Derby Racers Are Much Faster Than Last Year

Small Cars Far Better Constructed

Exact Time Of Vehicles Not Announced

Better constructed and faster model automobile racers will be seen in the second annual Pampa News-Lions Club Soap Box derby...

A field of 62 cars took part in the parade held at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, which was followed by trial spins at Derby Downs.

Here the fast speed of the cars was demonstrated, and there's a lot of boys who would like to know their time.

Derby cars are now in the high school gymnasium, where the Pampans may see them from 4 to 7 o'clock this afternoon and at the same time tomorrow.

It has been decided to erect a grandstand at Derby Downs to provide seating space for spectators who do not care to sit in their automobiles.

Proceeding the first race, scheduled for 7:30 o'clock Thursday night, a parade will be held at the course.

Programs of the Soap Box derby are to be printed showing entries in the races.

Tickets to the derby are to be issued to members of the Pampa Lions club, and will also be available at the LaBora theater box office.

GALLERIES BARE AS CONVENTION OPENS

When James A. Farley gavelled the Democratic convention to order in Chicago, many delegates were absent and the galleries were bare.

The heated sessions in prospect are expected to pull tremendous crowds later in the week.

Five Valuable Bird Dogs Poisoned Here

A cowardly head in the form of a heartless dog poisoner is loose in Pampa. Last night he murdered five valuable bird dogs belonging to Roy Lard and Dr. Malcolm Brown.

A reward of $25 was also offered by E. L. McCarty whose English Bull Terrier was on Friday, in convulsions after eating ground glass.

Two of the dogs were owned by Lard and Dr. Brown and the other was owned by Dr. Brown.

Only last winter Mr. Lard turned down an offer of $500 for Scorchy.

The five dogs were found dead in their pen, from which they never strayed excepting with their owners.

Mr. McCarty's dog was killed in its pen at the McCarty home a mile south of the city.

Several months ago the dog was poisoned but it survived. But this time the dose was fatal.

The person or persons who killed these valuable dogs could have spent their time ridding the city of unlicensed and unvaccinated mongrels which are flooding the city.

Italians Report Crippling Blows On British Fleet

ROME, July 16.—Huge fires at Haifa, British oil port in Palestine, and crippling blows to units of Britain's Mediterranean fleet...

Direct hits by Italian flares on oil refineries and depots at the Holy Land port were said to have sent up flames that could be seen from airplanes 120 miles away.

Giving a summary of the running sea warfare in the western Mediterranean since July 9, the high command listed: 1. The Hood, largest warship afloat, hit squarely three times by aerial bombs.

Two aircraft carriers, four cruisers, two aircraft carriers and two destroyers certainly, and in some cases repeatedly, struck.

The report acknowledged that one Italian battleship, either the Conte Di Cavour or the Giulio Cesare, 22,622-ton twin, had been struck by a British air bomb.

LONDON, July 16.—An authoritative London source indicated today that an unlimited number would be welcomed for war service by the Royal Air Force.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 16.—Foreign Minister Cristobal Saenz disclosed today that he has received and is studying a note from the United States on establishment of a protectorate over European possessions in Central and South America.

War Flashes

LONDON, July 16.—An authoritative London source indicated today that an unlimited number would be welcomed for war service by the Royal Air Force.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Today's news from Rome and Berlin rather forces the impression that the Nazis would be just as happy if they didn't have on their hands the job of making good their threat to invade England and annihilate that island kingdom.

Secretary of Commerce Perkins today said that the German invasion of Poland last month passed since France succumbed, the conquering Germans are still withholding the blow of their unprovoked attack.

And now diplomatic quarters in Rome say Fascist Foreign Minister Ciano intends to go to Berlin tomorrow to consult Hitler about a speech in which the Fuehrer might offer England a chance to surrender.

This follows yesterday's prediction by Virginia Gayda, authoritative Fascist writer who frequently speaks for Mussolini, that Britain would be given a last chance to line up with Italy and Germany in "renovating" Europe—a choice between surrender and "inevitable destruction."

Official Nazidom remained silent this morning. However, Gayda's prediction was said by informed sources to give a possible clue to the situation.

Still, any sort of compromise on the Nazi avowal to "annihilate" England and dismember the British empire seems to indicate a desire to get the war over as soon as possible.

As late as June 7 authorized sources in Berlin announced Germany's aims as "the annihilation of France and the annihilation of England; all else is beside the point."

Hitler's hatred of England and his desire to break that country wide open is well known.

Perkins Says FDR Will Be Nominated

By W. B. RAGSDALE CHICAGO STADIUM, July 16 (AP)—A member of President Roosevelt's cabinet openly forecast his nomination for a third term today while Democratic delegates pushed their convention through more gusts of oratory before the actual balloting begins Thursday.

Secretary of Labor Perkins told a breakfast gathering of several thousand women that "we are about to break tradition and nominate a man for a third term."

When the labor secretary added: "We don't do this lightly. There is not a woman in this room who doesn't realize the seriousness of breaking tradition."

This breakfast of the federation of Illinois Democratic Women's clubs was held before Speaker William B. Bankhead, the temporary chairman and keynoter, called the delegates to order for their speeches by Mrs. Thomas F. McAllister, director of the women's division of the Democratic national committee, and by representative Arthur Mitchell of Chicago, only Negro congressman.

Delegates moved into the convention hall with their ears keenly attuned for any sound from the white house—but such as came to them emerged only through cabinet members or administration subordinates.

President Roosevelt talked by telephone for five minutes with Secretary Hopkins, and Hopkins conferred with Senator Byrnes (D-S.C.), but neither would disclose what they had discussed.

Directors of the third term drive were described as still uncertain whether to put the President formally into nomination and the highlight the first major convention session last night at the big, flag draped Chicago stadium.

The delegates headed back this morning for another round of oratory before getting down to the real business of adopting a platform and naming a presidential candidate.

