Three Killed In Tank Explosion

LIBERTY, March 25. (AP)—Three men were killed and three injured today when an air-pressure tank exploded in the materials yard of the Austin Bridge company.

The dead: A. L. Alby, 26, of Coleman, Tex. Zolite Carl Gage, 23, of Longview, Tex.

The three men were standing directly over the tank when it blew out. Alby was decapitated by a section of whirling steel.

The injured were C. W. Branlett of Dallas, M. D. Avant of Austin, and John Webb of Fort Worth. They were standing 50 feet away from the tank, and were hurled to the ground by the force of the blast, suffering minor cuts and bruises.

The crew, under direction of Webb, had prepared the tank to operate a trip-hammer on construction of a bridge on the old Spanish Trail between Liberty and Dayton.

Albey, witnesses said, reached down to turn off a valve when the explosion came. The tank, about four feet in diameter and 12 feet long, was blown to bits. The men were working in an open yard and there was no damage to nearby structures.

Panhandle Safety Council Will Be Organized Tonight

Representatives of Panhandle cities having safety councils will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in the basement of the Schnieder hotel to discuss organization of a Panhandle Safety Council. Purpose of the organization will be to make all residents of the Panhandle safety-conscious and not leave the safety work up to oil companies and clubs.

The Pampa Safety Council was organized last Thursday with Don Conley as chairman. Similar organizations have been perfected or are in process of organization in many other Panhandle cities.

Tonight's meeting will open with a dinner.

Another Class Will Arrive At Santone

AN ANTONIO, March 25 (AP)—With the air corps advanced flying school's largest graduation class en route today to maneuver areas in the east, Kelly field was awaiting the arrival Tuesday of another class, totaling 238 students, which will be the largest ever to report for training at the school.

Only Few Roll Eggs On White House Lawn

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Carrying blankets along with their Easter baskets, only a few score children today braved the coldest Easter Monday in many years to be the first to roll eggs on the frosty White House lawn when the games opened at 9 a. m.

The sun shone brightly, but the temperature stood at 19 early today.

A White House policeman tested the frozen ground with the tough toe of his brogan this morning, and muttered:

"That'll bust any egg ever laid."

The velvet sod of the President's lawn, turned cement-hard by frigid March winds, threatened to raise havoc with thin egg shells at the capital's annual Easter egg rolling.

Despite the coldest Easter weather in 17 years, orders went out to open the White House gates at 8 a. m. (CST) to admit the children of banker, butcher, government clerk and humble laborer. The cold, however, was expected to hold the throng far below the record 1937 attendance of 53,180.

Statisticians looked for a new breakage record among eggs, and a high point in smearing of juvenile clothes.

Technically, one child or more sits at the top of a slope and looses a flood of painted eggs toward the other child or more at the bottom of the slope. Actually, the scene is chaos—children, eggs, parents, and basket lunches bumping and jostling of the crowded lawn.

Five bands warmed up their cold instruments for an almost continuous concert.

WCTU President Favors Milk Bars

FORT WORTH, March 25 (AP)—Somebody is overlooking a good business opportunity in the "liquorless amusement spot idea for young people of today," Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, Evanston, Ill., national president of the women's christian temperance union, said here today.

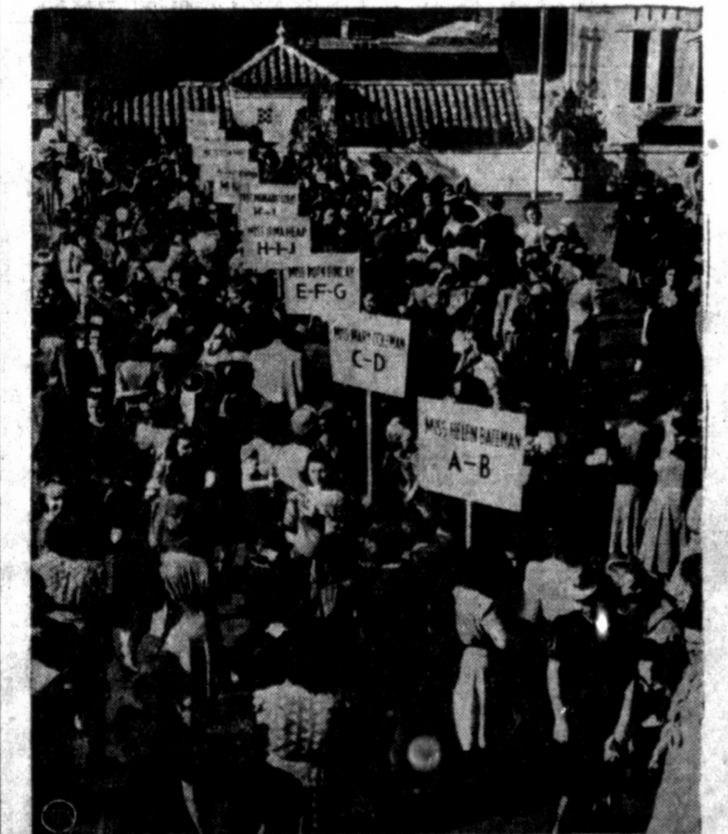

Here for a two-day regional conference of the W. C. T. U., Mrs. Smith advised:

"Put a milk bar in the place and watch business pick up. And if that doesn't sound sensible, perhaps it will after I tell you that there are no less than three milk bars in Grand Central Station in New York City."

Mrs. Smith will stress to the conference a continuation of the drive for "protection of the American home against the liquor traffic," through legislative reform and education of the public.

Mrs. Claude de van Watts, Austin, state WCTU president, will preside.

CO-EDS HANG OUT 'SHINGLES'

In order to make the hunt for their "blind dates" easier for the Flying Cadets at 500 Stephens college girls descended on Randolph Field at San Antonio, Tex., en route to Mexico City, officials erected these signs with "A" for Adams and "H" for Harmon over the names of the chaperones of the tea dance held for the visitors.

Woman Will Lecture On Germany's Rise

R. N. Harlan Wealthy Land Owner, Dies

R. N. Harlan, 77, prominent Gray and Wheeler county stockman, died Sunday night in an Amarillo hospital where he had been taken on Wednesday of last week. He had been in failing health for the past two years.

For the past 35 years Mr. Harlan lived six miles northeast of McLean in Gray county. His ranch was located in both Gray and Wheeler counties and part of the prolific Kellerville oilfield in Wheeler county is located on Harlan land.

Mr. Harlan came to the Panhandle 40 years ago. He first settled near Dalhart. Later he lived near Plemmons and in 1905 he moved to Gray county. In 1891 he and Miss Mary Elizabeth Lee were married in Callahan county. They lived in Stonevalley county before moving to the Panhandle.

Survivors are the widow, four daughters, Mrs. Alma Turner, McLean; Miss Edna Harlan, Wichita Falls; Mrs. J. J. Ballsback, McLean; and Mrs. C. C. Bender, Bay City, four sons, Will and Bob of Skellytown, Luther of Roy, N. M., and Frank of Canadian, 12 grand children and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the First Baptist church, McLean, by the Rev. Weamer and the Rev. Sargant of Kellerville. Burial will be in McLean cemetery under direction of Duengel - Carmichael Funeral home of Pampa.

Pallbearers will be John Carpenter, Charlie Carpenter, W. T. Wilson, Pete Ballard, Mon Davis and O. G. Stokley.

Honorary pallbearers, who are asked to meet at the church, are Bob Bidwell, Walter Bailey, George Saye, Roger Powers, Charles Galt, Howard Rogers, Wilson Boyd, Jim Clark, J. A. Fowler, Tom Massey, Scott Johnson, Bud Back, C. A. Watkins, Andy Nelson and Mr. Hembre.

Flowers will be in charge of Mrs. C. B. Batson, Mrs. Alice Graham, Mrs. Lorca Barker, Mrs. Rom Boyd, Mrs. Marie Anderson, Mrs. Lucille Gething, Miss Lee Bidwell and Miss Ruby Bidwell.

Pampans who attended the lecture given by Dr. John A. Morrison of Chicago last Wednesday night, first of a series of four in an institute of international understanding, heard a new type of public address and gained valuable information.

Dr. Morrison's subject was "Developments in Soviet Russia." At 8 o'clock Wednesday night in the high school auditorium, Margarete H. Kaiser will speak on "The German Rise to Power."

The lecture series is sponsored by the Rotary clubs of Pampa, Borger, Lamesa, Stamford, and Graham.

These addresses are not a dull tabulation of facts, but are lectures given in an intelligent, alert, and interesting fashion, that will entertain as well as inform listeners.

Tickets for the lecture may be obtained from any member of the Pampa Rotary club.

The speaker this week, Margarete H. Kaiser, studied political and social science, and also law, at the University of Berlin, Germany. She then entered upon a journalistic career, serving as a member of the staff "Technik und Wirtschaft," an outstanding technical magazine specializing in the field of economics. From 1926-1928 she was a staff member of the governmental industrial research committee where she was in charge of publications dealing with conditions of labor.

This furnished her wide contacts with the middle classes and the working class of people of the industrial and rural sections of Germany. She served on the editorial staff of Knaur's Lexikon, an outstanding German dictionary, taught industrial relations at the Women's Social and Pedagogical academy, and gave courses on psychological and economic subjects at the Lessing academy for adult education.

She has contributed many articles to European and American magazines and papers, such as, the "Berliner Tageblatt," "Berliner Boersenzeltung," "B. Z. am Mittag," and in medical and pharmaceutical publications syndicated in Sweden by the Transeurop-Press, A. B., Stockholm, and in Switzerland by the Nova-Reportage, Berlin - Geneva - Amsterdam.

Mrs. Kaiser had a distinguished record in the German Women's Movement which had become influential in Germany prior to the

Two Killed In Plains Crashes

AMARILLO, March 25 (AP)—Easter highway crashes claimed two lives and injured four persons in the Panhandle-Plains area of Texas.

W. H. Brewer, 48, Amarillo traveling salesman, was killed instantly when his car struck a culvert seven miles south of Lamesa. He was on his way to Amarillo to spend Easter with his wife.

On March 25, of Dinmitt, was killed instantly when the car in which he was riding overturned several times just outside the city limits of Amarillo. The accident was blamed on faulty brakes. Four other occupants of the car were injured, but did not require hospital treatment.

War Flashes

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., March 25 (AP)—A conference of the national union of shop assistants, warehousemen and clerks voted 85 to 57 today in favor of ending the war and for ousting the Chamberlain government.

The resolution charged that it was an imperialist war for the defense of French and British colonies.

LONDON, March 25 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain kept his own counsel over Easter weekend concerning expected changes in his cabinet, but some speculation predicted a "war cabinet" of five members would be named.

The London Star quoted "well informed political circles" as saying such a group would be composed of the Prime Minister, Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax, Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Simon, Lord Privy Seal Sir Samuel Hoare and Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty.

Just In Case--

Just in case somebody tries to make something of it, The News wishes to clear up a point.

On Saturday night City Commissioner David Osborne brought into The News a ten-page typewritten political statement signed by the present city commissioners.

He asked The News to run it free. The News said it would run the lengthy statement only as "paid advertising," and Mr. Osborne said, "that's all right with us, just let it go—we're giving it to the other paper."

The statement appeared in The Pampa Press Sunday, set in ad style and was labeled, "Paid political advertisement."

Yet, The News is expected by them to run FREE the political propaganda of the present city commissioners and the powers behind the throne!

PAMPA'S NEW FIRE TRUCK

A new light fire truck was added to the city's fire fighting equipment last week when the Ford truck, pictured above, arrived and was given an acceptance test that was highly satisfactory. The truck is powered with a 95 h. p. low-speed Mercury motor and will pump 500 gallons of water a minute. It is also equipped with a 150-gallon booster tank and hose, grass fire fighting equipment, etc. A chemical tank has been added and 1,100 feet of hose. The truck was purchased at a cost of $2,985.

Harrison Argues For Reciprocal Treaties

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Senator Harrison (D-Miss.) opened senate debate on extending the reciprocal trade program today with an appeal to his almost evenly divided colleagues that they retain the system lest an eventual world trade war threaten this country with "an economic collapse."

Abandonment of the policy of executive tariff-making, the chairman of the senate finance committee asserted, would invite foreign fields and factories to vie "with each other and with us" as soon as peace returns abroad.

"Let no one be deceived as to the magnitude of that trade war," Harrison admonished.

A handful of noncommittal members held the balance of power on the house-approved measure to continue the far-reaching program another three years beyond June 12.

President Roosevelt has made the continuation proposal one of his key recommendations and Republicans have said they would make it a major campaign issue. Thus, it has come to be Congress' star show of the year and senate orators on both sides were primed with arguments aimed at convincing the undecided senators.

Harrison said he thought the policy of extending to all nations which do not discriminate against American goods the same tariff relief

Judge Lashes Troop-Calling Of Governor

VINTTA, Okla., March 25. (AP)—The use of troops by Gov. Leon C. Phillips in the Grand river dam dispute was criticized today by a federal judge as the state asked a U. S. district court to dismiss an order restraining the governor from interfering with the $20,000,000 power project.

"None of these modern dictators can set themselves up under the cloak of state's rights," said Federal Judge Robert L. Williams.

The red-haired governor, ardent exponent of "state's rights" who seeks to force the public works administration to pay for damages to inundated roads and bridges, was in the court room as Judge Williams argued with Randall S. Cobb, assistant state attorney general.

"No governor," continued Williams, "has the power to declare martial law until the civil authority has failed."

Sitting en banc with Williams were Judge F. E. Kennamer and A. P. Murray.

Cobb contended the U. S. supreme court had "exclusive authority" to hear a suit in which a state was a party.

"The issue in this case is whether property will be destroyed and whether relief is needed," interrupted Judge Williams.

The governor ordered the dam left open until PWA met an $889,275 state claim for the purchase of bridges the impounded water would cover. PWA refused, asserting an agreement with the previous state administration required only $300,000 settlement. The federal government financed the project with an $11,000,000 loan and $9,000,000 grant.

Phillips sent national guardsmen to the dam to keep the gates open and obtained a state court order restricting construction.

The government countered with a superseding federal order and the Highway Accident Injures 3 Persons

ABILENE, March 25 (AP)—Two Wichita Falls residents and an Abilene girl were hospitalized patients today as a result of a tire blowout on the highway near Albany yesterday morning.

