

Hitler Warns England 'World Empire' And Churchill Will Be Destroyed

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
BERLIN, July 19 (AP)—(By trans-Atlantic telephone)—Fuehrer Adolf Hitler speaking before the Reichstag tonight addressed "one more appeal to reason in England," warning that "a world empire would be destroyed" if England insists on continuing the Pampa.

Hitler emphasized he was not asking peace in the voice of a victor demanding capitulation of the vanquished but rather as a victor proposing a reasonable peace. He said that "British statesmen apparently have no conception" of the destruction which would be visited on England if Churchill continues to demand a fight to the finish.

"But one thing is sure," he exclaimed, "Churchill will be left in that case to attempt the rehabilitation of Britain. The people left behind in London" after the great assault, he explained, would have ideas entirely different from those of Churchill and his colleagues.

Touching on Russo-German relations the Fuehrer emphasized that these have been "fixed once and for all by a clear delineation of interests." Recalling his previous efforts to conciliate England, Hitler said his policy of European reorganization had been based on a two-fold aim: Similar friendship with Italy and a similar relationship with England.

It "would have been a boon" to the world if England had accepted, he said. The Fuehrer did not say definitely what he expected Churchill to do in response to his peace offer to England, but he left no doubt that any peace would be on German terms.

Hitler began speaking at 7:05 p. m. after the Reichstag had risen in honor to the German and Italian war dead.

London would have quite a different conception than that of a government which had fled to Canada. "Once more I will attempt to be a prophet," said Hitler, prophesying that "entire worlds will be destroyed" unless England listened to "reason."

26 Soap Box Races Will Be Run Tonight ROOSEVELT ACCEPTS 'CALL TO SERVICE'

Fastest Car Entered By Mark Bratton

Larry Simmons' Car Also Makes Good Time

It's Waterloo, the Marine, York town and the Indianapolis Speedway all rolled into one tonight—Pampa's Derby Downs where the city championship and runners-up in classes A and B will be determined in the final night of the Pampa News-Lions Club Soap Box derby.

Races will start at 8 o'clock. Seats in the grandstand will be available free to all boys who lost in the races last night. Entertainment before the race will be provided in comedy acts presented by two Pampans and the contestants' parade.

Last night a crowd of 500 persons thrilled to the spills, the close finishes, and the "coming from behind" contests, in which 66 boys participated.

Best time was made by Mark Bratton, runner-up in last year's derby. Bratton scooted down the course in 45.3-5 seconds, then bested that time in the race between winners of class A heats, at 44.1-5. Larry Simmons, another hero with a time of 45.0, was second.

Time of the contestants in the 1939 derby was 47.5 seconds in the model automobile races last night, and the time is expected to be cut down 3 or 4 seconds below that figure tonight.

Spectators got a thrill right at the start of races last night, when David Graham, driving car 56, in heat 3, was spilled when a pin came loose from his steering gear. Graham's helmet saved him from head injuries. He suffered only a skinned shoulder, was given first aid attention immediately.

Life's Uncertainty Plants Fearful "If" In Youth's Path

By RUTH MILLETT

It seems a long time since young men and the girls they loved had only one thing to worry about—how to manage marriage without years of waiting.

Then it seemed like a big problem. The man and the girl talked a lot about "if" and "or," and "or" for themselves, coming of age in a world with too few jobs and too few opportunities for the young and eager.

IT DOESN'T SEEM

SO BAD, NOW

Now that problem is dwarfed. Looking back it seems that the young people of even five years ago were carefree. What if they did have to wait a few years for marriage? What if the boy was slow and often discouraging? They could see each other, even if they couldn't marry, and they could scheme and plan, believing that their day would come.

The picture is different now. When young people talk today it is not in complaining tones of the lack of business opportunity. It is in quiet tones of the tragedy they are witnessing across the sea, and the possibility that war may change their own lives and plans.

THEIR WORLD SEEMS UNSTABLE

Not one of them feels any kind of security. Not one feels like making any plans for the future. Everything is prefaced by "If."

Young people today are existing—not living. They can't live with the great "If" always in their minds. The "If" has to be slow and sure the world settles down again to plan and talk in short terms—not in years.

While the "If" is part of their lives, the road ahead looks like a dead-end street.

MODERN MENUS

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Rhubarb used in strawberry conserve extends the bulk at lower cost. And, it not only adds some of its own desirable flavor to the conserve, but brings out the flavor of the more expensive strawberries and allows that flavor to predominate. In the recipe given below, oranges are used, too, as well as nuts to make the recipe more interesting. Cut oranges in slices not more than 1/4 inch thick, and cut strawberries crosswise in slices not more than 1/4 inch thick.

Strawberry, Orange and Rhubarb Conserve
(Nine half-pint jars)

Two tablespoons dried currants, 2 oranges, 2 cups water, 4 cups (1 1/2 lbs.) prepared strawberries, 2 cups (1/2 lb.) prepared rhubarb, 8 cups (3 1/2 lbs.) sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup coarsely chopped nuts (optional).

