More than 500 of the 15,000 Pampa residents who attended the opening of Buffalo lake at Umbarger yesterday were from Pampa. The Pampans were recognizable by the hat bands they were wearing.

Miss Norma Hoepfel of Perryton won the bathing beauty contest with the Amarillo entry second, Miss Opel Tedder of McLean placed third. Winners were selected by a panel of judges.

Party Conventions To Be Held Tomorrow

First mark of how the political currents will flow in Gray county this year is expected to be determined when the county conventions of the Republican and Democratic parties are held here tomorrow.

The delegates from the Republican precinct convention have been unopposed as to endorsement of the presidential nominees, as have three known delegations from the Democratic precinct conventions.

Republicans will hold their county conventions at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning at the court house, and the Democrats will convene at the same place at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Returns from three other precincts were reported today: two of them from McLean, precincts 5 and 17. Delegates of precinct 5 to the county convention are C. S. Dooley, Earl Stubblefield, W. W. Boyd, W. E. Boggs, W. T. Wilson, Dan Dean, J. H. Bodine, H. W. Finley, Homer Wilson, and C. A. Greene.

Precinct 17: T. J. Coffey, Winifred Massey, T. N. Holloway, Leigh Fischer, C. A. Craver, D. C. Gardner, Ruel Smith, T. A. Landers, George Colchanks, Sammie Cabane, E. J. Lander, and E. L. Sitter.

These delegates were elected at meetings held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the McLean city hall.

At Kingsmill, delegates elected for precinct 11, were W. D. Varner, Lee R. Franks, Ralph W. Ivy, Carl Smith, and Noah Cude.

More powerful than the gun for crooks is the pen, is the theme of the educational campaign being made by the Bankers Protective association, represented here this week by L. V. Longway, above.

Jack Adkins of Borger, president of the conference, will be in charge of the meeting which will open at 7 o'clock with a dinner. Plans for a coordinated safety drive in the Panhandle will be made after President Adkins names his committee chairman.

Pampans who can make the trip are urged to call the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, telephone 383, and register. A large delegation is being planned because an invitation will be extended to the conference to hold its first annual safety meeting in Pampa during the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute safety week in September.

Every member of the Pampa Safety council and anyone else interested in safety is invited to make the trip. Don Conley, president of the council, said today.

Common sense methods in writing, handling, and cashing of checks will drastically reduce the number of check losses in the United States, in the opinion of L. V. Longway, forgery criminologist of the Bankers Protective association.

Extension Of War To Turkey, Greece Looms

By EDWARD KENNEDY BUDAPEST, May 6 (AP)—Extension of the war to southeastern Europe seemed more imminent today than at any time since the first days of the conflict.

Contributing to the belief of many diplomats that a crisis may be reached this week were the following developments, officially unconfirmed in some cases but given general credence.

1—Turkish troops were reported massing along the Greek and Bulgarian frontiers.

2—German troops concentrations were noted near the Yugoslav and Hungarian frontiers, as well as the shipment of Nazi tanks and water materials into eastern Slovakia, a Reich protectorate.

3—Italian military activity near the Yugoslav frontier and the Dodecanese islands.

4—Appearance of Russian reinforcements in former Poland near the borders of Rutenia, which Hungary obtained in the final dismemberment of Czechoslovakia.

5—Publication of German reports that the Allies are about to land troops in Salonika, Greece.

6—The presence in the Aegean sea of units of an allied battle fleet, now based at Alexandria.

7—A new spy scare in Hungary, resulting in the arrest of 200 persons suspected of working for both France and Russia.

Uneasiness was manifest throughout the southeastern capitals, in a state of high tension for weeks past, and many diplomats, including United States officials, sent pessimistic reports to their governments.

Belgrade verged on a panic for a short time yesterday following a radio announcement that removal of civilians from the city had been recommended by the government.

Fears were allayed, however, when it was explained that the announcement was a misleading rebroadcast of a lecture on air raid precautions.

Germany and Britain, meanwhile, were reported engaged in a diplomatic struggle to obtain assurances of Bulgarian support in event of trouble in the southeast.

Both Dr. Karl Clodius, German economic expert, and Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, British ambassador to Turkey, were known to have conferred with government officials in Sofia.

The nature of Clodius' proposals was unknown, but Sir Hugh was understood to have made Bulgaria a promise of a large British loan and a corridor to the Aegean sea, a thing she long has wanted.

The British plan was reported to include a deal involving Greece and Turkey, already on close terms, whereby the former would cede Bulgaria the Aegean corridor, in return for certain concessions.

Britain's purpose in wooing Bulgaria, Sofia sources said, was to insure a land route for troops to Rumania should the necessity arise.

Government Wins Major Trust Victory

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—The Supreme Court upheld today a decision by the federal district court at Madison, Wis., holding that 12 major oil companies and 5 individuals had violated the Sherman anti-trust act by conspiring to raise the price of gasoline sold in ten mid-western states.

This was one of the major cases brought by the government in its current anti-trust campaign.

Justice Douglas delivered the opinion that reversed a ruling by the seventh federal circuit court which had over-turned convictions obtained in the federal district court at Madison, Wisconsin, and ordered a new trial.

Justices Roberts and McReynolds dissented.

The circuit court had reversed the convictions on the ground that the trial judge had given improper instructions to the jury.

It was held by the circuit court that the jury should have determined whether the acts of the defendants constituted an "unreasonable restraint of trade in violation of the anti-trust law."

The Justice Department maintained that "the district court was correct in charging the jury that, if the defendants combined together for the purpose of raising and fixing gasoline prices in the manner charged in the indictment, and if they had the power to raise these prices, their restraint was unlawful and unreasonable."

Under the 1890 Sherman anti-trust act, combinations or conspiracies in restraint of interstate trade were declared illegal.

Defendants in the oil case were: Socony-Vacuum Oil company; Wadham Oil company; Empire Oil and Refining company; Continental Oil company; Pure Oil company; Shell Petroleum company; Sinclair Refining company; Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation; Phillips Petroleum company; Skelly Oil company; Globe Oil and Refining company; Globe Oil and Refining company; Charles E. Smith and H. T. Ashton of Socony-Vacuum; R. H. McElroy, Jr., of Pure Oil; P. E. Lakin of Shell; and Robert W. McCowell of Mid-Continental.

The companies were fined $5000.

Convention Plans To Be Discussed By VFW

All members of the post are urged to be present at the meeting which will be the last before the convention.

Runs Irrigate Meles LOS ANGELES, May 6 (AP)—Hint to stenographers: Mrs. Ruth Hughes, president of the Los Angeles chapter, told the California Federation of Legal Secretaries: "Don't go to work with a run in your stocking. Psychologists say that no man can keep his mind on his work and on a run in a woman's stocking at the same time. A petticoat that shows is of particular irritation to a male mind."

