address, fire into a crowd of urban citizens who shouted "Viva Almazan." Seventeen persons were injured.

Flying Browns Make Solos At Clinton Airport

The following is a story which appeared in the Clinton, Okla., Daily Record about Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Brown, popular young Pampans, who are taking flying lessons in that city.

When she sits down at the piano to give out with a blues ballad or two, she's taken down with a case of the galloping jitters and trembles like a leaf in the wind. But when she sits down at the controls of an airplane, she's cool, calm, and casual as an April breeze.

That's Dorothy Brown, of the Flying Browns from Pampa, Tex., who with her husband, Delbert, has been making the 150-mile trip up here twice a week for ever so many weeks to take flying lessons from H. "Bob" Gilchrist, Delbert, who is a brother of Mrs. Ray Sauter, 500 South Ninth street, soled for the first time Monday afternoon, and Mrs. Brown went up for the first time alone Tuesday afternoon, being the second woman to solo at the Gilchrist airport. (Mrs. Cecil Houck, 406 Wise, who passed this all-important first goal a few months ago, was the first.)

Going To Buy Plane
Young Brown and his father, who also lives in Pampa, are sportsmen who have long been interested in racing and boats, and some time ago they decided to go in for aviation. Mrs. Sauter said.

"They decided they wanted to take their instruction with Bob Gilchrist because they'd heard us speak of him so often, and knew his reputation," Mrs. Sauter explained. "It meant driving 300 miles every time to get in an hour's flying—but they've been sticking to it and work."

Officers Elected By McClellan Club
Joe Gordon was elected commodore of the McClellan Boat club last night, succeeding Earl McConnell. L. O. Horn of LeFors was elected vice commodore and Bob Craig was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Members of the board of directors named were S. S. Smith, V. L. Boyles, Roy Branscum, A. Phillips and O. L. Boyington.

I Heard...
C. E. "Dan" McGrew telling about a small boy, probably 7 years old, coming up to his car parked at Harvester field yesterday afternoon during football practice and asking to be taken home. The child said he lived on West Kingsmill avenue and that he was on his way home from school and was lost. He said he went to Horace Mann school. Mr. McGrew took the child home.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The Anglo-American naval-base and destroyer deal needs no wordy embellishment to introduce it as a momentous transaction—with the emphasis decidedly on the bases, although the warships are of great importance.

The acquisition of these bases not only is an historic development in the relations between the United States and England, but it is fair to introduce a wholly new element into the defensive power of the two nations.

It is not by any means a one-sided affair. Quite apart from the undoubted value of the destroyers at this crucial moment in the battle of Britain, England will gain immeasurably through the increased American control of the north and south Atlantic.

Once these eight bases are fully equipped and got into operation they will tend to give the United States domination, both in the air and on the sea, of the eastern waters of North America and at least well down the coast of South America.

British Repel Bombing Attacks

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 4.—British fighters and anti-aircraft guns quickly repelled two enemy thrusts today as it was disclosed that RAF bombers launched a four-hour series of counterattacks Tuesday night against advanced German striking bases in France.

Attempted attacks on Kent and Essex airports by two German forces one of them consisting of 40 bombers and escort fighters, were turned back in the morning without reported damage or casualties, the air ministry said.

A 29-minute air raid warning in the London area during these fights was succeeded in the afternoon by a 24-minute alarm at the peak of the luncheon hour when many restaurants were crowded.

A third force was turned back in an attempted attack toward London. Five German planes were brought down in this brief battle over a southeast town, but no bombs were dropped.

Convicts Surrender To Posse Of 1,000

Tough Army General Will Rule Rumania

(By The Associated Press)
BUCHAREST, Sept. 4.—King Carol, virtually barricaded in his palace after an attempted assassination, turned today to Rumania's toughest military leader, General Ion Antonescu, to save the country from anarchy and possible depredation at the hands of her neighbors.

Accepting the resignation of the strongly pro-Nazi Premier Gigurtu and his cabinet, the king called on General Antonescu to form a new cabinet, which is expected to constitute a military dictatorship.

The resignation of Gigurtu, in office since June 1, and the appointment of Antonescu, came only a few hours after Antonescu's release from a monastery at Sannat, where he had been locked up "for the safety of the regime" as popular feeling mounted against the cession of northern Transylvania to Hungary.

It came, too, within a few hours after the government, with Carol's own son, threatened by an alleged iron guard plot, to place Crown Prince Mihail on the throne, began rounding up iron guards.

Several shots were fired last night at the palace, where the king was known to be in residence.

During the early morning the heaviest military guard the capital has ever seen patrolled the principal streets.

Convicts Surrender To Posse Of 1,000

COLUMBIA, La., Sept. 4 (AP)—Three of four desperate Arkansas convicts surrounded by 1,000 grim policemen surrendered today, releasing unharmed two high school students held as hostages since Monday night.

Their surrender came a few hours after they had freed a third captive girl and sent her to police with a "truce" demand.

Caught between a closing line of state police troops and trusty convicts in civilian clothes from the Louisiana Angola penitentiary, the convicts threw down their guns and gave up.

The surrender took place in a corn field at the edge of a wood several miles from Columbia. The names of the three were not immediately known. One—or possibly two—of the convicts who escaped a prison farm on Labor day remained at large in this area.

After nearly two full days of captivity, 16-year-old Vonelle Williams walked from thick swamplands near here early today and told police the fugitives demanded free passage through posse lines. Denied this, she said, they threatened to kill Gladys Diamond, 15, and Jerry Harrigill, 17, whom they still held. All three live in Rayville, La., and were kidnapped when the criminals commandeered their car late Monday.

After the posse refused to deal with the convicts, Miss Williams joined the search. She told officers the original group numbered five, instead of six as police believed, and was reduced to four when gangster killed one of their number yesterday.

STONES FLY IN RACE ROW

Determined to keep negro families from moving into what had been an exclusively white neighborhood in Dallas, women residents of the district demonstrated by hurling rocks through windows and screens of homes which were purchased by negroes through real estate agents.

Police halted the row but threats were made that the matter had not been settled.

'Hitler Can Find Out Himself,' Says Early

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Stephen Early, White House press secretary, said today "Hitler can find out for himself" when reporters inquired about the movements of the 50 destroyers traded to Britain for air and naval bases.

Early was asked whether any of the vessels already had left for Canada for transfer across the North Atlantic by British crews.

He replied: "Hitler can find that out for himself—when they leave, where they are, and anything else about them, as far as I am concerned."

The navy said yesterday eight of the destroyers were being made ready at the Boston navy yard for release to Britain and that they probably would be ready by Friday for American crews to take them to Canada and turn them over to the British. Whereabouts of the other ships was not disclosed, except that they were somewhere on the Atlantic seaboard.

Night Bombing Will Start, He Declares

Adolf Bitterly Shouts Fun And Pokes Fun And Shouts Boasts

By LOUIS F. LOCHNER
BERLIN, Sept. 4 (AP)—Hitler broke weeks of silence today to threaten that his air force would "erase" Britain's cities if the Royal Air Force persists in its night raids on Germany and to predict—again—that England will crack up.

It was his first speech since July 19, when he addressed what he called "one more appeal to reason" to the British and warned them that their empire would be destroyed if they kept on fighting.

Hitler, in high humor, jeeringly declared England was asking why Hitler didn't come. "My reply is," he said, "just be quiet, he's coming all right."

Then he said that he alone would set the hour for the war to end. In the early hours of the day, British bombers and German defenders had met west of Berlin in central Germany's biggest air engagement of the war so far.

Adolf Hitler today bitterly assailed British "nuisance" raids on Germany and vowed that hundreds of thousands of pounds of Nazi bombs would fall on England nightly hereafter in retaliation.

The German fuhrer, addressing 25,000 workers in the Berlin sports palace, declared angrily: "For three months I have waited for the British to cease the nuisance of nightly painless bomb-throwing. Now we will give the answer night after night."

In some quarters, Hitler's statement was interpreted as signaling the start of a full-scale aerial blitzkrieg against Britain, hurling into the fray many thousands of bombers and fighting planes known to have been held in reserve.

