The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
The factual picture resulting from less than four weeks of Allied-German fighting in Norway is grimly clear in an utter and stinging defeat for Franco-British arms; but it still could prove a pyrrhic victory for Germany.

The Allies went to save Norway from the clutch of the Nazi invader. They fled the field by order of the high command, under protection of the very Norwegians they sought to rescue but have apparently abandoned to their fate.

It must cause sardonic amusement in Berlin that the first British soldier-hero of this war is the general who stage-managed the retreat from Trondheim with minimum losses. It could have been worse.

That is about the best that British public opinion, newly steeled to a grin-and-take-it mood by its war leaders, yet can make of those fast-

Methodists Favor Teaching Children 'Facts Of Life'

ATLANTIC CITY, May 4 (AP)—The general conference of the Methodist church formally proclaimed today that parents should teach their children the "facts of life."

"Our children," the pronouncement stated, "desire and have a right to know before adolescence the facts regarding the origin of life and the nature of their personalities as it relates to sex."

"Parents, if properly instructed, are best fitted to give this assistance, but if they are recreant in this duty, then qualified persons in the church should teach reverently the beautiful truths of life to offset the obscene and all-too-prevalent misinformation to which our children are exposed."

FLOWERS SENT CITY MANAGER

The man behind the desk is not trying out a system of floral camouflage—it's just the way the vases and baskets of flowers were placed on the desk of Steve Matthews, new city manager of Pampa, when Berger friends sent flowers Wednesday in congratulation of his first day as executive head of the city government here. Matthews was formerly city manager at Borger.

Bottomhole Pressure On Oil Rule Lifted

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—Proposed new regulations for the Panhandle oil field have been withdrawn indefinitely by the Texas Railroad commission.

The regulations had been scheduled to become operative May 1. The commission said in an order made public today that they were withdrawn "until the commission has had additional time in which to study their effect upon the reservoirs and the production of oil and gas." Meanwhile the old field rules were continued in effect.

The withdrawn order would have allocated production on a basis of 50 per cent acreage and 50 per cent bottom hole pressure and provided 10-acre well spacing and 10-acre proration units.

John Taylor, head of the commission's oil and gas division, reported that the net statewide production allowance as of today was 1,416,321 barrels daily. Actual output usually is substantially below the allowable. The number of producing wells in Texas, Taylor said, has declined 71 the past week to 91,875.

Orders announced by the commission today included: Reducing daily allowable of Wason field, Gaines and Youkum counties, from 34,088 to 31,500 barrels.

Hare That Has Outrun Hounds In 35 Races In Meet Here Today

By THE ROVING REPORTER
Some people are crazy about bridge-playing, others loony on the subject of baseball, other daffy about golf, others hysterical about football, but the fellow who likes greyhound racing has them all beat. He's nuttier about that sport than even the boxing addicts. And after you stay around a gang of them three days you begin to think that maybe they have something there.

At any rate the Roving Reporter imbibed some of their zeal for the sport when they trotted out a huge jackrabbit at the Recreation park grandstand where 21 hare-hound races will be held today, that has out run the doggies in 35 races! This particular jack is from Elk City, and he has been in races all over the

Mexico Turns Down U. S. Oil Parley Plan

Settlement With Sinclair Company Mentioned In Note

By LLOYD A. LEHRBAS
WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—The Mexican government flatly rejected tonight the United States request for arbitration of the two-year old dispute growing out of expropriation of American-owned oil companies.

General Eduardo Hay, Mexican minister for foreign affairs, said in a note that the Mexican government "considers arbitration incompatible" with the facts in the controversy and with international law "since the matter in dispute is domestic in nature and is near solution by the authorities of Mexico."

The note presented the view that the United States could not contend there had been a denial of justice until after the American oil companies had exhausted every means of adjustment provided by the Mexican laws, including recourse to the Mexican courts.

General Hay announced, in the note, that a settlement had been reached with the Sinclair interests under which the American company "accepting the expropriation definite, will limit itself to discussing the amount of indemnity and the conditions of payment in reasonable installments, recognizing the justification of use Mexican point of view."

The Mexican note was dated May 1. News dispatches from Mexico City said yesterday that an agreement, understood to involve the delivery of Mexican oil to Sinclair interests, had been reached.

The Mexican note said the Sinclair interests "represent approximately 40 per cent of the investments of American interests in the oil industry." New York financial circles estimate that Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of New York, and the Sinclair group investments are valued at $200,000,000, of which only approximately $16,000,000 is owned by the Sinclair group.

The Mexican note promised that similar settlements would be made with the other American oil companies whose properties had been expropriated.

Long Delays Charged
General Hay charged, however, that long delays had resulted from obstructionist tactics by the American.

Lee M'Connell Enters Contest For Congress

Lee M'Connell, Pampa grain and oil man, yesterday announced his candidacy for congressman for the seat now occupied by Marvin Jones who was recently appointed judge of the U. S. Court of Claims.

In a statement released yesterday, Mr. M'Connell said: "I believe in the sales tax as the most fair and equitable means of taxation. Many people have asked me, my stand on the present governor's race. My frank statement is that the present governor, W. Lee O'Daniel, will be high man in the coming democratic primary with a lead of a minimum of 50,000 votes over the next opponent."

Mr. M'Connell said that he was opposed to intervention in any foreign war, definite, will limit itself to announcing for the office, and the first to announce from Pampa.

The American Legion hut was filled yesterday morning with visitors to Pampa's first doll show in which 176 dolls of all sizes, ages and description were entered. Winners in 12 divisions were given prizes. Judges were Mrs. Gene Fatheree, Mrs. L. J. McCarty and C. T. Hightower.

There were dolls entered by women and children and even two or three boys. The show was sponsored by the Pampa Recreation council with Jim Edwards, supervisor, in charge.

The most beautiful doll, Rosemary Jarneyson, and the judges had a hard time picking this one, but Pampa seems to prefer blondes, the one chosen being a gorgeous blonde with blue eyes, wearing a dotted Swiss dress; The most patriotic, Joyce Foster, a justy little fellow in patriotic costume carrying a flag, representing young America; The ugliest, Eleanor Hutchens, the decision was not hard to make in this division, the Hutchens doll was a doll sent to them from British Honduras, the face was carved out of a Cashew nut.

May 19 Selected As "I Am American" Day

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt today redesignated Sunday, May 19, as "I am an American day" and urged that it be observed as a "patriotic occasion in recognition of our citizens who have attained their majority or who have been naturalized within the past year."

Bulter Blasts Away At Welles, War, British, Foreign Investors

Blasting away at the "diplomatic racket" and deriding "dumb clucks" who swallow the glittering generalities of political speeches, Major General Smedley Darlington Butler, U. S. M. C., Ret., smashed home his message to 1,000 Pampanos in an address Friday night at the high school auditorium.

In language as straight-forward and cutting as a marine's bayonet, General Butler said America should stay in its own yard, mind its own business, and take every precaution not to be entangled in the European war.

Vividly summarizing the theme of his entire speech the fighting Quaker pictured a boy asleep at night in his bed, of how parents "liked that hollow at the back of his head." "Then you strike a match in his room and look at him. Imagine that light is from a star shell and you see your boy hanging on a barbed wire entanglement."

"They talk about protecting our interests. I say, those three boys of mine are my interests," the general said. He lashed those who would have Americans dying in Mongolia in another war, and said any American citizen who had to have investments abroad that he wanted someone else to protect. "Why doesn't he invest his money here?" demanded the general. In this connection he mentioned the reference to himself as having "protected interests" in many foreign countries and said these "interests" should have done the job themselves.

General Butler attacked the trip abroad of Sumner Welles, saying he

Texas Demos Show Strong FDR Support

Strong Roosevelt support appeared last (Saturday) night as Texas Democrats in precinct conventions balloted, in effect on whether the president or Vice President Garner will be the party nominee.

Delegates at the thousands of miniature conventions were instructed how to vote at forthcoming county conventions, which, in turn, will send instructed or uninstructed delegates to the state convention at Waco on May 28.

The Waco convention will determine Texas' stand for the party nominee at the National Convention in Chicago.

In Dallas County, the heaviest populated area yet reported, Garner led a slight lead, 2 to 1 in the selection of delegates with many precincts unreported.

At Beaumont and Port Arthur in Eastern Texas, Roosevelt held better than a 3 to 1 lead, getting 310 delegates to Garner's 100. The county had heard from only half of its precincts, however.

Travis county, where Austin, the state capital, is located split on the instructions. Nine precincts adopted a so-called harmony delegation, which means the delegates are instructed for Garner but pledged not to participate in any stop-Roosevelt move. Six Travis precincts favored Roosevelt and four favored Garner outright.

At Fort Worth heavy Garner support appeared. In the first 33 precincts the vice president got 210 delegates. Twelve precincts instructed their delegates to support the president for a third term, but the numerical strength of delegates was but 170.

In the rural areas where the president showed more strength, county conventions will be held throughout the state Tuesday.

McLennan and Bell counties showed heavy Roosevelt support. McLennan county, of which Waco is county seat, instructed 95 delegates for Roosevelt, 66 were uninstructed and no precinct had instructed for Garner. Roosevelt got three of the first five Bell county precincts and the other two were uninstructed.

Nazis Claim Planes Sank Battleships

Chamberlain To Be Bombarded By Parliament

BERLIN, May 4 (AP)—Germany has claimed that at least 98 British naval ships have been "sunk, destroyed or set afire" by Nazi air and naval action and mines in the eight month period from Sept. 3, 1939 to May 3, 1940, an unofficial compilation showed tonight.

BERLIN, May 4 (AP)—DNB, the official German news agency, expressed its belief that all hands were lost in what is officially described as the sinking of a 30,000-ton British battleship of the Queen Elizabeth class off Namoros.

