

Women's Lib Cause Meets With Mixed Success, Statistics Show

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Demanding equal pay, equal jobs and equal rights, feminists rallied Saturday for the third straight year in the name of women's liberation. But statistics showed their drive has met with only mixed success.

The demonstrations str. lched from Boston to Atlanta, from San Francisco to Omaha, Neb., and included marches, workshops and fairs that drew crowds of feminists—and a few male supporters—ranging in size from several dozen to several thousand.

In San Celeme, Calif., President Nixon proclaimed Saturday as Women's Rights day and said more must be done "to ensure women every opportunity to make the fullest contribution to our progress as a nation."

His proclamation was accompanied by a White House "fact sheet" listing Nixon administration steps which it said have brought "more women in fulltime, policy-making positions in the federal government than ever before in our nation's history."

The number of women in top-level jobs annually paying $28,000 or more has increased from 36 to 118, the fact sheet said, while more than 1,000 women have been recruited for middlelevel jobs paying between $18,000 and $25,000.

Other officials who proclaimed either Friday or Saturday as Women's Rights Day included Gov. John Gilligan of Ohio and Mayors Sam Massell of Atlanta, John V. Lindsay of New York and Joseph Alioto of San Francisco.

The rallies marked the 52nd anniversary of the ratification of the 19th Amendment that granted women the right to vote and the third anniversary of the first Women's Strike for Equality. Many of the feminists aimed their efforts this year at winning adoption of the proposed 27th or equal rights amendment, already ratified by 20 states.

A Cambridge, Mass., feminist fair was highlighted by voting for "the worst male chauvinist pig of the year." Candidates were singer Tom Jones, producer David Suskind, author Norman Mailer, Boston Globe columnist George Frazier, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and author C.G. Payette.

A coalition of 20 women's groups in Philadelphia sponsored a march from Independence Hall to Rittenhouse Square. Among the coalition members were such diverse groups as the YWCA, the National Organization for Women, Black Panther Women, the Attica Brigade and Lesbian organizations. "We all have a stake in obtaining equal rights," said Linda Byron, one of the organizers, "since we are all victims of some form of oppression because we were born female."

U.S. Sen. Edward Gurney, R-Fla., told 100 women at a rally in Coral Gables, Fla., that "This year marked a big year for women's Congress." He added, however, "Much has yet to be done to assure equal economic opportunity."

The League of Women Voters predicted that the amendment barring discrimination because of sex would win approval by the required 38 states in May, 1973.

"If the pattern continues to hold, we should be celebrating the enactment of the 27th Amendment in May of next year," Lucy Wilson Benson, president of the league, said in a statement.

The league also released voting figures indicating that in the 1972 elections women could, for the first time, vote in greater percentages than men.

Some 52.7 per cent of the 140 million Americans of voting age are women, the league said. Polls indicate that women and men are about even in registration, at about 74 per cent each, it said.

"With the indisputable upsurge in women's interest in politics there's an excellent chance that we'll surpass the men's voting record," Mrs. Benson said.

"Less encouraging are the statistics on women in industry. The Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor said that although about 38 per cent of the nation's total work force is female and the average female worker is slightly better educated than the average male worker, women still fill about 75 per cent of the clerical jobs and only 17 per cent of the managerial jobs. 14 per cent of the wholesale sales positions and 4 per cent of the skilled crafts jobs.

A government official said that "although the number of women going into these higher paying areas has increased, the number of men has increased faster. We see individual cases where women are getting ahead, but with 33 million women in the labor force their numbers don't affect the statistics."

"Government is at heart a counterfeiter and therefore cannot be trusted to control money."

Chichester Of England Dies At 70

PLYMOUTH, England (AP) — Sir Francis Chichester, who was knighted by his queen after sailing alone around the world at age 65, died Saturday at the Royal Navy Hospital here. He would have been 71 next month.

He had entered the hospital Aug. 18 with a worsening of an ailment that knocked him out of the transatlantic singlehanded sailing race in June.

Chichester had a malignant growth on his spine that resulted in anemia. He was receiving blood transfusions and other treatment for this but just hours before he died had developed pneumonia.

It was in 1967 that Sir Francis set sail from England for a one-stop voyage alone around the world in his 58-foot yacht Gipsy Moth IV. Even before he completed his journey, Queen Elizabeth II made him a knight.

His decision to circumnavigate the globe alone at an age when most men retired captured the hearts of his countrymen and he received a hero's welcome on his return.

He was not the first man to sail solo around the world. New Englander Joshua Slocum did in 1898 but his stops were numerous.

Chichester made only one stop, at Sydney, Australia. He was the first to do this.

On his return, Queen Elizabeth dubbed him Sir Francis with the sword of another illustrious seafarer from the reign of Elizabeth I—that of Sir Francis Drake.

News of Chichester's death brought immediate tributes from Prime Minister Edward Heath, a "yachtsman himself, who spoke of Sir Francis' incomparable spirit," and the Royal Western Yacht Club of Plymouth which called him "our most illustrious comrade."

Sir Francis set sail on his most notable journey eight years after doctors had told him he had but three weeks to live. They had diagnosed advanced lung cancer and said his chances of survival without an operation were lost.

Briscoe Asks State Budget Plan Reform

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Dolph Briscoe, Democratic nominee for governor, said Saturday that Texas' financial problems cannot be solved unless the state budgeting system is totally overhauled.

He said a recent attorney general's opinion that the governor cannot legally transfer appropriated funds among state agencies "seems to bear out the urgency" of such an overhaul.

Briscoe said the president system in which both the governor and the Legislative Budget Board issue budget recommendations to the legislature is "a great burden on what is already a weak system of financial management."

"Throughout my campaign this fall I will continue to press for State Budget Commission (to prepare the budget for legislative action), and if I am elected to the office of governor I will present to the legislature a measure which would establish a state budget commission," he said.

"I remain convinced that we will not solve our fiscal problems with anything less than a total overhaul of our budgeting and spending system and that is what I intend to work for."

IT'S ANOTHER "FIRST" as Col. Norma E. Brown, 46, smilingly does her paperwork in Washington, D.C., as the U.S. Air Force's first woman to command a major unit composed of both men and women. Her command is an Air Base Group at Ft. George Meade, Md.—2,000 personnel working for the top secret National Security Administration. She's from Valdosta, Ga.

Summer Olympics Open With Record Athletes

MUNICH (AP)—The 20th summer Olympic Games opened Saturday with a splash of color and harmony, but lurking in the wings was antiwar protest and memories of political bickering.

A record 8,005 athletes from 122 nations paraded into Olympic Stadium to the delight of a crowd of 80,000 and uncounted thousands who watched from surrounding hills built from the rubble of World War II. The last Olympic Games held in Germany came during the Adolf Hitler regime in 1936 as war clouds gathered over Europe.

A German runner carried the Olympic torch into the stadium and lit the flame that will burn for the duration of the games. The games were declared officially open at 11:35 EDT by Dr. Gustav Heinemann, president of the Federal Republic of Germany.

The spirit of the Munich games was that of a restructured Germany, and militarism was absent, as was any emphasis on nationalism. Bright pastels and rainbow banners provided the backdrop instead of the ominous swastika of the 1936 games.

After the ceremonies, several thousand noisy demonstrators marched through downtown Munich protesting American involvement in Vietnam.

For 16 days the athletes will compete in pursuit of 1,109 gold, bronze and silver medals. The 195 gold medals are the highest number ever to be awarded in Olympic competition.

GAO Reports Violations By Nixon Campaign Body

Anti-War Group Plans Fall Protest

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The antiwar movement is alive, if not particularly well, its leaders say as they plan a fall campaign of stalking the President.

The script is lacks calls for national actions and mass mobilizations. The ranks are thin and those that remain have little enthusiasm for bus rides to Washington, marches and speeches.

The scenario calls instead for local actions—demonstrations wherever President Nixon travels, sit-ins at his campaign offices and the building of dikes, symbolic of those in North Vietnam, in front of GOP headquarters in cities across the nation.

"I kept hearing people say they were disappointed because there were not thousands and thousands of people down here," said Rennie Davis, long one of the movement's more visible leaders. "The spirit of the people who were here should have convinced anyone the movement is not dead."

An estimated 3,500 people assembled here last week to register their dissent in the streets as the Republican Party renominated Nixon. Though vocal and militant, they were but a remnant of the hundreds of thousands who marched when antiwar feeling peaked in the late 1960s.

"A lot of people are just frustrated and disillusioned," said Bob Lamb, a coordinator with the Miami Conventions Coalition, the umbrella group which orchestrated the protests here.

"They don't see anything coming from seven years of protests. A lot of them are trying to end the war by working for McGovern."

AT EASE, astronauts Dr. William E. Thornton, left, Karol J. Bobke, center and Robert L. Crippen are the crew of SMEAT, a groundbound space mission. A 56-day stay in an altitude test chamber at NASA's Houston Manned Space Center, SMEAT (Skylab Medical Experiments Altitude Test) was designed to simulate conditions on long stays in space required for the coming orbital workshop project.

Pampa United Fund Supports Programs Of Scouts Council

"On Sept. 1, the youth and adult members of the Adobe Walls Council of the Boy Scouts of America will join other Scouts across the nation in a totally new concept of leadership training," Bill McElroy, Adobe Walls Scout executive, announced Saturday.

"Adequate funds to meet the demands of this improved program will be needed by the Council," David Fatheree, United Fund drive chairman, explained. "Our 1972 Pampa United Fund campaign will give every person in Pampa an opportunity to share in this up-to-date training of tomorrow's leaders."

"The motive power behind this modernized program is the brand-new Boy Scout Handbook being published this fall," McElroy said.

Gone from this manual are such outdated skills as tracking, stalking, and signaling. Instead, Scouts will be trained in more contemporary skills in such areas as personal communications, ecology and community living.

"A constantly changing environment such as ours puts new demands on our youth as they prepare themselves for the responsibilities of mature adults," McElroy said. "The National Executive Board felt that the Scouting program must change, too, in order to fill new needs."

One of these needs is for Scouts to share more in decision-making and the actual planning of the troop program. Therefore, a leadership corps may be set up in each troop.

This corps will train 14 and 15-year-old Scouts who have earned at least the First Class award and have shown leadership potential, to create and maintain their own standards in patrol goals and activities.

The new concept also provides optional routes to each class advancement and prompt recognition for every achievement along the way. And always, there will be more emphasis on the individual Scout and his personal goals.

This year, the Pampa United Fund has pledged $26,250 of its $94,250 goal to the continued support of the Adobe Walls Council United Fund contributions provide for direct field service through the Council's staff, as well as such other services as the training of adult leaders and the camping program.

For over six decades, the Boy Scouts of America has been successfully presenting the community and the nation with dedicated, competent leadership. Now, the organization is responding once again to the changing need of our youth.

Your Pampa United Fund contribution is your way of responding to youth's challenge, so give generously when a campaign worker calls on your family.

Bangladesh Blasts Red China's Veto

DACCA, Bangladesh (AP) — Foreign Minister Abdus Samad Azad declared Saturday that China's veto of the Bangladesh application for U.N. membership cast Peking in the role of "a preacher of hatred and confrontation."

He told a news conference that the veto, China's first since assuming the U.N. seat last year, belied the Chinese claim that Peking has entered the community of nations as a peacemaker.

"It is obvious that China is following a deliberate policy calculated to create tension and instability in the subcontinent," Samad said.

He called on the world "to take note of China's antipeople role."

Other Bangladesh officials charged that China was frustrating peace on the Asian subcontinent by its veto of the new nation's U.N. membership bid. They vowed to get into the world body any way.

President Abu Sayeed Choudhury said in a speech that it was an illusion if China thought Bangladesh could be kept out of the United Nations.

"China had no right to deny Bangladesh its rightful place in the United Nations," said Choudhury. "A nation of 75 million people could not be debarred from the world body for long."

Investigation Termed Inaccurate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's campaign organization "apparently" violated federal law in its handling of some $350,000 in campaign funds, according to a General Accounting Office report released Saturday.

The report was the latest development in a case touched off by the arrests of five men June 17 in the offices of the Democratic National Committee, allegedly carrying bugging equipment.

Some of the "apparent violations" of the 1971 Federal Election Campaign Act listed in the report centered around a $25,000 contribution to Nixon's campaign which wound up in the bank account of Bernard L. Barker, one of those arrested in the Democratic office.

The Finance Committee to Re-Elect the President may have violated the act by failing to keep a detailed, exact account of the $25,000 and its proceeds and failing to disclose details of the sum in a June 10, 1972, report, the GAO said.

The GAO report also listed as possible violations inadequate record-keeping with respect to four Mexican bank checks totaling $89,000 and the balance of the $350,000 that constituted a bank deposit made May 25, 1972, to the account of the Media Committee to Re-Elect the President.

The GAO referred the matter to the Justice Department for possible further investigation.

House Banking Committee Chairman Wright Patman and Democratic Campaign Chairman Lawrence O'Brien demanded that a special prosecutor or prosecuting team be appointed to investigate the matter "outside the political arena."

In referring it to the Justice Department, Patman said, "We are asking Richard Kleindienst—a strongly partisan attorney general—to prosecute wrongdoings of the political party which boosted him to such high places in government."

Said O'Brien: "I continue to be pessimistic about the likelihood of a fair, thorough and speedy investigation of the GAO allegations. For on Atty. Gen. Kleindienst's calendar, it appears that nothing shall be permitted to happen before election day."

"It omits mentioning important information given to the GAO by the finance committee bearing on the transactions," the statement said. "It also disregards the fact that some of the actions of the finance committee were taken on legal advice and are supported by legal opinions furnished to GAO."

Collin Sheriff, Deputy Indicted On Theft Charges

MCKINNEY, Tex. (AP) — Collin County Sheriff Tom Montgomery and his chief deputy have been indicted by a grand jury here on charges of theft, burglary and conspiracy.

Dist. Atty. Tom O'Connell said his office has "some leads and information" that could lead to further indictments against Montgomery, chief deputy Joe Florey and other deputies.

Montgomery was arraigned Friday before Dist. Judge Tom Ryan and posted bond of $5,000 on each of the four charges. Florey failed to show up for arraignment.

Montgomery answered the charges Friday with a statement handed out at the arraignment. It read:

"I haven't stolen one cent from Collin County. I will tell the jury just what the facts are. I have nothing to hide or lie about. I have no doubt what the ultimate verdict will be."

Kiwanis Club Members Hear Situation Report

The United States is at a crossroads in its military development, Mike Fort, representing the American Ordnance Association, told the Pampa Downtown Kiwanis Club Friday.

"Do we continue to de-emphasize the military and widen the gap or do we want to be able to adequately defend ourselves?" Fort, an employee of Cabot Corp. in Pampa, asked.

Addressing the meeting at First United Methodist Church, Fort discussed the recently completed Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty (SALT) agreements made with Russia. Signed in Moscow earlier this year and later approved by the U.S. Senate, the agreement is supposed to bring about an equality between Russian and U.S. missiles and anti-ballistic missiles.

But Russia will probably have more than the U.S., Fort said, as the Congress probably won't authorize additional expenditures for missile development.

