ROBBER IS SHOT DOWN

STATION RAID AT STILLWELL ANTICIPATED

Robert Holliday, Participant in Mail Train Robbery, Shot to Death by Two American Express Agents.

COMPANION HIT

Fictitious Order for Auto Tires Leads to Investigation and Ambush; One Man Late of Texas Prison.

STILLWELL, Kans., June 12. (AP)—A man identified by officers as Robert Holliday, a participant in the Roundout, Ill., mail train robbery June 12, 1933, was shot and killed here by two American Express company agents today when he and a companion attempted to steal four tires from a railway station.

Hidden in the freight depot, with the station dark and the regular agent off duty, the two express company officers waited for a possible robbery attempt. They said Harmon broke into the freight depot first about 2 a. m., and was shot when he pulled a gun instead of complying with a command to surrender. Holliday, on guard outside, rushed to the door with drawn gun when Harmon was shot, and was shot down.

Questioning of Harmon later revealed Holliday and Harmon, needing tires, had ordered them Monday from a Kansas City firm, giving the name Myers and the Stillwell address.

Harmon is said to have served time in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth and in the Texas state prison.

Harmon, in a statement, said the Leavenworth term was for a mail robbery at Council Bluffs, Iowa, and the Texas sentence was for holding up a poker game. He said he was released only recently from the Texas prison and hitch-hiked to Kansas City. Harmon said he met Holliday when both were prisoners at Leavenworth.

Appointment of Harris King as new high deputy to succeed Warren Belcher was announced this morning by Sheriff Lon L. Blanscet. Mr. Belcher's resignation became effective immediately and he left for Austin today. He had been high deputy since Sheriff Blanscet assumed office, Jan. 1.

Mr. King also was appointed deputy Jan. 1. In last year's elections he was elected constable at McLean but resigned that office to become deputy. He was reared in the McLean community. "Since he became an officer of the sheriff's department he has proved himself to be an able and conscientious deputy," Mr. Blanscet said.

PARKER SAYS BRIEF AID IS PROBABILITY

At Rate of 300 Barrels an Acre Production Would Start Low But Eventually Would Mean Big Figure.

STERLING WAITS

Major Companies Promise Raise in Price When Production Is Brought in Harmony With Demands.

AUSTIN, June 12. (AP)—R. D. Parker, supervisor of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission, said today that an east Texas oil stabilization plan formulated at Tyler yesterday "might serve a good purpose temporarily." "The railroad commission will be glad to get the 50 violators of production out of our backs," Parker said. It had been reported practically all of the proration violators had agreed to abide by the suggested plan. Parker said the production figure under the suggested policy of 300 barrels to every 20 acres would not be much greater at the start than the present allowable of 180,000 barrels daily. He estimated it would be about 180,000 barrels. Actual production in east Texas has been 150,000 or 200,000 barrels over the allowable figure.

Officers Assert Report on Raid Is Exaggerated

A report in the Amarillo News this morning of a beer raid made by federal prohibition officers in Pampa yesterday was greatly exaggerated, both county and city officers, declared this morning.

The Amarillo paper quoted the federal agents as claiming that they confiscated the largest brewery ever destroyed in the Panhandle. Local officers said that the place raided was not a brewery, and that the agents seized 600 bottles of beer instead of 2,500 bottles.

DALLAS, June 12. (AP)—Tom E. Cranfill, Dallas independent oil operator, issued a statement today in which he asserted he had been misquoted in press dispatches from Tyler yesterday as saying that W. S. Farish of the Humble Oil Company told him the Humble company would post a price of 67 cents a barrel on crude oil if a proration plan agreed upon at the meeting yesterday were put into effect.

DEBENTURE PLAN LOOMS AGAIN AS CANADA DECIDES TO ABSORB PART OF FREIGHTS

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—Belief that farmers may ask congress for the export debenture or some other weapon in foreign markets, should the proposed Canadian cut in freight rates on wheat be reflected in export quotations, has arisen in political and agricultural circles. Senator Borah of Idaho looks upon the plan of the Bennett government to absorb five cents a bushel of transportation charges to the seaboard as an export subsidy comparable in some respects to the debenture.

WHIRLWIND GIVEN BLAME FOR ACCIDENT

Forced Landing Between Cars at Abilene Skillfully Done by Woman Flier; New Ship to Be Furnished

NO ONE INJURED

Mrs. Putnam Will Go at Once to Oklahoma City to Wait for New Vehicle; Says Giro Behaved Well.

ABILENE, June 12. (AP)—Miss Amelia Earhart Putnam's autogiro was damaged here today when the famous woman flier, making a coast to coast exhibition flight, cleared a forced landing moment after she took off from the Abilene airport to continue her flight eastward. The giro dropped thirty feet into an enclosed parkway west of the hangar, amid parked automobiles, and its wings struck two cars without damaging them seriously. The flier herself and her mechanic, Eddie DeVaught, were not hurt.

