

'Cowboy' Barbecue And Guests Will Be Plentiful At Lake Picnic Tuesday

A real old "cowpuncher" barbecue with all the trimmings is on the menu for the joint membership meeting of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and their guests at Lake McClellan next Tuesday evening.

John Andrews, old time cowboy cook, with the assistance of J. W. Graham and others, is preparing the barbecue.

"We've got plenty of good meat and everything is ready to be served in real old time Western style," Andrews has announced.

A large guest list for both the senior and the junior chamber will make a substantial crowd for the barbecue, but there will be plenty of room and plenty to eat.

A large nook of the picnic section of the 1,450 acre project has been reserved for the serving of the barbecue.

The junior chamber will have as their guests the entire cast of the recent Coronado Entrada.

Government Officials Coming

The senior chamber will play host to officials of the Panhandle Water Conservation Authority, the Soil Conservation Service, the Works Progress Administration and other officials who cooperated in the building of the lake.

Local business and professional men are urged to telephone 383 Monday to make reservations for the barbecue. No member of the senior or junior chamber of commerce should hesitate from attending because a reservation has not been made, but it will be decidedly helpful in making advance arrangements if the members will telephone in advance.

Every member is invited to bring his family and friends by making reservations for them in advance.

Tickets may be secured at the BCD office in the City Hall.

Dance To Be Held

Prior to the barbecue which will be served at 6:30, boating, horse back riding, hiking, swimming, horseshoe pitching, softball and other sports will be enjoyed by the crowds.

Following the barbecue, a dance will be held at the recreation building, with Ken Bennett and his orchestra furnishing the music. Frank Culbertson, a BCD director, will be in charge of the dance.

C. P. Buckler, a member of the BCD lake committee, assisted by BCD director Roger McConnell and a group of other expert waiters, will have charge of serving the barbecue.

Games To Be Played

Hor Wagner is chairman of the horseshoe pitching contest and appropriate prizes will be awarded the best team of horseshoe pitchers. Horseshoe pitching experts are asked to contact Wagner when they arrive at the lake.

Ivy E. Duncan and County Judge Sherman White will head a large committee charged with the responsibility of extending a hearty welcome to out of town officials who helped with the lake program.

A large number of these officials are expected. Among the officials who have notified the Pampa Chamber of Commerce they will be present are the following:

H. H. Funnell, regional conservator; C. Laker, and A. W. Fanning, assistant conservators; J. A. Muncey, chief engineer; A. P. Furman, head of project organization; E. C.

Bule and Harold R. Baker, of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service; Raymond Oldham, and Louis Bradley, area engineers, WPA; W. O. Scott, Shamrock; Noel McDade, Dumas; Fritz Thompson, Borger, vice presidents, Panhandle Water Conservation Authority and the following directors: Judge C. C. Bishop, Wellington; Judge J. C. Jackson, Panhandle; Judge M. O. Goodpasture, Memphis; Judge W. Coffee, Jr., Silvertown.

Good Evening

TREES AND HILLS MAKE LAKE M'CLELLAN A BEAUTY SPOT

To prove that Lake McClellan which will be formally opened July 4, is beautiful, Foster Fletcher took the above pictures for the Pampa News.

Top left shows the entrance to the picnic grounds which cover nearly 50 acres. Huge cottonwood trees shade nearly the entire area and tables, benches and fire places have been erected. The picture top right shows another entrance to the picnic grounds.

The top scene left below the picture of the picnic grounds is a view from the hill overlooking the lake, facing the dam. Below it is a partial view of the picnic ground from the same spot.

To the right is a picture of Bert Howell, concessionaire, and Dr. Adrian Owens in one of the speed boats which will carry passengers. The four bottom pictures show the large lake from different positions along the shoreline.

Gates to the lake will be open for the formal opening at 8 a. m., July 4. Speed boat races will be held at 1:30 p. m., and again at 4 p. m.

Formal dedication will be at 2:30 p. m., with government officials attending. C. H. Walker will preside at the brief ceremony.

A bathing beauty revue will follow the dedication.

A big fireworks display will be presented by the American Legion at 9 p. m., followed by a big dance. Music will be furnished by Ken Bennett and his orchestra.

No admission will be charged to the grounds.

Peer Demands Chamberlain Resignation

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 29—A suggestion that Neville Chamberlain and others responsible for past appeasement of Adolf Hitler should quit the war cabinet to still rumors of a British move for armistice was made today by Lord Strabolgi, labor leader in the House of Lords.

In an open letter to British editors, he declared the mere presence of Chamberlain, lord president of the council, and Lord Halifax, foreign minister, in the government was having an effect "most serious in the two most important neutral countries in the world—the United States of America and Russia."

The mention of Halifax's name along with that of former Prime Minister Chamberlain's appeared

Jap Proclaims 'Asiatic Sphere'

TOKYO, June 30 (Sunday) (AP)—War in Europe has presented Japan with a "golden opportunity" and she must take a "strong attitude," a group of leading Japanese army men decided at a conference last night, the newspaper Nichi Nichi said today.

The paper said the conference followed a broadcast to the empire yesterday by foreign minister Hachiro Arita, who enunciated a foreign policy based on creation of a Japanese-dominant "Asiatic Sphere."

Instructions relative to the "strong attitude" were sent to all army corps, and were interpreted as orders to be on the alert for opportunity to consolidate Japan's position.

Observers believe, however, that the military men are disappointed in Africa's speech because it advocated cooperation in the formation of spheres of influence and also avoided encouragement for the axis powers, rather than coming out flatly for a redistribution of the world's resources as a prelude to peace.

Japanese language newspapers reported the military services were attempting to squelch rumors that they favored avoidance of friction with the United States and Great Britain. According to these papers, with these "old influences" (Britain and the U. S.) may become inevitable through future changes in the international situation.

Greer Appointed Highway Engineer

Montgomery, who was chief engineer for three years, resigned on the advice of physicians because of ill health.

Mexico Pays Million

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—Mexico made a $1,000,000 payment to the United States today on claims of this country's citizens for lands expropriated since August 30, 1927, under the Mexican Agrarian program.

Today's payment was the second made by Mexico, the first $1,000,000 being paid May 31, 1939.

Bombs Heavily Damage Britain

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 30, (Sunday) (AP)—Several casualties and heavy damage were inflicted in the populous midlands industrial area early today by German air raiders.

Bombs also were dropped in southwest England but material damage was described as light. No casualties were reported.

(By The Associated Press)

A military-backed promise by Germany and Italy that Soviet Russian troops would not be allowed to make further advances in Rumania beyond the territories already ceded to Moscow was reported last (Sat.) night no high authority.

Bucharest sources declared that both Rome and Berlin had given King Carol of Rumania their assurances that they would give him military and air aid against the Red legions if the Russians do not halt the march that already has carried them into old Rumania some 15 miles beyond the agreed limits of their occupation.

Quantities of sugar and wheat consigned to Germany were seized in the Russian-annexed territories by Soviet committees and the population, adding to the tension of the complicated situation.

As an indication that Rumania might be expecting trouble despite the German-Italian guarantee, government departments arranged

Four Draw Prison Terms In Thefts Of Pipeline Mercury

Final of the theft of mercury that has occurred over the Panhandle during the past year was written in 31st district court Saturday, when four five-year sentences were assessed by District Judge W. R. Ewing.