The Russians caught up with the U.S. in 1968 in strategic weapons, Fort said. Although bombers are not covered in the treaty, the Soviets now have an overall lead over the U.S. and will continue to have it under the agreement, he added.

The location of Russia affects the make-up of its Navy, particularly in the type of attack vessels, Fort said. Russia is doing more research and development than the U.S., he added.

Speaking to the members, Fort asked, "Are you concerned about the situation in today's world?"

Discussion On Alcoholism Set Monday At Church

The general public is invited to attend a meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Presbyterian Church auditorium, 513 W. Montagu, where plans will be formulated with a view to step up facilities for the care and treatment of victims of alcohol abuse.

Beulah Casperson of Amarillo, regional services developer of the Texas Commission on Alcoholism, will be the principal speaker and moderator on discussions.

She will outline plans for the establishment of a center where victims may receive detoxification, get an evaluation of their condition and be assigned to the proper facility for treatment and eventual rehabilitation.

A seven-year federal grant of funds has been made to take care of the establishment expense and maintenance of such facilities in many parts of the state. Pampa is highly eligible because figures show that Gray County has one of the highest incidence rates of alcoholism and alcohol abuse in the entire state. At present, Pampa is served by Alcoholics Anonymous, Al-Anon, Al-Ateen, and Genesis House.

A member of Pampa's Action Group A.A. said his organization is entirely self-supporting and traditionally cannot accept funds from "outsiders"—even government funds.

However, he pointed out that any good A.A. member will work hand-in-hand with administrators of such facilities as well as with doctors, churches, law-enforcement officials and others who are seeking to bring about the recovery of the victims of alcohol abuse. Many A.A. members have said they will do lots of volunteer work.

No collection will be taken at the Monday evening meeting nor at subsequent meetings.

PHS Choir Will Hold Rehearsal

The Pampa High School Choir will hold an open rehearsal at 7 p.m. Monday, to be followed at 8:30 p.m. by a welcome party for the new choir director, John Woicikowski, sponsored by the Choir Booster's Club, in the high school music building.

Parents of choir members and interested students are invited, according to Bill Skoog, Booster Club president. Special invitations were sent to both Pampa junior high school choirs, urging freshmen choir members to attend, he said.

Skoog announced PHS choir members began selling magazine renewals Friday as a fund-raising project. He urged Pampans to assist with the project by renewing their magazine subscriptions through high school choir members.

Ecclesiastes Is Bible Study

The Biblical Old Testament book of Ecclesiastes is the subject of a study group meeting each Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Carmichael-Whalley Colonial Chapel.

Teaching the group for the series of studies will be the Rev. Jerry Bryan, pastor, Baraca Bible Church, Amarillo.

Rev. Bryan has been teaching scriptures on Tuesday evenings in Pampa for some time. As in the past, classes are open to all who are interested in scriptural enlightenment.

Giant Trees Near State Capitol Destroyed By Worst Windstorm

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The worst windstorm ever to hit the Texas Capitol destroyed an estimated $85,000 worth of trees on the grounds around the 84-year-old building last Tuesday.

The park-like area still looks like a battlefield. Most of the giant trees felled by the wind lie where they were blown down.

Thousands of limbs litter the 26-acre grounds. Dozens of them are more than a foot thick.

Only the trunks of some trees remain upright, with their great limbs splintered and twisted to the ground like broken umbrellas.

It will take two weeks to complete the cleanup, says Robert A. Jenkins, assistant executive director for the Board of Control.

There has been speculation that the storm was a tornado. Some evidence points to that conclusion.

But the state climatologist, Robert Orton, says one essential piece of evidence is lacking.

"Nobody reported hearing a roaring sound — some liken it to the sound of a freight train, a terrific sustained roaring," Orton said.

There are other missing links. Nobody reported seeing a funnel. This could be explained by the heavy rain that accompanied the storm.

All but one of the seven large trees — two feet in diameter and bigger — fell in a southerly direction. Tornado debris usually forms a circular pattern.

WANTS MORE SHEEP

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — Sheep outnumber humans 20 to 1 in New Zealand — but farmers still want bigger flocks.

New breeds of greater fertility are to be imported in 1973. Agriculture Minister Douglas J. Carter says the first choice is the Finnish Landrace.

"It's undoubtedly the most prolific of all European breeds, with a well-documented litter size of three lambs per mature ewe," he said. "By cross-breeding, our objective will be to increase the fertility of breeds already in New Zealand."

New Zealand has 60 million sheep and three million people.

Jenkins says he thinks it was a tornado. He said if the largest uprooted tree, a pecan more than nine feet in circumference east of the Capitol, was pulled upright, it would be two feet north of the hole where it grew.

"That indicates to me something just picked it up," he said.

Annual Boys Ranch Rodeo Will Open On Labor Day

The biggest Labor Day attraction of the Golden Spread is the annual Boys Ranch Rodeo at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, where 375 boys will be putting on the 28th presentation of the nationally-known event.

Preparations for the rodeo have been going on throughout the summer with most of the boys trying to become contestants with tryouts on calves, steers, brahma bulls and bareback broncs.

The rodeo's two-hour time limit restricts the number of entries to about 150 boys, but those who are not contestants will have some part in the rodeo production.

Older boys will be riding bulls and broncs for the title of Senior All-Around Cowboy while younger riders will be hoping for the Junior All-Around Cowboy trophy. Trophies will also be awarded riders with the best time in the individual events.

Added features of the rodeo will be the traditional reunion of Ranch graduates and their families, who are expected to travel long distances for the homecoming. Bar-be-que sandwiches will be prepared and sold by the boys for $1.

Rodeo performances are scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Sept. 3 and 4. Reserve box seat tickets are available at the Boys Ranch Administrative Offices, 600 West 11th, in Amarillo. Reserve box seat tickets are $2.50, and general admission is $1.50, for adults and 75 cents for children and service-men in uniform.

On Sunday morning, Sept. 3, special worship services will be held in the rodeo arena. The services, normally held in the non-sectarian chapel, will begin at 11 a.m. and will be under the direction of the Reverend Boyd Latchaw, Ranch chaplain. This will be the first time services have been held on one of the rodeo days and visitors have been invited to attend with the boys.

are available at the Boys Ranch Administrative Offices, 600 West 11th, in Amarillo. Reserve box seat tickets are $2.50, and general admission is $1.50, for adults and 75 cents for children and service-men in uniform.

On Sunday morning, Sept. 3, special worship services will be held in the rodeo arena. The services, normally held in the non-sectarian chapel, will begin at 11 a.m. and will be under the direction of the Reverend Boyd Latchaw, Ranch chaplain. This will be the first time services have been held on one of the rodeo days and visitors have been invited to attend with the boys.

Older boys will be riding bulls and broncs for the title of Senior All-Around Cowboy while younger riders will be hoping for the Junior All-Around Cowboy trophy. Trophies will also be awarded riders with the best time in the individual events.

GOP Contributor Identified

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A fund raiser for President Nixon's re-election campaign says a financier friend of Democratic Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey was the source of a $25,000 campaign contribution which wound up in the bank account of a man arrested in a break-in at Democratic national headquarters. The Minneapolis Tribune reported today.

The financier, Dwayne O. Andreas, has been a longtime confidant of the Minnesota senator and was national finance chairman of Humphrey's presidential campaign in 1968.

The Tribune reported on an interview with Kenneth H. Dahlberg, president of a hearing aid manufacturing firm in the Minneapolis suburb of Golden Valley and head of President Nixon's campaign finance effort in the Midwest.

Dahlberg was quoted as saying the original source of the $25,000 intended for the President's re-election campaign was Andreas, chairman of First Intercoastal Corp., chairman of National City Bank of Minneapolis and a director of Archer-Daniels-Midland Co.

Dahlberg has said previously that he converted the $25,000 into a cashier's check and handed it to Maurice Stans, the President's chief fund raiser, at a meeting in Washington.

Stans has told federal investigators that he turned the check over to the treasurer of the re-election committee's finance arm, who in turn gave it to a counsel for the finance committee, G. Gordon Liddy.

Liddy subsequently was fired when he did not cooperate in the investigation. Stans has said he does not know how the check made its way to the Barker account.

"I had the check in my hands for about three minutes and passed it on to my treasurer who certainly passed it on elsewhere, and I cannot account for why it went into the Barker bank account," Stans said in a CBS television interview Wednesday.

Over 100,000 U.S. Women Smoke Cigars

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

Women at last are doing something about cigars. More than 100,000 U.S. women now smoke them regularly, according to industry sources.

Annual West Texas Sales Congress Set

CANYON—The annual West Texas Sales Congress, a one-day motivation conference for Panhandle-Plains insurance agents, will be held at the West Texas State University Activities Center Sept. 12.

An estimated 400 to 600 persons will attend, said Dr. Zeke Marchant, professor of business administration at WTSU and a consultant to the sales congress committee.

The event is sponsored by the Amarillo Association of Life Underwriters, the Lubbock Area Association of Life Underwriters, the Plainview Association of Life Underwriters, the Top O Texas Association of Life Underwriters of Pampa and West Texas State University.

Three sessions will be held during the day beginning at 10:30 a.m. when Dr. Edon Lewis, dean of the WTSU School of Business, and William R. Ballard, president of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters, welcome the delegates.

W. Walter Smith of Rutherfordton, N.C., retired after 22 years as an agent with Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., will be in charge of the first session.

He has 40 years experience as a salesman and 17 years as a

Raza Unida Party Convention To Open Sept. 1 In El Paso

DALLAS (AP) — Delegates from at least 15 states will gather in El Paso during the Labor Day weekend in what they hope will be the first step in the nationwide formation of a Mexican-American political arm.

The delegates will be attending the national convention of the Raza Unida party in a state where the organization is launching its first serious attempt at statewide politicking.

Waco attorney Ramsey Muniz is a candidate for governor and has dozens of other candidates seeking statewide offices under the Raza Unida banner.

Both President Nixon and Democratic presidential candidates Sen. George McGovern have been invited to address the delegates, but party leaders say it is unlikely that the President will attend.

They are confident, however, that McGovern or running mate Sargent Shriver will make the trip to El Paso.

"We want them here to tell us what their programs are before we decide how we are going to vote in the presidential election," party spokesman Rolando Arreola said. One of the major convention issues will be discussion of national priorities and, specifically, whether the party throws its support to the Democrats or the Republicans.

Party leaders have been highly critical of the Democratic party in recent months accusing it of taking the Mexican-American vote for granted.

Muniz has stated often that one of the purposes of the party is to "awaken the political conscience of the Mexican-Americans."

"We are not just going to give our vote to the Democrats as we did in the past," Muniz said. "We want something in return. We want to be a part of the political decision-making process and improve the lot of our people."

The convention is scheduled to open Sept. 1 with registration of delegates. It will continue with a discussion and drafting of state and national priorities on Sept. 2 and 3.

Most of the guest speakers will appear on Sept. 4 with speeches scheduled by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick Flores, Bishop of San Antonio; Reyes Lopez Tijerina. The militant New Mexican who several years ago led a claim to huge tracts of land in the Southwestern United States, and another militant from Colorado, Rodolfo "Corky" Gonzalez.

The convention will close with speeches by Muniz and party founder Jose Angel Gutierrez of Crystal City.

Arreola said states other than Texas sending delegates are Michigan, Minnesota, Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Idaho, Nevada, Illinois, and Indiana. Delegates are also expected from Oklahoma, Montana and Wyoming.

Although the party has been organized in most of the states represented at the convention, it is only in Texas where it has been recognized officially and will have a place on the ballot in the November general election.

Pampa Observing Texas Public Employees' Week

The governor of Texas and Pampa Mayor Milo Carlson have designated this week, Aug. 27-Sept. 2, as Texas Public Employees' Week, which will be observed locally and throughout the state.

Mayor Carlson's proclamation states: "As mayor of Pampa, I do hereby join the governor in recognizing the excellent service rendered by public employes across the state of Texas, and most especially by the approximately 100 public employes in Gray County, many of whom are members of local TPEA Chapter 94."

There are approximately 85 state employes in Pampa itself. The proclamation points out that of the almost 64,000 state employes, excluding teachers and educators, over half this number belong to the Texas Public Employees Association, "the only organization which represents employes in every state agency and classification throughout Texas."

Worry Clinic

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Like Prof. Howard, on a starry night, look heavenward. To indulge in Cosmic Calisthenics, consider the ideas discussed below. What did Jesus have in mind when he mentioned those "other sheep"? Did Christ ever suffer crucifixion on any other planet?

CASE U-572: Howard T., aged 36, is a geology professor.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "although I teach a bible class for high schoolers, I sometimes get an 'all gone' feeling when I view the stars at night."

"For the vastness of this Cosmic Universe scares me!"

"Why, I recently read a science report about the quasars that are speeding outward to the far edges of the Universe."

"And they are estimated to be 9 billion light years away!"

"How puny must be our own Solar System."

"So where is Heaven?"

"Are there any other inhabited planets circling distant suns?"

"Is the Garden of Eden Bible account still plausible?"

COSMIC CALISTHENICS
If you wish to widen your mental horizons, then just follow Prof. Howard in his Cosmic Calisthenics!

Prof. Shapley, former head of Harvard's Observatory, estimated there are 1,000,000 other inhabited (or inhabitable) planets out in space!

Earth is apparently the only one in our own Solar System, but there are billions of other stars (suns) with planets probably circling them.

And the Garden of Eden is still a plausible description of how mankind may have started here on this planet.

But Adam and Eve may not have been the first experimental pair that God placed on Earth!

For archeologists have found skeletons of men much like us modern human beings, yet those skeletons were embedded in geological layers and veins of coal over half a million years in the past.

Yet the Jewish calendar places the Garden of Eden at about 6,000 years ago!

So where did those men and women come from who were on this Earth 500,000 years earlier?

Moreover, even if Adam and Eve were implanted in the garden of Eden in the rich Tigris-Euphrates valley, maybe God then simultaneously implanted a yellow-skinned couple in Asia and a Negro pair in Africa? Why?

Perhaps to see which group would advance most rapidly in science and invention, as well as in their developing attitude toward deity?

Earth may thus be just one of Dr. Shapley's million planets being used as experimental "Nursery Schools" for mankind!

Jesus Himself (John 10:16) made this unusual statement:

"And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold; them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice..."

Did Christ thus refer to other inhabited planets in the Cosmic Universe?

As a mental challenge, also

President Opposes Quota Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has reaffirmed his position that government agencies and contractors should not use hiring and promotion quotas in their equal employment opportunity programs.

The President said in a message last week to agency heads: "I have sought and will continue to seek to enlarge opportunities for men and women of all religious, ethnic and racial backgrounds to serve in responsible positions, but the criteria for selection that I have employed and will continue to employ will be based on merit."

The Civil Service Commission, in releasing the message Thursday, denied quota systems are being used by any agency of government.

The President's reaffirmation of a 1971 commission guideline came in response to an inquiry by the American Jewish Committee, which contends agencies use informal quota systems and impose them on government contractors, including colleges and universities.

The committee released a letter from Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential candidate, also opposing quota systems.

"I believe it is both necessary and possible to open the doors that long have been shut to minority-group members without violating basic principles of nondiscrimination and without abandoning the merit system," the letter said in part.