Such a battleship normally carries more than 1,100 men.

(By The Associated Press)
The highly fortified western front, where many believe the European war eventually must be fought out, got a new measure of world attention today (Sunday) as the French reported they had turned back in disorder a "quite important" German surprise attack on a broad sector of the Saar river area.

This large action, the first of its kind reported in weeks, gave rise at once to speculation on whether the Nazis might be feeling out Allied strength there in the wake of the Allies' defeat in Norway.

The French report on the fight said it took place on Friday night and was accompanied by artillery fire to both sides in the Moselle and Blies river sectors.

Livening up of the western front came as Nazi Germany, already flushed by triumph in Norway, lauded her enemies further with claims that she definitely had proved the efficiency of her great air arm against power on the sea.

Challenging Britain's long rule as mistress of the sea, the Germans said their dive bombers had sunk a British battleship of the 30,000-ton Queen Elizabeth class in three minutes off Namoros, Norway.

"Fantastic" Reply British
Nazis went on to claim a total of nine British warships or transports were sunk or badly damaged by air attack as the Allies strove to transport their withdrawing forces out of central Norway.

These claims for the power of the Nazi air force, however, were met by British sources that they were "of the fantastic character to which the public is fast becoming accustomed."

In Berlin Air Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, seconded man of the hour in the Norwegian blitzkrieg, proudly announced the sinking of the battleship by air bombardment—a feat which he and Adolf Hitler had charged the German air force in Norway to achieve at any cost.

Beside the battleship the Germans said British losses included a heavy cruiser of the class of the 2,500-ton York, sunk in 30 minutes; but heavy bombers, a second cruiser and two destroyers bombed and damaged, and a 12,000-ton transport sunk, all off Namoros, plus a battle cruiser, a cruiser and a

Ways To More Perfect Life

Noted educator at recent teachers' convention made two suggestions: (1) Teach children in such fashion that they may keep an open mind through life and (2) insist on their getting sustaining food at lunch time. Good ideas. An open mind and an open mouth, are two things that children should be able to shut on something solid.

of its success as a banking institution.

The bank is opening with a capital stock of $75,000 and $16,000 surplus and undivided profits paid up, an amount in excess by $30,000 of the amount required by law for a bank in a city of the population of Pampa, it is reported.

By reason of the bank's membership in the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, all deposits made with the new bank will be insured under the terms and provisions of the National Banking laws regarding insured deposits, the same as any other member bank of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation.

After notification from Austin that its charter had been approved and from Washington that its application for membership in the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation had been favorably acted upon, the board of directors of the new bank gave the go-ahead order for completion of its new home at the corner of West Kingsmill and North Russell streets. The bank will occupy the building formerly occupied by the De Luxe cleaners.

Remodeling is progressing favorably and the building will be ready for occupancy within the next few days, it was reported yesterday as the first shipment of fixtures arrived.

It is planned to hold a banquet honoring Lee Brady, Texas Banking commissioner, who expects to pay an official visit to Pampa, his first to the Panhandle of Texas, about the time of the opening of the new bank, officials said.

The stockholders of the Citizens Bank and Trust company reside within the city of Pampa. Stockholders, as shown by its charter papers, are:

The companies, the note alleged, "by means of their disposals, have prevented the attainment of a knowledge of the amount of the indemnity, an absolutely indispensable requisite for being able to affect payment."

The note charged the companies were directing their efforts "towards delaying the settlement of the dispute, by which means they have caused serious economic injury to Mexico and to the commercial relations between our two countries—even going so far as to cherish the hope that these differences, which ought not to exceed the bounds of a dispute between their government and a group of private companies, should weaken the bonds of friendship which unite our two peoples."

Suspension of negotiations for a settlement of unpaid services on the Mexican foreign debt and railroads, the Mexican note alleged, resulted from upset international conditions by the campaign undertaken against Mexico by the oil companies, with the aid of certain governments, using, among other means, the boycott to prevent all sales of our oil in foreign countries or else restricting it considerably by the adoption of tariff barriers, especially the so-called quotas, producing an appreciable limitation of the possibilities of payment by Mexico.

General Hays' note said that the Mexican government had always concurred in arbitration questions, when the facts made the case one of arbitration, citing the Clipperton Island case in which an arbitration court awarded that island to France.

The note also cited the Chamizal case which, it asserted, a decision was made in favor of Mexico against the United States but has been awaiting execution since 1911.

"My government," General Hays' note said, "considers that arbitration must not be admitted except when the nation has put into practice in full its rights of sovereignty through the action of its court and the existence of a denial of justice can be proved."

GERMAN

transport bombed (but not sunk) at Narvik.

It marked a new high in Goering's meteoric career, men who know him say he has waited for weeks for just this test as conclusive proof that the German air force can accomplish any task set for it and that it has, in German eyes, "once and for all destroyed the myth of British mastery of the seas."

Today's brief German announcement of the battleship's destruction said it was proceeding on a westerly coast off Namsos yesterday afternoon when the German dive bombers swooped down on it, dropping heavy bombs.

The impression in Berlin was that the battleship was shielding the departure of British troops from Namsos. They embarked Thursday night.

No sooner had the power diver unit reported the feat, to Goering than he hurried to the reich's chancellery to tell Adolf Hitler about it.

The two decided, then, said Berlin reports, to withhold the news until Saturday Stockholm military whether Churchill (British first lord of the admiralty) will have the courage to admit this terrific loss.

Churchill, however, said nothing. "For some time we have been waiting for an opportunity to prove to the world that even a battleship can be sunk by air raiders," said one man in the know today.

General Eduard Milch, secretary of state in the air ministry, went personally to Norway with orders from the fuhrer and Goering that, if and when the hour for the test came, a battleship must be sunk, come what may.

"We are simply amazed, ourselves, that the experiment succeeded without so much as a single loss for us. Action died down in war-ridden Norway except in the area around Trondheim. Stockholm military experts predicted the next move of the Germans, now 100,000 strong in Norway, would be a push toward Narvik.

Reports from there said the Allies were closing in on a weakened German force and that Allied naval vessels were bombarding them.

There were slight indications that the Allies might be planning further strong military action in Norway.

London unofficial military sources declared Britain "will continue fighting in Norway with great vigor."

The French war ministry declared Allied forces were besieging between 3,000 and 4,000 Germans at Narvik. This followed a previous assertion that French "blue devils" had gone to Narvik. It was not made clear whether they had been transferred there from points abandoned in central Norway.

All Britain was engrossed with the question of whether the Chamberlain government could survive the debacle of Allied arms in central Norway.

Criticism Biting

Anxiously aware that military disaster has unseated more than one government, Prime Minister Chamberlain threw his waning political strength into the task of guiding his regime through the wreckage of the Norwegian campaign.

Biting criticism by laborites, liberals and insurgent conservatives forced the aging prime minister to get ready for a real battle in the house of commons Tuesday. He faces an outcry of "resign" as penalty for the failure in Norway.

The demand for the resignations of Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Simon and Air Minister Sir Samuel Hoare, as voted by Herbert Morrison, powerful labor party spokesman, was piled on top of bitter criticism of "complicity" and "oversatisfaction" on the part of the government.

Combined, these attacks are expected to take the form of a drive to overthrow the present government.

Italy, at first indifferent, sat up and took notice of the big Allied Mediterranean war fleet concentrated at Alexandria.

A sharp warning was voiced by Virginia Gayda, Mussolini's editorial mouthpiece, that if the Allied fleet assembled boded ill for Italy it would find Italy "prompt and strong."

Italy got on with her preparation for anything that might come. The official gazette said the war ministry had received an extra 8,000,000,000 lire ($400,000,000) for "extraordinary expense."

Mediterranean countries grew more tense.

At Salonika, Greece, which would be a strategic prize in any Mediterranean war, it was reported strong units of the British fleet are in the Aegean Sea off the eastern coast of Greece.

Further Allied fleet units arrived off Alexandria. Egypt ordered general war exercises and a week's blackout.

Britain's ally, France, was having her own political troubles over the Allied withdrawal from central Norway. It appeared almost certain the government of Premier Paul Reynaud would be grilled about it in a secret session of the chamber of deputies.

The Netherlands government began its expected drive against subversive elements at home by arresting 21 persons, one of them a nationalist socialist (Naz) member of parliament.

paced weeks in Norway. But it clearly does not tell all the story.

Leaving aside the effect of the Trondheim episode on the leadership of Prime Minister Chamberlain of England and Premier Reynaud of France, events of incalculable consequence otherwise have been set in train by what happened in Norway. The nerve center of the Allied-German war has shifted back to southeastern Europe and the Mediterranean.

Rome and Il Duce, Mussolini, as the pivots on which the next happenings of major consequence seem destined to turn. The full heat of Allied force-politics has been turned on Italy to induce her to disclose her true role in the conflict.

In the face of a defeat in Norway London and Paris are challenging the Rome-Berlin axis fellowship to a showdown. That they expect quick results to overshadow the Trondheim episode seems obvious.

Chamberlain muzzled his critics on the home front by hinting vaguely at impending greater developments which would prove the futile Allied attempt to save Trondheim to be a mere incident. Reynaud has left defense of Allied war

Butler Sees Two 2nd Cousins Here

General Smedley D. Butler renewed his acquaintance with two relatives who reside in the Panhandle when he was in Pampa Friday.

One of these was a Pampa woman, Mrs. H. T. Hampton, and the other was Walter Darlington of Shamrock.

Both are second cousins of the general, and were among the persons hearing Butler's address Friday night in the high school auditorium.