Pleas of guilty were entered by Mr. and Mrs. Rex Warren and Cleatus Rinehart, each indicted on charges of burglary in connection with breaking into meter houses on June 4, and by Carl Watson, indicted on a charge of theft in connection with the taking of 50 pounds of mercury valued at $75 from the Lone Star Gas company on May 4.

Sentence against Mrs. Warren was suspended.

Watson was arrested in Corpus Christi and brought back here, who said that arrest of Watson cleaned up all the mercury theft cases.

Sheriff Rose said it was the first time mercury thieves had been apprehended and sentenced without the expense of a trial jury.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 29 (AP)—An Albany court official after explaining the history of the American flag to a group of aliens seeking citizenship papers, asked one of them: "Tell me, what files over the city hall?"

The alien blinked a minute and then replied: "peelins."

Gypsies Trick Aged Pair Out Of $1,560

The old Gypsy "egg and chicken" trick, followed by the "hidden money" scheme, worked effectively in Canadian last week, and Mrs. J. M. Wallace, aged Canadian couple, were victimized out of $1,560 according to Sheriff Harry Rathjen.

Gypsies, according to Sheriff Rathjen, rented a building in Canadian and advertised themselves as phrenologists. They gained the confidence of the old couple who had been in ill health. Sheriff Rathjen said, by taking an egg and after rubbing it over Mr. Wallace's face, broke it and showed that it was rotten. They explained that the egg drew the poison from his system. Later they got a live chicken and employed the same trick of rubbing it over Mr. Wallace. The chicken died and they explained that it

BUFFALO

Park secretary, pointed out today that all stock used in the rodeo this year would be fresh, having at least two weeks rest from any previous rodeos. Arena Director Lynn Beutler is to arrive Monday morning, to supervise erection of an additional chute, and to inspect the rodeo grounds in general.

Eugene Worley of Shamrock will make a patriotic address in the auditorium at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, following which there will be a "transportation through the ages" parade in Canadian.

Dr. J. A. Hill, president of West Texas State college in Canyon, has announced the college band will be in Canadian the afternoon of July 4, playing for the rodeo performance.

Besides the afternoon rodeo of July 4, which starts at 2 o'clock there will be two night shows, starting at 8 o'clock Wednesday and Thursday nights. Always seeking something new and different for their community sponsored rodeo, Anvil Park officials have devised the wild mule scramble as the opening rodeo number. Each cowboy will come from the chutes astride an untamed mule. Jim Ingerswain, chairman of Anvil Park association, has predicted that half the waddies will be astride some other mule and the other half will be draped on arena fences when the event is finished. Single steer roping, a revival from the first rodeo ever held in Texas, in 1888 in Canadian, is another "new" event for the year's Anvil Park presentation.

Dances, with music by Bill Hummer and his orchestra, will be Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights in Canadian City Auditorium starting at 10 o'clock. Dances will also be held at beautiful Lake Marvin, also near Canadian and one of the finest showplaces in the Panhandle. Fishing, boating and camping facilities are also available at the lake.

Velda Tindal of Fort Worth and her two young daughters, Glorine and Garlene, will also be featured at each Anvil Park show. They do trick and fancy riding and roping and have a fine, well balanced roper. Jack Owens of Willis Point, Texas, has been selected as the traditional rodeo clown for the performances this year. His antics will fill lulls in the program. If any should occur, and his boldness toward unbroken and untamed Brahmas and horses will thrill even the stoutest hearted of rodeo fans.

What with the meanness, toughness and orienting of animals, the best of cowboys and many special features, Anvil Park rodeo this year will be the best in its history. The Pampa Summer Recreation band will play at the Wednesday night show, and the Perryton high school band will play for the Thursday night performance.

The Canadians made two boomer trips last week covering about 900 miles of the Panhandle and visiting some 20 towns. Enthusiastic response was evident at every stop and many towns will have large delegations. Canadian and Anvil Park invites everyone to join their city's caravan and have a Glorious Fourth at the rodeo.

'Not Going To Be Revolution,' Mexicans Aver

(By The Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, June 29—Mexico's army stands on call tonight to stamp out trouble in Mexico's bitter presidential election of a week from Sunday—July 7—but officials insist there is not going to be any revolution.
Most well-informed Mexicans are inclined to agree.
The bitterness and excitement are manifest, however.
The issues are the six-year works of President Lazaro Cardenas, barred by the constitution from succeeding himself.
But the "administration" candidate, General Manuel Avila Camacho, nominee of the party of the Mexican revolutionary (PRM), is pledged to carry out the Cardenas policies.

These policies in six years have brought the expropriation of United States and other foreign oil properties, the seizure of thousands of farms from wealthy owners and their division among the poor, and strikes and other labor practices which businessmen and industrialists charge, have wrecked Mexico's economy.
Camacho's followers, however, say he is more conservative than Cardenas.
He has hinted that, if elected, he might form a coalition government.
Camacho's opponent is independent Juan Andres Almanza, who proposes to reverse the Cardenas policies or, at any rate, those which he contends have upset national economy and encouraged communist practices.
These last he has promised to stamp out.
Camacho's followers, however, call Almanza "the candidate of the reactionaries—capitalists and others who do not favor the humanitarian program which Cardenas has initiated."
Both candidates say they favor cooperation with the United States and Pan-American solidarity. However, Almanza has been more outspoken about United States cooperation.
Cardenas, going about the country quietly on his habitually frequent trips, says the people's vote will be respected.
The administration insists Almanza will not be counted out.
Officially, the result of the election may not be known until mid-September. The chamber of deputies, meeting Sept. 1 in regular session, must name tabulating committees to check the returns.
Some 3,000,000 are expected to vote next Sunday.

Give Information And Don't Call Names, Judge Tells Lawyers Here

Combat un-Americanism with information instead of abuse.
There should be a close relationship between lawyers and judges, working in cooperation.
These were the two points made in a speech by U. S. District Judge James C. Wilson of Fort Worth at the Gray County Bar Association at a luncheon held yesterday at the Schneider hotel.
Judge Wilson declared the abusive calling of names "got us nowhere," said persons who expressed opinions favoring Communism or Fascism should be told why these opinions were un-American, instead of being labelled simply "traitor" with no explanation given.
He praised newspapers for giving information on the fight for American principles, and mentioned that the bar was closely identified with the government.
Other parts of his speech were devoted to the judge's recollections of his experiences as a lawyer, an assistant county attorney, U. S. district attorney, and finally as a federal district judge.

Associated With Lawyers
Judge Wilson declared "the place where you really learn to try lawsuits is in the justice courts."
He said he saw no reason for federal judges acting different after they were named to the bench than when they were lawyers, commented on his habit of associating with lawyers at social gatherings, and vouching with them.
Some judges feel that to mingle with lawyers would mean loss of prestige and office, Judge Wilson said, but he stated his idea was that such practice was not to be shunned.
Other parts of his talk dealt with his appointment by President Woodrow Wilson, and Judge Wilson's position in a legal set-to with Harold I. Ickes, secretary of the interior.
Attending the luncheon were S. D. Stennis, president, and Arthur M. Teed, secretary, of the county bar association; Ray Sansing of Higgins and Clayton Heare of Shamrock; District Judge W. R. Ewing and County Judge Sherman White, County Auditor R. C. Wilson, and the following, all of Pampa: John F. Sturgeon, William Jarrel Smith, Fred Gray, Ivy Duncan, Cliff Braly, district attorney, Tom Braly, R. F. Gordon, city attorney, Walter E. Rogers, John V. Osborne, Joe Gordon, county attorney, Miss Helen Montgomery of the Pampa Press, Henry L. Jordan, and E. B. Emerson, of The Pampa News.

