The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE. If you would have a concrete illustration of whether the Anglo-French determination to prosecute the war has been weakened by adversity in the battle of Flanders, it is to be had in two brief sentences taken from the A. P. report today:

Paris—a second British expeditionary force had arrived in France. It was announced yesterday, to take over the Somme Salient.

Berlin—meanwhile the great and bloody fighting attending the Allied evacuation from Flanders, chiefly through the port of Dunkerque, continued with unabated fury.

So the war is going on, Flanders no longer, and let no one doubt the magnitude of the stake. It is nothing less than to determine whether empires shall survive.

When I arrived in the New York office in the early morning hour, I greeted one of the printer attendants with "well, who's winning the war?" He looked at me speculatively for a moment and then replied:

"I guess maybe nobody's winning."

And I guess maybe he is right. The unprecedented death and destruction which already has descended on Europe out of the fury of the war gave ample warning of chaos and disaster to come, no matter which side may be able at the end to raise a battered hand in token of "victory."

In any event, the jubilant Hitler is busy with plans for following up his great initial success. And the Allies have turned grim faces straight toward the storm.

There are several directions in

90,000 Survivors Land In England

(By The Associated Press) Italy's entrance into the war—taking the long-awaited plunge to join her axis partner, Germany—was generally considered imminent by observers with the German army on the western front today.

Hitler was reported preparing a "sensational announcement" involving Italy as word spread that a communication "of the greatest importance" had been received from Italy by the Nazi Fuehrer.

Italian journalists were leaving Paris today. Paris reported two divisions of the French rearguard covering the Allies' retreat from Flanders have slashed their way through German lines to the English channel.

(By The Associated Press) Half-starved, numbed with weariness, but still wanting "another crack at Jerry," tens of thousands of Tommies and French Poilus arrived at English ports today while other Allied troops stubbornly defended the port of Dunkerque to cover one of history's greatest mass retreats.

London reported about 90,000 soldier survivors of the bloody battle of Flanders—now in its dying hours—have landed in England. About 58,000 were British.

The story of Allied casualties remained untold, but both French and British authorities said the Germans had lost 500,000 men in the 22-day-old war in the west.

Wholesale slaughter of Hitler's conquering warriors was indicated in a Berlin dispatch which said that 100 huge Junkers-52 type planes—each carrying 20 soldiers sitting, eight lying on stretchers—were used in one day in a single section on the western front to transport wounded troops to base hospitals.

A regular air ambulance service for the German army has been established, the dispatch said. On to Paris! A regular air ambulance service for the German army has been established, the dispatch said.

Meanwhile, German radios blared a new "On to Paris!" slogan instead of the popular "We Are Sailing Against England"—hinting that the next Nazi blow may be directed against the British capital.

In the flight from Flanders, British Tommies fought to hold the Allies' "escape" port of Dunkerque and stem the Nazi advance to the sea.

Dunkerque itself was a kettledrum of dining anti-aircraft fire. Naval guns cooperating with British pursuit squadrons operating from bases in England a few minutes away made the air "literally forbidden" to Nazi bombers.

Thousands of battle-weary troops, both French and English, streamed into the port through a pass between muddy sea water, several miles wide, which the enemy like the most of an ancient fortress. Canal locks opened by the Allies spilled deepening water over the flooded defense area.

The Germans reported wiping out a British pocket near Cassel, 50 miles south of Dunkerque, when the Tommies attempted to break through to the north to reach Dunkerque and embark in the great retreat from Flanders.

HIT Plans Split. Trapped French forces in the Lille area were said in Berlin to have "practically ceased to exist."

Word spread through German military headquarters, meanwhile, that a communication "of the greatest importance" had been received from Italy—possibly setting the date for Italy's entrance into the war.

An early attempt by Adolf Hitler to split England and France with separate offers of peace—under threat of calling Germany's axis partner, Italy, into the war—was forecast in London today as the Nazi legions struck harder to crush Allied troops retreating from Flanders.

Fleeing French and British soldiers, seeking escape by sea at the French channel port of Dunkerque, were isolated in three "death traps," according to Berlin.

A French military spokesman said however that "important elements" of the French army have slashed their way through German lines between Cassel and Poperinghe and

Pampa Held In Jail After Car Collision

A 38-year-old Pampan was being held in county jail today, following an automobile collision four miles north of LeFors at 8:30 o'clock last night in which minor injuries were suffered by Mrs. Tracy Cary and seven-year-old son, Dale Wayne.

The accident occurred when the sedan in which Mr. and Mrs. Cary and their son were riding, with Mr. Cary driving, head north, was in collision with a vehicle coming from the opposite direction.

As a result of the crash Mrs. Cary suffered a cut on the chin and a bruised chest, while Dale Wayne received a cut on his forehead, cut knee, and skinned arms. The injured were dismissed from Worley hospital after receiving treatment there last night. Ben Bell and Skeet Gregory took the injured to Pampa in their car, which was following the Cary automobile.

The Carvs. Gregory and Bell were returning from a picnic held earlier that night near LeFors.

Cary said the automobile that collided with his vehicle had almost hit another car in front of Cary's, that he had slowed down and was edging off the pavement when his car was in collision.

The crash damaged the left front wheel, fender, running board, and headlights on the Cary car. No charges had been filed up to early this afternoon against the man being held in county jail in connection with the accident.

Investigation of the crash was made by Deputy Sheriff Dan Cameron.

Amarillo led cities of 25,000 to 50,000 population with an increase of 9.8 per cent.

Galveston was the leader in the large cities, showing a 7 per cent gain.

Hamilton To Be At Rehearsal This Evening

Director Mark Hamilton of the Coronado Entrada was unable to attend rehearsal at the gym last night, but he wired that he would be at the rehearsal tonight which will start at the usual time of 7:30 o'clock. He assisted in directing the show at Albuquerque Wednesday and Thursday nights.

He announced that scenes two, three and four would be rehearsed tonight. Those scenes call for all the Indians, all the soldiers and all the principals—in other words the entire cast.

Last night the army drilled and the Mexican dancers under Kathryn Steel rehearsed.

Townsend To Speak In Amarillo Soon

Pampa Townsend club members have been informed that Dr. Francis E. Townsend, leader of the Townsend National Recovery Plan, Inc., will speak in Amarillo on Sunday, June 16.

Dr. Townsend, because of failing health, will speak only once. Place and hour of his talk will be released later. His address will be open to the public.

The local club will meet Monday night at 8 o'clock in the district court room when delegates to the national convention in St. Louis June 30 to July 5 will be selected.

Nazi Bombers Pursued British Ships Right Up To English Port

(By The Associated Press) A SOUTHEAST COAST PORT IN ENGLAND, May 31—German bombing planes raiding the Allied retreat from Flanders "attempted to pursue our ships right up to the harbor," a soldier of the British expeditionary force said on his arrival here today.

"I never expected to get back alive," he said. "Our work was carried out in a blizzard of bombs and machinegun bullets. Jerry attacks in waves every 10 or 15 minutes. Still they kept coming."

"The fun began when we were about six miles off the coast. That's where he had to run the gamut. The bombers not only dropped their loads but attempted to pursue our ships right up to the harbor. Though the royal air force constantly was taking a tremendous toll of Nazi planes, English soil looked mighty good."

As the streams of battle-scarred Tommies, as well as some of their French and Belgian allies, continued to pour into reception ports today, it was noticeable there were fewer

Dan Moody May Run For Governor

AUSTIN, May 31 (AP)—Former Governor Dan Moody said today he would give consideration to a request that he run for governor again.

Moody said his impulse was to say "no" to all suggestions that he become a candidate for governor.

He added, however, that he did not want to say no abruptly to those who filed his name and to others who have urged him to run.

In a formal statement the two-time governor declared that in a few days he would state "whether or not I shall ask the proper election officials not to print my name on the ballot."

A group of Williamson county residents yesterday filed the name of Moody as a candidate with the Democratic executive committee. The required $100 filing fee accompanied the application.

Pool Water Will Be Kept Pure By City

The water in the municipal swimming pool, which will open Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, will be kept absolutely pure this summer. Dr. T. J. Worrell, city sanitation officer, announced today.

Overhauling of the filtration system has been completed and water will flow continuously through the system. Alum will be placed in the chemical tank and the water will pass from it through sand back into the pool.

Use of chlorine will keep the water in the pool sterilized. The water will be tested four times daily to see that chlorine content comes up to standard specifications. When the chlorine starts to show a decline in volume more will be added. Dr. Worrell said.

Four tenths to six-tenths part per million is the chlorine content used. It is not enough to be injurious although some persons believe it dangerous.

"Even if it were slightly injurious, which it is not, it would be better than the swimmers suffering from infectious diseases," Dr. Worrell said. Copper sulphate will also be placed in the water, to kill all growth in the pool.

