Morgenthau Raps Ford's Plane Policy

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau upheld today the government's insistence that any American manufacturer who makes Rolls-Royce airplane engines for his own country should make them as well for the British. "I just can't imagine the British being shut out from their own engines," said the treasury secretary, who himself obtained from the British the American rights for manufacture of the engine. "At a matter of fairness and policy," Morgenthau told his press conference, the administration had to cancel negotiations with Henry Ford for a 9,000 joint British-American engine order, when Ford refused to make motors for any country other than the United States. Morgenthau approved a congressional limitation of 7 to 8 per cent profit on warship and airplane construction, terming the limitation a challenge to the "patriotism" of American manufacturers.

Supplemental Bill Signed By President

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—President Roosevelt put his signature today to a supplemental defense bill giving the war and navy departments $1,478,777,147 in cash appropriations and authority to make additional contracts totaling $289,136,761. The sum thus provided—$1,768,913,908—was about equally divided between the two departments and was in addition to regular appropriations of $2,800,000,000 voted by congress for the army and navy in the coming fiscal year. The navy's share of the supplemental fund was earmarked for: Beginning of construction on 22 new warships and faster construction of more than 100 more; alterations to existing vessels, production of 400 new quadruple mounts and 1.1 inch anti-aircraft guns; emergency stocks in critical and reserve materials; housing and ammunition storage facilities; aviation and ship-building facilities and recommissioning of laid-up status. The army is empowered to: Build thousands of new planes, purchase new equipment, construct anti-aircraft batteries, buy land and expand seacoast defenses. Also provided was a $92,000,000 fund to permit the civil aeronautics authority to train an estimated 45,000 persons in primary piloting courses and part of that number in secondary instruction.

Italians Also May Attack Britain

ROME, June 27 (AP)—Italian troops may join German forces in an attack on the British Isles, an authoritative source said today. He said Italian planes and warships also are believed likely to take part in the operation. This source said that Italy, since she is determined to fight the war against Britain through to victory with every means at her disposal, feels that the employment of Italian forces in a direct attack on Great Britain, "is not likely to be excluded." While the Mediterranean is believed likely to be Italy's principal field, Fascists said there would be a symbolic interest in having forces of the modern Roman empire crisscross Caesar's legions in setting foot upon the British Isles.

23 Reported Killed In Malta Air Raid

VALETTA, Malta, June 27 (AP)—Twenty-three persons were killed and many others wounded in an Italian air raid during which a number of heavy bombs were dropped on the working class sections of this British island naval base in the Mediterranean, it was reported today. Five air attacks were delivered after two days of quiet. Seventy bombs were dropped. The bombs which fell on the working class suburb were dropped during the fifth attack, reports said, under pressure from fighter planes and anti-aircraft batteries.

By W. B. RAGSDALE PHILADELPHIA, June 27 (AP)—Wendell Willkie, touted utility man whose name has started delegates' fists flying, today became the enigma of a Republican convention nearly ready to pick its presidential nominee.

Delegates were uncertain what to make of the turbulent situation. After adopting a platform which declared for peace, preparedness and hemisphere defense, they saw a tremendous ovation, mingled with boos and fist fights, when Willkie was placed in nomination last night. On the other side, they saw Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Senator Taft of Ohio and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan calling on Herbert Hoover for talks described by some leaders as an effort to pool resources against Willkie.

The first ballot, on which Dewey and Taft are expected to lead, probably will come tonight after 10 names have been offered to the convention. Willkie managers predicted his nomination quickly, but leaders for other candidates said his drive had been stopped.

Some argued Willkie backers had "packed" the galleries last night in order to stir up enthusiasm for their candidate. Senator Taft told reporters that holders of 3,000 tickets issued by Samuel Pryor of Connecticut, chairman of the arrangements committee, had been instructed to cheer when Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana nominated Willkie.

Pryor called the statement ridiculous, asking, "Where could I find 3,000 persons? Am I responsible for the enthusiasm?"

R. B. Creager, Texas national committee man and a Taft leader, sought to have persons with similar tickets kept out of the auditorium today. When today's session got under way, however, with the galleries far from full, Creager said nothing "practical" could be done about the standing room tickets because "they already have been issued for the rest of the week and are in the hands of innocent people. We can't turn them away from the door."

The Texan quoted national Chairman John Hamilton as saying that he knew nothing of the tickets and could do nothing about it.

Martin dismissed the matter as a problem for the arrangements committee. The Willkie nominating speech was interrupted time and again with boos which were quickly drowned by applause. In the demonstration that followed, several fights broke out when delegates tried to wave state standards. All this was preceded by nomination.

$27,500 Contract Let To Build Church

A contract for construction of the new Presbyterian church building here was let yesterday to L. C. Graham whose bid of $27,500 was accepted by the church board yesterday. The present manse will be moved to the new location. The church building will be of light brick and stone. Date of completion will be early in November. Duinkerkean-Catholic Funeral home will occupy the present church building.

Tonight Deadline For Entering Derby Race

At 6 o'clock tonight the deadline falls on entries in the second annual Pampa News-Lions Club Soap Box Derby to be held on a course on the old Miami road north of Pampa on the night of July 18-19. Pampa's own "Derby Downs" this year has attracted twice the number of entries in the 1939 race. In which Hugh Blevins, Jr., was champion. Young Blevins received an expense-paid trip to Akron, Ohio, where he competed in the All-American event. Dr. H. L. Wilder is chairman of the entry committee and Luther Wagnon is registrar for the Pampa derby.

Downs Built in 1936 Derby Downs, in Akron, O., site of the national finals of the All-American Soap Box Derby, has become a unique sports center since its construction for the 1936 running of the seven-year-old "world's greatest amateur racing event."

The War Today

By DEWITT MacKENZIE You probably have heard the rumors which have been going the rounds to the effect that a peace between Britain and Germany is in the making.

These have been cropping up in various places. Yesterday for instance there was a report that Sir Samuel Hoare, British ambassador to Spain, had broached the question of peace through the Spanish government. This morning a Berlin radio commentator said the British were trying to contact the axis powers, presumably for peace negotiations.

All official statements in London have indicated a determination to continue the fight. Both the stories mentioned above have been categorically denied. I doubt if I should have mentioned these rumors at all were it not for the fact that every day I am bombarded with two questions: "Do you think England will ask for peace with Hitler?" "Has England a chance to defeat Germany?"

As regards the question of peace, the position of the British government has maintained was rather well put last night in a statement by the ministry of information. The ministry announced "complete disagreement" with the view expressed by United States Senator Pittman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, that Britain is totally unprepared for defense.

The ministry declared Britain is facing the coming struggle "with confidence." It added that England has "the slightest intention" of laying down her arms without a fight and "is determined to carry the struggle through to a victorious end." It is my view that this is a fair statement of the present attitude of the British government and public toward peace.

But I am bound to say that their present intention (and I repeat that word "present") is going to be put to a very terrible test in the immediate future. Englishmen don't quit under fire for sake of their own safety. But we must recognize that the bulk of Britain's population of forty-six millions is centered in the congested

C-C Picnic Will Feature Barbecue, Swimming, Dance

Officials of the Panhandle Water Conservation Authority, the United States Soil Conservation Service, the Works Projects Administration, and other organizations which had a part in the construction of Lake McClellan will be guests at a Pampa Chamber of Commerce picnic at the lake Tuesday evening.

The picnic, which will take the place of the monthly luncheon of the local Chambers of Commerce, will be open to the public. Reservations may be made by telephoning the Chamber of Commerce office, number 383. Cost will be small.

In addition to a barbecue there will be a very brief program. Boating and swimming will be held that night. "Bring your family and enjoy the beauty of Lake McClellan, it's your lake," President Jno. V. Osborne of the Board of City Development said today. "You can go down to the lake during the afternoon and enjoy boating and swimming if you desire."

Barbecue will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Lubbock Official Praises Recreation Program In Pampa

Pampa's summer recreation program was praised by Alvin R. Egging of Lubbock, district supervisor of the Works Projects Administration recreation program, sponsor organization, while on a visit here last night and this morning. Mr. Egging visited the central park amphitheater last night and was greatly surprised at the hundreds of persons enjoying games and music. He visited play programs at the various schools this morning before returning to Lubbock.

Jim Edwards is supervisor of the local program which is partly sponsored by the Pampa Council of Clubs, chamber of commerce, school and city.

Clarendon Group Advertises Its Big Celebration

A motorcade of 50 cars roared into Pampa unannounced yesterday afternoon but soon there was a big audience and the trippers were on the air over station KPDM. The trippers were from Clarendon and they were advertising Clarendon's Coronado Rancho Roundup and Fourth of July celebration which will begin July 3.

J. R. Gillham, chairman of the committee, and R. E. Drennan, dean of the Clarendon Junior College, spoke briefly inviting everyone to the celebration. The Clarendon high school band was present and played several numbers.

Pampa will take part in the celebration by sending the Summer Recreation band, directed by A. C. Cox, to march in the 1 o'clock parade and play a concert. Miss Margaret Stockstill will represent Pampa in the Rodeo Queen contest.

A Coronado pageant under the direction of Blanding Sloan, co-director of the Texas Cavalcade, will be staged both days and in addition there will be an amateur rodeo each afternoon offering $500 in prizes and awards.

Stein Denies Fifth Column Activities

Rumors, current in Pampa the past few weeks that Walter F. G. Stein, former Pampa resident, had been questioned in connection with fifth column activities, were denied today by Mr. Stein in a telegram to The Pampa News. Mr. Stein is now a resident of Corpus Christi.

His telegram to The News follows: "I am a partner of the Stein-Henderson company, petroleum engineers, of Corpus Christi and reside at 1010 Ocean Drive, Corpus Christi. So far as I know, I am still at large and a much better citizen of the United States than the starter of these rumors. Kindest regards, Walter F. G. Stein."

Mr. Stein was an engineer with the Texas Railroad commission here. He was also a leader in Boy Scout work. He left here several years ago to make his home in Austin. Later he was transferred by the commission to Corpus Christi. A few weeks ago he and Mr. Henderson, also of the commission, opened engineering offices.