About 1,500 persons saw the mishap. Mrs. Putnam had taken off at a slow start and was heading south, flying only a few yards above the heads of spectators. The undercarriage struck a field landing lamp near the enclosure. When it became evident the autogiro could not clear the automobiles, Mrs. Putnam expertly pulled it down into a small cleared space. She had control of the plane at all times. "I underestimated my distance," she said as she climbed out. "Possibly a whirlwind caught the tail of the autogiro."

Propeller Damaged Mrs. Putnam attributed the accident to a small whirlwind which passed under the plane and reduced the air pressure. She reported that the motor and the propeller of the ship were damaged, but she herself was unhurt.

Mrs. Putnam announced she planned to leave as soon as possible for Oklahoma City, where another giro will be sent from Philadelphia for her use in continuation of the coast to coast trip, and in filling an engagement there.

The damaged craft will be shipped to the factory for repairs. The aviatric was given credit for remarkable handling of the ship, pulling it down steeply in the one small area clear of spectators and parked automobiles, when she saw she had not gained sufficient altitude to clear a second line of parked cars. She stalled the motor and dropped the ship into a small enclosed area.

Wings of the giro grazed three cars, denting the tops and breaking the windshield of one. The autos were not occupied. "Possibly I did not take a long enough run," Mrs. Putnam said, "but the distance was ample for the giro under ordinary conditions. With any other type plane the accident would have been more serious, I am sure. No other type ship could have been pulled down so sharply into so small a space."

SERIOUS DISORDERS OCCUR IN MINE STRIKE ACTIVITY

American Legion Is Assisting in Quelling Onslaughts Staged Against Officers.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., June 12. (AP)—More than 40 deputies were held in readiness today for a second attack threatened by leaders of a crowd of 2,000 striking coal miners and women sympathizers who were beaten away from the Belmont county jail last night. Seven persons were arrested and 12 overcome by tear gas.

It was the first serious outbreak of the week-old strike in eastern Ohio which has affected approximately 1,000 workers. Prosecutor Paul Waddell and R. A. Ireland, manager of the M. A. Hanna Coal company of Cleveland, said they would ask Gov. George White for state aid unless the situation is brought under control.

Mrs. Jones was placed in county jail yesterday after a tumultuous scene in justice court. Sheriff Lon L. Blanscet signed the complaint charging she was insane. He also declared she was a public nuisance. The hearing will be held before a jury in county court. A large number of witnesses, both for the county and for Mrs. Jones have been summoned. Mrs. Jones will take the stand in her own defense.

High winds, with rain and hail, caused some damage at Paris, Cooper, Depue, and Greenville. At Cooper an oil derrick was blown down and several houses were unroofed. There was much damage to ripe grain crops.

Sam Penberg and August A. Gordon made a business trip to Wellington today. Mrs. Ralph Debernheim and daughter are to leave Depue for a visit to Kansas City, Mo.

UNCLE SAM IS HARD CREDITOR

Is Uncle Sam a Shylock or a wise citizen of the world?

He refused to exact anything from Germany in the reparations settlement, but he nevertheless is directly concerned in payments to him, predicted on Germany's payments to his debtors. It is therefore to America that Europe is looking for modification of creditor demands.

Germany is seething with revolt against taxes which approximate, in some instances, more than 50 per cent of the payer's income. The reparations tangle cannot be unraveled, it is believed, without Uncle Shylock becomes "reasonable." There also is a continual cry for cancellation of war debts. Four American presidents have insisted that there is no relation between the reparations payments and the allied war debts—a relation which inevitably exists. Uncle Sam's creditors are said to be willing to reduce Germany's burden providing Germany can influence the United States to be an easier creditor.

This situation is aptly summed up by our Washington observer:

"It remains to be seen whether the new phase of the reparations tangle, crystallizing in the German government's struggle with increased taxation in the face of rumbles of political revolt under an added burden of debt revision for an international pact, backed by the Kellogg-Briand universal treaty against war as an agency of national policy, actually cutting down the armies and military taxes of the world."

Uncle Sam should certainly not reduce his debtors' payments in order that those nations may increase their armaments. Payments of debts is a rather sure way to discourage thoughts of more wars. But it is a fact that easing of the debt schedule would make it possible for our creditors to buy more cotton, more wheat, and more manufactured products.

There is little doubt of the average American's attitude toward debt cancellation. Clarence Ousley, who proposed cancellation yesterday at the San Angelo press convention, had this exchange of words:

"Make them pay," came a voice from the audience. -- "You can't get blood from a turnip. How are you going to make them pay—by sending battleships over to England, France, and Germany?" Mr. Ousley retorted.

Some FEMININE Fancies

By HOLLYCE SELLERS HINKLE

If you want to get rid of a husband, try this recipe: Don't let him smoke in the house, play the radio, or pay any attention to the family dog.

Limit his use of the family car to one day a week and to transportation to and from the railroad station.

Have him turn over his monthly pay check to you and in return you may promise to cease injuring him, such as attacking him with a pistol, striking him on the head with a golf club, and biting his finger.

