Board Signs New Contract With Architect

ALLIED TROOPS SAIL FROM NORWAY PORT

Townes Will Be Paid Under New Method

Fireproofing Of Building Subject Of Meeting

A new contract was entered into between the Pampa school board and William C. Townes, of Amarillo, architect on the new Pampa high school building, at a called meeting of the board this morning. The contract called for a change in plans whereby the school building will be semi-fireproofed.

The contract also contained a clause whereby the changed plans and specifications will provide for the class of semi-fireproofing desired by the board. There are three types of semi-fireproofing, each carrying a different insurance coverage according to the amount of fireproofing material used. The board is to study the three classes and decide which will be most suitable to the local situation.

At present the plans call for semi-fireproofing of the roof. If it is found that enough saving in insurance can be made to justify a fireproof roof, plans can be changed. However, it was pointed out that such a roof might cost more than the full change to semi-fireproofing.

In the approved contract the board agreed to pay the architect as in the contract made with Rabey Funk, who died a few months ago, which is 5 per cent of the total cost less the amount already paid, plus $1,000 for services in changing the plans and specifications to provide for semi-fireproofing the building.

The new contract changed the method of paying the architect. Instead of paying a percentage of the amount as the work progresses, the board reserved the right to pay "the balance in such amounts and at such times as the board may think proper, but in any event not later than the time when the work on said building is completed."

The architect, according to the new contract, agrees to give his full cooperation to the board in connection with all phases of the construction. He also agrees to be present at meetings of the board during the construction of the building or, if he is unable to be present, to have A. C. McAdams, his engineer, attend.

Mr. Townes objected to the clause where payment would be made at such times as the board thought

Governor, Editor

'Battle It Out'

In Hotel Lobby

JACKSON, Miss., May 3 (AP)—Governor Paul B. Johnson of Mississippi and Editor Frederick Sullens of the Daily News, bitter enemies for years, fought and rolled on the carpets of a crowded downtown hotel lobby last night until pulled apart.

Both emerged from the scarp bleeding, but neither apparently was hurt seriously. Sullens suffered head cuts which doctors stitched.

The 60-year-old governor, who retired to the executive mansion, issued no statement but friends said on his behalf that Johnson "canned" Sullens because the editor "has harassed, persecuted and embarrassed the governor and his family since 1931."

The 63-year-old editor said the governor, "surrounded by a bodyguard," hopped from around a hotel pillar and made a cowardly attempt to assassinate me from the rear" by hitting him on the head with a heavy cane.

Sullens was carried to his room after the encounter. "He only thought," said Mrs. Scott Dickson, a daughter, "seemed to be:—And here I am scooped on my own story."

Sullens' Daily News, an afternoon newspaper, had gone to press when the fight occurred.

Pupils Strike To Retain Principal

JOHNSON CITY, May 3 (AP)—Thirty-seven of the 78 students in Johnson City High school struck today in protest against the school board's decision to replace L. C. Davis, high school principal and basketball coach, at the start of the next term.

The students walked off the school grounds and paraded down the main street carrying an American flag and placards reading "we want Coach Davis and more democracy."

Superintendent J. Bounds warned that unless the strikers returned to classes quickly they would lose their credits for the term.

NAZI Bomber Explodes, Kills Two Britons

Shown are parts of shattered plane mingled with the wreckage of what had been a home after a Nazi bomber crashed and exploded at Clacton-on-Sea, England. Officials announced that six persons were killed and more than 182 injured as a result of the crash. Four members of the plane's crew and two civilians were killed when the plane hit an apartment house and burned itself in a great crater, exploding its load of eight 500-pound bombs. Photo passed by censor, then radioed to New York.

Will U. S. Get Into War? Butler Will Answer Query Here Tonight

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Developments in the strained relations between the Anglo-French allies and Italy during the past 48 hours strike me as constituting all but a direct invitation to Signor Mussolini to join Nazism in the war if he wants to.

I refer, of course, to Britain's clearing of its mercantile marine from the Mediterranean, and British Premier Chamberlain's startling announcement yesterday that the Anglo-French battle fleet was already on those waters, headed for Alexandria Bay.

One wouldn't go so far as to say that the Allies are trying to push Mussolini into the war, though stranger things have happened. They may even hope that he will reconsider his position and perhaps ultimately cast his lot with them.

Mathews Urges Stern, Fair Man For Tax Board

A recommendation that a "stern but fair" man head Pampa's board of equalization was made by City Manager Steve Mathews at a special meeting of the city commission Thursday.

Mathews said he believed increased efficiency would result if a man of this type headed the board. He further stated that a man familiar with evaluation of oil field supply houses should be a member of the group.

These were the first suggestions the new city manager had to make as he discussed his plans for the future.

He announced that he had made no appointments to date on numerous applications he had received for jobs with the city.

The commissioners accepted the $10,000 bond, with the president making his appointment official. W. T. Fraser & Co. of Pampa was the firm through which the transaction was effected.

A copy of the order containing approval of the bond is to be filed with the city manager's signature at the First National bank.

Extra 151.69 Acres Added To Lake Site

Option Obtained Near McClellan

Area of the Lake McClellan park project was extended to 1,600 acres today as the result of an option obtained on 151.69 acres east of the dam.

Construction Superintendent Earl Bradshaw today started fencing in the new tract and building roads. The addition is dotted with numerous trees and is an ideal picnic spot.

The land belonged to the Johnson & Sons estate of Amarillo, and the deal whereby the option was obtained for the federal government was effected in Amarillo yesterday, at a cost of $25 an acre.

For two years those interested in the project have been trying to get the extra land annexed to the park, located 25 miles south of Pampa.

Consummation of these efforts followed a meeting of the Gray county commissioners and officials of the Panhandle Water Conservation authority held at the court house on April 24.

A delegation of Gray county residents visited the lake site on that date and came away agreed that some plan should be worked out to acquire the additional land in order to afford adequate picnic and playground space.

When the delegation met again with the commissioners court, with Ivy Duncan presiding, it was recommended that the commission take some action to assist in the acquisition of the land.

The commission then decided to cooperate with the Pampa Chamber of Commerce by agreeing to pay a stipulated amount for call-chickens and the difference between what the federal government could pay and the actual cost of the land to thus be made up with the county having an opportunity to receive part or all of the money back from its call-chick holdings.

Ship Caught In Battle Tells Exciting Tale

By JOHN A. MOROSO 3rd NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—The bullet-scarred American freighter Flying Fish returned from the Norwegian war zone today with an exciting story of how she and another American vessel were caught in a furious battle between German land and sea forces and Allied warplanes at Bergen last month.

Even before the ship docked there was a sharp conflict between the captain and some members of the crew as to whether they were raked by Allied or German bullets.

Capt. W. W. Wollstone, veteran of the United States navy during the World War, declared his ship was struck accidentally by bullets from a Norwegian land battery which had been taken over by the Germans and which was firing on British warplanes.

Hitler Exults Over Successes In Norway

Bearded Men Organize, To Duck 'Rebels'

Fifty men and youths wearing Coronado beards and long hair last night at a mass meeting in the city hall accepted the challenge flung to them Wednesday by the "hairless rebels" who ducked bewiskered Dr. C. H. Schulkey and Johnny Wells.

Two-thirds of those present were not members of the Jaycees.

The hairy group declared they would wage a relentless and uncompromising ducking campaign and that every time they came upon a clean-shaven Jaycee they would lose him into the tank.

They also made plans to circumvent any plot of the "enemy" to duck bearded men. They have arranged a secret method of informing each other when one of their number falls into the hands of the "smoothies," and they will drop everything and go to his rescue, and get a quick revenge.

