, and the bandit go in fear of his life; not the decent citizen."

It is Mrs. Rinehart's custom to read and study the crimes published daily in the newspapers.

PANHANDLE LEAGUE PROSPECTS DEFEAT MAGNOLIA TEAM

BENEFIT TILT IS VIEWED BY LARGE CROWD

Odus Mitchell Again Stars at Bat; Kiwanis Club is Given Proceeds.

Pampa's team in the Panhandle baseball league came from behind to defeat the Magnolia Mags in a benefit game at Magnolia park yesterday afternoon 7 to 5. The Mags out-hit the pro outfit, which took advantage of the break and a couple of juicy errors to make hits count for runs.

The Mags got 13 safe hits off Brobst, but the youngster kept them well scattered and was tight in the pinches. All the pro club could do with Bozart and Burke was to get nine scattered hits. Odus Mitchell, Mag second baseman, was the big noise of the game, getting three safe blows on five trips to the plate. Lister, Cahill, and Shriver got two apiece.

Honeycutt, pro third baseman, got the only extra base blow for the night and he got only two. He scored three runs as did Wilson, left fielder.

The Galloway nine looked good in action and with the assistance of pro material allowed by the league, the Pampa team in the Panhandle league promises to be one of the best.

More than 700 fans jammed Mag park for the game. All proceeds went to the underprivileged and crippled children's funds of the Kiwanis club.

Ez-Trojans In Olympics

Southern California boys can't seem to break away from track... While their alma mater is wiping up everything on collegiate under paths, the three huskies pictured above have started training for the 1932 Olympics... Mortensen on the basis of recent trials looms as America's greatest prospect for the decathlon.

Associated Press Sports Writer LOS ANGELES, June 8. (AP)—Three University of Southern California Trojans of track fame, two veterans of the 1928 Olympic games, have donned the abbreviated track armor again, preparing themselves for the campaign for the 1932 United States international team.

Clarence (Bud) Houser, who set a new Olympic record of 155 feet 2 3/4 inches for the discus at Amsterdam, Lee Barnes, present holder of the pole vault at 14 feet 1 1/2 inches, and Jesse Mortensen, one of Troy's greatest three-letter men, are the three musketeers.

Strange as it may seem, Mortensen, who failed to win a place on the 1928 track team, appears to be the greatest potential prospect as a decathlon man. Houser is faced with the embarrassing fact that Eric Krentz and Paul Jessup have hurled the discus more than 10 feet beyond his Olympic record.

Barnes placed fifth in the 1928 games' pole vault, and even though he was in retirement two years he has beat his way back to 13 feet 11 inches this spring. His comeback trail does not appear to be as long as that facing Houser, for no one has eclipsed his record.

Mortensen flashed back into the picture recently by running through the 10 decathlon events to gain a total of 8,019.4 points, 224.72 better than the existing American record and only 33.89 short of the world mark set at Amsterdam by the Finn, Paavo Nurmi.

The performance is all the more remarkable in view of the fact that Mortensen threw the javelin only 181 feet, whereas he won the National A. A. U. title in 1929 in this event with a toss of more than 304 feet.

Mortensen, in addition to his track activities, was a good backfield man on the football squad and a great center on the 1930 Pacific Coast conference championship basketball team.

The former Trojans will all compete for the Los Angeles Athletic club in the National A. A. U. meet at Lincoln in July.

CUBS' STRIDE KNOCKS OVER OPPOSITION

St. Louis Loses But Remains Four Games Ahead of Chicago.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer. Chicago's Cubs finally appear to have hit their stride.

They passed New York yesterday with an 8 to 3 victory in a game that was stopped by rain in the sixth inning. St. Louis lost a half game from their margin of leadership but remained four games ahead of Chicago as they divided a double header with Brooklyn. Brooklyn won the first 6 to 4, but Bill Hallahan stopped the Robins the second 9 to 0.