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Britain has denied the Nazi claim that German airplanes sunk an English battleship and a heavy cruiser in massed attacks off the Norwegian coast.

Whether these warships were sent to the bottom is of small consequence compared with the intimation which surrounds the claim—that the superiority of the air over the sea has been established and that the German air force is the master of the Allied navies.

Claims and counter-claims over the relative merits of these two fighting arms will increase for propaganda purposes, and we shall have to watch it if we are to keep our perspective.

It is natural that this situation should exist, for Herr Hitler's mighty air force is that military branch upon which he is depending to win the war. The Allies are placing chief confidence in their surface fleets.

However, naval experts tell us that there has been no demonstration of general air superiority over the sea.

Airplanes have triumphed over warships in individual instances, and vice versa. But the sinking of one warship or ten, doesn't prove general superiority any more than the destruction of fifty fighting planes would prove the general inferiority of an air fleet.

The question of supremacy is something to be determined, and the outcome of the war likely will depend on this. If Hitler can smash the Allied fleet he will win the war. If we can't, the blockade will in the long run give him a nightmarish time, and we mustn't forget that the increasingly strong Allied air force will be supporting their surface ships.

War Flashes

BERLIN, May 6 (AP)—British detachments cut off from the main expeditionary force when the Allies abandoned the Norwegian port of Namsos have been spotted by scouts in a region north of Namsos, authorized sources reported today.

The British were seen in the region between Mo, terminal of a railroad line and highway extending northward from Namsos, and Bodoe, small Norwegian coast town, 65 miles north of Mo.

The first objective of German troops on their way to Narvik would be to mop up these detachments.

LONDON, May 6 (AP)—A German air raid off the southeast coast of England was believed beaten off by royal air force fighters today.

Coastal residents heard the drone of engines above low-hanging clouds, with bursts of machine-gun fire and a number of explosions.

A similar incident in the same vicinity was reported earlier in the day, when a German raider off the coast of Essex drew intense anti-aircraft fire for 10 minutes.

Knock! Knock! Lake McLellan Opportunity Here

Government officials today reiterated their statement that opportunity is knocking on the door for a concessionaire at Lake McLellan. But for the general concessionaires at the lake will be taken up until May 20 at the Soil Conservation district offices in Lubbock.

Postmaster C. H. Walker, Pampa, said today that information on the bidding can be obtained at his office in the Federal building here.

Officials pointed out that the concessionaire at the lake will have exclusive rights for everything in the entertainment, sports, service, and refreshment lines at the lake.

"This is not a matter of letting a contract for a soft drink and sandwich stand," Mr. Walker stated. "It is a profitable opportunity for someone who is willing to equal himself to take care of the many services and who will be interested in promoting the lake to the people of this area of Texas."

The concessionaire will have all rights for such things as bathing suits, beach umbrellas, soft drinks, food, boats, fishing tackle and supplies, service station, picnic supplies, cabins, groceries and the thousand and one little services that will be sought by persons who visit the lake.

The first contract to be let at Lubbock May 20 will run from July 1 this year until Dec. 31, 1942, a period of two and one-half years.

While the lake unofficially will be opened about July 1, formal opening is expected to be set for about the middle of July or the first of August.

High School Boys Face Charges Of Reckless Driving

Youthful speeders and reckless drivers have had their day in Pampa. Recorder C. E. McGrew announced today he has had several boys and girls before him and he has been lenient because of their youth. But the days of grace have ended. It's going to be stiff fines from now on the judge said.

Two high school boys appeared before Recorder McGrew this morning, one charged with reckless driving and the other with speeding. Fines were set at $2.50 each but were remitted subject to future good behavior.

The boys were informed that if they appeared before the judge again the fine would be doubled.

City officers were notified that milk has been disappearing from front steps in the west part of the city. Notice that a prowler was seen in east Pampa last night was a being investigated today.

Mayor Thompson Urges Hospital Day Observance

Pampans today were called upon by Mayor Fred Thompson to take note of the forthcoming observance of National Hospital Day, May 1, in the following proclamation, revealed today:

"Whereas, May 12, the birthday of Florence Nightingale, has been selected for the observance of National Hospital Day, and

"Whereas, Our public and private hospitals, in ministering to the sick, the crippled and the distressed, have been rendering invaluable service not only to the afflicted but to the general public as well as by demonstrating the value of preventive measures and of prompt remedial action in the relentless battle with disease and misfortune;

"Therefore, I, Fred Thompson, Mayor of the City of Pampa, do hereby call upon our people to observe May 12 as National Hospital Day either by some appropriate exercises or, at least, by giving a moment of reflection to the debt we owe to the trained and devoted men and women who are ever ready to respond to the call of duty and contribute by their knowledge to the well-being of all of us.

Forgery Expert To Speak Before Peace Officers Here Wednesday

here before the South Oklahoma-Northern Texas Peace Officers association convention.

American lost between $250,000 and $300,000,000 in 1939 due to the activities of check crooks, the forger, check alterer, and the bogus check passer.

"Many crimes cannot be prevented, but here is one form of crime which can and should be drastically reduced, simply by adopting common sense methods," says Mr. Longway.

In the cashing of checks Longway warns the person of the cashing-entitled strangers; of all checks where the amount is larger than the bill; checks that bear several endorsements; and official certifications that may turn out to be false.

Other suggestions of the check protection expert are to write checks in permanent ink on safety paper check blanks being sure to fill in every blank space, especially to the left of the paper, and to avoid all abbreviations.

I Heard...

That "Ira Nussance II," Ed Anderson's city hall cat, chased two large dogs out of the city hall this morning. She was on the back of the last dog out of the police station door and as the dog reached the door she jumped off. Police officers on duty thought there was a riot in the hall as the dogs and cat hit the office.

"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

(Editor's note: This is the last in a series of editorials on the four qualifications for membership in the National Honor Society: Scholarship, character, leadership and service. It is those juniors and seniors who in the estimation of the faculty measure highest in these four things that are announced each spring as new members of the National Honor Society. Students who aspire to that honor must realize that the entire high school career is considered and that now is the time to be building a record for themselves which will make them worthy of that honor next year and the year after that and the next year.)

"He profits most who serves best." The old saying certainly holds true when it comes to the matter of singling out students for honors in P. H. S.

Service represents a willingness to give as well as to receive. Our school offers to all students. The student who serves uses some of his abilities in return to help his school. It isn't just the winner who serves, but all those who try, who show a willingness to serve by doing their best. Students serve on athletic teams, in musical organizations, on the student council as library and office assistants, by working on school publications, in clubs and class activities, by trying out for interscholastic league events and other contests in which our school competes with others, and in numerous less conspicuous ways, assisting their teachers, helping maintain order and neatness in the school buildings, etc.

And true service asks for no reward. Many students participate in activities with the sole idea of winning a sweater, a trip, honor for themselves, their names in the paper, or a certificate, or for the joy of the thing itself and not for the recognition it may bring.