Not only that but the Coronado men made new plans for more beards. They will send committees to the B.C.D. Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis clubs appealing to their patriotism and asking them to cooperate with the Jaycees in growing beards.

Not only that but they invited all men and boys in the community who are growing whiskers or long hair to be their guests at the annual Jaycee stag party Tuesday night at the Saunders ranch near LeFors.

They are asked to be at the city hall between 5:30 and 6 o'clock Tuesday night if they don't have rides.

Not only that but they will ask Mayor Fred Thompson to issue a proclamation asking Pampans to grow beards so that they may better conform to the spirit of the Coronado Estrada.

But their first plans call for ducking and re-ducking all "hairless rebels."

Italy Concentrating Warships, Planes

ATHENS, GREECE, May 3 (AP)—Information reaching diplomatic quarters in Athens today said that Italian troops, warships and fighting planes were being concentrated in large numbers in the Dodecanese islands.

The Dodecanese islands, an Italian-owned group in the Aegean between Greece and Turkey approximately 400 miles northwest of Alexandria, where a British and French battle fleet concentrated today.

The Italian concentrations were reported especially heavy at the island of Rhodes, 375 miles from Alexandria.

Battalion Of Britons Cut Up By Nazis

LONDON, May 3 (AP)—The war office announced tonight that the Allied forces re-embarked aboard their ships at Namsos Thursday and withdrew from that sector north of Trondheim.

The withdrawal was carried out without loss, the communique said.

STOCKHOLM, May 3 (AP)—Dispatches from Grong, Norway, tonight said that the Norwegian command had announced the conclusion of hostilities in the Grong area, east of Namsos, and the Norwegian intention of negotiating peace with the Germans.

The dispatches said the following order of the day was issued by Colonel O. B. Geiz, acting Norwegian commander:

"As the British and French, for reasons unknown to us, have given up helping us in our fight and have withdrawn their troops from Namsos we today stand alone against the entire German war machine, already outfitted and encircled on a line which the British and French should be holding, without aid from the outside and with only enough ammunition for one day and without plans and other necessary war materials."

"Any further fighting will lead only to destruction without saving any military purpose."

It can now be stated freely that the Stetkaker fighting proved somewhat disastrous for the British, in heavy fighting on April 21 an entire British battalion was cut up by a German company. (A company about one-fourth the size of a battalion which is usually about 80 men).

What really has happened the Germans from advancing for several days past has been the heroic defense by Norwegian volunteer units.

STOCKHOLM, May 3 (AP)—Informants who usually are highly reliable said today that the Allied armies have withdrawn from the whole of central Norway, both above and below the port of Trondheim, leaving small Norwegian forces to fight the alone against Germany's massive war machine.

Even in the Arctic sector about Narvik, according to one report, printed in the Stockholm newspaper Aftenbladet, German forces who hold that or port are on the offensive against Allied and Norwegian siege lines.

The Germans, already controlling southern Norway, spread out rapidly.

FDR Discusses Improvements In U. S. Weapons

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt declared today that all possible technical improvements in the nation's offensive and defensive weapons were being studied.

He had been asked at his press conference about Secretary Edison's proposal of Wednesday that American warships be redesigned to afford greater protection against airplane bombing attacks.

Without going on record for or against the Edison suggestion, the chief executive said he was just another event in the history of national defense.

There were many parallels, he continued, even if this country's short history, and people were apt to draw conclusions whenever a battle takes place.

As an example, the President mentioned the civil war battle between the Monitor and the Mer-

OSLO, May 3 (AP)—Knut Hamsun, Norwegian novelist who won the Nobel literature prize in 1920, today sent an Oslo newspaper a manifesto accusing the British of infringing on Norway's neutrality and urging Norwegian troops to lay down their arms against Germany.

The Germans, Hamsun declared, are helping crush English "tyranny."

New Novel's Gruesome Thought

A new novel pretends to picture correctly the thoughts of a man who thinks after he is dead. That's certainly not some. As a rule it's hard enough to picture correctly another fellow's thoughts while he stands before you, alive and well. Those we meet fortunately and usually think about running a classified want-ad in The Pampa News, and the customary routine give all around satisfaction. But too can get satisfactory results by using the classified columns. Phone your ad in now to the Pampa News, the number is 224.

Theft Of Cross Pin And Watch Reported

Mrs. George Walters reported to city police last night the loss of a wrist watch and a cross pin, said to have been taken from her room at the Blue Bonnet Inn.

The watch was described as a 17 jewel Elgin with 26 small diamonds. The cross was gold with pearls.

Officers were notified this morning that a dog had bitten two small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Inman. Officers started a search for the dog. The children were not seriously bitten, officers said.

The R. R. 'Goes To Hell And Back' On Hare Hunt With Patton Brothers

By THE ROVING REPORTER Three of the leanest and wiry men in the Panhandle are the Patton brothers. They have lived in this community high on 30 years.

Their major passion or obsession is racing greyhounds. Well last night, the Roving Reporter went on the wildest, maddest, most reckless chase he ever got hooked up with.

And he went with the Patton brothers and two of their pals, named Clyde Organ and Jack Porterfield.

After it was over with the R. R. felt like he'd "been to hell and back," to use an old saying. You see, the Patton brothers decided to go on another rabbit hunt last night. Clues Missing In Death Of Texas Ranch Owner

SWEETWATER, May 3 (AP)—An inquest investigation continued today in the fatal shooting last night of Cranston C. Hodges, about 35, a rancher, motor truck operator and filling station owner.

Officers said they had no clues to the shooting. They said Mrs. Hodges brought her husband to a hospital, crying that he had been shot. A bullet had pierced him between a collarbone and shoulder blade.

Unless You Are In Census You Don't Officially Live In U. S.

Have you been counted by Uncle Sam's census enumerator? Pampa today began a new drive to have every nose within the city limits counted before the decennial census is completed within the next week or so.

Local officials were jolted today when they learned that several Panhandle towns have shown a decrease in population since 1930. The figures are unofficial but startling.

John Osborne, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and William T. Fraser, chairman of the B.C.D. census committee, both expressed alarm at the figures today and urged Pampans to again realize the importance to Pampa of having a complete count.

If the census enumerator has missed you, they urge, be sure to fill out the blank on this page, mail it to the local census headquarters and an enumerator will call at your home and at your convenience.

"We don't want a short count in Pampa," said Mr. Osborne. "We hope that everybody will cooperate with us and with the census enumerators in getting a full count for Pampa."

Said Mr. Fraser: "It is just possible that there was nobody home when the census enumerator called at your house, so if you have not been counted be sure to send in the blank and have your household included in the enumeration."

Both officials again declared that it is vital to Pampa and Pampa businesses that a complete count be made here.

If you were missed, here is the blank. Fill it out and mail it to the local census headquarters:

City Employees' Bonds Ordered Kept Under Lock

To correct the confused status of bonds for city employees, the city commission at a special meeting yesterday ordered that City Secretary W. M. Craven be authorized to have equipment in his office where all such bonds might be kept under lock and key.

William T. Fraser, of William T. Fraser & Co., insurance, told the commission of conditions he said were revealed by a survey he had made.

Fraser said he had found the city secretary bonded by two bonds, one of which had been canceled, and probably replaced by another bond, and that the official was bonded as city recorder, whereas there was no bond covering C. E. McGrew who now holds that position.

He further reported to the commission that two former policemen George A. Pope and Thomas B. Robinson had bonds with the city that had not been canceled despite the fact they were no longer city employees; and that J. E. Manning and Ray Dudley, two of the present department, did not have bonds.

