

Every Box Seat Sold For First Night Of $100,000 Coronado Entrada

Every box seat for the first night of the Coronado Entrada had been sold today. That electrifying announcement opened a "run" for box seats. Mrs. Charles Hughes at the chamber of commerce said that one salesman had sold every box seat for the first night at $10 each. A number of second night box seats have been sold, and several for the third night. Persons interested in obtaining box seats are urged to call Mrs. Hughes at 384 at once for reservations with payment on delivery. That Coronado tickets for the first and succeeding nights of the Entrada will be in great demand was indicated in the sale of box seats. The lone salesman said he had no great difficulty in selling them; he also sold them without benefit of ballyhoo or publicity.

General Admission tickets to the Entrada can also be obtained at the chamber of commerce. It is expected that 15,000 people will witness the gigantic show which cost $100,000 to produce.

Persons who have the erroneous impression that the show is going to be "amateur," have "another think coming," it was announced. True the cast is made up of local people, but their voices will be those of professional actors and actresses. It would take $20,000 to buy the 1,000 costumes, and $10,000 to buy the sound system and another $12,000 to buy the lighting system. The stage will be 300 feet long and with the stage will come horses, burros, trained to walk over ramps 25 feet high. The Pampa show will have a water curtain similar to the one at the Texas Centennial, upon which rainbow lights will be played.

The Weather

Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday with scattered thundershowers tonight and over south portion Wednesday. Cooler tonight.

500 Pampans In Swimming Pool First Three Days

More than 500 persons revelled in the refreshing waters of the swimming pool in the first three days of the season. Manager Oscar Hinger announced yesterday. The first day there were 191 swimmers, 141 the second day, and an equally large crowd was present yesterday. The pool opens at 9 o'clock and closes at 9 at night. On Sundays it is open from two o'clock until 9 in the evening. Friday afternoons the pool will close at 6 so the water can be drained and fresh water put in. The pool water is kept absolutely pure by the use of chemicals. The water is tested every hour and chemicals added if the chemical content is not sufficient. Persons interested in sponsoring parties at the pool are invited to contact Mr. Hinger. Such parties may be held after 9 o'clock at night. A 20 per cent discount, or a group rate, on tickets was announced by Mr. Hinger. This applies to Scout troops or any other group which buys season tickets or swim tickets. Swimmers this season agree that the water is warm enough for even the most pleyainish, and that the new boiler, new pump and filter systems are working better than they have since the pool first opened. No swimmers have complained that the water is too cold.

Dan Moody Scoffs At Utilizing Of 'Hillbilly' Band

AUSTIN, June 4 (AP)—Former Governor Dan Moody said today that if he ran for the governorship this year he would not have a "hillbilly band." "That's a good way to sell snake oil," he grinned, chatting with Capitol press correspondents. Answering questions, he said he was getting "lots" of reaction to the move of friends who filed his name last week as a gubernatorial candidate. Many letters and telegrams are urging him to make the race, he said, but with regard to what he would do he had no statement.

I Heard . . .

Parade Horses Must Be Registered With Gurley This Week

Attention owners of horses who desire to ride in the Top O' Texas Fiesta parade. In order to ride in the parade you must notify F. O. Gurley, 110 North Russell street, this week. Mr. Gurley will also sign horses to be used in the Coronado Entrada to be presented each night at Recreation park. Mr. Gurley urges those who plan to ride in the parade to also allow their horses to be used in the Entrada. "It isn't compulsory that horses in the parade must be used in the Entrada but we would like to have every horse in both events," Mr. Gurley said. "We are going to need 150 horses in the Entrada and to date we have less than 50 registered. Don't wait until the last minute to register, do so now. This week is positively the deadline." "Horses will be well taken care of during the celebration," Mr. Gurley said.