Hitler Says Hungary Will Get Share In Rumanian Partition

BUCHAREST, June 27 (AP)—The Rumanian government tonight officially signified its acceptance of Russia's ultimatum demanding the cession of Bessarabia, northern Bucovina and other concessions.

At the same time official sources disclosed that the Rumanian army was being concentrated in Transylvania near the Hungarian frontier. Hungary has been agitating for restoration of Transylvania, which she lost to Rumania after the World War.

The king, it was said, has decided to give in rather than precipitate a war in the Balkans—Europe's traditional "powderkeg"—but wants to negotiate on the Kremlin's demands for a cession of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina and control of two ports.

Diplomatic quarters did not expect that Russia would tolerate any delay. The Red army was reported to have massed great swarms of planes, troops and tanks ready to pour across Rumania's northern frontier at the zero hour.

A general re-alignment in the Balkans appeared under way as Hungary and Bulgaria eyed Rumania's impending capitulation to the Kremlin and recalled old territorial claims against Carol's Kingdom.

Hungary claims the province of Transylvania, once a part of the now defunct Austro-Hungarian empire. Bulgaria wants the Dobruja region in southeast Rumania, bordered by the Danube river and the Black Sea.

War Flashes

LONDON, June 27 (AP)—An authoritative source said today that applications for the removal of British children overseas were being made at the rate of 7,000 to 8,000 a day, but that ships now available can carry only about that number monthly.

BERLIN, June 27 (AP)—Amsterdam correspondents today reported ten persons were killed and a number wounded in a British air raid on Haarlem, 12 miles west of Amsterdam, and a village near Den Helder, Dutch naval base, last night. The Newspaper Tele-Graaf's correspondent said Rotterdam was bombed, damaging a number of houses just repaired after the German bombing in May. There were no casualties in Rotterdam.

NEW YORK, June 27 (AP)—The German radio broadcast a message to the French people today warning them against enlisting in Gen. Charles de Gaulle's proposed French foreign legion, according to a broadcast picked up here by the Columbia Broadcasting system.

IRUN, Spain, At the French border, June 27 (AP)—German advance guards arrived at the Spanish-French border at 11:20 a. m. (4:20 p. m. CST) today. Howard Bucknell, counselor of the American embassy in Madrid, immediately got in touch with the German commander to insure the passage into Spain of the last Americans awaiting restriction.

Drivers Tests To Be Held Here Each Week

Schedule of driver's license examinations in Pampa will be from 8 to 11 a. m. each Tuesday and not on the third, fourth and fifth Tuesdays of each month. G. C. Reese, of the Texas Highway patrol, informed the News today.

Reese said a prior announcement that the new schedule here called for examinations on the third, fourth and fifth Tuesdays of each month, was incorrect, and said the error was due to the form of a typewritten list received by the patrolmen here. The change is effective July 1.

French Fleet Will Fight For British

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 27—The people of this island kingdom dug in today for siege, cheered by indications that strong units of the French fleet would fight on at the side of Britain's navy.

German bombing planes made their sixth extensive early morning raid in nine days, marking the first attack on a Welsh town. Five bombs were dropped on that unidentified community. British aviation circles meanwhile reported new and "very heavy attacks" on various military objectives in Germany's highly industrialized Ruhr valley in a daylight sortie yesterday. The British struck again at Germany in the race of Nazi threats of "thousand-fold" retaliation for previous British attacks. One of the British raiders yesterday was said to have scored hits on the center of an oil plant in the east of the Ruhr valley. Other developments in the preparations for the war on two continents included: 1. Advice from United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy that all Americans "who do not have any urgent reason for remaining here longer" sail home on the U. S. liner Washington from Galway, Ireland, July 4. 2. Official British acknowledgment that a "strong detachment" of Italian troops and tanks had occupied a British frontier outpost on Budapest reported that Premier Teleki has received a letter from Adolf Hitler saying Hungary's claims "will be met." Rumania has an active army estimated at 800,000 men and approximately 1,000,000 trained reserves. Meanwhile, as more English spokesmen hinted at plans for a British offensive against the axis powers, authoritative sources in Rome said Italian troops, planes and warships may take part in the projected German attack on the British Isles, emulating the exploit of Caesar's Roman legions nearly 2,000 years ago.

The Soviet ultimatum, timed for expiration at 10 p. m. today (2 p. m. CST) also demanded rail bases at Rumania's Black Sea harbor of Constanta and at certain Danube points, diplomatic quarters in Bucharest said.

Authoritative reports said Germany and Italy consented to the Soviet demand on Rumania in a "deal" to pay for Russia's pressure to keep Turkey from joining the Allies and for Soviet economic aid to the axis powers. Russian planes bombed villages in Rumania's eastern province of Bessarabia and at certain Danube points, diplomatic quarters in Bucharest said.

War Minister Anthony Eden dropped a broad hint that Britain—instead of waiting passively for Hitler's long-heralded invasion—might herself launch a bold offensive against Germany. With units of the French fleet now reported ready to carry on the fight under British command, Eden declared bluntly: "No battle can be won by standing on the defensive."

"Until the time comes to stand forth from the fortress (Britain) to the attack, remember that it is not sufficient merely to defeat the attack on this island." The minister's statement came shortly after the official disclosure that British landing parties had crossed the channel, attacked Nazi troops on the German occupation zone.

Italy, Hitler Tell Rumania To Give In

(By The Associated Press) BUCHAREST, June 27—Rumania decided today, according to diplomatic quarters, to yield vast territorial concessions to Soviet Russia but pleaded for time to digger on the Red demands and ordered a precautionary mobilization.

Little more than five hours before expiration of an ultimatum calling for immediate return of Bessarabia and other concessions and amid reports of a Soviet massing of military might, Rumania asked for postponement of the deadline, fixed at 10 a. m. tonight (2 p. m. CST).

Diplomatic quarters expressed belief that Russia would tolerate no delay. Red planes were reported darkening the Rumanian skies while Russia massed troops, tanks and artillery at the northern frontier. Apparently Germany and Italy both counseled Rumania to bow to Russian demands. Ministers of axis powers conferred at length with the young monarch.

Authoritative sources said Russia demanded: Return of Bessarabia, once part of Czarist Russia and since 1918

Bill To Finance Relief Signed

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—President Roosevelt signed into law today a $1,157,711,357 bill to finance relief for at least eight months beginning July 1.

The measure provided a basic $975,000,000 fund for the full 12 months of the fiscal year but contained a provision which would permit the President and the WPA to use it over an eight-month period if they believed it necessary.

Congress earmarked $25,000,000 of the total for national defense projects. The bill contains new restrictions against aliens on relief rolls and relieves the recent provision that at the end of 18 months, persons on relief must be dropped from the rolls.

It also contains a $50,000,000 fund to aid European war refugees and provides for machinery by which CCC enrollees may be trained in such non-combatant work as cooking, engineering and communications.

AAA To Meet July 19-20 In Dalhart

AMARILLO, June 27. (AP)—State AAA committees and extension service representatives from five states will meet at Dalhart, July 19 and 20 to consider a 1941 agricultural conservation program aimed at southern great plains problems.

Gene Worley Opens His Speaking Campaign Before Wheeler Crowd

WHEELER, June 27—Eugene Worley of Shamrock, candidate for the congressional post being vacated by Marvin Jones, opened his formal speaking campaign Saturday afternoon at Wheeler, county seat of Worley home county, before a large crowd of farmers, laborers and business men.

Gene Worley

Worley, who first campaigned for the Legislature six years ago in 1934, is a law student in the University of Texas, and who has twice been elected State Representative from Wheeler, Gray, Donley and Collingsworth counties.

far and away better than any other type in existence, the fact remains that there are nearly twelve million unemployed—men and women who want to make a living—with a constant stream of agricultural workers in desperate migration to the cities, and all this in the lap of potential and actual abundance, our legislative program could still be improved.

Worley declared that his finances were too limited to carry on a widely publicized and heavily advertised campaign. He stated he hoped a plentiful amount of campaign money was not necessary for election to any office.

Wheeler To Hold First Voters Meet

SHAMROCK, June 27—The Wheeler County Coordinating Council held its third regular meeting in the district court room at Wheeler Monday evening.

The council decided to hold a "first voters meeting" on Tuesday evening, July 8 in the district court room, to which all young people who are eligible for voting for the first time will be invited.

A committee headed by H. B. Hill was appointed to work out the plan for the speakers to tell the young voters something about the honor of voting and the duty of a voter. A citizenship certificate will be awarded all first voters attending.

Caution Advised On 2 Roads Near Pampa

Conditions of two roads in this area are included in a state-wide list for the period June 25-July 1, issued by the Texas Highway Department.

Sections of the road mentioned are of a temporary traffic facility nature and the state highway engineer advises caution in proceeding over them.

For this section, the report lists U. S. 86 in Pecos, two miles from one mile west of Amarillo, east, "good in all weather. Traffic routed on shoulders where asphalt is being placed. Highway open at night and in wet weather. Drive with caution."

State 213-Lipscomb, 2.2 miles from Higgins, northwest, fair in all weather. Traffic routed through construction. Drive with caution.

Charter Presented To Canyon Lions

Canyon Lions received their charter last night as a part of the program held at Buffalo lake, 11 miles west of Canyon, attended by 200 persons, representing eight Plains cities.

Present from Pampa were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bratton, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Teed, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burrow, Carl Benefield, Roy McMillen, Dude Blathrope, Ralph R. Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Harmon.

CHAMPIONS GET EXPERT ADVICE

Pampa's Soap Box Derby champion will get top-notch professional racing advice when he goes to the All-American Soap Box Derby finals in Akron, Ohio, August 11. Last year the champion pictured above got some sound racing tips from two of the best-known drivers in the business, Wulbur Shaw (left), 1939 and 1940 Indianapolis Speedway winner, and Harry Hartz, former national racing champion.

