10,000 Persons See Entrada Performances GERMAN ARMIES PUSH ON THROUGH FRANCE

1940 Fiesta Attended By Huge Crowds

Veterans And Cast Praised For Their Great Show
(By STAFF WRITER)
When the 10,000 person had passed the gates at Recreation park grandstand, music for the third and final performance of the Entrada of Coronado opened the gripping event that was 400 years in the making.
It was estimated that 3,000 saw the show Thursday night, 5,000 Friday night and 2,000 last night.
However, the last notes of the beautiful music of the Entrada did not ring down the curtain on the Coronado Top O' Texas Fiesta which brought thousands of visitors to Pampa. In the high school gym the old timers and younger folks who like to dance in the old-time manner were going strong in the last stretch of a continuous two-day celebration.
At the same time, another Fiesta dance at the Southern club was getting under way, and a great assembly of people were dancing in the street to the music and songs of the lightest doughboys. The street dance was held on Kingsmill in front of the city hall.
The Junior Chamber of Commerce which sponsors the Fiesta began to shed their worries and anxieties last night, confident that the Coronado Fiesta was the most brilliant, entertaining and best-attended of any they had produced.
The biggest Entrada crowd packed the stands Friday night. Spectators found it hard to believe that they were witnessing a cast composed of amateurs, and they said as much to each other.
Director Mark Hamilton praised the Pampa cast as the best he had ever worked with, and the Jaycees believe those usual words because Mr. Hamilton's eyes filled with emotion when he told them that. As for

K. Of C. Float Wins First Parade Prize

The Knights of Columbus float won first prize in the Top O' Texas Fiesta parade held Friday and Saturday afternoons. Second place went to the Beta Gamma Kappa float, built by Montgomery Ward. The 88er float was third with the Tom Rose float taking fourth place.
Prize winning float was a scene from the Coronado Entrada in which Father Padilla is killed by Indians. Father Juan Padilla (the Rev. John Cefal, assistant pastor at Holy Souls church) was seen kneeling at the foot of a cross while standing over him, with upraised tomahawk, was an Indian (Larry Gaskill). Neither man changed position during the entire parade. Other Indians with drawn arrows pointed at the priest, stood at the back of the float. The float was built by Burdette Keim.

A garden scene was the theme of the BGK float. Seated around a table in a flower arbor were four beautiful girls. Riding on the float Friday were Mrs. George Follard, Mrs. Alan Evans, Gloria Posey and Jane Kerbow. Riding on the float Saturday were Mrs. Paul Schneider, Catherine Pearce, Betty Jo Townsend and Betty Jo Berry.
Riding on the 88er float were J. A. Mead of Miami, president of the club, R. E. Southwood of Panhandle, oldest citizen at the celebration, and Mitch Bell of Clarendon.
The Tom Rose float was a coupe completely covered with pink paper with inlaid letters of a different color.
It required 46 minutes for the parade to pass a given point. A new record was believed set when the long parade started only eight minutes late on Friday and only five minutes late on Saturday. Bill Jarratt was parade chairman.
The parade was headed by city police officers and state highway patrolmen followed by war veterans carrying the United States flags and post standards, with guard of honor. Then came the 40 and 8 box car followed by ex-service men.
Many Bands Parade
First musical organization in the parade was the Pampa high school band, which was followed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce float which carried the Fiesta queen, Miss Martha Price, who also played the part of Beatrice in the Entrada. Miss Price wore the $500 dress in which she appeared in the closing scene of the Entrada. With Miss Price were her ladies-in-waiting, Mrs. Jimmy Dodge, Mrs. Harold Shadwick, Mary Price, Betty Thurmond and Anna Lois Alford.
Riding behind the Fiesta queen came Francisco de Coronado (Harold Shadwick) and his lieutenant Fernando Alverado (Noble Glenn).
The 88er float was built by members of the club, and was followed by women riders, led by Miss Margaret Stockstill who was one of eight girls representing Texas at the Fort Worth Exposition.
Guyton's famous cowboy band was on hand and the old timers stepped high and played all the way. Appropriately the LaNora

One Injured In 6 Minor Car Crashes

J. C. Wilson, 819 Murphy street, suffered a broken nose and face lacerations in one of six automobile accidents reported to city police last night. No one was reported in the other crashes, all of which were of a minor nature according to police.
The accident in which Wilson was injured at the intersection of Frederic and Ballard streets when Scarberry's car and a truck driven by Ray Scarberry.
Most of the accidents occurred on Frederic street during the jam of traffic to and from the Entrada.

Baby Mix-Up Results As Air Raiders Bomb Maternity Hospital

THE HAGUE, June 15 (AP)—Two tearful mothers, each claiming a baby boy whose parentage was obscured in the confusion of a bomb explosion in a maternity home during the conquest of the Netherlands, asked a local court to make a "judgment of Solomon" today.
The plaintiff said that on May 10, when a bomb struck the home, she handed her 10-day-old baby out to a window to a pedestrian who took it to an air raid shelter. She accused the defendant of taking possession of it there.
The defendant contended that the baby, now seven weeks old, was her own.

British Say Sunday Might Decide Fight

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, June 15—British authorities expressed "sincere gratitude" tonight for President Roosevelt's promise of aid to the Allies as long as they "continue to resist," while reports were published in this capital that Sunday might decide the fight for France.
It was said that the Allied commanders in the field had made a fateful decision which might tell the tale across the channel, but there was no hint as to what it was.
The French cabinet, having met today without announcement, will meet again tomorrow. Then it can consider the Roosevelt message.
Mr. Roosevelt's response to French Premier Paul Reynaud's "final" appeal for help was called here a "generous" one.
His "assurance that the United States will redouble its efforts to send planes and munitions to the Allies as long as the Allied governments continue to resist," these sources added, "is especially welcome and his explanation that this assurance carries with it no implications of military character and that only congress can make such commitments is fully understood and appreciated."
A group of members of parliament called to meet next Tuesday to consider "arming the population" against invasion—the spokesman for the move, M. P. Clement Davies, declaring that the "who can throw a ball" should be given "hand grenades, bombs, pistols, anything."
Spokesmen at London declared the British would fight to the last drop of blood. They denied reports that France was driven to the verge of separate peace.
Fresh armored divisions, the iron cavalry shock troops of the new BEF, smashed at surging German waves "on a front as wide as France" to give the Polius rest.
They had the support from the air that British Tommies asked for when they returned from the battering at Dunkerque with the cry: "For God's sake, give us planes."
Waves of British bombers, apparently working closely with the ground troops, splattered German spearheads south of the Seine with explosives just ahead of the Allied center-attacks.
At the same time other flights of British planes dumped heavy bombs on military targets in Germany's Ruhr valley and Rhineland, and on troops at Baden, Ammunition dumps at Bergen, Norway, also were bombed.
The air ministry acknowledged the loss of six bombers, and the

Verdun Falls Before Nazi Air Armada

BERLIN, June 15—The famous fortified town and citadel of Verdun, reduced to virtual ruins in one of the bloodiest battles of the last war yet never taken by the Imperial German army, fell today before the smash of Adolf Hitler's armies, the German high command announced.
South of Saarbrücken, the high command also declared, the Nazi war machine has broken through the Maginot line on a "broad front" in its drive westward to the conquered city of Paris.
Verdun, too, stands within the Maginot zone of forts, on the line's northwest.
An authorized spokesman, reflecting German reaction to the unprecedented successes of the men and machines in the field, said there was no occasion now to halt hostilities.
The spokesman made the statement in commenting on reports that France, facing one of the most terrible defeats in her history, might seek a separate peace.
"France and England wanted this war," he said, "now they have it and at present there is no occasion to stop."
Touching on the same subject, the authoritative news commentary, Diest Aus Deutschland, said:
"In view of the fact that victory already is within closest reach, there is hardly any occasion on the German side to approach the question of French capitulation."
This reflected the official German view that the vast Maginot line is a thing of the past, crumbling and indefensible, and that there is no military hope now for France.
The Germans now are not only

Hitler Sends Austrians To Occupy Paris

(By LOUIS F. LOCHNER)
PLACE DE L'OPERA, PARIS, BY COURIER PLANE TO BERLIN, June 15 (AP)—The Swastika banners of Nazi Germany, unfurled by the Austrian vanguard which Adolf Hitler significantly sent as the first of his troops to occupy Paris, floated today from atop practically every prominent and historic structure in his German-captured capital of France.
It is recalled that last Jan. 30, in a speech commemorating the seventh anniversary of the Nazi rise to power, the fuhrer twitted the premier of France for having expressed "pity" for Hitler's native Austria, and warned:
"Oh, Monsieur Daladier, you're going to get to know my Austrians. You're going to make their acquaintance."
I, myself, an American correspondent, find myself in Paris as the guest of the German army even before the main forces of that army have arrived.
Only the Austrian vanguard is here. Other divisions have passed through the city, hurrying on to battle without pause. The bulk of the army of occupation is not here yet, but is expected to start arriving before this cable is received in America.
The cable was written at 9 A. M. Saturday.
That Hitler himself is due here soon is taken for granted.
The Tribune De Geneve, of Geneva, Switzerland, carried a special Paris dispatch tonight saying that German troops were busy "preparing the place of Versailles for the arrival of Chancellor Hitler."
Before some of the city's war memorials, standing old women, young women, bearded men and boys in their teens. Many of the older women I saw were sobbing softly.
As we approached the tomb in company of our guides from the army, the looks hardened for a moment. They appeared to relax somewhat, however, when the German officers removed their caps, stood still, then saluted the symbol of the brave French soldiery buried there.
To countless American tourists who know Paris it is probably as uncomprehensible as it was to me

Coronado Escapes Injury as Horse Falls On Ramp

What almost may have been a tragic accident took place Friday night during the Coronado Entrada when White Star, the beautiful white horse ridden by Coronado, Harold Shadwick, fell from the high ramps that indicate mountains in the show.
Only the quick thinking of Shadwick and Major Brought and Tex Hinton of the Entrada staff saved Shadwick from serious injury.
The Coronado army, part on foot, were ahead and all at once they stopped. The white horse used to stopping when the foot soldiers stopped, also applied his brakes and started to back down the ramp. He slid off, managed to get a foot tangled in a rope and down he went.
Shadwick saved himself by making a swan dive from his high charger and landed on both feet with his gold armor and bright captain-general robes trailing behind him. He did get scuffed up a bit and went through the rest of the show in much pain. Last night he was back on the horse but with his fingers crossed and ready for anything.
Major Brought and Hinton doctored the horse all day Saturday. In fact the way they take care of that horse would shame any mother with a new born baby.

