THE PAMPA NEWS

Larger Crowd Expected At Entrada Tonight

Tired French Beat Retreat From Paris

Plenty Of Seats Will Be Available

Pampa Show Best Of All, Critics Frankly Admit

If there was any fault in the show it was not in the pantomime, timing and perfect cues of the large cast. They were on the stage at the right time and the right place. Veteran observers said the pantomime was perfect. If there was a defect it was in the lighting equipment and not in the lighting effects used last night. It appeared to casual observers that the beautiful scenery painted on the canvas needed colored lights instead of white lights, and that what colored lights were used were not powerful enough to light up the desired areas from the front—where such lights are supposed to be. It may be, too, that the arc or spot lights were slightly inadequate. But Director Mark Hamilton got everything possible out of the lights, and there were many favorable comments on the beautiful lighting effects.

The costumes were truly magnificent, and each of the 12 scenes held the interests of spectators every minute of the show. Each scene opened with the water screen preceded by the theme song, "Land of Fair Romance."

If there were any stars, they were Harold Shadwick as Coronado, George Grammas as Cardenas, Noble Glenn as Alvarado, Dr. Schultze as Father Juan Pablos, and Pete Fierce as the Turk.

The Entrada of Coronado was everything and more than they said it would be.

The most skeptical critics today were admitting that it was almost flawless. The second production will be staged tonight, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. Plenty of reserve and other kinds of seats are available.

The crowd last night was not as large as was expected, probably due to the cold and yesterday's unusually threatening weather. The reserve section had blocks of vacant seats and the ends of the stands were largely vacant. Still the crowd of several thousand persons applauded, and not one left until the final scene.

The show ended at 10:25, beginning about 15 minutes until 9 o'clock. Persons who travel with the show and others who have seen both shows today were not hesitant in declaring that the Pampa show excelled any of the Entradas yet produced.

Quiet reigned in the wings and perfect order prevailed; there was no confusion, no mix-up, no hurry. Director Mark Hamilton was in the sound booth, he never issued a single direction over the telephone inter-communication system that connects the sound dugout with the various wings. His field secretary, John Monroe, issued the light and water screen cues and that was all. However, it would be unfair to say the show had stars, and especially in view of the almost perfect timing and pantomiming that every character in the show had mastered.

An ever larger crowd was expected tonight. Warmer weather was expected tonight; nevertheless, spectators were being advised to bring blankets as many who brought no covering last night got chilly.

Most people who sat in the stands last night said the show was so interesting they forgot all about the carnival which shut off most of its lights and all their noise-making and musical devices.

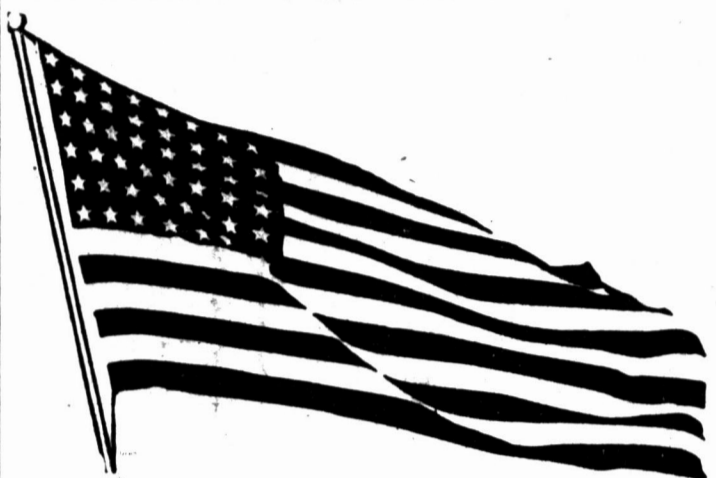

Three Pampa Homes Looted Last Night
Three Pampa homes were entered last night and $10.35 in cash and a quantity of groceries taken, fifty police were notified this morning. The outbreak of activity by the phantom housebreaker followed a lull of three weeks. At that time five houses were entered in two nights.

Charles Bradshaw, living at the J. A. Meek home, 601 East Francis avenue, lost $9 in cash from his trousers. Mr. Meek lost $1.55 from the living room table. A $50 watch was left by the burglar. Mr. Meek said the door had been left unlocked.

Nothing was taken from the Guy McTaggart home, 516 East Browning avenue, where a door was pried open.

I Heard . . .
Several wives of bearded husbands remarking that they'll be glad to see what their husbands look like again. Many Pampans have gone through "plenty" growing beards for the Entradas.

AND LONG MAY SHE WAVE!

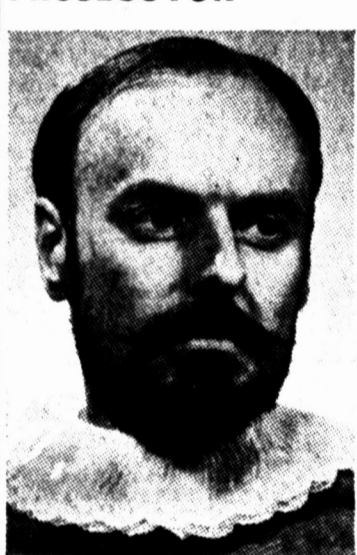

June 14 is Flag Day. On June 14, 1777, according to the records, Congress had before it a resolution providing for the first American flag. . . . So the stars and stripes celebrates a birthday—maybe. . . . The fact is there is no proof that Congress ever approved the resolution creating the flag, that Betsy Ross made it, that Washington ordered it. . . . Nor is there proof even that the flag was flown during the American Revolution. . . . The more historians dig into the history of the flag the more they are inclined to agree it may not really have come into existence until sometime between the Revolution and the War of 1812.

But with the second war with England it did fly in all its glory. . . . The record is straight from that point: that the stars, an ancient symbol of India, Persia and Egypt, symbolize dominion, sovereignty, that only Denmark, Holland, Switzerland have older flags, that a shipmaster, one Capt. William Driver of Salem, Mass., first called it "Old Glory," in 1831, and finally that the Star Spangled Banner inspired by the flag in 1912 did not officially become a national anthem until approved by Congress and President Hoover in 1931.