Water will be changed every week according to Oscar Hinger, pool manager.

Junior Rifle Club Limited To 50 Boys

Boys desiring to become members of the Pampa Junior Rifle Club, sponsored by the Junior chamber of commerce, may register with Dr. C. H. Schulky in the Rose building. The club will be limited to 50 boys between the ages of 14 and 18 years.

Deaques for registering will be Saturday, June 8. At that time applications will be sent to Washington and for every 10 boys accepted, the club will receive one .22 caliber rifle and 400 rounds of ammunition.

An outdoor range will be located north of the swimming pool and an indoor range will be built in the Panhandle Lumber company building on West Foster avenue, according to Bert Howell, chairman of the committee. Dr. Schulky is secretary.

Dues will be 25 cents a year.

Walker Renominated Pampa Postmaster

President Roosevelt sent to the senate today for confirmation the nomination of C. H. Walker as postmaster here, according to an Associated Press report from Washington.

Mr. Walker became postmaster four years ago by appointment of President Roosevelt. Mr. Walker was out of the city on business today.

Marching Vets In Spotlight At Rehearsal

Ex-service men and their recruits stole the show last night at the Entrada rehearsal. And if you want to learn how to march like a soldier join Coronado's well-drilled army.

Captain Bill Heskew and Lieutenants Joe Roche and L. R. Franks drilled Coronado's army for nearly an hour, and it began to look as if the doughboys of 1917 would steal the show at the Entrada which will have its Texas premiere in Pampa June 13, 14 and 15.

Captain Heskew barked "hip!" and "hup!" as the soldiers perfected a left-flanking movement that he and his officers feel sure will practically annihilate the Indians in the three Indian battles which will be fought in the $100,000 show. The army will drill again tonight at the gym at 7:30 o'clock.

Captain Heskew announced a new set of corporals or squad leaders as follows: Paul Blankenburg of LeFors, Bill Hall, L. A. Barber, Mr. Hauger, B. V. Brunnet, D. E. Cecil, W. C. Brown and Jack Walker.

The crowd sat open-mouthed and wide-eyed last night as the ex-service men and their recruits drilled and executed maneuvers to "left flank" the Indians.

"We're going to whip them, not in a haphazard manner but according to tested military technique," declared Joe Roche. "Everything we do will be according to approved military tactics."

The army could still use several men, and anybody who wants to get into it should notify the corporals, the lieutenants or the captain.

Special platoons will be officered by Roche and Fred Fender.

County Buys $2,350 Scraper

At the same meeting the commissioners voted to authorize County Auditor R. C. Wilson to advertise for bids to be received at 10 a. m. June 14 on one powered mower, tractor attached.

Prioux Units Batter Way To Dunkerque

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, May 31—Advance units of the French Army of General Rene Jacques Adolphe Prioux, described officially as "important," today reached the safe haven of Dunkerque after battling their way through the German line during the night.
French and British warships rushed evacuation of the weary, war-worn units which had been fighting off furious Nazi onslaughts. At the same time, the vessels landed new food and war supplies for French divisions still fighting at the southern end of the corridor to the sea.
The Prioux units, a military spokesman said, reached Dunkerque with war equipment they succeeded in saving from the Germans.
(German reports said that General Prioux, his staff and an undetermined number of his men were captured.)
The situation for French troops stood still inside the Nazi pocket, with German infiltrations threatening them, remained "grave but not desperate," the spokesman said. With the "line of mounts" salient, which the Germans established yesterday, fractured, the French apparently held an advantage for maintaining the breach.
The Germans, however, still held Mount Cassel.
Nazi advance units pushed furiously to "Mount Des Cats, near Godenwaerweide, one of a series of French-Belgian frontier hills about 500 feet high.

Continues to Fight
South of the ridges studding the Flanders plain, the rest of the Prioux army continued to fight. Dunkerque was described as an "armed camp" held solidly.
Strong anti-aircraft batteries spouted destructive fire at German air squadrons seeking to blast the Allied entrenchments and break up naval convoys that were bringing in supplies and carrying out withdrawing troops.
French and British troops, supported by shell fire from warships, maintained their positions along the eastern and western wings of the corridor protecting Dunkerque.
Units in Calais were said still to be fighting despite violent German attacks.
Localized patrol and artillery action sputtered along the Somme-Aisne-Meuse front.
The spokesman said the Allied fleets kept a continuous shuttle service moving in and out of Dunkerque, carrying in supplies to the armies and carrying out tired and wounded soldiers.
The Germans were reported bringing up heavy reinforcements.
French and British naval guns pounded the Nazi columns from the sea, while Allied planes continued a relentless bombardment of the German concentrations.

Raid Repulsed
A German raid was repulsed between the Meuse and the Moselle. The eastern wall of the Flanders escape corridor was held by part of the British army and one French division along the Yser canal line.
The defense line runs approximately from Lombaertzyde through Neufort, passes eastward to the vicinity of Dixmude and then descends in the direction of Ypres. The western wall where the British have been reinforced by several French formations, and parts of the French mechanized units runs from the coast west of Dunkerque clear to the western end of the line of Mounts near Cassel. It descends to the west of Bergues but veers off around Cassel where the Germans yesterday took the mount of the same name.
A second British expeditionary force has arrived in France, it was announced, to take over the Somme salient.

Overhead, warplanes of the R. A. F. and the French air flew on never-ending missions, bombing the concentrated efforts of 40 German infantry divisions and eight Nazi armored car divisions to close in from both sides on the pocketed Allies.
At either side of the harried Allies—along the southern edge of the triangle, extending from Cassel to Gravelines, and the opposite line running from Neufort to Ypres along the Yser river—were lowland areas flooded to a depth of several yards to stave off German thrusts at the embarkation point.

Military Training For CCC Provided In Amended Measure
WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Acting with the approval of President Roosevelt, Senator Byrnes (D-SC) proposed today that the relief bill be amended to provide for the training of civilian conservation corps enrollees in non-combatant activities essential to the army and navy in wartime.
Byrnes prepared an amendment to permit the training of 300,000 young men in the CCC in the maintenance of motor vehicles, road construction, photography, signal communication, cooking, first aid and other engineering and non-combatant activities.
He said the proposal was drafted with approval of President Roosevelt and General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff.
Several legislators have introduced bills to provide military training for the CCC but Byrnes said no such program was contemplated in his amendment.
Earlier, Byrnes said a senate appropriations sub-committee might earmark from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 of the relief money for use on national defense projects.

Other winners of pins were Ralph R. Thomas, now on vacation in California; Doc Walters, who a month ago moved to Ohio; and J. S. Wynne, ill at his home here.

Berlin Says Leopold Is Prisoner Of War

BERLIN, May 31 (AP)—King Leopold III of Belgium is a prisoner of war, an authorized German source disclosed today, and it is unlikely that under that status he will be permitted to name a new Belgian government.
The statement was made in response to questions concerning Leopold's status in view of the disagreement with his emigre government.
(The refugee Belgian government, in France, last night approved an order legally depriving Leopold of the throne "in the name of the Belgian people.")

German Divisions Released For 'New Tasks,' Says Adolf

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, May 31.—The main body of the French forces in the Flanders pocket has been dispersed or captured and the blasting attack on remnants of their British comrades-in-arms is progressing, the German high command declared today, adding ominously that the bulk of the Nazi divisions "now are released for new tasks."

It remained to be seen whether the "new tasks" would be another steamroller drive onto the new French line along the river Somme, 70 miles north of Paris, or an attempt to invade England, some 20 miles from the blood-won channel coast—or both.

Overcast skies in the channel region brought respite to the battered British and French that still lived and fought on the coastal plain or within two tiny pockets on the fringe of the triangular trap.

The murky sky, however, did not shield the Allies entirely. The German communiqué said, "Dunkerque's harbor facilities again were raided."

Allied Destroyer Sunk
Germany's mosquito fleet of torpedo speedboats chafed up another Allied destroyer. The high command said it was sunk off the Belgian coast.

"The attack against the remainder of the English army in the flat country only a few kilometers deep protected by the rising waters of the canals along the coast between Furnes-Bergues and west of Dunkerque is in progress," the communiqué said.

"The opponent here is stoutly resisting in order to rescue as many soldiers as possible on ships if necessary, even without equipment."

The French forces, apparently in worse position for withdrawal to the coast, were said in the main to have been dispersed or captured but the high command acknowledged some detachments "are still resisting locally."

Many of the French were squeezed into two subordinate traps north of Lille and south of Lille.

The Germans told of wiping out a British pocket in the Cassel region. The Tommies were said to have been "crushed" in an attempt to break through to the north to reach Dunkerque for embarkation.