Sadler Says Sales Tax Is Ballot Issue

SAN ANTONIO, May 4.—There is but one burning issue in this race and that question is, 'How are we going to pay old age pensions, aid for the blind, dependent children and mothers, and how are we going to match teacher retirement funds?' declared Jerry Sadler, speaking here Friday night over a radio network in behalf of his candidacy for governor.

He reiterated that on the day he announced, he had presented a tax program—24 cents a barrel on oil, 1 cent per thousand cubic feet on natural gas, an increase of 22 cents a ton on sulphur and an advance in the corporation franchise tax and then the speaker continued:

"I didn't have to send up any trial balloons to see what my tax program would do. It wasn't necessary to smoke Jerry Sadler out. I didn't have to wait and see what all the other candidates for governor were saying before I knew what I would advocate."

"I told you how much money these taxes would raise and how they would be allocated—how much for pensions, how much for the teachers and other obligations. Others have seen fit to follow in my footsteps and I am most grateful because it shows that we are right and that they are trying to climb on the bandwagon."

"Since the time that I announced that program—a program which is being opposed by all the vested interest crowd—we have been treated to some very unusual sights in Texas. The sales tax crowd became confused. To put it plainly, they got downright scared. They ran from one city to another and from one skyscraper to another and they said, 'My Heavens, what are we going to do with Sadler? He is on the side of the average citizen and it looks like his program is too definite and plain.'"

"Then we were treated to the sight of another candidate entering the race with a sugar-coated tax plan known as a 'gross receipts tax of one-half of one per cent.' This was just a little softer than the gigantic 'transaction tax.' But they are both sales taxes. They are both a tax on meat, bread, gingham dresses, overalls and work shoes. And so now the issue is drawn."

BUTLER

"suspected" his mission as one that might involve us in war, and called Welles' attitude in "nothing to say" to the American people concerning his trip as "infernal insolence."

"The idea of his not telling us when he went over there for," commented the general, "when we're paying his expenses."

He commented further on a rumor that the president had sent Welles abroad to see if he could sit in on the peace treaty ending the present war, so "he could have plazas and streets named for him." Result of this, according to the rumor, was that America could have nothing to say about the treaty without being a belligerent in the present war.

Claims Racket Going On
"It doesn't make sense," summarized the general's opinion of "playing both ends against the middle" exemplified by the sale of airplanes, munitions, and scrap iron from the United States to Japan, then loaning China money so they can be targets "we can sell more airplanes, munitions, and scrap iron."

"We don't care who wins—we want to sell goods," was the general's opinion of American's attitude.

He enumerated the blessings of America: that American parents could sit down with their sons about them under their own roof and have the Bill of Rights to protect their liberties. This scene of peace he contrasted with war defining the latter as an infernal racket.

Scores British
The British way of fighting, and Anglophiles, drew fire from the general's attack.

"Any nation that has 'week-end' in its vocabulary is on the way out. The British don't know how to fight a war. There aren't any rules in war. This is war, not a knitting society of women discussing birth control. The English cannot always holler 'it isn't cricket' if they lose and the other side 'didn't fight fair.' "If we sent them over a lot of rifles they wouldn't know what to do with them. They'd probably go grouse-shooting."

"This bird Hitler thinks all the time. I wonder what the British would say if the Germans were marching in London sticking bayonets into English women and children just what their cry of 'cricket' would get them then."

Scores Anglophiles
Turning his attack on Americans who still regard themselves as English, he hurled sarcasm at those who listen to English speakers in this country who say the time is "also your fight" and try to include the United States as a British dominion.

He mentioned the visit of the king and queen of the British empire to the United States and in mimicry showed how many Americans gaped openmouthed when their majesties came here.

"They're a nice little couple, even if they don't know what it's all about, but the idea of Americans being awed by them when we know they came over here to borrow money."

Mentions President's Power
Taking up means of preventing war, Butler said he had often hoped the U. S. would have a president who couldn't write, one who would not simply say "I hate war" like "I hate smallpox," and a president who would exercise his right as commander-in-chief to refuse to call out the army and navy on declaration of war over his veto, when the majority of Americans were opposed.

He emphasized that he referred to a war outside the United States, and said Americans need have no fears of not being able to raise an army if this nation were invaded.

"We did a pretty good job of it back in 1917-18, with four million men. Now these men can still fight; maybe they can't march very far but they can still shoot sitting down. "When you have your home and your wife and children to protect, you'll learn how to fight fast enough."

U. S. Navy World's Best
In the questions asked the speaker following his address, these statements were among those made by the general:

"The U. S. navy is the best in the world; America has let its coast defense decline and these should be put in order; the Monroe Doctrine was simply a political maneuver and not a doctrine at all, and was used as a pretext to get the French out of Mexico after the American War Between the States."

White Master of Ceremonies
Introduction of the speaker was by Dan Williams, Pampan who served in the 13th regiment of marines, commanded by Butler, during the World War. Introduction was by Paul D. Hill, chaplain of the Kerley-Crossman American Legion post. County Judge Sherman White was master of ceremonies and introduced 11 persons who were seated on the stage, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Butler of Eastland, in the auditorium. The Eastland man is a brother of the major general.

Office on Stage
Seated on the stage were Lou J. Roberts, Berger, American Legion departmental commander for Texas; Charlie Maisel of Phillips, former Pampan, 18th district American Legion commander; and the following Pampan:

A. D. Monteith, grande chef de gare of the 40 and 8; Mrs. Hupp Clark, 18th district Legion auxiliary president; E. J. Kenney, ninth district Veterans of Foreign Wars commander; Mrs. E. J. Kenney, president of the district VFW auxiliary, Ray F. Barnes, vice-commander

Dr. Gilliland Writes Paper On Preventing Ills

Editor's Note: The following is the ninth in a series of articles by Pampa physicians, prepared in connection with the local observance of National Hospital day, May 12. "Preventive Medicine" is the title of this article, written by J. O. Gilliland, M. D.

Each year people in the United States are becoming more conscious of preventive medicine, and are requesting of their doctors much oftener than formerly. However, it could and should be practiced much more extensively, as many diseases are much easier prevented than cured; also there is less expense, both from the cost of medical care and the cost of lost time, to say nothing of the suffering prevented.

Many of what were in the past dreaded plagues, are now diseases seldom seen, such as smallpox, typhoid fever and diphtheria. This has been brought about mainly by the use of vaccines and serum to produce immunity.

Each child by the time he is 18 months old, should have been immunized against diphtheria, whooping cough, smallpox and typhoid fever. There is also immune serum for tetanus, scarlet fever, measles, and several other diseases not commonly seen in this country.

One of our most effective means of prevention of serious disease is by giving regular periodic examinations. Many conditions which can be discovered during a routine examination can be easily corrected or prevented from becoming serious when found in the early stages.

Many diseases give no early symptoms or only very vague ones, that the patient pays no attention to. Among serious diseases of this nature may be included kidney disease, heart disease, cancer, syphilis, tuberculosis, anemia, and others. The periodic examination is important for all ages, but especially so for people over forty, because the older we get the more apt we are to develop organic disease.

The scope of this article is inadequate to cover but a small part of preventive medicine, but if the above recommendations should be carried out intensely and thoroughly, much illness and suffering would be prevented and our life span would increase proportionately, and old age would be much more comfortable and pleasant to contemplate.

Legion Convention Will Begin Friday

Street Cleaner To Become A Bishop

By ROGER GREENE
NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—On Sunday, to the strains of Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus," a 38-year-old Brooklyn street cleaner will swap his white wings cap for a gleaming mitre and be consecrated as a full-fledged bishop of the Church of God.

On week days, he will continue his broom pushing in the Brownsville section where he has swept the streets for the last 12 years.

The new supreme authority over 400 Italian-speaking Protestant churches is the Rev. Eustachio Paolucci, an Italian-born immigrant who came to the United States in 1915 and worked successively as a bootblack and newsboy before joining the department of sanitation.

"Why shouldn't a bishop clean the streets?" the smiling, dark-eyed preacher asked.

"The apostle Peter was fishing when God called him. Peter didn't have to attend any seminary to win spools. He fished, and I clean streets—happily and proudly, glad that what I have I earn. It gives me spiritual strength, for I know street cleaning is useful, worthwhile work."

Paolucci, whose name means "little Paul" in Italian, has been pastor of the Church of God in Brooklyn for several years, with his wife as his Sunday school superintendent. He has two children, Viola, 12, and Anthony, 11.

His authority will cover Italian-speaking churches of the denomination all over the United States, South America, Italy and Canada.

Bishop Lucey To Speak Over KPDN May 12

Robert E. Lucey, bishop of Amarillo, will be the first speaker in a series of radio addresses over KPDN, in connection with the observance of National Hospital day, May 12. Bishop Lucey will speak from 12:30 to 1 o'clock this afternoon on the subject "The History of Hospitals."

Listed for 6:15 to 6:30 p. m. tomorrow is a proclamation to be read by Mayor Fred Thompson.

The program for the remainder of the week, 6:15 to 6:30 o'clock each evening is:

Tuesday, "Your Hospital and Mine," Miss Nina Williams.

Wednesday, "What Hospital Should Mean To You," Mrs. Carmen Kempton.

Thursday, "Helping Folks Get Well," Miss Jarrell Franklin.

Friday, "Hospitals of Yesterday and Today," Mrs. W. H. Robbins.

Saturday, "Health Heroes," Mrs. W. L. Gilbert, LeFors.

In addition to the radio programs, other parts of the observance will include an exhibition by Mrs. Floyd Ward of a film showing a Caesarean operation, to be presented at 2:30 o'clock at the civic club room for the Child Study club, and the short subject motion picture, "A New Day," sponsored by the U. S. Public Health Service and the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

The picture is to be shown at the LaNora on Friday and Saturday.