They were Mrs. and Mrs. D. F. Durham of Wichita Falls and Iris Klepper. Durham's left leg and left arm were broken, his wife had deep scalp lacerations and a possible rib fracture, and Miss Klepper suffered a brain concussion.

O Happy Day--Two Full-Blooded Bloodhounds Entered In Show!

Hot dog, fiddle-di-dee and O happy day!

Today there were two full-blooded blood hounds, one male and one female entered in the Panhandle dog and hound show to be held at Recreation park grandstand April 7.

The hounds with beautiful sad faces and wonderful ears belong to Billie Melton, 697 Naida. They are under a year old, but when they get big they'll look like a dead ringer for the picture of the hound published in Sunday's news.

The two Melton hounds will be attractions at the dog show, and no doubt about it. They are a sight for sore eyes.

A beautiful red setter was also entered yesterday by Johnny Campbell who is going to help the Roving Reporter out on the show.

Two high-bred Pekingses were entered by a woman who lives at Phillips, J. J. Huntington of Phillips

East Texas Gets Increase Of 14,000

AUSTIN, March 25. (AP)—Texas oil allowable in April will be 41,443,713 barrels daily, Jerry Sadler, member of the railroad commission announced today. Sadler said the production order had been signed by him and Commissioner Chairman Lon A. Smith.

The figure represented a basic allowable reduction from March of 35,748 barrels daily and compared with a record current allowable of 1,566,877.

Sadler said the giant East Texas field would be granted a 14,000-barrel a day increase over its current output of 401,000 through being shut in only 12 days during the month instead of the present 13.

He asserted the rest of the state would be cut 34,461 barrels daily and, in effect, be required to shut down one day or curtail output the equivalent of one day's production.

"If it cannot absorb it, we intend to reduce the allowable further."

The commissioner did not explain how output would be reduced further if the commission found it necessary.

It listed carefully to statements at the statewide prorator hearing last week," he continued, "and while many advocated general reductions, my phone rang continuously after the meeting with operators asking us not to cut the fields."

Ernest O. Thompson, commissioner who did not sign the order, stated he believed "we should adhere strictly to the Bureau of Mines figure of 1,352,500 barrels a day for April."

Asserting that during the current month the market had been tested, Thompson, formerly chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact commission, declared:

"We added about 4,000,000 barrels of oil to storage in the past few weeks, showing oil was not moving or being consumed as fast as it was being produced. Gasoline stocks stand today at 109,619,000 barrels, an all-time high.

"If we find the demand is stronger than the Bureau of Mines' estimate, we can in May increase our allowable production. This is the time for caution. All admitted at the hearing that no harm had been done by the March allowable."

Here's the way the Beau Brummels of the plains appeared in 1540—

41. Pampans who are growing beards for the Coronado Extrada Cavalcade to be held here in June 13, 14 and 15 should study this picture, for it shows the true style of Coronado beard.

Awards are offered by a committee of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce for the best beards in Pampa that are most like the one pictured.

Study the picture and you will note that the mustache is long and pointed or spiked, but by no means a "handle-bar." The chin is covered with a beard that extends along the jaw to the ear, but ends there. Coronado haircuts adornments do not include sideburns.

This is the Peter Hurd painting of Coronado that will grace the cover of the official Coronado program.

Killed At Lamesa

LAMESA, March 25 (AP)—W. H. McGee, 48, Amarillo salesman, was killed instantly early today when his car overturned on the highway seven miles south of here. State highway patrolmen said the machine apparently got out of control due to a flat tire.

I Saw . . .

Women To Attend NWT Conference At Plainview

Seven local Methodist women will attend the North West Texas Women's Missionary conference which is to be held in Plainview on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of this week.

Delegates from the First Methodist church are Mrs. J. M. Turner, president; Mrs. H. C. Boynton, vice-president; Mrs. John Ketter, and Mrs. Joe Shelton. Others attending from this church will be Mrs. John Sesser, district secretary, and Mrs. C. E. Ward.

McCullough Memorial Methodist church will be represented by Mrs. C. R. Vernon, who is being sent as a delegate.

The local churches were hostesses at the annual meeting of the conference which was conducted here last spring.

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it good manners for a man dancing with a girl to cut in on the man who takes her from him?
2. If a girl is sitting off in a corner talking to a man, it is all right for another man to approach them and ask her to dance?
3. May a girl refuse to dance with a man, and then give that same man another dance?
4. May a man suggest that a couple stop dancing before a dance is finished?
5. Is it all right for a girl who is not shy or self-conscious to ask a man to dance?

What would you do if—
You are a man at a dance, wanting to ask a girl to be your supper partner. Would you—
(a) Say, "May I take you in to supper?"
(b) Say, "Have you a supper partner?"

Answers
1. No. He must wait until she is dancing with someone else.
2. No. He should wait until she is dancing or joins a group.
3. No.
4. No. That is the girl's privilege.
5. No. Not unless it is a special "Leap Year Dance."

BEACHWEAR MUST BE FEMINEINE

It's smart at winter resorts, and so will be this summer, too, to give your swim costume, no matter how simple, a feminine touch. Typical are a flower corsage, a pair of fluttering bright butterflies, flower necklace and bracelet and perhaps a matching garland of the hair, realistically and colorfully reproduced in rubber and all made especially or sea dunking. New rubber swim suits are brief-skirted, becomingly flared, have uplift bras and attractive textured surfaces.

CANCELS PROMISED LAND PROMISE

With modern shipping methods, it is possible to purchase fine quality spinach all year around at reasonable prices. Select spinach that has crisp leaves of a rich green color, thin slender stems and which is free from sand. After washing thoroughly through several clear water rinses, cook in the water that clings to the leaves until just tender. Overcooking not only destroys its fresh color, but breaks down the texture and reduces the vitamin and mineral content of this vegetable.

Practical New Linen Markers

Practical, yet decorative too, are new linen markers of transparent plastic, made in slide form, so that they may be transferred to fresh ribbons when the original bands become worn. On the back of each plastic marker is written the identification of the linen. Some are decorated with flower sprays also. The ribbons are of double-faced satin in pastel and deep colors, are hand-sewn, daintily sacheted and weighted to keep them in position. Lingerie bands of the same type are also available, and both are sold in sets of three.

"Build-Up" Relief Explained To Women

A simple method has saved many women a lot of suffering! It is based on the fact that headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain are often symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition. Help for this condition so often follows the use of CARDUI, because it usually increases the appetite and the flow of gastric juice;

Wes Izzard To Speak At 20th Century Club

Husband's Night will be observed by Twentieth Century club Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at a meeting in the home of Mrs. R. E. McKernan, 1305 Charles street, with Mrs. J. C. Richey and Mrs. F. M. Culbertson as co-hostesses with Mrs. McKernan. Guest speaker of the evening will be Wes Izzard of Amarillo, who is to discuss "Television."

Mrs. Roger McConnell, president, is to be leader of the program which will include numbers by the teachers' society.

Roll call is to be answered by introducing the guests at the meeting.

Marriage Of Miss Finch And Ivan Block Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Frances Finch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Finch of Dallas, and Ivan Block of Lubbock where the couple will be at home until May when they will move to Pampa.

Mrs. Block was dressed in black and white with black accessories.

Mr. Block, son of Mrs. B. F. Block of Pampa, is a junior in Texas Tech college at Lubbock where the couple will be at home until May when they will move to Pampa.

Applications Due Now On Wheat Parity

The county farm agent's office is now ready to receive 1940 wheat parity payment applications. Gray county farmers eligible to make these applications should do so at once.

In cases of applications from farmers whose voluntary wheat plus total of planted acres exceeds the allotment, such applications cannot be submitted until disposition of the voluntary wheat has been determined.

The same rule applies in cases of wheat mixtures plus planted acres.

Fellow Prisoner Of Tom Mooney's Marries In Reno

RENO, Nev., March 25 (AP)—Warren E. Billings, famed former co-prisoner with Tom Mooney in California, and Miss Josephine Rudolph, who became acquainted with him at one of his many hearings and afterward carried on extensive correspondence with him, were married at the Washoe county court house today.

Billings gave his age as 46. The bride is 43. Both reside in San Francisco.

President Improved

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt, after a restful week-end, was said by his physician today to be "very much improved" but still taking precautions against the cold that has been troubling him a fortnight.

The physician, Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntire, declined to permit him to go to the White House executive offices.

Comus Club Has Annual Easter Dance Saturday

An annual event in the activities of the Comus club is the Easter dance which was given Saturday night in the Schneider hotel for members and guests of the organization.

Music for the twelfth anniversary holiday dance of the club was played by Raymond Raillard and his Majors in Spring from West Texas College in Canyon.

More than 60 couples attended the entertainment. Included in the group were 12 couples from Borger.

Comus club organized in 1928, is the oldest dance organization in Pampa.

Hitler May Try To Snap Sea Blockade

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Expectation of a great German submarine offensive against the Allied blockade in the near future, as voiced in London, naturally isn't conclusive but it is not illogical.

Of course this "strangest of wars" calls it, doesn't always follow logical lines, but a Nazi U-boat drive would fit in with Herr Hitler's strategy as it appears to be developing.

Paris also reports that the Germans on the Western front devoted energy yesterday to dropping peace propaganda (the latter retaliating in kind.) And that, curious though it seems, is logical too.

The Fuehrer's hope has been for a negotiated peace before heavy fighting begins. He has done his utmost to force that (on his own terms, naturally), and while his expectations now probably aren't high he isn't likely to abandon the idea before President Roosevelt has had time to digest the report of Special Ambassador Welles and decide whether any peace overtures are justifiable.

Meantime, however, the French political crisis and the arguments in the British Parliament over the conduct of the war, are just the type of thing which would invite action from an opportunist like Hitler. He might strike quickly, hoping to secure some advantage from the political situation—for it is one of the idiosyncrasies of war that politics often do have a marked effect on the activities of a high command.

Apart from the rather pale hope of peace, Hitler has two main objectives and in the view of many observers his failure to achieve either of them would cost him the war.

It wouldn't be at all surprising to see him attempt to reach both simultaneously. They are:
1. The smashing of the Allied blockade and the establishment of an effective counter-blockade on Britain.

2. Reassertion of his domination over the Balkans so as to safeguard his vital food and oil supplies in this area, and at the same time prevent the Allies from using their heavy concentration of troops in the Near East to attack Germany in the rear through the Balkans.

Greatest Menace
The blockade is Hitler's greatest menace at present. The British have swept the ocean of Nazi commercial vessels, except for a few plying between home ports and Scandinavia. London made it known this morning that Britain has intensified her activities against this trade with Sweden and Norway.

England hears reports of considerable numbers of German submarines slipping through the blockade into the North Sea, apparently getting set for action. If the Nazis are preparing for a grand smash, it is very likely that they will also employ their air fleet to bomb not only shipping but harbors and docks of the chief ports of the east coast of England through which a vast amount of commerce moves.

Herr Hitler is making strenuous efforts to recapture control of the Balkans, with special attention to Rumania's oil. The Allies have made fairly heavy inroads lately in the Balkans by use of influence and gold, and will battle Hitler here to a finish. It is largely in this connection that he is trying to effect a working partnership which will include both Russia and Italy—the latter two to remain non-belligerent but help him keep the Balkans in hand and stand off the Allies.

While all this is boiling up, Paul Reynaud has formed a new cabinet in France pledged to "action," and there is much pressure in England for more "action." Under the circumstances it wouldn't be surprising to see things begin to pop in Europe soon, now that the spring has arrived.

Soldiers Also Wear 'Blood Tag'

CHICAGO, March 25 (AP)—The identification disc worn by soldiers in the European war has become also a "blood tag."

Inscribed on the disc along with the soldier's name is his blood group, so that doctors can tell at a glance what kind of blood to give him, in case of injury, or whether his blood can be used for a transfusion to aid another.

Reports to the American Medical association show that both English and German troops, and probably French also, wear around their neck identification tags with blood groups designated on them.

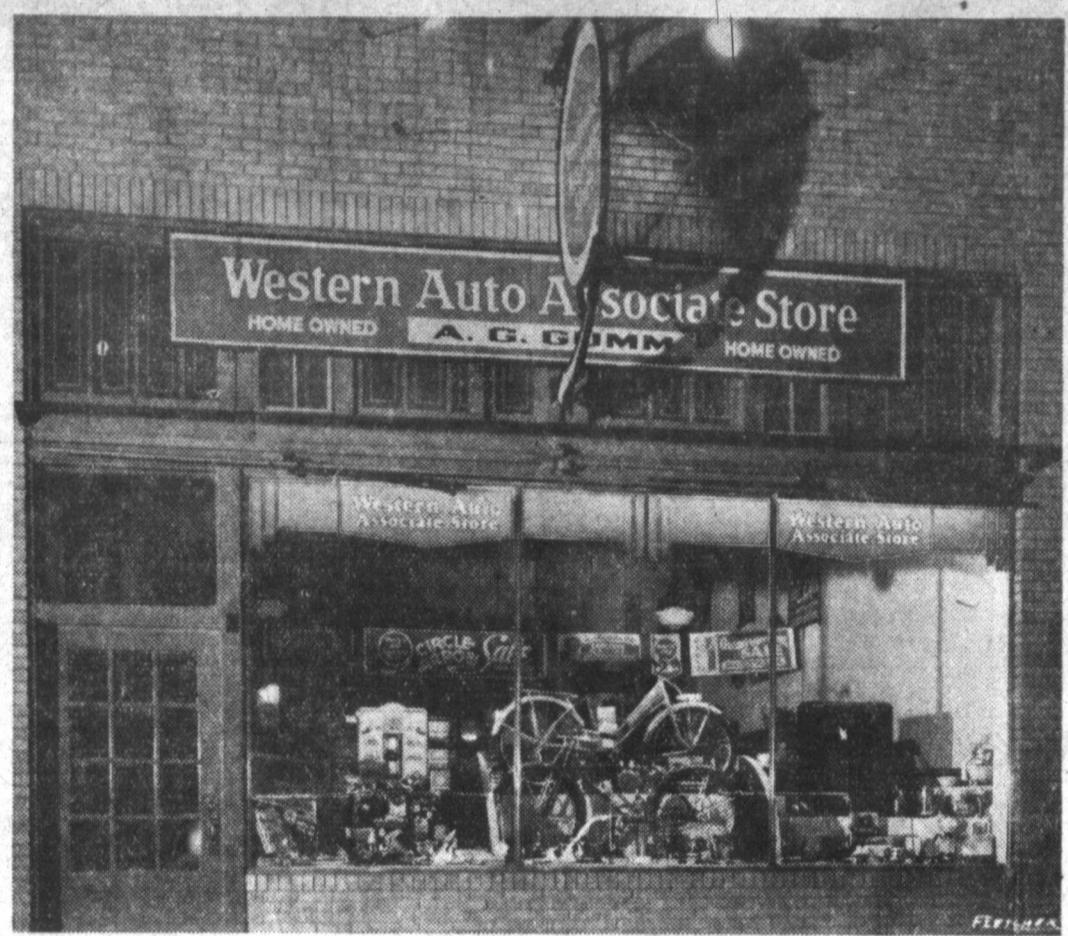

'Sit-Down Strike On God' Opposed By Gov. O'Daniel

AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—It is impractical to stage a "sit-down strike on God" and expect paychecks to keep on coming regularly from the government, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel said Sunday in an Easter broadcast from the Governor's mansion.

