Smith To Be Toastmaster At Banquet

180 Demos Make Reservations For Rally Tuesday

W. J. Smith, Pampa attorney, will be master of ceremonies at a banquet to be held in Pampa at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the First Methodist church when Democrats from over the Panhandle gather here in a demonstration of party loyalty and in honor of a group of state Democratic leaders, headed by E. B. Germany of Dallas, state Democratic chairman.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Outlining the house in efforts to economize, the senate appropriations committee today lopped $12,788,664 off a deficiency bill being hurried through Congress to meet the cost of President Roosevelt's emergency expansion of the nation's armed forces.

Approving total expenditures of $251,822,588, the senate group gave notice that economy was to be its watchword in consideration of the regular appropriations measures.

First of these larger bills to reach the committee was the house-approved $1,100,187,000 independent offices supply measure, on which the group will go to work next week.

Some members predicted that the senate committee not only would uphold the house action in refusing funds for three Roosevelt-created agencies, but would make further cuts in funds for other agencies.

Both Byrnes and Senator Adams (D-Colo.) said they expected little opposition in the senate to the committee's action today in cutting the emergency appropriations for the army, navy and coast guard. The

St. Clair And West Will Be Transferred

Byron L. St. Clair, stationed here since April 1, 1939, and C. D. West, stationed in Pampa since July 15, 1939, will be transferred on February 1 to the Amarillo station of the Texas Highway patrol.

Succeeding the pair in Pampa will be J. B. Wilkinson and G. C. Reese, both of Amarillo.

Wilkinson was formerly stationed at Shamrock then transferred to Amarillo.

J. L. Pingenot Jr. of Childress, state police officer who formerly gave the driver's license examinations in Pampa, has been ordered transferred to Corpus Christi.

Reason for the shift of these various officers was unknown to Patrolman St. Clair, other than it was the patrol's policy to transfer men about the state, in order to prevent them from becoming too firmly a part of any particular county.

St. Clair explained this was the rule more applicable to small towns than to cities. He said the department opinion was that for a patrolman to remain too long at one station had a tendency to make such an officer too lenient in enforcing the law, on account of his being well-known.

Russia Threatens To Declare War On 'Thieving' Finns

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 21 (Sunday) (AP)—An announcer on the Moscow wavelength broadcast a threat in the Finnish language early today that Russia would declare war on the Finns unless they returned weapons "stolen" from Red army troops at Suomussalmi.

The "stolen" weapons apparently were guns and tanks captured by the Finns after the alleged destruction of the Red army's 163rd and 44th divisions.

The Russian invasion was launched without a formal declaration of war, and the Soviet government has since declared that it is not at war with Finland inasmuch as it recognizes only the Communist-sponsored Terjoki "peoples" government.

Winners In Snow Contest--YOU Pick Best

Snow that fell 28 days ago in the Panhandle is still on the ground, but these pictures will remind you of the coldest weather, the first white Christmas and the most persistent snowfall Pampa and the Panhandle have had in years. The dozen pictures shown above are among the best of the 150 entered in the News snow picture contest. The News did not attempt to pick the best one, but selected the 12 best-suited for newspaper reproduction. Now the News leaves it up to the readers to pick the ones they like the best. The News had a most difficult task in picking the best of the 150.

The large center picture, looking west on Virginia avenue to Sam Houston school with Clyde Farnsworth's residence on the left and J. F. Crutchfield's on the right, was photographed and developed by Glenn Radcliff who also entered the picture of the dog at the top of the page and the view of the snow-enrusted mesquite tree and telephone pole at the right of the center view. The residential view in the extreme upper right and the picture of the C. P. Buckler driveway, extreme lower right were entered by the Rev. Russell G. West, pastor of the

That Candidate For County Clerk Office

Charlie Thut today authorized the announcement of his candidacy for the office of county clerk subject to the action of the Democratic primary of July 27.

In making this announcement Charlie, as he is known to thousands in this county, said he was deeply appreciative of the friendship and support given him in the past and that he hoped his services and familiarity with the many duties of the office would merit such approval.

He added further that despite the duties of his office, which have never been neglected by him, he would try to see all the voters he could personally in Gray county between now and July 27.

Plan To Bring Relief To WPA Workers Here

Former Berger Deputy Admits Crimes, Jailed

HOUSTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—S. L. Beach, who once upheld Texas law with a badge and six shooter, was ready tonight to settle his own account.

He is in the Harris county jail facing four years in the penitentiary for felonies he committed here and in Wharton almost four years ago.

The law didn't catch up with Beach; he came back voluntarily from Kansas City to settle his account. He lived there quietly for more than three years holding a responsible job as chief mechanic for the Salvation Army.

Beach, a tall, sturdy, gray haired man of 40, pleaded guilty before District Judge Whit Boyd to attempted burglary of a lumber company on April 24, 1936. A few days ago he entered a guilty plea in Wharton to a burglary there at about the same time. The sentence

A temporary plan under which case workers employed by counties might examine relief roll applicants for certifications to Works Projects administration work, approved Saturday by the Social Security board in Washington, brought a measure of relief to harassed heads of area and county welfare workers here.

There has been on certification of new applicants to the WPA made in Pampa since November 1, two weeks before the area office of the state department of public welfare was established here, and there has been a minimum number of applicants who have been certified but not assigned, in contrast with the number of certified but unassigned workers in other counties, according to Mrs. Willie Barnes, County case worker.

The situation here has been, since November 1, there has been no agency to certify workers, a job done previously by an intake worker of the Texas Relief commission, working in cooperation with the county case worker. Establishment of the new state department of public welfare did away with the TRC.

One effect of the muddle has been a few hand engraved silver mounted bits, and a set of left over from Xmas, bargain prices, Gurley's Leather Shop.

State Funeral To Be Held For Sen. Borah

By WILLIAM B. ARDERY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—The grieving Senate arranged today for a state funeral for William E. Borah.

The service—at 11:30 a. m. (CST) Monday—will be attended by President Roosevelt, members of his cabinet, Justices of the Supreme Court, members of the House, and foreign diplomats. The Rev. Barney Phillips, Senate Chaplain, will conduct it.

Senators sat with bowed heads when Vice President Garner put before it a resolution to hold state ceremonies for the 74-year old Idahoan who died last night in his 33rd year of Senate service. Garner did not bank his gavel, as he customarily does when declaring a measure approved.

Borah died after a four-day illness. He was stricken with cerebral hemorrhage Tuesday and was conscious thereafter only at intervals. Death came at 7:45 p. m. (CST) as he lay in a coma.

20 Laws In 6 Days Asked By Governor

Jones Says It's Too Late To Try To Deceive Voters

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 20 (AP)—Governor Earl K. Long called the Louisiana legislature into special session today and presented members with the task of enacting 20 legislative proposals into law within six days, in order that he might renew his campaign for re-election in a runoff primary against a "reform" candidate, Sam H. Jones.