Cincinnati ran its best winning streak to five games by defeating Boston 8 to 2 in the first half of a double bill as Red Lucas pitched a six-hit game, but the Braves reversed the decision in part two, 10 to 9.

In the American league, the Philadelphia Athletics trounced Detroit 12 to 2. Lloyd Brown of Washington held Chicago to four hits for an 8 to 1 triumph. Danny MacFadden, Boston's bespectacled star, beat St. Louis 6 to 3. Vernon Gomez, Yankee southpaw, won his fifth consecutive game by checking Cleveland with six hits while Babe Ruth led the way to a 5 to 1 victory.

Chris Esler and family will return home Tuesday from a tour of Kansas and Missouri tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Tallant will leave for Carlsbad tomorrow.

Bankers Assessed 3-Year Terms

FORT WORTH, June 8. (AP)—W. L. Smallwood, chairman of the board of the defunct Texas National bank of Fort Worth, and C. C. Johnson, vice-president, were sentenced by Federal Judge William Sheppard today to serve three years each in Leavenworth penitentiary. The two officials were convicted Friday by a jury on charges growing out of the failure of the bank Jan. 31, 1930, with a shortage of $1,283,000. A. L. (Lon) Baker, vice-president, already is serving a 10-year term at Leavenworth in connection with the bank failure, and the president, B. B. Samuel, III in New York, was indicted in the same case.

The specific charges on which Smallwood and Johnson were convicted were misapplication of funds, false entries in the bank's records, and falsification of the condition of the bank.

At the hearing today, suspended sentences were asked for Smallwood and Johnson. Judge Sheppard, whose home is in Pecos, Tex., and is sitting here as special judge, declared that suspended sentences were designed for younged defendants and women.

Oil Men Gather To Talk Problem

DALLAS, June 8. (AP)—Oil men assembled here today to attend a mass meeting called to effect an emergency organization "to consider ways and means of bringing about some relief from the present crisis in the oil industry." Some means of enforcing proration in east Texas oil areas was expected to be the principal topic of discussion.

The meeting was called by an emergency committee appointed at an informal meeting of oil men after the session here last week of the production division of the American Petroleum Institute.

Members of the emergency committee named at that meeting were E. L. Smith, Mexia; H. L. Hunt, Tyler; J. C. Collett, Fort Worth; Roy B. Jones, Wichita Falls; P. P. Zoch, San Antonio; E. A. Lendrecht, Fort Worth; and Charles F. Roesser, Fort Worth.

It was predicted the meeting would go on record as petitioning Governor Ross Sterling to call a special session of the legislature immediately for the purpose of passing more stringent proration laws.

Filipino Servant Confesses Slaying

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—Gavino Demier, Filipino servant, was arrested today and confessed, police said, that he shot and killed Dr. Deely to get money for his "girl friend." Dr. Deely, a widely known specialist, was found stabbed and beaten to death in his home last Tuesday.

Demier was discharged by the physician five days before the crime. He said that after the killing he went to Philadelphia, where he stayed until today.

Police said they had traced Demier to Philadelphia a few days after the killing, but wishing to avoid extradition delays, shadowed him until he returned to New York today. He was then arrested.

Police believed the doctor was killed with a knife and his skull fractured by being pounded against the floor. At first revenge was believed to be the motive for the crime, but later detectives said they learned a sum of money had been taken.

Waterfront Fire To Cost Millions

NORFOLK, Va., June 8. (AP)—Norfolk spent last night fighting a three million dollar waterfront fire. Started by an explosion on an oil barge at the Buxton line piers, the fire rode a strong wind along 200 feet of wharves, destroyed a hotel, swept through the wholesale district and looted across Main street to threaten the retail business center.

The explosion, the cause of which was sought by firemen today, occurred at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and it was after midnight before the combined fire fighting forces of the entire Hampton Roads area, aided by 300 sailors and Marines, brought the fire under control. A driving rain that began just before midnight checked the spread of the flames.

