"SECOND TO WAR"

President Says Crisis Calls for Same Patriotism Shown by Soldiers of World Conflict.

OLYMPIA ARENA, Detroit, Sept. 21. (AP)—President Hoover today called upon the American Legion to enlist in a peace-time fight for government economy designed to lead the world out of the slough of depression.

Solemnly warning the annual convention of the Legionnaires against the "grave risks" of increasing federal expenditures, either through further veterans or other legislation, the president likened the world economic crisis "second only to war" and expressed confidence that "by united action we will lead the world to recovery."

The president pointed out the treasury was faced with another large deficit, that income taxes had declined 50 per cent since the period of prosperity and that the nation was carrying at the same time a "high and necessary extra burden" of public works in aid to the unemployed, of aids to agriculture, and of increased benefits to veterans.

"The first stone in the foundations of stability and recovery both at home and in the world," he said, "is the stability of the government of the United States. It is my purpose to maintain that stability and I invite you to enlist in that fight."

Mr. Hoover said the depression flowed largely from Europe thru fundamental dislocations of economic and political forces caused by the World War and America's economic strength was such that it would have recovered long ago "but for those forces from abroad."

Thousands lined the concourse and streets surrounding the Union station to welcome the president and his party. Other thousands lined the streets en route to the Olympia convention hall. There was no loud demonstration until Mr. Hoover took the platform to begin his speech.

Then the hundreds of Legionnaires in uniform and civilian dress, rose and cheered the president.

Ralph T. O'Neill, national commander of the legion, introduced the president and after flashlights permitted scores of photographers, Mr. Hoover began his address.

Two National Radio networks carried the speech to the nation. The colorful audience frequently interrupted the president with loud applause, first as he declared United action would permit America to lead the world to economic recovery, and again as he accepted the offer of the legion to cooperate in nationwide recovery.

Although the president was in the auditorium less than 20 minutes, 15 of which he was speaking.

FINISHING TOUCHES ARE GIVEN GRAY'S FAIR BOOTH

Ralph Thomas, County Agent, Takes Vegetables To Amarillo Early Today.

George Briggs and Ralph Thomas went to Amarillo early today to complete the arrangement of the Gray county agricultural booth at the Tri-State fair, which opens its eighth annual exposition today.

While the Gray county exhibit, compiled from entries at the recent fair here, is not expected to place high in competition with the many other exhibits upon which hundreds of dollars has been spent, it is expected to win much commendation. The score card will be filled with the Gray county products.

The local men, accompanied by Mrs. Briggs, put the finishing touches on the booth yesterday except for the vegetables, which were taken to Amarillo by Mr. Thomas today. Mr. Briggs will spend some time at the booth, but will likely place someone else there for the latter part of the week.

AMARILLO, Sept. 21. (AP)—Perfect fair weather greeted the opening of the Amarillo Tri-State exposition today.

Rains that fell over the Panhandle last night served only to settle the dust from several weeks of dry weather and all roads were reported passable. There was not a cloud in the sky when the fair gates opened this morning, and the September heat wave was broken.

Twenty-three counties and two regional organizations, the Panhandle of Texas, Inc., and the state of New Mexico, were represented in the agricultural halls. The quality of the exhibits was said to be the best on record in every department.

Human Fly Will Climb Courthouse Tomorrow Evening

H. Roland, widely known as the "human fly," will climb one corner of the Gray county courthouse at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

The smooth corner of the building is expected to give him much difficulty. The 39-year-old climber uses his fingers and toes, risking his life to provide a period of thrill for his audience.

Roland has been climbing tall buildings for 14 years and has been able to avoid the jinx which seems to hover over most "flies." He has had but one fall, which was 50 feet from the courthouse at Bloomfield, Iowa. At that time, a pigeon flew into his face.

Ewing Outlines Duty of Citizens In Court's Work

Judge W. R. Ewing in 31st district court this morning instructed the grand jury to play favorites with no one and to investigate everything that comes under their jurisdiction. The judge did not give the members any specific hints to devote their time to, and asked them to be careful not to return unnecessary indictments.

Judge Ewing closed the grand jury's master clock. He declared their actions guided the petit jurors who would listen to the evidence.