Five Shutdown Days Ordered By Commission

AUSTIN, June 29 (AP)—Due mainly to production curtailment in the East Texas field, Texas' net average oil allowable this past week dropped 197,601 barrels a day to a total of 1,145,919, railroad commission engineers reported today.
A new statewide order effective Monday, however, is expected to reduce the yield still further to approximately 1,300,000 barrels daily, considerably below the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimated July demand of 1,339,400.
The adjusted order which covers July and August will impose five statewide shutdown days each month and will permit the East Texas field nine additional production days and boost its average allowable from less than 400,000 barrels a day to approximately 425,000.
Simultaneously, the East Texas field will return to an old proration formula allocating allowables on a basis of 2.32 per cent of hourly potential in addition to a 20-barrel minimum.
Panhandle wells will receive a 20-barrel per well minimum instead of the current 14.6, increasing their flow an estimated 20,000 barrels daily. A number of southwest Texas fields have been slashed approximately 17,100 barrels a day.
Engineers reported 11 new wells drilled last week, bringing the state's total to 92,804.
The commission set hearings July 10 on applications for a change in the rules regulating the Mankins deep pool of Archer county, and converting two Humble Oil and Refining company wells in Rusk county and one Texas Company well in Brazoria county into salt water injection wells.

295,429 People Live In Panhandle

There are 295,429 people living in the 32 Panhandle counties, according to latest census figures, which is a 4.7 per cent decrease from the 1930 census total, when there were 310,061 persons.
Twenty-three of the counties contributed to the decrease in population which came in the face of gains in the three largest cities—Amarillo, Pampa and Borger. These cities were aided by oil and industrial development, Moore county, also in the oil and gas area, had a sensational gain from 1,555 to 4,433 during the decade.
Potter county, with Amarillo the large city, had the greatest population with 55,898. Gray county, with Pampa leading the way to overcome rural losses, was next with 23,847.
The county estimates, compared with the 1930 and 1920 census totals, follow:

Scotland Yard Nabs Hitler's Girl Friend

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, July 29—Scotland Yard's fifth column squads today arrested tall, blonde, Lady Mosley, pre-war friend of Adolf Hitler, wife of the imprisoned British Fascist leader and daughter of a British peer.
In doing so Britain not only took cognizance of the fact that Lady Mosley shared actively in Sir Oswald Mosley's "British union" activities at home, but it reached back also into the curious friendship of two pretty, high-born sisters of the Fuehrer of Germany.

An independent Democratic newspaper, publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times and supporting in its editorial columns the principles which it believes to be right and opposing those questions which it believes to be wrong, regardless of party politics.

Just Politicians!

The man slumped the paper to the table, the black-and-white news from the political party conventions upmost. "Just a lot of politicians!" he snorted.

Why, of course! Just a lot of politicians. What, in the name of the sainted memory of old Aunt Tabitha did he expect? "You hear a lot of people talk very loosely about politics and politicians."

Now there isn't a thing wrong with the term "politicians." What is a politician? Simply a person who is devoted to, or engaged in politics. We usually use the word as applying to one who is active in purely party politics for what he can get out of it.

Yet no man can be a statesman without having first been a politician, nor does he ever become 100 per cent statesman. In government by popular representation, any man in public life must necessarily be in large part a politician.

Does anyone think there can be organized government without politicians? Does anyone fool himself that in the vast bureaucracies built up by Hitler and Stalin and Mussolini there are no politicians? Yet you hear people thoughtlessly say, "If we could only get rid of the politicians!"

No people will ever get rid of its politicians. There is no reason why it should. What is needed is better politicians. How to get them? By taking a more active part in the affairs of the parties in which they function.

We ought to be thankful that our politics is still carried on in the open under circumstances which give everybody a whiff at it. Our politics, and our politicians are and always will be as good as the people insist on making them—never any better under this or any other political system in the world.

Behind The News

PHILADELPHIA, June 29—Strangest thing about this Republican convention is the important behind-the-scenes part played by Raymond Moley, first and most famous of the 1933 Roosevelt brain trusters.

Moley came here the day before the convention opened. His job was to help write Herbert Hoover's high-powered speech on foreign affairs.

On that speech hung two things—Hoover's own hope of getting back into the White House, and the determination of the thick-and-thin peace group that the Republican party should swing sharply away from anything resembling the Roosevelt foreign policy.

It was all planned on the definite belief that there would be a deadlock which would leave the principal contenders hog-tied and open the way for nomination of a dark horse. And it was Raymond Moley who quietly slipped over from New York to help put the speech in shape.

NOBODY IN POSITION OF BOSS

Another extremely important angle to the plans which were hung on this speech is the fact that this particular Republican convention has been unbosomed to the point of confusion.

On the surface, the set-up was ideal for one of those famous "smoke-filled room" propositions—a little group of bosses sitting back and deciding who was to be the nominee.

But there hasn't been any boss in the position to deliver a really decisive bloc of votes to anybody. Any "smoke-filled room" to be decisive here would have to be about the size of the main concourse of the Union Station.

Most of the delegates came unpledged. Many of those who were listed as "sure for Dewey" or "sure for Taft" were men who had agreed to cast a certain number of votes for a given candidate but who were free as the air once they had decided to stop voting for him. The candidate might enjoy their votes, but not the ability to turn them over to anybody else.

Result of all this was that winning the nomination swiftly developed into a job of selling an individual to the delegates themselves, rather than making a deal with one or two key figures.

WILKIE'S STRENGTH AND WEAKNESS

This fact has been both the strength and the weakness of the Wendell Wilkie campaign.

A word or two ought to be said about the campaign, as one of the most adroit, smooth, expert bits of political promotion on record. It was ideally designed for the problem the Wilkie boom faced, because it was primarily a selling job aimed at the rank and file—and a selling job was exactly what the situation called for.

But at the same time, Wilkie as a candidate undoubtedly faced more sales resistance on the part of the rank and file than any other candidate. It is probably fair to say that when the convention opened a

Common Ground

This column contends there can be no satisfactory program until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

PEERING ENGLAND AND FRANCE

It will be remembered that the present administration sent a commission to Europe to study social and labor problems. The administration has been constantly reminding us that we are many years behind England and France and the Scandinavian countries in social legislation. It also tells us how much more advanced England is in her system of taxing big incomes, as a social advancement.

The test of any theory is its fruits. As William James says, a thing is right if it works.

The commission sent by the President to Europe brought back more ideas of social legislation, sit-down strikes, Wagner Law, Social Security, doles, old age pensions, etc. The people of England and France have the idea that people can live without work; that wages can be raised by collective bargaining groups refusing to work and preventing other people from creating wealth.