Cover currants with hot water and stand about 15 minutes. Drain. Scrub oranges, cut in quarters, remove seeds and all coarse membranes. Cut crosswise in very thin slices. Simmer, covered in water until peel is very tender.

Wash about 1 1/2 quarts strawberries. Drain, remove hulls and slice. Measure into large preserving kettle. Wash rhubarb; peel if not young and tender. Cut in 1/2-inch pieces. Measure. Add rhubarb, sugar, oranges and salt to strawberries. Cook slowly until sugar is dissolved and mixture boils, stirring constantly.

Boil rapidly until clear and desired consistency is reached, stirring frequently. Add currants and nuts; bring to a boil. Skim. Pour into clean, hot, sterilized jars or glasses and seal at once.

Strawberry, Rhubarb and Fresh Pineapple Jam
(Six half-pint jars)

One cup (1/2 lb.) prepared fresh pineapple, 2 cups (1/2 lb.) prepared rhubarb, 5 cups (2 1/2 lbs.) prepared strawberries, 5 cups (2 1/2 lbs.) sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Pare and slice about 1/2 of a medium, fully ripe pineapple. Remove core and "eyes," grind, using medium-coarse knife of food chopper. Measure. Simmer, covered, until tender, stirring occasionally. Wash rhubarb; peel if not young and tender. Cut in 1/2 inch pieces. Measure. Wash about 2 quarts strawberries. Drain, remove hulls and slice. Measure into large preserving kettle. Add pineapple, rhubarb, sugar, and salt. Cook slowly until sugar is dissolved and mixture boils, stirring constantly. Boil rapidly until clear and desired consistency is reached, stirring frequently. Skim. Pour into clean, hot, sterilized jars or glasses and seal at once.

ROOSEVELT

The convention chairman, put the motion. His decision was that it had been carried by more than two-thirds of the delegates.

After President Roosevelt's address, the convention adjourned sine die at 12:05 a. m. Central Standard time.

The dramatic peak of the evening was reached when McNutt, who had instructed that his name not be placed in nomination, shouldered his way to the speaker's stand.

He had leaped from his seat and started for the platform when Don Welch, an Oklahoma delegate, offered his name. The crowd was going wild.

McNutt clutched Barkley's arm with a hand that trembled. They talked earnestly; McNutt shook his head.

The instant Welch concluded, McNutt was at the lectern, his face pale. He shook his head while the cheers climbed up to lose themselves among the flag-draped steel rafters.

State standards came nodding past in a parade. The organ pealed. Barkley plucked it with a wave, and sledged away with his big gavel. Each rap brought a wave of cheers. McNutt waived for silence but got bedlam.

"Stay with 'em, Paul" and "go get it, Paul" urged the crowd. But he shook his head and strove again to be heard. He held his ground, and he and Barkley together fought down the noise.

"We cannot take chances now; a nation only gets one chance these days," McNutt shouted. "If it makes a mistake it is lost. We must have leaders who will keep this country safe and free."

"We have such a leader in Franklin Delano Roosevelt. I follow his wishes and am here to support his choice for vice president."

Again the crowd yelled: "No—no." "I therefore ask emphatically that my name be withdrawn, and I pledge my enthusiastic support to the nominee who is being selected on this historic occasion," he concluded.

The crowd groaned as he turned away to struggle through the tangle of men and women on the platform. Mrs. Roosevelt had risen in the tumult, and took two quick steps toward him. Others clasped McNutt by the hand, and he stood with his back to the first lady. He turned quickly when he learned she was there. She took his hand in both of her own and shook it vigorously.

Jesse H. Jones of Texas, federal loan administrator, had withdrawn his own name, too, when it was presented. Alvin S. Rayburn of Texas had prevailed on his state delegation not to present his name after learning Mr. Roosevelt's wish for Wallace.

This left Bankhead as the chief rallying point for any opposition to Wallace when the balloting started. Cheers welcomed any acquisition to the Bankhead standard.

Frequent boos greeted Wallace votes. Men who came forward to second the Wallace nomination got boos.

Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois withdrew his own name when it was offered and seconded Wallace.

"We ought to follow Roosevelt," he urged.

"No—no" yelled back the crowd. Senator Prentiss Brown of Michigan withdrew his own name and urged Wallace's nomination in the face of a somewhat similar demonstration.

The nomination itself went through chiefly on the big votes from the populous states, plus many votes from the middle western and western farm states. Most of the southern votes went to Bankhead.

At the end of the roll call, Senator John H. Bankhead, brother of the speaker, came up to withdraw him as a candidate and move that the nomination be made unanimous. Amid groans and "noes" from some southern delegates, the motion went across.

The stadium was in an uproar of catcalls, yells and cheers when the nominating speeches were finished.

Before the roll call began, Barkley rapped for order, got little of it, and introduced Mrs. Roosevelt in the midst of the tumult. She spoke in a grave voice, so softly that the crowd grew still to hear.

"We people of the United States have got to realize that we face now a grave and serious situation," she said.

"This year a candidate for President of the United States who is the President cannot make a campaign in the usual sense of the word. He must be on his job."

"So each and every one of you who give him this responsibility, in giving it to him assume yourselves a very great responsibility because you will have to make the campaign."