PROSECUTOR

"Charles C. Smith was a gem!" declared popular Director Mark Hamilton of the Entrada last night after Mr. Smith had played the role of the lawyer in scenes one and 12. Mr. Smith prosecutes Coronado for bribery, cruelty to the Indians and other crimes in the last act. In the first scene, Mr. Smith protests against the expedition, saying that Coronado was taking all the good soldiers out of Mexico and leaving it undefended.

Second Parade Due Tomorrow

A second Top O' Texas Fiesta Parade will be presented Saturday afternoon beginning at 2:30 o'clock. The parade will be featured by horses, floats, veterans groups, members of the Entrada cast and bands. The parade will form at the intersection of Kingsmill and Somerville streets and march south on Somerville to Foster avenue, east on Foster to Frost street, north on Frost to Browning avenue, east on Browning to Cuyler street, and south on Cuyler to Brown avenue where it will disband.

The War Today

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

Paris—already in German hands—no longer counts.

An issue far transcending the sacrifice of this beautiful capital now is before the Allies—whether their defending forces can be saved from destruction.

The position is just that bad today. The Nazis, with the battle of Paris won and the red of conflict in their eyes, are flinging themselves with renewed fury on the Allied wings in an effort to envelop and crush the defenders.

These thrusts with overwhelming forces have driven deep into the Allied front, both on the left flank on the Seine and on the right along the Maginot line in the peril.

Generalissimo Weygand is falling back and is reported as effecting the withdrawal of his army of a million men "in the greatest order."

But there is no use blinking at the fact that he is in grave danger despite his vast skill. We can't pass on from this somber thought without asking what lies beyond. It would be useless to try to dispute French Premier Reynaud's words to his people last night.

"Today the life of France is at stake—at least France's essence of life."

Should the Germans succeed in crushing the French army—and that possibility certainly exists—it naturally means the capitulation of the nation. Britain would continue the war, but that carries us so far into the realm of speculation that it isn't profitable.

All this, is by way of taking an honest look at the situation and isn't intended to run up the white flag for the gallant French.

So long as the French army exists and the will to fight remains, France isn't beaten. Weygand undoubtedly will do his utmost to reach new lines of defense and carry on. The British are rushing into France every ounce of help they can scrape up, even sending their home-defense troops.

It may be that Weygand will try to reach the line of the Loire river for a stand, but everything is on the knees of the gods. This much we can say:

If the general is able to pull his long line back safely in the face of this terrific German onslaught he will indeed have performed one of those miracles we have been hearing so much about.

Meantime Fascist sources predict that Mussolini's armies soon will be in action, presumably against continental France. This would mean an assault against the Franco-Italian border.

This isn't a pretty picture at which we have to look today, but See MacKENZIE, Page 7

FDR Hints Hitler Might Invade U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—President Roosevelt repeated today that all possible help was being extended to the Allies and pointed to Hitler's record in response to a report that the German chancellor had said invasion of the western hemisphere was grotesque.

Entrada Sidelights

Loud praise came to the Pampa Entrada cast from Miss Gertrude Yoder who teaches school at Kallispell, Montana. Miss Yoder who resides at Elyria, Ohio, during the summer months made a special trip here to see the Entrada and made a special visit to this office to tell how much she enjoyed it. "I saw the great pageant Northward Passage and the Coronado Entrada was far better. I don't see how it could be improved upon," she said.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mueller (he is the associate editor of the Daily Oklahoman), who arrived in Pampa yesterday in time for the Entrada, were also loud in their praise for the presentation. "It looks good to me," said Mueller. "I believe in 1941 it will pack them in up in the Sooner state when we celebrate the Coronado Centennial Jubilee." Mr. Mueller is a newspaper editor, doesn't just hand out praise like that unless he honestly believes it. He said whenever he froze to death to see a show it had to be good. It was a shade cool last night.

Today from Berger came the fine V. P. W. drum and bugle corps to participate in the parade. They made a fine showing and Pampa appreciates their cooperation. They represented the Veterans of Foreign Wars post there.

The poor Indians last night wished they had been sprayed by another coat of paint due to the chilling winds that swept the stage. Ordinarily they don't want much paint sprayed on them but last night a good heavy coat of brown paint was most welcome. If this cool weather keeps up the make-up department may run out of paint. Incidentally the paint used came from Dalhart, Texas. It could be said that our Pampa Indians were made in Dalhart.

The Entrada brought people into Pampa from all over the country. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson, Bellevue, also Mrs. J. A. Phelps, Miss Charlene Weisen from the same city, M. K. Brown who used to live here and got so steamed up over the affair that he flew in here from San Antonio so as not to miss it.

W. R. Beydler, San Jose, California, retired railroad man and who pedals a bike arrived for the show. He came most of the way on his two-wheeled steed. He had the first lumber company here besides he is the man who opened the first movie here and even sending him gave Pampa its first gas system.

Frank Barnes, who owns all the movies in Springfield, Colorado, also arrived with his better half.

Sons Of West To Play For Dance

Old Timers will make merry at dances tonight and tomorrow night at the high school gymnasium and will attend a luncheon and barbecue tomorrow noon.

The Sons of the West from Amarillo will play for the old time dance at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the gymnasium. At the same hour tomorrow night Homer Ratliff and his orchestra will play.

Tomorrow's program will include the 88er club dinner at noon in the high school cafeteria when by-laws will be adopted and officers elected. At the same hour persons who arrived in the Panhandle 25 years or more ago but not long enough to be members of the 88er club, will be honored at a barbecue.

Registration of old timers began at 9 o'clock this morning. Up to noon today 100 members of the 88er club had registered and the number was expected to pass the 250 mark before the noon luncheon tomorrow. All out-of-town members will be served dinner first because of lack of space to accommodate all the members.

More than 400 other old timers had signed registration cards up to the noon hour today.

