Is Power Socialism Unpopular?

One question asked in the latest Fortune poll was what kind of public construction—Federal power plants, flood control, big national highways, or airports—would be the most important on which to spend money in order to build a better and stronger nation. The tabulation of answers—and it will be remembered that the Fortune polls, which are based on a scientific sampling of all phases of public opinion, have proven almost incredibly accurate in the past—provides some exceedingly important food for thought. Flood control was classed as most important. Big national highways came second. Airports were third. And Federal power plants ran a bad last!

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, April 24—Real truth about the race-that-didn't-come-off in Maryland's G. O. P. primary is that astute Senator Taft was just a few miles outsmarted by supposedly unsophisticated Tom Dewey. Taft's explanation that he stayed out of the race because the bosses were lined up for Dewey was true enough. What he didn't add was that the bosses could have been lined up for Taft; the Dewey people just naturally got to them first.

THE UNPARDONABLE SIN

Inasmuch as I believe the kind of Christianity we have in this country will determine the development of integrity, character, happiness, and prosperity of the country, I think the quotations from Jesus that have so many different interpretations and cause bewilderment should be thoroughly analyzed and discussed so that a rational, or consistent meaning might be determined. It will be remembered that these verses say: "All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men; but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men."

"And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come." I remember, when I was a little boy, this statement in Matthew 12:31-32 caused me much concern. At that time, I interpreted it to mean anyone who questioned or doubted the quotations in the Bible would not be forgiven.

The Real Test

And the real test of whether a man is of this type and sinning against his conscience or reason, or call it Holy Ghost if you will, is whether or not he will answer questions about the acts he is advocating without evading or wise-cracking and continues, to advocate the same act. To do this, of course, is to sin against his inner self—his conscience—the principles set down by Jesus and all sincere people.

DO NOT NEED POLICE PROTECTION

When a person attempts to defend one's self against unscrupulous principles, like state socialism, or, that is, the government gradually attempting to render service to special groups and charge the cost of that service up to other groups, then this individual is very careless in his statements. This conclusion came to me from conversing with a person holding an important position in a political subdivision. I was attempting to explain that the primary purpose of the government was police power, that the only service which the government should perform was to establish rules so that each man received the fruits of his own labor and permitted each man to pursue happiness in creating wealth as he saw fit.

Well, Judge B. S. Via who keeps on the go most of the time, has just returned from Los Angeles where he visited his son who raises dogs, birds, turkeys, and the judge brought back with him two Samoyede pups that the judge says are subject to registration. The Samoyede originated in the Arctic and Antarctic where they made a record of achievement unexcelled in the canine world. As sleight dogs they have drawn one and a half times their own weight in supplies and worked with that joyous abandon and cheerful air typical of the breed. They are beautiful; eye-arresting; perhaps the most beautiful breed in existence; gentle and companionable; an excellent watchdog; modern in that there is no doggy odor; safe with children and never a trouble-maker—a big white dog "which carries in its face and heart the spirit of Christmas the whole year through"—that is the Samoyede.

Tuberculosis is a communicable disease to which children are very susceptible, but children do not inherit tuberculosis. A very few babies have been born with tuberculosis acquired from the mother during pregnancy but this is not hereditary in the strict sense of the term. Tuberculosis is usually acquired by children after birth by contact, direct or indirect, with those who have the disease. It may also be acquired by drinking of milk from tuberculous cows, and from other infectious foods. The tasting of food before giving it to children, using the same spoon, is especially to be condemned.

Summers Knocks 3 Homers As Oilers Win

Catcher Hits 3rd In Ninth To Win Game

Midland, Amarillo, Lamesa and Lloyd Summers won opening games in the West Texas-New Mexico league yesterday. And what a game Summers won for the Pampa Oilers. It even surpassed Bob Feller's no hit-no run game because Summers did most of the winning, offensively of course, himself. The score was Pampa 4, Borgor 3.