Roads Passing Up Texas Towns But Nobody Gets Mad

AUSTIN, June 27 (AP)—Highways are passing up Texas towns and nobody is mad.

Time was when Squeedunk, on the route of an old state artery, raised a collective howl when state highway engineers, planning a new location for the road, left the village high and dry on the outmoded pavement.

Now the same citizens actually petition the highway department to by-pass their town.

They realize at last, say engineers, that most highway traffic is non-local and through travelers will not stop to buy gasoline, hot dogs, soda or anything else they can get most anywhere on their route.

Currently the department is by-passing San Marcos through which U. S. 81 winds a tortuous path which often adds 15 minutes to north-south motoring time.

Five years ago, an engineer says, Palestine citizens fought a proposed location for U. S. 79 which eliminated the city from its route.

Evangelist Dunn Speaks To Capacity Crowd Wednesday

An audience that filled the house almost to its capacity heard Evangelist G. A. Dunn discuss the subject of "Hell" Wednesday evening.

The speaker called attention to the fact that those who oppose what the Bible teaches on this, hold their theory on those words in the Bible which describe the intermediate state of the dead.

From Matt. 25:45 it was established that the duration of the punishment of the wicked will equal the duration of the life of the righteous.

U. S. Seeks Stores Of Tin And Rubber

WASHINGTON, June 27—The United States laid down the keel of its first 45,000-ton super-dreadnaught today and on a less dramatic defense front sought vast stores of strategically vital rubber and tin.

The start of work on the battleship Iowa at the Brooklyn navy yard and the opening of negotiations by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for essential war materials typified the divergent activity of the preparedness program.

South America continued to figure prominently in the developments. The export-import bank granted a $20,000,000 trade loan to Argentina yesterday just as intensive Nazi economic activity was reported there.

The national defense commission meanwhile pursued discussions with Packard Motor company for mass production of aircraft engines on a joint U. S.-British order.

The 45,000-ton Iowa—largest battleship ever put on the sea for the navy—marked the beginning of a construction program which will add four huge capital ships to the fleet.

Notice of bargaining for rubber and tin was given yesterday by Jesse H. Jones, Federal Loan administrator, not long after President Roosevelt signed the bill which authorized the RFC to finance acquisition of strategic raw materials.

Jones said he and Sir John Hay of the International Rubber committee which controls most of the world's rubber production, were exploring a plan to increase rubber production in the East Indies—now reported to be the source of 97 per cent of the nation's supply.

Americans Urged To Sail For Home

LONDON, June 27 (AP)—United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy urged all Americans "who do not have any urgent reason for remaining here longer," to sail for home on the U. S. liner Washington from Galveston July 4.

He said the Washington, which is scheduled to sail from New York tomorrow "is very likely to be the last American vessel to come over until after the war."

His statement also said: "The government cannot continue to dispatch vessels and their crews into belligerent waters to accommodate those who persist in remaining in danger areas."

"The government cannot be blamed for assuming that those who do not leave now are prepared to stay for the duration of the war, come what may, and to stay at their own risk."

Wheeler Singers Elect Officers

SHAMROCK, June 27—Succeeding E. J. Cooper of Davis, Hester Dodson of Twitty was chosen to lead the Wheeler County Singing Association for the coming year in their annual election of officers held at their regular meeting in the Baptist church of Allison, Sunday.

Foy Bailey was elected vice-president and Bernice Bailey was chosen as secretary-treasurer.

Special numbers were presented during the afternoon by: Davis quartet, Buffalo quartet, Fox quartet, South trio, Fouk trio, Bailey quartet, and others.

A more than capacity crowd was present and many had to stand outside the building. The next regular meeting will be held at Mobeetie, July 21.

Parrish Pitches Well But Oilers Lose 4-1

Borgans Will Play Pampa Again Tonight

Big Ben Parrish pitched his best ball game of the season last night but it wasn't good enough to beat the Berger Gassers who took the measure of the Pampa Oilers 4 to 1. The two teams will meet again tonight and finish their present feud in a Ladies Night game Friday night, both games called for 8:30 o'clock.

With the exception of three innings, Parrish was completely master of the Gassers, who got only eight hits. He pitched a home run ball to Scopetone in the first inning, with Gilchrist on first. In the seventh Adams and Potocar doubled in succession for another run. Scopetone's double, hit batter and Williams' single in the eighth gave the Gassers their other run.

Manager Gordon Nell sent Hausman, his ace, to the mound and only 17 batters faced him in the first six innings of the game. Three snappy double plays killed Oiler rallies and pulled Hausman out of holes.

Potter Pulls Another Only Pampa run came in the seventh when Seitz drew a base on balls, advanced to third on Prather's single, and scored on a fly by Summers to right field.

Clutter tripled after one was away in the eighth but he died at that point.

Farrish walked only one batter and struck out four, including Manager Nell twice. Hausman walked three and fanned six. Patterson relieved Parrish in the ninth after McPartland had gone in as a pinch hitter. Although wild, Patterson retired the Gassers, former teammates, in order.

Pampa fans are getting used to Phil Potter pulling out the sensational play a game and he didn't disappoint them last night when he raked back of first to make a shoestring catch of Decker's ground-hugging line drive. He fell as he caught the ball, rolled over, but came up with the pill.

McPartland or Vannoy Tonight Manager Gordon Nell presented a combination that reminded old timers of the Evers to Tinker to Chance double play combination. The Berger combination was Gilchrist, shortstop, to Decker, second base, to Nell, the combination pulled two snappy double plays as Gilchrist has eight assists and three putouts and Decker came up with five assists and two putouts.

Sam Malvica and Dutch Prather continued to field sensationally for the Oilers.

Either Milton Vannoy or John McPartland will be on the mound for the Oilers tonight, with Parks doing the hurrying for the Gassers.

Last night's loss, and Amarillo's win, didn't drop the Oilers out of first place, however. They still retain the lead by seven points.

Head Protectors To Be Used In National Tourney

WICHITA, Kas., June 27 (AP)—As a result of the recent series of "beanings" of major league baseball players, Ray Dumont, president of the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress, has decided to give head protectors for batsmen a thorough trial during the national tournament here August 16-28.

"The use of protective bonnets will not be compulsory among the 500 players at the tourney," Dumont said today. "However, if the head-gear proves of definite protective value, the question of making it a regular part of our tournament equipment will be voted on at the board of directors meeting next winter."

Max Baer Talking Great Fight Now

By SID FEDER
POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 27 (AP)—Maxie Baer's curls ordinarily are combed back off his broad brow, but just the same he's still like the little girl who had her hair hanging right in the middle of her forehead.

If he's good against Tony Galento in the Jersey City ball park Tuesday night, he will be very, very good. If he isn't—the ladies' weekly sewing circle might just as well take over.

Max is still a major mystery, like boarding house hash. Right now, although his training work isn't anything to write home about, he's talking a great fight.

Fans Still Have Most Fun In National League Battles

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
In the days when the New York Yankees were burning up every thing in baseball, but the National League fans used to defend their interests by saying they got more for their money than the American league's customers.

Well, the Yanks are different, and the American league race is different, but the National league fans still get more excitement. It may not be baseball, but it's good, clean fun.

In New York, for instance, the Giants and St. Louis Cardinals came up with a ten-inning 10-9 bit of vaudeville last night. Just 24 hours after the Dodgers and Chicago Cubs put on a 13-inning skit across the river in Brooklyn.

There were five home runs in the game and 13 runs scored in one inning, the seventh, after which the whole issue still had to be decided because the score was tied at nine all.

No Broadway show has had a more dramatic climax. The Giants loaded the bases in the ninth and failed to score. They did it again in the tenth. This time pinchhitter Johnny

Kiwanis Sluggers Upset Undefeated Rotary Nine

Dean Credited With Another Win For Tulsa

(By The Associated Press)
Dizzy Dean's won and last record indicates he's doing all right in his comeback trek toward baseball's big time.

He's won three games and lost one for Tulsa in Texas league parks. But the way he hung up his victories tells a somewhat intangible story.

Sent back to this circuit when his ailing arm couldn't win for the Chicago Cubs, Dean has failed to finish three of his games. But for heroic work by Tulsa mates, he'd likely be on the debit side of the ledger.

In 30 innings he's allowed 32 hits and 18 runs—not good, but also not bad.

Last night he downed Shreveport 6-5 by "remote control." He left the game at the end of the eighth inning one run behind, but the Oilers scored two runs in the ninth. Under Texas league rules Dean was credited with the victory.

It seems Dean goes well most of the way but falters in the stretch. Until he begins finishing what he starts no real opinion can be given on his new sideman delivery.

San Antonio's hustling Missions clipped another half game off Houston's lead by sweeping a double-header with Oklahoma City, 4-3 and 2-1.

Houston beat Fort Worth 6-4 for the Cats' 12th straight loss.

Third-place Beaumont beat Dallas 7-3.

The Piper Cub factory will soon place on the market the first low-priced amphibian.

Kiwanis club sluggers defeated the previously undefeated Rotary club baseball team 9 to 8 yesterday afternoon in a Civic club league game. On Friday afternoon the Kiwanians will tangle with the Lions with the hope of keeping their record clean. The Kiwanians scored six runs in the third inning to take a commanding lead. Shorty Hoffman drove in Fred Thompson with the winning run in the fourth. Thompson had walked and Hoffman doubled.

Waite Rogers hit a home run for the Rotary boys.

Herod and Wagner divided mound duty for the Rotarians with Lively behind the plate. Warner went the distance for the Kiwanians with Hoffman and Berhman receiving.

ing speeches and parades for Taft, Dewey and Frank Gannett of New York in a six-hour session which saw unanimous adoption of the program which the party offers voters.

This platform denounced the new deal, said the Roosevelt administration had a "record of failures," and proposed a constitutional amendment to forbid a third term for any man.

On national defense, the party opposed involvement in foreign wars, said the administration had left the nation "wholly unprepared to defend itself."

The document also proposed: Restoration of relief administration to the states.

Extension of old age benefits and broadening of unemployment compensation.