Memphis Group Will Feature Entertainers

About two-thirds of the citizenship of Memphis, including all musical and entertainment talent, will storm Pampa tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock, according to a telephone call to the Pampa Chamber of Commerce from Carroll Smyers, manager of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce.

The goodwill and advertising caravan will be here to invite the people of Pampa and the Top O' Texas territory to the Hall County Old Settlers Reunion and Rodeo and the Golden Anniversary Celebration and Homecoming, July 24, 25, and 26.

The goodwill committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce is making arrangements for a reception of the visitors and all citizens are invited to meet the delegation in the 100 block on North Cuyler at 3.

For those citizens who will be unable to attend and hear the program, radio station KPDM is arranging to broadcast the program.

The Memphis delegation will be headed by Carroll Smyers, who is well known in Pampa, since he lived here seven months while directing the taking of the 1940 census in the 17 surrounding counties.

Entertainment will be furnished by the 35 piece Memphis Cow-puncher band, by Jake and Lena, two vocalists from the "forks of the creek down in Hall county," by the Fiddling Fool, Arthur Howard of Memphis, and by Cowboy Jones and his accordion.

Miss Anita Mescham, Memphis' cowgirl sweetheart, will likewise be with the delegation and will be introduced.

War Minister General Shunroku Hata and Prince Fumamoro Konoye, former premier, were considered the most likely candidates for the premiership. Presumably either would head a government pledged to consolidation of Japan's gains in the Orient.

U. S. Fleet Sails From Pearl Harbor

ROME, July 16 (AP)—Diplomatic circles heard today that Adolf Hitler was preparing to make a last three-point offer to Great Britain for a war settlement which would spare the British Isles from devastating attack.

Diplomatic reports from Berlin indicated that Hitler might make an offer to Britain in a speech before the Reichstag within the next few days.

Count Galeazzo Ciano is planning tentatively to go to Berlin before Hitler speaks to confer with the Germans on terms as Premier Mussolini's representative, diplomatic sources said.

An apparent "trial balloon" peace offer to Britain by the axis powers—with an alternative threat of a full-blast assault on the British Isles—was floated by diplomatic circles in Rome today.

Simultaneously, the international picture was darkened by the reported resignation of the Japanese cabinet headed by Premier Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai. It appeared likely the Yonai cabinet would be succeeded by a group favoring stronger action against western powers in the Orient, including the United States.

This report coincided with the departure of strong forces of the United States fleet from Pearl Harbor, Hawaii—numbering two battleships, 12 cruisers, the aircraft carrier Enterprise and a powerful array of destroyers.

While the navy department maintained silence, speculation was aroused that the American man-of-war fleet may be steaming to patrol British and French isles in the South Pacific.

The Nazi-Fascist peace move, as described by diplomatic quarters in Rome, would be sounded by Adolf Hitler in a three-point plan as follows: 1. Settlement of European affairs, presumably with Germany and Italy to dominate the continent—and Britain to keep "hands off."

2. Return of British-held colonies, owned by Germany before the World War. 3. Economic rehabilitation of Europe.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill, in a broadcast Sunday night, scornfully rejected in advance any axis suggestion of a peace parley.

In Berlin, informed sources said a clue to the situation might be found in a statement made yesterday by Virginia Gayda, Fascist editor, who asserted the axis powers were preparing a "surrender or be destroyed" ultimatum against Britain.

Nazis said Germany is ready to strike when Hitler gets the word and that a "blunt blow" was an "inevitable necessity" because Churchill insisted on fighting to a finish.

Informed German quarters held that British stubbornness would require the latter alternative and said bases for attack had been prepared "with German thoroughness" from Norway to the French Atlantic coast.

Dienst Aus Deutschland, German commentary, said air raids thus far against England had not been on a large scale and were intended only to lighten Germany's attempted "starvation blockade" and to weaken resistance by destroying air-dromes, arms plants and docks.

The daily German raids on Britain tapered off sharply. Flares were sighted over northeast England.

Strong Jap Policy In Orient Planned

TOKYO, July 16.—The cabinet of Premier Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai decided today to resign in a move expected to lead to formation of a new government pledged to a strong policy in the Orient against western powers.

War Minister General Shunroku Hata and Prince Fumamoro Konoye, former premier, were considered the most likely candidates for the premiership. Presumably either would head a government pledged to consolidation of Japan's gains in the Orient.

Yonai, bearing the resignations of all his ministers, prepared to report at once to Emperor Hirohito, who is residing temporarily at a seaside villa, seeking his formal acceptance.

Yonai was to return to the capital this evening after which his successor was to be chosen.

Yonai has not enjoyed the full support of the nationalists since he came to power last Jan. 15.

Garner Will Not Be Vice-President Declares Germany

CHICAGO, July 16.—E. B. Germany, head of the Garner forces at the national Democratic convention, spiked reports today that Vice-President John Garner was being considered for nomination to a third term on a ticket with President Roosevelt.

"We're running Mr. Garner for president and that's that," the Dallas man said, denying that such a situation had ever been considered by him or the Garner organization.

Other developments among the Texas delegation at the convention included the decision by Mrs. Clara Driscoll of Corpus Christi, Texas, national Democratic committeewoman, not to resign her post.

Mrs. Driscoll had stated Sunday she would resign after the delegation failed to nominate her candidate for the national convention platform committee.

The death of G. D. Hylton, 42, described by friends to have been a man "who never had an enemy," at first was believed to have been an accident.

His body was found atop an elevator in a downtown building July 10 a few minutes after the operator heard the body strike.

Friends of Hylton, engineer for the Vera Pochanows Coal Co., demanded an investigation, Chaffins said, and McClure was arrested last night on a murder warrant.

English Gold Arrives WASHINGTON, July 16.—A large shipment from England boosted gold imports to $154,212,700 in the week ended July 10.

The commerce department said today the week's gold cargoes nearly double the preceding week, including $119,768,958 from England.