Estimates of Germany's first-line air strength have ranged as high as 18,000 planes.

(The German radio quoted the fuhrer as declaring that "I know only one date as the date of English collapse. If it is said in England, 'Why does it not come?' then we say, 'But sure it will come.'")

"The British throw two or three thousand kilograms (of bombs)," said Hitler, "we will unload 150,000, 180,000, yes 200,000..."

Apparently Hitler intended to continue with this progression of figures.

API's Annual Safety Meeting To Be Sept. 26

The annual safety meeting of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute, to be held in conjunction with the Panhandle Safety Conference program this year, will be on September 26 in Pampa, it was decided at a meeting of the chapter advisory board last night in the Schneider hotel.

Chairman George Berlin presided. R. W. Kintz of Dallas, representative of the United States Bureau of Mines, will present the night program in the high school auditorium. The program will deal primarily with static electricity, its causes, and how to overcome it.

The topic is one of great interest in the Panhandle where many accidents have been caused by static electricity.

An all week safety program is being planned to include safety exhibits, poster contest, highway safety patrol exhibit, safety and first aid contests.

A visitor at last night's advisory board meeting was Tom Hamilton of Oklahoma City, chairman of the Mid-Continent chapter of the American Petroleum Institute. The 1941 Mid-Continent convention will be held in Amarillo. Tentative dates adopted at last night's meeting were March 21 and 22, Pampa, chapter headquarters, invited the convention to Amarillo because of lack of facilities here.

Commercial Classes For Adults Will Be Taught At School

Classes in commercial education for adults will be taught this year at Pampa high school. Persons interested in the courses are to meet at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at 308 high school, Miss Zenobia McFarlin, high school commercial teacher, said today.

Students will be typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, or any other commercial subject for which there is a demand. Classes will be conducted through January, meeting four days each week, and class hours will be from 4 to 6 p. m.

Purpose of these classes for adults is to impart information that will enable office workers to better perform their present duties, assume additional responsibilities, or enter employment in closely allied commercial pursuits.

The objective is not to train new workers to compete for jobs in the commercial field, but rather to improve the ability of persons who are already gainfully employed.

Since class members, to be eligible, must have left the regular day school, high school commercial students are not eligible for enrollment in such a class, nor are day school teachers.

Persons admitted to classes must be 16 years or older.

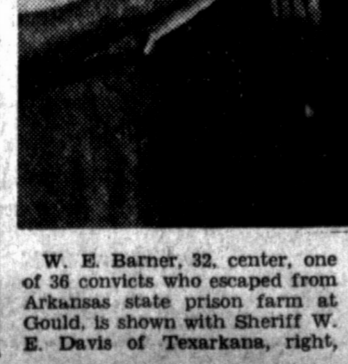

The adult classes here are a part of the plan of the state board of vocational education.

Support Demanded By Almazan Bloc

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 4 (AP)—A manifesto regarded by many observers as tantamount to a call to arms to the Mexican people to support Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan was issued by members of the Almazanista congress today.

The proclamation attacked the administration of President Lazaro Cardenas, called the government's support of the candidacy of Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho in the recent election an "imposition" and declared:

"We shall utilize all the means which the law and the people grant us to save the country in this decisive hour."

Driller And Woman Teacher Capture Convict

LEWISVILLE, Ark., Sept. 4. (AP)—An Arkansas woman school teacher and a Texas driller contractor today captured Percy Loftin, 28, identified by Sheriff Oce Griffin of Lafayette county as one of 36 convicts who 48 hours before had escaped from Cummings, Ark., prison farm.

Grappling with Loftin in a filling station, Miss Pauline Shurtleff held fast to the man's rifle while Will Modisett knocked him unconscious with his fist.

Miss Shurtleff is a teacher at Duckner school, Lafayette county. Modisett, of Longview, Tex., is working in the Stamps field. Modisett and another driller, Thomas Alken, encountered Loftin on the Red river bridge at Garland City.

The convict, at gun point, ordered them to stop their car, but Modisett refused and speeded past him as Loftin fired several ineffectual shots.

After driving a short distance, Modisett and Alken turned around and drove back to the scene. On the way back to the bridge they discovered Loftin in a car, occupied by three girls and a boy, and followed them.

The automobile, driven by Miss Shurtleff, was occupied also by Jennie Allen and Miss June Myers, and a youth, Glenn Shurtleff. They had been commanded by Loftin to drive toward Lewisville, and as the car entered the town, Miss Shurtleff suddenly swerved into the Edwards filling station. The car driven by Modisett drove in right behind them and Modisett ran to the assistance of the quartet.

As he reached the car in which Loftin was seated, the convict leveled his rifle at Modisett, but Miss Shurtleff knocked the weapon out of his hand.

Modisett then collared Loftin, dragged him out of the car and hit him a terrific blow on the head. Sheriff Griffin took the captured man in charge.

At the Lewisville jail, shortly after the arrest, Loftin begged the officers to protect him. He will be returned to the prison farm.

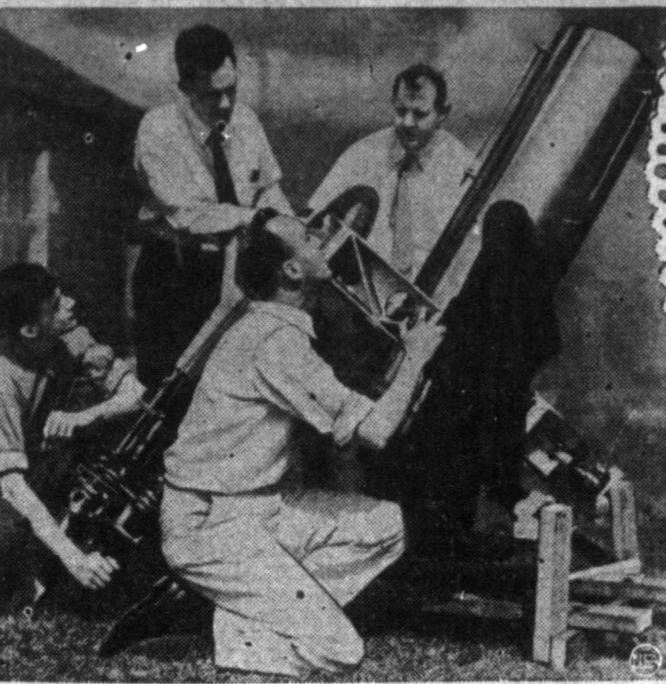

Modisett is employed by the East Texas Refining company.

DESTROYERS

The Bermuda base and another base in Newfoundland would be in addition to the six acquired in the destroyer swap. The right to bases in these two possessions was granted by the British as an outright gift, but their acquisition was naturally linked with the broader program.

Conferences on the other bases were expected to be arranged shortly. A seven-man navy board will meet with British officials to decide on the exact locations for the naval and air bases which President Roosevelt told reporters were needed to keep any enemy from our front door.

The announcement of the destroyer-base deal as a fiat accomplish took the capital by surprise yesterday.

Congress reacted with both applause and dismay. Discussion centered on whether the deal presaged another request for appropriations to augment the already swollen defense budget. Equipment will have to be supplied for the bases and in some cases it may be found desirable to extend the base confines by purchasing adjacent private property.

Despite the $11,000,000,000 in actual or expected defense appropriations this session, Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) and the house naval committee, expressed the belief that further funds would be needed.

Vinson added that the navy had $10,000,000 for auxiliary bases which "might be used" to get work started on the bases.

No cash consideration was involved in obtaining the bases, Great Britain agreeing to lease the sites to the United States for 99 years in return for the destroyers.

The announcement was made more momentous by the simultaneous British pledge that her fleet would "in no event be surrendered or sunk" if British waters became untenable "but would be sent overseas for the defense of other parts of the empire."

Congressional supporters of the Roosevelt "aid-to-Britain short-of-war" policy voiced approval of the transaction as a major defense achievement.

Those advocating aloofness from the European conflict condemned it as "an act of war," justification for Hitler to "declare war" on the United States, and an illegal transaction without congressional approval.