The above were some of the reasons listed by Ernest H. Sharp in his bill filed in the circuit court of Chicago asking for a divorce, according to an A. P. report.

One can hardly open a magazine without noting some new tribute paid to the modern business woman.

"The poor little working girl of the past century has grown to a sophisticated maturity," declares the Independent Woman, national magazine for business and professional women.

Questionnaires returned to the magazine by 6,924 business women reveal expenditures each year among the group for cosmetics to be more than two million dollars. Even more is spent for powders and slightly less for perfumes. For other beauty accessories, the group spends $265,027.20 yearly.

For groceries, the women spend yearly $15,934,760.40.

The standard of living for the women also was shown to be unusually high. Most of them have musical instruments in their homes, and electrical appliances also are quite popular.

Most of them entertain with luncheons, teas, or dinners occasionally.

Among the women who returned questionnaires, more than twenty-five thousand are housekeepers, more than thirty-nine thousand are single, more than fifteen thousand are married, and more than eight thousand have children.

The thieves, involved books—rare and costly first editions.

Book thieves, however, is as old as books themselves—the perpetrators ranging from friendly borrowers who forget to return valued bibelots to those who go into the business in a large and thoroughly organized way.

The New York youth arrested in Revere, Mass., this week with many rare and valuable books in his possession, and which he admitted purchasing from public libraries in New England, was one of the latter. That book stealing is rather widespread was evidenced by the fact that public library officials and police of more than a score of communities advised Boston police they were sending representatives to view the stolen books in the hope of finding some of their own missing valuables.

One aid to the book thief is a suitcase with a false side into which books may be scooped and hidden when proprietary eyes are elsewhere.

One midtown bookshop recently was nearly denuded of valuable stock through the activities of thieves.

A 1929 Ford coach, owned by G. W. Seabright, was reported stolen last night. License number was E1-18522.

This means that in America we have rapid building, ever-changing and ever-improving methods of construction and materials. And in direct proportion to the rate of building we have changes in architectural style. Unhindered by precedent, unencumbered by the necessity of adhering to a fixed environment, architects had given the widest range to the expression of their individual problems.

While it is true that under the pressure of meeting the demands for "enclosed space," greater volume and value during the last hundred years in America than was

Canyon Museum Appropriation Is Only Building to Escape Veto of Governor—Truck Bill Is Signed

AUSTIN, June 12. (AP) — After slashing $2,347,000 from the three major appropriations bills and vetoing the miscellaneous claims bill, Gov. R. S. Sterling yesterday approved appropriations totaling $36,454,312.25.

The governor signed the second of the truck regulation bills, placing drastic restrictions on the width, height, length and load limit of all trucks operated for hire. The maximum load limit was set at 7,000 pounds.

The miscellaneous claims bill totaled $380,000 and represented various charges against the state.

Bad financial condition of the state was given as the reason for cutting and vetoing the appropriation bills by Governor Sterling.

The education bill was hardest hit, $2,144,120 being eliminated. Appropriations for all buildings except one and appropriations for summer schools the second year of the biennium were vetoed. The only building left in was the library at the West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon. The state will spend $25,000 for the building when a like amount is raised by public subscription.

The remainder of the cut in the education bill was made by eliminating several assistant professorships and instructor positions by cutting out nearly all appropriations for improvement to physical plant.

A total of $171,650 was stricken from the eleemosynary bill and $32,150 from the departmental bill.

Opponents of the truck regulation bill have indicated they would test its constitutionality in the courts. The main complaint was against the 7,000-pound load limit, it being claimed this would render obsolete and confiscate a large number of the trucks now operated. The bill limited the width of trucks to 96 inches; height to 12 and one-half feet; length of single units to 35 feet and of a combination truck and trailer to 45 feet.

The first of the bills placed all trucks operated for hire under jurisdiction of the railroad commission and required them to charge not less than common carrier rates.

In approving the truck bill, Governor Sterling said it did not meet with his entire approval and that he anticipated portions of it would be declared unconstitutional. He said it was not his province to pass on the bill's constitutionality and that his action was taken in view of the overwhelming majority given the bill in both houses.

COTTON BETTER

NEW ORLEANS, June 12. (AP) — Although Liverpool came in much better than due, the cotton market here made an unimpressive response, first trades showing gains of only 3 to 4 points. Prices eased off right after the start, owing to continued good weather in the belt and selling by ring traders, July dropping to 8.55, October to 8.80 and December to 9.12, or 8 to 9 points down from the opening and three to five points under yesterday's close. A rather easier opening in stocks increased the bearish feeling.

At the end of the first hour the market was rather unsettled and at the lows.

GRAINS STRONGER

CHICAGO, June 12. (AP) — Influenced by reports of clearing weather in Canada, suggesting renewal of drought anxiety, grains tended upward early today. There also were advices of an apparently inevitable big reduction of wheat acreage in Australia. Opening unchanged, wheat afterward showed an all-around advance. Corn started unchanged to 1-8 cent higher and continued to point upward.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bartgis and Mr. and Mrs. Art Pavey left this afternoon on a fishing trip to Lella Lake. They expect to return tomorrow.