First resident of the Panhandle to register was R. M. Sanders of Burk Burnett who came to the Panhandle in 1872. Next oldest citizen was Dave Bowers of Shamrock who came in 1876. Third oldest resident was Mrs. Louella Harrah McEntire who came here in 1877.

ONE OF STARS

George Grammas, above, playing the role of Captain Garcia Lopez de Cardenas, thrilled Entrada spectators with a brilliant performance. Mr. Grammas interpreted the role of the quick-tempered, tyrannical conquistador. Persons who have seen the Entrada produced at Clovis and Albuquerque aver that Mr. Grammas' performance has not yet been equaled. Mr. Grammas definitely was one of the top-ranking stars of the show.

Early Resident Fiestia Visitor

W. R. Beydler, early Pampa resident who now lives at San Jose, Calif., arrived in Pampa for the Top O' Texas Fiesta and Coronado Entrada Tuesday. Mr. Beydler is enroute home from a visit to his birthplace, Jericho Springs, Mo.

More than a month ago Mr. Beydler, who is an ardent cyclist, equipped his bicycle with special suitcase racks and overstuffed seat and started for Missouri. Having been retired from service as a railroad man a few years ago, Mr. Beydler, when he became tired peddling, loaded his bicycle on a train and rode until he was rested. Then he would ride his trusty bicycle some more.

The Beydler's moved from Pampa in 1914. Mrs. Beydler stayed at home because of ill health.

Texas Has Another Governor Today
Texas had another governor today in the person of Bob Keig, Beaumont youth.

He was inaugurated last night along with B. Baskin of Cameron, lieutenant-governor, as part of the American Legion Star Boys convention being attended by four Pampa boys.

The state within a state project is designed to give youth an idea of legislative, judicial and executive proceedings of government.

The boys have convened one legislature with Weldon Rounsaville of Alice as speaker. Editor Charles Wellborn of Glade-water and an editorial committee are printing a daily newspaper.

The youths are selected from the state's 21 congressional districts and are headquartered in a University of Texas dormitory. Their state within a state takes in the university, downtown Austin and the capital.

Dallas Crowd Of 15,000 Applauds Cause Of Allies
DALLAS, June 14 (AP)—A crowd estimated at 15,000 roared its approval here last night of giving all aid possible to the Allies in their battle against the totalitarian nations.

It was stipulated that this be short of men but the throng also voiced its approval when Will R. Harris, in presenting the resolutions, declared:

"Give England and France planes, guns and all the supplies we can, and if that leads to war, we will meet that issue when it comes. I hope the heroic sons of England and France hear of these resolutions on the bloody fields of battle."

One Slain, 2 Held In Sooner Robbery
DUNCAN, Okla., June 14 (AP)—Oscar Brown, 36-year-old suspected highway robber, died in a hospital today of gunshot wounds inflicted by a posse that trapped him and two companions 15 miles southwest of here.

The posse wounded and captured the three yesterday.

Both Paris And LeHavre Now In Hands Of Hitler

(By The Associated Press)

Hitler's armies swept on past fallen Paris late today, striking 30 miles south of the Marne to Romilly, on the far upper (Eastern) Seine, and stormed France's great Maginot line itself in a bold frontal assault.

While Nazi troops marched through the streets of Paris—and Frenchmen wept at the conquest of their beloved capital—the German high command announced also the capture of Le Havre, vital French trans-Atlantic port on the English channel.

It was apparent tonight that the vast and supposedly "impregnable" Maginot fortification were fast being flanked. Its northern bastion, Montmedy, has already fallen.

Dead-tired French Poilus, many of them without relief since the battle of France started June 5, beat a retreat from Paris under the onslaught of the German avalanche—and awaited word as to where, how and even whether the battle is to go on.

"If the fight goes on," said a heavily-censored dispatch from the Associated Press correspondent in Tours, indicating that France, wounded to the quick, may capitulate. There was no confirmation, however, of this.

Rapidly swarming German mechanized columns poured behind the main Maginot fortifications between Paris and Montmedy to imperil from the rear the 1,000,000 French Poilus manning the steel-and-concrete line.

In case of an assault from behind, it was not believed that the French could turn their Maginot guns around. "Pursuit of the enemy until final destruction has now begun," the Nazi high command declared exultantly.

The French government was reported fleeing from Tours, presumably to take refuge in Bordeaux, on France's southwest coast. The frontal attack on the Maginot line centered in the Saar region.

Destruction of eight Allied transports off Le Havre and damage to six others was reported by the Nazi high command, indicating heavy losses to British troops rushing to support their beleaguered French allies.

Madrid announced that Spanish troops have occupied the international zone of Tangier in the name of the Sultan of Morocco "to safeguard the independence and neutrality of the city," which lies opposite the British stronghold of Gibraltar, guardian rock of the Mediterranean.

It was not immediately apparent whether this action heralded the entrance of Spain into the fast-widening European conflict. Hitler's legions began marching into Paris yesterday afternoon.

It was the first time since Bismarck's troops took Paris in 1871 that Germany's goose-stepping warriors have marched into the beautiful old French capital.

In France's blackest hour, Britain rushed new reinforcements of British Tommies behind Paris to bolster the morale and fighting strength of the desperately driven French.

Weakening French resistance was indicated in a heavily-censored dispatch from Tours stating that a new French defense line would be . . .

War Flashes

CAIRO, Egypt, June 14. (AP)—The Royal Air Force bombed Italy's Fort Caprasa near the Egyptian border during flights over Libya yesterday, it was announced today. Extensive damage was reported.

LONDON, June 14 (AP)—The British announced today that the naval air force scored a hit with a "heavy bomb" on the battleship Scharnhorst in Trondheim fjord early yesterday.

LONDON, June 14 (AP)—The Admiralty announced today that the armed cruiser Scoutown was sunk yesterday by a U-boat. The remainder of the crew was landed at a British port.

LONDON, June 14 (AP)—Sinking of the British armed merchant cruiser Scotstoun, the 17,046-ton battleship Scharnhorst in Trondheim was disclosed today by the admiralty.