Convened into joint session at 3 P. M., the House and Senate heard the governor express belief that he already had been re-elected.

Referring to last Tuesday's democratic primary, Long said that "anyone who came through an election, with a 75,000 lead ought to be considered elected."

Long received 220,000 of the 538,000 votes cast.

Before the roll call ended today administration members had dumped into the hoppers 20 bills which Long previously said must be disposed of in a six day session.

The runoff primary election has been set for Feb. 20.

Follows Huey's Methods In calling the special session Long followed closely the methods of his brother, the late "Kingfish" Huey P. Long.

The present governor proposed repeal, however, of some of Huey's most criticized measures.

These included the law restricting sheriff's right to freely appoint deputies, and a law closing to public scrutiny records of the state bond and tax board.

Long asked the legislature for two $1,000,000 appropriations, one for "free lunches" for school children, another for the department of public welfare to be used for old age

Birthday Ball Committees Will Meet Tomorrow

A combined meeting of both the county committee, headed by R. R. Watson, and the old timers group, of which Mrs. M. J. Felsell is chairman, to make plans for the President's Birthday celebration in Pampa on the night of January 30, will be held at 7:30 o'clock Monday night in the BOD committee room at the city hall building.

At this meeting, Mr. Watson said some definite arrangements were to be made for designating persons to be in charge of the dances, setting the price of tickets, and arranging other details. Some clever stunts to use in connection with the nation-wide campaign against infantile paralysis—the purpose of holding the dances—are to be thoroughly examined at the meeting.

It is planned to have four dances, but only two were definitely assured Saturday. These were the dances to be held at the Schneider hotel, with music by Pinky Powell's orchestra, and a dance at the Southern club, with music by the Cornshuckers. Both are Pampa orchestras. Time of the dances will be from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. at both places.

Newsman To Be 'Fried' On Grid At Annual Banquet Next April

Panhandle newspapermen will be fried to a burned cracklin' at a gridiron banquet which will highlight the 31st annual convention of the Panhandle Press Association in Amarillo next April 12 and 13.

The decision to give new treatment to the convention fun night was reached yesterday by officers and directors of the association when they met in Amarillo to map the two-day convention program.

Something else new under the sun was uncovered when the newspapermen voted unanimously to invite a radio man into their midst. Radio will rear its head in the newspaper program for two separate treatments. Judge Dewitt Landis, of KPVO, Lubbock, and Frank King, Associated Press bureau manager at Dallas, will speak on "Radio and the Newspaper."

Mr. Landis' address will mark the first time in the press association's history that a radio man has spoken to the assembled newspaper delegates.

Present at yesterday's directors' luncheon in the Herring Hotel were Ed. Bishop, Dalhart, president; Mrs. Anne Holman, Hereford, first vice-president; Tex DeWeese, Pampa, second vice-president; Homer Steen, Floydada; W. H. Graham, Farwell; Vance Johnson, Amarillo, director; and Clyde Warwick, Canyon, secretary. Others at the session included John McCarty, Amarillo; Pat Flynn, Amarillo; and Miss Abbie Graham, Farwell.

The gridiron banquet, to be staged on the night of the first convention day, will be in charge of Wes Izard, of Amarillo. It will be staged in the form of see-all know-all behind the scene black-outs which will drag skeletons from the closet to embarrass the most unsuspected of Panhandle newspapermen and women.

Special stage effects and long weeks of rehearsals will go into production within the next few days, Mr. Izard stated.

Business sessions on the morning and afternoon of Friday, April 12, and Saturday morning, April 13, will be taken up with shop talks and trade discussions to be given by association members and invited speakers.

Among other speakers to be on this year's convention program will be Irl Brown, Dallas, of the Texas Daily Press League and Frank Jamison, veteran Panhandle newspaperman.

Making the county and state a safer place in which to live, the sheriff believes, is a recommendation which he can offer in behalf of his candidacy.

Cole was arrested late Friday night by Constable George Inman, and Texas Highway patrolman Byron L. St. Clair and C. D. West. Roberts was arrested early Saturday morning by City Officers W. C. Dillman and Ray Dudley.

Some of the liquor was recovered, the officers said.

Warm Weather May Save Valley Crops

(By The Associated Press)

Moderating temperatures Saturday night gave vegetable and citrus growers hope that cold which killed at least 16 Texans would not bring further damage to Rio Grande Valley crops.

The mercury stood steady at 35 in the valley where weather observers forecast lows of 30 to 35. However, a sudden disastrous breeze was regarded possible because of dampness resulting from light sleet Saturday. A north-east wind with high clouds appeared as probable aids in preventing a freeze.

Tail end of the icy blast snapped at South Texas and the Valley while temperatures in the Panhandle, plains country and north-central Texas began moderating.

Deaths, mostly from carbon monoxide fumes in overheated homes, mounted. Suffering grew intense among indigent and sick highways and streets rolled up traffic injuries. The valley had its first icy highways since 1926 and crashes were many.

Vegetables Gone

Smudge pots were under thousands of ripening citrus trees in the "million-dollar" Rio Grande Valley. Agriculturists warned that 27-degree wet weather would be ruinous. Young vegetables were already gone in the sleet and sub-freezing weather that struck the section early Saturday.

A slow thaw would assist recovery of carrots and cabbage, the major valley midwinter vegetable crop. The worst freeze in ten years had leaders of the $100,000,000 industry predicting losses far into the millions if temperatures continued lower.

Half of the valley's 45,000 carload citrus crop had been gathered, but fruit valued at $7,500,000 still hung on trees. Hard winds blew much of the fruit from branches, also making smudge pots impractical.

Orchard owners concentrated efforts on saving trees with the possible doom of hanging fruit.

Snow, the first in 13 years, laid a one-inch blanket around the Corpus Christi area while additional snowfall was reported around San Antonio and Laredo. Both sides of the international Rio Grande were covered with three inches of snow in the Laredo vicinity.

PLAN RELIEF

the cross-cross of referrals of persons making applications for certification between the WPA district office in Amarillo and the local welfare units. Only exception in the case of no certifications made here since November 1 has been in the matter of persons who are suspended from WPA employment after an 18-month-period had expired, who have been re-certified and re-assigned, after a certain waiting period, in conformity with a WPA ruling put into effect last autumn that require suspension of those continuously employed by the WPA for 18 months.

The action under which case workers may make certification came after McNutt persuaded high officials of the Works Progress Administration to the certification program. Connally said. He added that the approval of the plan, proposed by the County Judges and Commissioners Association, had been taken to cope with an emergency situation.

Earlier, a well-informed source, had indicated that objections of WPA officials presented a serious obstacle to approve by the board.

Texas League Will Open On South Fields

PORT WORTH, Jan. 20 (AP)—For the first time since 1910 Texas league teams from the north half of the circuit will open the season on diamonds of the southern circuit, managers voted here today in their annual meeting.

