HURRICANE TOLL HUGE

HOUSE MUST FIND QUORUM IN AFTERNOON

Acree Control Group to Submit Reduction of One-Third — Long Plan Still In Issue.

TAX TOPIC ALIVE

Representatives Ask Sterling to Submit Subject of Income Levy — Senate Votes Itself Pav.

AUSTIN, Sept. 11. (AP)—By a vote of 55 to 46 the house today refused to instruct its special committee handling cotton acreage control bills to vote back two bills one to embody the long no-cotton plan, and the other to provide for cotton acreage reduction.

Many members regarded this as a test vote since it generally was understood the committee had tentatively agreed on the Olsen bill that would restrict cotton acreage to one-third the cultivated area.

Should the committee report the Olsen bill, a motion to substitute the long plan for it will be made. Proponents of the cotton holiday stated.

By the vote the committee was given authority to recommend to the committee of the whole whatever bill it deemed advisable.

AUSTIN, Sept. 11. (AP)—The Texas house of representatives was placed under adjournment today to obtain a quorum to decide whether the house should adjourn until Monday, adjourn until tomorrow or require its committee handling the cotton acreage control bills to make a report this afternoon.

There was confusion when Rep. A. P. Johnson, chairman of the committee handling the acreage control bills, asked for more time in which to confer on several points touching the constitutionality of the bill upon which the committee tentatively had agreed.

A motion that the committee be granted until Monday to make its report was made. Before it could be put another motion that it be required to report at 2 p. m. today was made.

No vote was taken on either motion and before they could be put a motion to adjourn until Monday morning was made.

Rush for Doors
The vote on this motion failed to show a quorum and a call of the house was made. It was followed by a wild scramble of members for the exits.

Phil Clemmens, veteran door-keeper, assumed an injured hand when one of the members, named past him and knocked his hand against the door. Clemmens had tried to stop the stampede for the doors.

The house was placed under call and the sergeant-at-arms instructed to bring in all members in the city who were not ill.

It was impossible to obtain a quorum immediately. Members who remained in the house were permitted to go to lunch after being placed on their honor to return at 2 o'clock.

Sergeants-at-arms meanwhile were scouring the city in an effort to round up the absentees.

For Olsen Measure
Johnson told his house the committee had tentatively agreed and could make its report by 2 o'clock. It was learned the committee report would recommend passage of the Olsen bill restricting the planting of cotton to one-third the cultivated land.

Johnson indicated the committee might also report on the Gilbert cotton holiday bill. Several members having evinced a desire to choose between the two proposals.

The vote taken on adjournment until Monday showed 97 members present. A substantial majority favored adjournment to Monday. Under the rules the house can adjourn only from day to day without a quorum.

Johnson said he had been advised by the attorney general's department that no opinion as to the constitutionality of the bill could be drafted within less than 30 days.

This liked members who favored action immediately.

Church Rows Over Texan

National Guardsmen Patrol Jonesboro, Ark., After Disorders Yesterday.

JONESBORO, Ark., Sept. 11. (AP)—Troops today patrolled the streets of the little northern Arkansas town in the interest of law and order as a result of a division among members of its First Baptist church. The center of the controversy was the Rev. Joe Jeffers, a 33-year-old evangelist, slight of stature and bent of the First Baptist church. Dr. D. H. Heard, with unbecoming conduct while he occupied a charge at Big Springs, Texas.

Wednesday night the evangelist led a throng of 500 men to the jail here to demand release of George Cox Jr., arrested after a fight at the First Baptist church where a "sanctification" service for Dr. Heard was held and charges against him denied.

Cox was released and a hearing was scheduled on Wednesday. While waiting for the hearing the evangelist and his followers asked permission to hold a prayer on the lawn of the city hall and it was finally granted. Jeffers, however, included in his prayer a supplication for a bolt of lightning to strike Mayor Bosler who had denied the evangelist permission to hold a meeting at the city hall other than at a moment of prayer.

Mayor Bosler interrupted him in the confusion that followed, a follower of the evangelist threw the mayor to the ground and was subdued by police.

The disorder led to a request by civil authorities that Governor Parr declare martial law. Two companies of national guardsmen were ordered out but martial law was not declared.

The evangelist renewed his attack on Dr. Heard at services last night. The services ended quietly. In them the evangelist declared he believed it his duty to "denounce the false prophets of Jonesboro."

Jeffers remained in Jonesboro, former state legislator, and Gordon Crenshaw, deacon, who recently made an airplane trip to Big Spring and obtained affidavits denying Jeffers' charges.

The Little Theater presented several popular plays here last winter and was an unusually active organization. Mrs. Hessey was elected president of the organization at the close of last season.

Plans for the coming season will be discussed and made. Mr. Hessey emphasized this morning that others besides present members are invited to attend the meeting. Every one interested in the presentation of dramas "rather than the Harley Sadler type of play" was invited to come.

Event Next Year Will Find Program Much Enlarged in Every Department.
For a beginning, the Gray County Free fair is a credit to its sponsors and to the farmers of the community. This opinion was expressed by Suppl. C. H. Walker and Geo. W. Briggs, secretary of the chamber of commerce, this morning.

"We feel confident in saying that the fair has made a successful comeback," Mr. Briggs said. "Of course next year's fair will be much better. It takes more than a year for citizenship to become fair-minded."

Pampa went to see the fair this morning. Yesterday, most of the visitors were rural citizens, farmers and their families came back today, but most of those standing before the booths and exhibits this morning were Pampans.

GANDHI WILL BEARD BRITISH LION IN LAIR

India's Saint Is Proud to Wear "Minus Fours" on Trip to Conference at London; Is Mendicant.

STILL IS AUSTERE

Non-Violence Continues to Be His Policy; Daughter of English Admiral Opposes Strange Position.

By JAMES A. MILLS
Associated Press Staff Writer
MARSEILLES, France, Sept. 11. (AP)—When Mahatma Gandhi set foot on France's shores today he had completed a 6,000-mile boat trip to board the British lion on his own behalf and had "pun enough yarn"—it was said to reach around the world.

As he walked down the gangplank in his scant lion cloth, with Miss Madeline Slade, his disciple at his heels, his lack of attire was a revelation to the blasé French people, who seemed to feel that even a saint should wear more clothing.

The appearance of India's mystical leader in non-violent fight for independence was made even more grotesque by a non-descript collection of pots, pans, and a spinning wheel dangling at his side. He hardly looked the figure upon which it is agreed the fate of the second round table conference depends.

Has a Lip
But he soon dispated whatever prejudice existed against him because of his weird appearance by casting an infectious smile upon those who seemed to regard him as a fanatic. He submitted gracefully to a volley of questions from French journalists, who had, with a grasping of his quaint Biblical English, resounded in a hissing voice.

The Mahatma looked a bit haggard and anxious for he had lain awake all night in anticipation of the great mission facing him at London. Although he ate considerably more food and had more sleep aboard ship than in India, he added only two ounces to his scant 95 pounds of weight.

Throughout the fortnight's voyage he pursued the same austere life as at home, ignoring the constant deck sports, dancing, card playing, and drinking going on around him. He slept day and night on the deck as peacefully as a child.

When asked by a French customs inspector whether he had anything to declare, Gandhi answered: "Poor Mendicant."

"I am a poor mendicant. All my earthly possessions consist of these spinning wheels, some dishes, a can of goat's milk, six home spun linens, a towel, and my reputation, which can't be worth much."

Have you any cigarettes, cigars, alcohol, firearms, or narcotic?" was asked.

DIAMOND C LOSES DRESSES

Shoplifters took six expensive dresses from the Diamond C Dry Goods company yesterday. Employees believe the thieves were members of a clever gang of shoplifters.

The dresses were hanging on hooks when the store opened yesterday morning. Last night, they were missing. Employees were not suspicious of any visitors to the store yesterday. They were as watchful as usual they said. Their theory is that they would have detected the theft if one person had stolen the dresses at one time or at intervals during the day. They believe that members of a gang visited the store, each taking a dress.

City officers are investigating the theft.

THOUSAND QUARTS OF NITRO EXPLODES SOUTH OF BORGER

Thirty Plate Glass Windows Broken; Shock Is Felt as Far as Skellytown.