Meador Case Due To Go To Jury Today

The case of State of Texas vs. P. M. Meador charged with failure to stop and render aid, was expected to go to the jury this afternoon.

Testimony was concluded shortly after noon Monday, and the interval has been devoted to the preparation of the charge, which was to be read in court at 1:30 o'clock.

The case started on July 8, but it was not until Thursday afternoon, three days later that testimony started, due to the difficulty of selecting a jury.

Meador is charged in connection with an accident east of Pampa last September in which W. D. (Bill) Kelley, Pampa youth, suffered fatal injuries. Last month, in a companion case, Meador was assessed a $750 fine on a jury verdict of negligent homicide in the second degree.

District Attorney Clifford Bray, Aaron and John F. Sturgeon represent the state, E. A. Simpson and Cleo Clayton, both of Amarillo, the defendant.

SERIAL STORY
FLYING CO-ED BY MARY KINNAVEY MOORE

CHAPTER II

THERE was a split second that was horror for that small group of people, Georgette, Dick Douglas, Bob Davis, and Anne. Then Dick was racing toward the girl, roughly snatching her back from the whirling metal blade. Anne hardly realized that he had saved her life.

"Of all the boneheaded stunts, that wins the prize." Dick's slow voice was full of anger and of sarcasm. "You're just the type who thinks 'stop, look, and listen' was meant for everybody else."

"You needn't use all your sarcasm on me," Anne flared. "I probably wouldn't have walked clear into that prop anyway. But thanks for saving my life."

"Listen, Miss Norris, don't thank me. We're training thousands of students all over this country, and we're not interested in fatalities. I just didn't want our safety record spoiled." Dick's cool voice added to Anne's rage. In a moment she would have been in tears, but Tony's hand on her arm brought her attention to him.

"I saw you, as I parked my car," he told her. "Are you all right?" He put one arm a bit too solicitously about her shoulder.

Illustrated by Carol Johnson.

"You're just a glamor girl with a rotogravure complex," Dick told her.

Anne stared at him in angry hatred. "You're not going to have me as a student just to add to your glory!"

Tony must be on this way to North Point, the marriage mill, some three hours driving distance from Midland. Somehow she must get there in time to stop Anne. But the elopers must be half-way there by now. If she could only fly. Fly—!

An amazingly short time later she stood earnestly talking with Dick Douglas.

"If you think," he was saying coldly, "that I have time to go chasing after that rattlebrained co-ed and her good-for-nothing young—"

Georgette interrupted him, her voice desperate. "Dick, you must, Anne doesn't know what she's doing. If I could only talk to her, I know she'd change her mind."

"But what can I—"

"Dick, you can get a plane and fly me to North Point in time to stop them." She caught her breath and added, "Can't you realize what the scandal would do to Anne's uncle—Arnold Dwight? It would break his heart."

"That decided Dick. 'All right, Georgette, I'll do it,' he said grimly, 'but get this straight, I'm not doing it for your friend Anne. Frankly, I don't think she's worth it. I'm doing it for you and for Arnold Dwight.'"

"I don't care whom you're doing it for," Georgette said, "but hurry!"

She glanced at her watch. Anne must have driven straight home from the airport, packed hastily, and started on her mad journey. That would have been an hour ago at least, it might have been more. If only she and Dick would be in time!

At that very moment Tony's flashing blue roadster was streaking over the highway toward North Point. Anne huddled beside him. Her stubborn little chin was set and determined, but her lovely face was very pale.

She glanced at Tony. He looked pleased with himself, almost too pleased, she thought. As though conscious of her thoughts, he took den movement he slowed down the car and looked down at her quickly.

"You aren't afraid, are you, Sweetheart?"

She shook her head.

"You shouldn't be. You're nine, my Sweetheart, all mine!"

He stepped on the accelerator and the car leaped forward in a burst of speed. The girl hadn't better change her mind, he thought grimly. For a moment his mind dwelt on what the newspapers would say. This would show some of those stuck-up snobs who'd treated him like dirt. Once he was married to THE Anne Norris, they'd have to accept him. As far as Anne was concerned, he'd be able to manage her all right.

"What is it, Sweetheart?"

"Tony, don't you think—perhaps we're being hasty?" She drew a quick breath. "Perhaps we ought to wait—"

"If you really cared anything about me, you wouldn't say such a thing," he said, his voice almost sulky.

"But—to run away like this—"

"You said you would. You said you'd marry me today. You aren't going to go back on your word, are you?"

"No—"

"I didn't think you would." His voice was warmly caressing.

TONY had been right in appealing to Anne's stubbornness. Yes, she'd said she would marry him that very day, and now she meant to go through with it.

At the same time, she had begun to feel uncomfortably frightened. If only she had a little more time to think! She told herself with a grim determination that she loved Tony Scott and that this runaway marriage was a glorious and romantic adventure.

A road sign flashed by. "North Point, 3 miles." Anne glanced at her watch, suddenly very lonely and cold and frightened. Within the hour, she'd be Tony Scott's wife!

Nozis Haven't Denied British Merchant Fleet

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—The British merchant fleet, swelled by new construction and ships of other nations gained through the fortunes of war, probably is stronger now than it was when the European war started, a study of available verified figures indicated today.

Germany claimed last week that up to July 1 she had destroyed 4,329,213 tons of British shipping, a figure which an authoritative British source said was more than four times the real losses.

The Associated Press figures, taking account only of merchant ships whose loss is admitted by the British or verified independently, showed the British had lost 243 ships of 832,158 gross tons up to July 14.

At the start of the war, according to Lloyd's register of maritime shipping, the British empire had 21,001,925 tons of shipping, comprising 4,977 ships—steam and motor—of 100 gross tons and upward.

The loss of 243 ships would leave the British 8,734 ships totaling 30,069,767 tons.

But this would not take into account Britain's production of new ships since the start of the war and her acquisition or control of an undisclosed amount of shipping gained when Germany invaded Norway, Denmark, Belgium and Holland and when the French signed Adolf Hitler's armistice terms.