"On this, the anniversary of the resurrection of Christ, the salvation of the world, it is high time to resurrect the greatest revival the world has ever witnessed," the Governor declared. "It's time to stage a march on God."

Gunman Killed For 'Hot-Footing' Big Shot

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Next time you spend an evening with a big shot gangster, remember it's a serious breach of etiquette to give him the "hotfoot."

District Attorney William O'Dwyer told today of such an incident, disclosed by his current investigation of Brooklyn's $5-and-$10 murder syndicate.

The prankster, a small time gunman, paid with his life for his brasserie.

As told by O'Dwyer, the master mind of the murder ring and one of his statelites were dining with a couple of women in a Broadway restaurant.

After dinner the lesser gangster, with a sly wink at the women, dropped his napkin.

While picking it up he slipped the end of a lighted match between the sole and the uppers of his master's shoe. Then he sat up and looked innocent.

Suddenly the big shot leaped to his feet with a roar of pain while the others laughed. It was very, very funny.

He banished the joker from his circle and finally, the district attorney said, had him "erased."

Committee Approves Anti-Lynching Bill

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The controversial anti-lynching bill was approved today by a 10 to 3 vote of the Senate Judiciary committee.

This action sent the legislation to the senate floor. Some southern senators already have given notice they were ready to talk the measure to death, if necessary as they did when it came up there previously.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.) who has led opposition to the legislation told reporters after the committee's overwhelming vote of approval:

"We're going to resist it. The Mannheim line will not even be a start."

The bill which the committee approved has already been passed by the House. It provides fines and imprisonment for state officers who permit a lynching to occur, and subjects state subdivision to civil liability to lynch victims of their relatives.

Derden Will Open Campaign Tonight

AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—State Representative Albert L. Derden of Marlin, uncompromising foe of the general sales tax, will open his campaign for governor tonight at old Washington, where the Texas declaration of independence from Mexico was drafted 104 years ago.

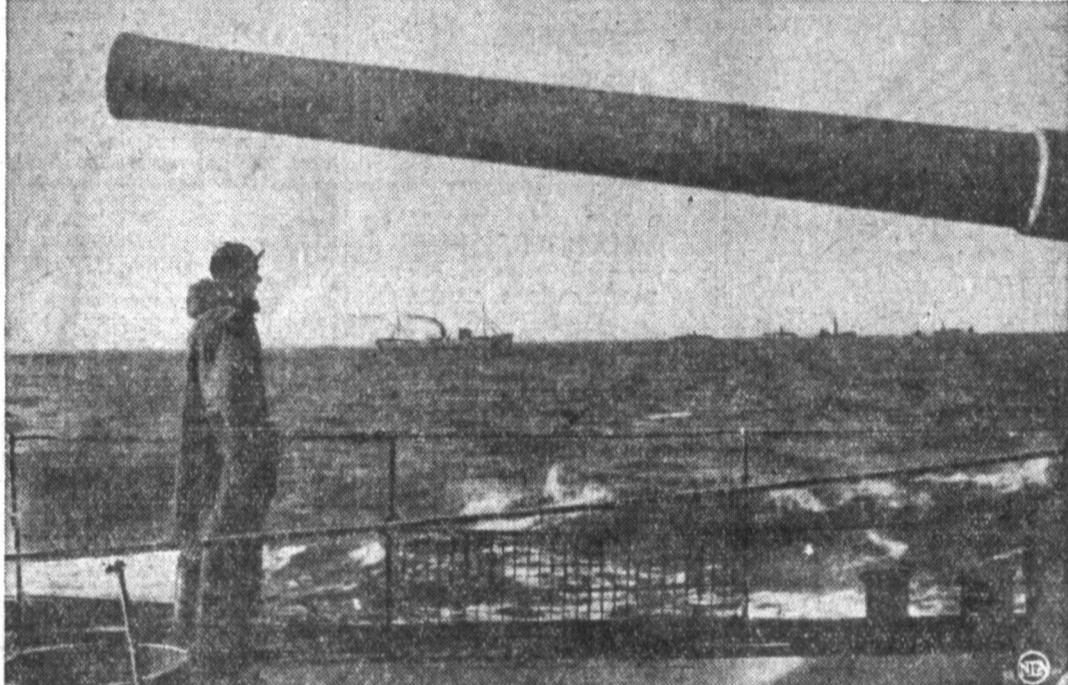

Derden is making his formal opening address earlier than any other major candidate. Governor W. Lee O'Daniel and Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, expected to be two of the principal contenders this year, have not yet announced their candidacies.

The 34-year-old Marlin attorney and stockman has served two terms in the legislature. His address will be broadcast from 8 to 9 p. m. over the Texas quality network, Stations WFAA, Dallas, WBAP, Fort Worth, KPRC, Houston, and WOAI, San Antonio.

Engineers Marooned On Bleak Mountain

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., March 25 (AP)—A screaming 125-mile-an-hour gale and 18 below zero weather marooned three television engineers atop bleak whiteface mountain today where they clambered Saturday to bring television Easter services to an isolated meteorological station crew.

By short wave radio the men, Joseph Wiggin, Alex Smith and Elbert F. Corwin, reported that if the wind abated they would attempt the descent tomorrow.

Two others of the party, George Burns and William Dismore, managed the return trip yesterday.

Corwin, a professor at Rensselaer Polytechnic institute, Troy, radioed that the television New York services were interrupted by yesterday's electrical disturbances, but that a Saturday night telegram "came in perfectly."

Engineers said the distance from New York is 250 miles, the longest distance television has been received.

Mackenzie Will Be Issue In Election

OTTAWA, ONT., March 25 (AP)—Canada's 6,000,000 voters, summoned to the second wartime election in a quarter century, will tell Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King next Tuesday what they think of his liberal government and the way it has directed the dominion's war effort.

Bitterly criticized by the conservative minority in parliament and by the Ontario provincial legislature, which have called the administration's war effort halfhearted and inefficient, the 65-year-old premier is gambling his political future on an election he hopes will settle Canada's family troubles until peace returns.

The seven-week campaign will reach a climax with mass meetings in virtually every large center to-night and tomorrow.

New Commemorative Stamp To Be Issued

A new commemorative stamp will be issued on April 14 at Washington, D. C., and will be available to collectors here soon after. The stamp will commemorate the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Pan-American Union and will be of three-cent denomination.

The center of the stamp will show a copy of Botticelli painting of "Spring" which shows three female figures with clasped hands symbolizing the bond of friendship among Latin-American countries.

Four Youths Killed By Transport Truck

Child Burned To Death Near Abilene

ABILENE, March 25 (AP)—Mary Lou Wade, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Wade of the Fort Phantom Hill community about 12 miles north of here, was fatally burned late Sunday afternoon when her clothing became ignited from an open fire place at her home. She died in a local hospital at 12:20 a. m. today.

The parents were doing evening chores when the daughter ran from the house screaming, her clothing ablaze. The mother smothered out the flames with a quilt and the little girl was rushed to the hospital, her body badly seared.

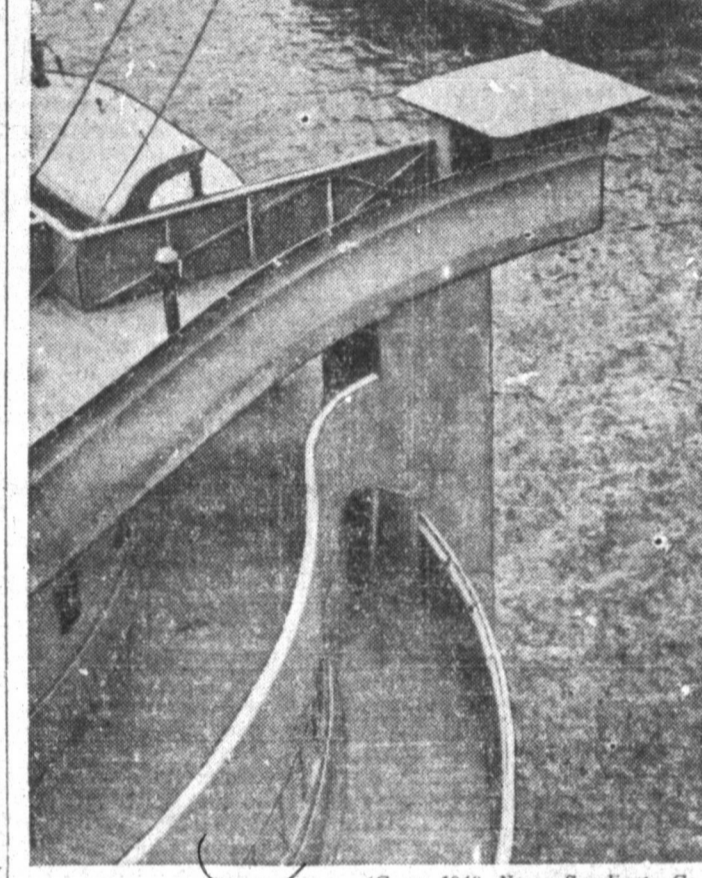

Funeral will be at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Survivors include three brothers, aged two to 13.

Weather Has 'Rime' But No Reason

With plenty of rime but with little reason the weatherman served Pampa's Easter Sunday weather today instead of yesterday.

Known to the layman as "frost" but technically as "rime," trees in Pampa were cloaked in silver yesterday morning as Easter dawned with a temperature of 20 degrees at 5:35 a. m.

Exactly 12 hours later the day's maximum was recorded, 47 degrees at 5:35 Sunday afternoon.

At 5:35 o'clock this morning the U. S. Weather bureau station here reported a temperature of 23 degrees, but near noon the thermometer rose to 41 degrees, within six of Sunday's maximum.

The forecast was fair tonight and Tuesday, preceded by clearing in southeast portion tonight, somewhat warmer north and central portions tonight and north and east portions.

Port Arthur Plant Ready For Testing

PORT ARTHUR, March 25 (AP)—Expected to double Gulf Refinery's present daily production of approximately 40,000 gallons of aviation gasoline, a new $1,000,000 iso-octane plant here is practically completed and is to be given test runs this week.

Construction of the plant, second at the local refinery, was begun last September. It is designed to produce approximately 15,000 gallons daily of iso-octane, which will be blended with high quality gasoline to produce aviation fuel.

This final product will have an octane rating—a measure of fuel efficiency—of nearly 100, compared with that of between 70 and 80 for ordinary automobile gasoline.

Like To See City Hall Shake-Up? It's Up To You!

We often wonder if it ever has occurred to the average man and woman that here in Pampa, there is a demonstration of what takes place in many, many cities—a demonstration of the tendency to be controlled by visible minority pressure groups.

The question of the functions of government—city government in our particular local case—the relation of government to the people, its responsibilities to the people—all of these considerations combine to form a big subject.

The present city commission's determination to have a municipally-owned power plant in Pampa is something that vitally affects every man, woman, and child in the city.

It is a matter that calls for a study of city records and city expenditures. The taxpayers should know where their money is being spent and what they are getting for it.

They should know the records of bond issues, who bids on the bonds and all details of bond sales—along with a comparison of interest rates on Pampa city bonds and interest paid by other cities. The News has tried to make clear Pampa's present unusual bond setup.

In Pampa, as in many other cities—the people are not familiar enough with what is going on behind the scenes of city government. For instance—

They should be given a clear explanation of why Pampans have to pay such a high municipal water rate. They should know why the water users are forced to pay this rate to keep Pampa's general property tax rate down.

They should know why renters and small property owners proportionately are the biggest taxpayers in Pampa. They should know why renters and small property owners are forced to pay high water rates to support city government.

They should know why all major city operating costs are paid by the water users through their water bills each month. Pampa's property tax rate is $135. of this amount $1.15 goes to pay off bonded debt and interest, 15 cents is allotted to the Board of City Development and three cents to the Pampa Library. And when that is done all but 2 cents of the $135 is gone.

This leaves the water consumers to pay for all the City Hall costs of operating the police department, fire department, the street department, the water department, the parks department, health department, city hall maintenance—in fact practically the entire load of city operating costs.

That's why your water bill is so high. The City Ticket composed of Fred Thompson for mayor, and George B. Cree and H. C. Wilson for commissioners, has publicly gone on record that they will make a thorough investigation at City Hall if you elect them to office a week from tomorrow.

The high water bills have long been one of the loudest complaints from Pampans. Mr. Thompson, Mr. Cree, and Mr. Wilson in their very first public statement on their candidacies declared, this is one of the first things they plan to investigate when they take office.

And they stated that they will conduct the investigation looking toward an immediate water rate reduction.

That's something the people long have wanted in Pampa. The people of Pampa have a right to know just what such an investigation, as Mr. Thompson, Mr. Cree and Mr. Wilson have promised, would unearth at the City Hall. If you would like to see that done you can help by doing your part of the job at the polls on April 2.

The air no doubt will be thick this week with "smoke screens." The powers behind the throne are not going to give up without a mighty struggle, and they will battle to the last ditch to continue their efforts to "run the show."

The Pampa News believes that its job under the constitutional guarantees newspapers enjoy in the state and nation is to express its opinion and urge the people of Pampa to help take the City Hall out of the political grip of a small group of men who work from behind the scenes.

If the people and the newspaper don't go into it in a big way there is an excellent chance that present informal government by a small group may develop into something far, far more formidable.

And, if the notion to express opinions in an effort to end behind-the-scenes control at City Hall seems to some to be fantastic and unnatural, it must be because there has been little or no precedent for it in Pampa.