The big Pampa catcher stepped to the plate four times and on three of those trips he blasted home runs, one with a mate on base. But Summers didn't get all his home runs without a fight. In the sixth, with Setts perched on second, Summers slammed one that hit the light pole on the left field foul line. The ball bounced back into the playing field and the umpire held Summers on second. And that was when the fireworks started.

Summers charged in from second like a wild elephant and proceeded to left fielder Smith, with whom he was already at odds because of a questionable strike earlier in the game, that it should be a home run. Smith stood his ground but Summers pawed and roared and kicked up more dust than an alligator in a dry lake.

Umpire Changes Decision
Manager Grover Setts chimed in and told Umpire Smith that he would protest the game. Then the wise old sage of the league, Ned Pettigrew, umpire-in-chief who honored Pampa by attending opening day game, walked to the outfield, saw that the light pole was outside the park and recommended to Umpire Smith that he change his decision. Summers was allowed a home run and the score was tied. Borgor had scored three in the first inning.

Things rocked along until the ninth with the score still tied. Summers turned up at the plate and Pitcher Franklin and Catcher Potter went into a huddle.

Seeing that Summers was the first batter, they decided to pitch to him. Franklin let two balls fly. Then he grooved one and Summers wasn't ready. The next was over and Summers fouled it into the stands. Franklin again wound up and heaved but the ball didn't get past Summers. Instead it hit solid and the game was over when the ball sailed over the left field fence and Summers had three consecutive home runs to his credit.

Pat Bell, Borgor left fielder, stole hitting thunder from his boss, Gordon Nell, yesterday when he hit a home run over the left field fence in his first inning with two on board, one of them Mr. Nell who had been intentionally passed.

The Oilers bagged seven hits and Summers got three of them. Setts collected a triple to help things along. Nell paced the Gassers by slugging two singles.

Pampa's Joe Fornasero appeared in the game as a pinchhitter and got a single. But Joe never hits for less than two bases and when he slid into second he found Merle Adams there. Joe tried to get back to first but was tagged.

Gus Hallbour started for the Oilers and pitched what should have been easy shutout ball. It was Malvica's error that got him in trouble in the first inning, after two were out. Hallbour allowed only four hits in five innings. Cullum relieved and limited the slugging Gassers to only two hits.

Thrilling Plays Galore
Franklin went the limit for the Gassers, letting up only seven hits, but three of them were home run pitches.

The game was replete with thrilling plays. In fact seldom has a ball game been played here where so many outstanding plays occurred. Big Grover Setts roamed all over the outfield and bagged four hard-

Pampa football fans are invited to see the Harvesters scrimmage at 3:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Although the Harvesters have been practicing for only seven days they are ready for hard work, coaches believe.

The boys were in good physical condition when they reported. They had already had three weeks of hard work at track and field and only learning of plays was necessary to open the spring training season which is limited to 30 calendar days this year by league rules.

Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean will select their best boys and use them as a first string against the rest of the squad. With a shortage of experienced boys this year it is going to be necessary to definitely name a starting lineup early and work with it continuously. Reserve strength is giving the coaches plenty of worry and that is why they plan several scrimmages and games with the ex-Harvesters still in school.

Shreveport Takes Seventh Licking

(By The Associated Press)
In the case of the Shreveport Sports, a week can make a whale of a difference.

April 15 in the Sports, pre-season practice to finish one-two in the Texas league race, were so close to leading San Antonio Missions the latter could feel their breath.

Today the Sports are on the bottom and they haven't won a game since that time.

San Antonio had not been expected to head the field but they've been on top or near it since the season opened.

The question now seems to be what to do about the Houston Buffs who persist in hitting anything opposing pitchers serve up.

Last night, while Shreveport was taking its seventh licking, at the hands of Fort Worth, 5-1, Houston was beating Tulsa, 10-3 while San Antonio held the pace with a 4-3 decision over Dallas.