Nevertheless, there were no immediate indications of any serious attempt to block new appropriations for equipping the bases.

Miss Williams appeared unharmed and said she and her friends were not mistreated but were forced to tramp through the woods by the hour with her captors while they played a mad game of hide-and-seek with possumen, living in fear that the pursuers' guns might find them.

Meantime another kidnaping was charged to the fleeing convicts, when A. L. Hinton was held up by two men just north of Columbia and his automobile taken. Hinton was taken as a hostage.

Shots were heard in three directions around Columbia, indicating that more of the escapes were in this area.

Deputy Sheriff Ed Drake said two convicts entered a farm woman's home early today and forced her to prepare breakfast for them, then left.

HITLER

"If they attack our cities we will simply erase them," Hitler declared. "We will call a halt to these night pirates. The hour will come when one of us two will crack up—and it will not be Nazi Germany."

"Whatever may come, England will collapse." The fustler made fun of the English for wondering when Hitler would come, saying he always has prepared for everything thoroughly.

"If they ask, 'Why doesn't he come?' my reply is: Just be quiet, he's coming all right."

Hilarious laughter greeted this. Hitler was in a facetious mood. He poked fun at England at several points, first speaking of "general revolution" as the chief British ally, then general winter and general hunger.

"They ought to make General Bluff their Reichs marshal," he roared amid applause.

"Against these generals of the British army we pose the general deed," he said.

Later referring to the winter relief work, Hitler also suggested that "General Volksgemeinschaft"—general welfare—would be one of Germany's chief military leaders.

Hitler asserted with emphasis that he would determine the hour for ending the war but his exact words were drowned by clapping and cheering. Much of his 90-minute speech was concerned with contrasting German national socialism with what he called British plutocracy.

"I have offered my hand to the British people so often," the radio quoted him. "An understanding with England was the aim of my foreign policy. I now prefer to fight until a clear decision is reached."

Convict Killed And Another Captured

VICKSBURG, Miss., Sept. 4. (AP)—L. H. Logue, acting sergeant of the Vicksburg police department, said today that one of the escaped Arkansas convicts had been killed and another captured at the Mississippi river bridge just below Vicksburg.

Identities of the two men were not known. The convicts were reported halted at the bridge by Vicksburg police officers.

Sheriff Julius M. Buchanan of Warren county reported the two desperadoes had with them two women and a young girl, picked up as hostages. The sheriff identified the hostages as Mrs. H. L. Edwin of Denison, Tex., Mrs. C. E. Eldridge of Monroe, La., and their nephew, Woodrow Wall, of Monroe.

Wall was said by the sheriff to have been shot in the shoulder, while the two women were not harmed. The sheriff said the women told them the convicts commandeered their car near Waverley, La.

Men In The Rain

The men were in little shelter tents. It was pouring. Quickly the sergeants passed word that trucks had arrived to take them to a new area. They had to roll their packs in the rain. There weren't enough trucks. Wet packs, wet blankets, wet skins.

But there was no grumbling. Spirits remained high. The men felt that this was soldiering—this was doing a duty that must be done.

That is a little picture of a single unit of the many National Guard units who maneuvered this summer. It was unpleasant, difficult, uncomfortable. But their general commended them. They had done well. They are on their way to becoming soldiers.

The men of the National Guard who will soon embark on a solid year's training have no illusions. They know how tough the job is. If selective service is adopted, the men chosen will soon find it out. Soldiering is no picnic.

But there is something reassuring about the pictures that have come from these maneuvers.

Here is General Marshall, the United States No. 1 soldier, in shirt and trousers, his four stars gleaming on the shoulderstraps of the shirt. No dress braid, no polished puttees. Simple and workmanlike. Here is a young captain in a ditch with a patrol of his men, muddled to the knees. Here is another general, an army commander, talking to a group of young guardsmen, informal but businesslike. Here are the eager, serious faces of Young America, going over the first rough hurdles of learning to defend the land they love. Their officers are not flashing about in glittering staff cars. They are down in the ditch with their men.

Guns can be bored, munitions made. Tanks can be built, planes assembled. Men—ah, you either have them or you don't. And these men look very good indeed.

They have intelligent faces—they are men who know the score all the way. They are hardening physically. The equipment is on the way. You feel that they will be good soldiers.

These men and as many millions as necessary to follow them will defend America. You can read in their faces the safety of our country.

Making Selective Service Selective

Before the National Guard begins to go to camp this winter for long-term training, every effort ought to be made to weed out all those who adhere to or sympathize with foreign social and political systems. That includes all who have ties with the Nazi Bund, the communist party, or any similar organization whose loyalty to the republic is questionable.

The public is spending its money to train a loyal army to defend the republic. It is not spending it to train those who plan to use their military knowledge later for revolutionary purposes—and not to harbor those who see in military service a chance to "bore from within" and undermine the loyalty of their fellow soldiers.

The same problem will be aggravated if there is a draft. Communists, Bundists, and their kind will be drafted along with loyal Americans. And right there is where selective service ought to begin to do some selecting.

Behind The News

By MILTON BRONNER, NEA Service Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The Tennessee Valley Authority is slated to play a big part in the nation's defense program.

So says David E. Lilienthal, vice chairman of the government's greatest venture in production of electricity by water power.

During the last war the famous and much-contested Muscle Shoals dam was constructed, and two vast and costly plants were erected. The aim was to manufacture nitrates for the army's needed high explosives. Actually, the plants were never used. They were completed too late and were obsolete from an economic standpoint. It was cheaper, after the war, to produce nitrates from other sources.

Plant No. 1 has not been used since then. Plant No. 2—its vast structure—was converted in 1934 by TVA for the production of phosphates for fertilizer.

WILL FURNISH POWER FOR ALUMINUM

"That plant," says Lilienthal, "will fit in our defense program. Food is a vital part of defense, and phosphates will keep the soil fertile. But in addition, part of the plant can be converted to the making of nitrates—especially if we add to it. By new processes we may economically produce ammonium nitrates for high explosives. Part of the phosphate could also be used for the army's chemical warfare section."

Congress recently appropriated $25,000,000 for TVA. This is a supplement to the regular funds, and is designed to make a start on a $65,000,000 additional power program. A storage dam and hydro-electric power plant will be started at once on the Holston river, near Jefferson City, Tenn. It is hoped to have the plant in operation by the fall of 1942. It will create 90,000 kilowatts of electrical energy.

The TVA is in a race with time, because of the defense program's urgency. A week after the President signed the appropriation bill, all contracts for the two plants were let.

Main purpose is to furnish aluminum for army and navy airplanes. The electric power it takes to obtain that much from bauxite ore and put it into shape for use would supply 200 average families with electric power for a year.

If aluminum production is not vastly increased, it is estimated the army's aircraft program will face a deficit of 63,000,000 pounds of the metal by 1942.

The biggest aluminum producing and rolling plant in the world is at Alcoa, Tenn., the property of the

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES, COLLEGE PROFESSOR

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the share of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given soul right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

ANOTHER WILD-EYED SCHEME OF A COLLEGE PROFESSOR

I am amazed to read Prof. Harley L. Lutz', Princeton University, scheme of taxing idle income. It is on a par with the plan suggested by Congressman Jerry Voorhis and is along the same line as that suggested by Hazelett in his book, "Incentive Taxation".

Professor Lutz seems to have gone back to the Bernard Mandeville idea that existed before Adam Smith's time and through the Middle Ages—that it was the wastefulness of the rich that benefited the working class. Lutz says the person who spends his income as he gets it, is doing all that he can to create a market for goods and services and thus to create work for other people.

Evidently, Professor Lutz thinks that people want work rather than fruits of work. If that is true, then anything that destroys wealth—tools, like wars, cyclones, earthquakes, is good for society.

Professor Lutz does not seem to understand that money, or credit, is not wealth but only orders for wealth; that if a man adds to the wealth of the world and accepts for it orders for this wealth, as he does when he accepts paper currency and deposits this currency in the bank or even buries it in the ground, he is doing no man any injury. What Professor Lutz fails to understand is that the orders for wealth held by other people will buy more of real wealth if a man who has orders for wealth does not consume the wealth.