Move Under Way To Aid Hapless Allies

By ANDRUE BERDING

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Officials here say they detect signs of a gradually increasing sentiment for lifting or lessening the credit restrictions of the neutrality act in order to help the Allies.

"They all agree, however, that no attempt from any direction will be made to change the act during the present session of congress.

Letters coming into the state department and other signs indicate the officials said, that a movement may get under way in the United States to help the Allies through the extension of credit. This is now forbidden both by the neutrality act and by the Johnson act.

Demands for lessening credit restrictions have also come from producers of certain agricultural products. The Allies say their restrictions on purchases of such products are due to a desire to conserve foreign exchange.

Estimates vary between $5,000,000,000 and $8,000,000,000 as to the amount of gold, foreign securities and foreign credits the Allies have at their disposal. Informed observers believe the Allies' supplies of cash will hold out at least until the end of 1941. Hence there is no hurry in considering the possibility of revising the neutrality act and repealing the Johnson act.

There is no foundation for the belief that there is hot lightning and cold lightning, and that the latter will not start a fire.

Monday Dollar Day Price $1.00

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—An informed source said tonight that the Consolidated Oil corporation had agreed to accept 20,000,000 barrels of oil and $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 in cash from the Mexican government for expropriated properties in Mexico. The cash would be paid over a three-year period.

This information was made known after a day-long conference between Harry F. Sinclair, chairman of the corporation, and Mexican Ambassador Francisco Castillo Najera.

Sinclair authorized the following statement:

"We have concluded an agreement with the Mexican government providing for a settlement between the government and our corporation, acting for Mexican Sinclair Petroleum corporation, Sinclair Pierce oil company, S. A., Compania Terminal de Lobos, S. A., and Stanford and Company."

The next step in the Mexican program was believed to be an effort to reach an agreement with the Cities Service corporation, leaving the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and the Richman Oil corporation (Standard Oil Co., of Calif.), isolated in the dispute.

LONDON, May 4 (AP)—The independent newspaper Sunday Pictorial today prominently displayed an article by David Lloyd George, Britain's World War prime minister, denouncing the direction of the current war as "futile, feeble, and foolish."

"Leaders of democracy have utterly muddled their case and it will certainly be lost if there is not an immediate change in direction," Lloyd George asserted in the article, which occupied the entire front page of the pictorial.

"The British parliament must take the situation in hand immediately. If they fail to do so without delay they will be guilty of high treason to the nation."

"The war direction must be drastically reconstructed in organization and in personnel, otherwise disaster is inevitable."

Twenty six American women volunteers are in active service on France's "home front." They are members of "The American Friends of France," headed by Anne Morgan (left, above), sister of the late J. County Purchases Weather Bureau Lot

Purchase of a tract, 100 x 75 feet in plot 173, suburbs of Pampa, on which is situated building in use as a weather reporting station of the United States Department of Agriculture, was ordered by the county commissioners at a meeting held Friday.

County Treasurer W. E. James was authorized to pay the Pampa Chamber of Commerce $1,893.94.

At the same meeting it was ordered to transfer $2,500 from road and bridge fund, the amount to be re-transferred to road and bridge 2 as soon as funds are available.

A second land purchase ordered, in addition to the suburban tract, was to buy 19.11 acres, of which 15.92 is in section 12, and 3.19 in section 9, of the Rockwall County school land.

Consideration is $2,510 for the land, which is to be used in conjunction with the Soil Conservation service in the construction of Lake McClellan and operation of the park.

Selection of the two was made Saturday afternoon after County Superintendent W. B. Weathered and the Laketon board of trustees had interviewed a score of applicants. Members of the Laketon board are Lawton Hoffer, chairman, Ben Lockhart, and R. E. Caldwell.

The new teachers will begin their duties at the start of the 1940-41 school term. Present term of the Laketon school will expire May 17.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—The stock market tumbled in an irregularly lower range today as traders lightened commitments as a precaution against unexpected war developments over the week-end.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues closed unchanged at 49.8 and, on the week, showed a net loss of 2. A month ago the composite stood at 51.4 and a year ago at 45.5.

Transfers amounted to 316,850 shares, smallest for a two-hour session since March 2.

The steel group did fairly well for a time as forecasts were heard of an upturn in next week's auto operations. U. S. steel ended off 1/4, and Bethlehem down 1/8.

Douglas Aircraft was the only aviation stock to emerge ahead. It was up 1/4. Boeing was down as much as 3/4. Glenn Martin, Eastern Airlines and American Airlines also backed away.

Other losers as much as a point or more included General Motors, Du Pont, U. S. Rubber common and preferred, Great Northern, Philip Dodge International Paper, Loft, Consolidated Edison and International Nickel.

Unchanged to up a shade were Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Johns-Manville, Texas Corp., Kennecott, American Telephone, Hayes Mfg and Consolidated Oil.

Bonds and Commodities were uneven.

In a ragged curb collar patent file arms, National Container and Glenn Alden Cowl edged forward while minor declines were noted for Bath Iron Works, Electric Bond & Share, Brewster Aero and Phoenix Securities. The turnover here approximated 117,000 shares.

Our Sales are Swell—and so are the deals your Buick dealer is making!

What to do when the bug bites you!

Buick prices $895* for Business Coupe (illustrated)

FIGURES show that about one out of every five able-to-purchase new-car buyers really want a Buick more than any other car.

Not all will buy one.

Too many of them without even getting actual figures will shake their heads and sigh, "Nope! A car that big and handsome must be out of my reach!"

You'll be smarter than that, we know.

When the bug to own a Buick bites you, you'll figure that a car as talked-about as Buick must be looked at first—if you're going to have anything to go on in judging 1940 values.

You'll realize it doesn't cost a cent to find out how one feels under their own hand and what the delivered prices are.

So you'll walk in, please, to the nearest Buick dealer and boldly say:

"Let me have a good look at that car that's showing the rest of 'em what modern style is."

"Let me try out that big straight-eight engine that's electrically balanced after assembly for smoothness to match a wrist watch's works."

"Show me those big soft coil springs you talk about and how they smooth out that rough stretch down the street—and what's the business about recoil-mounted Knee-Action, heaviest frames at the price, five-foot front seat room in SUPER models, and six dozen new 1940 features?"

When you've got the answers through a good long ride—ask one more question: "How much?"

Current prices start at $895* for the business coupe, delivered at Flint, Mich. To this add transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), and optional equipment and accessories—though there will be few such "extras" you'll need.

That totals up to low delivered prices that are often only a few dimes more a day than on cars in the lowest-price class—so why hesitate or haggle?

When the bug bites you, get the facts—and you'll get a Buick and be happy!

Oilers Win Second Game; Third Tiff Today

Lohoe's Ace Hurler Will Pitch Today

The Pampa Oilers and the Lamesa Lobos will finish their current series this afternoon when they play a single game beginning at 3 o'clock, at Road Runner park. Gus Hallbour is scheduled for mound duty for the Oilers, opposed by Lefty Lucas, ace of the Lobos staff.

On Monday night the Lubbock Hubbers will open a two-game series. They will be followed by the Clovis Pioneers who will end their stay on Friday night.

Phil Potter, Pampa, closer left fielder, put on his hitting clothes again last night to lead the home team to a 9 to 2 win over the Lamesa Lobos. Potter singled on his first try to the plate and then hit two home runs over the deep right centerfield fence on his next appearances.

Akers, Malvica and Adams combined to make three double killings to nip rallies. Lamesa pulled two quick killings. Akers was the fielding light of the game with five put-outs and four assists without an error. Malvica handled seven chances but again came up with a couple of juicy errors when he let the ball play him instead of him playing the ball.

The Oilers opened the scoring in the second inning on three hits and three walks. Potter homered for another in the third and in the fifth he hit one over with Slets on the bag. From then on the Oilers had things their own way.

Rex Dilbeck pitched great ball for the Oilers until his sore arm forced him to retire. Rice, just secured from St. Joseph, Mo., finished. He gave up three hits, walked two and struck out three.

The side arm delivery of Lamesa's Misco was duck soup for the Oilers. Pined, who relieved, was much more effective.

DEANNA GROWS UP

A grown-up Deanna Durbin is seen in her seventh Universal picture, "It's a Date," showing at the LaNora Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Deanna and screen boy friend, Lewis Howard, are seen, above. Plot moves from Broadway to Maine and Hawaii, with Deanna as the daughter of Kay Francis and the two in pursuit of a stage role and a young blonde apple king (Walter Pidgeon). Soups of seven people are represented in the musical score, among them the popular ballad by Tomlin and Tobias, "Love Is All." "Loch Lomond" and "Rhythm of the Islands."

Only 37 More Days Until Fiesta Opens

Come 37 more days and unquestionably the greatest show ever staged in the Texas Panhandle, the $100,000 Coronado Curato Centennial Entrada, will have its Texas premiere in Pampa.

For it's not quite six weeks until June 13, the opening day of the Top O' Texas Fiesta.

In that time, Pampans will build floats for the parade which will go commercial this year; they will assemble a cast of 750 for the Entrada. They will advertise the Entrada in Pampa and advise urge residents of Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas to "see it in Pampa first!" Several thousand residents of the Coronado country through West Texas and New Mexico rehearse major pageants and presented a dozen Coronado festivals mirroring the romance of the Indian.

The Bernalillo exhibition is being completed as an $80,000 project that includes in addition to the museum permanent exhibits, a botanical garden, and restoration of the Kuaava Ruins, identified as the ancient Tiguex village where Coronado spent two winters.

The first block of Coronado "entradas" on which rehearsals are set for casts of 500 to 600 will be presented in Albuquerque at New Mexico University stadium on May 29 through June 1; at Clovis on June 5-6; at Pampa, Texas on June 13-15; at Raton on June 22-23 and at Santa Fe on June 28-30.