Construction Of New Furr Building Begins

A building permit for a new Furr store, to be erected at the corner of North Somerville street, and West Kingsmill avenue, was issued to C. W. Furr at the city hall yesterday. Amount of the permit was $16,636.
Permits issued last week totaled $24,536, making the amount for the year to date $466,550, exclusive of moving permits.
The new Furr Food store will be 75 feet wide, facing on Somerville street, by 175 feet deep which is believed to be the largest grocery store in the Panhandle. Work on the building is expected to be completed in less than two months. Robert E. Maxey is the contractor.

Talk Of Armistice Scorned As Nazis Drive Poilus Back

(By The Associated Press)
German armies drove further into French territory and stormed into the Maginot line yesterday, scorning talk of peace as weary French troops fell back.
A German spokesman in Berlin said reports were current in other European capitals that German terms for separate peace either had been asked or accepted by the French government, but declared that the Nazi drive to crush the military power of its opponents would go on with no relenting.
In the Baltic a strange, new situation had arisen over Russia's moving additional troops into Lithuania.
Berlin insisted it had no direct interest in the westward thrust of Soviet military power.
The Lithuanian president, Antanas Smetona, and members of his government were said to have taken flight before the Red army and had sought asylum in Germany.
Swastikas Fly In Paris
Swastikas flew from many a flagstaff, the German armies were in complete command in captive Paris, Louis E. Lochner, Associated Press bureau chief in Berlin, accompanied the Germans into the French capital and reported it had the appearance of a dead city, but was not damaged.
On the east of France German armies stormed along the Maginot line which France had built to withstand any attacking force.

Border Patrol To Be Doubled

EL PASO, June 15 (AP)—Doubling of the U. S. Immigration Border Patrol was projected today along with preliminary steps for establishing a training school to provide 800 new border patrolmen along the Mexican and Canadian borders.
Local immigration authorities conferred on doubling the border personnel here with James E. Rufing and Daniel McGrath, assistant U. S. attorney general, who were ordered here by the justice department to study methods of intensifying border patrol activity.
Training of the 800 new border patrolmen will be undertaken in the ensuing eight months, it was stated, in details of 100 trainees at a time.
Commenting on doubling of personnel here, an immigration service official said that at present there are only 60 patrolmen to cover the 300-mile border along Mexico between the Arizona-New Mexico line, and the Texas line, the south of the eastern New Mexico line.
"Soon we will have 120 patrolmen for the area," the official said, "according to word we have just received from Washington. A bill providing for the extra men is expected to reach the President's desk soon."

Heavy Rains Fall Over Most Of Texas

(By The Associated Press)
Heavy thundershowers that have swept most of Texas for a week continued tonight in north, central and west Texas.
Streets of Dallas were flooded last (Saturday) night by a two inch downpour that fell in an hour and a half.
Belton in the heart of the state reported four inches of rainfall and the Lampasas and Leon rivers began rising. A hard rain fell at Llano, also.
Along the Gulf Coast it was hot and dry.
Harrington in the Rio Grande valley had light showers, which fell also at McAllen and Rio Grande City.
A windstorm of short duration demolished several tourist court cottages north of Edinburg during the afternoon. The Rio Grande was rising at Brownsville but no flood was threatened.

I Saw...

The crowd falling back to watch a couple of jitterbuggers at the street dance last night... They say that every big convention or group closely associated together has a slogan or saying that catches on and everybody repeats. The thing that everybody in the Entrada cast was saying when the ended was "Where's Perez." The role of Perez was played by "Heavy" Ingram. The saying caught on after "Heavy" failed to answer several cues and Director Hamilton cried, "Name of God, where's Perez!" Incidentally, "Heavy," who strangled the Turk became one of the stars of the show.

Quest For Faith

Without faith, life is a desert. He who has no faith has no strength. He is like a ship drifting with neither sail, rudder, nor anchor. Faith in something, that is. It does not so much matter in what. Faith in religion, faith in science, faith in a political system, faith in eventually getting the jackpot in the corner slot machine, faith in something.

THE BIG PUSH-EM-UP

Perhaps the greatest waste of human energy is for people to continue to advocate the so-called theories of social betterment, when vital questions concerning their operations cannot even be explained.

Especially is this true, when the theories are contradictory to all eternal principles that have come down through the ages. All these emotional people who believe that they can reduce poverty and suffering by turning the distribution of wealth over to some committee appointed by the government fail to explain how this committee could be selected which would be capable of understanding the thousands of complicated problems and, at the same time, be honest enough and impartial enough not to make decisions on the basis other than what would keep them in control.

Texans in Washington

By J. T. EARLEY Associated Press Staff WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—When the gigantic defense program took form representatives of chambers of commerce, county and municipal authorities from all over the country including Texas swarmed into Washington, pointing out to department officials reasons why the areas they represented would be ideal locations for air bases, planes and munition factory sites, and the like.

Among other Texans who came here were Sidney King, of Wichita Falls, Dick Shinkle of Lubbock, and Carl Hinton of Amarillo, each representing the chambers of commerce of their cities. They pointed out, among other advantages to be found in establishing air centers in West Texas, the fact that in case of war and bombing of airports by enemy planes, damage to runways would be incalculable.

"I stayed clear through the Entrada and a show has to be long to keep me the full length of it. I think everyone should have seen the Entrada."

RAYMOND HARRAH, prominent business man.

"I thought it was a very educational show and certainly enjoyed it very much."

MRS. JOE GORDON, Wife County Attorney.

"It was very impressive and I did enjoy it. I really enjoyed every minute of the Entrada."

MRS. ERNA HOWARD, Mother of Mrs. E. L. Norman.

"To me it was a splendid show and I have told all my friends how much I liked it. It was undoubtedly a grand affair and I am so happy it was presented in Pampa. I think our people did a fine job in giving us such a high class show."

Qualified-Energetic

BUD MARTIN

"Qualified and energetic" accurately describes Bud Martin, Wheeler young man who is a candidate for district attorney of the 31st judicial district, subject to the Democratic primary July 27. These same qualities are also among his strong recommendations for election to the office he seeks.

Qualified is shown by his work in the University of Texas law school, where he graduated as an honor student; energetic as seen in his everyday activities. When Martin has a job to do or a duty to perform, he wastes no time in buckling down to the task at hand, supported by boundless energy and a natural aptitude for quickness of thought and action.

Friends who are watching his campaign and the fine impression Martin is making realize that "qualified and energetic" alone are not enough to justify his already formidable support.

But this young man's reserves are ample to warrant his assuming any responsibilities the voters may confer upon him—even greater than that of district attorney. However, he is just getting well started in his chosen profession—the law—and tempers the enthusiasm of youth with a becoming degree of modesty concerning his present aspirations.

Yet this same modesty, combined with a commendable degree of determination, insures diligent care and attention to the details of the office, should Martin be named the next district attorney for the area embracing Wheeler, Gray, Roberts and Lipscomb counties. Adv.

UAW And CIO Reach Tentative Concord

DETROIT, June 15 (AP)—Negotiators of the CIO United Automobile Workers and General Motors Corporation reached a "tentative agreement" tonight in their contract dispute which had threatened complications for the national defense program.

John R. Steelman, director of the Federal Conciliation Bureau who came to Detroit when the impasse began to be regarded as "serious," announced that "all essentials of a tentative agreement have been completed" and "an agreement on wages has been reached."

The CIO union, dominant in the automotive industry, had demanded a general increase in wages. The corporation had offered a counter proposal of vacation pay of 2 1/2 per cent of the employee's yearly earnings, and pay boosts in certain plants.

Steelman said details of the agreement would not be made public until ratification by Union locals, probably next week.

Army Mexico's Best Revolt Deterrent

By ROBERT F. DORMAN (Written for NEA Service)

EL PASO, June 14—After years of quiet the American border is again buzzing with rumors of an impending revolution in Mexico.

These whispered words, coupled with rumors of fifth column activities, have taken a great toll of the tourist business, blotted out of Europe, that might have been expected to flow this year over the magnificent International Highway from Laredo, Tex., to Mexico City.

Many American tourists around Laredo are even afraid to drive cars across the International bridge which spans the Rio Grande and connects Laredo to Nuevo Laredo on the Mexican side.

Yet for one who saw the first four years of almost continuous Mexican revolutions starting in 1911, who rode with Francisco Madero, with Pancho Villa and with others of those now legendary leaders of the past, it is hard to believe a serious revolution is in prospect.

STRONG ARMY DETERS REVOLT

I have just completed a 3000-mile tour of Mexico and cannot report serious organization toward revolt. There are a number of facts to be considered in connection with any possible Mexican revolution:

1. All of the elements upon which the old revolutionary armies of the past were built are no longer in existence.
2. The rich hacienda owners from whom cash tribute was extracted are gone.
3. The haciendas have been broken up into small farms.
4. The big corporations, notably the oil companies, have had their property expropriated.
5. The vast herds of cattle which roamed the Mexican plains and upon which the revolutionaries fed no longer exist. In the old days horses were almost as thick as cattle, thus providing easily acquired mounts for the revolutionaries, but the horses also are gone.
6. With the disappearance of the haciendas, crops have become scarce and no revolutionary army of today could "live on the country."

Revolutions in the past depended principally upon three things—cattle, crops and cash—and all these three things are non-existent today.

The old revolutionaries were faced with a weak and ill-equipped Federal army. The Mexican army of today is well equipped and mobile.

The best prospect for the engineering of a revolt, therefore, would be through the army. But this does not suggest a revolution of the old type. It would probably be a quick turnover with the army proclaiming allegiance to some new leader. Thus the most effective deterrent to a rebellion is the Mexican army.

Above all, there has been instilled into the army an attitude of loyalty to the government, and not to any one general. That this attitude is growing is proved by the last four abortive attempts at revolution, in which one or two divisions followed a popular general into rebellion, only to find the bulk of the army loyal and the attempted revolution stamped out in a few weeks.

"QUE IMPORTE?" SAY MEXICANS

The people themselves are rather apathetic. I talked with many of all classes in different sections of the country as I traveled by train, bus and plane. Apparently 80 per cent of the people are for Gen. Juan Andres Almazan as against the government-sponsored candidacy of Gen. Avila Camacho. But 85 per cent of these believe Camacho will be announced the winner and "Que importe?" (so what?)

A Mexican business man perhaps explained the Mexican attitude best. He said, "I am 40 years old and have

This is the way Mexican elections are conducted—out in the open, at least as far as appearances go. Although 80 per cent of the people seem to favor General Almazan, nearly every one believes General Camacho will win. Under Mexican law President Lazaro Cardenas by declaring a state of national emergency can add two years to his expiring six-year term. Mexican presidents cannot succeed themselves.

Gen. Juan Andres Almazan ... opposition candidate.

never voted. Why? Because, if the man I favored was backed by the government, I didn't need to vote. If I opposed the government, selection, why waste time in voting?"