Professor Lutz does not seem to comprehend that if a man has wealth he has to use it or he loses it by taxation, and depreciation and obsolescence. But if he has orders for wealth and does not use them, then other people are benefited and every bit of human energy is rewarded more because some man has not consumed his orders for wealth. He is, in reality, raising the real wages and the exchangeable value of all other workers.

Educate the Educators

Yet, Professor Lutz' of Princeton University suggests we tax a man because he does not consume his orders for wealth!

It is little wonder that the layman is badly confused on wealth, money and taxation, when the head of the Department of Finance of a university like Princeton, and a man who is employed by the National Manufacturers' Association to help enlighten the people on political and economic questions, is so badly confused on the subject which he is supposed to explain.

Where would the reservoir of wealth be if the orders for it were taxed while they were accumulating? Wealth would be frittered away in dribbles. It would tend to prevent large accumulations of capital which are necessary for low costs and high wages.

Professor Lutz calls this kind of trap-taxation scientific. It is as far from scientific taxation as it is possible to be. It would be arbitrary. Anything that is arbitrary is not scientific.

GOVERNMENT TAKING OVER INDUSTRY

The United States Senate passed a most revolutionary bill in its amendment to the conscription bill. The amendment in the bill gives the government authority to take over private property of individual citizens if the government did not feel the employer was rendering the kind of service the government thought should be rendered.

This is the greatest step toward a totalitarian state the American people have ever made.

Of course, we have always had the right of eminent domain, whereby the government had a right to take over any natural resource that it needed. But we have never gone so far as to say that the government has the right to take over the machinery and equipment of an individual.

These can be duplicated and thus need not be taken over by the government while natural resources cannot be duplicated so the government must have the right of eminent domain.

This gives the heads of the government almost unlimited power over human beings. It is taking away from the individual the inalienable rights to the fruits of his labor. It permits the government to discriminate against its citizens.

Natural Result

Of course, this is only a natural sequence and natural result of a government that contends it has a right, as it does in the income tax to take no fraction of what some workers produce and a fourth or a half or three-fourths of what other workers produce. Loss of freedom and a totalitarian government never comes suddenly. The morale and the honesty and integrity of the people are broken down step by step. They learn to conscript, to confiscate, to steal by degrees.

The people of the United States have become so accustomed, so hardened, to confiscating the fruits of labor of some and not of others, that we thoughtlessly proceed in this next critical step of giving the government further power to discriminate between people.

Willkie Sound on the Subject

Wendell Willkie has taken a sound position, even if it is unpopular on this subject. He has asked the President directly whether he favors this move or not. The President should answer. It is a most important question as to whether we can retrace our steps and return to prosperity and more nearly equal freedom. If we make this further step, the about-face will be all the more difficult.

Aluminum Company of America. This firm is increasing its plant and prospective output. The vastly more electric power needed will be furnished largely by the new TVA plants. Besides, the company is erecting some of its own power plants.

"Two other big customers for our future additional electric power," Lilienthal says, "will be the Vultee Aircraft plant at Nashville and a new $30,000,000 duPont powder mill near Memphis.

"The Vultee people recently took over the Stimson concern in Nashville and propose to increase it tenfold, ultimately employing 5,000 men. They find Nashville a strategic point. The haul of aluminum from Alcoa to Nashville is a short one and they will have the benefit of this TVA electric power.

"By the time we get the new electric plants going, there may be many other factories in the TVA area doing work for defense. I say this because it has been found that about one-third of the commodities classified as strategic and critical by the Munitions Board are available in commercial quantities right in the Tennessee Valley."

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON, NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 4.—There are indications that the movies finally are getting around to some of the more obvious uses of their unique technical advantages—as in sound dubbing, which can be employed for comedy as well as convenience.

Probably you remember that in "Turnabout" John Hubbard and Charlie Landis spoke with each other's voices. That was the simplest sort of trick with sound film. Funnier yet will be some of Frank Morgan's sequences in "Hullabaloo," in which he has the role of an imitator. So he goes through the picture talking in the distinctive tones of various celebrities.

Metro might have put a professional impersonator into the part with fair success, but the effects will be infinitely more startling and easily identifiable this way—because when Morgan opens his mouth the voice you hear actually will be that of the person he's supposed to be imitating. He can be Charlie or Mickey Rooney or Wallace Beery or anyone.

An especially good scene should be the one in which he finds it expedient to make love to a hatched-faced old lady. So he charms her into a palpant dither by imitating the voice of a great screen lover.

Substitution of sound tracks is an old trick on films for foreign release. All the studios used to have laboratories in Europe which would French and German dialog into English-speaking pictures merely by recording new sound tracks with native actors and actresses. Of course the words didn't match very well with the lip movements seen on the screen, yet the ghostly dubbers became amazingly clever and audiences didn't mind.

MUSICAL DUBBING ALWAYS SHUSHED

One thing Latin American audiences do mind of an intrusion of strange dialects. In Argentina, patrons will hoot at Mexican-Spanish; and for that matter, pure Castilian Spanish isn't used conversationally anywhere south of the Rio Grande. Also Hollywood didn't seem to realize until lately that Portuguese is spoken in Brazil.

Improper dialects have accounted for the failure in South America of dozens of costly pictures—besides causing actual resentment down there. Actually the first film ever to be properly dubbed for full South American release is 20th-Fox's forthcoming "Californian." It'll be done in one Portuguese and six Spanish dialects.

Fearing charges of fakery, Hollywood always has shushed its singing-voice and other musical substitutions. Very little vocal dubbing is necessary these days, though instrumental performances are almost always tricked (if only for convenience in recording) unless the camera is turned on some famous band or a concert star such as Jascha Heifetz.

Even at that, in "100 Men and a Girl," Leopold Stokowski gamished his piano playing with an extra sound track. The music was all his but it wasn't all done at the same time. After he had recorded a selection, it was played back and he accompanied himself with a few touches of bassing and treble flourishes. A combination recording, or one-man dute, was what was heard in the picture.

REAL ONE-MAN BAND

In the same way Nelson Eddy amused himself on a recording stage the other day by harmonizing with the playbacks of some of his "Blisterwee" songs. It sounded swell, but of course it won't be used in the picture. I should think, though, that such tricks would be good comedy, and that they'd be artistically gratifying as well as interesting in short subjects.

It would be perfectly simple, for

Here is a news item that may be of interest to small boys who have BB guns and to their parents. Friday evening Lawrence, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Southard of Miami was playing with his gun, and after he loaded it he set the gun on the ground, the barrel pointing up. He decided to pull the trigger. The shot went through a cheek and hit a jaw tooth. But Lawrence had nerve and was brave when the doctor swabbed it out next day. He was in pain but he didn't move a muscle. He went right back to play, although his face is rather out of shape on one side. Lawrence is the youngest child of the Southards.

So he's still up at Tarpley's teaching the boys and girls how to finger the "squeeze box." Bill has lived in Pampa quite awhile, and he feels like a citizen, and one can't blame him for not leaving when he didn't want to in the first place. WELL, the Pampa Oilers and the Borger Gasers are going to clash out at Roadrunner park tonight in the first of a series of games in the season's end play-off. Fans, undoubtedly, will give the team a good measure of wind-up support, which it deserves, despite some last-minute blotches in the final days of the schedule.

All this will be forgotten, and there is no reason why the Oilers shouldn't take care of Borger in short order and then go on to final victory over the winner of the Amarillo-Lubbock series which will be going on at the same time.

VOTE BUYING WILL BE DANGEROUS BUSINESS

By WALTER E. SPAHR, Professor of Economics, New York University

Representative Paul Shafer of Michigan has announced that he has received information showing that there has been a "startling increase in the printing of blank relief checks and food stamps by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, presumably for use in election campaigns by key states in critical months of President Roosevelt's campaign for a unprecedented third term. Congressmen are aware of this situation and are taking steps to prevent it from occurring.

But if it should be demonstrated again that the printing of a sufficient number of people whose votes can be bought by relief checks to enable the party in power to carry this election, the implications of all this are perhaps the most serious things that have ever confronted us as a nation.