"You must have to rise above considerations which are narrow and partisan."

"We cannot tell from day to day what may come."

Two of her sons, Elliott and Franklin, sat with her on the platform and she held a long talk with Edward J. Flynn, Jr., the Bronx Democratic leader.

Flynn and Senator James Byrnes of South Carolina, along with other administration men, were busy passing from delegation to delegation, spreading the word that Mr. Roosevelt would not accept unless Wallace were given him as a running mate.

When the presidential acceptance speech did come on, the crowd was still. There was one rustle of applause, which quickly died as Mr. Roosevelt's voice ploughed straight through it. A light played upon a big picture of the President at the end of the stadium.

"I find myself as almost everyone does sooner or later in his lifetime in a conflict between deep personal desire for retirement on the one hand and that quiet, invisible thing called conscience on the other," Mr. Roosevelt said, speaking from the white house.

When he was elected for a second term in 1936, he went on, "it was my firm intention to turn over the responsibilities of government to other hands at the end of my term."

"That conviction remained with me," he added. "Eight years in the presidency, following a period of black depression and covering one world crisis after another normally entitle any man to the relaxation which comes from honorable retirement."

The President said that when the war broke out last fall, it still was his intention to announce simply and clearly, at an early date, "that under no conditions would I accept reelection."

"This fact was well known to my friends, and I think was understood by many citizens," he said.

"It soon became evident, however, that such a public statement on my part would be unwise from the point of view of sheer public interest."

"As President of the United States, it was my duty, with the aid of congress, to preserve our neutrality, to shape our program of defense to meet rapid changes, to keep our domestic affairs adjusted to shifting world conditions, and to sustain the policy of the good neighbor."

He traced the course of national defense plans and told how the international situation had developed.

"Every day that passed called for the postponement of personal plans and partisan debate until the latest possible moment," he said.

"The normal conditions under which I would have made public declaration of my personal desires were gone."

"Thinking solely of the national good and of the international scene, I came to the reluctant conclusion that such declaration should not be made before the national convention. It was accordingly made to you within an hour after the permanent organization of the convention."

"Like any other man, I am complimented by the honor you have done me. But I know you will understand the spirit in which I say that no call of party alone would prevail upon me to accept the reelection to the presidency."

He spoke on the developing defense plans, related that numerous persons helping to work them out had put "patriotism above all else" at his call to serve.

"Today all private plans, all private lives have been repealed by an over-riding public danger," he said, and added:

"Those are the reasons why I have to admit to myself and now to state to you that my conscience will not let me turn my back on a call to service."

U. S. Holding Up Mexican Oil Deal

MEXICO CITY, July 19 (AP)—Mexico was reported today to have virtually completed negotiations for construction of an oil pipeline to facilitate sale of petroleum to Japan, but the deal was said to be bogging on the objection of the United States department to participation of a New York construction firm.

The pipeline would run across the Isthmus of Tehantepec from Puerto Mexico on the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific port of Salinas Cruz. It would carry 40,000 barrels of oil daily from the gulf fields, for sale principally to Japan but also for a Mexican drive to open up markets on South America's west coast.

This would put Mexico in direct competition with California oil wells. Washington's attitude appeared to present a definite hitch in the plan. The state department is said to frown on participation of the American company because of the present unstable character of Japanese-American relations.

For this reason, informed quarters are uncertain whether the contract eventually will be signed.

Equality Of Whites And Negroes Aim Of Reds, Says Dies

BEAUMONT, July 19 (AP)—Absolute social equality of negroes and white persons, including permission of intermarriage, was pictured to the Dies committee today as an aim of the Communist party.

Communists planned to allow negroes to govern those areas in which their population was predominant, the committee was told.

John Leech of Portland, Ore., the witness, said he learned details of the plan while he was one of the party leaders in California a few years ago. He was ousted from the party in 1937, he previously had testified.

Leech said it was one of the absolute requirements of the Los Angeles branch of the party that negroes be on an equal social footing with whites. He said members of the two races mingled at dances, parties and other social functions, as well as at meetings.

Battleships Control Shipping In Suez

By WILLIAM J. HUMPHREYS
LONDON, July 19. (AP)—Britain's eastern Mediterranean fleet has become, in effect, the board of directors of the vital Suez Canal.

'LAST CHANCE'

Planes trying to land troops on English soil.
While British defenders crossed preparations to greet any rushed Channel invasion, Hitler's high command reported new aerial attacks on British shipping and military barracks.

Claiming "great success," the Nazi communiqué asserted the German air force had bombed and sunk a submarine and four merchant ships totaling 12,000 to 14,000 tons, with 12 other merchant ships badly damaged.
A German U-boat sank 31,000 tons of shipping, the communiqué said, while another undersea raider "succeeded in shooting" a large armed steamer out of a heavily-guarded convoy.

The Italian high command said the planes which yesterday bombed Gibraltar were Italian aircraft which flew a round-trip distance of 2,000 miles to carry out the raiding.
Possible signs of an impending attack in force on Britain's Mediterranean fortress of Gibraltar appeared in heavier bombings and reports by Americans that thousands of unarmored, openly armed German soldiers had flooded into Spain.