But—"It's never been done before" is no argument against it now.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, March 25—The next 90 days will be the critical period in the European war. In the opinion of qualified observers here.

Within that time, it is believed, there is likely to be a final decision whether the war is to end in a negotiated peace or is to flare up in one form or another of its "total war" that has long been expected.

Surprisingly enough, there is reason to believe that this decision will be made in London and Paris rather than in Berlin.

HITLER FEELS SAFE BEHIND WESTWALL Here, for instance, is an analysis of the German situation as made by an American military authority who returned to this country recently after spending several years in Germany. This man is convinced that Germany's war plans today shape up roughly as follows:

1. No extension of the war in the west if it can be avoided—hence no "spring offensive" of the kind so often predicted. Hitler feels secure behind the West-

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hollis

WHAT DO NEW DEALERS NOW SUGGEST?

The January report of the American Federation of Labor, showing an increase of 1,160,000 unemployed compared with December, again calls the attention of the public to the one important thing facing the people of the land; namely, employment for everyone who wants to work. As both the American Federation of Labor and the CIO have pointed out, this is the question.

Now that the New Dealers have had most all of their theories put into law and have spent some $25,000,000,000 in pump-priming and we still have 10,000,000 people out of work and 30 or 40 million people working less time than they would like to work, the problem is what the New Dealers are going to do.

Every student of political economy, from Frederic Bastiat down, well knew the inevitable results of all the short-cut utopias adopted by both Hoover and the New Deal. It is simply axiomatic that when the government decides to confiscate the fruits of labor and risk, and makes laws so that the slow and inexperienced cannot produce enough to earn their own wages, and makes laws so that the people who believe in free enterprise cannot associate together to produce, that there should be millions and millions of people permanently out of jobs.

Most of these New Dealers will hold up their hands and say there never again can be full employment, we now have too many machines. It will be remembered that this was said 100 years ago when France was trying the socialistic schemes tried during the last few decades.

Diverting Attention It seems the main tactics of the New Deal now are to try to divert the attention of the public by sending emissaries to Europe and by passing laws to interfere with foreign affairs rather than solving the problems in our own midst.

As we have repeatedly said, there are more unsatisfied wants than ever before in our history. These wants are only supplied by intelligent labor applied to natural resources. Now, if there are more unsatisfied wants and they are only supplied by labor, then if there were no political or social laws to interfere with people from producing and exchanging there would be full employment.

But the trouble is, as all practical men know, there are laws passed that interfere with free exchanges.

The primary laws that have done this have been the Wagner Law, the minimum wage law, the maximum hour law, the tax on payrolls, the discriminatory income and inheritance tax laws, the banking laws that permit banks to pyramid credit and, thus, loan wealth to those who have not demonstrated their ability to use it. These are the primary laws that are keeping 10 million people out of jobs and preventing some 30 or 40 other million people from getting much larger wages and working as long as they want to.

But what are the reformers—the New Dealers, including Herbert Hoover—going to do, from a political standpoint, to permit private enterprise to furnish full employment? It is the vital question that should be solved and the New Dealer Democrats or Republicans should not be permitted to divert attention from the real question. They are at their wits' ends because they have tried almost every fantastical short-cut scheme and not a single one of them have brought results.

Free enterprise will restore full employment at what each man should get. It is the only thing that will.

A STARTLING COMPARISON

The various government boards constantly issue figures showing the volume of business, employment, wages, etc. Comparing these various government figures for the last seven years under the Roosevelt administration and the seven years prior, reveals some startling comparisons. It is hard to see how any New Dealer can really believe that the present administration has been successful in furnishing private jobs as measured by these figures. The New Dealers try to divert attention by taking the worst part of the former period and comparing it with the best part of their period. This, of course, is like comparing Christmas business with mid-summer business and proving that things are changing.

The comparison shows that the average population for the past seven years, as compared with the seven years prior to the present New Deal, is ten per cent higher. Here are some of the comparative figures:

—Wholesale prices were down 21 per cent, industrial production per capita was down 21 per cent, factory pay rolls were down 24 per cent, national income per capita was down 33 per cent, new construction was down 57 per cent, new corporate financing was down 84 per cent, net corporate income was down 87 per cent, and the average number of workers involved in strikes was up almost threefold, from 443,000 to 1,190,000.

Industrial production per capita figures were taken from the Federal Reserve Board (1923-5 equals 100 per cent). Construction figures were from F. W. Dodge Corporation; new corporate financing were taken from Commercial and Financial Chronicle (exclusive investment trust issues); net corporate income figures were taken from the Statistics of Income, from the Treasury Department; the average number of workers involved in strikes was taken from the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

It is hard to conceive on what ground either strikes, peace or production, the New Deal can claim to be successful.

But, the only frontier open to attack is the short coastal stretch between Denmark and Holland. Continued threats to invade France via Holland and Switzerland may be made in order to induce those neutral countries to work for peace.

2. No war in the Balkans. Hitler looks in this direction for important supplies, and thinks he can best get them if peace prevails. Also, his "lebensraum" plan envisages economic dominance rather than actual conquest and political possession.

3. No trouble with Russia. Hitler is convinced he can bargain for needed supplies; also, the German general staff is said to have told him that he need not fear Russia's military strength, estimating that the German army could if necessary smash all the way across the Ukraine in three months.

4. No "blitzkrieg" by air against England. Hitler wants to conserve his airplane superiority and his oil reserves.

THE FARM PROBLEM

Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, March 25—All over the lot: Many movie scenes are filmed out of sequence, but few so inconspicuously as a couple of those in "Edison the Man." Spencer Tracy and Rita Johnson played a brief scene in which they admired their two tiny children. Then they moved to an adjoining set and were married.

Strains of the wedding march subsided as the nervous bride and groom faced a movie minister. He began to intone: "Dearly beloved, we are gathered—"

"Wah-h-h!" howled a baby just offstage. "Yee-ow-w-w!" chimed the second infant. Cast and crew whooped with laughter. Miss Johnson and the nurses began soothing the youngsters.

Presently the set was more tranquil, but not still enough. Workmen shuffled their feet; extras whispered among themselves. Red Golden, an assistant director with the voice and manner of a drill sergeant grew impatient. "QUIET!" he yelled. The babies woke up and began to cry again.

Miracles are being wrought on other sets. At Paramount the daily call sheet for new scenes in "The Biscuit Eater" reads: "Lady Suvance (dog); Promiss (dog); pups as ordered."

PLAYERS ARE SICK OF BANANA ODOR

"Torril Zone" is a story of a banana plantation in Central America, and Warners' Stage 6 for weeks has resembled a banana warehouse. Everybody's sick of the taste, sight and smell of bananas, which are brought in by the truckload. There's a stalk of 'em in almost every scene, and the hot air rises thick and rapidly they have to be changed often.

Prop men decorated the stalls of an outdoor market with dozens of bunches; then John Marl, the technical expert, told them it was wrong. In a banana port, he explained, all fruit that's too ripe to stand the boat trip to the United States is dumped in a pile where anybody can help himself.

Pat O'Brien, the plantation owner, was sitting in his office when Andy Devine, his overseer, came in. "Silf down," said the boss. "I want to talk to you. I've been thinking—"

Devine flopped into a chair, one arm of which broke off and fell to the floor.

"I've been thinking," said O'Brien earnestly, without cracking a smile, "that we'll either have to get a larger chair or a smaller actor."

STUDIO RESPECTS GERMAN COPYRIGHT

"The Moral Storm," being filmed at Metro, is bitterly anti-Nazi. Instead of being laid in some mythical country, it names and shows places and uniforms. The studio even intended to use the "Horst Wessel" with Storm Troopers singing the song at a rally in one of their halls.

But the "Horst Wessel" isn't being used, after all. The song is copyrighted, you see, and it would be an unfriendly act to use it without permission from the owners in Berlin. The number that is being chorused by the Storm Troopers is a very close copy, though, especially written and titled "Adolf Hitler's Song."

Chamberlain Picture On German Torpedo

LONDON, March 25 (AP)—A new German serial torpedo—decorated with a portrait of Prime Minister Chamberlain with his umbrella—was found today on a beach near Bridlington.

Admiralty experts were called to examine it. The torpedo is about 12 feet long, with two propellers at the tail. It is believed to be as dangerous as a floating mine after its fuse motive power is exhausted.

People You Know

A dog so smart he's almost human is Mrs. W. M. Jones' Boston Bull, named Bing. You might say that the Deacon has an interest in him, too, since the relations between Bing and the Deacon form a part of this story. But first, let me tell you about Bing's eating habit.

When Mrs. Jones first began feeding him she would put a paper down on the floor and put Bing's food or plate on the paper. Day after day she did this and finally Bing caught on.

Just about time when he was supposed to eat he began dragging out a paper, and when she brought his food, he was all ready to eat it. Now when somebody is late in feeding him, there sits Bing on his paper with that "let's eat" look in his eye.

Bing has another trick that pleases Mr. Jones no end. It concerns Mr. Jones slippers when he sits down in his living room. For whenever Bing sees that certain look in Mr. Jones' eye and when he sees Mr. Jones settled in his chair, Bing runs for the slippers and drags them out. No slipper, the Jones family wouldn't take for that Bing! The Boston Bull is entered in the dog show to be held here Sunday afternoon, April 7 at Recreation park grandstand.

And to Mr. and Mrs. Jones go two tickets for this very interesting account of a smart little dog who learned how because his master and mistress were patient.

Birth Ends Battle Over Baboon Infant

DALLAS, March 25 (AP)—Lulu Belle, the baboon-napper, has quit her troublesome ways.

Her little bundle of happiness arrived over the week-end and the rambunctious baboon has stopped stealing the young son of her neighbor, Clara Belle.

The tussle between the two baboon mothers kept the zoo in an uproar for weeks.

RIGHT OR WRONG ABOUT PEOPLE

By DONALD A. LAIRD, Ph. D., Sci. D. Author of "How to Improve Your Brain Power"

There are actually millions of people with troubles they would like to get off their chests. Unfortunately, most of these folks keep the troubles to themselves for lack of frankness to talk them over or from lack of confidence in finding the right person they can trust.

Great troubles grow from little ones, and if we can get them cleared away while still small, life becomes roser and mental poise improves.

Mental experts use the "talking cure" more than any other single method. This is little more than telling troubles to a person who understands human nature, who is sympathetic, who helps restore perspective so a small trouble does not become unduly enlarged by a worried imagination.

This talking cure has prevented thousands of nervous breakdowns and apparently cured cases of actual mental disorder.

When troubles are kept to one's self, they keep growing, cause a distorted perspective, and may drive the person to distraction.

But telling anybody and everybody the troubles does not help a bit. For one thing, people will likely be bored stiff by the recital. For another thing, they will likely agree with the troubled person, saying, "Sure, ain't it terrible" and not help in getting the viewpoint straightened out.

Talking the troubles over thoroughly with some well-educated person—lawyer, minister, physician, executive—is a beneficial thing to do.

Talk all of the troubles over, however. Don't hold back a few; the ones we are inclined to hold back and keep to ourselves are usually the very ones which should be aired the best.

Don't broadcast the troubles to the world, but take them up bit by bit, and completely, with some older person in whom you have confidence.

Of the great values of having real friends who are older is that they are a pillar of strength when our troubles become bothersome. They, in turn, esteem your friendship all the greater for the flattering confidence in them.

Banquet Will Honor Marriage Peacemaker

CHICAGO, March 25 (AP)—Superior Judge Joseph Sebath, who is credited with having heard more divorce pleas than any other magistrate in the world, said today that he believed most divorce problems would be solved by the establishment of reconciliation courts.

The nationally known jurist, who on Monday will observe his 70th birthday anniversary and officially celebrate the completion of 30 years judicial service in Cook county, averred that one of his major objectives was to help institute such agencies.

More than 1,000 persons, including federal, state and civic officials and 70 couples he reconciled, will honor the famous matrimonial "peacemaker" at a dinner Monday night from him the banquet guests will hear something of the upward of 50,000 divorce cases he has heard.

The 3,400 couples he has reunited, and of his ambition to make hasty and unnecessary divorces next to impossible.

As Judge Sebath proposed it, a reconciliation court would be presided over by a judge who would attempt to restore harmony between estranged couples before any legal papers were issued.

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWeese

IF YOU had patience enough to read down through the Carr, Boyd & Osborne Club's weekly "rundill" attack on The Pampa News, you no doubt also observed that the present City Commission assailed the new City Ticket, composed of Fred Thompson for Mayor, George B. Cree and H. C. Wilson for commissioners. . . . The Carr, Boyd & Osborne group now accuses them of being "innocent and inexperienced."

THE deduction to be drawn from that one is that, in the opinion of the Carr, Boyd & Osborne Club, eligibility for City Hall service consists of being "guilty and experienced." Of course, somebody is likely to bob up and ask, "fully of what, and experienced in what?"

But that is beside the point except to expose the fact that the anonymous "Carr, Boyd & Osborne Club" is so nervous to keep its candidates in City Hall that they now are trying to tell the people that only three men are honorable enough, true enough, tried enough, experienced enough, and capable enough to hold down the jobs as mayor and city commissioners of Pampa.

THE Pampa Press, which on last Saturday changed "ownership" and did a flip-flop in favor of the present city administration, on Sunday published two 6-column political advertisements—one from the Thompson, Cree and Wilson ticket, and one for the Carr, Boyd & Osborne ticket. . . . But on Page One of the Press on Sunday the main banner line "story" dealt with the advertising content contained in the Carr, Boyd & Osborne political advertisement. . . . Nowhere in The Pampa Press on Sunday could you find a story about the Thompson, Cree and Wilson advertisement. . . . Yet in the same edition of the paper was a statement by the editor that "The Press believes in fair play."

IN other words, the editor of The Press considered the Carr, Boyd & Osborne Sunday advertisement his best story of the day, and at the same time did not consider the statements of the Thompson, Cree and Wilson Sunday advertisement to be worthy of any mention at all. . . . Everybody knows where The News stands on the issues at the coming election, and the point we make here is that it is very apparent that somebody is trying to kid the public about the control of The Pampa Press. . . . Saturday's "extra" edition and Sunday's regular edition of The Press are the best evidence as to where The Press now stands in the current controversy. . . . But why don't The Press and the "powers behind the throne" make a clean breast of it?