People who are at all consistent have been contending that this would never work; that wealth was created only by labor producing and freely exchanging; that anything that interfered with men having the right to work and freely exchange, lowered the standard of living and weakened the defense of the country.

Judging from the peace settlement that France was willing to and had to make and the plight that England now finds itself in, it seems obvious on the face of it that the social laws of England and France and the Netherlands have so weakened those nations, that in seven years a nation that did not follow these socialistic ideas—that men can live without work—became so strong that France is now a puppet state of Germany and England is in a desperate condition.

Now we had better look for another place to find how to improve our social lot than after modern France and England. They discarded the eternal principles of the law of equal freedom and substituted for it an oligarchy which had no vision and bartered fundamentals in freedom for a mess of pottage.

FRANCE'S PEACE TERMS

The fact that France would accept the conditions of peace laid down by Germany and become an opponent of her former ally, shows what treachery can be expected from any entangling alliance with European nations.

When people come to believe, as the people of France and England have come to believe, that they have a right to rob each other by collective bargaining and discriminatory tax laws, they do not fight for principle, they fight for personal advancement. And a people becomes a dangerous ally when the individuals in the group have no respect for the equal rights of every member of the group, as England and France have for the last quarter of a century.

Of course, this does not mean that Germany has recognized equal rights of each individual. They have, however, permitted the initiative and talents of the people to be used to create forces stronger than England and France have. And do not let people tell you that England and France do not believe in force. They thought they had more force than Germany, and did have for several decades.

The object lesson of the surrender of France is that the European diplomats are too dangerous for Americans to line up with.

EXPLAINING WHY GOVERNMENT EXPENSES HAVE INCREASED

I ran across a single sentence in an old book that has just been reprinted, "Democracy Versus Socialism," that explains why government expenses have been increasing so rapidly during the last decade.

The author makes the statement that government expenses increase with every social integration and differentiation.

It certainly is true. Because the government has attempted to form groups and take from one and give to another and, thus, differentiate, we are now taking at least 25 per cent of the national income for the government.

The government was never intended to be an instrument to rob one person to give to another. The original purpose of a government was to enable all people to have equal use of the products of their faculties. When a government does this, its expenses are little when it goes beyond this its expenses skyrocket.

The Nation's Press

WHILE WASHINGTON FIDDED

(From the Tulsa (Okla.) Tribune) Think of the billions the New Deal spent in "leaf-raking" projects while our pitiful air force grew obsolete and the old war-time field guns gathered rust.

Think of the hundreds of millions that were poured out to fix unfixable prices and to gather in fixable votes.

Think of the unprecedent spending according to political expedience rather than according to plan.

Think of the lengthening "period of emergency," debt rising with taxation, the attempt on the part of left-wing theorists to foment strikes and disorder in order to hasten the dawn of industrial socialism, the confusion and fear which effectively halted industrial expansion, the government-fostered union labor monopolies which "froze" a faithful few into the best jobs, hamstringing the apprentice system, and which has now actually created a shortage of skilled mechanics in a time of national peril.

And then ask yourself if the New Deal has been a help or a hindrance in solving our current problems of national defense.

very large majority of the delegates did not want Wilkie.

VANDENBERG GOOD, BUT LATE

A lot of people who attended the rousing pep meeting held by Senator Vandenberg on his arrival came away feeling that he made a profound mistake last winter when he decided against going out on an aggressive, cross-country campaign. At this little meeting he showed that he can put on a swell performance as a two-fisted, hard-hitting, no-quarter campaigner... but it came about four months too late.

AND THE LIGHTNING STRUCK ONE

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON HOLLYWOOD, June 29—All day, Henry Fonda had sat on the sidelines watching his trial for life and looking glum. Even glummer than usual.

It was not the look of a man headed for the gallows, because Fonda could thumb ahead in the script and know that he, as Frank James, was preordained for acquittal. Neither was he registering the fidgety boredom of an actor who has waited for nine hours, in make-up, without doing a lick of acting.

I said, "Seems like you ought to be feeling pretty good at the prospect of going into a musical after this." He winced. "You mean 'Fifth Avenue'?" I heard about that—from a prop man. That's how I got all my information. A hair-dresser will tell me I'm going to be in such-and-such a picture, and an electrician or maybe a janitor will tell me what the story's about. Nobody sends me a script. I guess they don't know I can read.

"Anyway, this next thing isn't a musical, or a comedy, nor yet a part where I put on decent clothes. I thought it was a rib when they told me, but it's true: I'm gonna be an old guy of 65—a hubbly with whiskers and a weak heart!"

A LITTLE COMEDY WOULD BE O. K.

I murmured something about his succession of dour, bitter roles. Fonda's flat voice continued: "In the theater, I was supposed to be a comedian, but I haven't done a comedy for eight pictures—more than two years—and that one was a little stinger over at RKO. Sure, I'm tired of being a dour old —, and I'm also tired of being the guy with the dirty feet."

"I get all choked up when I try to wear a collar and tie. It was a funny feeling the other day when I had to dress up to make a sort of speech in a Red Cross 'short.'"

CAN SHAKIE JEETER LESTER

As Fonda subsided, another celebrated and unhappy Henry came off the set. Henry Hull, in the role of defense counsel, had appeared in every scene filmed that day, although he reckoned he wasn't as tired as Fonda, who hadn't been able to work at all.

Hull really is a young-looking man in his middle 40s, but he has been hiding behind false whiskers so long that at the rare sight of his nude face in a mirror he's startled and glances behind him. "Tobacco Road" is in its seventh year on headed for the original Jeeter Lester.

Of course he was a full-fledged stage star when Metro brought him here more than two years ago. "But when I worked," Hull said, "it was always in bit parts. I'd go in and ask when they were going to let me do some acting, and they'd say, 'Don't worry—we're just building you up!'"

ONE GOOD SPEECH CHOPPED OUT

The only role he liked was in "The Comrades." That was a bit, too, but he had one fine speech—Eric Remarque's dramatic and timely warning of the rise of Hitler. The completed film was shown to the German consul, and you can imagine what the consul said. The speech was chopped out.

Hull finally got so mad that he went to a lawyer and wanted to sue Metro to break his contract. He was advised instead simply to refuse to play roles he didn't like, so with a few explosive Jeeter Lester oaths he turned down 11 in succession.

Finally his contract ran out by itself and Henry Hull began freelancing. He gets lots of jobs these days, but he's still wearing whiskers.

63 Boys Building Derby Cars At Craft Shop Here

Competition in the Pampa News-Lions club Soap Box derby is going to be keen according to Jim Edwards, recreation supervisor for Edwards county, who is furnishing headquarters for boys to build their cars. Sixty-three boys have already secured cable at the craft shop at the city warehouse.

Mr. Edwards made a trip to McLean Saturday and found 11 boys building cars in two large rooms in a cotton gin where a workshop has been opened by Clifford Ledbetter, member of the Pampa recreation unit. Several boys have already completed work on their cars. Mr. Edwards was informed.

The Rev. Robert Boehm, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was guest speaker at the Recreation council broadcast from Central park over station KPDN Friday afternoon. Others appearing on the program were Betty Jean Prigmore, Mariola Duvall, Anna Lois Alford and Lucille Johnson.

