Halifax Reply Criticized By Nazi Circles

Britain Considers Appeal From King And Wilhelmina

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
BERLIN, Nov. 8 (AP)—Authoritative German circles said today that a German reply to the Belgian and Netherlands rulers' mediation offer had been rendered practically unnecessary by British Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax' "accusatory prompt" speech last night.

The German sources said that the Halifax broadcast speech as a reply to and rejection of the offer of King Leopold and Queen Wilhelmina, although copies of the speech were furnished the press hours before the offer was announced. British officials said Halifax' broadcast was arranged days before delivery.

The German sources said it was not known whether Adolf Hitler would make a formal reply to the offer to negotiate a settlement of the European war through Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop.

Germany, authorized sources said, finds fault with neutrals' because they keep smiling when their toes are stepped upon by Britain—a reference to the British blockade. So long as that attitude remains, mediation offers are futile, these sources said.

Cotton Prices Up Following Federal Loan Announcement

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 8 (AP)—An official cotton crop forecast of 11,845,000 bales had little effect on future trading here today.

After trading was resumed following the customary 20 minute suspension, prices opened 25 to 55 cents a bale over the previous close but about level with the quotations prevailing before the business halt.

The chief support behind the market was the government loan announcement of yesterday. The basic price of 830 cents a pound was generally expected in trade circles, but it attracted moderate buying in owning trades.

Bar Banquet To Be Held Tomorrow Night

Judge A. J. Foley of Amarillo, will be the principal speaker at the banquet to be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the Schneider hotel. Other justices of the court, their wives, lawyers of the 31st district and their wives will attend the banquet.

It was learned authoritatively that instruments of ratification would be exchanged immediately.

Ohio And California Pension Plans Beaten

Pension plans combining increased grants to the aged with unorthodox methods of raising the money were rejected yesterday by topheavy majorities in California and Ohio.

In other off-year elections, New York voters sanctioned pari-mutuel race betting and gave Tammany control of county jobs, while Kentucky chose a Democratic governor. None of the contests for office held nationwide political significance.

Ohio ballots showed under the pension proposal advocated by Herbert S. Bigelow, Cincinnati clergyman, to assure income of $50 a month to those past 60. The plan, which called for a state income tax and a levy on valuable real estate, was defeated by a margin of more than 3 to 1.

Returns from 7,641 of 8,589 precincts gave 394,639 for the pension plan and 1,318,509 against it.

Opponents contended that the vote showed Ohio "would not be deluded by suggestions of this kind," but Bigelow announced a new proposal even before all the ballots killing the old one were counted.

It is planned to arrange for courtesy cars in helping to handle the crowd from Amarillo.

WPA Approves 28 Texas Projects

More than 88 women have volunteered to canvass the residential district. L. L. McColl and a group of workers will canvass the business district, and B. M. Behrman's committee will seek special gifts and donations.

No quota has been set this year, and it is hoped to sign up the largest membership in the history of the local Red Cross. Need is greater locally, nationally and internationally than ever before.

Practically every organization in Pampa has promised to support the drive with 100 per cent memberships. The residential district will be canvassed as never before.

Borah Flays Panama Ship Registry Ruse

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The controversy over proposed transfer of eight American merchant ships to Panamanian registry appeared to be growing today despite President Roosevelt's order to the maritime commission to hold up a decision.

Senator Borah (R-Idaho) promptly took issue with a presidential comment to reporters at Hyde Park, N. Y., that neutrality questions are not involved.

"Suppose Panama, in spite of her great navy, fails to protect these ships and they are sunk?" Borah asked in a statement. "Will we not go to the protection of Panama?"

"Panama, from a viewpoint of national defense, is a part of the United States. Besides, she comes under the good neighbor policy and the Monroe Doctrine."

The senator called the proposal "manifestly a subterfuge" to evade provisions in the neutrality act forbidding American ships from entering belligerent ports. The eight vessels owned by the United States Lines, have been in Transatlantic service, and could continue on that route if sold to a foreign corporation.

Mr. Roosevelt expressed the belief yesterday that the United States could not be involved in an international incident if one of the transferred vessels was sunk while flying the Panamanian flag.

He pointed out that he Americans, under the neutrality law, could serve as officers or crew members of ships entering western European waters. Furthermore, he said, any American has a right to sell property or transfer its title to a neutral.

The President said, though, that he had asked the maritime commission for a delay so that he could check personally on the relation of the proposed sale to defense plans aimed to forestall shipping competition.

In commenting on defense interests, he said:

British Acknowledge Offer Of Leopold

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Authoritative British sources said today that the war mediation offer of Leopold, king of the Belgians, and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands would receive "careful consideration" in consultation with the French and Polish governments before a reply is made.

Mr. Roche also released the following statements from the national Legion heads:

The following statement in support of the coming annual membership campaign of the Red Cross has been received from National Commander Raymond J. Kelly of the American Legion:

"The ties which knit the American Legion and the American Red Cross were forged on the battlefield in 1917-18, and have been strengthened in the ensuing years through cooperation in community service, disaster relief and aid to our sick and disabled comrades.

"Therefore, it is my privilege to

Roche Urges Support Of American Legion's Best Friend -- Red Cross

"The Red Cross has always been the greatest friend of the American Legion and of the boy in the service," Commander M. F. (Mike) Roche of Kerley-Crossman post here, declared in a statement today urging ex-service men to join the Red Cross.

"There has always been the closest connection between the Red Cross and the service branches of the government," Commander Roche said. "We want that friendship to continue. I strongly urge that every Legionnaire and every ex-service man in Pampa to join the Red Cross. This also applies to members of the American Legion auxiliary."

"I have investigated the work of the Red Cross here, and I am convinced that the money spent by the local chapter in Pampa goes farther and does more good than any dollar I ever tried to trace," he said.

The refinery had been working day and night to fill war orders.

been financed by a system of state script. Reports from 10,176 of 11,165 precincts showed 831,310 votes for the plan and 1,821,751 against it.

In Kentucky, Governor Keen Johnson, Democrat, was elected to the office he reached through the recent resignation of Gov. A. B. Chandler, who entered the Senate.

A Tammany triumph in county races in New York City marked a change of sentiment in the metropolis, where the organization had been losing in recent years.

In Pennsylvania, Boies Penrose, second Republican, trailed John E. Sheridan, Democrat, for the unexpired term in Congress of Rep. Daily (D., Pa.).

In South Carolina Mrs. Thomas S. McMillan held a long lead in the race to succeed her late husband Rep. McMillan (D., S. C.).

The Philadelphia mayoral race won by Robert E. Lambertson, Republican, attracted particular attention. Lambertson defeated Robert C. White, Democrat, and his partisans acclaimed the victory as pointing the way to a Republican victory in the state next year.

Philadelphia is traditionally Republican, however, and Democratic leaders regarded the race as having no general significance.

Mayor Angelo J. Rossi of San Francisco won a third four-year term in a non-partisan election. He won over a field of seven, including Rep. Frank R. Havenner.

Credit Association To Observe Nov. 30

The office of the Pampa Credit Association will observe Thanksgiving day on November 30 and not on November 23, new date set by President Roosevelt, it was voted at a meeting of the directors last night with President Travis Lively presiding.

Action on the closing date was made following a partial survey among members. No action of Pampa merchants as a whole has been taken as to closing date but the majority of those contacted by the Pampa Credit Association and in a vote taken at a recent Chamber of Commerce luncheon preferred the original date for closing.

On Saturday, Armistice Day, the office of the association will be closed for a brief period preceding 11 a. m. Most members will close their places of business during the same time.

The Pampa Credit association now has its largest membership in history, Manager Walter Daugherty reported at last night's meeting. The association started with only 22 members and now the number exceeds 100.

At a date to be set soon, any firm joining the association will be required to pay a $10 initiation fee. Plans are now being made to build the office even above its present efficient standard.

McWilliams Named Organization Head

Service station operators of Pampa last night elected J. C. McWilliams president. Crawford Atkinson vice president and Greely Warner secretary of a permanent organization whose purpose is to study credit ratings of customers.

Credit reports will be made through the office of the Pampa Credit association.

Interpersed throughout the parade will be the bands from the Pampa schools.

Due to a football game at Perryton, the Killie band of Letors will not be able to participate in Pampa's celebration. The Business & Professional women's club will probably be represented in the parade, but definite assurance had not been received today by Parade Marshal Southern.

On account of members in bands, the Boy Scouts will be represented in a large group.

Proceeding the Pampa-Amarrillo football game at Harvester park, a salute to the colors ceremonial will be held at 7 o'clock at the Pampa school.

The entire Armistice day program here has been designed for the active participation of the public and of all veterans, there being no restriction as to veterans belonging to any organization, nor as to wars in which veterans fought.

Highway Meeting To Attract Big Crowd Tuesday

Interest in the Oilfield Highway 41 association meeting to be held in Oklahoma City next Tuesday night is growing, President J. M. Collins of Pampa reported today upon receipt of letters from several cities along the road announcing that they would have large delegations at the meeting.

Today President Collins received word from Sayre, Okla., that mid-morning lunch would be served the cavalcade at the Silver Grill and that three or four cars would carry the Sayre boosters to Binger for dinner and to Oklahoma City for the night meeting.

Yesterday County Judge Sherman White and Bert Howell attended a meeting of the Wheeler Chamber of Commerce and discussed the meeting with Wheeler citizens who will make the trip.

One of the Denver gaps in the highway between Denver and Oklahoma City is from the Texas county line to near Sayre, Okla.

Pampans will join the cavalcade from the west here at 7:30 o'clock.

BORAH

ests, he made plain his belief that the United States was in no danger of becoming involved in a war.

John M. Franklin, president of the United States lines, agreed with Roosevelt's view that sinking of one of the transferred ships would not involve this country.

Continuation of the Transatlantic service, he declared, is imperative if American shipping is to hold its place on that route after the war.

Borah, however, said "cowardice is no guarantee of peace." It will not be a proud day for America when our citizens are compelled to turn from the American flag and seek security under the flag of our courageous little neighbor and our workmen compelled to surrender their jobs and their places to be occupied by foreign employees.

Senators Schwelmbach (D-Wash) and Pepper (D-Fla.), supporters of the new neutrality law, expressed agreement with Secretary Hull's comment that the sale might impair the integrity of the act.