The rehearsals begin May 6 at Clovis, May 20 at Pampa, May 27 at Raton and about June 1 at Santa Fe. Meetings at which the casts have been set up have been held in all of these towns.

The Navajo vocational school at Fort Wingate, old outpost for the United States Army near Gallup in the Indian war, celebrates the Coronado year with its fifth annual exhibit on May 2-4. In addition to the display of Indian arts and crafts, Charley Turquoise, famous medicine man, will make sand paintings and Indian youth will dance each night, giving pueblo as well as Navajo ceremonies.

An Aztec tribal dance, Coronado events, a penitente procession and the Santa Fe Fiesta build a background for the frontier era depicted with Irish, Bohemian, Swedish and German folk dances and the finale around a Maypole showing the mingling of the Southwestern heritages.

being forced wide rounding the stretch turn.

It just missed the place by a nose. He was in third place by a length over the half-form "senior boy" Charles S. Howard's Moland; while the rest of the field of eight—Charles T. Fisher's Sirocco, Joseph E. Widener's Roman, Harold S. Clark's Royal Man, and the mid-running Marylander, William L. Braun's Pector, trailed in that order.

Although run on a fast racing strip and in warm sunny weather, which had smiled its way in for the bluegrass classic after a four-day touch of winter in Derbytown, Gallahadion's time of 2:36 was the slowest since Omaha came bunting home first in 1935, on an off track, Omaha, incidentally, is a cousin of today's winner.

No accurate check of the tremendous crowd, which jammed the grandstand and clubhouse, choked the picture of the clubhouse level, and packed all the front of the infield grass, was available immediately.

In the press box, the "experts" estimated some 75,000 to 80,000 saw the show. But the "experts" had climbed all the way out on the limb in picking Bimelech to win, virtually unanimously so that they weren't too sure about this.

The winning warrior, a $72.40 for $2 shot in the mutuels, springs from a long line of as fine racing stock as you can find. His granddaddy, the side of his dam, Countess Time, was Reigh Count, who won the derby back in '28 on a muddy track. His daddy, Sir Gallahad III, sired Gallant Fox, winner of the "triple crown" of Derby, Preakness and Belmont, in '30. Omaha "triple crown" winner in 1935 was Gallant Fox's son.

Huge Army Planes Damaged In Landing

McCOMB, Miss., May 4 (AP)—A series of landing accidents in the third army's huge maneuvers today damaged three pursuit planes and so badly wrecked the undercarriage of a transport that twelve C-33 transports had to be landed before it panicked to earth.

No one was injured and it was believed all four ships would be repaired in time to take part in the war games which began today and will move into high gear thru Wednesday next week.

The accident occurred as the ships, en route from Selfridge Field, Mich., sought a landing at the McComb airport which had been turned into the air base of the "blue" forces in the maneuvers.

Lieutenant J. M. Joplin brought the C-33, the transport whose base is at San Antonio, Texas, to rest in a field at Georgetown, Miss., 60 miles north of McComb where the wheels and propeller were wrecked when the ship overshot the field and struck an embankment.

Joplin's co-pilot, a Lieutenant Olinger, three sergeants, five corporals, a private and two crew members bailed out over Georgetown.

Major W. R. Taylor, executive officers with the 27 pursuit ships and 13 transports, landed here during the day, blamed the C-33's accident on a "heavy load and a short field."

The transport was one of a group ferrying air corps men from Selfridge Field to McComb.

Three Records Broken At State Track Meet

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—Barrel-chested Ralph Schrimpf, to whom the word "quilt" is foreign, streaked down the stretch here today with an unbelievable spurt that brought the state school boy track and field championship to Highland Park of Dallas in a meet that saw three records broken.

He was in fourth place, 30 yards behind the leading Port Arthur runner in the mile relay when he took the baton from Tommy Winn. He had finished winning the half mile less than an hour before.

But Schrimpf, knowing that it all depended on him—that if Highland Park didn't place in the relay the school would lose the meet—turned on the heat all the way and coming into the home stretch slipped into second place and was gaining on the Port Arthur runner at the finish.

He ran a round 50 second mile. Ralph Wolf, who had upset all predictions to win the 440-yard dash, whirled around the last lap with yards to spare to keep Highland Park in second place and thus captured the 26th annual championship of the Interscholastic League.

Highland Park had 13 points. Tahoka, whose one-man team, Max Minor, looked like he might win the meet alone, finished fourth in the broad jump to give his school second place.

Austin of El Paso finished third with 10 points, Reagan (Houston) was fourth with 7 and Elgin was fifth with 6 1/2 points.

It was the best meet held here in years and was the first in which a record was broken since 1936.

Minor Individual Star—Minor was the individual star, setting a new record in the 220-yard low hurdles that tied the national Interscholastic mark, and winning the 220-yard dash, in addition to his fourth place in the broad jump. He was high point man with 11.

Minor's time in the hurdles was 23.5 seconds, three-tenths of a second under the state standard set in 1933 by Jack McCarraghu of Edison High, San Antonio. It tied the national record set by Oliver of Dayton, Ohio, in 1931.

Port Arthur's relay team set a new record of 3:25.2. This bettered the mark of 3:25.6 set in 1932 by Ablepe. The members of the winning relay team were Lawrence Thorne, Lovelace, Trahan, Warren DeWitt and Harold Bartlett.

Thorne took a long lead in the first lap and never let down. The others ran just as steadily as he did.

The third record set was in the javelin throw. Matthew Butts of San Antonio Tech threw the spear 201 feet, 5 1/2 inches in yesterday's preliminaries to better the old record of 196 feet, 8 inches made by D. C. O'Neill of Yoakum in 1934. He did not surpass the mark today.

Wolf's Win Thriller—Wolf's victory in the 440-yard dash was 21.5 seconds, eight-tenths of a second over the record. In the broad jump he lacked a foot and four inches of equalling first and winning the meet alone.

The real thriller was Wolf's victory in the 440-yard dash, an event in which at least four boys had made better time than the Dallas' boy previous to the meet. Wolf, a football player, with another year of competition in that sport and track, came from the pack at the last turn.

Major W. R. Taylor, executive officers with the 27 pursuit ships and 13 transports, landed here during the day, blamed the C-33's accident on a "heavy load and a short field."

He was fourth there with Leroy Mattingly and Emerick Lebus of Karnes City fighting it out for the lead 10 yards away. Wolf sprinted and as he passed Don Frye of Arlington Heights (Fort Worth), who also forged to the front, he was winning going away.

Wolf's feat gave Highland Park the early lead Coach Floyd Hightower had hoped for.

Jerry Thompson of Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), a star mile runner who had been expected to win this event, had the misfortune of a collision at the first turn with Wilbur Bassett of Amarillo. Bassett went down and stayed there but Thompson got up and ran a great race. He faded in the stretch, however, and finished sixth.

Denzil Kennemer of Iraan, another one-man track team, won the 120-yard high hurdles in near record time but finished fourth in the 220-yard dash. Yesterday he was disqualified in the 100-yard dash because he jumped the gun twice. This was an event he would have been favored to win had he remained in it.

Brady, the 1939 champion, finished in a tie for sixth place with six points.

Other team point totals: Donna Iraan 6; Alejo, Brackenridge (San Antonio) Moran, San Jacinto (Houston), Conroe, Port Arthur, San Antonio Tech, Buckner Home (Dallas) fifth with 6 1/2 points.

Relay Team Batters Unofficial Record

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—Texas university today bettered the unofficial world record for the 480-yard shuttle relay in an exhibition given during the state high school track and field meet here.

The team of Ralph Baggett, Douglas Jacques, Coleman Pack and Boyce Gatewood sped the distance in 59.7 seconds. Last week at the Drake relays University of Southern California set the unofficial record at 59.8 seconds. Texas ran it at the Drake relays in 60.1.

KNOW YOUR BANK

The Logic of Service Charges

A BANK has two commodities to sell—credit and services—and compensation for these is essential if the bank is to operate soundly.

Every service rendered costs the bank money. There are direct expenses such as the cost of the actual time spent in handling checks—examining them to guard against forgery and alteration, sending those deposited to other banks for collection, bookkeeping entries, filing, postage, stationery, forms and records. There are indirect costs such as rent, light, heat, depreciation, salaries, insurance, taxes.

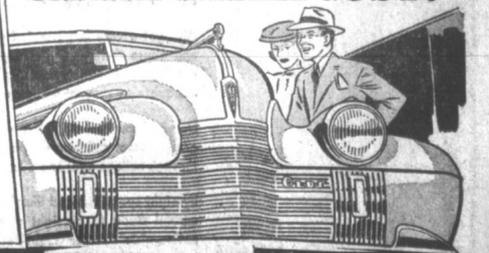

If a depositor's loanable balance is not large enough to produce sufficient earnings to offset the costs of services rendered, then a charge is necessary. This, you will agree, is simply sound business practice.

Massed Choirs Will Present Vesper Musicale This Afternoon At Church

In recognition of National Music Week which is being observed throughout the United States being May 5 and 12, the massed choirs of all churches in Pampa will participate in a Vesper musicale this afternoon in the First Christian church at 4:30 o'clock.

The national music week committee since its inception in 1923 has had as its unspoken goal the assembling of musicians from all walks of life for the purpose of expressing themselves in music.

At the dedication of Solomon's temple, 10,000 such people gathered together to pour out their hearts in song and even before this morning was made in the Bible of the powers of music, when "the reformers sang together." Music is inherent in the great law of the universe and when the medium of music is for expression, it is as though a great spiritual rain had bathed our souls and we are refreshed.