Oklahoma City defeated Beaumont 7-5 in the other game.

Wolcott Wins Three Firsts in Track Meet
COLLEGE STATION, April 24 (AP)—Flying Freddie Wolcott, Rice's one-man gang, took three first places and a tie on the winning sprint relay team but Texas A. and M. won a triangular meet here yesterday over the Owls and Howard Payne mostly by grabbing off a flock of second, third and fourth places.

Wolcott was first in the 100-yard dash and both hurdles. His total of 16.4, made his high point man of the meet.

Summers Wins $35 In Prizes

Lloyd Summers, big Pampa catcher, thought it was Christmas yesterday, opening baseball game for the Pampa Oilers in the West Texas-New Mexico league. The fiery Oiler not only bagged three home runs to win the game but he collected prizes valued at $35 given by local merchants.

Summers got himself a $25 suit of clothes for hitting the first home run and he added $5 worth of socks to that by hitting the first fly ball to left field, and a $5 pair of shoes for scoring the first run.

Next in the win column was Jerry Jordan, third baseman, who won $5 worth of underwear for making the first assist and a $5 dressing kit for getting the first base on balls, in the eighth inning.

Merle Adams, left fielder, tied Jordan when he bagged a $5 hat for making the first single and a $5 pair of shoes for being the first Oiler to strike out.

Other winners were Manager Grover Setts who won $5 worth of neckwear for hitting the first triple; Sam Malvica who won a $5 pair of shoes for making the first error; Bill Peterson who won a $5 billfold and belt set for hitting the first fly ball; Joe Fornasero who won a $5 hat for hitting the second single. The other prizes were not awarded.

Paul Waner Beats Cubs In Ninth With Single

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer

When the great guys of baseball are being named, don't let anybody forget Paul Glee Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"Big Poison" has been a kingpin of the Buccaners for 15 of his 37 years and ball players don't "jes get rollin'." There will come a time when the fans will concede that he was quite a fellow when he had it.

Well, as of this date, he still has it.

He went into yesterday's game with the Chicago Cubs in the ninth inning, the Bruins leading 2-1 and he singled and the game was over. Score Pittsburgh 3, Chi-ago 2.

This was just a routine chore soon for the underdog. He led the National league in batting four different years and probably holds more hitting records than any other player now active in his league.

But the day before he also was sent into a game with the Cubs as a pinchhitter and delivered a double that figured in a three-run rally and a 9-5 victory.

His ability to make a place for himself in Manager Frankie Frisch's new scheme of things speaks well for both of them and explains how the Brits happen to be in a three-way tie with the undefeated Cincinnati Reds and Brooklyn Dodgers for the National league lead.

Floodwaters kept the Reds and St. Louis Cardinals idle yesterday, but the Dodgers exploded a batch of home runs to liquidate the Boston Bees 8-3.

The New York Giants finally won their first game of the season 1-0 at the expense of the Phillies with Harry Gumbert pitching four-hit ball.

Chubby Dean of the Philadelphia Athletics proved his ten-inning triumph over the world champion New York Yankees in last week's inaugural was no fluke by coming back with a four-hit shutout yesterday, 3-0. Bump Hadley of the Yanks matched his four hits, but was wild.

Mickey Harris, a recruit the Boston Red Sox brought up from Scranton this spring, gave the Washington Senators a seven-hit diet in his first major league start and the slugging Sox rewarded him with a 7-2 victory.

The western clubs in the American were rained out.

Texans To Be 'Iron Men' Of Penn Relays

PHILADELPHIA, April 24 (AP)—Six speedy young collegians from North Texas Teachers college are going to play "iron men" in the 46th annual Penn relays Friday and Saturday.

Coach Sportsman announced today he planned to enter the sextet in the carnival's four major relay events—the 440, 880, mile and sprint medley.

"The kids want to do it and all are in good condition, so I think they can do it all right," Sportsman said. "They will run the 440 and sprint medley the first day and the two longer races the second."