BORGER, Sept. 11. (AP)—Explosion of 1,000 quarts of nitro glycerine today at the American Glycerine company magazine one mile south of Borger, Tex., violently shook the city and shattered numerous windows. Cause of the blast had not been determined. Investigators were trying to learn whether anyone was injured.

Three other storage magazines in the vicinity were not affected. Omer Russell, manager of the American Glycerine company, said the value of the nitro glycerine which exploded was approximately $3,500.

The two wooden buildings in which the glycerine was stored were splintered.

The explosion was felt as far away as Skellytown, 16 miles from Borger.

It was estimated that over 30 plate glass windows in the Borger business district were shattered. The nitro glycerine explosion near Borger today was the second similar blast in Texas within the past three days. On Wednesday virtually all of Dallas county was shaken by the explosion of dynamite and powder in a magazine six miles south of Dallas. No one was injured seriously, but numerous plate glass windows were shattered and other property damaged.

White Deer Firm Robbed

Electric Company Is Heavy Loser; $400 in Cash and $250 in Checks.

Burglars broke into the White Deer office of the Southwestern Public Service company some time last night and robbed the company safe of approximately $600 in cash and $250 in checks.

No suspects had been arrested at noon, but officers in all nearby towns had been notified. Details of the burglary were lacking at the local office of the company and at the sheriff's department. Pampa merchants were advised to be on the lookout for the missing checks by the Pampa Business Men's association. Descriptions of the checks were received by the sheriff's department.

W. H. Curry, district manager of the Southwestern Public Service company left for White Deer soon after he was informed of the burglary. The White Deer manager accompanied him to Amarillo where an extensive investigation is underway.

Local officers connected the burglary with a safe-cracking job at Amarillo last night where burglars looted the high school safe of $200 in money and an unestimated amount in checks. The money was received yesterday in payment of student fees.

BELIZE HARD HIT BY WIND LAST EVENING

Half of Honduran Capital In Ruins, 150 Dead and Communications Destroyed Over Wide Area.

AMERICA TO AID

President Hoover Orders Red Cross and Navy Into Action to Help Stricken Country to South.

By the Associated Press
Mounting reports of death and destruction in Belize, British Honduras, prompted the American government today to order naval vessels to speed to the Central American country on an errand of mercy.

Estimates of the dead at Belize ranged from 150 to 200. A report to the state department at Washington said the town had been devastated and there were hundreds of casualties as a result of a hurricane. Several American priests are dead.

President Hoover ordered the navy to cooperate with the Red Cross in sending medical and other aid.

The mine-sweeper Swan, at nearby Trujillo, was immediately ordered to the area to provide radio communication and relief. Planes will bear stores from Panama.

While relief was being mustered to care for those stricken in Belize, the path of a second hurricane across Porto Rico toward Haiti and the Dominican Republic was being anxiously watched.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Two hundred dead and unestimated property damage were reported today in the wake of two tropical hurricanes that were sweeping in almost opposite directions out of the Caribbean.

The first after lashing Belize, British Honduras, where 200 were reported killed was described as moving into the southern part of the Gulf of Mexico, near Yucatan, with somewhat diminished intensity.

The second had killed one person in San Juan, Porto Rico, caused considerable property damage and cut off communication with the rest of the island. It was sweeping toward Haiti with Santo Domingo, the capital of the Dominican Republic, in its path.

The weather bureau expected it to pass near that city late today.

With communication disrupted by the tropical storms meager reports came from the stricken areas.

Messages Brief
From his office in the Red Cross, the navy department, the weather bureau and through private sources word came of the damage.

The Pan-American Airways offices in Miami were informed that 200 were killed in Belize. Reports to the Tropical Radio company at Boston fixed the number of dead at Belize at 150 with several hundred injured.

One person was killed at Porto Rico; two hundred houses were unroofed and an unestimated amount of other property damage done.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 11. (AP)—R. I. Dutton, general operations manager for Pan-American Airways here, announced today receipt of unconfirmed information from Belize, British Honduras, that 200 persons were killed when a tropical storm swept over the city yesterday.

Dutton said Pan-American Airways today restored radio communication with its Belize station after being cut off since 1:30 p. m. yesterday.

The message, received from the field manager at Belize, said: "Belize devastated by hurricane. All Pan-American personnel safe but 200 dead in town."

Belize is the capital of British Honduras, with a population of approximately 21,000.

Details Lacking
The time the disturbance, apparently of hurricane strength, struck Belize was not determined in early messages. Tropical Radio here was unable to contact its Belize station this morning, although last night the Miami station reported com-

BUSINESS AND THE CONSTITUTION

Next week is Constitution week, and the subject was never more timely. This is a time when both national and state constitutions are being ignored, when the bills of rights are being violated to achieve ends that should be reached through other avenues.

The people are not to be blamed for conditions over which they as individuals have little control. The man who works hard and honestly, producing a good crop or a good day's labor, rightly is dumbfounded when he receives little or nothing for his pains.

The fact is that politics has been so mingled with government-in-business regulation that there are no longer any certainties. Government interference, coupled with ruminous experimentation, has made private business hazardous. The constitution is still the best business guide.

Those in authority blandly inform us that we are suffering because of over-production; that the reason we are naked is because we have too much clothing, that we are hungry because there is too much to eat.

"The empress," says an A. P. report, "was an extravagant, whimsical, child-like creature who adored a lot of laces, ruffles, puffs, and plumes. Her leisurely costumes were too fancy for busy American women. Her skirts were too full to be comfortable. Her shoes were too ridiculously fragile she could wear them but once. Her hats—well, the kind of hats the Empress Eugenie wore demand an immobility of posture that freedom-loving women today refuse to adopt."

PHYSICAL DEFECTS BATTLING THREE R'S; BRING MORE LOW MARKS THAN MENTAL DEFECTS

By F. B. COLTON (Associated Press Science Writer) WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Physical defects probably will bring more low marks to the 27,000,000 American children who will be in school this fall than mental deficiency. Evidence indicates to the U. S. Public Health service that poor eyesight, too little of the right kind of food, and other physical handicaps cause more "D's" and "E's" on report cards than inability to learn.

Between one-fourth and one-third of the children about to enter school will be handicapped by malnutrition, statistics gathered by the U. S. Children's Bureau reveal. Malnutrition means the child is not receiving enough of the proteins, minerals, and vitamins that build bone, muscle, teeth, and brain, and help prevent such childhood diseases as rickets. To be sure of a well balanced diet, children should eat plenty of milk, eggs, meat, vegetables, fruits, and whole cereals. Not all child victims of malnutrition are found in less-well-to-do families, the bureau points out. A child, whose family is able to supply his needs may be eating too little of the foods he requires because his parents are not well informed on dietary matters. Eating too fast, eating too much rich food, too little sleep and rest, lack of exercise may bring on the evils of malnutrition by preventing the child from benefitting from his food, even when of good quality. Children who are not well nourished tire easily, but the teacher may think them lazy. They are likely also to lack mental vigor, not pay attention, and lack the curiosity and alertness that usually are taken as evidence of a "bright" child. The teacher may decide they are slow-witted or ill-behaved. Poor eyesight or hearing make it difficult for a child to study, to see what the teacher writes on the blackboard, or to hear what she says. These handicaps again may mark him down as dull. The Public Health Service advises that such defects as these be remedied before school starts, that children be immunized against diphtheria and vaccinated against smallpox, and that trouble involving teeth, tonsils and adenoids be corrected.

LIVELY GAMES ARE PLAYED AT ANDERSON HOME

A "package party" was the unique event given by the Central Baptist Woman's Missionary society Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. S. L. Anderson. Each person brought a package valued at 50 cents, as well as 50 cents to buy another package. As each guest entered the Anderson home, she was given a comical name, such as His Hindimble, Toby Hardware, or Kitty Kazooter. With "laugh and grow fat" as their slogan, guests joined in all kinds of active games. Then a postman arrived bringing a large sack of packages on which were names corresponding with those pinned to the dresses of the guests. MATHEMATICAL PENNANTS ARE POSSIBLE ANY TIME SOON

CONTENDERS ARE SCARCE IN BIG LOOPS

Leaders Hold Paces Through Victories; Brooklyn Is Beaten; Cubs Win.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer

It seems to be only a matter of time now before the Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Cardinals, leaders of the two major leagues, reach the point where their grips on the 1931 pennants are mathematical certainties. The mortality among the erstwhile contenders has been heavy in the past week or so and today the Cubs have only one possible rival left and the A's two.