Amendment of the Wagner labor relations act, with protection of the rights of both employer and worker.

Continuation of farm benefit payments.

Besides the candidates offered last night, Iowa said it would nominate Hanford MacNider, Michigan promised to produce Senator Vandenberg; Oregon, Senator McNary; Pennsylvania, its Governor James; South Dakota, its Governor Bushfield.

After the speech by John Lord O'Brien of New York which put Dewey into the nomination, Dewey men leaped to their feet with a roar and went dancing about the floor waving pictures and state standards. They kept it up for 20 minutes.

Gannett's name was put before the convention by Representative James W. Wadsworth, The Rochester, N. Y., publisher got a two-minute demonstration from enthusiastic followers.

Next into the battery of Killeg lights came Grove Patterson, Toledo editor, to propose Senator Taft. For 20 minutes the Taft men whooped and yelled.

In his speech for Wilkie, Representative Halleck encouraged repeated heckling.

"I'm for him if he will keep this country out of war," he said amid a chorus of boos.

"Just a minute," he added. "You'll hear me. He knows war as a soldier who fought in France in the last year."

Shouts of laughter and more boos broke in a few minutes later when Halleck said the Wilkie boom has been accomplished "without a political organization and with no campaign funds."

The fist fights broke out on the floor when the demonstration started a moment or so later. Delaware, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Maryland, Maine, California, New Jersey, Minnesota and Montana state standards bobbed about the hall filled with marching delegates.

Back in the Virginia delegation, L. S. Parsons of Norfolk grabbed the standard and rushed down the aisle. Glenn Preston Anderson of Marion clutched the other end of the pole and the two swung wildly at each other. Police rushed in, took over the standard, and set it back in place.

Swimmers, Divers Practice For Meet

Local swimmers and divers are practicing daily for the big Fourth of July meet to be held here. Invitations have been extended to swimmers and divers in 26 Panhandle counties to enter the meet which will be under sponsorship of the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation, of which Jim Edwards is Panhandle director.

Everyone in or near Pampa interested in entering the meet and maybe later trying out for a place on a Pampa swimming and diving team to enter dual and invitation meets, is urged to contact Oscar Hinger, pool manager.

Twenty Amarillo swimmers and divers have already entered the meet.

The pool is very popular this season although nights up to this time have been too cold for enjoyable swimming. Last night was the best yet. Manager Hinger looks for much night swimming from now on.

A bathing beauty revue will follow the swimming and diving events July 4.

(Continued From Page 1) areas of the heart of the country. What will happen if and when the Nazi bombs begin to rain down on this crowded area? Will the Briton's determination and bravery be able to stand it?

I think we had better admit there always is the possibility that it might be necessary to surrender England itself to save slaughter of civilians. Then the government might, as it has declared, transfer its activities to Canada and carry on from there.

Has England a chance to defeat Germany?

In my view—yes. Without question Britain has a terrific task cut out for her, but nobody has this war in a sack yet.

Much will depend upon two things—whether England's defenses are strong enough to withstand the initial German air-assaults, and whether the French navy and air force elect to fight with the British and aren't surrendered to Germany.

Latest reports are that much of the navy and many planes are still under British control.

'Duster' Planes Land In Pampa

Three Challenger Commandair "duster planes" flying from Oklahoma to their Houston headquarters arrived in Pampa Tuesday afternoon and left yesterday morning. One of the planes, piloted by D. A. Askew, yesterday afternoon. While repairs were being made Herbert H. Kindred, flying as passenger, suffered a severely lacerated leg when the propeller started to spin, according to an Associated Press report.

The ships had been used in various parts of Oklahoma for the purpose of killing grasshoppers, members of the convoy said.

Kindred is one of the oldest pilots in the country. His license is 345.

Session of the northern part of the province of Bucovina, once part of the Austro-Hungarian empire, and control of Rumania's big Black Sea port, Constanta, for a naval base, along with railway bases and supervision of Galati and Braila, two ports which control all navigation of the Danube.

Granting of the latter provision would mean Russian control of all traffic on one of Germany's vital lifelines. (Reports to Berlin said "control" of Tulcea, another Danube port, also was demanded.)

Instead of a public announcement, the military ministry, the precautionary mobilization call was executed by gendarmes who visited fields and factories, stores and homes to call Rumanian reservists to the colors.

While military preparations were stepped up, Rumania's plea for a postponement of the Russian deadline was forwarded urgently to Moscow.

Rumania asked the Kremlin to agree to send delegates to a conference with Grigore Gafencu, former Rumanian foreign minister, to talk over the Soviet demands.

Rumanian military planes patrolled the Bucharest airport while anti-aircraft guns were installed on the capital's tall buildings.

All Rumanian buildings was ordered to remain in port.

In the midst of all these things, the Rumanian public was completely ignorant of what was under way. Newspapers were forbidden by censor to mention the Russian ultimatum.

In Berlin, publicly there were only expressions of German "disinterest" in the Russian-Rumanian situation, but it was reliably reported in Budapest that Adolf Hitler had assured Hungary that her territorial aims, that is, return of Transylvania from Rumania, "will be met."

Not only Russia and Hungary but Bulgaria also well hoped to be in on the territorial feast apparently being the making at Rumania's expense. Bulgarians have a historical claim to southern Dobruja.

Foreign military attaches received reports from the provinces that huge squadrons of Russian warplanes were flying over Besarabia and northern Bucovina.

The ultimatum, it was said, was handed to Rumanian Minister Davidescu at Moscow by Premier-Porteign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov Wednesday night.

The grand council, which met at noon still was in session three and a half hours later.

Spain Asked To Speed Red Cross Shipments

Cooperation of the Spanish government in expediting transfer of the cargo of the mercy ship S. S. McKeesport to France, following its landing at Bilbao, Spain, Wednesday, was requested today by the American Red Cross.

The request was made to the Spanish ambassador in Washington, Senor de Cardenas, and also was made by cable to the Spanish Red Cross in Madrid.

Pampans are contributing to the share of the cargo of the mercy ships. A total of 70 crates have been made here for shipment to Europe.

Foodstuffs, medical instruments, drugs, clothing, and surgical dressings are urgently needed for war refugees and wounded in Southern France.

The Red Cross announced that there are 100 hospital trucks on the S. S. McKeesport, which are already loaded, and with the aid of the Spanish government they can be rushed immediately to the American Red Cross warehouse in Bordeaux. Red Cross officials here hoped that rail transportation could be obtained for the remainder of the cargo. The sum of $5,000 was cabled by the American Red Cross to the U. S. consulate in Bordeaux to tide over stranded American citizens awaiting transportation to the United States.

In announcing the war relief fund total today of $13,531,543, Red Cross officials said that for the past twenty days the fund had shown an average of $450,000 in contributions daily.

Asserting they had not pledged their support to Hoover members of the Nevada delegation, nevertheless told reporters that all western delegations wanted his advice.

Remaining downtown, Wilkie conferred with his floor manager, Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota, and predicted the convention would nominate a presidential candidate tonight, adding:

"I think I will be nominated." Wilkie told reporters that talks of a combination to stop him "amuse me."

Chairman Joseph W. Martin said he hoped to join off all the remaining six nominating speeches in three hours, then recess a couple of hours before ordering the first ballot.

Circulating among delegates long before Martin pounded his gavel at 9:50 a. m. were Stassen and R. B. Creager of Texas, Taft's floor manager.

Rep. Roy O. Woodruff of Michigan, nominated Sen. Arthur Vandenberg as a man of "character and capacity" in whom "wisdom and experience" were "linked with vigor and vitality." Vandenberg's presidential stature, he said, "has been universally recognized for years."

Cheers and waving American flags greeted Vandenberg's nomination, led by the Michigan delegation at the very front of the delegate section.

After six minutes of this, Chairman Martin gavelled for order, and quickly obtained it.

First to be placed in nomination was Hanford MacNider of Iowa, one-time assistant secretary of war and former national commander of the American Legion.

Vernon Marshall, Cedar Rapids, editor, urged MacNider's selection. Bridges of New Hampshire, Rep. Foster Stearns of that state told the delegate his candidate was a man of "determination, spunk and ability."

The demonstration for Bridges consisted of short-lived applause.

Important segments of the naval power that once was France's were reported to have refused to surrender for internment under terms of the Petain government's armistice with Germany and Italy.

Instead, they were said to be assembling at French North African ports to continue the fight against the axis powers under direction of the British navy and in cooperation with General Auguste Nogue, French high commissioner in North Africa.

Reports from Gibraltar said French warships and aircraft were assembled at Casablanca, French Moroccan port on the Atlantic coast. Similar reports from Algiers, Spanish port near Gibraltar, said the French fleet had left Gibraltar for Casablanca and for Algiers, a Mediterranean port.

Presumably these ships would not have been permitted to leave Gibraltar, where they would have been under British command, unless their officers chose to continue the war against the axis.

Other French warships are known to have been stationed at Alexandria under British command when the armistices were signed, and there was speculation here that these

Life-Saving To Be Taught In Borger

Rodger Plaisted, first aid and life saving; Red Cross field representative, will be in Borger for a water safety instructor's course, through July 29 to Aug. 3.

CANADIAN, June 27—The Vigilance committee appointed for the nearing Anvil Park rodeo provided entertainment for everyone downtown Tuesday night and was partially responsible for a good crowd to hear the speaking on the street at 8:30.

Miss Roberta Schmalt of Garden City, Kas., discussed the national recovery act and R. W. Converse spoke in behalf of his own candidacy for congress.

The vigilance committee composed of Oscar Studer, Earl Rhea, Harry Rathjen, and Jim Reid had published warning that 6 p. m. was the deadline for donning cowboy attire, that a tank of water would be placed conveniently on Main street and the committee would be on hand at 8:30 to duck anyone appearing without spurs, loaded cowboy shirt or some other especially distinguished bit of attire.

In spite of the warning issued a couple of days previous to the deadline, some daring individuals walked boldly down Main street Monday night without ducking spurs, loaded shirt or some other especially distinguished bit of attire.