Sport Lites--By LANE

Last week the boys' physical education classes took up aerial tennis. Two sets were placed in the gymnasium, providing two courts for playing. This new game is similar to volleyball ball, which was played in the classes last six weeks.

The game is played with a rubber tipped dart which is struck with wooden bats. The game is similar to badminton. Aerial tennis is another game introduced by Oscar Hinger, but can be played by the boys after school is out and later for recreation after they graduate from school. It is another step in Mr. Hinger's plan of introducing new sports to the boys that they can play outside classes.

Two players were injured in the intra-squad game of the Harvesters last Wednesday. Ed Terrell, first string center, injured his knee and badly sprained his ankle at the same time, and Bill Stockstill, quarterback, dislocated his wrist. Both were unable to play in the extra-Harvester game Saturday due to their injuries.

Plans for lettering the boxing team are being completed and Oscar Hinger hopes that the awards will be presented his Harvesters boxers before sport-shirts for the team will be heavy sport-shirts with embroidered lettering to designate the sport they were awarded for.

A school rule states that only one athletic award of a jacket can be made to an athlete. Therefore several of the boxers who lettered in other sports will have to pay for their own jackets.

Following are the names of the Harvesters boxers who lettered on the school team: Roy Ray, captain; Douglas Lovelace, Charles Bretthauer, Harold Mitchell, Irvin Molewsow, Everett Sparks, Richard Stephens, Johnny Campbell, W. C. Pendleton, Bill Gise, Murray McPherson, L. V. McDonald, Aubrey Green, Wendell Stanley, Kenneth Mullings, and James Carlisle.

Officers For Next Semester Nominated At Meeting of Hi-Y

Officers for next semester were nominated at the weekly meeting of the Hi-Y club last Tuesday evening. The election will be held tomorrow evening.

Jack Baker, Jack White, Wayne Coffin were nominated for president, Mark Bratton, Eugene French, and Vaughn Darnell were nominated for vice-president. For the office of secretary, Sherman Gray was nominated, and for treasurer, Ernest James, Tom Johnston, and Eichel Lane.

Officers in Hi-Y are changed each semester. Plans for the formal initiation of the new members were discussed by the 14 members attending the meeting and the sponsor, J. H. Morehead, Jr.

JUNIOR ROTARIAN

Good-natured R. G. Candler, a graduating senior, was elected Junior Rotarian for May by acclamation at the meeting of the student council last Tuesday. R. G., who is 18 years old, 5 feet, 2 inches tall, and weighs 215 pounds, has played four years of football for Pampa—one as a Reaper, one as a Gorilla, and two as a Harvester. He was also on the Harvesters basketball team one year. He hopes to attend the University of Texas.

Council Considers Activity Tickets For Next Year

Proposals for the use of student activity tickets next year in Pampa Senior High were discussed at the meeting of the student council last Tuesday.

The tickets would be offered for sale at the beginning of the school year and would include admission to all school activities, such as football and basketball games, dances, etc. Purchase of such blanket tickets would effect a considerable saving for students.

Delegates to the recent state convention of student councils reported that many Texas high schools had adopted the student activity ticket plan successfully. Nearly all colleges have some kind of activity tickets.

Lorraine Murphy, Kathleen Palmer, Ross Euzuard, and Ed Taylor were appointed as a committee to work out a plan for an activity ticket for Pampa High school.

Another committee was appointed to select pins for council members who have fulfilled the requirements drawn up early in the school year. Members of the committee are Anna Belle Ward, Doris Taylor, and Buddy Wilson.

R. G. Candler was elected Junior Rotarian for May by acclamation.

Sagebrush By THE SAGE

Although the graduation ceremonies are just around the corner and all the seniors are a-buzzing around the halls looking important, you can always find the Sage with his book in some secluded corner, trying to meet the deadline.

They ought to boycott the thumb-tack sales in Pampa. The said objects are being used for other purposes than what they were originally intended for. "Flashy" Sales was one of the latest victims of the small group of pranksters who infest our library. He says, "It sho' hurts!"

Iris Mae was a main factor in the problem of whether a boy lost a dollar or not. She came through in great style, 'cause the young fellow retained his currency.

Vera Lee is in serious trouble. It seems that she has falsely accused a boy. Well, maybe he won't sleep with her, but she wouldn't lose any sleep over the matter.

Our heavyweight boxing champ seems to have met up with some opposition on his recent "Romero" adventures. One of his best friends is fast becoming a large obstacle in James' path. Stay in there, boy, you've drawn first blood!

Mr. Anderson appeared to be a bashful boy in assembly last week, but you can't tell by looking. He explained his actions by "Well, if I hadn't made a speech, you would have thought I couldn't make one, and now that it's over, everyone knows I can't!"

Nevin "Muckle Mouth" Johnston has been expressing his hopes of being able to make a trip to Shamrock in the near future. Would it be a business journey, or could it be because of a young lady named Huberta?

This week's credit goes to Miss Arlean Pattison, clothing instructor, who any day and every day is about the neatest looking person you'll find around P. H. S.

John Thompson is in a bad way. He approached a horse from the business end, and received a left hoof in his head-basket. Some fun, huh "Red"?

Some of Coronado's long-haired male children are beginning to develop cunning little curls down around their necks. The Sage is beginning to understand why girls like "em up." And all they're getting is a magnetic looking sideburn! The Junior-Senior banquet and prom ought to be a costume ball.

They say "a good thing must come to an end, and the Sage is not one to change the old rule, so we'll just be off--"

Retired Officer Of Salvation Army Speaks In Assembly

Colonel William Roy Gilks, retired Salvation Army officer, was guest speaker in assembly last Wednesday. Special music was presented by the Baker school glee club.

Colonel Gilks, who was born and reared in England, but has traveled extensively over Europe and the United States, gave a short account of the work of the Salvation Army in other countries. Colonel Gilks, whose present home is California, now spends his time making goodwill tours for this organization. He was introduced by Arthur Tread, president of the Salvation Army board in Pampa.

The Baker school glee club, directed by Mrs. E. C. Sidwell, sang four numbers: "The Wild Rose," "The Day Ends," "Tom Thumb's Thumb," and "Ciribiribin."

Jackets were presented by W. N. Anderson to the five Pampa boxers who won their bouts in the tournament of champions of the Panhandle School Boxing League.

Team Eleven Wins Volley Ball Tourney By Score Of 15-14

Team 11 from the fifth hour class won the championship in the girls' intramural volleyball tournament by defeating team three from the fourth hour class last Wednesday afternoon by a score of 15 to 14. Team three previously had defeated the sixth hour class' team five to enter the finals.

Twelve teams selected from the girls' physical education classes were entered in the tournament, which was conducted by Miss Evelyn Gregory. The contest extended over a period of about three weeks, the games being played in set afternoons from 3 to 4 o'clock.