Next Blow Problematical
How many men still fought in all the Flanders zone no one knew.

The German navy clanked down on the entire length of the Netherlands' meandering coastline and parts of the Belgian and French shores along territory in German occupation.

Whether this had direct bearing on the "new tasks" to be set before Adolf Hitler's divisions was another unanswered question.

Whatever goal Hitler picks for his next blow—be it Paris or London—it is expected that several days will be required for the mop-up in Flanders, the overhaul of his war machine and the gathering of equipment at the jump-off points.

German forces slashing at the trapped Allies in Flanders have cut them into three isolated groups and are hitting hard at them for an early "death blow," informed German sources said, adding that they expected Dunkerque to fall to the Nazis shortly.

Goebbels May Speak
Authorized sources hinted at the possibility that Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels would make an announcement soon probably in connection with the bloody battle of Flanders.

Reports in usually reliable quarters that Goebbels had been summoned to Fuehrer Hitler's general headquarters in the west could not be confirmed.

Earlier a highly-placed informant said it was his opinion that the announcement would concern the question of Italy's entry into the war. He said Hitler had summoned Goebbels in haste.

Official quarters were silent, but a buoyant spirit prevailed in Berlin and everywhere the impression reigned that there would be startling developments in the immediate future, now that the great battle of Flanders is drawing to a close—a decided issue.

Italian participation on the side of Germany was one possibility. Some high quarters said they understood the Fuehrer and Premier Mussolini had agreed that Italy would enter the war only after Hitler had assured it Duce that the French air force was so demolished as no longer to constitute a threat

French Channel Town Nazis Claim

A view of Abbeville, French town only 12 miles up the Somme River from the English Channel, which Germans claim their mechanized forces took in the westward thrust through Arras and Amiens. Abbeville is directly across the English Channel from historic Hastings, England.

Entrada Exceeds Expectations At Premiere In Albuquerque

ALBUQUERQUE, N. Mex., May 31.—"A beautiful show and an excellent spectacle."

Those words came from the lips of the Spanish Ambassador, Juan P. de Cardenas as the final scene in the Coronado Entrada came to a close after the premiere showing at the University of New Mexico stadium Wednesday night.

The stadium partially seating about 4800 people, but augmented by some 400 or more extra seats, was well-nigh filled long before the lights went out for the opening scenes on the vast stage upon which the history of 400 years ago was depicted by a cast of more than 750 actors.

From all comment heard, the beauty of the scenes and costumes and the excellence of the work of the cast, exceeded expectations.

Costumes Brilliant
The spectacle opened with a scene at Compostela and the 300-foot stage presented a broad plaza whereon the villagers danced and cavorted, and wherefrom Coronado and his brave band set forth on that memorable journey that was to open up the vast American continent to the advance of civilization.

The crowd was delighted with the costuming and the acting. Brilliant is, perhaps, the only word to use to describe the replicas of the ancient garments.

Change Scenes Quickly
The scenes, beginning at Compostela and continuing through the battle at Hawiku, the discovery of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, the entrance into the Kiawa village at Tigux, the battle there, the staked plains of West Texas, Quivira, the trek back to Tigux and thence to Compostela, the martyrdom of Fray Padilla and the acquittal of Don Francisco Vasquez de Coronado, were staged as to give a very good impression of authenticity.

Furthermore, there were no waiting periods of consequences between the scenes as the monstrous steel stage, movably raised and lowered by mechanical toys, adapted itself perfectly to the great changes necessitated by the story itself.

Between the scenes, Don Pedro de Castenada (Heriman Baca) recited his memoirs of the expedition and this prepared the audience for the scene to come.

Need of improvement in the Indian dances and unrealistic war-whoops were the two principal faults.

Most impressionistic, perhaps, were the scenes depicting the arrival of the Conquistadores at Quivira, and the court scene at the close where Viceroy Antonio de Mendoza (Whitley Johnston) absolves Coronado (O. A. Larrazo) of plots in the "failure" of his expedition.

Compares With Others
Persons who had witnessed similar spectacles at the San Francisco World's Fair and at the New York World's Fair, compared the work done here with the most favorable terms. One man even said the entrada here was a "thousand per cent better" than one he had seen in San Francisco.

The audience seemed well satisfied not only with the show as a thing in itself, but also for the historical phases.

100 Boy Scouts Attending Camp At Lake Marvin

NEARLY 100 Boy Scouts of the Adobe Walls council are having the time of their lives at Camp Ki-O-Wah, Lake Marvin. In Hemphill county, Executive Fred Roberts said today while here on a brief visit from the summer camp.

"We have the best program under way that has ever been arranged for a Scout camp," Mr. Roberts declared.

J. H. Duncan, LeFors scoutmaster, is in charge of the camp which will continue all next week and maybe into a third week if enough reservations are made at Scout headquarters here.

Water from an 86-foot level, raised by a gasoline pump, gives excellent drinking water. A wharf and swimming hole at the lake, plenty of hiking space, and all kinds of nature study places make the camp ideal.

The boys "crawl out" at 7 o'clock and have breakfast 30 minutes later. Then they clean up camp and follow by working on crafts. Study for merit badges, and advancement follow with dinner at 12:30 o'clock.

A sleeta of one hour is followed by more work and study. From 3 until 5 o'clock the boys take boating, which is followed by a swim. Supper is at 6:30 after which the play program is conducted until 8 o'clock when the campfire is held. The call to bed is at 9 o'clock.

Highlight of the day is the visit of a pet deer which roams through the camp, visits the mess tent for something to eat, and has a play with the boys.

GIFT FOR MOTORISTS
An appropriate gift for the enthusiastic motorist might be a matching road map holder and motorizing log. Of a convenient size and not bulky, they are bound in black morocco leather, hazel pigskin or, less expensive, in brown or red simulated leather.

County Will Hire Coyote Trapper

Coyotes still roam in Gray county and their depredations are sufficiently costly to cause the county commissioners to take notice.

At the commissioners meeting yesterday an order was passed authorizing payment of a maximum of $80 to help pay for a trapper hired to snare coyotes and other predatory animals.

This work is in cooperation with the Texas Cooperative Trapping fund, a state setup. Cost of the service will not be any more than the county system that has been used in the past, County Judge Sherman White said.

The trapper is to be employed for a three-months period, starting tomorrow.

A whale's skin varies from two inches to two feet in thickness.

Preparedness Bill Mounts To Four Billions

By W. B. BAGSDALE
WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)— President Roosevelt's decision to ask congress for another $1,000,000, 000 for defense virtually doubled his emergency program today and shot the year's preparedness bill over the $4,000,000,000 mark.
As he completed his second extraordinary message to congress within two weeks, the new national defense commission began work on short cuts that would push the program to a production peak in less than half the time required for the enormous World War effort.
The commission, Mr. Roosevelt made clear, was clothed with all the authority of its World War predecessor, and he said each of the seven members was "raring to go on the task of converting a paper program into actual arms and equipment."
The additional funds he seeks, he explained to reporters, would go for tanks, guns, planes and building up material reserves.
In addition, he said, the message would incorporate a $30,000,000 recommendation for schooling of civilian airplane pilots—an announced part of the program to give the nation, if necessary, a sky fleet of 50,000 planes.
Concerted efforts were pushed to assure the nation an ample reservoir of noncombatant manpower to meet defense program needs.
One prospective source was the 300,000 youths enrolled in the Civilian Conservation corps. Legislation was offered providing for training the CCC in various noncombatant activities which would be of vital assistance to the army and navy in time of emergency.
The National Youth administration was cited as a potential supply channel for key defense industries.

U. S. Battleship Will Be Launched

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The first new American battleship in 19 years slides into the water tomorrow at the start of a drive to speed warship construction unmatched in intensity since World War days.
The 35,000-ton U. S. S. Washington will be launched at the Philadelphia navy yard. It is the first of 68 warships still under the riveting hammer which the navy, by day and night work, intends to complete months ahead of their original schedules.

The record appropriation for sea-forces now before congress includes more than $100,000,000 to be expended solely to speed the transportation of steel into battlecraft at a rate never even contemplated until the latest emergency arose.
As fast as the fleet reinforcements slid down the ways at more than a dozen crowded shipyards, keels for other craft will take their place.

Necromancy To Be Subject Of Sermon

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy," alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 2.

The Golden Text is: "Sing unto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for he hath delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of evildoers" (Jeremiah 20:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. . . . Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up" (James 4:7, 8, 10).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In the quiet sanctuary of earnest longings, we must deny sin and plead God's aliveness" (page 15).

One Arizona prairie dog town contained more than 7000 burrows.