Rule Due Soon On Allowable Formulas

AUSTIN, June 15 (AP)—Well-spacing requirements and allowable formulas affecting the Johnson and Emperor deep oil fields of West Texas, over which operators differed sharply at Railroad Commission hearings, were expected shortly, commission officials said today.

Operators disagreed over whether the allocation method of 50 per cent on acreage and 50 per cent on potential obtaining in the Emperor deep pool of Winkler county should be retained.

The small Johnson field, located between the Foster and North Cowden areas, was believed to be producing from the same horizons as the nearby pools by some operators, while others maintained it was a separate production area.

Commission engineers prepared to hear testimony June 21 on an application by York and Harper, operators, to increase the Emperor well in the Foster pool of Ector county.

The operators' petition, filed by Ira Butler, Fort Worth attorney, asserted the Foster allowables were lower than any other field in West Texas on a basis of depth and acreage.

Engineering reports for the 75-field West Texas oil district showed the area, containing 10,082 wells, produced 7,216,794 barrels of crude in April as compared to an allowable of 7,789,642.

Nineteen hundred and sixty leases, worked by 824 operators, moved approximately 7,234,564 barrels of crude through pipelines during the month.

The district, which had 71 gas wells producing 40,960,000 cubic feet in April, yielded 874,083,768 barrels of crude up to Jan. 1 this year.

Head Director Sees And Praises Local Entrada Production

Nelle Walters, head of the Directors staff of the United States Coronado Exposition Commission arrived here Saturday to see the Pampa Entrada under the direction of Mark Hamilton.

"I had heard some grand reports on your show here so I just decided to come here and see it myself," said Walters, who is in Colorado Springs directing the Entrada that will be given in the vacation city on July 4, 5, 6 and 7.

After the show last night Walters said he was highly pleased with Hamilton's work and said the people of Pampa could well be proud of the presentation here.

Walters, Hamilton and Bill Colvert left here this morning for Las Vegas where they will leave Hamilton, who will direct the Entrada there. Walters and Colvert proceeded to Raton where they expected to spend the night and go into Colorado Springs Monday.

Deskins Wells Opens Campaign At Wellington

WELLINGTON, June 15 (Special)—Offering himself as a candidate who can and will serve the entire Panhandle, Deskins Wells opened his speaking campaign in Wellington Friday night before a crowd of 3,500 persons.

Addressing the men and women of his home county, many of whom have known him for the entire 38 years of his life, Mr. Wells laid down the platform on which he is seeking to represent the 18th Congressional district.

"When a man asks to serve you as your Congressman, you have a right to ask what he thinks the duties are," Deskins Wells told his listeners early in his speech. "How does he propose to do this work? What course will he follow? I tell you that I will be a representative for the entire district and for the welfare of every person in it. My aim is to preserve our democratic form of government at all costs."

Continuing, Mr. Wells outlined the ten points in his platform:

1. An immediate defense program to enable the United States to adequately resist any and all potential threats of invasions of the Americas. In addition to fulfilling all modern mechanized needs of the air force, the army, and the navy, the defense program must be supported by sound and prosperous conditions of American agriculture labor and industry.
2. Strict enforcement of immigration laws, curtailment of immigration quotas, and rigid check on activities of all aliens by the United States Department of Justice. There is no place in the United States for any 5th column activities.
3. Recognition that international affairs might necessitate the United States furnishing planes and armaments to foreign powers; but opposed to sending American soldiers to fight on the lands of Europe.
4. Continuation of the Government farm and ranch programs to the end that soil resources be conserved; and the American farmer and rancher be assured of their rightful share of the national income.
5. Opposed to Federal control of the Texas oil and gas industry.
6. Continuation of the C. C. C., W. P. A., and P. W. A. programs, with their future work related where possible to the immediate needs of the emergency defense program. Wages and rates of pay equitably raised, and equal to those paid in other states.
7. Continuation of the Federal Social Security Program with groups designated in the Social Security Act.
8. Continuation of the recognition of the right to collective bargaining.
9. Represent the entire Eighteenth Congressional District including every person, every county, and every town and city in this district.
10. Dedicate my efforts and my life to the preservation of Democracy which has made us the freest, happiest, richest, and most tolerant people on the face of the earth.

With the richest nation on earth, the highest standard of living, vast capacity in industry and agriculture,

Allies To Receive More Aid, President Reports

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt, replying to Premier Reynaud of France, pledged redoubled efforts today to supply munitions, but told him that only congress could make military commitments.

As long as the French continue to fight "in defense of their liberty," Mr. Roosevelt said, they can be assured that increasing quantities of airplanes, artillery and munitions will be sent them from this country.

And the United States, he said, "will not consider as valid any attempts to infringe by force the independence and territorial integrity of France."

"I know that you will understand," he said, "that these statements carry with them no implication of military commitments. Only the congress can make such commitments."

It was the first time in any of his public communications with heads of the Allied governments that Mr. Roosevelt had referred to the question of American military aid.

Reynaud directed to the President last Thursday a message which the French premier described in a radio address as "a new and last appeal." In his address, Reynaud referred to the aid already received from America, declared that the French knew "what a high place ideals hold" in the life of the American people, and asked:

"Will they hesitate still to declare themselves against Nazi Germany?"

This question was interpreted by many as a plea for the United States to declare war on Germany.

In making public Mr. Roosevelt's reply, Stephen Early, White House press secretary, said that the premier's communication was not being given to reporters because it was the same as his radio address which had been published.

Mr. Roosevelt's message was made public in the late afternoon. Earlier, the chief executive had conferred for 70 minutes with the British and French ambassadors, Lord Lothian and Count de St. Quentin. White House attaches said, however, that the message had been dispatched prior to this conference.

Details of the President's talk with the two envoys were not disclosed, but Lord Lothian said the question of further aid to the Allies was discussed. Certain points were "cleared up," he said, but no decisions reached.

Both Lord Lothian and Count de St. Quentin emphasized that no formal communications were presented to the President. They said, too, that the White House had not been in communication with the French government during their conference.

At the capitol and in government departments, this country's own defense program was pressed ahead.

The navy announced award of a $5,489,308 order for airplane engines to the Ranger Aircraft Engines division of the Fairchild Engine and Airplane corporation.

The federal power commission announced that on instructions from President Roosevelt, it would survey power needs and, in cooperation with other agencies, work out plans to protect the power supply against hostile acts.

The senate approved and sent to the White House a bill intended to expedite warship building. It provides for consolidation of the navy's bureau of engineering and its bureau of construction in an effort to cut red tape.

The senate finance committee approved a $1,007,000,000 tax defense bill.

The senate passed a measure giving the Reconstruction Finance Corporation broad powers to finance production of war materials. The house approved the bill yesterday. It now goes back to the house for action on minor changes.

Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, told reporters that as soon as the legislation became law he would make funds available for certain aircraft production needs.

It was indicated that another action would be purchases of reserve stocks of strategic war materials, such as rubber, tin and manganese.

While the mechanics of the program have not been worked out, it was established to carry out the purchasing program, or there might be several, one for each industry.

National Golf Championship To Betty Jameson

ST. LOUIS, June 15 (AP)—Betty Jameson, women's national golf champion of San Antonio, burned up the Glen Echo course in 8 under par today to defeat Patty Berg, the defending champion, 2 up in a thrilling 36-hole bout for the Trans-Mississippi championship.

It remained anybody's game to the seventeenth hole, where Betty won with a par 4 after Patty was forced to recover from a trap for a bogey 5. All the Texan had to do was halve the home green but Patty's resistance was then completely broken and she overrode the green with her third shot for another bogey 6, while her opponent was in nicely for a par.

The match saw-sawed all day and Betty was downhearted coming up to the fifteenth one down.

But here she cracked in the most spectacular shot of the day—a chip-in from a foot off the green. She aimed for nearly two minutes then threaded the needle for a birdie three on the 35-yard hole.

They halved the sixteenth with birdie fours, but Betty was on top to stay.

The nip-and-tuck battle is best described by the fact the girls halved only 15 of the 36 holes. The other 21 were see-sawed back and forth.

Softball Players To Build Diamond

Softball players of Pampa and vicinity will gather at Recreation park, east of the city, at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon to make themselves a softball diamond. Trucks and graders and lots of shovels will be available.

A welding outfit will also be on hand to add several feet to the height of the light poles.

Play in the league will begin next week after a meeting to determine number of entries and arrange a schedule.

"We want every softball player in this section at the park in working clothes," announced Jack Back, Panhandle softball commissioner, yesterday. "Seeing we can't get a diamond to come to us, we're going to have to go to the diamond."

The league will be sponsored by the Summer Recreation council of which Jim Edwards is supervisor. Teams desiring to enter the league should contact Mr. Edwards or Mr. Back immediately.

Additional application blanks for membership in the Kiwanis club Knol Hole Gang are now available at the Boy Scout office in the city hall. It was announced yesterday by the Rev. Joseph Wonders, chairman of the committee.

After the boys have signed application cards and promised to live up to gang laws, they will be given buttons which will entitle them to free admission to all home games played by the Pampa Oilers.

The Oilers will return Tuesday night for a home stand of 11 days.

Hallbourg Leading Pitcher Of League With Nine Wins

Gas Hallbourg of the Pampa Oilers became the leading pitcher in the West Texas-New Mexico league last week when he won his ninth game against three losses. He passed both Crider and Hill of Amarillo who lost games. Rex Dilbeck was running his teammate a close race with seven wins against three losses.

Lloyd Summers continued to lead the Oilers at the plate through Friday night with an average of .381. Manager Grover Seitz was in the second position with a .368 average.

In the league batting race, through Monday night's games when official averages were compiled for the last time, Schweda of Lubbock was leading the pack with an average of .459 but he had been at bat only 98 times. The real leader was Gordon Nell of Borger who was hitting at a .439 clip.

Emmett Fullenwider of Amarillo had no competition in home runs with his record of 23 to that time. Sam Hale of Midland was an easy leader in doubles with 26 to his credit. Several players were tied in the triple department.

Entrada Sidelights

(Editor's Note: The human interest stories concerning the Entrada that have appeared in The News during the last week under the head "Entrada Sidelights" were written by Bill Colvert, director of publicity for the U. S. Coronado commission. Mr. Colvert, who drove one of the crested, red Coronado cars while here, is a Texan and "understands Texas people." He made scores of friends while here and won the admiration of The News for both because of his ability as a newspaperman and because of his genial and friendly personality. The following "sidelights" were the last to be written by Mr. Colvert, who left early Sunday for Raton where the next Entrada will be produced. The News greatly appreciates Mr. Colvert's aid in covering the Fiesta and Entrada, and holds him as a real newspaperman who knows a story when he sees one and finds one wherever he goes.)