The new program, radically different from any employed in recent years, will keep the northern teams in the south for ten days during which time they will complete the entire southern swing.

The season will open April 12, with northern inaugurals scheduled April 23.

Opening day lineups pit Port Worth against the Sports at Shreveport, Dallas against the Texans at San Antonio, Tulsa against the Buffs at Houston, and Oklahoma City against the Exporters at Beaumont.

The same teams meet in the northern circuit.

Routine business accomplished by the league chiefs included:

1. Setting date of the annual north-south all-star game, which previously had been awarded to Port Worth for Thursday night, July 11, July 16 was set as an alternate date.

2. League bonus of $2,500 awarded each year to players of teams finishing in first division.

3. Clubs' position on salary limits was clarified with regard to optional players, whose original contract with parent organization called for pay obviously not in line with Texas league standards.

4. Waiver price was lifted from $750 to $1,000. Other waiver law points remained unchanged.

5. New rookie rule and player limit was discussed. Player limit, previously raised from 17 to 18 men, now must include three rookies, if there are 18 men on the squad.

6. A unique definition of rookie was established since any player will be regarded as a rookie who has not played on a team of higher class.

7. President J. Alvin Gardner proposed the league investigate possibilities of air travel as a means of transporting all ball clubs.

8. A committee, consisting of Bonneau Peters of Shreveport, Guy Aitken of San Antonio, John Holland of Oklahoma City and George Schepps of Dallas, was appointed to study the matter.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

Faced by Sam Fenberg who rolled one game of 221 pins and a series of 612 pins, E. and M. Cafe took two out of three games from The Texas company in an Oilbees league game at Berry alley Friday night.

James-Everett swept a three-game series from the Kiwanis club. High game of the night went to Taylor with 224 pins.

Behrman's Shop won two out of three games from Coca Cola in a postponed women's league game. Mrs. John Weeks of Coca Cola rolled a game of 226 pins and a series of 543 pins.

On Thursday night Coca Cola took two out of three from Behrman's in a scheduled game instead of Behrman's taking three as previously reported.

Wildlife Increases in Southern Great Plains

During the long period of drought in the Southern Great Plains which brought the black blizzards and dust storms, food and shelter for wildlife was reduced to such an extent that some species almost disappeared from the Plains. Within recent years the ever-increasing use of soil conservation practices has been of great benefit in increasing valuable wildlife. Lack of vegetation around stock watering ponds (upper left) prevents use by wildlife, while development to encourage wildlife (upper right) results in production of ducks and other valuable species. Plants along the banks also reduce wave-cutting and catch silt. Control of gullies by use of trees, shrubs and grasses (lower left) provides homes for quail and song birds. Field border plantings for wind erosion control (lower right) supply food and shelter for wildlife on the Plains. Such birds compensate farmers for this help by aiding in insect control. Soil Conservation Service technicians declare.

Wildlife is increasing in what once was called the Dust Bowl.

The increased use of soil and water conservation practices with the result that vegetation has been improved and that hundreds of small ponds now dot the Plains country, providing food and homes for wildlife, has been responsible to a considerable extent for these gains, according to Philip Allan, a regional biologist of the Soil Conservation Service in the Southern Great Plains.

"Wildlife is a natural resource largely in the hands of farmers and ranchers," Allan pointed out. "Fifty per cent of the country is agricultural land, and about 80 per cent of the game taken annually, such as quail, rabbits, pheasants and other small animals, is classified as farm game. This resource is economically valuable to the land owner and to the nation. An estimated one billion dollars flows into trade channels each year from the various pursuits of wildlife, while indirect benefits probably would more than double this figure. Known instances of reduction in insect and rodent damage attributable to birds and mammals give only an inkling of the vast benefits derived from wildlife."

The presence and abundance of wild animals is linked directly with the soil and vegetation of an area, the biologist declared. A good cover of crops, grasses, herbs, and woody plants is essential in providing for the needs of wildlife on the farm. These plants also are closely linked to the conservation of other farm resources, particularly soil and water, Allan pointed out.

Various soil conservation practices now in use on farms and ranches in the Southern Great Plains are showing appreciable results in restoring and increasing wildlife. Allan said. The protection and development of vegetation in gullies as an erosion control method is improving conditions for wildlife. On one ranch in the Texas Panhandle such practices have increased quail by 87.5 per cent within three years. Planted gullies in Colorado last year provided nesting sites for sharp-tailed grouse, according to the biologist.

Development of farm and ranch ponds in connection with water conservation and livestock programs offers excellent opportunities for wildlife improvement. It is pointed out. The biologist cited one Southern Great Plains ranch where there were no ducks nesting prior to construction of a pond. The year following the construction there were three broods, and 20 broods during the second year. Another ranch showed a 200 per cent increase in ducks a year after a pond was built. Tree plantings being made under direction of the Soil Conservation Service include shrub borders of species which provide food and shelter for wildlife. These plantings are proving attractive to quail as well as to other game birds.

Reports from Colorado to the south-ern Texas Panhandle and from eastern New Mexico to Oklahoma reveal that coyves are seeking shelter in the protection of the trees. Insect-eating songbirds, too, are finding nesting sites in such A Texas Panhandle farmer has observed that unharvested grain in a border strip is attracting large numbers of birds. He welcomes them for their destruction of insects in his nearby fields.

Retirement of severely eroded cultivated and pasture land permits natural growth of plants which makes such areas a source of wildlife production, the biologist said. The fencing of croplands, unproductive of forage for livestock, often results in rapid increases in wildlife. Allan pointed out. Such methods as these are producing definite results for quail now have returned and are nesting on several ranches where they had not been seen for years.

Acres for a wildlife crop may be as valuable as a cultivated crop, Allan declared. He cited one Colorado rancher who makes about $60 an acre from the trapping of muskrats and leasing of duck hunting privileges, and reports that jack rabbits last year brought $1,500 to a group of ranchers who sold the carcasses to fur farmers for feed.

Pampa Beats Thalia 27-13 To Win Meet

The Harvest basketball team won the Shamrock invitational tournament for the second consecutive year last night in the finals, defeating Thalia of Ford county, 27 to 13.

Pampa advanced into the finals by trouncing Panhandle 20 to 13 in the semi-final game Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Saturday morning they defeated Phillips 30 to 22. By playing three games yesterday the Pampa quintet was the "strong man" team of the meet.

McLean's Tigers gave the Harvesters the closest battle. They nosed out the other Cray county team 31 to 30 yesterday morning. The Mobeetic girls defeated Briscoe 41 to 28 for the girls' title.

Perryton won the consolation honors, beating Kellon 10 to 16.

Dunaway and Houston were named on the all-tournament team, as were McKinley of Thalia, Cooper of Phillips and Lilly of Perryton. Robinson of Panhandle was named best displaying basketball player, and that honor was also won by Bertice Williams of Briscoe in the girls' division.