A day after Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain declared he had 2,000,000 fighting men ready to back Spain's claim to Gibraltar and African expansion, Americans arriving in New York from the Spanish peninsula told last night of seeing large numbers of Nazi troops threatening Spanish cities, fully equipped and with armored cars.
As delegates from the American republics headed for Havana to study issues of the war and continental defense, Cuba's president-elect Batista warned against discussed moves to establish protectorates over possessions of European powers in the western hemisphere.
He suggested independence for them.

In the Far East, the Japanese foreign office spokesman declared Japan's desire for friendship with the United States would continue even through her new totalitarian-type government strengthening relations with Germany and Italy.
A British offer of good offices looking toward a settlement of the Chinese-Japanese war was given a cold shoulder.

"At this moment we are not welcoming offers of good offices of third parties," said the foreign office spokesman, Yukihiro Suma.

Germany Threaten To Torture Dutch

AMSTERDAM (Via Berlin), July 19. (AP)—A German spokesman declared tonight that "authorities request to be obliged to act" in connection with alleged mistreatment of Germans in the Dutch East and West Indies.
"East and West Indian authorities are responsible," he said.
"They don't understand how Europeans in the colonies have to be treated and don't appreciate the good treatment," (by Germany) of Dutch war prisoners.
The spokesman intimated that German action would be in the form of reprisals in Holland against certain persons well known in overseas possessions.

Wallace Nomination Praised By Jones

WASHINGTON, July 19. (AP)—Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the House Agriculture committee said today the vice presidential nomination of Secretary Wallace at the Democratic national convention was "a tribute to the importance of agriculture in our national life."
"Thirty per cent of our people are farmers," Jones said in a statement. "Frequently they have been overlooked in connection with party honors and key positions. I am glad that a man whose work has been identified with American agriculture has been selected."

DERBY

Pampa derby champion, paraded down the course in front of the grandstand, while the band played, directed by A. C. Cox.

Due to Sheriff Cal Rose's car, which was being flagged as it cruised down the course ahead of the first two racers, no time was counted on Dee Griffin and Dual Lee Brown. The racers were not flagged, and the timekeepers had no way of knowing the speed.
Later Griffin was clocked at 48.1-5 in the first class A winners heat, in a race with Willis Stark.

Keeping the crowds off the course, warning spectators of the dangers of electric light wires strung along the Downs, asking persons to refrain from crossing the road—these and other safety admonitions were repeated many times by Carl Benefiel, announcer.
Texas Highway patrolmen J. C. Reese and Charles Ballard, Sheriff Rose, and Police Chief John Wilkinson were on hand to aid in safety precautions.

KPDN carried a broadcast of the races, voiced by Ken Bennett.
Results of Thursday night's races were as follows: All names of racers of Pampa, unless otherwise noted.)

Driver, car number, winner, and time in seconds in order named.

Frankie Yates, 5, Richard Dodson, 13, in hotly contested race, won by Yates, 47. The "jimx" worked on the loser, Dodson's car overturning at the finish.
Mark Bratton, 8, Grover Crocker, 14, Bratton in 45.3-5. Bratton was runnerup in the 1939 derby here. He crossed the line last night 100 feet ahead of Crocker.

Soap Box Derby Theme Of Meeting

Final Preparation for The Pampa News-Lions Club Soap Box derby occupied most of the program of the Pampa Lions club at their regular weekly luncheon at noon Thursday.
In the absence of Joe Burrow, president, Carl Benefiel, vice-president, was in charge of the program. Attendance at the luncheon was 50, including three visitors, Dave Turcotte of Miami, P. D. Phillips, Midland, and H. L. Wilder, Jr., Rockmart, Ga.

Comecho Promises Unity

MEXICO CITY, July 19. (AP)—General Manuel Avila Camacho, proclaimed president-elect by the government, said today he would "do all in my conscience and principles permit to obtain fraternal unity of all Mexicans."
He added that the "legitimate triumphs" of supporters of his independent opponents, General Juan Andreu Alvarado, will be respected but no presidential salute with violence will be accepted.

British Admiral Held as Pro-Nazi

Britain's drive against potential Fifth Columnists caused the arrest of retired Admiral Sir Barry Domville, above, and his wife, Admiral Domville, former head of Naval Intelligence, had close German ties, having twice been Adolf Hitler's guest. He headed The Link, British organization to promote Anglo-Nazi friendship.

Maybe the smile that wreathed the face of Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas at Democratic National Convention in Chicago is prophetic. He's frequently mentioned as dark horse candidate for Democratic Vice-Presidential nomination.

Scarlet Fever Case Reported

First case of scarlet fever in the city this year was reported today by Dr. R. Malcolm Brown, city health officer, who ordered the family quarantined.
At the same time Dr. Brown issued a warning to parents of children to call the family physician if any member of the family complains of fever, sore throat or rash.
Pampa has been extremely fortunate this year. A few cases of measles and one or two cases of mumps are the only known contagious diseases in the city this year.