Boys Needing Sponsors Asked To See Judge

Boys who want to enter the Pampa News-Lions Club Soap Box derby to be held here July 18-19 and who lack a sponsor were asked today to call on County Judge Sherman White. Judge White is general chairman of the event. Although many Lions members have sponsored boys for the model automobile races, sponsors are not limited to club members. Other Pampans may likewise sponsor boys in the races. A crowd of 54 boys had a fine time last night at Central park, when a party was held for derby entrants. The boys asked questions concerning the races and were answered in talks made by Frank Culbertson, general committee member. R. J. Hagan, sponsor committee chairman, Joe Burrow and Jim Edwards. Ice cream was served to the boys and to several of the sponsors who attended. Received at the office of the county judge today was the M. E. Coyte trophy to be awarded the winner of the local derby. On the base is a plate inscribed: "M. E. Coyte Trophy, award to city champion, Pampa Texas Soap Box Derby, 1940." A model automobile racer, with driver, is at the top of the trophy, which is a globe stamped with the Chevrolet trade mark and the Soap Box derby shield. Circling the globe is a band inscribed "the greatest amateur racing event in the world."

War Flashes

LONDON, June 4 (AP)—War Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons today the government was considering transporting interned aliens and prisoners of war to places remote from the British Isles in order to prevent their possible cooperation with German aircraft or parachute troops. ROME, June 4 (AP)—Premier Mussolini's cabinet approved today a series of measures to prepare the nation for war, but left unanswered the question when Italy would enter the European conflict at Germany's side. In an anxiously awaited 90-minute session, with Il Duce presiding, the ministers moved to extend war preparations to Italy's African empire, to strengthen the navy and lighten discipline in the war industries.

Proposed Act Will Bolster Monroe Edict

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—Secretary Hull announced today that "I heartily" approve a resolution declaring the United States would not recognize or acquiesce in transfer of any western hemisphere region from one non-American power to another. The secretary of state made the statement in a letter to Chairman Bloom (D-N. Y.) of the house foreign affairs committee. Bloom made the letter public after the committee had discussed the resolution for two hours without taking any action. "The proposed resolution," Hull's letter said, "is based squarely upon the idea of full respect for established sovereignties. It would not interfere in any way with continuance of equality of commerce and trade for all nations of the world in their relations with the countries of the American continents." The resolution was introduced yesterday by Bloom and by Chairman Pittman (D-News) of the senate foreign relations committee. It would, in effect, declare to all foreign powers that the United States officially disapproved any change in the political status of western hemisphere nations or dependencies as a result of the developments of the European war. The house committee was called together today to approve the bill. Rep. Fish of New York, the ranking Republican member, announced his support. Italy Rumored To Be At War In Week

ROME, June 4 (AP)—Speculation on the date of Italy's plunge into war ranged today from the end of the week to June 15. Premier Mussolini's cabinet stamped an okay on undisclosed plans for war. One source close to the government said no move to step into the conflict was likely in the immediate future. But Italy was ready.

Pampans Urged To Join Entrada Cast Tonight Either As Soldiers Or Indians

Harvester Grid Team To Resume Training

Coach Odus Mitchell today announced that spring football training will be resumed tonight at the high school gym at 7:30 o'clock. He announced that every member of the 1940 squad should be on hand at that time. The 1940 football players will do their training at night this week and next as Indians in Coronado's army, and Coach Mitchell said, they will get plenty of practice in dodging, kicking and running when the Indians clash with Coronado's army. There'll likely be some blocking, too, he said. And there's where the exes come in. Coach Mitchell has invited the exes to be soldiers. "Then," said he, "the battle should be interesting." Today Coach announced that he had already seen half of the football team and had advised them to be on hand tonight and tomorrow night. At that time, Coach Mitchell will advise them when to come back. Today he had Bill Arthur, backfield prospect, notifying the boys. All exes who are interested in accepting the challenge of the Harvesters are invited to attend. Coach Mitchell was also trying to round up 200 youths and men to play the role of Indians and soldiers, and anybody who would like to be in the cast should report at the gym.

How many of the 14 candidates for congressman of the 18th district will remain in the race now that Marvin Jones has decided to seek renomination was the principal topic of discussion here today. Congressman Jones was appointed judge of the federal claims court a few months ago. After considerable delay he left the impression, locally at least, that he would accept the appointment. But recently it was rumored that President Roosevelt would ask him to seek reelection rather than that accept the appointment, which he did yesterday, according to Jones. Deskman Wells, Wellington publisher, said he would make a statement after he had asked Congressman Jones three questions: 1. Has he rejected the appointment to the court of claims? 2. Is he certain in his own mind that he is a candidate? 3. Will he serve out his entire term if nominated and elected?