The Texans, who with New York university are favored to dethrone Pittsburgh as Penn champions, looked "pretty good" in their initial workout yesterday. Sportsman declared, "considering the long 1,800-mile trip from Denton, Tex."

Star of the Texas contingent—totaling eight in all—is sophomore Welby Williams. The dark, curly-haired youngster hasn't been beaten in six 100-yard dash competitions so far this spring and twice has turned in times of 9.6 which ties the Penn record.

Williams will run in the 440, 880 and probably the sprint medley although Sportsman hasn't selected the latter team definitely. With Williams in the 440 and 880 will be

The Texans turned in 42 flat in the 440 and 1:28 in the 880 in the Texas relays and 3:17.8 against Rice and Louisiana State for their best marks this season, which starts in Texas March 8. The medley here will be their initial attempt.

SERIAL STORY

K. O. CAVALIER BY JERRY BRONDFELD

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER XXXIV
VAL'S heart raced. All Corky Briggs had to do now was work on that cut above Eddie Cavalier's eye. She knew how eye cuts were. When they bleed they made a man look like a stuck pig, blinded him and made him helpless.

And it was all her fault. All her fault if Eddie Cavalier lost this fight on a technical knockout. Sure, he'd climb back up in a year, maybe, but she'd never forgive herself. Worse, he might never forgive her.

Corky Briggs was a smart one. He shifted his tactics and went to work on Eddie's head. He pounded two hard rights off Eddie's jaw got in close again and hooked a left to Cavalier's mouth.

The crowd was roaring. It had seen blood and wanted more. Duffy was on his feet, screaming "Keep away! Keep away! Make him come to you!"

Eddie heard and tried to follow instructions, but Briggs maneuvered him into a neutral corner and raked the cut eye with another right. Eddie wiped the blood away with his glove and panted out at the blurred vision before him. And then the bell, edging the fifth round.

Again Duffy and Pop worked over him frantically, trying to do an hour's work in 50 seconds. Val bit her lip until she tasted blood herself.

"KEEP your face covered. . . . Keep away from him. . . . Stick your left in his face. The instructions were jumbled in Eddie's brain as he went out for the sixth round. If only that cut would stop bleeding. He wasn't really hurt yet, but two more rounds and Briggs' pounding would begin to tell.

He went up high on the balls of his feet, loose, stabbing with his left. Stabbing, jabbing, jabbing away at Briggs' face to keep him from getting set.

"Cripe, what a beautiful boxer that boy is," a writer next to Val muttered.

"Couple more rounds and it won't do him any good," Ken Bradley replied, and Val realized it was the truth.

Briggs waded in. His left thudded against Eddie's middle. He stepped in smartly and hooked a right to the head. Eddie staggered.

He was bleeding again. Briggs caught up with him and pounded him twice more in the face. The din was terrific. Val found herself on her feet, screaming. And then Eddie went down.

He shook his head slowly. Someone was counting. "Four . . . five . . . six." He took a nine-count and staggered to his feet just as the bell rang.

The referee came over and looked at the cut. "Get the hell away from here," Eddie snarled. "I'm okay." Duffy Kelo nodded. The referee went back to his neutral corner.

Duffy was drumming instructions in his ear again, but to hell with instructions, Eddie thought. That Douglas dance. He'd never tasted his own blood like this before. Maybe this was what he needed. Sure, some sports writer once had said he ought to forget the fancy stuff and do a little more swinging. Who was it that said that again? Oh, yeah . . . that dame. That Douglas dame. The beautiful dame he'd been fool enough to fall in love with.

He walked out to start the seventh round and smashed Corky Briggs full in the mouth. He saw the blood spurt. Hell, Briggs could bleed, too. That would be good. That Douglas dame. The beautiful dame he'd been fool enough to fall in love with.