Mrs. H. B. Lively will return today from Shamrock, where she has been visiting her mother.

DISORDERS
The attack on the jail followed the arrest of 11 men a few hours earlier when Sheriff Howard Duff and his deputies broke up a march on the new Lafferty mine of the Hanna company. The crowd demanded the release of the prisoners but the sheriff, 40 of his men and members of the American Legion surrounded the jail, arming themselves with tear gas bombs and machine guns.

Seven women and five men were overcome by gas when a deputy tossed one of the bombs to rescue the sheriff, who was struck by demonstrators. Leo Thompson, Pittsburgh, reputed leader of the crowd, and six others were arrested. The crowd, growing to 4,000, milled about the jail for some time, but scattered with their leaders announced that they would return today.

The disorders followed the dynamiting of the home of one miner and an attack on workers near the Fairpoint mine of the Hanna company in Belmont county.

Miss Faithfull's Stepfather Will Be Questioned About Her Death

LONDON, June 12. (AP)—Rudolph Haybrook, artist, was quoted by the Daily Mail today as saying he believed Starr Faithfull had been slain in New York because she was to have been the principal witness in a $25,000 settlement case which would have caused a sensation when it came to court.

Identifying Haybrook as Miss Faithfull's closest friend in London and as the fiancée of her sister, Elizabeth, the paper further quoted him to the effect that there were influential people in New York who were concerned in the case and to whom her death would have been a matter of importance.

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—Investigation of the drowning of Miss Starr Faithfull, whose diary tells of experiencing every thrill, reached the grand jury stage today.

Among witnesses to whom Edwards desired to give first attention was Stanley E. Faithfull, the girl's stepfather, whose name she took, Edwards said he believed Faithfull had not told all he knew.

Senators Climb Again After Cleveland Is Beaten by 12 to 5 Score.

BY HUGH S. FULLETON. Associated Press Sports Writer. As long as the Washington Senators continue to play the kind of baseball they have been displaying for the past month or so, Philadelphia's Athletics are not going to make a runaway of the American league pennant race.

The margin St. Louis holds over their National league rivals, Chicago and New York, also was clipped by the Reds yesterday.

HIGH SCHOOL GENERATION OF ATHLETES ASSEMBLES

Ft. Collins Is Favorite When Defending Champ Ruled Out of Meet.

CHICAGO, June 12. (AP)—Another high school generation of track and field stars, champions from the cities and hamlets of 24 states, invaded Stag field today for the qualifying trials of the twenty-seventh annual University of Chicago interscholastic championships.

With Froebel high of Gary, Ind., the 1930 champion, out of the meet because of a state association rule against that of the state competition, Fort Collins, Colo., high, winner of three championships and among the first three teams on three other occasions, was the favorite to win the national title, with Scott high of Toledo, O., and Oak Park of Chicago, Illinois state titleholder, as the likely contention.

The question of a team championship was important only to schools able to send full squads, and there was even more interest attached to the one, two and three-man teams sent to strive for individual honors.

As usual, record smashing was expected on both track and field. The 100-yard dash mark of .09.8 set in 1913 and tied during the last five years by George Simpson and Eddie Tolan, of Western conference fame, was a possibility to fall, with Edwin Toribio of Jesuit high, New Orleans, and Crahn Portman of Urbana, Ill., high, the favorites. Each has been credited with .09.7 this season.

Portman has a mark of .21.2 for the 220-yard dash, while Ed Wicher of Woodrow Wilson high, Dallas, Tex., has done .31.6.

Asmen Oliver, negro star from Roosevelt high, Dayton, O., was one of the standout hurdlers in what promised to be an exceptional field. Oliver has done .16 in the highs, as has Bill Wallace of Eagle River, Tex., and there were 10 entrants.

FORT WORTH, June 12. (AP)—Quarter-finals in the annual River Crest invitation golf tournament today found one favorite surviving along with seven who started from the barrier as dark horses.

Mansel Morrison of Amarillo was matched with M. Norton of Wichita Falls; L. G. McCray of Denton with Jack Jackson of Dallas; and Gibson Payne of Lubbock with Spec Goldman of Dallas.

The semi-finals were scheduled for the afternoon.

Miss Nichols to Be Well Dressed On Ocean Crossing

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—On a solo flight to Europe, scheduled to start within a few days if weather is good, Duth Nichols, holder of three woman's air records, will traverse the frigid regions of the upper air, but the chances are that the only part of her to suffer from cold will be her tongue.

The cabin of her plane is heated by the engine, making the enclosed space so warm that she only expects to wear a cotton mechanics jumper over her sports dress, although she will take a heavy flying suit in case of need. On her head she will simply have a bandana instead of the fur-lined helmet necessary for altitude flying in less protected ships.

But there will be no way to offset the freezing effect of cold oxygen on her tongue, which became stiff with cold from this source during the flight in which she established a new altitude record for women.