Fraser suggested that Miss Margaret Carr, water department employee, be covered by a bond, and that the amount of the bond of Mrs. Dan Smith, deputy city tax assessor collector, be increased above its present $1,000.

In a discussion with the commission concerning bonds for the police department, Fraser said it was his opinion that only the chief and the night chief needed to be bonded, inasmuch as they had charge of finances of the department.

Fraser's report authorizing the city secretary to keep city employees' bonds together in his office was Fraser's remark that he had found the bonds mentioned scattered at five different places.

Data on insurance will be compiled and presented to the commission soon, Fraser told the city officials.

The Rev. C. Gordon Bayless, pastor of First Baptist church, will preach at 10:50 o'clock Sunday morning on "An Outline of Christ's Purposes" and at 8 o'clock on "Midnight at Noon."

Dallasite's Heart Stitched By Doctors

DALLAS, May 3 (AP)—Doctors have performed two rare operations on Robert Estrada's heart in recent weeks.

Estrada's heart was ripped by a knife as he sought to separate two men in a fight. Parkland hospital doctors stitched his right auricle between spurts of blood.

After he was discharged from the hospital he became ill from pneumonia, his heart developed an aneurysm, which is similar to a bulge in a weak spot in an inner tube.

Fearing the bulge would rupture, doctors opened Estrada's chest again. Around the narrow neck of the bulge they tightly tied ligatures. The aneurysm was opened, while the heart throbbed, and a clot that had formed was removed.

Estrada was reported "doing well."

NIRA Explained To Magnolia Employees

Employees of the Magnolia Petroleum company and their families heard Judge Norrell, head of the company personnel department, and W. I. Kent, head of the company fire and accident prevention department, from Dallas, explain the industrial relations act here Wednesday night.

There were 750 present at the meeting. All are covered by the act. There are 50,000 employees and their families in eight states so protected, speakers pointed out.

A foreman's meeting was conducted during the afternoon.

WHO SETS WAGES? A contributor says it is easy to cite an example of where the employer sets wages. He contends that if a typist had her wages raised without the consent of her employer, she would lose her job.

The contributor also says that labor unions have no system of compulsion to force anybody to hire them at their price, or at any other price.

Packed House Hears 400 Children Sing Beautifully In Concert

It was a picture that would have inspired any American. They were the songs that were infinitely beautiful because they were sung by children.

It was the spring concert of the music department of Pampa public schools. It was touchingly American; it was soul-stirringly democratic. It was so fine that it brought lumps to your throat.

It was Helen M. Martin's brain child. For several years now, the best singers of Pampa's six schools have mingled on the stage of the high school auditorium and have sung beautiful music in that ready voice of children that is like a melodious breeze.

Last night nearly 400 children, dressed in satin and their school's colors, sang. The auditorium, both the first floor and the balcony, were packed to capacity.

The combined chorus set the pace in "I Love Life by Manza-Zucca—400 children singing the subconscious chant of man's soul.

"That will be the best one," one said when Woodrow Wilson's glee club sang "In My Garden, but Sam Houston's version of Now The Day Is Over seemed better, and Horace Mann's Evening Prayer from Handel and Cretel seemed even lovelier, and Baker school's The Day Ends seemed every bit as good, and junior high school's mixed chorus singing "Dunk seemed to be the climax, and after that they encored the senior high school choir's version of "Rain and the River, and gave Miss Martin extra applause.

When it was over they remembered how tenderly the Woodrow Wilson ensemble sang Beautiful Dreamer, how purely the Sam Houston school sang Santa Lucia, how rhythmically the elementary chorus sang Ciribiribin, how accurately and nobly the Horace Mann school sextet sang Scandalize My Name, a negro spiritual, how gracefully the Baker school ensemble sang McDowell's To A Wild Rose, and how lustily and proudly the junior and senior high school choruses sang Homeland.

Then you remembered how that old Negro spiritual Steal Away thrilled you with its haunting promises, and how when the Junior high school boys gleefully intoned "At the end you walked out with a jump in your throat and your soul and mind quivering because of the flaming brand that beauty burned on it while the combined choruses sang Schubert's Serenade and Bernstein's Good Bye America. There are no voices as beautiful as children's voices and of course we in the audience can be forgiven for our adoration because we never heard God Bless America sung by children. It was like hearing Lincoln say the Gettysburg address. The children sang the Serenade with such haunting will of the wisp grace that we couldn't hold it in our minds—as we wanted to.

The following directors are to be complimented:

Music supervisor and high school—Elen M. Martin; Junior high school—Madge Sears, Winifred Wiseman; Baker school—Margaret Williams; Horace Mann school—Marion Reichling; Sam Houston school—Herbert L. Miller; Woodrow Wilson school—Royce Park.

ROOSEVELT

He related how four or five wooden ships in Hampton Roads, Virginia, began a systematic destruction of union ships. Then a cheese box on a raft, presumably the Monitor, entered the picture. He said, and the Merrimac had to withdraw.

People then contended that at least an unsinkable ship had been found and ships of that type were built, but he added that this was not an unsinkable ship because it was heavily turreted and could not go to sea.

Then, he said, the torpedo came along, and the whole situation was changed again.

MACKENZIE

In any event it is a call for a show-down.

Indications are, however, that they are quite willing to take him on at any time. It should be said here that I have no official backing for this suggestion. It's just the way these latest moves look to me when viewed as part of the pattern which has been woven in the exchanges between II Duce and the Allies since Munich.

Ever since the beginning of the war the Allies' official attitude (and consequently that of the press) has been strongly pro-Nazi and often bitterly anti-Allies. This attitude has been perhaps more apparent than real, and has represented Mussolini's strategy for maintaining a middle-of-the-road course until such time as he had decided how Italy's interests best could be served.

It is my personal view, from study on the ground, that Mussolini has little affection for either the Allies or the Nazis. He has been suspicious of the Allies ever since the World War.

Things got so bad that the other day London protested to Rome about the pro-Nazi, anti-Allies treatment of war news.

We now come to an even more important phase of the quarrel between Mussolini and the Allies—the Fascist territorial and political demands against England and France.

Among other things, Italy has clung to her claims to "living space" for colonization rights in French Tunisia, for a free port at Djibouti (gateway to Italian Ethiopia) and for a railway running from Djibouti into Ethiopia.

There have been indications at one time and another that the Allies were prepared to adjust some of these claims. However, there has remained one great and unsolvable issue between the disputants—control of the Mediterranean.

As late as two weeks ago authoritative Italians insisted on freedom from British and French control over the Mediterranean as Italy's chief aim.

Now you might think John Bull into giving up his purse, but when you try to intrude on the tradition that Britannia rules the waves, and especially the Mediterranean waves, you are asking for trouble. England would be willing to concede would be domination of this strategic sea which controls so many of her great interests.

Along with this, the Allies have refused to consider the relations between Italy and Spain. Ever since Mussolini backed Spanish Generalissimo Franco in the civil war, observers have speculated as to the possibility that II Duce might get his reward in naval and air bases close to the gateway to the Mediterranean—a potential menace to both Britain and France. Denials by Spain and Italy that such a move was intended may have failed to remove anxiety.

If Italy should come into the war now these grievous arguments could be settled one and for all. Actually the Allies believe they could ham-string Italy by a blockade while the French army attacked from the north. That being the case Germany would be deprived of valuable aid, for Italy undoubtedly is more use to Nazism as a non-belligerent than as a combatant.

Greece and Turkey presumably would join the Allies immediately. They fear Mussolini and his ambitions more than they do any other man or state.