On the winning team are Peggy Wilkinson, Ethel Lee Allen, Blanche Slauding, Virginia Lee Wilson, Dorothy Fischer, Louise Saxer, Jeanette Nichols, and Evadene Bennett.

Team three is composed of Margie Williams, Marguerite Kirchman, Pearl Cochran, Beatrice Stotts, Maxine Messer, and Maxine Nabors, with Peggy Cunningham and Vera Lee von Brunen as substitutes.

Stennis Advances To Semi-Finals In Tennis Singles

Pampa Fails To Place In Debate, Shorthand And One-Act Play

Ten P. H. S. students represented region one at the state meet of the Interscholastic league in Austin, Friday and Saturday. However, none of the Pampa entries placed in the upper three rankings.

Hugh Stennis went into the semi-finals in tennis singles, but was defeated by Wayne Shaw of Athens, 6-1, 6-3. It was Hugh's second year to represent this region in the tennis singles at state. First place in the tennis singles went to Walter Driver of Austin High school in El Paso.

Brackenridge High school of San Antonio won first in girls' debate. Pampa's team, composed of Peggy Williamson and Helen Dudley failed to place. Koma Jo Johnson went alone as alternate.

State championship in the one-act play went to Sam Marcos High, Pampa's entry, "Overtones," with an all-girl cast composed of Jeanne Lively, Allene Beville, Betty Plank, and Vera Lee von Brunen, did not place. Stage manager was Buddy Wilson.

Donna Day was entered in the shorthand contest. The ten students were accompanied to Austin by their coaches E. G. Gordon, O. F. Shewmaker, Kenneth Carman, and Miss Zenobia McFarlin. Also accompanying the group were Mrs. Gordon and W. T. Williamson. They left Pampa early Thursday and returned yesterday.

Boxing Champions Receive Jackets

Pampa boxers who won their bouts in the tournament of champions of the Panhandle School Boxing League were awarded league jackets in assembly Wednesday. W. N. Anderson, Pampa athletic manager, presented the jackets to the five Harvesters boxers and to Paul Hill and E. Z. McGrew, Pampa judges at the tournament of champions, and Oscar Hinger, Harvesters boxing coach.

Jackets were presented to Roy Ray, Harvesters captain, Kenneth Mullings, V. McDonald, Richard Stephens, and James Carlisle. Runner-up trophies were presented before assembly to Kenneth Mullings and Billy Gise, Pampa runner-up in the tournament. The jackets are satin with crimson sleeves and silver bodies. The words "Tournament of Champs, 1940" and crossed boxing gloves are stitched across the back.

Applications Due Now For Diversified Occupations Course

Letters were sent to all sophomores and juniors last Friday by Harry Kelley, diversified occupations co-ordinator, asking the students that they may make application to enroll for the diversified occupations course next year. Students wishing to make application should see Mr. Kelley in room 102 between the hours of 11 and 12 a. m. some time this week.

Any student 18 years of age or older, who has completed the first two years of high school work, is eligible to enter this program. Each occupation will call for possession of certain personal qualities necessary to success in that field. The initial selection of students will be made on the basis of whether the co-ordinator thinks the applicant has the traits essential to his particular occupation.

The training for these positions extends over a period of two years. The selected occupation must require over 2,000 hours of training including two periods a day to be spent in study of the occupation.

Some of the possible fields for training are automotive electricity, auto mechanics, auto machine work, auto top and body repair, baking, drafting, dry cleaning and dyeing, electrical, general cabinet making, electric motor and armature service, embalming, farm machinery service, gas utility service, laboratory techniques, metal working, doctor's office assistants, banking, building, cabinet making, carpentry, commercial art, meat cutting and butchering, photography, plumbing, printing, radio service, refrigeration service, secretary training, sheet metal, shoemaking, store management, and tailoring.

F. F. A. Boys Go On Field Excursions

Field excursions were made by J. L. Lester's vocational agriculture classes last week. Tomorrow, the day after tomorrow, and the day following, the boys will be taking a day to judge in the Panhandle Plains Dairy show.

The third and sixth hour classes visited the city park and surrounding vicinity to study trees, shrubs, and flowers. Among those they served were honey locust, Chinese elm, American ash, sweet and red honeysuckle, alperly elm, poplar, semi-weeping willow, pussywillow, hackberry, silver leaf maple, hawthorn (sometimes called as cocón), bifida wreath, cherry, pear, redbud, weeping willow, Russian olive, silver spruce pine, spruce pine, cottonwood, black locust, semi-weeping pine, tree of paradise, lantana, and hollyhock.

These classes also attended the auction sales at recreation park. The first and fourth hour classes visited the Banhandle Packing company last week.

Loyalty Is Good Business

Loyalty between employe and employer is simply good business.

Edgar Howard, editor of the Columbia, Nebraska, Daily Telegram, recently wrote a vivid little article illustrating that. The article dealt with the Union Pacific Railroad "Booster League," an organization in which every worker in that great company holds membership.

"Every member of that league," writes Editor Howard, "is a volunteer—a fighting volunteer—not a fighter against anything or anybody, but always a fighter for his employer. . . . Today, from section man to president, each employe has regard for the other. There are no strikes. When an employe has a grievance he does not attempt to hamper any official of the road. He carries his complaint to his brotherhood's grievance committee, the committee carries it to the proper official, and the trouble is adjusted. And here comes proof of the value of the preaching of the good gospel of loyalty."

Contracts that spirit with the destructive spirit of those who preach strike, sabotage, disorder. When men get together to amicably discuss and adjust differences, all involved benefit. The company for which they work goes ahead, making their jobs secure. There is no loss of pay caused by unnecessary layoffs. There is no feeling of bitterness and ill will. Yes, loyalty is good business—the kind of business that makes for progress and prosperity and stability in a business or a nation.

Concealment Not Justified

When a charge was made in the Senate that the rural electrification cooperatives were not earning their interest charges, the Rural Electrification Administration, which finances the cooperatives, replied that information concerning their fiscal condition could not be made public.

The REA urged that disclosure of records would enable "hostile interests" to use the records of the "less developed successful systems" as proof of failure. Withholding the facts concerning publicly financed enterprises can be justified only by exceptional circumstances, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press in commenting on this situation, and adds:

"The mere fact that disclosure of records might lead to embarrassing criticism, some of which might even be unfair criticism, is not sufficient reason for refusing to make reports on such enterprises as these. The policy of concealment too easily becomes a mask for inefficiency and waste of public funds, to be countenanced for such cause. The REA should spread its records on the table and allow the public, who is paying the bill, to decide whether criticism is in order."—Spokane, Wash., Spokesman-Review.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, May 6—The National Negro Congress, before which John L. Lewis made his most recent attack of F. D. R., has been more or less a Communist front outfit since its birth. The spirit occurring the day after Lewis' speech, when President Philip Randolph resigned because the congress took Communist Party money and adopted a party program, was no surprise to insiders.