SERIAL STORY

Ticket to Hollywood

BY W. H. PEARS

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, searching for Gusto, to return the ticket, Francie goes to the hotel, meets Mr. Koon again. While she waits in Koon's office a brass young man comes in, openly admires her. Francie is cold, haughty. The young man rushes her into Koon's office, orders the agent to introduce them properly. This is Jerry Finney, Koon announces.

CHAPTER X

"COCKTAILS," Jerry Finney ordered. Then, smiling at Francie, "They make a nice martini in here, okay?"

Francie wanted to refuse, but she couldn't find words. Her head was still spinning from the suddenness of his invitation. Under the table she found a pin and prodded herself. It was no dream. She was actually sitting in the Tan Hat restaurant lunching with Jerry Finney!

The cocktails arrived, pale and icy. Jerry lifted his drink, gold-flecked eyes bold as they met Francie's. "Here's to your success."

Francie raised her glass, cautiously touching the liquor with the tip of her tongue. It burned like ice. She pretended to drink, then quickly set down the cocktail.

"But I told you I couldn't be on the program," she protested weakly. "I'm going to give my ticket to Gusty."

"The home-town boy?" Jerry snorted. "Don't be silly, Francie. That lad's only trying to hog all the good angles. Come on, drink up."

"No, thanks," Francie quavered. "It's very nice, but I..." Jerry said in confidential tones: "You know, Francie, you've got something. I don't usually risk taking strange girls to lunch, but you're different. The minute I laid eyes on you I said to myself, 'There's the loveliest girl in the world!'"

"Oh, Mr. Finney..." "Mister Finney!" Jerry mocked. "Well... Jerry then."

"We're going to see a lot of each other, Francie."

Francie said shyly, "Oh, Jerry, I, well, it's like a dream being here with you. It—it all happened so quickly I can hardly realize it."

Jerry accepted this adulation with a modest gesture that said all women felt pretty much that way about Finney.

Francie put her hand to her mouth, chewed and swallowed; tasted nothing. Presently Jerry looked at his watch and apologized: "I'm terribly sorry, Francie, but I have an appointment. I'll run you back to the hotel."

Jerry's scarlet roadster glittered with chromium. On either door was a gold crest with J. F. in big raised letters. When they stopped for a traffic signal, everyone turned to look. Engulfed in the leather bucket seat, Francie felt like a queen. She threw her head back and laughed into the sunny, blue sky. Life! She was drinking deeply from an overflowing goblet.

"I can't stop," Jerry said contemptuously as they swept up to the hotel, "or the yokels'll be swarming for autographs. Like to do the Miracle Mile tonight?"

Francie had heard enough about the Miracle Mile to know it required an evening dress. "Can't we just get acquainted?"

"About 9," Francie whispered, ecstatically.

Aunt Hat bubbled over at Francie's miraculous conquest. John Weston accepted the news dolefully.

"This Finney may be all right, but I'd like to know more about him."

"Oh, Pops!" Francie danced about the room, cheeks aflame. "He's gorgeous and a perfect gentleman. And—just think, Pops, with all the girls in Hollywood mad about him, he picked me!"

"Hm, I don't know what to say, Francie."

Aunt Hat cut in sharply, "John Weston, are you going to deprive the child of?"

"I'll decide this, Hat. You may go, Francie, but be back by 11."

AT 8:30 Francie was pacing the veranda. At 10 Jerry's roadster raced into the driveway. "I'm late, Francie, but my valet took the night off, and I had trouble dressing."

He wore a white mess jacket. Francie thought he was the handsomest man she'd ever seen. They drove along Wilshire Boulevard past the glitter of the Miracle Mile.

"We might have a drink and a dance at one of the smaller spots," Jerry observed with a doubtful glance at Francie's dress.

Francie thought up a quick lie. "I'd rather wait till my trunk arrives, Jerry. It has all my evening clothes in it."

He yawned. "I'm fed up on that stuff anyway. I'd rather make love to you, Francie."

Jerry parked by the ocean, spangled with moonlight, and put his arms around Francie. He was not awkward and shy like Gusty. He held her tight and kissed her until she was breathless. It was marvelous, Francie kept telling herself. It was thrilling. But she was a little relieved when he released her.

"We'd better go back now, Jerry. My... my aunt isn't well, and I should be in by 11."

"By 11! Say, we don't start things out here till then."

Francie said abjectly, "Please don't be angry."

On the hotel veranda Francie made rash promises: "I'll have an evening dress by tomorrow night, Jerry. And—and I won't have to be in so early. That is, if you..."

Jerry kissed her roughly. "You're sweet little package, Francie. I'll be around."

RELENTLESS pressure applied to Mr. Weston all next day changed the curfew hour to midnight. Aunt Hat, insisting that she would need it for the broadcast anyway, bought Francie a new formal. She danced that night under soft lights. She saw several famous personages of the screen. She had her favorite number played by a noted orchestra leader.

She returned to the hotel giddy with the glamor of it all and positive that Jerry Finney was in love with her. Elsie's City and Gusty were in the far distant past.

The following day Jerry was having a program conference with Koon. He asked Francie to meet him in the morning at the office. As she emerged, clinging to Jerry's arm, she heard a familiar voice arguing with the receptionist:

"Now, look, I'm a friend of Mr. Koon. Here, I'll show you the ticket he gave me."

Francie dug her fingers into Jerry's arm. She saw a shabby boy standing by the gate. His clothing was wrinkled and dirty, his hair windblown. He was fumbling for his wallet.

"Gusty," Francie whispered, but he hadn't seen her.

"Never mind that, sonny," the receptionist said, "Mr. Koon wouldn't see you if you had a passport to paradise!"

As Gusty put the wallet back, Francie took a step toward him. Jerry Finney laughed. He said, "I don't see why they let bums up here."

Francie stopped in her tracks. If she spoke to Gusty now, what would Jerry think of her? Gusty did look like a bum. Oh, what should she do? She couldn't make a fool of herself before smooth, handsome Jerry. She just couldn't!

Gusty had turned now and was staring at her, open-mouthed.

Francie said brokenly, "I—I don't see why they let such persons up either," and she walked by Gusty, averting her head.

Nazi Agents Open Trade Blitzkrieg In South America

BUENOS AIRES, June 27 (AP)—Germany has already opened a strong "trade offensive" in lower South America designed to swing such nations as Argentina and Uruguay away from close economic and military cooperation with the United States. A well-informed source said today.

Agents of the Nazi government have established contact with Argentine officials, bringing full authority from the Reich to negotiate gigantic barter deals, this informant asserted.

These agents are reported to be offering to purchase millions of pesos worth of Argentine foods and raw products, making payments through projects such as the electrification of Argentine state railroads and the construction of various hydro-electric plants to offset the dwindling supplies of coal and oil in this country.

German agents even have gone so far as to discuss the probabilities of available shipping space to move the purchases to Germany, it was said.

Army Air Corps experts claim that planes will travel 750 miles an hour, as fast as sound. Experts are not worried about plane construction, but what will happen to the aerodynamic characteristics of the air when it is churned up at that speed.

400,000-Man Army Favored By Generals

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—The prospect of a congressional drive for a regular army of 750,000 or 1,000,000 men placed the war department today in the unusual position of counselling a temporary halt in further expansion of the fighting forces.

Authoritative sources forecast there would be army opposition to any plan that would increase the number of troops beyond a maximum of 500,000. Even this would raise difficulties which some officers prefer to postpone.

The 400,000-man army, recently approved by the house, embodies the general staff's ideas of the size of land and air corps forces which can be fully organized, trained and equipped in the next few months without jeopardizing readiness to cope with an emergency.

Proposals for further immediate increases toward a million men have been advanced in both the senate and house and are expected to be pressed when congress reconvenes next week after the current recess.

Officials noted that General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, has discouraged continued expansion on the ground that it would increase the lengthy training of new units without a nucleus of experienced troops, the withdrawal of needed personnel from seasoned existing units and stripping the National Guard of equipment.

"We must keep seasoned, trained divisions available for immediate service," General Marshall told a senate appropriations committee, adding that weakening the National Guard would be "unwise."

He said, however, that an increase from 400,000 to 500,000 might be handled by expanding units from peace to war strength.

General Marshall told reporters he believed the army strength could be raised to 335,000 by September. The air corps expansion of 40,000 men, already appropriated for, can await the training of pilots and the delivery of new warplanes, he said.

The 400,000 regular troops authorized thus far by congress, plus the National Guard of 234,000 or more, would give the nation a land force of more than 600,000 trained men for any defense emergency.

Mud And Rain Helped Texas Gain Freedom

AUSTIN, June 27 (AP)—Add general mud to the list of Texas saviors, says Harburt Davenport, Brownsville attorney and Texas historian.