While endorsing so-called affirmative-action minority employment programs, Nixon wrote: "I agree that numerical goals, without important and useful tools to measure progress which remedies the effect of past discrimination, must not be allowed to be applied in such fashion as to, in fact, result in the imposition of quotas, nor should they be predicated upon or directed towards a concept of proportional representation."

Texas News In Brief

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has adopted several new policies intended to protect wildlife threatened by water development projects.

The commission voted to oppose channelization and wetland drainage projects and to seek legislative changes which would make considerations of wildlife resources a part of decisions whether to construct reservoirs.

Noting that the best sites for reservoirs have already been used and that future reservoirs will have to be on much larger land areas to attain the desired water storage, the commission urged that additional land be purchased now to provide for wildlife needs.

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Ira Williams, director of the Metropolitan Administration of Justice Planning Agency of Nashville, Tenn., has been named director of campus security at Texas Woman's University.

Williams succeeds Lawrence F. Folse, who resigned earlier this summer.

The new security director, 58, was graduated from the FBI Academy in 1941.

FOR MDA—Billy Lemons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lemons, 506 Oklahoma, rehearses for the Pampa talent show for the benefit of muscular dystrophy, to be shown over Pampa's Cable-TV station at the same time as the national Jerry Lewis Telethon Sept. 3 and 4. Lemons is one of many Pampa and area young people who will appear from 9:30 p.m. Sept. 3, until 5:30 p.m. Sept. 4. Location of the entertainment will be the parking lot of the empty store building at the corner of Gray and Francis Streets.

Pampa MDA Will Sponsor Local Talent Show Sept. 3-4

Pampa's Muscular Dystrophy Association, part of the greater Plains chapter, will sponsor a local talent show on the parking lot of the empty store building at the corner of Gray and Francis streets, Sept. 3-4. Mrs. Irvin Hungerford, chapter president, has announced.

The show will be held during the nation-wide Jerry Lewis Telethon, a benefit for MDA, and will be telecast over Pampa Cable-TV, Channel 9, from 10:30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 3, until 5:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 4. These are the same hours as the national telethon, to be shown over KFDA-TV, Channel 10.

Pampa and area young people will perform and Pampanians may donate to the MDA for their favorite performer, either at the performance or by calling the local MDA number, 669-6801. Donations made in Pampa, or phoned to the Pampa telethon center will be credited to the greater Plains chapter, to be used mostly for patient services to Pampa and immediate area patients. Mrs. Hungerford explained.

Muscular Dystrophy Association of America is one of only 13 national health organizations for inclusion in the federal government's 1972-73 Combined Federal Campaign, which solicits voluntary contributions from government employes and members of the armed forces.

For each of the 15 years the Federal Service Campaign has been in existence, MDA has met the high standards set by the government for participating national health agencies. Mrs. Hungerford pointed out.

"Benefits of MDA's involvement in the government's campaign will be felt here through a strengthening of our services to local patients," she said. "The Association's patient services program is one of the most extensive offered by any health agency in the country. It includes a wide range of free medical, recreational, vocational and educational services administered through MDA's over 300 chapters, located in every state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and Guam, as well as through the Association's nationwide network of over 100 clinics."

Mrs. Hungerford added that funds raised in the Federal establishment will help support more than 130 MDA research projects throughout the world, seeking to unravel the mysteries of muscular dystrophy and related muscle-wasting diseases.

"MDA's fight against dystrophy and related neuromuscular diseases has been bolstered considerably by the generosity of Federal employes and members of the armed forces," she stated.

Board Ordered To Reinstate Black Principal

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge William Wayne Justice has ordered the Atlanta, Tex., Independent School Board to re-employ a former black school principal at any one of the schools in its district.

In a written opinion issued here Friday, the judge ordered that Houston Basset be reinstated immediately as full-time principal of the Atlanta Primary School or as principal in one of the other four schools in the Atlanta Independent School District for the 1972-73 school year.

In addition, the judge ordered that Basset be reimbursed $26,082 in back pay for the 1970-71 and 1971-72 school years and "any retirement, insurance and annuity benefits and any other benefits earned" during that period.

The board was further ordered to "develop or require development of non-racial, objective criteria to be used in selecting a staff member who is to be dismissed or demoted if such dismissal or demotion is necessary" and to make such criteria public.

Over 100 Volunteers Offer Services To Highland General

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the 23rd in a series of weekly articles, prepared by the public relations department of Highland General Hospital, to acquaint the public with hospital officials, employees, department procedures and the many services offered to the people of Gray County.

By JUDITH KITTO
Over 100 volunteers give their services each week to Highland General Hospital.

Working with the Hospital's Director of Volunteers, Mrs. Jewell Nance, are members of four organizations: the Red Cross Volunteers, the Red Cross Hospital Auxiliary and the Highland General Hospital Junior Auxiliary.

Taking juices to the patients each morning and delivering mail and flowers are some of the duties of the Red Cross Volunteers. This group of ladies is under the Chairmanship of Mrs. Gay Ammeter.

Associated with this group are teenage girls, the Volunteers, who perform the same duties as the ladies. Both groups wear blue and white striped uniforms.

The Highland General Hospital Auxiliary and Junior Auxiliary volunteers have many varied duties which they do each day to help the patients and employees of the hospital.

Professor Invents New Anti-TB Drug

HOUSTON (AP) — A professor at the University of Houston has invented and patented a chemical compound that is being tested for possible benefit against tuberculosis.

Dr. Lindley A. Cates, professor of pharmacy, is the discoverer and he said several pharmaceutical firms either have or are planning to examine the drug.

Cates said a patent was necessary in order to license other laboratories to experiment with it.

He described the new drug as a derivative of isoniazid, a popular antitubercular drug.

Working in the Lab, Auxiliary and Junior Auxiliary volunteers help with the records and reports which must be kept daily.

For the X-Ray Department, the volunteers transport the patients from their rooms to the department and also help to file X-Ray films for further use by the doctors and staff. In the Surgery Department, the volunteers take telephone messages for the doctors while they are in surgery, help transport patients to and from the Operating Rooms and fold linen.

While working at the Information Desk, the Auxiliary volunteers contact local church personnel to inform them when their members are hospitalized. They also keep magazines available in the waiting rooms for visitors, deliver flowers and give information to the visitors and patients.

In the evenings, a volunteer works at the Admission Desk to take the incoming patients to their rooms and to see that they are settled. The Auxiliary members take pictures of the newborns in the nursery for the new parents. After a 20 hour nurse's aide course the Junior Volunteers assist the nurses at the Nurses' Stations.

The Auxiliary has a Library Committee whose members are in the process of setting up an employee's medical library. They have just recently classified the medical books in the Doctors' Library. An Art Committee of the Auxiliary displays works of local artists in the waiting room and in all departments of the hospital.

As money making projects, the Auxiliary rents television sets to the patients during their stay in the hospital, operates a gift shop and a snack bar.

The Gift Shop sells artificial flower arrangements, baby needs, gifts, and personal items that the patient might need during his stay in the hospital. The Snack Bar is furnished with tables and chairs and has sandwiches, hot food, candy and drinks, all in coin-operated machines, for the visitors and employees of the hospital.

The money earned by the Highland General Hospital Auxiliary is used to buy equipment and supplies for the hospital and the comfort of the patients.

The Hospital Auxiliary members are easily recognized with their yellow pinafores and white blouses. The Junior Auxiliary girls wear red and white candy striped pinafores while the teenage boys wear white lab coats.

President of the HGH Auxiliary is Mrs. Lois Wilkinson and President of the Junior Auxiliary is Franklin Bliss, who also works in the Hospital Lab as an Industrial Cooperative Training Student from Pampa High School.

Highland General Hospital is quite proud of these many volunteers who give of their time without pay to help the patients and employees of the hospital.

A Tribute To Our Laborers!

By BILL DOWNS
Sometimes we forget that the unsung man who mixes cement or repairs your motor car is worthy of the highest commendation. Could YOU, the average citizen of this town, handle a trowel or cure the costly ailments of a temperamental car? This requires specialized knowledge and this is the day of highly-trained specialists. The Laboring Man, whatever his calling, is a factor in our community life that cannot be discounted. Look upon him as someone who contributes largely to your modern way of life. Pay him the respect that is due his trade or specialty...and remember that he, too, is one of our good citizens!

PERSONAL FINANCE

Social Security and You

By CARLTON SMITH

For every family, young or old, the current scale of Social Security benefits plays an important role in financial planning. Every calculation concerning the family's security program, or insurance needs, has to begin with the disability or survivorship benefits available under Social Security.

All benefits — these with them — are subject to the 20 per cent increase effective in September, and younger wage earners should be aware of the extent of the increased protection now afforded in case of the breadwinner's disability or death.

The amount that is paid to any individual—for any Social Security benefit, retirement or otherwise — is determined by that individual's history of earnings. There is a formula for determining your average yearly earnings, stipulating which years are taken into account. If in each of these years you earned at least as much as the Social Security "wage base," you qualify for maximum benefits.

The wage base is the amount subject to Social Security tax. It was $3,600 back in the early '50s, after which it rose in steps to $6,600 by 1966 and to $7,800 last year. (It's now $9,000, and scheduled to rise to $12,000.) If you earned that much or more, in each of those past years, you have the highest possible average yearly wage, for calculating Social Security benefits, and would receive the maximum monthly payment.

A worker retiring this year, for example, who's always earned at least as much as the "wage base," would qualify for a monthly retirement benefit of $259.40 as a single person, or $389 for a retired couple.

That figure — the single worker's retirement benefit — is the one from which other Social Security benefits are derived. A disabled worker's benefit is the same as his retirement benefit — and a younger man, with shorter history of higher earnings, will sometimes receive more than any 65-year-old retiree can qualify for.

Survivorship benefits for the widow with children under 18 again are determined by what her husband's retirement benefit would have been in the year of his death. The young widow receives 75 per cent of this "primary insurance amount," and a child's benefit is also 75 per cent of the "PIA." On such combined benefits within a family, though, there is a ceiling of $480 as the "maximum family benefit."

There is a wide gap between these maximum benefits and what the average

Social Security recipient actually receives. Here's what the Social Security Administration says the average payment will be, after the 20 per cent increase:

For a single retired worker, $162, as against the $259.40 maximum.

For a retired couple, about $271, as against the $389.10 maximum.

For a widowed mother with two children, about $386, as against the $480 maximum.

Thus, the protection the wage earner, or his family can count on, in case of his disability or death, varies widely according to the individual's history of earnings. For your own security planning, it's important to know what it is. And it's not difficult to determine: ask the people in your local Social Security office how to go about it.

Federal Unit Estimates Pollution Costs Nation $29 Billion A Year

EDITOR'S NOTE: Somebody will pay for the efforts being made to clean the nation's environment. But there will be some financial benefits as well, and at least one group believes the effort will mean a net savings because of decreased damage from pollution. AP environmental writer Stan Benjamin tells about it in the final installment of a four-part series on The Cost of Cleaning Up.

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — "The American people are not going to let people tell them they got to start driving one car instead of two without there being a revolution."

G. John Lambillotte, manager of a Barberton, Ohio, chemical plant doomed by anti-pollution enforcement, was arguing that "people who don't know what makes the economy tick are playing with it" for the sake of clean air and water.

"The clean-up will cost somebody," he added, "but it means our standard of living will decrease."

Lambillotte will get an argument from government and citizen-environmentalists on all but one point.

They all agree that cleaning up "will cost somebody."
Government economists have estimated it may cost some $72 billion or more over the next five years to combat air and water pollution.

They say the costs, as unemployment or price increases, will hit industries, workers and communities throughout the nation.

The impact already has hit places like Saltville, Va.; Barberton; Grafton, Mass.; Marietta, Ohio; Alloy, W. Va., and dozens more.

But economics includes benefits as well as costs.

The President's Council on Environmental Quality estimates that air pollution itself costs the nation more than $16 billion each year in damage to human health, plants, materials and property values.

Building upon that estimate, the National Wildlife Federation estimated air and water pollution together were costing the nation almost $29 billion a year.

If so, five years of pollution damage would total $145 billion, outweighing even the impressive cost of reducing it.

The Wildlife Federation figured the antipollution investment would show little return for the first five years.

But by 1979, as pollution damage is reduced, the nation would save enough to get back its early investments, and by 1980 it would be reaping net savings—"plus having a cleaner environment."

Beyond material damages, lie values that have no price tag: natural beauty, waters fit to swim in, days that really are clear enough to see for miles.

Not long ago British citizens collected $4 million to buy back one beautiful painting from U.S. oilman J. Paul Getty and keep it in their country.

Such treasures, in museums, are exposed only to a carefully controlled and filtered atmosphere.

Meanwhile, in the unprotected churches of Italy, the frescoed and sculptured faces of Madonnas and saints, treasured for centuries, are being eaten away by the chemical leprosy of air pollution.

American conservationists worry that the same fate may await the natural rock formations of the West.

Americans pay millions yearly to enjoy scenic beauty and natural recreation sites.

As Congress passes one environmental law after another, the public seems willing to pay for a clean environment.

It even seems willing, at this point, to stand still for some restrictions on its darling, the automobile.

The Environmental Protection Agency has already required big cities, as part of state pollution control plans, to find ways of reducing downtown auto traffic.

On balance, then, the benefits of environmental clean-up may well outweigh the costs even in terms of hard cash.

But the costs and the benefits do not fall evenly.

During interviews in impacted communities, people hardest hit seemed unanimous on two points:

—Pollution must stop but the cleanup was hurting them badly.

—They needed government help in readjusting to an anti-pollution economy but were not getting it.

There's little help to be had. A Commerce Department spokesman said its only potential instrument of aid to business was the Economic Development Agency, whose $261 million fund for grants and loans is geared to economic stimulation, not the rescue of pollution casualties.

The Environmental Protection Agency began last March to send "early warnings" to the Labor Department of environmental actions that might cause layoffs.

In another interview, Leonard Burchman, the department's director of interagency relations, admitted that "early warning" was bogged down in paper shuffling and communication delays.

He said EPA and Labor have revised the system to make it work more swiftly.

GUEST SPEAKER — Art LeClert of the Cabot Corp., seen here with a part of his rare collection of stamps, will speak to the Desk and Derrick Club at 7 p.m. Monday, on "The Postage Stamp as a Servant." LeClert is considered an authority on the colorful little squares. The program will be a departure from the usual petroleum oriented subject according to Betty Ridgeway of the club. The meeting will be at Coronado Inn. (Staff Photo)

More Danish Girls Go Topless Now

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — A veritable Nordic goddess stood at the prow of the yacht making its way into the small Danish harbor of Hornbaek.

Long blonde hair cascaded over sun-bronzed shoulders. Her tan was total. She wore a wisp of cloth around her hips, the bottom of her bikini—and no top.

She was an eye-catching sample of the droves of girls going topless this summer on public beaches in Europe.

The unabashed topless beauties seem most numerous in Denmark but there have never been so many in St. Tropez, the French resort where Brigitte Bardot started the whole thing.

Even on German beaches, where they prefer things to be tidily organized, an overspill of bare bathers from the reserved nudist beaches is being tolerated.

The topless fashion is sternly prohibited in the Latin countries of Italy, Spain and Portugal. In Britain, too, it is frowned on and can bring the cops into action.