SADLER

clared. "That was the time a select few decided to shut down the gas field, the carbon black plants and the casinghead plants. But they didn't get away with their scheme."
Sadler spent several minutes reading from the congressional journal notes from O'Daniel messages to the legislature favoring the passage of a sales tax. "The most infamous tax ever thought up by man" as Sadler described it.

"Hidden Ball Play"
Jim Ferguson's gross tax bill was raked over the coals by Sadler who remarked that his young friend John Kimbrough called it a "hidden ball play."
"I oppose a sales tax in any form and if elected governor I'll veto every sales tax bill that comes before me," Sadler declared in closing. "I stand for taxation on ability to pay. I will recommend to the legislature that a tax of 2 1/2 cents be added to oil, one cent per 1,000 feet to gas, and 22 cents per ton on sulphur, which would bring new revenue of $23,255,000 to the state."

Troop Trains Will Rumble Next Month

WASHINGTON, July 19. (AP)—Troop trains will rumble down American railroads next month, carrying 132,909 National Guard and regular army officers and men to maneuvers in the four army areas.
While only a few thousand more than a third of the 305,000 troops will be transported by rail, it will take 466 special trains with 3,112 coaches and 1,324 baggage cars to carry them. There also will be 46 sleeping cars, 247 stock cars, 54 box cars and 407 flat cars.
The rest of the troops will be moved by motor.

Of the 250 islands in the Fiji group, only one-third are inhabited.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 19. (AP)—A two-cent decline in wheat prices today, which represents the new crop, gave the entire grain market a spurt of strength just before the Hitler speech started today but quotations later eased fractionally from the session's highs.
Wheat closed 1/2 cent higher than yesterday, July 7 1/4-1/2, Sept. 7 1/4-1/2; Corn 1 1/4-1/2; Soybeans 1 1/4-1/2; Oats 1 1/4-1/2.

PAMPA WHEAT

Wheat was up one cent today, local elevators quote a cent a bushel. Cutting in the Panhandle has been completed.

HITLER WARNS

"I know it will be England," he asserted.
Hitler said that England's efforts to disturb the relationship between Germany and Russia—based on a "clear delineation of spheres of interest"—were "doomed to failure."
He added sarcastically: "The British statesmen always see so much more slowly... Perhaps they'll see this in due time."
Germany's pre-war program, Hitler said, was "two-fold: Real friendship with Italy and 'a similar relationship' with Great Britain.
With Italy he succeeded, he went on. It would have been a boon for both nations, he declared, had Britain and Germany come to a similar understanding.
With that kind of an arrangement, he said, there could have been "a new life for Europe."

But if the Fuehrer fails in this lightning victory—then he not only will want the help of his ally to pursue the attack but, what is more to the point, Italy likely will be in grave danger of defeat.
Therefore, the logical axis strategy would seem to be to try to crack Britain's grip on the Mediterranean either before or simultaneously with the invasion of Britain.
Thus far I have hardly answered this bombardment... but when my answer comes it will be terrible for millions of people.
Churchill should for a change believe me this once... a world empire will then be destroyed.
Millions of German men, Hitler said, are "yearning to take part in the final battle against the enemy"—even mothers who have made sacrifices once before are willing to sacrifice the last.
Hitler said Churchill might regard his "appeal to reason" as a sign of fear. But he added: "I have relieved my conscience toward the things that will then come... that is, if this last appeal to reason is unheeded by England."

FDR Selected 'True Friend' Of Farmers

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—The Democratic convention scene that preceded the vice presidential nomination of Henry A. Wallace was as stormy as some of the controversies which have swirled about the secretary of Agriculture since he entered the cabinet in 1933.

It was a modest appearing, professor-like son of the cornbelt who heard boos as well as cheers echo through the convention hall at the mention of his name. He has heard them both before.

Friends said his new role came to him as a surprise—that when he came here as a delegate from his native Iowa, he had no inkling that he would be nominated as President Roosevelt's own choice. Iowa delegates, however, had been planning to offer his name.

Wallace may have a heavy share of the Democrats' national campaigning. Definite plans await his formal notification of nomination, at a date to be set.

Associates said the secretary probably would concentrate speech-making in pivotal midwestern and far western agricultural states. He has as his Republican opponent, Senator Charles McNary of Oregon, a man whom Wallace himself has praised as a "true friend" of farmers. McNary in turn described the democratic nominee as a "good friend and an excellent choice."

Government farm policies which Wallace has administered have brought both praise and criticism. In the public mind his name has been associated with crop control programs, under which farmers reduced production and received more than $3,500,000,000 in government subsidies since 1933.

These programs brought from critics the charge that Wallace was attempting to establish a "regulated agriculture." Wallace contended that the programs were "Democratic" in spirit and administration, and were designed to put farmers on a place of economic equality with industry and labor.

Wallace will be 52 years old on October 7. He holds a cabinet post occupied by his father, Henry Cantwell Wallace, under Republican Presidents Harding and Coolidge. The present secretary originally was a Republican.

Wallace has few interests outside his work. His recreation is limited to walks, throwing boomerangs and an occasional visit to a corn field where he can "get the feel of the blades again." He and Mrs. Wallace, the former Ilo Brown of Indianapolis, Iowa, take little part in capital social activities.