By R. C. Hoiles
COMPARING CIO AND A. F. OF L'S WAGE TACTICS

The CIO and the A. F. of L. have quite different theories of raising wages. It might be well to remark that the railroad unions and the printers unions, which are separate now from the A. F. of L., also have about the same tactics of attempting to raise wages for the members as the A. F. of L. The A. F. of L. is what is known as the lateral method, while the CIO is the vertical method.

The A. F. of L. method simmers down to the skilled workers making rules to rob the unskilled workers by preventing them from having the right to learn a trade and, thus, earn more. This dries up the source of supply and makes it possible for the union men to get a wage way out of proportion to what other workers are able to get for the same ability and energy. It might be likened to the Tories or the Fascist who rob the poor and the helpless.

The unfairness of those tactics is obvious to any rational person.

The CIO claimed that they were able to correct this injustice, this robbery, but they have robbed in a different way. The CIO is the lateral union that lets all workers into the union and theoretically, by majority, they establish the wages for the different classifications of work; and, undoubtedly, there are more unskilled workers than there are skilled, so the unskilled workers having the control, establish little difference in the wages of the skilled and the unskilled worker. They establish the wages so high for the unskilled worker that there is little incentive for the workers to go through the drudgery and privation of learning to do the more difficult jobs.

Thus, the CIO robs and discourages the efficient worker and greatly retards production and the accumulation of capital. And this retarding of production and the training of skilled workers dries up the supply of new tools and new equipment so that all society greatly suffers by the CIO methods.

Of course, the A. F. of L. methods also drain off the source that would go into new capital and greatly lower the wages of the unskilled laborer, so that there is little difference in the long run in the effect of both the CIO and the A. F. of L. Both are out of harmony with justice and the equality of rights to try to create and they are out of harmony with the original concepts of the American theory of government.

About the only difference is they rob and stifle each other and society in different ways. The results are now being demonstrated in France and England. They were highly unionized and efficient in robbing each other and stifling production to such an extent that they are not now able to defend themselves against other nations who have not used this form of robbery and corruption.

Whether or not jobs are property and belong to the man who has a job will largely determine the prosperity of a people.

The framers of the Constitution attempted to do very careful about making jobs property for any length of time.

There are certain kinds of jobs that I believe should be property. If a man discovers some new method of doing things in a way they have never been done before, then I believe this man is entitled to have this discovery regarded as property. The people of the United States have done this by the Patent Law, which was established 150 years ago.

On the other hand, for workers to come to believe that they have a right to do a job and that no one else has a right to do the job for less, is making jobs property that interferes with the freedom of all other citizens. It stands in the road of progress and prevents the most efficient man from getting in the job that he can best serve himself and society.

The purpose of collective bargaining is to make jobs property, to interfere with the rights of other people from having the equal right to perform a service to their fellowman.

This artificial property in the form of jobs becomes with a great deal to the individual for the time being. In the long run, however, it discourages and disheartens those people who are prevented from having the right to use their faculties—the most important, and fundamental and eternal right of all mankind, that there comes to be great friction, great strife and a great deal of unemployment.

Certainly society should not come to believe that jobs are property.

SHOULD JOBS BE PROPERTY?

Buying Jobs

This is the great disservice that collective bargaining groups are doing to society in making jobs property and requiring men to buy them and continually pay tribute to the group or to the grafters at the head of the group, in order to have the right to work.

The right to work, if one can find an associate who cares to buy his services, should never be bought, and should be free to everybody.

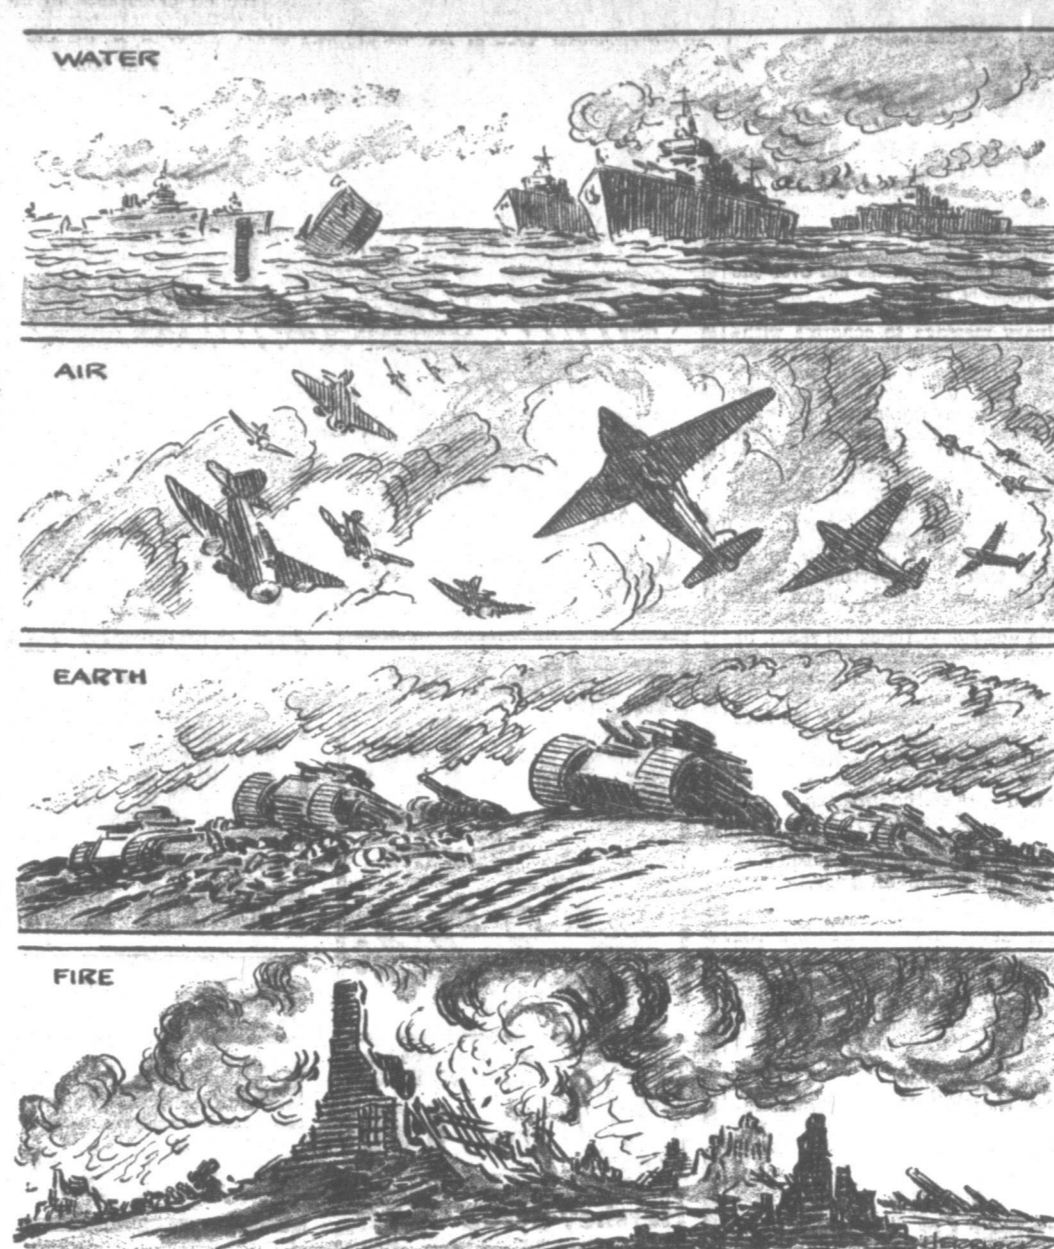

The success and progress of a people depends upon the liquidity of the labor market and anything that makes it rigid or interferes with its liquidity retards production and keeps the wage levels down and lowers the standard of living of the people as a whole.

The Nation's Press
THE FIFTH COLUMN HERE
(Chicago Tribune)

While the third terms talk of national defense in Washington they are harboring aliens, radical enemies of the existing order, and communist saboteurs not only on the government payroll but in industries and services upon which the country is dependent. Nearly every country in Europe took alarm when the Fifth column arose in the Netherlands to meet the Nazi invaders. No internal enemy has been removed from a place of vantage here.

Harry Bridges, communist in everything but name, remains in control of west coast shipping and as a consultant of the labor board. That is to the satisfaction of Mmc. Perkins who kept him there but it would scarce any one responsible for military services on the Pacific side, John Lewis allowed communist activities to go into the major industries along with his C. I. O. organizers and they are still there where they can wreck tools and tie up production at a word from Moscow headquarters. It would be obeyed instantly.

HOLLYWOOD May 31—If there were an Academy award for goofy entertainment, a golden statuette with handlebar mustaches and a leer would be designed for Producer Harold B. Franklin and "The Villain Still Pursued Her".