When you consider all aspects of the position it is easy to see why the Allies may not be reluctant to take Italy on for a fight.

It would seem that the Allies should say, and the Merrimac had to withdraw.

People then contended that at least an unsinkable ship had been found and ships of that type were built, but he added that this was not an unsinkable ship because it was heavily turreted and could not go to sea.

Then, he said, the torpedo came along, and the whole situation was changed again.

HITLER

mand said the navy destroyed two submarines in the Skagerrak while warplanes on May 1 scored his on at least one aircraft carrier, and possibly two, and one destroyer and on May 2, "severely damaged" a cruiser, attacked another cruiser and sank a transport ship.

While the Germans were clearing up Norway in the region south of Trondheim, the high command said quiet prevailed north of Trondheim except at Narvik where "enemy forces were slowly advancing toward our positions north and southwest" of the over-shipping port.

Affirming Germany's readiness for any British counter-throw as a result of the Norwegian defeat, foreign office circles said:

"We ask Chamberlain before the world: Who is the next victim of British plans for widening the area of combat?"

"Is it Rumania? Greece? Yugoslavia?" they asked.

"Or is all this one gigantic bluff to camouflage plans elsewhere?"

"Is it another criminal plan coming from Churchill's (Winston Churchill, Britain's First Lord of the Admiralty) brains for exerting pressure upon Italy?"

"Is Weyland (Gen. Maxime Weyland, Allied commander in chief in the near east) to trump card to be played while meanwhile action is launched in an entirely different region?"

"Wherever the British strike we will strike back."

Authorized sources intimated that the German intelligence service knows exactly where Britain is taking her forces from Norway.

SHIP CAUGHT

everything that happened," he said.

"The shore battery fired on our ship by accident."

Sixteen of the 48 members of the crew, however, were equally emphatic in a signed statement that their ship was raked accidentally, they agreed by one of the Allied planes.

"April 12 x x x 5 p. m. During an air raid, planes circled between the Flying Fish and the line of shore batteries, and a spray of machine gun bullets struck the Flying Fish, hitting the foredeck and several drums of oil on deck. No member of the crew was injured."

The log also reported that on April 16 the American freighter Charles R. McCormick was caught in a spray of machine gun bullets that cut its mast stays and wire rigging.

The state department, recently instituted inquiries to determine the whereabouts of the Charles R. McCormick when the vessel's operators expressed concern over its failure to answer a cable ordering it home. The ship presumably sought shelter in a Norwegian fjord.

There was considerable variance in the stories told by the Flying Fish's crew, but all hands agreed that the American ships, which displayed their colors prominently, were struck by accident.

Capt. W. W. Wollaston, of Denver, Colo., said the Flying Fish also was hit by fire from a land fortress which was aimed at an attacking plane.

No one on either the Charles R. McCormick or the Flying Fish was injured.

BUTLER

First National bank up to 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Ex-service men, and especially former marines, are to greet General Butler in a reception to be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the Schneider hotel. The general was scheduled to arrive in Pampa at 2 o'clock by automobile from Oklahoma City, following a talk he gave in Tulsa.

At 6:30 o'clock Butler will be honored at a dinner given at the Schneider.

Following the address here, the general will go to Amarillo where tomorrow night he will address the Knife and Fork club.

General Butler's address here is under the auspices of the Kerley-Crisman post of the American Legion.

Pampa's First Doll Show Will Open Tomorrow

Dolls will have their day in Pampa Saturday. The big dolls, the little dolls, the old dolls and the unusual dolls will all sit on shelves for Pampans to look at when the Pampa Recreation council presents its first doll show.

The dolls will be on display at the American Legion hut at 9 a. m. One hour later three competent judges will select the best doll in each classification and awards will be made.

The show will be free and Jim Edwards, recreation supervisor, invites the public to visit the exhibit.

Many unusual dolls have already been entered although advance entry is not necessary. One doll to be shown is well over 100 years old. One set of dolls will represent nearly every nation in the world, each dressed in native costume. Several dolls dressed in patriotic dresses have been entered.

In the unusual doll class there'll be freaks, take-offs on actors and actresses, and national figures. In the big doll division there will be entries larger than small children while dolls much bigger than a person's hand will also be on display.

"It's Pampa's first doll show and we hope it won't be the last," Mr. Edwards said today.

TROOPS

today over the central sector following upon the acknowledged Allied withdrawal from Andrades, south of Trondheim, and their reliably-reported abandonment of the Namsos-Steinkjer front above Trondheim.

French "Blue Devils" now are around Narvik. Germans hold the port.

In London, British spokesmen insisted the war would go on; that Britain has no idea of abandoning the Norwegian government or the campaign. But these spokesmen avoided mention of the Namsos situation.

However, royal air force bombers struck again at German air bases from which the Germans have done so much damage in both Norway and Denmark. The British said there was heavy damage from their bombs.

Prime minister Chamberlain, already up against a querulous parliament and troubled nation as the result of acknowledged British reverses in Norway, conferred with labor opposition leaders Tuesday. Chamberlain faces the full storm of House of Commons debate.

The arrival of a British-French battle fleet at Alexandria, some of it diverted from northern waters, to guard the Mediterranean against any Italian or German war move.

Italians, professing calm, saw this reinforcement of Allied naval power at their front door as another move to force Mussolini into clearing up his slights as a "non-belligerent" ally of Germany. Observers in Rome gathered some evidence that II Duce, as yet, is not ready to go to war on Germany's side.

But there were new reports which pointed the other way: Diplomatic quarters in Athens heard that Italian troops, warships and planes were being massed in the Dodecanese islands, in the Aegean sea between Greece and Turkey, and about 400 miles from where the Allied battle fleet lies at Alexandria.

Greece yesterday called up reserve officers.

proper. He was assured that if the work progressed favorably he would be paid regularly and withdrawn his objection. Erwin Ochsenrath, his attorney, was also present at the meeting.

Board members discussed appointment of an equalization board but took no action. They agreed that one and possibly two oilmen should be members of the board seeing that more than 80 per cent of the taxes derived are paid by the oil industry. It was also agreed that oil taxes should be more equitably distributed.

Gilks Discusses Economic Situation In British Isles

That England's "dole" of the early 20s was comparable to America's social-security act, with its unemployment compensation was a salient point in the talk given by Colonel Roy Kilks of the Salvation Army to members of the Pampa Lions club at the club's regular weekly luncheon at noon Thursday.

Cash surplus accumulated up to 1928 under the British system had become a problem. Lions were told. When the panic hit in 1928, it resulted in a last distribution of the fund.

England decided it would rather continue the system and operate under a deficit than abandon the plan, the colonel said.

In the British Isles the migratory work problem as it exists in the United States, does not occur. This was due, the speaker said, to the requirement that the unemployed "stay put" to collect their dole, and to the fact that few English workmen can afford automobiles.

Gasoline sells at 36 cents a gallon in the Isles and automobile license fees are on the basis of $1 per horsepower.

Col. Gilks addressed members of the Kiwanis club at their luncheon today. The Salvation Army official retired five years ago after serving at the Army's international headquarters in London. He has been in Test Pilot of 1960?

It's HARD to tell... but EASY to pick a winning oil

MODEL airplanes, powered with twisted rubber bands or miniature gas engines, zoom and soar in competitive meets. Will their young builders be the test pilots of the future?

Experience has shown that the great pilot of tomorrow is just as likely to be a farm boy who has never seen a model plane, as it is to be a youngster with uncanny building skill.

Yes, many things are unpredictable. But when you want to select a winning oil for your motor, you can make a choice with certainty. This is why.