Filed in 31st district court recently was a compensation case styled R. F. Romack vs. U. S. Employers' Insurance corporation. Action is based on an injury allegedly suffered by the plaintiff while unloading a carload of pipe on March 20, 1940, while in the employ of the Small Pipe Line company. Compensation at $18.58 a week for 150 weeks, interest at 6 per cent on accrued compensation, and nullification of an IAB award of July 1, are asked.

Today is the final date for candidates to file second campaign expense reports. County Clerk Charlie Thut has advised. Only three candidates had filed reports up to Wednesday afternoon. Filing of second reports started Monday.

A total of 200 absentee ballots have been cast to date in the Democratic primary election. Applications have been mailed out to an additional 108 voters from the office of the county clerk. Absentee voting started July 7, will end next Wednesday.

Club Plans Big Welcome For Worley

"We're going to give Gene Worley the biggest welcome next Wednesday night any candidate for any office ever received in Pampa," declared Joe Nelson, Carl Story and Helen Dudley, members of the Mr. Worley Goes To Washington club, this morning.

"Mr. Worley himself will be here and will make a speech," announced Robert Addington, another member. "And Pampa people are going to see that Mr. Worley is the best speaker in the race. We are all yelling for Gene Worley just like we'd yell for the Harvesters."

"We are not only going to have out our band and the full membership of our club but we are going to have out the 2,000 parents of our members who are supporting Mr. Worley," Addington said.

A band concert of approximately 20 minutes will precede the program, it was said. Addington and Nelson invited all musicians in the city to play in the band for that evening. Those wishing to play in the band are asked to call Addington at 1519-J.

Speakers on the program will include Jack Johnson and Helen Dudley. A group will sing the Worley campaign song, it was announced.

"Everywhere we go Helen Dudley steals the show," said Story. "Last night at Canyon she got twice as much applause as any other speaker, and the same thing happened at Dalhart Wednesday night. She's a sensation on the platform and the whole Panhandle is talking about her. We want the people of Pampa to hear the best campaigner in the Panhandle next Wednesday night."

William Jarrel Smith, Pampa attorney, will preside at the rally.

The club has campaigned this week at Borger, Miami, Wheeler, Dalhart and Canyon, and next Monday night will go to Panhandle, and to Amarillo Tuesday night to the all-Panhandle rally at Butler field. They will take their full band to Amarillo, Nelson and Addington said.

"They told us at Borger, Miami, and Canadian that we had the biggest political rally crowds of the season in those places," said Addington.

Fan For Pigs
TOPEKA, Kas., July 19 (AP)—Marcus Woodring, 6-year-old son of the former secretary of war, viewed his first farm windmill.

Then, relates his mother, the former Helen Coolidge of Massachusetts, Marcus exclaimed: "Mama, isn't it nice we have an electric fan to keep the pigs cool?"

Italian Cruiser Sunk

LONDON, July 19 (AP)—The Italian cruiser Bartolomeo Colleoni has been sunk in the Mediterranean by the cruiser Sydney of the Australian navy, it was announced today by the British admiralty.

The Bartolomeo Colleoni was the first Italian cruiser reported lost in the European war, although Italy has acknowledged lesser naval losses.

"AW-W-RIGHT! I'LL BITE... WHAT IS AN OCTANE?"

Do I really and truly wanna know? ... Nope! Betcha you don't, either.

"Betcha all this talk about new gasolines and octanes makes you yawn, too. Whadda us consumers care how many octanes there's in a gasoline?"

"What we wanna know is: How many miles to the gallon? ... Yes sirl and how much zip and power? ... And how about knocks on hills and heavy pulls?"

Little man, you're right from start to finish. Be as skeptical as you like about the anti-knock claims for new gasolines.

But remember, at every Orange and Black 66 Shield, you get at regular price

Phillips 66

Phill-up with Phillips for Greater Mileage

a gasoline which gives you practically the same anti-knock performance for which you previously had to pay two cents extra per gallon.

So judge by results, and we believe you will certainly feel that difference with your first tankful of NEW Phillips 66 Poly Gas. Driver after driver says that it's the greatest self-demonstrating gasoline he has ever used.

Your engine may not be missing, but you won't know what you may be missing in extra power, pick-up, and mileage, until you try a tankful of the new, high anti-knock Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

SERIAL STORY FLYING CO-ED

BY MARY KINNAVEY MOORE

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Georgette and Dick meet Tony and Anne at the license bureau...

CHAPTER V

FIVE small planes were on the line, their yellow wings and fuselages bright and shining in the sunlight...

"How do they look to you today?" Georgette asked.

"They seem incredibly tiny in comparison to the liners that are built at Uncle Arnold's factory."

"Yes, they are small, but so easy to handle," Georgette ignored Anne's reference to the elopement.

"The so-and of the motor is sweeter to me than any bird song I know," Georgette's voice was full of enthusiasm.

"Don't be too optimistic about it."

"Well, if you do learn to fly, you'll give your Uncle Arnold a thrill he never hoped to have."

"You'll like Dick as an instructor," Georgette protested loyally.