China Menaced By Much Banditry

SHANGHAI, June 8. (AP)—While President Chiang Kai-Shek, in a statement at Nanking today, virtually ignored the movement, leaders of the southern revolt, have fortified two of their important seacoast cities against anticipated sea and air attacks by Chiang's forces.

Announcing he planned immediately to take personal charge of the government's military drive against the rebels and bandits in Kiangsi and Hunan provinces, Chiang described this as "the worst menace now threatening China."

Nanking dispatches today said government troops routed 20,000 bandits from Kiangsi yesterday and captured the Communist stronghold, Futian.

Chiang referred only in veiled terms to the insurgent government in southern China, merely warning his soldiers that he desired them to refrain from participating in civil wars "such as reactionary elements repeated seek to instigate."

Sport Slants

BY ALAN GOULD

"How can you overlook Mickey Cochrane," inquires a Detroit observer, "in picking the most valuable member of Connie Mack's world's champions?"

"I note there is a tendency to name Al Simmons for this distinction. Al no doubt is a greater all-around batsman, although he has not been outshining Mickey by much so far this spring. Taking into account Cochrane's speed, his ability to work almost every day, double-headers included, and his aggressiveness, I think he rates as the keystone of the club."

"I would be willing to bet his absence would be more keenly felt than Simmons'; in other words, if the A's were obliged to make a choice, they would be better off with Cochrane behind the bat."

Connie Straddles

Connie Mack prefers to remain neutral in any argument over the relative merits of his two bright stars. He is satisfied to struggle along with both Simmons and Cochrane in the lineup, batting .400 or better and breaking up ball games on very short notice.

Many competent baseball men regard Cochrane as the greatest catcher of all time, although there are still many kind words to be said for Buck Ewing, Lou Criger, Johnny Kling, Roger Bresnahan, Ray Schalk and others.

Mordecai (Three-fingered) Brown.

One might have imagined Brown, now a prosperous oil man, would be impressed by the opening pitching performance of Howard Ehmke in setting down the hard-hitting Cubs. He was but he was more impressed. He was but he was more impressed.

"I have never seen a more masterful performance by a backstop," remarked Brown. "Cochrane amazed me with his good judgment as well as his speed and hitting ability. He is the best catcher I have ever seen."

Hard-Hitting Back

Cochrane's great career in baseball has overshadowed the fact that he also was a football star for Boston university. The boys who saw him in his college days tell me he was as hard-running a ball carrier as you would care to see on any gridiron.

It may have been tough on the neighbors but Mickey also mastered the saxophone. He buried the hatchet with Burchlie Grimes after the last world's series and went into vaudeville.

He was born Gordon Stanley Cochrane, at Bridgewater, Mass., in 1903. The A's call him "Mike," the fans "Mickey" and his opponents "Gordon" in a somewhat derisive tone. He has never caught less than 120 games a season since coming to Philadelphia from Portland, Ore., in 1925.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

Pony McAtee, the jockey, says his horse he really likes is Jamestown. "such a smooth-gaited colt, and I never asked him to do anything yet he didn't do." Bucky Lawless and Gorrill Jones have fought seven times. The way Buzz Arlett is hitting a fielding this year might make you wonder who they kept him in the minors so long. before he finally got to Philly. Rogers Hornsby is opposed to batters trying for home runs every time they go to bat. the extra power a batter puts into an effort to drive the apple out of the lot often results in a strikeout. As Ty Cobb once said: "A great batter doesn't swing all the time."

THE MELODICORL

By RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY Beryl Borden, secretly in love with Tommy Wilson, succeeds in delaying his elopement with her half-sister, Irene Everett, but fails to convince him that it is his duty to his family to finish college.

Later Irene postpones the marriage date believing she is to become a radio singer. Securing an audience, she permits Beryl to go to the studio with her. While waiting in an anti-room, Beryl sits down at a piano and croons melodies. One of the executives hears her and gives her a private test. He promises an interview with Mr. Gaylord, Irene falls and is forced to give a test. Beryl's hopes of a radio career dim as no word comes from the studio.