Norway, for example, had 1,887 ships of 4,833,813 tons at the outbreak of the war.

Norway's losses, tabulated by the

Wells Will Speak At Amarillo Rally

WELLINGTON, July 16 — The "Win With Wells" caravan will climax an all-day tour when it swings into Amarillo Tuesday evening, July 23, in the interest of Deskins Wells, who speaks there Tuesday evening on behalf of his candidacy for congressman from this district.

En route to Amarillo this caravan will pass through a number of south Panhandle towns, stopping for a brief period in each. These will include Childress, Estelline, Turkey, Quitque, Silverton, Tulla, Dimmit, Hereford, and Canyon.

The Heinkel He-115, German bombing plane, carries a crew of four, two machine guns and special internal light bomb racks.

French Claim Nazi Invasion To Be Friday

(By The Associated Press)
 GRENOBLE, France, July 16.—Le Petit Dauphinois said today that foreign diplomatic quarters in Switzerland had heard that a projected attack on England by 600,000 Germans had been delayed because of differences in the high command, but that the attack may be launched Friday night.

from Bern.
 According to Le Petit Dauphinois, the commander-in-chief of the German army and other generals opposed the plan of attack first set for July 9-10 because they thought it too dangerous to the attackers in its original form.

The ships, according to the newspaper, range from German and captured French, Belgian and Dutch freighters and passenger ships to fishing smacks and barges to be towed by tugs.

They are lying along the coast from Brest, France, to Bergen-Norway, the paper added.

The fleet's escort of light gunboats, submarines and fighting planes, to be preceded by mine sweepers and waves of bombers generally when one group of Germans headed by General Walther von Brauchitsch, commander-in-chief of the German army, protested that it was too dangerous, the paper said.

The dispatch said that General Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the general staff, defended the original plan before Hitler, but the fuhrer nevertheless delayed the attack to consider the objections.

The Von Brauchitsch group, the dispatch continued, argued that minesweepers could not clear the lanes well enough for such a mighty fleet and that two-thirds of the force might be lost, leaving 200,000 men to risk destruction by the British defenders.

The dispatch concluded with the report that Hitler had decided on a modified Keitel plan which may be launched Friday night if weather permits.

No Black Sheep Among Sons Of Rockefeller, Jr.

NEW YORK, July 16.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., smiles today at the memory of friends who used to tell him:

"With all that money to spoil them, you're entitled to four black sheep out of those five boys if only one comes out good."

Not one black sheep has shown up yet, and it looks as though none will.

For it was announced this week that his youngest son, David, is engaged to wed, at 25, without having had a single sensational fling as a rich playboy.

Three of the four older boys are already married.

Only Winthrop remains unmarried, and his liking for gaiety, which once worried his father, has long since been accepted by the family as harmless fun.

Notoriety has no place in the Rockefeller tradition, just as divorce has no place in the matrimonial sphere David is preparing to enter.

David's engagement to Margaret McGrath, who shares his taste for intellectual pursuits, is in keeping with the family's conservative faith in happy marriages which last, and which have little to do with the night club set, and little interest in the world of fashion.

Attractive Peggy McGrath, who will become Mrs. David Rockefeller, didn't care to have a formal debut, although her parents are listed in the social register and her mother is a member of the Exclusive Colony club.

She cares more about literature, pictures, music—interests she has in common with David Rockefeller, whose scholarly pursuits have made him a candidate for a doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Chicago.

Her father, Francis McGrath, is a partner in a famous old Wall Street law firm. Her grandfather was a former railroad executive.

David and his bride-to-be have been friends for years. Acquaintances say he sought her for a partner at her first dances.

Lewis P. Fields Issues Statement

Lewis P. Fields, candidate for Congress, has spent 44 years in Texas, 25 of them in the Panhandle; having lived on farms and ranches in Hemphill, Donley, and Carson counties; and has lived in Amarillo since 1920, being engaged in the general insurance business. He makes the following statement:

"I feel that I know the needs of our district and will draw upon the experiences I have had as a farmer, stockman, and business man, and upon information gained as a civic worker in advancing legislation favorable to the district and nation.

"As a lifelong Democrat, I do not believe in making promises that I cannot fulfill; but I do pledge myself to support the principles of good and economical government, and at all times to put foremost the interests of my constituents and the nation.

"As a veteran of the A. E. F. during the World War, I know what war means, and will not be panicky over the war situation; but I do advocate immediate national defense and deportation of undesirable aliens who comprise much of the 'Fifth Column' in our country, and I shall always strive to eliminate the profits from war and national defense programs.

"I have always studied the farm problem, and it is my firm belief that the best farm program is one which will permit the man who tills the soil to own the land and discourage the operation of large farm units by interests who completely mechanize and use a minimum of hired labor."

Texas Flag Carried Upside Down In Parade In Chicago

CHICAGO, July 16.—A parade of Texas through downtown Chicago, was led by the Texas state flag—fastened upside down to a staff.

Miss June Frost of Abilene carried the flag, leading the Hardin-Simmons college country band and a procession of Texans in the city for the Democratic national convention.

The mistake was not discovered until newspaper readers "back home" saw pictures of the misplaced standard. The same thing occurred once before, said Will W. Watson, in charge of banners for the band. During a parade in San Angelo bystanders called attention to the misplaced flag, which was righted immediately.

In Chicago, however, there were no Texas bystanders to spot the error—all the Texans were marching behind it.

Accident Fatal To Darrouzett Youth

Charges of negligent homicide have been filed against Eugene Davis in Lipscomb county following the death of Kenneth Fausset, 21, Saturday night about 9 o'clock a half mile east of Booker. The complaint was signed by Charles Ballard, state highway patrolman stationed at Pampa who with Patrolman J. C. Reece investigated the accident.

Patrolman Ballard reported that Fausset was killed instantly when the arm of a combine reed being towed on a trailer crashed through the windshield of the Fausset car when it was being driven past the trailer.