Mr. May Foreman Carr, director of the musicale, pointed out. Beside the special numbers which will be given this afternoon by various artists and groups, the program will combine in singing two numbers, "America the Beautiful," which will be directed by Lester Aldrich, director of the First Methodist choir, and the other, "Adeste Fideles," with Mrs. Carr, director and organist of the First Christian church choir, in charge. Antiphonal singing will feature this part of the program. Singers from the First Baptist church of which Arthur Nelson is director; the First Methodist choir, Lester Aldrich, director; Presbyterian church, First Christian church, May Foreman Carr, organist and director; Episcopal church, and the children's choir of Holy Souls Catholic church, Sister Adelaide, director and Bill Haley, organist, will combine in the rendition of these numbers.

The following program which will last one hour, beginning promptly at 4:30 o'clock is as follows:

Organ prelude, "O Music," Stephens, Mrs. May Foreman Carr; invocation, the Rev. Robert Boshen; hymn, "America the Beautiful," combined choirs with Lester Aldrich directing; solo, "The Builder," Cadman, Turner Tyson, baritone.

Holy Souls school choir with Sister Adelaide directing and Bill Haley, organist; piano and organ duo, a symphonic poem, "The Prelude," Lutz, Ernestine Holmes and Mrs. Carr; anthem, "The Silent Sea," Niedlinger, First Christian church choir, Mrs. Carr, organist and director and Dorothy Dood, Peacock, soprano obligato; solo, selected, J. Wayne Davis, director of First Methodist church choir, at Wheeler; "Adeste Fideles" by the combined choirs with Mrs. Carr as organist and director and Mrs. Fedelia Frantz, Yoder, pianist; postlude, Mrs. Carr, and benediction, the Rev. Louise Lavelle gave a reading, "Who Loved Best," after which Miss Lonnie Lee Stroope read "Mother of Mine" by Kipling. Mrs. E. A. Shackleton's quotation from Martin Luther preceded a discussion of the article, "Mother's Eve Met" written by Dorothy Blake. Taking parts were Mmes. O. H. Ingram, Joe Lewis, John Lawler, W. D. Benton, Guy Farrington, A. B. McAfee, and Norman Walberg.

A poem written by Mrs. Ina Spearman in memory of Mrs. Roy Tinsley, a late member, was presented by Miss Stroope, and Mrs. W. D. Stockstill dedicated James Whitcomb Riley's "Just Away" to the memory of Mrs. Tinsley.

A meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. J. C. Farrington and Mrs. A. B. McAfee, visitors, and Mmes. C. C. Stockstill, W. E. Tolbert, Guy Farrington, Joe Lewis, John Lawler, W. D. Benton, O. H. Ingram, Alice Cockrell, W. D. Stockstill, E. A. Shackleton, Norman Walberg, Ira Spearman, C. A. Tignor, Mae Skaggs, and Miss Donnie Lee Stroope.

NEW LIFE OF LINCOLN SHOWN ON SCREEN

Picture Adapted From Play Of Sherwood Opens At Crown

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON

When the late Heywood Brown had seen Robert E. Sherwood's Pulitzer-prize play, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," he said:

"Here is the living Lincoln whose soul goes marching on."

Pampans will have the opportunity to see the play in its screen version by RKO Radio at the Crown theater where the picture opens a three-day run today.

The picture adheres closely to the stage original which had sensational success on Broadway prior to the road tour of the country.

It thus takes rank as one of the most important pictures ever made and as a brilliant and searching drama of the real Lincoln during his formative years.

The tale opens with Lincoln's arrival at a gangling youth of 21 in the sparsely settled wilds of Illinois, at that time but recently admitted to statehood.

How he becomes a storekeeper and a postmaster, his shy romance with Ann Rutledge, her tragic death in the middle of Lincoln's campaign for the state legislature, and the beginning of his legal and political career, comprise the first half of the absorbing film.

The ensuing sequences deal with his meeting with Mary Todd, his rivalry with Stephen A. Douglas for her hand, his much-disputed filing of the writ for habeas corpus, and the various steps that led to his departure for the White House, to face the coming of the war between states.

The consensus of preview committee opinion was:

"Through the sheer beauty of characterization, the very appearance, voice, wit, humor, mannerisms, and speech of Lincoln in behalf of freedom and the Constitution are those of realism to the beholder; you feel as if you were seeing the fulfillment of the Great Man's life as he reluctantly goes forward to his destiny."

Title role is played by Raymond Massey, Gene Lockhart has the part of Stephen Douglas, Ruth Gordon that of Mary Todd, Mary Howard that of Ann Rutledge.

Tom Lincoln is played by Charles Middleton, Elrah Lincoln by Elizabeth Haden.

Called a "streamlined musical," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Two Girls on Broadway" top bills George Murphy, Lana Turner and Joan Blondell in a story of three hoodlers from Nebraska who paint the Great White Way red. Definition of "streamline musical" is one that offers good music and dancing without letting the story drop dead. At the LaNora Wednesday.

Inspired by the findings of No. 1 G-man J. Edgar Hoover, is Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Parole Fixer," with traffic in paroles given a seething attack in this "shoot-'em-up" melodrama. Outstanding in the cast are Robert Henry as a G-man, Richard Denning, and Lyle Talbot. Virginia Dale supplies the principal romantic interest. On the Rex screen Wednesday and Thursday.

Further glorification of the federal police is shown in Columbia's "Outside the Three-Mile Limit," drama of the Secret Service's pursuit of counterfeiters, with Jack Holt in the leading role. Booked for Friday and Saturday at the Rex.

At the State today and tomorrow comes Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's satire "The Women," adapted from the Clare Boothe play.

It's a sophisticated, breezy comedy, with biting satire on women in general, an elaborate fashion

NEW STAR APPEARS IN WANGER PICTURES

Pat O'Brien and Ruth Terry, new film "discovery," go romancing together while they brush up against scandal in high places during the swift and exciting action of Walter Wanger's latest film production, "Slightly Honorable," opening a three-day run today at the Rex. Story revolves around a paving scandal that causes hundreds of accidents and deaths because highways are built with synthetic materials on contracts awarded to a clique of big-wigs. Adapted from the F. G. Frensel novel.

PICTURE SHOWS NEW LINCOLN

A new biography of Lincoln, showing a part of his life heretofore barely touched, is the RKO Radio picture, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," showing today, tomorrow, and Tuesday at the Crown. Adapted from the Pulitzer Prize play, the picture has Raymond Massey in the title role, Ruth Gordon as Mary Todd, and Mary Howard as Ann Rutledge.

show in technicolor, and also offers a sound kernel of hard common sense and workable philosophy. Norma Shearer, Rosalind Russell, Joan Crawford in featured roles. Virginia Weldler appealing as the bewildered little daughter of separated parents, both of whom she loves.

as Will H. Hays pointed out in his annual report as president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

Positive Achievements
People everywhere have been able to see and hear such artists as Kirsten Flagstad, Heifetz, Lily Pons, Schumann-Heink, Paderewski, Tibbett, Grace Moore, Nino Martini, and Stokowski. And for good measure they have had Deanna Durbin, Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy, Kerry Baker, the D'Oyle-Carte company, Paul Robeson and a whole array of musical comedy stars "with the original company"—no patched up second-string road show. These are positive achievements that have won wide acclaim from music lovers.

Leopold Stokowski made his debut as a film star with Deanna Durbin in "100 Men and a Girl." Apparently he relished the film medium, because he joined forces with Walt Disney in "Fantasia," due next fall, for which the music is supplied by Dr. Stokowski's Philadelphia orchestra.

After composing the score for "The General Died at Dawn" Werner Janssen, the brilliant young American conductor, settled in Hollywood. He is now Walter Wanger's musical director. Richard Hageman, composer of the opera "Caponachi" presented at the Metropolitan Opera, contributed scores for "Hotel Imperial," "Rulers of the Sea" and "Stagecoach." The last named won the "best scoring" award for 1939 from the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

Colonel Church Rides Again

Has anything constructive been accomplished by the grandstand play of Col. Samuel Harden Church in his offer of a million-dollar reward for "bringing Hitler home alive?" One may doubt it, and one may doubt that any similar gestures will do the faintest bit of good in returning the world to sanity.

Church, as head of the Carnegie Institute, has a responsible position. He should know that the United States is at peace with Germany. He should know that a grandstand offer of this kind of a reward for the kidnapping of the head of a nation with which his own is at peace can accomplish nothing valuable, but can do the other hand only add to the world's already over-abundant supply of ill-will.

Church has ridden off in several directions on several horses in the past. The title of colonial attaching to this worker for peace, by the way, descends from a time when he was on the staff of Governor Hoadley of Ohio and won a gift sword for sterling military work in suppressing riots in Cincinnati in 1834.

Church was militantly pro-ally as soon as European war broke out in 1914. As early as 1915, his writings were included in a little book published in England called "Sixty American Opinions on the War" which purported to show "how many friends we have in America." He bitterly assailed Germany as solely responsible for that war, and was not without influence in building the mood that caused the United States to enter it in 1917.

Once the United States was in, Church was pretty implacable. "We are engaged in a bloody and remorseless war with the most pitiless and despicable nation that has ever attacked the peace and dignity of civilization." This high note of raging battle ought to be sounded until... peace is within our grasp and upon our own terms," he wrote.

Church emerged from that war as an officer of the French Legion of Honor. In September of 1938 he was urging that America resolve that it "will never fight again," though in the same breath he assailed Hitler as "the most malevolent and dangerous power on earth." He urged that America keep out of coming war, though all the world should sneer.

Now comes this grotesque demand for a million-dollar international kidnapping. Time will show whether Colonel Church has contributed anything to peace and to his espoused cause of keeping the United States clear of war. But we presume to guess that the war in Europe is now in a stage of bitterness which does not lend itself to settlement by a circle of men evolving hare-brained publicity schemes in the comfortable chairs of Pittsburgh's Duquesne Club.