The great Phillips 66 training organization makes a complete and frank statement, which does away with doubt. Note there is no hedging, no reservation. We say plainly: If you want our best oil, remember we specify that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality... the highest grade and greatest value... among all the oils we offer.

Next time you need oil, pick a winner. Whether you are merely adding a quart or draining worn and tainted oil that has gone through cold weather, ask for Phillips 66 Motor Oil at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.

1940 Fishing Season Opens With A Rush

By DAVE CHEAVENS
GRAND PRAIRIE, May 3 (AP)—The Associated Press' correspondent at the fishing front was on the job at 3:30 yesterday morning to watch the fun at Mountain Creek lake.

Thousands of anglers from all over North Texas beat him to the banks of this fisherman's paradise. Before 4 o'clock 800 automobiles were lined up at the west gate of one of the huge lake's two public parks. I couldn't get to the east gate—there was a traffic jam.

I moved my car three times to escape being hemmed in by fishermen who left their automobiles just anywhere in their rush to get to the lake. Most of them apparently had read the prediction by a member of the game commission that the fish would only last a couple of months unless extraordinary regulations were put on. The lake was opened today for the first time, after being well stocked four years ago.

Predictions were that 20,000 persons would open the season at Mountain Creek. You said it—a good part of them were there soon after midnight. When they couldn't get in at the public parks, they barged through the fences surrounding this private lake.

They even let the wires down and hauled their boats in the short way.

Those who didn't go through the fence, lost lots of bass and crappie, trying the yank them through the barbed wire, but they caught lots. I saw scores of limit strings—mainly caught at Cottonwood and Fish creeks—before daylight.

One group of city fishermen waded out to a clump of willows with their shiny tackle and fine minnows. No luck. A farmer from down the creek rolled up his overalls and waded right in amongst them.

In half an hour he had a limit string of fine crappie. He was using a willow pole and top-water minnows. He went on home to milk the cow.

Most big crappie were taken out of shallow water, indicating they are still spawning. That was no surprise to early-spring anglers, who know crappie lay eggs right up to June 1 after a cold winter. The law implies they quit April 30.

Your correspondent remained strictly neutral; besides, he had to start filling a wire at 6:30.

Pistol Shoot To Be Held Near Canadian

The Hobart ranch, near Canadian, will be the scene of the pistol shooting match, feature event on the program of the North Texas-South Oklahoma Peace Officers association convention, to be held in Pampa May 2-4.

Medals, merchandise awards, and trophies to be given in the contest are now on display in a Pampa store window.

Location of the shooting range is on the Hobart ranch, 15 miles south of Canadian. Those participating are to leave Pampa by automobile at 11 o'clock on the morning of May 2.

Attendance of 300 members of the regional association and their wives is expected. Registration will open at 7 o'clock on the night of May 7 in the district court room.

Punishment To Be Subject Of Sermon

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," on Sunday, May 5.

The Golden Text is: "The way of the Lord is strength to the upright; but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity" (Proverbs 10:29).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world" (Titus 2:11, 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Reason is the most active human faculty. Let that inform the sentiments and awaken the man's dormant sense of moral obligation, and by degrees he will learn the nothingness of the pleasures of human sense and the grandeur and bliss of a spiritual sense, which silences the material or corporeal" (page 327).

How To Pronounce Norwegian Names

(By The Associated Press)
It's a safe bet if you're the first syllable of Norwegian place names. Some of those most in the news are pronounced:

Oslø—Oss-lo.
Bergen—Bair-ger.
Narvik—Nair-veik.
Trondheim—Trom-beem.
Steinkjer—Stair-shair.
Andalsnes—Awn-dahless-ness.
Namsos—Nahn-soss.
Stavanger—Stah-vahng-er.
Sofixes, sometimes used as separate words, usually contain the key to meanings of geographic words in Norway. For instance, the Gudbrandsdal or Gudbrandsdalen is the Gudbrands valley and Trondheimfjord is Trondheim bay.

Other such suffixes are:

Boa—ravine.
By—town, village.
Eld or elde—Isthmus.
Fjeld—mountain.
Fros—waterfall.
Gjel—gorge.
Havn—harbor.
Holm—Island.
Sund—strait, ferry.

CANDIDATE FOR ASSOCIATE JUSTICE SEEKS 2ND TERM

AUSTIN, May 3 (AP)—John H. Sharp of Ennis formally announced his candidacy today for a second six-year term as Associate Justice of the state Supreme Court.

Nominees for two of the three places on the court will be chosen in the Democratic primaries this summer. In addition to the Associate Justice, the people will vote on the term of the late C. M. Cureton. W. P. Moore of Paris, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's appointee to the chief justiceship, perhaps will seek to continue in that post.

Judge Sharp had been a member of the Supreme Court commission of Appeals for five years prior to his election to the state's highest tribunal in 1934.

Jaycees To Sponsor Skeet Shooting And Junior Rifle Range

Skeet shooting and a junior rifle range will be sponsored by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce with Coleman Williams as chairman of the committee in charge of the new program. Mr. Williams will have charge of skeet shooting and Bert Howell of the junior rifle range.

Ranges will be erected northwest of the Municipal airport at the north end of LeFors street in northeast Pampa. Membership in the skeet club will be $1 per year.

The junior rifle range will be open to boys 15 and under with the membership 25 cents a year. For every 10 members the government will furnish a .22 caliber rifle and a limited number of rounds of ammunition.

Wallace Deplores Farm Migrations

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—A long-term rural works program and expansion of federal farm loans were advocated by Secretary Wallace today to stem the westward tide of unemployed farm laborers.

The Agriculture Department chief testified before the Senate Agriculture committee, investigating the farm labor problem, that unless something is done to reestablish the migrant thousands, the country's bill for their support will continue to grow.

"This army of uprooted, homeless families," Wallace said, "may lay its troubles to problems which have afflicted American agriculture for many years."

"They were not created by the depression, although it has greatly aggravated them" and they cannot be cured merely by an upturn in the tread cycle.

"They arise directly out of the waste and exhaustion of our soil, which has gone unchecked for more than a century, years of ruinous farm practices, the disappearance of foreign markets, unsound systems of tenure, an alarming increase in farm tenancy, the development of types of agriculture unsuited to the soil and climate, the growing surplus of farm population, and the rapid development of a large-scale industrialized type of agriculture."

John Garner Runs Up Wordage In A Speech At Banquet

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Usually taciturn John Nance Garner made a speech at a dinner last night and before he was through it had run into sizeable wordage—at least sizeable for the Vice President.

He was heard at a dinner given by Texas business men for the congressional delegation of their state.

"I'm not going to say anything that amounts to a darn thing now," Garner declared at the outset then wound up by asserting:

"Until you have a candidate you'll never have a president of the United States."

Garner said that when he became vice-president he "entered into an agreement" with President Roosevelt regarding his public utterances.

The vice president added that he agreed never to make any recommendations for office or as to legislative policy unless his advice was asked.

He took notice that many Texans held important committee assignments in congress and said he behooved a state to return an incumbent to congress if he "was honest and intelligent."

Jesse Jones, Federal Loan Administrator, introduced Garner. The business men giving the dinner were here attending the United States Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Girl Show To Be Attraction Of Banquet

Many from Pampa and Gray county will attend the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners association annual meeting and banquet in Amarillo Saturday.