"Enforcement of the law lies first in the grand jury, second in the petit jury, and third in the citizenry," Judge Ewing declared. "If the officers are not doing their duty it is up to the grand jury to investigate and make reports. They must be backed by the citizens of this state," he said.

"The trouble with law law enforcement is the fact that the citizens do not have enough backbone to assist. They stand around the streets and cause the officers for not doing this and that but when the time comes for them to serve on the jury, they have a dozen excuses why it will be impossible for them to serve," Judge Ewing declared.

"There is no outstanding crime in Gray county at the present time as far as I can learn," the judge said. "What the future will bring I do not know. In this time of depression it is up to every citizen, the county, state, and nation to take a hand and help those who are down and out so that they will not resort to violence."

The judge took a rap at the case with which a murderer can get acquitted in the state of Texas. "Why, I would far rather be tried for murder than bootlegging in Texas," Judge Ewing declared.

"There are far more loopholes for a murderer to slip through than any other crime known," he said. In connection with shootings, Judge Ewing deplored the carrying of weapons. He cited how murders often followed arguments that would end in fellowship if a pistol were not at hand.

"Human life is the cheapest commodity in Texas today and I am thankful that there is only one homicide to come before you gentlemen," Judge Ewing told the grand jury. "Liquor violations will be your chief concern, but don't let them push into the background other important matters."

Before recessing at noon the grand jurors appointed C. E. Cary, foreman. E. F. Young will be grand jury bailiff.

Grand jurors for this term of court were E. Kirby, McLain, C. W. Bowers, Miami, W. E. Ginn, Pampa; Clyde Gray, Miami; C. E. Cary, Pampa; E. Bacchus, LeFors; R. W. Lane, Pampa; D. M. Davis, McLain; B. C. Love, Pampa; J. L. Stroop, Pampa; J. M. Carpenter, McLain; B. F. A. Byrum, Pampa.

Japan's Military Grip on Manchuria Strengthened as Troops Occupy More of Railroad Area.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—The state department today held to its announced position that the situation in China failed to present grounds for invoking the Kellogg-Briand pact renouncing war.

NANKING, China, Sept. 21. (AP)—China cried out today against the Japanese occupation of Southern Manchuria.

In Nanking, feeling against Japan was running high. Mass meetings were largely attended. Students paraded the streets with banners decrying the occupation and the government designated next Wednesday as "humiliation day."

Although official reports said Japanese troops had evacuated Kwangcheng, near Changkung, the terminus of the South Manchurian railway, other important cities of Manchuria remained in the military grip of the Japanese.

"Wanton Invasion" Representatives of Chinese news agencies and newspapers, in the name of the nation's press, eabled the League of Nations urging intervention in Manchuria where "wanton invasion of this peace loving, abiding people showed utter disregard of the Washington treaty and the Kellogg pact."

C. T. Wang, foreign minister, said: "We may lose our lives, we may lose our homes, but we cannot surrender any part of the country inherited through centuries from our forefathers."

Tai Chi-Tao, a senior member of the Kuomintang, the political party behind the Nationalist government, said: "Among the civilized nations it is the way of one neighbor to help another in times of distress. When Japan was afflicted by the earthquake of 1923 and the nation, including China, came to her aid."

"Now China is gripped by terrible floods and confronted with a serious communist menace, but what is Japan doing to help her sorely afflicted neighbor?"

TOKYO, Sept. 21. (AP)—More Japanese troops moved from the Korean border today toward Manchuria, where soldiers of the empire were holding the southern portion of the Chinese state in a military vise.

As the troop movements continued, the Japanese cabinet met in an extraordinary session but adjourned without reaching any decision regarding the Manchurian situation.

It was disclosed, however, that the war office and the foreign office were not in accord on Manchurian policy, and that the question had become the most acute in many years.

The chief point considered by the cabinet, according to vernacular reports, was whether developments had justified the sending of reinforcements to Manchuria, as proposed by Minister of War Mikano.

GENEVA, Sept. 21. (AP)—A call for a special session tomorrow of the council of the League of Nations to hear the Chinese appeal for intervention in Manchuria was issued today after the appeal had been presented at the league secretary by Alfred Sze, Chinese minister to London.