Nor is it on show in Belgium and the Netherlands. Girls are decorous in the Alpine summer resorts of Switzerland and Austria.

But in Denmark you don't have to go very far—or be a Peeping Tom—to see scores of topless girls.

The trend began hesitantly in Denmark last summer and is now the "in" thing among the young.

They are not naturists, models or exhibitionists. They are the girl next door, the girl who sells you a cigar, those typists from the office across the corridor, young teachers and their pupils, or mothers at the beach with their children.

Some beaches have been reserved for nude bathing a long time. But this year it's happening on public beaches.

Cecilia Frank, 18, and Swedish, told a reporter that there was something wrong if the nude look still angered people. "A bikini is distinctly more sexy than the naked body," she said.

Yvonne Christensen, 22, of Copenhagen, looked on the practical side: "It's nice to avoid those white strips made by a bra, so you look good in a light summer dress. Also it's very pleasant to lie in the sun almost nude."

A guess is that about one in seven young Danish women go topless now. There have been few protests, but there are dissidents.

Trine, a shapely Norwegian in her late 30s, does in Denmark what she doesn't dare back home. Looking around a crowded beach she blithely commented: "Breasts are like noses. All different."

The Copenhagen daily Aktuelt printed a picture of a model wearing nothing but cotton briefs. The fashion editor recommended this as cheap beach wear—only 9.98 kroner or less than $1.50.

On France's Mediterranean beaches, where the bikini was born, the postcard shops in St. Tropez are infuriated. They can't display their cards with bare-busted bathing livelies, under an order issued July 14.

They can keep them in a drawer and pull them out when a prospective customer asks—but no more window or rack displays. The order was aimed at guarding against indecencies on the public streets, authorities say.

Meanwhile the real thing is

Demos And GOPers Differ On Matter Of Oil Imports

HOUSTON (AP) — The new Democratic and Republican platforms differ sharply on the matter of oil imports.

The Democrats, in effect, would abolish oil import controls.

The Republicans recommend caution, saying the nation must not become overly dependent on foreign sources of energy.

Four years ago, the two platforms were in essential agreement, calling for freer trade but opposing unfair competition from imports.

The Democratic platform adopted last month disposed of oil imports briefly and bluntly, saying "Abolish the oil import quota that raises prices for consumers."

more and more visible in that area. Never before were there so many braless girls on the Pampelonne beach. In Nice or Cannes, the girls don't wear bras under their blouses, but they keep covered up, at least to bikini level, on the beaches.

In Italy, bikinis have become more popular. Sometimes they are so loose or of such thin material they are virtually see-through. Police there no longer comb the beaches to order girls to cover up daring bikinis, but you won't see any topless girls on public beaches. A young Roman commented: "We Italian men like some mystery about women."

The Spanish authorities now do more than tolerate bikinis for tourists—their own women wear them on public beaches. They seem to get smaller every year, but are still modest by most European standards.

Nudity in West Germany has its proper place—officially designated beaches and pools.

Pampan Gets NTSU Degree

DENTON — John Michael Gattis of Pampa was among 1,180 students from 38 states and 10 foreign countries receiving degrees at summer commencement Aug. 19 at North Texas State University.

Conferred were 670 bachelor's degrees, 458 master's and 52 doctor's degrees, including the first master of science degree ever awarded by NTSU in Computer science.

Gattis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Gattis, 2319 Navajo Road, was awarded the bachelor of science degree in physical education.

Hawkins-Randle Vows Are Repeated Saturday

Vows were repeated at 7 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 26, at the First Christian Church by Miss Jean Ann Hawkins and James Roy Randle.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leaton D. Hawkins, 1100 N. Russell, Pampa, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Farrell O. Randle, Amarillo.

THE CEREMONY

Rev. Ralph T. Palmer, Church minister, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The couple was married before a background of the arched candelabra entwined with salal foliage. Two tall pedestal urns filled with pink gladioli flanked the wedding party. The bridal aisle was decorated with three-branched aisle candelabra decorated with green foliage.

Mrs. Danny King, organist, played "Joy," "Speak Softly, Love," and theme songs from "Romeo and Juliet" and "Love Story." For the ceremony, the traditional wedding marches were played.

THE BRIDE

The bride was given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" vowal. She wore a floor-length gown of peau de soie and re-embroidered Venice lace. Her dress was designed with a high neckline, empire waist, long Gibson-girl sleeves, and semi-A-line silhouette drawn to a back fullness. Inserts of Venice lace enhanced the neckline, bodice, sleeves, and skirt of the gown. Nylon organza also complemented the sleeves and bodice. The full back of the gown ended in a sweeping chapel-length train.

Her two-tiered veil of imported illusion, bordered with lace, fell from a coil of lace flowers and leaves, accented with seed pearls and rhinestones.

She carried a cascade arrangement of miniature red sweetheart roses and pink elegance carnations.

For "something old" and "something borrowed," she wore an heirloom necklace belonging to her grandmother, worn, also, by the bride's mother on her wedding day. For "something new" and "something blue," she wore a blue garter.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Gregg Parks, cousin of the bride, served as matron of

MRS. JAMES ROY RANDLE
nee Jean Ann Hawkins honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Mike McCollom, Miss Teri Heare, and Miss Janell Odell.

All wore identical gowns of garnet rose satin, fashioned with high necklines, empire waist lines and short, puffed sleeves. Their headpieces were garnet-rose bows with streamers ending in love knots. They carried nosegays of pink elegance carnations and baby's breath.

Tracy Duncan of Amarillo served as Best man. Groomsmen were Rusty Stanley, Eddie Liles, and Keith Brewster, all of Amarillo. Ushers were Mike McCollom of Pampa and Stewart Anderson of Amarillo.

MOTHERS

The mother of the bride wore a street-length dress of royal-blue lace over satin with matching accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a street-length dress of pink lace over crepe, with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of pink cymbidium orchids.

RECEPTION

For the reception in the parlor of the church, the serving table was decorated with a garnet rose satin featuring a ruffled net border. A tall five-branched silver candelabra, with an arrangement of pink carnations and smilex, was used as the centerpiece.

The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with pink roses, was topped with white wedding bells.

Mrs. William F. Hawkins, Jr. served the cake, and Mrs. R.D. Hawkins presided at the punch bowl. Guests were registered by Miss Deborah Lawley. Other members of the house party were Mrs. Jack Stroup, Mrs. G.W. Gambin and Mrs. H.B. Lawley.

AFFILIATIONS

The bride completed a concentrated secretarial program at West Texas State University where she was also a member of Future Secretaries of America.

The bridegroom attended West Texas State University for two years and will attend Amarillo College this fall. He is also employed at Federal Aviation Administration in Amarillo.

Pre-nuptial events included a miscellaneous shower in Pampa, hosted by Mrs. Jack Stroup, Don Stafford, Stan Schneider, Ocie Stewart and William F. Diana Pulse, Michael Pierce United In Marriage Saturday

Miss Diana Lynn Pulse and Michael Norman Pierce, both of Odessa, were united in marriage at 10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 26, in a garden wedding at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Pulse, 2721 Comanche, Pampa.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Cornley of Odessa.

THE CEREMONY

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was Rev. M. B. Smith, Baptist minister. The couple was married before a garden archway covered with lemon leaves and white daisies.

Scott Harrington of Odessa provided guitar music and along with Jeanie McGee of Odessa, sang "If... One Hand, One Heart" and a special song written for the bride by the bridegroom.

The bridegroom, his best man, Guy Forbis, Harrington and Miss McGee are all members of an Odessa musical group, "The Prophecy."

THE BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original Bianchi gown of Chantilly lace, with a built-in train. The gown was fashioned of tiny squares of lace, with each square outlined in a double-ruffle of sheer Valencia lace. A wide velvet ribbon belted the basque waist line, forming a bow and streamers at the back. Organza cabbage roses outlined the neckline and cap sleeves and clustered over the back bow.

Her three-tiered shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a bonnet of Venice lace, trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white daisies, centered with yellow rosebuds.

She carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrow, and blue. She wore a birth-year penny in her shoe.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Cindy Pulse, maid of honor, wore a floor-length gown of mint-green nylon dotted Swiss. The bodice was fashioned with an empire waistline, accented with a green velvet belt and front bow, and long fitted sleeves, ending at the wrist in bell flounces, trimmed with rows of white lace. She carried a nosegay of white daisies.

Guy Forbis of Center served as best man, and ushers were Terry Pulse and Randy Pulse, brothers of the bride.

MOTHERS

The mother of the bride wore a yellow linen sleeveless dress, styled with a deep flounce at the bottom. Her accessories were white, and her corsage was a white glamelia. The bridegroom's mother wore a bone ensemble with coordinated accessories. Her corsage was a yellow glamelia.

RECEPTION

For the garden reception, the serving table was covered with lemon yellow Alaire cloth, with deep two-toned lace edging, a gift from the bride's parents. Daisies arranged in a white wrought-iron bridge centered the table. Crystal appointments were used.

The three-tiered cake, decorated in pale yellow and mint green, was topped with two small white doves and wedding bells decorated with seed pearls.

Chlorine Bleach Turns Certain Fabrics Yellow

COLLEGE STATION—Some homemakers wonder why the yellow stayed—in their white clothes, that is, after a thorough wash using chlorine bleach.

Often the reason is the bleach itself and the fabric finish of the clothes.

According to Roxanne Schnorr, clothing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, yellowing can be caused by using chlorine bleach on fabrics with some types of resin finishes.

These particular finishes are used to give a wash-and-wear property to the fabric and are most often found on cottons and rayons, the Texas A&M University specialist explained. "Although there's less of this type finish being used, there are still some available on the market."

Miss Schnorr suggested the following procedure to restore fabric whiteness when yellowing is the result of using chlorine bleach:

Rinse the garment with clear water.

Soak the fabric for half an hour or more, as necessary, in a solution containing one teaspoon of sodium thiosulfate to one quart water.

Use water as hot as is safe for the fabric.

Sodium thiosulfate is available at drugstores and as "hypo" at photographic supply stores, the specialist noted.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

SUNDAY, AUG. 27

Your birthday today: Simplicity, perhaps to the point of austerity, is the direction of your daily living this coming year. What you hang onto now soon becomes a burden. Today's natives pursue personal education for most of their lives.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Abrupt shifts in program are par for current conditions. You can be stubborn and hold your ground without resort to angry words.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Spending Sunday at home has positive advantages this week. Rest early, don't be surprised if others come to you for advice.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Get up early, do your share of work, then get out of it for a rest, anywhere you can get solitude or a peaceful quiet.

Cancer [June 21-July 21]: Family connections may be stressed over some passing disagreement. Put business out of your mind, give yourself a break.

Leo [July 22-Aug. 22]: Expect others to be sensitive this Sunday, so resolve to let them be while your work out some of your own riddles.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: You are in line for critical review this Sunday. Be assured that much of the comment is favorable and go right ahead serenely.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Small groups manage quite well this Sunday, while large assemblages experience division, conflicts. Avoid fatigue.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Keep calm while dealing with changes, as they tend to work out better than original plans or casual drift of habit. It's a long day.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Moderation and self-adequacy are your keywords for successful living this Sunday. Deal with unfinished correspondence.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Get in some serious study, self-improvement activity. Friends and family tend to be out of touch with your plans.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Tact and self-restraint are needed. Remember that younger people need to learn from their own decision-making experience and errors.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Long-simmering questions come up for airing, perhaps final answers. Sudden sweeping changes are out of order, need preparation.

MONDAY, AUG. 28

Your birthday today: You start with what you have and what added support and encouragement you can get from others, then you build. Expect a change in conditions. Candor works better than tact. Today's natives pursue knowledge all their lives, tend to high efficiency.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Take the initiative, make changes work and get started before someone else begins. Seek full information on financial questions.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Whatever creative effort you've made now comes under inspection. Do further research, some course diverging from usual habits.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Cooperation becomes more feasible late in the day especially for idealistic programs. Let your trends in on a secret.

Cancer [June 21-July 21]: It's a field day for gathering contacting opinions while being discreet about your own. Coping with younger people comes easily.

Leo [July 22-Aug. 22]: Give people and their burdens time to settle into some sequence, then pitch in to redeem all your commitments. Make no new promises today.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]:

Reach out for fuller communications now. Pack up neglected correspondence. Pull family resources together for better investment.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Try to get cooperation in starting new projects, remembering that despite restless activity, you are not at your best level of business skills.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Patience with midday contention puts you into a good spot to take advantage of passing opportunity—move fast when you do.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Once you've been patient with early false starts and revisions, the day turns fortunate for your real interests.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Home and possessions are both a joy and a burden today. Romance leads to departures from plans. It's a long day.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: There's a dividend in doing the amenities with friends and relatives. Somebody can put in a good word for you where it counts.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Try to better your material resources, whether it means taking on different tasks, or demanding a larger share of what you produce.

Two Pampans Named "Outstanding Women"

Mrs. Patricia Stewart Rich, 1103 Kiowa, Pampa, and Miss Johnlyn Mitchell of Dallas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, 328 N. Faulkner, have been selected "Outstanding Young Women of America for 1972," the director of the national awards program, Miss Anita Capp, has announced.

These women are now being considered for further state and national awards. This fall, 50 of the young women nominated—one from each state—will be named their state's "Outstanding Young Woman of the Year." From the 50 state winners, the national "Ten Outstanding Young Women of America for 1972" will be selected.

Purpose of the program is to recognize young women between the ages of 21 and 35 for exceptional contributions to the betterment of their communities, professions and country. Nominations are made by women's organizations, alumni associations, churches and universities.

Now in its eighth year, the program was conceived, and is guided today, by leaders of the nation's major women's organizations. The program's board of advisors, composed of national presidents of women's clubs, is headed by Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, honorary president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

PATRICIA RICH

A complete biographical sketch of each nominee is included in the annual awards volume, "Outstanding Young Women of America," which is distributed nationally as a reference publication. The 1972 edition, to be published in November, will contain special introductory messages by U.S. Rep. Martha Griffiths (D-Mich.) and Amy Vanderbilt, the nation's leading etiquette authority.

MRS. RICH
Mrs. Rich, the wife of William H. Rich, a project engineer for Cabot Corporation was nominated while living in Lafayette, N.C. She and her husband, with their son, Alan, moved back to Pampa in January 1972.

Her civic and church activities in Lafayette included being a member of the board of directors of the Bayou Girl Scout Council, as well as GS neighborhood chairman, troop organizer, Council secretary, troop leader and Day Camp business manager.

She visited Vacation Bible School in her church for three years.

A charter member of Lafayette's Epsilon Tau chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, she serves her sorority as vice president, recording secretary and corresponding secretary. She is presently a member of Pampa's Rho Eta chapter. Reared in Pampa, Mrs. Rich was active here in Girl Scouting during her school years. She is a 1963 graduate of Pampa High School and attended West Texas State University, Canyon.

MISS MITCHELL
Miss Mitchell, an active musician in Pampa during her school years, teaches music in an elementary school in Dallas. She belongs to professional and civic groups in Dallas.

North didn't approve of South's three-diamond opening. He said so with appropriate explanations that when you have the cards for a normal opening you open with one. North also pointed out that if South had not rebid his preempt, North would have doubled and set West at four spades.