On the Atlantic flight Miss Nichols will carry two flasks of oxygen, which for convenience are placed in the unheated wings above her head, with rubber tubes hanging on either side of her head. She expects to fly high, in case of storms in the lower strata of the atmosphere, going up to 30,000 feet or even more. At such heights she will need oxygen.

At the first sensation of difficult breathing Miss Nichols will place one of the tubes in her mouth and draw oxygen into her lungs with each breath of the rarified upper air. This oxygen will be freezing cold and she is expecting that for parts of her voyage her tongue will be so numbed that she would have difficulty talking even if there were anyone there to talk to.

Helene Madison, Seattle, world's champion woman swimmer, is much stronger this year than she was last in the opinion of her coach, Ray Daughters. She weighs 156 pounds, having gained five since last summer.

Circumpedaling Is Brought to Halt

EL PASO, June 12. (AP)—Two boys who set out to tour the world on a bicycle were safe at their homes here today after the eighth cavalry and two fliers from the municipal airport had done considerable touring in search of them.

K. D. Franklin, son of Corporal G. D. Franklin, troop E, eighth cavalry, and Jack White, son of V. C. White, fared into the desert with the bicycle Wednesday. They lost their way and became separated. When they failed to come home for supper, parents and friends began the search that finally enlisted the entire cavalry regiment.

Jack was found by his father about 12 miles from El Paso, wandering through the sagebrush with his clothes torn to shreds. Cavalrymen later found K. D. lying on the sand, too exhausted to walk. Jack said the plan had been to circumpedaling or circumpedaling the globe, taking turns on the business end of the bicycle.

Mercury Poison May Be Stopped In New Operation

PHILADELPHIA, June 12. (AP)—Discovery of an operation somewhat resembling appendicitis that cures some hitherto fatal cases of Bichloride of mercury poisoning was described to the American Medical association today.

The operation is called cecostomy, and enables physicians to wash the poison out of one of the vital parts of the body. It was reported by Samuel Berger, M. D., and his associate, H. S. Applebaum, M. D., and A. M. Young, M. D., of the department of medicine and pathology of Mt. Sinai hospital, Cleveland.

They studied 163 cases of bichloride of mercury poisoning seeking to learn exactly how the internal organs are harmed or destroyed. They found that in a large majority of those who lived beyond the first 24 hours after swallowing the bichloride, death was due to the gangrenous condition of the lower intestines.

They therefore devised an operation to head off the poison before it reached this position. By making an incision in the same place as that for appendicitis they reached the cecum, a sort of pouch close to the appendix.

The cecum is the site of a valve, so that it is a gate between the small and the large intestines. The poison, after leaving the stomach, has to pass down through this gate before the fatal gangrene can be produced.

This passage they prevented by keeping water flushing the pouch continuously, washing out the poison as fast as it approached the gate. They reported that several patients who were expected to die, had been saved.

Dr. Berger emphasized that the operation was successful only when performed within a few hours after the poison had been swallowed. Those upon whom it was performed after two days or more died.

A crowd of 10,000 paid admission to the first night baseball game played in Atlanta.

Tulane and North Carolina were the only Southern conference schools to take more than one championship this year.

The University of Kansas 1931 tennis team went through the season without a defeat in winning the Big Six title.

Wichita, in the Western league, scored 26 runs to defeat Omaha in an early season game.

Right-of-Way Plan Will Be Submitted To Denver Official

Chairman Mer Davis and his right-of-way committee, last night discussed at length with Howard H. Durston, executive general agent of the Fort Worth & Denver railroad, means for assuring early construction of the Pampa-Childress branch. Chas. C. Cook, attorney who is preparing the deeds, said that several months would be required to complete the legal details. It was considered evident that an agreement must be reached with the railroad much earlier. General

John A. Hulien, vice president and general manager, yesterday said that unless right-of-way details were agreed upon within the next fortnight the road probably would not be built this year, inasmuch as it would be too late to complete it in time to handle next year's wheat crop.

THE MELODY GIRL

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beryl Borden, secretly in love with Tommy Wilson, delays his elopement with her half-sister, Irene Everett; but fails to convince him that it is his duty to finish college.

Irene wants to be a radio singer. She secures an audition and takes Beryl to the studio with her. While waiting for Irene, Beryl croons melodies at a piano. A director accidentally hears and is charmed by her voice. He gives her a test and offers a contract which elates her but her victory is bitter-sweet for Irene falls and the family blame Beryl. Irene again promises to elope with Tommy but his aunt dies and the marriage is postponed.

Beryl's debut is a success. She tries to forget her hopeless love for Tommy by going to gay parties with Prentiss Gaylord, wealthy son of her employer. Irene attempts to win Prentiss from her sister.

Next morning Beryl becomes ill and faints.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CAPTION XXII

Beryl had not locked the bathroom door, an oversight that saved a deal of trouble. Irene was able to get in without waiting for someone to break down the door.

She took one look at Beryl lying on the floor—a stain of red on her forehead where it had struck against the bathtub as she fell—and ran screaming to her mother's room.