Lucille Standish won an engraved sewing basket for naming the Horace Mann sewing club. The name selected was the Thimbletits club.

A large crowd attended the first band concert of the season presented by the 40 piece Summer Recreation band directed by A. C. Cox. The band will play every other Friday night at 8:30 o'clock in Central park. Next concert will be on July 12.

In the summer tether ball ladder tournament being held at Woodrow Wilson, the three top rungs are being held down by Marvin Grey, Donald Grey, and Jerry Kirtio.

In a hard ball game that went 10 innings Thursday, Woodrow Wilson won a close one 17 to 16 from Baker. The same teams played the next day with Baker winning 14 to 8. Lineup: Baker, Homer Quarles, Ben Horn, Herman Bybee, Raymond Cox, Landon Sanders, Truman Quilan, Buddy Huffines, Joe Moses, Joe Morehead, Woodrow Wilson, lineup: Curtis Banks, Harold Kerbo, Bobby Myers, Doyle Lane, Joe Cree, Red Moore, Marvin Grey, Pete Robbins, Jerry Kerbo.

Texas A. and M. college will offer a welding course throughout July. Bob Cook, welding instructor in the mechanical engineering department, will teach the course.

BIG-TIME CHAMPIONS BOTH

Goal of a Pampa boy for 1940 and of a hundred other American boys is represented in the scene above. A pair of victory smiles—Clifford Hardisty, winner of the 1939 All-American and International Soap Box derby finals, leaves Derby Downs in Akron, Ohio, immediately after his victory, with Wilbur Shaw, winner of the 1939 and 1940 Indianapolis Speedway races. Shaw is an official starter for the derby, and is only one of many sports figures hometown champions will meet at the finals scheduled for August 11 this year.

Canadian Stores Display Relics

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

CANADIAN, June 29—Visitors in Canadian next week for Old Timers' day at the city auditorium during the Anvil Park rodeo will find an interesting collection of relics of pioneer years displayed in the various store show windows.

Dresses worn by Panhandle belles 50 years ago and some older even than that, guns used by marksmen of the early days, side saddles reminiscent of cow girls of the 80s and 90s, and various other objects of an era now past are displayed.

Photographs of scenes on the ranches of 50 and 60 years ago, groups of oldtimers taken on occasions in the past, of prominent people no longer with us, these will start the older people who view them to reminiscing of the days of the longhorns and the buffalo, of the open, and fall roundups covering half the state because there were no fences then, of sour dough biscuits and pots of beans cooked out in the open, of night herding in the rain and of stampedes, and again of moonlight nights in the open and the cheerful songs around the camp fire.

Fingerprinting Of Aliens Law Now

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 29—President Roosevelt, terming it a measure for mutual protection of this country and "loyal aliens who are his guests," signed today legislation requiring registration and fingerprinting of all foreigners in the United States.

In putting his signature to the bill enacted by congress as a defense against "fifth column" activity, Mr. Roosevelt said that it did not carry "any stigma or implication of hostility" toward aliens.

Urging cooperating of citizens and non-citizens alike, he declared, too, that it would be unfortunate if any "loyal aliens were subjected to harassment."

In addition to the placing of this law on the statute books, defense development included:

The army announced experimental organization of an armored corps of two divisions. Armed with 1,400 tanks, 300 artillery pieces and more than 13,000 automatic and semi-automatic weapons, the corps will have striking power approaching that of Germany's hard-hitting "Panzer" divisions.

The war department also disclosed that its special service schools, hitherto reserved for officers, would be used for intensive training of key soldiers. The infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga., will teach tank and motor mechanics, among other courses, and the cavalry school at Fort Riley, Kas., will give training in combat car mechanics and allied courses.

War Playing Important Part In Race For Railroad Commissioner

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, June 29 (AP)—The war is bearing heavily on the race for the open place on three-member state railroad commission.

Demands for adequate national defense are being voiced by several candidates. One complains that Nazi sympathizers have torn down his anti-Hitler posters.

Activity among the record-breaking field of 18, is quite general and reaches virtually all sections of Texas.

A development of the week was withdrawal of C. A. Everts, Dallas oil operator. Everts said he believed that as a result of the war federal control of the oil industry was impending and the railroad commissioner was due to lose its oil regulatory powers.

Edwin Pierce, Pierce Brooks of Dallas, bearing state government departments and educational institutions to make sure that no fifth columnists were on the state payroll.

Olin Culbertson of Edna and Austin stressed the importance of the commission's position in national defense, as well as in the industrial development of the state.

Senator Olan R. Zandt of Toga will speak at Belton July 4 honoring soldiers of all American wars. Because of the serious illness of his mother, he cancelled engagements this week.

W. H. McDonald of Eastland—former state land commissioner—is stressing the need for raising the truck load limit, and has requested mayors to form committees to investigate subversive activities.

Walter D. Hood of Austin, former chief enforcement officer of the commission, is emphasizing an Americanization theme and a strong anti-fifth column program.

Bryan Patterson of Alice, oil well drilling contractor, running on a platform of "honesty and horse sense," has erected more than 2,500 large posters, which bear the red splash, "Stop Hitler!"

"We have had some trouble with Nazi sympathizers tearing them down," he reports, "but after working them over in the good old southern style it has about ceased."

Charles Langford, Jr. of League City, former chief engineer with the commission, has been advocating the merit system for commission employees, an increase in the truck load limit, 90-day oil prorations schedules with no shutdowns, elimination of "privileged practice before the commission."

Other candidates are Clyde E. Smith of Woodville, who polled 193,000 votes for attorney general in 1934 when William C. McCraw was elected; Rep. Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill; John D. Copeland of Austin, former rule 37 examiner with the commission; Eugene T. Smith of Austin, former chairman of the highway commission; Errol Holt of Dallas; John Paul Jones of New London. Baker Salsbury of Amarillo, John Pundt of Dallas, Bailey Sheppard of Longview, Larry Smith of Dallas and O. O. Terrell of Alvin.

Bishop Seaman To Preach Tonight In Canadian Church

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

CANADIAN, June 29—Bishop E. C. Seaman of Amarillo will deliver a sermon in the Methodist church tonight.

Masons of the city will observe the Fourth of July season by attending church in a body tonight with Bishop Seaman as guest speaker. The center section of the church will be reserved for the Masons.

Norman McGill is the recently installed Worshipful Master of the Blue Lodge. Earl Johnson heads both the Commandery and the Royal Arch Chapter, being Eminent Commander of the former and High Priest of the latter group.

Balbo Reported 'Killed In Action'

ROME, June 29 (AP)—Marshall Italo Balbo, bearded pioneer in the Fascist movement, and nine others, including prominent Italians, died when their plane was shot down in flames by British aircraft encountered over Tobruk, Libya.

The victims included the Italian consul general of Tripoli, the editor of Balbo's newspaper Corriere Padano, and two relatives of Balbo, Signor Ferrara, a nephew, and Lieut. Florio Gino, a brother-in-law.

Five passengers and five crew members perished.

The plane was on an official mission but did not go up for military action when it was brought down yesterday.

Premier Mussolini ordered flags at half staff for his old associate. Fascist headquarters was swathed in black crepe; the Italian broadcasting headquarters was silent for two minutes after announcing the death of the spectacular airman.