Senator Clark (D-Mo), who opposed the law, termed the proposed transfer a threat to national defense because of the navy's need for auxiliary ships in event of war involving the United States.

War Flashes

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax declared tonight that Britain was fighting for a "new world" in which nations would be immune from "insane armed rivalry."

In a broadcast on British war aims Lord Halifax asserted: "When the challenge in the sphere of international relations is sharpened, as today in Germany, by the denial to men and women of elementary human rights, that challenge is at once extended to something instinctive and profound in the universal conscience of mankind."

PARIS, Nov. 8 (AP)—Two unidentified planes were reported by military sources today to have been fired upon when they dropped propaganda leaflets on the Paris region in early morning darkness yesterday.

The leaflets bore parts of the Oct. 31 speech by Soviet Russian Premier Vyacheslav Molotov in which he notified the world that Russia was drawing closer to Germany.

It was not determined whether the planes were German or French machines flown by French Communists, but from the nature of the printing, French quarters decided that the pamphlets were printed in Germany.

Military sources acknowledged, meanwhile, that German aircraft made reconnaissance flights deep into French territory yesterday.

PARIS, Nov. 8 (AP)—An emphatic French "no" to the peace proposal by Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands and King Leopold of Belgium was predicted today in unofficial quarters and by the press.

There was no hint of official reaction to the mediation suggestion but unofficially it was said that while France and Britain had expressed willingness to attend a peace conference under certain conditions, to do so now would be tantamount to accepting a German victory.

Coca Cola Profits Rise
NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Coca-Cola International Corp., a holding company for Coca Cola management, reported today for first nine months of 1939 net profit of $3,263,917 or $14.82 a common share, compared with $2,924,850 or $12.83 a share for the comparable 1938 period.

Charles B. Barnard

Funeral services were held today for a man who pioneered in Pampa's business world, a man who held the respect of all who knew him—and a man who had done much for the community.

Charles B. Barnard, 74, who died suddenly on Monday, came here in 1908, opened a general store and operated it until 1926.

One of Mr. Barnard's community-building acts, a good deed for which he and the six or seven others who joined him in it probably never received due recognition, happened in 1932 when the now non-existent Pampa National Bank faced financial disaster.

To prevent a run on the bank, although he was only a small stockholder at the time, Mr. Barnard was one of a half dozen Pampans who stepped to the fore without hesitation and mortgaged his property as a guarantee to the First National Bank of Pampa in paying off all depositors of the Pampa National.

The voluntary action of Mr. Barnard and the other men who joined him kept Pampa from having a bank failure, made it possible for all depositors of the insolvent bank to be paid off, and saved the community from loss and the stigma of bank failure.

There was no obligation on Mr. Barnard's part. His action was taken solely from the standpoint of altruism for his city and for his fellow townsmen. He was a man of many good deeds.

The death of that type of man is a distinct loss to any city.

MR. LEWIS' PURGE (Chicago Tribune)

John L. Lewis, it is reported, is getting ready to run the communists out of the C. I. O. This will no doubt prove embarrassing to some of Mr. Lewis' more starchy eyed admirers, who have been contending valiantly that there were no communists in the C. I. O. Their forthcoming explanations may be awaited with the same interest that greeted recent efforts of the American communists to explain Comrade Stalin's doings.

There is nothing surprising in Mr. Lewis' action. It has been predicted in labor circles ever since he put the Reds to work for him. No one has accused him of being a communist. He was a Herbert Hoover Republican in 1932. He was a $500,000 Democrat in 1936. The only ideology to which he has remained faithful is that he ought to run things. That happens also to be Stalin's ideology, but that doesn't make Lewis a communist, or Stalin either, for that matter.

Lewis put the communists to work in 1937 because he could use their considerable talents. They were accomplished hell raisers, and he was out to raise hell. They were the most experienced saboteurs and revolutionaries on the American scene, and he saw sabotage and threatened revolution as the quickest road to the power he seeks.

Mr. Lewis accordingly invited the communists into bed with him. Having got them in, he may find it not so easy to kick them out. On that problem Mr. Lewis might well consult David Dubinsky of the Ladies' Garment Workers' union who parted company with him last year.

Mr. Dubinsky knows all about communists. Some years ago they got into his union. He didn't invite them in, but they got in anyway. He set out to expel them, and finally did so after several years. But the fight nearly wrecked his union, and would have wrecked it if the American Federation of Labor hadn't come to Mr. Dubinsky's aid within several hundred thousand dollars.

Since Stalin embraced Hitler and sent word to Comrade Browder that when Browder was talking about Fuehrer Kuhn of the bund he really meant Prime Minister Chamberlain, the communists have been the kiss of death boys in the ranks of American radicals. Mr. Lewis is not the only one who has been trying to get respectable by repudiating them. The American Labor party in New York is running a purge also.

But down in Washington the communists still pursue their happy way, planning for the revolution and sabotaging the machinery of capitalism whenever they get a chance. The Dies committee says there are 2,500 known communists and fellow travelers working for President Roosevelt. When is the President going to start his purge?

ALBERTA NOT SO HAPPY IN ITS EXEMPTION (Pasadena, Calif., Star-News)

Ham and Egg advocates writing to the public press, have pictured the Alberta, Canada, experiment with "funny money" in glowing terms. There is, however, another side to the story.

J. H. Hanna, secretary of the Calgary Board of Trade, makes this unqualified statement: "The prosperity certificates were in circulation for only a few months when the Government withdrew them. They have not been issued since. Our merchants, both wholesale and retail, declined to use those certificates, and the banks would not accept them. The fact that the Government withdrew the certificates a few months after they were in force is the best evidence of the failure of the scheme."

From G. H. Bowling, secretary of the Edmonton Typographical Union, comes this further testimony: "There is no warrant payment scheme in existence in this Province. . . . The Government started a scrip scheme some time ago, but it fell through, and we never hear anything more about it."

R. F. Wallace, clerk of the court in Alberta, writes: "There is no Alberta pension or warrant plan or act in force here."

Let any one who doubts these witnesses write to any responsible agency in Alberta Province and get his report first hand.

Claims to the contrary are merely proof of the deception which Ham and Egg promoters are practicing upon credulous but well meaning voters.

TAKING ANOTHER MAN'S JOB

I have heard many conscientious, honest workmen say that they did not want to take another man's job. Invariably those people are honest and sincere in their belief that they are being good and kind and considerate of their fellowman. Invariably these people think they are practicing the precepts taught by Jesus of loving their fellowman. This belief has caused people to do many things that were injurious to society, as well as to the individual himself.

The reason this theory is wrong is that no man has any right to any job unless he can do it as well or better than anybody else. Nature's laws did not give any man a right to stand in the way of progress and prevent other people from contributing to the wellbeing of mankind by taking any job he could do more efficiently than others.

This theory, that one is taking another's job, is based on the same assumption the kings used to claim as having the divine right of being a king. And many of these people are hesitant in doing the work that another man is doing for the reason that they believe there is a limited amount of jobs in the country. They believe this because they think there is a limited amount of work to be done. They do not seem to realize that our wants increase infinitely more rapidly than our ability to supply these wants and, inasmuch as our wants are only supplied by labor, there is an unlimited amount of work to be done.

If this theory, that when a man does a job better than another is taking another man's job, had been universally practiced, there would have been no progress made in all history. The status quo would have prevailed. We would not have had radio, telegraph wires, automobiles, or made any progress.

No, there really is no such thing as taking another man's job. No job belongs to anyone who cannot benefit the customer buying the products as much as any other worker in the world. That is the only way a man has any claim on any job. And if he does this, no man can take his job.

85 PER CENT OF PRODUCTION GOES TO LABOR

The Brookings Institute reports that 85 per cent of the nation's income goes to workers engaged in gainful occupations.

This should be borne in mind by those people who want the government to confiscate more of the national income for the benefit of the workers. The various subdivisions of the government in the United States now are taking 30 per cent of the national income. So if they took all of the national income that did not go to workers, they would only have half enough to pay the government expenses.

At any rate, any additional expenses the government takes must come out of labor. If labor could be made to understand this the squandering politicians would not have such a soft job.

Behind The News Of The Day

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON — British and French airplanes coming after the lifted embargo will be passed around among manufacturers where they will do the most good for Yankee preparedness at the same time they get results for the Allies.

Here is a sample of what will be done. The French has taken a strong liking to the hot little Curtis pursuit plane, known as P-36. They say it is out-fighting the much feared German Messerschmitts, which were held up as tops among fighters when the war started. Likely the French would prefer to buy all the Curtis plant can produce. However, the army has prior orders with Curtis for a faster and handier plane than the P-36. It is called the P-40.

The French will have to shop around among the factories. That won't be such a hardship. A half dozen other plane makers have submitted plans to the army and navy for ships considered only a shade less effective than P-40.

WILL CAUSE EXPANSION The Army-Navy munitions board won't be able exactly to tell the French and British where they must buy but force of circumstances will compel them to buy from plants which are not filled with U. S. plane orders. That will mean expansion of plants which could not be boosted to mass production by U. S. orders alone.

Incidentally, it will put money in the pockets of some of the plants which heretofore have been less well-heeled. Then they too can experiment on better and better planes.

And, incidentally, long before repeal of the embargo was voted by the senate, the French had placed additional orders with American plane manufacturers—on a "soon as" basis. The British, more fearful of creating a backfire against repeal, appear to have withheld.

ODDS AND ENDS Historical note: Naval hero Paul Jones once put the U. S. in practically the same position as Germany now is with respect to the captured City of Flint. Jones captured three British merchantmen and stowed them away at Bergen, Norway, which then belonged to Denmark.

The Danes, shivering under British guns, surrendered the ships to the British and the Yankees yelled like everything. The Danes, barked at fore and aft, offered to pay us something but not as much as we asked, so we refused the offer. We never collected anything.

The French have a word for it. They describe the newly shaping neutrality as "neutralite bienveillant." It seems to mean Neutrality—with a wish for the best.

Probably the most unsmiling of all senators is Frazier of North Dakota. Even in the piping times of peace he was almost never seen to smile and now is doubtless farther from a smile than ever. To him, repeal of the embargo is not a step toward war but a running jump.