They stood there in the center of the ring, toe to toe, punching away like maniacs. Eddie didn't feel a thing. Was that the bell? No, it couldn't be. Briggs was still swinging. Keep throwing. There was a face in front of him. It was Briggs'. Okay, Eddie, swing into it before it moves.

Again that bell-like clang. And the crazy roaring waves of sound. Maybe it WAS the bell. The referee was trying to tear them apart. What in hell did he have to do that for? Why didn't he leave them alone? And that awful roar! People? Couldn't he be. Not that much noise from people. Sounded more like the wild wind and rain that night on the Pacific.

That WAS a night, wasn't it? He felt water being splashed on him. He couldn't be out in the Pacific again, could he? Then it came back to him. It was Pop working on him in his corner.

Red stuff, spattered with red stuff. Mercurochrome? No, it must be blood. His blood. Some of Briggs' too, though.

There was someone else tugging at him now. He looked down owlishly. It was a dame. A beautiful dame. It was Val Douglas.

"Eddie!" she sobbed close to his ear. "Eddie . . . you've got to take him in this round . . . you've got to . . . for me, Eddie. Don't you see? Don't you see what I mean, Eddie?"

He stared at her dumbly and refused to believe what was dawn- ing on him. Was she trying to tell him that . . . that . . . ?

"Oh, Eddie, we're in the same league after all, you and me. I don't love Rodney Blair . . . I couldn't . . . I told him so today."

It seeped through then and he grinned through a cracked lip as the bell rang.

HE shoved Duffy aside and went out to finish Corky Briggs. The smile was still on his face as he swung a right to Corky's head.

He moved in and pumped a left to the stomach. Another right. Another. Briggs snarled and worked in close. Eddie slammed him against the ropes with a beautiful uppercut. Briggs lashed out . . . caught him above the eye again. . . . The blood spurted once more . . . again the thunder of a crowd gone berserk.

Eddie Cavalier, leaning over against the ropes in a neutral corner, was so tired he didn't even hear the referee count Briggs out.

VAL DOUGLAS, her eyes brim- ming, held his hands in hers while the doctor patched up Eddie's cut. There was a furious pounding on the door but Pop made no move to open it.

"In a few minutes you can let 'em in," she whispered to Duffy Kelo. "But I'll still have a scoop on 'em."

"About the gal who shanghaied the next middleweight champion . . . and then married him."

"Come here, Duffy," she called. "Duffy, do you think we can make a go of it?" she asked.

She looked up into Eddie's face, happily.

Eddie stood up and took her in his arms. "Here's one. I clinch they'll never get me to break," he said.

It was two full minutes before Pop Grimes admitted the gentle- men of the press.

Panhandle Student Elected To Friars

Special To The NEWS
PANHANDLE, April 24—Joe Pat O'Keefe, senior in the college of fine arts at the state university, Austin, was one of four elected to membership in Friars honorary service organization for senior men.

This is an outstanding honor as only eight senior men are elected each year, four the first semester and four the last. The Friars service organization was organized on the campus in 1911.

Other honors to Joe Pat's credit include presidency of the Curtin club, the University dance committee, Rustlers, Alpha Psi Omega, and MICA.

Joe Pat received praise in dramatic circles for his characterization of the difficult role of "Stage Manager" in "Our Town," a recent presentation of the Curtin club.

Joe Pat is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sid O'Keefe of Panhandle and is a graduate of the Panhandle high school.

Allergy Dates From 400 B. C.

Editor's Note: Fourth in a series of articles by Pampa physicians is the following on allergy, written by Dr. W. Purviance. The series is in connection with the coming local observance of National Allergy Day on May 12.

Although you probably never heard the word before five or ten years ago, allergy is not a new disease. The word "allergy" was first used in 1905 and translated means "altered energy."
The condition was formerly known as idiosyncrasy which meant a reaction peculiar to the individual. Hippocrates, the earliest writer in medicine lived 400 years before Christ and described an idiosyncrasy to cheese. Lucretius born nearly 100 years before Christ originated the expression "What is one man's meat is another man's poison."