Lindberghs in Survey Task

Flooded Area Is to Be Photographed as Part of Helpful Flight.

NANKING, China, Sept. 21. (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh volunteered their services to the Chinese government for survey work, made an aerial survey of the flood-stricken area of Northern Kiangsu province today.

They left here at 7:45 a. m. (5:45 p. m. Sunday Central Standard time) for the Grand Canal area of Kiangsu, some 500 miles distant, and returned at 4 p. m., 2 a. m., Monday, Central Standard time.

The survey flight was the result of an offer by Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh to place themselves and their plane at the disposal of the government to help in any possible manner in the flood emergency. It was accepted with thanks by Chiang Kai-Shek, head of the Nationalist government, and T. V. Soong, finance minister.

The region for which the fliers headed was inundated late in August. The loss of life was estimated at 100,000 in five counties in that area was so thorough, however, that no means of making a reliable survey have been available.

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh took a camera, hoping to obtain useful pictures.

At Lindbergh's suggestion, all social functions planned here in honor of Mrs. Lindbergh and himself were postponed to enable them to devote their full time to flood relief work.

After accepting Lindbergh's offer to help, Soong sent two experts of the flood relief commission from Shanghai to Nanking to confer with the Lindberghs on the most effective way of using their plane.

In view of the fact that the Lindbergh plane has a long cruising range, they decided it would be most useful in surveying flood-stricken Northern Kiangsu.

When the decision was reached that the Lindberghs would immediately to Lotus lake here, where they had landed last week after their flight from Fukuoka, Japan, and took off in 10 minutes.

Oil Hearing Here Is Being Urged

Pampa and community were on record today as feeling that the Panhandle oil hearing scheduled for Oct. 3 should be held here instead of at Amarillo.

The first message of this kind was sent to the railroad commission on Saturday morning by the Pampa NEWS-POST.

Another telegram was dispatched Sunday by Judge Ivy E. Duncan, chairman of the oil and gas committee of the Board of City Development.

Both messages pointed out that Pampa is the center of the oil field and that this is the most convenient place for the session. It was also shown that Amarillo is outside of the oilfield activities.

The Denver railroad reported rain from Chiles to Tascosa, the Santa Fe from Waymon, Okla., to Clovis, N. M., and the Rock Island across the Panhandle. Rail fell at White Deer and Sanford.

Unseasonable temperatures were reported from many points in Texas yesterday as a protracted heat wave continued to hold the state in its grip.

WAR AS "DUMB DIPLOMACY"

When General Smedley Butler told a group of Massachusetts business men the other day that war is nothing but "dumb diplomacy," he voiced a simple truth that ought to be impressed on the mind of every diplomat on earth.

If you care to test his assertion, you might consider the course of events in international politics during the decade or so preceding the World War.

The diplomats were playing a complicated game in which each one tried to win some advantage for his own nation. How well did they play it, anyway?

Well, there were the German diplomats. Germany wanted a "place in the sun," room for expansion, opportunity to improve her foreign trade. What did she get? A ruinous war that wrecked her industries, obliterated her foreign trade, lost all her colonies and left her so exhausted that today, 13 years after the war ended, the rest of the world has to unite to keep her from collapse.

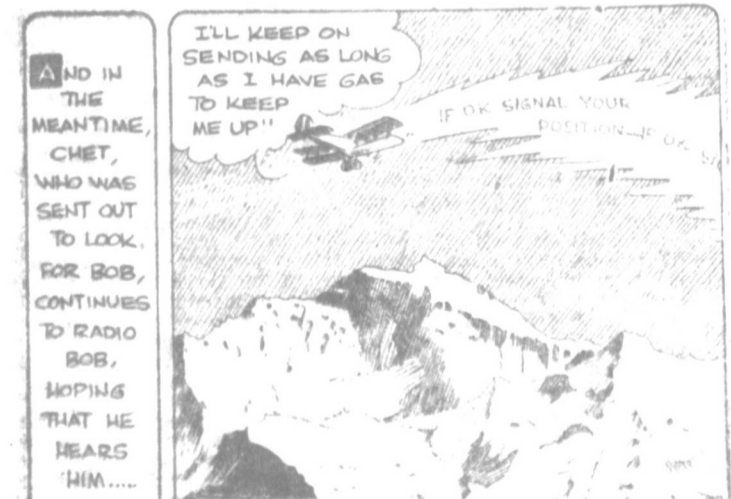

Russia had diplomats, too. What did they get for their country? A war that wrecked the monarchy, years of unpeppable suffering to millions of people and a form of government that is the pet bogey for all the rest of the world.