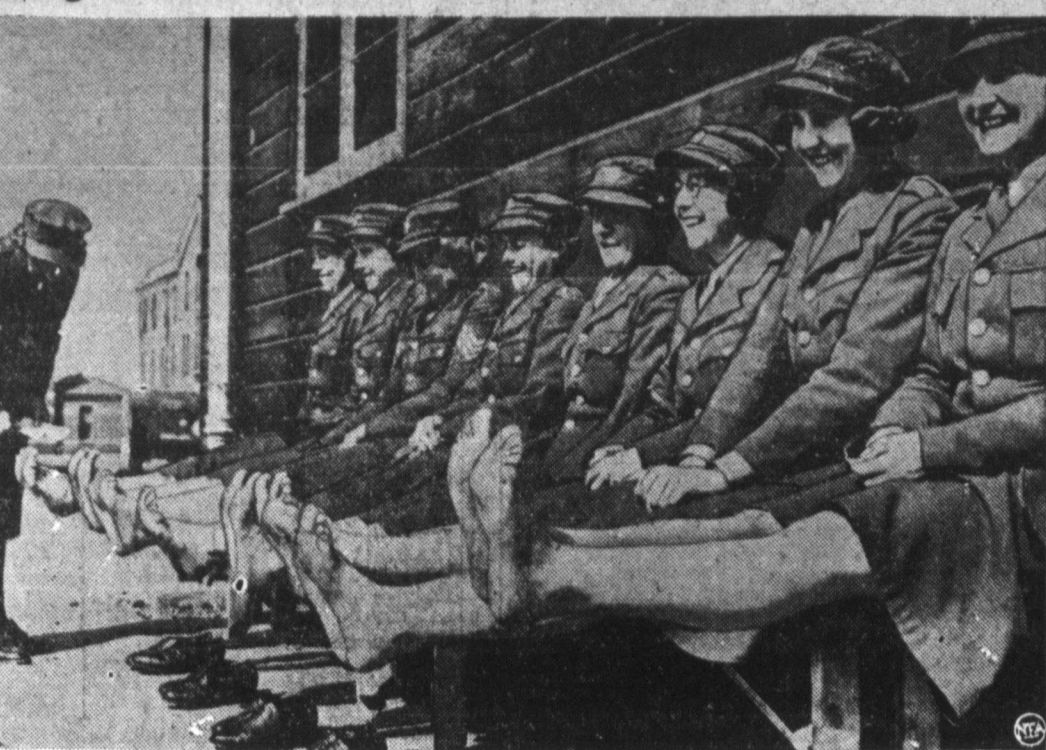

He gives Houston for full credit for defeating Santa Anna's army of 1,500 at San Jacinto but adds it was plain Texas mud and rainy weather that demoralized the major Mexican force of 4,000 troops, within easy striking distance of San Jacinto.

Had this force under Vicente Filisola attacked the Texans on the afternoon of their victory at San Jacinto, the whole history of Texas might have been changed, the historian says.

Instead, Filisola chose to take his army on a march through the Bernard river region adjoining the coast where it bogged and slogged in mud to the memory of which put the damper on later invasions of Texas.

Davenport, president of the Texas State Historical association, is a member of the summer school faculty at the University of Texas.

Railroad Telegraph Operators Hays Part In Defense Program

OMAHA, Neb., June 27 (AP)—A telegraph operator in a railroad station scans the skies.

He sees one airplane, perhaps more.

He bends over his telegraph instrument, flashes his central headquarters, then sends a message telling the time he first noticed the aircraft, the direction of flight, the number, type, and whether they were seen or only heard.

That's the part the railroad telegrapher may play in the nation's new defense picture, as explained today by U. S. army Seventh Corps Area officials after conducting an experiment in cooperation with the Union Pacific railroad.

While army fliers from Fort Riley, Kas., piloted three planes from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Omaha, 48 stations along the 429 miles of roadbed took part in the trials.

Minimum time of reporting from the time an operator said "flash" until he completed his message was seven seconds. The maximum was 20 seconds. All but two stations reported.

Officers at the headquarters plotting station were able to chart the approximate course and speed of the flight, predict the time the planes should arrive at other points on their course.

Major General P. P. Bishop of the Seventh Corps Area declared he was pleased with the results, adding "information obtained as a result is most important to our headquarters."

Gaule Forms Legion

LONDON, June 27 (AP)—General Charles de Gaulle, die-hard French army and political leader who has been made liable to court martial by the French government, said today he was forming a French legion in England from the nucleus of the polius who escaped from Dunkerque—to "fight on to victory with the cream of France's maritime strength."

Rules For Unusual Plays Produced

The sports department stands corrected on one rule but still stands pat on another quoted the other day. A fan brought to our attention the rule governing a catcher getting tangled up in the umpire's paraphernalia which we were unable to find. Umpire Billy Capps also produced the rule.

But no fan or umpire can show where, with a player on first the batter hits to the first baseman who tags the bag and then shoots the ball to second to double the runner without touching him.

The rule we couldn't find was where runners were trying to steal bases and the catcher's throw was wild because he hit the umpire. The rule reads that "if the person or clothing of the umpire while stationed back of the bat, interfere with the catcher in an attempt to throw, the runners must return to their original bases." So that's that.

The other play in question was when Seitz was on first and Prather hit a grounder down the first base line. The first baseman tagged the bag and then threw to second. The second baseman failed to touch Seitz although standing on the bag. There was no force play because the force-out ended when the first baseman touched the bag. Seitz could have returned to first.

Dies In Texas To Probe Treachery

ORANGE, June 27 (AP)—Representative Martin Dies (D-Tex.) would not reveal today the nature of testimony expected before his committee on un-American activities at Austin starting the latter part of next week.

Dies arrived here last night after a brief rest at his home and will go to Austin after July 4 to conduct an investigation for three weeks.

The congressman said he would question some 30 or 40 witnesses from a number of points, including El Paso, San Antonio and Taylor.

He would not reveal the line of questioning to be followed but did say it would not regard the interior of Mexico.

New Loud Speaker Installed In House Of Representatives

AUSTIN, June 27 (AP)—Soft words will roar through the chamber of the house of representatives, come next session of the Texas legislature.

The reason: A new public address system which picks up conversational tones and blasts them through the far reaches of the vaulted room. Just installed, the system has had its first test. But the five horns which carry the voice even to the formerly "dead" corners of the hall did not fright words of oratory.

Ernest Boyett, sergeant-at-arms, cooed into the sensitive mike, of all things, a laundry list.

The modern mechanism replaces a system that frequently broke down at crucial stages. Its facility of control prevents a whining overtone which sometimes develops into a deafening roar when someone speaks into the mike with too much vigor.

All the prospective orator has to do is to whisper softly into the mike and his words will float through the room with pleasant audibility, whether or not his colleagues led him an ear.

Democracy Foes To Be Barred From Michigan University

ANN ARBOR, MICH., June 27 (AP)—The University of Michigan's willingness to admit only democratically minded students received emphasis today in disclosures that several under-graduates had been informed they could not return to campus studies.

President Alexander G. Ruthven confirmed that "a small number of students" had been so advised after the American student union reported that seven of its members had been denied readmission.

Dr. Ruthven, in his commencement address June 15, asserted that the university "welcomes only students who are convinced that democracy is the ideal form of government for a civilized people."

Former Shamrock Man Dies In Dallas

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
SHAMROCK, June 27. — Word has been received here of the death of S. W. Setzler, father of Bill Setzler of Shamrock and former resident, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Setzler left immediately for Dallas where Mr. Setzler has been residing with his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Hubbard for the past few weeks.

Mr. Setzler formerly made his home in Shamrock where he was superintendent for the West Texas Cotton Oil company. In 1934 he moved to Wolfe City, Texas, where he has resided since.

About 60 days ago, Mr. Setzler, who was 67 years old, was injured in an automobile accident from which he never recovered.

Surviving are two sons, Bill Setzler of Shamrock and Paul Setzler of Eunice, N. M., and his daughter, Mrs. Hubbard; two brothers and his mother who reside in Wolfe City.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in Wolfe City with interment in the Wolf City cemetery.

Buzard And Burton Report On Trips

Ross Buzard, Junior Rotarian, told Pampa Rotarians of his experiences at Lone Star Boys state at Austin, June 10-15, at the regular luncheon of the Rotary club at noon yesterday. Buzard was sponsored by the club.

Also on the luncheon program was a report by Charlie Burton, incoming president, on the Rotary International convention, held in Havana, Cuba, June 9-14. Attending the convention from Pampa were Burton and his daughter, Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Jones.

Attendance at the luncheon Wednesday totaled 48, including five visiting Rotarians; H. S. Benjamin, David Metz, and the Rev. J. N. Hunt, all of Borger; David M. Warren, Panhandle, and C. H. Everett, Ardmore, Okla.

Wellington Turns Down Municipal Power Ownership

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
WELLINGTON, June 27—Wellington voters in a special election here Tuesday turned down one issue and accepted another.

By a vote of 250 to 198 for the voters rejected a proposal for a $175,000 bond issue for the purpose of installing a municipally owned and operated electric power plant.

The community is now served by the West Texas Utilities company, which has headquarters at Abilene.

Voters approved a proposal, 274 to 176, for a Works Project administration project to construct a community house. The city's share of the project cost is $30,000, for which Wellington is to issue bonds.

Movement for a community center started a year ago when it was suggested by the local American Legion post. The Legion is donating its hut, and lot, the Federation of Women's clubs is making a donation, and other organizations are also to contribute.

Bigham Convicted Of Taking Bribe

MIDLAND, June 27 (AP)—Attorneys for Gordon Bigham, former railroad commission employe, today prepared an appeal from his conviction on a charge of agreeing to accept a bribe.

Bigham was found guilty by a jury five hours after it received the case, and the two-year prison sentence was the minimum which could be assessed under the law. His attorneys immediately gave notice of appeal.

District Judge Cecil C. Collins had charged the jury to consider only a count in the indictment charging Bigham agreed to accept a $5,000 bribe for not reducing the allowable of the Shasta oil company's Howard county wells.

R. J. Kelly, vice-president of the company, testified he paid the money to Bigham with full knowledge of the attorney general and other state officers. Such payment would make Kelly an accomplice whose testimony would have to be corroborated, Judge Collins ruled in his charge to the jury, instructing it to consider only the part of the indictment relating to an alleged agreement to accept a bribe.

Bigham was a deputy supervisor for the railroad commission.

Great Attack On Britain Yet To Come

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, June 27.—German air men "successfully bombed" English ports and plane factories during the night, the high command announced today, but apparently the "thousand-fold" retaliation for British attacks on German, the object of press clamor, was still to come.

Aside from repetition of the onslaughts on the British Isles, the daily communique presented this picture of the European war:

1.—German forces of occupation move into the coastal region east of Bordeaux. The Dordogne sector, apparently Dordogne department, was reached yesterday.

2.—Easy repulse of "weak enemy naval forces" making reconnaissance attacks on the northern coast of France the night of June 24-25. (The British declared these landings parties obtained useful information in clashes with German troops.)

3.—Sinking of 35,000 tons of British shipping by a submarine.