Need for a congress which could work out a common program for all Negro organizations was first discussed at a conference of Negro leaders here in 1935. A little later, more specific proposals for the calling of such a congress were made by Parnes W. Ford, the Communist's perennial vice presidential candidate.

Ford took a number of colored leaders to see Earl Browder and the idea was discussed further. Until the time of the Lewis speech, however, there had never been an open row over Communist influence in the organization. The Communists have been giving active support to Lewis' tentative proposals for a third party; his suggestion that Negroes join the move was welcomed by the congress, cold-shouldered by the more conservative Urban League and National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

GANGSTERS GONE FROM MATANUSKA Having shaken off most of the misfits who were sent north to be pioneers, the Matanuska colony is beginning to get its feet on the ground. Tales about some of its original "settlers" continue to be told, though. One of the oddest is the following.

Among the couples who went to Alaska to homestead were a professional gambler from Cicero, Ill., and a dance-hall gal from the same town. They'd been in the anti-Capone faction, and had fled Cicero to escape Capone's gunmen; landed, flat broke, on a desolate northern Michigan farm, didn't dare leave it, and of course very quickly went on relief.

As relievers, they somehow got included in the list of folks scheduled to go to Alaska. Figuring Matanuska was a safe distance from Cicero they went along. . . . and, apparently, made an honest but completely unconvincing effort to become farmers.

Nobody knows whatever happened to them, except that they're no longer in Matanuska.

Which is a reminder. Friends of Matanuska say many of its troubles came because some relief officials simply picked out their worst problem cases and shipped them off to Alaska in order to get rid of headaches.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE LEANS TO WILKIE An afternoon's conversation with members of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce at their annual convention showed that Wendell Wilkie is easily their presidential candidate. They don't want Dewey and they don't want Hoover; don't like F. D. R. any better than they ever did, but are free to admit he'll be a tough man to lick.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life --

By R. C. Holles

SUPREME COURT AGAIN DECIDES AGAINST THE WEAK

The Supreme Court's decision, upholding the law that the Federal Government "enjoys the unrestricted power to produce its own supplies, to determine those with whom it will deal, and to fix the terms and conditions upon which it will make needed purchases," simply means that it bars all inexperienced, unskilled, mediocre people and hundreds of ordinary people from having the right to work on jobs making materials to supply the government.

To make a law that discriminates against the weakest class of our citizens so that they cannot sell their services at the same rate per piece of production as the efficient workers can, is tyranny, slavery and injustice of the worst possible kind. It also takes away from them the pleasure that comes from accomplishment. It makes them mere serfs or wards at the mercy of those who support them.

And this condition is due to the lack of understanding on the part of the great majority of voters that wages come from production and cannot be set by fiat or by edict. It is a natural, eternal law of wages that cannot be violated.

It seems strange that the people in the country that has spent as much money on public education as we have in the United States, would pass laws of this kind and elect a President, who would appoint Supreme Court justices with no more idea of the fundamental principles on which this government was formed than they seem to have.

Of course, nature has a way of penalizing us for violating the eternal truths and principles, and that way is to let us suffer in unemployment, loss of liberty, and to do without a lot of things we badly need. There is always a cause for everything.

We do not need to go to Europe to fight Nazism. We have it right here in our own country, in federal, state and most every county and school district.

GRASPING AT A STRAW

When people have thrown aside all consistency, all truth, all principles, they do just like a drowning man—grasp at a straw. When all these meddlers and reformers, who have promised the workers that they can raise their pay by collective bargaining, or by fiat, or by edict of the government and in order to appease the labor politicians they have to order employers to pay wages to union men they never hired, then we are grasping at a straw.

Because the wages, that these entrepreneurs have to pay to union workers for producing no wealth, cannot be paid out to other workers to create real wealth. And when an employe who does not believe in the Communist and Fascist ideas of collective bargaining cannot be hired by an employer, without the employer running the risk having also to pay believers in collective bargaining, then we have just a form of force or Nazism. Then there is little chance for the man who believes in the true principles of justice and the kind of government our forefathers attempted to establish for us to have a job.

We have gone so far in Nazism and Communism, by permitting men without principle on the Labor Board to have the power to compel an employer to pay for something he does not get, that unless we about-face and adopt some common ground of justice, we will sooner or later arrive at the same fate as Russia, Italy, Germany or Spain. There is always a cause for everything and one of the primary causes is violating the natural principles of freedom to exchange useful things by the collective bargaining fiat of raising wage levels.

IS IT A COINCIDENT OR A PARTIAL CAUSE?

It might be well for those people who advocate more and more majority rule, ochlocratic education, to consider the fact that California has more state colleges than any other state in the Union and that California has probably the most socialist and communistic laws of any state in the Union.

One cannot help but wonder whether it is a coincidence or there is some connection between these laws and ochlocratic education. If the youth of the land is to be trained by state colleges that extort in order to carry on this function, then it seems natural that these students, in after years, will have a tendency to believe in collectivism, coercion, compulsion, statism rather than voluntary agreements and equality of freedom and liberty as a necessary function for growth of character and general well-being.

There is always a cause for every social condition, if we can find it. And when the same condition invariably follows a given act, sooner or later, it becomes logical to conclude that it is a cause just the same as the astronomers have been able to make a science out of observation of the courses of the definite bodies, even though they are not able to cause the experiment at will, as can be done in physical world.

The Nation's Press

TRIMMING IT DOWN (Los Angeles Times)

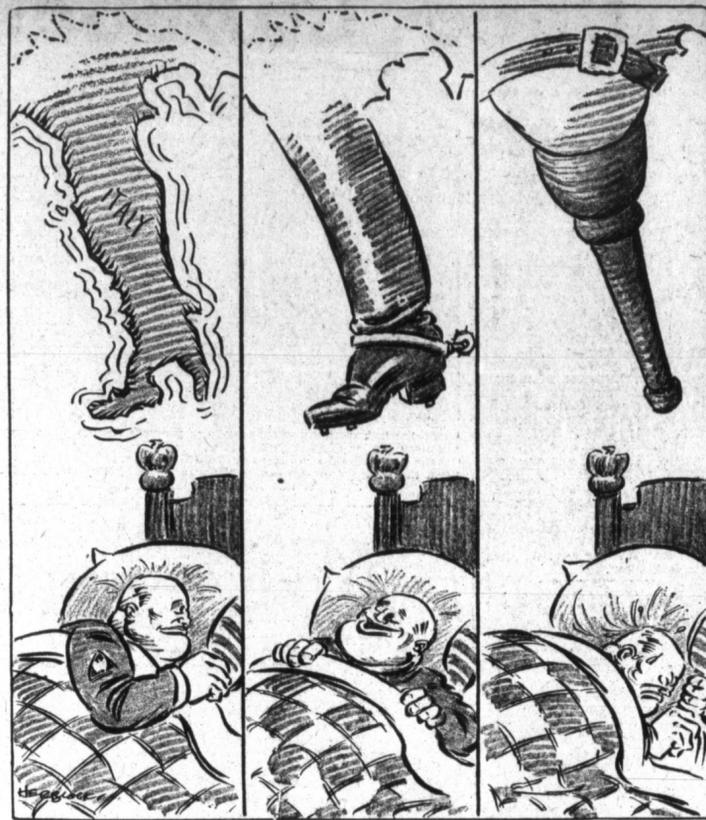

Elimination by Congress of appropriations for motion-picture and radio propaganda by government departments has not had the notice it deserves. Coupled with action taken last year, when appropriations for publicity were curtailed, this represents another step in the right direction and may lead to the eventual establishment of the sound principle that the money of the taxpayers is a trust and may not be spent for partisan purposes.