And the English—supposedly the best diplomats of them all? Before the war England was unrivaled mistress of the seas, possessor of a thriving foreign trade, banker for all the world, head of the mightiest empire ever seen. Today she shares the seas with the American navy, her grip on India has weakened, millions of unemployed live on the dole, industry is crippled and the foreign markets are vanishing—and the lowest income tax is 25 per cent.

The French perhaps did better. But France lost more than a million young men, plunged deeply into debt and emerged with a fear that keeps Europe an armed camp.

Then there is the United States. If you want to know what we got out of war, look around for the nearest breadline.

Freckles and His Friends By Blosser

GUilty LIPS by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY Pretty Norma Kent, 20-year-old secretary in a law office, marries Mark Travers, son of F. M. Travers, millionaire real estate dealer, after the father has sworn to out Mark off without a penny if the marriage takes place. Norma has known Mark only a few weeks, did not know during the courtship that he was a millionaire's son.

CHAPTER XXI There was nothing for Norma to do but watch the tableau. Mark was smiling broadly. He had swung around and caught Natalie's hand. "Hello, Nat. Say—it's good to see you!"

Quick, flashing looks of appraisal on the part of both girls. Almost in one voice they chorused, "How'd you do?" Norma's greeting was low pitched, a little unsteady. Natalie's was an indifferent drawl. "You two will be great friends," Mark prophesied with a man's blind confidence.

Mark's arm, and breathed deeply of the fresh October air. Another week and October would be gone. The night was a cloudless one with a cool breeze that was not chilling. "Do you know what I'd like to do?" she asked. "I'd like to walk. It's such a perfect night and I think the air would be good for my head."

Norma and Mark walked slowly, saying little. He was holding her arm, keeping her close to him. They came to Broad street. Half a block away was the Liberty building, where Brooks, Welliver and Brooks had their law offices.

Norma's quest for an apartment was more successful than Mark's search for work. Within two days she had located a "three-in-one" furnished flat—a diminutive arrangement of living room, dressing room, kitchen and bath. It was in the neighborhood where she and Chris had lived. In a nice building with more air and sunlight. The rent was five dollars higher.

Mark stormed a bit at transferring to such an unfashionable neighborhood, but he discovered how rents mounted elsewhere. Besides there was no place to sign. They could move as soon as he found the right job with a decent salary. Mark, during the second week of their return from Blue Springs, was in a subdued and tractable mood.

LOCAL ARTISTS WILL GIVE PROGRAM AT FAIR

FEMININE FANCIES

By Holly Sellers Hinkle

The Gray county home demonstration clubs are making a good showing in the Tri-State fair in Amarillo...

A large number of the entries are specimens of canning. Other counties are making the same attempt as Gray to "live at home" this year.

Mrs. T. V. Reeves of Canyon reports that there has been more than ever before. Great quantities of corn, peas, beans, beets, and fruits of all kinds are being saved for winter use...

It is probable, said Mrs. Reeves, that the winter will not be one of want to any community of the county. There are good dairy cows on practically every farm, and there are chickens, turkeys, and gardens. A few farms are equipped with wind mills which will be used to grind wheat, corn, and oats for household use.

The United States bureau of home economics is urging that people everywhere can in abundance both for their use at home and for assisting those less fortunate this winter. It emphasizes the values of tomatoes.

Tomatoes are one of the best staple foods for supplying vitamins A, B, C, and G. This rich supply of vitamins makes them almost invaluable to both children and adults, since it helps materially to prevent dietary diseases and infections of the skin and mucous membranes...