The arm, according to Patrolman Ballard, struck young Fausset on the head.

Fausset was a resident of Darrouzett where he operated a service station. He will be remembered by many Pampans as a star basketball player and track and field man with the Darrouzett team which competed in the district meets here in 1938 and 1937.

Prather, Summers Ousted From Midland Tilt

Homer Helps Oilers Take 7-5 Battle

Special To The NEWS
MIDLAND, July 16 (AP)—Big Dutch Prather bagged a home run with two men on base in the third inning before he and Catcher Lloyd Summers left the ball game, by request. Selts went to first base, Halbourg to center and Kelly behind the plate.

The home run blow got the Oilers away to a good start over Midland's Cowboys and they came out on top 7 to 5 behind Milbert Vannoy's nine-hit pitching. Last night was the sixth time Vannoy has failed to hit in six games.

Jordan and Potter led the Oiler attack, Jordan getting two singles and three walks on five times at bat while Potter hit a double and single in five trips to the plate.

Vannoy fanned five and walked four. Patrick, who went the distance for the Cowboys, was generous, giving up 10 bases on balls. He whiffed five. The Oilers meet Midland again tonight before moving to Borger for three games.

PAMPA, July 16 (AP)—The Oilers' attack was led by Homer Prather, who hit a home run in the third inning and helped the Oilers take a 7-5 victory over the Cowboys in a doubleheader at Midland.

Lew Jenkins To Take Bad Beating, Says Mr. Talbot

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—At the risk of being disbarred from the local chapter of the Ex-Texas association, I'm afraid Lew Jenkins is due to take a bad beating from Henry Armstrong tomorrow night at the Polo Grounds.

The reason is that Jenkins, though he has fought his way to the lightweight championship in a sensational manner, has not up to now been called upon to show that he can take a hard punching around the body. Not the kind, anyway, that Armstrong hands out.

In scoring the dazzling succession of knockouts that gained him his shot at Lou Ambers, Jenkins took no punishment to speak of. All he did was thump his opponent a few times, and then they turned on the lights and started stacking the chairs.

It was the same against Ambers. Weakened by making the 135 pound limit, Ambers simply crumpled under Jenkins' furious onslaught.

So that brings the lean Texan up against one of the greatest little fighters the game ever saw, champion of the weight division above Jenkins and the spoiler of many a pugilistic hope. The negro is a biter, remorseless fighter who can take a punch or a dozen punches and continue to come on.

Jenkins' backers are counting on a knockout. They hope Lew can connect with a couple of terrific swipes and flatten Armstrong before the negro gets to his destructive work.

It is doubtful that even Lew's best friend thinks he can win a decision over the dreamy little negro in 12 rounds.

But knocking out Armstrong seems to be quite a problem in itself. Cecil Carrico, a near-middleweight with a mule's kick in his right hand, laid perhaps a dozen of his famous "bolos" right on Henry's lug one night in the Garden, and all it got him was a licking. Armstrong shuddered under the impact a time or two, but then only came up to rip at Garcia's middle the harder.

Perhaps Jenkins possesses, as some claim, the greatest shocking power of any lightweight who ever lived. Even so, it still is reasonable to doubt that he can hit harder than Garcia, who, since his debut by Armstrong, has knocked out such middleweights as Fred Apostoli, Glenn Lee and "Poppey" Woods.

McClellan Boat Club Will Meet At 8 Tonight

An important meeting of the McClellan Boat club will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the city auditorium with Commodore Earl McConnell presiding. The meeting will be brief, the commodore reports.

Plans for attending and conducting boat races at the formal opening of Lake Fryer in Ochiltree county next Sunday will be discussed. The McClellan Boat club has been invited to stage the races and also to enter as many boats as possible. Races will be in two heats with prizes $6, $4, and $2.

Races will be held for boats of 16 and 22 horse power and an open race.

Lake Fryer is larger than Lake Marvin and smaller than McClellan lake according to Commodore McConnell who visited the lake Sunday and with Bob Craig, secretary of the boat club, laid out a course for the races.

Sens Knock Cleveland Off Perch As Browns Lose

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The rest of the American league finally has succeeded in getting the proper respect from the St. Louis Browns, but now the circuit has a new wrecking crew.

The Washington Senators, who last week temporarily deposed the Detroit Tigers from the American league lead, knocked the Cleveland Indians off the top perch yesterday.

Washington won't be any more than a troublemaker this year, but Bucky Harris' Senators are doing their bit to keep the race in the junior circuit uncertain. They even climbed from the cellar to sixth place with their 8-4 decision yesterday, the second straight over Cleveland.

The Browns suffered their 13th consecutive defeat as Joe Cronin and Jim Tabor led the Boston Red Sox to 10-6 victory. Cronin hit a homer and a single and Tabor three singles to pace a 15-hit offensive.

Detroit nosed out the Philadelphia Athletics 9-8 to regain first place. The Chicago White Sox halted a four-game winning parade by the New York Yankees with a 3-2 win.

The Cincinnati Reds won another one-run verdict, their fourth in six games, 3-2 over the Phillies and lengthened their margin over the second place Brooklyn Dodgers to three full games.

The Dodgers divided a doubleheader at Pittsburgh, winning the first 10-1 and losing the second 4-3. The New York Giants were utility itself as they dropped a 5-3 game to the Chicago Cubs. The Terrible Terrymen made 15 hits to seven for the Cubs, but left 16 runners stranded, two short of the record.

The St. Louis Cardinals massacred the Boston Bees 12-2 with a 20-hit bombardment.

Farley Likely To Head Yanks

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—It's rather common knowledge now that the prosperous Ruppert regime of the New York Yankees is at an end.

The new owners of the club, likely a syndicate headed by Postmaster General James A. Farley, will have quite a task ahead of them if they expect to match the record of the late Jacob Ruppert.