4.—Resumption of British night air raids on Germany. The high command again said the bombings caused no military damage, but acknowledged several civilians were killed or injured. Three of the British raiders were shot down.

Demands that England be punished "a thousand-fold" for night-

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove waste acids and poisonous wastes from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or easy passage with smearing and burning sensations shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Suckers And Signatures

It always has been a good rule: "Think before you act."

College professors have a timehonored way of impressing this upon their students. They often have done something like this:

Appearing before their class one morning with a long petition they ask the class to sign it. Sleepy, in a hurry, or just careless, they all do so, without reading the long petition itself. Then the professor plays his ace: he reads the petition which all have signed. It turns out that all have agreed to have their own heads cut off.

Moral: Don't do that. Many a student learned in this simple but unforgettable way not to sign things without knowing what they are.

But not everybody has learned this simple lesson. In Pennsylvania the Communist Party wanted to get on the ballot. To do so, a certain number of signatures of voters on a petition was required, as is customary everywhere.

Evidently feeling that they did not have enough members of their own party to fill the petition to the required length, party workers went around seeking voters' signatures wherever they could get them.

Many people are willing to sign anything, especially a political petition. Many signed this one.

The Pittsburgh Press, however, smelling a rat, began to print the names of those who had signed the Communist petition. And lo and behold, literally hundreds of people learned for the first time what they had done.

"I thought it was a petition to keep the U. S. out of war!" cries one. "I was told it was to help people to get jobs," says another. "I thought it had something to do with the census." "I thought it was to keep the WPA at work." "I didn't read it. I had no idea it had anything to do with the Communist Party."

People supposedly smarter than these innocent people have been taken in by organizations with aims laudable on the surface, but which turned out to be deeply influenced within by forces with which they were not in sympathy at all.

These are times when all must think. It is no less the duty of a citizen in a democratic republic to think, than it is to pay taxes or bear arms.

The defense of a democratic people is not only in tanks and planes and guns, but in their ability to be alert, keen, and clear-sighted.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, June 27—Viewing it strictly from a short-range, cold-blooded political standpoint, the downfall of France may prove to be the best news the Republicans have had all year.

It may completely change the circumstances and atmosphere of the presidential race. Republicans who ten days ago were privately admitting FDR was likely to get his third term are beginning to suspect the tide is going to run the other way from now on.

They figure it like this: the country was sold on a help-the-Allies program, which was FDR's baby from the start. The worse the war got, the better his political prospects looked. But suppose the war ends; suppose it ceases to be a case of help the Allies and becomes one of facing Hitler all alone, on a put-up-or-shut-up basis? Then it can be argued that FDR went too far and got the country out on a limb, and the natural let-down of emotion is likely to take an awful bite out of his popularity.

In any case, the campaign now seems due to be much hotter and livelier than it was doped to be a week or so ago.

LARGER CRUISERS PLANNED BY NAVY

You don't need to read far between the lines of the newest naval authorization bill to discover that the U. S. Navy has devised an entirely new type of cruiser. The new Vinson bill calls for 12 cruisers totalling 198,000 tons; do a little division, and you'll find that works out to 16,500 tons per cruiser—more than half again as large as any cruisers now in the American navy.

Putting those extra tons on a cruiser means you can give it more of everything—speed, cruising range, hitting power and armor.

MORE AIRCRAFT CARRIERS FAVORED

Incidentally, there may be an attempt to expand this bill enormously when it comes to the floor of the House. An important group of air-minded naval officers feels that the three aircraft carriers the bill would provide won't scratch the surface of the navy's needs. In private, some of these men are talking of carriers—50, at the very least, with 100 as a more desirable limit.

Such a fleet could carry 10,000 fighting planes. According to the air enthusiasts, it could blitzkrieg anything afloat or on the seacoast. . . . Of course, it would cost a staggering sum; equally, of course, most admirals are likely to feel that three new carriers will be a great plenty.

EARLY ADJOURNMENT

Despite the denials from London, the administration here is deeply concerned (and not a little pessimistic) over the chance that England may presently make peace with Hitler. As one politico-strategist puts it: "Look at the map of Europe—German, from the tip of Spain to the top of Norway. Can England do but surrender?"

One of the things which is causing administration leaders to hedge on their adjourn-before-the-convention stand is the fact that certain senators opposed to adjournment have threatened to filibuster the new

Common Ground

This column outside there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy something anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

COMMON DEFENSE GROUND

If we are to defend our country from an efficient dictator, we must come to some common ground of defense. We must establish some principle that each person can depend upon or we will have little hope of returning to the form of government aimed at by the framers of the Constitution.

I can think of no common ground of defense that will make us stronger than to permit each man to work and create as much as he believes it is to his advantage to create; and also to recognize that each man, in order to enjoy the blessings of a free government, must assume the responsibility of supporting himself; that there cannot be freedom without duty connected with it. And the duty begins first by supporting oneself and then adding as much to the wealth and defense of the country as possible.

And the idea that the man who adds the most to the wealth and defense of the country should not be honored and respected and rewarded is certainly contrary to any common ground principle. It is hard to conceive why the big producer should not get all that he produces and have the right to use it as he sees fit in producing and consuming anything that anybody else has a right to produce and consume, just the same as a small producer has a right to waste his substance in drinking or smoking or self-indulgence of any kind.

The best defense the people of the United States can make is to go to the common ground that every citizen has an equal right to enjoy the fruits of his labor, whether they be large or small.

WAGE SCALES AND EMPLOYMENT

Most every advocate of collective bargaining will contend that there would be no more employment, if the higher wage scales were reduced, than there is with the present high wage scale in certain industries.

Then if this theory be true that abnormally high wages in any line does not affect the amount of jobs or employment, why do these advocates of collective bargaining increase these wage scales double, triple or one hundred-fold?

On the other hand, why does not the employer reduce the wages to a normal sum, if wages have nothing to do with the amount of people who want to do a certain kind of work?

In every business transaction, both parties would be benefited or the contract ceases to exist. And when wages in any line of industry get so high that the product cannot be exchanged to advantage to those workers whose wages are not so high for equal skill, then the demand for the products produced by these excessive wages is greatly reduced.

So when any employer contends that he would not employ more labor if his prices were in harmony with other prices, then that employer does not understand the simplest parts of business, which is only an exchange of services. And if such employer did not employ more help, if the wages were reduced or in harmony with other labor, other employers producing the same kind of service would employ more labor.

It is only because wages are out of harmony, out of balance, resulting from collective bargaining and frozen political jobs, that we have not returned to full employment and have had the worst and longest depression in our history. Certainly the comparative highness of wages affect employment, in spite of the contention of every labor union advocate to the contrary.

A VISIONARY NEW DEAL PROPOSAL

Probably the most visionary proposal which the New Deal has yet proposed is to establish a cartel under which we should buy all the goods and materials of all the Americas to keep the prices up and, incidentally, to keep Germany from getting them.

The United States must admit that their attempt to keep farm prices up, by buying them, has failed. Now they propose to buy all the farm products and mineral products in the Western continents.

Any rational person knows that this could only divert capital from where it should go, encourage excessive production of things that are not needed as much as other things, and weaken our whole structure.

This idea of starving out the other countries is no way of enriching ourselves morally or materially. It is as foolish, absurd and visionary a dream, as any yet submitted by the New Deal.

The Nation's Press

THOMAS E. DEWEY (New York Daily News)

The course of the war makes it more desirable than ever, we believe, that Thomas E. Dewey be nominated by the Republicans to run against President Roosevelt, whose third term try appears to be now in the bag.

Dewey is what may be roughly described as an isolationist, meaning that if elected he will be 100% for arming to the teeth for defense of this country, but against buying any further into Europe's war.

This being still a democracy, the people ought to be given a chance to vote on the isolation vs. intervention issue by choosing between two candidates who are clearly and cleanly split on that issue.

This, we think, ought to let Wendell L. Willkie out. Mr. Willkie up to day before yesterday was on record as favoring the President's foreign policy; now he says he favors it, except that he would aid the allies more efficiently than the President is doing. What more efficient aid anybody could extend than the sending of our own "obsolete" army and navy planes overseas we do not see, especially when the President remarks that planes grow obsolete very fast nowadays.

A Willkie vs. Roosevelt race would be between an interventionist and an interventionist, and the people could make no choice. Dewey vs. Roosevelt would give them that choice. Because our destiny as a nation is bound up with this issue the people are eminently entitled to make that choice.

As for congress, we repeat that it ought to stay in session, as a government branch coordinate with the executive, and duty bound to help in making the big decisions of the next few months.

tax bill to death unless the leadership agrees to extend the session indefinitely. They feel deeply enough about it to carry out the threat—and with only a few days to go, the trick would be easy.

A SMOKE FILLED ROOM

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, June 27—Behind the scenes: The colony's best chuckle of the week is on Paramount's "Typhoon." Flashed perfectly straight when filmed, it turned out so badly that some of the embarrassed people connected with it now are trying to take bows for "a clever satire on South Seas wrong pictures." Anyway, it should mean, the emancipation of Dorothy Lamour.

There's quite a story going the rounds about how one of Hollywood's most prominent hostesses concealed a dictaphone in the guests' powder room of her house with the receiver in her bedroom. This, during a party, she could listen in on remarks and gossip not intended for her ears. . . . One of the women guests discovered the transmitter, let a couple of friends in on the secret, and staged a scandalous session in the powder room that just about melted the dictaphone wires.

The eavesdropping hostess, never guessing that she was being published by three clever actresses, went into a nervous breakdown.

FOR CHARLIE

The town is boozing Churlish Chaplin for his latest indignation about the publication of that allegedly stolen picture of himself in the Dictator character. Nobody can figure how its going to harm his movie. . . . Incidentally, Chaplin has been mistakenly blamed for Paulette Goddard's being taken out of the feminine lead in the Fred Astaire-Artie Shaw musical, "Second Chorus." It was not Chaplin but Myron Selznick, her agent, who upset the agreement on a contract technicality. He wants to keep her off the screen as much as possible.