As our old friend idiosyncrasy became of scientific interest he was taken apart and dressed up in new tags so you would hardly know him today.
Operations are not discussed at tea or bridge parties any more, misdiagnosis of her allergic manifestations and surely it is a mysterious malady. Why should one victim react to a curious or violent manner to some food that is beneficial to others.
Allergy is not primarily an organic disease like tuberculosis, neuritis or appendicitis in which you find a change in the structure and distribution of the normal tissues due to certain bacteria. After an attack the tissues return to normal and between attacks the person is quite normal.

In this sense allergy is not so much of a disease as it is a temporary disturbance in the normal physiological mechanism which will return to normal when the cause has ceased to act.
The absorption of grass or weed pollens, house dust or different foods may produce hay fever, asthma or acute enteritis.
Thus the importance of controlling the allergy before secondary changes such as hay fever, sinus trouble, or asthma have occurred is obvious.

Oil Allowable Cut For May Agreed On

AUSTIN, April 24 (AP)—A 10 per cent horizontal reduction in Texas' oil allowable for May has been agreed upon by the state railroad commission, Ernest O. Thompson, commission member, said today.

The current daily allowable is approximately 1,328,555 barrels. Thompson said the reduction would bring the state's petroleum output into line with the federal bureau of mines' estimate that 1,344,200 barrels would be needed daily from Texas during May to meet market demand.

The commissioners agreed on 14 days shut-down for the East Texas field, Thompson further stated. Whether the rest of the state would be closed would depend on further study of the situation and the detailed prorator order, which is being prepared, he said.
The order will make some adjustments in field allowables to equalize and remove discriminations where they exist, it also was stated.

"Texas is making a sincere effort to reduce its oil production to the bureau of mines figures," Thompson said.
"Since the state has 91,000 producing wells, it is a tremendous problem."

Venske Defeated In Legislative Race

READING, Pa., April 24 (AP)—Gene Venske, whose name is bracketed with Chuck Fenske and Glenn Cunningham among the nation's great milers, lost his first political race.
Returns from yesterday's primary showed the former university of Pennsylvania star third in a field of six for the Democratic nomination to the state legislature.

Mayor And 134 Face Conspiracy Charges

DETROIT, April 24 (AP)—Richard W. Reading, former mayor of Detroit, and 134 other persons were indicted today by a county grand jury which charged graft and corruption conspiracy in the operation of lottery and numbers rackets.
Twenty eight others were named as co-conspirators but not defendants.
Named with Reading are prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea and Harry Colburn, his chief investigator, already under indictment on charges of attempting to protect gambling and the operation of illegal enterprises in Wayne county (Detroit).
Other listed in today's indictment, third to be returned by Circuit Judge Homer Ferguson, sitting as a one-man grand jury, are present or former members of the city police department and a group of individuals named specifically as operating numbers and policy rackets.

Scout News

Scout Banquet Monday
The annual "Parent and Son" banquet sponsored by the LeFors Boy Scouts will be held in the LeFors gymnasium Monday night, April 29, at 7:30. While the affair is called a banquet, it is in reality an indoor chuck wagon feed.
This type was substituted for the usual banquet in order that mothers might attend and enjoy the affair instead of working in the kitchen preparing and serving the food.
The theme of the program will be "A Night at Boy Scout Camps." A tenderfoot investiture ceremony will be conducted for 16 tenderfoot Scouts. There will be no speeches. Admission will be 50 cents per person. All adults, parents, friends of Scouting, and boys of all ages are invited to attend.

Troop 24
Thirty-five members attended the troop meeting Monday night with Scoutmaster Hargis and Assistant Scoutmaster Johnson in charge. Committee men Bryant, Morgan, and Stafford were also present as were three visitors, Bonnie Baggett, Elwood White and J. D. Hall. Plans were made for an overnight hike soon.