Naval Air Force To Have 10,000 Planes

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—The senate approved legislation today authorizing expansion of the naval air force to 10,000 planes, manned by 16,000 pilots, and providing for the establishment of a defensive ring of naval air bases around the United States. The measure goes back to the house for action on senate changes, chief of which put a ceiling of 10,000 planes on the air force. Estimated cost of the program, to be met by future appropriations, was estimated at $2,250,000,000 by the Senate. The committee said it would require $1,150,000,000 to acquire sufficient planes to reach the 10,000 mark and $90,000,000 to train additional pilots. The navy now has on hand $1813 planes, with 933 on order and funds available to purchase 146 more. The total number of available pilots was set at 2,958.

Yale President Favors Allowing Yanks To Enlist

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 4 (AP)—President Charles Seymour of Yale, stressing that the triumph of Germany "would not merely threaten our material security but would endanger the highest ideal of mankind," urged today that Americans be permitted to enlist in French and British forces. Seymour asserted in a speech prepared for delivery before the New Haven Rotary club, that "in this struggle for human freedom we ought to contribute just so far as our resources permit."

British, French Admit Capture Of Channel Port

(By The Associated Press) German capture of the Allies' "escape" port of Dunkerque with 40,000 prisoners and "a vast amount of booty"—ending at last the bloody battle of Flanders—was announced today by the Nazi high command. The fall of Dunkerque, which was admitted in London and Paris, gives Hitler's conquering legions complete mastery of the entire French and Belgian coast on the English channel as far south as the Somme river. Only a few hours earlier, London reported the evacuation of Allied troops trapped in Flanders had been virtually completed against terrific odds on Monday. The highly important French port of LeHavre was dotted with fires set by incendiary bombs in a new series of raids by Nazi bombing planes today. Paris reported eleven girls were killed at a girls' school just outside Paris—four "literally blown to pieces" in yesterday's mass air raid on the French capital.

Germans Will Find Nothing, French Boast

PARIS, June 4 (AP)—Allied forces entrenched in shell-battered Dunkerque have destroyed all war material which cannot be removed, a semi official news agency reported today. "When the Germans enter," the report added, "they will find nothing." All other ports along the French-Belgian coast, the agency added, had been "rendered unusable" before the departure of the allied troops. The entrance to Nieuport harbor was cited as an example. Here two barges loaded with cement were sunk to block the way. War material at Dunkerque was declared destroyed on the spot. The semi-official agency TeleFrance added that when the Germans finally enter the city "we will not be there any longer." Describing the evacuations as "the most difficult in history," the agency added that 222 warships and transports and 655 auxiliary vessels participated in the embarkations. The government acknowledged today that airdromes, factories and railroads had been damaged in the German air raid on Paris yesterday, and authorized sources conceded that the attack was aimed at military objectives. Military officials said that while bombs had been dropped in "haphazard fashion," killing 45 civilians and wounding 200, it appeared there had been no "deliberate" attack on the city itself. Therefore, it was said, the French

Canada may be used as a base for the British empire's fight against Germany—in the event of a Nazi conquest of England. It was indicated today by Prime Minister Churchill who told the house of commons: "We shall never surrender!" "And even if this island or even a part of it is subjugated, then our empire across the seas, armed and guarded by the British fleet, will carry on the struggle until in God's good time the new world in all its strength and might sets forth to the rescue and liberation of the old." Canada would be the nearest point to the conflict among the empire's dominions and colonies. Churchill told a wildly cheering commons that a fleet of 1,000 Allied ships rescued 335,000 French and British soldiers in the great retreat from the bloody battle of Flanders.

SERIAL STORY

AN EYE FOR A GAL BY HARRY HARRISON KROLL

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Rossy McAfee comes to Lincoln College, determined to play ball, and the success of his father and get a new education. A girl on skates runs into him. Later, talking to Coach Hurd, he discovers she is Judy Tollivar, daughter of President Tollivar, who was killed by a mob.

CHAPTER II

"BOY oh boy!" Coach Hurd repeated. "Is Judy Tollivar some she-child? Now, son," he nodded to Rossy McAfee, "I'll show you around a little, and after that we'll go to your home. You'll like it at Doc Tollivar's. Fine man, Prexy is. Mighty interested in our athletic teams. Baseball especially. That's his favorite game."