Mrs. Everett was scarcely less panic-stricken than Irene when she saw Beryl, but between them they got the injured girl to her bed and then let Mr. Everett take charge. He ordered Irene to bathe the wound while he called a doctor. Then he had to give his attention to his wife who was "sure she was going to faint."

Beryl soon regained consciousness and saw in a moment into what confusion she had thrown the family. Therefore she said nothing about the pain in her head and waited quietly for the doctor.

When he came she confided to him that it was the pain in her throat that worried her. No, she hadn't fainted. She had slipped. A little dizzy, perhaps. Yes, she might have been feverish before she went to bed.

When the doctor left she realized that he hadn't given her any information at all. She was to remain in bed all day and he would come back on the morrow.

She obeyed these instructions until afternoon and then went to sit on the porch. The pain in her head was gone. She felt as well as usual except for a slight weakness and that queer feeling in her throat, a touch of which remained.

"I guess you just got played out at the party and were too weak to go foolin' around taking a bath at night," her mother diagnosed as she helped Beryl downstairs.

"I'm all right," Beryl said. "Don't bother."

But her mother would take no chances, so she said, and insisted upon helping her all the way to the porch. There Beryl remained quietly in a chair because she didn't want to disobey the doctor's orders altogether.

This was better than staying in bed, she argued with herself. Not half so tiring. If she were really to do as she liked she'd go down to the beach and sit on the sands in the sun and toast herself. Then the doctor would have something to scold her for, maybe.

She stirred uneasily in her chair. Could there be anything wrong with her—with her throat? The doctor had been so definite about coming back. Her throat! She hardly dared think what it would mean to her to have anything injure her throat—anything serious.

Well, their doctor was an old fogey. She'd have a consultation if he said there was anything wrong.

Beryl kept her concern to herself and got a bit of amusement out of Irene's enjoyment of the situation. Irene had assigned to herself the duty of answering the telephone calls. News of Beryl's fall had traveled quickly from neighbor to neighbor. Irene enjoyed the limelight. Her conversations were invariably sweet but short and Beryl sensed that she was waiting for one call in particular.

It came at last. Prentiss apologized for keeping them up so late the night before. He and Irene talked for several minutes before he remembered that it was Beryl he should be calling. Then Irene explained to him that Beryl was "indisposed," and could not come to the telephone. He asked if he might come out from town and, without consulting Beryl, Irene told him that would be all right.

All day Mrs. Everett had been showing visitors away from Beryl who found it strained her vocal cords to talk. Beryl reminded Irene of this when she heard Prentiss was coming.

"You shouldn't have let him," she said.

Beryl's eyes were that mocking light that so nettled Irene and there was a hint of ridicule in her voice. Irene turned away with a toss of her head and enough discretion to keep silent.

A little later Tommy dropped in and wanted Irene to go for a swim with him. She said she had to shampoo her hair.

All three sat on the porch for a while. Beryl was silent and quivered inwardly over the adoration in Tommy's eyes whenever they rested on Irene. Irene chatted lightly of nothing, in high spirits but noticeably out of tune with Tommy. In Tommy's mind there dawned a growing question.

Presently Irene left them—to make herself beautiful for Prentiss. Beryl well knew. She wondered if Irene realized that beauty is only the trap and that love to be held must be fed on something more substantial. Irene was fooling herself, too, for she was the type who would make herself charming only when she had a conquest in mind. Some day she would let herself go and very likely become frowzy. She was that type. She had appeared un-groomed at the breakfast table too often for Beryl to doubt it.

"Love to be held!" The phrase caught in Beryl's mind. Was she mistaken? Here was she, loving Tommy in spite of herself. What effort did he put forth to hold that love? None at all. Would there be some one to go on loving Irene, knowing her shortcomings? She knew Tommy and she went on loving him, but Tommy was not like Irene. He was quite the reverse in fact. The more you studied Tommy the better you liked him. But if you scratched the surface of Irene's character—

Charitably Beryl turned her thoughts from that track. But what about Tommy if he married Irene and discovered that he had made a mistake?

Tommy seemed to think himself alone. He sat with his head in his hands and said nothing.

"I'm just an old shoe to him," Beryl thought bitterly (forgetting how dear are old shoes to weary feet). "But, oh Tommy, Tommy, how I could love you if you'd let me!"

The rush of desire, the thought, was so intense that for a few seconds Beryl was startled. "She almost expected Tommy to look up as though she had spoken her thoughts aloud and he had heard.

How could she prevent Tommy from marrying Irene? Would she need to? There was Prentiss. But if nothing came of Prentiss' interest had one a right to interfere in another's life?

"Right or no right I'd stop this match if I could!" Beryl thought. It was all right to be high-minded, altruistic, and just, but Tommy was the man she loved. If only she knew how to save him.

"What a mother-in-law I'd make!" she jeered at herself. "I don't suppose I'd ever find a girl good enough for a son of mine. Who do I think I am anyway?"

At that point she decided to talk and stop thinking. What a dizzy, perplexing cycle life was. You whirled round and round and got nowhere.