At last a letter arrives and she slips away for her interview. Nervous during the ordeal, Beryl is elated when presented with a contract. Her victory is bitter-sweet for her family and Tommy believes she robbed Irene of her chance. Beryl's debut is a success, and she returns home in Mr. Gaylord's limousine laden with floral tributes, having with her, Irene decides to marry Tommy.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XVII

For this elopement Tommy and Irene kept their plans secret, taking no chance of interference. Beryl justly her sister sewing on a pretty new dress of eyelet, and a brodered organza (Irene sewed the ribbon bows on; her mother had made the dress) and noted the mysterious smile that accompanied the work.

Why that smile, she wondered, Irene had worn it on her soft red lips constantly in Beryl's presence for the past three days. It was becoming to be irritating. Beryl believed if you had a secret you should keep it or let it go, not keep it hanging about you half concealed, half revealed.

The dress had been made hurriedly but Irene was always wanting dresses made in a hurry. Sometimes she wore them little more than basted together.

Beryl might have guessed the truth but her work kept her too busy to give much thought to Irene's affairs. Tommy's elation would have given it away but Beryl had not seen him with her sister since Irene had agreed to the elopement. She wanted to make Beryl suspect there was something in the air and worry her, but she did not want to give her too many clues.

Again Tommy packed his suitcase for a honeymoon—and again he was frustrated. On this occasion the interference came from a grim source. Death stepped in and put an end to the affair.

Quickly and without a word to anyone his Aunt Emma died. His uncle called him an hour before the time he had set to slip out of the house to meet Irene. It was morning. A heavy, foggy morning of the kind on which people with asthma find it difficult to breathe.

Uncle George couldn't be said, wake Aunt Emma. Tommy ran to see what he could do. Presently they called a doctor. Before the physician got there Aunt Emma had turned cold.

Out in the sound the fog horn bellowed dully. Aunt Emma had always hated to hear it. Vagrant thoughts came to Tommy as he stood for a while before the window, trying to check his tears so that he could go down and telephone to Irene.

Beryl liked the fog horn. Its bellow or faint boom had stirred elusive thoughts in her mind, she had said. Something seemed to come like that train in Lillom—and carry her away. Only this was a boat, and for a bit of time she could feel that she had traveled, been somewhere.

Tommy had laughed at her. "Carried away by a sound—huh? That's some imagination!" Now he did not laugh. Did death give you a new sense—someone else's death? Bewildering thoughts—and he had to telephone Irene. How did he feel when he had talked with her? Back in his room—the tears unchecked now—he was not conscious of any effect upon himself from Irene's words. What had she said to him? Certainly nothing of moment, nothing to be remembered.

Many people came to the house. Irene, of course, and Beryl, too. There were many things to do. Tommy felt bewildered. Death was new to him. New and terrible. Beryl told him in conventional phrases that tortured her how grieved she was for him. Her voice was steady, but what she suppressed would have astonished Tommy. Irene had declared openly against the tyranny of fate that upset her plans. Beryl had learned then that mysterious smile had meant. Irene did not seem to mind that Aunt Emma was dead. She was annoyed because her plans were spoiled.

Beryl had dreaded to hear what Tommy would say. Would he, like Irene, think of himself? Would he have less regret for the passing of one who had loved him because that passing interfered with his plans?

He did not once speak of the proposed elopement and Beryl knew, with an elation she found it hard to hide, that it was because he had not thought of it. She watched him with Irene and could see that Irene was provoked with him. There could be but one explanation for that. He was not thinking about her.

With Beryl it was as though she lived on the edge of a deep, black abyss, never knowing at what moment she would be pitched headlong into the bottomless depths. That was why Tommy's marriage to Irene would mean her ruin. She had not quite known what it would mean before their first attempt to run away and be married. That occasion had opened her eyes and she had not been able to close them completely since.