"Er, did he ever play baseball, reckon?" the lank mountain youth inquired, as they made a round of the gym. He tried to keep cutting out of his voice as he listened to all the coach said about the athletic program, about the basketball team now being his problem child.

Coach Hurd gave him a look. "Maybe. Maybe not. How should I know? He never said anything about it if he did. Why?" he demanded.

"I—I just wondered," Rossy said confusedly.

Coach Hurd bored him with a look that Rossy was to learn had hot iron in it. "You said something a while ago that's got me puzzled. About all Tollivars, whether their name is spelled with an a or e, being rascals—"

"I was just palaverin'," Rossy hastened to say. "I open my jaw and things run out sometimes." "But about that baseball game in Hell'n-Damnation when your father got hit with a bean ball and killed. Was that true?"

"I never meant nothing by that." "Well, if that's the way you mean to mean nothing, then you'd better be careful when you do mean something, for you might let something drop out of your mouth that would get you into trouble."

"I'll be careful," McAfee mumbled. "You'd better be, for you sounded as if you meant the thing was done on purpose; in other words, your dad was murdered in a baseball game; and by a Tollivar. That sort of talk is all right in the back hallers if you're of a mind to back-it up with ambushes; but down here we aim to be civilized, and it won't go."

"I say that to you now in all frankness and friendliness, because now you're in college you want to go about getting educated—and in more things than books—"

"Shore, shore!" Rossy agreed glibly. "So leave the hill feudin' to the hills, and start even here. I keep telling you Dr. Tollivar is another breed of pups. He didn't come from that mob of killers back of Hell'n-Damnation."

"Certain not," Rossy McAfee said. "Hub!" Coach Hurd muttered, and nodded for the young mountaineer to come along. He carried his grip and bag across the campus and crossed the street from the administration building and girls' dormitory to the square large brick house where Dr. Tollivar lived.

"The young man's room is ready," a matronly maid said, as Coach Hurd and Rossy knocked and entered. "This way."

Once in the small but clean and warm room, the coach said, "You just make yourself at home."

WITHIN a few days Rossy McAfee was settled in his new home. It was not easy for him to acquire comfort in his new surroundings. He was accustomed to a hard, bare mountain house. He was accustomed to seeing his mother tote water from the spring. Running water scared him in some curious way. He used to sleep on a corded bed. An inner spring mattress, with two sheets, made him want to spread his lankness on the bare floor and take it hard. But an unused bed would have created suspicion, so he toughed it out—and liked it.

He watched Dr. Tollivar warily. Always he searched for clues to the man's former life, the possibility the college president could have been the same person who pitched the bean-ball that killed Rossy's father. But all he saw was a portly, kindly man who could not possibly have been in the hated Tollivar.

Judy was just as sweet and fine as she could be. She was always trying to make Rossy feel at home; and he found himself watching her, even making up opportunities to observe her when she would not know he was about.

She was a dream. A dream of athletic poetry. Rossy had seen tall young poplars in mountain storms wave with the same grace that was hers. He had known rose blooms that had the manner of this girl. With no consent of his own, something was changing in him.

Once they were alone in his room. Judy stood and examined the picture of Hannah, a smile hovering at her dimples.

"To Rossy, my sweetheart," she read on the back of the photograph. "So that's the way of it!" she said, shaking a finger playfully at him.

"Ah, that don't mean nothing—specially," Rossy denied, his face hot as a flatiron.

"I see it doesn't!" she teased him.

JUDY helped him to register, when the day came for matriculation. Coach Hurd started the young ball player off on his job as janitor.

"It's the only way we have of subsidizing our athletes," the coach said. "Sweep that floor good, bub!"

Registration was over that late afternoon. The campus now was alive with young people, as Rossy had pictured it in his anticipations. Everything seemed so crowded and noisy he was annoyed and worried. Too many folks to suit him. Nor were they all hill-billies. Actually Rossy seemed about the only real, dyed-in-the-wool hillbilly on the campus.

Everywhere he went students stared at him. He caught some of them only half hiding their grins. He wanted to kick someone. That evening he ate little supper and hurried to his room to nurse his anger and humiliation in private.

He was startled half out of his wits at a shrill, determined female voice, that was like something familiar crying out of a dream one has dreamed many times.