South replied that there was nothing wrong with the five-diamond contract except that West had held both club honors to defeat South one trick and that four spades would only have been one down.

Things were quieting down when a kibitzer caused real trouble by saying that South could have made his contract and should have done so after East pinpointed the club holding for him.

We never excuse a kibitzer for speaking. They should be seen and not heard, but his analysis was correct.

East had won the spade lead with the ace and returned the seven of clubs. South stayed low and West was on lead with the queen. He led a heart. East's jack forced South's king and after playing a few rounds of trumps South had gone to dummy with the ace of hearts and lost a club finesse to West's king.

South could have made the hand by a squeeze. He should have led a diamond to North's ace and ruffed a spade; repeated with a trump to the queen to ruff another spade just in case West only held five.

Then he could have run the rest of the trumps leaving a spade, a club and the ace of hearts in dummy. A heart to the ace would now squeeze West out of either the high spade or protection for the club king.

Charles Ezzell Speaks To ABWA On Safety

The Pampa Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association met recently at Furr's Cafeteria with 15 members and 4 visitors present.

Guest speaker was Charles Ezzell, supervisor of safety and plant protection for Celanese Chemical Company. Ezzell's topic was the year-old Occupational Safety and Health Act which he termed, "one of the most pervasive bills that American industry has ever faced." During the initial eleven months of the bill's existence, 26,400 employers have been inspected, which resulted in 20,660 citations issued for violations of safety standards under the Act. The citations have resulted in $1,995,000 in penalties.

He gave an accounting of factors which are attributed to the enactment of OSHA, the most important being an increasing injury-frequency rate and the staggering industrial death toll of recent years. Ezzell explained congressional legislation was urged when those with vested interest became dissatisfied with 14,500 work deaths annually, 2.2 million disabling injuries annually and more that $9 billion loss in gross national product.

Over 5 million firms employing 57 million workers were subject to the Bill, and, because of this, the Labor Department is urging voluntary compliance, he said.

At Celanese, voluntary compliance and the pursuit of excellence is safety above and beyond the minimum requirements under the law will continue as it has in the past," he concluded.

Mary Dell McNeil gave a vocational talk. She assists her husband at a tomato repackaging plant here in Pampa.

The Fall "Hand of Friendship Tea" is scheduled for Sept. 17 in the Hospitality Room of the Citizens Bank. Members were given forms to fill out inviting guests to the tea.

Members present were Mrs. Bill Simpson, Masterson, McNeil, Frances. "It's not pornographic. My mother loved it and she wants them for all my aunts and relatives," Carol Fulton, coproducer of what she says is the first all-male nude calendar for liberated females.

Bradley, Kathleen Dulaney, Eugene Franklin, Vernon Graham, Orville Hayes, C. A. Herd, Elmo Hudgins, John King, Danny Malone, David McNair, Homer McNeil, Shirley Nichols, James Shelton, Earnest Willis, and Duh Tallaw.

Bad egg winds up with yoke on him

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I had the same problem as the wife whose husband kicked or slapped her when he lost his temper. I compare that problem with that of a puppy who developed the habit of messing in the house because he got away with it. Any attempt to discipline him on the following morning was useless because by then he had forgotten what he'd done.

I decided that the next time my husband struck me I would pick up the nearest heavy object and let him have it. Unfortunately for him, the last time he hit me I was frying eggs in a cast iron skillet. I'll admit, it was awfully drastic, but as I said, that was the last time he ever laid a hand on me.

How would you have handled it? Sign me "L" IN ILLINOIS

DEAR L: I don't approve of violence. I'd have hit him with something lighter but more lasting. Like a divorce decree.

DEAR ABBY: I have caught my ten-year-old child stealing cookies and candy in the grocery store. I have immediately made her return the stolen items to the store clerk or manager.

On these occasions I have been completely floored when the managers and clerks smile and say, "Oh, that's okay!"

Abby, please print this letter and point out the possible damage done when adults assume an attitude of acceptance under such circumstances.

DISCOURAGED IN WASHINGTON

DEAR DISCOURAGED: Here's your letter with my added plea: DON'T minimize the seriousness of stealing. Today a cookie . . . tomorrow a car!

DEAR ABBY: You recently published several letters on the question of whether a child should call a stepmother "Mo' r'."

Most were against it. I think this is worth mentioning: If I am not mistaken, when Abraham Lincoln said, "All that I hope to be, I owe to my angel mother," he was referring to his stepmother.

WASHINGTON STAR READER

DEAR READER: Right on! And thanks to the Cinderella fairy tale, what happened to the stepmother image shouldn't happen to a stepdog.

DEAR ABBY: I recently read an article stating that there has been a tremendous increase in wives requesting prescriptions for tranquilizers. I wonder if there could be any connection between that and this new four-day work week the men are going in for?

I wish some efficiency expert would figure out how much more work a wife has to do on the days her husband is home all day. Including the picking up after all the projects he starts but never finishes.

And maybe Women's Lib will get a law passed making it legal to kill a husband who says, "Ah ha, just as I suspected. You women have nothing to do but sit around all day."

What we really need is a bar that's open 24 hours a day for WOMEN ONLY. GAIL IN TITUSVILLE, FLA.

DEAR GAIL: Ha! That will be the day. You could never keep the men out!

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Q. — I used some copper tubing recently and tried to bend it, but there was a kink at the center of the bend when I got finished. How can this tubing be bent without getting that kind of result?

A. — To make a smooth bend in flexible copper tubing, use a spring-type tubing bender, available at plumbing supply houses and some building supply dealers.

Q. — How can I tell a termite from a flying ant?

A. — If that means you have found one or more around your house, better have it checked by a professional exterminator or a county or state entomologist. But if you want to try to make an identification by yourself, the termite's body is of the same thickness all the way. The ant's body is shaped like an hourglass. The termite has four wings of the same length. The ant has two short wings and two long wings. The termite's wings are opaque, the ant's transparent.

DEAR POLLY—I hope someone can tell me how to remove airplane glue from a wool blouse. I have tried many things but with no luck. Thanks.—MRS. W.K.

DEAR POLLY—My 10-year-old son still needs to wear jeans with double knees but wears a size larger than they come in. I use scraps of that nice leather-looking fabric used so much for upholstery. Samples of it are bought at a neighborhood shop. These pieces are cut into the shapes of footballs, footprints, smiling faces, etc., and are finished off with the necessary lines and designs that I put on with a permanent marking pen. I stitch these inexpensive and tougher-than-cloth patches on the jeans and they really make a hit with all my son's classmates.—JAN

DEAR POLLY—If you have trouble with eyeglasses making your nose sore where they fit over the bridge, put a small amount of deodorant on your finger and rub it on the spot. This will stop the sweating that usually causes the trouble. It works. I know.—MRS. M.M.

DEAR READERS—Do be careful not to get the deodorant too near the eyes and, if you use the spray kind, do not spray onto the nose but on a finger.—POLLY

Foreign-Born Women To Be Altrusa Guests

Internationally-born women of Pampa and Berger areas will be special guests of the Altrusa Clubs of Berger and Pampa at the 7th annual international dinner of the Pampa Club at 7 p.m. Monday in the First United Methodist Church, Pampa.

Mrs. Jack Stroup, chairman of the international relations committee, stated representatives from more than a dozen countries are expected to attend the dinner, which will be prepared by Altrusans. Light musical entertainment will be provided.

The Altrusa Clubs are anxious that all women born outside the United States attend the affair. Although efforts have been made to locate all known area women eligible to attend, a personal invitation is not necessary. Mrs. Stroup pointed out.

Transportation and information will be furnished by any Altrusan contacted.

Kadingo Lingo

By Jane Kadingo

WHY DID YOU let me sleep so late?" I moaned. "I overslept, myself," answered my husband sheepishly. I ran downstairs, turned the heat on under the coffee; then, because I'm not too bright for the first hour in the morning, I stood blank-mindedly in the middle of the kitchen.

I looked at the clock. "I'll never be able to make breakfast and take Anne to school at 8, as I promised," I moaned. I started up the stairs to get dressed, then stopped. "I must be a good mother," I thought, "and a good mother doesn't let her children go to school without breakfast!"

"What do you want for breakfast?" I called. "I don't know," answered my husband. "I don't want anything," said John. "I'm not hungry. I'm going to go to school." "You are not!" I stated firmly. "It is only 7:30. You can't go this early." "I'll make myself some toast," said Nickita, our little Miss Smiley. "I don't care," called Anne. "Anything." I went to the kitchen and began preparations for French toast. "Mother," said Nickita. "The toast won't go down into the toaster." (It is the kind that automatically lowers the bread into the toaster when you put it in the slot.) I pushed and pushed. The toast wouldn't go down. I checked the cord. Nothing. I plugged it into another outlet. Nothing.

My husband took over, going through the same routine. "You'll have to use the broiler," Nickita, he told her, turning it on for her. I went back to preparing the French toast. Nickita stood waiting for her bread to toast. "I'm going to school," called John. "Not yet," I said emphatically. It's only 7:35. "Daddy," said Anne, emerging from the bathroom. "I have a problem. I dropped that new can of deodorant you bought me and the spray nozzle broke off." Her father got the pliers. "Be careful," I cautioned. "You may get sprayed in the face." He looked at me disdainfully. He wielded the pliers. The spray flew everytime he touched the broken-off tube that went down into the can. "Anne," all you need to do is get the pliers and exert a little pressure every time you use it. I explained. "I can get that out of there," my husband insisted, exerting a little more pressure.

The tube slipped further into the can, exerting continuous pressure that couldn't be stopped. "Help," I sputtered. "Do something." We were all coughing and choking. Nick ran for the back door and put it on the back stop. "I wonder how long it will keep spraying," I mused. "Anne," he moaned. "There goes 85 cents."

"Goodbye, I'm going to school," John called from the front door. "Come back here," I demanded. "It's only 7:40. You can't leave yet! Don't you want some French toast?" "Why are you always making me eat when I'm not hungry?" he asked. "Starve," I answered, thinking of all the articles I've read where only the worst and most neglectful mothers let their children go to school without breakfast.

"Mother," said Nickita. "The broiler isn't working." I checked the top burner. It was working. The broiler wasn't. It took a few seconds to remember that the only time the oven won't work when the burners do is when someone has turned on the oven timer. I checked. It was on "set." I turned it to "off." The broiler began to heat.

"I'm leaving," called John. "No you're not," I called back. "It's only 7:45. It's not time yet." We all sat down to eat. John wandered by. "I'll have some," he said. I gave him mine. As we were eating, Anne looked at me accusingly. "You promised you'd take me to school at 8," she said. I was still in my bathrobe. "I'll take you," her father offered. "Who is going to take Jhn and me?" asked Nickita. "You're going to walk," I said. "Oh, no!" she moaned. (We live the tremendous distance of three blocks from school.) "Goodbye," said John. "Goodbye," I said. It was 8 o'clock. The others left and I was alone. "Nine more months of this," I moaned! It was the FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL!

WHEN NICK stood looking dismally at the spewing deodorant can, it reminded me of the time when all three children were small. Periodically, my economy-minded husband would line them up in the bathroom, roll off six squares of tissue, and explain carefully, but firmly, that was all they could use at any one time. I finally gave up on the rationing approach. He now buys it by the case!

Sandra L. Hardee Wed To Kenneth Lynn Tabor

Miss Sandra Lynn Hardee of Loris, S. C., became the bride of Kenneth Lynn Tabor of Panhandle at 4 p.m., Sunday, Aug. 20, in the First Baptist Church of Loris.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. C. Vernon Hardee of Loris, S. C., and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvis E. Tabor of Panhandle.

THE CEREMONY
Rev. Redden J. Thames officiated for the double-ring service. Mrs. George Lay was organist, and William V. Campbell Jr. sang "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Church decorations included arrangements of white mixed flowers, emerald green palms, brass arch candelabra and two tree candelabra.

THE BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie and pearl-embroidered lace. The fitted bodice was styled with an empire waist-line, scalloped portrait neckline and long lace sleeves. The bottom of the floor-length skirt was edged with Chantilly lace.

Her floor-length mantilla of silk illusion was enhanced with a wide border of lace, embroidered with pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Claire Horne of Burlington, N.C. was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Babb Fowler of Loris, S. C.; Miss Alvine Tabor of Panhandle; Miss Paula Hardee and Miss Jewell Prince, both of Loris, S. C.; Miss Lynda Britt of Martinez, Ga.; and Mrs. Saundra Modlin of Washington, N.C.

All wore gowns of blue chiffon over taffeta, styled with empire waistlines and long chiffon sleeves. White lace accented the sleeves, necklines and bodices. All carried bouquets of daisies.

Rhonda Cox and Judith Hardee were flower girls, and Timothy Cox and Joseph Thames were candlelighters.

My husband says I have a managerial personality. That's what he says when he's being polite. At other times he says, "You're always checking up on people."

I admit to this flaw in my character. I am the sort of person who says, "Would you please see that the lawn mower is put in the garage?" Then, as he returns from the garage I ask, "Did you put away the lawn mower?"

The bad habit has been brought about by too many years of checking up on too many children. No woman in her right mind believes a child goes to the garage to put away the lawn mower. He starts for the garage to put away the lawn mower. Along the way, he digs for fishing worms, tries out a neighbor's new catcher's mitt, and fixes the back wheel of his bike.

Three days later the police bring your mower to the front door, tell you it had been stolen and abandoned in a state park, and you learn your son never got to the garage.

And, as I point out to my husband, my bad habit is Robin Rogers, and groomsmen were Carol Tabor, Buz Blue, James Markham, Ronald Fowler, Herman Hardwick and Bruce Austin. Ushers were Hal Ritter and Noel Hollyfield.

RECEPTION
Miss Ray Rogers provided piano music for the reception. The four-tiered cake, decorated with blue daisies, was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Margie Martin, Joanne Thames, James Craigie, Ethelene Cox, Jean Cox, and Misses Ruth Ellen Thames and Marjorie Sanders.

For the wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, S. C. and Atlanta, Ga., the bride wore a pink pantsuit.

AFFILIATIONS
The bride received her B. A. degree in religious education in 1971 from Campbell College, Buies Creek, N. C. She is working on her master's degree in religious education and social work at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky.

The bridegroom received his B. S. degree in political science in 1971 from Wayland Baptist College, Plainview. He is working toward his master's degree, also, in religious education and social work at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

"Right now my job is to run the Democratic National Committee. I'll tell you one job I won't have. I won't be treasurer. We're reserving that for a man," Jean Westwood, National Democratic chairman, on speculation that she would have a Cabinet spot in the event of a McGovern victory.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion Auxiliary met at Furr's Cafeteria for a Dutch supper. Mrs. Ruth Sewell opened the meeting with prayer, and recognized Sheri Hemsell, a guest, from Dallas. Sheri is granddaughter of Mrs. Lee Harrah.

The pledge of allegiance to the flag was given and the group read the Preamble to the American Legion Auxiliary. Cards of thanks were read from Mary Martin and Mrs. Mary Bartlett.