Thalia, a team of midgets looking as if they weighed about 100 pounds each, according to a Pampa spectator attending the game, beat the Pampa reserves 26 to 7 yesterday morning, and later Shamrock 44 to 27.

Demaret And Goggin Go To Golf Finals

By RUSS NEWLAND SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20 (AP)—Charging home in par-shattering stretch drives, Willie Goggin, San Francisco professional, and Jimmy Demaret, Houston, Texas, entry, became finalists today in the $5,000 Santa Francisco match play open golf tournament.

The two survivors of a 200-plus starting field of the country's leading fairway marksmen will meet tomorrow over the par 36-72 Lake Merced course for first money of $1,000.

Goggin, completing a two-day rout of some of the biggest names in golf, crashed through his semi-final 18 with a 2 and 1 victory over Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Demaret polished off a former Texas and defending San Francisco open champion, Dick Metz of Oak Park, Ill., 4 and 2.

The winners finished their next-to-the-last round in three under par figures. Goggin was one down to Wood at the ninth but first four birdies at his rival on the incoming stretch to take the lead at the 11th for the first time and maintain the advantage until the match ended on his 17th, each carding birdies from long putts.

Demaret, after holding a one-up lead three times on the first nine, and rounding the turn one up, chalked up three birdies on the second nine to wind up the contest at the 16th.

The double round final will pit the 1938 San Francisco winner, Demaret, against the 1939 runner-up. Quarter and semi-final battles today provided a series of thrills for a gallery of 3,000 fans, climaxed by a hole-in-one. It was made by Metz in defeating Morton Smith, also from Oak Park, Ill., 1 up in the morning round.

Using a No. 4 wood, Metz banged the ball into the cup on the par 3, 200-yard 14th hole. It squared the match for him and he went on to win at the 18th. Before that he had been 3 down at the 14th.

Demaret worked into the semi-finals with a 3 and 2 win over Jimmy Hines, Great Neck, L. I., while Goggin, pride of the home town contingent, bagged his third big name victory in the tournament, by defeating U. S. Open Champion Byron Nelson of Toledo, Ohio, 3 and 2. He had ten one-putt greens.

Demaret, veteran Fort Worth golfer, has moved to San Antonio. Insiders say, unpublicized that Arkansas' Frosh basketball team is the best in conference history.

In their last two games the Porker freshmen have tallied 79 and 90 points.

Today's guest: Columnist Lorin McMullen, Fort Worth Star-Telegram. "This space formerly was allotted to cracks at Tennessee and Duke football schedules."

Announcements of the Texas Aggies' 1940 eight-game lineup makes further such remarks unseemly and notice is hereby given that the practice has been permanently discontinued.

The dope is that Jimmy Kitts, ousted Rice coach, will watch his football from the stands and enter the oil business. Coach Morley Jennings at Baylor, despite loss of his veteran line, has been quoted as saying he will have the best Baylor team in his career—"if nothing happens."

Kyle Gillespie, the Texas Christian boy who was sensational while hobbling around on one leg during the past grid season, submitted to that knee operation and physicians think he will be good as new.

Incidentally, the IOU line next fall should average about 210 pounds, with Glenn Sparks, erstwhile full-back, doing a regular turn at end.

Two of the burliest fullbacks in grid history, John Kimbrough and Bronko Nagurski, will be honor guests at the Houston Press Club's

H-S Pays Tribute To Mascot, 'Damit'

ABILENE, Jan. 20 (AP)—A tribute to the memory of Damit, college mascot, for "traits all of us should have," was paid here this afternoon at a gathering of students and faculty members on the Hardin-Simmons university campus, on the 20th anniversary of the death of the bulldog.

College mascot from 1916 to 1920, Damit was considered a member of their class by graduates of 1920.

"Damit was faithful in attending chapel, and very reverent. He had tenacity and stickability," said the Rev. Dr. Gharrierson, Snyder minister and member of the class of 1920, who also delivered the oration at Damit's funeral 20 years ago.

"Damit was punctual and prompt in attendance at classes. He knew the value of time, and didn't spend all his either in mathematics or campus life, but did library work and history research," said the minister, inviting his listeners to review Damit's character "to learn better how to live."

J. D. Sandefur Jr., another "classmate" of Damit, now a Breckenridge oil man and state parks board member, was master of ceremonies.

To climax the campus ceremony, as the school's cowboy band played, Jack Dean, El Paso, student president, completed erection of a grave marker, reproducing a Robert (believe it or not) Ripley "Damit he is Dead" cartoon of several years ago.

Smudge Pots Burning In Florida Area

(By The Associated Press)
Wintery weather menaced multi-million dollar fruit and vegetable crops in the deep south yesterday (Saturday).

Cold waves barged into the southeast and southwest while the icy north expected little relief and the risk of deaths attributed to a week of frigidly lengthened to include 141 victims in 27 states.

Sub-freezing conditions extended far into the rich Florida citrus belt. No damage was reported but growers prepared for another night of leading smudge pots when the weather bureau forecast "not much change in temperature except slightly colder on the south coast."

Minimum readings included 18 above in Pensacola, Fla., 21 in Jacksonville and 49 in Miami. A low of seven above was reported in Atlanta, in Alabama, where the mercury dropped to two above in Florence and eight above in Birmingham, Charles J. Brookway, county farm agent at Mobile, estimated damage to the cabbage crop alone at more than $85,000.

Cold, snow and sleet moved toward the St. Louis area, the fruit belt in the Rio Grande valley of Texas. Thousands of smudge fires were arranged to ward off the chill of an expected siege of 27-degree weather. Government agriculturists opined such severity would be ruinous.

Coldest in Maine
Continued cold was predicted for most of the states in the east and midwest although some moderation was in sight. Subzero readings were general in the northern section of New England but a measure of relief was in prospect. Greenville, Me., with -20, established the nation's nadir.

The lowest marks of the season were reported in some eastern centers. These included an unofficial -10 at Satan's Kingdom, Conn., and official minima of -9 at High Point, N. J., -8 at Hartford, Conn., and 9 above at New York City.

In Maryland Big Savage reported -8 and Frostburg -5. Pennsylvania thermometers rose slightly after sinking as far as 12 below. The principal rivers were choked by ice jams.

Ohio river traffic was tied up at Louisville. The Missouri was frozen at St. Charles for the first time since 1926.

Most of the west and midwest enjoyed a rise in temperatures, but the range was still on the subnormal side.

A new tabulation of deaths attributed directly and indirectly to snow, ice and cold in 27 states increased the total to 141. These included 27 from exposure, 32 in traffic accidents, 82 in fires and 20 traced to other causes.

Small States Urged To War Against Nazis

By ROBERT BUNELLE
LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Europe's fear-ridden neutral nations were urged tonight by sharp-tongued Winston Churchill to join Britain and France in "united action" to speed the war against Nazi Germany and end and warned grimly that otherwise the flames of conflict would envelope them.