Once when she was a little girl there was a thing Beryl had said she would never do. Later she did it. It wasn't a great sin some slight piece of mischief that she had since forgotten—but from it she had learned a lesson. The lesson was that she might say she would never do so-and-so again but that did not make it a fact. She might be fooling herself again, Beryl argued when she said she would never love anyone but Tommy. Still she believed that was true and the anguish the thought of his being married to Irene caused her was real enough no matter what changes the future might hold.

For a while after his aunt's death Beryl felt safe. Then the terms of Emma Hoffman's will were made known and she didn't know what to think. Tommy was not the heir. His aunt had died intestate. She'd had a superstitious fear of preparing for death and so her favorite nephew was left to share her fortune with other kin. There were several other uncles, brothers and sisters and Tommy did not receive much.

Irene told her nothing. Beryl did not ask questions. It was like the crisis in an illness. She held her breath and waited. She was unhappy and she didn't know what of Tommy now? Was there a streak of fitness in her character deep under the shallow exterior?

In her generous moments Beryl hoped this was true—and rebelled against it in a flash. Irene could never make Tommy happy. No matter what he thought, that was true. Irene told her nothing because she did not want Beryl to know what was going on.

Suppose Beryl knew that Tommy was giving up college? She'd heard Beryl express herself on this subject with a talent for words that Irene had found too searing to wish to hear repeated. Irene had a habit of shrugging, both mentally and physically. She shrugged aside what reproaches her conscience urged upon her in this matter of Tommy turning his back upon higher education for her sake. She had promised to marry him if he would accept his uncle's offer to take over the management of Hoffman's Motion Picture Palace as a permanent job.

Beryl to see her among the Hoffman heirlooms, Irene thought. She remembered Beryl had once said she hoped Mrs. Hoffman would will her just one piece of the Lowestoft. Of course Mrs. Hoffman hadn't done anything of the kind.

Irene decided to give a luncheon for Beryl, bringing the Lowestoft from the china closet and serving her food on it just as though it were ordinary ware.

She was planning the meal even as Mr. Hoffman continued talking. Perhaps her mother would cook the luncheon. No, Mr. Hoffman would let her have a maid for that. A smart maid in a black dress and lace apron and cap.

"I haven't a lot of relatives like Emma has," Mr. Hoffman was saying and Irene's mind snapped back in time to grasp the significance of his words.

She and Tommy would live with him. They could remodel the house as they liked because some day it would be theirs. It wouldn't be any fun fixing the house but they could have a decorator from New York and that would make people open their eyes.

Irene was too much taken up with these thoughts to give Mr. Hoffman the answer he wanted and when she realized, as she did suddenly, that he was piling up inducement on inducement, she deliberately waited until he had made his final offer.

This is how it came about that with the anticipation of a handsome wedding present in her mind, she issued her ultimatum to Tommy.

Tommy felt that the marriage should be delayed a while in respect to Irene's memory, a decision which he shortly came to regret.

About a Rat New York

By RICHARD MASSOCK NEW YORK—Rat ridden Riker's island has become the unhappy hunting ground of trappers, chemists and amateur marksmen.

Millions of rats overrun it while its garbage fires burn steadily. This is how it came about that with the anticipation of a handsome wedding present in her mind, she issued her ultimatum to Tommy.

And the anti-pest warfare saga is approaching a port of climax. For a new $10,000,000 penitentiary is rising on Riker's island and the rats must be annihilated lest they move in by regiments before the prisoners get there.

in the East river. At one end is a prison hospital, at the other succulent hills of garbage, perforated by millions of rat holes.

For years the city has endeavored to kill off the rats, but the hustlers can't even check their increase in population.

Each garbage scow that takes a load from the kitchens of Manhattan also takes a new family or two of rats.

For years the city has been dumping its garbage on the end of Riker's island, where a donkey engine pulls cars of it to the peak of the smoking hills.

The garbage catches fire by spontaneous combustion and the mountains long have been smouldering. Hose lines pour water over the hills continually, thus keeping the eternal fires under control. Even so the cornfields yield two crops a year in the semi-tropical heat.