The New York Giants kept following the pace set by the National League leaders yesterday, even though they had to put an end to Pittsburgh's recent winning streak to do it, but Brooklyn received its dismissal from the hands of the last place Cincinnati Reds. With all other rivals long since out of it, the Washington Senators and New York Yankees still cling to the faint chance that they will overtake Philadelphia's Athletics although that chance grows slimmer day by day.

Seven games behind, the Giants turned in one of the day's greatest feats as they opened their final tour of the west with a 6 to 1 triumph over Pittsburgh.

No Gain, However

There was no gain registered by the Giants, however, for the St. Louis Cardinals won their fifth in a row, Bill Hallahan, downing the Boston Braves, 7 to 2.

This victory alone would have been enough to end Brooklyn's chances of taking the pennant, but Cincinnati completed the job by downing the Robins 5 to 1. Dizzy Vance waged a close battle with Red Lucas before he retired in the seventh for a pinch hitter with the score 2-1 against him. But Jack Quinn proved easy and the Reds scored three more in the eighth. Clear out of the race through a nine game losing streak, the Chicago Cubs came back to winning form with a bang. With Pat Malone pitching well and helping his own game with a homer, the Cubs downed the Phillies 17 to 4.

The Athletics and Washington again played jut well enough to win a game apiece and hold their places 13 games apart at the head of the American league. They each picked up a half game on the New York Yankees, the other team which has a mathematical chance to win, as the New Yorkers had an off day.

Coast To Win

The A's hammered Wallace Herbert of St. Louis for four runs in the first inning then coasted through to a 6 to 9 triumph. Goose Goslin's homer with two aboard in the sixth brought the only runs off George Earnshaw. The Senators fielded expertly behind Lloyd Brown cutting down Cleveland's scoring chances with four double plays as they downed the Indians 5 to 3. Although Luthis 13-10, they had a safe margin when Cleveland drove Brown to cover in the ninth.

Detroit, aided by some fine pitching by Young Tom Bridges, disturbed the standing a trifle by passing St. Louis to go into fifth place. Bridges shut out the Boston Red Sox with six hits to beat Wilky Moore in a mound duel 3 to 0.

British Fighters Having No Luck -Berg Is Beaten

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. (AP)—Great Britain's leading exponent of the gentle art of fist-cuffing have no luck whatever in their attempts to lift world's titles.

There's Jack (Kid) Berg, the Whitechapel whirlwind, for instance. Berg sought Tony Canzoneri's lightweight diadem and for the second time he went down to decisive defeat, last night.

A slim crowd of 17,000 piled into the polo grounds and watched the sturdy New York Italian hand Berg a terrific beating, cut him badly about the face, floor him twice for counts of nine and do everything but knock him out. At the end there was no question as to the decision, for Canzoneri won ten of the 15 rounds.

Early in the battle it appeared that would not last as long as he did in his first title meeting with Canzoneri in Chicago last April when the Briton was knocked out in three rounds. The fray had barely got under way when Canzoneri sent over a whirling right to the jaw that floored Berg for a nine count. He got up to run into a two-fisted volley of punches that had him reeling at the bell.

Line Is Chief Concern Now at Buffalo Camp

CANYON, Sept. 11. (Special)—With two practice periods, interspersed with lectures, each day the West Texas State Teachers college Buffalo heard is fast rounding into form for the 1931 campaign.

Scarcity of line material is the chief concern of the coaches. Two letter men, Bill McLendon of Clovis and Farris Bass of Post, at center, with D. Phillips, a sophomore with considerable ability from Lockney, seems to care for that position very well.

However, Leo Cooper of Lockney is the only letter man returning for the guard position. Ronald Woolver, Slaton, Lloyd Devin, Tullis, both reserves of last year, are showing up well in practice and should make good men this year.

At tackle, George Manning of Ralls is the only letter man. Ballege is the only other man on the squad that is showing ability at the tackle positions.

Otis Burk, Ralls, is the only letter man at end, although Joe Fortenberry, Happy, is showing promise of making a good wing man, while L. A. Stowe, Lockney, and David Lee, Dalhart, are other candidates for the end positions. Neither of the latter three has been under fire.

In the backfield things look a little better. Captain Raymond Powell, Wellington, "Red" McInnis, Wellington, Howard Williams, Canyon, Robert Clark, Turkey, and Lawrence brothers, Lockney, are all letter men and are exceptionally good. Others working for backfield positions are L. Brit, Canyon; R. McDaniel, Canyon; Jack Spense, Lockney; Guy Richards, Ralls; Clyde Keith, Ralls; Tim Daugherty, Olton; and Lloyd Devin, Tulla.

John Doeg Hailed As Foxy Netter

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 11. (AP)—John Hope Doeg, champion, apparently has been playing fox with this country's leading tennis stars.

Beaten repeatedly in early season tournaments, Doeg staggered through the early rounds of the national championships this week and then suddenly regained his best form to eliminate young Frank Shields, a dangerous contender for his throne in the quarter-finals yesterday.

A blistering service was the chief weapon Doeg employed to blast Shields, from the tournament in four sets by scores of 6-2, 11-9, 4-6, 8-6.

With that triumph, surprising to some experts who somewhat recklessly predicted that Doeg would be lucky to reach the quarter-finals this year, the champion marched in to the semi-finals along with George M. Lott of Philadelphia, Elsworth Vines, Jr., of Pasadena, Calif., and Frederick J. Perry, burly British ace.

As the result of the recent campaign of the department of agriculture Palestine is practically free from locusts.

LONGHORNS, MUSTANGS TO BE CONFERENCE THREATS

Arkansas and Rice Also Will Have Many Lettermen Back in Training.

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

DALLAS, Sept. 11.—Southwest conference football teams, with last year records something to remember or forget, have started 1931 practice at the University of Texas, Southern Methodist University, Texas Christian University, Baylor University, University of Arkansas, A. & M., University of Oklahoma, and Rice Institute. The University of Texas Longhorns, 1930 champions, lifted the barrier with Coach Clyde Littlefield giving sixty-seven athletes the once over. Those who reported to the Longhorn camp for the last time included Capt. Dutch Baumgarten, Andy Brown, John Craig, Lewis Weaver, Wilson Elkins, Walter Doell, Carl Tyson, Walter Howie, Charley Hawn and Bill Hodges. Reporting for their second year of varsity competition were Ernie Koo, Harrison Stafford, and "Ox" Blanton, three 1930 all-conference selections. The Longhorns face five conference games, four intersection combats and a preliminary battle with Simmons university. It is one of the hardest schedules any Longhorn team has tackled.

Mustangs Powerful

With the brilliance of Bob Gilbert, Weldon Mason, Charlie Hearson, Jack McNitt in his backfield, plus the return of Marion Hammon to the line, Coach Ray Morrison's Southern Methodist Mustangs opened practice with confidence they will be powerful conference contenders. Hammon, 1929 all-American selection, was ineligible last year. Forty-nine players reported to Coach Morrison, and their activities will include two workouts a day. Morrison's squad will be composed mostly of lettermen.

Fourteen lettermen in a squad of 40 candidates reported to Coach Fred Thomsen at the University of Arkansas. Lettermen who reported included Capt. Earl Secrest, Earl Darr, W. H. Clark, Jack Robinson, J. L. Erwin, Joe Chambers, J. T. Edmondson, Oliver Holmes, R. Houston and Henry Phillips, all of whom are expected to be first string men. Arkansas will play five hard games on successive Saturdays, and Coach Thomsen is worried about his reserve material. He believes his starting lineup will compare with the conference's best.