The La Follette Civil Liberties Committee, so-called, made a great fuss last year when it discovered that $750,000 had been spent by the National Association of Manufacturers in what is called propaganda. What the committee did not tell the public at the same time is that the sum is about three per cent of the amount New Deal agencies were spending of public money, in trying to sell the New Deal to the public.

The loss of the postal department of carrying franked mail matter went up from $9,100,000 in 1932 to $33,700,000 in 1938; and if the cost of preparing and printing the matter is estimated at only three times the requirement of postage—a low ratio—the stuff must have cost well over $100,000,000. At the height of its propaganda campaign, the government employed more than 300 press agents, with salaries of more than $1,500,000 a year, double the appropriation of the N. A. M. for all propaganda costs, without any comment whatever from Senator La Follette.

Trimming down this expenditure is obviously well worth doing, since 99 per cent of it could be eliminated with nobody missing it.

NIGHTMARE

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, May 6—Short takes: Whiff ocean travel a little uncertain this season. Hollywood is expecting a record influx of tourists. A veteran studio gatekeeper tells me it's a cinch to recognize out-of-towners on a movie lot: The women always are better dressed than actresses; the men, while trying their best to appear nonchalant, all have their mouths open.

A bright red captive balloon swung on an 800-foot tether above the back lot at 20th-Fox the other day. "The 'Bright Young' company was working on an outdoor set, and the 10-foot red sphere was Director Henry Hathaway's idea for warning airplanes to stay away.

He had notified local airports, and the airports had posted bulletins. But nobody read the bulletins, and the strange aerial buoy attracted curious and noisy planes from all over the Los Angeles area. Hathaway didn't finish a single scene.

Same studio is testing Nancy Dickerson, sister of the athletic Babe. This one's no Amazon. . . . Nazimova was recalled from New York for additional tests as Emmy Rittler in "Escape" and is almost certain to be released.

The Technicolor company, which struggled along the red for years, is so prosperous now that it voluntarily has reduced the price of finished prints one cent a foot.

If that sounds trivial, consider that the outfit delivered 70,126-156 feet of film in 1939, and that it now has studio contracts which will call for about 100,000,000 feet. There'll be more color pictures hereafter.

TRAFFIC PROBLEM IN CARROLL PICTURE

Much of the musical, "A Night at Earl Carroll's," is being filmed in the actual street, which is only a few blocks from Paramount. But for a brief scene of the exterior, the studio is erecting a duplicate of one side of the building on the back lot. That's to dodge the traffic and the curious crowds on Sunset Boulevard.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

From a "former Pampian" at Corpus Christi comes a nostalgic rhyme entitled "Give Me The Pampian." The identity of the "former Pampian" is not too obscure and we suspect that several former Pampians, including Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Fisher, the Philip Wolfes, the Bob Coopers, may know something about this poem, and we are not accusing any of them. Anyway, here's the rhyme:

"We lived in West Texas, with its sandstorms and its cold. Where the people wish for rain until they grow old. So we thought a change would do us good, and to the coast we came. Where they said fishing was good and they didn't want rain. Neither do they want for roaches. They have rattlesnakes galore. Bed bugs and chiggers, you can find them by the score. Mosquitoes make your music, morning, noon and night, and are not at all particular where they take a bite. It is foggy in the morning and your laundry will not dry. Your house smells so musty it makes you want to cry. When you drive down town be sure you have a nickel. For buddy if you don't, you're sure in a pickle. You can't even park your car to drink a coke or chat without you have a nickel. Now you can beat that. When your car turns to rust and the wheels cease to go round. You fill find plenty of water if you decide you want to drown. But give me good ole Pampa, with its dust and cold, and I'll give them back their fishing, and throw in my poles."

Well, that poem speaks for itself and it goes to prove that every country has its drawbacks. . . . The highlight of the weekend for this one was seeing "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" at the Crown. We enjoyed it more than any film we have seen since "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington." We feel as if we had known Abe Lincoln. Even a southerner who has hatred of the "davybacks" here into him, including this one, can see that picture and enjoy it.

Trophies Awarded To Strongest, Says German Educator

BERLIN, May 6 (AP)—The world's goods are "trophies awarded only to the strongest," Education Minister Bernhard Rust said today in an address to German youth.

He recalled the Napoleonic conquest and the World War treaty of Versailles and said that in the present conflict, "we not only want to win the war but also the peace."

With victory, he said, "the most fruitful period of German labor in history shall begin."

HOW to EAT to BEAT the HEAT

By ALICE H. SMITH, Nutritionist, Cleveland Health Council

FOOD HOLDS THE FATE OF YOUR FIGURE—THAT MEANS ANY FOOD Your food holds the fate of your figure.

Any food! You can gain weight on spinach if you eat too much of it. "Fattening" begins when the body gets an excess of what it needs.

Your figure may be a pretty fair index of your health. Too much or too little weight may mean a serious health hazard. Look around you today and note the great number of persons who represent one extreme or the other in figure.

If you eat more than your body requires you'll put on weight—if you're normal.

All of which brings us to the question, "What shall I eat?" To answer that we must first inquire, "Why do I eat?"

Science has a long list of reasons why we should eat: (1) to build up our bodies; (2) to regulate the functions of the body as a whole as well as each of its various parts; (3) to furnish energy or work and play; (4) to build resistance against infection; (5) to regulate body temperature.

Only a given amount of food is necessary to do all these things for the body. It is what we eat in excess, or what we lack that proves the liability.

If you weigh approximately the average amount for your height and age and maintain that weight you need not be alarmed about caloric intake. But remember any food will bring weight if you eat more than you need.

If you require 2400 calories and consume 2800, the extra 400 will become fat, whether you eat eggs, bread, fruit or spinach. True, some foods will cause a more rapid deposition of fat than others. Conversely, if you need 2400 calories and consume only 2000, the remaining 400 will have to come from either stored body fat or other body tissue and you will, consequently lose weight.

The best general rules to follow are: First, see your physician; second include in your diet the protective foods in the amounts necessary for a normal person.

All diets, whether for reducing or gaining weight, should include the protective foods, milk, in any of its forms, fruits, and vegetables, especially the green leafy and yellow varieties; also citrus fruits and tomatoes, eggs and some whole grain cereal.