For making tomato catsup, the bureau suggests the following recipe:

Select red ripe tomatoes, wash, and cut into pieces, rejecting discolored portions. To each 10 pounds of prepared tomatoes, use as follows:

- 3 medium-sized onions, sliced.
2 large sweet red peppers, sliced and seed removed.
1 cup vinegar.
3-4 cup sugar.
2 teaspoons ground paprika.
3-4 teaspoon ground mustard.
3-4 teaspoon celery seed.
3 teaspoons salt.
1-2 tablespoon whole allspice.
1-2 tablespoon whole cloves.
3 pieces stick cinnamon 2 inches long.
Cook the tomatoes, onions, and peppers about 30 minutes, then press through a fine sieve...

ried and disturbed. No need to ask when he arrived home at night whether the day had brought "luck." She cheered him bravely. She was so sure all he needed was his chance in the world.

Mark Travers' method of hunting a job was far from the procedure of most young men seeking work. He never looked at "help-wanted" columns in newspapers. He ignored employment agencies. Mark did not consider himself above such things. He was merely self-conscious, entirely without an idea of the business-like way to attack his problem.

Each day he went to the club. He dropped into offices where he had acquaintances, sauntered about the old haunts, always in the expectation he would hear of "a good thing." Making these rounds required that a large amount of time should be spent in careless chatter. Mark was known as a good fellow. He tried to maintain the reputation. He stood waiting for a car one evening during the hateful rush hour. A fat woman, arms loaded with bundles, wedged her way between Mark and the street car. As he stepped back to avoid the sharp-cornered package so near his right eye he heard a familiar whistle.

Mark turned. Nat Price's tan roadster was halted less than 10 yards away. Nat, clad in bright green, was waving. He made his way to the roadster.

The girl called out, "Hop in! I'll give you a lift."

Mark hesitated. "Afraid it would be out of your way, Nat. We're east now, Franklin avenue."

"Don't be sill! I can have you there in half the time the car takes. Anyhow, I haven't seen you in ages!"

She swung open the car door and Mark took his place beside her. At once the tan roadster shot forward. Ah! This was better than clinging to a swaying street car strap! Nat drove with perfect assurance. She kept up a running fire of talk about the League's new revue, about Sid-ney's divorce and Lottie wedding. As they stopped before the unimposing apartment the girl turned impulsively.

"There's something I've been wanting to say to you, Mark," she began. "I want to tell you I think it's perfectly splendid of you to show your independence the way you have. No matter what anyone else says I'm for you!"

Travers flushed. "Thanks, Nat. And thanks for the lift home. Norma and I'll be seeing you soon." He stepped from the roadster and saluted as it pulled off down the street.

An hour later from the chaise longue in her boudoir Natalie spoke into a murmur telephone. A servant in the home of Mark's parents answered. "Yes," Natalie said silkily. "It's Mrs. Travers I want to speak to. Tell her Natalie is calling. Something important!"

RAIN POURS—PICNIC HELD UNDER ROOF

Rain did not stop the annual picnic and rally planned for members of St. Matthews Episcopal church for Sunday afternoon.

The group could not go to Green's pasture, as had been planned—but what could be more interesting than spreading a lunch in an up-to-date garage?

It was at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Buckler (formerly set as the starting point for the picnic) that the gathering was enjoyed by more than 20 persons.

The subject of the lesson-sermon was "Matter" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, Sept. 20. Matthews 24:35 furnished the golden text: "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away."

The following passages from the Bible (Psalms 39:5,7) were included in the lesson-sermon: "Surely every man walketh in a vain shew: surely they are disquieted in vain: he heareth up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them. And now, Lord, what wait I for? My hope is in thee."

Embraced in the service was also the following citation from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. "The real of the real is Spirit. That bully old slogan hits me just right—
... no bamboozlin' about that!
SURE! When a word fits, you know it! "Satisfy" just fits CHESTERFIELD. A smoker picks up a package, and he likes its neat appearance—no heavy inks or odors from ink. That satisfies him. Then he examines a Chesterfield. It is well-filled; it is neat in appearance; the paper is pure white. And that satisfies him. He lights up. At the very first puff he likes the flavor and the rich aroma. He decides that it tastes better—neither raw nor over-sweet; just pleasing and satisfying. Then he learns it is milder. That's another way of saying that there is nothing irritating about it. And again he's satisfied! Satisfy—they've got to satisfy! The right tobaccos, the CHESTERFIELD kind, cured and aged, blended and cross-blended, to a taste that's right. Everything that goes into CHESTERFIELD is the best that money can buy and that science knows about. CHESTERFIELDS do a complete job of it. They Satisfy!