"Yes, sir, I said to myself if Rossy McAfee could come to college, so could I, and I come! And here I am!"

Dr. Tollivar and Judy and the visitor were all down in the big front room. Rossy opened and shut his mouth. He darted through his door and went and stood just out of view at the head of the stairs. His eyes got round and strange. The tableau down there froze everything in him.

"I'm Hannah Shrider," the girl said, and waited, almost defiant. "Don't reckon you ever heard of me."

"Why, yes, we have," Judy said, and Rossy knew she was hiding her amusement.

Hannah Shrider, holding her grips in her hands, made a stride toward the center of the room. She was lost in a thick wool coat of homemade stuff, and heavy shoes and wool fascinator, of home weave. Nothing of her natural shapeliness was apparent.

Her face, out of this mass of wrappings, seemed sharp-featured rather than pretty, as Rossy knew it to be. And she was riding on her nerve. Her voice was strident, loud, and not the musical alto he knew at the all-day singing in the hill church.

"Yes, sir," Hannah was saying again. "I said to myself if Rossy McAfee had wit enough to come to college and git book education, then so could I, for I got as much sense as him any day. I told maw that, I told my maw that. So here I am. If you taken Rossy in and bedded and fedded him, I allow you will me."

Food Supplies Available For War-Torn Europe

By FRANKLIN MULLIN

CHICAGO, June 4 (AP)—The western hemisphere, traditionally the world's foodbasket, appeared today to be capable of sending huge food supplies to war-torn Europe. The inventory of the Americas' food reservoirs show that they are unusually well stocked and better prepared than 25 years ago to help feed Europe's war refugees. Millions of bushels of surplus wheat, the basic food, are available. Other grain supplies are sufficient to meet any unusual foreign demand and meat supplies apparently are plentiful.

Whether the relief work would reach reach World War refugees is a matter of conjecture among food merchants and exporters who sought answers to such questions as:

How rapidly will demand for food from Europe expand, if at all? How will relief work be done, by whom and under what financial arrangements.

Some clues were seen in the arrangement with the department of agriculture whereby the American Red Cross can obtain some surplus foods at about half the market cost. Government steps to make loans on grain callable on demand for any emergency, thereby giving it control over large supplies, also were cited, along with recent British purchases of 50,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat, enough for three months normal supply.

Exporters said the extent of abnormal foreign use of western hemi-

Wagner Labor Act Amendments Forced Before House Today

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—Advocates of revising the Wagner labor act forced the long-standing question of amendments before the house today, even though chances for final congressional action at this session appeared to be remote.

A group headed by Representatives Smith (D-Va.), Cox (D-Ga.), Rountzoh (R-Ohio) and Halleck (R-Ind.) insisted that the members go on record on two sets of revisions. They agreed with supporters of the law, however, that the senate would pigeonhole any changes approved by the house. "The house is for major changes in the act and the labor board and wants a chance to express itself," Cox said.

But Chairman Norton (D-N. J.) of the labor committee and many administration leaders said the house would be wasting three or four days in debate.

Smith, chairman of a special committee investigating the labor board, is supporting 17 amendments based on creation of a new board, separation of the agency's administrative and judicial functions, and new safeguards for employers and existing labor unions. They were approved by him, Halleck and Rountzoh but denounced by the other two committee members—Representatives Healey (D-Mass.) and Murdock (D-Utah).

Mrs. Norton and a majority of her labor committee are supporting five amendments centered on the addition of two members to the present three-man board.

Nazis Claim Fort Seized In Dunkerque

(By The Associated Press) BERLIN, June 4 (AP)—Nazi troops have entered Dunkerque and captured one of its forts, the Germans high command reported today, as the Nazi air force, back from an "experimental" bombing of the Paris region, waited orders to strike again—in conjunction with a great land offensive which most Germans expect to start in the west any day.

Puncture of the Allied rear guard defending the withdrawal from the German pocket in Flanders was achieved in hard fighting, the high command acknowledged.

"The fight for Dunkerque is nearing its end," the communique declared. "Our troops penetrated into the town and captured Fort Lewis from the desperately fighting enemy. House-to-house fighting is still going on with French troops whose task it was to protect the flight of the British soldiers to their vessels."