Pampa, Texas, May 6, 1940. Editor, Pampa News:

I read in the Pampa News, dated May 3, under the heading "Text Topics" by Tex DeWesse under which Mr. DeWesse slightly and lightly covered about a half dozen subjects.

I endorse his whole write-up, and I believe the time has come when all newspapers should express their rightful views on any matter that concerns the public.

I feel specially interested in the paragraph (Headed So Much for that Subject) in which he called the County Commissioners' attention to the fact that they could reduce the tax load by economizing and consolidating some of the county offices under their jurisdiction without impairing the ability of the county.

I, as an individual, will go one step further and say that this could be applied to all governments from Roosevelt on down the line to the least, for the betterment of all people.

Sometimes I feel like I was born 50 years too soon and do not fit in this modern day and I believe that Texas has all the Pension Laws the State needs. I do not believe in paying everybody a pension whether they need it or not, and I don't believe it's right to pay a school teacher a pension. If so, why not pay the old barefoot boy a pension for plowing corn.

I believe the present day candidate from senator on down to janitor does not announce for office on his own merits or qualifications, but depends quite a bit on getting elected by endorsing Roosevelt or the New Deal or O'Daniels, or Townsend or some other fool scheme.

I believe that if matters continue as they are without a change that taxes, pensions and interest will pauperize the human race the world over.

A LESSON IN TAXES ON PAYROLLS By WALTER E. SPAHR, Professor of Economics, New York University

I have just gone over a table on Federal, state and local tax revenues in the United States for the fiscal year 1939, prepared by Professor Paul Studenski and John A. Bryson of New York University. The table of taxes on payroll is particularly interesting.

By the state and Federal governments provide some figures that should be instructive to the American people.

In 1939, the Federal government collected $740,000,000 in taxes on payrolls out of a total of $5,485,000,000 in taxes—nearly 14 per cent of the total. These taxes on payrolls equaled 70 per cent of the personal taxes received; they were more than twice the amount received in estate taxes; they were more than twice the customs duties; they were more than three times the amount of the Federal taxes on gasoline and motor vehicles; they equaled 55 per cent of the taxes on business.

But that's not half of it. The states in 1939 collected $794,000,000 in taxes on payrolls out of a total of $3,853,000,000—nearly 21 per cent (about one-fifth) of the total. These taxes on payrolls equaled more than three times the personal income taxes received; they were six times the amount of the inheritance taxes; they were 23 per cent greater than business taxes; they were 80 per cent greater than general sales taxes; they were nearly three times state excise taxes; they were 67 per cent of the gasoline and motor vehicle license taxes; and they were four times state property taxes.

There certainly ought to be some lessons in those figures for the American people. We talk a lot about continuing unemployment and machines replacing laborers. Wouldn't these heavy taxes on payrolls have something to do with these things? We also have heard the New Deal profess over and over its friendship for the laboring man. Yet it taxes his payroll in this manner. It helps to tax him out of his job.

Let us make clear what it means to him. If he and his employer are being taxed for wasteful New Deal spending, these taxes contribute to his unemployment. They invite the increased use of machines to replace him.

Unemployment and old-age insurance programs are desirable, but they should be set up on a pay-as-you-go basis so that these "trust" funds would be eliminated, these excessive tax burdens on payrolls radically reduced, and these contributions to unemployment removed.

Oilers Will Face Lubbock Here Tonight

Pampa Wins 3rd Straight From Lamesa

Manager Charlie Engle and his Lubbock Hubbers will be in Pampa tonight trying to stop the march of the Oilers who will have the added power of big Dutch Prather on first base. Yesterday afternoon the Oilers won their third straight from the Lamesa-Lamesa 19 to 18 in 12 innings.

Everything but a triple play happened during the three and a half hours required to play the game. Probably the highlight of the battle was the hitting of Patterson, Lamesa pitcher, switched to the outfield because of the illness of hood, class man. Patterson tied the record set opening game by Pampa's Lloyd Summers when he hit three home runs on his first three trips to the plate. He added a double and triple before the game ended.

"Little Dynamite" Eddy Cuyne got his hitting eye on the ball for a home run, double and single.

Grover Seitz led the Pampa attack with a home run, double and single while Phil Potter continued to blast the ball for a home run and a single besides drawing two walks.

Malvica Injured

The Oilers lost Sam Malvica when he was speared across the top of the foot. He suffered a bad cut which will probably keep him on the bench for a few days. Lamesa lost Catcher Kerthauer when he crashed into the grandstand, catching his foot and spraining his ankle.

Akers had a big day around second handling 13 chances, with two errors. Spangler at third for Lamesa was also a busy man with 12 chances and two errors.

Seven pitchers paraded to the mound during the hectic struggle. Halliburton started for the Oilers but didn't have a prayer on the ball. Ljubeck relieved and was little more effective. Rice followed, but was given the same punishment from the Lamesa batsmen. Seitz with the score tied, Ben Parrish went to the hill and he won his second game in three days.

Dilbeck Comes Through

Millsbaugh, big left-hander, started for Lamesa and had an easy time until the ninth when he was leading by eight runs. Both he and his defense cracked at the same time and the Oilers scored eight runs on him. Millsbaugh was out of the game. Mills, who had a clean bill of health, pitched for the Oilers but didn't have a prayer on the ball. Ljubeck relieved and was little more effective. Rice followed, but was given the same punishment from the Lamesa batsmen. Seitz with the score tied, Ben Parrish went to the hill and he won his second game in three days.

Lamesa appeared to have the game sewed up in the tenth when Parrish walked the first batter and then sent him to the plate. Seitz went to pitch from where he scored on Miller's single to center which rolled between Seitz' legs. But the Oilers still had the old sting. Summers opened with a home run, Seitz went out, Potter came through with a single to score Summers. Adams hit to center and when the center fielder threw the ball away Potter went to second but he forgot to tag the bag before he departed, after the catch, and he was doubled off first.

Parrish Wins Own Game

Neither team scored in the eleventh and in the first half of the twelfth Lamesa failed to score. Parrish, first Oiler batter in the inning, drew a walk. Akers laid down a perfect sacrifice which sent Parrish to second. Summers then dumped one over second and Parrish started for home. Patterson threw the ball to the plate when Parrish rounded third but Pitcher Miller cut off the throw. He whirled and with lots of time to get Parrish threw high over Haney's head and Parrish scored to win his own game.

Lamesa outted the Oilers 17 to 14 but their pitchers walked 13.

Yankees Beaten Again 6 To 4 By Detroit Tigers

The National League Scores

Yankees 6, Detroit Tigers 4

Break up the Yankees! There was a time when that chant was as familiar as "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" and the folks wondered how many players the world champions could give up without being weakened.

A postwar pastime was speculating as to whether Bill Dickey of Joe DiMaggio or someone else was the key performer in the New York club's cast.