Balbo was governor-general of Libya—sent there in 1933 at the height of his popularity after having successfully led a mass flight of Italian planes from Rome to Chicago and return by way of New York.

He had been mentioned often in the old days as a possible successor to Mussolini himself, but after his assignment to Libya he had been less prominent in such speculations than Count Galeazzo Ciano, the Duce's son-in-law.

"It was reported in Rome that he had been sent away to keep his 'political shadow' from darkening the Piazza Venezia"—the site of Mussolini's palace.

The main drawback seen by many aviation experts to the use of new planes capable of traveling 500 miles an hour, is the fact that the human body may not be able to withstand the terrific pressure of dives and turns at that speed.

Meeting Will Be Concluded Tonight At Central Church

The subject of the sermon at the Central Church of Christ Friday evening was "Faith."

The evangelist called attention to the fact that the Bible speaks of much faith, little faith, dead faith, faith without works, and faith with works. While faith is essential to salvation, the speaker showed that faith apart from obedience will avail nothing. The case of Naaman, the leper, in 2 Kings; 5 was cited as proof. It was pointed out that, no matter how much Naaman might have believed in God, he would not have been healed had he not dipped seven times in the Jordan.

Another text cited is James 2:24 where the writer said, "Ye see that by works a man is justified and not only by faith." Jesus said in Mark 16:16, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." Can one be saved without obedience to the command to be baptized? No more that Naaman could have been saved from leprosy without dipping in the Jordan. The doctrine of salvation by faith only is not the doctrine of the Bible said the evangelist.

The meeting will be concluded today with the evening service.

The first international airmail route was Seattle to Victoria, B. C.

Lubbock Beats Pampa 6 To 6 In Hit Melee

Grover Seitz Chased From Game By Ump

LUBBOCK, June 29—The Pampa Oilers went ahead twice tonight, first on Dutch Prather's home run, scoring Sam Malvica and Grover Seitz ahead of him, and again in the third when Manager Seitz stole home after Knobles had scored on an error, but the Lubbock Hubbers came from behind twice and went on to score an 8 to 6 victory in the series opener. It was Lubbock's sixth straight victory.

Manager Seitz was chased by Umpire Ethridge in the seventh after a lively argument concerning a play at the plate in which Gene Schlereth, Lubbock third baseman, was ruled safe after an apparent "out" on a squeeze play. Just before the cops arrived to carry out Ethridge's orders, Seitz walked to the plate, told the ump in a kind voice he was ready to leave, and walked toward the Hubber dugout exit arm in arm with Manager Charlie Engle of the Hubbers.

"Hit and run" plays by the Hubbers in the seventh and eighth produced runs which defeated the Oilers.

CHANGED HABITS
The kingfisher bird comes from a family of insect catchers. Long ago, the bird discovered that fish were easier to catch and far more filling than insects, so it renounced the family habit, and became a fisherman.

STARVED THOUGH WELL-FED
It is possible for a healthy, well-fed man to die of starvation a short time after eating a hearty meal. Some unabridged dictionaries give one meaning of "starve" as "to die of cold."

PLENTY OF STEEL
During 1938, American manufacturers used 121,000 gross tons of steel in the manufacture of 1,425,000 gas and electric refrigerators, on a based estimate of 190 pounds of steel per refrigerator.

Galento Picked To Whip Baer In Sixth Or Seventh

By SID FEDER
JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 29 (AP)—The weird "war of the bums" will be fought out here Tuesday night on a 24-foot square canvas battleground, pitched near second base at the local ball park—with no extra charge for laughs.

You have it on the best authority that this is the guaranteed one and only, dyed in the wool battle of the bums. The two principals tell you so in whispers you can hear. Max Baer believes that Tony Galento is as big a bum as he ever saw, and two-ton calls madcap Maxie the same, double in spades and one-eyed jacks wild.

On paper, this is one of the strangest sock-shows ever put together for the benefit of the cash customers.

And the fact that the winner will be served to Joe Louis in September, doesn't make it any more serious. For the brown bomber has flattened both of them, each in four rounds.

Forgetting the future for the moment, the roly poly bartender from Orange and the playboy from the coast will be in there for the championship of the society of screwballs and the nomination for the presidency of the zanies. Some 30,000 to 40,000 of the faithful are expected to attend. It's a cinch it won't take all 15 of the scheduled "ballots" to decide it. Tony will be pitching that left hand from Hoboken and Max will be tossing his right from somewhere around the George Washington bridge. Since neither ever has been known as an elusive, will 'o' the wisp, both figure to get in the way of these high hard ones early and often. So it all de-

Boss Hague Demands A Fight, Gets One From Galento, Baer

Tony Galento

Max Baer

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, July 1—A 16-round fight between Maxie Adelbert Baer and Antonio Galento doesn't make much sense at this stage of the proceedings...

a way as any to run the beak busting business.
It is highly possible that Galento, who likes to go catch-as-catch-can and protect yourself at all times, won't be hampered by a referee in his own back yard.

The match brings out Baer, a swinger who finally has gotten himself into condition but who has little heart, and Galento, a fat barkeep who can't possibly get in shape, but who has the courage of Custer.

Galento worked at Summit only when he got around to it... did much as he pleased. There was no Joe Jacobs to talk him into things.

With pressure put on it by Mayor Frank Aloysius Hague, the show would be better than the $150,000 gross recorded by Louis and Arturo Goddy in Yankee Stadium the other evening.

There is some fear about his eyes. It's another big chance for Max Baer, who has had more chances than a wayward son of the rich.

Roosevelt Stadium, Hague's WPA job, accommodates more than 65,000 for a fight.
And if fight it will be for Boss Hague not only sees that tickets are properly peddled, but is a violent fan.

Jim Edwards, supervisor of the Summer Recreation program, has agreed to look after the nets until school opens in the fall.

Michigan Rebels Will Be Accepted

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 29 (AP)—Members of the American Student Union to whom the University of Michigan had closed its doors may be accepted again as students.

It was reported today that the seven students, now on summer vacation, would be permitted to re-register for class if they promise to abide by university policies.

President Alexander G. Ruthven, who recently said the university "welcomes only students who are convinced that democracy is the ideal form of government for a civilized people," had advised the students that they would not be readmitted.

The student union, a campus group, circulated petitions demanding reinstatement of the penalized members and charging that readmission had been refused there because they "spoke out against war plans and war forces, against all violations of civil and academic liberties."

Credits Offered In WTSC Scout Course

CANYON, June 29—Boy Scout training was so successful at West Texas State college last year that plans are being made to include in the curriculum a course offering three hours of college credit in Scout leadership, announced Milton Morris, college instructor, this week.

The course, as conducted last year, is unusual among Scout programs in that it fills the requirement for a college course with advanced credit and it organized in cooperation with the Five Year Training program of the Boy Scouts of America.

In reviewing the activities of the class last year, Mr. Morris pointed out that the regulation three hours of lecture per week were supplemented by laboratory meetings and practical projects among local troops.

The class, of 27 junior and senior men, visited troops and courts of honor in Canyon and Amarillo, were judges in the merit show at the Tri-State fair in Amarillo, conducted a local court of honor, and made arrangements for "Scout Day" at the college on November 25, when WTSC entertained 650 Boy Scouts of this region.