Before the new penitentiary is completed within the next three years, the city will have to cease its garbage dumping there. That is expected to hold the rats for awhile. But then, starving rats would invade the new prison.

A steel rat fence may be erected, cutting off the prison end. But there must be a big anti-rat drive and the city is looking for the piper sure to win.

The rats, huge, well-fed and vicious, killed the pigs and put fear in the hearts of the hungry dogs.

Live rats were caught and given various poisons. Within 48 hours they recovered and were as healthy as ever.

Poison gas has been poured down their holes. Fifteen minutes later the supposed victims came out, shook themselves and scampered out to join their playmates in stripping whole cornfields of their foliage.

The city is experimenting with any device offered. And there are many who want to lead a safari, for the man who eradicates the rats will earn about $30,000.

Meanwhile some of the rats are tiring of their soft life and are swimming the river to the shore of Long Island, where they steal golf balls and break up the fox hunts of irate country gentlemen.

Lincoln Analysis Is Drawing Fire Of Many Experts

TORONTO, June 8. (AP)—Abraham Lincoln was analyzed as a "schizoid maniac personality" — a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde who had his baser nature under rigid control — at the American Psychiatric association meeting here.

The analysis was read by Dr. A. A. Brill, a psychoanalyst of New York City.

When an abstract of Dr. Brill's speech appeared in the program of the association last month, it brought a bitter protest from Dr. Edward E. Hicks, prominent Brooklyn psychiatrist, who described the illustrations to Lincoln as "insulting." Dr. Hicks entered a formal protest against the speech with officers of the association.

Schizoid is a word of Greek derivation meaning to split, and the expression applied to Lincoln does not mean insanity. Dr. Brill found the trace of dual personality in a reputed tendency to tell off-color anecdotes, which bubbled up as part of Lincoln's humor. The split personality source was traced to his conflicting inheritances from his mother and father, two natures "that never became fused in him."

Dr. Brill ranked Lincoln as a wit with Mark Twain, Uncle Remus and other great American humorists. He confined his study to the emotional side of the emancipator.

"What is very peculiar about Lincoln's stories and jokes," said Dr. Brill, "his own and those he appropriated from others is the fact that many, if not most, are of an aggressive or algolagnic nature, treating of pain, suffering and death, and that a great many of them were so frankly sexual to be classed as obscene. Most of his biographers speak of the latter, but are at a loss to explain why Lincoln resorted to this form of wit. Thus, Beveridge remarked that 'he had faults extremely human, such as his love of a certain type of anecdote, a taste which he never overcame and the expression of which, as will appear, was so marked a feature of his manhood and so shocking to the eminent men among whom he did his historic work.'"

Mirrors Used in Many New Ways

By MARGERY TAYLOR
Interior Decoration Editor, McCall's Magazine, Written for Pampa Daily News.

New and novel uses for mirrors are being discovered almost every day.

Not mere tricks or whims, they are often very useful in changing a whole room, or in getting the most in decorative value out of what is already there.

Is the room too small? Mirrors in just the right places will expand it. Is there a "dark corner"? A mirror and some light will bring it to life. Is one part of the room dull? You don't need new furniture. Simply repeat the interest of some other part of the room or the beauty of a window scene by reflecting it in a mirror.

For instance, what is to be put on the wall above a box sofa flanked by trim end tables, when there are already too many pictures in the room? The answer is a strip of mirror over each table, catching the reflection of bright spots elsewhere in the room.

Unframed mirrors express a new vogue, the stripe of mirror glass, even as narrow as six or eight inches, sometimes "making a room."

These mirrors are held in place by glass rosettes or metal clasps. They are particularly pleasing between windows, beside a door in a narrow hallway or at the far end of a long room.

The variety of clever touches in using mirrors is endless. A corner cupboard has the glass and china display multiplied delightfully by a strip of mirror glass. A simple picture is transformed when framed with a mirror mat—the effect on an ordinary flower print is amazing.

A stroke of genius appears when mirror glass instead of clear glass is used in a window which has an unpleasant view.