To Mrs. Roosevelt has fallen the job of lightening the burdens of the President, now that he is so pressed with war problems. Diplomatic dinners have been abandoned by the White House for the winter. Receptions will go on as usual.

Replacing the dinners will be afternoon musicales and teas. Mrs. Roosevelt can handle them all by herself and the President doesn't have to show up at all. It saves time and energy. It imposes more burdens on Mrs. Roosevelt, but when energy and endurance are needed, she has a boundless supply.

ROLL CALL

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD — Sonja Henie's really arrived now—there's a Henie doll coming on the market. Smart casting for Sonja's new picture, "Everything Happens at Night" when they put the up-and-coming Cummings in the romantic lead—which guarantees some light humor and the ice heavy falls—when Bob gets on the ice.

Maurice Maeterlinck, like Shakespeare, gets a belated nod from Hollywood. Unlike Shakespeare, Maeterlinck came in person once, summoned by Samuel Goldwyn when the producer was enthralled by his "eminent authors" (and cheaper stars) idea. Maeterlinck turned in his script but he didn't stay on after Goldwyn read it. The hero was a bee—at least, that's the legend.

Maeterlinck's present nod takes shape in an expensive Shirley Temple version of "The Blue Bird." First Temple film, incidentally in which Shirley has a brother. He's Johnny Russell. First picture, too, in which Shirley plays a meanie—although she reforms in the end. Sets for "The Blue Bird" are by Richard Day and Ward Thnen, and are a new high in beauty and simplicity of design.

Speaking of sets—Willy Pogany, the Hungarian-born artist who used to art-direct for Warner Bros., has given up portraits of movie stars whose mouths curl up exactly as Willy Pogany's does. Mrs. Pogany wrote "Peterkin" and he'll be a series. Pogany stressed the "sets" for his cartoon and achieved some striking effects. The G. Bennett portrait, which C. Bennett told was not satisfactory, still hangs in Willy Pogany's home.

Jeanette MacDonald, before she went to Italy, is making a "MacDonald coquelabum" of records of her first tour offerings last spring.

Look for this fashion borer in "Little New York": Harry Cording, the mustached character of many movies, plays a part—but wouldn't sacrifice his moustache to conform to the period's style in men's suits. He'll appear on the sports pages. But do you know where they are? The correct city or town is among those listed after each institution.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

Note to W. B. (Red), Weathered; Red, Judging by the sentiment expressed by old Clarendon college-exes and friends in Pampa since Monday when this column mourned the abandonment of the famous old school by the Methodist church, it begins to look like the most appropriate thing you could do Saturday morning when you open the chapel program at the exes reunion in Clarendon would be to demand that the Methodist church admit its regrettable mistake and take Clarendon college back into its fold. That seems to be the thought uppermost in the minds of the exes.

Talk to any of the Methodist leaders nowadays and they will tell you that something noble, something that seemed to be the essence of the plains spirit, went out of the Panhandle when the Methodist church abandoned Clarendon college in a vain hope of building a university at Amarillo. Everybody knows somebody gave old C. C. the doublecross. . . . The exes and the Methodists will tell you that with the population of the Panhandle doubled that of what it was in 1926 when the college was abandoned, more than ever the Panhandle needs a college with the famous traditions and spirit of old C. C. They will tell you it's not too late to start such a movement. They will point out to you that the Panhandle could and will support a Methodist college—old at one time—especially if it had winning football teams as old C. C. had.

Word comes, Red, that you may spring such a demand on the exes Saturday. Well, more power to you. Betcha if you did you'd have a lot of people on your side. . . . lot of people on your side.

Never mind sneering this letter, now. We would rather just wait and get the answer out at Harvester Stadium Saturday afternoon.

P. S. The crystal ball says Amarillo. I would just as soon throw it away Saturday night and let you fellows prove it to be dead wrong.

So They Say

For the democratic countries, even after 17 years of life and work, Fascist Italy still remains an absolutely unknown country.

It is bad enough to be a runt without being stunted, old, derided, and otherwise persecuted as brainy.

We Americans who live in Europe and who see, perhaps, more clearly realize that we are faced with a repetition of the spirit of 1917.

Frankly, I am afraid we have overneutralized the importance of neutrality legislation. It is important—yes. But it is not more important than our entire foreign policy.

All of us who are citizens wear a badge of trusteeship in America. It represents our heritage and our responsibility to our own and to future generations.

There should be material for thought in this breakdown of the Committee's estimates, particularly since, that Committed loss for the five years under New Deal spending and other policies, 1933-1937, was 131.7 billion dollars, or an average of 26.3 billion dollars per year.

As a response to the invitation to discuss the possible solution of this problem, I suggest that the Committee consider the apparent relationship between the vital features of New Dealism, some of which are mentioned above, and the estimated heavy losses in national income which fall within the period of the New Deal Government.

The Family Doctor

Most people know something about tonsillitis, but few people associate quinsy with the tonsils. Quinsy is the formation of an abscess in the tissues around the tonsil.

When the abscess forms, there is also swelling of the uvula, which is the little structure that hangs down from the roof of the mouth toward the tongue, and also a swelling of the soft palate. In some instances the abscess becomes more and more distended with inflammatory material and may burst into the tissues.

It is much better to have the abscess opened by a doctor as soon as the nature of the condition is apparent. In that way the pus and infectious material can be taken out of the body rather than pass into an area in which the material may be absorbed. The opening of such an abscess, when the tissues have thinned and softened, is not difficult and is frequently done without an anesthetic. The abscess will pop like a pimple that is ready to burst.

There are other cases in which the abscess forms in the tissue below the tonsil. Here, again, there is danger of the abscess passing its contents into the large blood vessels unless there is prompt treatment.

In general it is not customary to attempt removal of the tonsils while the abscess is present because of the inflammation, and also because there may be more bleeding as a result of the inflammation than there would be if the tonsils were removed during a quiescent period.

It is customary to wait until the tissues have healed following the opening of the abscess, and then to plan complete removal of the tonsils to prevent appearance of new abscesses. If this is not done, there may be more abscesses, resulting from the condition that led to the formation of the first abscess.

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWeese

It is very difficult to write this, but I have just had another session with my 99 cent correct crystal ball and can see nothing in it but a wide shot at Amarillo Sandies over the Pampa Harvesters' defeat Saturday afternoon. . . . Devastating news, isn't it?

This prediction is backed up by word from Amarillo, where the story has been given wide circulation that the Harvesters do not have what it takes to whip down the Sandies' ears this fall. . . . The report is out over here that the Pampa team does not have the necessary fighting heart and that it doesn't have what you-mean-they-re-gonna-win—gimme-that-balls spirit that it takes to turn apparent defeat into victory when things look shaky.

FOR ONE, I am reticent even to believe in the crystal ball which seldom is wrong. Certainly Pampans do not want to believe the story circulating in Amarillo that the Harvesters do not have the required intestinal fortitude to make a winning team. That story, they say, got out after Amarillo scouts came back from Lubbock where they saw the Harvesters kicked around for a 6-0 loss to the Westemers. . . . Anybody from Amarillo who saw the Pampa Harvesters game will bet you their last shirt that Pampa does not have a ghost of a show against the victory-fired Sandies this Saturday afternoon.

So, I would like to address an open letter to members of the Harvester squad:

Dear Fellows: What do you make of this story that is now going the rounds in Amarillo? I mean the one in which the talk is that the Pampa team cannot take it when they bump into real opposition. You can bet anything you have that the Golden Sandies will blow in Saturday, set on just one thing—and that is to heap the humiliation of a decisive defeat upon you.

YEARS come and years go and the football fans here wait for Pampa to crack down on Amarillo. . . . But they say YOU are not going to do it this year, either. . . . How about it, fellows. Are you going to get out there and fight like you have never fought before? . . . Are you going to play unfired and haphazardly as you did in Lubbock, or are you going to show the Harvester squad that you are what you showed earlier in the season against Oklahoma Central, for instance?

You might as well know that the present crop of the fans in Amarillo and possibly 75 per cent of them in Pampa have the idea that you're going to take a shellacking from Amarillo Saturday. . . . I realize that those are harsh words, but I don't if you members of the team really know what the fans are saying. . . . They wouldn't have the nerve to tell you, so I'm taking the rap here and telling you just what things stack up as. . . . Give me your opinion on your chances of winning this annual "dream game." . . . They tell me they have come to that conclusion because of the way you looked in Lubbock. . . . They say you haven't got what it takes. . . . Personally, I don't believe it. . . . What are you fellows going to do about it Saturday?

Never mind sneering this letter, now. We would rather just wait and get the answer out at Harvester Stadium Saturday afternoon. . . . P. S. The crystal ball says Amarillo. I would just as soon throw it away Saturday night and let you fellows prove it to be dead wrong. . . . Yours for an upset, T. D.

"It is for each to stir that which he sincerely believes to be true, and to witness a return engagement of units of influence, and let the results work themselves out."—Spencer, Connecticut urged to confine their articles to 300 words

Editor: "Let 'Em Eat Cake" was a very funny comedy which had a long run on Broadway a few years ago. The sovereign State of Texas has been witnessing a return engagement of the same for almost a year now, and the humor is growing thin. We've passed the biscuits all right, but to the wrong recipients.

Yesterday in California the citizens voted on the crack-pot Ham and Eggs question, and unless some sensible solution can be worked out for old-age assistance in Texas, we are quite likely to be doing the same here. The fact that O'Daniel was elected by such a large majority is ample proof that the same spirit which enriches the promoters of Ham and Eggs in California is latent in a great many Texans.

It has long been known that the only way to settle a problem is to take the people into the confidence of the electorate has given over, they inevitably turn to whoever may promise them most. It's a natural feeling of desperation that accounted for Hitler in Germany, Long in Louisiana, and Ham and Eggs in California. Our governor, through a joint house and senate committee, which he dominated, killed two statutory tax bills which would have gone a long way toward settling the matter in Texas. And his frantic attempts to shift the blame for this action to the very men who tried to provide for our aged is getting tiresome. His proposal last Sunday morning is a turkey. It's a turkey and won't fool any thinking man.

And while all this name-calling is continuing, the aged of Texas are getting less and less, and becoming increasingly the prey of just such unscrupulous demagogues as those taking advantage of the aged in California. We can't live forever on excuses and hill-billy songs.