Mayor Ab Jenkins Speeds Up Traffic In Salt Lake City

SALT LAKE CITY, April 24 (AP)—Mayor Ab Jenkins wants Salt Lake City motorists to show some—but not all—of the speed on city streets that he exhibits on the automobile speedway.

Jenkins, holder of virtually all American automobile distance speed records, instructed members of the police traffic detail to keep city traffic moving along near the speed limit.
"Driving slowly is not always driving carefully," Jenkins said. "The 20-mile driver holding up traffic in a 30-mile zone is more of a potential menace than the driver going 10 miles over the speed limit."

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Aircraft, under the depressing drag of heavy steel, slipped badly today, carrying much of the stock market lower.

Losses of as much as two points hit the Aviation shares near the close after an earlier rally, led by Bulls, had been stifled.
Trends in the streets turned about from time to time, leaving traders without much guidance. When rails started on what looked like a recovery, they were soon abandoned. The Aircrafts refused to follow.

U. S. Masses Largest Peacetime Concentration Of Regular Troops

(By The Associated Press)
All up and down the Rio Grande and deep into central and eastern Texas today hard-riding cavalrymen and submersed artillerymen were on the move.
It looked like war in Texas, but it wasn't.

It was an army of 25,000 men going into action in the largest peacetime concentration of regular troops in the history of the United States. Early next month they will engage an army of 45,000 from the east and south in a great sham battle in the forested Sabine area of Texas and Louisiana.
Streaming eastward along the Bankhead highway from Fort Bliss at El Paso, fast-moving scout troops on motorcycles and in trucks were the first to begin the concentration. More than 1,200 men left Saturday in 250 motor vehicles. Today 1,500 more artillery and cavalry with full equipment boarded seven mixed trains.

The steam trains and the olive-drab trucks will reach Nacogdoches about the same time. The concentration will be completed Saturday morning.

Advance detachments of machine gunners in trucks swarmed highways northward from the lower Rio Grande Valley yesterday as the twelfth cavalry moved toward the battle ground. They came from Fort Brown at Brownsville and old Fort Ringgold at Rio Grande City. The main body of troops leaves those points by train Friday morning.
Cannon bounced on rubber-tired carriages down U. S. Highway 90 between Port D. A. Russell at Marfa and Fort Clark at Brackettville as the 77th field artillery obeyed its orders. The 77th spent last night at Fort Brown at Brownsville and old Fort Ringgold at Rio Grande City. The main body of troops leaves those points by train Friday morning.

Tomorrow morning from Fort Sam Houston two motor convoys of troops from the second division will begin their concentration. One unit will travel by way of Abilene, spending the night at Madisonville, the other by way of Seguin, stopping the night at Huntville. Tomorrow night three troop trains and one train of equipment leave. More than 5,000 officers and men and 900 vehicles are involved.

NEW LIFE

Why these figures lie about the age of an OIL-PLATED engine

Not thousands of miles, but thousandths-of-an-inch that an engine's true age.

Tiny thousandths-of-an-inch of metal, gone forever, can make a 1940 job seem old because it noisily gobbles up oil, while many an engine of the 1930's is still quietly taking baby-portion of oil because patented Conoco Germ Processed oil has kept it OIL-PLATED.

These vital thousandths-of-an-inch stay on better, because OIL-PLATING itself stays on. The extra man-made substance in Conoco Germ Processed oil won't let OIL-PLATING go draining down altogether for a single moment in May, June, July, August and beyond... never while you're using Germ Processed oil.

Let your engine do its last bit of unplated mileage now, driving to Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. As you drive out you will know you have taken your last chance this Summer of starting up dry—harshly—at your engine's peril... Not with Germ Processed oil keeping your engine OIL-PLATED—making it seem "under-age," judged by its oil economy. Continental Oil Company