"Here he comes. You're scheduled for flight instruction under him this afternoon."

"There was a moment of awkwardness."

"Well, are you all set?" Dick asked. Anne nodded.

A MECHANIC helped Anne into one door of the cockpit as her instructor climbed in at the other.

As Anne and Captain Douglas settled comfortably into the seats, Dick explained: "This will be a familiarization flight only, but there are a few things that we can do, that must always be done, and the first of these is the fastening of your safety belt."

He helped Anne adjust and fasten the broad web belt, continuing his instruction: "Always see that the belt fits snugly and is securely fastened, even though the engine is only to be run with the wheels chocked."

"The seat must be adjusted so that you can reach and use the controls easily and comfortably without stretching, and so that you can see well."

As he talked, Dick adjusted the seat for Anne, so that her feet could rest easily on the rudder bars and her fingers lightly grasp the stick.

"You drive a car, and you probably drive entirely relaxed and at ease"—Dick's voice gave Anne a feeling of confidence—"and that is how we hope you'll fly."

Anne, always alert and apt, was watching her instructor as he demonstrated both the position of hands and of feet.

"I think I understand," she said. "You'll have your initial work on instruments in the classroom."

Dick went on, "but today, I'll tell you of them briefly and then when we are in the air they will show you what the plane is doing."

There were not so many more of them than in a car.

"You'll soon know them all, and what they have to tell you," Dick encouraged her.

"I'm sticking to this flying. I'll be a pilot—or bust!" Anne promised.

a perfect day—ideal flying conditions.

He called to the mechanic, "All right, ready," and the mechanic raised his hand to the prop.

"This is the ignition switch, which must be in the 'off' position between the swings of the prop."

"Contact!"

"Always," Dick told Anne, "the position of your ignition key is of prime importance when the prop is being swung to start your motor."

Thirty minutes later, Dick brought the plane down in a perfect three-point landing, and Anne felt that she had learned more about flying in that short half hour than in hours of being a passenger, and of hearing her uncle talk planes with his friends.

"Thank you," she said to Dick, quietly and almost meekly, as he turned his attention to his next pupil.

She was exhilarated and excited when she met Georgette coming from her lecture.

"I'm sticking to this flying. I'll be a pilot—or bust!" Anne promised.

'Home Guards' Considered By War Department

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Creation of state "home guards" to provide local defense in event of total or partial national guard mobilization was reported today under war department consideration.

Authoritative sources envisioned the possibility that men disqualified for active combat duty because of age, physical defects, family and job responsibilities might be organized into "shotgun brigades" to replace the regular militia.

Although the war department gave no confirmation to the reports, it was known that the army has been studying the "civilian protection" problem for some time and has drawn up comprehensive measures for emergency mobilization.

Several authorities pointed out that the police powers normally exercised by the national guard would remain the responsibility of the states and that they might be charged with creating home defense units, under war department supervision.

Home defense training on a national scale for men between 18 and 21 and between 45 and 65 is contemplated in the pending Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill, which the war department has endorsed in general.

Under that bill, the 21-45 group would be liable to combat training, but men with dependents and with jobs vital to defense might be exempted.

Anticipating mobilization of the guard for active service many states already are weeding out of their militia units all men in the lower enlisted ranks who have dependents, and it was thought likely that men with vital jobs also may be dismissed eventually.

Historical Project Started in Hemphill

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS CANADIAN, July 19 — Winnie Davis Hale, district supervisor for the WPA historical project, spent today here lining up workers for research into Hemphill county history.

This work is the outgrowth of an idea and plan formulated by Dr. L. P. Shetty of the history department at West Texas State college, Canyon.

The collected material is to be placed permanently in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum, Canyon, where it will be available to students for college theses and to writers doing research work.

Records of the commissioners' court during the first several years following the organization of the county are to be copied verbatim. Three people are to be assigned for this task, the work to be carefully checked to insure accuracy.

Biographical sketches of pioneers, those settling here prior to 1900, will be secured as complete as possible. A history of the churches and one of the schools will also be written. Mrs. Hale returned to Perryton last night. Similar research is being carried on under her supervision in four counties simultaneously. Three months, perhaps four, will be required to complete the work in Hemphill county.

Truck And Boat Controversy Continues In Governor's Race

(By The Associated Press)

A truck and a boat are providing leading issues in the Texas gubernatorial race.

The truck is being used by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel in his campaign for reelection.

Opponents claim it cost $15,000 and former State Senator T. H. McGregor suggested that the governor might have disqualified himself in accepting the truck as a gift.

O'Daniel said the truck was registered in the name of the flour company owned by the family, that his son, Pat, signed a note for $500 as part-payment and that it would be turned back to the dealer and become a second hand truck "to haul cotton" when the campaign was over.

The boat figures in a controversy between the governor and the state game commission.

O'Daniel replied to the commission's statement that his sons, Pat and Mike, had utilized a game commission boat at Lake Buchanan by declaring that if the young men had ridden in the game warden's boat "I don't know about it."

An affidavit by Game Warden John Taylor at Austin yesterday said that on five occasions the state boat had been reserved for the use of Governor O'Daniel or his family by a man who said he was Reuben Williams, the governor's secretary.