This burlesque flicker-flicker is drawn from the same keg as "The Drunkard, or the Fallen Sinner," a melodrama imported from England by P. T. Barnum and dispensed in New York in 1843. It ran for a year as a pamphlet on the evils of drink. Today, as a hick-nick drama, it is being sold by free beer and pretzels for the customers, it is completing its seventh year on a Los Angeles stage.

So RKO Franklin, Director Eddie Cline and a company of happy gamblers really enjoy hissing villains and applauding ham heroes. Why not, he asked himself, design a picture especially for such demeritists? His father thought it a swell idea.

The producer's son, Elbert Franklin, first got the notion and wrote the screenplay. In the course of his own movie-going, which included a lot of double bills bogged down by class 2 features, he realized that patrons really enjoy hissing villains and applauding ham heroes. Why not, he asked himself, design a picture especially for such demeritists? His father thought it a swell idea.

Mrs. B. M. Montgomery had quite an experience on the train when she visited in Louisiana recently. War was the subject and the men in the car expressed themselves pointedly on the subject. Then Mrs. Montgomery told what she thought of Hitler and what she thought ought to be done to him. All at once a young woman sitting in front of her spun around, gritted her teeth and said viciously: "Now you just shut up about Hitler! Don't say any more! I won't stand for it! You can't talk about him to me. My father was a full-blooded German!" Mrs. Montgomery said she was so shocked to hear somebody defend Hitler that she did shut up even though all of those present looked as if they wanted to see a little hair-pulling.

Love, Courtship and Marriage

By ERNEST R. and GLADYS H. GROVES

IMPORTANT THING FOR NEWLYWEDS IS LIGHTNESS OF MOOD

In marital adjustment no more than anywhere else is it any advantage to let yourself get too tense. The moment worry enters, good adjustments depart. For worry breeds tension and makes both partners ill at ease.

Relaxation, mental, emotional and physical, helps the bride to do her part in the initial physical adjustments of marriage. If she will cultivate the ability to let herself go, as often as she wanted to do in the past under stress of courtship excitement, she may soon be able to make a positive contribution to the physical side of married life.

Chief reason why any bride ever has difficulty in learning to wear gracefully her conjugal role is that it is always harder to unlearn than to learn. Having once learned to be modest, circumspect, maidenly, some do not readily unlearn this lesson.

The bridegroom who keeps this in mind and expects that he may have to "take a beating" for several days or weeks at the beginning of marriage will usually be rewarded for the rest of his life by the enthusiastic co-operation of his wife.

The husband who is not driven by inferiority is the one who is ready to understand and to help his wife.

Essential thing is that both keep that lightness of mood that carries one smoothly into any new undertaking.

Marital adjustment is not something that the couple either happen to strike on the wedding night or in the honeymoon, or forever miss. It is a progressive sense of satisfaction in the marriage relationship that brings to each the mounting certainty of contributing to the happiness of the other.

LISTENING TO shortwave broadcasts from Europe has become such a fascinating pastime that we find it extremely difficult to get to bed at a reasonable hour these nights. . . . Our favorite newcaster is a Cockney-accented chap who carries the burden of that chore for the British Broadcasting company from London. . . . You can catch him on your short-wave dial between 10 and 10:30 p. m. Pampa time, if you tune carefully. . . . Extreme care in tuning is necessary if you wish to get the most out of short-wave listening. . . . No matter how good your set, you cannot pick up foreign stations by carelessly flipping the dials.

On Wednesday night we picked up a foreign station whose announcer was speaking German. He was more than speaking—he was ranting, raving and shouting. . . . A meager knowledge of German enables us to get the gist of what is being said by German speakers. . . . The one was turning the heat on the British and French, the British in particular. . . . He was accusing soldiers of the British Expeditionary Forces of violating all the rules of war, made fun of England's leaders, and, it was obvious, was doing his best to sell the war to Germans on the idea that der fuhrer can do no wrong.

Despite the hot contest and all the rivalry for the role, we still believe our candidate for the beautiful Beatrice, wife of Coronado, has an edge on the others if you stick purely to qualifications. . . . Who is she? . . . Ah, that's another of life's little secrets. . . . For some reason or other she may not be selected, so it wouldn't be fair to mention any names at this time. . . . Len Bancett, one-time Gray county sheriff now living in San Antonio, is in town for a couple of days, looking fit as a fiddle.

HERE'S that crystal ball again. . . . And, this time you can expect something big, something terrible in the news from Europe within a very few days. . . . And, it may surprise the entire world. . . . Have you ever seen a fellow running for what appeared to be a certain touchdown, only to be tumbled and knocked out of bounds on the five-yard line? . . . You have? . . . Well, keep that in mind.

Switzerland Mobilizes Frontier Guards Again

"BLITZKRIEG" means just so many broken treaties, as Europe has discovered, so the Swiss are backing up their guaranteed neutrality with increased border defenses and a larger army. The Rangers, the frontier guards who watched the border of Switzerland from 1914 to 1918, are on patrol again.

The Rangers are honored in a new Swiss stamp above, one of a series of four Red Cross semipostals, commemorating Swiss victories.

Switzerland's industries may also help preserve neutrality. During the World War, the Swiss were permitted, by agreement with belligerents, to import foodstuffs, coal and raw materials from both Germany and the allies, to keep factories in operation. The Swiss were active, too, in Red Cross work and in helping prisoners of war and men in internment camps.

THE NONSENSE ABOUT GOLD
By WALTER E. SPAHR
Professor of Economics, New York University

The common current discussions of the so-called gold problem both in and outside of Congress reveal some remarkable features.

One of them, pointed out in the preceding article, is that there is much talk of "the" gold problem although there is no such thing. It is to be noticed that those who insist upon talking about "the" gold problem do so, necessarily, invariably vague as to what the problem is, and, paper money price of gold jumped up and down; at one time (1897), it required $28.50 of our paper dollars to buy one gold dollar. We suspended specie gold in 1899 and the gold price of gold remained unchanged for 97 years—from 1897 to 1934, and no event now could force Congress to change the price of $35.00 per fine ounce of gold. It is the sovereign nation and Congress does not wish to change the number of grains in our standard gold unit.

But the paper money price can change even though the gold price of gold remains stable. It is not a matter determined by legislation but by people in the market place. The paper money price of gold differs from the gold price of gold when there is a suspension of specie payments. For example, during the greenback period of 1862-1879 the paper money price of gold jumped up and down; at one time (1862), it required $28.50 of our paper dollars to buy one gold dollar. We suspended specie gold in 1899 and the gold price of gold remained unchanged for 97 years—from 1897 to 1934, and no event now could force Congress to change the price of $35.00 per fine ounce of gold. It is the sovereign nation and Congress does not wish to change the number of grains in our standard gold unit.

When, therefore, nations suspend specie payments, which is all that "repudiation" of gold can mean, they do not lessen the value of gold; instead, they increase it in terms of their own paper currencies. All over the world today as it always was, it can be seen that "repudiation" of gold has resulted in a fall but in an increase in the paper money price of gold.

The value of gold means its purchasing power in terms of other commodities. This is measured by the index number of the price level. If, for example, the price level rises three per cent, the value of money (which would include that of gold if it is used as money) would fall—that is, it would be 100/103, or 97.08. Therefore, if nations abroad "repudiate" gold, the value of gold falls and the value of our paper money falls unless their act could force a rise in our price level; and, of course, such an act on their part cannot control our price level.

It is a genuine pity that these matters are confusing the public, but they are technical issues and always will be. It is unfortunate that so many untrained people insist upon speaking "with authority" about the gold problem when it is obvious that they could not pass an examination in these basic elements of money.

Growing Pains

The United States is growing up, coming suddenly to an un wished-for maturity. It is like a strong and lusty child who has enjoyed an idyllic childhood, not without its bumps and disappointments, but carefree and happy.

Suppose that boy, irresponsible and carefree, suddenly meets within a year the death of both parents. The burden of the family falls on his shoulders. Playtime is over. Now he must think, and work, and accept responsibility. Now he is a man.

Something like this has happened to the United States during the past generation. We lived in the world, but secure from its bumps and troubles. Even when the World War came, with its momentary gravities, it seemed like an episode, something that came by chance and whose repetition was not to be expected or feared.

But after the 10-year party we staged in celebration, the depression came. A generation grew to maturity knowing no other circumstances. And now comes another war, not like the other war, but deeper, more basic, more fundamental, a war so deeply grounded that whatever its outcome it is certain to change the world.

What this will mean to the United States we do not know. But we are like the boy whose parents died. We know that new responsibilities are coming to us, and coming fast. Our "parents," the old-time orderly world of economics and politics which prevailed before 1914, are "dead." A new life is in the making.