Gonzales Turkey Raisers Demanding Probe Of Market

GONZALES, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Gonzales Chamber of Commerce today called on turkey raisers over here to state to demand an investigation of the present market. "We know Gonzales dealers are paying as much as dealers anywhere in the state but we believe the market is unduly low," said G. A. Jordan, chairman of a committee named by the Chamber of Commerce directors. "Texas is the nation's largest turkey-raising state and we believe if turkey raisers will get together elsewhere and demand a thorough investigation we'll have a healthier market." The price here is 12 cents a pound and many birds are being held off the local market. "Unlike other uncontrolled markets, there doesn't seem to be any competition," Jordan said in referring to the uniform price over the state. "The farmer has to take the dealers' prices and like them—or keep the birds."

Guns Mounted On British Freighter

TAMPICO, Tamaulipas, Mexico, Nov. 8 (AP)—Loading of the British freighter Etlickank with 32,000 tons of asphalt started today. The ship arrived here yesterday with two mounted guns, concealed behind a pile of sandbags, and equipped with a torpedo tube. The asphalt is consigned to a firm in London.

ESTIMATED LOSSES UNDER THE NEW DEAL By WALTER E. SPAHR Professor of Economics, New York University

There are some interesting aspects of the findings of the National Resources Committee which have escaped notice.

The Committee, in its report to the President, estimated that the total national income for the years 1930-1937, due to depression, unemployment of men and machines was 204.7 billion dollars.

It should be instructive, in the light of recent and current arguments in behalf of government expansion, spending and increasing debt (not to mention the various oppressive and confidence-destroying policies of the New Deal) to notice that, for the three acute years of depression and depression, 1930-1932, the estimated loss was 73 billion dollars, or an average of 24.3 billion dollars per year, and that the estimated loss for the five years under New Deal spending and other policies, 1933-1937, was 131.7 billion dollars, or an average of 26.3 billion dollars per year.

There should be material for thought in this breakdown of the Committee's estimates, particularly since, that Committed loss for the five years under New Deal spending and other policies, 1933-1937, was 131.7 billion dollars, or an average of 26.3 billion dollars per year. . . . If we accept the Committee's estimates, the average loss per year under the New Deal policies of government expansion, spending and increasing debt, etc., is greater than the average loss per year prior to the New Deal. At the same time the Committee says that Committed loss for the five years under New Deal spending and other policies, 1933-1937, was 131.7 billion dollars, or an average of 26.3 billion dollars per year.

U. S. To Send Late Weapons To The Allies

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Faced to rely chiefly on voluntary cooperation, the army and navy are striving to make European war orders an aid rather than a hindrance to American defense efforts.

Officials said today that foreign contracts for arms and supplies, expected to reach $1,000,000,000 in the immediate future, would raise a host of complicating problems.

The British embassy announced last night that Great Britain and France would coordinate their purchases in the United States to eliminate competition between them.

Thus far the British, French and other buying groups already have cooperated in reporting their needs and plans to an official inter-department clearing committee. They do not have to do so, however.

Insofar as they increase the productive capacity of domestic aircraft and other industries, the foreign orders are welcomed enthusiastically. Allied purchases of arms and supplies totaling more than $4,000,000,000 in 1914-18 demonstrated, however, that export sales create difficulties for the army and navy.

American arms plants were geared before 1917 to produce Enfield model rifles for the British army, with the result that the United States had to use their weapons instead of the Springfield rifle, which was considered to be superior, when this country entered the war.

This situation apparently was in mind when the army-navy aeronautical board relaxed its rules recently to permit the sales abroad of late model warplanes and engines.

An anticipated result, officials said, is that aircraft manufacturers will keep their facilities geared up to more modern material than if they were required to sell only older models to foreign buyers.

For arms desired with a minimum of delay, foreign purchasers may have to concentrate on aircraft, engines and equipment, and small arms ammunition.

It is only in these lines, officials reports indicate, that the United States has a munitions industry with surplus capacity beyond the requirements of the extraordinary $119,000,000 army munitions orders for which Congress provided funds last spring.

Because of this situation, some officials think Britain may prefer to finance munitions plants in Canada, depending on this country chiefly for such miscellaneous supplies as motor vehicles and foodstuffs.

Hitler Studies Plea Of Two Monarchs

BERLIN, Nov. 8 (AP)—Adolf Hitler studied carefully today the offer of King Leopold of the Belgians and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands to mediate the war between Germany and Britain and France.

On the war front meanwhile, the German high command noted a slight increase in activity. A communiqué said there had been "somewhat livelier artillery and patrol action at several points in the west."

The same communiqué, summing up aerial warfare during the first week in November, said nine enemy planes had been shot down and listed German losses at five planes. (Unofficial French reports said that 13 French planes had engaged 43 German aircraft in three different encounters Monday, bringing down 12 or 13 Nazi ships without loss to themselves.)

The Führer, in Munich for participation in the annual commemoration of the Nazi beer cellar push, gave no hint how he felt about the peace gesture.

The authoritative commentary, Dienst Aus Deutschland, said, "It will be weighed with all the seriousness it deserves."

Newspaper attacks on the little neutrals for not energetically protesting the British blockade's effect on their shipping ceased today as abruptly as they started yesterday. Evidently it was decided to halt such agitation until Hitler had considered the neutral proposal.

Yep, You're Paying Four Bits Month For Battleships

(Editor's note: Congressional leaders are talking of increasing national defense funds in the 114th session. The following article, second of two on defense costs, outlines current naval expenditures.)

By E. C. DANIEL
WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Unlike his 1940 automobile, the taxpayer's new battleship will cost him 250 to 320 percent more than the last one he bought. And he is now buying eight battleships.

Between 1922 and 1936, United States naval expenditures remained constant at about $300,000,000 a year. The navy merely held its own. An upturn in construction followed the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt, a former assistant secretary of the navy, as president.

Since March, 1933, the navy has committed at about $300,000,000 a year. The navy merely held its own. An upturn in construction followed the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt, a former assistant secretary of the navy, as president.

Since March, 1933, the navy has committed at about $300,000,000 a year. The navy merely held its own. An upturn in construction followed the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt, a former assistant secretary of the navy, as president.

For that money — which amounts to more than 50 cents a month for every man, woman and child in the country—the taxpayer gets a navy of 338 vessels actually in service, as compared with 300 early in 1917 and 228 in 1929, in addition to the ships being built.

Six of the 96 under construction are 35,000-ton battleships. Contracts have been let for two more. The first one laid down was the North Carolina at the New York navy yard. Its estimated cost is $65,788,000. The South Dakota, first of the six to be let to a private yard, will cost $58,998,000. The two ships are virtually identical.

Before this expansion started, the last battleship built was the West Virginia, completed in 1923. It cost only 26,894,768.

Official reasons for this advance of 250 to 320 percent in cost include these:

1. Between 1934 and 1938, navy yard labor costs increased 15 percent; private yards' labor bills rose possibly 35 percent.
2. Semi-finished materials advanced 20 to 35 percent and in isolated instances 200 percent.
3. Ship design was improved, requiring more expensive and more complex construction.
4. The supply of skilled labor was not adequate for the rapid expansion.
5. Social security and other laws increased costs.

The navy now figures on paying $35,000,000 each for two aircraft carriers under construction; $22,300,000 each for four light cruisers; $7,500,000 each for 24 destroyers, and $6,500,000 each for 17 submarines. Auxiliary vessels and a fleet of 12 submarine-chasers and torpedo boats make up the total of 96 ships being built.

Size is the key to the reasons why the taxpayer this year is digging deeper into his jeans. A navy second to none is the keystone of the nation's naval policy.

On Oct. 1, the United States navy was still second only to that of Great Britain.

Nebraska In Oil Spotlight

FALLS CITY, Neb., Nov. 8 (AP)—Nebraska's first oil well brought in last week hasn't made any money for its owners yet—but leave it to the younger generation.

Boys sold sample bottles of oil to visitors who did not bring their own containers. One lad reported a $4.60 net profit.

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 6 (AP)—Discovery of oil in southeastern Nebraska has given a shot in the arm to development activities in the Forest City basin area.

For many months, the district was the scene of feverish leasing and royalty trading. But it was an oil boom without any oil.

With the finding of crude in a wildcat test near Falls City, Richardson county, Neb., the basin and Nebraska got their first commercial well. Estimates of settled production from the Hunton lime have varied from 60 to 150 barrels a day.

On the marketing and refining side of the industry, increased runs to stills were watched closely. One executive said he feared stocks may be built up for war demand which may not be felt for some time, if at all.

An increasing demand for lube oils, laid to heavier industrial and some war demand, resulted in another hike in prices of Pennsylvania grade of crude which was marked up 15 cents.

The demand for fuel oils was in seasonal strength, with the tone of the gasoline market reported fair and in some spots drabgy. Crude prices remained firm.

Some criticism was voiced privately of the lowering of tariff on Venezuela crude.

Well completions in the United States totaled 328 for the week ended Nov. 4, compared with 545 for the previous week and 539 for a year ago, the Oil and Gas Journal reported.

Two northern Barton county (Kas.) wildcats hit pay . . . Oklahoma's Dunn pool in Creek county added a 1,500-bbl. well, the pool's fifth and largest. . . Twelve Benoit sand wells were deepened to the Aux Vases sand in the Salem pool of Illinois, resulting in 15,092-bbl. of new potential production. . . A wet gas producing sand was found in the Colosse field in Victoria county on the Texas Gulf Coast, and a two-and-a-half-mile outcrop to the Cotton Lake pool in the same county is producing 150-bbl. daily. Michigan completed 13 new oil wells.

Pampa Delegation To Attend Denver Reclamation Meet

Fritz Thompson, Borger, president of the association, and a representative of the Borger Chamber of Commerce also are planning to attend the convention in the interests of the proposed Canadian River dam near Sanford.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Three men and a brunette "Madame Ladyfinger" who police said had engineered a series of spectacular jewel thefts totaling between $500,000 and $1,000,000 were held today on robbery charges.

A fourth man, Raphael Stokvis, a jewelry salesman, was held as a material witness.