After a short business session, Mrs. Clay Coston installed the new members, Mrs. Molly Butts, Sargent-at-Arms, introduced the new officers, who are Mrs. Frank Shotwell, president; Mrs. Lee Harrah, vice president; Mrs. Ruth Sewell, secretary; Mrs. J.M. Turner, treasurer; Mrs. Bessie Foster, chaplain; and Mrs. Estelle Wheeler, sargent-at-arms.

After the ceremony, Mrs. Shotwell presented a gift to Mrs. Sewell from the auxiliary for her work as president for the past year. The committee appointment, announced by Mrs. Shotwell, are Mrs. Turner, membership; Mrs. Harrah, Americanism; Mrs. Lysle K. Stout, legislature; Mrs. Molly Butts and Ruth Sewell, Council of Clubs representative; Estelle Wheeler, scrapbook chairman; Ruth Sewell, Poppy chairman.

Next meeting will be Sept. 21, at Furr's Cafeteria.

MIAMI (Spl.) — Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Paris announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Nancy Jaye, to James Robert Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Burnett of Cotton Center. The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of Tarleton State College. Her fiance is a graduate of Texas Tech University, Lubbock. The wedding will take place at 7:30 p.m. September 2, in the First Christian Church, Miami.

A Soldier's Best Friend Is His Foxhole

The South Vietnamese soldiers dug in, above, near Phong Dien have learned one of the prime lessons for an infantryman: There's nothing like a nice, deep hole. Among those who learned it before were the American GIs on Utah Beach, Normandy, during the Allied D-Day invasion of 1944, above right. And they had learned it from their doughboy predecessors in the trenches on the Meuse in 1918, below right.

Persons who recently visited our Red Cross office were Frank L. Stallings, veteran First-Aid Instructor for Red Cross, who now lives in Tulsa, Okla. Frank looks well and says he is happy living away from Pampa, and sends his best wishes to all FAI in Gray County. Our other guest was Bert Pemberton, from Rockwell, Tenn. Bert was a chapter chairman for two years, 1963-64. Bert tells us that he reads the Pampa Daily News and never misses our Red Cross News. Mrs. Carl Pritchard came by our Red Cross office to say "Hello." Bea Pritchard was a Gray Lady in the days when we had hospital volunteers wearing the Gray dress. She now lives in Verna, Utah. It is good to hear from our friends who have worked with us in the years past.

James Tucker, WSI turned in the following skill sheets where he taught classes at the Country Club Pool. John Linecum, Mike Coon, Craig Lewis, and Britt Sturgeon passed their Beginner tests. Michelle Monogue, Cole Winborn, and Matt Hinton passed their Advanced Beginner tests. These boys and girls can purchase their patches from the Red Cross office for 25 cents.

Red Cross mass care for victims of Hurricane Agnes. Floods in the West and in a 12-State area were completed Aug. 15 with the closing of the last of the emergency shelters that have been operating continuously since June 9. Commitments in the 12-State area now total $23,213,400. A total of 883 chapters have responded with funds and as of Aug. 10, a total of $13,999,404 has been raised. The Red Cross is paying the bills at the rate of $1-million a week.

The national organization is urging all chapters who have funds to send them to National Headquarters. As disaster money comes into our chapter it will be forwarded to National Headquarters. All Red Cross chapters and workers are keeping their fingers crossed that no more emergencies will exist until after June 30, 1973. Again Red Cross wishes to thank everyone who has made contributions to this emergency.

The American Red Cross Youth Fund has contributed $5,000 as Chin Up (Children Help International Needs—Universal Appeal) Project No. 1 to the Philippines Red Cross to support their relief action on behalf of young people in the disaster area, and also has offered 20,000 Friendship Boxes and 50 School Chests.

MEMBERSHIPS

Participation at the center can be arranged through a daily fee or a membership plan. The best situation is the membership plan which allows you full use of all the facilities excluding the health facility and lets you take free swim lessons throughout the year. However, if you do not want to become a member you may pay 50 cents for students, 75 cents for adults and children 12 and under 35 cents.

The two membership plans available are the individual and family. The individual plan is sold to persons 8 years of age or older and costs $5.00 for six months or $8.00 per year. The family membership which includes all members of the immediate family costs only $12.00 for six months or $20.00 a year. You may use the health facility on another type of membership. For full details on the health facility call 665-4381.

WOMEN'S LIFESAVING COURSE: The Center will have a Senior lifesaving course for women beginning Tuesday, Sept. 5 at 9:00 a.m. This will last for 7 weekdays. If you are interested, please contact the Center front office.

WOMEN'S EXERCISE AND SWIM CLASS: The Center has started its meetings for the women's exercise and swim class now and all women are invited to participate. The classes meet on Monday and Friday mornings beginning at 9:30 a.m. The exercise is through a series of lessons on records led by Mrs. Sally White. The swim time is from 10:15 till 11:30 a.m. The only cost to you will be your membership to the Center which is $5.00 for six months or $8.00 per year.

We do have a baby sitter for mothers who have children at a nominal cost. If you have children, please go ahead and bring them. They are not allowed to swim or participate in the exercise class, but will be attended to.

DOLPHIN SWIM TEAM: The 1972 fall workouts for the Dolphin swim club has already begun. Workouts are held on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 6-7:00 p.m. In preparation for swim meets during the school year. All swim meets are during the weekends and does not interfere with school.

The club is always open for membership and participation is for both boys and girls. Each person must know how to swim as no swim lessons are given. However, instructions on how to do the various strokes are given. There is plans for instruction in strokes to be given after school from 4-6 p.m. The Dolphins are registered A.A.U. swimming club and adhere to all of the A.A.U. rules. If you are interested in joining the Dolphins, the only pre-requisites for joining are that you be a Center member or become one and know how to swim. You may join the club by coming to any of the workouts or by contacting club president, Thurman Brown at 665-3855.

Highland Baptist Church Marks Its 20th Founding Anniversary

By RAY BAXTER

At 6:30 p.m. Saturday a crowd of people considerably larger than the original congregation of 14 began a weekend observation of the twentieth anniversary of Highland Baptist Church.

Following a fellowship supper, a musical program featured singers from the church, former members and visiting talent. A former pastor, the Rev. M.B. Smith reviewed the brief but impressive history of the church.

In December, 1951, 14 people met to organize a mission church that came to be called Trinity Baptist and to be located in the 400 block of N. Zimmer.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Slaten, Jerry Slaten, Mr. and Mrs. George Moore, Mr. and Mrs. M.D. Crowell, Delvin Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bayless, Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Clouts, Drex Clouts and Neal Clouts.

The late Rev. Collins Webb was called to be pastor of the mission congregation and was retained as minister when Trinity Baptist Church was organized in March, 1952. He served until Sept. 1954.

He was followed by the Rev. Robert Webb (no relation) who served until Oct. 1955. Rev. Webb's son, Jimmy, later became internationally known for his song writing, having composed such hits as "Up, Up and Away" and others.

Rev. Smith became the third pastor shortly after Robert Webb.

In May, 1956, a committee began work to relocate the church. In July of that year the name was changed to Highland Baptist Church and ground was broken at the present location, 1301 N. Banks St., Nov. 26, 1956.

Rev. Smith resigned in July, 1961. The late Rev. Joe Allison succeeded him, serving until July, 1964, when the Rev. C.R. Bridges was called to the pastorate.

During Rev. Bridges' tenure, the congregation entered another time of considerable growth. He resigned in July, 1969.

The next pastor was a young minister, the Rev. Jim Standridge, ordained by the church. During his 13 months of service the church exceeded all previous records including number of baptisms.

The present pastor, the Rev. A.E. Burns was called in March of this year and the church has continued its unprecedented growth under his leadership. A fellowship hall is rapidly nearing completion under the busy hands of pastor and members of the church.

Observation of the anniversary will continue through all services today. At the Sunday School hour, Rev. Smith was to teach adults and young people of the church. Rev. Bridges is to deliver the 11 a.m. sermon and Rev. Burns will preach at 7 p.m.

Rev. Smith teaches at Pampa High School. Rev. Bridges is now chaplain at the state school at Lubbock. Mrs. Allison lives at Clarendon and Mrs. Webb, widow of the first pastor, is now W.M.U. director for Kansas Baptists.

As the twentieth year of growth is marked, members of the congregation are enthusiastically optimistic that the future will be the brightest, busiest period in the life of Highland Baptist Church.

Price, Tower Delegates To Mexico For Accord

WASHINGTON — Congressman Bob Price of Pampa has been selected to join Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz as part of a delegation to Mexico on Monday for the signing of an international agreement.

Undersecretary of Agriculture, J. Phil Campbell, announced that an agreement for the control of screwworms will be signed on Monday.

The group will also include Sen. John Tower of Texas and Mexican Ambassador, Dr. Jose Juan de Olloqui.

As representatives of the United States government, an agreement will be signed designating the Isthmus of Tehuantepec as the control line for this disease and will provide $0.20 funding by the U.S.

Signatory ceremonies are slated for Monday evening in Mexico City. The ceremony will be followed by a formal reception and dinner hosted by the Mexican Government.

Congressman Price and members of the party will return to Dallas Tuesday for a 2 p.m. news conference.

Real Estate Sales Here Set Record In 1st Half

The Pampa Multiple Listing Service recently totaled sales activity for the first six months of 1972.

Cooperative sales by members of MLS reflect the largest number of total sales and also the greatest total dollar sales of any six months period in the 11-year history of the Service since its founding in April, 1961, according to Verl Hagaman, president of the Pampa Board of Realtors.

Ninety-three properties having a total sales value of $1,452,937 have been sold since January of this year by seven realtor firms having 33 sales people belonging to the cooperative listing service.

The Multiple Listing operates under the supervision of the Pampa Board of Realtors and is a vehicle to serve the public by placing all listing of real property by individual firms into the cooperative sales service so all members may show them to their buying clients.

The record sales far surpass sales in 1971 for the first six months, when 66 total properties were sold having sales prices totaling $845,056 and were also greater than the second best year of the Service, 1970, when 78 properties were sold having a value of $1,070,696.

If the present trend continues, 1972 will be a banner year in Pampa for real property sales, Hagaman said.

Hagaman and other Pampa Realtors believe the large volume of sales reflect the basic strength and general prosperity of the Pampa economy.

Other factors contributing to greater home sales in 1972 has been that interest rates have decreased considerably from record highs in 1969, 1970 and early 1971, and rates at present are as low as they will be in the foreseeable future, the Realtors have the largest selection of realistically priced homes they have had in some years, and, although real estate prices have been moving upward over the nation, price stability in Pampa still offers the buying public reasonable values.

Hagaman also stated that in addition to the 72 per cent dollar sales increase over 1971, apartments in Pampa are full and there are waiting lists for medium to better priced two and three-bedroom apartments, also reflecting the prosperity of the Pampa economy.

President Hagaman says most Realtors believe general increases in the price of homes are forthcoming, and the buying public will save money and have a better selection at the present time.

1973 Wheat Allotments Sent Out

Notices of 1973 wheat allotments and an official explanation of the 1973 wheat "set-aside" program were mailed to producers in Gray County Aug. 14, according to Miss Evelyn Mason, County Executive Director, Gray County ASCS.

A number of important items are covered in the leaflet sent with the allotment notices, including a reminder that 1973 is the year when a farmer who did not plant a program crop during the past two years can lose his allotment if he fails to plant for the third time. This is true unless the allotment is protected by substituting feed grain for wheat for the farm or by protection under the Cropland Adjustment program or the expired Conservation Reserve program.

Producers may ask for set-aside inspection and measurement service from the county ASCS office in order to assure themselves well ahead that set-aside land is offered at cost. Allotment notices to wheat producers are sent several months before "sign-up" at which time farmers give official notice of their intent to participate in the set-aside program and designate their set-aside acreage. The official sign-up period has not yet been announced.

Area Native Gets AG Appointment

COLLEGE STATION — Dr. E.M. (Ted) Trew, currently assistant director of the Cooperative Extension Service for the University of Kentucky and a former extension specialist and assistant dean of agriculture at Texas A&M University, will become state agricultural program leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service on Aug. 28.

In making the announcement, Dr. John E. Hutchison, extension director, said that Trew will fill the position recently vacated by the retirement of A.H. (Fred) Walker. Trew will provide leadership for a statewide staff of more than 150 Extension agricultural specialists, and will supervise and coordinate their work. Hutchison added.

Trew, a Collingsworth County native, was first employed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in 1943 as assistant county agent in Lamar County.

Trew became pasture specialist with headquarters at College Station in 1952. He continued in this position until 1959, when he was awarded a leadership grant by the Ford Foundation, to undertake graduate study at the University of Chicago. After completing the Ph.D. degree in adult education at that university in 1962, Trew returned to his position as pasture specialist at College Station.

1971 Cotton Worst Yield In 25 Years

For 1971, Texas had the worst per-acre cotton yield in 25 years while four counties on the South Plains of West Texas were among ten top-ranking counties in production.

Lubbock County was first with 155,900 bales. Hale County was fifth with 96,000 bales. Hockley County was eighth with 88,000 bales while Lamb County was in ninth place only 100 bales behind.

The High Plains irrigated section of the state accounted for 1,163,900 bales—more than half of the state's total.

Texas in 1971 produced 2,579,000 bales from 3,940,000 acres with a harvest yield of 385 pounds per acre. With prices for cotton ranging from 18 to 27 per pound, total value of the lint was some $340,000,000.

Despite the poor showing, Texas held its number one spot in the nation over second-ranked Mississippi.

A few weeks ago we forecast there would be a $5.00 drop in prices of fat cattle. In visiting with Emory Crockett at Moody Farms, he stated they sold a few pens of fat steers at $38.00 when the market topped out.

Today fat steers are being sold for $34.50 which means the market has lost $3.50 of the five dollars. We still have a $1.50 to go. This will come within the next 30 days. The drop in price of fats is not the result of any decreased demand of beef since beef is moving and moving well in the markets.

The price drop is a result of heavy placements on feed during the months of March, April, and May in the wheat pasturing states. Texas, the number one cattle-feeding state, with over two million head on feed, placed large numbers of steers and heifers coming off wheat weighing 50- to 100 pounds more than normal going into the feedlots. This means there will be 60 extra pounds of dressed beef coming off of each steer placed. We will stay under this price pressure through October.

Price recovery will start in November. December is traditionally a bad marketing month for beef even though the last year or two has not been bad.

By the end of the year we should be out of the woods on price and a nice rise should set in again in January 1973. This could take us to new highs. But this is too far out to make a guess.

Now let's look at stockers and feeders. You have seen a slight drop of $1.50 per CWT on light weight calves one week. The next week they recovered practically all the drop. Range conditions over the southwest is the best in years. As the larger March, April, and May placements are turned out of the feedlots, there is a scramble for replacements. Stocker and feeder prices will be tremendously over priced in relation to fats.

Bankers, accountants, lawyers, and hard-nosed businessmen, that have been making heavy fall placements on feed as a tax shifting device, will be in the market heavier than ever this fall. Efforts of these special kinds of cattle feeders to shift taxes to the following year turned into both tax shifting and nice profits. They have compounded problems of tax shifting this fall. They will make strong bidders for replacement cattle from now through December.

This might tend to keep the lid on prices next spring. These are the reasons why stockers and feeders will not suffer any substantial price decline this fall.