IF THE Press believes that statements of the Carr, Boyd & Osborne group are worth an "extra" edition on one day and a Page One banner line the next day, and that the statements of the Thompson, Cree and Wilson Sunday advertisement mentioning can you blame anybody for coming to the conclusion that there is a definite connection between The Pampa Press and the so-called "Carr, Boyd & Osborne Club" of City Hall "powers behind the throne?"

THE public certainly cannot have much respect for persons who hide behind something, persons who do not have the courage to openly support their convictions. . . . If the ownership of The Pampa Press believes that the proposed "Carr, Boyd & Osborne Club" political ownership of the power industry in Pampa is to the best interests of all the people of Pampa, why doesn't The Press openly support their ticket?

THIS controversy is in no sense a newspaper fight. . . . It still is a fight against political shenanigans . . . and the connection between the present city administration's "powers behind the throne" and the Press is too close to overlook what has happened within the past two or three days. . . . If The Press will publicly go on record one way or another, then there is no further issue in that respect.

ONE more thing. . . . The present city commission through The Pampa Press, still is trying to tell the people that it never was their original intention to buy the light plant without a vote of the people. So, we wish to repeat that on last Nov. 24, City Attorney Walter Rogers and City Manager W. T. Williamson, No. 1 and No. 2 employees of the commission, both stated to the press that they were not necessary to put the matter to a vote of the people, and then followed that statement with another cautioning The News to mention nothing in its columns about a vote of the people.

TO SHOW that the City still had this idea in mind even three weeks later, City Manager Williamson on the night of last Dec. 19, addressed members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at an open meeting and once again made the statement that a vote on the light plant issue was not necessary in Pampa. . . . At that same meeting the city manager further amplified his statement, saying that City Attorney Rogers had informed him of cities that had even gone so far as to call such elections on such issues, and then had proceeded to buy the plants IN SPITE OF A NEGATIVE VOTE OF THE PEOPLE. . . . So, what do they mean when they say they never intended to buy the plant without a vote of the people? . . . Mr. Rogers, Mr. Williamson, and the present city commissioners all know why they had to change their minds about it—even if it did take from Nov. 24, 1939, until Jan. 10, 1940, to smoke them out and to get them publicly on record about it.

BEFORE ending the column for today, we should like to call your attention to the editorial appearing on this page today

You and Your Nation's Affairs

HIGH COST OF FUN IN THE DRIVER'S SEAT By WALTER E. SPAHR Professor of Economics, New York University

As one notes the various common observations regarding our economic problems, he learns that they are in the main these:

There is too much agricultural land in use and too much machinery in use—hence the unuse of capital equipment and unemployed workers. There are too many people, too much capital equipment, too much machinery and too much of everything except the one thing that makes the wheels go round.

The utter foolishness of all this business ought to be clear by this time. But in the People and the Federal government are still running around in circles about these things. The Federal administration talks about too much of everything and "it things" and "it-houses," but strives to make food products scarcer and higher priced. It spends for relief purposes while it stalls the machinery of production and impedes the flow of capital. It engages in a multitude of similar contradictory policies which demonstrate confused thinking and lack of understanding of our great economic and social mechanism. We have the land and other natural resources, the capital, the money, and the people, but the machinery is stalled. And why? Impractical theories, demagogues and politicians who know nothing of economic mechanism of the mechanism. The results are here for all thoughtful people to see: idle funds, heavy unemployment, agricultural stagnation, a small flow of capital, but heavy taxes, an unprecedented debt, and waste—waste in every conceivable form. There is waste of human resources, waste of people's savings and investments, waste of the national patrimony.

Yet it goes on and on. And it is being paid for by the American people as a species of superior economic insight into things. Not until this time have just the right people been in office. We are the planners, so they say; we know how to save you and what is best for you; we are people of great virtue, and to criticize us is sin—the Secretary of the Interior has told us so.

If the chief engineer knows where the throttle is, he has not used it. And even if he does, he has not used it. The machine was steamed up ready to go, the assistants climbed all over it, yanking at this lever and that, pulling out this and pushing in that, all the time proclaiming that the machine wasn't made properly anyway, and that they would have to make it over before it would function satisfactorily, if at all.

And thus the machinery and its "planners" stand today. Not having produced satisfactory results, they now proclaim that the chief engineer must have more time at this business. So that the assistants can have more time to experiment and "it things." And the chief engineer seems receptive. He says it's fun to be in the driver's seat.

But has it been fun for the American people? And has not the cost of the entertainment been high? On a grand scale, precisely, does any individual presume that he should continue to be entertained at such a frightful social cost?

VFW Commander Urges Defense

Fort Worth, March 25 (AP)—The only way for the United States to remain a neutral in the present world crisis and at the same time command the respect of the dictator nations, is to provide itself with an adequate national defense. Otis N. Brown, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said here today.

Commander Brown, a Greensboro, N. C., railroad man, was honored by local posts of the VFW with a breakfast with nearly 100 veterans of various military organizations and representatives of the city and county governments in attendance.

"We are frequently challenged by pacifist groups and urged to honor and respect all foreign powers, but we know that some of them can't be trusted—just turn your back on them once and they'll thrust a blade in it," Brown said.

Brown pointed out that this country can take a lesson from the last war in how much it means to be prepared for an emergency.

"Not one American artillery shell was fired in the world war," Brown said. "The first six-inch shells made in this country reached a French port just 14 days before the Armistice was signed and they never left that port. Most of the army shoes worn by American soldiers were made in England. Not one tank used in the World War was made in this country."

Brown, accompanied by a party of the Fort Worth veterans, left after breakfast for a visit in Cleburne and Waco, with a luncheon speaking engagement arranged for the latter city.

Gas In Mains Cause Baton Rouge Blast

BATON ROUGE La., March 25 (AP)—Gas leaking into the city water mains caused two severe explosions and created a baffling situation here.

Fire chief R. A. Bogan said the gas may have been from the oil drilling locations south of Louisiana State university as the trouble seemed located near the oil field.

"It looks to me like gas from all these oil wells is getting into the water mains," Bogan said. "One man last night turned on a garden hose, touched a match to it and got a long stream of fire instead of water."

City utility executives termed the situation "unprecedented."

One explosion, a few minutes before midnight, brought fire which burned a two-family residence to the ground. Only a few household effects were salvaged.

The other occurred when a toilet was flushed. This explosion scorched wallpaper off the walls, blew doors off their hinges and wrecked furniture. No one was hurt.

Belief was expressed that workers on the oil locations surrounding the area might, by mistake, have connected a gas line with a water line.

Water was turned off today pending discovery of the cause of the trouble.

Gallogly Back In Georgia Prison

REIDSVILLE, Ga., March 25 (AP)—Society-bred Richard G. Gallogly swapped his stylish blue suit for prison denim and the life of a penitentiary field hand today in resuming a life sentence for the 1928 "thrill" slaying of an Atlanta drug clerk.

Returned from Texas, where he fled 173 days ago after escaping from two Georgia guards, the 30-year old son of a prominent Atlanta family was ushered inside the prison gate by seven state troopers last night.

Behind him was a long, futile struggle for freedom in Texas where he surrendered to Dallas authorities after his escape.

As the squad of troopers delivered the handcuffed Gallogly to the prison, Public Safety Commissioner Lon E. Sullivan said: "I hope the penal authorities will treat him just like any other murderer convict, no better, no softer."

Range Conditions In Panhandle Reported Exceptionally Good

By L. C. SLOAN Associated Press Staff

All spring signs pointed today to a profitable season for the great ranch industry of Texas.

Prices were firm at levels equaling or bettering those at this time last year. General ranch conditions ranged from fair along the Gulf to above average in most of West Texas and exceptionally good in the Panhandle.

Although as usual most areas needed rain, in only a few was this need pressing. One ranchman summed it up with "you know we always need more moisture in West Texas even if it is raining."

Feed bills last winter were larger than usual but losses were at a minimum. Most cattle were strong as the result of extra feed. Some early lambing was lost due to late cold. Sheep have made good gains since.

Supplies of yearlings for the spring trade were less than normal because of a broad demand and attractive prices for a class of stocker and feeder cattle during the fall and winter. Some of the best stocker yearlings have sold as high as 11 cents a pound. A broad demand for livestock was noted at Fort Worth.

Optimism was high in the sheep and goat region around San Angelo. Angora goat raisers had completed clipping between 16 and 17 million pounds of mohair, an increase of at least a million pounds over 1939 production. There was no carryover from last year's clip, some of which sold at a prosperity high of 55 cents a pound for grown and 91 cents for kids. While some sales were reported this season at 45 and 55 cents, many were holding for 50 and 75 cents. The kid hair normally averages 10 per cent of the clip.

Spring Run Up Eastern buyers headed toward Texas as sheep raisers estimated the spring clip would run 80 to 85 million pounds, several million pounds above last season. Shearing will be under way in two weeks. Some spring wool has been contracted for 30 cents a pound while around Abilene 25-cent offers have been refused. Most ranchmen are asking for 30 or 35 cents.

Buyers estimated 20,000 to 25,000 lambs had been contracted mostly in the hill country, at 6 1/2 cents out of the shearing pens and 87 a head in the wool.

Rages were greening and there was little feeding around San Angelo. Amarillo reported the big spring cattle movement in full swing in the Panhandle. Prices averaged 9 1/2 cents a pound for steer calves and 8 1/2 for heifers. The largest single shipment of the year was 3,500 two-year-old steers from the Matador ranch to a Kansas buyer.

This ranch has contracted 3,000 of the yearlings for May 1 delivery. There was sufficient moisture in the top soil to assure a good stand of early grass.

A few sales of calves have been made and were in fine shape. Carter McGregor, banker and ranchman, said a little rain was all that was needed to promise an excellent season.

Cattle Situation Fair Some cattle still on feed in the Abilene territory. Steer calves brought 9 to 10 1/2 cents for May 1 delivery. Good aged cows were scarce at $65 to $70. A top of 11 cents a pound was paid at Midland recently for a string of 450-pound yearlings for May 15 delivery.

Immediate range improvement was in sight in the coastal bend region southwest from Corpus Christi to Falfurrias. An end to feeding was near in the Valley where a drought was broken last week.

The cattle situation in the Houston section was considered only fair by J. W. Sartwell, head of the Post City stockyards.

That area has been relatively slow to recover from the recent cold, and subnormal moisture has retarded progress. Sartwell said the market was "holding up remarkably well."

Peso Holding Firm Despite Suspending Of Silver Buying

MEXICO CITY, March 25 (AP)—A responsible government banking executive asserted today that measures adopted to meet February's "severe currency crisis" has proved so efficient that for the present the government felt no concern at the prospect of the United States suspending purchases of Mexican silver.

The peso then broke more than 100 points in terms of the dollar and the Bank of Mexico and the republic's most important private banks tried to stabilize the currency around six to one.

Collapsing of Mexico's currency system impended, the executive stated, when unpublished runs were draining all banks of their liquid assets. Confronted with this situation, the banks got together to bolster the currency. They stopped loans for luxury imports such as automobiles. They ended loans for speculative activity. The Bank of Mexico announced that 20,000,000 pesos would be withdrawn from circulation. They made statements designed to inspire public confidence in the peso.

It was announced a few days ago that 17,000,000 pesos had been withdrawn from circulation, helping to give the peso a scarcity value.

The result of this program has been positive, the executive said. Deposits have reached a new high, the peso is holding firmly in the neighborhood of 3.98 and the relaxation of various controls has disclosed no rush toward the dollar.

Spiritual Advance Campaign To Begin Tonight At Church

The Rev. B. F. Jackson, Jr., assistant pastor and director of education at the First Methodist church in Fort Worth, will arrive today to speak at the First Methodist church tonight at 7:30 o'clock, when a spiritual advance campaign will be started.

Young adults of the church are sponsors of the series of services. The first of four week-day morning services is to be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock when Rev. Jackson will speak on "The Strange Power of Silence."

Special music to be conducted each evening with Lester Adrich directing and Mrs. H. A. Yoder playing the piano.

The Rev. B. L. Nance of Phoenix, Ariz., is to arrive today also to assist in the visitation campaign. At 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the Rev. W. M. Pearce, pastor, will begin the children's services again.

WPA Teacher Says He's A Communist

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—James H. Dolson told the Dies committee today, in reopened hearings on un-American activities, that he was both a Communist party member and a teacher on a WPA worker's Education projects in Pittsburgh.

Dolson testified he was a Communist now and had been engaged in Communist activities in China, Russia and the United States starting in 1927.

The witness also identified as one of his possessions what he said was a Communist party membership book made out in the name of "Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Robert E. Lynch, the committee's new counsel, attempted to show the name was Dolson's party pseudonym but the witness denied it vehemently.

"Who book is it?" Lynch asked. "I don't care to state," Dolson snapped back. "It's under the name of Franklin D. Roosevelt." Previous committee witnesses have said some Communist party members used names different from their own on their party membership cards and books. Dolson said he used his own name on party listings.

Regarding his teaching activities in Pittsburgh, Dolson said the subjects included parliamentary law, trade union history and the history of the American labor movement, but not Communism.

He said that "sometimes, a student would ask something about Communism" but when they did, he always advised them to go to the library and read books on the subject or to go to the party for literature.

Debate Teams Will Be Selected Tonight

The high school boys debate team that will represent Pampa in the district interscholastic league meet here will be selected tonight at 7 o'clock in room 202 at the high school. The public is invited to hear the debates at no cost. O. P. Shewmaker, instructor, said today.

Two teams will debate. One team will take the affirmative in opening the contest and will later debate the negative side of the question. Topic of debate this year is "Resolved that Texas should adopt a system of complete medical care available to all citizens at public expense."

Debating will be Jack Moorehead and Soren Jensen on one team and Neil McCullough and Lindsey Boyd on the other team.

Rain continued in the Laredo area Monday following precipitation of 1.43 Sunday and Sunday night. The total rainfall up to noon was approximately two inches. The moisture fell over the entire area. Cloudy weather with occasional rains in the southwest portion of East Texas was forecast for Monday night and Tuesday. West Texas was scheduled to have fair weather. Elsewhere in the south, low temperatures were reported. Both Asheville and Charlotte, N. C., registered 19. Knoxville, Tenn., bundled against 12-degree weather. It was 15 at Nashville, Tenn. Light snow fell at Louisville, Ky., and frost coated the ground as far south as central areas of Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia. In the central part of the nation, the mercury plummeted to 17 degrees below zero at Moorhead, Minn., and 5 below at Minneapolis, Madison, Wis., shivered in blasts that forced the mercury down to 5. Some snow was reported in Montana and the western half of the Dakotas, but clear skies were over most of the eastern half of the country.