National Hospital Day

What is National Hospital Day and what is its purpose? It is a day set apart on which the community has an opportunity to become more familiar with its hospitals.

National Hospital Day next Sunday will be observed by the hospitals of Pampa in conjunction with hospitals all over the United States, Canada, and in many foreign countries.

This will be Pampa's second observance of the day, first noted nationally in 1921. May 12 is the date of the observance because this day honors the great English nurse, Florence Nightingale, born May 12, 1820. She is immortal for her contribution to the elevation of nursing and for her work in hospital improvement.

MORAL EFFECTS OF PROTECTIVE TARIFF

The condition we are now in is a natural result that few people yet have realized and understood. There is, of course, a cause for everything. Some 90 years ago, a great philosopher, a great student of justice and of law, Frederic Bastiat, wrote a small treatise on Spoilation and Law.

In pointing out the moral effects of protective tariff, he says: "I do not desire to discuss here the economy of the question. It is generally believed that in advocating free trade we are exclusively influenced by the desire to allow capital and labor to take the direction most advantageous to them. This is an error. This consideration is merely secondary. That which wounds, afflicts, and revolting to us in the protective system, is the denial of right, of justice, of property; it is the fact that the system turns the law against justice and against property, when it ought to protect them; it is that it undermines and perverts the very conditions of society. And to the question in this aspect I invite your most serious consideration.

"What is Law?" "What is law, or at least what ought it to be? What is its rational and moral mission? Is it not to hold the balance even between all rights, all liberties, and all property? Is it not to cause justice to rule among all? Is it not to prevent and to repress oppression and robbery wherever they are found?"

"And are you not shocked at the immense, radical and deplorable innovation introduced into the world by compelling the law itself to commit the very crime 'to punish which is its especial mission—by turning the law in principle and in fact against liberty and property?"

"You deplore the condition of modern society. You groan over the disorder which prevails in institutions and ideas. But is it not your system which has perverted everything, both institutions and ideas?"

"What! The law is no longer the refuge of the oppressed, but the arm of the oppressor! The law is no longer a shield, but a sword! The law no longer holds in her august hands a scale, but false weights and measures! And you wish to have society well regulated!"

"Your system has written over the entrance of the legislative halls these words: 'Whoever acquires any influence here can obtain his share of the legalized pillage.'"

"And what has been the result? All classes of society have become demoralized by shouting around the gates of the palace: 'Give me a share of the spoils!'"

Does not the above describe accurately what has taken place in the United States? The advocates of protective tariff have much to answer for. If they can refute these accusations, they should do so or they should turn and use their moral influence to correct the deplorable condition they have helped bring on the country.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL SEES THE CRUX OF CALIFORNIA'S IMMIGRATION TROUBLE

A news dispatch reports that Principal B. H. Crismer of Porterville Union High school, in the midst of California's "oakies," says a little less aid and help and a little more survival of the fittest will remedy our trouble.

That is all there is to the migrant problem in California, as any student of values and cause and effect well knows. All these Pharisees who pray in public but perturb themselves, constantly complain about private industry advertising for help and bringing people to this State so that they can cut wages and get help cheaper. They thus blame the migrant problem on the private employers.

No, the migrant problem is not a result of the errors of the private employers, many as they have made; but it is a result of these men who are constantly parading their great concern for the poor. It is these men, with their hearts on their sleeves, who have brought about pension laws and assistance, that is screaming to the house tops for all indigents from all parts of the United States, to come here and they will be much better off than they are in any other state in the Union.

These same proclaimers of humanism are also responsible for the artificially high wages in this territory which tends to attract more workers to the territory than the capital of our State will support.

No, it is not the business man who is the fault of the migrant problem. The fault lies squarely in the lap of these self-proclaimed humanists who have brought this condition around.

making such false or misleading statements; there are other penalties for violations of section 12-H of the Utility Act, which prohibits campaign contributions by a holding company or its subsidiary.

On top of that, Union Electric is in a jam with Missouri law, which provides that the corporate charter of a utility contributing to political campaigns may be revoked.

Two former Union Electric officials have been given sentences for perjury, because of false testimony given during the early stages of the SEC probe.

The most recent case was that of Albert C. Laun, former vice president of the company, who entered a plea of nolo contendere.

Before coming up for sentence, Laun spent three days talking to SEC investigators, who asked the court to grant leniency. Court refused, giving him a year in prison and a $4500 fine.

CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS TARGET IN GEORGIA The Union Electric case is similar to the one recently opened in connection with the Georgia Power Company, SEC agents have been investigating to see whether Georgia Power did any campaign contributing. What brought the thing into the headlines is the fact that Georgia Power is a subsidiary of Wendell Wilkie's Commonwealth and Southern Corporation.

Because of Wilkie's prominence in the GOP presidential picture, this brought charges that the whole business was a "smear" proposition. SEC insists it doesn't think Wilkie had a thing to do with what was going on—indeed, anything really was going on—but somehow nobody listened to it much.

R. R. SCHEDULE

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, May 4—Among recent prizes rounded up and brought back from Broadway by movie raiders is a symmetrical dish called Grace MacDonald. I believe that some of these days you are going to see and hear quite a lot of Miss MacDonald. Right now she is too busy to pose for the glamor-camera or to charm the lyricists of lullaby.

She's playing the lead in her first picture, a musical titled "Panic on a Dime." It's the story of a group of youngsters, stranded by collapse of the Federal Theater Project, who live for several weeks in the old Garrick theater in New York and put on a show. Thus the scene, instead of having 200 chorus girls fully arrayed against $200,000 sets, becomes the sort of intimate revue which Hollywood long has believed will lead song-and-dance flickers back into popularity.

REHEARSAL ROOMS ARE MADHOUSE

Such a film, anyway, will make a good showcase for the vaudevillian talents of Robert Paige, Virginia Dale, Peter Hayes, Carol Adams and other up-and-comers who have been assembled by Paramount. The rehearsal rooms are a fascinating madhouse these days as the routines are whipped into shape.

Miss MacDonald, who is something under 20 years and 120 pounds, can dance and sing and act, as has been proven by her successes on the screen. In "Babes in Arms," "One for the Money," and "It's a Wonderful Life" she has shown she is able to act for the camera instead of for the balcony patrons.

She is to decide, but the studio isn't worrying a bit and it hasn't suggested any coaching. The newcomer is relieved about that. She said, "If there's anything I couldn't stand it would be drama lessons from the teachers. All the best actors say that nobody can teach another person to act, and it seems to me that most of the youngsters sound dreadfully diction-conscious on the screen. If I'm ever taught anything, it will be by audiences, and that's why I'm going back to the stage—for part of each year, anyway."

BEGAN DANCING AT SEVEN

You'd think that a girl who began dancing at the age of seven and had come up through night clubs and the stage shows of movie palaces would consider herself pretty well seasoned. But she still has qualms of stage frights. "And I'm a ham at heart," she said. "I really want to act."

At first she was determined to become a great ballerina, but when she was 10, over-exercised put her to bed for a year and a half with some sort of infantile rheumatism. When the doctor said she's never dance again, Grace thought she might as well die. Her brother, Ray, disagreed with both of them. He said, "Let's make a team. You just go out and look cute, and I'll take care of the tapping."

So they did, and pretty soon she was doing her share of the work. And they climbed together until, after "Babes in Arms," Ray broke an ankle and couldn't dance for five months. By that time, their styles and ambitions had drifted apart; he still likes vaudeville and night clubs.

Metro rushed Miss MacDonald to Hollywood last year to test for "Dancing Co-ed." But a stage engagement wouldn't permit her signing the six-months contract the studio required and Lana Turner got the role. She barely had time to make this picture, either, being slated for rehearsals of "Three After Three" in New York. After that show, though, will be seeing more of her.

HOW to EAT to BEAT the HEAT

By ALICE H. SMITH, Nutritionist, Cleveland Health Council

How colorful is your diet? That's a question you'd better look into the next time you order your groceries. There's food value in color.

Science has not come to the point where it thinks the color of a cabbage has anything to do with whether you are blond or brunet, but science is sure it has a lot to do with your complexion, your teeth, your muscles and the luster of your hair.

The colorful diet is the diet contributing most to general good health and body-building. It includes these foods:

- 1. Green, leafy vegetables such as kale, green cabbage, lettuce, chard, mustard and dandelion greens, spinach. Their chief contribution is iron and vitamin A.
- 2. Yellow vegetables and fruits such as carrots, squash, sweet potatoes, apricots and peaches. These too are splendid sources of vitamin A.
- 3. Tomatoes (canned and fresh) and citrus fruits such as oranges, lemons, grapefruits and limes. This group is especially valuable as a dependable source of vitamin C.
- 4. Eggs. They contribute a good quality protein (muscle builder) along with iron, vitamin A and vitamin D.
- 5. Whole grain cereals and breads. These are good sources of thiamin (vitamin B1), iron and phosphorus.
- 6. Cheese and milk. They supply the best quality protein as well as calcium, phosphorus, vitamins A, B, and riboflavin.
- 7. Wheat, including the organs. These are also a rich source of iron, phosphorus, thiamin, and nicotinic acid.

Because these foods contribute most to forming and maintaining healthy bodies, they are called "protective." In addition to the contents mentioned here, they contain smaller amounts of other vitamins and minerals as well as supplying calories.

Finally, a colorful diet stimulates the appetite. Without an appetite no diet does its best work.

STORIES IN STAMPS

Cuba Honors Garcia, Received Famed Message

CUBA marked the centenary of the birth of Gen. Calixto Garcia, hero of the island's revolution, with an issue of two stamps. One, above, shows the general in close-up; the other stamp pictures him on horseback.