Asserting that the small states are the "victims upon whom Hitler's hate and spite descend," the first lord of the admiralty declared in a radio broadcast which reached all the neutrals and was relayed in the United States.

"They (the neutrals) comfort themselves that the allies will win. Each one hopes that the storm will pass before his turn comes to be devoured. But I greatly fear that the storm will not pass. It will rage and it will roar even more loudly, even more widely. It will spread to the south. It will spread to the north. There is no chance of a speedy end except through united action."

"Shameful Peace" Scored
If at any time France and Britain, "wearying of the struggle, were to make a shameful peace," Churchill added, "nothing would remain for the smaller states of Europe with their shipping and possessions but to be divided between opposite, though similar, barbarisms of Nazidom and Bolshevism."

Then he asked: "What would happen if all the neutrals that I have mentioned and some others I have not mentioned were to do their duty in accordance with the covenant of the League of Nations and stand with the French and British against the aggressor?"

For themselves, Churchill said, the allies were not concerned over the "numbers do not count us," he cried, "but judged even by the test of numbers, we have no reason to doubt that once the latent and rapidly growing power of our great nation and empire are brought, as they must be, fully in line with the magnificent efforts of the French republic, then even in mass and weight we shall not be found wanting."

Never before, in any naval war, Churchill declared, "have things gone so well with us."

Churchill spoke a short time after Lord Halifax, British foreign secretary, had asserted in a broadcast address at Leeds that the war issued was "the liberty and independence of our own country and commonwealth and of all European states."

Halifax said Germany had lost her "only chance" of winning the war by failing to launch a wholesale offensive.

He added that the only reason "why peace cannot be made tomorrow is that the German government has not yet given any evidence of their readiness to repair the damage wrought upon weaker nations or their capacity to convince the world that any pledge to which they may subscribe is worth more than the paper on which it is written."

Churchill declared Britain is "more confident day by day of our ability to police the seas and oceans and to keep open and active the waterways by which we live and along which we shall draw the means of victory."

"Half of Subs Sunk"
"It seems pretty certain tonight," he said, "that half the U-boats with which Germany began the war have been sunk and that their new building has fallen far behind what we expected."

Bluntly he told Europe's small neutral states, however, that "only with the British and French convoys is safety to be found" and declared: "neutral ships are being sunk without mercy."

"The Dutch, the Belgians, the Danes, the Swedes and above all the western powers, chief among them the United States,"

Arrangements are about complete for Japan's installation of Wang Ching-Wei in Nanking as the president, premier or leader of the new China—meaning that portion of China occupied by Japanese troops.

Wang Ching-Wei, a poet in his fifties, who was once premier under Chiang Kai-Shek and deserted him in December, 1938, about the time of the sinking of the American gunboat Panay by Japanese airplanes, is expected to invite the western powers to collaborate with him in the development of a new China.

He will offer certain inducements, such as the reopening of the Yangtze river, already announced by the Japanese, and even the gradual withdrawal of Japanese troops from China, and he will point out to the western powers the advantage of recognizing his government.

If such a communication arrives here, it will be carefully interred in a government pigeonhole, with the probability that not even a notice of interment will be issued.

And rather than promoting the chances of conclusion of a new Japanese-American trade treaty, establishment of a government under Wang Ching-Wei appears likely to retard the possibility of such a development.

Finnish Madonna and Babe

Driven across the border by fear of Russian invaders, this young Finnish mother lies on bed of straw in crude shelter at Torneo, Sweden, and lucks baby, born during flight, in packing case "cradle."

Norwegians have their ships destroyed whenever they can be caught upon the high seas," he said. "With the British convoys, on the other hand, Churchill said, "there is a 50 per cent chance against being sunk."

The Netherlands, Belgium and other neutrals have refused British convoys for their shipping.

"We must always be expecting something new or bad from Germany," the first Lord of the Admiralty went on, "but I will venture to say that it is with growing confidence that we await the further developments or variants of their attack."

"Here we are tonight, after nearly five months of all they can do against us on the seas, with the first U-boat campaign for the time being broken, with the mining menace in good control with our shipping virtually undiminished, with all the oceans of the world free from surface raiders."

First Testimony Heard In Trial Of McAllen Physician
EDINBURG, Jan. 20 (AP)—Testimony of the physician who examined the body of the dead woman was placed before the grand jury today in the trial of Dr. L. J. Montague on charges of slaying his wife the night of April 20, last year.

Dr. H. E. Whigham of McAllen said he examined the body at the request of the justice of the peace and found that Mrs. Velma Montague had died within a minute after a bullet tore into her heart.

The jury was completed today after a week of questioning. More than a day was required to agree on the twelfth juror.

In questioning veniremen last Monday Lieut. Gov. Coke Stevenson, defense counsel, asked if they would be guided by a law that "says a man is not guilty of murder when he catches his wife and a man together in adultery and kills the man and accidentally kills the wife."

F. C. Humphrey, a San Antonio salesman, was in Mrs. Montague's sedan when she was shot on a roadside. He was wounded.

Britain Flatly Rejects U. S. Protest Against Censorship

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Flatly rejecting the United States' protest against the removal of American mail for censorship from British, United States and other neutral ships, the British government tonight said there was "clear evidence of the existence of an organized traffic in contraband on a considerable scale between German sympathizers in the United States and Germany through the mail."

The rejection, made in a lengthy note, contended that the situation regarding such contraband traffic is identical with that of 1926. It referred to an aide memoire transmitted to the United States authorities on November 23 of last year citing proof of such traffic, and added: "An article in a newspaper published in Germany in the United States," transmitted at the same time, "showed that an organization existed in United States territory for the purpose of facilitating this traffic."

The British rejection of the United States protest was based on the contention that a belligerent has the right under international law to assure itself that ocean-going mail bags and their contents do not contain contraband.

It was the second time within a week that the British had turned down a suggestion from across the Atlantic that Britain was infringing American rights.

London told the Americas last Monday that she could not respect their neutrality belt proclaimed in the Panama declaration, except under stringent conditions. At that time Britain reserved her belligerent rights until the safety zone scheme could operate "satisfactorily."

May Omit Bermuda
Before the publication of British rejection Secretary Hull said in Washington that Bermuda might be omitted as a point of call for trans-Atlantic clipper planes if the British persisted in censoring mails carried by them. Hull indicated this might be considered as a last resort. His comment followed announcement that all trans-Atlantic air mail would be censored by British authorities at Bermuda, only British point now touched by the clippers.

"The view of His Majesty's government as regards the examination of mail in ships of the high seas or involuntarily entering British ports is that the immunity conferred by article one of the Hague convention No. 11 (eleven) . . . is enjoyed only by genuine postal correspondence," the British note said, adding that:

"A belligerent is therefore at liberty to examine mail and bags and, if necessary, their contents in order to assure himself that they constitute such correspondence and not articles of a noxious character such as contraband."