The possibility of these things coming to pass has had a sobering effect upon many of us thoughtful people. Men talk in terms not heretofore heard. It is said, for example, that if the present administration is continued in power by the employment of dishonest practices in the election of politicians, the purchase of "relief" votes, there are many men who will turn the keys in the doors of their business establishments and close up forever. Hardworking, honest men will not permit any government to take advantage of the nation in any such manner.

If the politicians of the party in power are inclined to look upon the forthcoming campaign as just another one in which it is safe to win the election by the use of vote buying and similar unfair tactics, they probably have mistaken the temper of the great body of patriotic citizens in this country, commonly called the "backbone of this nation."

This business of a third-term candidate, all things considered, is an ominous thing in itself. But if to this is added the use of the government's money and power to corrupt the election process, then serious days, indeed, are awaiting the American people.

Are the American people to be subjected to this sort of thing again? And should it succeed again, what then?

From every point of view, such tactics constitute one of the blackest chapters in American political history.

Bomb Damage In Midlands Only Slight

By TAYLOR HENRY, BIRMINGHAM, England, Sept. 4

Despite heavy attacks by Nazi bombers, the Midlands—England's industrial heart and center of her war production—appears to have suffered only slight damage.

I have just completed a survey of Birmingham and its surrounding industrial area, and I would say, as a rough estimate, the output for the whole area has been reduced no more than 5 per cent.

I saw only two factories so badly damaged that production ceased—and these were small plants. While others have been hit during the last three weeks of intensive night raids, the damage appears to have been comparatively small and production has continued almost uninterrupted.

My estimate is based on observation of the damage done by bombs to essential parts of works and on talks with workmen.

I used no chamber of commerce figures or government information. In fact, the survey was made not only without official guidance but without official knowledge, except that I reported to local police as a registered alien, as a matter of course.

I just hired a car and a local driver, who took me wherever I wanted to go.

When I saw a plant which had been bombed, I stopped, checked the damage and talked with the workmen, many of whom have worked right through the raids.

There have been some direct hits in the center of Birmingham. One was a small factory just back of my hotel, another on a Greek-style public market building.

Typical of the reaction was a sign chalked on the ruins of one of the stores. "Fresh fish shop. Burnt but not broke. Business as usual next door."

Union of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania with Soviet Russia marks the end of independent stamp issues from these Baltic countries. One of Latvia's final issues as a republic is the stamp above, showing the coat-of-arms and three stars.

Acceptance of the three nations into the Soviet Union as the 13th, 14th and 15th autonomous republics of the U. S. S. R. adds 64,000 square miles of territory and 6,000,000 people to Russia. Only a small percentage of the inhabitants are Russian.

Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania came into existence in 1918. At first former provinces of the Russian Empire, attained their independence under the principle of self-determination of President Woodrow Wilson's "Fourteen Points."

In 1939 the republics signed mutual assistance pacts with Russia, providing for the establishment of Soviet naval and army bases within their borders. These pacts paved the way for final inclusion in the Soviet state.

U. S. Admiral Lands As Japs Ask Indo-China

(By The Associated Press)
 SHANGHAI, Sept. 4.—Admiral Thomas C. Hary, commander of the United States Asiatic fleet, arrived here unexpectedly today amid reports of imminent fast-breaking developments in the Far Eastern situation.

Attention of foreign military observers was concentrated on French Indo-China, where censorship obscured the situation following reports the Japanese army had demanded immediate submission to demands for the right to move Japanese troops through the colony and to use the port of Haiphong as a military base in the war against China.

Censors refused to deliver messages to Hanoi correspondents, Japanese military authorities in Shanghai were silent on reports of the ultimatum, in which Indo-China officials were said to have been warned to yield or "take the consequences."

A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Hongkong said well-informed persons there had learned that the Japanese ultimatum had been withdrawn for the time being. The French news agency Havas at Vichy quoted authoritative sources today as saying there had been no interruption in negotiations between the French and Japanese governments on their Far-Eastern interests.

One report from Hongkong quoted a traveler from Hanoi, the Indo-China capital, as stating that Gen. Issaku Nishihara, head of a mission to Indo-China which has been regulating shipment of supplies to China, had informed the Indo-China government the Japanese were preparing to land troops in the colony this Friday.

This report said the Vichy government already had rejected the reported Japanese demands on Indo-China.

Chinese reports in dispatches from Hongkong said the Chungking government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek had reached an agreement with authorities at Saigon, Indo-China, regarding measures to be taken in event of a Japanese invasion.

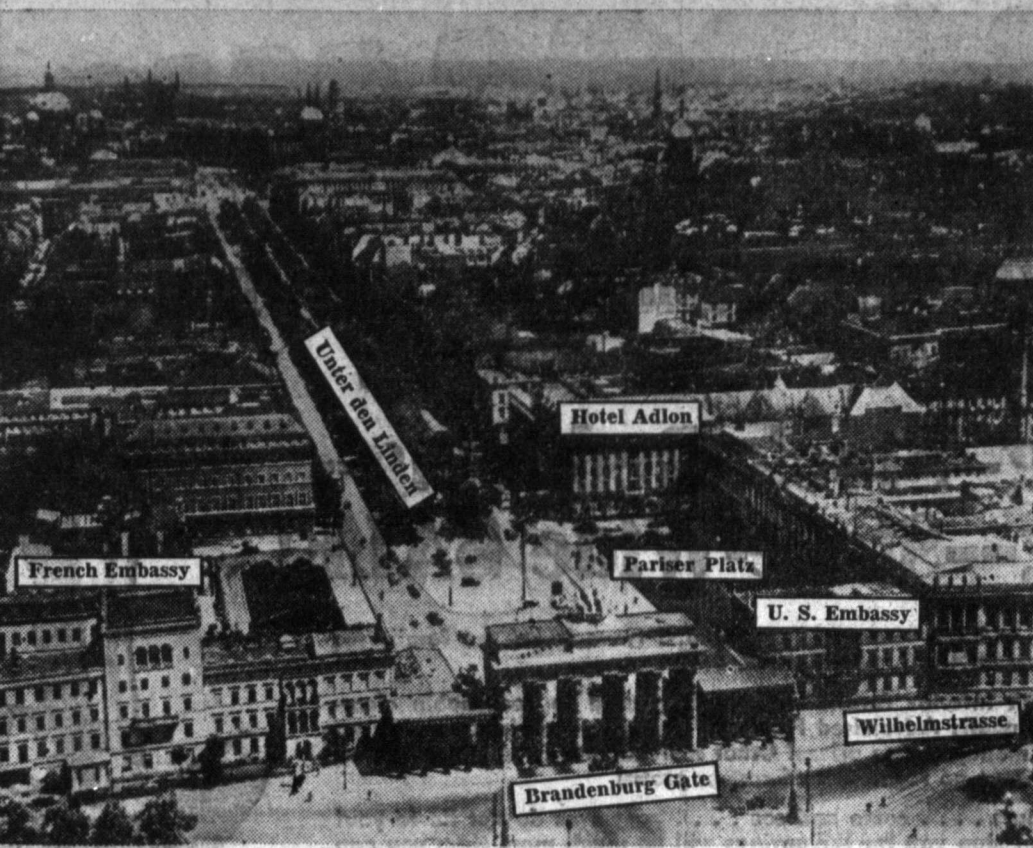

Governor-General Jean Decoux, newly appointed by the Vichy government, was said to have assured Chungking that under no circumstances would Japanese armed forces be permitted to pass through Indo-China or establish a base there.

The Japanese fleet was reported to be cruising outside Indo-China waters, blockading the entire northeast coast.

Haiphong was a hive of activity, with French and native troops mobilized and manning all defense positions along the coast. Preparations were being made to remove French women and children from towns along the coast.

Shanghai itself meanwhile became virtually an armed camp as authorities acted to prevent possible terrorist outbreaks in the French concession and the international settlement.

Berlin's Heart—Now Spotted on British Bombers' Maps

Berliners are finding out that you can twist the British lion's tail just so far before you feel his resentful claws. The bomber's-eye view above, shows the heart of Germany's capital, where British bombers carried the war home to Berliners in retaliation for Nazi raids on London. Along the Wilhelmstrasse are clustered important German government buildings.