The passenger ship, converted for wartime use as an auxiliary of the British fleet, the admiralty said, was sunk by a German submarine yesterday.

LONDON, June 14 (AP)—Authoritative circles said today a total of 210,850 tons of Italian shipping has been captured by the Allies or scuttled by Italian crews since Italy entered the war.

I Saw . . .

People at the Entrada last night almost stop the show with their applause of the acting of Ed "Bully" Burch, former Harvester football star, who played the role of Andres Decompo and also the part of Bigotes, Indian chief who had a beard.

Mama, What Makes The Stars Twinkle?

A meteorite with a valuable diamond on its surface was once picked up near Chicago and sent to the Field Museum for identification. We don't know the finder's name, but this we do know: If ever it rains diamonds in our neighborhood it'll be on some day when we're laid up at home with lumbago or something. So we'll not wait for luck but play The Pampa News' classified want-ads regularly. You won't need to find a diamond, because with regular use, The Pampa News' want-ads are as valuable as a handful of diamonds.

Hitler Scorns All Talk Of Peace Now

(Louis P. Licher, chief of the Associated Press Berlin bureau, in his third trip to the front with the German forces, sent the following dispatch by special courier to Cologne, from an unidentified point behind the German front line, and thence by telephone to Berlin.)

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
WITH THE GERMAN ARMY EN ROUTE TO PARIS, June 13 (De-lyed) (AP)—Countless thousands of fresh German troops were being speeded into the zone of operations today as Dr. Otto Dietrich, personal press chief of Adolf Hitler, rejected all talk of peace and said Germany's only aim now is to win the war.

Addressing foreign journalists, Dietrich said: "Germany is simply unbeatable no matter what may yet come. The fuhrer towers high above all our enemies. Nothing can avert their defeat and disaster."

Ridiculing earlier assertions by leaders of Great Britain and France that Germany would be forced to her knees, Dietrich pointed to Germany's present military position and said that complete victory was the goal.

He said peace might have been had before the war started at the price of the Polish corridor and of a province in the regions of Poland which the Nazi government claimed as German.

Dietrich had just come from Hitler's general headquarters, at a secret place on the front.

"While questions concerning where the fresh troops were going were met with a shrug of the shoulder, meaning it was a military secret, I have the definite impression that Hitler, while at present concentrating on Paris, is also not leaving England out of his watchful eye."

Dietrich said German arms were unbeatable not only because of their "superiority" but also because Hitler had first "welded together" the people who bear these arms.

Describing Hitler's life at general headquarters, Dietrich said that he lives very simply.

He said the fuhrer is a voracious reader of the foreign press. Hitler personally directs his press matters.

Dietrich said Hitler's health is excellent and that much of his time was occupied with conferences with military leaders.

"Naturally," said Dietrich, "he doesn't venture into the foremost line where the battle rages. No chief of staff does that and it would be folly to do so."

"But he's often in conquered places very shortly after their capture."

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—The stock market turned on bullish heat today as an optimistic brand of home business prospects more than counteracted gloomier war news. Steels led the rebound after a hesitant opening. Gains ran to 5 points or so for favorites. There were occasional letdowns on profit taking and top marks were shaded at the close in many cases.

Smaller And Lighter Fleet Now Planned

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 14.— Authority for recasting the projected fleet expansion program may be sought from congress, it was reported today, because of the object lessons which have marked the naval phases of Europe's war.

President Roosevelt, a usually well-informed source disclosed, is considering requesting permission to shift legally-fixed tonnage classifications so that a larger number of smaller and lighter warships could be built than was originally contemplated.

This hint of a reappraisal of navy plans gave an added fillip to steadily mounting congressional sentiment against adjourning on June 22.

Anti-adjournment forces used as another argument for staying here the "new and last appeal" which Premier Reynaud of France addressed to the United States last night for help and "clouds" warplanes from across the Atlantic.

The White House promptly expressed assurance that "everything is being done that possibly can be done."

Some lawmakers were of the opinion the nation should go to greater lengths and offered new proposals for abandonment of the neutrality act.

On the other hand, a senate bloc was forming to fight any attempts to supply direct governmental military aid to the Allies. Members of this group made clear they would not resist indirect aid along present lines.

The sinking of two British aircraft carriers with a heavy loss of planes and equipment, naval circles explained, made it probable that the size of future American carriers would figure importantly in any program change.

The navy evidenced anew yesterday its determination to press its building program. Contracts were awarded for $9,368,287 worth of machinery for nine submarines and three auxiliaries.

Other events yesterday related to defense included: Joint senate-house committee approval of legislation granting Mr. Roosevelt authority to trade in surplus army guns to manufacturers for resale to France or Britain.

The senate's vote to include a $50,000,000 fund for Allied refugees in the pending relief bill.

French Weep In Retreat From Capital

(By The Associated Press)
TOURS, France, June 14 (AP)—Beating a retreat from Paris, the tired French army withdrew southward tonight, assailed by mightiest forces of the German Reich and awaiting word as to how or even whether the battle of France is to go on.

As they marched, Frenchmen wept. And the outside world wondered whether the French defense was in reality shattered—as the German high command asserted—or whether they would rally below Paris to fight "to the last corner of France" as Premier Reynaud recently vowed.

The latest word here was that German divisions, preceded by slashing columns of tanks and armored cars, had closed around the French capital. (The Germans announced Paris had been occupied.)

New Draft Plan Urged In Proposal

By MAX BOYD
 WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—A proposal that congress set up machinery immediately for drafting man-power in a national emergency, but that it retain the right to say when this machinery should be placed in operation, is being advanced in various military and congressional circles.

Advocates said that the plan would cut a month from the time required to mobilize large numbers of men in any situation which congress deemed to warrant such action.

If a selective service law were enacted now, the proponents contended, approximately 6,500 local boards necessary to help administer it could be appointed at once. Regulations and registration forms could be printed and issued to them.