World War Cited
The United States cited the Hague convention in protesting that it could not admit the right of the British to interfere with all U. S. mails in British, United States or other neutral ships.

The British note said Washington did admit Britain's right to censor private mails originating in or destined for the United Kingdom or private mails which normally pass through the United Kingdom for transmission to their final destination.

The British reply declared that precedent for Britain's current censorship practices was established in the world war when it declared none of the belligerents accepted the view that article one of the Hague convention "constituted an absolute prohibition of interference with mail bags."

The bride is in France and the groom is in Belgium in this picture of an odd wedding that took place recently at Honschote, Franco-Belgian frontier town. They could not be married in either France or Belgium, so they were wed with the bride sitting on one side of the frontier line and the groom on the other. U. S. Prepared To Ignore Jap Puppets In China
WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—As the commercial treaty between Japan and the United States approaches an end next Friday, Japan is preparing to set up a new government in China which she hopes will be approved by the United States—but reliable opinion here is that officials are set to say "no!"

Some officials believe this may be Japan's method of seeking to introduce peace in China and obviate her growing difficulties with the western powers, chief among them the United States.

Arrangements are about complete for Japan's installation of Wang Ching-Wei in Nanking as the president, premier or leader of the new China—meaning that portion of China occupied by Japanese troops.

Wang Ching-Wei, a poet in his fifties, who was once premier under Chiang Kai-Shek and deserted him in December, 1938, about the time of the sinking of the American gunboat Panay by Japanese airplanes, is expected to invite the western powers to collaborate with him in the development of a new China.

600 Millions To Be Spent In Drilling Oil Wells In 1940
HOUSTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Approximately $600,000,000 will be spent in drilling oil and gas wells in the United States this year, a survey by the Oil Weekly showed today.

Ray Dudley, publisher of the magazine, released the figure, along with others which will appear in a future issue, as he prepared to leave on a tour of South American oil fields.

"This figure," he said, "represents a sizeable increase—about $35,000,000 over last year."

GOOD LIGHTING DOES THIS TO DARNING

Why is darning so much harder than reading? Because the color of the darning cotton and material is usually about the same. . . the materials are often dark and absorb much of the light. . . and threads and needles are small. Better lighting reduces the handicap of poor color contrast between the darning cotton and the goods. More light compensates for the dark material, and also serves to "magnify" the size of the needle and thread.

Next time you darn or sew, try a 100-watt MAZDA lamp bulb in a good lamp beside your chair. You'll get through in much less time with much less effort, and the finished work will be better done. . . Why not phone our Home Service Department today and ask one of our trained advisors to call and help you with your lighting problems. Telephone Exchange 0000.

Nazi Morale Expected To Break Soon

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
In nearly five months of war between Germany and the Franco-British allies, traffic fatalities due to the grim nightly "blackouts" of cities have far exceeded the known battle deaths.

Men are still safer at the front than at home in dread-darkened cities. They are still safer in the air and on the mine-stream, U-boat haunted seas than on blacked-out city streets.

The aggregate black-out casualty toll of all three belligerents can be surmised only from the fact that in England alone it is so startling a figure that Parliament is scheduled to debate that unexpected phase of modern war this week.

Here is a fresh problem laid in the laps of the Allies, all nations by this war. Paralleling the world's inventive genius on ways and means of curbing the black-out casualty consequences. Unchecked, that toll of life and limb incident to essential defense of cities from air attack could wear on public morale more seriously than the most ruthless enemy action.

National morale, which means the will of an overwhelming majority of the citizens of a country, is the indispensable factor in this war, as in any other. It is the target at which counter propaganda barrages are aimed by both sides. It is the objective of Allied siege strategy against Germany.

Behind the fact that five months of war in Europe have not yet produced a major offensive lies the belief of Franco-British leadership that German morale cannot long endure the strain of the Allied sea, air and land offensives.

London and Paris are betting that history will repeat itself in this war. They believe Fuhrer Adolf Hitler, far less firmly placed on the seats of the mighty than was the Kaiser, there are those among neutral observers who have visited war-time Germany who concur in that judgment. Some will tell you that three-fourths of the German people, actuated by varying causes, are opposed to Hitlerism; that a far larger percentage is against this particular war with France and England.

Others hardly less familiar with what is happening in Germany behind the screen of censorship sharply disagree. They insist that whatever pools of public resentment Hitler's policies have created, German mass public opinion is with him in demanding a place in the sun for Germany.

Regular monthly Gray county Boy Scout board of review will be held Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Boy Scout office in the city hall here. Dr. C. H. Shulkey, chairman, will preside.

All Scouts seeking advancement in rank above first class and merit badges will appear before the board. The Court of Honor, at which advancements will be made and merit badges awarded, will be held the night of January 27 in the district courtroom here with the Rev. W. M. Pearce, chairman, presiding.

TCU Colors On Texas Automobile License Plates For This Year

Even such a commonplace article as an automobile license plate need not be drab in color and there can even be a bit of glamor in the selection of the colors used on the plates.

Gray county's shipment of more than 10,000 license plates, for all types of motor vehicles, was received about two weeks ago at the office of County Tax Assessor Collector F. E. Leech. The plates go on sale February 1, can be attached to motor vehicles on March 1, and must be obtained before the first of the succeeding month.

Unemployment Drop Hints Of Better Times

An indication of better times was contained in a story released today by Lonnie Hood, senior interviewer of the Texas State Employment service here stating that the number of applicants seeking work at the present time through the service was 995 as compared with 1,963 at the beginning of 1939.

The Texas State Employment service during the past year found regular employment for 844 applicants, of whom 328 were men, 516 were women, and 19 were men who were war veterans. The term "regular employment" means a job lasting longer than 90 days.

Of the 1,993 new applications received by the office in 1939, 1,500 were made by men, 493 by women, and 43 of the men were veterans. During the year 752 visits were made to employers. Of the total number of visits, 555 were re-visits.

Temporary farm placements made in the Pampa area during 1939 totaled 294, other temporary jobs filled through the local office 2,093, of which 1,622 were for men, 471 for women, and 32 of the men were veterans.

The Pampa office of the Texas State Employment service, an affiliate of the United States Employment service, assists workers in Gray, Wheeler, Hemphill and Roberts counties in filing unemployment benefit claims.

WHICH SHALL IT BE...? Armament or Re-Education

Who Is Mr. Rustgard?

John Rustgard was born on a farm in Norway in 1863. He went to sea as a cabin-boy on a sailing ship when fifteen years old, at a salary of three dollars per month. At the age of seventeen he moved to Minnesota, worked at anything he could find to do, and with his own savings put himself through high school and college, graduating from the law department of the University of Minnesota in 1890.

He has lived a strenuous existence and has seen life from many angles. Since leaving Alaska, he has written several books: "The Problem of Poverty," "Bottom Side Up," "Sharing the Wealth" and "International Vagaries."