Former Borgan Dies In Dodge City Fall

DODGE CITY, Kas., June 29 (AP)—Syd S. Frane, manager of the Woolcott-Lincoy brokerage house here, plunged down a basement stairway to his death last night while attending a neighborhood picnic.

He apparently opened the wrong door, which opened on the steep basement stairs.

A railroad telegrapher from his youth, mostly in Missouri, Frane was with the Phillips Petroleum company, in the Borger, Tex., field during the boom there immediately before coming to Dodge City.

O'Brien's Son, 3½, Enrolled At Notre Dame

HOLLYWOOD, June 29—Although he is only 3½ years old, he is a regularly enrolled undergraduate at the University of Notre Dame.

He is Patrick Sean O'Brien, son of film star Pat O'Brien and was registered at the university while his father was on the campus doing scenes for Warner's "The Story of Knute Rockne."

Young Patrick Sean was entered in the class of 1954 but his major subject was left open. One thing is certain, comments The Register, Catholic newspaper, in its Texas Pan-handle edition—Sean will have to turn out for football or his father will be a sorely disappointed Irishman.

Funeral Scenes Historic
Motion picture history was written and real history was repeated in beautiful Sacred Heart church on the Notre Dame campus when the funeral of the late Knute Rockne was recreated for scenes in the Rockne picture. Never before were cameras permitted in the church to film scenes for a movie.

Members of the Congregation of the Holy Cross, the Famed Moreau Seminary choir, 500 university students, and nearly 100 South Bend residents participated in the re-enactment of the funeral. Many of the priests and citizens present had attended the Rockne rites in 1931.

DRAMATIC BOMBSHELL

Artistic conception of London turned into a shrieking shambles by enemy aerial attack, dramatic sequence from Columbia's "Mad Men of Europe," which opens today at the Crown theater. Edmund Gwenn and Mary Maguire, right, are featured members of the cast of this dramatic bombshell of war's ultimate horrors!

EUROPEAN WAR THEME OF TWO CHIEF MOTION PICTURES OF WEEK IN PAMPA

Leigh and Taylor Play Top Roles in "Waterloo Bridge"; Maguire and Gwenn Principals in "Mad Men of Europe"; Fantasy, Comedy, Musical, and Westerns Other Subjects.

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON
War, dominant topic of current conversation and thought, occupies the chief niche in motion picture programs in Pampa this week.

Vivien Leigh, English actress of GWTW and Academy Award fame, is teamed with Robert Taylor in MGM's version of Robert E. Sherwood's "Waterloo Bridge."

Columbia's "Mad Men of Europe," co-starring Edmund Gwenn and Mary Maguire, is realistic drama, dealing with an empire tottering on the brink of doom, a metropolis bombed into a shambles, and a gallant girl trapped into loving her country's destroyer.

It traces the planning of espionage agents in London suburbs, and on down to parachute troops.

London is the background for both "Mad Men of Europe," opening a three-day run today at the Crown, and for "Waterloo Bridge," opening the week at the LaNora.

In the latter film, a blackout, the historic bridge from which the picture takes its title, and Waterloo Station vividly depict London at its most dramatic.

Story centers around the army officer-ballet girl 24-hour romance theme.

STORY OF LONDON 1917-1940

"Waterloo Bridge" showing today, tomorrow, and Tuesday at the LaNora, features Vivien Leigh of GWTW fame, and Robert Taylor. Leigh is cast as Myra Lester, ballet dancer, who has a whirlwind 24-hour romance with Taylor, British officer, whom she

Census Office Here Closes And Smyers Leaves For Memphis
The Pampa census office closed Saturday after Carroll Smyers, supervisor, had received word from Washington that census reports from the 17 counties in the Pampa district had been checked and approved.

It was the first district office in Texas to have all reports accepted, Mr. Smyers was notified.

Official census figures will be released from Washington sometime this fall, Mr. Smyers said.

"I want to thank everyone for their cooperation during the taking of the census," Mr. Smyers said before leaving for his home in Memphis. "We didn't have a single person object to giving the information required. I also want to congratulate the census takers for their efficient work during the long grind of taking the census."

New Yorker Favors Informative Films

Use of informative films of one, two or three reels on health, scientific progress, and home economics, produced by professionals, expertly dramatized, and presented with a program of news and travelogues are suggested by B. S. Moss of New York as a substitute for second features in theaters.

These and other ideas are expressed in a reprint from Variety, national theatrical publication.

Mr. Moss explains that his idea of informative films does not mean that such pictures would be a means of spreading propaganda or selling any merchandise.

"The movie industry today is full of inertia," writes Mr. Moss. "If a destiny is to be fully realized, it must be forced along new lines—as it was formerly forced to accept long features and talking pictures."

Mr. Moss protests motion pictures produced solely for 12-year-old minds, and the never ending dose of boy meets girl."

GOP Feuding Over Campaign Chairman

By RICARD L. TURNER

PHILADELPHIA, June 29 (AP)—The rear guard of the Republican national convention squabbled over the selection of a national party chairman today and settled the issue temporarily by appointing a subcommittee to confer with Wendell Wilkie and choose the man.

Important influences backed a move to continue John D. Hamilton in the job, with Wilkie's apparent concurrence. The opposition had the leadership of Alf M. Landon, the 1936 presidential nominee, who at Cleveland four years ago selected Hamilton as his pre-convention manager.

Later Hamilton, in a statement, termed the creation of a subcommittee "very natural in view of the rapidity with which events have moved in the last few days."

This affords Wilkie the "needed opportunity" to consider campaign plans, Hamilton said, and added that meantime the present "stiff" of the committee will continue to function.

Wilkie, meanwhile, left the city without making known his choice. He and his party were among the guests of published Roy Howard aboard the yacht Jamaro for a brief sea voyage before returning to New York and then taking a longer vacation.

The Republican candidate told newsmen he would probably defer his formal acceptance speech at his home town, Elwood, Ind., until after the Democrats meet in Chicago July 15, adopt a platform and choose his opponent.

SERIAL STORY

Ticket to Hollywood

BY W. H. PEARS

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: The afternoon of the broadcast, Mr. Weston disappeared. When he does not return, Francie and Aunt Hat go to the studio. Jerry Finney, acting as master of ceremonies, refuses to recognize Francie. Her father summons her from the stage. Gusto has been injured, possibly seriously, trying to be a stunt man. Mr. Weston has brought Gusto's wallet. Gusto wants Francie to have the ticket, but Francie decides whether she will go to Gusto or remain to sing, her name is called. One-by-one, and "Last call, Miss Francie Weston!"

CHAPTER XII
FRANCIE turned, sobbing. "Take me to him, Pops. I want to go to Gusto."
John Weston took his daughter's hand, a look of relief breaking over his face. "Good girl, Francie," he murmured, and led her swiftly out of the studio into the warm California night.

Francie felt faint. She was vaguely conscious of the lights of Hollywood swirling by the car window, and then they were at the hospital.

As they approached Gusto's room, a gray-haired doctor met them. He said to Francie in low tones, "Are you 'Sugar'?" She nodded. "You can go right in. He's been calling for you."