Sixty Aggies Out

The maroon and white of Texas A. and M. college floated in the breeze today with sixty players, tested in spring training this year, working in defense of their colors. Coach Matty Bell's squad included 13 lettermen, one for each position except fullback. The Aggies, who failed to win a single conference last year, are out to atone for their five defeats in 1930.

The wizard of deception, Coach Francis Schmidt of Texas Christian at Fort Worth opened practice with 42 candidates. His squad included 15 lettermen and three outstanding conference stars in Beh Boswell, 201 pound tackle; Haris Green, 176 pound fullback; J. W. Hinton, 170 pound quarterback. Schmidt's Frogs who finished third last year, are expected to be one of the strongest teams in this year's conference marathon.

Army at Rice

Coach Jack Meagher at Rice had a young army waiting first drill today. When he arrived off the job, he found 13 ends, 13 halfbacks, 7 fullbacks, 7 quarterbacks, 7 centers, 10 guards and 12 tackles applying for positions on this year's club. The Ows, only team to defeat the champion Longhorns last season, have been ranked by critics as the 11 with an excellent chance to upset the conference dope.

Coach Morley Jennings at Baylor started practice today with line

WHAT MAKES PEOPLE MOODY?

Did you know that our health and our moods are closely related to intestinal cleanliness?

When the system is clogged by constipation, poisons are generated. Often these bring on headaches and listlessness. You feel blue, or become irritable.

The poisons of constipation frequently aggravate nervous troubles, rheumatism, high blood-pressure and heart trouble.

Yet constipation can be overcome by eating a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Two tablespoons daily are guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation.

Try it with milk or cream. Use in cooking too. Recipes on the red-and-green package. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Mustangs Will Practice Twice Daily at Dallas

DALLAS, Sept. 11. (AP)—Coach Ray Morrison's Southern Methodist university Mustangs will hold two practice sessions today to unlimber sore muscles contracted in their first workout of the season yesterday. Where they went on the field yesterday morning minus a captain, the Mustangs will have a leader today. At a meeting of lettermen late yesterday, Alfred Ncey, veteran guard, was elected captain.

Neely is not ranked as an outstanding star, but has been a regular on the line for two years. He is 23 years old and weighs 198 pounds. Before coming to Southern Methodist, he played four years at Tyler high school.

Practice yesterday consisted of fundamentals with pass, throwing and catching coming in for its share of attention.

IRONS IS MEDALIST

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 11. (AP)—Major E. D. Irons of Arlington turned in a score of 73 yesterday to take medal honors among a field of 175 golfers from all sections of Texas competing in the third annual San Angelo County Club Golf tournament.

Bob Scott of Colorado, Texas, is defending champion. Match play begins today.

THREE DAYS NOW IN TEXAS LEAGUE RACE

Beaumont Ends Home Stand by Losing Contest to San Antonio, 1 to 0.

By The Associated Press

Three more days and the Texas league's 1931 pennant marathon will be history. The Beaumont Exporters closed their home season yesterday by losing a 1 to 0 game to San Antonio.

Elongated Tom Estell, spitballer, scattered six Beaumont hits for his victory. Ray Plaskamper's long double, scoring Heath from first, gave the Indians their winning run in the eighth. Luke Hamlin started for Beaumont but gave way to a pinch hitter in the eighth, Green finishing.

Fort Worth and Dallas concluded a three-game series with the Cats making a clean sweep by winning last night, 14 to 0. Leon Chagnon held Dallas to five hits for his nineteenth victory this season. Fort Worth clouted Fuhr, Whitehead, and Adams for 18 hits, and played errorless ball.

Scoring five runs in the eighth inning, the Houston Buffaloes defeated Galveston, 8 to 4. The Buffaloes solved Croner for 15 hits. Hart and Pistol Pete Fowler held

Former Pampa Boys Will Star On Amarillo Team

AMARILLO, Sept. 11. (Special)—Three Pampa football players are on Coach Al Baggett's squad fighting for places on the Badger eleven. Troy Stalls, hefty tackle who tips the scales just above 200, is a letterman from last year and co-captain of the team this year. Stalls has been working most of the summer and getting in condition for this coming season so he is in fine shape for the heavy workouts Baggett hands the boys. Albert Lard, sensational quarter on the last year team of Harvesters, has been working hard for a berth in the backfield. Lard, who was considered one of the best backs in Texas' high school football last year, is clever in handling the ball; he punts and passes well, and moreover he is a hard blocker and tackler.

Dillard Buckingham played his last year of football for Pampa in 1930, when he held down a post as halfback. This year, he has been working out in the fullback post, where he is sure to see plenty of service before the season is over.

Baggett's boys face a tough schedule. The Buccaneers to eight hits. Galveston played erratic ball behind Croner's pitching, committing four errors.

Wichita Falls and Shreveport were idle.

Billy Burke in Big Money Again

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 11. (AP)—The same streak of steady golf that won for him the national open title in July has enabled Billy Burke to add $1,000 to his bankroll—the Lion's share of the purse in the third annual Glens Falls open.

Well back of the leaders after the first two rounds on Wednesday, Burke shot two sizzling rounds of 71 and 69 yesterday to spread eagle the field with 284 for the 72-hole medalist play test.

That aggregate gave the origin champion first prize by the margin of five strokes. Johnny Golden of Noroton, Conn., and McDonald Smith, the veteran Scot from Great Neck, N. Y., finished in a tie for second place and split $1,050.

He will begin this year beginning with a game with the hard-fighting Aggies from Pampa, Tex., and M. on Sept. 12. The Badgers started training on Aug. 31 having held a seven-day training camp before the college opened.

One of French Planes Is Down

LE BOURGET, France, Sept. 11. (AP)—Word from Dusseldorf today said the trans-Atlantic seaplane, Question Mark, in which Paul Coqus and Henry Robida started from here this morning on a flight toward Tokyo had been forced down near that city.

The message said the plane Hyphen II, which took off a few minutes ahead of the Question to fly over the same route, was still going well. Joseph Lebriz, Marcel Dorst, and Rene Mesmin are aboard this ship.

PARIS, Sept. 11. (AP)—Two French planes, one of them a veteran of the trans-Atlantic Airways, left Le Bourget airfield at dawn today in the direction of Tokyo, seeking to wrest the non-stop distance ribbon from America and matching speed with each other.

One was the Hyphen II, manned by Joseph Le Bris, Marcel Dorst and Rene Mesmin, who crashed in Siberia several months ago with the original Hyphen on a similar venture. The other was the Question Mark owned by Major Dieudonne

Toll Rates on Bridge Lowered

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Lower toll rates over the Gainesville Red river bridge between Texas and Oklahoma, near Gainesville, Texas, were ordered today by the war department.

The highway commissions of Texas and Oklahoma had complained that the tolls on the bridge, owned and operated by the Gainesville Red River Bridge company, were unjust and excessive.

A statement by the department today on the basis of financial returns for the bridge said it was "apparent that the bridge company has been receiving an unreasonable return upon its investment."

Coste, which was carrying Paul Coqus and Sergeant Henry Robida. Both crews were on the trail of the 5,000-mile record set by Russell Boardman and John Pflando, American fliers, who flew from New York to Istanbul without a stop in July. Coste and Maurice Bellonte previously held the record with a dash of 4,912 miles into Manchuria.

Identity of Man Is Being Sought

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 11. (AP)—Inquiry was being made here today as to whether the unidentified body found in a hotel room in Belen, N. M., late yesterday afternoon, might be that of John P. Squires of Amarillo, Texas, a salesman for the Rocky Mountain Bank Note company of Denver.

The only clue to identity was found on the inner pocket of the man's coat. It was a tailor's tag with the name "J. Squires" written in pen and ink. Other identification marks had been cut from the clothing. The man had gone to his hotel room without registering.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from an internal hemorrhage, but the district attorney is investigating the case further.

ROB SCOTT WINS
SAN ANGELO, Sept. 11. (AP)—Bob Scott of Colorado came through the first round of the third annual invitation tournament of the San Angelo Country club this afternoon when he defeated James Farr of San Angelo, 3-2, in a hot 18-hole engagement. J. N. Gregory, San Angelo Country club champion, fell before the tight game of Bob Peck of Wichita Falls.