Military preparedness in times past had an unreal aspect, like a game. Now it is deadly earnest, and no one longer doubts that our latent strength must be organized and made ready for use. No former preparedness program required any serious part of the national production. This one will.

Economic problems used to solve themselves. Now the best brains and forethought we can bring to bear on them are not wasted. For better or worse we are launched into a hemisphere program of defense and development that will require conscious effort to bring success. World financial leadership has been tossed into our lap whether we wish it or no.

Like the unwilling boy who, faced by necessity, buckled down and set himself to bear a man's burdens, so now the United States gathers its strength and prepares to carry a full share of the world's burdens.

No longer can we afford to flex idly the muscles of our strength. In a dynamic world like that of today, strength and leadership are Siamese twins which cannot be cut apart without the danger of both dying.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, May 31—England's drastic law for the control of men and money in wartime doesn't go such an awful lot farther than the U. S. government has in mind—should this country be forced into war.

The British law goes whole-hog and simply turns the entire country and everything in it over to the disposal of the government.

America's famous industrial mobilization plan, is drafted by the War and Navy Departments, would accomplish just about the same thing, but it would short the shock a little. Theoretically, it would stop short of actual confiscation of property and conscription of labor; actually, it would go a long way in both directions.

This plan is not a law, of course—not yet. It is, however, just what the army and navy want. Legislation to put it into effect has been drafted, and the general opinion is that it would go through pretty much as is if the nation found itself on the verge of war.

PRESIDENT COULD DRAFT EXECUTIVES

Assuming the industrial mobilization plan should be adopted, what would be the effect?

The President of the United States would be given wartime powers almost equal to those just given Mr. Churchill. If he deemed it advisable for the successful prosecution of the war, he could:

- 1—Draft any executive in any industry and make him run his plant under War Department orders—or, if he chooses, transfer him and put somebody else in his job.
- 2—Fix prices on anything and everything sold in the United States.
- 3—Requisition any manufactured product or raw material necessary to the prosecution of the war.
- 4—Commander any factory, or—short of that—compel any manufacturer to make what the government directed him to make.
- 5—Close all security exchanges for the duration of the war.
- 6—Draft every workman into the army, under a setup which is generally interpreted to mean that any worker could, at any time, be ordered from the factory to the army at the President's discretion.
- 7—Control, in short, all of the nation's resources, through licensing, rationing, requisitioning, and regulation of the sale, use, transportation, manufacture or distribution of any product.

Various New Deal critics of this scheme have objected that it would hit labor harder than capital; that control over labor would be absolute, while provisions limiting wartime profits would be less drastic. However that may be, it is certain that capital would find itself in a pretty tight, spiral, jacket.

As a matter of fact, laws already on the books give the President pretty broad powers. Section 129 of the National Defense Act authorizes him to place compulsory orders for either finished products or raw materials, with government seizure of the plant, the penalty for non-compliance. The Naval Emergency Fund act grants similar powers, specifically broadened to include aircraft plants and with the words "raw material" so defined as to include any commodity out of which war materials are made.

Oilers To Play Jinx Team Here Saturday

Hubbers Take 16 To 8 Game From Pampa

Howard Taylor and his jinx outfit will be in Pampa Saturday night and Sunday afternoon to battle with the Pampa Oilers of Grover Seitz. The jinx team is the Clovis Pioneers who give the Oilers outstanding opposition regardless of position of the two teams in the league standing.

Saturday night's game will be called at 9:15 o'clock and women will be admitted free as is the Saturday night custom. The Sunday afternoon game will be called at 3 o'clock.

LUBBOCK, May 31.—Although winning nine batters in the six innings he stayed on the mound, Lefty Rex Dilbeck was blasted for 13 hits and the same number of runs as the Lubbock Hubbers took a 16 to 8 game from the Oilers last night.

Manager Grover Seitz turned relief pitcher for the second time in the week and he held the slugging Hubbers to three runs and three hits in two innings. In all, the Hubbers bagged 16 hits off the Pampa pitchers.

Hyma of the Hubbers wasn't much of a puzzle to Oiler batters who nicked him for 12 singles, which included doubles by Prather and Malvia.

Lubbock did a lot of distance hitting, Watkins hitting for the circuit, Niedziela for a triple and double, Schiereth for two doubles and Engle, Castino and Drake for doubles which made a total of 26 bases.

The Hubbers jumped into a three run lead in the first inning but the Oilers put across five in their half of the second. A Hubber run in the second was followed by two in the fifth and five in the sixth and four more in the seventh when Seitz relieved.

National Open Will Be Held In Cowntown

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
FORT WORTH, May 31 (AP)—Marvin Leonard, a mild bespectacled business man with a flair for golf, can sit back and relax.

His dream has been realized. The 1941 National Open tournament, the biggest thing in the game, will be played over his Colonial Golf club course down here on the fringe of the Southwest's cattle domain.

Three years of quiet campaigning, three years of toil, three years of infant nursing to have the course ready for the big moment, have ended. The United States Golf association said "yes."

"Many years ago, while a member of the board of Glen Garden Country club here, I started this dream," said Leonard. "First, I had the idea of installing bent grass greens, which were installed down in the Southwest, just as in the east.

"I belonged to two Fort Worth clubs, started broaching the idea of bent greens years ago. Finally, I decided to experiment with my own course. Little less than five years ago Colonial Golf club was started.

"Bent greens were installed, nursed like babies. Why, back in the experimental days watchmen with lanterns toured the course throughout the night, looking at every blade of grass. On humid nights a green could be lost in a few hours without emergency care."

Today, sprawling out from a magnificent clubhouse set atop a hill, it is one of the greatest tests in American golf.

Sand will be imported for the traps; holes will be lengthened and remedied for the open. The bent grass greens are in velvety condition.

The championship course plays at 6,900 yards. No two holes even approach being alike.

Last Monday in the sectional qualifying round for the 1940 National Open, Colonial's stern layout laughed at the section's best professionals and amateurs. Henry Ransom, rising young pro of the winter circuit, huffed and puffed for 144 for 36 holes, four over par. Not an entrant of the 49 registered broke par 35-35-70.

"Why it's only natural that they play a National Open in Texas," beamed Leonard. "Look at what we have contributed to golf—our own Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan of Fort Worth, Jimmy Demaret, Harry Cooper, Ralph Guldahl, twice National Open champion; Ray and Lloyd Mangrum, Dick Metz and the others."

GOT NUMBER 3

Wilbur Shaw

Wilbur Shaw, homegrown driver, got his third victory in the 500-mile automobile race over Indianapolis Speedway yesterday.

Wilbur Shaw Will Collect $30,000

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31 (AP)—Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis, who has made a small fortune in one of the world's toughest sports—automobile racing—today will collect approximately $30,000 as a reward for his third victory in an Indianapolis motor speedway grind.

Shaw won a history-making 500-mile race yesterday at an average speed of 114.277 miles an hour and joined Louis Meyer of Huntington Park, Calif. as the only three-time winners of the local classic.

He became the first man to win two consecutive races and won the first complete race finished under the yellow caution flag which requires all drivers to hold their places.

Officials hung out the caution flag at the 375-mile mark because of rain and left it there until the contest ended.

The Indianapolis pilot finished slightly less than 2 1/2 miles ahead of Rex May of Glendale, Calif., and when Shaw crossed the finish line the race was called off.

Two of baseball's great heroes fittingly memorialized Memorial day for nearly a quarter million fans massed in the major league parks by producing pitching performances such as are reserved only for special occasions.

Foremost on yesterday's program was a one-hit game pitched by Carl Hubbell, the New York Giants' apparently tireless veteran, before a screeching crowd of 34,548 fans in Brooklyn's Ebbets field.

Foremost on yesterday's program was a one-hit game pitched by Carl Hubbell, the New York Giants' apparently tireless veteran, before a screeching crowd of 34,548 fans in Brooklyn's Ebbets field.

The scrawling southpaw came within one strike of a perfect game. In the third inning, Johnny Hudson of the Dodgers singled. A double play immediately eliminated him and no other Dodger reached first. Thus Hubbell faced only 27 batters in winning 0-0.

The other outstanding offering was a two-hitter by Red Ruffing of the New York Yankees in shutting out the Boston Red Sox 4-0 before the third largest crowd in baseball's history, 82,437 at Yankee stadium.

These were just the high spots of a program of 14 games, that drew 237,828 fans. A doubleheader at Pittsburgh was rained out.

The Giants exploded eight runs in the 12th inning to win 12-5, the second game with Brooklyn. Ruffing's triumph ran the Yankees' winning streak to six games, but the Red Sox won the nightcap 11-4 and preserved a game margin at the top of the American league.