Owners Of Yankees Waiting For Right Offer To Be Made NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—The New York Yankees probably would be sold if the right offer were made, Byron Clark, Jr., attorney for the Col. Jacob Ruppert estate, said today, but so far nobody has approached him with such a bid. "The trustees realize that baseball is a speculative business and they might decide it would be better if the vast holdings were turned into dollars and cents," said Clark in commenting on a copyrighted story from Winter Haven, Fla., carried by the World-Telegram today, saying two groups are interested in buying the club. The World-Telegram said one group was composed of Postmaster General James A. Farley and James Cox, former governor of Ohio, and the other of Joseph Patterson, publisher of the New York Daily News, and an unnamed associate.

Rites Held Today In Lubbock For Pioneer Service Car Owner

LUBBOCK, March 25 (AP)—Funeral services will be held in Lubbock this afternoon for C. W. (Bud) Abbott, 59, who drove an Amarillo-Borger bus route, later a Lubbock-Amarillo run and who was one of the pioneer West Texas service car owners. He died Sunday night in Lubbock of paralysis, after illness of eight days. A year ago he ceased driving and bought a grocery store, selling it a month ago because of poor health. His mother, a daughter, three sons and three sisters survive.

Census-Takers Will Be Selected Today

Persons who will take the population and agricultural census in the Pampa district, comprising 17 counties, will be selected from the 150 men and women attending a three-day school now in progress in the basement of the First Baptist church, Carroll Smyers, district census supervisor, is in charge. The census is scheduled to begin March 1. Method of taking census questions to be asked, filling out of forms and other necessary work is being studied by the large group from throughout the district. Similar schools of instruction are being held throughout the nation.

Somewhere, Over the Rainbow

The popular song will come true for passengers on the new Pan American strato-clipper, who will fly "somewhere over the rainbow." The super-charged air liner, over 30,000 feet up, will wing through clear skies above the tumultuous earth-weather level, as shown in the above chart. Ready for service soon, the giant plane has a wing spread of over 107 feet, accommodations for 33 day passengers, 25 night ones and a ton of mail or express.

Victory in Finland ends the latest of 27 major wars fought by Russians since Prince Oleg of Kiev marched down the steppes on Constantinople in the year 907. Solid lines on map indicate predominance of victorious campaigns for Russians, while dotted lines show losses or as in Napoleonic war a draw. Current 14-week campaign took Russia twice as long to conquer Karelia as it did to seize the whole of Finland in 1808.

Court Rules Against Ethyl Corporation

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that the Ethyl Gasoline corporation of New York had violated the Sherman anti-trust act by restricting sales of lead-treated gasoline to jobbers licensed by the corporation. Justice Stone delivered the decision that affirmed a ruling by the southern New York federal district court which enjoined the corporation from requiring jobbers to procure licenses in order to handle the product. "Since the unlawful control over the jobbers was established and maintained by resort to licensing device," Stone said, "the decree rightfully suppressed it even though it had been or might continue to be used for some lawful purposes." Stone said the licensing system permitted the corporation "to will to exclude others from the business" of jobbing. No dissent was announced. Justices McReynolds and Roberts did not participate. The Justice department, which instituted the anti-trust proceedings, contended that the corporation, "through the use of its licensing system, had combined with 123 refiners producing all of the lead-treated gasoline sold in the United States" to exclude all but licensed jobbers from handling the product. In another decision today, Justice Roberts ruled that the communications commission, in granting a permit for a new radio station, need not consider the effect such competition would have on an existing station. "It is not the purpose of the federal communications act to protect a licensee against competition, but to protect the public," Roberts said. Senator Pittman (D-Nev.), leading off for opponents, said the program was unconstitutional because it does not provide for senate ratification of trade agreements. The agreements really are treaties, Pittman argued, and therefore should be subject to ratification by a vote of two-thirds of the senate. "It may seem a small matter at the present time to delegate to the president the power to make treaties without ratification of the senate," he said, "but once establish this precedent and those who fought our entry into the League of Nations and our adherence to the World Court may find they have no forum in which to discuss such agreements." As the law stands, the reciprocal agreements are handled by the president and the state department without congressional action, but opponents contend in the senate that they have a 50-50 chance of inserting an amendment to require senate ratification of each agreement. Legion To Sponsor Junior Baseball Team

Roche Calls Meeting For Boys Tonight

A meeting of all boys eligible to play junior baseball will be held at 7 o'clock tonight in the Pampa News office. The meeting is being called by the baseball committee of the American Legion post which will again sponsor a junior team.

Joe Roche, chairman of the committee last year, will again be in charge of the organization of the team. A manager has not yet been appointed.

Junior baseball is open to all boys 17 years of age or younger who have never played professional baseball and who can furnish a birth certificate to prove age. Boys who do not have birth certificates are urged to attend the meeting and if they make the team the post will order the certificates.

The Pampa Junior team will again compete in the state tournament if they win the district. Last year Pampa was the only team in the district. They won bi-district honors and were nosed out in the region after tough games and a protest which was ignored by the state committee.

"We're going after the title this year regardless of what the opposition may be," Chairman Roche declared today.

There are many boys in Pampa and surrounding territory eligible for junior baseball and everyone of them is urged to be at tonight's meeting. The Pampa team will use players from the surrounding oil-field camps.

'39 And '40 Harvesters Play Independents Tonight

Stars on the 1939 and 1940 Harvester basketball teams will play the Pampa Independents tonight in the high school gym at 8 o'clock. No admission will be charged and fans are invited to attend.

The All-Star exes will feature such players as Bob Andis, described by Lubbock sports writers as Texas Tech's greatest basketball prospect in history; Doyle Aulis, hot-shot forward of Corpus Christi Junior college; Pete Dunaway, all-region guard; Grover Lee Heiskell, 1939 star and No. 1 prospect for the Strickland, six-foot-four, and Albert Ayer, former Harvester stars, Nevin Johnston, Tom Bean and Doyle Enloe.

Others on the team will be A. C. Miller and Kenneth Kyle. All these boys played together last year under Coach Mitchell. As shown above they are as follows, right to left: Miller, Andis, Aulis, Kyle, Dunaway, Heiskell.

The Independents will have such players as six-foot-six Elmer Irving, former Texas university star; Claude Heiskell, former Harvester star; Orville Heiskell, Albert Weber, Jun-

Grapefruit Gossip By Gayle Talbot

TAMPA, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Perhaps they will be accused of poor sportsmanship, but several Cincinnati Reds have offered to bet that Lefty Lee Grissom is not with the Yankees a month after the season begins. "He's not McCarthy's type of ball player," is their only explanation.

President Horace Stoneham of the Giants is an aggressive champion of his manager, Bill Terry. Already this spring the youthful magnate has collided with two sports writers who questioned his choice of a pilot. One of those he challenged, incidentally, happened to be the same fellow who took on the whole St. Louis Cardinal gang single-handed here a few springs ago.

There is only the slightest hope that Bill Delaney, the great young Cardinal catcher who was forced out of the game four years ago by lung trouble, will be able to come back in the big leagues. He looks fit enough as he works out with the club at St. Petersburg, but Manager Ray Blades doesn't intend to subject him to the rigors of northern climate again. However, Delaney might prove a star somewhere in the south.

Expert observers, including rival scouts, who have watched young Dominic DiMaggio bat, frankly are skeptical of the youngster's ability to hit waist-high, fast-ball pitching. His stance, they insist, makes the Boston rookie peculiarly vulnerable to this pitch. Asked how he was able to whang the ball at 360 clip in the Coast League, they point out that Coast League pitchers are not good enough to keep the ball where they want it, else they would be in the big leagues. Dominic's glasses are thick-lensed.

The manager of a rival club says that the Cleveland Indians will be extremely lucky if their flashy new shortstop, Louis Boudreau, is ready to start the season. Boudreau chips on his bone in his ankle early last week and is on crutches. "That's the toughest kind of a break to get healed properly," said our informant. "A player seldom recovers anything like his previous speed and agility. Look at Pinkie Higgins of Detroit. He's never been his self since he hurt an ankle."

Indiana And Kansas To Play Saturday

KANSAS CITY, March 25 (AP)—Indiana and Kansas, the two states where ardent mothers substitute basketballs for teething rings, send their university quintets here this weekend for the "world series of basketball."

Saturday's game will decide a successor to Oregon university, National Collegiate Athletic association champion.

The last weekend the Indiana five stormed through the Eastern playoffs with a 48 to 24 victory over Springfield, Mass., college—the game's birthplace—and Duquesne, 39 to 30.

Kansas had a closer call in the western playoffs. In the opener the Jayhawks trimmed Rice Institute 54 to 44, and then followed with a 43 to 42 triumph over Southern California on a goal 16 seconds before the gun.

The National Association of U. S. and Canadian Coaches, the rules committee, the research committee and the National Associates of Basketball Officials all hold their annual meetings in conjunction with the title-deciding battle.

White Sox Confident They Can Land In First Division

By ROBERT MYERS
PASADENA, Calif., March 25 (AP)—There seems to be an unusual air of confidence around the Chicago White Sox camp this year, and it may come to pass that the Pale Hose will be a powerful contender for a berth in the first division of the American League.

The biggest worry for Manager James Dykes lies in his pitching, but he had five 300 hitters last year, thinks he may have six this season; his outfield is set, for once, he is overstocked with infielders.

As colorless in the past few years as their stockings, the south siders may break loose with a little baseball oomph.

Dykes is high on two young infielders, Bob Kennedy and Don Koloway, who hail from Chicago, and either or both may see a good deal of service if some of the veterans fall apart.

The Sox outfield, it appears, will be made up of Julius Solters in left, Mike Kreevich in center and Taft Wright in right. Kreevich pounded the ball for 323 last season, and while Solters slumped to 236 in a season divided between Cleveland and the Browns, Dykes thinks he will be happier and improved with Chicago. Taft Wright acquired in a deal that sent Gerald Walker to Washington, batted 300 for the Senators.

Joe Kubel, who hit 300, will be back at first; Jackie Hayes at second; capable Luke Appling at short and Eric McNair, who led the club in hitting last year with 324, at third.

In the event anything happened to one of the regulars, rookie Egan, who was a utility infielder in the Texas league, would go in at third.

PHILLIPS WINS AAU CAGE TITLE

Jack McCracken, (No. 3) Denver Nuggets guard, takes a rebound from Frank Groves, (No. 77) Phillips Oilers, to score for the Nuggets and tie the count during the middle of their game in the finals of the National A. U. basketball tournament in Denver, Colo. Trailing at the half, the Bartlesville, Okla., team caught up with and beat the Denver quintet by a close score of 39 to 36.

Intra-Squad Track Meet To Be Staged

Fifty Pampa Harvester track and field prospects who worked out all last week will battle for places on the team at an intra-squad meet to be held soon. Coach Odus Mitchell spent last week conditioning his boys and working on fundamentals.

Track and field workouts will continue into April when spring football practice will be called. Date of the first practice has not been set.

The Junior High track and field team is also working out. The Reaper football squad will be called to practice Tuesday, Coach C. P. McWright announced yesterday.

Fake Holdups Give Chief A Headache

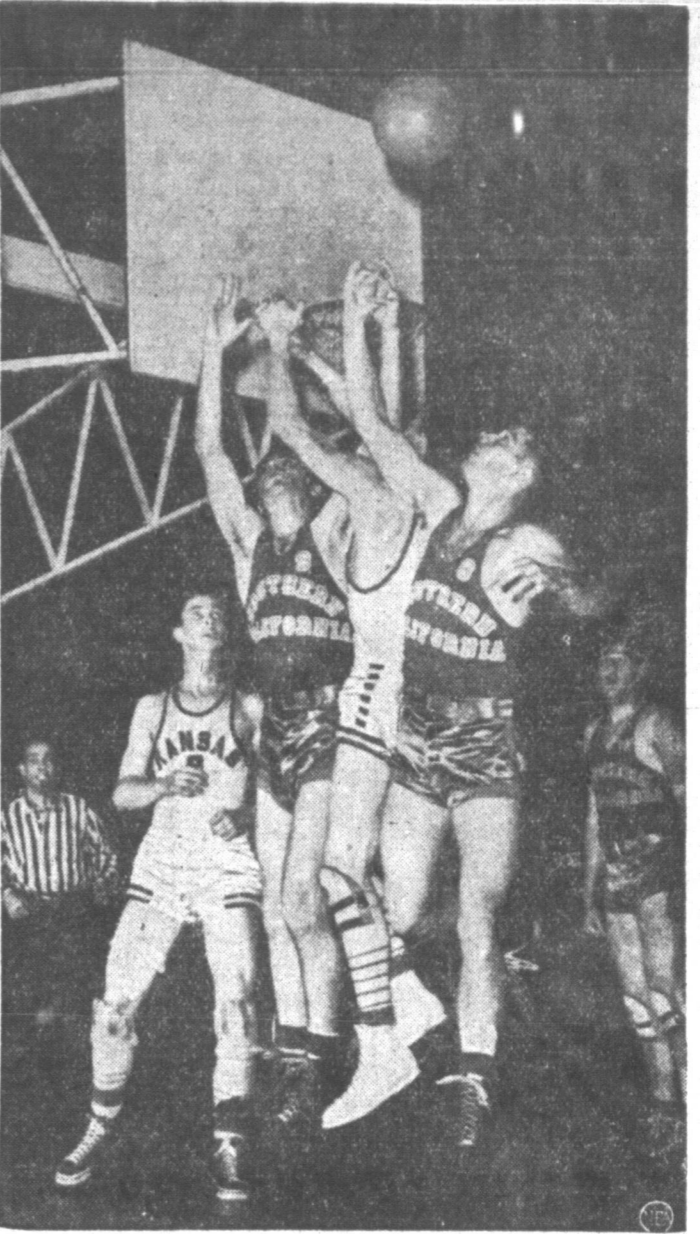

BALTIMORE, March 25 (AP)—The little holdup man who wasn't there began to get under police commissioner Robert Stanton's skin today. A series of 10 fake holdups brought a suggestion from Stanton that a law be passed making invention of robberies a criminal offense. These cases, he said, were typical:

1. The milk truck driver who reported he was robbed of $20, then admitted he lost the money in a card game.

2. The cab driver who reported he was robbed of $8, then admitted he was that much short and was afraid of being fired.

3. The man who reported he was robbed of $35, then admitted he hatched the story to avoid an argument with his wife.

Jones Sisters Of Allison In Anicos' Lineup

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 25, (AP)—An auto accident robbed the champion Galveston, Tex., Anicos of one of their stars, but they're going into the national AAU women's basketball tournament counting on two of last year's best high school players to pull them through.