Detectives said the arrests had smashed the biggest organized jewel robbery ring in the nation, a ring which found victims among wealthy night club patrons, social registrars, and jewelry salesmen.

Acting Lieutenant Cornelius Sullivan said George "The Mock" Stern, 44, had served as leader of the gang and Mrs. Dorothy Stur-

"MOTOR WOULDN'T START"

"BET THEY'RE USING LOW-TEST GAS AGAIN"

The kid's right! It's a safe bet that the gasoline in the tank is not "hot" enough when any engine—in good mechanical condition—begins giving starting trouble as the weather gets colder.

It's an even safer bet that Phillips 66 Poly Gas will give you extra fast starting even on coldest days . . . because this sensational gasoline is extra high test!

More, no other gasoline will so consistently give you such rapid starts, because no other gasoline so consistently leads all others in high test quality.

Best of all, Phillips 66 Poly Gas costs nothing extra, since Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline.

Why not get a demonstration in your own car of the difference this lively motor fuel will make? Check how it does away with starting trouble. Note the faster warm-up. The improvement in power and pick-up. The gain in smoother running. Besides, mileage is increased by the sharp reduction in the need for wasteful choking.

Yes sir, the way to find out how to run your car for less this winter is to stop for a trial tankful of self-demonstrating Phillips 66, at any Orange and Black 66 Shield.

Tech Prof Favors Allies In Chamber Of Commerce Talk

Failure of Congress to approve repeal of the arms embargo would handicap the nations we favor in this war, and "it's no use denying that the American people favor Britain and France," H. C. Pender of the department of government at Texas Tech college in Lubbock told 150 Pampa business and professional men at the monthly joint Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday afternoon in the First Methodist church basement.

Mr. Pender has made an exhaustive study of the war, its cause, its probable outcome and its effect on the American people. He declared that the war was not one of ideologies but between aggressive and reluctant powers now determined to offset future oppression.

He deplored absence of any agency strong enough to avert war. He did not condemn the Versailles treaty, declaring it was the best possible at the time. It was not perfect by any means, he said, especially in establishing the Polish corridor, but that appeared to be the only solution if Poland was to become a nation again. Poland has won and lost her independence three times.

Germany Loses Allies
The Polish corridor was only a pretext and not the real cause of the war, declared Mr. Pender. "Germany has always thought in terms of war, not peace. Germany has always thought that everyone was against her, and she tried the old idea of stirring up trouble and then getting what she wanted by negotiation. She didn't want war."

"Czechoslovakia and Poland were just the first steps and Britain and France had the move figured out." Mr. Pender believes that Germany's move to join Russia was one of desperation and in that one move she lost her other allies, Italy, Spain and Japan. And Germany will get the worst of the deal with Russia. Stalin has definitely out-manuevered Hitler. He had taken the Baltic over and Hitler had his eye on that area. He has blocked Hitler's move to the south and east and he is not going to give military aid. Mr. Pender said.

Little progress has been made since the world war to protect neutrals. The sinking of the Athena has proved that, Mr. Pender said.

America May Enter
"There is a grave possibility that America will be entangled in the war," Mr. Pender announced. "There have been two major wars and we have been in both of them. We, of course, will be on the side of Britain and France. I don't believe we'll be embroiled in war through legal issues but only if we bring Britain and France losing."

"As long as Canada and Australia are joined with England we must support her because we have much in common with those countries."

Mr. Pender said he didn't believe the war would affect American economy. He didn't believe any great profit would be garnered from the war. Any profit to be derived would be from finished products and not from raw materials. "We have always believed that it took two to start a fight," Mr. Pender said, "and maybe it does, but it certainly doesn't take two to make a war."

Reports made at the meeting included an appeal for Red Cross workers for the Roll Call which began November 13, by the Rev. Robert Boshen; an announcement by Jimmie Dodge that the Junior Chamber of Commerce was starting plans for Santa Day; an invitation for Pampans to attend the Oilfield Highway 41 association meeting in Oklahoma City November 14.

Mr. Pender was introduced by Postmaster C. H. Walker.

Pampa Resident For 12 Years Succumbs

Mrs. R. E. Black, Pampa resident for 12 years, died last night at the family home 522 East Scott street. She had been in ill health for some time. Until her illness she was an active worker in the First Christian church in Santa Day; an invitation for Pampans to attend the Oilfield Highway 41 association meeting in Oklahoma City November 14.

Surviving Mrs. Black are her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Maxine McCarther, Houston, two sons, L. C. Lamb, Pampa, and J. A. Lamb, Hobbs, N. M., four sisters Mrs. Jessie Lowrey and Mrs. May Ramsey, both of Okemaha, Okla.; Mrs. Len Shield, Newkirk, Okla., and Mrs. Nina Holland, Stamford.

The body lies at rest at Duenkel-Carmichael funeral home. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Hog Farmers Need Not Expect Much Of A Price Advance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics predicted today that American consumers would require larger meat supplies in 1940, but it urged hog farmers not to expect much of a price advance.

"Effects on hog prices of the improvement in domestic and foreign demand probably will be offset largely, if not wholly," the Bureau said, "by the increase in the supplies of hogs for slaughter during 1940."

Total slaughter of cattle and calves in 1940 is expected, on the other hand, to be somewhat smaller than in 1939. Many livestock farmers will hold cattle for breeding purposes, the Bureau said. As a consequence, slightly higher cattle prices were forecast.

Short Report Filed By Gray Grand Jurors

In a 13-line typewritten report, the 31st district court grand jury for the September term yesterday summarized its work of the current session, as it adjourned at 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The report was one of the shortest grand jury reports ever to be submitted in district court here.

Signed by C. A. Burton, freeman, and dated November 7, 1939 the report reads: "The honorable district court, 31st judicial district: We the duly empaneled grand jury for the September term, 1939, of the district court of Gray county, Texas, have been in session 7 days, and have returned 11 felony indictments.

"We find conditions in regard to criminal violations of laws of our state to be in unusually good state. We therefore recommend and commend the law enforcing agencies of our county

"We therefore pray the court that he accept this, our final report, and we be discharged."

Only one indictment was made by the grand jury on the final day of its session. Carrol Galbreath, Frank Scott and J. T. Gilbreath, were indicted on alleged charge of having broken into the D. Medley home on December 18, 1938, with the intent to take personal property belonging to Medley.

Scott posted $1,500 bond last night. The other two men named in the indictment are being held in county jail.

Two Democrats Win In Hyde Park Voting

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt spoke from the front porch of his home last night to a torchlight parade of 300 Democrats celebrating local party election victories.

They drove to the Roosevelt estate after learning they succeeded in re-electing Elmer Van Wagner as town supervisor. They also put Cecil Marshall in as superintendent of highways.

The President said he hoped "we are going to have more of these parties in the days to come."

In the rest of Dutchess county, Democrats found little in the election results to cheer about. In all races for county offices, Republican candidates won.

Applications for writs of error refused: Mergenthaler Linotype Co. vs. Walter E. Popp, Nueces.

Church Filled For Barnard Service

Friends filled every seat in the First Methodist church this morning when the rites were said for Charles B. Barnard, longtime Pampa resident who died suddenly Monday morning at his home here.

Services were conducted by the Rev. W. M. Pearce, pastor, and the Rev. Robert Boshen, pastor of the First Presbyterian, who paid tribute to the pioneer for his civic service, his church service and his life of usefulness.

Mr. Barnard had resided here from 1908. He was one of Pampa's first merchants.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. M. A. Graham and Mrs. B. O. Lilly, both of Pampa, and one son, Harry Barnard of Lubbock.

Burial was in Fairview cemetery under direction of Duenkel-Carmichael funeral home.

U. S. Lines Seek To Hire Britons

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The United States lines advertised today for British seamen and officers to serve on vessels sailing between the United States, France and Britain.

The United States lines' London office said the new American neutrality law might cause a temporary dislocation of service, but that it expected to be able to announce shortly a schedule of freight sailings and to make an announcement concerning passenger services now cancelled.

Only one federal law protects the American flag from desecration.

Four Pampans Will Take Civil Aviation Course At W. T. S. C.

CANYON, Nov. 8—Textbooks are being issued here for the ground training work in connection with the civil pilot training program at West Texas State College.

Twenty students, including two co-eds, are in the government-approved list, and there are five alternates, including one girl. The twenty approved are:

Escar Watts, Panhandle; Sam Burton, Canyon; Bill French, Canyon; Noble Lyle, Carey; Alan Report, Amarillo; WILLIAM PASCAL MASSEY, PAMPA; Jarold Evans, Dalhart; Miss Marcelete Reid, Dumas; Charles Thompson, Amarillo; Alton Paul, Canyon; Harold Watta, Canyon; Kenneth Taylor, Canyon; W. L. DAVIS, PAMPA.

Alternates are VERNON CASEY of PAMPA, John Turner of Amarillo, MISS DORIS GEE of PAMPA, Marvin Pety of Borger, and Cato Merchant of Canyon.

Both regular enrollees and alternates will take the ground work taught by Supt. J. W. Reid of Dumas, former army pilot, but only the regulars will be given actual flying instruction. When any regular enrollee drops the course, the top-ranking alternate will move up to replace him.

NYA Project For Pampa Studied

Possibility of bringing to Pampa an NYA project for 50 young girls who have not had opportunity to complete their education is being considered by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

The project, which would have to be sponsored by the city, county, or school district, and could be supported by any voluntary organization, would be in the form of a business school.

The sponsor would be required to provide room and board, laundry and hospitalization for the group. The NYA would pay the girls $30 a month from which $18 would be assigned to the sponsor to be used toward the sponsor's expenses.

Some effort already has been made toward locating a building for the housing in an effort to determine if the project could be operated without expense to the sponsor.

Gains of as much as 1 1/2 cents that carried December wheat to $9, within 1/4 of the war boom peak, were wiped out in the final hour of trading and small fractional losses were substituted in the case of 1940 delivery contracts.

Early strength of wheat was associated with continued drought in the southwest.

Rulers May Follow Up Peace Moves

THE HAGUE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Official circles hinted today that King Leopold of Belgium and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands might follow up their offer to serve as peace mediators with diplomatic contacts in Berlin, London and Paris.

While these circles would not speculate on the probable outcome of the dramatic peace appeal delivered last night by the two sovereigns to Europe's warring powers, an atmosphere of moderate but cautious optimism was apparent here.