The system then would be ready to swing into action at any time, on orders from Capitol Hill, and experts believe it would have the first men reaching army camps within 30 days thereafter.

There has been no indication that the army wants to institute selective service in the near future.

Most members of the house military committee are opposed to enactment now of such a selective service bill as a joint army and navy committee long has had ready for passage in an emergency.

This measure would closely follow the final form of the World War statistics. It authorizes the President to register, select and induct into the land and naval forces men from such age groups between 18 and 45 as he may prescribe.

A draft would be conducted along these general lines:

On a day set by the President, all men between the prescribed ages (probably 21 to 31) would register in their voting precincts.

Each local board would then shuffle the registration cards hap-

Germans Vow 'Destruction' Of Frenchmen

(By The Associated Press)
 BERLIN, June 14 (AP)—Pursuit of the enemy until final destruction has now begun, the German high command declared triumphantly today, announcing conquest of Paris, Le Havre, Montmedy and collapse of France's northern line.

Nazi troops have launched a frontal attack on the Maginot line from the Saar region, the high command said.

Rapid-fire German gains, which a communique called the victorious completion of "the second phase of the gigantic campaign in the west," gave Germany:

1. Possession of Paris, France's abandoned capital;
2. Complete control of the English channel west to the vital French seaport of Le Havre;
3. A position directly behind the Maginot line by possession of Montmedy, its northern anchor;
4. Bridgeheads on the Seine river south of Paris as a result of crossing on a broad front;
5. The enemy is in full retreat along the entire front from Paris to the Maginot line at Sedan, the communique said.

"At several points our tank and motorized divisions pierced through and overtook the retreat movement. The enemy there fled, leaving behind his entire equipment."

"Infantry divisions broke through the defense lines, enemy forces were no longer sufficient for protection of the French capital."

Adolf Hitler proclaimed a three-day celebration. Bands played. Flags were flown. Crowds cheered.

The high command, after announcing that "this forenoon our victorious troops are marching into Paris" and the "Montmedy, strong pillar of the Maginot line, has been conquered," turned from the conquest of Paris to the third phase of the campaign in these two, brief sentences:

"The third phase of pursuit of the enemy until final destruction now has begun. This morning our troops on the Saar front also began a frontal attack against the Maginot line."

Despite adverse weather, the high command said German warplanes scored heavy blows on land and sea yesterday.

"Fighting planes and dive bombers destroyed units on June 13," it said, "and also supported the armies on the ground, fighting at many points of the front."

"Troops concentrations marching and transport columns in the rear of the enemy were successfully bombed and machine-gunned."

"Extensive destruction was carried out on airports, railroad stations and rail lines, especially in the region east of the Marne."

In blows on Allied shipping, the high command reported, the 17,000-ton British auxiliary cruiser Scotstown sunk by a submarine; a 12,000-ton transport also

British Free Funds To Buy U. S. Arms

LONDON, June 14 (AP)—The plight of France has caused Great Britain to drop her plans for a long war and go "all out" with her resources, sources close to the government said today.

This released a fund of money and credit for purchase in America of anything which will convey or fire explosives. The fund originally was allocated for future years.

As a result of the change in policy, these sources said, Britain is giving the United States a blank check, in effect, for any kind of useable war material she can provide.

Everything already found purchasable in America in armaments, National Guard units and elsewhere is being sent.

This speed-up was indicated following disclosure in British military circles that Britain had sent reinforcements to France to join the Allied forces fighting behind Paris.

At the same time, the admiralty announced that the 17,046-ton liner Caledonia, fitted as an auxiliary armed cruiser and renamed the Scotstown, had been sunk yesterday by a submarine. On the credit side, the admiralty reported at least one heavy bomb hit, perhaps two, on the 26,000-ton German battleship Scharnhorst in Trondheim fjord yesterday.

No program aimed at later production will be permitted to stand in the way of the fullest possible effort now, these British sources declared.

This is partly the result of the loss of Allied resources because of the widening Nazi hold on France.

From 75 to 80 per cent of France's steel producing plants now are in German hands, these sources said, and the same is true of many factories producing war material.

"But," they added, fortunately for the Allies, most of the French factories producing ammunition are in the south.

Retreat

ties the world over with pleas for material support and "clouds of warplanes" to match the aerial spearhead of the deep Nazi drives.

Premier Paul Reynaud in a late night speech to his people said France is "losing this battle" but suggested broadly that France's is the common battlefield of the democracies.

At the emergency capital in Tours, Reynaud spoke of the generosity of America in providing help when asked but implied that delivery of planes and materials already promised by President Roosevelt must be speeded if France is to be saved.

New British Force Lands In France

LONDON, June 14 (AP)—A new British expeditionary force—new in men and material—is in France.

Some days ago, three trains loaded with fresh troops arrived at a southern port within an hour.

Many more came by truck, bus and car—and as fast as they came they boarded great gray transports which moved slowly out to sea and France.

Hour after hour, day after day, from a hundred sources, the stream of men and arms gathered over.

There were light anti-aircraft units, Scottish engineers, and infantrymen from rural England.

One officer who took part in the Farm Status Shows Little Gain In War

CHICAGO, June 14 (AP)—Collapse of the war boom in farm commodities has thrown the American farmers' economic status back almost to the pre-war basis of last summer, analysis of market statistics showed today.

Prices of principal products the farmer has to sell average only slightly higher than they did a year ago, although they are somewhat higher in most cases than just prior to the start of Europe's hostilities nine and one-half months ago.

Calculations of some farmers based on the war boom level of prices have been upset. Market values of principal commodities have shrunk 45 to as much as 44 per cent from the peaks established since the conflict broke out and much of this loss, particularly in grains, has occurred withdrawal from Dunkerque said "we all took return tickets when we came out."

The average age of the new B. E. F. is about 24.

Every man carried new equipment.

"The men are very keen," one anti-aircraft officer said. "I have my full complement and I am fully equipped. Everything we wanted arrived in time—and it was an awful rush."