In taking over the National League lead, the Cincinnati Reds swept two games from the Chicago Cubs. Paul Derringer's pitching and Harry Craft's hitting enabled the Reds to march to a 4-2 decision in the opener, but they had to go 12 innings to take the second 9-8, with Johnny Rizzo sending the winning across on a single.

The Phillies and Boston split the other shows in the senior circuit. Kirby Higbee allowed five hits to take the first game 5-1. Boston battled back in the nightcap for a 5-1 victory.

The Cleveland Indians cut down the Chicago White Sox twice by identical scores of 3-1.

Tom Bridges and Schoolboy Rowe were the Detroit Tigers' winners. Bridges pitched eight scoreless innings after the first and beat the Browns 2-1. The Tigers ripped out a 15-6 decision in the nightcap for Rowe's third victory without defeat.

The Washington Senators and Philadelphia Athletics divided their doubleheader. The A's nosed out the first game 7-6 after Jim Hayes, homer tied the score in the ninth. The Senators struck back to win the second game 14-2 before darkness halted play at the end of the seventh.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—Charley Howard's Kavalier is insured for $125,000. So when the colt went off his feed at Pimlico recently, the insurance companies had high priced flyers vying to his "bedside" from all directions.

Today's Guest Star
Sam Greene, Detroit News: "In less than four months Roy Colburn's value in the baseball market has declined from $25,000 to $7,500. The first figure was paid him for signing with Brooklyn last winter. The $7,500 is equivalent to the waiver price which is theoretically what Colburne drew when placed on sale by Brooklyn."

Burgess Whitehead, who was signed to one of those "conditional" contracts, has been given a new one calling for the same dough he got in 1938 in return for his fine work at Los Angeles for the Dodgers.

Reg Pardon
Recently we reported that "Put Put" Wright of the San Quentin prison team remained in stir an extra day to help the team through an important game. "Put Put" admires at Folsom prison what it knows for his grade of that institution, not San Quentin. His departure left a big "void" here, wrote the Folsom roters.

Estelle Lawson Page, the golfer's widow, will let her home town admirers finance a trip to the coast for the women's national. . . And speaking of golf, Charlie Waters, 17, celebrated his graduation from the Luling (Tex.) High school by stepping around a nine-hole course in 30.

Clovis Manager Has Unusual Mound Record

Howard Taylor, 1940 manager of the Clovis Pioneers, who will be here Saturday and Sunday, left record seldom seen in any league when he pitched for the Cedar Rapids Raiders of the Western loop in 1936. It is a record likely to be buried in the more outstanding feats of the year, but it is a great record, nevertheless.

Not once during the entire season did Taylor have to be relieved from his pitching job. Twenty-five times he started for the Raiders and just that many times he was still on duty when it was all over. That's really consistently good chucking.

What's more he helped out by going in as relief man on 16 occasions, appearing in 41 games, all told. A man who never needed relief for himself, was plenty willing to help the other fellow out of a rut. He was credited with 19 wins and charged with ten defeats for the season, and his club was in the second division during the first half of the race.

The veteran started out with Meridian of the Southeastern loop last year, but was sent over to Greenville, Ala., to manage that club when the Alabama-Florida circuit when the starting skipper gave it up as a bad job.

It was a mean spot for Taylor to start his managerial career, for Greenville had nothing in the way of a ball club. It finished a bad last, but Taylor left a helping hand in 25 ball games and won four white losing games. He had a better won and lost record than the club he pitched for.

This will be the veteran's eleventh year in professional ball, for he started out with McCook of the Nebraska State league in 1930. He has gone up as high as Class AA with Kansas City of the American Association.

Another Jaycee Skeet Shoot Set For Sunday

Pampa skeet shooters will blaze away Sunday afternoon at the Jaycee range located at the northwest corner of the municipal airport. Coleman Williams, chairman of the committee, announced today.

Shooting will begin at 2 o'clock and anyone will be entitled to shoot four rounds, or less. Ammunition and shotguns will be available at the range.

Newcomers have been stealing the show from the veterans the past couple of meets.

Southern Teams In Texas League Lead In Standings

If the standings tell the true story, the southern teams of the Texas league lead by the edge this season.

The top three clubs thus far are from that division—Houston, San Antonio and Beaumont.

A couple of the southern teams battled 22 innings last night and, for a change, Houston was the loser. Tulsa won the first tilt—a 15-inning fracas—5-4. The nightcap ended in a 2-2 tie in seven innings, when the Houston squad had to catch a train.

The Dallas Rebels, flitting with the first division, posted a 4-1 victory over San Antonio.

Third-place Beaumont split with Oklahoma City. A five-run rally in the eleventh won the opener on Beaumont, 7-2. The Redskins bounced out a dozen hits to take the nightcap 8-2.

Jack Brillheart's relief pitching gave Shreveport a 5-4 victory over Fort Worth, showing the Panthers further into the cellar.

Negro Teams Will Play Here Tonight

Rain washed out the scheduled baseball game between the Pampa Oilers and the Shamrock Black Cats last night but it will be played tonight at 8:30 o'clock at Road Runner park here.

David Jones, speedball pitcher from Mangum, Okla., has been selected by Manager Ben Shamrock of the Oilers and he will be on the mound tonight with "Boy" Lewis behind the plate. The infield will be strengthened by the arrival of three more Mangum players who with Birdseye comprise the inner core of the team.

The Shamrock's negroes have been beating all teams in their end of the Panhandle.

Game Rained Out

The Magnolia Flying Red Horses of Pampa and the Coltexo Car-boneers of LeFors were unable to play here yesterday evening because of rain. No

● SERIAL STORY
— ROMANCE AHEAD
 BY TOM HORNER

Copyright, 1940, NEA Service, Inc.

YESTERDAY: Monnie sees Larry, denounces him as a thief. Then she tells Bentley that Larry's brother was killed on the curve, that he has been investigating the accident, and that she refuses to believe him. Later she promises to marry Bentley if he will turn Larry over to the sheriff. Bentley agrees, but makes his own plans.

CHAPTER XIV
WORRYING about what Bentley was planning to do with him didn't keep Larry from enjoying the dinner his guests brought. He was just finishing the pie when the rancher walked in.

"Good cook you hire here, Bentley," Larry commented. "You always eat this well?" Bentley laughed. "No, this is special—for you. The condemned man ate a hearty dinner and all that. Glad you liked it, though. It's your last meal."

Larry rolled a cigaret, eyeing Bentley speculatively. "You're a nice guy, Mike. I'll bet you used to drown kittens, stick pins in bugs, and back that when you were a kid. You enjoy seeing people squirm so much. Do you worst, Bentley. I'm not squirming for you."

"You will before we get through with you." The man's innate cruelty reflected itself in his face. "You came here asking for trouble—just like your brother. We caught him snooping. We caught you. It's not healthy to know too much about Mike Bentley. You're finding that out. Your brother discovered the same thing."

"Sure, I did. And I did a swell job of it. Unidentified drunk killed on curve. Everybody forgot about him as soon as the inquest was over. No one will bother much about a dead cattle thief either."

"There are a few who might be interested," Larry said. "They might even start investigating when I don't come back. Ever think about that?"

"Let 'em investigate all they want to, they won't find a thing." Bentley was aggravatingly confident. "Might as well think up a bit—cancel a few deliveries, but nothing more than that. You're not so important as all that, Collins."

"You must have it pretty well worked out."

"I always have things 'pretty well worked out.' That's why I never fail. Here's what's going to happen to you—at least, this is what everyone will think happened to you."

"In a couple of hours, you're going to knock me out, while I sit here talking to you—"

"I'll enjoy that part of it," Larry interrupted.

"That's only in the story, you don't actually have the pleasure of slugging me. One of the boys will take care of it. . . . You take my gun, throw down on the boys and get away. Just outside you find my car. . . . you jump in it, race to town. You'll meet the sheriff at Dead Man's Curve. . . . If he drives too fast you may take him into the canyon with you. . . . I won't mind. . . . The car catches fire. . . . You shoot yourself—with my gun, of course—rather than burn to death or be taken to prison. You'll make a few headlines, but we probably won't bother to hold much of an inquest."

"Just like Hugh," Larry commented. "Aren't you afraid someone will start thinking these accidents on the curve are occurring too frequently?"

"What if someone does? What can he prove? The sheriff will be the only witness. This setup is perfect. It worked for your brother. It'll do for you."

BILLY and two more of Bentley's men came for Larry about 9:30. They tied his hands behind him, then hustled him upstairs and into Bentley's car. He was pushed into the front seat beside the rancher. He noticed a man riding a horse down the highway, leading a second saddled horse. "He goes down into the canyon to fire the shot when you kill yourself," Bentley explained.