By BILL COLVERT

"It was a great Entrada and I'm sorry I couldn't stay for the Saturday showing," said Clinton P. Anderson, managing director of the United States Coronado commission Saturday noon as he left for his office in Albuquerque where his desk is piled high with requests for the Entrada.

Continuing their fine spirit that has been manifested all through the Entrada, the cast last night made up a fund and presented Ambassador Mark Hamilton with a lovely present. Hamilton has done a grand job here and much of the credit for the success of the Coronado Entrada should go to Hamilton, who made a million and one friends here.

This should go in our want-ad column but Mickey Ledrick did such a swell job during the show we want everyone to know that the first night of the Entrada his horse got loose, ran off and when the horse was found Mickey's $15 horse blanket was missing. If anyone finds it he will appreciate its return to him at the City Hall.

Pampa has had traffic jams before but nothing like took place Friday night when some 6,000 people (and about 6,000 cars) all tried to get on the highway at the same time. The highway was closed and the gates that lead from Recreation park. It took exactly 45 minutes to untangle the snarled cars. It will be many a moon before another traffic jam like the one that one takes place here.

Maybe the thousands that participated in the old timers celebration did not know it but that fine coffee they raved about at the city park and old Red School house was given free by none other than Sam Denning, Duncan Coffee company representative who had Admiration coffee at everyone's elbow and was a real help to the Junior Chamber of Commerce Coronado Entrada committee.

Talk about cooperation. The LaNora theater, that naturally found the Entrada somewhat to bother to the movie business, had several in the cast and operated short handed for several days. Harold Shadwick, Coronado in the show, and John Munroe, who did a bang-up job of staying in the sound booth next to Director Hamilton's elbow and gave the cues that made the show perfect.

Last night the Junior Chamber of Commerce members were loud in their praise for the great help they received from the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. "We just couldn't have had the great Coronado show if it had not been for both of those organizations," they said. They ramrodded the army scenes and they were good.

At 9 a. m. this morning Mark Hamilton said his good-byes and left in the official Coronado car for Las Vegas, N. M., where he will direct the Entrada there July 12, 13, and 14. Everyone in Pampa hated to see Mark go but every good wish for a grand show in Las Vegas went with him. Mark said he hated to leave Pampa. It was mutual.

Pete Pierce, who played the part of the tough Turk in the show came in for much praise due to his acting ability. He not only looked the part but really gave the audience the "feel" that he was the nasty old Turk that tried to give Coronado a bum steer on the way his army should go. Standard Food stores played ball with the committee by letting Pete off to practice and take his great part in the show. That Pete was a sure enough Indian.

George C. Dickens, executive officer of the United States commission who bought a swell paint horse in Pampa about 48 hours ago, Saturday found out he had to have a saddle to ride. A little thing like a saddle didn't stop Dickens from being a horseman so he planked down a century note and now has a hand carved leather saddle that is just about second to none. It is rumored that the saddle cost more than the goodlooking horse. Next week George says he is going to learn to ride if it kills him. Dickens left money in Pampa.

In the first scene of the Entrada the baby carried by Mrs. Jimmy Dodge (it's Coronado's baby) is not really a live baby. It came from the J. C. Penney company store in Albuquerque, N. M., and the special dress (baby blue) was made in the Coronado costume shop at a cost of about $15. In the last scene the Coronado baby (grown up) was played by cute little Anna Lois Alford.

We wish we could mention everyone who cooperated to make the Coronado Entrada the success

Russia Gains Free Passage Into Lithuania

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, June 15—Soviet Russia gained by ultimatum today "free passage" into Lithuania—the little county bordering Germany on East Prussia—of an unlimited number of troops of the Red army.

So far as was disclosed officially this force was ordered stationed in the most important centers only in "sufficient" strength to provide for the "implementing" of the Soviet-Lithuanian mutual assistance agreement.

To Moscow alone, however, was left the decision as to how many men would be sufficient.

Russia thus was left with a free hand to put a wall of troops as big as she pleased very close to the far eastern Nazi frontiers.

Berlin dispatches reported that upon acceptance of the ultimatum, men of the Red army began marching into Lithuania this afternoon, meeting no resistance.

It was on the basis of the mutual assistance pact—signed on Oct. 10, 1939, after Russian seizure of eastern Polish territory while Germany was occupying its western sections, that Moscow moved suddenly today.

Accusing the Lithuanians of kidnapping Soviet airmen, of the "desertion" of a member of the Soviet army, of entering a Lithuanian-Latvian-Estonian military alliance hostile to Russia and of preparing an attack on a Soviet garrison in Lithuania, Russia demanded the right to send troops unmolested across the frontier.

She also demanded successfully that Lithuania replace its existing government with one "willing" to restrain the enemies of the pact, and that the Lithuanian minister of internal affairs and the director of political police be prosecuted "as those directly responsible for provocative actions against the Soviet garrison in Lithuania."

The Lithuanians were given a deadline of 10 o'clock this morning; at 9 o'clock, Moscow announced, they gave in.

Berlin, June 16 (Sunday) (AP)—Reports spread among Lithuanian correspondents here early today that Lithuanian President Antanas Smetona, fleeing before invading Russian troops, had crossed the border into Germany.

He was said to have been accompanied by several high officials of the Lithuanian government, which was forced out by Russian pressure.

Official German quarters were unable to verify the reports of Smetona's flight early today.

The presumption in informed quarters, however, was that he would be given the privilege of asylum should he appear in German territory.

"The German view is that the developments in Lithuania are a Russian-Lithuanian matter in which the Reich has not direct interest," said an authorized spokesman.

"There was no apparent uneasiness here over the circumstance that Russian troops had moved closer to the eastern border."

293 New Wells Completed Last Week In Texas

AUSTIN, June 15 (AP)—Addition of 293 new oil wells the past week, bringing Texas' total of 92,552, shot the total state allowable production in mid-June to 1,360,964 barrels daily, railroad commission engineers reported today.

The allowable represented an increase of 13,040 barrels a day over that of last week and was 16,994 over the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate of market demand for June.

Engineers, however, allowed three per cent or 40,828 barrels daily for underproduction on wells which did not make their assigned output, thus dropping estimated current Texas oil production 24,464 barrels a day below the federal bureau's demand forecast.

By a special order, the commission increased allowable production of the Smith-Marsh Reese lease in the McCamey field of Upton county from 136 to 200 barrels a day. The order said the lease was found to produce excessive amounts of water, creating physical waste.

for married persons and from $1,000 to $800 for single individuals. It also would increase corporation and so-called "nuisance" taxes (levies on gasoline, theatre tickets, automobile tires, etc.), would raise all personal income levies by a flat 10 per cent, and would increase the federal debt limit from $45,000,000,000 to $49,000,000,000.

In an unexpected move, the committee also wrote into the bill legislation by Senator Townsend (R-De) to end treasury purchases of foreign silver.

Senate Passes $1,224,791,357 Relief Measure

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—A relief bill, loaded with provisions for national defense and a varied assortment of other matters, slid through the senate today on a voice vote after five days debate.

The measure was returned to the house for consideration of numerous senate changes and additions that boosted its total to $1,224,791,357 in appropriations. The house had approved a $1,111,000,000 measure.

President Roosevelt's request for a $50,000,000 war refugees fund to be spent in this country for agricultural or medical supplies and distributed to European refugees by the Red Cross or any other agency designated by the President was approved. An administration plan for noncombatant training of 300,000 CCC youths also was sanctioned.

By a 58 to 16 vote, the senate also inserted a $100,000,000 fund for removal of surplus agricultural products that neither the President nor the senate appropriation committee had recommended.

Unchanged was the house total of $975,850,000 for the Works Projects administration, biggest item in the bill, although the senate imposed various new conditions for spending this money.

Although the relief funds are for the fiscal year opening July 1, the senate agreed with the house in granting the President authority to spend the entire WPA fund in eight months if needed. This would provide an average WPA employment of 2,632,000 persons for an eight months period.

'Meddling' In War Assailed By Lindbergh

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—Colonel Charles Lindbergh asserted tonight that the defense of the United States should be constructed with the cooperation of all American countries...

He embraced this idea of western Hemisphere defense in an address prepared for radio delivery (NBC) in which he also asserted that "we must stop this trend" toward involvement in the European war...

Tonight's address by Lindbergh was the second of the same nature within a month. On the last occasion he condemned "meddling with affairs abroad" and denounced "hysterical chatter of calamity and invasion"...

He contended that it was "useless to talk of sending American troops to Europe now, for we would need months of preparation before we could train and equip a small army."

If Germany wins, he argued, Europe would be dominated by "the strongest military nation the world has ever known" and if we entered the war we "must be prepared to attack that nation."

He charged that an "organized minority in this country is flooding our Congress and our press with propaganda for war, spending large sums, pushing us closer and closer to the edge."

This nation, he said, "stands today where the road divides, at the signpost of war and peace."

Should it choose war, he added, it would mortgage "the lives of our children and grand children, and every family in the land would have its wounded and its dead."

Now that we have become one of the world's greatest nations, shall we throw away the independent American destiny which our forefathers gave their lives to win?

Or shall we build our own defenses and leave European war to European countries?

BOSTON, June 15 (AP)—The Boston committee to defend America by aiding the Allies said tonight that Colonel Henry Breckenridge, former personal counsel to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, would answer tonight's radio talk by the flier "statement for statement" in a speech before a Boston common mass meeting tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The democratic national committee announced tonight that Chairman Pittman (D-NeV) of the senate foreign relations committee would speak on the radio tomorrow night on "Colonel Lindbergh's misconception of our foreign policy."

Pittman's speech, which will be broadcast from 8:45 to 9 p. m. Central Standard time.

attacking the Maginot frontally; they are within it and behind it. Both statements were made while all of Germany still was halting the capture of Paris and the high command's announcement that "the Reich's war flag is waving over the Palace of Versailles where in 1871 the German destiny was established and in 1919 the German shame sealed."

In that earlier communique, the high command asserted the Germans had taken more than 200,000 prisoners in ten days of blitzkrieg and an "inestimable" amount of war materials.

The Germans tried to take Verdun, secure behind its related forts, in February, 1916. By September Germany's offensive had failed. The French numbered their dead and wounded then at 350,000, the Germans at 330,000.

The storming of Verdun was a tremendous rear attack of a flanking movement against the line of steel and concrete fortifications which for long have been a symbol of French security—the Maginot line they thought was impregnable.

The other attack—south of Saarbrücken—was a frontal assault near the middle of the German-French frontier. The Berlin newspaper "Nachtausgabe" commenting on the German victories, outlined three tasks facing the high command:

First, they must attempt to gather their "beaten and scattered forces" below Paris. At the same time they must greatly strengthen the Maginot line unless they intend to carry out "retreating fight" there. And third they must try to meet Italian pressure which, the paper said, was naturally growing stronger daily on the Alpine border.