U. S. Propaganda Urged Among Latins

SANTA FE, N. M., June 14 (AP)—A better understanding between the United States and its neighbors to the south was urged today by E. D. Salinas, president of the League of Latin American citizens in its 12th annual convention.

Directly charged that the state department had failed to take advantage of its own Latin Americans in promoting good will. He suggested that the nation "take a thousand or more of its Spanish-speaking citizens and send them as democratic missionaries to South and Central America."

"Now, many nations below the border are wavering between the democratic and the totalitarian philosophies," Salinas declared.

But, they added, counter-propaganda, administered by American citizens of Spanish descent, would turn the balance.

"Never has there been such a golden opportunity for hemisphere unity. It should be seized."

Sidelights

"I had heard so much about this Coronado Entrada I just decided to forget the worries of business and come down and see it," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rust who are "voices" in the sound booth and who have participated in every Entrada to date said, "The first showing in Pampa was the best of all. We don't know exactly what it was but from the sound booth we thought it was tops."

This fellow George Grammas just about stole the show. Attired in his black and shining armor (being his two broken ribs) he really made a showing. That black horse he rode really added to his part of the tough Spanish warrior.

It is rumored that Jimmy Dodge is going to run for county judge after his experience as Viceroy Mendoza in the Entrada. Jimmy deals out justice that seemed popular with the cast. He looked good in the big black robes provided him for the part.

The delegation from Dalhart was busy here yesterday afternoon taking notes on what was needed when the Entrada shows there on August 5 and 6. "We will have everything ready when the Entrada moves into our city from Tucumcari, N. M.," they said.

Everyone who had anything to do with the parade here today can pat themselves on the back. They really had a parade that was a parade and just the best we ever saw in Pampa. Our many friends over the Panhandle certainly helped and we are sure the merchants of Pampa appreciate this type of cooperation.

Mason King and Ray Holbrook, News-Globe men, led a delegation from Amarillo and brought the Amador High School band. The boys from Amarillo took part in the parade and were counted at over 100 strong. Pampa appreciates this cooperation from this suburban city.

Clint Anderson, Coronado boss, was attired in his Levis today and working hard to make the Coronado Entrada here a complete success that it started out to be last night. Anderson has plenty of details on his mind with 19 Entradas scheduled in the Southwest this summer.

With all the praise the Entrada received last night and warmer weather promised tonight the grandstand will no doubt be full and overflowing.

Firemen Extinguish 2 Gasoline Fires

Firemen answered calls to extinguish two gasoline fires yesterday afternoon and this morning. Little damage resulted, Chief White said.

The first call was to the corner of Cuyler and Browning streets at 3:30 o'clock yesterday where tires on a gasoline truck were burning. Gasoline had gotten on the tires, Chief White said.

This morning at 7:45 o'clock the truck was sent to 623 West Foster avenue where the motor of a car being washed with gasoline ignited.

there still is one more point we should clear up. Supposing France has to surrender and the British empire thus is left to shoulder the job alone? What then?

It wouldn't be surprising if in that event Hitler struck quickly at England in an effort to achieve his ambition of invasion. He is in his full strength and Britain is still disorganized from the defeat in Flanders.

Indeed, Hitler has hinted at an imminent offensive against England in an order of the day to his armies. Also, Louis Lochner, Associated Press chief of bureau in Berlin, who is now with the German forces en route to Paris, in a dispatch today reports the movement of fresh troops to the front and adds significantly:

"While questions concerning exactly where the troops were going were met with an enigmatic shrug of the shoulders, meaning it was a military secret, I have the definite impression that Hitler, while at present concentrating on Paris, is also not leaving England out of his watchful eye."

Reynaud Asks For 'Clouds Of Warplanes'

TOURS, FRANCE, June 14 (AP)—France abandoned Paris to the Germans today and the victorious Nazi legions were reported to have rolled in soon afterward to complete their latest blitzkrieg in nine days.

The Germans also suddenly drove deep into France between Paris and the Maginot line, and this great fortification was fast being turned.

(This would indicate a grave threat to the 1,000,000-odd French troops defending the line.)

If the fight goes on, the Loire river line running through Tours and Orleans would be the next really strong natural barrier behind which the French could defend themselves.

(Editor's Note: This dispatch was heavily censored. The phrase "if the fight goes on" was considered extremely significant. There was the possibility the French armies were retreating even faster than their high command acknowledged.)

Tours, established only Monday as a temporary capital after the government left Paris, itself was being evacuated today.

Once in a while a French reconnaissance plane circled low over the city as though on guard.

By mid-morning the interminable string of refugee cars that for days had passed through Tours from the north had joined the growing caravan from Tours itself.

Where the French cabinet would meet again was not discovered.

Any new emergency capital there seven weeks censored.)

The invaders' encircling ring around Paris was nearly two-thirds completed with new German thrusts southward on both sides of the city.

(Here seven lines censored.)

German armored units in the past 24 hours penetrated at least to Saint Didier, on the Paris-Nancy road 125 miles east of the capital and slightly south, and to Romilly, on the Paris-Dijon road about 65 miles southeast of Paris.

Although the high command acknowledged the sweeping German gains, it insisted that the French army retreat was continuing "in the greatest order."

Appeals To U. S.

It was a black hour for France, Premier Paul Reynaud in a radio address last night had said the French were "losing" the battle, and he turned frankly to the United States for help to rescue France from defeat.

In particular, he asked for "clouds of warplanes" from the United States now.

The Germans were reported (here six words censored) to have entered Paris by the Aubervilliers gate, at the northeastern border of the capital on the road from Le Bourget airfield and Senlis. The capital, with huge forces massed, had been fighting hard at Senlis for several days.

The high command, in announcing withdrawal from Paris said "the French high command, in renouncing direct defense of the capital, which now is an open city, wishes to save it from the devastation that would result from such defense."

(Although there was no immediate announcement to what locality the government might be moved from Tours, the Associated Press staff prepared to leave Tours for Bordeaux today.)

The issue was put bluntly last night by Premier Paul Reynaud, who urged "the great American people" to "declare themselves against Nazi Germany."