The colonel, who died in January, 1939, at the age of 71, became sole owner of the Yankees in 1923. They won the pennant that year on the last day of the season and captured eight other flags while the wealthy brewer was alive.

Farley, however, is not a newcomer to the sports field. He has been hired him a distinguished record as chairman of the New York boxing commission from which he progressed into an equally brilliant career as a political strategist. His boyhood friends say he was quite a fancy first baseman in his day.

Well informed baseball men agree there is little chance the present setup of the Yankees would be changed by a change in ownership. Ed Barrow, president of the club; George Weiss, secretary and director of the farm operations; and Team Manager Joe McCarthy are regarded as fixtures.

Keller, Gordon, Home runs—Kubel, Winning pitcher—Smith. Losing pitcher—Breuer.

O'Daniel Tells Of Snares Set For Sons, And Talks For 30 Minutes About New Bus

By DAVE CHEAVENS Associated Press Staff

Mickie Wickie and Patty Boy, said the governor of Texas referring to his two grown sons, may have accepted a favor from the State Game, Fish and Oyster commission, but if they did it was without his knowledge and it all was the department's plan to "play politics" with his office.

Not only that, Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel told the crowd at his Hunt county rally last night in Greenville, but Pat and Mike have "eluded every snare set for them" by his enemies. These adversaries he called a "nest of snakes—vipers, sticking their tongues out at me."

But O'Daniel, talking up the stump energetically to assail his opponents in the gubernatorial race, did not confine himself to his row with the game commission.

He ridiculed statements that his new sound truck had cost $15,000; he reviled "the corporate press and Pido columnists"; he accused three of his opponents of neglecting their state jobs to campaign for votes and whisked by another with the term "proxy"; he complained bitterly because his enemies were trying to steal "my hand, my truck and even the type from my newspaper; and finally reviewed his difficulties with the legislature and called for the election of representatives and senators who would follow the will of the people.

O'Daniel spoke for more than two hours. There was an intermission for hand-shaking and barrel-passing with a plea for "clinking and folding money" to help finance his accelerated campaign. He announced six speeches today in Northeast and East Texas, with a final rally at Henderson at 8 p. m.

Meanwhile, his opponents were not letting up in their concerted attack. Col. Ernest O. Thompson at Beaumont urged the voters to "return the governor's office to a place of dignity where promises are fulfilled and progress made."

Jerry Sadler at Waco accused the governor of "trying to save the rich man's money and the poor man's soul." The governor's program, he said, taxed the Bible and the "speers grandmother wears when she reads the Bible."

O'Daniel defended his tax program and accused the 86 legislators who blocked S. J. R. 12 as being "so high hat they wouldn't let the people vote on any measure." He said he could get along with the legislature if he would "do what the professional politicians and influence lawyers" wanted him to do.

His veto of $5,000,000 in the appropriations bill curtailed no state service, he went on, but simply "took a little grease off the wheels of the political machine." O'Daniel added the hope that in his second term he could remove the wheels, also.

Three hours before the Greenville rally started people were flocking in from the country, bringing their lunches and children.

Some of them waited on the courthouse square for more than an hour before the Hillbilly boys and their musical instruments arrived for a concert preceding the speaking. Mothers with babies in their arms sat in parked automobiles or along the curbs of side streets. For half an hour the crowd was diverted by the efforts of Cyclone Davis, Jr., to speak. Without benefit of microphones, he stood near the governor's sound truck on the courthouse steps, but the candidate's voice could not be heard except by those very near him and he abandoned his talk after dancing a little jig. As many as could crowd in close to have a first-hand look at the sound truck.

They saw a white metal and canvas dome, spotlighted, towering 18 feet from the ground to the tip of the illuminated lone star at its apex. The dome was supported by five iron posts and O'Daniel said his enemies would have "you folks believe those posts cost at least $4,000 apiece." This got a laugh from the crowd. Around the dome were the six flags of Texas, and four spotlights beamed on the speaker, the musicians, and the O'Daniel family.

The truck is not a bus at all, and does not resemble the vehicle in which O'Daniel made his amazing first campaign. The band boys travel in a bus which a friend of O'Daniel said was bought second-hand. This friend also said that $1,000 would more than cover the whole cost of the new truck. Its elaborate sound equipment, including a multi-tubed amplifier and a generator "to use in case the power is out" is rented, this campaigner went on. The truck itself is built on a standard (Chevrolet) chassis, and O'Daniel remarked that it would be turned back to the dealer and become a second-hand truck "to haul cotton" when the campaign is concluded.

O'Daniel devoted the first thirty minutes of his speech to the truck which has been referred to by one opponent as a "dry land yacht." He said it was ridiculous to claim it cost $15,000, and he gave some details of its registration and purchase, including the information that Pat O'Daniel signed a note for $500 as part-payment. The truck, said O'Daniel, is "registered in the name of the flour company owned by the family" and was accepted by the flour company of which Pat is president.

He characterized former state Senator T. H. McGregor, who has suggested that O'Daniel might have disqualified himself in accepting the truck, as a "political influence lawyer."

O'Daniel defended his tax program and accused the 86 legislators who blocked S. J. R. 12 as being "so high hat they wouldn't let the people vote on any measure." He said he could get along with the legislature if he would "do what the professional politicians and influence lawyers" wanted him to do.

His veto of $5,000,000 in the appropriations bill curtailed no state service, he went on, but simply "took a little grease off the wheels of the political machine." O'Daniel added the hope that in his second term he could remove the wheels, also.

North Favorite Over South In All-Star League Battle

The North All Star team rules favorites over the South All Stars in the "Dream Game" of the West Texas-New Mexico league to be played in Amarillo Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock. While many of the South stars have missed several games, all but one of the North players have been in every game or nearly every game so far this season.

In the slugging department, the North has a total percentage of 3454 while the South shows 3358 which is quite a difference. A report from the league statistician shows the North batting .3461 and the South .3434 but those figures don't agree with the individual averages as of June 28, or the end of the first half.