Lights Out in Berlin

Blackout restrictions are tightened in Berlin, and anti-aircraft searchlights tear strips of brilliance in the nighttime sky since vengeful British bombers put Germany's capital inside the war's ever-widening "front." Here's how blacked-out Berlin looks to enemy planes.

Destroyer Deal May Smash Axis Plans In Mediterranean

LONDON, Sept. 4. (AP)—Britain's predicted near eastern campaign designed to smash empire plans of the Rome-Berlin axis may be bolstered by acquisition of 50 destroyers from the United States.

Authoritative sources pointed out these vessels could release more modern craft for use in the Mediterranean fleet, backing up land forces which the war office already has disclosed are being prepared for "offensive action."

Only yesterday War Secretary Anthony Eden said that "at any moment fighting may begin on a large scale" in the near east.

Aside from the immediate practical gain for the fleet, Britons from First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander down viewed the destroyer deal as drawing Britain, fighting alone against Germany and Italy, closer to the United States.

Alexander said in a statement the deal "will strengthen the feeling of goodwill and friendship" between the two nations.

The News Chronicle said in an editorial today: "Here is perhaps the greatest single step which has yet been taken towards the planet-changing co-operation between the British empire and America."

"Without involving the active participation of America in the war or the sending of a single American soldier to Europe that cooperation will bring victory to the cause in which both countries believe and pave the way for a new order of peace and freedom throughout the world."

Pampa-Borger Series To Open Here Tonight

Dilbeck May Get Nod For Oiler Mound

The mighty Borger Gassers, accompanied by hundreds of fans, will be in Pampa tonight for the first game of the 1940 Shaugnessy playoff. Game time will be at 8 o'clock at Road Runner park with no increase in the price of admission. The Pampa Oilers finished first in the league race, 1 1/2 games ahead of Amarillo. Borger was in fourth position and climbing fast when the season ended.

Although neither manager has definitely named a starting pitcher, Pampa fans believe Lefty Rex Dilbeck will get the nod for the Oilers with either the veteran Wiley Moore or Clem Hausman the Borger choice. Dilbeck has not seen mound duty for more than a week, during which time he went to Arkansas to get his son who had been vacationing there.

Second game of the series will be played tomorrow night in Borger. The teams will then return to Pampa Friday night and will go back to Borger Saturday night if a fourth game is necessary. Permission to change the playoff method was received yesterday from President Milton Price.

Tickets for all Pampa games and also for the games in Borger are now on sale at Champlin Service station on South Cuyler street, Perkins Pharmacy, and at the Courthouse cafe. Tickets for games in both cities are also on sale at Borger drug stores.

Appreciation Fund
Pampa baseball fans are asked to show their appreciation to the members of the team that brought them a league championship by putting money in the "Appreciation Fund" box which will be located at the entrance of the grandstands each night. The fund is being raised by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars at the request of a group of fans.

"The boys didn't get very much money and they deserve a bonus for their work this summer," a member of the committee said today. "League rules forbid the giving of money from the playoff series to the players, so we are raising the fund in order to show our appreciation. Every little bit will help. To date the response has been anything but gratifying."

Large Crowd Expected
When the Gassers take the field tonight they will have one of the league's leading hitters in Manager Gordon Nell who is at the top of the list in home runs and doubles. The Gassers will also have the player who has bagged the most triples, Scopetone, who is also second in doubles. The Gassers will also have one of the best double play combinations in the league in Gilchrist, shortstop, and Decker, second base.

The Gasser pitching staff is also one of the toughest in the league. Representing the Oilers will be some of the best hitters in the league—Frather, Summers and Setz. The Oilers will also have three of the best pitchers in the league in Dilbeck, Vannoy and Halliburton. There isn't a better first baseman than Frather and Setz is one of the top outfielders in the league.

The largest crowd to fill Road Runner park this season is expected at tonight's big opening. Borger

Smith Of Memphis Beats John Austin In Golf Finals

Only One 1939 Notre Dame Grid Regular Will Report

IN ALL GAMES

A Pampa Oiler who has played every inning since joining the team is Harvey Clutter, above, second baseman. Clutter came to the Oilers from the St. Joseph Angels and he has worked well with Sam Mallica, shortstop, and Dutch Frather, first baseman; as a double play combination. Clutter is exceptionally fast and as a result he makes a few errors. But he comes up with many impossible plays because of his speed. Clutter's hitting has been improving steadily until he is a .300 hitter.

ticket headquarters asked for 1,000 tickets and said more might be needed. Advance sale here was large. The two teams will play until one has taken three games. While Borger and Pampa are meeting, Lubbock and Amarillo will be staging a similar scene. The winner of the two series will then meet in a four out of seven series.

Indians Clinch Fourth Place In League Playoff

Rogers Hornsby was brought to the Texas league to pull the faltering Oklahoma City Indians into the pennant picture. Hornsby has accomplished half of his objective; he has the Redskins in the Shaugnessy play-off.

The Indians beat Fort Worth 2-1 last night to clinch fourth place in the final standings. The regular schedule ends Sunday and the playoff begins Tuesday night. Oklahoma City plays Houston, the leader over the full season route. The series—three out of five games—will open at Houston.

Where the other play-off series will start will not be determined until Beaumont and San Antonio settle second place. They are separated by only half a game. The series will open at the city winning second place.

Winners of the two series will meet over the seven-game route for the championship. San Antonio went back into second last night with a 2-0 victory over the Shreveport Sports. Beaumont lost to Houston, 4-2. Dallas and Tulsa were rained out.

The National League Scores

REDS EIGHT AHEAD
CINCINNATI, Sept. 4 (AP)—The champion Cincinnati Reds took an eight-game lead in the National League yesterday by beating the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1. The Reds' lead is now 8-0 over the Cardinals. The Cardinals' loss was their 11th in a row. The Reds' win was their 11th in a row.

The American League Scores

TIGERS DROP LOWER
CHICAGO, Sept. 4 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers dropped to 10th place in the American League yesterday by losing to the Cleveland Indians 4-1. The Tigers' loss was their 11th in a row.

Playoffs Begin In Two Leagues

Play-offs begin today in the East Texas and West Texas-New Mexico leagues. The Class C East Texas circuit opens with Marshall playing at Henderson and Longview at Tyler. The Class D West Texas-New Mexico league has Borger at Pampa and Lubbock at Amarillo.

Tigers Make Last Ditch Stand Today

The Detroit Tigers backed into the last ditch today in their battle for another American League pennant. They came to grips with the front-running Cleveland Indians in the first of nine games the two clubs have left with each other. The prospect for Detroit was disheartening.

The Tigers lost their fourth straight yesterday as well as the season. Their star centerfielder, Barney McCosky, in a 10-2 debacle against the Chicago White Sox. McCosky hurt his side diving for a fly ball and may be out a week.

With Bob Feller in the box for the Indians today, there was at least a good chance that this also would go plimpering.

Meanwhile the onrushing Yankees expect to fatten themselves at the expense of their favorite stogees, the Washington Senators. Next week they will open their season with the last western tour at Cleveland and swing right on into Detroit. Out of these games the 1940 champion will come.

The National League standard-bearer no longer is in doubt. Cincinnati's hitless wonders have been renominated. The Reds squeezed past the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 yesterday to take an eight game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

It was the 32nd time this year the Reds had won by one run. Only two games were scheduled yesterday.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 (AP)—The Eastern All-Star football team plays the New York pro Giants at the Polo Grounds tonight.

Harvester Squad Of 26 Not At Full Strength

The Pampa Harvester football squad was not at full strength when the fourth practice of the season was called this morning at Harvester field. One or two boys were still working while another two or three had not returned to the city. Twenty-six boys were on the field out of the 30 or 31 expected to make up the 1940 squad.

Chester Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean are not wasting any time working the boys on plays. They spent the first three practice sessions passing, punting and getting morning plays were the order of business and within two or three days a big scrimmage can be expected.