It is time for all democracies to repay their "debt" to France, he said in a radio address to America and the world.

Preserver Of Man To Be Sermon Topic

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ Scientist, on Sunday, June 16.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower" (Psalms 18:2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve me. Let all those that seek thee, rejoice and be glad in thee: let such as love thy salvation say continually, The Lord be magnified" (Psalms 40:11,16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Work out your own salvation, is the demand of Life and Love, for to this end God worketh with you" (page 22).

SERIAL STORY

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: As he starts the game, Rossy is wild. He feels a murderous impulse to beat the referee...

CHAPTER XI NOTHING like that game could ever happen again, Rossy McAfee well knew...

"Let's go to my office," Coach Hurd nodded, after introducing Ike Hill. They took chairs in the room, pictured with athletic teams...

"So you're Ross McAfee," Hill murmured. "I knew your father."

"You did?" Rossy cried. "Mighty well. I scouted the game when it was killed."

"You did?" "Absolutely. It was the first Hell'n-Damnation ball game I ever saw...

"But you, bub, have the goods, and no doubt about that. I'm going to offer you a contract that will nail you down, make it possible for you to go on with your education and play ball, and give you time for resting a little."

"You're still too green in the husk. Later you'll probably have to be farmed out to one of the bush leagues. But if you grow like I think you will, you'll be up there some of these days dazzling the little old natives in the big time."

"There's the dotted line," Coach Hurd grinned.

"Give me a pen," Rossy said faintly, and he signed with irregular letters that betrayed his joy and excitement.

That evening at supper at Dr. Tolliver's the table talk was all about the game, about Rossy's great break. Dr. Tolliver said simply:

"McAfee deserved it. He had it coming to him. Now, Judy, I wish you would wrap up a change for me, and not in my old straight razor—but the electric. Rossy and I are going up into Hell'n-Damnation early in the morning for the weekend. You'll excuse me now," he smiled.

"I have some work at the office before I can get out," he took his hat and went out.

Judy smiled at Rossy. "Till pack later. Let's sit in the front room and talk about everything. For this is a great day for you, Rossy."

I need not tell you that, though," she added, as they sat on the sofa. She gave him a penetrating look. "Maybe I shouldn't tell you this, Rossy. But really I want you to know it. You have a lot to thank to daddy for this day's gifts. He arranged for Ike Hill to come, was in touch with him weeks ago about you."

"Daddy has strained every possible point to make college available to you. He secured the scholarship, worked it out with Coach Hurd that you were to stay with us without cost, and from the day Coach Hurd saw you away last summer you have been constantly on his—our—mind."

"You'll forgive me for reminding you. I do it not for any appreciation, but simply so that you will understand other things that may come up."

"I'm glad you told me," he said. "But why is your father so—so interested in me driving off the tomorrow?"

Then, without knowing just how it had happened, Judy was in his arms and he kissed her. The radio was going, mutely doing a love waltz by Strauss. Outside the excitement of the afternoon rose and fell, dying hard because of the intensity of it.

Somehow Rossy could not keep on holding Judy there so close to him. He let her ease out of his embrace. Clumsily enough he got to his feet and said, "I reckon I've got a little packing to do too. I'd better be at it. Good night."

He moved quietly out and ran upstairs.

BEFORE dawn Rossy and Dr. Tolliver were driving off the slumbering campus. The powerful car devoured the miles. It was possible by a long detour to come into the village in Hell'n-Damnation in the car, and Dr. Tolliver, to Rossy's amazement, parked in front of Judge Jesse Leverage's. Squire Jesse came out and they all shook hands.

"I'll get the mule and buggy, Doc," Leverage said, and not long afterward Tolliver and Rossy were driving up the winding old road that went to the school house and church on the grounds of Old Ebenezer.

They reached the ball grounds. "Whoa," Tolliver said, and the two got out.

"It's been a long time since I was here," Tolliver murmured.

"Yes," Rossy nodded. "That was the day my pappy was killed."

"Yes," Dr. Tolliver said, not looking at him.

"So you was the pitcher that day for the Tollivers. You are a Tolliver, and not a Tolliver." "That's right. Before we go in to the matter that really brought us here, McAfee, I'll give you some idea of all that was behind that game. Then we'll go have a look at the land in dispute between you and your cousin. I understand, of course, that really hasn't gone into court yet."

"I may as well tell you, however, I have been corresponding with old Jesse Leverage, and I have all the papers on that case. I have had a lawyer down at Mountain City working on it too. Now I think we have something to work on, and it will stand up in court."

"I don't know that I'm keering as much about that now as I am about the other thing," Rossy said, bitter in spite of himself.

"Let's sit down," Dr. Tolliver said, and they took a seat on the lower planks of the grandstand. The college president lighted a cigar, smoking thoughtfully. Rossy did not smoke.

"All right. I was pitching out there. It was up to me to kill your father. I remember that all very well, Rossy—better perhaps than you do or ever can."

"You see, there had been a meeting of the Tolliver clan. My folks and I had only lately come back into the mountains from Texas where my dad had gone to avoid killing the McAfee or getting killed by the McAfee. We had heard the feud had died down and now the clans were playing ball. So father returned. But there was a dispute, bad feeling was rolled again, and just to satisfy the family dad and I went to the meeting at one of the Tolliver cabins that night when lots were drawn for the hand who would kill."

"Well, it was my infernal luck to be it. I know now it was all a put-up job but I didn't know it then."

"I was to pitch that game. They told me, 'You're a great pitcher. You've got everything. But when you're wild you're wild. Tomorrow you need only be wild but accurate. You understand. Bean McAfee. Hit him back of the ear. He dodges right-handed. It will be an accident.'"

"You know what kind of a feeling I took into that game. All I could think of was what they had said. And by some deadly fascination, in my nervousness, I pitched the ball that knocked your father unconscious."

"But it was not that lick that killed him. He was killed by a blow behind the grandstand by a member of your own family."