The program for the day will open with a noon luncheon in the Amarillo hotel. After the luncheon, there will be short addresses of interest to every oil man. Among the speakers will be Berry Brown, of Berry Brown and Company, tax analyst, Abilene; Dave Gray, executive vice-president of the North Texas Oil and Gas association, Wichita Falls; George Gibbons, executive vice-president of the Texas division, Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association, Dallas; and Colonel E. O. Thompson, member of the railroad commission of Texas. Following the luncheon and talks, the association will hold its annual meeting.

Beginning at 4:30 p. m., refreshments will be served to all members and guests in the Herring hotel.

A banquet will be served in the Herring hotel at 6:30 p. m. There will be two addresses following the banquet, one by C. E. Buchner, executive manager of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, who will speak on national issues as they affect the independents in the oil industry, and Eugene McEwaney, vice-president of the First National bank of Dallas, who will speak on "A Banker Looks at the Oil Business."

The program for the day will be concluded with the presentation of the Kathryn Duffy extravaganza, "Hello Beautiful." The show met with approval last year and this year's presentation, advance notices say, is even better, with new songs, new dances, new specialties, new costumes, and many talented performers.

Thrown From Window 'Last Straw' To Wife

CAMDEN, N. J., May 3 (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy C. Kipp of Burlington, N. J., told a divorce master she kept her troubles to herself when her husband, Samuel, of Altoona, Pa.

Knocked her down and kicked her, hit her with a bed lamp, pulled a gun on her while they were out for an automobile ride and threatened to throw her down a well.

But when he threw her out a kitchen window, she testified, she decided to do something about it. She sued for divorce—and got it.

Yes, Sir! Maxwell House Tastes Better Now Than Ever!

Dr. Hill Speaks To McLean Lions

Special To The NEWS
McLEAN, May 3—Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas State

Teachers college, Canyon, was the speaker at the McLean Lions club regular weekly meeting Tuesday. Dr. Hill discussed the position of democracy in the world of today. Three songs were given by the high school girl's quartet composed of Beth Evonne Floyd, Ruth Bond, Mary Evelyn Foster and Frances Sitter. Troy Israel of Pampa briefly discussed plans for the formation of a new district in this area for the Boy Scouts of America.

VEGETABLES WERE SCORNE
Vegetables were called herbs by the meat-eating Englishmen of the days of Henry VIII. They considered vegetables as "more fit for hogs and savage beasts than for Christian men."

GOOD BUSINESS
Twenty-five thousand persons are employed in pantomime work annually in England. Dressmaking, scene-painting and other jobs connected with pantomimes employ another 20,000 persons.

Best Night Game To Be Played Here Tonight

Lamesa Will Be Here For Three Games

First night baseball game of the 1940 season will be played here tonight when the Pampa Oilers...

Manager Grover Seltz and his Oilers have faced Manager Jodie Tate and his Lobos only once so far...

The Oilers have another left-hander en route here for a trial. He is Rice, the big pitcher who worked for St. Joseph against the Oilers...

Akers, St. Joseph second baseman, arrived here yesterday and made his first appearance last night in Berger. He baged two hits and scored three runs but made three errors on the rough field.

Manager Grover Seltz released Wally Peterson, first baseman, and put Adams on the initial sack. He expects within a few days to announce arrival of a slugging first baseman.

The Pampa Oilers went one up on the Berger Gassers for the season last night when the win 15 to 12 slugfest. The Oilers baged 17 hits including home runs by Manager Grover Seltz and Merle Adams...

Mendoza, playing in left field for the Oilers, was hit by pitched ball and had to leave the game. Vannoy, pitcher, relieved him in the other garden.

Berger started a rally in the seventh when three runs crossed the plate. The Oilers got the hitters in the eighth when one hit and five errors sent four runs across the plate.

Favorites In Semi-Finals Of Tourney

DALLAS, May 3 (AP)—Four players who formed the tiny cluster of favorites at the outset, today reached the semi-finals of the Women's Texas Golf association tournament.

National Champion Betty Jameson collided with Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth and Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, co-medalist, met Mrs. E. R. Hury of San Antonio.

Consistency made Mrs. Goldthwaite no worse than an even choice against Miss Jameson. Only yesterday Mrs. Goldthwaite gave Jameson backers a full ease of the shakes by lapping men's par over a 13-hole stretch to eliminate Miss Kay Pearson of Houston.

Today Mrs. Goldthwaite set about to erase a scar that has rankled her for three years. Betty walloped her 10 and 8, in a rainstorm in the finals of the Women's State at Texarkana.

They yesterday ran through the first six holes of the back nine in par to win 4 and 3, from Miss Jo Henson, Paris youngster.

Mrs. Chandler eliminated Mrs. H. A. Peterson of Dallas, 6 and 5. Mrs. Hury ran down a string of pairs at the ninth to win 5 and 4, from Mrs. Jack Lapham of San Antonio.

Tomorrow's championship match will be at 36 holes.

One-Minute Interview Zeke Bonura (on arrival in Washington): "I have an idea I and Mr. Roosevelt will be needed around here for some time."

Giants Maul Cardinals For Third Place

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer It doesn't pay to become too enthusiastic about a baseball club winning one game.

Yet a glance at the National League standings will show anybody interested that the New York Giants are in third place and a thought about the manner in which they outdistanced the St. Louis Cardinals 7-4 yesterday might convince some that they may stay there.

The Giants have one of those "extremist" teams. The veterans are too old and the rookies are too young. But the grey-beards are full of wisdom and the no-beards are filled with enthusiasm and the right mixture can be powerfully explosive.

Turn To Page 12 For Additional Sports horse races and dog races in which this press charges the mechanical rabbit with a city block. At least 1,000 people are expected to see the 46 hounds chase the 23 rabbits which have already been caught.

A burial wall three and one-half feet high encloses the course. The races will start at the north end. The rabbit will be given an 80-yard start, then two hounds will be released from the slip. They will speed after the hare, and the one that does the most toward catching the rabbit, if the rabbit is caught, will win the race. If the rabbit is not caught the hound that outruns the other one will win.

The burial fence surround the enclosure has been completed. About 75 hounds will be on hand for the race; they are owned by men at Berger, Amarillo, Groom, LeFors, Pampa. There will be at least 21 races, two hounds to the race. These races will be divided up into eight-dog stakes, 7 races to each stake.

Admission for spectators will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. Profits will go to the Baker school underprivileged children's cafeteria fund.

The rabbit has a good chance to elude the hound and go free. He will have an 80-yard start and that's a long start.

Then if he runs straight he can get away from the hound completely by going through an escape at the rodeo corral near the grandstand.

The course is laid out so that the best part of the race will be in the south half of the course near the grandstand. However, spectators can see everything that happens during the races whether they sit in cars or in the stands.

State Track, Field Marks In Danger By HAROLD V. RATLIFF AUSTIN, May 3 (AP)—The state's finest in schoolboy track and field came here today for an assault on records that have stood for four to a dozen years.

Not since 1936 has a state mark tumbled and one record—that of 6 feet, 3/4 inches in the high jump—was put in the book in 1928.

Bimelech Supposed To Win Hands Down Tomorrow

-LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3 (AP)—Bimelech will go to the post tomorrow for the 66th running of the Kentucky Derby and it looks like about seven other horses will go at least that far with him.

Bimelech is supposed to win hands down and it would not be truthful to state that the air of Louisville is charged with excitement.

The weather is unpleasant—cold and rainy—and gives promise of getting worse.

CHALLEDON'S SUCCESSOR

Pictor, George Wolf up.

Pictor, Challedon's 3-year-old successor in the colors of William L. Brann, became Maryland's hope in the Kentucky Derby, May 4, when he met the challenges of Royal Mann, Andy K. and Fencil over the mile and a sixteenth of the Chesapeake Stakes on a muddy Havre de Grace track, led practically all the way and won by two lengths going away. Like Challedon, Pictor is by Challengier II. George Wolf is the jockey.