Dr. S. E. Mezes, Educator, Is Dead

AUSTIN, Sept. 11. (AP)—Dr. Sydney E. Mezes, past president of the University of Texas and President Emeritus of the university for the past several years, died at Pasadena, Calif., last night, friends here were informed today.

Dr. Mezes had gone to California for his health from Tucson, Ariz., where he went for his health some time ago.

Dr. Mezes was author of several books, including Mezes' "Ethics" and a number of war papers. At the close of the World War, he went Paris as a member of President Wilson's party and during the peace conference was in charge of research work. He was a brother-in-law of Co. E. M. House.

Dr. Mezes served as professor of philosophy at the university from 1899 to 1904, and then was made dean of the university, serving until 1909. At that time he was elected president and remained in office until about 1914. He was then named president of the College of the City of New York and held that position until his health broke, several years ago.

Pryor Jury Is Still in Argument

WHEELER, Sept. 11. (AP)—The jury deliberating the case of Clarence Pryor, charged with the fatal shooting of his aged father-in-law, Dr. W. W. Guyton of Shamrock, had not arrived at a verdict at noon today.

Taking the case shortly after 10 o'clock last night, the jury retired immediately and did not begin its deliberations until this morning. District Attorney Raymond Allred and special prosecutors asked for the death penalty in their arguments before the jury.

Witnesses called by the state and the defense testified that Pryor and Dr. Guyton each had made threats against the other. Dr. Guyton, 82-year-old retired physician, was shot to death when the two met at a Shamrock filling station July 1. Pryor claimed self defense.

HOUSTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—The body of Clarence E. Stout, 22, of Milbride, Me., was found this morning on the Southern Pacific railroad tracks. The upper portion of the body was discovered at Aureka Tower, the lower part near Fairbanks, about eight miles distant.

Blast Wrecks Eastman Plant

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 11. (AP)—An explosion today ripped out the west wall of the four story roll-coating building in the center of the Kodak Park plant of the Eastman Kodak company, killing two workmen and injuring fourteen others, six perhaps fatally.

Eight hundred workers in the building were saved from panic by cool-headed leadership and marched to safety.

The injured were reported in critical condition from acid burns and falling stonework.

The plant hospital cared for a large number of less seriously injured. The explosion was believed to have occurred in a machine shed for mixing the highly-explosive coating which was applied in the building to roll film. The shock was felt over a wide radius. A larger death list was believed to have been averted by the absence of fire among the inflammable materials. Another factor in cutting down casualties was the curtailed opera-

Girl to Operate Stable to Earn Way in College

LUBBOCK, Sept. 11. (AP)—Ten days ago, Virginia Wester left her ranch home, 30 miles west of Las Vegas, N. M., in the Sangre de Cristo mountains.

Today she arrived in Lubbock astride her faithful cow pony, bringing along "her string" of nine horses with which she expects to pay her expenses through Texas Technological college.

Tanned by the New Mexico sunshine, but eager to start out on her college education, the 16-year-old girl immediately began preparations for establishing a riding stable near the college campus from which she will rent horses.

College authorities are to aid her in the enterprise. The girl is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wester, her father being a graduate of the University of Virginia and operator of a dude ranch in New Mexico. The department which normally employs 1,500 persons.

Murray's Rule Under Attack

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 11. (AP)—The first attack on Governor Murray's military shut down of Oklahoma flush oil fields was made in federal district court at Guthrie today by the Champlin Refining company.

Characterizing the entire oil curtailment scheme as enforced "a price fixing arrangement," a suit asks a rehearing of the case against the Oklahoma corporation commission in which three federal judges upheld Oklahoma's prohibition laws and seeks an injunction against Murray and the corporation commission to prevent enforcement of the laws.

C. B. "Brownie" Akers yesterday told Pampa Lions that the industry in the motion picture industry pointed to a gradual improvement in business over the country. He pointed out that theaters draw from all classes, and that the fact that audiences were increasing was a good omen. When people become more liberal with their small change the larger expenditures soon follow, he said. He also outlined notable improvements in recent movie productions.

Navy to Spend 200 Millions on WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Naval ship construction, costing in excess of $200,000,000 will be under way shortly after the navy department awards contracts for the building of 11 destroyers to cost a total of $50,000,000.

The bids are to be opened next Wednesday on these craft, the first designed by the navy under the terms of the London naval treaty. The navy department hopes the successful bidders will be able to begin work on the vessels in early October, so that shipyard workmen may be employed in the winter months.

One of the 1,500 ton, 35 knot ships, is to be built at the Brooklyn, New York, navy yard, to avert a work load slump and disquieting discharge of experienced workers. For the other ten, bids are expected from a half dozen private east coast yards, and naval yards at Boston, Charleston, South Carolina, Mare Island, California, Puget Sound, Washington, and Norfolk, Virginia.

Markets

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Sept. 11. (AP)—Wheat prices average higher and corn lower early today. Reduction of 7,000,000 bushels in the official estimate of domestic spring wheat production had a strengthening effect. Corn was influenced by talk of probable heavy deliveries on September contracts.

Opening unchanged, to 3-8 up, wheat afterward rose all around. Corn started at 3-8 decline to 1-8 advance and later held near the initial range.

BULLETIN ISSUED
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—The condition on Sept. 1 and indicated production of corn and spring wheat in the principal producing states were announced today by the department of agriculture which yesterday placed total corn production at 2,715,357,000 bushels, durum wheat at 19,847,000 bushels, and other spring wheat at 90,816,000 bushels.

The Texas corn condition was 70 per cent and the indicated yield 112,203,000 bushels.

COTTON IS QUIET
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11. (AP)—Cotton experienced a rather quiet opening today. Liverpool cables were somewhat worse than due and first trades here showed losses of 2 to 4 points. Prices eased off a little further after the start, October trading down to 6 1/4 and December to 6 3/8, or 4 to 5 points under yesterday's close.

This decline attracted a little short covering and the market rallied 4 to 6 points from the lows to about a level with yesterday's close. Traders appeared to be waiting for further developments in Texas on the cotton control proposition, and also on the negotiations in Washington on the export problem.

Near the end of the first hour the market was quiet and steady, about midway between the early highs and lows.

The market while not very active ruled quite steady all morning. Prices advanced on short covering and trade buying largely based on a good demand for spots and on the expectation that there will be some legislative action to curb cotton production next season. Shorts covering found a scarcity of contracts and October traded up to 6 7/8 and December to 7 00, up 13 to 15 points from the early lows and 9 to 10 points above yesterday's close.

Around mid-session the market was steady and three points under the highs.

Funeral Plans Are Announced With Changes

The flag-drapedasket containing the body of C. C. Alexander will be taken to the cemetery for interment tomorrow afternoon after services at the Methodist church on a caisson drawn by six horses.

Church services will be held at the Methodist church instead of at the Baptist church, it was announced this afternoon. The services will begin at 2 o'clock, and will be in charge of the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, chaplain of the Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion of which Mr. Alexander was post commander.

Mr. Alexander died of pneumonia. He was 42 years old.

The caisson, an ammunition wagon for mobile artillery, the three riders, an eight-man firing squad, and trumpeters. All will be in uniform. Members of the National Guard at Amarillo will also participate in the military funeral. An officer riding a motorcycle will head the procession to the cemetery. Behind in order will follow the color guard of three men, the American Legion band playing a funeral march, the caisson and guard, members of the local Legion post, and members of the Elks lodge. The ceremony at the grave will begin with the Elks' burial ritual for members, which will be brief, it was said.

The Legionnaires will then take charge. Their ceremony will begin with their ritual for a military funeral. This will be followed by three volleys from the firing squad. The trumpeters will sound taps to end the service.

Mr. Alexander, civic leader and oil man, is survived by his widow and a daughter, Elizabeth Gene, three brothers, Hal, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Gene E., Atlanta, Ga.; and a sister, Miss Pauline Alexander, also of Winston-Salem.

Funerals will be J. M. Dodson, Guy C. Saunders, H. E. Saunders, Dr. W. B. Wild, Chas. I. Hughes, and Harry New.

AFFIRMS INDICTMENT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 11. (AP) United States District Judge Edgar S. Vaughn affirmed published reports today of the indictment of C. C. Julian, California and Oklahoma oil promoter, on a mail fraud charge.

