BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 1.
(P)—Governor Huey Long today wired Governor Ross Sterling of Fexas urging that executive to speed legislative action on the cot-ton situation, and saying that if Governor Sterling did not act at once any action he did take would "be of no avail."

Governor Long urged action by Texas to prohibit planting of cotton in 1992; asserting that the no-crop Club Boys See proposal was the only plan left to save the cotton farmers.

He warned that if relief is delayed the farmers crop would be gone before any law could do any good. The Long telegram follows

"In view of the action that the farm board has taken, nothing is left to save the cotton farmers now except the plan to urohibit plantof cotton in 1932. BATTLING RENO BACK TO GRAB GRID POSITION

A little scrapper who digs down and fights off the opposition regardless of size is back at Harvester park to tighten up the race for anch and is in good condition. His Don Reno, letter man last year, was on the sidelines yesterday to watch the plays and learn the signais. Although he did not go to camp, he has been working on a rach and is in good condition. His experience may be used in plugging gap at end if necessary. The fans had been calling for Reno for weeks. The backfield problem yesterday looked serious as ever. Big Hill was in uniform but he has had to ease up on his intensive training as a result of illness. Outfield. By GALE TALBOT, Associated Press Sports Writer Almost any day now Wesley Ferrell is likely to discover that he has batted himself right out of his pre-ent job with the Cleveland Indians. With every passing week it becomes more apparent he never was cut out to be a pitcher.

It's quite true the young right-hander rang up 25 victories last year and already has scored 18 this reason, but that doesn't alter the fact that he has been more or less wasting his time. His real career seems to lie on the other end of the firing line.

Through yesterday's games Ferrell was hitting a rare 358, an average topped only by two American lea-gue players who have participated in as many games as he has this season. They are Al Simmons and Babe Ruth. Appearing in 47 games, many times as a pinch hitter, he has pounded eight home runs, six doubles and a triple and batted in 27

May Be Outfielder

Valuable as is his pitching arm to the Cleveland cause, it would not be surprising to se the Indians shift him to a regular outfield post in order to get the daily benefits of his big bat. There are shining examples of Babe Ruth and Lefty O'Doul, who deserted the mound for the more lucrative gardens. Ferrell would not require more than a passing glance at their salary checks to corvince him that the change was for better

All of this is preamble to the fact that Wes had one of his most spa-cious days yesterday. In addition to holding Chicago to six hits and registering his 18th victory 15 to 5, he plastered opposing pitchers for two homers and a single, drove in five Another Shutout

Waite Hoyt, the former "schoolboy wonder," pitched his second straight shutout as the Athletics defeated Wilcy Mcore and the Bos ton Red Sox, 3 to 0.

Washington rabiled to score four times in the sixth inning and two more in the seventh, knock Herb Pennock from the hill and defeat the Yankees, 6 to 5. Lou Gehrig's thirty-eighth homer with three on in the fifth accounted for four runs.
The Detroit Tigers, behind Earl Whitehill's six-int hurling, downed the St. Louis Browns, 8 to 3.

John McGraw's New York Giants had that little extra punch necessary to capture a pair of close ones from Boston, 3 to 2 and 4 to 3.

The market continued to ease off lightly after the start, the easier one helped by the statement of the federal farm board that would buy more cotton and wheat for stabilization purposes. October dropped to 6.76 and December to 6.97 or 16 to 17 points below yesterday's close

The market rallied slightly to ward the end of the first hour, re-covering 4 to 5 points owing to some rade buying. Postmaster D. E. Cecil announced

JOBS ARE BEST RELIEF GIFTS

One of the biggest tasks facing welfare workers is to find employment for men who are eager to exchange their labor for the food and clothing they receive.

With much money to raise and food to distribute, it should be possible for the city to have a real clean-up. There is no excuse for giving an idle man an armload of groceries several times a week without his giving any service in return, barring of course those circumstances in which sickness makes it necessary for the husband to out bond pending examination Sept. act as nurse.

Those in absolute want, with no gainful employment available, are going to expect the community to assist them. That is common mercy, love, Christianity, Good Samaritanism, or whatever you choose to call it. And those who lie ill and in need should be able to realize their expectation of having medical care.

But the certainty of community aid should not cause anyone to overlook the fact that jobs should be provided where possible. When dire need arises, such things as pride should be ruled out. Necessity makes all of us brethren-or at least it should. Those who have must share with those who have not.

There is no reason to become alarmists, nor, is there on the other hand, any good excuse for trying to dodge the issue by pretending that no problem exists. A coordinated, well planned program through a central agency will best get the work done.

I'm almost too excited to write, and there's so much to see, both inside the plane and out. We've left Washington behind now, and I've just had a Chesterfield in the smoking compartment - they serve them on every ship.

"For me, the Chesterfields were the nicest touch of all. I was just dying for a smoke, and when the hostess passed them (and my favorite cigarette at that) everyone else seemed as tickled as I was. And my they did taste good!