Longhorns Near Baseball Title

The Texas Longhorns rolled on toward the Southwest conference baseball championship today. Yesterday the Longhorns crushed the Baylor Bears 10-0 and they will play them here again today favored to take the second tilt about as easily.

Rice won its third conference game by beating Southern Methodist 12-4 in the first of a two-game series.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIEZY NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—Those congregations of 2,000, 3,000 and 4,000 the Yanks are playing to at the stadium aren't making the pay roll. Who's got a shot in the arm for the bantamweight division? Tex Carleton was so excited he didn't sleep a wink the night after playing his no-bitter. Rain is delivering the chickens with the ball team, but unfortunately it won't stop the Nathan Mann-Buddy Baer fight at the Garden tonight.

What Is YOUR Favorite Dish

Sandy MacTavish likes oatmeal and Yang Tao Lin likes rice; in Italy it's spaghetti and Merry England goes for roast beef. But what is America's favorite dish? Is it ham and eggs? Is it steak and onions? Is it apple pie a la mode or strawberry shortcake or corn on the cob—or what?

Or what? Do you know the answer? Does anybody? Truth is, America has no one favorite dish! Southern fried chicken goes over big these days in Vermont and there are lots of folks in Texas who like Boston baked beans. A man in Topeka craves oysters on the half shell; and whole townships nestled up under the Canadian border sing hymns of praise for the chili con carne of the Rio Grande.

For Americans—when it comes to food—like everything! Our tastes are the most varied and widespread in the entire world.

What is YOUR favorite dish? You probably have more than you can count! Or, if you haven't, you should be shamed of yourself. For the makin's of each and every one, from onion soup to baked Alaska, are no further away than your favorite grocery store, as near as your telephone. Your grocer has them all; and if you don't believe us, just look at the food ads in today's Pampa News!

Hundreds of years ago a very wise man said, "There is no fun like eating"—but today, everything about food is fun, and dining is our great national indoor sport. What can compare to the lark of planning a meal, inviting your friends, scheming to surprise them? What's greater fun than going shopping in a modern, well-appointed grocery store? What's easier than cooking a feast to a king's taste in an up-to-date, handsome kitchen with range, sink, refrigerator, table, and gadgets all within arm's length?

Use the food ads in today's Pampa News as a memo in planning your meals for the week. Check the items you need . . . don't take a chance on omitting any of those tasty items so necessary to the complete success of your meals. Save time by doing your shopping in the News and join the thousands of women who serve the best yet remain within their food budget.

Rice Tennis Team Shuts Out Steers

HOUSTON, May 3 (AP)—It had to happen some time—but it came unexpectedly.

The University of Texas tennis team was shut out yesterday for the first time in the following Rice Owl, headed by brilliant Frank Guernsey, beat the Longhorns six straight matches.

The Longhorns won only one set all afternoon.

Dr. D. A. Penick, veteran coach of the Longhorns, admitted that the team had been blanked for the first time on record.

Shryock Member Of Refining Committee At Tulsa Oil Show

Pampa has been honored with the appointment of a local citizen, F. E. Shryock, as a member of the Refining Committee of the International Petroleum Exposition to be held in Tulsa, Oklahoma May 18-25.

Among the more than 600 exhibits representing every branch of the industry will be many exhibits featuring refining, according to Embury Kays, chairman of the show's refining committee.

Major developments in the refinery division which will be displayed at the 1940 Exposition include improvements in catalytic refining processes and automatic control for refinery use.

"Tailor-made" refinery equipment for specific operations will be seen, including improvements in catalytic methods.

Pumps have been perfected to handle less viscous fluids at higher temperatures.

Compact insulation of fire boxes, tubes, and insulated tanks with spun glass will enable refiners to cover less space.

Enlarged bubble towers, having capacities of 30 to 40 trays in place of the former 16 to 22 trays, will also be displayed.

FDR Names Johnson Member Of ICC Board

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—J. Monroe Johnson, assistant secretary of commerce since 1935, was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be a member of the interstate commerce commission.

Johnson, a native of Marion, S. C., who will be 62 next Sunday, was named to fill out the unexpired term of M. M. Caslike, of Alabama, who resigned. The term expires December 31, 1941.

Stephen T. Early, white house press secretary, said that more than 15 senators had urged the President to name the commission a southerner who was familiar with the South's transportation problems.

He said the chief executive felt he had found in Johnson a man with "a very good working knowledge of railroad problems" and one who is familiar with the South's troubles.

Johnson telephoned his acceptance from Indianapolis.

● SERIAL STORY

BET ON LOVE

BY CHARLES B. PARMER

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: SHEP GRANT, unshaven man walked up to her. Wharton had claimed her, and she could not have entered Pepper Boy in the Derby. Sherry is furious; believes Paul was trying to take her into marriage. Red Soldier equals the track record in an easy victory.

CHAPTER VIII

NOW the field was coming back to the finish line, for the jockeys to dismount and weigh out. Red Soldier was last in—and Sherry saw Paul Wharton push through the track gate, go out and meet his victorious colt on the center of the course.

But he did not take the shortest line, a diagonal, to the finish line. Instead, he turned his colt, walked straight to the fence, then turned again and walked down the fence toward the wire. He was coming toward her—her bench was next to the rail—he was going to pass in less than a yard of her. His eyes were searching the crowd on the rail—now he saw her.

A big and arrogant grin spread over his face. Now he was passing her—was looking up—and though the band was playing a triumphant march, she heard his words, "Not bad, eh? See you in Louisville."

He passed on—and a moment later flowers were circling Red Soldier's neck, and cameras were clicking.

"Did you hear what he said to me?" Sherry demanded. Uncle Willie smiled benignly: "Let the lad boast a bit. He won—I'm devoutly glad to say." He finished in a tone so low that Sherry missed the last words.

"He can have decency—the cheap braggart!" she flared. "Calling to me as if—as if I were a rail-bird!" She took his arm. "Let's get out of this crowd."

When they pushed back toward the clubhouse she stopped him—though he seemed unusually eager to leave her. "Listen to me a minute, Willie Bond," she said sharply. "We're going to pack up instantly—leave for the Downs. Understand? We can't get there quick enough!"

"Why, er—yes. But there's the little matter of—er—transportation. First, do we owe any bills—I mean track bills?"

Sherry frowned. She owed $4 to the blacksmith; at least $10 to the veterinarian; more than—She stopped counting as a collarless, unshaven man walked up to her. An oily smile creasing the furrows of his face, he spoke without even touching his greasy hat—spoke fast:

"Mighty glad to see you come in the money that first race, Miss Bond. Knowed you'd be lookin' for me. You get $180 running second. I'd appreciate the favor of my $82 on that feed bill. I was mighty glad to accommodate. Some of these here owners—"

"Seems you wish money at once, my man. Am I right?" Willie Bond demanded.

"The feed man shifted his weight. "I just want pay—"

"Certainly. You will get pay—in cash. Come with me," And to Sherry, "I'll handle it, my dear. And will pay our groom, too."

How much money was she going to have after everyone was paid? Standing there on the lawn, Sherry made rapid figures on her program. Twice she totaled the figures; the result was astounding. Why, she would have only $18 left out of that $180.

It had been a long and hard winter—for her. And she had to transport Pepper Boy from Long Island to Louisville, Ky.; had to transport her groom, her uncle, herself. Had to ship her tack. Would have to buy feed the moment they were stabled at the Downs. There would be other expenses—and $500 more to enter the Derby! If Pepper Boy hadn't been left at the post; if his nose had only been six inches further to the front, at the finish—but it wasn't and he ran second.