A. E. Wood, chairman of the state Game, Fish and Oyster commission, made public Taylor's statement in the form of an affidavit and at the same time denied a "statement" by Gov. O'Daniel to the effect that the commission tried to get him to take a trip on one of their boats and failing to do this did the next best thing and invited his two sons.

Bearded Cyclone Davis of Dallas, who aspires to the governorship, was at Austin yesterday, while O'Daniel was swinging through East Texas.

Davis, speaking on the capitol steps, said the governor had sought to intimidate the legislature and that O'Daniel "had run off to East Texas" to avoid answering a challenge to appear and defend himself.

Harry Hines, speaking at Tyler, urged a solution of the tenant farmer problem.

Col. Ernest O. Thompson, speaking at Silsbee and Port Arthur, said the governor "was on the run and grasping at straws."

Jerry Sadler, speaking in Central Texas, attacked mudslinging candidates, declaring that a person "who resorts to mud-slinging while campaigning will not be able to stop when elected."

Former Governor James E. Ferguson, speaking in behalf of his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, forecast a victory.

16-Family Tenement In Scotland Struck By Explosive Bomb

LONDON, July 19 (AP)—The British army insists it has enough guns and munitions to defend its island fortress, but military men emphasized today the necessity for vast stores of war materials if Britain is to be the sally port for an offensive which "will win the war."

The German air raids continued today after night attacks in which the heaviest damage was done in an unnamed southeastern Scottish city. A 16-family tenement was struck, but casualties were described as "very light" in view of a direct hit by a high explosive bomb.

Yesterday's raids took a toll of at least six lives while one bomber was reported shot down.

Looking beyond the battle for Britain, the army foresees "the day" when its troops will launch a counter-attack against Germany.

For this blow, British and neutral military men declare, the army must be supported not only by the output of Britain's own factories and armaments but by every gun, bullet, shell, tank and plane that can be bought from the United States.

"At present," one officer said, "we are confident we have enough to hold Britain if need be."

It is clear the army's feeling that the war may be settled in battle on the European continent.

This has been taken by all three fighting services as the keynote of their determination "to settle accounts," as a naval officer expressed it, "for Dunkerque, Narvik and our toll in civilian lives and homes from bombing."

Texans Bruised In Battle Over State Standards

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—Several Texas delegates to the Democratic national convention nursed bruises today, as the result of a struggle for possession of the state standards during a demonstration for President Roosevelt.

It was all a misunderstanding, said E. B. Germany, campaign manager for Vice President Garner. Some of the Garner boosters thought a nomination-by-acclamation movement was getting underway, and were determined to stop it.

A dozen policemen restored order, but not before the placards bearing the name of the state had been torn from their standards.

A parade through the convention hall aisles began last night at the first mention of Mr. Roosevelt's name in a speech by Senator Barkley of Kentucky, permanent chairman of the convention.

Representative Sam Rayburn, chairman of the Texas delegation, said the demonstration was "simply a tribute to a great American, the leader of our party for eight years," and told the delegates around him to join it.

Joe Steadham, Fort Worth, grabbed one of the standards and headed for the parade. J. F. Logan, Fort Arthur, and M. W. Glaspy, Ennis, took the other and started after Steadham.

A score of delegates were in pursuit immediately, some eager to get into the demonstration, others equally eager to keep the Texas banners out of it. Ed Clark, former secretary of state, clambered over three rows of seats trying to get into the march, only to be pushed down and held by three other Texans.

Dick Tullis and Claude V. Birkhead of San Antonio managed to take the first banner from Steadham, but not without breaking it.

Standing on a seat and shouting protests at Steadham and the other demonstrators was Earl Crowley, Fort Worth, former solicitor general of the postoffice department. Crowley said he favored renomination of Mr. Roosevelt, but the Texas delegation was pledged to Garner and ought to stay out of Roosevelt demonstrations.

In the scramble over the standards, Mrs. G. Ward Moody of Odessa, wife of the delegate, had her hands on one of them for a moment when a California delegate tried to seize it. The banner was torn, and Mrs. Moody went down. But she jumped up shouting "we don't mind getting knocked down—we're tough."

French Protest Petain Regime

PARIS, July 19—(Via Berlin)—A rising chorus of protests against the new French regime of aged Marshal Philippe Petain is keeping Paris stirred up politically.

"A new situation requires new men," cried the newspaper Les Dernieres Nouvelles De Paris. "We demand them."

The new publication La France Au Travail took the same stand.

It directed sharp criticism at the political past of ministers in Petain's authoritarian government, especially Vice Premier Pierre Laval, and called for delay in establishing a new constitution until the "situation" becomes stabilized.

Petain's government is understood to be negotiating with German authorities for a return to Paris from the temporary capital at Vichy.

In general, Parisian business is returning to normal, although German military police have assumed rigid control of all highway traffic through French territory under Nazi occupation, where only persons with special passes now may travel.

Reopening of Paris banks today ended a month-long financial paralysis of the city.

The Paris Bourse was expected to re-open soon.