And as for the real moderns, they want walls, ceilings or whole rooms lined with mirrors.

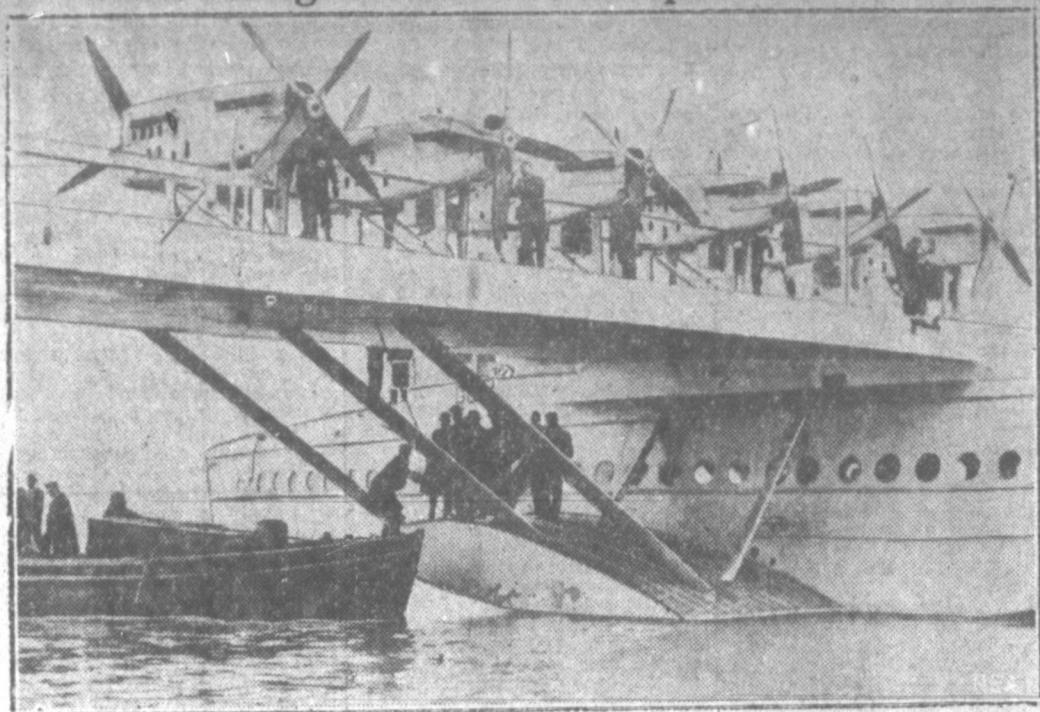

CONTINUANCE DENIED

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 8. (AP)—Defense motions for a continuance and for a change of venue of the trial of Rogers Caldwell, financier, charged in two indictments with fraudulent breach of trust were overruled by Judge Chester K. Hart in criminal court here today.

The defense accepted both rulings and Attorney General Richard M. Atkinson said he expected to proceed with selection of a jury.

ENGLISH DERBY WINNERS RACE HOME

With flying hoofs pounding to the tune of $1,000,000 in sweepstakes winnings for American ticket holders these English Derby winners are shown as they raced to victory down the homestretch at Epsom Downs. Nearly a million people, including King George and Queen Mary, saw Cammerman, the favorite, beat Orpen by three-quarters of a length with Sandwich just behind. This picture was taken by a cameraman for NKA and Service and Pampa Daily News at the track, rushed to London, transmitted by radio across the Atlantic to New York and sent thence over telephoto wires.

POLITICS CAUSING TROUBLE IN LEGAL DEPARTMENT, CLAIM

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—The political influence brought by the senate in the appointment of federal district attorneys was termed "a serious menace to the enforcement of law" in the third report of the national law enforcement commission.

The report was submitted to President Hoover and made public last night through the White House. It urged the elimination of political considerations in the selection and appointment of district attorneys.

"The great powers of the district attorney under the continual extensions of federal jurisdiction in the present century," the report said, "are giving increasing political importance to the office."