It was conceded that this optimism was based on the belligerent powers' apparent reluctance to initiate major offensives rather than on any restriction produced thus far by the mediation offer.

If the offer is not rejected outright, government circles said, it might be possible to make careful contact with the belligerents and thus give them further time to express their views.

Some sources intimated the proposal was prompted by belief that Germany was about to gamble on an attack against the Maginot line.

'Wine And Women' Charges Hurdled In Louisiana Squabble
LAKE CHARLES, La., Nov. 8 (AP)—The Calcasieu parish police jury has asked District Judge John T. Hood to examine charges that parish grand jury investigators had squandered funds on "wine and women" instead of probing law violations.

The police jury submitted to the court yesterday a report by District Attorney C. V. Pattison asking dismissal of the grand jury and declaring it had done nothing while in session here the past six weeks.

The police jury refused a request of the other body for additional money to hire special investigators. Pattison charged the investigators had wasted $1,000 previously made available on "wine and women" and had produced no evidence.

Market Briefs

(By The Associated Press)
The Netherlands-Belgium peace mediation offer brought a flurry of selling into the Chicago grain pit, interrupting a moderate election day upturn in commodities.

Wheat quickly gave up earlier gains ranging to around a cent a bushel and closed unchanged to 1/2 cent a bushel lower at Chicago. Corn ended 3/4 to 5/8 cent down.

Wall Street security and commodity exchange were closed for the election holiday and so were most other domestic markets. Leading foreign markets had finished the day's business when the peace move was announced.

WINTER DISARMED
90-hour threat ended by OIL-PLATING your engine today

You can probably agree that these are certainly conservative figures . . .
— 4 or 5 months of nasty weather right ahead of you now
— 8 or 10 daily cold starts for your car
— 6 to 8 minutes per start, till your engine's near-warm
And yet even that can run up your engine's cold-weather "starting-stretch" to right around 90 hours! . . . The foulest 90 hours that Gangster Winter could fire at your engine—your battery. And don't ever hope to halt him with motor oils whose biggest brag is "fast flow." That's not enough—and it's not your money's worth, considering that "fast flow" is mighty slow Winter lubrication compared to OIL-PLATING.
OIL-PLATING in your engine will lubricate before any oil can circulate. That's because the minute you start up with patented Conoco Germ Processed oil it makes OIL-PLATING "magnetize" to all inner engine surfaces, so that it cannot drain down again. It cannot retire to the crankcase as you park the car. Like any other good plating, OIL-PLATING stays right where it's plated by Germ Process action—all over the working parts. They've "got on" their OIL-PLATING all the while you're indoors. They never "take off" their OIL-PLATING. When you come out to start then, your OIL-PLATING can't be delayed even 90 seconds—or one-ninth of a second! And away you go. The battery hardly knows it was working. And it's a good long while before the gauge-stick calls for an added quart of Germ Processed oil. Your Mileage Merchant has your right Winter grade. Change today—to that Conoco station of his. Line Play To Feature Game Here Saturday

When the Pampa Harvesters and the Amarillo Sandies meet on Harvester field here Saturday afternoon in their annual football classic, the lines will play a major part in the titanic struggle. Amarillo will have a considerable weight advantage in the forward wall, particularly on the right side of the line where Coach Howard Lynch will present three boys whose weights will average 200 pounds each. It's through that side of the line that the Sandies hope to power their way across the Pampa goal line. Giant of the right side of the line is Moss, 231-pound guard. Next to him is Cazzell, 193-pound tackle. At right end is Boyter, 183 pounds. The other side of the Amarillo line, including the center, average about the same as the Harvesters. R. G. Candler, tackle, is the giant of the Pampa line and he weighs only 210 pounds. Montgomery, at 173 pounds, ranks next with Giddens, 171, the third heavy boy. Both lines will no doubt have the same idea—charge low. The small Harvesters will have to scoot along the ground to get under their opponents while the Sandies will be low to keep the Harvesters from doing just that thing. Football fans are hereby given warning that they can see plenty of football by watching the two lines.

Amarillo Expects Reserve Seat Sell-Out

1,500 Tickets For Epic Feud Already Sold

Whereas Armistice Day marked the cessation of hostilities 21 years ago, this year it will mark the 16th renewal of the gridiron battles between the Pampa Harvesters and the Amarillo Sandies with this year's battle to be fought on Harvester field in Pampa Saturday afternoon. The starting whistle, instead of a gun, will be sounded at 2:30 o'clock. Starting in 1939 when Amarillo won in the mud, 2 to 0, the Harvesters hold only one victory over their big city rivals. That was in 1931 on Harvester field with the score 13 to 6. Since then there have been some close games, most of them in fact, but never have the Harvesters been on top. This year the Harvesters and Sandies should provide fireworks. The Harvesters are determined to again snap the Sandies' winning streak and maybe throw the district race into a three-way tie. They'll be the underdogs but they'll be fighting underdogs according to word leaking from Harvester field where they are practicing behind closed gates. The sun was sinking and it was impossible to see passes hurled by Pete Dunaway when the quitting whistle sounded yesterday afternoon. There was no bruising scrimmage but there was plenty of other stiff practice. So determined are the Harvesters to make a comeback after their slump against Lubbock two weeks ago that they even wanted to scrimmage yesterday afternoon. Advance sale of tickets indicate that the game will be a sell-out. There are still some good reserve seat tickets available at the office of the school business manager in the city hall but they're going fast. Amarillo's followers will flock to Pampa by special train and private cars. More than 1,500 adult reserved seat tickets already have been sold. There are more available at the Maxor Drug Store in the Pisk Building. These are expected to be sold out before the special train leaves at 12:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Neither has been badly beaten and their respective hexes have kept them tantalizingly close to victory. This year the Harvesters and Sandies should provide fireworks. The

Shaughnessy Playoff For Majors Urged

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 (AP)—Gerry Nugent, president of the Phils, came up today with a counter-proposal to Larry McPhail's plan to supplant the World Series with post-season games between American and National league baseball clubs according to their final standings. It was: Why not adopt the Shaughnessy playoff system with the winners of the final playoff meeting in a world series? Connie Mack gave the idea a frigid reception as he had the suggestion of McPhail, executive vice president of the Brooklyn Dodgers. "It's all right for the minors but it won't do for the majors," commented the 76-year-old leader of the Philadelphia Athletics. "I'll never agree to anything but the first place finishers playing in the World Series. I disagree with any kind of playoffs."

'The Little Rascals' Of Masonic Home Undefeated

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF FORT WORTH, Nov. 8 (AP)—Texas greatest scholastic sport attraction bears the undignified but affectionate appellation "the little rascals." If 20,000 or more persons crowd into a stadium you can give odds "the little rascals" are playing football. The story is told that once the boys didn't have a very good football. They were going to take on Cleburne, one of the state's outstanding teams. The coach told them they would get the football if they won. So they beat Cleburne's ears down 7-0 although outweighed 30 to 40 pounds to the man. What are you going to do with a gang of kids like that? Well, for one thing you can put them in Texas' largest stadium and feel sure there'll be no empty seats at the kickoff.

Decision On McLean-Irish Tie Due Later

Special To The NEWS McLEAN, Nov. 8.—Pending the end of the football season for District 3-A, a decision has been withheld over the winner of last Friday's McLean-Shamrock football game, which ended in a 7-7 tie. Should both clubs finish their seasons undefeated, a conference committee will consider the question of who won the game. It is thought that they will declare it no-contest and require it to be played again. There was no agreement concerning penetrations, in which Shamrock field the edge, 3-2; and first downs were tied 13-13. Coaches Cricket Christian and Dick Dunlap put their charges through a light scrimmage today in preparation for next Friday's game with Wheeler here. No injuries were reported and the boys are apparently in good shape, although they seemed let-down after last week's furious battle.

Briscoe Girls Beat McLean Six 21-19

McLEAN, Nov. 8.—Scoring the winning basket as the final whistle blew, the Briscoe girls' basketball team defeated the McLean High school girls 21-19 at Kellersville Monday night. The score was tied in the fourth quarter of the contest, and the last two points represented the first defeat of the local girls by an outstanding non-conference opponent. Coach Orville Cunningham is turning the girls over to Joe Guinn, who will coach them the rest of the season. Cunningham will devote his entire time to coaching the boxing team. Guinn has not completed his conference schedule as yet.

Man Wants To Dig In Bowl For Jewels LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8 (AP)-Permission to dig on the grounds of the famed Hollywood Bowl for a treasure which legend says was buried there 74 years ago is sought from the county board of supervisors by Carl E. Jacobson, manager of the Hollywood Bowl Association.

Gold and jewels, reported worth $200,000, were buried by Diego Moreno, a shepherd who, Historian Heracle Bell recounts, originally dug it up near San Francisco, where it had been buried by a Captain Henry Malcolm.

Legend has it that eight fortune hunters have succumbed to a mysterious blight which seizes anyone attempting to unearth the cache. Digging would start on the Bowl parking lot.

Aggies May Spurn Cotton Bowl Offer

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT DALLAS, Nov. 8 (AP)-Football fever, several degrees above normal because of Saturday's clash with undefeated Texas A. and M. and Southern Methodist, brought the first announcement concerning the rather jumbled Cotton bowl post-season game.

J. Curtis Sanford, promoter of three previous Cotton bowl classics, said his office would open Thursday.

"Definitely there will be a Cotton bowl game in Dallas on New Year's Day," said Sanford. "I have federal copyrights on the name, leases on the stadium and have started contacting teams."

San D. Rogers, chairman of a board representing the seven Southwest conference schools, declined to comment.

The conference split with Sanford on the eve of the 1938 game, which finally wound up with Texas Tech playing St. Mary's Gaels and no Southwest conference club represented.

Rogers, Dallas banker and member of the Texas Christian university board of regents, said his group had no definite plans "this early in November."

Sanford, meanwhile, held out the olive branch to the conference. "Purely unofficial but well-founded," reports said the Texas Aggies, if they came through a rather rough row of Southern Methodist, Rice and Texas, would be reluctant to appear at Sanford's New Year's Day party in the Cotton bowl. No specific reasons were given.