Judge Vaughn declined, however, to say if any others were indicted in the Julian case. Several associates were charged recently with Julian and freed on bond.

Two daughters of the ex-king of Spain recently acted as judges at a fête at Mount Stewart, Ireland.

Will Be Urged

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 11. (AP) A tentative suggestion that the country's crude oil production and imports be fixed at 2,392,000 barrels daily and reduced 10 per cent a month until a fair price obtains was laid before the midcontinent states oil conference here today by Thurman Hill, of the Kansas Public Service commission.

Hill said this figure would be about 100,000 barrels under the daily market demand and suggested a schedule of production and imports to go into effect Sept. 15.

If within 30 days a fair price, to be decided today, was not in effect, the commissions would automatically curtail production 10 per cent from the Sept. 15 allowable. Automatic 10 per cent curtailment would continue each month until the price goal was obtained.

The Kansas commissioner, who called the conference of Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas regulatory bodies and invited representatives of other midcontinent oil states and importing oil companies, said he believed a fair price for oil would be at least $1.10 per barrel.

GRAVITY from 60.6° to 71.4° TO MATCH WEATHER

PHILLIPS 66 is made by the world's largest producers of natural high gravity gasoline

You can't tell a bargain in gasoline by the price sign on the pump. The real test of value is the way your engine runs. That is why so many experienced motorists are switching to Phillips 66 . . . the greater gasoline.

We make it extra high test and charge nothing extra. So it is a tonic to your motor and a pleasure to your pocketbook. Every gallon consistently gives you quicker pick-up, added power, silky smoothness, and longer mileage.

This better performance is guaranteed by the famous Phillips principle of CONTROLLED VOLATILITY, which makes Phillips 66 match your weather at the time you buy it. Its year 'round gravity, from 60.6° to 71.4°, is always higher test than others. At no increase in price.

Don't you owe it to yourself and your car to try this greater gasoline? Surely the Phillips organization could not make claims as strong as these, if its gasoline did not perform as promised. Look for the Orange and Black 66 shield.

Judge Braly to Decide on Many Legal Motions

Before Saturday of this week is passed, Judge Clifford Braly of 114th district court is scheduled to render decisions on motions for new trials in a number of cases, tried during this term, that attracted considerable interest.

The judge said this morning he would probably make up his mind today on Mrs. Alma Gurley's petition for a divorce from her husband, J. S. Gurley. Trial of this case lasted four days.

Yesterday, the court heard Ben Stone and J. O. Guleck argue a motion for a new trial for Dr. W. F. Nicholas, against whom a jury returned a $7,500 verdict 10 days ago in favor of H. E. Stephens who alleged that his health was damaged in the extraction and subsequent of a tooth.

Judge Braly may rule on the motion by Saturday night when the current term of court is due to end. However, he may by not signing the docket, extend the session. Next week Judge Braly goes to Stinnett.

Attorneys for Mr. Nicholas argued that certain issues in the case were not based on the pleadings, and that the jury's answer to a special issue was contrary to the verdict returned. They contended that the jury answered "no" to the issue when they should have answered "yes," if they intended to be consistent. The issue was, "do you find from the preponderance of the evidence that the injury suffered by the plaintiff was not an unavoidable accident."

W. M. Lewright, attorney for the plaintiff, argued that the question was ambiguous and meant nothing specifically if answered either "yes" or "no." He held that the judge should ignore the issue and instruct the intent of the jury, which was to return a verdict for the plaintiff, he said.

Motions for new trials are pending in the suit of W. H. Favors against the Texas Indemnity company; the suit of J. F. Meers against Albert McCollum and others.

Verdicts for Mr. Favors and Mr. Meers were returned. A motion for a new trial in the suit of Mattie Crockett, negro, against the Fidelity Casualty and Insurance company of New York, was presented this morning by John R. Pullington, Amarillo attorney. The jury returned a verdict for Mrs. Crockett. Suit was based on the death of her husband.

"I used to suffer from constipation which caused me to have a throbbing, severe headache, bad taste in my mouth and gas pains," writes Mrs. R. L. Freeman of Gainesville, Ga. "I would not feel equal to my work."

I wouldn't have an appetite. I found Black-Draught quick to relieve, so I have used it. It is easy to take.

THE CUP THAT CHEERS THE OUMIETS

That shiny new cup for the Oumiet's mantle-piece—it would appear from this picture, that they are mighty proud of it. It's the trophy daddy won by playing better golf than all the other links artists at the national amateur tournament in Chicago. Here the camera pictures Francis Oumiet with Mrs. Oumiet and their two children, Barbara, 12, and Janice, 9, after the new champion's return to their home in Newtonville, Mass. Nearly 300 fellow townsmen turned out to give him a rousing welcome.

munication with Belize up to 7:30 p. m., the regular time of closing.

Dunten put all available communication facilities to work in an attempt to get further information. The last weather report from Belize was at 3 p. m., yesterday, when a 47-mile wind was reported.

Dunten said a second message received from the Belize airport read: "In addition to dead, several hundred injured. Half of houses in town demolished. All radio towers gone. Need supplies badly to rebuild our radio equipment. Worked all night to get it hooked up to gas power unit."

Planes to Be Used

Two planes, a 26-passenger Combs motor seaplane and a Sikorsky amphibian were fueled here, and crews were ordered to stand by for immediate departure as Pan-American Airways prepared to tender services of their facilities to any relief agencies that might send succor from the United States to British Honduras.

The pilot of a Pan-American plane at San Salvador was ordered to pick up all available medical and other supplies and carry them to Belize. The plane was due at Belize at noon.

The regular Pan-American plane through Belize outran the storm, Dunten said.

Information was not available in early messages as to the course of the storm or its intensity as it lashed the capital city of 13,000 population.

Pan-American's information was sent on regular radio sets, quickly repaired during the night after being blown out of commission as the storm passed over the city.

Wounded Victim Of Negro Dies

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 11. (AP)—Aubrey N. Nodurft, 25, of Port Worth, wounded when two negroes attacked him and a woman companion as they sat in his parked automobile, died at a Wichita Falls hospital early last night.

The couple was attacked by the negroes as they sat in his car on a residential street Wednesday night. Officers last night had made no arrests. A county-wide search in which possemen went about with sawed off shot guns continued. From Austin came a report that Adjutant General W. W. Sterling dispatched two rangers to aid in the search. Authorities denied they requested rangers.

Another death was indirectly attributed to the attack. J. D. King, 43, oil company official, died of a heart attack yesterday as he accompanied possemen searching for the two negroes.

J. M. Dean, owner of the Mutt and Jeff cafe on South Cuyler returned home Thursday night after a month spent with relatives near Mobile, Ala. the next question.

"Oh, no, I neither smoke nor drink," he replied, "besides, being an advocate of non-violence, I never carry firearms."

Next came the 70-year old Pandit Malaviya, whose baggage consisted largely of sacred mud and water from the river Ganges—all exempt from duty.

As Gandhi was ushered on to the special train to Paris by an English general sent by Prime Minister MacDonald, a British journalist asked him bluntly if he would not be ashamed to go about the streets of London and into the presence of King George in a loincloth.

"Well, in England you wear plus fours while I prefer to wear minus fours," Gandhi replied with a chuckle as the passengers roared with laughter.

Now a Disciple
MARSEILLES, France, Sept. 11. (AP)—The following conversation ended today when Miss Madeline Slade, daughter of an English admiral, was questioned by French customs inspectors:

Q. Are you Miss Slade?
A. No, Miss Slade died six years ago. I am Mirabeim, disciple of Mahatma Gandhi.

Q. Are you a British subject?
A. No, I am nobody's subject except Mahatma Gandhi's, whom I regard as my father.

The inspectors looked puzzled, but after eyeing her white, nun-like garb, shaved head, and sandaled feet passed her through the gates.

ABOUT NEW-YORK

BY WILLIAM GAINES

NEW YORK—Baseball fans are perhaps the most sentimental of sportsmen, and those in New York are most interesting of all in their reactions to the game.