Phyllis White, 20-year-old forward, suffered a broken collar bone in an accident near Iola, Kas. The mother of Coach Frances Williams also was hurt. The team was driving here from Galveston.

Boistering the team's lineup will be the Jones sisters—Oleta, 18, and Ruth, 17. Oleta played forward for the Allison, Tex., high school team last year and won a place on the mythical 'All-America' team. Ruth starred as guard last year.

The tournament starts Tuesday. Galveston drew a bye in the first round and will play the winner of the Kansas City St. James-Pt. Collins, Colo., game Wednesday.

Louis Has Bone To Pick With 'Experts'

By SID FEDER
GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y., March 25, (AP)—It seems Joe Louis reads the newspapers.

Some weeks ago he read where the boxing experts, after watching him wade through 15 dismal rounds with Arturo Godoy, thought he was something less than terrific. He found out that some of the smart boys even knew how to spell "b-u-m" and that a lot of them believed he was slipping.

So Joe figures he has a bone to pick with the "experts." And he and his handlers tip you off that he's going to pick it clean in Madison Square Garden when he fights Johnny Paychek Friday.

Now Johnny is a nice enough young fellow, so it's too bad he has to meet up with the Bomber when he wants to bomb. Joe is in the same frame of mind just now, and training just as fiercely, as when he was preparing to tangle with Max Schmeling the second time.

"Yeah," said one of his handlers after he watched Joe raise lumps on a set of sparring partners, "I wouldn't be sprised at all if Mistah Joe knocks Paychek right back in a lot of laps jes' to show 'em."

The same general idea was conveyed by Jimmy Braddock after looking at Joe's latest workout.

"I've seen Joe work for almost every fight since the beat me three years ago, and I've never seen him more aggressive than he is right now."

Pettigrew Of WTNM League Gave Carl Hubbell Start

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, March 25 (AP)—When President Milton Price of the West Texas-New Mexico league wants an efficient appraisal of a young ball player's ability he looks no further than his correspondence with Ned Pettigrew.

Since the turn of the century Pettigrew has been identified with the game and players he has sent along stardom's trail are legion.

Pettigrew next month starts his fortieth year as player, manager, scout or umpire. This time he will be supervisor of umpires in the West Texas-New Mexico league.

He has been an umpire in this loop since it was organized in 1937 and each season the Duncan, Okla., veteran painstakingly writes out the records and prospects of the players he has seen and sends them to Price.

"He is a great influence in the league," Price says. "He has the respect of everyone, knows his work and sees that the others do what they are supposed to do."

School Grants Girl Private Bathroom

LOS ANGELES, March 25 (AP)—Modest 16-year-old Joan Lawrence, who objected to taking group shower baths with other Alhambra high school girls, today was told she could have a private bathroom all her own.

Attorney W. B. McKesson, representing the school board, advanced that plan in an effort to reach a compromise with parents of the girl, who charged in their "right of privacy" against the school board, that bathing in the presence of other girls was dangerous to morals.

The plan was transmitted to the girl's parents through their attorney.

British War On North Sea Nazi Shipping. LONDON, March 25 (AP)—Britain's warships scoured Germany's north sea shipping lanes today in an effort to strangle her trade with Scandinavia while suspicion mounted that the Reich might be engineering a bag of Rumania's oil.

The British also credited naval action for the grounding of the 5,000-ton German freighter Edmund Hugo Stinnes, 2,289 tons, sent to the bottom yesterday by shellfire near where a torpedo earlier had sunk the 4,497-ton ore carrier Hedderholm.

Much British attention, however, centered on the Balkans as a possible coming "hot spot" of the war. The press interpreted the expulsion from Rumania of Maurice Lovell, all-Bucharest correspondent of Reuters, British news agency, as an incident in a Nazi intrigue to get hold of Rumania's oil.

But this was an empty honor as long as Rome was at the mercy of both Viking and Saracen. The Popes therefore cast around for some ruler who could act as their protector. Their choice quite naturally fell upon the young and ambitious Frankish king and he was asked to act as the worldly champion of the spiritual domain of the church.

On Christmas Day of the year 800, the Pope solemnly crowned this barbarian chieftain from the wilds of Europe as the successor to the glories of the old Roman emperors.

"That's why our phone bill is so high—every minute my back is turned your son plays business man!"

YESTERDAY: Ann is adopted into the Temple family...

CHAPTER XXIX

ANN was rather introverted that summer. It seemed to her that everyone had lost sight of the fact that happiness was something to be attained, to be fought for.

IT was when she had spent two months as a member of the Temple family that Ann attended a party with Steve...

"Why have you refused to talk to me?" "You got drunk, hideously, rot-totally drunk."

STEVE was as good as his word. He devoted himself to Ann with a persistence and subtle knowledge of technique that finally brought results.

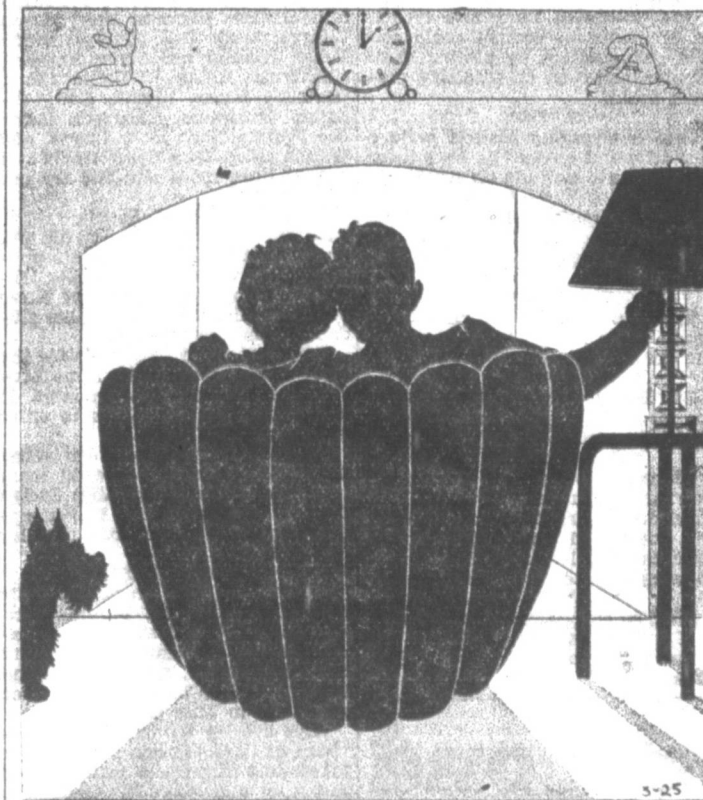

Sipping the coffee, Ann said, "I thought you were engaged to marry Irene when I first met her."

Ann immediately made up her mind to include a visit to Clara in the trip. Afterward she thought the fates must have had something to do with that Sunday afternoon jaunt.

HARVEST GRAINS

FOURTEEN QUESTIONS PERTAINING TO THE BIBLE were given to one freshman, one sophomore, one junior, and one senior English class last Wednesday in keeping with the observance of Holy week. The Ministerial Alliance was seeking to get a cross-section view of students' knowledge of the Bible.

FIRST ORDER FOR COMMENCEMENT INVITATIONS was sent off last Friday through McCriley's Jewelry store. The invitations will cost 74 cents each. A deposit of 2 cents is required for each invitation ordered, also for the 10 cent center for jacket. Date of the senior trip to Carlsbad is April 26-28 rather than April 27-29.

NAMES OF JANET McMillen and ZADE WATKINS were unintentionally omitted from the honor roll in last week's issue of the Little Harvester. If other names had been omitted, the Little Harvester would appreciate having them called to attention.

PLANS FOR THE OBSERVANCE OF KID DAY and for the trip to Carlsbad will be made in a senior class meeting this week. Cost for the trip will be $4 for those who go in a school bus and $6 for those who go in private cars.

SEVERAL MEMBERS OF THE F. F. A. visited the packing plant last Tuesday afternoon to examine some calves that had been slaughtered for market.

GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLASSES began playing outdoor baseball last week.

TWO ERRORS WERE MADE in the dates of future events announced in the Little Harvester last week. No date has been decided upon yet for the Junior-Senior Banquet. Date of the senior trip to Carlsbad is April 26-28 rather than April 27-29.

A. C. COX, BAND DIRECTOR, and Winston Savage, principal of Sam Houston school, went to Plainview Friday to arrange for accommodations for Pampa students who will participate in the music contests to be held there April 4-6. Pampa will send 360 students to the contests, but not all of them will be staying overnight in Plainview.

CONGRATULATIONS ARE IN ORDER for J. H. Morehead, shop instructor, who was married on Easter Sunday.

MRS. HOL WAGNER, English and Journalism teacher spoke on "Citizenship Training" at a meeting of Junior High Parent-Teacher association last Thursday.

PRECEDING THE LECTURE by Dr. John Morrison sponsored by the Rotary club in the school auditorium last Wednesday evening, the Harvester band played several numbers.

Seniors, Here's Your Chance To Go To College Next Year

College scholarships for from one to four years and ranging in value from $125 to $1,800 are available to ambitious Pampa High school seniors who apply for them.

These scholarships are not awarded on grades alone, but on personality, character, interest in worthwhile activities, leadership, and financial need. Interested students must make application for these scholarships, which are not to be confused with the scholarships offered by nearby colleges to the highest ranking girl and the highest ranking boy in the graduating class.

Application blanks for most of these scholarships can be secured from the registrar's office. In the past few weeks notices of open scholarships from several colleges and universities have been posted on the bulletin board in the front hall of the school building. Many more are on file in the registrar's office.

Most schools require that the application be accompanied by a letter of recommendation from the principal and an official statement of the student's scholastic ranking.

Colorado Woman's College
Colorado Woman's college at Denver offers a number of scholarships valued at $125 to prospective freshmen who have shown good scholastic ability and outstanding in personality, character, and leadership in student activities. If the girl makes a B average during her freshman year and her attitude is satisfactory, she will receive another $125 scholarship for her sophomore year. Applications should be filed immediately, as awards are made early in the spring. Colorado Woman's college also offers a limited number of special scholarships in music and art.

Northwestern University
Northwestern university at Evanston, Illinois, is offering approximately one hundred freshman scholarships in the college of liberal arts, the schools of music, education and speech, and the new technological institute. A majority of the scholarships will pay full tuition for the freshman year; a few smaller scholarships and a number which pay full tuition will also be granted. The scholarships will be awarded primarily on the basis of scholastic achievement and financial need. In applying for a scholarship, the correct procedure is to obtain from the Director of Admissions, Lunt Administration Building, Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, an application for admission, and from the Director of Student Finance, in the same building, an application for a scholarship. The two should be returned together by April 15.

Hockaday Junior College
Hockaday Junior college at Dallas offers six $200 regional scholarships to girls who cannot afford the full fee and who are recommended by the high school principal and an outstanding citizen on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership, health, and financial need. Four $400 alumnae scholarships will be awarded on a competitive basis. Applicants for one of these honorary $400 scholarships are required to take the college's scholarship aptitude test before April 15.

Johns Hopkins University
Johns Hopkins university offers 13 scholarships to young men of exceptional ability, ten in the College of Arts and Sciences and three in the School of Engineering. These scholarships are honor awards and entitle the holders to free tuition, which is $450 a year. They are renewable from year to year if the holders maintain a high standard of scholarship and could be worth $1,800. No examination is given for these scholarships, but a personal interview is required. Other grants, scholarships, and clerical assistantships are available to students in need of financial assistance who are eligible for admission. Application must be in by April 1.

Texas Military College
Texas Military college at Terrell offers a scholarship worth $675 specifically to some boy in the graduating class of Pampa High school. The award will be based on character, leadership, and interest in worthwhile activities. Only scholastic requirement is that he have sufficient scholastic preparation to maintain proficiency after entrance. The scholarship will cover tuition, board, lodging, and fees; in addition the student will need $50 for uniforms, spending money, and incidentals. Applications must be in before May 1.

University of Southern California
The University of Southern California at Los Angeles offers twenty-five scholarships valued at $270 to freshmen boys and girls. Applicants must be in the upper tenth of their high school graduating class and must have a letter of recommendation from their principal.

Cornell University
Cornell university will award two scholarships to boys from Texas Oklahoma, and Arkansas, valued at $400, full tuition, in the College of Engineering. Applications must be filed by April 1. Awards will be made on the basis of scholastic achievement, character, and general ability. If the holder maintains a satisfactory record, the scholarship will be renewed from year to year for four years, making it worth $1,600.

Further information concerning all these scholarships and many others, including several to business schools, can be obtained from the registrar's office.

Nearly every college in the nation offers a variety of scholarships to ambitious and deserving students. A letter of inquiry to the college will bring information about them. In addition many colleges assist prospective students in getting jobs and offer N. Y. A. aid to a limited number of students.

Bands And Choirs To Give Concerts

Student Council Delegates Report On State Meet

Reports from delegates to the state convention held in Tyler, March 15-16, were given in student council meeting last Tuesday. Each delegate from P. H. S. attended. Different discussion group presided over by student leaders.

Ross Buzzard attend the group discussing assembly programs. Reasons for having assembly, such as uniting the school and providing entertainment, and different ideas for programs were described by Ross. Some of these were exchange programs with other schools, school department programs, and faculty programs where members of the faculty imitate the students.

Projects Discussed
Betty Plank was assigned to the group on interpreting the student body. In this group representatives from different schools explained how their schools let the student body know of the council activities. Betty reported that the most common methods were reporting the meetings in the school paper, publishing the council minutes, and having reports given in home rooms. Some schools have public address systems or radio broadcast systems over which they announce their activities.

Doris Taylor reported on the meeting where best projects conducted by student councils were discussed. Some of the projects mentioned were dances with check rooms for wraps, a banking club, a hall of fame for students, a poll tax for voting, student policemen, student directors, ground keepers, and court systems. One school has a 15-minute program of swing music before school each day, which has eliminated many tardies.