If it was not for the tax shifting advantage of owning the cattle, there will be times within the next two months you would be better off to buy live beef cattle on the future's market rather than buy cattle to feed. Watch the futures and take your pencil and figure this one out some day.

Pheasant Project

A few weeks ago, the Soil Conservation Service sponsored a campaign to seek the stocking of Ringneck Pheasants in the area. Mickey Black, local soil conservationist, reports a petition bearing 763 names has been sent with an additional 255 names coming later.

A letter from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has acknowledged the petition and assures that stocking ringneck pheasants in the Texas Panhandle is in the planning stage. It will then be sent to the wildlife commission for approval.

Black said response both locally and in Austin was highly encouraging for the project.

Control Work Big For Johnsongrass

Johnsongrass is one of the most widespread perennial weeds, since nearly every state in the U.S. has some infested areas. Extensive research in johnsongrass control has been conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock. Weed research at the Center was conducted by Dr. Dudley Smith. Various control methods and chemicals were studied in cotton fields with several cooperating growers.

This tall-growing grass spreads by two ways. Underground stems, or rhizomes, act like roots and spread quickly in cropland. Rhizomes become tangled on tillage equipment and hitch a ride to infest other fields. Another method of spread is by seed. Seed blows into cropland from johnsongrass in ditches and lake areas.

Johnsongrass seed is hard to separate from hay or straw and is difficult to clear out of some crop seed. Good weed control just doesn't happen, it must be carefully planned before the crop is planted.

In cotton or soybeans, plan on double disk incorporation of the full recommended rate of Treflan or Planavin for your soil type. This controls seedling johnsongrass and prevents more new plants from establishing. Preliminary test work in cotton by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that applying a double rate of Treflan for two years, with thorough incorporation gives good control and excellent suppression on old rhizomes. Good soil incorporation is essential.

High, double rates of Treflan for johnsongrass control are not labeled or recommended for use yet, but results have been good in research plots. Interested growers should only treat a very small acreage to observe how this practice works on their farm.

Timely cultivation in any crop is an essential part of a total control program for johnsongrass. The weed is forced to regrow with repeated tillage and hand hoeing of infested spots. More root reserves or carbohydrates are used up each time new shoots are produced. Total control will depend on having a chemical in the soil to suppress root growth, spraying shoots to kill foliage and roots, and soil tillage to make the plant exhaust its reserves.

But watch ditches, fence rows, and lakes, because once a field is cleaned up, these are sources for reinfestation.

Solid Waste Gets Closer Scrutiny

By RAY BAXTER
 Farm Editor

While the automobile is coming under the closest scrutiny of the environmentalists—official and unofficial—the "exhaust" of civilization truly proposes the greatest problem.

This is the disposal of solid wastes—organic, garbage and other municipal refuse plus feedlot wastes that plague cities and rural areas alike.

Considerable light was shed on a part of this problem Aug. 10 at a solid waste seminar at Clarendon Junior College. It was sponsored by the directors of the North Rolling Plains Resource Conservation and Development project and attended by area officials from the seven counties participating in the project.

These included Jiggs Cook, public works director and Allen Vickery, sanitation superintendent. Pampa; Boyd Meador, mayor and Bob Glenn, sanitation superintendent, McLean.

The seminar dealt with rules, standards and regulations governing municipal solid waste, planning individual solid waste disposal sites, soil characteristics affecting waste disposal systems, solid wastes and regional planning and solid wastes and financing.

Participating in the program were Ned Brookes, Jimmie Dickens and Robert Clark, state department of health; O.I. Boyd, Farmers Home Administration; Larry Goodman, Panhandle Regional Planning Commission and Jack Williams, Soil Conservation Service.

Mickey Black of the local Soil Conservation office also attended.

Harry Frye, chairman of the sponsoring organization's executive board outlined the purposes of the symposium and made the introductions.

The North Rolling Plains Resource Conservation and Development project was planned to provide aid and direction for a number of efforts aimed at problem solutions for cities, smaller towns and rural areas. While it has not yet been funded in Washington, it has been instrumental in the start of a number of area projects and inspired such information meetings as the one at Clarendon.

While this seminar dealt solely with sanitary landfills, important because the smallest towns are being touched by statutes governing these disposal facilities. The complete waste picture is getting a close scrutiny from those who have expertise in the area of solutions.

Feedlots, now a $2-billion industry in West Texas pose a manifold problem of odor and waste. A commercial company has marketed a chemical proving reasonably effective with odors but chemical engineers at Texas Tech University have turned their attention to the waste itself seeking to reduce it to a usable product.

If successful, that end product—a "char"—could be used for water clarification, fuel or a soil conditioner. The air pollution problem caused by burning waste would be greatly reduced and the process produces sufficient gas to provide the energy to get the job done.

The minds and hands behind the system are those of Dr. Harry W. Parker of the chemical engineering faculty and a graduate student, J. Richard Massie, Fort Worth. The pair designed and built a two-story model of a novel retort which dries feedlot waste, pyrolyzes it (heating without oxygen) then burns a part of it. The result is the previously mentioned char composed of carbon and inert ash which, at best, could serve a variety of purposes and at the least, is innocuous—which organic waste is not.

Based on the lab-sized retort, Dr. Parker says a 12-foot diameter commercial model could handle 165 tons—repeat, tons—per day.

He feels the best place for this by-product is on the ground as fertilizer. However, unless it is treated it "burns" crops and the treatment costs place it above commercial fertilizers economically.

A side benefit of the retort is fuel gas to generate electricity with a minimum of air pollution compared to European cities who burn solid wastes for this purpose.

Dr. Parker said the retort is applicable to any organic solid waste. So the work continues as technology seeks to match the disposal speed of civilization.

Panhandle Water

We can all rest assured that stronger anti-pollution of water measures will come out of the National Congress before it adjourns this year. Evidence of this is reflected in the strong anti-pollution planks of both the Democratic and Republican Conventions. The executive branch is dominated by the Republicans and the legislative branch is controlled by the Democrats. There will be great political advantage for either party to capture ecological and environmental vote in November. Both national parties also feel that the individual states have moved too slowly in the water and air pollution field and that what has been done is inadequate.

During the first week of August, 1972, the Senate and House Public Works Committees tried very hard to resolve some of the differences between their respective versions of the water bill to be known as the Federal Water Pollution Control Act. The wording of both versions is strong. This strong wording has brought protests from many of the nation's businessmen who feel as if they are sitting outside like convicted criminals biding their time while waiting for Congress to pass sentence on them.

Due to the strong reaction by many of the nation's bigger businesses, it is only natural that members of the Public Works Committees will study the contents of the proposed act carefully. The committee members are also aware that business fears tend to become greatly exaggerated. The Senate version has a mandate that industry achieve zero pollution in the waste it discharges by 1985. This is great news for the ecologists, but grim news for industry. The big worry on the part of industry is the interpretation that may be put on the wording by the courts when accused violators are brought into court. The courts usually take the literal reading. Thus zero pollution means zero pollution and nothing less.

When handing down decisions, it could mean that manufacturing plants could not discharge even distilled water.

Sen. Edmund Muskie, the Senate author of the proposed act, gained the national spotlight in the early 1960's with his anti-water pollution control measure that we now operate under. The current Muskie bill is much stronger than the earlier one. In fact, most of the current Senate bill is a product of Sen. Muskie's staff which was written while he was chasing the Democratic presidential nomination. Had he been nominated, this would have made him the darling of all the vocal ecological minority groups. During the Senate committee hearings only a handful of Senators appeared to discuss the proposed bill before it was brought before the full Senate. Since both parties have strong planks in their party platforms and reacting to possible dynamite in a negative position, the Senate passed the bill by a vote of 86 to 0.

The bill as passed by the Senate has biting teeth in it that has already brought howls of pain from many industries. The bill, should it become law, empowers a federal authority to require companies to install by 1976 the best pollution-abatement equipment available.

By 1981 they will be required to use the best anti-pollution available to eliminate pollutants. Also in 1981, any company that has been unable to lower pollutants to the zero level must obtain a waiver from a federal agency for a variance for a specified length of time. There is no guarantee that the waiver will be issued. They must be able to persuade the federal agency that a total cleanup costs more than the social benefits of achieving a zero level in its discharge.

Continued operation without a variance waiver could result in heavy fines and penalties and jail terms for top officials.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Farm Prices Show Increase... Sheep on Feed Increases... Changes Announced in Screwworm Control... Cotton Stalk Destruction Deadline Nears... DDT to be Cancelled.

Calf prices are above 100 per cent of parity, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes. Average price for calves received by Texas farmers as of July 15 was $45.30 per hundredweight. Effective parity is $44.20 per hundredweight.

Overall, the all farm products index shows prices received by Texas farmers and ranchers were at 356 per cent of the 1910-14 base. This is an increase of 20 per cent above a year ago.

Calf prices are the only commodity above effective parity price. Cotton, for example, was at 28.5 cents per pound while the effective parity is 55.16 cents per pound. Hogs were at $27.20 in Texas on the average; effective parity is $30.60.

Beef cattle prices averaged $35.60, effective parity is $36.80. Grain sorghum averaged $2.01, while effective parity is $3.33.

Parity that measuring stick used to compare farm income with non-farm income is now at 75 per cent. So even though farm prices have been increasing, total farm income is still about one-fourth below the rest of the economy.

Farm income now is estimated at $18 billion this year. But at full parity, farm income would be about $22 billion.

SHEEP on feed in Texas shows a six per cent increase in the number on feed a month earlier. This, however, is four per cent below a year ago.

Drylot sheep feeders with a lot capacity of 2,000 head or more had 143,000 head of sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter as of August 1.

Current intentions to market the 143,000 head are: August, 53,000; September, 56,000, and October, 34,000. September and October intentions are incomplete at this time because additional lambs could still be placed on feed and marketed during the period.

CANCELLATION OF DDT registration will take effect August 31, except for a few limited uses. The Pesticide Advisory Committee of Texas, which makes recommendations to the Texas Department of Agriculture relating to the use of pesticides, said cancellation should have little impact on agriculture production in the state.

DDT will continue to be registered for use on stored sweet potatoes, use by public health officials, in prescription drugs, and by the military in health quarantine programs.

SCREWORM regulations relating to dipping or spraying of livestock have been changed. Livestock are no longer required to be dipped or sprayed before shipment from one screwworm-infested state to another. However, all livestock shipped from or through areas where screwworms are a recurring problem must still be inspected, any wounds treated, and the shipment certified free of screwworms.

PINK BOLLWORM stalk destruction deadline is August 31 for these counties: Cameron, Wilacy and certain portions of Starr and Hidalgo.

Early stalk destruction throughout the state is urged. Extensive insect damage has been reported this year in many parts of the state. Early stalk destruction can reduce insect infestation for the 1973 cotton crop.

Pampa Staff Pleased With First Week's Effort

Coach Buddy Williams was pleased with the first week of practice for this fall's football season and well he should have been.

"We got a lot accomplished for the first week of practice. The kids had a real good attitude, worked hard and practiced well.

"Our weight is good—where it should be—and the players were in pretty good condition when the practices started."

"Our quarterbacks executed extremely well." Rick Musgrave looked particularly good in practice—both running plays and passing.

"Rick McGuire has really been catching the ball well and Richard McCampbell and Jack King have both been impressive running."

"In fact, our whole offensive line has done well considering that it was the first week of practice," Williams said.

That line finds Hunnicut at tight end, David Lanehart at center, Eddie Townsend and Billy Lemons at guard, Larry Johnson and Harmon Staus at tackle and Rick McGuire at split end.

"All in all, we had a real good practice Friday, the first day in pads," Williams said.

"We got a great deal accomplished for the first day and the players showed a deal of enthusiasm."

Coach Williams and his assistants were so impressed with the attitude and effort of the first string defensive team that they decided to distinguish them by having them suit out in green mesh jerseys.

Any time the Harvester fans go by the practice field and see 11 men in green jerseys they will be able to recognize the players who have shown themselves to have the desire to play defense for Pampa.

Despite the good work and attitude displayed by the Harvester defense, coach Williams admits to the fact that some of them are young and inexperienced.

"Right now our weaknesses are at defensive end and in the defensive secondary. Richard McCampbell is the only returning starter in the backfield and none of our ends have started for us at that

Matson To Join Alumni Association

COLLEGE STATION—Randy Matson will join the staff of the Association of Former Students, alumni organization, on Sept. 1 at Texas A&M University.

The world record holder for the Olympics will be involved in the full total spectrum of the alumni and university activities, according to Buck Weirus, association executive director.

The association contributions to Texas A&M University through its annual funds has totaled $1 million for each of the last two years. Matson's work will range from club and class activities to association-wide programs.

A&M President Jack K. Williams said he is "delighted to have one of Texas A&M's and the world's greatest athletes and a top scholar return to the university. Randy Matson will be an asset to our total program of excellence and a refreshing inspiration to all Aggie under-graduates."

A 1967 A&M graduate with a degree in marketing, Matson for the past years has been in charge of West Texas State University's Buffalo Club, which raises funds for athletic scholarships.

The 1968 Olympic Gold Medal winner put the shot 71 feet, 5 1/2 inches at Kyle Field in 1967 to establish a new world record in the event. Matson also lettered in basketball with the Aggies in 1966.

"I'm looking forward to returning to Texas A&M," the Pampa native said. "I have thought a lot about the possibility and I am thrilled it's come about at this time. It will be a privilege to be associated with the Association of Former Students and to work for Texas A&M."

Matson and his wife, Margaret, have a two-year-old son and a four-year-old daughter.

Sox Win

BOSTON (AP) — Pinch-hitter Phil Gagliano capped a five-run rally in the last of the ninth inning with a two-run double, leading the Boston Red Sox to a comeback 7-6 American League victory over the Texas Rangers Saturday.

The Rangers used two relief pitchers in the ninth—Jim Panther and Casey Cox—but couldn't hold off the Boston outburst.

Track and field, when it gets rolling Friday, will feature races at each distance with the United States expected to lose the 100-meter dash for only the second time in 43 years.

The United States whipped Russia 45-29 in golds at the 1968 Games in Mexico City and the Yanks also were No. 1 in total medals with a 107-91 edge.

In four years, East Germany has muscled-up as an international sports power and has wall-to-wall contenders housed at Olympic Village.

Tee-Off Tid-Bits

By HART WARREN
Due to the upcoming Top O' Texas Tournament this week's column will be shorter than usual.

The column will not appear in next Sunday's edition but look for us again September 10 when we will have our final edition of the season.

In recognition of one of this week's better efforts we would like to mention Jeannine Coulter's fantastic 36-43-79.

Some of our ToT contestants also carded better than average scores warming up for this weekend's tourney.

Such as, Warren Mayo's 69, Buster Carter's 68, Richard Igau's 81 and Clinton Evan's 34 on our front side. You should have heard Bob Curry and E.E. Shelhammer cry about that one.

Also, F.N. Hills shot a super 74—by the way, he carries a 15 handicap.

We want to wish good luck to all contestants in the Top O' Texas and would like to invite everyone out to watch some fine golf Sept. 14.

GOLF TIP—Often in tournament play pressure develops. One way of relieving it is to break your putter.