The men and boys around here who avidly devour every word about Babe Ruth's breakfast diet and McGoey's pitching debut are weeping manly a bitter tear that the New York Giants have failed to set a pace in the National league pennant fight, BUT It's not the business of rooting for the home team that makes for Manhattan's baseball grief. The same sentiment that occasioned New Yorkers to root for the St. Louis Cardinals in their first world series with the Yankees now makes them bemoan the large improbability of the teams of Connie Mack and John McGraw meeting in the fall classic.

If you don't believe me, drop into Doyle's place or any of the assembling centers of betting fandom and talk to some of the supposedly hard boiled evaluators of sport.

FICKLE FANS

These gentlemen thought it was swell when Mack's champs met the Chicago Cubs in 1929, because that revived memories of the old rivalry between those famous clubs.

When the series spotlighted the Athletics once, well, that was all right; the Cards are of baseball's new "aristocracy" and it was good for Mack to put them in their places.

But you find a lot of sentiment in New York against the Cards' hogging the world series spotlight. Many fans here wish their Giants could crash through to the top so they could go to the Polo grounds and Shibe park and root for Connie Mack to break all records by winning his third successive world series—at the expense of his oldest and most colorful rival, McGraw.

SLOW MOTION PICTURES

Max Teuber, who was born in Dresden, studied abroad to design stage scenery and walked around over there for a long time when his schooling was over, wondering when his chance would come.

Nothing happened, and in desperation, he came to America. Three years after he settled in New York a letter came which was intended to reach him during those days back home when he was worrying about his ham and eggs.

It contained an offer which, had he been able to accept it, might have established his name on the continent. But the envelope had been mis-addressed and Teuber never learned what territory it had covered in the meantime!

By then the German had made a place for himself as a creator of illusions for stage shows here.

Dorothy Parker, the writing person, has a dachshund which she leaves in the cheek rooms at night clubs. She calls the mutt Robinson. Julius Tannen, the comic, once tried his hand selling furniture.

Blair Niles, another of the scribbling tribe, has gobs of trophies she has accumulated in such out of the way places as Borneo and Haiti.

Pucelle Page, who promises to be one of the new season's dancing sensations, was born in Wichita, Kan.

Laurel and Hardy Shown in Feature Length Picture

That stage experience is beneficial to screen actors is proved by Laurel and Hardy in "Pardon Us," their first feature-length comedy, which will come today to the La Nora theater.

Their experience behind the footlights aided them greatly in making this film. Both were called upon to display stage talents in the form of singing, dancing. An additional sequence which was worthy of having extra acts made was injected because of their stage accomplishments.

Years ago, when Stan Laurel traveled over England with Fred Karno's London Pantomime company, he learned to dance. Everyone in that company had to be adept at singing, dancing, and dramatic acting.

Stan chose soft-shoe dancing and for several months did a single dance act. Little did he realize that some day his ability to trip a light fantastic would stand him to advantage and be recorded with sound on film—His original dance act adds to the merriment of "Pardon Us."

Oliver Hardy, Laurel's rotund partner in fun, sings a song in this picture that he learned more than 20 years ago while a member of Covurns Minstrel Show. Although a college man, Oliver preferred grease paint and footlights so he cast aside his knowledge of law and trouped all through the South as the "boy soprano" in a minstrel show.

In "Pardon Us," Laurel and Hardy are reported to have their funniest screen vehicle to date. They are seen as a couple of bootleggers who innocently offer a policeman a drink and are consequently sent to prison.

Here they go through a wide variety of hilarious episodes which finally end up in a burlesqued prison riot with the two heroes ultimately winning a pardon and freedom. The locale also shifts to a southern plantation, which gives the comedy pair a chance to cut up in "black-face," which they use as a disguise from the police.

East Texas Now At Dangerous Total

KILGORE, Sept. 11. (AP)—Check on East Texas' steadily increasing flow of oil under the state railroad commission's new curtailment program last night showed the field's production during over the 400,000 barrel mark.

Reports from Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters placed Wednesday's production figures for 1,822 wells at 407,124 barrels.

Meantime, Gov. Ross S. Sterling who invoked martial law in the area Aug. 17 when the field ran rampant, frowned upon the steadily mounting production figures and indicated it was not his desire to see the field flow in excess of 400,000.

C. V. Terrell, railroad commissioner, and R. D. Parker, chief of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission, left Austin last night for an inspection trip into the East Texas field. They planned to check on the success of the new order and determine if enough force was maintained to properly enforce the commission's mandate.

Both commissioner Terrell and Parker emphasized their trip was not taken as a preliminary step to lifting martial law in the field.

The daily output of the field was approximately one-half the gigantic flood of oil which produced the pre-martial law crisis in the field. It was this mounting flood which spurred the state legislature into action and eventually prompted Governor Sterling to place the field under martial law.

CLAIMS FORTUNE

London throngs, hurrying by the street corner where Mary Duckman has sold matches for many years, little suspect that she has dreams of becoming a millionaire. But she is preparing to claim the fortune and estate, estimated at many millions of dollars, left by the late Tom Duckman in Kentucky. Here she is shown at her stand in the British capital.

FINE QUILTS BEING SHOWN

Many quilts seen in the recent Presbyterian quilt show may be viewed again in the Mitchell building this week. Most of them are in the textile department, while numerous others are in the home demonstration department and the antique room.

One quilt, still unfinished, is being made by Mrs. Bebbie of Pampa. It is made of hundreds of small double strips of vari-colored materials, arranged so as to form squares. Each strip is stuffed with cotton.

Pep Squad Plans To Attend Game

Hooked rugs of all kinds are exhibited in the Mitchell building in connection with the Gray County Free fair this week. Some are made of yarn and others are made of old hose and scraps of silk dyed many colors. One takes the form of a huge pansy.

Doll 44 Years Old Is In County Fair

Maybe she's not much to look at, with her ragged, striped dress, her enameled head, and her handless arms, but this 44-year-old doll has an important place in the antique division of the Gray County Free fair. She belongs to Edwina Gilbert.

Shoes Made For Son Are Shown

A pair of tiny shoes made 58 years ago by Mrs. John R. White's father, D. E. Wade, and worn by the maker's son, may be seen in the antique department of the Gray County fair. This exhibit is in the Mitchell building.

Bit of Wedding Petticoat Shown

Mrs. Lillian McNutt has entered in the Gray County Free fair one-fourth of the embroidered flounce used on the wedding petticoat of her grandmother, Martha Bowman Dillman. It was made in India in 1856.

GUILTY LIPS

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "MAD MARRIAGE" ©1931 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 Pretty Norma Kent, 29-year-old secretary in a law office, sees Mark Travers for the first time when together they rescue a puppy from downtown traffic in Mariboro, middle-western metropolis. Norma declines to tell Travers her name or where he can see her again.

Bob Farrell, young lawyer, asks Norma to marry him and she refuses, though she is fond of him as a friend. Norma takes the puppy to the shabby apartment she shares with Christine Saunders. She fears Chris is falling in love with her married employer, Bradley Hart, proprietor of an advertising agency. Norma inserts an advertisement about the puppy in a newspaper lost and found column and the first person to answer is Mark Travers. He tries to make a date but Norma declines his invitations. A small key comes to claim the puppy and take it home.

Norma goes for a drive with Bob Farrell and he tells her she is leaving Mariboro. Two days later she meets Travers on the street and goes to lunch with him. This is the beginning of a whirlwind courtship. Norma finds herself head-over-heels in love but thinks she must send Travers away because of some secret of the past. Chris declares if Norma loves Travers all else is unimportant.

Mark is invited to dinner at the apartment. Norma is there alone when a caller arrives. He tells her he is Mark's father and demands her affair with her son shall end. In the midst of a heated speech Mark appears. Father and son quarrel and the father threatens to disown Mark if he marries Norma. The elder Travers, departs. Norma begs Norma to marry him at once and after some hesitation she agrees. The couple drive to the town of Woodbury with Chris and Bradley Hart. Norma and Mark secure a license and are married. Then Mark takes his bride to the palatial Hotel Mariboro.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIII

The glowing orb of molten gold stirred gently and moved to the right. Out of the sunlight it was not glowing metal at all but a mass of tangled and unruly curls. Norma shook her head and the bobbing tangle that had been obscuring the vision of her left eye fell back into place. Curled up in the huge rose tapestry chair the girl seemed a tiny creature. She wore a negligee of blue. It was simply cut, made of cheap material but as gloriously tawny as the heavens on a perfect July morning. A worn black satin mule flopped back from one bare foot. Norma's loose sleeves fell away almost to the shoulder, revealing arms of creamy whiteness. Like the rest of Norma's body the arms were exquisitely formed, slender but rounded.