The Northerners have potted out 84 home runs to 47 for the South. At that the North's leading home run hitter, Emmet Fulewider of Amarillo, is not on the team. Gordon Nell of Borger is the leading home run king in the lineup with 18.

Pitching favors the North with Rex Dilbeck and Gus Hallbour of the Pampa Oilers leading the league and Kid Crider of Amarillo next in line.

Pampa will have Hallbour, Dilbeck, Seitz and Malvica in the North lineup.

Here's the batting comparison of the two teams:

NORTH		SOUTH
Player	Pos.	Player	Pos.
Richard Ratliff	342	Vincent Castino	329
Ernest Potocar	340	Timmer Price	281
Muri Prather	340	Benjamin Drake	298

225 Golfers To Compete In Amarillo Country Club Meet

AMARILLO, July 16—There's going to be some terrific competition along what the sports writers are pleased to call the rolling fairways of Amarillo Country club late this month, when at least 225 golfers representing four or more states, start firing in the club's second annual invitation tournament.

The meet gets under way July 24, when local players will qualify. Out-of-town entrants begin qualifying July 25 with match play beginning the following day and closing on Sunday, July 28.

There will be flights for players of all degrees of ability.

Reynolds Smith of Dallas, former Walker Cup star, will be on hand to defend his title won last year in a stirring finals match from Don Schumacher, also of Dallas. Schumacher also will be back. Other Texas top-flighters have accepted the invitation, as have Verne Stewart of Albuquerque, perennial champion of New Mexico tournaments, and hot shots from Oklahoma and western Kansas.

Any amateur is eligible to compete for the hundreds of dollars worth of prizes. Entry fee is $3.50, which includes a ringside seat at a Country club barbecue, prepared by the nationally-known Joe Snider.

The course is in the finest condition of its long history. The bent grass greens, praised by the players last year, are in better shape than ever. Millions of gallons of water from the club's private system have been sprayed on the fairways all year, making them thick with grass. Traps and bunkers have been improved, and 500 trees have been planted in the last year.

L. G. Wilson of Dallas, who has managed many of the Southwest's outstanding tournaments, will handle the Amarillo Invitational.

Houston Hurlers Win More Games Than They Lose

(By The Associated Press)

A team with a six-man pitching staff in which each hurler wins more games than he loses is bound to be around the top.

That's Houston, currently leading the Texas league by a margin of nine and one-half games over second-place San Antonio.

Three of those pitchers have combined to rack up more than 40 games in three-fifths of the season. Howard Pollet and Howard Krist have turned in 15 wins apiece against four defeats. Ed Wissman has won 11 and lost five.

In the second line of offense are Steve Warchol with eight victories and one loss, Ted Wilks with eight victories and seven defeats and Henry Nowak with six wins and four losses.

Pollet drew abreast of Krist last night by downing Tulsa 5-3.

San Antonio fell before Dallas 5-3 with Bob Mumcrief, the league's leading hurler, falling in his try for victory No. 18.

Third place Beaumont lost to Oklahoma City 10-7 despite Dixie Parsons' two home runs that drove in three tallies.

Fourth-place Shreveport triumphed over Fort Worth 9-1 Joe Greenberg got four hits out of five trips for the winners.

National Income Rising

The national income for 1939 was nearly $70,000,000,000, the Commerce Department has announced. That is still well under the peak of $2,900,000,000 for 1929, but because things produced in these times bring lower prices than in 1929, actual physical production is probably about equal to that year.

Yet unemployment is still with us. This points again to the well-known fact that production must be increased far above any figures yet known in this country.

The armament wave will probably cause a further increase in national production in 1940 and for several years. But even with the tremendous arms drive must go a continual effort to increase domestic consumption of all kinds of goods. Export markets will be hampered in the near future.

Permanent well-being will depend eventually on our ability to absorb most of an ever-increasing national production.

From Greenland's Icy Mountains

Now in Washington is a party of Danish gentlemen from Greenland.

Part of the 400-odd European inhabitants of this 700,000-square-mile island, they seek an outlet for export goods. The war has cut Greenland off completely from Denmark, which no longer exists anyway except as a Nazi appendage.

Greenland has some things to sell which it would seem the United States could use. It produces cryolite, used in making glass, soda, and aluminum. It exports graphite also. These are useful substances, which it might well pay the United States to buy. Greenland faces real destitution if, deprived of its regular outlets, it cannot find others.

Money spent now to buy its products might well return extra dividends in the shape of a permanent new trade connection in our own hemisphere.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, July 16—By contrast with the Republican convention, which was a wide-open riddle from the start with the answers known only to familiar dream books, the Democratic convention looks easy . . . a one-man show whose story might as well be written in advance.

Actually, though, it isn't that simple. There are a lot of questions which can't be answered until the chips go down, and on their answers can depend much of the country's immediate political future.

First and foremost, of course, is the question: Will FDR run for a third term?

It is taken for granted by most people that he will . . . but no one is dead certain. Lately there has been an upswing in the number of rumors which say he won't; stories saying he told this or that friend that he was weary and wanted to step down, ill-natured guesses that he's loath to run against Wendell Willkie, hunches that he will bow out at the last minute in ultra-dramatic style. Most politicians think he'll be nominated, but have their fingers crossed.

WRITE PRESIDENT

Beyond that are some other questions no one is quite sure about.

Will the convention be a one-man show? That is, will FDR write the platform, name the vice presidential candidate, and in other ways dominate all the proceedings, or will there be room for dissent, compromise and a few old-time Democratic party scraps?

How about the conservative Southern Democrats—one of whom, Senator Cotton Ed Smith of Southern Carolina, has already said he would bolt the party if it goes for a third term? Will the able work of a stout administration southerner like Smith's co-stater, Senator Jimmy Byrnes, harmonize the distrust felt by such old-line Democrats as Senator George, of Georgia?