The German press, as well as officialdom, stressed the news of the French capture of Paris but gave no hint of whether Hitler intends to go to the French capital. While the Germans were establishing themselves in Paris, German Stukas were dive-bombing the steel and concrete forts of the Maginot line and artillery was throwing tons of high explosives into French defenses.

"The pursuit, between the lower Seine and the Meuse everywhere is in full force," the morning communique said. "Disruption of the defeated French armies is progressing. At several points the enemy troops have surrendered without fighting."

The communique noted that the French, in the past few days, had "hastily put up new divisions from remainders of the defeated divisions and reserves," but added that yesterday "south of the Argonne forest the enemy was thrown southeastward and forced off the line of retreat."

With application of heavy pressure on the Maginot line, it became increasingly apparent, the Germans were trying to repeat the strategy which successfully led to the envelopment of thousands of Allied troops in northwest France.

In the attack on the Saar front, bunkers, artillery and infantry positions, as well as columns of French troops were bombed and shelled by Stukas and heavy artillery. The high command said that this attack, opening Friday, resulted in the capture of numerous defenses, including a strong bunkers group at Saar-Alben west.

Air attacks in the region of Verdun, Metz and Belfort, preceded the capture of the fortified town of Verdun. In the World War it was mainly artillery and infantry. Today the Germans used their air force against troop concentrations and movements, against rail lines and roads.

Verdun lies about 135 miles east of Paris and about 25 miles south of Montmedy, northern anchor of the Maginot line. An authorized source, speaking of the German occupation of Paris, said some kind of civil administration probably will be organized, as it was in the other capitals taken by the Nazis—those of Denmark, Norway, Luxembourg, Holland and Belgium.

Solons Disagree On FDR's Promised Aid

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—Two members of the senate foreign relations committee placed diametrically opposite interpretations today on President Roosevelt's statement to Premier Reynaud of France regarding military commitments.

"The President, after promising France redoubled American efforts to furnish military supplies, concluded his message with this statement: 'I know that you will understand that these statements carry with them no implication of military commitments. Only Congress can make such commitments.'"

Chairman Pittman (D-NeV) said this assertion "should remove any doubt that the President has any intention of attempting to lead the United States into the European war."

On the other hand, Senator Nye (R-ND) said he thought the President's statement carried the implication that if the President had the power to order troops sent to Europe more than material resources might be made available to the Allies.

Jaycees then began handing out bouquets—first to the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and ex-service men who made up Coronado's fighting army that marched with precision, maneuvered and "left-flanked" like the veterans that they are.

An instance of the confidence the Entrada property manager had in the ex-service men—the Pampa army was the first—Herman Cherry, property manager, gave ammunition to re-load their ancient guns (arquebuses) on the stage.

Visitors and Pampans who saw the show were glad they did, and those who didn't are regretting it. Those who have seen world fair cavalcades compared the Entrada with them and weighed the Pampa show in the balance and found it not wanting.

Actors, Actresses Lauded. Entrada spectators will long remember the fine work of the soldiers, the Indians, Harold Shadwick as Coronado, George Grammas as Cardenas, C. H. Schuilke as Fray Padilla, Pete Pierce as the Turk, C. H. (Heavy) Ingram as Perez, Noble Glenn as Alarcón, and Frank Smith, Roy Kretzmeier, Marvin and Dick Tooley, Pat Flannigan, Mona Nichols, Jimmy Dodge, Jack Beck, Travis Lively, Vernon Hall, Travis Gee, Jess Clay, H. M. Cone, Calvin Dittmore and the others.

All Fiesta attractions were well-attended. The gym was packed both nights and both days—the old-timers dance night and day. The Southern club dance Friday night was attended by 1,000.

The crowd for the parade the second day was not as large as the first, but at that the streets along the route were lined with people. Jimmy Dodge and Otis Humphrey, co-chairmen, were fairly confident the 1940 Fiesta would have no deficit.

They both issued statements thanking the ex-service men, the invaluable cooperation of the senior Chamber of Commerce, and other groups who labored far into the night to make the Fiesta the success it was. They were also confident that the Pampa Entrada will never be put on as well as it was here. They had the word Elizabeth Arnette, professional actress who was the "voice" of Beatriz in the sound booth. Miss Arnette said, "We never expected to see the Entrada produced so well as it was here—we would like to take the entire cast with us. The other Entradas we have seen could not compare with the Pampa event."

Childress and Tulla, and I think I am a representative Panhandle citizen. "No person 'urged' me to run for this office, and I will not be 'hamstrung' with political obligations. Texas must pay her honest debts to the aged, teachers, and the blind, which will call for large appropriations, and you and I know special interests may not want to pay their part. My reputation and future is too important for me to be led around with a halter and crucified on the cross of special interest."

Largest band in the parade was the Elk City school group, one of the best school bands in Oklahoma. The Citizens Bank and Trust company float showed a map of Texas with Pampa designated by a star. The float was followed by the Light Crust Doughboys of Fort Worth in their large bus.

Pampa's Polo team, wearing new uniforms furnished by Dr. Pepper, rode Friday. Then came the second prize winning BGC float followed by the Amarillo band and members of the Amarillo American Legion post with their large bus.

Santa Fe Train Here. Boy Scouts on bicycles led the Adobe Walls council float which showed a boy of the streets in comparison with the Boy Scouts. The Shamrock band was next in line followed by the Lions club float on which was a boy in a Soap Box Derby car.

The prize winning Knights of Columbus float preceded the drum and bugle corps of the Adobe Walls post, American Legion, Berger, The Danciger Refinery float was followed by the McLean band with the Tom Rose float and then the Clarendon band and horsemen advertising their celebration.

The Pampa Junior high band was the last musical organization. Then Central States Power and Light company float ended the parade excepting for the carnival orchestra.

The Phillips safety first car, a 1932 automobile and the Pampa Bicycle, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, also marched. On Saturday the Santa Fe Railway freight train steamed down the streets, bell clanging and steam flying.

BRITISH (Continued from page 1) admiralty reported the sinking of the 4,180-ton anti-aircraft cruiser Calypso, third cruiser lost since the war began. One officer and 38 seamen from the Calypso are missing. The ship was torpedoed by an Italian submarine in the Mediterranean. The admiralty also disclosed the sinking of the trawlers Myrtle and Ocean Sunlight. They struck mines in English waters. All aboard the Myrtle are believed lost and eight are missing from the Ocean Sunlight. British sources said the week of constant withdrawal before terrific German pressure was the "blackest in history" for England and France. They added doggedly: "The fight isn't over yet." Authoritative London sources said "The Allies continue as hitherto—in close consultation and complete agreement."

raged west of Louviers, 50 miles southeast of German-held Le Havre. Germans Take Verdun. The German high command, telling of more triumphs, claimed capture of famous, fortified Verdun, a feat the Kaiser's army could not accomplish in four years of war, and said Nazis had gone through the Maginot line on "a broad front."

There is no chance now of a cessation of hostilities, declared a Nazi spokesman, "France and England wanted this war. Now they have it." The Reynaud government was in session for three and one-half hours, "somewhere in France," presumably at or near Bordeaux, where the ministers considered their republic's grave position.

They are to meet again Sunday, apparently to consider President Roosevelt's reply to Reynaud's "final" appeal for help. Russia, European enigma, sent strong new Red army forces pouring into Lithuania following Lithuanian capitulation to an ultimatum. Russia declared that Lithuania, counter to the mutual assistance pact last October, had ill-treated Russian soldiers stationed there. Hence the Soviet garrison in Lithuania was being augmented.

The Lithuanian government was being changed. The German radio said 200 Soviet tanks had passed the capital of Lithuania, Kaunas. Europe wondered at the implications of the Russian move. In any case, it meant Russia's armed power had moved considerably farther west. A foreign informant in Stockholm theorized that Russia's new "free passage" into Lithuania might be a prelude to similar moves in Estonia and Latvia from whom Russia also wrested military concessions last fall.

Russian Regrets Hinted. There was unofficial speculation in Stockholm that Russia, economic partner of Germany, might harbor some regrets over her friendship with the Nazis, now that Germany has expanded into Scandinavia and is in military ascendancy in France. The foreign informant said Russia planned to garrison an army of a half-million men on her three little Baltic neighbors.

Industrial Areas Best Nazi Targets

Chief targets of a Nazi invasion into England would be these three principal industrial and shipping areas, the most densely populated regions in the British Isles. Blows struck here would cripple the entire nation.

On Libyan and Italian east African positions continued. Switzerland posted flaring, black-lettered warnings against parachute invasion. An increase in Switzerland's defense preparations indicated that the Swiss intelligence service had turned up disquieting information.

HITLER (Continued From Page 1) that the old Paris was a ghost city when I entered. Under arrangements made by Prof. Karl Boemer, chief of the foreign press department of the ministry of propaganda in Berlin—incidentally a man who has traveled up and down the United States and Mexico and knows America well—we foreign newsmen reached the French capital on the same day the first German troops did. Vanguards of the German army had reached the city on Friday at 7 a. m. At their head was a former member of the Austrian cabinet, General Ghalze-Horstenau, who generally is credited with having made the Nazis' entry into Vienna possible. In fact, we correspondents arrived even ahead of the officer appointed commandant for the occupied capital. So at street corners the French police stood about, rather uncertain just where they fitted into the picture.

Three Local Musicians Make National Honor Roll In Tourney At Amarillo

In the National Piano tournament which was held in Amarillo Friday, three of Pampa's young musicians, Ernestine Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Holmes, East Albert street; Betty Ann Cullerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cullerson, Christine street; and Helen Kay Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Wilson, North Frost street; all pupils of Mrs. May Foreman Carr, won high laurels.

Little Helen Kay Wilson, five-year-old prodigy, won the highest recognition that could be given, that of superior plus. She gave a program of 10 numbers, including an original solo. An ear test by the judge, Miss Elizabeth Gest, who is editor of the junior department of The State, proved the point that she has an absolute pitch ear. Helen Kay can recognize not only single tones but complete chords with her back to the keyboard.

The program given by Helen Kay is as follows:

Bourne in A Minor (Bach), Sonata in C Minor (Mozart), To a Toy Soldier (Warner), The Music Box (Poldini), Menuet (Bach), Scherzo (Bielfield), To A Wild Rose (MacDowell), and Prelude (Chopin).

Betty Ann, who entered in the preparatory A section this being her first entrance in the National, won a rating of excellent plus. She presented a program of 10 numbers including the well-known Capriccio Brillante by Mendelssohn. Her other numbers were:

Rondo A LaTurque (Mozart), Eocassias (Beethoven), Bourne in A Minor (Bach), To a Water Lily (MacDowell), The Butterfly (Lavalie), March in D Flat (Hollaender), Lotus Land (Scott), and Wedding Day at Troldiangen (Grieg).