Speculation centered on what the Rogers' group is plotting. Dallas has a new high school stadium that seats around 26,000.

Perhaps a rival game will be held-maybe on the same day. One school, reported to be University of Texas, opposed agreement between the Rogers' group to committing its team to a Dallas game. The university, it was understood, was generally opposed to post-season games.

Failure to line up the entire conference left the other schools to decide if they pleased on "bowl" invitations.

Some important clearing of the air should come out of the Aggie-Southern Methodist game.

Grid Chatter

THATCHER, Ariz., Nov. 8 (AP)-Gila Junior college is making football more colorful. On the Gila gridiron the 50-yard stripe was painted purple and the 40-yard lines gold, the school's colors. Assistant Coach John C. Anderson reported the brightly hued lines helped officials and spectators to keep better track of the play.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 8 (AP)-Why Bob Zupke, head football coach at the University of Illinois, has a prescription of his own in springing upsets like the one Illinois hung on Michigan.

"When you're against one of these years, when your material is only fair and you're not going to win many games, put your eggs in one basket."

Pick a tough team and lay for it. Knock it off and get yourself a season."

Which makes a heap of sense, if you're liking Illinois alumni.

HOUSTON, Nov. 8 (AP)-High praise for a rival from Bill Wallace, Rice's freshman coach who was quite a runner in his day. Speaking of Jack Crain of Texas, Wallace said: "It's almost unbelievable what Crain can do. All he needs is for a blocker to slow down the tackler for an instant. They don't have to knock down tacklers for him to be on his way."

ERICK, Okla., Nov. 8 (AP)-Opponent of Erick high school's football team don't make much headway when they send plays through the right side of the line. The reason is Lee White, Coach Delma Steinbock, 330-pound guard.

The 18-year-old senior, playing his third year of football, is not the usual short "fatty" type associated with ponderous weight, but is six feet three inches tall and solidly built.

"Big Boy" as teammates call him, wears a size-12 shoe, size 50 grid pants and a 50 jersey.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)-It wasn't a big game to most folks, but Brooklyn college fans still are celebrating their victory over City College of New York, their scholastic "big brother."

On Monday some of them pitched the student editor who advocated abolishing football there into a pond and yesterday a few more were hauled into court to pay $35 damages for the wrecked goal posts.

And they complained "they've been taking our goal posts every year, we ought to get a crack at theirs."

Comments have been caught in crab pots, 120 feet below the surface of the water.

Gophers To Play Inflamed Michigan

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP)-Doleful Bernie Bierman and his once-mighty Minnesota Gophers have fallen in several years.

The Gophers rank ninth in the Western Conference standings at the present reading with only the underdog's chance of improving on that ranking Saturday when they play Michigan.

Bierman's defending champions, who won three conference championships and tied for another one in the past five years, are still with a Big Ten victory as the campaign moves into mid-November. The Gophers' only victory of the season came in the opener, a 62 to 0 romp over Arizona.

Since then-Bierman's face had become longer and longer. Nebraska slipped up on the Gophers and won, 6-0. Minnesota, braced and tied Purdue at 13-13, and the word got around Minnesota still would be a mighty factor in the race.

But then Ohio State rolled over the 1938 champs, 23 to 20, and Northwestern out them down, 14 to 7.

The future looks no brighter than the past with Michigan, Iowa and Wisconsin ahead. Bierman has the backfield talent, headed by Harold Van Every, but the line has resembled a sieve on several occasions.

With all this versatility at his disposal, the steady influence of the squad is Waleman (Cotton) Price, senior, signal caller and punger.

Derace Moser, a brilliant sophomore, fills the left halfback post and Jim Thompson, 200-pound junior who is the best blocking back in history in the southwest.

Marion Pugh's average as a passer is better than 300. Willie Conatser, most elusive back on the squad with touchdown runs of 95, 64 and 80 yards, spells Moser.

Texas A. & M. Best Balanced Team Coach Buck Shaw Of Santa Clara, Calif., Ever Saw

Connie Sparks Now Playing At End

FORT WORTH, Nov. 8 (AP)-Just three positions to go and Connie Sparks of Texas Christian can claim to be a one-man football team. He played quarterback in high school, right half on the TCU freshman, fullback on the 1938 varsity and now holds the right end spot. He hasn't tried the center, guard or tackle jobs but probably wouldn't mind. He isn't particular about the position, he says. "Just so I'm playing football."

Joe Boyd, senior tackle, is the standout performer out front. A fierce 200-pounder, he bellows like a maverick steer every time Norton takes him out of the game for a brief rest. Ernie Pannell, another 200-pounder, fills the other tackle slot.

A large and capable corps of ends make an ideal supplement to the Aggie's passing attack. Jim Buchanan is a talented sophomore. Bill (Big Boy) Dawson, biggest man on the squad at 6 feet 5 inches, is a junior who hauls 'em down with one hand.

Three seniors know the tricks-Herb Smith, Joe White and Bill Duncan. A head-up ball club, Homer Norton's Aggies make their own breaks.

Regains Title

HOUSTON, Nov. 8 (AP)-Tony Bruno, 160, Milwaukee, took a split decision from Billy Pryor, 159, of Boise, Idaho, to regain the Texas middleweight championship last night.

The veteran Bruno won the 10-rounder by piling up a big lead in the early and middle rounds, then by having enough to withstand Pryor's customary stretch rush.

JOAN OF ARKANSAS BY JERRY BRONDFIELD

YESTERDAY: Rocco reports...

CHAPTER XXV

DAN'S heart leaped. It was a wild hope at best...

But Big Ed, his eyes closing narrowly, started in to spike their chances.

"Rocco, sometimes you ain't as smart as you'd have folks believe.

Big Ed's lip curled. "We ain't fiddling around with your lousy one grand when we've got 50 at stake.

"But, Ed... what can we lose? He can't..."

But Rocco took another look at Big Ed. What he saw made him shut up.

"Think you guys got a chance without you?"

Dan looked him squarely in the face. "Sure, they have a chance, but that's about all.

"Rhodes! Aaagh! And who's gonna do that? As far as I'm concerned, you guy can't run from here to there without you or Gal-lagher cleaning 'em out."

Dan threw back his head and laughed heartily. "Forgive my mirth," he replied, a grin decorating his face.

"Sure... you're enjoying it and I'm saying goodbye to a thousand smackerels."

Rocco turned to Ed. "I'm gonna see if Alex can cover my dough when I call again tomorrow."

Ed grunted. "Hedge your head off if you wanna, but you ain't springing this kid."

He and Sam resumed their casino game after supper, playing steadily.

"Might as well be friendly," she whispered. "That'll keep 'em relaxed. Never can tell when we might get our chance.

They locked Joan in her room that night and ordered Dan upstairs into the garret.

AFTER breakfast next morning Big Ed gave Rocco careful instructions.

"You kids stay in your rooms until Sam gets back," Ed growled.

"What's all this...? Millionaire heiress... daughter of J. G. Johnson... powerful eastern utilities magnate...?"

"He shook his head, bewildered. "Is this...? He tapped the paper. "Is this... true? You mean you're an heiress to all this?"

"What difference does it make?" she asked softly.

"It... it doesn't really make any difference now," he replied slowly.

"But she knew what he meant and there was a funny feeling in her throat. Everything came to her with a rush and she knew in an instant of panic that, somehow, she would have to make him change his mind.

"What does it mean?" he echoed.

"They're still runnin' around like a bunch of headless chickens," Rocco reported.

"Sam and Rocco returned just before 6. "What's up?" Big Ed inquired.

"I'm gonna see if Alex can cover my dough when I call again tomorrow."

"What did Alex have to say?" "Alex thinks the old man will come through... figures he'll hold out to the last minute and phone New York for his guys to leave the dough.

"We ain't missed yet." He turned to Joan. "Maybe you want to play cook again, sister?"

Joan managed to smile. "Sure," she offered brightly. "Got any arsenic handy. I like a lot of seasoning."

SHE busied herself for the next half hour, helping Sam once again with the meal.

He watched her in apparent disgust for a couple of minutes as she sliced off thick shells.

When they were through eating they asked if they could see the paper.

Big Ed tossed it over. The story was splashed all over the front page and they read it together.

"What's all this...? Millionaire heiress... daughter of J. G. Johnson... powerful eastern utilities magnate...?"

"Is this...? He tapped the paper. "Is this... true? You mean you're an heiress to all this?"

"What difference does it make?" she asked softly.

"It... it doesn't really make any difference now," he replied slowly.

"But she knew what he meant and there was a funny feeling in her throat. Everything came to her with a rush and she knew in an instant of panic that, somehow, she would have to make him change his mind.

"They're still runnin' around like a bunch of headless chickens," Rocco reported.

"Sam and Rocco returned just before 6. "What's up?" Big Ed inquired.

High Officials Fail To Attend Russian Anniversary Party

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Cavalry, vodka and sturgeon failed to lure top-ranking government officials to the Soviet embassy celebration of the "twenty-second anniversary of the great October socialist revolution" in Russia.

There were no cabinet members. These were no Supreme Court Justices. There were no high-ranking State Department officials.

Only two congressmen—Representatives Boehne (D-Ind.) and Buck (D-Calif.)—were recognized among the guests.

President Roosevelt was not in town but he never goes to such affairs. However, he did not send President Kalinin his customary congratulatory message, and no official comment was forthcoming.

Several congressmen who did not attend the embassy party made it clear that they did not merely forget. They were not quite sure, they said, that they wanted to eat pastry swirls or sausages on toothpicks under a picture of Soviet Premier Molotov, who criticized President Roosevelt and the administration neutrality legislation last week.

Ministers from Scandinavian and Baltic countries and the Czechoslovakian "minister without a country" were among the first to greet Dmitri Chuvakhin, Soviet Charge d'Affaires.

Among government officials present were Edwin S. Smith of the National Labor Relations Board and Leon Henderson, Securities Commissioner.

Reports Made On Living Room Projects Of Five Gray Clubs

Work of the 13 living room demonstrators of the eight Gray county home demonstration clubs has been receiving the special attention of club members during the past week. The following five reports deal with the project as effected in the Bluebonnet, Laketon, Bell, and Kingsmill clubs.