And, in that connection, how about the bright young men of the inner circle New Deal—the Tommy Corcorans, Ben Cohens and the rest? Will they be running things, or will they get frozen out in favor of the practical politicians like Senator Byrnes and Speaker Bankhead?

WHEELER'S THREAT?

What will the spectre of Willkie do to the convention? Will it force adoption of a "red hot" platform plank on public power? Will the strategy in general be to stand pat on the New Deal record, or will it be aimed more specifically at what may be supposed to be weak spots in Willkie's armor?

Much more important—what about Senator Burton K. Wheeler, who has promised that there will be a "peace party" in the field this fall if the Democrats fail to take a sharp keep-out-of-war turn at Chicago? Will his fight fail, or will his third party threat force a toning-down of FDR's foreign policy? How much support will he get? If he bolts, how many Democrats will bolt with him?

Will Jim Farley stay hitched? Will Garner go along with a Roosevelt-dominated convention? Will the New Dealers force selection of a man like Supreme Court Justice Douglas for vice president, or will that nomination go to a man like Byrnes or Bankhead? What part will Paul V. McNutt play?

You can make a pretty good guess about some of those answers now. Others can be answered only after the convention has got under way. In any case, there are enough of these questions to show that this convention is by no means likely to be a cut-and-dried affair.

Common Ground

By R. O. HOLLES

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

EFFECTS OF RELIEF ON HAPPINESS

The people of the United States should read a little English history, and learn from England's experience since the last eight years we have adopted the general policy of supplying relief to the poor people.

Under Queen Elizabeth, in 1572, an act levying a compulsory poor rate was passed. It appointed collectors who "shall by their good discretions tax and assess all and every of the inhabitants, dwelling in all and every city, borough, town, village, hamlet and place known within the said limits and divisions, to such weekly charge as they and every one of them shall weekly contribute towards the relief of the said poor people."

The act of 1601 established relief on the basis under which it was administered for more than two centuries. It recognized the obligation of the state to maintain the poor.

It is generally admitted that the administration of poor laws in England were at the worst in the last quarter of the Eighteenth century and the first of the Nineteenth. The burden of maintaining the indigent in some parishes was so great, that owners found it better to surrender their property; the poor rates exceeded the rents.

As the people in California are finding it, in England they migrated to the places where the relief was the most. The Act of Settlement of 1662 denied relief to those who had not established a settlement in a parish. The act undoubtedly had the beneficial effect of keeping beggars from migrating; but it also had the effect of preventing many industrious unemployed from seeking work in other parishes. Against this evil, Adam Smith and many others protested. To this pernicious law he attributed many of the local differences in wages. "There is scarce a poor man in England of 40 years of age," wrote Smith, "who has not in some part of his life felt himself most cruelly oppressed by this ill-contrived law of settlements."

We are beginning to realize the same difficulties in migrants here in the United States. Dr. Malthus' Opinion

The Rev. Dr. Malthus was an special critic of the poor laws; but there is no reason for doubting his summary of their long effect when he wrote: "I feel persuaded that if the Poor Laws had never existed in this country, though there might have been a few more instances of severe distress, the aggregate mass of happiness among the common people would have been much greater than it is at present."

The Act of 1834 established certain fundamental principles: that paupers must be maintained in a condition less desirable than the humblest worker who lived on his earnings; and that those requiring relief must perform work in a workhouse. This act remained the foundation of the English Poor Laws, until the present century.

It will be noted that the Act of 1834 required the recipients of relief to work in a workhouse. It did not permit them to work promiscuously or for private industry.

Possibly the relief principles of England are one of the causes of England's present predicament. When any people violates the fundamental law that man should live by the sweat of his face, it is violating the law of action and reaction, the law of compensation and the law of life. A nation that does that always has to pay the penalty, sooner or later. The question is how long we will go and how much we will have to suffer before we realize what relief is doing to the morale and the progress of American people. Probably Dr. Malthus would say the same thing if he were here today.

HOW TO JUDGE A MAN

One often hears a person say that he thinks Mr. So and So is right because his ideas agree with his.

But this is not the way to judge whether a man is right or wrong.

The way to judge whether a man is right or wrong is whether he agrees with, is consistent with, in harmony with, the eternal principle of equal freedom to create anything he has ability to create that anybody else has a right to create.

If a man is judged this way, there can be a common rule of judgment.

THE NATION'S PRESS

AN ARMY FOR EUROPE

(Chicago Tribune)

Mr. Roosevelt's latest message to congress requests equipment for an army of two million men. He proposes to obtain complete supplies for an army of 1,200,000 and reserve supplies for another 800,000. He asks an additional appropriation of close to 5 billion dollars for the army and navy but insists he has no intention of sending any Americans to fight in Europe. He speaks favorably of conscription to provide the requisite man power.

If we are not going to fight in Europe we have no need of 1,200,000 soldiers or of equipment for an army of even greater size. Either Mr. Roosevelt is concealing his real purpose to send an expeditionary force abroad or he is asking congress to appropriate far more money than is needed for defense.

All of Mr. Roosevelt's public acts in recent years point to his desire to enter the European war. Two years ago he began to talk of quarantining the aggressor nations and in the intervening years his language has become increasingly violent. He has insisted that he is opposed to participation in the European war but with the election coming on he could hardly do otherwise because foreign adventures are not popular with American voters. The example of President Wilson is a reminder that pacific utterances before November are likely to be forgotten by the time April comes around.

Mr. Roosevelt has not been able to conceal his real purposes. His recent cabinet changes were symptomatic. Now his request for an immense army tells the same belligerent story. A moderate increase in the size of the regular army and the rapid modernization of the army's fighting tools in addition to the strengthening of the navy and air force already provided for would give this country all the protection it requires against aggression from abroad. The request for additional hundreds of thousands of soldiers means that the President has lost all sense of proportion but the more probable explanation is that he had made up his mind to enter the war and wants to be sure he will have an army to send abroad. Significantly, he is not depending upon volunteers.