When she wanted to talk Tommy decided to leave. Beryl saw she'd made a mistake. It had been so

SLUGGISH FEELING

"I have used Theford's Black-Draught off and on for twenty-five years," writes Mr. Dave Stewart, of 1912 E. 2nd St., Austin Texas.

"They used it in my father's home for many years and it was our general family medicine.

"My health was good, and that is about all I ever took. I used it for constipation and bilious sick headaches. It is a fine medicine to take when a man gets up in the morning feeling dull and sluggish. After a course of it I feel fine. It rids the system of poison which comes from constipation."

much more than she had as a rule—his sitting there alone with her. Why had she disturbed it? Next time she would know better.

She watched him go down the walk to the gate and her heart sagged with the sag in his shoulders. Tommy was troubled. How much did he know? Did he know that Irene was shampooing her hair to make a golden snare of it to catch another man's heart?

She closed her eyes suddenly, against the sunlight and swallowed hard at the lump in her throat. But she would not start thinking again—she would not! There was so much to fear, so much to grieve at.

So much to fear! Her emotion had tightened her throat. It pained her and all at once she felt very tired. No matter what came of it she would have to go to bed and leave the field to Irene when Prentiss arrived.

As Beryl climbed the stairs, a little uncertainly, she heard Irene humming in the bathroom. There was an exultant, even triumphant, note in the girl's voice. She was singing unconsciously and Beryl thought that if only her sister were content to sing without striving for operatic effects she might succeed professionally.

Professionally! She herself would sing professionally the next night. The pain in her throat—

Beryl trembled as she got into bed. A little throat trouble... but what if she were going to be seriously ill?

As she lay there trying not to think and failing in her effort Irene too was crossing bridges un-built. She was wondering how she could induce Tommy to postpone their marriage just a little longer than the date she had set without arousing his suspicions.

There was something on her mind, something she turned over and over in her thoughts as a miser turns his gold. It was something with glittering possibilities but she was not sure of it. She would need time for that. Meanwhile...

Railroad Capital Stock Is Increased

Capital stocks in the Clinton and Oklahoma Western railway line, a branch of the Santa Fe, operating between Pampa and Clinton, Okla., has been increased from $100,000 to $300,000, according to an Associated Press report received here last night. The line was opened May 1, 1930. Pampa business men and the Pampa chamber of commerce were instrumental in getting the line into Pampa.

The increased capital will be used to improve the line and cover operating expenses, L. W. Klein, local agent, said last night. He said part of the additional money would be used to cover the expense of building the Heaton spur, recently completed between Heaton, eight miles east of Pampa, and near LeFors.

"The decision to increase the capital stock was made at a recent meeting of stockholders held in Pampa," Mr. Klein said.

Alger Hero Is French President

By HUDSON HAWLEY (Copyright, 1931, by The Associated Press)

A Horatio Alger hero becomes president of France on Saturday.

M. Paul Doumer, who triumphed over the world famous Aristide Briand in the election a month ago for the most elevated post in French politics, is the son of a railway section boss.

His mother was widowed when he was a boy, and at the age of 14 he left school to add his bit to the family income.

He worked unremittently, and he lived according to the stern precepts of the peasantry from which he came. There was no time for foibles, and today, loaded with honors at the age of 74, he remains the simple man of the people, abstemious in his private life, aloof from the frivolities of Paris, an early riser and a hard worker. He is a thrifty Frenchman of middle class.

Was Long Governor in his long service to the state.

Tired people...

SO MANY WOMEN, so many men can barely finish out the day. Even mid-afternoon finds them tired... listless.

What a difference if they only realized the importance of correct diet. Diet which contains enough "bulk" to rid the system of poisons, that sap strength and lead to serious disease!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies this needed "bulk" to millions of happy, energetic people. It is the largest-selling all-bran cereal on the market. It prevents and relieves both temporary and recurring constipation.

Try it—and notice the difference in the way you feel. Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily—three times daily in severe cases. Relief is guaranteed. Look for the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Doumer has had training somewhat similar to that of the late President Taft of the United States. Each had long experience as a colonial governor. Doumer in Indo-China, Taft in the Philippines. Each was a lawyer, although Doumer practiced infrequently.

But between the American and the Frenchman there is one great difference. Taft's sense of humor is the theme of countless stories. There is no such string of pleasantries about Doumer.

The man who will be the thirteenth president of the third French republic earned his first francs as an engraver's apprentice. He won a degree of bachelor of science at night school and settled down as a teacher in a country high school. He married early and had eight children.

Tried to Forget Him

From pedagogics he went to country journalism, and from journalism to politics. Elected to parliament, he displayed too much strength to please his party superiors, and he was offered the post in Indo-China that he might be safely buried and forgotten.

He took the job—but not the oblivion. On his return to France he towered more than ever.

By 1906 he was president of the chamber of deputies and of sufficient stature to match himself against Armand Fallieres for the presidency of the nation.

Falling of election, he dropped out of the public eye for years. In 1921 he started his comeback by taking the post of minister of finance in a Briand cabinet. He also had a portfolio in the Briand ministry four years later.