Of "Sharing the Wealth," Roger Babson said if any man buys the book and does not want it and will send it to him, he will give him his money back; that he has no financial interest in Mr. Rustgard or the publisher.

Men of broad experience believe WAR has a very definite cause: The ONE PROBLEM is to get enough of the people to UNDERSTAND the CAUSE OF WAR! When this is accomplished . . . we will have PEACE and permanent PROSPERITY!

The News has secured the rights to run in serial form a very plain presentation on this subject. It was written in 1939 by John Rustgard under the title of "International Vagaries", or "Armament or Economic Re-education—Which?" This enlightening book sets forth how permitting wealth to be freely produced and exchanged is NOT a moral sacrifice, but a profitable venture. He points out that if the people realized this TRUTH, they would not do things that bring on WARS.

The first installment of this wonderful presentation will start in The News in a few days. If you want to be better able to help yourself and fellowman, be sure to read this series.

Miss Clarabel Jones Named President By Members Of Sub Deb Club

"The Escape" To Be Revived By Mrs. Hahn Soon

Mrs. H. H. Hahn will give a review of Ethel Vance's exciting adventure story, "The Escape," the October Book-of-the-Month club choice, next Saturday afternoon, January 27, at 3 o'clock in the parochial school auditorium as a benefit to the Holy Souls Parent-Teacher association.

In a review of "The Escape" given in the New York Times Book Review, Edith H. Walton has said that despite the fact that the plot is vivid with excitement, the author is more interested in her characters' secret inner lives than in the violence to which they are exposed. She is interested primarily, not in what nations have done to men's bodies, but in what it has done to their groping and divided souls.

"The Escape" is packed with excitement, suspense, and tension, with humor to lighten the grimness of its enshrouding circumstances, dispassionate despite its acidity, and with characters that are vivid, vivacious, and convincing, according to Amy Loveman in the Saturday Review of Literature.

Its Barry in the New York Herald Tribune "Books" said, "A haunting novel, and international melodrama, and a subtle study of human nature. Her story is one of fast-moving events and unshakable suspense, but it takes place on contrasting levels—in the world of action and in the world of imagination, too."

Mrs. Hahn, formerly English and Texas history teacher in the Pampa schools, received her degree from the Boston college and since has given several reviews in Pampa.

The public is invited to attend.

MacMurray, Carrol Teamed In Smart Comedy

Paramount Film Listed For Latter Part Of Week

Enlivened with gay, clever dialogue, delivered with snap and excellent timing, Paramount's "Honeycomb in Bali," showing at the La-Nora Friday and Saturday, is an exhilarating, sophisticated social comedy.

The direction is smooth, the cast unusually well-chosen, and the musical background is gracefully sublimated in the story. A successful, attractive woman executive finds great satisfaction in her work and in the calm devotion of an opera singer until a stranger from Bali upsets her emotional control.

There is so much truth in the underlying theme and it is so intelligently and lightly treated that one does not feel it betrays the "warmer" woman. Tiny Carolyn Lee adds a refreshing note to the picture, which has Fred MacMurray and Madeleine Carroll in the leading roles.

Opening the week at the La-Nora is a Sonja Henie picture; at the Crown, "Reno," with Richard Dix and Gail Patrick in the leading roles. A Gene Autry western is showing today, tomorrow, and Tuesday at the Rex, while the State booking for today and tomorrow is the 20th Century-Fox production "Stanley and Livingstone."

LaNORA
Sonja Henie's latest 20th Century-Fox picture is "Everything Happens at Night," a story of an excited statesman starting the world with his revelations and pleas for peace from his Alpine hideaway.

A Darryl F. Zanuck production, directed by Irving Cummings. Ray Milland and Robert Cummings, with Sonja, are the principals in the cast.

The dread darkening of the French capital as the air raid sirens shriek is the signal that plunges Charlie Chan into a suspenseful mystery in his latest film "Charlie Chan in City of Darkness." There is no blackout of crime despite the fear of bombs, the famed sleuth discovers in the 20th Century-Fox film. Showing Wednesday and Thursday.

Also at the LaNora Wednesday and Thursday is the Dixie Jubilee stage show, and the Vitaphone short subject "The Monroe Doctrine." It's the dramatic story of President Monroe's special document, one of the most important in world history, and its application to American progress through the presidential terms of Polk, Fillmore, Cleveland and Theodore Roosevelt. A timely subject and a vital factor in teaching Americanism.

United as the romantic stars of RKO Radio's stirring drama, "Reno," starting in the colorful period when the Nevada city was merely a pioneer mining town, the absorbing story traces the lives of an attorney and his wife during the years before and after Reno becomes famous as the divorce capital of the world.

Dix portrays a lawyer who takes advantage of a little known law that makes Nevada the easiest city in which to obtain a divorce. Miss Patrick is seen as his devoted wife who unhappily finds herself caught in the wheels of the divorce mill her husband has created for others.

BUSTLE, BUSTLE, LITTLE STAR

When you see the ladies of 1905 in RKO Radio's "Reno," and you wonder what gives them that certain stern look, here's a semi-closeup behind the scenes. No wonder folks of those days had a bustling time of it, eh what? The lady who's being gracious enough to show us is Astrid Allwyn, one of the more delightful eye-fillers in support of Richard Dix and Gail Patrick in this thrilling screen saga of old Nevada days. Showing at the Crown, today, tomorrow, and Tuesday.

SHOW LEADER

Buddy Dunn

Stage Show Will Be Presented By LaNora Theater

An innovation in the program of the LaNora theater is the appearance on the stage Wednesday and Thursday of a stage show, "Dixie Jubilee," featuring Buddy Dunn, comedian and impersonator. Buddy hails from Georgia, but was born in Brooklyn.

Included in the list of celebrities he imitates are: Adolph Hitler, an average American, Joe Penner, Ben Bernie, Donald Duck, Walter Winchell, his idea of the speed star Malcolm Campbell was making when he broke a world's record, and Eddie Cantor.

Betty Harbert, 19 year old Kansas City tap, toe tap and strut dancer. Cleo Rivers, 20 year old Meridian, Miss., singer, are other members of the company.

Included in the novelties that "The Musical Notes" perform is the ghost dance by the bass man, Jeff Ventley, Chuck Butcher's playing of the vibratrap, the hot Joe Venuti style of violin playing by Cliff Reed, and the singing guitarist, Glenn (Curly Locks) West, who is also one of the three that the show features in their vocal trio.

Poll Shows "Mr. Chips" Best Of 1939 Pictures

By BROWNWOOD EMBERSON

Hitting the target only three times out of 10 doesn't make an impressive record—but that's all I could do in pitting my opinion against 641 other reviewers in the Film Daily's 1939 annual poll on the 10 best pictures of 1939.

My selection of "Goodbye Mr. Chips" as the No. 1 picture and "Mr. Smith Goes To Washington" for No. 2 rang the bell in order, and "Stanley and Livingstone," another selection, ranked ninth.