Treatment of it as a reward for political activity is a serious menace to enforcement of law.

The report declared the claim of the senate "not merely to exercise a collective power of rejecting unfit nominations but to dictate appointments as the patronage of senators of the state in which the district lies, has often had a bad effect upon the personnel and conduct of the office."

In states where the senators are in opposition to the administration, the commission said, "it happens too often that political organizations insist on treating the office as political patronage, and thus deprive the president of the information and support he should have in order to make suitable appointments."

The commission said federal, state and local prosecutors were more responsible for the increase of crime than the failure of juries to convict. Crowded dockets, it said, resulted in prosecuting attorney dismissing charges through the power of nolle prosequi, thereby making them and not the judges the real arbiters of what laws "shall be enforced and against whom."

ELLIS PITCHES LEFORS TO 8-1 VICTORY OVER JEMCOS

Errors Behind Bullock of Local Nine Prove Costly; Run Scored in Eighth.

LEFORS, June 8. (Special)—Head-up baseball won here Sunday for the LeFors baseball team, 8 to 1, in a contest with the Pampa Jemcos.

The LeFors nine played snappy ball throughout the game except for the eighth inning, when Jemco made their run on an error. Until the eighth, Bullock of Jemco was the only man of his club to reach first base. He pitched a nice game but costly errors were made behind him.

Ellis, LeFors pitcher, was easily the star of the game. He allowed but three scattered hits and collected two himself. Ross, catcher, turned in a good performance, and Baldwin, LeFors backstop, got a single and a triple in four trips to bat. Flynn, local first-sacker, rapped out a single and a double.

The score: Jemcos..... 000 000 010—1 3 4 LeFors..... 210 013 010—8 8 1 Batteries: Jemcos, Bullock and Brandon; LeFors, Ellis and Ross.

NEW CONFERENCE ON REPARATIONS LIKELY

PARIS, June 8. (AP)—The likelihood of another reparations conference growing out of the Anglo-German conversations at Chequers was envisaged by the Paris Press today.

Le Journal commented that in the presentation of their country's financial difficulties the German delegates did not make a move to bring into play the safety device of the Young plan but sought to bring about the complete suspension of payments.

L'Oeuvre expressed the opinion that the discussions were chiefly devoted to a method of modifying the Young plan and remarks on the absence of reference to the 1932 disarmament conference, a subject which it said could hardly be passed over in silence.

Leon Blum, socialist leader, said in Le Populaire that the conference again brings the reparations question forward and that under the Young plan it was no longer a question as to whether Germany continues to pay France and the Allies but whether she pays the United States.

In parts of the Philippine Islands, cotton is grown as a second crop, being planted in the dry season after rice has been harvested.

MUCH CONSTRUCTION POPE IS SUSPENDING

ROME, June 8. (AP)—Suspension of church construction throughout Italy was understood today to be the Vatican's latest counter-move in the controversy with Premier Mussolini.

The expenditure of many millions in the erection of nearly 2,000 buildings in the Vatican City and other districts was said to have ceased on orders from Pope Pius. Construction already under way will be completed but possibly in abbreviated form.

This move was considered significant inasmuch as the building of new religious edifices is known to be close to the pontiff's heart. He recently discussed his program with Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago, telling him that building was one of the best remedies for unemployment in the Catholic world.

On the other hand, the Vatican has announced that the reorganization of Catholic youth clubs, the closing of which was the root of the disaffection, is going forward in the form of "congregations."

While their locations were withheld, it was learned that they were being formed in strict adherence to Fascist law and would be more closely related to the church than the former groups.

DEPORTED MEN HELD

LAREDO, June 8. (AP)—S. A. Vineman and Fred L. Robinson, both of whom had been deported from Mexico, were arrested here today, as they crossed the Rio Grande, at the request of San Antonio authorities, who notified Laredo officers the men were wanted there on charges of motor vehicle theft. The sheriff of Orange county, Calif., also asked that they be held for him on charges of swindling.