The name of Garcia is not world famous because of his exploits in the war against Spain. It was Elbert Hubbard's hastily written "Message to Garcia," inspired by the feat of Lieut. Andrew S. Rowan, that made Garcia's name a household word.

Garcia had been identified with revolutionary movements in Cuba for 30 years before the Spanish-American War. He had been captured, held a prisoner in Spain for 15 years. His fight for independence was identified shortly before war was declared.

Knowledge of Garcia's forces and equipment were needed by American army commanders. Lieutenant Rowan was ordered to inform Garcia that United States had declared war, and to return with full data on Garcia's army. He accomplished his mission, despite danger.

On Washington's Birthday, 1899, Hubbard wrote his "preachment," an editorial that has been translated into all languages. Garcia never read it. The general died in Washington in 1898, while heading a commission sent by the provisional government to confer with President McKinley.

Federation Has 50th Anniversary Jubilee Reception

Special To The NEWS
PANHANDLE, May 4—Bouquets of gold tulips and 50 gold candles in a tier built over the tea table portrayed the golden jubilee motif, when the Carson County Federation of Women's Clubs celebrated the 50th anniversary of the general federation with a golden jubilee tea in the basement of the Methodist church this week. The jubilee motif was further stressed with bouquets of 50 roses.

The committee on arrangements included Mrs. Frank Ford, Mrs. Coe Cleek, Mrs. L. W. Bussey, Mrs. Jack Atkins, Mrs. J. B. Howe, Mrs. George Grout, and Mrs. Charles Franklin.

Heading the receiving line was Mrs. J. W. Walker, the seventh district candidate for the state presidency of Federation of Women's Clubs. Others in the receiving line were Mrs. Otis Walker, J. E. Waggoner, J. S. Spahr, Van Carter, J. Sid O'Keefe, E. H. Grimes, Ben McCreger, Ollie Harrell, Chester Strickland, Misses Evelyn Young, Mary Ruth Evans, and Mary Ewing, presidents of the various federated clubs of the county.

Mrs. Jim McKeaskey presided at the guest book and had charge of the silver offering for the endowment fund. Mrs. J. B. Howe presided at the silver tea service. Miss Mary Ruth Evans played popular music during the social hour. The program which followed included two numbers by the girls choral club, "Oh That We Two Were Maying," and an arrangement of nursery rhymes, directed by Mrs. O. R. Owens and accompanied by Mary Ruth Evans; a piano selection, "My Task," by Miss Hope Bussey; and two numbers by the mother singers, "When Twilight Comes," by McIntyre and "The Glow Worm," by Luncke. Mrs. Coe Cleek directed and Miss Mary Ewing accompanied.

Following the program Mrs. Walker spoke informally on women's club activities. She told of the first club that was organized in New York City in 1868 by Jenny June as a protest against the denial of women to attend a lecture by Charles Dickens. Mrs. Walker listed the following laws which have attributed to the influence of the Federation of Women's Clubs: Pure Food law, Child Labor law, and the Better Motion Picture law.

Mrs. Walker urged women to serve a high ideal if they would achieve a significant life. She concluded by saying, "What have we achieved, if we gain the whole material world, if we fail to achieve real significant living?"

At the request of the audience, Mrs. Walker gave three objectives in her platform for the state presidency of the federation. They are: Economy in disbursing the federation funds; management of the club house; making the state federation a more directing, a more vital force in individual club activity.

At the close of her talk Mrs. John O'Keefe presented gold color tulips to the pioneer club women of the county. Tribute was paid Mrs. F. H. Hill as the pioneer woman of the county. She also represented the Erudite club, which she organized. Other pioneer club women were Mrs. H. R. Pugh, Liberty; Mrs. George Hankins, Friendship circle; Mrs. J. Grimes, Centennial; Mrs. Mary Kuehler, Groom H. D.; Mrs. C. D. Kunkel, Groom Community; Mrs. Marshall King, King Community; Mrs. J. B. Howe, Mother's club.

The meeting was closed with a prayer in song, "Lift Thine Eyes," directed by Mrs. Coe Cleek.

Fiesta Given By Juniors For Miami Graduates

Special To The NEWS
 MIAMI, May 4—One of the most colorful and attractive junior-senior banquets of recent years was held here last night, when the junior class, under the leadership of Miss Sarah Truitt, junior sponsor, entertained the seniors with a Mexican fiesta banquet.

The home economics dining room was converted into a realistic setting from old Mexico by means of pictures, rugs, plants, potters, cigarette girls, and even a balcony for the serenade.

The fiesta colors were carried out in the bright blue, green, orange, and yellow of the decorations, food, and gay costumes. Sleepy Pedro decorated the walls and programs. The freshman and sophomore girls in bright dresses and fiesta aprons served the tables.

On the program were: Keith Kivelien, junior president, Rhidian Talley, LayVene Berry, Jack Osborne, senior president, Supi. M. F. Stephens, Grace Ruth Pennington, Sarah Truitt, junior sponsor. Soft Mexican was contributed through the evening by Billy Cook, Jean Cook, Ione Cell, Ardens Shield, and Carman Hitchcock. In the balcony scene were J. Edwin Carnahan, who sang "Juanita," accompanied by his guitar, and Betty Jo Crowson, who played the Mexican serenade.

The favors were potted cactus for the feminine, and Mexican sombrero ash trays for the masculine, guests.

The cigar girls, Mildred Ann Kivelien, and Betty Hubbard, served mintia from their trays.

Present were: twenty-nine juniors, eighteen seniors, seven high school teachers, Messrs. and Mrs. J. P. Osborne and Art Evans, senior parent-sponsors, and Messrs. and Mrs. Paul Cell and W. F. Locke, junior parent-sponsors, and Mrs. M. F. Stephens and G. B. Rush.

Miss Lola Campbell and Coach G. B. Rush are senior sponsors.

1939 BUICK Century 2-Door Sedan

What we're concerned about is simply this: Let us admire the SIZE and SWIFTESS and SMARTNESS of this trim Buick—and mistakenly decide it's a car you can't afford.

Now this IS an eight— a valve-in-head straight-eight—but it's also a Dynaflex eight, and it gets more good out of every drop of gasoline.

And—best of all for you—prices are the lowest yet because we've spring cleaning now to make way for our trades on the stock of 1940 Buicks on the road.

If you're looking for a bargain, don't pass this BUY!

1938 BUICK Special Coupe

Your Best Friend Should Have Told You—
YOU CAN BUY A BUICK AND SAVE!

That friend of yours we mean who owns a 1938 Buick. He's told you plenty of that smart styling, the ride that's like a lullaby. And then there's the steadiness of those eight eager Dynaflex cylinders ready to hike you straight to the forefront. But—did he tell where he got that Buick and the price he paid—much less than a low priced new car.

Did he tell you of mileage that's more than he thought—the dollars and cents figures that made Buick a car he could afford? Today, more than ever, with far-ranging vacation plans on your mind, you will save by owning this Buick on gasoline, upkeep, and oil.

Without a summer worry, own this Buick right now!

SERIAL STORY

BET ON LOVE

BY CHARLES B. PARMER

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, flush with victory, Paul... The girl began to nod in an absent way...

CHAPTER IX

FIVE seconds after saying "I am" to Theodosia Duncan Bond, Sherry snapped out of the shock of receiving another letter unannounced.

"My dear! You are Uncle Horace's daughter!" "No—stepdaughter. He married my mother—when I was a baby. Adopted me. They're both dead now. Really, I'm no kin, Sheridan."

"Call me Sherry—I'll call you Ted," Sherry spoke warmly and impulsively. This lanky, friendly-looking girl, looking up the only near-relative in town—Sherry hadn't the heart to be other than cordial.

YES, Ted would have tea. During the second cup she said: "I'm going to get a little place. I brought all my furnishings, enough to camp out in New York, you know. I've heard so much about those ducky Greenwich Village apartments."

stopped speaking. The plain girl leaped forward, pleadingly: "Sherry—this is awful—my asking it—we are almost strangers—but please, Sherry—I'll pay my way—let me go racing with you!"

FOR a moment Sherry set mute. Then, "Why—why—you—but it's such a different world!" "I rode broncs in Wyoming," the girl said with more confidence. "I'm teaching only—because—well, it's sure money every month."

IT was a strong and purposeful Ted Bond speaking, not a diffident teacher from the hills. Sherry stepped to a bridge lamp—she could not see her guest's face plainly; shadows of late afternoon lay heavy in the room.

doesn't count. If you were as plain as—as I am, Sherry—" "But you're not plain—you are gorgeously alive!" Sherry answered indignantly.

NOW it was Sherry who walked the floor. She turned quickly on Ted Duncan Bond. "I'm—I'm a fool, I guess. Shouldn't do it—probably mess you up for life—but you're asking for it. And there's something about you I like."

Sherry smiled at her. "I like the way you go straight to the point—no after the things you want in it." "You are going to let me go with you, Sherry?" Sherry chuckled. "You're going to learn about life, my lamb."

War Correspondents Have Soft Job On Louisiana 'Front'

CAMP BEAUREGARD, La., May 4 (AP)—The heated, frozen, bomb-shaken underfed and censored American war correspondents of Spain, Poland, Finland and now Norway would be interested to know that somewhere the sun is shining, and war is different—much different.

That is in Louisiana where 70,000 of Uncle Sam's finest regular army troops now are gathering to begin next week to try to learn in simulated conflict the bitter lessons European troops have been taught in recent years.

The most sheltered correspondents in Europe would sniff in deep disgust at the pampering that Uncle Sam is going to give the Louisiana "war correspondents."

His officers may be going to learn a lot about Hitler's warfare and streamlined machine fighting, but the correspondents are being treated such that they're going to finish the games with some pretty cockeyed impressions if they think real war is like that.