She glanced at her wrist watch. No use staying here—she had no interest in the other races. She'd go home—could catch a train in 20 minutes. She started for the gate. Lanky Gop Grant stopped her.

"Oh, say! Get time for a drink, Sherry? We can run into the clubhouse."

"You know I never touch the stuff, Shep."

"Sure I do, but I wanted a chance to talk to you. He slipped an arm through hers. "Look here, Sherry—let's sit down a minute. Sherry, honey, I'd—"

"Wait. Shep. Is this another proposal?"

He reddened, grinned again. "It is—is—is—there's any chance you'll take me. I'm going to steady down—quit drinking—make some money—buy me a breeding farm."

"Sorry, Shep. She started to rise, but he stopped her.

"Wait! Wanted to say, Sherry, I've had some swell luck lately. At bridges. Now if you need six or seven hundred—to get to Louisville—get ready for the Derby—Pepper Boy is good, Sherry—"

"Please!" She was on her feet. "That's very sweet of you—"

"No strings to it. You don't have to marry me, you know," he told her, smiling. "You're swell, Sherry—"

"And so are you, lad," she said softly, touching his hand as he stood up. "You're a peach, but I have all the money in the world—at least enough to pay bills—and, I'll see you at Churchill Downs, Shep."

THE sun had dropped behind housetops when Sherry Bond reached home and faced the rear of a modern Noah's Ark, parked in front of her apartment house.

Drawn to the curb was an enormous, open touring car—a seven-seater, vintage of the late 'twenties; it was jammed with household goods. A rusty locker-trunk was securely lashed to the rear.

Who was responsible for this monstrosity? Somebody was sitting behind the wheel. Deliberately, Sherry walked to the front of the car—stopped, looked at the driver: a horse-faced girl in her early thirties—perhaps—dressed in green tweed with a brown beret pulled back demurely from shiny, walnut-colored hair parted in the middle. A mass of freckles flecked the features—the homeliest face and the most interesting that Sherry had seen since Christmas.

Sherry drew back from staring, murmured, "I beg your pardon," and was starting into the house when the stranger stopped her.

Leaning over the side of the door, the woman asked in breezy, clipped accents of the mid-west: "Can you tell me where—well! if it isn't—It is Cousin Sheridan Bond?"

The car door flew open. An angular girl, whose bones stuck out like those of a half-starved race horse, leaped to the pavement, a joyous smile lighting her face. Phrases cascaded from her lips: "Cousin Sheridan, I am Theodosia Duncan Bond. I recognize you from your pictures—but you're much prettier, much younger looking."

"I've just driven in from Wyoming—brought my fuds with me. I read about your thrilling apartment—I got the street number out of the phone book." She paused. "You—you are Cousin Sheridan, aren't you?"

"I am," answered Cousin Sheridan Bond, in a still and small voice.

Puppet Show Will Be Given At Groom

Special To The NEWS

GROOM, May 3—The first four grades of the Groom school will present a program at 8 p. m. May 10 in the school auditorium, which will be a culmination of the work the grades have done in the spring.

An unusual feature of the program is the puppet show, the freckle-faced bear, and his friends, who will put on a show of their own. These puppets have been created by the fourth grade as an art and language project.

Each of the four grades have contributed individual numbers to make up the following program: Song, "Spring Has Come," first four grades; play, "Welcome to Spring," second grade; reading, "The Bad I Is," Cumilla McSpadden; play, "Miss Millie's May Basket," third grade. Reading, "A Rustic Courtship," Juanita Williams; May pole dance, first grade; reading, "The Rifle That Didn't Work," Betty Stamps; rhythm band, second grade; reading, "A Doss of Gator Oil," Nadine Hodges; puppet show, "The Freckle-Faced Bear," fourth grade.

This program is under the direction of the primary teachers, Mrs. R. T. Foster, Miss Roberta Turner, Miss May Kieser, and Miss Ruth Haney.

Wheeler, Pittman Ask FDR Administration Be Endorsed

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Two democratic senators—Wheeler of Montana and Pittman of Nevada—called today for endorsement of President Roosevelt's administration in the party platform.

NEW MINISTER

Albert Smith, above, began work this week as pastor of the Central Church of Christ in Pampa. Mr. Smith, who moved here from Lubbock, is in his eleventh year of preaching, five and one-half years of which were spent with the avenue G and 17th street Church of Christ of that city. The congregation at Central church and the pastor invite the public to attend the services at any time.

not seek a third term unless the people demanded it. The President's son, speaking by radio, forecast that the chief executive would delay any announcement of his intentions until just before or possibly during the July 15 Chicago convention. That course, he said, would enable Mr. Roosevelt to exercise a more powerful influence in the convention.

Mexico Sees Lively Labor Day Program

MEXICO CITY, May 3 (AP)—Mexico, in the midst of one of the liveliest political campaigns in years, went back to work today after a labor day celebration marked by parades, a general shutdown of business and celebrations which in some cities roused minor disorders. The capital city saw the greatest celebration, with a parade in which it was estimated 75,000 and upwards took part. Generally, the day went off peacefully.

In Orizaba, Veracruz, in a textile manufacturing region, there was an outburst of shooting between rival labor groups. Injuries, if any, were unknown since occupants of a motor car which exchanged fire with persons in a labor hall darted away.

No Data Received Here On WPA Slash
When the reduction of 10,000 persons from WPA rolls over the state would begin to affect Gray county was not known today at the office of the county clerk. State WPA administrator H. P. Drought announced April 26 that employment on Texas WPA projects would be slashed to 82,500 in May, a reduction of 10,000 as related to April employment. Mrs. Willie Baines, county case worker, said she had received no information on any reduction here, and no workers had called at her office and mentioned any discharge from a WPA project.

Williamson Granted Pay For Vacation

Vacation pay for city managers, a problem that came up when C. L. Sline's place was taken by W. T. Williamson, two years ago, cropped up again yesterday as the city commission considered how long Williamson's services would be needed to assist Steve Matthews, new city manager, in becoming familiar with the position.

Final solution of the discussion was an order granting 23 days pay to Williamson. The payment is to include a two-weeks vacation salary as it was stated that the retiring city manager had received only one week's vacation in the two years he has served.

When it was asked if the payment should be made in advance or at the end of the 23 day period this month, Commissioner George B. Cree said it was customary to issue vacation pay in advance, otherwise it might seem services were expected for the payment. Other members of the commission concurred.

There was no definition of the amount to be paid Williamson in the order passed by the commission. City Manager Steve Matthews said he did not know Williamson's salary and therefore could not say what the payment would be. The city secretary also said he did not know the amount.

Asked the same question the city attorney replied that it would amount to 23/30ths of Williamson's monthly salary of $325. This would be approximately $250.

American Students In French Prison

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, May 3 (AP)—Two American medical students at Lausanne university sat dejectedly today in a French military prison while Swiss and United States officials tried to obtain their release. The students, Paul Lustwig and Anthony Aragona, 25 year old New Yorkers, went rowing Sunday on Lake Lemán. They were blown to the southern shore by a storm and blundered through the underbrush until French bayonets halted them. They had landed on a stretch famed as a "spy trail" by which German agents attempt to reach France.

The U. S. consulate in Geneva said a military magistrate sentenced the Americans, who had no identification, to a month in prison and fined them 100 francs ($1.90) for trying to enter France illegally. The officials said they "hoped" the French would release the pair "within a few days."