Seriously, to relieve pressure, play each hole stroke by stroke and one shot at a time. Forget your past bad shots.

See you in the rough!

seeds in the match play, built a 5-up lead through seven holes before eliminating erratic Deane Beman 1-up in the first round, then crushed rookie Larry Wadkins 5-and-3 before a vast gallery that journeyed to the Carolina sandhills in the afternoon.

The veteran Beard, slumpridden all season, scored a 2-and-1 decision over British Open champion Trevino in the afternoon's second round, shortly after national television coverage had broken away.

Longshot Don Bies stunned third-seeded Arnold Palmer 5-and-4 in the morning first round, then got by rookie Len Thompson 2-and-1 in the afternoon.

Babe Hickey, another non-seeded player, whipped former PGA champion Dae Stockton 3-and-1 in the other quarter-final match.

That set up the following semi-finals: Nicklaus vs. Bies and Beard vs. Hickey.

Tiger League Gets Underway

The 1972 Optimist Boys Club Tiger League Football program will get underway this Tuesday. Registration will begin at 5:30 p.m. at the Optimist Club Building.

All boys in the 5th or 6th grade should report beginning at 5:30 for registration and weigh in. Boys who participated last year should also report for the weigh in.

At the conclusion of the two day registration, the boys will be assigned to one of the six teams competing. Practice will get underway on September 5th and the season will start September 26th.

Durocher will be taking charge of a team that plays its home games in the Astrodome, which Durocher has criticized often as a playing field.

Durocher, 65, was replaced as manager of the Cubs following a series of illnesses and controversy.

Richardson said Durocher was the only prospect he talked to when he decided to replace Walker. "He's an outstanding man, he has fire, and he might be just what we need to win the pennant," Richardson said at the hastily called news conference Saturday.

Walker, who had the longest tenure of any Astro manager, had been in hot water several times during his five seasons but had always come out on top.

Durocher, who was fired as manager of the Chicago Cubs during the All-Star break last month, will be in an Astro uniform for Sunday's game against Montreal.

USSR, East Germany Pose Biggest Threats

MUNICH (AP) — Russia and Iron Curtain brother East Germany will be the strongest challengers to the favored United States when the race for gold medals begins Sunday at the 20th Olympic Games.

Boris Jermakov, a Russian world record holder should bag Munich's first gold in free pistol shooting. However, American swimmer Mark Spitz is poised to pursue an unprecedented seven first places.

A record 122 nations from a record 195 gold medals in a record 22 sports.

PRO CHARTS

by MURRAY OLDERMAN

National Conference: Central Division
22—CHICAGO BEARS

Abe Gibrón

PROSPECTUS — Abe Gibrón waited long time for his shot at head job. There's no monkey business about Abe. Guys hustle for him or they're gone. Problem now is to get enough of the right guys. Offensively is where they'll be hurting for spark unless Gale Sayers makes miraculous comeback. Give Abe a year to get Bears organized.

OFFENSE

QUARTERBACK—Left-hand fliker Bobby Douglas has wide-open opportunity to take over. Trouble is, he's generally more dangerous running than throwing. Kent Nix just the opposite. Rating—C.

RUNNING BACKS—The Mizou kids—Joe Moore and Jim Harrison — have chance to move in as soph. Former was hurt; latter was big flop. Can always go back to Don Sky, Cyril Pinder, who're still spry enough. Plus Jim Grabowski. And then there's Sayers. Rating—B.

WIDE RECEIVERS—The speed of Dick Gordon the recalcitrant would be sorely missed. Neither Jim Seymour nor Bob Wallace provide some threat, though they're bigger. George Farmer on other side came fast as receiving threat last year, led club. Rating—B.

TIGHT END—Earl Thomas works hard, but Abe would frankly like help. It might come from draftee Bob Parsons of Penn State. Rating—B.

LINE—The holdovers are barely recognizable names. In fact, veterans of the group, Jim Cadile, a 10-year man, likely to be ousted by second-year man Bob Newton at guard. They didn't draft huge Lionel Antwine to sit on bench. He'll make it at right tackle. Gibrón says the competition for all posts is good. Rating—B.

DEFENSE

LINE—Gibrón not so sure George Seals has his heart in playing football any more. Makes the middle shaky because Bill Staley always seems to come up hurt. Young Tony McGee gets a chance at tackle now. Steve DeLong, from Chargers, has moved right into end job, with Willie Holman holding down left side. Rating—B.

LINEBACKERS—The incomparable Dick Butkus, now approaching 30, has shaken off last year's knee trouble. Has an added mission of regaining all-pro status. Still most feared harasser of quarterbacks in game. Doug Buffone on right side is a toughie, too. Jimmy Gunn challenges Ross Brupbacher for third job. Rating—B+.

SECONDARY—Bound to be a couple of changes. Craig Clemons, first round pick from Iowa, should work into a first string role at safety. Year of experience should benefit Charlie Ford at left corner, Jerry Moore at right safety. Experience in secondary is provided by Joe Taylor, Bob Jeter. Rating—B.

KICKING—At 36, Bobby Joe Green still outdistances all punters, though Parsons is a possibility. Mac Percival hangs on as the place-kicker. Rating—B.

SPECIAL TEAMS—A Gibrón forte because he believes in keeping all kids hustling. Freckle-faced Ron Smith of the secondary is an experienced kick returner. Rating—B.

PREDICTION

Fourth in Division. There are too many soft spots for Bears to jump into challenging position.

27. Preparing for the Volley

SPORTS PAGE

Dolphins Have 35

The Pampa Dolphin Swim Club had its first meeting of the 72-73 season last week at the Youth Center. Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Brown, presidents of the club, presided. They announced that approximately 35 boys and girls were enrolled.

Time trials will be held every three weeks with the first one scheduled for September 7. A dual meet with Amarillo has been planned at the Pampa Youth Center late in September. It was decided that trophies would be awarded to the most improved girl and boy swimmer again this year.

The Pampa club will host a Junior Olympics meet April 7 and plans and preparations have already begun. This meet will draw swimmers from the Tri-State area.

Mrs. Nell Carter will coach the team again this year with James Lewis and Mrs. Ruth Steger assisting. Other officers are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steger, vice-presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Williams, secretaries; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glascock, treasurers.

The club welcomes any new members and information may be obtained by contacting any officer. Mrs. Carter, or the Youth Center.

Workouts are from 6 to 7 p.m. four days a week and dues are four dollars a family per month. Membership in the Youth Center is also required.

Those who enrolled this week are: Tim Anderson, Karen Anderson, Sandra Anderson, Ted Brown, John Carter, Ora Carter, Gay Carter, Marita Carter, Chris Alexander, Kathy Maxwell, Clay Douglass, Kristen Douglass, Teresa Glascock, Tamara Glascock, Brian Glascock, Bradley Glascock, and Stan Williams.

Also, Rob Williams, Stacy Williams, Richard Steger, Reid Steger, David Holland, Kevin Holland, Lisa Raymond, Cindy Raymond, Howard Lewis, Bill Lewis, Debbie Lewis, Cheryl Fisher, Scott Smith, James White, Shawn White, and Tracy Robertson.

OLYMPIC FEATS 1968

(One of a series on extraordinary happenings in each of the 16 modern Olympic Games.)

MEXICO CITY, 1968—She arrived in Mexico City as Vera Caslavka, an established Olympic star—and she left it as Vera Odlozil, an even greater Olympic star.

In between, this appealing girl from Czechoslovakia became the enduring heroine of the 19th Olympic Games. In gymnastics she won four gold medals and two silver which brought her Olympic total to 11—seven gold and four silver.

Eight years earlier at Rome she had won her first medal, a silver in the team event and at Tokyo she had collected three gold and another team silver. On Saturday, October 26, the eve of the Closing Ceremony, she married her teammate, Josef Odlozil, who had won the silver medal in the 1500-meter at Tokyo in 1964.

One of Sweden's proudest moments at Mexico was the victory ceremony for the Olympic Road Time-Trial cycling race. For there to be presented with silver medals were the four Petterson brothers—the first and only time in the history of the Games that four brothers have won medals in the same event at the same celebration. And one of them, Gert Petterson, also collected a second silver medal in the Road cycling race.

This was a very special honor for Sweden for the country can also boast of having provided the only three brothers to win Olympic gold medals at a single celebration of the Games. They were the Nordahl brothers who played on Sweden's winning team in the soccer tournament at London in 1948.

PRO CHARTS

by MURRAY OLDERMAN
American Conference: Central Division
23—PITTSBURGH STEELERS

Chuck Noll

PROSPECTUS—A team acquiring together. Chuck Noll starts his fourth year as boss, and this is his squad for most part. There's been steady, if slow progress. Whether Steelers make it to top depends largely on prodigy Terry Bradshaw, who's had two tough years under his belt. There's good reason for optimism.

OFFENSE

QUARTERBACK—Still a straight-arrow version of Joe Namath is how they figure Terry Bradshaw. Lively battle between Terry Hanratty, Bob Leahy for the backup job. Loser will probably be traded. Rating—B+.

RUNNING BACKS—Can start with some duo of Frenchy Fuqua, Preston Pearson. Neither, however, is the heavy duty type, and holder Warren Bankston, big enough, doesn't look like more than a spare. So there's fine opportunity for top draftee Franco Harris, a ball, to work into regular job by midseason. Steve Davis another good-looking rookie. Rating—B.

WIDE RECEIVERS—Very strong department, with Ron Shanklin (underrated) and Dave Smith the starters, but Frank Lewis, injury-hampered as rookie, ready to come on. Also a surprise kid in Nate Hawkins. Rating—B+.

TIGHT END—Would be something if Dave Smith were amenable to switch. But he's not. So they'll go with incumbent Bob Adams (good blocker, mediocre receiver), pushed by impressive rookie John McMakin. Rating—B.

LINE—Lacks depth, particularly at the tackle spots. Could wind up with a rookie, Gordon Greville, as regular, leaving old John Brown as the swing man—Jon Kolb's the other starter. Sam Davis, Bruce Van Dyke set at guards. Ray Mansfield, in 10th year, gets first call at center. Rating—B.

DEFENSE

LINE—Young, aggressive unit. Mean Joe Greene at tackle alone makes it that way. L. C. Greenwood at left most improved man up front. Year of experience should help Dwight White on other flank. Ben McGee, Lloyd Yoss alternate at tackle. But Greene's the guy who scares people. Rating—B+.

LINEBACKERS—Terrific at both corner spots, with Andy Russell on the right one of the fine pros in the game and Jack Ham on the left destined to be one of the great ones. Ham has native instinct. Chuck Allen gets by in the middle on his smartness. Rating—B+.

SECONDARY—Potential problem area unless a couple of rookies, Lorenzo Brinkley and Dennis Meyer, come on fast to provide aid this season. Main asset of the holdovers, led by strong safety Chuck Beatty, is that they've been together a while. Rating—B.

KICKING—No worries at all. Roy Gerela was distinct asset as place-kicker last year. Abby Walden is one of the premier punters around. Rating—B+.

SPECIAL TEAMS—Finkering around to get some of the young, fast kids on the special units. Hustler like Rocky Bleier (spare runner) helps plenty. Harris and Davis of running corps will be available for return duty. Rating—B.

PREDICTION

First in Division. Not so much on Steelers' potency but the competition isn't all that good.

"Tough," the way your pre-teen son means it in a great togethering of crinkle and suede or color on color. And "tough," the way you mean it—sturdy stuff that holds up under his active life and gives him the grow room and flexibility he needs. Get him a "tough" two-tone from Bristol.

AP Writers Picks Arkansas To Win

DALLAS (AP)—Every year the theory in Southwest Conference football camps is that the law of averages will catch Texas.

For four years, the Longhorns have out-butted the L of A.

Arkansas, in particular, put a large lump on the Longhorns last year only to lapse into comatose against Texas A&M and Rice while Texas eased into the cotton patch on New Year's Day.

The football smarts say Texas is headed for the cliff for sure this year. Razorback quarterback Joe Ferguson will see to it, they say, taking a reading on the stars and studying the L of A charts to the Cotton Bowl.

But a senior safety turned quarterback at Texas, Alan Lowry, could put the experts up a tree if he can operate the Longhorn Wishbone—T with the magic of former masters James Street and Eddie Phillips.

That's a large IF indeed.

Arkansas has quality but so many players were injured in the spring that Coach Darrell Royal is going to have to put across some kind of a crash program in the fall.

The Texas Aggies, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and Texas Tech can't be counted out of the title picture.

The Aggies are playing under Coach Emory Bellard, the guy who made the Wishbone—T go at Texas and have talented running backs and a solid defense. Again, uncertain quarterbacking clouds up the picture.

Southern Methodist has scats-backs galore, a salty defense and guess what? An unsettled quarterbacking problem.

Same song for the Texas Christian and the Texas Techs.

Rice has an experienced quarterback in Bruce Gadd but not the muscle backup the above mentioned clubs enjoy. Baylor will be troublesome.

There's an air of uncertainty in the conference once you get past Arkansas and Texas.

Will the new coaches—Bellard at A&M, Grant Teaff at Baylor, Al Conover at Rice, and Billy Tonhill at TCU—inject enough enthusiasm into their squads for a title?

Will SMU explode going back to its pro-style attack?

The view from this perch is Arkansas doesn't have any question marks. The picks (Un-guaranteed):

- 1. Arkansas
- 2. Texas A&M
- 3. SMU
- 4. Texas
- 5. TCU
- 6. Texas Tech
- 7. Rice
- 8. Baylor

Caddies Are Needed For ToT Tournament

Deck Woldt, caddiemaster for the 1972 Top O' Texas Tournament, announced Saturday that boys aged 13 and up who wish to caddie in the tourney should make that known as soon as possible.

Those interested should call the pro shop at the Pampa Countr'y Club or Woldt and give their name, age and experience. The phone number at the pro shop is 665-8371. Woldt's number is 669-7275.

Boys wanting to caddie should be prepared to work all three days of the tourney, September 24.

28. What Is the Forehand Volley?

What is the forehand volley?

The forehand volley is the only stroke in which your wrist is not in a natural position at impact. The hand should be laid back so the palm is parallel to the net.

Have a friend toss a ball to you at shoulder-height on your right side. Catch the ball and hold it in the position in which it is laid back. Look at your hand. You'll see that it is laid back. There's no other way you can catch a ball with your right hand.

When making a forehand volley, turn sideways to the ball when possible and lay your hand back as though you were catching the ball. You want the racket head to be coming at the ball from slightly above with the racket face laid open, the head of the racket a little above your hand.

Hit from behind the ball with a forward chopping motion because you want to impart some back spin.

The racket head should not move ahead of your wrist. The hand, laid back, remains firm in the locked position and there should be little backswing or follow-through. Just punch the ball, using the elbow for movement to help make the stroke.

Copper

A Stone Age Egyptian is credited by historians with the accidental discovery of copper ore as he built his campfire in the southern part of the Sinai peninsula. The copper and turquoise mines of the peninsula were worked by the pharaohs of the first dynasty.

Most Degrees

The greatest number of honorary degrees awarded to any individual is 85, given to Herbert Clark Hoover, 31st president of the United States.

First national political convention in the United States was held by the short-lived Anti-Mason party in 1831.