Oilers In League Lead First Time This Season

Homer Helps Pampa Win Over Barons

BIG SPRING, June 14—Big Dutch Prather hit a home run with the bases loaded in the eighth to give the Pampa Oilers an 8 to 6 win over the Big Spring Barons last night. The Oilers victory, coupled with Amarillo's 17 to 7 loss at Lamesa, boosted the Oilers into first place in the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Prather's homer was his only hit of the night but it was a timely one. Sam Malvia, shortstop, led the Oilers with the willow, blasting out a triple, double and two singles on his five times at bat. Seitz hit a double and single to help his team along.

Stanley Bolton, Amarillo castoff, led the Big Spring boys with a double and two singles while Zubilaga, new first baseman, parked a triple and single.

The Oilers had Milbert Vannoy on the hill and although nicked for 10 hits, including two triples and a double, kept them fairly well scattered. He walked five and fanned two.

The Seitzmen play in Big Spring tonight and tomorrow night and then move over to Clovis.

Bomber To Crouch In Godoy Fight
GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—For the entertainment of the cash customers and the agony of Arturo Godoy, Joe Louis is planning to adopt the "South American way" himself for his heavyweight title defense against the crouching Chilean in Yankee Stadium next Thursday night.

Still peeved over the way Godoy made him "look bad" in going 15 rounds in their first meeting last February, the champion and his "brain trust" have figured out a plan of battle whereby the Bomber will meet crouch for crouch with Arturo—and maybe even try to out-crouch him for a point or two.

Then, from this position, for all the world like a couple of over-sized grasshoppers out looking for breakfast, Joe will try to straighten Godoy up with an assortment of plain and fancy hooks to the body.

15-Year-Old Girl In Semi-Finals Of Golf Tournament

ST. LOUIS, June 14 (AP)—Phyllis Otto, the Atlantic, Ia., youngster whose mother wanted her to play golf for the experience, bobbed up in the spotlight today as she squared off against Betty Jameson, women's national champion, in the semi-finals of the Trans-Mississippi tournament.

The hefty 15-year-old sensation turned her third advance into a 4 and 3 upset over Kay Pearson, high ranking Houston, Texas, star.

Three weeks ago Kay tumbled Miss Jameson out of the Southern Golf Association tourney, which makes Phyllis victory yesterday look even more impressive.

The national champion had only praise for the newcomer before their match.

"It will take the best I have to win," Betty commented.

Miss Jameson came in yesterday with a 3 and 1 victory over Marion Milley of Lexington, Ky.

Balling into the semi-finals also was Patty Berg, the defending champion, ousting Mrs. David Sterrett of Hutchinson, Kan., 4 and 3.

Today Patty met Mrs. Russell Mann, Wisconsin state champion, who eliminated Shirley Ann Johnson, Chicago, 5 and 4.

Reds And Dodgers Will Play Four-Game Series

The baseball spotlight will be focused this week-end on the four-game collision of the Cincinnati Reds and the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, in the hope the violent struggle will indicate the eventual National league champion.

The teams are virtually deadlocked for the lead.

The ball park, seating approximately 35,000 persons, has been sold out for today, tomorrow and Sunday.

Ardent flabush fans believe that the reinforcement by outfielder Joe Medwick and pitcher Curt Davis will enable Brooklyn to crush all other contenders.

Medwick was to take his place in the Dodger lineup at left field, batting cleanup. Manager Leo Durocher had Tex Carleton, the no-hit nemesis of the Reds, groomed for the first pitching assignment against the champions. Bill McKechnie countered with Gene Thompson, the young righthander who has won eight games this spring.

The Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers staged a red-hot interlude yesterday while the other clubs were traveling and the Indians eventually triumphed 3-2 in ten innings. The victory lifted the tribe back into second place.

Dizzy Dean Hopes Climate Will Soon Mend Sore Arm

DALLAS, June 14 (AP)—There's a new healing fountain down here in the Texas league but it's only a trickle and it's man-made.

It's the perspiration that ball players shed when they pitch away sore arms received in the majors.

Two of the big league's greatest hurlers found new life and hope after a season and another is trying to regain the glory he once knew with work in the even Texas climate.

Schoolboy Rowe was sent to Beaumont two seasons ago in an effort to cure an ailing arm. Rowe is now helping pitch the Detroit Tigers into pennant consideration.

At the same time came Paul (Daffy) Dean, who had won everlasting glory as a member of "Me n' Paul" in which Dizzy and Daffy Dean hurled the Cardinals to world series heights.

Daffy also had a sore arm and his effectiveness was nil when the Cardinals sent him to Houston of the Texas league. Houston gave up on him and let him go to Dallas where he started to click again. Then back to the Cardinals he went last season. However, he spent the last half with Columbus and the Giants drafted him.

He pitched a four-hitter the other day against Chicago.

Now Dizzy is trying to cure a sore arm while hurling for Tulsa.

But the Texas league hasn't just recently discovered this healing fountain, says J. Alvin Gardner, loop president, who recalls many whose effectiveness returned through a sojourn in this section.

He cited Hal Carlson as an early example. Hal wasn't doing any good with Pittsburgh in 1933 and they sent him to Wichita Falls, owned by Gardner at the time. Carlson didn't get there until mid-season yet he won some 20 games before the race was over and went back to star in the majors.

"The climate here is one of the things that's good for what ails a man in the prime of baseball life and yet unable to win in the majors," Gardner commented. "It's warm and the temperature is even. The pitcher with a sore arm finds his muscles getting supple and that there is no strain. So he unlimbers that arm and cuts loose. He finds that he can eventually throw anything he likes as hard as he likes and there'll be no new kinks in his arm caused by atmospheric change.

"Almost as important is his mental attitude. The pitcher believes there's no danger of hurting himself by cutting loose so he lets go and works out his trouble. Often times he might have let go before but didn't have the confidence until he got into the Texas league where the climate is hailed as the leading tonic for sore arms."

Elderly persons in China believe that, by eating the curious creatures known as sea cucumbers they can recapture their lost youth.