Ernestine, who has won high honors in three previous national contests, won the young artist's diploma. Her program was a difficult one, comprising approximately 200 pages of memory work. This represented 20 numbers or two complete programs of classic, romantic, and modern music, as following:

Prelude and Fugue in C Minor (Bach), Prelude and Fugue No. 5 (Bach), Sonata op. 22, all four movements (Beethoven), symphonic poem, Les Preludes (Liszt), Nocturne in E flat (Chopin), Black Key Etude (Chopin), Rain Drop Prelude (Chopin), Fantaisie Impromptu (Chopin), Troisième Ballade (Chopin), Clair de Lune (Debussy), Pickaninny Dance (Guon), Maid at the Well (Joun), Polonaise Americaine (Carpenter), En Route (Palmgren), and The Sea (Palmgren).

Mrs. Hoover's garden, which was the first one visited on the tour, had a large variety of interesting flowers blooming, one large feverfew attracting most of the attention, as well as the pink and blue flax, delphiniums, water lilies, columbine and day lilies.

The yard of Mrs. John Cowan was the next yard visited, in the center of which was a large weeping willow tree. This yard was shady and Mrs. Cowan has specialized on plants which grow in shade. Plumbago was used extensively in this yard as a border plant, with its beautiful foliage and later it will be covered with brilliant blue flowers. Mrs. Cowan also had a large number of summer dahlias blooming for cut flowers.

The visitors were then taken to the home of Mrs. R. C. Kay, a Spanish home with a patio and walled-in garden. Mrs. Kay's rose garden was the main attraction. The rose attracting the most attention was Mrs. McGredy's Sunset, with its most unusual apricot coloring. This garden with tall poplar trees in the background, and a row of sweet peas, with exceptionally large blossoms and different coloring, heliotrope and petunias around the rose garden, was thoroughly enjoyed by the club members.

The restful, high-walled garden of Mrs. J. O. Guleke gave the visitors an opportunity to roam under large trees, giving dense shade. The umbrella catalpa trees were quite plentiful in this garden and a small stream trickling down over a shady path to the corner pool was refreshing to the visitors. One of the interesting features of this garden was rambler roses winding through a large pine tree.

They next visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. C. Brunley, where they had the treat of seeing a large Bougainvillea vine blooming in their conservatory.

The home of Mrs. C. A. James was the next garden they visited. This yard is only three years old and showed what work and attention could do in such a short time. Mrs. James had a lattice protection over some of her most delicate plants, among which were bleeding hearts, lilies of the valley, hardy fuchsias and ferns. Here the visitors saw azaleas growing in the open, large hybrid delphinium, five feet tall, with long beautiful spikes of two toned blossoms, and anemones, with their blossoms colorful.

The visitors were taken to the garden of Mrs. Hugh Tolson where they found Elsa Polson, a beautiful single rose, and Chastillon, a Polyantha rose, with huge clusters of bright pink flowers, all blooming in profusion. Mrs. Tolson also had a fireplace and a rock garden with many interesting specimen plants.

Mrs. Ben Monning greeted the Pampa women in her garden, which contained an intriguing fireplace, with old bottles on its top shelf and hurricane lamps on the lower shelf and coal oil lamps on trees nearby and copper vessels and old iron pots on the hearth. Mrs. Monning also had a large pool and a summer house, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the visitors as well as a comfortable hammock and chairs scattered over the shady garden. The back terrace, with its chairs and table, was a most inviting spot.

The group also visited the L. B. Godwin garden, which had an interesting setting of annual plants, hedges with inside planting of its roses surrounded by formal box hedges with inside planting of the Plumbago border rose and a summer house.

The home of Mrs. Dick Seay was next on the tour and the visitors were interested in the little Lobelia edging plants with their intense blue blossoms. Mrs. Seay also had hybrid delphiniums, with long spikes of shaded blossoms, and low growing summer dahlias, which were blooming. A Boston Ivy with delicate reddish leaves hung to the house.

Mrs. C. C. Anderson greeted the visitors in her garden, which is only two years old. Mrs. Anderson had a profusion of blooming flowers in her garden containing poppies in unusual shades, coreopsis, snapdragons, and lovely roses. Her lawn was the envy of the Pampa women with its best grass, a beautiful shade of thick grass, making a perfect lawn.

They next visited the home of Mrs. Pem Denton, which also has a new garden, where they found new plants such as the double daisy, Mexican tomato and white delphinium. The lawn of Mrs. Denton was planted with African bermuda grass.

Mrs. Earl Fuqua greeted the guests in her cosy back yard which contained a circular table and seats around an immense weeping willow tree. Her fireplace was the chief point of interest in this yard, making it an inviting place for an outdoor picnic. A winding pool near the gate made the setting complete.

The guests visited the expansive formal garden at the Miles Elvins home, which was beautiful with its large green spaces and its box hedges surrounding dahlia beds and other blooming flowers, and its formal pool. An outdoor terrace with outdoor furniture was most inviting. Here the visitors saw the Nepeta border plant blooming in profusion. The front planting with its large trees and beautiful iron grille seat made it complete.

The visitors then drove through the grounds of the McIlroy home near the Country club and proceeded to the club grounds, visiting the club house and the Ware home with its border of Cattilion roses on their way to the Amarillo hotel where they had lunch with their hostesses.

One thing that impressed the Pampa women was the shade in the gardens which they visited. Most of the gardens were enclosed, keeping out the wind and dust and adding privacy to the gardens.

Mrs. Tom Bliss and Mrs. Carl Smith were in charge of arrangements. Members making the trip were Mesdames Frank Perry, J. C. Sturgeon, Ben Garber, Roy Reeder, H. C. Schofield, Bob McCoy, C. L. McKinney, R. W. Tucker, Tom Bliss, Earle Scheig, Roy Webb, Ralph Dunbar, G. B. Cree, J. B. Carlson, L. E. Wilson, J. B. Massa, John I. Bradley, Ora Duenkel, H. B. Landrum, Frank H. Yealy, C. E. Cary, B. C. Fahy, and Glen Pool.

Pampa Still Short $544 For Refugees

With only 14 days left to go, Pampa's quota of $1,700 for the American Red Cross refugee aid was still short $544. June 30 has been set by the midwestern area headquarters as the date when the goal must be attained.

Contributions to the nation-wide Red Cross war relief drive today totaled $10,627,149. The announced minimum goal is $20,000,000.

Latest contributors to the local fund are Lee Harrah, $20; Bolner Rig company, C. L. McKinney, $10 each; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Houston, $10; Mrs. J. N. Wheeler, $5; J. F. Schwind, $2; Mrs. M. F. Long, $1.

Scenes during a trip to Bordeaux from Paris, describing the chaotic conditions among refugees in France, are described in a cable received at the national Red Cross headquarters. The European staff is now stationed in Bordeaux.

Third and Fourth Waves

"Consulting third and fourth tidal waves over-sweeping France are evacuees from Mediterranean regions and Parisian districts crowding towns inland to Spanish border," the cable received today read. "Extreme chaos caused by Belgian, Dutch and Jewish refugees flooding Paris in every possible conveyance. People fighting for room on south-bound trains from Paris."

"Between Paris and Bordeaux yesterday counted fifty-seven serious auto accidents mainly due to exhaustion. Sleepless drivers on the move three, four days unable to find resting place."

"Unbroken line all roads from Paris and north filled with trucks, automobiles. There was a woman harnessed to a heavy high wheeled cart whereon lay deathly ill fifteen-year-old son, among bedclothing, cooking utensils. Dog had pulled cart four days. Two younger children were walking alongside. With another woman saw a mother milking goat while six-year old girl fed it clover picked from roadside."

Thousands Camp on Roads

"Yesterday evening saw thousands camped kypsy style with blankets and sacking as tents, or sleeping outdoors with all movable equipment and livestock encircling camps. Population of Tours tripled, largely because of Belgian civilians. Around Chartres cathedral square every yard covered with refugees and possessions, as most other town squares. Enroute it was amazing to see highways jammed with puny refugees male old men, women, children, peasants in fields alongside continued cultivation of crops, unconcerned by tide sweeping past."

Farewell To Be Said To Lambrechts

Farewell services for Captain and Mrs. Lambrecht, in charge of the local Salvation Army corps during the last four years, will be conducted in the Army hall, 631 S. Cuyler street at 8 p. m. tonight.

With this service the local administration of Captain and Mrs. Lambrecht will be concluded. In July, 1936, Captain and Mrs. Lambrecht reopened Pampa as a Salvation Army post after an absence of the organization for some three years. During their administration they have carried on an extensive program, both from a religious and social point of view.

In the early part of 1937 the Pampa Advisory board was organized and each activity during the intervening months has been carried on under the close supervision of this board of which Arthur M. Teed is president, Tex DeWeese, vice-president; Jim Collins, treasurer, and L. L. Sone, secretary.

Grateful To Pampans

During the past two years the Salvation Army has undertaken the task of caring for the less fortunate in Pampa. Whatever good has been accomplished is due to the splendid cooperation and support, both from a moral and financial point of view, and for this reason Captain and Mrs. Lambrecht express themselves as being deeply grateful to the people of Pampa for their support.

In addition to the year-around program of relief, special effort has been put forth at Christmas of each year to see that no needy person in Pampa will be uncared for on the birthday of the Prince of Peace. Also during the four-year period efforts have been made to see that no child remained out of school for want of proper shoes and clothing.

Active In Clubs

The religious program has been maintained and services have been held regularly on the street corners in compliance with the Master's command, "Go ye into the highways and the byways, as well as regular services in the Army hall."

In addition to the responsibilities in the Army, Captain and Mrs. Lambrecht have interested themselves in many outside activities, Mrs. Lambrecht being a member of the Business and Professional Women's club, the Rebecca lodge, and the P. T. A. of Baker, Junior High and Senior High schools, having served on various committees in the P. T. A. Captain Lambrecht is the vice-president of the Ministerial Association in Pampa, president of the Pampa Coordinating council, Juvenile Probationary officer for Gray county, member of the Lions club, member of the Pampa Recreational council, and a member of the Independent Order of Oddfellows.

Captain and Mrs. Lambrecht have been appointed to take charge of the Salvation Army program in Lubbock and will be leaving for their new appointment on Wednesday.

SALVATION ARMY HEADS LEAVING

Four years of service as heads of the Salvation Army in Pampa will be recalled in the farewell services for Captain and Mrs. Herman C. Lambrecht, to be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the Salvation Army hall. Captain and Mrs. Lambrecht will leave Wednesday for their new station in Lubbock.

THE WIZARD OF MENLO PARK

Spencer Tracy again portrays a real-life character so expertly that once more he enacts his stellar role without the use of artificial make-up in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Edison, the Man," opening a three-day run today at the La-Nora. He was aided in the portrayal of Thomas A. Edison by the fact that in stature and facial expression he bears a striking resemblance to the beloved American inventor. The story deals with Edison's inventive career starting at the age of 22, carries him through courtship, his home life as a father, and his struggles for achievement, culminating in the invention of the electric light.