HOUSTON EXPECTS TO WIN DIXIE'S BALL TITLE TONIGHT

BUFFS NEED SINGLE GAME IN HOME LOT

Dick McCabe is Due to Hurl for Texans—Touchstone to Oppose.

HOUSTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—The baseball championship of the southland today was in reach of the Houston, Texas League, Buffalos.

The Buffs tonight meet the Birmingham Southern Association Barons in the fifth and perhaps decisive game of the Dixie series—and go into it with a lead of three victories to one.

"Dixie" Dean, 20-year-old idol of the Houston fans, shut out the Barons yesterday 2 to 0, defeating the veteran Ray Caldwell and allowing only three singles.

It was highly gratifying to Dean, because Caldwell, a grandfather, had beaten him out at Birmingham in the first game of the series, 1 to 0.

Tonight Houston will use Dick McCabe, borrowed from Fort Worth, and Manager Clyde Milan will send in Clay Touchstone.

The players' pool for the series will approximate $40,000. Sixty per cent goes to the players of the winning league.

Caldwell's loss of yesterday was hard to take. The old wheel-horse had urged Milan to send him back in, and four of the seven hits for which he was nicked were of the scratch variety.

Football Menu to Be Complete Next Saturday

BY HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP)—America's colleges will start saying it with football in large quantities this Saturday. And they'll be saying it steadily from now on until late in November.

As usual, a score or so teams already have jumped the gun and opened the 1931 campaign and a few others will postpone their initial games until Oct. 3 but for the large majority Sept. 26 will be the official opening day.

With the time-up games the rule, outstanding attractions are hard to find but they can be found if a search of the football almanac is carried out diligently.

The west coast, for instance, provides a clash between Utah, perennial champions of the Rocky Mountain conference, and Washington of the Pacific Coast conference.

Southern California will play Slip Madigan's strong St. Mary eleven, the Oregon Aggies tackle another Rocky Mountain conference team, Colorado university; California takes on Santa Clara and Stanford plays the Olympic club of San Francisco.

Two Southern conference games will be played, Duke battling South Carolina and Tulane playing Mississippi, while most of the other conference teams also will swing into action although against non-conference opposition.

The Colorado Aggies will travel due east from their Rocky Mountain stronghold to meet the strong Kansas squad of the Big Six while Texas Christian's Horned Frogs will play host to the Louisiana State of the Southern conference.

In the Big Ten only Indiana, Minnesota, and Chicago will start the season this week. Indiana plays the strong Ohio university eleven; Minnesota tackles North Dakota State, and Chicago plays the state of Michigan and Cornell college of Iowa in a doubleheader.

Harvesters Will Do Battle With Memphis—Gorillas Go to Perryton.

Next week-end promises to be an important one for Harvesters reserves and the Gorillas.

The Memphis cyclone will be here Saturday in a game in which reserves will figure importantly. It will be an opportunity for some of the new names and faces to appear in the line-up.

The boys hope to keep their goal line unsmiled by visiting feet. Memphis lost some of her strength by graduation, but is expected to exhibit some tricky offense Friday.

Before the first string crew entertains Memphis here, the Gorillas go to Perryton Friday to play the Rangers. The Gorillas have a large squad but have not had time to get thoroughly organized.

Coach Workman may take a few men of the first squad to bolster his eleven. It will probably be the toughest game of the season for the Gorillas.

The Harvesters must now point their efforts toward the game with Wichita, Kans., high school here Oct. 3. The Harvesters are expected to furnish plenty of opposition, and the tilt with the Teachers college freshmen at Canyon Oct. 9 will be excellent testing prior to the "big game" of the season with the Amarillo Sandies here Oct. 17.