Only 10 other reviewers joined me in picking "Made For Each Other," 11 in "Dust Be My Destiny," 15 for "The Great Man Votes," 35 for "Dodge City," and 45 for "Only Angels Have Wings." "Invitation to Happiness" didn't even rate on the list of "The Forty-Niners," but "Love Affair" missed the top ranking 10 by only 38 votes.

The first 10, with number of votes, were: "Goodbye Mr. Chips," 472; "Mr. Smith Goes To Washington," 433; "Pygmalion," 349; "Wuthering Heights," 283; "Dark Victory," 280; "The Women," 254; "The Wizard of Oz," 244; "Juarez," 218; "Stanley and Livingstone," 213; "The Old Maid," 166.

SERIAL STORY BLACKOUT

BY RUTH AYERS

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Vincent saw her. She started to say, "Please— for my sake," she tried to say. He shook off her hand from his arm. "So long," he said almost jauntily. "I love you, but I'd rather face a firing squad than stay here a prisoner. If you won't go with me, I'm going alone."

As a mechanic stepped out of the plane, Vincent leaped in, pulling off his helmet and goggles. The plane taxied along the runway and then lifted, its wings at sharp angles against the morning sun.

Standing there motionless, Mary knew then that when he went some part of her life went with him. Always she'd remember the way he'd smiled and the crooked lift of his eyebrow. He loved her—the gay part of it—the carefree part.

She knew, too, that Vincent had planned all this. The borrowed car, the waiting plane. He'd even used her to shield his getaway. Yes, he'd rather die than be imprisoned. Perhaps he was in this spy plot deeper than she knew. But even if he were, she could never hate him—she could only pity him.

TURNING toward Vincent's car, Mary saw another auto pulling down the sandy road. Startled, she thought it was a Scotland Yard patrol. Instead, she began to tremble when she saw Gilbert Lenox's red head.

She ran towards him, her arms outstretched. "Oh, Gilbert," she cried. "You're the one person in all the world I want to see most. Vincent's gone. I couldn't stop him."

"I know," Gilbert put her head against his shoulder. "As soon as you walked out of the hospital, I knew I had to follow you, foolish, loyal little idiot that you are. I kept track of you when you joined Vincent at the tobacco shop. There were some awful minutes when I thought you might weaken and try to go with him. But when I guessed his destination was this air field, something told me you would stay behind."

Mary broke down in the comforting protection of Gilbert's strong arms. "I'll have to go to Scotland Yard at once," she began in a strangled voice. "It's my fault that Vincent got away."

"Come on," Gilbert said gently, "although I've a hunch you don't have to worry. The morning papers are filled with your wonderful feat. You're England's heroine today—and I'm proud you have my name."

She could only stare at him, all her heart looking out of her eyes. She'd wanted to spare him this hateful publicity—and here he was, glowing with pride in her.

In Inspector Babcock's office, it was as busy as it had been hours before in the excitement of Carla Marchetta's capture.

not your fault. And it really doesn't matter for the present. The Regency is saved and we've had a full confession from Felix, the Marchetta woman's real confederate. There's time enough to get the other members of the ring."

He leaned closer, his eyes feverishly as they rested on her drawn face. "Because of the great service you've done for us, we were prepared to do nothing worse to your sweetheart than to exile him. And now he's done that himself."

"Thank you," Mary's head dropped. No time now to explain to Inspector Babcock that Vincent was no longer her sweetheart. Her last loyalty to him had ended when he'd waved goodbye from the plane.

GILBERT was waiting for her in his car outside. "All set?" and he was smiling.

Joy at the sight of him overflowed in Mary. This red-headed doctor was so strong, so steady, so exactly everything that a real man should be.

"It's like coming home," she sighed as she leaned against him. "You bet it is," Gilbert said huskily. "I've loved you right from the start—in the air raid that first night and from the minute you were brought into the hospital as Anna Winters."

Anna's name brought a thousand memories flooding back. Anna Winters, the dear, gentle English girl who'd died on the Moravia. But Anna, dead, had lived in on the happiness she'd taken her name.

"No time for tears," Gilbert was saying, his handkerchief patting her cheeks. If all Scotland Yard had been looking from the windows, he wouldn't have cared as he bent to kiss her.

As if it had been a signal, sun broke through the London fog. "Happy is the bride," Mary murmured, "the sun shines on."

No blackout could ever blot out her happiness again.

12 Oil And 5 Gas Wells Tested In Panhandle

Wildcat Will Be Drilled In Amarillo

A wildcat test for oil and gas will be drilled within the Amarillo city limits. A contract has been signed by the City of Amarillo with the Amarillo Gas company to develop 136 acres for gas production and to drill a 4,000-foot test for oil.

Sections of land in the Thompson survey, the municipal airport and a piece of land near the smelter were leased to the company, the city receiving a lease bonus of $5,622.50. The first test, to be started within 60 days, will be located in the Thompson survey on the north edge of the city.

Twelve new oil wells and five gas wells were gauged last week adding 4,724 barrels of oil and 134,498,000 cubic feet of gas to the field potential.

A wildcat gas well was completed in Sherman county during the week but it has not yet been given an official potential by the rail-road commission. The well, the Hagy, Harrington and Marsh No. 1 Freeman in section 42, block 2, GH&H survey, was unofficially tested for 15,455,000 cubic feet. The test is nine miles southwest of Texoma and five miles from nearest production.

Although not exactly a wildcat, the Phillips Petroleum company completed a big gas well three miles from nearest production when its No. 1 Kane in section 321, block 44, H&TC survey, gauged 67,000,000 cubic feet.

Fourteen new locations, six in Gray, four in Hutchinson and two each in Carson and Wheeler counties, were staked during the week despite continued cold. Drilling was slowed up late in the week by zero weather.

Gray county led the field in new oil with a total open flow potential of 3,102 barrels from seven wells. The best producer of the year was completed by The Texas company whose No. 23 Williams in section 7, block 1, ACH&B survey, in the center of the county, was given a potential of 1,040 barrels.

A wildcat being watched with interest is the Ucan Oil company's No. 1 Farwell in section 18, block 3 X survey, Deaf Smith county, which is cleaning out at 5,850 feet.

Completions by counties follow:

In Gray County

Occupations Of Oilfield To Be Taught In Class

Classes in oilfield occupations will be organized Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in Room 206 at the high school. The vocational classes are being sponsored by the department of education and the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute. B. G. Gordon is coordinator.

It will require 12 members to organize a class. Already requests have been received to organize classes in advanced mathematics, blue print drawing and geology.

Other subjects will be taught if enough men enroll. The classes are open to anyone over 16 years of age providing he takes a subject related to his job. The charge is small, not more than $5 or $4.

Mr. Gordon is ready to organize a class for women on the care of children if enough women contact him. Plans are also being made to start a class on special duties in the home for negro women.

Last week a class in the manufacture of natural gas was organized at Phillips camp.