Has Precedence

Doumer was elected president of France from the senate, where he was the presiding officer. Although the post is not on a par with the premiership so far as political power is concerned, its incumbent takes precedence at all ceremonial functions. It is looked upon as the crowning honor of the nation's political life.

In addition to his own record, Doumer had two claims to the presidency. It was according to a fairly well established precedent that the senate's president succeeded to the post. And there were his four sons, killed in the war.

Garden Hose, 6Mwer Located by Police

Garden hose and lawn mowers are being stolen in Pampa. The police department has discovered three lengths of garden hose with nozzle, and a lawn mower this week.

Last night A. A. Tieman claimed one length of hose and a few minutes later John V. Andrews identified another length as stolen from his garden this week. The other piece of hose and the lawn mower had not been identified last night.

"I guess it will be a case of locking up garden equipment until we have arrested the thieves," Chief J. Downs said last night.

Railroads Unite On Rate Increase

NEW YORK, June 12. (P) — The railroads of the nation stood united today behind a decision to petition the Interstate Commerce Commission for a general increase in freight rates of 15 per cent.

Representatives of eastern, western and southern groups of roads who participated in the agreement reached yesterday said the increase was designed to offset some of the reduction in freight tariffs made since 1921 and would bring an estimated increase in revenue of 10 per cent, or about $400,000,000.

The petition was described as an emergency measure to meet a slump in rail revenue which has resulted in earnings falling to the lowest level in a decade.

The railroads hope to have their petition on file within a week and hope it will be treated as an emergency measure by the commission so the increased rates may go into effect within three months.

They will seek to have an order issued by the commission omitting the 90-day suspension clause, under which rate increases are automatically suspended for that period.

A general increase of 15 per cent was decided upon to make the question one of revenue rather than one involving individual rates to prevent long debate.

Although the petition will be for a general increase, the roads do not intend, representatives said, to increase all rates by that amount.

The first move toward making the application was made by representatives of eastern and western roads a week ago.

Chief Deputy to Be State Officer

Chief Deputy Warren Belcher has resigned, effective immediately, to become a special state investigator, it was announced last night by Sheriff Lon L. Blansett.

Belcher will go to Austin today where his appointment will be affirmed by Attorney General James V. Alford.

He was formerly deputy sheriff at Wichita Falls, special officer for Magnolia Petroleum Co., and was a ranger.

"The sheriff's department will certainly miss Deputy Belcher," Sheriff Blansett said last night. "I appreciate the tireless efforts of Belcher in assisting me in law enforcement in this county," the sheriff said.

"I hate to leave where I have been so welcome," Belcher said. "I appreciate what the people of this county have done for me and the way they have helped me in my work," he said. "I also want to thank the NEWS-POST for its cooperation in our investigations and the way our news has been handled," Belcher added.

Divorce Is Wrecked On Sausage Machine

CHICAGO, June 12. (P) — The divorce case of John and Bernice Kolecek has been wrecked, temporarily at least, on a sausage machine.

John is a butcher. He had agreed to let his wife have a divorce and was prepared to give his shop to her for support, until it came time to make a decision on his sausage machine.

"He won't give it up," his attorney, Raymond Keiner said. "Mrs. Kolecek also wants to make sausages," replied her attorney, Harry X. Cole.

"Well, she won't get the divorce then," retorted Attorney Keiner. "And furthermore," continued Attorney Cole, "my client wants an injunction to restrain Mr. Kolecek from sleeping with a butcher's cleaver under his pillow."

Attorney Keiner protested that there was nothing wrong about that. "It is merely that a butcher prizes his cleaver highly," he said.

Judge Daniel P. Trude listened to all of this and then decided to hold a hearing on the injunction on June 16.

Mrs. Mathers Dies In Amarillo Home

Mrs. W. L. Mathers, 60, died at her home, 2110 Polk street, Amarillo, yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. Mathers was well known in Pampa and Gray county. She had been a resident of the Panhandle for more than 30 years living at Mobeetie, Miami and Canadian. She moved to Amarillo five years ago.

Funeral services will be held in the First Presbyterian church, Amarillo, at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. The Old Exams Are Not What They Once Were CHICAGO, June 12. (P) — Something new in collegiate circles took place at the University of Chicago yesterday.

Seventeen selected freshmen students in a class in literature conducted by the university's president, Robert Maynard Hutchins, were permitted to look at will at the books they had studied and consult their lecture notes when they took their written examination.

Thus, the dishonored "pony" was, in a sense, made legitimate. No premium was placed on memory as in the old time examinations. Instead the students were asked to demonstrate that they had grasped the underlying significance of the words and writers they had studied.

This type of examination is to be substituted generally at the university next fall when an educational reorganization is to take place.

Those who took yesterday's test said they were satisfied with the new method.

GREENVILLE, June 12. (P) — An inch of rain, accompanied by a strong wind, fell here late today. Trees and signs were blown down and a portion of the wall of the Seaman East grocery company fell.