Until someone offers a more profound thought on the subject, young Giuseppe will have to be regarded—in abstenia—as the player most vital to the Yankee cause.

They were beaten again yesterday by the Detroit Tigers 6-4 in the kind of a rout which has not been seen in the last 50 years.

Carroll Bierman gave Gallahadion a beautiful ride. All the way around he kept him up close to the leaders, rating his mount carefully and saving him for the big effort.

Dom DiMaggio Sits On Boston's Bench

BOSTON, May 6 (AP)—Dom DiMaggio, the Red Sox $75,000 beauty and prospective rookie of the year, is riding the bench these days gloomily watching Boston's "ugly duckling" keep him among the unemployed.

And Lou Finney—just one of those handy guys a ball club likes to have around—is really cutting him dirt, fielding that Red Sox sun patrol like twins and pasting the ball at the record .333 clip as of today.

Even cost the Sox a reputed $75,000 last winter and they picked up Lou from the Athletics a year ago for something like $10,000. Lou's purchase was stately an insurance proposition for he could handle either the first base or the outfield capably.

But Dom can blame his own tender ankle for his unwelcome idleness. That and the red-hot pace of a fighting ball player who has been hitting on all cylinders ever since Joe Cronin gave him the green light after the brilliant Sox rookie aggravated an ankle injury.

Dom had played four games with indications of great promise but the fierce play of his substitute Finney makes it look as though the younger DiMaggio will need dynamite at least to crash into the Sox lineup.

Lou stepped into action last April 23, celebrating by blasting a home run out of the park. Since then he's been stopped but once in 11 games.

In 54 times at bat, he hammered out 18 hits, including a home run, a triple and three doubles.

Meyer And Norton To Head Coaching School Instructors

AUSTIN, May 6 (AP)—Texas high school coaches will get all the details of the Southwestern gridiron strategy here Aug. 5 to 10.

Every instructor for the annual Texas High School Football Coaches association coaching school will be from this section. J. T. Nelson, association president, announced.

Head instructors and coaches of the all-star teams that will stage a game Aug. 10 are Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian university and Homer Norton of Texas A. and M.

These men coached the nation's No. 1 teams during the past two years. Nelson said. "Since Texas high schools play football under similar systems, we thought Meyer and Norton would be the most logical men to head our school."

Bill James, line coach at Texas A. and M., and Bullet Gray, who occupies a similar position at the University of Texas, will give special instruction in line play.

Dutchey Smith, line coach at Texas Tech, will bring an end, tackle and center from Tech teams of the past few years to demonstrate offensive work. Del Morgan, line coach at Rice, will demonstrate the defense.

Nelson expects between 400 and 500 coaches.

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—A survey of Japan's financial structure after the drain of nearly three years' war in China indicates that its gold reserves have shrunk to less than $100,000,000.

Bimelech To Be Favorite At Pimlico

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Although the legend of Bimelech's invincibility was punctured by his defeat in the Kentucky Derby, the handsome colt from Idle Hour farm almost certainly will be the favorite again in next Saturday's running of the Preakness at Pimlico.

It will require more than one licking, in other words, to convince most of the horse players that Bimelech is not the best of an unimpressive lot of three-year-olds. Not that the undrained Gallahadion didn't take Bim's measure fairly and squarely in the derby and run right past him in the stretch, but just that the Bradley Colt still is the solid choice on his record of eight firsts and one second.

Bimelech is not, of course, the super-horse he had been made out. Gallahadion's winning time of 2:05—more than three seconds off the Churchill Downs track record for the mile and one quarter—made it all too obvious that there were no equine immortals in Saturday's gathering.

Still, Bimelech proved himself a real good horse by the fact that he was above to move into the lead as they entered the stretch, and his supporters always will feel that he could have done with a little better riding in the final furlong, when Gallahadion went streaking past on the rail.

Freddie Smith led the favorite bear far out on the track and probably lost close to the length and one half by which Gallahadion led him at the wire. It looked as though Smith was more occupied in trying to hold off Dan than he was in repelling Gallahadion's charge, though this probably didn't make much difference, because the winner clearly was stronger and faster than Bim.

Carroll Bierman gave Gallahadion a beautiful ride. All the way around he kept him up close to the leaders, rating his mount carefully and saving him for the big effort.

Enthusiastic Spectators Ask Races Be Repeated

Scores of the several hundred spectators who enjoyed the thrilling and exciting greyhound coursing met yesterday at Recreation park grandstand urged that the races be repeated in the near future.

Greyhound owners of Pampa who sponsored the meet announced that they would try to complete arrangements to hold another meet soon, but at night.

Winner of the eight-dog stakes was Sid, owned by Clyde Organ, after Claude Vernon's Tillie was withdrawn due to broken toe-nails.

Matched races were the most popular feature of the meet, and near the end of the program, Lard's Boss drew tremendous applause when he ran down a hare by himself. He coursed masterfully, turning the hare nicely and finally rolled with a flying lead. Another race that drew a applause was a one-hound chase in which the rabbit jumped the burp fence, and the race continued on the prairie near the grandstand.

A number of owners raced greyhound pups. Pups owned by John Hickox of Groom and Raymond Bennet of Pampa looked especially promising.

The crowd came early and the races started only 10 minutes late. The races later were run off quickly and a number of relay cars were parked almost solid around the burp fence and a few spectators sat in the stands.

Yesterday's sun was almost too hot for the swift-running hounds, and barrels of water were poured over them after hard races. The hares had trouble finding the escape and it was necessary to send in relief hounds to help catch the rabbit. Some of the races lasted as long as four minutes. It is considered extremely dangerous to race a hound longer than two minutes, especially in hot weather. In races all over the Southwest relief hounds are sent in after one and one-half minutes.

Sound relays also announced that if and when another race is held, probably some night this week or next, a new escape 50 yards wide, and covering the entire south end of the course will be built of staves with six-inch openings between each one. In addition, the hares will be trained to find the escape.

More than 30 races thrilled the spectators yesterday. Dog men brought their dogs from Berger, Amarillo, Groom, White Deer, and other communities.

The hound owners announced that receipts totaled enough to pay expenses yesterday. Dog men have found owners in charge of the meet were Mr. Organ, Mr. Porterfield, Mr. Huges, and the Patton brothers, Bill, Kivie and Fred, assisted by The Roving Reporter of the Chicago White Sox.

Although some of the spectators would have liked to have seen more rabbits escape, an overwhelming majority enjoyed the fine coursing and running as displayed by the registered hounds.

"Most people understand," said Bill Patton, "that jackrabbits have always been a nuisance in this country, and that people used to pay bounties on them. Rabbits are still held, and thousands killed. Coursing encourages the destruction of these pests, and the introduction and breeding of more greyhounds. Farmers and ranchers know the value of a good greyhound, and any movement that will aid in thinning out the jackrabbit population."