"We've only 11 more days to get ready for the first game of the season," Coach Mitchell told his boys, "and that is why we can't lose a minute. It's going to be tough going and we won't be able to hold back and wait for anyone. The best man will win positions."

The Harvesters will open the season on September 20 with Childress here.

Schools in Roberts Start New Session

Special To The NEWS MIAMI, Sept. 4.-The Miami public school formally opened today with a varied program of talks, songs and music, and announcements.

With Superintendent Stephens in charge, the school auditorium was packed to capacity with pupils and patrons.

Rev. W. A. Hitchcock gave the devotional and Jack Carmichael played a cornet solo accompanied by Dean Carmichael.

The P. T. A. and Band Parents organization were represented on the program.

Insprational talks were made by ex-Miami High school seniors who are or have been attending college or a university. The program was in charge of Sterling Kinney, a law student of the University of Texas, assisted by J. W. Thompson, Florine Hitchcock, Frances Dean Carmichael, Charles Eldon McKenzie, and John T. and Lewis Locke.

The only other school in Roberts county is the Greenlake school which opened today, with Mrs. Harriet Maddox as teacher.

Nazis Take Up Tactics Used By British

(By The Associated Press) BERLIN, Sept. 4.-Crossing paths with Nazi planes headed for raids on England, squadrons of British bombers clashed with German fighters west of Berlin last night in an action which informed sources described as central Germany's first big engagement of the war.

Only a "few" of the British planes succeeded in reaching Berlin, the high command said, but they were seen crossing and recrossing the city. No bombs were reported dropped on the capital. Residents, however, were kept in their cellars during a two and a half hour alarm.

Four or five of the British bombers were reported shot down by heavy anti-aircraft fire and German fighters. Another of the raiders was reported brought down by the cable of a barrage balloon.

Authorized sources said "lively activity of German and English planes was observed in the Magdeburg region about 70 miles west of Berlin, apparently the site of the main battle."

The high command said "scattered bombs" were dropped in the province of Brandenburg. In the region of Braunschweig, 110 miles west of Berlin, and Halberstadt, about 200 miles west.

Two squadrons of British bombers, avoiding the Ruhr defense zone, were broken up and for the first part turned back at Elbe, these sources said.

The use of German fighting planes in air defense was a departure in German tactics. Germans rarely have mentioned any other weapon but anti-aircraft guns in repelling British raids.

The unverified report of the use of barrage balloons, similar to Britain's, also was something new in German air defense, although the German high command was known to have experimented in their use.

DNB, official German news agency, said today's attacks on England were directed mainly at airports north of the Thames.

A high command communique said German fighting planes again started big fires in night raids on Liverpool, Avonmouth, Portland and Poole, British heavy bomber bases, at Rochester motor factories, and Middlesbrough.

The sinking of six British merchant ships by a single submarine was reported by the high command, which also raised the total of British planes reported yesterday from 54 to 62. Ten German planes were admitted missing.

City Will Seek Amendment To Power Franchise

Approval of 13 insurance policies and of four applications for taxicab drivers permits constituted the business of the city commission at its regular weekly meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The insurance policies renewed, included hail, tornado, windstorm, and public liability on various items of city property, including automobiles of city employees used on official business.

Taxicab permits covered four vehicles of Peg's Taxi, 104 W. Foster. For each permit, payable to the city, is $26. Permits run from September 1, 1940, to August 31, 1941.

No reading was heard on the franchise granted the Southwestern Public Service company by the city. It was agreed by the commission that City Manager Steve Matthews, City Attorney R. F. Gordon, and W. J. Smith, confer with the utility company this week, seeking an amendment to the wording of the franchise.

Among the possible changes sought were a formula for determining valuation, a definition of the maximum valuation, and a plan of progress to assure extension of street lighting.

U. S. Hand Strengthened In Pacific

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.-(AP)-Britain's pledge never to surrender or scuttle its fleet reinforced today the United States government's intentions to keep its own fighting armada in the Pacific as a possible restraint on any Japanese expansionist tendencies.

This was described reliably as one of the motivating factors in the exchange between Secretary Hull and Lord Lothian, British ambassador, on the possible fate of the British fleet if it were driven from home waters.

Coupled with this was the government's desire for assurance that the 50 over-age destroyers traded to Great Britain for naval and air base sites in the Atlantic never would be used against this country.

The British promise that the fleet would be sent overseas to defend other parts of the empire was said in administration quarters to have lessened the danger that the United States fleet would have to be rushed from the Pacific to the Atlantic in event of a British defeat.

Thus, these sources asserted, the United States' hand was strengthened in the Pacific for dealing with a possible crisis in the Far East where Japan has embarked upon a "greater East Asia" policy.

"The British assurance about the fleet raised questions in speculation here on what might become of it in event of a German victory over the British Isles.

The most general belief appeared to be that it would be sent to Canada with whom the United States is now discussing joint defense moves to guard the North American continent.

School Supplies To Admit Kiddies To Movie Saturday

Pampa school children who go to the Rex theater Saturday morning will do their part in helping fellow students who need school supplies.

For each pupil 12 years and under who is admitted to the 10:30 o'clock special school supply show will donate a tablet, bottle of ink, ruler, or some other item of school supplies, in lieu of admission. Value of each article submitted must be 5 cents or more.

There are hundreds of children who need these supplies, and who do not have the money to purchase them.

Supl. L. L. Sone will receive the "gate" of the special show, and will distribute the supplies to students who need them.

Donald Barry, new western star, is featured at the Rex Friday and Saturday, in "Ghost Valley Raiders."

LOVE ON THE LINE

BY PAUL FRIGGENS

CHAPTER IX

THE picture of Carrie Lane standing there in the moonlight by her soddy...

He had told her he loved her, he recalled now, trying to piece together every fragment of the moment...

Over and over Mark glowed with that thought as he rode through the night to Sioux Springs...

Like lightning, Mark bounded out of bed, rushed to the window. There was smoke in the air...

"My God," moaned Mark, "Carrie-Carrie!" He dressed, ran from the house toward Newt Gale's livery stable...

Mark joined them, drew up panting in front of the livery stable where a crowd gathered around a foam-flecked horse...

"How bad is it?" he asked, breathless. "Pretty bad," said the boy. "It had been burning quite a spell...

when the Blakes discovered it and rode over to wake us up. Pa sent me right in for help...

"Has it reached the creek?" Mark shouted another question. "No, but it's heading straight that way—fast. It'll reach it without nobody stopping it."

Mark knew what that meant, paled suddenly at the thought. The crowd knew it, too. Once over Rock Creek there might be no stopping a prairie fire...

It was an unforgettable scene, that dawn in Sioux Springs; the sky hanging low, dull, suffocating; wagons rumbling; homesteaders yelling...

Spurring his horse across the hot, dry prairie toward the smoke, Mark noticed jackrabbits, grouse, even the field mice scurrying away from the direction of the flames...

At 4 o'clock the fire had eaten its way within a mile of the creek, but it was slowing down. At two or three points it had been checked altogether...

Then the unexpected happened. Thunder crashed directly overhead and Mark, looking up startled, saw lightning.

There was no more warning. Lightning flashed, Mark felt the first cool rush of air, carrying with it a few drops of rain and fine hail, and the wind came.

Nothing could stop the fire now, Mark knew; the flames were across Rock Creek. And Carrie might not have left her claim at all.

became serious or escape was cut off. If the fire reached a point below Carrie's there would be no escape except north and west into practically unsettled country...

It was a stifling, scorching job. Mark ran along the edge of the burning grass beating and pounding and choking whenever a sudden breeze whipped the smoke and the fine ash up into his face.

By noon, Mark noted the fire was burning more slowly, lagging in the still, lifeless air of midday and the fire fighters seemed to be making headway.

At 4 o'clock the fire had eaten its way within a mile of the creek, but it was slowing down.

Then the unexpected happened. Thunder crashed directly overhead and Mark, looking up startled, saw lightning.

Nothing could stop the fire now, Mark knew; the flames were across Rock Creek. And Carrie might not have left her claim at all.