Gusto was a white, still figure on the bed. His eyes were closed. His breathing came with an effort. Francie crossed to him softly. A cold weight pressed against her heart as she bent over him.

"Gusto," she said, then added in a whisper, "dear." His lids came up slowly. His eyes lighted. Restless fingers groped for her hand. "Hullo Sugar," he said in an effort.

"Gusto! Oh, I'm so glad you know me. You're going to be all right. You're going to get well. Aren't you, dear?"

The shadow of a grin flickered across his set lips. Gusto said weakly, "Darn right, Sugar." Then he went to sleep.

Francie held his hand until the doctor came and motioned her outside. "Your boy friend has a very solid constitution," he smiled. "I wouldn't plan any funeral yet."

FRANCIE and Gusto were sitting on the hotel veranda when Mr. Weston joined them. He said, "Well, Gusto, I've finally settled matters. I've been talking with one of the studio executives. He admits they were at fault for not checking your qualifications more carefully before letting you smash that car."

"Are they going to pay Gusto?" Francie asked. "Better than that," Mr. Weston replied. "They're standing all hospital expenses and giving Gusto $100 in cash. And if he wants it, he can have a job shoving props around. How does that sound, Gusto?"

"Swell!" After six days Gusto's grin was still wan. "I can sure use that money."

"And the job? It will put you in contact with some pretty important musicians. That's your ambition, isn't it? To play with some big outfit?"

"Well... yes, Mr. Weston, but gee, I hocked my trumpet." "You can easily unhook it," John Weston noticed his daughter's hand clasped in Gusto's, and his eyes smiled. "Well, it's up to you, son. At any rate, you're not broke."

He faded discreetly from the veranda. Gusto and Francie sat for a while in silence.

Francie said, "It—it's a grand opportunity, Gusto. Pops is right. You'd soon know everyone important, and before long you'd get a real break. Maybe doing music for pictures or something."

"Yeah," Gusto said, "I guess so."

MORE silence. Hollywood sunshine lay warm and yellow about them. Long-bladed palms stirred in the breeze. The city stretched out white and clean and glamorous against its backdrop of hills.

"Pretty here, isn't it?" Gusto said.

Francie's heart ached solidly. Gusto liked it. He was going to stay. Some day she would read in the Elspeth City Bugle about how he had signed a big movie contract...

"Yes," she said tonelessly, "it's pretty."

"Prettier than Elspeth City?" he probed.

"I—I guess so." "I—I suppose if this is where you want to live I'd better take the job."

"Me?" Francie said. "I—I don't understand, Gusto."

"Well, holy smokes, do I have to draw you a diagram? Look, Francie, what happened when I got ganged up? I started yelling for you and wanting you to have the ticket. What did you do? Why, you tossed away your big chance to come to the hospital."

Francie said, "Gusto, you mean..."

"Well, it's darn funny, ain't it?" "Yes, yes, it is. It... it seems like each one of us was thinking of the other instead of ourselves."

"Are they going to pay Gusto?" Francie asked.

"Better than that," Mr. Weston replied. "They're standing all hospital expenses and giving Gusto $100 in cash. And if he wants

"Do you?" Francie frowned. "Everything's sort of changed, Gusto. I'm not sure I even want to be a singer except just for fun. Like with Duke Meyers or someone."

Gusto's hand tightened around hers. "Well, heck, why didn't you say so, Francie? Because I... I feel like that too. 'Course, I want to go on playing my old hot trumpet and maybe work out new licks and play with Duke. But fixing autos is a good business. It's solid. If you're good you can always make enough to—well, run a home."

"Oh, Gusto..."

HE straightened. "Say, know what night it is, Francie? It's Friday. I'll bet Maw's got a raft of new records. Wouldn't mind sitting in on the old jam session right now."

"Gee, it'd be swell, Gusto." Francie said. "Maybe Pops was right after all. He said the happiest girls stay in their Elspeth Cities and marry their Gu..." She broke off, cheeks crimson.

"Marry their who?" "He said... their Gusto Gairs."

"Well, why not?" Gusto said fiercely. "I guess if we want to do things that way it's our business. Maybe we're just getting a little sense. In a year or so, maybe..."

Francie fumbled in her bag. "I've still got your wallet, Gusto, and your little trumpet pin. I found it the night Blubber robbed you. I was afraid you might lose it."

"Well, I'll be!" Gusto fingered his beloved pin. "Am I glad to have it back!"

Francie said, "The ticket's still in there, Gusto."

Francie watched him with clear, unafraid eyes. Even Pops had agreed it was better for Gusto never to know she'd taken it.

Gusto said softly, "I—I'd like you to keep the pin, Francie."

"Gusto, not really?" "Yes," he said gravely, fumbling as he pinned it on her blouse. "It sort of makes all the things we've planned seem kind of near and real."

Then he bent and kissed her. It was not a movie kiss. It had no glamor. It was just a plain, ordinary kiss, but it filled Francie's eyes with ecstatic tears and made her happier than all the expert kisses Jerry Finney had given her.

Snuggling close to him, Francie said, "Gusto, let's frame this old thing and hang it in the living room of our house back in Elspeth City."

1941 Crop Loan Forms Due Soon

Forms for making applications for 1941 crop loans are due soon at the office of the county farm agent. As soon as they are received, applications will be taken on the new year's loans.

All-risk crop insurance indemnity payments to Gray county growers who suffered losses have passed the $8818.92 mark with adjustment work still going on.

Applications for indemnity payments have been filed by 84 wheat producers in the county for a total of 53,480 bushels, chairman of the county AAA committee announced.

Of these, 26 have already been certified to the Federal Crop Insurance corporation and checks or wheat have been delivered to 11 growers.

Most loss claims in the county were due to drought, the chairman explained, with about 98 per cent of the loss claims constituting total losses, the producers receiving the full 75 per cent of their crop for which they were insured.

Indemnity payments are made either in bushels of wheat or the cash equivalent at the going market. If payment is taken in wheat, that wheat is eligible for a loan from the Community Credit corporation, if the farmer wants to hold it for better market by putting it under the loan.

Wheeler Sending 10 Girls To Short Course At A. & M.

Special To The NEWS
SHAMROCK, June 29—Ten 4-H club girls will represent Wheeler county at the farmers short course at College Station, July 8-9. It was announced following meeting in Wheeler Wednesday night of sponsors and delegates.

Achievement, loyalty to the club, ability to represent the club at the short course and bring back information for the remaining club members were the points of grading which determined which girl should represent each club in the county.

A tour of inspection was made to view the projects of each girl and representatives were elected by ballot.

Girls who will represent the various clubs are: Clara Helen Seegis, Briscoe; Mozelle May, Allison; Joy Williams, Twitty; Wanda Bearden, Mebeiste; Helen Macina, Pakan; Claudine Gipsou, Davis; Eloyce Sandifer, Wheeler; Mildred Ogie, Center; Zella Marie West, Keller; and Dorothy Mertel, Pakan.

Dorothy Mertel has been invited by the program committee to preside at one of the meetings for boys and girls.

Mrs. S. P. Beasley of Shamrock was chosen by the delegates to accompany the girls on the trip. The girls and their sponsor will make the trip by train, leaving Children on Saturday night, July 6, and returning the next Thursday.