Larry was silent. He watched another man put a gasoline can in Bentley's car. Bill climbed in the back, fondling a machine gun. Bentley drove out to the highway. A second car followed.

"Nice car you've got here," Larry said. "Don't you mind losing it?" Bentley was amused. "It's insured. I'll need a new one anyway, when Monnie and I get married. You knew we were going to be married, didn't you? Monnie set the day, September 10, this afternoon. She went on in town to talk to her bridesmaids. Too bad, Collins. You should have stayed in New York."

Larry did not answer. After this afternoon, nothing surprised him. He didn't mind Monnie believing he was a thief, she might have been angry, but to tell Bentley about Hugh. That was more than he could stand. He had trusted her—loved her.

The car stopped, but Bentley left the motor running. Larry saw the curve a hundred yards beyond. Bentley got out, called to the men in the other car.

"Turn around and keep the motor running. This will go off just like the other one. Joe—you get up on the hill. Flash your light when you see a car coming up, then duck back through the pasture. I'll have someone pick you up."

"You, Bill, steer the car. Be sure that fuse is fastened tight and watch out you don't blow up when you light it. Jump off when the car gets rolling good and go down into the canyon. Tony'll have your horse down there."

"I'll go back to the house with Schultz and let him bump on my head. But I'll take care of Collins first."

HE came back to Larry, cut the ropes that bound his wrists. "Move over under the wheel, Collins. You're driving from here on."

Bentley handed his automatic to Bill. "I'll take that tommy-gun up to the other car. Shoot him in the head if he tries anything."

He was back in a minute. "All right, Bill. Spill some gasoline over the door." He took his gun from Bill, got into the seat beside Larry. "Any last words, Collins?"

"You certainly have this down to a system."

"We practiced on your brother. When Joe flashes his light, I'll shoot you, let off the brake and put the car in gear. I jerk the hand throttle open as I jump out. Bill lights the fuse, steers you almost to the curve. Then—"

"What about Monnie? She knows why I'm here, knows I've been trying to prove you're smuggling narcotics. She suspects there was something wrong about the first accident here. She'll talk."

"No she won't. We'll take care of Monnie. If she starts any trouble we'll tip the federal men to search her car. There's $500 worth of dope hidden in it. You couldn't find it. But the government men will."

"That's why you stole her car?" Bentley nodded. The smell of gasoline came from the rear seat. Bill carried the empty can up to the car. "Larry knew he wouldn't have long to wait, now."

"Monnie would have trouble explaining how that stuff got in her car. We wanted it there just to make sure she wouldn't talk. If she did find out anything, we're not worried about it. Monnie."

"YOU'D BETTER BE!" The words split the stillness. Monnie! Here!

Bentley was caught off guard. In that instant, Larry swung for Mike's chin, grabbed for the automatic.

Mrs. Burleson Gets 12-Year Sentence

COLUMBUS, S. C., May 31 (AP)—Judge G. Duncan Bellinger sentenced Mrs. May Walker Burleson of Galveston, Texas, to 12 years in the penitentiary today. She was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the slaying of the second wife of her divorced husband, Col. Richard C. Burleson, of the U. S. Army.

The judge said in passing sentence, he would have given the 51-year-old defendant the maximum of 30 years permissible under the verdict if the jury had not recommended mercy.

"If the jury had not recommended mercy in this case, I would have given her the limit. This was an assassination," Bellinger said of the slaying, in which Mrs. Burleson shot Mrs. Ida Knutton Burleson in the back as she sat in a hotel cafeteria March 8.

Mrs. Burleson gave no sign of emotion as she heard the sentence pronounced.

Bellinger termed the shooting "a cold case" and asserted:

"The laws of this state shall be respected by those in the higher walks of life x x x as well as those of the common estate." Otherwise there would "never" be "any respect for life."

Defense attorneys withdrew a motion for a new trial, which had delayed sentencing since the verdict was rendered Tuesday night.

Chief defense attorney Claud N. Sapp said immediately after the sentencing that "we will not appeal" to the supreme court.

Airport 'Angel' Sought By Newark

NEWARK, N. J., May 31 (AP)—Big airliners swooped down today for final farewells to Newark airport, once the world's busiest, as city officials pressed a drive to have the federal treasury "angel" the field back to former eminence.

Mayor Meyer C. Ellenstein said last night he had been in touch with Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison and other Washington officials in a move to have the federal government buy, lease or subsidize the airport in line with the national defense program.

Several weeks ago Ellenstein announced the municipally operated traffic control tower—sky cop of the airport—would shut down at midnight May 30. The civil aeronautics authority then ordered the four major airlines—Transcontinental, American, United and Eastern—to suspend their 117 daily flights here. The CAA spokesman at Washington said that besides the tower shutdown the field was "de-stering."

Back of the tower shutdown and the subsequent CAA ruling was a long struggle, climaxed last winter when the CAA made a new, glamorous, $50,000,000 LaGuardia airport at North Beach, L. I., a co-terminal with Newark.

Three-Quarters of A Million Texas Children Do Not Attend School

By WILLIAM E. KEYS Associated Press Staff Nearly three-quarters of a million young Texans between the ages of 16 and 24 are not working or attending school. The American Youth commission estimates that only 485,000 of the Texas youth population of 1,250,000 in that age bracket are in school or employed. What is happening to the more than 60 per cent at loose-ends? Various agencies are trying to do something about the situation and, while educators have expressed the opinion there are plenty of agencies looking out for young people's needs, they believe there should be more coordination between the agencies. Two, the National Youth administration and Civil Conservation corps are assisting 60,979 boys and girls to acquire education and earn money. The NYA is aiding 45,000, of which 17,000 are assigned to out-of-school work experience programs, and 28,000 to part time projects in 2,612 secondary schools and 84 colleges and universities. At the beginning of the current year the CCC had 15,979 Texas enrollees. Thus the number without work adequate vocational training and placement, and follow-up service until assurance is reached that each man or woman is reasonably permanently placed.

J. C. Kellam, state administrator for the NYA and former teacher and athletic coach, whose contact with young people has been continuous since 1923, says youth wants a regular job above everything else, not discounting, of course, the desire for recreational and educational opportunities.

The big need, he believes, is placing young people in private industry. The NYA operates with this objective in mind. In March it sent 243 of its trainees into private jobs.

Dr. J. C. Umstadt, professor of secondary education at the University of Texas, recently told the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools there was danger of over-stimulation of youth by "socialized youth serving agencies."

He echoed Dr. Rainey's recommendation for coordinated activities of the youth groups because some are competing to attract youth to their programs, "frequently with less thought of serving youth than promoting their own ends."

He believes educational and lay leaders can develop the needed coordination by weeding out undesirable agencies, and enabling others to function in their proper spheres. He advocates extension of the CCC and NYA as desirable groups.

Those who question this suggestion," he said, "may well be reminded of recent events in another land where unemployed youth were the nucleus around which a dictator built a power that today threatens the entire western world."

Texas youth is not organized centrally. There are innumerable individual groups. Dr. Rainey estimates there are more than 200 clubs and fraternities at the University of Texas, all of which, to some extent, are studying the problems of youth. But there is a negligible amount of student-organized societies or agen-

McNutt Urges Renomination Of Roosevelt

By D. HAROLD OLIVER WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Third term advocates, heartened by Paul V. McNutt's open declaration for renomination of President Roosevelt, called on other potential Democratic candidates today to "withdraw" and declare for the chief executive. Some Democrats, however, expressed the view that all presidential aspirants should feel free to push their campaigns for the President. Others continued to voice unalterable opposition to breaking the two-term tradition. McNutt, federal security administrator and former Indiana Governor, issued a statement late yesterday saying: "The nation's welfare, now dependent upon total preparedness to avert the threat of total war, requires that President Roosevelt continue as the chief executive. It is my sincere hope that he will accept renomination for the presidency."

Fisher, Studer To Talk At Lake Marvin Opening

Special To The NEWS CANADIAN, May 31—Judge E. C. Fisher and C. A. Studer are each scheduled to make an address at the opening of beautiful Lake Marvin Saturday. The lake covers 80 of the 500 acres purchased of Hemphill county by the federal government, the dam, spillway and various other work of what is known as the "Boggy Creek WPA project" costing $250,000. This land is part of the original Springer ranch, established by A. G. Springer in 1875 and on which J. A. Chambers, Canadian citizen and writer of pioneer tales, got his first cowboy experience in the Panhandle in the early 80s. The brand used was the initials AGS. Lake Marvin was opened to the public for the first time with impressive ceremonies in June of last year. An even greater number of people are expected for the opening charge at the cemetery. Sam Isaacs delivered the burial service at the grave. Mr. Guthrie is survived by his widow, two sons, and four daughters.