Developing Student Possibilities
Developing student possibilities was the subject of the group attended by Ray Boyles. He reported that some schools use the point system, assigning point values to club memberships, student offices, and various other activities, a certain number of activity points being counted towards graduation. This system encourages students to take part in more things. One school reported successful use of the honor system. In another school a date bureau is proving successful and helping timid students.

These four delegates were accompanied by Tyler by Aubrey L. Steele, student council sponsor.

Senior Kid Day Next Monday

Seniors of P. H. S. will begin their second childhood on April 1, when the annual Kid day will be held. All seniors will have the day off from school, and present plans call for an all-day class picnic in the country. Further details will be announced in class meetings this week.

Only those students who had 11 solid credits at the beginning of the first semester are classified as seniors, and only these will be allowed to take part in the Kid day activities. Other students will be expected to attend classes as usual on April 1, according to announcement from the office.

Special Easter Assembly Held

Easter was the theme of a special assembly held Thursday afternoon as the last thing before school was dismissed for the spring holidays. The stage was set with a reflected cross in the background. Much of the impressiveness of the program was due to the lighting effects, arranged by Kenneth Carman and some of his play production students.

The program, which was sacred throughout in keeping with the Easter theme, included the following numbers:
Song, "The Old Rugged Cross," A Cappella choir.
Musical reading, "The Easter Bell," Jerry Smith.
Violin solo, "The Rosary," Miss Winona Wise.
Song, "All in the April Evening," A Cappella choir.
Song, "The Legend," A Cappella choir.
Easter Scripture, The Rev. Joseph Wondery.
Bariitone solo, "The Holy City," Turner Tyson.
Benediction, A Cappella choir.

Hinger To Speak To Hi-Y Club
Tomorrow night Coach Oscar Hinger will speak to the boys in Hi-Y on "Acquiring Skill in Athletics." Formal initiation of new members was discussed at the meeting last Tuesday evening.

The 14 members present decided to hold an informal initiation for Ernest James at the next social function of the group.

Tiny Tots Model Play Clothes Made By Home Ec Girls

Children's garments made by girls in second year clothing classes were modeled at the meeting of the A. A. U. W. Child Study group last Tuesday afternoon in the city club rooms. As each garment was modeled, the girls who made it gave the cost and pointed out the advantages and conveniences in workmanship, quality, and style, to both the mother and the child. After the tiny tots modeled their new garments, most of them recited poems or sang songs. Billie Jean Buck played the accompaniment.

Boxing Coach

Coach Oscar Hinger, above, has popularized another sport in Pampa—boxing. Saturday night his high school team won 8 out of 12 final bouts in the finals of the two-day boxing tournament held here over the week-end. The Harvester team now has representatives in all Inter-scholastic league contests will not be made until just before the meet.

Girls' teams also have not been chosen yet. According to Miss Evelyn Gregory, girls' tennis coach, selection of those to participate in the Inter-scholastic league contests will not be made until just before the meet.

Although boxing is conducted under Inter-scholastic league rules, it has not been incorporated by the league. However, a petition is to be sent to the league by the boxing sponsors and officials at the end of the season asking that boxing be added to the league events.

Last week the basketball team from Pampa's colored school practiced in the high school gymnasium in preparation for a colored basketball tournament held at Wellington Saturday. At that school the boys became so apt at goal shooting that they increased the length of their outdoor court beyond standard measurements so that they could not hit the basket so easily from the center of the court!

Two Pampa Tennis Players Win Singles Matches At Cordell

Pampa boys' tennis players won two and lost three matches in a dual meet at Cordell, Oklahoma, Thursday afternoon. Cletus Mitchell defeated A. T. Stafford, 6-2, and 9-7. Durdars Mitchell won over B. Sanders, 3-6, 4-6, 6-6. The two Mitchell's lost in doubles play against Stafford and W. Sanders, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

Hugh Stennis, who represented P. H. S. in singles play at state last year and week before last won the only Pampa victory in a practice match with Amarillo, was defeated by Cordell's Warren Marshall, 7-5 and 6-0.

Clinton Stone and Wayne Roby also lost in doubles play, 6-3 and 6-0.

B. G. Gordon, boys' tennis coach, has announced an invitation tennis tournament to be held here April 5-6. Invitations have been sent to 16 schools.

Geographer Gives Illustrated Talk On Soviet Union

Modern Russia was the subject of an illustrated lecture by Dr. John A. Morrison in assembly last Wednesday. He was brought to Pampa by the Rotary club as the first speaker in their Institute of International Understanding.

Dr. Morrison, a geographer, returned to the United States from Russia directly after the outbreak of the war last September. He pointed out that the fact that Russia is unpopular with us at present is no reason for refusing to learn all we can about the country; in fact, he said, since Russia's chief aim seems to be to overtake and surpass the United States in production and since Russia is one of the greatest potential rivals of our country, it behooves us to know developments in Russia very closely.

Rival of U. S.
Dr. Morrison pointed out that most of us use the term Russia incorrectly since Russia is only one of the eleven republics which comprise the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. The Soviet Union has 180,000,000 people who speak 150 different dialects. It is three times as large as the United States and covers one-sixth of the earth's surface. Extent of the U. S. S. R. is exemplified in its temperature range from 93 degrees below zero in the north to 100 degrees above in the south suitable for growing cotton and tea. It has ten time zones.

During his lecture, he exhibited lantern slides showing new steel mills, canals, forms of entertainment, and architecture of the Soviet Union.

Natural Resources
Among natural resources of the Soviet Union Dr. Morrison listed the black land belt of fertile soil in the north, the world's greatest forest, the world's greatest oil reserves, the second greatest world supply of gold, and the second greatest world reserves of copper, lead, zinc, manganese, chrome, tungsten, and bauxite.

Proceeding Dr. Morrison's lecture, a sextet composed of Maxine Holt, Gabriel Jones, Betty Jean Tlemann, Meribelle Hazard, Anna Belle Lard, and Betty Plank, sang two numbers, "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes" and "The Woman in the Shoe."

TO DIRECT CONCERT FRIDAY NIGHT

Miss Helen Martin, music supervisor of Pampa schools, and A. C. Cox, band director of Junior and Senior High, will direct the A Cappella choir and the Reaper and Harvester bands in the concert to be presented in the school auditorium Friday night at 8 o'clock. Junior High choir will also sing in the concert. Parents and patrons will have an opportunity to hear the contest numbers which these groups will give at Plainview, April 4-6.

P. H. S. Prepares For District Interscholastic League Meet

Reports show that a large number of P. H. S. students have tried out for one or more events in the interscholastic league, and students to represent the school in the district meet to be held here April 11-13 have already been chosen in several events.

Only event scheduled for April 11 is the one-act play contest. Preliminaries in girls' and boys' tennis and in volleyball will be held April 12.

Sagebrush By THE SAGE

Spring is definitely here. It's in the air, in the classrooms. . . The flowers, the buds, the birds, this is no time to get poetic, even though this column is supposed to be dedicated to some of the less prosaic happenings around our campus.

A word about the junior dance. Some of the young ladies who are "supposedly" going steady with seniors might have a awfully hard time explaining about this "backward jive session."

A couple of our band members enjoyed themselves immensely at the Shamrock celebration last week—at least so we hear from some of the members of the Elk City band.

Many people have asked the Sage if the Co-eds in Blue have broken up. The student council could answer this question by placing these popular lassies on an assembly program again.

Pete is acquiring himself quite a mustache and goatee. He says these old men have nothing on him!

There is quite a feud going on between Wayne Giddens and Coach Prejean. It seems they can't decide which one can throw the discus.

That's a very pretty ring Jerry Smith is sporting. Wonder where she got it???

Bill Puckett has graduated from the Model T class. He now owns a Model A sport roadster. Oh, girls!!

Oh, yes, you dignified seniors!! It's nearing the time when you will do short dresses and knickerbockers for the annual Kid day. This year we want the best looking "babes" ever; so everybody be getting ready!

Well, so long—there's the whistle; so I'll lay down my pencil and resume my progress. work next week.

To Help Finance Trip To Plainview For Music Meet

Music groups in the Pampa schools will present two concerts in the high school auditorium this week. Elementary school bands will play on Thursday night, and the Junior and Senior High school bands, the A Cappella choir, and the two choirs from Junior High will present a program Friday night at 8 o'clock. Admission for each concert will be 10 cents for students and 20 cents for adults. Proceeds will be held to take the groups to Plainview to compete in the Texas Music Educators' contest to be held April 4-6.

Programs will consist of concert numbers to be presented by the various groups at Plainview. Pampa has 395 entries in the regional contests; however, only 360 individual students are entered, some taking part in more than one event. About one hundred students from the Senior High school will participate in these contests, which will include band concert and marching, a Cappella choir singing, and solo and ensemble numbers, both vocal and instrumental.

Directors of groups participating in the concerts Thursday and Friday nights are Miss Helen Martin, music supervisor for all schools and director of the A Cappella choir; A. C. Cox, band director for Junior and Senior High; Miss Madge Sears and Miss Winifred Wiseman, directors of the two Junior High choirs; and the ward school band directors, Herbert Miller, Sam Houston; Miss Marion Heichling, Horace Mann; and Frederick Forrester, Woodrow Wilson.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Letha Mae (Man Hater) Harrelson is spending her last year in Pampa High, she hopes. This senior is rather tall, with dark hair and eyes.

Letha Mae takes an unusual interest in woodwork, and according to reports of friends, she is an adept work-woman. Sports of any kind are foreign to her. She has been attending Pampa schools since she was in the fifth grade. Her home is at Kingsmill; so interested is she in obtaining an education that she has been known to ride to school on a bicycle. Letha has been in a member of the pep squad for three years and is now a library assistant. She hopes to attend Texas Tech. Her ambition is to be an aviator.

Billy "Windy" Winchester, who came to Pampa from Drumright, Oklahoma, states that camera shooting and football are his big interests.

Since he entered Sam Houston ward school in his fifth school year, Billy has attended Pampa schools regularly. Majoring in mathematics, William Walter Winchester's name has appeared on the honor roll four times last year and twice this year. He played on the Gorilla football team when he was a sophomore, was a member of last year's track team, and now sings in the A Cappella choir. He plans to attend Texas A. and to study aeronautical engineering.

Chester Carpenter is a native Texan, having been born in McLean some 18 years ago. He came to Pampa in 1921 and attended the Horace Mann school.

Chester's outstanding dislikes are two-faced people and long, dry speeches. He has the unusual hobby of discussions in economics class and also the hobby of working on automobiles with some one else. As his favorite subject Chester chooses bookkeeping. He is majoring in English and history. He has been active in school plays, having been in the cast of last year's junior play, "What Happened to Jones," and of this year's senior play "Oud Town."

Raymond Perkins is a 16-year-old senior who has attended Pampa schools for seven years. His hobby is Scouting. When the Boy Scouts took over the city for a day this year, he was chosen mayor. Raymond plans to attend West Texas State college at Canyon.

Jess Hamilton is an 18-year-old senior who has had all his schooling in Pampa. He played one year on the Harvester basketball team and was on the track team one year. His hobbies are handling guns, hunting, and fishing. He is also interested in aviation.

"My ambition is to become a pharmacist or nurse," says 18-year-old Opal (Polly) Purvis, who has light brown hair, blue-green eyes, and a smooth, even-tempered disposition that makes her well liked. Opal came to Pampa four years ago from Cherokee, Oklahoma. Her hobbies include writing poems, drawing pictures, keeping scrapbooks, riding horseback, playing any kind of ball, sewing, and cooking—quite a varied list. She intends to go to college but has not yet chosen her school.

Lest You Forget

Final payments on the annual staff, made by April 1. Annuals on which payments are not completed by the close of school next Monday will be offered for re-sale.

The remaining $1 may be paid to any member of the annual staff. Staff members will visit home rooms this week to remind students that their payments are due.

Harvesters Win Second Boxing League Tourney

Eight Harvester boxers came through in the Saturday night finals of Pampa's two-day division tournament of the Panhandle Plains High School Boxing League to give the Harvesters their second tournament championship. The Pampa boys won the first of the north division tournaments held at Stinnett, March 15-16.

Pampa was represented in all of the 12 final bouts. With the Harvesters winning 8 of the 12 bouts, Stinnett and Canadian split the remaining four. Pollett withdrew from the tournament, leaving only three teams in the north division. Wins by four Pampa boxers, Bill Gise, 85 pounds; L. V. McDonald, 125 pounds; Kenneth Mullings, 165 pounds; and heavyweight, James Carlisle, insured them of participation in the tournament of champions to be held here April 19. At that time champions of the north division will meet the champions of the south division.

The Harvesters placed all their representatives in weights above 145 pounds in the finals through byes in both preliminaries and semi-finals. Harvesters won 9 of the 15 preliminary bouts and received one bye into the semi-finals and five into the finals. Canadian placed only one boxer in the finals by actual competition. Three Canadian boys drew three boxers in the finals, all by competition. Three final bouts were between Pampa boys.

Winners in the finals received golden gloves and the runner-ups silver gloves. The trophy for the winning team went to the Harvesters.

Results of preliminaries Friday night:
75 pounds—Mitchell, Pampa, defeated Ramsey, Canadian.
75 pounds—Campbell, Pampa, received a first-round knockout over Matthews, Canadian.
85 pounds—McPherson, Pampa, knocked out McMore, Canadian, in the second round.

Volley Ball Girls Defeat Amarillo And Borger Teams

Pampa Harvestettes won two volley ball matches in the local gymnasium last week. Borger and Amarillo were the losers in the games played Tuesday and Wednesday.

Next Wednesday the girls will play White Deer here, and on Friday and Saturday they will take part in the invitation tournament at Miami.

Borger lost the first three games last Tuesday in a three-out-of-five series, the scores being 15-9, 15-13, and 15-8. Captain Peggy Wilkerson was high point player with 13 tallies. Pampa's second team lost to Borger 15-5 and 15-7.

Wednesday the Harvestettes won the three-out-of-five series from Amarillo by the scores of 15-7, 15-4, and 15-2. Virginia Fore made 16 points to lead the scoring.

Two weeks ago, and since that time the girls have won all their games. The suits are of green and gold jockey satin—the shirts gold with green numerals and letters, and the shorts green. New suits were issued to the following players: Peggy Wilkerson, Virginia Fore, Martha Orr, Marcene Berry, Evadne Bennett, Geneva Binion, and Venita Mae Prestige.