At the LaNora today is the biography of the wizard of Menlo park. Picture opens with a prologue showing Edison at 82 and then fades back to his arrival in New York in 1869 and carries him through the invention of the talking machine and finally the electric light in 1879.

Opening the week at the Crown is the story of how two young married people endeavor to get together and lead their own lives after being separated by mother-in-law trouble and general misunderstanding.

At the LaNora Wednesday and Thursday glamorous Zorina and handsome Richard Greene make a stunning couple in "I Was An Adventurer," the 20th Century-Fox romantic drama, in which Zorina stars by courtesy of Samuel Goldwyn, to whom she is under contract. The film is set against a lavish panorama of the smart European resorts and casts Zorina as a restless enchantress, who ensnares wealthy men with her beauty while her confederates, played by Erich von Stroheim and Peter Lorre, fleece them of fabulous sums of money. Greene looks like fair prey—until Zorina falls madly in love with him, and the little scheme proves a boomerang.

New Schedule For Drivers' Exams Posted

To allow Texas Highway patrolmen more time to patrol highways, work of examining drivers for licenses has been centralized and the work assigned to a special division.

A change in schedule for Pampa, effective July 1, has been announced. Drivers license examinations will be held on the third, fourth, and fifth Tuesdays of each month, from 8 a. m. to 11 a. m. The former time was from 1 to 4 o'clock each Thursday afternoon.

Place of the examinations is unchanged. Examiners from Amarillo will call at the office of the county tax assessor collector.

Under the new schedule, time of examinations in other nearby towns will be, Panhandle, 10 to 11 a. m., Borger, 1 to 3 p. m., on Mondays; Miami, 1:30 to 2:30 p. m., First Tuesday; Canadian, 3:30 to 5 p. m., Tuesdays; Wheeler, 9 to 11 a. m., Wednesdays. Dalhart will have regular examinations under the setup, a new addition.

Members of the patrol here during the Coronado Top O' Texas Fiesta were C. D. West, formerly of Pampa, John Nunn, Bill Abbott, C. O. Lane, and Sergeant R. H. Kelly, all of Amarillo.

These five worked in cooperation with C. C. Reese, patrolman stationed here, in handling traffic. J. B. Wilkinson, the other Pampa patrolman, is recovering at a local hospital from an appendicitis operation. His condition was improved yesterday.

Demand For 'Mein Kampf' Increases

Although literature on World War II is not copious at the Pampa Public library, World War I books are being used to good advantage.

Pampans are showing a keen interest in the current European war and Mrs. James Todd, librarian, is constantly being asked such questions as: "What's the latest on the war?" as a preface to calling for certain books.

Since the invasion of Poland there has been a noticeable increase in the demand for Hitler's "Mein Kampf." Pampans are reading this book with a view toward determining Hitler's aims regarding America.

Martha McKenna's "I Was A Spy" and "Spies I Knew," perhaps inspired by the fifth column angle now, are other targets of reader interest.

Even the old-timer Guy Empey's "Over the Top," 1914 classic of World War I, is having a revival of interest.

Among the magazines, the Saturday Evening Post and Current History are the favorites of the war-minded.

USEFUL SPIDERS

The lines used in telescopes for purposes of orientation must be extraordinarily fine. Spider webs are used in these instruments. The thickness of a spider web varies from 0.004 to 0.00015 of an inch in diameter, but splitting the thread into one or more strands allows scientists to obtain a line only 0.0001 inch in diameter.

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

In little more than two months from the April night when Germany lashed out to break the war stalemate with her Franco-British foes, continental Europe has been remapped by German arms.

Norway has been conquered, Denmark, Holland overrun, and France is tottering in momentary danger of complete collapse.

There is a grim hint in the Hitler order announcing to his armies complete subjugation of Norway, that it is starvation, not invasion of England at which his next move will aim.

This is a mild statement of the case. The west coast of continental Europe is in German hands from far above the Arctic circle to Le Havre, France.

The grim central fact is that Germany under Hitler has mastered a continent. Only a strip of sea water, a score of miles wide at its narrowest, stands between England and invasion. It does not certainly protect her from starvation.

More than 90 per cent of the sustenance of the people of England reaches them by sea.

There is reason to believe that it was failure of the first Nazi effort to break the British blockade by air, mine and torpedo attack which stirred Hitler to order his armies forward in the west.

Already British battle craft and merchant carriers are threading their own home waters in deadly and ever increasing jeopardy.

What has happened in Europe in the last 65 days has not its like in written history. What it may mean for Europe alone, but for all the world, is beyond calculation.

The whim of one man, Adolf Hitler, has become a dominant force in the world. He has given no clear inkling as to what new conquests he mean release of German air power for action against Britain's sea life lines.

From Norwegian, Danish, Dutch and Belgian ports can be loosed a fury of submarine attack to supplement Nazi air armadas.

SERIAL STORY

AN EYE FOR A GAL BY HARRY HARRISON KROLL

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Rosy signs his contract in sure of a future as a pitcher. When a fellow tells him that Dr. Tollivar is a renegade...

CHAPTER XII

ROSSY McAfee just sat there gasping and gulping and staring at Dr. Tollivar. Tollivar looked at him now, met Rosy's eyes.

"I said that it was not the bean ball I threw that killed your father, although it knocked him unconscious. It was a blow on his head with a bar of iron, just back of this grandstand, that cracked his skull and was the actual cause of death. That was what I said."

"I heard ye," Rosy said, hoarsely. "But how you know that when you hulled out? Didn't you turn tail and run after you seen what you had done?"

"Yes, I did. To my everlasting grief I ran, I plead in defense the fact that it was all I knew to do."

"So I left the mountains forever. I went to school, to college. I made a name for myself. Always I had in the back of my head a hunger to come back and do something big for my people. Educate them, lift them out of the ruck of feuding."

"I never admitted I was a Tollivar. What would have been the value of that? I kept my mouth shut, and labored to make available education for worthwhile people like you—like Hannah Shridder—or a thousand others. That was the way I saved my soul after killing your father."

"But, Rosy, I did not 'bean' your father on purpose. It was just another of those times where one does a thing because he is so terribly afraid he will—and he then can't help it. You were close to it yesterday when we played Southern."

"I know." "Now we have a couple of things to attend to, and afterward I hope we'll have a big square dance. I haven't enjoyed a big dance for years and years. Let's go back down to Leverage's."

THEY were back at Judge Jesse's in 30 minutes. The room had been cleared and chairs placed. It was not long before men, Tollivars and McAfees, were gathering. To Rosy's amazement Hannah Shridder appeared, accompanying Judy Tollivar. Rosy's mother came on horseback.

Steve Hogg came with his mother. Constable Sneed brought them. There was no appearance of handcuffs, or the heavy hand of the law.

Soon the small room was packed and Judge Jesse was clearing his throat getting ready for one of his typical courts, but mountain justice. The last to appear was Scout Ike Hill, with Coach Hurd. Leverage pounded the table for order in court, and said:

"Folks, we are gathered together to settle something what's been hanging fire for nigh a generation, namely, to-wit, who killed Rosy McAfee's paw, and how come. Now, I allus have said to let sleeping dogs lie. But this pup wants wakening. Dr. Tollivar, will you stand?"

"Yes, sir, Judge," Dr. Tollivar said, and got up.

"Was you the Tollivar boy what pitched that Fourth of July game when McAfee was beated?"

"Yes, sir, Judge, I was. But it was an accident. Not for the worst, would I have done it. I've tried to atone for it to Rosy McAfee. But I was the one." He sat down.

"Stand up, Ike Hill."

THE scout stood at the court's order. "Yes, sir, Judge."

"Was you, as this letter of yours I have before me, present at that same game, scouting?"

"Yes, sir, Judge, I was. I'd heard of this Tollivar boy and wanted to see him in action. If he was as good as they said, he must be a house afire."

"Then you seen the actual beating—that right?"

"Yes, along with a lot of people here, I saw what appeared to be a strange accident."

my affair, I figured. Not till lately have I ever told what I really saw. Now I am here to say it under oath, if necessary."

"Would you know that feller if you seen him?"

"I think so."

"Look around. Is he here?"

Hill looked all around, and then back at Leverage. "He is here."

"Sit down," Judge Jesse said. "Steve Hogg. You here? Will you stand up?"

HIS face drawn and hard, Steve Hogg got up, holding to the chair ahead of him to steady himself.

"Steve, how'd you feel about giving back that land and timber to Rosy McAfee and his maw?"

"I—I think it could be arranged," Steve said thickly.

"I'm all for letting feuds and such like sleep in their graves." Leverage went on thoughtfully. "TVA and cyars should make that sleep peaceful. Just the same, murder is murder, and I reckon, Constable, you mout as well take your prisoner along. He'll feel better in other company."

When Steve Hogg went out with the officer, joining the sheriff waiting outside, there was a moment of odd depression.

JUDGE JESSE cleared the atmosphere. "Now would that be a gal and boy here who mout want to git married or something?" He beamed all around. "I feel it coming on me—the marriage ceremony. I could hitch anybody up in good law, recollect, and hit would make a powerful fine occasion to celebrate, so's we could have a square dance tonight, after a big barbecue supper. Of course, we aim to have the supper anyhow; but the dance—well, now, we ain't got no rightful excuse for the dance."

He continued to beam, and the beam seemed to focus on Rosy McAfee, sitting between Hannah and Judy.

"You needn't look at me, Rosy!" Hannah said. "I'm not even thinking about marrying, not you nor anybody else! Life's beginning with me at 20, and I aim to get a college education and enjoy it before I get hitched up!"

"Who was looking at you?" Rosy growled. "I'm looking at Judy. How about it, Judy?"

Judy blushed furiously, and then dimpled. "Well, my mother took a chance on another wild Hell'n-Damnation baseball pitcher, and won her game; I see no reason why I shouldn't do as well. If you want, Rosy, I'll take my chances with you!"

Life Pictures Museum Of WT

Special To The NEWS

CANYON, June 15—The Panhandle-Plains Historical museum is making news this week.

The museum received nation notice when a picture of the cattle brands surrounding the door appeared in the last issue of Life magazine.

On the campus of West Texas State, the Prairie student weekly newspaper, announced plans for "Know Your Museum Day" on June 18. This definite time has been designated for the summer students to visit the museum on their campus.

A special page will be carried in the Prairie on Tuesday, June 18, with a picture and information about the history of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society and the displays in the museum. Badges will be distributed and worn in honor of the day.