ROME, Sept. 4 (AP)—Italian Fascism's foremost editorial spokesman, Virginio Gayda, declared today that the exchange of American destroyers for British battle ships in the western hemisphere "puts the United States still more dangerously into the European war."

The editor, often the mouthpiece of the government, described the agreement as a "singular bargain" which "confirms the mercantile abdications of asserted solidarity between the Anglo-Saxon peoples and governments."

Man Confesses Ghastly Slaying Of Expectant Mother Near Corsicana

MEXIA, Sept. 4 (AP)—Arlin F. Reese, 45, who carried a rural route for a newspaper, admitted early today, Assistant Chief of Police Marvin Wooten said, that he killed an expectant mother and left her body at the side of the road near Corsicana.

A charge of murder against Reese was filed today before Justice of the Peace Roy Kirtin.

The dead woman was identified from pictures as Mrs. Lizzie Reinhart, 32, of Huntsville, Ala., by her brother, William Gold, who lives in Mexia.

Her body, bundled into a gown, blanket and comfort tucked from sacks, was found Friday. Doctors said that at the time she was slain she was in labor.

Reese said the woman had been living at his home three miles west of here where was a renter. He declared he first had met her while they worked in a textile mill at Waco.

Gold said the woman's husband lived at Gaston, Ala., and that the latter had their 12-year-old son with him. A baby boy, 22 months old, was with the woman at the Reese home, Wooten said.

The assistant chief of police revealed that Reese's written statement related that the boy was asleep in the back seat of the automobile when Reese took the woman's body to Corsicana to leave it.

Wooten announced that Reese had identified a pistol found at his home as the one used in the slaying.

Reese at first said another man had killed the woman, Wooten said, but after several hours of questioning admitted that he did it himself.

Wooten said Reese told him he shot the woman between 4 and 5 o'clock Thursday morning. He added that Reese had given no reason for the shooting.

Assistant County Attorney Clarence Ferguson was conducting the examination of Reese. Jack Dillard, Mexia newspaperman, witnessed Reese's statement.

Reese's wife is an inmate of the hospital for the insane at Terrell.

Free Recordings Will Be Made At Montgomery Ward's

How would you like to hear yourself talk—or listen to yourself sing? Yes, you can do it right now! Thanks to another outstanding development by its radio engineers, Montgomery Ward is making free recordings for everyone who attends Wards 1941 radio demonstration show, starting today.

The records are given to you after your voice is recorded, and may be played back on an ordinary phonograph just like the usual "professional" record.

M. C. Johnson, manager of the Montgomery Ward store here, said yesterday that he believes parents will be particularly interested in bringing their children in for recordings. He said that such recordings will acquire much the same sentimental value as baby pictures, baby shoes and other traditional keepsakes.

The recordings will be made on the same home-recording device which Mr. Johnson said is available with Wards 1941 radio-phonographs. Home record-makers are one of the outstanding new features in the Ward radio line.

At the same time that recordings are being made, the public is invited to browse around and view the entire line of 1941 radios and radio-phonographs which embody models from a 5-tube "midget" to a giant 11-tube radio-phonograph console.

Other features which will be demonstrated include a new band-spread Gemlight dial which makes foreign stations 50 times easier to tune; improved fidelity reproduction with dual tone control; an exclusive Airwave loop aerial which makes outside aerial or ground connections unnecessary.

Montgomery Ward invites all its friends to take advantage of the "free record offer."

Miami P-TA To Hold 42 Benefit Tourney Friday

What It Means: Thermite Bombs

By MORGAN M. BEATTY AP Feature Service Writer WASHINGTON—Read the statements of the Reich high command and the British air ministry with the help of a man who knows his military planes and his bombs and you reach the astonishing conclusion that the air war we're reading about every day is not even well started yet.

It is true, of course, that many lives have been lost, much property damaged. It would be hard to explain to a man who has seen his neighbor die, or to a flier who has spun out of the air, that the air war is not on.

But, if the experts are right, air fighting up to now is a warm-up for the war to come, and an effort on both sides to crack morale on the other. In the warm-up, each side learns the other's long suits, and short-comings. By constantly driving civilians already fed up with war to air-raid shelters, they're inflicting a sort of third degree, intended to crack nerves, make people ask for rest, even if their country has to lose a war.

Both Berlin and London mention it. The experts will tell you that air war—all-out air war—will begin with an eight-letter word spelled "T-H-E-R-M-I-T-E!" We've already had fleeting glimpses of the word in the communications from Berlin and London.

Thermite is a simple mixture of powdered aluminum and powdered iron oxide, all bound up with magnesium wire. Attached is a fuse to set off the magnesium, like a battery sets off a photographer's flash bulb.

When a big package of thermite is dropped, the fuse detonates, sets off the magnesium, and the thermite, thus primed, heats up. Within a few minutes, it is a white hot mass of molten metal capable of melting steel. It gets hotter than 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit, which is hotter than any ladle of molten steel in a blast furnace. Therefore, it will set fire to anything inflammable. It is a small river of fire itself.

Just A Package of Heat

All military men say thermite bombs, or incendiary bombs. But technically, the package is no bomb at all. Merely a heater-upper.

It's no secret weapon, either. The military men of all nations know the formula, use it in practice bombing attacks. Secret tests by the American air service, for instance, convinced authorities that thermite bombing is capable of destroying any big city, and a single big raid might be enough. Maybe 200 planes, or less.

A city can be leveled by fire, because the present war and previous wars have demonstrated that air raids cannot be stopped. There is no defense against big squadrons of airplanes. Some of them are bound to reach their objectives, no matter what the defending force does.

Will Bring Retaliation

The first great raid with thermite, of course, will bring retaliation—

Smith Satisfied With Status Of Oil Industry

AUSTIN, Sept. 4 (AP)—Stability was the watchword among oil operators today as the petroleum industry edged into the low gasoline consumption period.

Following issuance of a 90-day production order in Texas, the nation's greatest producing area, Chairman Lon A. Smith, of the railroad commission, the state's oil regulatory body, reaffirmed the agency's determination to maintain low production schedules.

"I believe the industry is in good shape," Smith said, "and the commission hopes to rock along without drastically amending the order. Changes will be made only when absolutely necessary to prevent physical waste and on proof of firm market demand."

Much speculation on possible changes in commission policies has followed the Democratic nomination of Olin Culberson, former head of the agency's gas utilities division, to the place of Commissioner Smith, retiring in January.

Culberson has declared he would attempt to abolish what he believed malpractices in regulation of the oil and gas industries. Smith and Commissioner Jerry Sadler have formed a majority against Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson in many instances.

The oil order, intended to stand until Dec. 1, increased statewide production slightly to a total allowable of 1,295,528 barrels daily. It exempted the entire Panhandle district and 123 fields in other districts from nine production shut-down days a month.

Engineers estimated assigned but unproduced allowable would drop the yield to an actual daily average of about 1,267,000 barrels, or approximately 54,000 under the U. S. Bureau of Mines demand forecast for Texas in September.

The Interstate Oil Compact commission had recommended production of 5 per cent under the bureau's figures in view of heavy accumulation of gasoline and crude stocks.

Grid Stars Dye Hair

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 4 (AP)—Members of the University of Kentucky football team are the "fair-haired" boys around town.

Monday, when the squad assembled for practice two Louisville boys showed up with blond hair and confessed that during the summer they had dyed it.

Today five other former dark-haired members of the squad are sporting shiny blond locks.

September 15 Final Day On Wheat Forms

September 15 has been set by the county committee of the Gray ACA as the final date on which producers may apply for a 1941 new-grower wheat allotment.

Producers who intend to plant wheat on their farms this autumn should apply for an allotment before September 15. Even in case the farmer intends to plant wheat only for pasture, in excess of 10 acres, the allotment is necessary in order to avoid a penalty.

Farmers, who have both cotton and wheat, will have a reduction in their cotton allotment regardless of whether they plant wheat or not if as much as 20 per cent of their tilled acres is normally in cotton, unless they are affected by the 40-50 amendment.

Where a farmer seeds less than his allotted acres, his final wheat allotment will be reduced to what he actually seeded in autumn of this year.