BRITISH PREFER ESCAPIST STUFF

Box office figures from England indicate that people there want only escapist entertainment, and the lighter and sillier the better. Propaganda and hate films are not patronized; the British are already mad enough.

Frank Capra is still struggling with script trouble on his "Life of John Doe." The whole story was to have hinged on an eloquent speech appeal recited by Cary Cooper. Today the speech would be hoisted off many a screen.

The next Marlene Dietrich picture, "Seven Sinners," will have three tord times for the lady-of-the-legs and you'll be hearing a lot of them—"The Man in the Navy." Of course Miss Dietrich won't be much of a lady on the screen; just a dame in a Manila night club.

NOW ALL STARVE EQUALLY

Sonja Henie has another picture to make for 20th-Fox, but it has been shelved until February, at least. She gets $125,000 per film, and the next one will be especially expensive if it's in technicolor, as planned.

Reorganization and honest management of Central Casting is a doubtful blessing to extra players these days. Production economies have reduced by 20 per cent the total amount of work for atmosphere people, and now that the casting bureau is distributing jobs equitably, none of the extras is able to earn a decent living.

Two days after she broke her engagement with Forrest Tucker, Helen Parrish finished her role in the picture, "I'm Nobody's Sweetheart Now." . . . And it's quite touching, or maybe touching, the way Tony Martin goes around war-

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

It was a pleasure indeed to hand dog show trophies to young Bobby Johnson, son of Dr. and Mrs. B. M. Johnson. That tow-headed lad really got a kick out of taking charge for the blue ribbon and the figure of the cooker spaniel which his dog won in the show. Bobby is a blue-ribbon boy, too, and among those at the top of the list. . . .

And speaking of blue-ribbon children, there's Margaret Price, fourth and youngest of the pretty daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Price. One thing that all the Price girls have in common is a big asset in common sense and no put-on. . . . But we were going to say that it's a wonder that the lone son in that family, Willis Price, has a chance what with everybody always bragging on his sisters, but he's a stand-out all right.

Tuesday was the day that Louverna Wilkins decided to do her hair on top of her head—brushed up, and very dignified curls. So she decided she ought to have a personality to match, and that it was her day to be tolerated and kindly sophisticated. Now may we club Lou as the girl of a hundred personalities? Honest, she has real talent along that line. . . . Personal note to Mrs. Gail Parrish, wife of Picher Ben: We were over in your home town of Stafford, Okla., last Sunday, and your dad said "hello," and your brother, Clifford said he was coming over here in several weeks to see you.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By Archer Fullingim

THE funny thing about all these stories, is that you could find people right here in Pampa who had "read" about Mr. Stein's arrest in out-of-town newspapers. Others had talked with persons who had actually seen him in jail. . . . Still others had been to Corpus Christi and investigated, only to learn that Mr. Stein had disappeared from the face of the earth more than three weeks ago. . . . When imagination gets to running wild it sometimes doesn't know where to stop.

Duke of Windsor Shown On New Zealand Issue

FIVE British sovereigns who have ruled New Zealand are pictured on a new stamp of the dominion, above, one of a series of 13 commemorating the 100th anniversary of the annexation of the islands. The Duke of Windsor is pictured as Edward VIII, with Queen Victoria, Edward VII, George V and the present ruler, George VI.

The centenary series was originally issued in 12 values. Recently the 7d. value, picturing a Maori council, was withdrawn and an 8d. value of the same design substituted to meet increased postal rates. The complete set now lists 13 values.

Modern New Zealand is a self-governing dominion of the British Empire, comprising 103,862 square miles. North and South islands are the largest of the group. North Island has several volcanoes, numerous geysers and hot springs.

Six-Day Week Plan Dropped By Russians

MOSCOW, June 27 (AP)—Because of increasing war danger and the need of greater production, the Soviet Russian government adopted today a new working week—six days of work and a day of rest—to replace its revolutionary week of five working days and a day of rest on the sixth.

Abandonment of the six-day week, a feature of the changes wrought by the Bolshevik revolution, was recommended by the Soviet trade unions and adopted by the government.

The Soviet radio said the number of working hours had been increased in capitalist countries, and added that "danger for our country also is increasing," and that it was, therefore, necessary to step up the number of working days and hours to improve the nation's defense.

DUTCH Frather and I may not smack out too many home runs, but you'll have to admit that we get our share of hits, more than our share of bases on balls, and stirred up DO play a bang-up game of baseball around that first sack. . . . So, what more do you want, you wolverines? . . . We're going to repeat something we said on the radio last night:

It has to do with the story that has been going the rounds about Walter Stein, a former Pampa man in Houston, is in business in Corpus Christi. . . . No doubt, you have heard one of the many, many versions of this story. . . . If you haven't you probably have been out of town for a couple of weeks. . . . The first thing we wish to say is that the stories about Mr. Stein are untrue, and a very great injustice has been done to him and to his family by those who have been assisting in the spreading of the rumor.

WE never like to take any stock in gossip stories. . . . So when we first heard this one, The News began an investigation of its own. . . . The report was that Mr. Stein had been arrested in Corpus Christi as a Nazi agent with sabotage designs on plants in the Panhandle and along the gulf coast. . . . Next, we heard he had been jailed by FBI men in Houston; next the story had him in custody in Wichita Falls; next it was Dallas, then he was in jail in Fort Worth, and finally, came the story that he had been spirited out of the country and completely had been swallowed up in a veil of mysterious intrigue.

A representative of The News talked to Mr. Stein by long distance phone yesterday afternoon. . . . It was the first he had heard that these stories were going the rounds up here in the Panhandle. . . . He said he hoped the carriers had not gotten him straight with his many friends in this section. . . . He followed the phone call with a telegram in which he stated that he "still was at large and believes he is a better citizen of the United States than the person who started the rumor about him."

THE point of all this seems to be that we should use extreme care in repeating what we hear. . . . There is enough to be learned from the fact of the earth more than three weeks ago. . . . When imagination gets to running wild it sometimes doesn't know where to stop.

The point of all this seems to be that we should use extreme care in repeating what we hear. . . . There is enough to be learned from the fact of the earth more than three weeks ago. . . . When imagination gets to running wild it sometimes doesn't know where to stop.

You and Your Nation's Affairs

MUST UNCHAIN PRIVATE ENTERPRISE By WALTER E. SPAHR Professor of Economics, New York University

Representative Ditter, of Pennsylvania, on June 4, made some remarks in Congress on a very vital subject which should be fully appreciated by the American people.

Unfortunatly only a few of us have had a chance to read this excellent address can be given.

The emergency legislation now before Congress would authorize the President in his uncontrolled discretion to use the way of private financing of investment markets. Because of these impediments, Douglas Aircraft Co. in 1939 went to the Netherlands market in Amsterdam and Rotterdam to obtain approximately $1,000,000 of new capital. It did this not because the private investors and private enterprise in the United States were unwilling to supply the needed funds, but because Douglas Aircraft Co. did not wish to submit to the inconvenience, expense, and delay occasioned by the requirements of the Securities Act of 1933.

"If it is sincerely desired to permit American industry to gain ready access to supplies of capital through the private investment market so as to facilitate the carrying out of the defense program, immediate action should be taken to simplify the procedure of registration and to eliminate the delays imposed by the Securities Act of 1933.

"The Brookings Institution, in its study just published, recommends various changes in the Securities Act, including a recommendation that the waiting period imposed by the 1933 act should be materially shortened.

"Freedom from unnecessary trammels of the sort to which the Brookings Institution and others have called attention, the private investment market of the United States would be fully competent to respond promptly and effectively to the capital needs of American industry.

"The United States cannot efficiently arm herself for the fight against totalitarianism unless she frees for effective action the energies and initiative of free enterprise through which she achieved greatness. To confer unnecessarily broad powers on a highly centralized government, private capital brought these industries into being. It has financed all of its needs up to now and it is ready and eager to finance all of the future needs of these industries. It desires only to be given the opportunity to do so.

to be a trait of the American people that they love to repeat a story that sounds fantastic and mysterious, even though it is about someone they know and nine times out of ten is a figment of somebody's imagination.

AND, more often than not, people seem to get an additional thrill out of repeating these stories about somebody they know, rather than about a stranger to them. . . . The human element enters somewhere along the line there. . . . Not always is there an intention to cause any suffering to anyone. . . . In most cases after a rumor has been well started, the repeaters down the line have no ulterior motive in mind. They just repeat it, we suppose, because it looks like they were the possessors of a juicy morsel of news that perhaps nobody else knows. . . . They mean no harm, of course. . . . But, they do plenty of harm and cause a great deal of unhappiness by their thoughtlessness.

SHORTLY after we had gone off the air from our regular broadcast last night, there were several phone calls about this one bit of comment over KPND. . . . One woman said that what we had said about this case probably was right, but she added, if we heard a certain story about a certain man in Pampa that we could accept it as the truth. . . . And, that's the way it goes in the hum-drum of life which so many of us are not so hum-drum as you might suspect.

Thompson Announces Freight Rate Slash Has Been Postponed

AUSTIN, June 27 (AP)—A freight rate slash of approximately 13 1/2 per cent on certain commodities which was to become effective July 1 was postponed indefinitely today by the railroad commission, Ernest O. Thompson, commission member, announced.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in lengthy hearings last year, contended that rates were discriminatory and unfair.

"We have granted further hearing in the freight rate reduction case," Thompson said, "for the reason that the carriers, both rail and truck, brought before us a petition which shows a change in economic conditions that has resulted in a drop of some 11 per cent in business and additional cost in operation."

"The U. S. supreme court has held that when changed conditions are brought to the attention of the regulatory body, that these changed conditions must be heard before the order is made final. Otherwise the order reducing freight rates would, by reason of our refusal to hear and consider them, be made voidable."

"In the order granting the additional hearing, we prescribed that these additional hearings must be held before September 1."

Commission rate officials said the hearing dates would be announced later.

The reductions would have affected first class rates and all commodity rates related to that classification.

Officials stated the rates concerned a large portion of but not all shipping in Texas.