Bluebonnet
"The addition of new panels and drapes, has given me more pleasure than anything else I have done in improving my living room," asserted Mrs. A. J. Dunn, member of Bluebonnet Home Demonstration club at a recent achievement. "These drapes of rust and green striped monks cloth harmonize with other improvements made by Mrs. Dunn such as varnishing and waxing a linoleum rug, floors, woodwork, and refinishing smoking chairs and straight chair. Slip covers for rocker, straight chair and radio bench were added, along with a new studio couch, magazine rack and lamp shade. Creams, rich browns, green and mahogany were colors used."

Laketon
"I needed to enlarge my dining room and living room to meet the needs of my family," says Mrs. S. Cox, of Laketon Home Demonstration club to club members and visitors, at her home recently. "So I took out the partition dividing the two rooms and made one large room."

"I added a writing center, two reading centers and a study center, to make the room more convenient and comfortable, after I had papered the walls in a light wallpaper," continues Mrs. Cox.

In enumerating her other accomplishments Mrs. Cox lists the upholstering of a chair and foot stool in green material. Cream marquette tie back curtains were added to replace panel and side drape curtains which shut out much of the light in the small room. An end table, magazine rack, wool rug, six pot plants were added. An improvised studio couch was made from a sanitary cot covered with heavy monks cloth and adding three large pillows at the back.

A more comfortable and spacious living room has given Mrs. Cox reward for her efforts.

"I'm glad I live in a day when we have comfortable, cheerful living rooms instead of formal, dark, stiff-backed parlors as were used not so many years ago," said Mrs. C. McKnight in telling Bell club members and visitors of the improvement made in her living room.

"When we remodeled our home we moved the wall of the living room to the outer edge of a seven foot porch, which gave us a large living room and a smaller sun porch on one end. This arrangement gives us a three way window exposure, plenty of fresh air and sunlight and cross ventilation," continues Mr. McKnight. "We installed light cream wall paper to harmonize with the off-white woodwork and colors of burgandy, gold, and walnut furnishings."

Venetian blinds of off-white, curtains and drapes of rust and tan were added to the windows. A beige broad loom rug was added to light hardwood floors, which had been varnished and waxed.

Attractive accessories were placed about the room, to add to the beauty and pleasure of the room.

Kingsmill
"After taking a hall into my living room to enlarge it, I have had great pleasure in refinishing my furniture to fit a larger room," said Mrs. N. B. Cude at the achievement of Kingsmill Home Demonstration club, recently.

"An old fashioned divan was badly in need of a new cover, so I upholstered it and two odd rockers with a heavy rust colored material. A large comfortable chair, placed near a floor lamp and a magazine rack, I upholstered in green of the same material as the rust. A radio and end table furnish centers of entertainment and pleasure. The power for lights and radio being furnished by a wind charger."

"My living room has certainly been a joy to my family since I have improved it," states Mrs. Elmer Ashmead of Bluebonnet club at the living room achievement in her home.

"Some of these improvements include repapering of the walls for more light, painting woodwork a harmonizing color, adding new curtains and waxing the floor and linoleum rug."

"One of the most outstanding accomplishments of Mrs. Ashmead's demonstration was the upholstering of an old divan and two chairs which were about ready for the junk pile. But with the help of club members and agent's advice, she converted this into a very attractive and comfortable place to sit or sleep."

"A little time and money, lots of hard work and patience made these pieces of furniture almost as good as new," says Mrs. Ashmead.

ture were added about the living room to provide reading, music, and resting centers. Predominating colors used in Mrs. Ashmead's living room were buff, blue, walnut, and cream.

THE SCOUT OATH AND LAW

The Scout law is the foundation upon which the whole Scout movement rests. By committing himself to the Scout oath, the boy promises to live up to this law with its ideals of self-development and service to others. It is the fulfillment of this promise that makes a boy a true Scout.

In the Scout law is expressed the goal toward which he will be striving in an effort to become a man of strong character, courteous and helpful to those who need this aid, a man who can be trusted. The genius of scouting is most evident in the law of the movement. It was based upon the codes of old, transformed into a positive, living ideal for the modern boy, devised as a guide to his actions, rather than as repressive of his faults. That is what makes the Scout law outstanding.

Most other laws start out with a "Do" or a "Don't," with a "you must" or "you mustn't"—they are either commanding or prohibiting, prescribing punishments for their breach.

Not so the Scout law. It is a statement of facts, of what is expected of a Scout. "A Scout is trustworthy, loyal, helpful, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, brave, clean, and self-reliant." By keeping this inspiring guide before each individual boy from the minute he is received into scouting at an appropriate investiture ceremony, and by placing him in life situations in which he may exercise his loyalty to the Scout ideals, the wise scoutmaster, the scoutmaster of imagination and vision, is able to instill into each individual boy a desire to help others, and a yearning to do his utmost to keep himself "physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight."

The entire Scout law and the Scout oath loom large in affecting the boy's whole attitude toward life and influencing his daily conduct. It is by aiding him to keep that oath and to live that law that we shall most surely reach our goal of fashioning his character and preparing him for participating citizenship.

Cardenas Abolishes Three Departments

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 8 (AP)—Mexico's next president—there are three candidates in the field so far—will find the Mexican treasury well-balanced and possibly with a reserve fund to initiate his administration. At least this is President Cardenas' intention. To effect savings on the 1940 budget President Cardenas ordered abolition of three departments beginning Jan. 1, 1940. They are: Press and publicity (DAPP), physical education and forestry. Elections will be held next July with the president elect taking office December 1, 1940.

Texas Today

By C. S. BOYLES, JR.
Down in the East Texas piney woods, where generations have listened to the whine of sawmills and become accustomed to the language of the lumber world, there is a new vocabulary in the making.

For 600 years the Chinese kept paper a secret after the emperor, Hott, developed a material to write upon by beating bamboo and old bags into a fiber. For hundreds of years, too, the industry has been a mystery for most folks in the southern states. The Pacific northwest, Canada and foreign countries produced the world's supply of newsprint paper from northern type trees and the role of the southern pine was chiefly that of lumber making.

When the late scientist, Dr. Charles Holmes Herty, perfected the pine newsprint process in his Savannah laboratory the opportunity was made for the south to take up a brand new industry. Texas and southern leaders drew the many dangling threads together after years of work against many obstacles, and today the $6,000,000 Southland Paper Mills plant is rapidly nearing completion on a one-time farm in the midst of a pine forest just outside of Lufkin.

The natives, both urban and rural, are beginning to hear the strange language of a new world. The piney woods people have lived long in the atmosphere of sawmill talk and timber terms. Now, a man's next-door neighbor may be a pulp chemist from New York, a foundry operator from British Columbia, or a grinder man from Wisconsin.

Just one machine for the Lufkin plant filled 70 freight cars—a full-length train—and every piece of that equipment has a name and each step in the operations of paper-making contributes to the jargon, as do also the trade-titles of the 300-1,000 workers who will be engaged in newsprint manufacture.

The cotton and lumber populace, therefore, is beginning to hear on the streets, over bridge tables, and at luncheon clubs, the tossing about of such terms as sulphite process, digesters and cookers, half stock, stuff, cooking liquor and pulp beaters.

New words, new blood, and new houses have been the theme song of 1939 for Lufkin, the year of the beginning of a new industrial era in East Texas. Skilled paper-making men who will be engaged in turning out 50,000 tons of newsprint a year in the Southland plant have come from paper states from one side of the nation to the other.

Lufkin has been concerned chiefly with building enough homes for the newcomers to live in—construction permits in the first three months of the year exceeded the combined total of the preceding two years—and secondly in picking up the lingo of a business so fresh the shine hasn't even begun to wear. Newsprint and pulp have sifted, in some form or other, into the lives of all Angelina county's 40,000 inhabitants. The new paper people are taking their places in civic clubs, social affairs, churches, schools and civic activities. And more are yet to come.

The pine-trees now growing on millions of East Texas acres will be tomorrow's front pages of scores of southern newspapers. How they get that way has become the area's fascinating subject of talk and attention. The sheer size of the monumental machinery going inside the great main building at the plant brings awe to onlookers; the scope of the venture dwarfs the imagination of a section reared for generations to sawmills, sorghum fields and cotton-picking. Lufkin has two large iron foundries, employing nearly 1,000 workers, but the foundry industry is a landmark there and the town grew up with it.

Making newsprint in the south is new. It has never been done before, outside Dr. Herty's laboratory-mill. Ernest L. Kurth, the president of Southland, achieved the first practical application of Herty's development to commercial manufacture when he succeeded in organizing Southland. Early in the new year an endless big white sheet will be rolling off the 70 carloads of machinery which will turn a milky liquid into material for newspapers for 1940. The eternal green of the piney woods will take on a new luster with the spring, every twig and branch potent with importance over the little part of the story they will tell of a changing world, not the least of which changes in the southward trek of a great industry.

Grower Price Of Cotton May Advance To Highest Point

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Administration farm officials believed it possible today that the grower price of cotton may advance to the highest point since 1936 before the current marketing season is over, if present domestic consumption and export prospects materialize.

Cotton now averages about 9 cents a pound for middling 7-8 growth in the nation's ten spot markets. Some marketing experts expect it to go above 10 cents by spring. Officials expect a government loan program announced yesterday to play an important role in the anticipated price rise.

That program will enable growers to withhold a portion of this year's crop from the market and "cash in" on the better prices if they develop.

Officials said that present prospects materialize, upwards of 13,500,000 bales of American cotton will be needed to supply domestic and export requirements. However, this year's crop of 11,500,000 bales is considerably short of such demands, even though all of it was sold and none placed under loan. Officials said that upwards of 3,000,000 bales might be placed under the new loan program. Thus, a shortage of so-called "free" cotton—cotton not stored under loan and free for movement into consumption and export channels—would develop possibly next spring.

Buyers needing cotton would be forced then, officials said, to acquire cotton stored under loan. They would have to pay the borrowing farmer sufficient to induce him to withdraw the crop from "lock."

Soil Project Pushed

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 8 (AP)—Plans are being pushed for a state-wide soil conservation and soil erosion project through the WPA and federal soil conservation service.

Francis C. Harrington, commissioner of the WPA at Washington, conferring here yesterday with State Administrator Harry P. Drought, said he hoped for the project to get underway soon in Texas.