The German air raids yesterday destroyed between 300 and 400 Allied planes in hangars and on airfields in addition to shooting down 104, the communique reported, superseding an earlier announcement.

The German fliers, swarming over all kinds of war planes, caught the French unaware "and in attacks at high and low altitudes... obtain the strongest effect on ports and industrial establishments of the French air force," the communique said.

"Numerous fires and explosions were observed," it said.

Despite the scope of the German air assault, the high command said only nine German planes were missing. It said Allied night raids on Holland and southern and western Germany met with success "just as small as hitherto."

While getting set for the next blow, Germany took extraordinary steps in an effort to convince the United States that she has not desired to see the western hemisphere in the war and that she is taking unusual measures to avoid even accidental affront to America.

The foreign office formally warned the governments of the United States, Mexico and Panama that "British agents" have been dispatched to Central America in large numbers to "manufacture" evidence which would create an impression the Reich is launching an ambitious program to weaken America.

The three American nations were advised that the British agents would spread false stories of German machinations in Mexico and Nazi plots to sabotage the Panama Canal.

Germany repeated warnings of alleged British plans to sink the United States liners President Roosevelt, Washington and Manhattan under circumstances which would make the Germans appear guilty. The liners are taking American citizens home from the European war zone.

Civilian Bombing Denied Recent operations of the Nazi air force over France, included yesterday's raid on the Paris area and week-end bombings of industrial centers in the Rhone valley, increased the average German confidence in the striking power of this arm of the service.

Military authorities said the raid on Paris had been aimed solely at military objectives—primarily airports near the city—and repeated denials of French assertions that the capital itself had been bombed.

The German presumption was that any damage done in Paris was caused by French anti-aircraft shells.

DNB, the official German news agency, reported that British planes had bombed a railway bridge and highway near the French channel port of Gravelines, while they were being used by a throng of French prisoners and civilian refugees.

More than 30 persons, all French, were killed, DNB said.

First Ballots Will Be Listed June 17

Gray county politics are due to warm up within the next two weeks, with the Gray County Democratic Executive committee due to meet on June 17 to draw names for placing on the ballot of the first Democratic primary to be held July 27. Scientist Meeting Held At Mother Church In Boston

BOSTON, Mass., June 4—An appeal for calm and more faith in the omnipotence of God in the face of present world turmoil, featured the gathering here yesterday of thousands of Christian Scientists from all over the world for the annual meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

"Trusting in the omnipotence of God," said Harry C. Browne, First Reader of The Mother Church in reading a message from The Christian Science Board of Directors, "enables one, through demonstration, to enjoy the freedom of thought resulting from the unfolding of the characteristics of divine Mind as expressed by Christ Jesus."

"Becoming cognizant of the true idea about anything, exposes its suppositional opposite as a lie.

Therefore, when the true idea of man's relationship to God is universally expressed, misunderstandings between men and nations will vanish.

"The divine Mind is in reality the only power; therefore nothing can resist the manifestation of righteousness. With regard to the necessary human footsteps, which our Leader, Mary Baker Eddy, says are indispensable in meeting problems, it is also imperative to look to the divine Mind for guidance and wisdom to supply the impetus to do all things in a right way and at the right time."

Mrs. Margaret Murney Glenn Matters, C. S. B. of New York, daughter of the late Major General Edwin F. Glenn, of the United States Army, was elected President of The Mother Church to succeed George Shaw Cook, C. S. B., of Brookline, Mass. Edward L. Ripley of Brookline and Ezra W. Palmer of Marshfield were re-elected treasurer and clerk, respectively. The chief duty of the president is to serve as presiding officer at the annual meeting.

Concentration Camps In U. S. Seen By Psychologist

CHICAGO, June 4 (AP)—A college psychologist asserted today that anti-fifth column activities in the United States might result in establishment of concentration camps.

Dr. Robert N. McMurry of the Chicago Central Y. M. C. A. college, said in an interview that such activities could assume the proportions of "national hysteria."

"I venture the prediction," he said, "that before this hysteria runs its course you are likely to see the worst witch hunt in American history—and possibly the establishment of concentration camps.

"Reason is stopped. Logic goes down the rat hole."

Dr. McMurry said fifth columnists should be curbed but that it should be done by the Federal Bureau of Investigation or "other constituted authorities," and not by "self-constituted groups or individuals."