She was smiling. Not at the young man across the room. His back was toward her. Norma smiled at the reflection in the mirror of the dressing table. It showed a young man, carefree, energetically brushing a shock of brown hair back from his forehead. He was an unusually good-looking youth even when he frowned, as he did just then, and threw down the brush to tug at his curls. Suddenly he caught Norma's eyes watching him in the mirror. The frown became a grin. Mark whirled. "See here, Mrs. Travers!" he said. "Do you call yourself a helpful wife? Sitting there taking my mind off everything I try to do! Can't even tie my tie decently! See here, what kind of conduct do you call that?"

In three strides he was across the room, perched on the arm of Norma's chair and tussling her curls. The girl laughed and tried to defend herself. A moment more and Mark had routed her from the chair, appropriated it himself. He held Norma, protesting gaily, in his arms and the game became a spirited contest. Much rubbing of blond curls the wrong way. It was exciting fun—half-play, half-endearment. Flushed and breathless, at last Mark claimed undisputed victory. At last he placed a long kiss squarely on the girl's lips. Norma lay back and looked at him from beneath the dark fringes of her lashes.

"Look at your tie now," she suggested demurely.

"It was worse—oh, so very much worse than it had been! Travers grimaced in mock dismay. He shook his head.

"So this is married life! Terrible—terrible!"

A little beyond reach stood the breakfast table. It had been abandoned some time since and was littered with crumpled napkins and soiled dishes. There were pink roses in a silver vase in the center of the disarray.

Norma drew herself away. "It really is terrible!" she agreed. "Goodness, it must be—why, look!—nearly 11 o'clock! Oh, Mark, think of all the things we should be doing! They won't have any idea at the office what's become of me. Mr. Brooks will be furious!"

"Let 'em worry. You're never going back there again."

"But, Mark, don't you think—"

A knock at the door interrupted. It was the waiter who had come to take away the breakfast table. As he was leaving Mark took out his wallet and stuffed a bill into the man's hand. The waiter bowed, murmured thanks and departed.

Mark did not replace the wallet. Instead he opened it again, drew out a collection of coins and greenbacks and looked at them. A rueful smile spread over his face. He scratched his chin meditatively.

"There was exactly $96 in that wallet yesterday," he announced. "Ninety-six dollars." Suddenly the bright grin returned. "Madame!" he declared with dramatic eloquence, "with all my worldly goods I thee endow! Thirteen dollars and forty-five cents! Count 'em. Thirteen dollars!" He flung the contents of the purse into the girl's lap.

He was laughing and Norma laughed, too. Evidently this was a joke. She gathered the money together.

"But you don't really mean it!" she protested. "Not—$96! You couldn't have spent all that in one day! Why it's more than three weeks' salary!"

Mark reversed the wallet, held it up, shaking it. "Must have spent it," he said. "It was here! You know," he went on, frowning as though in deep thought, "that's the queerest thing about money. I've thought of it before. Amazing thing! One moment you have it and the next it's gone. Have you ever noticed it?"

"Have I noticed it? Not oftener than every third day after pay day for the last three years! Ever since I've been working."

Travers was not listening. With resolution he suddenly made for the coat draped on a chair across the room, thrust his arms into the sleeves and jerked a lapel into place. In a flash he had become businesslike.

"The girl jumped to her feet. "Where are you going?" she asked.

Mark came to her and put a hand on each of her shoulders. He smiled carelessly. "Promise to miss me horribly!" he demanded. "Promise every minute I'm away will seem an hour! Will you do that?"

"Oh, but I don't want to be alone here, Mark! Can't I come, too?" Apparently this was not to be thought of. It was absolutely essential for Mark Travers to depart alone. But he would not be gone long. There was business to attend to and as soon as it had been settled he would come hurrying back. Norma's chagrin at this turn of events did not seem to displease young Travers.

She tried once more to speak of the office where she had been due at 8:30. Mark scoffed.

"You're to stay here," he insisted. "Right here in this room! And honestly I won't be long. Why, darling, don't you realize this is the first day of our honeymoon? Don't think about jobs and offices. All that is past for you. You're Mrs. Mark Travers and a devil of a lucky guy your husband is! Well, he realizes it. Not just of a prize package perhaps. Just a dub, but he's managed to get himself the prettiest, cutest, sweetest little bride in all the world."

Somehow it took much longer than might seem necessary for that farewell. It was thrilling to hear the ridiculous things Mark said. It was difficult for the youth to tear himself from blue eyes filled with adoration, from warm lips and soft arms that would restrain him.

The door closed and Norma was alone. She could not hear Mark's footsteps going down the carpeted hall. Desperately she wanted to call him back but what good would that do? He would only go away a second time.

From the sitting room window Norma could see the huge clock on a sky-scraper tower two blocks away. Twenty after, twelve now. Mark had been gone nearly an hour. She tried peering down into the street to see if she could see him. That was ridiculous. The window was on the eighth floor and it was impossible to look straight downward.

Well, she could write the letter to Brooks, Welliver and Brooks explaining why she was giving up her word.

It was a difficult letter to write. Norma sat at the neatly appointed desk a long while before she put her pen down on the fresh paper. She began three separate pages and in rapid succession discarded them. It was fully 45 minutes before the note was finished and then Norma studied it with dissatisfaction before finally the sheet was folded and inserted in its envelope. She addressed it but left the flap unsealed. She would ask Mark what he thought of the note before mailing it.

Surely Mark should be there! Terror with clutching, vise-like fingers of ice gripped the girl's heart. A traffic accident—a single miss-step—oh, if anything had happened—

Again she sought the window. Then for 10 minutes Norma paced back and forth—back and forth. She could not sit still but she must stop this worrying. She must believe nothing terrible had happened. It was only a foolish nightmare. Mark would be there any moment now. She sat down again. A moment more and she was on her feet, as restless as before. The frightful premonition would not be downed.

At 8 o'clock Norma was still waiting. She was still alone. What had become of Mark Travers? Could this be his father's work? (To Be Continued)

Harris King of McLean, former chief deputy sheriff, underwent an operation in an Amarillo hospital yesterday afternoon.

She was happy again in memories. For long minutes she lay there. After all what was there for her to do in this new whirlwind of living but to wait for Mark? Mark would make everything come right. Mark was so wonderful.

She arose, went through the bedroom into the roseate, sun-lighted bath with its tarnished nickel taps and fittings. She let cold water run and splashed her cheeks with it until they colored deeply. She brushed her hair and made the soft waves glisten. She saw the slim whiteness of herself in the door-length mirror and admired it, grateful she could bring her beauty in tribute to Mark. There seemed little else that she had brought him.

Norma did not dawdle as she powdered, rouged her lips and slipped into her clothing. She hurried because Mark might return at any moment. She must be ready to leave when he returned. They couldn't remain in this extravagant place any longer.

When she had made herself as presentable as possible the girl spent a rueful moment before the mirror. Her dress was the one she had worn the night before. It was a brown crepe of utmost simplicity, nearly three weeks before. Modish, well-fitting in spite of its cheapness—but brown. Brown was no color for a bride to wear! Her neat pumps were brown, too, and she had worn the brown beret in place of a hat. It had seemed appropriate for the drive to Woodbury, less appropriate this morning. Well, doubtless hundreds of other brides who had made impulsive marriages had known the same pang over absence of wedding finery.

From the sitting room window Norma could see the huge clock on a sky-scraper tower two blocks away. Twenty after, twelve now. Mark had been gone nearly an hour. She tried peering down into the street to see if she could see him. That was ridiculous. The window was on the eighth floor and it was impossible to look straight downward.