Erection of the building campaign is going forward under direction of Ben Gull, Amarillo business man, former Panpan, former student of the college. The brick campaign started at the meeting of the historical society here in May. The drive proposes to collect from the friends of the college and society the brick to complete the main unit of the building.

Americanism Topic Of Shamrock Rotary

Special To The NEWS

SHAMROCK, June 15—Americanism was the theme of the program for the Shamrock Rotary club at its regular luncheon today. Vice-President Clayton Heare presided in the absence of President Blaine Puckett.

Doyle Regalls, associate pastor of the First Methodist church, gave an interesting talk on "International Friendship," pointing out that the thoughts of international friendship, especially with some nations at the present time, were probably few and far between in these times of wars and near wars, that the hope of civilization rested on friendship between nations.

He expressed the hope that conflicts between nations would be ended and that America might hold a strategic place in helping to achieve a permanent friendship between the major nations of the world.

Clayton Heare talked on respect to the American flag and the American creed. He concluded his remarks with an invitation to the Rotarians to join with him in a renewal of the "Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag."

Panhandle Operators Expect Production Hike

14 Locations Staked Last Week In Field

Panhandle oil operators are optimistic that they will get some relief from the Texas Railroad commission. In fact, they hope to see their daily allowable increased 26,000 barrels or placed back to market demand which is 80,000 barrels.

Last week a majority of the Texas Railroad commission said the Panhandle needed more oil and that a reduction would be made in the Gulf coast allowable and an increase given the Panhandle. Present allowable is 15 barrels a well, including marginal wells.

"The Panhandle needs more oil badly," two members of the commission stated.

When the majority of the commission announced the proposed change which included a new system of allowable for East Texas, they did not give the definite date for the new allowable schedule. They did, however, set June 19 for the change in the East Texas method of proration. Operators here expect the Panhandle increase at the same time, however.

Staking of new locations in the Panhandle field continued steady, but under normal number, last week when 14 first intentions to drill were filed at the local office of the commission. Hutchinson county led activity with five, followed by Gray and Carson with four each and Moore with one.

Nine new oil wells added 2,633 barrels of oil to the field allowable while five gas wells were given open flow potentials of 115,000,000 cubic feet.

Orders to plug and abandon the City of Amarillo wildcat well were given during the week and Amarillo passed out of the picture as an oil city.

In Carson County
Gulf Oil Corp. No. 28 Cooper, section 4, block 9, I&GN survey, gauged 310 barrels.
Shell Oil Corp. No. C-11 Cooper, section 5, block 9, I&GN survey, tested 394 barrels.

In Gray County
Gayden Oil Co. No. 4 Archer, section 139, block 3, I&GN survey, gauged 285 barrels.
Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. B-5 Saunders, section 3, block 1, BS&P survey, tested 157 barrels.

In Hutchinson County
Phillips Petroleum Co. No. 26 Perkins, section 16, block X02, HOB survey, gauged 147 barrels.

In Wheeler County
Skelly Oil Co. No. 17 Derrick, section 53, block 24, H&GN survey, gauged 197 barrels.
Gas wells gauged:

In Carson County
Cities Service Oil Co. No. 36 Burnett, section 9, block 4, I&GN survey, gauged 21,739,000 cubic feet.
Northern Natural Co. No. 1 Fields.

In Hutchinson County

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—Wheat prices closed 3/4 cent higher today near the best level of the season after swinging erratically over a range of about 1 1/2 cents.

Strength of stocks and prospects of substantial government purchases of flour over the week-end stimulated most of the buying. Selling was attributed to dealers covering up accounts for the week-end. Favorable crop reports also had a bearish effect.

Climbing prices were 86-79 1/2 for July and 80 1/2-75 for September. Corn finished 1/2 cent lower after having been off as much as 1 1/2 cents at one stage. July finished 6 1/2 and Sept. 60. Oats lost 1/4 cent, rose 1/2 cent. Soy beans 1/4 cent and Lard closed 1/2 cent lower.

FROM HORSESHOES TO RAZORS
For years, Chinese razors were made of old worn-out horseshoes from Hamburg, Germany. The Chinese believed that the hammering on the cobbled streets of Hamburg gave the shoes a perfect temper, and they would not buy from any other city.

WASHINGTON, June 15—If any combined operation to defend the new world against invasion, the bulk of the work would have to be borne by the military forces of the United States.

On paper, the republics of South America can muster fairly impressive defense forces. Their standing armies total better than 240,000 men (a force smaller than the combined Belgian and Dutch regular armies); their navies include five battleships, 16 cruisers, 27 destroyers, and 23 submarines. In their air forces are upward of 380 planes.

A breakdown shows this strength more apparent than real. These forces are scattered all over the continent, divided into 10 national groupings. Much of the naval strength is badly out-dated and many of the armies are not fitted to engage in modern warfare.

STRONGEST
As might be expected, the "A B C" powers—Argentina, Brazil and Chile—come the closest to having real military strength.

Brazil, for instance, has a standing army of 79,000 officers and men, organized into 12 regiments of infantry, 20 of cavalry, and eight of artillery—including one mechanized battery. In addition, the nation has a military police force of 38,000 men, classed as an army reserve. Brazilian navy includes two battleships, two cruisers, one destroyer (with nine under construction), five submarines, and 27 minor craft—gunboats, torpedo boats, minelayers, etc. Between them, the army and navy air forces have approximately 60 planes.

The Argentine army has about 50,000 officers and men. In the navy there are two battleships, nine cruisers, four coast defense vessels, 16 destroyers, three submarines and 30 minor craft.

Chile has 16,400 soldiers, organized in three infantry divisions and one cavalry division. Her air force includes one bomber group and eight flights of amphibians, totaling perhaps 30 planes; in her navy there are one battleship, three cruisers, eight destroyers, and nine submarines, plus miscellaneous vessels.

MANY VESSELS
Those naval strengths are not as impressive as they look. The two Brazilian battleships were built in 1910; those of Chile and the Argentine date back to 1915. Argentina's cruisers and most of her destroyers are modern; so are her submarines, three of Brazil's and three of Chile's. The rest of the vessels are practically obsolete.

Peru owns two obsolete cruisers, two old destroyers and four up-to-date submarines. Colombia has two modern destroyers, plus a handful of gunboats useless for a fight with a major power. Venezuela's fleet of five gunboats include one pre-Spanish war vessel and one ex-American yacht built in 1900. Uruguay's navy consists of light patrol craft; Paraguay's, of four river gunboats.

U. S. MISSIONS
AT WORK NOW
Steps to remedy the situation are being taken. U. S. military missions are currently working with the governments of Brazil, Colombia, the Argentine and Peru; the U. S. army air corps has a mission in the Argentine, and Brazil is pushing an army mechanization program with the advice of a mission of five U. S. army officers.

It is likely that before long U. S. military missions will be in most if not all of the Latin-American nations, advising on organization, equipment and training.

But if the United States itself was recently revealed as unprepared for a major war, it is a shining example of readiness by comparison with its sister republics to the south.

French Navy Attacks Genoa, Loses Destroyer

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
ROME, June 15 (AP)—A dawn naval attack on Genoa in which the French lost a destroyer, and the occupation of French territory on the Alpine frontier were reported today by the Italian high command.

The Italian advance across the frontier, experts indicated, was part of the plan for German and Italian soldiers to break the last French resistance after the fall of Paris. The high command said that "some localities beyond the border" were occupied.

With France crushed, Italian sources explained, both axis powers could attack the British—Germans striking at England while the Italians assaulted British bases in the Mediterranean.

The Fascist press hailed as a heroic naval feat the sinking by an old torpedo boat, the 967-ton Calatafimi, of a French destroyer which sailed with eight French warships to bombard Genoa and the Ligurian Riviera.

Italians said the attack of the torpedo boat and heavy fire from coastal batteries drove off the French warships but not until three persons were killed and 12 wounded. And another destroyer was re-

French Fight In Anguish At Maginot Line

(Editor's note: The movement of the French government and communications facilities to the Bordeaux region has cut the news from France to a mere trickle. In London it is stated authoritatively that little military news from France may be expected until this transit is effected. The following story, however, has been received by wireless from Associated Press men in Bordeaux.)

(By The Associated Press)
BORDEAUX, June 15—Germany's armies threw a battering ram across the Rhine and into Alsace tonight reported damaged by a torpedo from the Calatafimi.

The Genoa naval raid casualties were among ten civilians killed and 33 wounded during the last few days in naval and air raids on Turin and the port cities of Genoa, Savona, Imperia and Venice.

An aged woman was slightly hurt, authorities announced, by the explosion of an anti-aircraft shell against a building in Rome when planes believed to have been French flew over the capital yesterday and scattered leaflets.

Mussolini, sure of his people, allowed the leaflets to be published. "The Duce wanted war. Here it is!" the leaflets said in Italian. "France has nothing against you. Quit and France will quit."

in the face of the guns of the Maginot line.

Deep behind the Maginot other Nazi columns—more than 100 miles due west of the crossing of the Rhine—plunged over the Seine and touched the heights of Chaumont some 135 miles southeast of German-occupied Paris.

The French fought back with the fury of men in anguish.

The government met for 3 1/2 hours "somewhere in France," President Lebrun, Premier Reynaud, Generalissimo Weygand, were there. In their grave position they dealt with the results of Reynaud's "final plea for American help, for 'clouds of air planes.'" The cabinet meets again tomorrow.

The semi official Havas agency said there would be no separate French peace with Hitler. Its dispatch was from London.

Official reports, the only ones available, said "a few detachments" crossed the Rhine after the most violent of bombardments.

The Maginot line, however, was not broken at "the point of resistance," tonight's communique insisted.

This was at Neuf Breisach, some 40 miles south of Strasbourg.

The armies of Paris fell back "in the best of order."

The German armies of Champagne, seeking to engulf the French and to render the Maginot line helpless from the rear, were forced to fight one great battle after another.

Tonight these German armies had crossed the Seine at Romilly, some 65 miles southeast of Paris; had increased their pressure between Troyes and St. Didier, still further east, and had sent advance guards to the region of Chaumont, which is the capital of the Haute-Marne department and lies between the Marne and the Suize.

This is in the heart of France. In the west, the high command said the situation was unchanged.

There was violent fighting west of Louviers, a city 50 miles southeast of the German-occupied port of Le Havre.

But it seemed, the French were holding this German push toward the rest of the channel ports. South of Louviers, another battle went on in the region of Evreux.

SHIPPED GREEN
Whether they are to be exported or eaten locally, bananas always are cut green. If eaten locally, they are hung in the shade to ripen; if exported, they are allowed to ripen in transit.

WOULDN'T BE ENOUGH
If all nine of the planets (Earth, Jupiter, Mars, Mercury, Neptune, Saturn, Pluto, Uranus, and Venus) were melted into a single planet, it would take 700 of these superplanets to weigh as much as the sun.
